IO. GEORGIVS ECCARDVS.

Quantum utilitatis hiſtoriam medii ævi excolenti afferant Diplomata & Epiſtolæ a magnis in Eccleſia & Republica viris conſcriptæ, ſatis manifeſtum eſt. Unde Udalrici Babebergenſis Codex Epiſtolaris, in quo hujusmodi monumentorum non parva copia congeſta eſt, gratia ſua apud rerum intelligentes non carebit. Compoſitus is eſt anno 1125. ut ex verſibus compilatoris, in fronte libri extantibus, cernimus. Non alio vero fini collectus eſt, quam ut Chartarum inde, Epiſtolarumque formulæ haberi poſſent. Unde etiam in Diplomatibus Epiſtolisque nomina propria perſonarum & locorum plerumque omiſſa ſunt, quæ tamen ab hiſtoriæ perito facile exſculpi poterunt. Primus Codicis hujus notitiam nobis dedit Sebaſtianus Tengnagelius Cæſareæ Bibliothecæ quondam Præfectus, & inde plura Veteribus Monumentis anno 1612. Ingolſtadii editis inſeruit, alia vero, Bambergenſem præſertim eccleſiam concernentia, Jacobo Gretſero communicavit. Aliqua etiam ex iis, quæ Codice hoc continentur, alibi tamen inventa, in Goldaſti ſcriptis pro Imperio invenias. Collatio autem noſtri Codicis cum antecedentibus talium editionibus non inutilis erit. Et cum libri hi rariſſimi ſint, omnia, ut erant in Codice Cæſareo, quem Auguſtiſſimi Imperatoris gratioſiſſimo indultu Vienna transmiſſum olim deſcribi curavimus, hic Benevolo Lectori exhibemus. Scripta, quæ controverſiam inter Imperium & Sacerdotium ſub Imperatoribus Henricis IV. & V. concernunt, lectu præſertim digniſſima ſunt & Seculi Undecimi ac Duodecimi ineuntis res mire illuſtrant. De Wigberto ſive Clemente III. Papa vix alibi tot notabilia invenies. M. R. Pezius Theſauro Anecdotorum ſuo ad S. Emmerani Ratisbonenſis Monaſterium attinentia Diplomata ex Chartulario hujus loci integra protulit; cum tamen nactus eſſet Udalrici noſtri Codicem Zwetlenſem vetuſtiſſimum, nihilominus eum editioni dignum judicavit & conſilium hoc ſuum Actis Eruditorum anni 1717. pag. 30. ſqq. inſeri curavit. Dedit ibi Indicem Codice hoc contentorum, ſingulisque, quæ nondum edita putarat, ſtellulas addidit. Tunc vero Tengnagelii & Gretſeri ſcripta ad manus non habens Pezius, edita jam ab iis inter anecdota numeravit; ſumpſit inde occaſionem Vir eruditus, qui ſub Angeli Fonteji nomine latere voluit, Epiſtolam edendi, qua errorem hunc, viro alias doctiſſimo facile condonandum, notat, & ea de cauſa integrum Udalrici Codicem nequaquam publicandum eſſe putat, præſertim cum inter nondum evulgata quædam ſint, quæ præſtet ſempiterna nocte damnari. Verba Fonteji ipſa ſunt: Eſt deinde ineditorum delectus quidam, ut mihi videtur, adhibendus: neque enim, quæ in chirographis adhuc latent, omnia indiſcriminatim in apertum ſunt referenda: invenias quædam præ levitate publica luce minus digna; quædam alias ob cauſas ſempiterna nocte damnanda; cujusmodi eſſe duco Epitomen illam Operis cujusdam de controverſia inter Hildebrandum & Imperatorem Henricum, a T. Osniburgenſis Eccleſiæ puerorum introductore confectam, nonnullasque Epiſtolas, quas Schismaticorum offuciis, calumniisque oppletas eſſe ſuſpicor. Quid enim attinet, Catholicum præſertim ac Religioſum Virum, obductam jam Eccleſiæ cicatricem refricare, eorumque Scriptorum numerum augere, quæ non ſine dolore in Collectionibus Illyrici, Schardii, ac Goldaſti ſcimus contineri. Sed M. R. Pezius ad ſingula Fonteji monita mox libello reſpondit, cujus rubrum eſt: P. Bernardi Pezii Benedictini & Bibliothecarii Mellicenſis Diſſertatio Apologetico-Literaria ad Perilluſtrem & Eruditiſſimum D. D. Jo. Benedict. Gentilottum ab Engelsbrun Sac. Cæſareæ Majeſt. a Conſiliis & Bibliotheca pro Editione integri Syntagmatis Diplomatico-Hiſtorico-Epiſtolaris Udalrici Babenbergenſis ex Codice Zvvetlenſi, impugnata a V. Cl. Angelo Fontejo Veronenſi in Epiſtola data ad V. Cl. Jo. Burchardum Menckenium, Potentiſſimi Regis Pol. Conſiliarium & Hiſtoriographum, Kal. Maji M DCC XVII. Quæ hic erudite Fontejo reponit Pezius, Benevolus Lector ex libello ipſo, ſi lubet, percipere poterit. Nos ſolum obſervamus, eum ante alia candide profiteri, nihil ſupprimendum ſibi videri ex iis, quæ acerbius de Papa præſertim Gregorio VII. ſcripta ſunt: Cum Gregorius VII. inquit inter cætera, a ſuis Theologis perſvaſus, omnium primus Romanorum Imperatorem Henricum IV. de throno dejicere auſus eſſet; colliſis graviſſima procella Epiſcopis, quæſtio agitata eſt; idne ex Dei lege, Sanctorumque Patrum doctrina Papæ liceret, nec ne? adfirmabant alii; alii negabant, aſſerebantque priorum opinionem hæreſim redolere, eamque ob rem ſua ſede Gregorium excidiſſe. Ex his non pauci extitere Germaniæ Epiſcopi, quorum, uti & a Gregorio ſtantium, ipſiusque Gregorii ea de controverſia Epiſtolæ extant, Codici Udalriciano incluſæ. Jam vero ad ſuſpectam illam Epitomen de Controverſia inter Gregorium VII. & Heinricum IV. a T. Osnisburgenſi Scholaſtico conflatam, quod attinet, ea nihil aliud eſt, quam compendium libri, a VVidone Osniburgenſi Epiſcopo pro Heinrico IV. adverſus Gregorium VII. procuſi, in quo tria potiſſimum probare annititur. Primum eſt; neminem vacante Romana Sede in Romanum Pontificem ſine calculo & juſſu Romanorum Imperatoris rite potuiſſe conſecrari; Alterum: Heinrico IV. communione Eccleſiæ præter Eccleſiæ commodum fuiſſe interdictum; Ultimum: non licere Romanæ Eccleſiæ Antiſtiti, ſubjectos Imperatori a fide ac juramento, quod ei ſemel dixerunt, abſolvere; quæ tria capita plerosque illius ætatis viros doctos exercebant. Atque hæc illa monumenta ſunt, quæ ut tegam, & taciturnitate celem, Angelus Fontejus cupit, ni Eccleſiam Heinricianis fluctibus iterum involvere, Romanumque Imperatorem cum Sede Romana, ſeu Imperium cum Sacerdotio velim collidere; quod facinus utique non laude, ſed omnium Chriſtianorum, ne dum Catholicorum, præſertim Religioſæ vitæ addictorum hominum horrore ac deteſtatione digniſſimum foret. Addit Pezius, ſibi, ut omnibus, qui vetera monumenta edunt, propoſitum eſſe, exponere non quam recte, ſed quid ſenſerint antiqui, nullo penitus eorum diſſimulatione transmiſſo, quæ veri perquiſitionem procliviorem reddere poſſint, ſive ea ſanctimonia vitæ claris quibusdam viris honorifica fuerint, ſive ſecus. Concludit; ſecus acta reticere, non eſſe probi viri: &, ſi reticeantur, Proteſtantibus ſagacioribus perennem Pontificios de diſſimulationis crimine poſtulandi anſam dari: Hiſtoriam præſertim eccleſiaſticam ſincere enarrandam eſſe. Hanc in rem egregium

Melchioris Cani locum ex illius libro IX. Loc. Com. p. 650. affert, ubi: Dolenter, inquit, hoc dico potius, quam contumelioſe, multo a Laërtio ſeverius vitas Philoſophorum ſcriptas, quam a Chriſtianis vitas Sanctorum; longeque incorruptius ac integrius Svetonium res Cæſarum expoſuiſſe, quam expoſuerunt Catholici, non res dicam Imperatorum, ſed Martyrum, Virginum & Confeſſorum. Illi enim in probis aut Philoſophis aut Principibus nec vitia, nec vitiorum ſuſpiciones tacent; in improbis vero, etiam colores virtutum produnt. Noſtri autem plerique vel affectibus inſerviunt, vel de induſtria quoque ita multa confingunt; ut eorum me nimirum non ſolum pudeat, ſed etiam tædeat. Hos enim intelligo Eccleſiæ Chriſti cum nihil utilitatis attuliſſe, tum incommodationis plurimum. Nominibus parco, quoniam hujus loci judicium morum etiam eſt, & non eruditionis tantum, in qua liberior poteſt eſſe cenſura. Nam quæ morum eſt, hæc debet profecto eſſe in vivos cautior, & in mortuos reverentior. Certum eſt autem, qui ficte & fallaciter Hiſtoriam Eccleſiaſticam ſcribunt, eos viros bonos atque ſinceros eſſe non poſſe, totamque eorum narrationem inventam eſſe, aut ad quæſtum, aut ad errorem; quorum alterum fœdum eſt, alterum perniciosum. Aurea certe hæc verba notari merentur abiis, qui omnes hominum ſacrorum nævos obtegunt, eosque, heroum inſtar Romanticorum, ſine labe nobis quotidie ſiſtunt. Fonteji tamen objectiones cum arripi potuiſſent a malevolis, & inde tricæ necti optimo Pezio, hinc commotus is eſſe videtur, ut ab editione Codicis Udalrici abſtineret. Nos itaque, ne diutius lateat, eum e Codice Cæſareo producimus boni publici cauſa. Animus erat, in ſingula ejus Capita quædam annotare, quibus obſcuriora explicarentur; negotia vero quæ nobis jam ſunt multa, hoc inſtitutum impedierunt. Obiter indicamus, Cap. X. extare Epiſtolam Udalrici Auguſtenſis Epiſcopi ad Nicolaum Papam de continentia Clericorum. Eadem jam olim in Catalogo Teſtium veritatis Flacii, in Antilogia Papæ & alibi ſub nomine Udalrici Epiſcopi Auguſtani impreſſa eſt. In veteri Epiſtolarum Eccleſiaſticarum collectione MSta, quæ in Regia Bibliotheca Hanoveræ reperitur, ejusdem initium hoc eſt: Nicolao domino & patri pervigili Sanctæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ proviſori G. ſolo nomine Epiſcopus amorem ut filius, timorem ut ſervus. Nicolaus II. Papa anno 1058. electus & an. 1061. mortuus, Concilium anno 1059. Romæ celebravit, in quo Clericorum conjugia prohibuit. Et hac occaſione Epiſtola, de qua agimus, conſcripta eſt. Sed diu ante, anno nempe 973. jam obierat Udalricus Epiſcopus Auguſtanus, ejusque ætate nulla de conjugiis Clericorum quæſtio mota eſt. Epiſcopum vero in Germania nullum Udalrici nomine ſub Nicolao II. invenias, multo minus Auguſtanum, Suſpicor hinc, hominem veteris literas ducendi rationis ignarum cum G. inveniſſet, id V. eſſe putaſſe, & Udalricum interpretatum; cum vero Udalrico Epiſcopo Auguſtano nullus hujus nominis celebrior eſſet, eidem Epiſtolam hanc oſcitanter adſcripſiſſe, & aſſeclas hinc plures ea in re accepiſſe. Codex vero Hanoveramus clare admodum G habet: & fuere Nicolai II. Papæ tempore duo Epiſcopi ſatis clari, quorum nomina ab ea litera incipiunt, Gundacarus nempe Epiſcopus Eiſtetenſis & Guntherus, Cancellarius Regius & Epiſcopus Bambergenſis. Hic Henrico IV. Imperatori addictus erat; & Bambergenſes ſcriptores eum virum in omni ſcientiarum genere verſatum, raræ eloquentiæ laude celebratum ac literis tam divinis, quam humanis eruditum appellant, id quod in authorem Epiſtolæ ad Nicolaum Papam quadrat. Unde etiam huic eidem illam adſcribendam eſſe non immerito cenſemus. Sed ad alia properandum.

II.

Epiſtolæ, quas hic adjungimus, e Codice, qui olim S. Kiliani Wirceburgenſis fuit, depromptæ ſunt, atque in Sirmondi Operum Hincmari Archiepiſcopi Remenſis

editione deſiderantur. Illuſtrant illæ controverſiam, quæ huic Præſuli cum Hincmaro Epiſcopo Laudunenſi interceſſit. Sed cum jam a typographo noſtro impreſſæ eſſent, vidi demum, easdem a Ludovico Cellotio S. I. poſt Concilium Duziacenſe ex Codice Bibliothecæ Palatinæ Vaticano publicatas, atque a Labbeo & Coſſartio etiam Conciliorum Univerſalium Tomo VIII. pag. 1789. ſqq. inſertas eſſe; quod Lector benevolus ægre non feret, cum præſertim & Cellotii libellus & Concilia laudata non admodum ſint obvia.

Hermanni Corneri Chronicon jam olim Franciſco Irenico notum fuiſſe, ex quibusdam Exegeſeos ejus locis Meibomius in Vindiciis Billinganis Scriptor. German. Tomo III. pag 38. concludit. Citarunt idem atque uſurparunt Henningeſius Operis Genealogici author, Meibomius ipſe variis in locis, Bangertus in notis ad Helmoldi ac Arnoldi Chronica Slavorum, Calixtus in libello de Conjugio Clericorum, Hallervordius in Bibliotheca curioſa & in Spicilegio de Hiſtoricis Latinis, Leibnitius in Introductione ad Scriptores Brunsvicenſes, Fellerus & Hechtius. Res geſtæ in eo exponuntur ab exordio Mundi usque ad annum Chriſti 1435. Quæ ab initio usque ad Caroli M. tempora habentur, ſtudio omiſimus, tanquam a veteribus & contemporaneis ſcriptoribus melius expoſita. Reliqua candide & curate pro viribus nunc edimus, utpote, quæ plura notabilia nec alias obvia exponunt. Fatetur ipſe, ſe in rebus a ſua ætate remotis ſecutum Vincentium, Henricum de Hervordia & Martinum Polonum. In opere tamen ipſo ad plures alios authores, partim nondum detectos, frequenter provocat, Joſephum nempe, Chronica Romanorum, Saxonum, Lubecenſium, Obotritorum, Danorum, Francorum, Anglorum &c. Geſta Gothorum, Romanorum, ſummorum Pontificum & Pontificum Hamburgenſium; Chronica item Turpini, Uſuardi, Luitprandi, Sigeberti, Eggbardi, Helmoldi, Hugonis Floriacenſis, VVilhelmi, M. Eylardi, Schoneveldi, Hiſtoriam Scholaſticam, Jacobum de Voragine, Vitam S. Bernvvardi, Baldrici Hiſtoriam Hieroſolymitanam, Viaticumque Narrationum. Ipſe Hermannus Cornerus Ordinis Prædicatorum & quidem Lubeca oriundus fuit. Meminit, ſe aliquando Curſorem ſententiarium Magdeburgi fuiſſe & Anno 1406. Hamburgi Synodo provinciali interfuiſſe. Anno 1421. ſe Treviris egiſſe pariter indicat. V. Cl. Johannes Henricus von Seelen Rector Lubecenſis meritiſimus in erudito Selectorum Literariorum ſpecimine tertio notitiam Chronici Corneriani exhibuit, unde didicimus, Hermannum ibi in Cœnobio Dominicanorum ad Arcem vixiſſe, & in Chartis ejusdem loci anno 1420. 1421. & 1422. Lectorem (Germanice Leſemeiſter) an. 1426. & 1429. ex Senioribus Fratribus unum, an. 1432. Baccalaurium & an. 1436. & 1437. Magiſtrum S. Scripturæ vocari, quod olim idem erat ac Doctor Theologiæ; unde in Excerptis ab Illuſtri Leibnitio Tomo III. Scriptor. Brunsvic. p. 199. ſq. editis recte Doctor nominatur. Narratur ibi Henrici Viſculii Conſulis Luneburgenſis filios VVilhelmum & Nicolaum cum matre Beata Chronicon Doctoris Hermanni Corneri deſcribi curaſſe per Tilemannum Rotherhoſium, qui opus hoc inceperit anno 1445. in primo Jejunii die Veneris, illudque abſolviſſe eodem anno die Sabbathi ante Feſtum S. Luciæ. Hoc ipſum Chronici hujus exemplar in membrana majori nitide exaratum & duobus grandibus tomis comprehenſum aſſervatur adhuc in Bibliotheca Ampliſſimi Senatus Luneburgenſis, eoque nos ad editionem uſos eſſe grati confitemur. Similis vero Codex Lubecæ quoque habetur, quem Cl. Seelenius, cum de Cornero commentaretur, ante oculos habuit. Helmſtadii vero in Bibliotheca Julia dxtant Chronica Fratris Kœrners a Conſtitutione Romanæ civitatis, ut inſcriptio Codicis Chartacei habet.

habet. Procedunt ea quidem etiam usque ad annum 1435. sed in pluribus a Codicibus Luneburgensi & Lubecensi differunt, qui ab orbe condito incipiunt. Præfatio etiam diversa est. Unde eam hic adjicimus: Quoniam infima hujus mundi diligenti animo intuenti satis lucide apparet, quod librorum copiosa universitas, præsentis vitæ exigua brevitas, memoriæ atque reminiscentiæ sedula labilitas non patiuntur omnia dicta & præcepta pariter animo apprehendi; quare mihi, omnium fratrum meorum minimo, visum est, ut pro modulo mei ingenii, divino juvamine mediante, ex plurimorum librorum summa unum opusculum compingerem compendiose & summatim, in quo vitæ gestaque gentilium & Philosophorum, nec non bella Regum, tam eorundem, quam Christi fidelium, una cum moribus & factis Pontificum orthodoxorum legentibus & audientibus patefierent, ut non tantum ex Philosophorum moribus ac prælucidis multorum Romanorum conversationibus Pontificum ad exstirpandum scelera, sectandumque virtutes excitarentur, verum etiam ex bellis famosis circumquaque usque in præsens per orbem inter diversa regna & reges commissis; vel antequam veniret Rex noster pacificus, qui locutus pacem in plebem suam, quanto fervore contra hostes spirituales & pro gloria cœlesti pugnare debeant, informarentur. Illi quidem, utpote infideles, hujus salutis & gloriæ ignari & penitus exsortes, tam acriter dimicaverunt pro salute temporali, tantum ad gloriam momentaneam vel adipiscendam vel tuendam. Ex cædibus quoque hominum in eisdem præliis innumeraliter perpetratis licet advertere severitatem Dei in reprobos, quos quasi pecora vilia, viliter & abjectos reputans, peccatis eorum exigentibus, tot eorum millia, tanquam innumerabiles multitudines in singulis fere bellis per manus hostium interire, simulque in corpore & anima passim perire permisit. E contrario vero bonitatem ejusdem & clementiam in electos, pro quibus veniet in finem rex Israel, mutato habitu, ne agnosceretur ab hostibus, vel forma servi susceptа nostræ mortalitatis armis indutus, ut quod infirmum est Dei, fortius esset hominibus, in campum hujus mundi pugnantes, contra quos debellaturus advenit, & ut eos ab utraque morte misericorditer liberaret, usque ad proprii sanguinis effusionem multiplicem & copiosam, insuper & usque ad mortem ignominiosissimam tam fortiter agonizavit & vicit.

Est igitur initium hujus opusculi ab constructione egregiæ civitatis Romæ. Sicut enim legitur in Speculo Historiali, ab antiquo duæ fuerunt tantum civitates per totam Theutoniam; una, quæ vocatur Treviris super Mosellam aquam situata, multum nobilis, ubi adhuc viget Archiepiscopatus solempnis, quæ fertur constructa temporibus Abrahæ, anno ætatis suæ septimo; Alia autem civitas vocatur Bardewyk, per medium miliare distans a Luneborch, quæ jam excidium passa, sita fuit super flumine Elmenowe, & constructa constiterat ante ipsius destructionem ad 2060. annos. Ejus autem destructor fuit Hinricus Leo Magnus Dux Saxoniæ & Westphaliæ, ut infra patebit anno Domini 1180.

In reliquis pleraque conveniunt cum nostra editione; sed plura omissa sunt, pleraque brevius comprehensa: Anni quoque non ab initio cujusvis paragraphi adjecti, sed in margine saltem annotati & circa finem plane neglecti: nec authores, unde narratio desumta, ubique adduntur. Ferme itaque puto, hoc exemplar primo ab Hermanno in chartam conjectum, & deinde eo modo illustratum & auctum esse, ut in Codice Luneburgensi comparet; unde & hanc ultimam editionem non sine causa Chronicam novellam Hermannus inscripsit. Primæ tamen editionis exemplar adhibuit ignotus author in Regia nostra Bibliotheca extans, qui in Saxonicam Linguam id transtulit & usque ad annum 1438. continuavit. Ill. Leibnitius hanc continuationem, quod res Brunsvicenses & Luneburgenses illustraret, Scriptorum Brunsvic. Tomo III. p. 203. sq. inseruit. Nec insolitum olim fuit, authoribus medii ævi, ut librorum suorum aliquot editiones darent.

Sic Engelhuſius Chronicon ſuum primo ſuccincte admodum contexuit, uti id in Codice Bibliothecæ Gandershemenſis invenimus nuper. Deinde idem auxit per varias vices, ut ex Præfatione Leibnitiana Script. Brunsv. T. III. pag. 54. apparet, ac quotiescunque deſcriberetur, toties aliquid novi paſſim adjecit, ut ipſi obſervavimus in variis ejus Codicibus, quos vidimus.

Non tralatitiam attentionem merentur Expeditiones in Terram Sanctam, magnarum in Europa mutationum cauſæ, & malorum ineffabilium origo. In uſum deduxit eas zelus quorundam ſeculi Undecimi Principum Papæque Urbani II. non admodum diſcretus, & bonis moribus, paci publicæ, majeſtatique Imperatorum poſtea ſæpius noxius. Aliquid tamen inde quoque commodi in rempublicam redundavit. Iis enim rei militaris ſcientia maxime aucta; ars, quam vocant, Ingeniaria exculta; pulverem pyrium inveniendi occaſio data; cuniculos ſubterraneos ducendi & Fortalitia per ignem & incenſum pulverem pyrium ſubruendi modus ad ſummum perductus; ars nautica promota; commercia orientalia ſtabilita, ut alia taceam, majore opere aliquando exponenda. Scriptores de hiſce expeditionibus ſacris veteres, plerosque origine Gallos, ſub titulo Geſtorum Dei per Francos publicavit olim Jacobus Bongarſius. Juſtum inde eſt, ut & quosdam e Germania ortos eadem de re authores edamus: Damus tibi itaque, Lector benevole, hic primo Viam Hieroſolymitanam ſive itineris in Terram Sanctam brevem deſcriptionem ſeculo duodecimo confectam, atque ex Codice Membranaceo Bibliothecæ Cizenſis depromptam, quæ ab anonymo in commodum eorum, qui in Terram illam iter ſuſcepturi erant, confecta eſt.

V.

Excipit illam brevis Hiſtoria Occupationis & amiſſionis Terræ Sanctæ a Godefredi Bullionei expeditione usque ad finem ſeculi duodecimi decurrens. Invenimus eam in Codice Eminentiſſimi Electoris Moguntini membranaceo & ſub initium ſeculi XIII. conſcripto, quo & Ottonis & Acerbi Morenarum hiſtoria continebatur.

Oliverius natione Weſtphalus, Canonicus primum Paderbornenſis Eccleſiæ fuit, ut ex variarum literarum ſubſcriptionibus apud Schatenium patet. Translatus deinde eſt Coloniam ibique Scholaſtici & Magiſtri munus adeptus eſt. Anno 1210. una cum Johanne Sanctenſi Scholaſtico militiæ cruciatæ adverſus Albigenſes præco & cohortator fuit, ubi & in familiaritatem S. Dominici venit, ut Cæſarius Heiſterbacenſis Miracul. lib. VII. c. 24. indicat. Suſpicor autem, jam antea Oliverum in Albigenſibus ad obedientiam Romanæ Sedis reducendis ſtrenuam operam navaſſe. Innocentius enim III. Papa lib. X. Epiſt. 201. Epiſcopo Gebennenſi & Abbati Bonæ Vallis Viennenſis diœceſis ſcribit, ſe indigne ferre, quod Gratianopolitanus Epiſcopus Eccleſiam Aſpernadi Magiſtro Olivero conceſſam, ei ſubtraxerit; mandatque, ut Epiſcopum hunc cogant, quo illam memorato Magiſtro ſine dilatione reſignet. Pretium igitur operæ apud Albigenſes impenſæ iſta Eccleſia fuit. Epiſtola Papæ ſcripta eſt 3. Kalend. Februarii, anno decimo Pontificatus, hoc eſt, anno Chriſti 1209. Anno 1215. in Conventu Aquenſi, eodem Cæſario lib. X. c. 7. teſte, literis Apoſtolicis, quæ a Baluzio Epiſt. Innocentii III. Papæ lib. XVI. Epiſt. 29. editæ ſunt, ad id deputatus, crucem adverſus Infideles in Brabantia, Flandria, Friſia & vicinis provinciis cum Arnoldo diſcipulo ſuo prædicavit; & anno 1217. cum multis Principibus claſſe per mare in Terram Sanctam ivit. Cæſarius lib. IX. c. 13. idem prodit, & Albertus Stadenſis ad eum annum: Multi, inquit, peregrini verſus Hieruſalem ſunt profecti, petentes de Marſalia Terram Sanctam: in quorum comitatu erat Magiſter Oliverus, prædicator famoſiſſimus, poſtea Paderbornenſis Electus & tandem S. Sabinæ Presbyter Cardinalis. Chriſtianis ibi adverſus Infideles pugnantibus & anno 1218. Damiatam obſidentibus animos addebat, ferventiſſimus & facundiſſimus ſui ſeculi orator. Horas hic ſubſecivas compoſitioni duorum libellorum impendit, quorum unus agit de Regibus Terræ Sanctæ, & res Chriſtianorum in Oriente geſtas ab anno 1095. usque ad annum 1218. complectitur; Alter hujus continuatio eſt, & Hiſtoria Damiatina appellatur, atque ab anno 1217. incipiens, captionem Damiatæ pluribus exponit; deinde, quomodo urbs hæc iterum amiſſa ſit, addit, ac hiſtoriæ ſuæ filum in anno 1222. abrumpit, quo nempe cum aliis Chriſtianis militibus & Principibus in Europam reverſus eſt. Godefridus Monachus S. Pantaleonis anno 1218. narrat, Oliverum Scholaſticum ad Damiatam, ex puris eleemoſynis pauperum ædificium conſtruxiſſe, in quo erant propugnacula & pons &c. Anno 1223. præmium operæ navatæ tulit Epiſcopatum Paderbornenſem, isque ei anno 1224. ab Honorio III. Papa confirmatus eſt literis ſolennibus, quas Schatenius recenſet. Gobelinus Aetate VI. c. 64. & Eiſengreinius in Catalogo Teſtium veritatis tradunt, Oliverium tunc Synodo Cleri congregata, Superiorum Synodorum Decreta & laudabiles conſuetudines Sacrorum ac temporum in unum Codicem collegiſſe, qui tamen nondum detectus eſt a quoquam. Anno 1255. Oliverius cum Engelberto Colonienſi Archiepiſcopo in Italia fuit, & Gelenius in hujus Vita lib. III. not. ad cap. 8. adducit Friderici II. Imp. Diploma, quo hoc anno menſe Julio apud S. Germanum ad radices montis Caſſini Engelberto modo dicto prædium Rickterichium donavit & confirmavit, cui Oliverus Paderbornenſis Epiſcopus ſubſcripſit. Hinc is Romam evocatus & ab Honorio Papa conſecratus eſt, ut concluditur ex ipſius Honorii Epiſtola ad Canonicos Paderbornenſes anno 1226. data, cum, Oliverio in numerum Cardinalium tunc cooptato & Epiſcopo Sabinenſi creato, iis alium Epiſcopum eligendi facultatem concederet. Extat illa apud Schatenium Annal. Paderb. p. 1009. Sed diu dignitate Cardinalitia gaviſus non eſt Oliverius; ex iis enim, quæ Schatenius in medium affert, evidens fit, eum anno 1227. deceſſiſſe. Idem Schatenius meminit Operum Oliveri, Hiſtoriæ nempe Regum Terræ Sanctæ & Damiatinæ, & addit: Pia & erudita Oliverii Monumenta, quæ manuſcripta ſervantur in Bibliotheca Ferdinandi Epiſcopi noſtri, dignaque, quæ ex pralis in publicam lucem proferantur. Votum Schatenii hoc nos jam implemus, Codice Membranaceo ex Bibliotheca Ferdinandi, qui illum a Medico doctiſſimo Bernhardo Rottendorfio acceperat, ad Adolphum Overhamum Benedictini ordinis olim inſigne membrum, & poſt obitum ejus in peculium Monaſterii S. Ludgeri Helmſtadienſis, tandemque, benevolentia Roberti Verboekhorſti Præpoſiti ejusdem loci præterito anno defuncti, ad nos delato. Hiſtoria Regum Terræ Sanctæ plane nondum impreſſa hactenus fuit. Voſſius lib. III. de Hiſt. Latinis pag. 715. refert, Oliveri librum de Expeditione Hieroſolymitana Lovanii apud S. Martinum extare, quem Hiſtoriam Damiatinam eſſe puto. Hanc ſubinde in obſidione Damiatæ continuavit, & per partes huc illucque miſit. Sic enim Partem ejus a Capite XI. usque ad Caput XIX. miſit & inſcripſit Archiepiſcopo & Eccleſiæ Colonienſi his verbis: *Honorabilibus Dominis ſuis, Engelberto Colonienſi Archiepiſcopo, Majori Præpoſito, Majori Decano, cæterisque Prioribus, totique Clero Oliverus peccator, ſervus empticius crucis ſic dictus, Colonienſis Scholaſticus per viam ſalutis ad æterna beatitudinis conſortium pervenire feliciter. ctorum, ut quæ in hortis roſarum, martyrum; Liliorum, Virginum; violarum, Confeſſorum, nunc pace temporali per venerabilem Archiepiſcopum veſtrum gaudens habitas, pro devotione filiarum tuarum flecte genua cordis tui coram altiſſimo, qui vitæ & mortis habet imperium. Noli alta ſapere, ſed time coram ipſo; vias tuas argue, ne furor iræ Dei, qui ſtillavit ſuper te, convertatur in grandinem; ſed tranquillitate temporum diu conceſſa, ei, cui honor eſt & excellentia, virtus & potentia, libera mente deſervias. Hanc vero partem Hiſtoriæ Damiatinæ in forma Epiſtolæ ad Engelbertum Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem deſtinavit, prout eam Bongarſius ex Codice Pauli Petavii primus edidit. Deinde eandem produxit usque ad Capitis XIX. verba: Majus auxilium tuliſti, quam reſiduum totius regni Teutonici. Atque ita extat Gvelferbyti in Codice membranaceo Gudiano. Poſtea addidit plura usque ad finem Capitis XXIV. Hoc exemplar nactus eſt Thomas Gale atque ſuis Anglicarum rerum Scriptoribus, ſine nomine tamen authoris, inſeruit. Jacobus de Vitriaco ſuo tempore habuit eandem Oliverii hiſtoriam usque ad finem Capitis XXVII. productam, eamque, inſigni plagio commiſſo, nec nominato authore, ſuæ Hiſtoriæ Hieroſolymitanæ verbotenus immiſcuit. Reliqua nos primi in lucem producimus, quanquam ex iis, quæ Ubbo Emmius Lib. VIII. rerum Friſicarum habet, facile intelligamus & illum integrum hoc Oliverii opuſculum vidiſſe. Adducit enim ſenſum ultimorum verborum de amiſſione Damiatæ, quo Oliverus queritur Chriſtianos in Teutonicos & præcipue Friſios ingratos fuiſſe, quorum tamen opera præcipue antea urbem hanc cepiſſent.

Cum cruce ſignati Chriſtiani circa annum 1220. & 1221. ad Damiatam cum Infidelibus continuo præliarentur, & ſorte quidem plerumque non proſpera, fama venit de Davide Rege Tartarorum ex Presbyteri Johannis gente oriundo, potentiſſimo & Chriſtiano, qui in Aſia Regna ingentia ſubegiſſet, & Chriſtianis adverſus Turcos auxilium miſſurus eſſet. Hac erigebantur animi militum nutantes & peſſima quæque a Turcarum copioſo exercitu timentes. Pelagius Cardinalis Albanenſis & Papæ legatus ac Templarii miras de Davide relationes ſtudioſe divulgabant ipſique Papæ ſcribebant, ut eo ſolicitius de ſubſidiis in Terram Sanctam mittendis cogitaret, nec ſpem amitteret, res ibi collapſas reſtitui poſſe. Ex hiſce vero Relationibus una eſt, quam hic ex Codice Membranaceo Cizenſi damus, atque ad quam Oliverius Hiſtoriæ Damiatinæ cap. 33. non obſcure provocat. Aliquid veri ei ineſſe non dubito, omnia tamen vera eſſe vix credo. Albericus certe annotat ſub anno 1222. Regem David & Tartaros moviſſe quidem cum exercitu verſus Terram ſanctam; Sed cum audiſſent Damiatam eſſe perditam, per inſulas maris, prout melius potuerint, in patriam ſuam reverſos eſſe, & totam famam, quæ de illis ſparſa fuerit, in brevi evanuiſſe.

Cum anno 1495. Carolus VIII. Galliæ Rex Alpes trajiceret, Regnum Neapolitanum occupaturus, Italiamque univerſam deinde ſibi ſubjecturus, progreſſibus ejus obicem poſuere Veneti, in fœdera cum Pontifice Maximo, Maximiliano Imperatore, ac Alfonſo & Eliſabetha Hiſpaniæ Regibus concedentes, ſuaque ope, pugnaque Tarrenſi Gallum compulere, ut Italia exiret. Novariam quoque a Gallo captam obſedere, & ibi tandem, pace compoſita, ut ea Ludovico Mediolanenſium Duci reſtitueretur, effecere. Veneti exercitus Medicus tunc erat Alexander Benedictus Veronenſis, ſcriptis pluribus clarus & aſtrologiæ præterea judiciariæ peritus. Is hac in expeditione geſta in diaria retulit, & deinde duobus libris comprehendit. Primum Auguſtino Barbatico Venetorum Principi dedicavit, eoque pugnam Tarrenſem expoſuit. Alterum Antonio Bernardo & Georgio Cornelio Equitibus, ac Aloyſio Venerio, Decemviris inſcripſit, & illo Novarienſem obſidionem pacemque tandem compoſitam recenſuit. Stylo utitur non ineleganti & rerum omnium teſtis oculatus fuit, ut adeo fidem præ cæteris mereatur.

Catalogos Pontificum Romanorum cujuscunque ætatis non ſpernendos eſſe, docuere Papebrochius & Pagius, qui diverſos edidere. Is, quem hic producimus, ab Ottonis M. tempore diffuſius paulo geſta Paparum refert, & Leonis noni tempore confectus eſt. Ejus enim nomen quidem habet; ſed annos regiminis non addit, nec mortem commemorat, ut in cæteris conſvevit. Repertus eſt a nobis in Codice Membranaceo Bibliothecæ Regiæ, Ottonis Friſingenſis Chronicon continente, ad quem editio ejusdem recenſeri meretur ab iis, qui aliquando illam nobis reddent: Eleganter enim & diſtincte exaratus eſt. Deſcriptor illius Pontificum nomina a Leone IX. usque ad Anaſtaſium IV. anno 1151. electum adjecit. In MSto vero, ut & hoc notem, folium deeſt, quod continuit Pontifices ab Agathone usque ad Eugenium ſecundum.

Chronicis Pontificum Romanorum collegit Actus Romanorum Pontificum, & eos usque ad Johannem XXII. ſive ad annum Chriſti MCCCXXI. perduxit ac Urbano V. dedicavit, ut illis is uteretur in rerum momentis ponderandis. Opus ipſum, quo commodius inveniri quorumlibet Pontificum acta poſſent, ſecundum literas Alphabethi atque in MXLVIII. capitula digeſſerat; hoeque modo diſpoſitum nos id in Codice Papyraceo Bibliothecæ Regiæ invenimus. Prætulimus tamen ordinem temporum & ſucceſſionem Paparum, ac ſecundum eam idem digeſſimus; quo ipſo non neceſſe fuit, alios Indices addere. Ab Innocentio III. Papa Amalricus incipit diffuſior eſſe in narratione rerum ſuæ ætati propiorum. Stephanus Baluzius inter ſcriptores de Papis Avenionenſibus, Vitas Clementis V. & Johannis XXII. ex Amalrico inſeruit, quas cum noſtro exemplari contulimus, variasque lectiones annotavimus.

Magna Johannis Trithemii fama fuit ſub finem ſeculi decimi quinti. Vitam ejus nondum quis exacte in literas retulit. Unde ipſum eandem ſcriptaque ſua recenſentem audire operæ pretium erit. Titulum Nepiachi ſive Puerilis ipſe libello dedit. Manuſcripto Chartaceo, unde is depromptus eſt, præſcripta erant hæc, quæ non præterire debui, verba: Jo. Trithemius Abbas Spanhemenſis, & S. Jacobi Herbipolenſis & Philoſophus ſummus naſcitur Trithenheim ad Moſellam tertio a Treveris lapide 1462. Kalend. Febr. Cæterum cum libello hoc conferri meretur Epiſtola Trithemii ad Rogerium Sicambrum, quæ eſt LI. libri ſecundi Epiſtolarum Familiarium, ubi ſimiliter Indicem Operum ſuorum texit: item Epiſtola Johannis Durachii, diſcipuli Trithemii, anno 1500. ſcripta, quam Trithemii Operibus Francofurti 1601. a ſe editis Freherus præfixit. Coacti autem ſumus Nepiachum hic interponere, cum non commodius opuſculum pro numero hoc XIII. invenire poteramus, ſub quo typographus aliquid ad collectionem noſtram non pertinens ex errore inſeruerat. Gratiam tamen id ſuam, alieno licet loco compareat, apud bonarum literarum amantes habebit.

Prophetiæ Malachiæ de Pontificibus Romanis vulgo circumferuntur, & Alfonſi Ciacconii, viri doctiſſimi, expoſitionem atque Arnoldi Wionis editionem olim meruere. Erat Malachias Hibernus, Monachus Bencorenſis, & tandem Archiepiſcopus Armachanus factus eſt. Huic ſedi cum aliquot annos præfuiſſet, humilitatis cauſa eam reliquit anno circiter Domini 1137. & Dunenſi Epiſcopatu contentus, in eo ad finem usque vitæ permanſit, quem anno 1148. die 2. Novembris aſſecutus eſt. Extant Epiſtolæ S. Bernardi tres ad eum, nempe 315. 316. & 317. Scripſiſſe quoque fertur nonnulla, de quibus Waræus libro I. de ſcriptoribus Hibernicis & in Commentario de Præſulibus Hiberniæ, nec non Baleus Centuria XIV. poterunt videri. An Prophetiarum tamen illarum author ſit, dubitari adhuc valde poteſt. Interim ab iis noſtræ hæ Prophetiæ ex Codice eodem, quo Amalricus continebatur, depromtæ omnino differunt, & Satyricæ potius ſunt, confectæque ab homine circa finem decimi quinti ſeculi vivente. Referuntur & cenſentur in iis acta & mores Nicolai III. Martini IV. Honorii IV. Nicolai IV. Cœleſtini V. Bonifacii VIII. Benedicti XI. Clementis V. Johannis VI. Urbani V. & Gregorii XI. Hunc excipientes Pontifices usque ad annum 1400. non nominati quidem; ſed tamen cenſura ſua notati ſunt, forte quod authori periculoſum videretur, in viventes aut recens defunctos ſententiam dicere.

Magiſtri Vulgerii verſus, e Codice Berolinenſi a nobis hauſti, lepidi ſunt & Papæ clerique mores acriter perſtringunt. Ex primo verſu concluderes, in Papam Innocentium hic ludi. Dum tamen dicitur, Papam voluiſſe Gallorum gentem ſubdere, ſed captivatum eſſe & in exilium mox fugientem deceſſiſſe; certum eſt, intelligi Bonifacium VIII. qui Philippo IV. Galliæ Regi regnum quidem eripere tentabat; ſed ideo mox in miſerum illum, qui deſcribitur, rerum ſtatum delapſus eſt. Ipſe Vulgerius, ut ex verbis ejus apparet, Papæ juſſu ſede pulſus, incarceratus, & variis anguſtiis preſſus eſt. Dictis in Papam luſus quosdam ingenii, proverbiaque ſubnectit & tandem in clerum ſuæ ætatis vitiis corruptiſſimum invehitur.

Notitia Scriptorum quorundam Concilium Conſtantienſe & Huſſi præſertim condemnationem concernentium non ingrata fortaſſe erit iis, qui Concilii Conſtantienſis hiſtoriam accurate contexunt. Ex paucis quæ hic excerpſimus, ſatis intelligitur, Sigismundum Imperatorem non adeo innocentem in condemnatione Johannis Huſſi fuiſſe, ac vulgo fertur. Honoratus Nicquetius Avenionenſis S. J. in Libello de Cruce cap. 25. profitetur, antiquarum rerum Romanæ Urbis Diarium a Lælio Petronio, Paulo de Magiſtris & Stephano Infeſſura conſcriptum, manu exaratum extitiſſe in Bibliotheca Fulvii Archangeli Balneo-regienſis. In Bibliotheca vero Regia Hanoveræ inveni deinde Codicem ſub hac inſcriptione: Diario della città di Roma di Stephano Infeſſura, e ſuoi Antenati, Scriba del Popolo e Senato Romano, dove ſi vede li maggiori ſucceſſi della ſudetta citta di Roma e di tutta Europa in tempo delli infra ſcritti Pontefici, Bonifacio VIII. Benedetto XI. Clemente V. Urbano V. Gregorio XI. Urbano VI. Bonifacio IX. Innocentio VII. Gregorio XII. Aleſſandro V. Giovanni XII. detto XIII. Martino III. detto V. Eugenio IV. Nicolao V. Caliſto III. Pio II. Paulo II. Sixto IV. Innocentio VIII. Aleſſandro VI. Incipit hic Codex ab anno 1294. & cum Codice Berolinenſi, quem poſtea nacti ſumus, convenit usque ad mortem Bonifacii VIII. & quidem usque ad verba: Regno Otto anni nel Papato. Quæ vero deinde in Codice Berolinenſi ſequuntur initio mutilata, de ejusdem Papæ Bonifacii fuga Romam ſuſcepta & miſero ejus obitu, usque ad eadem verba: e regno Otto anni nel Papato in Hanoverano non extant; ſequentia vero iterum conveniunt. Interim narrationi huic initio carenti, in Codice Berolinenſi inſcriptio præponitur: Stephani Infeſſuræ Civis Romani Diaria rerum Romanarum ſuorum temporum poſt Curiam Romanam ex Galliis ad Urbem reverſam usque ad Alexandri ſexti creationem. Sed evidens eſt, quod Infeſſura, ſi ſolum ſuorum temporum res deſcripſit, non potuerit author eſſe eorum, quæ ab anno 1303. recenſentur. Hæc enim ejus tempora longe antecedunt. Unde Inſcriptionem hanc a poſteriore quodam additam & erroneam eſſe, credibile eſt. Odoricus Raynaldus in Continuatione Annalium Baronii Stephani Infiſſuræ (ita enim nomen exprimit) Diarium ab anno 1484. usque ad annum 1494. quo ſuam narrationem Infeſſura finit, frequenter citat ex Archivio Vaticano, ſub num. III. ibi extans. Et notari meretur, ab initio usque in annum 1484. Diarium hoc res Romanas exponens ſcriptum eſſe lingua Italica; deinde vero idem latino ſermone continuari usque ad obitum Innocentii VIII. Hoc enim a diverſis authoribus id confectum eſſe aliquatenus oſtendit. Codex Hanoveranus, ut vidimus, idem compoſitum eſſe perhibet a Lælio Petronio, Stephano Infeſſura & majoribus, ſive anteceſſoribus, ſuis. Sed, cum unus ſaltem anteceſſorum Infeſſuræ nominetur, inde conjicio, exemplar a Nicquetio nominatum accuratius authores indicaſſe Lælium Petronium, Paulum de Magiſtris & Stephanum Infeſſuram. Hos ſuos anteceſſores deſcripſiſſe atque excerpſiſſe videtur Infeſſura. Et poterit inde prior narratio ab anno 1294. usque ad obitum Bonifacii VIII. deſumta eſſe ex Diario Lælii Petronii; quæ deinde (initio mutila) ſequuntur usque in annum 1484. Italico ſermone ſcripta poterunt eſſe Pauli de Magiſtris; reliqua vero Latinis verbis concepta ipſius Infeſſuræ. Sed obſtat, quod ipſe Infeſſura jam ſub anno 1478. de ſe loquatur, ſeque tunc Poteſtatem Hortæ civitatis fuiſſe commemoret. Dici tamen etiam poteſt, hæc verba Infeſſuram Pauli de Magiſtris narrationi inſeruiſſe, cum illam in uſus ſuos deſcriberet, circa annum 1484. Scriba urbis Romæ factus. Omnes tres ſucceſsive Scribas Senatus Populique Romani fuiſſe veroſimile eſt. De Infeſſura id inſcriptiones Codicis Berolinenſis & Hanoverani teſtantur. Nec ubique invenies alia, quam concernentia ſtatum Urbis, illuſtres familias Romanas & concertationes Urſinorum & Columnenſium, quorum hi Gibellini, illi Guelfi erant. Mores Paparum ingenue hic depinguntur, nec vitiis eorum parcitur, cum authores hi Columnenſibus, ſedi Romanæ tunc exoſis, faverent, injuriasque urbi Romanæ a Papis eorumque aſſeclis illatas graviter ferrent, atque ita ſcapham appellare ſcapham non vererentur.

Piæ memoriæ Leibnitius olim e Guelferbytana Bibliotheca nactus erat Excerpta hominis Galli ex Diario Johannis Burchardi, Argentinenſis Clerici & Ceremoniarum Magiſtri, Gallicis partim, & partim Latinis verbis concepta. Ea tanti putavit vir doctiſsimus, ut anno 1696. ſeparatim faceret excudi. Præfationem tunc opuſculo hanc præponebat:

Benevolo Lectori Godefridus Guilielmus Leibnitius S. P. D. Anecdota ſive Arcanæ Hiſtoriæ exemplum apud antiquos Procopius dedit, qui flagitia aulæ Juſtiniani Imperatoris occultato libro, nec niſi poſt Autoris obitum edendo complexus eſt; quanquam multi odio magis hominem, quam veritatis amore impulſum credant. Nomen Anecdoti operis (des Anecdotes) renovavit nuper in Gallia ſcriptor elegans, rem ipſam non ſatis. Rectius ad libellum ſub Rege Ludovico XI. ſcriptum, qui extat titulo Chronici Scandaloſi, accommodes; & ad præſens vitæ Alexandri VI. excerptum. Hujus enim aula nihil fortaſſe unquam flagitioſius vidit Urbs vel Orbis, certantibus inter ſe tribus vitiis capitalibus, libidine, perfidia, crudelitate; quibus faſtigium imponebat impietas, ſacro Eccleſiæ ſchemate velata, ut ſcelerum palmam omnibus retro ſeculis dubiam facere velle videretur. Lucretia Alexandri filia veterem illam cognominem, vindicato pudore celebratam, fama contraria ſuperavit. Cæſar Borgia Dux Valentinus geminato fratricidio & ſororis ſtupro nobilis, perjuriis, veneficiis, percuſſoribus ita uſus, ut patre ſe dignum probarit; memorabile tamen exemplum orbi dedit criminum infructuoſe conſumtorum; captivus denique, extorris, odii publici victima, & quicquid etiam Machiavellus judicaverit, deteſtandæ potius, quam commendandæ tyrannidi perpetuo valiturus. Ut qualem poëtæ fingerent tragœdiam a divina providentia in ipſo editam credas. Res igitur Roderici & Cæſaris Borgiarum Patris & filii ſcripſere multi eloquentes viri, ſed jucundum tamen & proficuum erit, legere quæ in literas retulerit ſimplici ſtylo, & quantum judicare licet, odio & amore procul, teſtis rerum, in dignitate conſtitutus, multaque aperiens, unde rectius judicium feras. Is fuit Johannes Burchardus, patria Argentinenſis, Magiſter Ceremoniarum in Aula Romana, etiam Eccleſiæ Hortana a Julio II. Papa præfectus. Integrum ejus Diarium ad manus noſtras non pervenit. Excerptis itaque contentos nos eſſe oportet, in quibus complura etiam memorabilia continentur de Expeditione Caroli VIII. Galliæ Regis in Italiam, & receptione ejus in Urbe Roma, habitisque a Papa honoribus; & de fratre Bajazetis Turcarum Principis, Sultano Zeme, (apud Noſtrum ad Italicæ pronuntiationis modum Gem dicto) quem Rex Papæ extorſit. Et de commercio inter Papam & Turcam, nuſpiam clarius expoſito; hic enim ipſæ mutuæ literæ & Pontificii nuntii mandata exhibentur. Ex quibus intelligitur eo usque inter eos amicitiam profeciſſe, ut etiam in nominandis Cardinalibus Romanæ ſedis, ratio Turcicæ commendationis haberetur. Vixit illis temporibus Frater Hieronymus Savonarola Ordinis Prædicatorum, magnæ diu apud Florentinos autoritatis, toritatis, ut respublica quoque ejus consiliis administraretur. Hunc multi Protestantium numerant inter testes veritatis; scripta certe laudem merentur: Cominaus, qui vidit, pene ut Prophetam commendat. Burchardus & Pontificis & ipsius literas, & fortunæ catastrophen tragicam exhibet; cujus narratio, si fida est, Savonarolam inter improbos sanctitatis simulatores collocare oportet: quod tamen in medio relinquo; nam potuit noster decipi narrationibus falsis de homine in aula exoso; nec satis tuto creditur confessionibus per tormenta expressis, nisi aliunde adjuventur. Profuerit tamen ad cautionem hæc legisse, ne quem ideo statim laudemus effusius, quia odio Papæ nobilitatur. Cæterum Alexandri Sexti crimina nemo æquus ad Papatus vituperationem retulerit; nisi forte per recriminationem, qua careri posse malim. Improbitatem hominis agnoscunt, qui nemini in colenda Romana Ecclesia concedunt. Quin potius interest Pontificii nominis, apparere quanto intervallo præsens Romæ facies distet ab illa, quæ ducentis abhinc annis fuit. Neque enim temere hodie Pontifices Maximos fieri constat, nisi qui magnis laudibus eminent, & Cardinales similes plerumque ab ipsis leguntur. Vitia erunt donec homines: interea ademto sceleribus regno egregios Viros Romæ in throno collocari, nostris temporibus gratulabuntur etiam, qui Romæ non favent. Claudam præfationem hoc uno adhuc observato: Burchardum, Ceremoniarum in Romana Curia Magistrum quædam dignissima notatu consignasse de actis inter Legatos circa honores & præcedentiam, & vel ob hanc causam meritum produci. Ita potior Hungarus Scoto, Monferratensis Senensi, Electores Duce Burgundiæ, Rex Romanus Hispano & Gallo. Addatur de lite inter Venetos & Sabaudos; quomodo Oratores Franciæ & Hispaniæ percusserint se cum capellis & res ita composita est, ut Hispanus primo ex Gallis cederet, secundo præferretur. Ne quid dicam de quæstione, utrum Cardinalis pro Rege legationem apud Papam obire possit, aliisque id genus, quæ in brevi libello legi possunt. Hæc Leibnitius. Sed bona fortuna integrum Burchardi Diarium, Alexandri VI. Papæ acta recensens, postea inventum est in Codice Berolinensi, unde illud jam damus. Odoricus Raynaldus ejusdem testimonio per omnem Alexandri VI. vitam utitur, illudque in Archivio Vaticano, numero 104. signatum, extare prodit. Burchardus in hoc suo opere non nunquam provocat ad veteres libros Ceremoniales; & didicimus demum ex Rainaldo, ipsum quoque alio opere Diarium Ceremoniarum Curiæ Romanæ scripsisse, cujus MStum etiam in Archivio Vaticano extet. Cum enim sub anno 1484. §. 28. mentionem facit Legum a Cardinalibus in Conclavi ante Electionem Innocentii VIII. in propria commoda conditarum, quibus Papa novus adstringendus sit: Quæ vero, inquit, Leges inventæ sint a Cardinalibus, refert accuratissime prædictus Johannes Burchardus Argentinensis Clericus, sacris Ceremoniis Præfectus in MSto Codice Tabularii Vaticani. Idem Diarium Raynaldus adducit quoque sub anno 1485. §. 42. ubi de creatione Maximiliani in Regem Romanorum agit. Diarium de cætero Alexandri VI. in Codice Berolinensi misere trajectum erat, & quæ non procul ab initio stare debebant, in finem fere rejecta erant. Ut hæc in ordinem justum redigerentur, Excerpta Diarii Leibnitiana nobis profuere. Codex quoque Berolinensis Literis Alexandri VI. ad Savonarolam finiebatur; quæ vero deinde usque ad finem anni 1505. sequuntur, in Codice solum Excerptorum Guelferbytano extitere. Lectori benevolo & Infessuræ & Burchardi editio grata sine dubio erit, tot hactenus ignorata pandens, & res seculi decimi quinti mire illustrans. Optandum esset, ut Burchardi opus de Ceremoniis Curiæ Romanæ etiam aliquando in lucem prodiret, sed vix aliqua spes hujus nostri voti adest; latet illud in Archivio Vaticano æternumque latebit. Nos interim præsentibus contenti simus.

Poſt Pontificum acta notari a nobis Germanis merentur illuſtrium Præſulum noſtrorum vitæ & res geſtæ, inter quas primo loco ponimus Vitam Bennonis ſecundi ejus nominis Epiſcopi Osnabrugenſis & fundatoris Monaſterii Iburgenſis Ordinis S. Benedicti; quoniam ejus acta lucem inferunt controverſiis, quæ ſub Henrico IV. Imp. Imperium & Sacerdotium turbabant. Pro imperio ſtabat Benno, probitate pietateque meritus, ut poſt mortem pro Sancto haberetur. Moderati tamen ut erat ingenii, non omnia probabat, quæ ex parte Imperatoris adverſus Papam ſuſcipiebantur. Præcipue notabile eſt ex hac vita, quod, cum Gregorius Papa Ticini deponeretur ab Epiſcoporum Imperatori faventium congregatione, & pro eo Wicbertus Archiepiſcopus Ravennas ſub nomine Clementis conſtitueretur, Benno tunc, ne vocem ſuam ei dare cogeretur, ſe ſubtraxerit, & retro Altare tantisper, dum electio facta eſſet, ſeſe occuluerit. Clementem tamen poſtea nihilominus pro legitime conſtituto Papa agnovit. Author Vitæ Bennonis eſt Norbertus ſecundus Abbas Iburgenſis & Bennoni coætaneus. Benno enim obiit anno 1088. 6. Calendas Auguſti, quod & Necrologia Fuldenſe & Moguntinum, hoc ipſo momento a M. R. Schannato Fuldæ editum affirmant, errorisque redarguunt Erdmannum hiſtoricum Osnabrugenſem, qui diem obitus 22. Julii ponit, & Gelenium, qui in Faſtis ſacris Agrippinenſibus diem 20. Decembris habet; Norbertus vero vitam ipſius, ut Codex authenticus Iburgi exiſtens (cujus apographum mihi Monachus eruditiſſimus ejus loci benevole communicavit) teſtatur, anno 1118. in literas redegit. De vita ipſius Norberti hæc ex ejus libello habemus. Brabantia is oriundus & Coloniæ educatus literisque inſtitutus fuit. Hinc Bambergenſis Eccleſiæ Canonicus factus eſt. Tandem ſeculo nuntium miſit, monachicumque habitum in Sigebergenſi Cœnobio ſuſcepit; unde accerſitus & ultimo Abbas Iburgenſis creatus eſt. Norberti Vitam S. Bennonis elegis non inelegantibus Maurus Roſtius Abbas Iburgenſis in Compendium redegit, quos, cum nobis etiam mitterentur, præterire noluimus.

Edidit olim doctiſſimus Leibnitius in Acceſſionibus Hiſtoricis Geſta Archiepiſcoporum Trevirorum usque ad annum 1132. quo Adelbero inthronizatus eſt, procurrentia. Idem in Præfatione ad Albericum Monachum Trium Fontium oſtendit, horum authorem eſſe Golſcherum S. Eucharii, ſive, ut nunc vocatur, S. Matthiæ extra muros Trevirenſes Monachum, Ordinis S. Benedicti, cujus Trithemius in Chronico Hirſaugienſi & in Catalogo Illuſtrium Germaniæ virorum meminit. Eorundem Geſtorum Codex veruſtus poſtea detectus eſt in Bibliotheca Collegii Societatis Jeſu Trevirenſis, qui ulterius acta Archiepiſcoporum Trevirenſium perſequitur & enarrat usque ad obitum Arnoldi ex Comitibus Iſenburgicis orti, qui anno 1259. contigit. Inde ergo ea, quæ in editione Leibnitiana non inveniuntur, benevole communicavit M. R. P. Weimanus ejusdem Collegii Rector, uti hic a nobis exhibentur. Aliud Geſtorum exemplar ad eundem annum 1259. continuatum in Bibliotheca Senatus Francofurti ad Mœnum extat, cujus etiam Tentzelius Colloquior. Menſtruor. Anni 1698. pag. 497. mentionem facit. Nullum mihi eſt dubium, ea, quæ hic de Adalberone & Hillino leguntur, ejusdem Golſcheri opera confecta eſſe. Indicat enim manifeſte ſatis author, ſe S. Eucharii Monachum fuiſſe, & hiſce ſub Archiepiſcopis ſcripſiſſe. Cætera Anonymus adjecit, hiſtoriam Germanicam excolenti magno uſui futura. ſunt huic variæ Donationes Regum & Imperatorum quæ apud Leibnitium non reperiuntur, ſed editæ tamen ſunt omnes in Broweri Annalibus Trevirenſibus. Cætera additamenta non adeo magni pretii ſunt. Pag. 50. ed. Leibn. lin. 20. adjicitur: Idem enim Pontifex in Palatio Dagoberti, quod vocatur Horreum, Eccleſiam in honore Beatæ Mariæ Virginis conſtruxit, & congregationem Virginum inſtituit, quibus præfecit matres, primo dilectam Virginem Irminam ipſius Dagoberti Regis filiam, deinde Modeſtam, quæ fuit filia ſororis S. Modovvaldi, contemporanea B. Virginis Gertrudis; poſt Modeſtam ſucceſſerunt ei Anaſtaſia, & Baſiliſſa virgines Sanctæ. Prædictus igitur Pontifex præfato Monaſterio privilegium ab Apoſtolico acquiſivit de indemnitate & libertate Eccleſiæ. Sæpe memoratus Pontifex aliam in Palatio antiquo in ſuburbio ſuo congregationem inſtituit, cui matrem ſimiliter Dagoberti filiam, nomine Adelam præfecit & Eccleſiam S. Martini in pago Megene conſtruxit. Pag. 54. lin. 13. Eo mortuo legitur: Defuncto itaque VViomado, Richbodus ordinatur Epiſcopus. Pag. 55. lin. 9. pro in deſertionem legitur rectius: in dejectionem. Pag. 61. lin. 11. ſeq. Hic acquiſivit Abbatiam S. Servatii, quæ dicitur Maſtreiz ab Arnulfo Imperatore & præceptum de eadem Abbatia ab eodem Imperatore obtinuit habens hunc modum: (Vide id apud Browerum pag. 435.) Præfatus Epiſcopus etiam a Ludovico Imperatore hæc caſtella obtinuit Sericum cum Orkeſuel cum villis ſibi ſubjacentibus. Decedente vero Radobone ſucceſſit Rutgerus Epiſcopus, qui præceptum regiæ authoritatis ſuper eandem Abbatiam obtinuit. Iſte præfatus Pontifex bonæ converſationis exiſtens, habito Treberi cum ſuffraganeis Epiſcopis & reliquo clero generali Concilio Librum Canonicorum Decretorum ſua induſtria compoſitum in medium protulit atque firmavit, atque non multo poſt ad feliciorem vitam migravit. Poſt hunc Rupertus Epiſcopus extitit, qui privilegium ab Ottone primo ſuper Abbatiam S. Servatii obtinuit. Iſte Rupertus Archiepiſcopus primus, ut ferunt, Trebirenſem Eccleſiam regno, quod Lotharingium vocatur, adjecit, pro eo quod ſoror ejus Imperatori in matrimonio juncta fuit, cum usque ad ejus tempora Francorum regno, quod a Carolo nomen habet, ſubjecta, multis fuiſſet honoribus illuſtrata. Sancto Martino quædam bona abſtulit Treberi. Poſt Rupertum Henricus Eccleſiæ præfuit, qui regulares officinas & Clauſtra circa majorem Eccleſiam conſtruxit, & forum, in quo fecit erigere crucem, in cujus ſummitate reperitur hodie ſculptum: Ob memoriam Signorum Crucis, quæ cœlitus ſuper homines venerunt anno Dominicæ incarnationis 958. anno vero Epiſcopatus noſtri ſecundo. Henricus Archiepiſcopus me erexit. Affuit Romæ cum Ottone primo damnando Magum, non Papam, Johannem. Item Otto Abbatiam ſupra dictam poteſtate regia de hac Eccleſia tulit ad aliam, quæ dicitur Horrea, quod ſua eſſet, pro Maſtrech huic Eccleſiæ delegavit, cum ad eum nihil pertinuerit. Ipſe vero Henricus LXXX. Manſos de S. Martino tulit, & poſtea in Italia obiit, cui Theodoricus ſucceſſit vir nobilis & magnæ authoritatis, Præpoſitus Mogontiæ Eccleſiæ, qui privilegia ſuæ Eccleſiæ renovavit & auxit, quæ hic ponere curavimus (v. apud Browerum) memoratus Pontifex Theodoricus Romæ Cellam Quatuor Coronatorum cum omnibus appendiciis ſuis ſibi ſuisque ſucceſſoribus in perpetuum acquiſivit, & privilegium a Benedicto Pontifice ſuper hanc obtinuit, habens hunc modum: Privilegium Benedicti Papæ, quod dedit Theodorico Epiſcopo Trevirenſi (v. apud Browerum). Sub eodem Pontifice Regulares Canonici in Eccleſia S. Petri eſſe deſierunt. Pag. 62. lin. 16. habetur: Ekkebertus Epiſcopus: hic Præceptum de Abbatia S. Servatii ab Ottone Imperatore ſecundo obtinuit. Pag. 63. lin. 190. non inveniuntur verba: qui per Moſellæ fluminis alveum transvectus acquieſcit, quæ delenda ſunt & addendum: Obtinuit etiam etiam in Spoleto civitate. Pag. 86. lin. 4. legitur: privilegia renovavit, quæ ſiquis ſcire voluerit, in præſenti invenire poterit. Leo ſervus &c. Vide apud Browerum. Eadem pag. 86 lin. 6. ſuis ablatus. Præfatus autem Pontifex dono Henrici Imperatoris recepit. Pag. 120. lin. 6. poſt victum ſufficeret, additur: Iisdem quoque temporibus S. Eucharii Cœnobium religione rebusque jam pene collapſum per Eberhardum Abbatem Kembergenſem, ſtrenuum religionis virum, reparavit, qui vetus Monaſterium novo inchoans ædificare, dejecit, ipſiusque temporibus præfati Eberardi Sanctus Dominus Mathias Apoſtolus inventus eſt, quantum ipſum locum Deus per multorum miraculorum ſigna pervexerit, teſtis eſt omnis Trebirorum urbs, quæ per meritum S. Mathiæ meliorationis ſuæ maxima indicia monſtrat. Hæc verba, cum in Leibnitiana editione non extent, mihi ſuſpicionem præbent, Golſcherum inveniſſe Geſta Trevirorum ab alio authore elaborata & hæc ſolummodo deſcripſiſſe, inſertis ſubinde quibusdam ex ſuis (qualis eſt hic narratio de reſtauratione Cœnobii ſui) deinde vero ipſum Geſta hæc continuaſſe usque ad tempus a nobis ſupra indicatum.

Vidit vero olim eadem Geſta Trevirorum Johannes Enen SS. Theologiæ Doctor & Concionator verbi Divini Majoris Eccleſiæ Trevirenſis, atque inde Germanico ſermone compendium confecit, in quo vitas quoque Archiepiſcoporum usque ad Richardum Gryfenclavium continuavit. Hoc opuſculum mox Eneni rogatu in Latinam linguam tranſtulit Scheckmannus Monachus & Bibliothecarius Monaſterii S. Maximini, ac anno 1517. hoc ſub titulo edidit: Epitome, alias medulla, Geſtorum Trevirorum nuper per venerabilem virum Dominum Johannem Enen divinæ Paginæ Doctorem eximium Teutonico ſermone edita, jam pridem extemporaliter in Latinum verſa, Fratre Johanne Scheckmanno tradutore, tribus libellis perfecta. Primus liber de origine & geſtis Trevirorum ante Chriſti adventum; ſecundus de factis poſt Chriſti aſcenſum ad cœlos, tertius de omnibus Eccleſiis intus & foris civitatem & de maxime notabilibus earum reliquiis agit.

Hiſtoria Epiſcoporum Germaniæ adhuc omnino expectat virum doctum, qui Ughelli Itali exemplo ſingulorum Epiſcopatuum res notabiliores, diplomata, chartasque colligat, ordinemque Præſulum ſecundum Chronologiæ normam digerat & ex vetuſtiſſimis fabulas eliminet. Veteres Epiſcoporum uniuscujusque Eccleſiæ Catalogi ante omnia ſedulo colligi merentur, licet ſint breviores. In hos enim inquirendum deinde ope veterum monumentorum, ut ſolide conſtet, an in antiquiſſimis non fallant, cum in rebus ſuæ ætati propioribus ſatis ſint certi. Catalogum Epiſcoporum Auguſtanorum deſumſimus ex Codice egregio, qui Ottonis Friſingenſis Chronicon continet, & unde etiam Catalogum Pontificum Romanorum ſupra editum hauſimus. Author ejus ſub Friderico I. Imp. & Hartwico Epiſcopo vixit, Monachusque ad S. Afram fuiſſe videtur, cum Abbatum S. Afræ recenſionem Catalogo Epiſcoporum adjungat a temporibus Brunonis Epiſcopi, quo Monachi Benedictini loco Canonicorum apud S. Afram introducti fuerunt.

XXIII.

Andreæ Ratisbonenſis Chronico ſupra edito in Codice Hamburgenſi adjectum erat Breve Chronicon Epiſcoporum Ratisbonenſium usque ad annum 1296. productum. In ejus initio dicitur, quædam verbotenus deſumta eſſe ex Chronica Magiſtri Conradi de Monte Puellarum, Canonici Ratisbonenſis Eccleſiæ. Reliqua vero ex eadem quoque Chronica excerpta eſſe, inde perſuadeor, quod narratio non continuetur usque ad tempora Andreæ; ſed in dicto anno 1296. finiatur; quo ergo Conradus de Monte Puellarum floruiſſe exiſtimandus eſt. Aditum eum ad Archivium Eccleſiæ habuiſſe, indicant diplomata interſperſa.

XXIV.

Vſus eſt Chronico hoc anonymus author alius Catalogi Epiſcoporum Ratisbonenſium anno 1377. confecti, qui tres diverſos Catalogos Epiſcoporum a ſe viſos adducit. Epiſcopis is ubique addit coætaneos Imperatores & Papas annosque Chriſti. Poſteriorum quoque Epiſcoporum Epitaphia habet; ſed in antiquiorum Epiſcoporum nominibus aliquando diverſam a Conrado ſcriptionem profert. Communicavit eum nobiſcum ex Codice MSto Bibliothecæ Patrum Franciſcanorum Herbipolenſium amicus inter paucos.

XXV.

Chronica Præſulum Spirenſis Civitatis ex Codice Hanoverano deſumta atque ad Georgium Epiſcopum usque, Ducem Bavariæ & Comitem Palatinum Rheni, producta, vel ideo hic inſerenda fuit, quod pleraque privilegia Eccleſiæ Spirenſi conceſſa, Chartæque de bonis ipſius in eadem commemorentur. A viro itaque, cui aditus ad Archivium Epiſcopale patuit, neceſſario confecta fuiſſe debuit, licet nomen illius neſciatur.

XXVI.

Varios jam ante Chronicam modo nominatam Epiſcoporum Spirenſium Catalogos extitiſſe ex eadem patet. Inter eos & hunc, quem ex eodem Hannoverano Codice exhibemus, fuiſſe nulli dubitamus. Continuatus tamen is eſt usque ad annum 1581. Aderant geminæ in eodem Codice Appendices, quas ſubjungimus. Una continet Chronodiſticha quædam & verſus memoriales in actus quosdam notabiles ſeculi XV. & XVI; altera vero exhibet Excerpta ex Paſſione Sacerdotum ſub Marchione Alberto Elector anno 1484. Improbum id Scriptum eſt & complectitur imitationem Hiſtoriæ Paſſionis ab Evangeliſtis deſcriptæ, accommodatam ad Clerum in Franconia ſub Alberti Marchionis Brandenburgenſis ſacri Romani Imperii Electoris ditione poſitum, Principis indignationem paſſum, quod Steuram, quam vocant, ſolvere recuſaſſet. Nos inde deſumſimus ſolum, quæ ſtatum illorum temporum illuſtrare poſſunt, cæteris omiſſis.

Animus erat, his plura adhuc Chronica vetera, hiſtoriam præſertim Epiſcoporum Germaniæ Monaſteriorumque inſigniorum illuſtrantia, addere, quæ tertium Scriptorum tomum conſtituiſſent. Sed placuit celeberrimo Bibliopolæ, duobus hiſce Tomis ſortem Operis prius experiri. Unde hic gradum ſiſto, laboresque meos Lectori benevolo etiam atque etiam commendo. Quod ſi placuerint, indefeſſus pergam, & medii ævi monumenta alia, nec minus utilia, cum tempore luci exponam. Hoc demum ſcias, Indicem in Tomum hunc ſecundum deberi benevolentiæ doctiſſimi Viri Polycarpi Leyſeri, Jurium, Medicinæ & Philoſophiæ Doctoris ac Poëſeos in Academia Julia Profeſſoris digniſſimi.

Unum eſt, quod enixe rogo. Opus omne me abſente impreſſum eſt; nec dubium inde, vitia quædam typographica irrepſiſſe: leviora tamen ea eſſe, &, quæ a rerum perito non difficulter detegi poſſint, obſervavi; unde veniam illorum me adepturum ſpero. Tempore enim ad emendationem ipſorum neceſſario jam deſtituor. Vale & tot annorum opera & ſtudio feliciter utere. Scribebam Hanoveræ d. 16. Aprilis, anno 1723.

I.

Gemma Sacerdotum, qui ſeſe dat tibi totum
Pauper Udalricus, hoc parvum dat Tibi munus.
Si ſum rite memor, Cato dicit parvulus auctor:
Exiguum munus cum dat tibi pauper amicus,
Accipito placide. Tu nunc, Præſul Gebeharde,
Quæſo digneris, ſolita pietate, clientis
Qualiacunque tui munuſcula ſumere. Quod ſi
Res mihi magna domi, ſi par affectibus eſſet, Munera digna Tibi devotio noſtra dediſſet.
Do tibi nunc Domine, quod poſſum pauper habere, Cujus non pretium vel parvum vel prope nullum,
Si magis affectum penſet tua gratia noſtrum,
Quisquis eris Dominus vel lector codicis hujus,
Sis memor Ulrici, Bavenbergenſis alumni,
Qui collegit eum, corpusque redegit in unum,
Haud minimo ſane pretio vigilique labore
Conſcripſit veritus ſed eundem ſcriba peritus,
Cum jam curriculis annorum mille peractis,
Centum viginti cœpiſſet quintus haberi,
Ex quo dignatus Deus eſt aſſumere corpus.
Dic igitur lector dulciſſime: Qui fuit autor
Iſtius libri, ſit propitius Deus illi,
Scriptori pariter, ſit lector pax tibi ſemper,
Omnibus atque bonis, Domino præſtante, fruaris,
Cui decus, imperium, laus eſt honor omne per ævum,

II.

Altercatio inter Urbanum & Clementem.

Nomen habes Clemens, ſed Clemens non potes eſſe, Tradita ſolvendi cum ſit tibi nulla poteſtas.
Diceris Urbanus, cum ſis projectus ab Urbe,
Vel muta nomen, vel regrediaris ad Urbem.
Cum ſine Papatu fueris, vis Papa videri:
Nemo tibi potuit donare, quod alter habebat.
Hac, Urbane, tuum Papatum deſtruo lege:
Nam cum Papa forem, ſis Papa per ambitionem.
Non, Urbanus ait: mea non bene verba notaſti,
Propoſui, tradi non poſſe, quod alter habebat.
Gregorii Papatus erat, tunc alter habebat,
Conſequitur, non poſſe dari, nec Papa fuiſti.
Sic igitur lex iſta mihi contraria non eſt:
Quod placet, aſſumis, nimium temerarius inſers.
Gregorius nec Papa fuit, nec debuit eſſe;
Cauſa patet: pretium promiſit, ut eligeretur.
Præterea firmante manu juraverat, ante
Quod non Papa foret, niſi laudem Regis haberet.
Non habuit laudem. Sententia Simoniſmi
Damnat eum, damnant fidei perjuria fractæ.
Sic ab Alexandro vacuam decernimus eſſe
Romanam Sedem, donec ſucceſſimus illi.
Quod dicis ſonus eſt, ſonus & ſine pondere verba:
Nam ſatis eſt notum, teſtatur circulus orbis,
Gregorium ſine ſorde virum ſanctumque fuiſſe
Pontificem, ſed peſtiferis imbuta venenis
Non tua lingua virum timuit mordere beatum.

Epitaphium Henrici Imperatoris in Bavenberg.

Anno Dominicæ Incarnationis MXXIIII. Indictione V. III. Idus Julii, Henricus Chriſtianiſſimus Romanorum Imperator Auguſtus feliciter migravit ad Chriſtum, anno regni ſui XXIIII. Imperii XI. vitæ LII. hujus Babergenſis Eccleſiæ conditor & auctor, præſidente huic Sedi Eberhardo Primo Pontifice, anno XVII. Verſus:

Henricus cunctis ſemper laudandus in actis:
Quale ſit ejus opus, comprobat ille locus.
Ille quidem templum fabricaverat hoc opulentum,
Multiplici dono dans ſua cuncta Deo.
Et mundi finem jam nunc expectat ibidem,
Quem prece continua tu, Petre Sancte, juva.
Idibus in ternis cum Julius æſtuat arvis,
Spiritus, oſſa ſuo ſunt data principio.

XI.

Epitaphium Chunigundæ Imperatricis in Babenberg.

Anno MXXXIII. Incarnationis Dominicæ, Indictione I. V. Non. Martii Cunegunt Imperatrix, mater pauperum, dives ipſa, divitem migravit ad Chriſtum.

Æquali merito Cunigunt ſociata marito,
Quem vivens coluit, morte locum tenuit.
Felix morte ſua, cui vitam contulit illa
Mors immortalem continuumque diem.
Nam veluti granum moriendo vivificatum,
Quæ bene præmiſit, centuplicata metit.

XII.

Epitaphium Eberhardi primi Babenbergenſis Epiſcopi.

Qui legis hunc titulum, reminiſcere, quod ſumus unum;
En ego ſum pulvis, tu quoque pulvis eris.
Eſt breve, quod fueram; quod ero, non deſinit unquam,
Reſpirat rurſus cum cinis occiduus.
Parce, ſuperſtes homo, fallenti credere mundo,
Cum bona promittat, fallere ſemper amat.

XIII.

Epitaphium Eberhardi primi Babenbergenſis Epiſcopi.

Inſigni forma, ſtatura, ſtemmate, norma,
Præſul Guntharius claruit eximius.
Henrici templo vivis gemmis opulento,
Virtutum radiis præditus eſt aliis.
Dum ſolvit votum, quo ſe vovit dare totum,
Exul abit Solymam, repperit & patriam.

XIV.

Epitaphium Ruberti Babenbergenſis Epiſcopi.

Rebus in humanis dum fallat mundus inanis,
Hac, homo, quid ſit homo, vel meditare domo.
Maxima ſpes plebi, decus ævi, gloria cleri,
Carnea materies ſolvitur in cineres.

XV.

Romæ Epitaphium Helpæ, uxoris Boëthii.

Helpes dicta fui, Siculæ telluris alumna,
Quam procul a patria conjugis egit amor.
Quo ſine mœſta dies, nox anxia, flebilis hora,
Nec ſolum una caro, ſpiritus unus erat.
Lux mea non clauſa eſt, tali remanente marito,
Majorique animæ parte ſuperſtes ero.
Porticibus ſacris jam nunc peregrina quieſco,
Judicis æterni teſtificata thronum.
Nequa manus buſtum violet, conſorte jugali
Hæc iterum cupiat jungere membra ſuis;
Ut thalami tumulique comes nec morte revellar,
Et ſocios vitæ nectat uterque cinis.

XVI.

Hi verſus Treveris ſupra tectum Monaſterii Beati Simeonis, tabulæ lapideæ inſculpti, ab incolis fortuito inventi ſunt.

Exul Arimaſpes hac urbis in arce quieſco:
Belgica Roma mei, non mea digna fuit.
Jure bono, meritorum nobilitate, triumphis,
Dii tueantur ei: par niſi Roma nihil.
Vulneror & pereo Conſul, primusque Senatus:
Hinc gaudete mei, ſic meruiſſe mori.

XVII.

Iſti verſus Treveris in tumulo quodam, dum a peregrinis pro quærenda pecunia rumperetur, lapidi cuidam inſculpti inventi ſunt.

Nini Semiramis, quæ tanto conjuge felix
Plurima poſſedit, ſed plura prioribus addit.
Non contenta ſuis, nec totis finibus orbis,
Expulit a patrio privignum Trebeta regno:
Profugus inſignem qui noſtram condidit urbem,
Treveris huic nomen dans, ob factoris amorem,
Quæ caput Europæ cognoſcitur anteritate.
Filius hujus Hero patris hæc epigrammata pono,
Cujus ad inferias hic cum Jove Mars tenet aras.
Sidere concordi pax eſt non diſſocianti.

XVIII.

Hi verſus habentur Cluniaci ſuper imaginem S. Petri.

Nullum rete magis nunc diligo, quam Cluniaci:
Nam piſces captos portæ cœli facit aptos.
Quod docui verbis, Cluniaci quærite geſtis:
Non melius quisquam mea dogmata repperit usquam.

XIX.

Hermannus Contractus in libro de Virtutibus.

Si non ſufficiant tibi res, tu ſuffice rebus:
Sufficiens fueris nil cupiendo magis.

XX.

In Natale ſacro ſacræ ſolennia miſſæ
Quid ſignent, aut cur ter celebrentur, habes.
Nocte prior, ſub luce ſequens, in luce ſuprema,
Sub Noë, ſub Templo, ſub Cruce ſacra notant.
Sub Noë, ſub David, ſub Chriſto ſacra fuere:
Nox, aurora, dies; umbra, figura, Deus.
In matutino damnatur tempore Chriſtus,
Quo matutini cantantur tempore pſalmi.
Quando reſurrexit, primam canit Ordo fidelis.
Tertia cum canitur, crucis eſt cruciamina paſſus.

Sexta ſunt tenebræ per mundi climata factæ:
Eſt miſſus nona divinus Spiritus hora.
Veſpere clauduntur Chriſti ſacra membra ſepulcro:
Chriſto bis ſena cuſtodia ponitur hora.

XXI.

Nobilibus quondam fueras conſtructa patronis:
Subdita nunc ſervis, heu male! Roma, tuis.
Deſeruere tui te tanto tempore Reges:
Ceſſit & ad Græcos nomen honosque tuus.
Conſtantinopolis florens nova Roma, vocatur;
Moribus & muris, Roma vetuſta, cadis.
Tranſiit Imperium, manſitque ſuperbia tecum:
Vultus avaritiæ te nimium ſuperat.
Vulgus ab extremis diſtractum partibus orbis,
Servorum ſervi, nunc tibi ſunt Domini.
Roma, prius tibi ſervierant Domini Dominorum:
Servorum ſervi nunc tibi ſunt Domini.
In te nobilium rectorum nemo remanſit;
Ingenuique tui rura Pelasga colunt.
Truncaſti vivos crudeli vulnere Sanctos:
Vendere nunc horum mortua membra ſoles.
Jam nî te meritum Petri Paulique foveret:
Tempore jam longo Roma miſella fores.

In nomine Patris Π, & Filii Υ, & Spiritus Sancti Α. N. illi Epiſcopo, N. illius Eccleſiæ devotus gregis Chriſti famulus, in Deo vero ſummæ felicitatis beatitudinem. Cum Sancta Catholica Eccleſia prompta ſit ſequi Evangelica documenta, quæ dicunt: Qui recipit Prophetam in nomine Prophetæ, mercedem Prophetæ habebit, & qui recipit juſtum &c. & Apoſtolus jubeat hoſpitalitatem ſectari, & neceſſitatibus ſanctorum virorum communicare, tamen propter eos, qui cauteriatam habent ſuam conſcientiam, dicentes, ſe eſſe ſimplices, cum ſint aſtutia diabolica repleti, & pro opere pietatis dicunt, ſe de loco ad locum tranſire, cum ſint ſua malitia faciente fugitivi, & dicunt, ſe eſſe miniſterio ſacro inſertos, cum non ſint: ſtatutum eſt a Sanctis Patribus, neminem alienum Clericum & ignotum recipi ab aliquo Epiſcopo, & inthronizari in ſua Eccleſia, niſi habeat a proprio Epiſcopo epiſtolam, quæ in Canonibus nominatur formata. Ideo notum facimus Paternitati Veſtræ, quod præſens Frater noſter, harum literarum portitor, nomine N. non pro ſua nequitia expulſus eſt a nobis, ſed poſtulantibus Fratribus noſtris, eo quod ex familia noſtra fuit, & nuper baptizatus, fecimus ei libertatem receptare cornu altaris canonice, & ordinavimus eum ad gradum Presbyterii. Cui etiam has dimiſſorias ſive commendatitias litteras fecimus, & eum ad veſtram dilectam Fraternitatem dirigimus, ut in veſtra barrochia, ſub veſtro ſacro regimine & defenſione conſiſtere valeat. Ego, inquam N. humilis Epiſcopus in nomine Patris, & Filii & Spiritus Sancti, & in unitate Sanctæ Eccleſiæ, in qua Petro datum eſt jus ligandi atque ſolvendi, abſolvo N. Presbyterum, de civitate illa, indictione illa, & licentiam do vobis inthronizandi eum in quaquacunque Eccleſia vult veſtræ barrochiæ. Hanc vero epiſtolam Græcis litteris hinc inde munire decrevimus, & anulo Eccleſiæ noſtræ firmare cenſuimus. Fraternitatem veſtram Chriſtus nobis incolumem conſervet. Π. Υ. Α. Π. Ε. Φ. Ο. Ο. Ξ. Α. Μ. Η. Ν. Data ibi idus N. anno Dominicæ Incarnationis illo.

Exemplar libertatis de proprio ſervo.

Qui debitum ſibi nexum, atque competens relaxat ſervitium, præmium in futuro apud Dominum ſibi provenire non dubitat. Quapropter ego in Dei nomine N. pro remedio animæ meæ, vel æterna retributione, in Eccleſia Sancti Petri vel illius Sancti, ſub præſentia Epiſcopi vel Sacerdotum ibi conſiſtentium, ac nobilium laicorum ante cornu altaris iſtius Eccleſiæ, abſolvo ſervum meum N. per hanc cartam abſolutionis & ingenuitatis, & ab omni vinculo ſervitutis, ita ut ab hac die, & deinceps ingenuus ſit, & ingenuus permaneat, tanquam ſi ab ingenuis parentibus fuiſſet natus & procreatus. Eam pergat partem, quam maluerit, vel quam ei auctoritas Canonica permittit, & ſicut alii ingenui vitam ducat ingenuam. Nulli autem heredum meorum ac proheredum, nec cuicunque perſonæ alii, quicquam debeat ſervitutis, vel libertatis obſequium, niſi ſoli Deo, cui omnia ſubjecta ſunt, & pro cujus amore ipſum devotus ad ejus ſervitium obtuli. Peculiare vero ſuum, quod ei Dominus dederit, vel deinceps Deo auxiliante laborare potuerit, conceſſum in perpetuum habeat, ut inde faciat, quicquid ei placuerit ſecundum Eccleſiaſticas ſanctiones. Siquis vero, quod futurum eſſe non credo, ſi ego ipſe, aut aliquis de heredibus meis, vel quælibet oppoſita perſona, contra hanc ingenuitatis cartam venire tentaverit, aut eam quolibet etiam modo infringere voluerit, inprimis iram Dei incurrat, & a liminibus Sanctæ Dei Eccleſiæ extraneus efficiatur, & inſuper, cui litem intulit, LX. ſolidos perſolvat, & quod repetit, evindicare non valeat, ſed præſens ingenuitas mea, vel aliorum bonorum hominum manibus roborata, cum aſtipulatione ſubnixa omni tempore maneat inconvulſa.

Decretum, quod Clerus & Populus firmare debet de electo Epiſcopo, ſumtum ex Ordine Romano.

Dominis & Patribus illis Venerabilibus Sanctæ Epiſcopalis diœceſeos, metropolis, clerus, ordo & plebs huic ſanctæ Eccleſiæ ſpecialiter obſequentes. Veſtræ Paternitati eſt cognitum, quantum temporis eſt, ex quo accidentibus variis eventibus, hæc ſancta Eccleſia metropolis noſtro ſit viduata Paſtore, ac deſtituta rectore, quod non ſolum ad noſtrum, verum & ad veſtrum, ac omnis hujus diœceſeos detrimentum pertinere dinoſcitur, cum totius provinciæ ſolicitudinem Metropolitano conſtet eſſe commiſſam. Propterea elegimus hujus diœceſeos illius Eccleſiæ Presbyterum illum, nobis ſufficientiſſime cognitum, natalibus & moribus nobilem, Apoſtolica & Eccleſiaſtica diſciplina imbutum, fide Catholicum, natura prudentem, docibilem, patientem, moribus temperatum, vita caſtum, ſobrium, humilem, affabilem, miſericordem, litteratum, in lege Dei inſtructum, in ſcripturarum ſenſibus cautum, in dogmatibus eccleſiaſticis exercitatum, & ſecundum ſcripturarum tramitem traditionemque orthodoxorum, & Canonum ac Decretorum Sedis Apoſtolicæ Præſulum conſtitutiones ſano ſenſu Eccleſiaſticas regulas intelligentem, ſanoque ſermone docentem atque ſervantem, amplectentem eum, qui ſecundum doctrinam eſt, fidelem ſermonem, & cum modeſtia corripientem eos, qui reſiſtunt, & ſiqui ſanæ doctrinæ adverſantur, eis reſiſtere & redarguere prævalentem, hoſpitalem, modeſtum, ſuæ domui bene præpoſitum, non neophytum, habentem teſtimonium bonum in gradibus ſingulis, ſecundum traditionem Eccleſiaſticam miniſtrantem ad omne opus bonum, & ad ſatisfactionem omni poſcenti rationem de ea, quæ in illo eſt, ſpe paratum. Quem nobis quantocius petimus ordinari Pontificem, quatenus auctore Domino, regulariter nobis præeſſe valeat, & prodeſſe, & nos ſub ejus regimine ſalubriter Domino militare poſſimus, quia integritas præſidentis ſalus eſt ſubditorum, & ubi eſt incolumitas obedientiæ, ibi ſana eſt forma doctrinæ. Ut autem omnium noſtrum vota in hanc electionem convenire noſcatis, huic decreto canonico promtiſſima voluntate, ſinguli manibus propriis roborantes ſubſcripſimus. Ille illius Eccleſiæ Epiſcopus vel Archiepiſcopus in electionem Domini N. Eccleſiæ illius Epiſcopi ſubſcripſi. Iſti in ordinationem illius Eccleſiæ Epiſcopi ſubſcripſerunt.

Decretum Nicolai Papæ de electione Romani Pontificis.

In nomine Domini Dei & Salvatoris Noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, anno ab incarnatione ejusdem MLXVIIII. Idus Aprilis, Indictione XII. propoſitis ſacroſanctis Evangeliis, præſidente quoque Reverendiſſimo ac Beatiſſimo Nicolao Apoſtolico, in baſilica Lateranenſis Patriarchii, quæ agnominatur Conſtantiniana; conſidentibus & Reverendiſſimis Archiepiſcopis & Epiſcopis, Abbatibus ac Venerabilibus Presbyteris ac Diaconibus, idem Venerabilis Pontifex decernens de electione Summi Pontificis inquit: Novit Beatitudo veſtra dilectiſſimi Fratres & Coëpiſcopi, & interiora Chriſti membra non latuit, defuncto piæ memoriæ Domino Stephano, prædeceſſore noſtro, hæc Apoſtolica Sedes, cui Deo auctore deſervio, quot adverſa pertulerit, quæ denique per Simoniacæ hæreſis trapezitas malleis crebrisque tunſionibus ſubjacuerit, adeo ut columna Dei viventis jam pene concuſſa videretur nutare & ſagena ſummi piſcatoris, procellis intumeſcentibus, cogeretur in naufragii profundum ſubmergi. Unde ſi placet Fraternitati Veſtræ, debemus futuris caſibus, auxiliante Deo, prudenter occurrere, & Eccleſiaſtico ſtatuto, ne rediviva, quod abſit, mala prævaleant, in poſterum providere. Quapropter inſtructi prædeceſſorum noſtrorum aliorumque Sanctorum Patrum auctoritate decrevimus atque ſtatuimus, ut obeunte hujus Romanæ univerſalis Eccleſiæ Pontifice, in primis Cardinales diligentiſſima ſimul conſideratione tractent, ſalvo debito honore & reverentia filii noſtri Henrici, qui in præſentiarum Rex habetur, & futurus Imperator, Deo concedente, ſperatur, ſicut jam ſibi, mediante ejus nuntio Longobardiæ Cancellario Wiberto, conceſſimus, & ſucceſſor illius, qui ab hac Apoſtolica Sede perſonaliter impetraverit, ad conſenſum novæ electionis accedat. Ut nimirum venalitatis morbus qualibet occaſione non ſurrepat, religioſi viri cum Sereniſſimo filio noſtro Rege N. præduces ſint in promovendi Summi Pontificis electione, reli qui autem ſequaces eligant aut de ipſius Eccleſiæ gremio, ſi reperiatur idoneus, vel ſi de ipſa non reperiatur, ex alia aſſumatur. Quodſi pravorum atque iniquorum hominum perverſitas ita invaluerit, ut pura, ſincera atque gratuita electio in Urbe fieri non poſſit, licet pauci ſint, jus tamen poteſtatis obtineant eligere Apoſtolicæ Sedis Pontificem, ubi cum invictiſſimo Rege congruentius judicaverint. Sane poſtquam fuerit electio facta, ſi bellica tempeſtas, vel qualiscunque hominum conatus malignitatis ſtudio reſtiterit, ut is, qui electus eſt, in Apoſtolicam Sedem juxta conſuetudinem, inthronizari non valeat, electus tamen, ſicut Papa auctoritatem obtineat, regendi Sanctam Romanam Eccleſiam & diſponendi omnes facultates ejus, quod Beatum Gregorium ante ſuam conſecrationem feciſſe cognoſcimus. Quod ſiquis contra hoc noſtrum decretum, Synodali ſententia promulgatum, per ſeditionem vel præſumtionem aut quodlibet ingenium electus aut etiam ordinatus inthronizatus fuerit, non Papa, ſed Satanas, non Apoſtolicus, ſed Apoſtaticus ab omnibus habeatur & teneatur, & auctoritate divina, & Sanctorum Apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli perpetuo anathemate cum ſuis auctoribus, fautoribus & ſequacibus, a liminibus Sanctæ Eccleſiæ ſeparatus abjiciatur, ſicut Antichriſtus & invaſor atque deſtructor totius Chriſtianitatis, nec aliqua ſuper hac audacia venia ei aliquando reſervetur, ſed ab omni Eccleſiaſtico gradu, in quocunque prius fuerat, ſine retractatione deponatur. Cui quisquis adhæſerit, vel qualemcunque tanquam Pontifici reverentiam exhibuerit, aut in aliquo illum defendere præſumſerit, pari ſententiæ ſit mancipatus. Quisquis autem hujus noſtræ decretalis ſententiæ temerator extiterit, & Romanam Eccleſiam ſua præſumtione confundere & perturbare contra hoc ſtatutum tentaverit, perpetuo anathemate & excommunicatione damnetur, & cum impiis, quo non reſurgunt in judicio, deputetur, Omnipotentis ſcilicet Dei Patris, & Filii, & Spiritus Sancti contra ſe iram ſentiat, & Sanctorum Petri & Pauli quorum præſumit confundere Eccleſiam, in hac vita & futura furorem reperiat. Fiat habitatio ejus deſerta, & in terra non ſit, qui inhabitet. Fiant filii ejus orphani, & uxor ejus vidua. Commotus amoveatur ipſe, atque ejus filii, & mordicetur, & erit deſerta horum ſors. Scrutetur fœnerator omnem ſortem ejus, &c. a. l. e. Orbis terrarum pugnet contra eum, & cuncta elementa ſint contraria ei, & omnium Sanctorum Romæ quieſcentium merita illum confundant, & in hac vita ſuper eum apertam vindictam oſtendant. Obſervatorem autem hujus noſtri decreti Dei omnipotentis gratia protegat, & auctoritate beatorum Principum Petri & Pauli ab omnibus peccatorum vinculis abſolvat. Nicolaus Epiſcopus Sanctæ Catholicæ & Apoſtolicæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ. Huic decreto a nobis, ſicut ſuperius legitur, promulgato ſubſcripſi Bonifacius, Dei gratia Albanenſis Epiſcopus, Umbertus Sylvæ candidæ, & cæteri.

ovibus, inquit, quando paſtores lupi fiunt. Sed quis vincivit, niſi qui ſævivit? Quis vero perſecutores judicabit, niſi qui dorſum ſuum ad flagella patienter miniſtravit? Operæ pretium eſt, ut oſtendatur, quo fructu tantum Eccleſiæ Dei ſcandalum inducatur, tantum Clerus deſpectum vel ab ipſis Epiſcopis, vel ab eorum infidelibus patiatur. Nec N. infideles eos dicere dubitaverim, de quibus Apoſtolus dixit ad Timotheum: In noviſſimis temporibus diſcedent quidam a fide, attendentes ſpiritibus erroris, & doctrinis dæmoniorum, in hypocriſi loquentium mendacium, & cauteriatam habentium ſuam conſcientiam, prohibentium nubere. Hic eſt autem, ſi diligenter inſpiciatur, totius eorum manipulus, zizaniorum totius eventus væſaniæ, ut dum Clerici licita unius uxoris conjugia, ſcilicet unius mulieris conſortia, Phariſaico devicti furore, quod abſit, relinquere cogantur, fornicatores & adulteri, & aliarum pravitatum turpiſſimi miniſtri cum ipſis efficiantur, qui hanc in Eccleſia Dei hæreſin, ſicut cæci duces machinantur, ut videlicet illud impleatur, quod Pſalmiſta eis, utpote eorum præſciis erroris, taliter imprecatur: Obſcurentur oculi eorum, ne videant, & det eis, ſecundum incepta. Quia ergo nemo, qui te o Apoſtolice novit, ignorat, quod ſi tu per tui decreti ſententiam tantam futuram eſſe peſtilentiam, ſolitæ diſcretionis claritate perſpexiſſes, nunquam quorumlibet tam pravis ſuggeſtionibus conſenſiſſes, debitæ tibi ſubjectionis fidelitate conſulimus, ut vel nunc ad tanti ſcandali ab Eccleſia Dei propulſionem evigiles, & per quam noſti diſcretionis diſciplinam, Phariſaicam ab ovili Dei exſtirpes doctrinam, ne ſcilicet unica Domini Sunamitis adulterinis diutius abuſa maritis, gentem ſanctam, regale Sacerdotium, per inrecuperabile a ſuo ſponſo Chriſto videlicet evellat divortium, dum nemo ſine caſtimonia, non tantum in virginali flore, ſed etiam in conjugali habita convictione, viſurus ſit Dominum Noſtrum, qui cum Deo Patre, & Spiritu Sancto vivit & regnat per omnia ſecula ſeculorum, Amen.

Leo Epiſcopus, ſervus ſervorum Dei, dilectiſſimo in Domino Udalrico, religioſo Abbati venerabilis Laureſſamenſis Eccleſiæ, & per te in eodem venerabili Monaſterio tuis ſucceſſoribus in perpetuum. Quoniam concedenda ſunt, quæ rationabilibus deſideriis pertinere noſcuntur, noſtri Apoſtolatus auctoritas ad roborandam piam devotionem ſancta loca conſtruentium in præſtandis privilegiis debet minime abnegari. Igitur quia excellentia ſpiritualis filii noſtri Domini H. piiſſimi Imperatoris Auguſti poſtulavit a nobis, quatenus Monaſterium N. quod conſtructum eſſe certum eſt a piiſſimis Imperatoribus Karolo Magno, & filio ejus Ludovico, eorundemque ſucceſſoribus, ubi modo venerabilis Abbas N. regulari inſtitutioni præeſſe videtur, privilegiis Sanctæ Romanæ & Apoſtolicæ Sedis modis omnibus decoretur, ſcilicet ut nullius juri & ditioni ſubmittatur. Ideo piis deſideriis ſpiritualis filii noſtri faventes, hac noſtra Apoſtolica auctoritate decernimus, id ipſum præfatum Monaſterium a modo & usque in finem ſeculi, ſub Patrocinio Sanctæ Romanæ & Apoſtolicæ matris Eccleſiæ, cum omnibus, quæ ad illud pertinent, permanendum. Decernimus igitur ſub divini judicii obteſtatione & Beati Petri, Apoſtolorum Principis, noſtræque humilitatis interdictione, ut nullus in aliquo gradu conſtitutus, vel in quolibet ordine & miniſterio, audeat moleſte cauſis ejusdem Monaſterii incumbere, aut de rebus & poſſeſſionibus quoquomodo auferre, aut alienare, ſeu ipſos Monachos inibi Deo ſervientes inquietare præſumat, nec quamlibet malitiam & jacturæ moleſtiam ibidem inferre conetur, dum profecto illud, ut ſæpe prædictum eſt, firma ſtabilitate & jurisdictione, ſub patrocinio Sanctæ Noſtræ Romanæ Matris Eccleſiæ permanendum ſancimus. Addimus præterea poſt obitum Abbatis, ut nemo ibidem Abbatem conſtituat, niſi quem conſenſus & communis voluntas Fratrum ibidem regulariter viventium, ex ipſa congregatione elegerit, nullumque præmium ſive donum pro conſecratione illius Abbatis, qui tunc temporis fuerit Præſul, accipere contendat, & ſi eum gratis ordinare noluerit, vel a noſtra Romana matre Eccleſia, vel a quolibet venerabili Epiſcopo noſtra auctoritate ordinetur. Promulgantes nempe & hoc auctoritate Beatiſſimi Petri, Apoſtolorum Principis, coram Deo & terribili ejus futuro examine, per hujus noſtri Apoſtolici privilegii conſtitutionem ſancimus, ut univerſa, quæ ab anteceſſoribus ſucceſſoribusque noſtris in rebus mobilibus & immobilibus conceſſa ſunt, nec non & poſſeſſionibus, quæ a Regibus & Principibus, ſeu quibuslibet Chriſti fidelibus collata ſunt fuerintve in poſterum, inconcuſſa ſtabilitate ad jus & dominium Sancti Nazarii Martyris, perpetuis temporibus perſeverent, nec licentia ſit, ut dictum eſt, ex omnibus ejusdem Monaſterii pertinentibus, cuiquam vel magnæ, vel parvæ perſonæ diripere quicquam, vel auferre, ut profecto ad Dei laudem ſecurum & tranquillum juſte id, quod ſubjectum juri & patrocinio fuit, decrevimus, bene dotatum, & in melius dotandum permaneat. Si quis autem, quod non optamus, nefario auſu præſumſerit hæc, quæ ad honorificentiam Domini Dei & Salvatoris Noſtri, pro ſtabilitate ipſius Monaſterii, & quiete Monachorum ſtatuta ſunt, transgredi, ſciat, ſe anathematis vinculo innodatum, & cum diabolo, & omnibus impiis eum incendii atrociſſimo ſupplicio deputatum. At vero qui pio intuitu cuſtos & obſervator eorum exſtiterit, omnimodæ benedictionis gratiam, omniumque peccatorum ſuorum abſolutionem & indulgentiam & cœleſtis vitæ beatitudinem cum Sanctis & electis, a miſericordiſſimo Domino Deo Noſtro conſequi mereatur in ſecula ſeculorum, Amen. Siquis autem, quod non optamus, temerario auſu extiterit, qui contra hoc noſtrum Apoſtolicum confirmationis privilegium venire, aut in quoquam dirumpere præſumſerit, & ſicut ſuperius a nobis confirmatum eſt, ita permanere non dimiſerit, ſciat ſe, niſi reſipiſcat, auctoritate Dei omnipotentis, & Beati Petri Apoſtolorum Principis, atque noſtra, qui ejus fungimur vice, anathematis vinculo eſſe innodandum, & a regno Dei alienum, atque cum Juda traditore Domini Noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, & cum omnibus impiis in æterno incendio concremandum. Qui vero pio intuitu cuſtos & obſervator extiterit hujus noſtri Apoſtolici confirmationis privilegii, benedictionis gratiam a juſto judice Domino Noſtro Deo conſequi mereatur in ſecula ſeculorum, Amen. Notum eſſe volumus Sanctæ Dei Eccleſiæ fidelibus, noſtrisque præſentibus & futuris, qualiter nos ob noſtræ mercedis augmentum, & pro merito gratæ ſervitutis, cuidam fideli noſtro quasdam res proprietatis noſtræ conceſſimus, hoc eſt in pago nuncupato N. in comitatu N. Comitis, quicquid noſtri beneficii in loco N. habere viſus fuit, cum domibus, ædificiis, mancipiis, vinetis, campis, agris, pratis, ſilvis, cultis & incultis, aquis aquarumve decurſibus, acceſſibus & adjacentiis, finibus, exitibus & regreſſibus, & cum omnibus appendiciis. Et juſſimus ei inde fieri hoc noſtræ auctoritatis præceptum, per quod decernimus atque jubemus, ut præfatus N. de his omnibus rebus, quas ei in proprietatem & donationem condonavimus, nunc & deinceps omni tempore liberam in omnibus habeat poteſtatem tenendi, donandi, poſſidendi, vendendi, commutandi, vel quicquid ſibi libuerit, faciendi abſque ullius perſonæ contradicentis obſtaculo. Et ut hæc noſtræ conceſſionis auctoritas firmior habeatur, & per futura tempora a fidelibus noſtris melius credatur, & diligentius obſervetur, manu propria noſtra ſubter firmavimus, & anuli noſtri impreſſione ſignari juſſimus.

In nomine Sanctæ & Individuæ Trinitatis, Arnolfus Divina favente clementia Rex. Si fidelium noſtrorum petitionibus, quas pro Eccleſiarum ſibimet commiſſarum utilitatibus nobis ſuggeſſerint, clementer annuimus, ac pie proſpicimus, id nobis ad ſtatum regni noſtri proſpere gubernandum, & ad æterni regni beatitudinem feliciter promerendam liquido profuturum eſſe confidimus. Quapropter generali collegio omnium fidelium N. præſentium atq; futurorum notum fieri cupimus, qualiter ante biennium, & etiam ſæpe antea a fidelibus Epiſcopis noſtris, necnon ab religioſis laicis, cæterisque compluribus diverſi ordinis viris, auribus ſerenitatis noſtræ celeberrima delatione delatum eſt, qualiter in Monaſterio N. dicto, in honore Sancti Nazarii Chriſti Martyris dedicato, dicato, ubi ipſe corpore quieſcit, quod bonæ memoriæ Ludovicus Rex, avus videlicet noſter, multa augmentatione cumulavit, atque præ cæteris cœnobiis dilexit, ibidem ſibi locum ſepulturæ eligens, converſatio Monachicæ vitæ ob paſtorum, qui eidem congregationi præeſſe debuerant, incuriam atque deſidiam irrita fieret, regularisque vitæ ordo, niſi noſtra providentia cito emendaretur, penitus deficeret, varias opiniones de eis proferentes, & omnimoda pravitate eos acculantes, & inter cætera dicentes, tantum malum aliter nullatenus poſſe aboleri, niſi idem cœnobium alicui de fidelibus noſtris, Deum timenti, ac divina præcepta amanti ad procurandum & regendum conſignaretur. Ad nos hujusmodi crebris ſermonum verberibus attriti, omnium fidelium N. conſultu, N. venerabili ac dilectiſſimo Epiſcopo noſtro, quem ad omne bonum promtum eſſe ſcimus & cognoſcimus, idem Monaſterium ad gubernandum delegavimus. Poſt hæc etiam ipſe, poſtpoſito omni ſeculari honore & commodo, quæ inde conſequi potuit, malens in cœleſtibus theſaurizare, precatus eſt clementiam noſtram, ne aliquis malivolorum fraude vel inſidiis ipſum locum ſurripere poſſet, ut priſtino honore eum ditaremus, & eis licentiam concederemus, juxta eorum arbitrium inter ſe eligendi Abbates. Cujus piis atque paternis ammonitionibus libenter aſſenſum præbuimus, præſensque præceptum inde conſcribi juſſimus, per quod decernimus, atque firmiſſime jubemus, ut ipſi Fratres præfati Monaſterii ab hodierna die, ac deinceps ſecuram teneant poteſtatem inter ſe eligendi Abbates, quamdiu talem illic invenire poſſunt, qui ſcientia & morum honeſtate talis ſit, ut tantam congregationem juxta regulam Sancti Benedicti queat & ſciat regere, & regali dignitati juſta obſequia præbere. Et ut hoc præceptum ab nullo unquam ſucceſſore noſtro violetur, & diligentius incorruptum obſervetur, manu noſtra illud firmari, anuloque noſtro inſigniri juſſimus. Signum Domini Arnolfi largiſſimi Imperatoris Auguſti.

Gregorius Papa, ſervus ſervorum Dei, dilectiſſimo in Domino filio Rabano, pio & venerabili Abbati. Pontificii noſtri cura nos urget, ſanctarum omnium Dei Eccleſiarum utilitatibus favere, ac ſecundum quod unaquæque in proprio ſtatu manſura ſit, congruum eis impertiri ſuffragium. Ex hoc enim lucri potiſſimum præmium a conditore omnium Deo procul dubio promeremur, ſi venerabilia loca oportune ordinata ad meliorem fuerint ſine dubio ſtatum perducta. Igitur quia poſtulaſtis a nobis, decernimus noſtra Apoſtolica præceptione reconcedere & reconfirmare perpetualiter vobis veſtrisque ſucceſſoribus Monaſterium Fuldenſe, quod Sancti Bonifacii vocabulo viget, ſitum in loco, qui vocatur Bochonia juxta ripam fluminis, quod dicitur Fulda, cum omnibus cellis, curtibus diſtrictionibus, ſeu omnibus rebus mobilibus ſibi pertinentibus, quas nunc habet, & in futuro, Deo auxiliante, habebit. Concedimus etiam atque donamus vobis, cariſſime ac dilectiſſime fili, veſtrisque ſucceſſoribus Abbatibus in perpetuum, pro magno noſtro amore nimiaque dilectione, quam circa vos habemus, & deinceps habere cupimus, Monaſterium Sancti Andreæ Apoſtoli, quod vocatur Exaiulum, ſitum Romæ juxta Eccleſiam Sanctæ Dei Genitricis Mariæ ſemper Virginis, quæ vocatur ad præſepe, cum omnibus manſionibus, caminatis cellis, vinaria & coquina, cum vineis, hortis, diverſisque generibus pomorum, cum curte & puteo & introitu per portam majorem a via publica, & cum omnibus ad idem Monaſterium pertinentibus, tam intra quam extra urbem ſitis, quæ ei juſte ac recte pertinere dignoſcuntur. Nullus etiam Epiſcoporum, Archiepiſcoporum, Patriarcharum, vel quoquo modo in Clero conſtitutus, temere aut proterve, niſi a vobis accepta licentia, ſuper principale altare veſtri Monaſterii miſſarum ſolennia celebrare præſumat, aut quamlibet ditionem vel auctoritatem habere in idem veſtrum Fuldenſe Monaſterium, præter noſtram Apoſtolicam Sedem ſpecialiter Epiſcopus, in cujus diœceſi conſtitutum eſſe videtur, ita ut niſi ab Abbate Monaſterii fuerit invitatus, nec miſſarum ſolennia ibidem celebrare præſumat. Dona vero & oblationes, decimasque fidelium absque ullius perſonæ contrarietate, firmitate perpetua ipſi Monaſterio veſtro, ſecundum prædeceſſorum veſtrorum privilegia, confirmamus & corroboramus. Decernimus etiam ne alicui perſonæ magnæ vel parvæ liceat aliquam vim vel controverſiam inferre eidem Monaſterio in rebus & familiis ejus, neque totum neque partem ipſius mortalium alicui ulla ratione ſubdere, vel ſub beneficii nomine dare præſumat, ſed omni tempore ſoli noſtræ Sanctæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ libera ſecuraque deſerviat. Eligendi quoque ſibi Abbatem, quando opus fuerit, Fratres inter ſe poteſtatem habeant, ſecundum regulam Sancti Benedicti ſine ullius perſonæ contradictione. Cæterum vero hæc deliberantes decernimus, ut congruis temporibus noſtræ ſolicitudini Eccleſiaſticæ intimetur, qualiter religio monaſtica regulari habitu dirigatur, concordiaque convenienti eccleſiaſtico ſtudio mancipetur, ne forte, quod abſit, ſub hujus privilegii obtentu animus greſſusque rectitudinis noſtræ a norma juſtitiæ aliquando retorqueatur. Concedimus etiam tibi, quem bene eruditum & bene eloquentem virum eſſe novimus, dulciſſime fili, prædicare verbum Dei, auctoritate Sancti Petri Apoſtoli & noſtra ejus indigni vicarii, & ut tam vos, quam ſucceſſores veſtri ante omnes Abbates totius Galliæ, ſeu Germaniæ primatum ſedendi in omni loco conventuque, ſive in judiciali ſententia, ſeu in omnibus conciliis ac ordinibus, noſtra Apoſtolica auctoritate obtineatis. Abbas vero non niſi a noſtra Apoſtolica Sede benedicatur, a qua benedici debet, nec unquam ab aliquo Epiſcopo conſecrationem expetat, petat, nisi a Romano Pontifice, nec consecratus ad aliud Monasterium in Fuldensi introducatur, vel præponatur Monasterio. Usum quoque Dalmaticæ, caligarum & sandaliorum, secundum quod ab antecessoribus nostris concessum est, vobis concedimus. Ac ne fœmina unquam illuc ingredi præsumat, nostra Apostolica auctoritate interdicimus, & nequis unquam placitum ibi habeat, vel in cæteris ejus locis, nec servos, nec colonos ad aliquod servitium constringat, nisi cui Abbas ad utilitatem suæ necessitatis assensum præbuerit. Igitur generaliter addendum dignum duximus, ut quicquid auctoritate antecessorum quorumlibet, nostrorum Regum & Imperatorum, ipsi Fuldensi Monasterio constat fuisse concessum, sit & nostra Apostolica auctoritate per hoc nostrum privilegium confirmatum atque corroboratum, statuentes Apostolica censura, sub divini judicii obtestatione, nequis unquam nostrorum postdecessorum, Pontificum Romanorum, Regum, Imperatorum, Ducum, Marchionum, Comitum, & præterea Archiepiscoporum, Episcoporum, Patriarcharum, aut cujuslibet dignitatis vel conditionis hominum contra hoc nostrum privilegium quicquam audeat attentare. Quicunque ergo hujus nostri privilegii observator extiterit, & pro intuitu custodierit, & ne in aliquo infringatur a se, observaverit, omni benedictione repleatur, & peccatorum suorum absolutionem a retributore omnium bonorum Deo consequi mereatur, ut in cœlesti sede glorietur. Qui autem, quod absit, hanc nostram præceptionem violare præsumserit, nisi resipiscat, individuæ Trinitatis iram incurrat, & a cœtu omnium Sanctorum extorris exsistat, Sancti Petri, Apostolorum Principis maledictione redundet, CCCXVIII. Patrum sacrosancto Concilio damnetur, atque in extrema die judicii amaranatha anathemate perditus, lucis claritudinem nesciat, sed exteriores tenebras cum diabolo ac consentaneis ejus perpetualiter gemat, Amen. In Nomine Domini Nostri Jesu Christi Dei omnipotentis Leo Papa. Agnitum esse volumus cunctis Christianæ religionis fidelibus, tam præsentibus quam futuris, qualiter Christianissimus Imperator Augustus, nomine Karolus, Deo inspirante, Christum hæreditatis suæ desiderans fieri possessorem, quoddam Monasterium juxta muros civitatis Tyburneæ, quæ a Tiberio Cæsare Augusto ædificata est, quæ modo vulgo Regenesburch appellatur, quod est constructum in honore Sanctæ Mariæ, Matris Domini Nostri Jesu Christi, & Principis Apostolorum Petri, & Georgii Martyris, ubi præclarissimus Emmeramus & Episcopus Pictaviæ requiescit corpore, in nostram immunitatem successorumque nostrorum gratiam defensionis transfudit, & nos continuo pro Christi amore gratuita mente petitioni ejus piæ annuentes, decrevimus ita fieri, & jussimus hanc cartam auctoritatis nostræ inde conscribi, ut Episcopus ejusdem civitatis tertius nomine Adelwinus, juxta decreta Canonum, & cum auctoritate nostra in præsentia piissimi Imperatoris Karoli, recta ratione in Synodali Concilio cum judicio Episcoporum, Clericorum, nec non laicorum nobilium, de eodem loco cathedram pontificalem mutavit, & Canonica auctoritate in civitatem, in Ecclesia Sancti Stephani Protomartyris statuit, & suæ successorumque suorum proprietati ac potestati deinceps in futurum abalienavit. E contra ante dictus Christianissimus Imperator dedit illi locum, ubi modo Sedes Episcopalis est, a parte meridiana ipsius Monasterii perticas decempedas XL. & in alia parte centum in longitudine circiter CCVII, & Ecclesiam Sancti Petri, & Ecclesiam Sancti Pauli juxta muros prædictæ civitatis, & confirmavit, Monasterium pretiosi Dei Martyris Emmerani in potestate Imperatorum sive Regum in secula permanere, & ita confirmavit, ut Rector & Abbas ejusdem cœnobii unoquoque anno VII. aureos Romam ad altare Sancti Petri persolvat. Hæc mutatio & confirmatio auctoritatis nostræ fuit anno ab Incarnatione Domini XCVIII. ita ut siquis Imperator, aut Rex eandem Ecclesiam tam sanctam alicui præstiterit, anathema sit. Congregatio autem Monasterii liberam habeat potestatem & electionem Abbatis juxta decretum Sancti Benedicti sine omnium contradictione substituendi. Præfatum Monasterium cum Monachis & omnibus ibidem in præsens collatis vel in posterum conferendis, in nostram successorumque nostrorum immunitatem recepimus.

Karolus Serenissimus Augustus a Deo coronatus, Romanum gubernans Imperium, qui & per misericordiam Dei Rex Francorum & Longobardorum, N. venerabili Archiepiscopo in Domino salutem. Sæpius tecum & cum cæteris collegis tuis familiare colloquium de utilitate Sanctæ Ecclesiæ habere voluissemus, si absque molestia corporali id effici potuisset. Sed quamvis sanctitatem tuam in divinis rebus tota intentione vigilare non ignoremus, omittere non possumus, quin tuam sanctam devotionem, Sancto incitante Spiritu, nostris compellemus atque commoneamus apicibus, ut magis ac magis, in Sancta Dei Ecclesia, studiose ac vigilanti cura laborare studeas in prædicatione sancta & doctrina salutari, quatenus per tuam devotissimam solertiam Verbum vitæ æternæ crescat, & currat, & multiplicetur numerus populi Christiani, in laudem & gloriam Salvatoris Nostri Dei. Nosse itaque per tua scripta, aut per te ipsum volumus, qualiter tu, & suffraganei tui doceatis & instruatis Sacerdotes Dei, & plebem vobis commissam de Baptismi Sacramento, & cur primum infans catechumenus efficiatur, vel quid sit catechumenus; deinde per ordinem omnia, quæ aguntur de scrutinio, quid sit scrutinium; de Symbolo, quid sit ejus interpretatio secundum Latinos; de credulitate, quomodo credendum sit in Deum Patrem omnipotentem, & in Jesum Christum filium ejus, natum & passum, & in Spiritum Sanctum, Sanctam Ecclesiam Catholicam, & cætera, quæ sequuntur in eodem Symbolo; de abrenuntiatione Satanæ, & omnibus operibus ejus, atque pompis; quid sit abrenunciatio, vel quæ opera ejusdem diaboli, & pompæ; cur insuffletur, vel cur exorzizetur; cur catechumenus accipiat salem; cur tangantur nares, cur pectus ungatur oleo, cur scapulæ signentur, cur sacro chrismate caput perungatur, & mystico tegatur velamine; vel cur corpore & sanguine Dominico confirmetur. Hæc omnia subtili indagine perscripta nobis, sicut diximus, nunciare satage, vel si ita teneas & prædices, aut si in hoc, quod prædicas, te ipsum custodias. Bene valeas, & ora pro nobis.

Karolus gratia Dei Rex Francorum & Longobardorum, ac Patricius Romanorum. Quicquid ob amorem Dei locis Sanctorum venerabilium, benivola deliberatione concedimus, vel condonamus, hoc nobis ad æternæ remunerationis præmia capessenda profuturum, liquido credimus; quomodo hoc procul dubio ad salvationem corporis & animæ nostræ fore creditur, ut ii, qui in Dei laude sunt, sine querela persistant, & exinde sæpius & devotius in nostra manere memoria possint. Igitur notum sit omnibus successoribus nostris & fidelibus Sanctæ Dei Ecclesiæ, præsentibus & futuris, qualiter nos propter nomen Dei & æternam remunerationem, seu pro oportunitate dilectissimi filii nostri Ludewici Regis, absque omnium hominum contradictione confirmamus, Ecclesiam Dei liberam esse, & in potestate Imperatorum sive Regum usque in ævum permanere, quæ est constructa in honore Domini Nostri Jesu Christi, & Matris ejus Mariæ, & Principis Apostolorum Petri, & Georgii Martyris, & pretiosi Dei Martyris Emmerammi atque Pontificis Aquitaniæ, juxta muros civitatis nostræ Reganesburgensium, ubi venerabile corpus ejus, miraculis declarantibus, requiescere comprobatur, & rectorem ejusdem cœnobii, ejusque successores unoquoque anno VII. aureos persolvere Romam ad altare Sancti Petri. Proinde noverit omnium Christi nostrique fidelium universitas, omnia, quæ a patre meo Pipino Rege, & ab antecessoribus meis, ubicunque locorum hactenus eidem Ecclesiæ credita sunt & collata, per hanc nostram auctoritatem perennibus temporibus, ea videlicet ratione, confirmamus, ut neque Dux, neque Episcopus ejusdem loci aliquam potestatem habeat, prænominata bona auferre, vel abalienare, sed rector ejusdem loci, suique successores habeant potestatem, quicquid eis placuerit, inde faciendi ad utilitatem tantummodo Monachorum, sub sancto Ordine consistentium. Et ut hæc auctoritas firmior habeatur, & diuturnis temporibus, Domino auxiliante, melius conservetur, manu propria subter firmavimus, & de anulo nostro sigillari jussimus. Signum Karoli glorioſissimi Imperatoris. Datum VIII. Kal. April. Anno XXXII. regni nostri. Actum super fluvium Moinum ad Franchenfurt.

In Nominæ Sanctæ & Individuæ Trinitatis, Karolus divina favente clementia Imperator Augustus. Si locis Deo dicatis aliquid ex nostra largitate conferimus, procul dubio æternæ retributionis præmia inde nobis augmentari credimus. Quapropter noverit omnium fidelium nostrorum, præsentium scilicet & futurorum industria, qualiter nos interventu N. Abbatis nostri cuidam fideli nostro quandam capellam, cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus ædificiis, mancipiis, terris cultis & incultis, agris, campis, silvis, pratis, aquis, quam ipse modo in beneficio habere visus est, diebus vitæ suæ sub usu fructuario in proprietatem concessimus, & jussimus hoc nostræ auctoritatis præceptum inde conscribi, per quod decernimus atque jubemus, ut præfatus N. eandem capellam diebus vitæ suæ secure possideat. Post ipsius vero obitum ad capellam nostram in regia civitate sitam, quæ est constructa in honore Sanctæ Mariæ, jure perpetuo pertineat, Rectoresque ipsius Ecclesiam eandem capellam, secundum voluntatem suam, & utilitatem præfatæ Ecclesiæ, regant & disponant. Et ut hæc auctoritas nostræ largitionis firmior habeatur, & per futura tempora verius credatur, ac diligentius observetur, manu propria eam subter firmavimus, & anuli nostri impressione sigillari jussimus. Si pro Dei amore locis ipsi dicatis, ex nostris rebus aliquid conferimus, & necessitates Ecclesiasticas nostro sublevamus juvamine, id nobis ad æternam vitam feliciter capessendam profuturum, liquido credimus. Ideoque noverit omnium Sanctæ Dei Ecclesiæ fidelium, nostrorumque præsentium seculorum ac futurorum solertia, quia nos pro Dei amore, animæque nostræ remedio, concessimus ex rebus nostris ad Capellam nostram, quæ est in honore sanctæ & intemeratæ virginis Mariæ constructa infra civitatem Radisbonam, Ecclesiam unam cum casa & curte, & cum omnibus juste ac legaliter ad ipsam Ecclesiam pertinentibus, campis, pratis, pascuis, silvis, terris cultis & incultis, aquis aquarumve decursibus, viis & inviis, accessibus & regressibus, adjacentiis, finibus, eo videlicet rationis tenore, ut deinceps perpetualiter ex rebus ipsis indeficienter luminaria ad sanctum locum pro animæ nostræ remedio habeantur. Unde & hoc nostræ auctoritatis præceptum exinde fieri jussimus atque jubemus, ut nostris temporibus & futuris præfatæ res ad præscriptum sanctum locum inviolabiliter permaneant, nullusque habeat potestatem exinde aliquid minuere vel abstrahere. In Nomine Sanctæ & Individuæ Trinitatis, Karolus Domini favente clementia Imperator Auguſtus. Si de rebus terrenis fidelibus noſtris oportunitates accommodaverimus, benivolentiores eos facimus, & a Deo nos mercedem inde habere liquido credimus. Quapropter comperiat omnium fidelium noſtrorum, præſentium ſcilicet ac futurorum induſtria, qualiter nos fideli noſtro Abbati N. ob fidele ſervitium ejus, & pro augmento mercedis noſtræ apud Deum, cauſas noſtras per hanc noſtram auctoritatem conceſſimus & donavimus. Itaque illi usque ad finem vitæ ſuæ in proprietatem, quicquid pertinet ad Capellam noſtram, quæ ſita eſt in urbe Regina, poteſtative confirmamus, quatenus ſecurus pro nobis noſtrisque parentibus oret cum Clericis ad ſervitium Dei nutritis. In nomine Sanctæ & individuæ Trinitatis Karolamnus (Carolomannus) Dei favente gratia Rex. Si pro Dei nutu, vel pro mercede æternæ retributionis fidelibus quibuscunque noſtris quasdam res proprietatis noſtræ donamus, non ſolum regni morem decenter implemus, verum & æternæ beatitudinis premium nos promereri, liquido credimus. Idcirco notum ſit omnibus fidelibus Sanctæ Dei Eccleſiæ noſtrisque, ſcilicet præſentibus & futuris, quemadmodum quidam fidelis ac dilectus Presbyter noſter nomine Job culmen ſerenitatis noſtræ adiit, deprecans, ut ei quasdam res noſtræ proprietatis in pago N. in Comitatu N. in proprium donaremus. Nos vero libentiſſime petitioni illius ſatisfacientes propter nimiam ſervitutem illius in nos exhibitam, per hoc præſens præceptum noſtrum donavimus duas hobas in proprietatem cum VIII. mancipiis, cum terris cultis & incultis, agris, pratis, paſcuis, ſilvis aquis aquarumque decurſibus. Omnia hæc prædicto dilecto Presbytero noſtro in proprietatem dedimus, atque de noſtro jure in ejus jus & dominationem transfudimus, ea videlicet ratione, ut ab hodierna die & deinceps hanc ipſam proprietatem omnibus diebus vitæ ſuæ habeat, teneat atque poſſideat: Poſt obitum autem illius, ut res prædictæ redeant in poteſtatem Sancti Emmerani martyris Chriſti. Et ut hæc auctoritas noſtræ largitionis ab univerſis fidelibus firmior habeatur, & per futura tempora verius credatur ac diligentius conſervetur, manu propria noſtra ſubter eam confirmavimus, & anulo noſtro ſigillari juſſimus. Sigillum Domini Karlomanni Piiſſimi Regis. Datum III. Non. Decembr. Anno Chriſto propitio III. Domini K. Sereniſſimi in Bauaria & ſecundo in Italia, Indictione XI. In nomine Sanctæ & individuæ Trinitatis Carolus Dei gratia Rex. Si Dei Eccleſiis noſtro videlicet regimine procurandis dignos adhibere curamus honores, non ſolum terreni ſed & cœleſtis regni non dubitamus honore & faſtigio nos ſublimari. Inde volumus ad fidelium noſtrorum, præſentium futurorumque pervenire notitiam, qualiter convenit inter Venerabilem virum Radesponenſis Eccleſiæ Epiſcopum Tutonem & quendam hominem noſtrum, ut aliquas res eorum inter ſe pro ambarum oportunitate partium concambire deberent, quod & fecerunt. Tradidit igitur N. proprietatem ſuam ſancto E. (Emmerano) martyri, qualem viſus eſt habere, cum omnibus appendiciis ad prædictum locum rite pertinentibus in manum Epiſcopi & Advocati ſui N. in perpetuam proprietatem. Econtrario vero, retradente eodem Advocato una cum manu Epiſcopi, accepit prædictus N. de rebus Sancti E. locum N. cum omnibus appendiciis in perpetuam proprietatem. Et ut hoc concambii præceptum firmum ſtabileque permaneat, manu propria ſubter illud firmavimus anulique noſtri impreſſione ſigillari juſſimus.

Idcirco notum ſit omnibus fidelibus ſanctæ Dei Eccleſiæ, noſtrisque præſentibus ſcilicet & futuris, quomodo quidam Venerabilis ac dilectus Abbas noſter petiit culmen ſerenitatis noſtræ, ut liceret ſibi quandam complacitationem agere cum Monachis in cœnobio N. conſiſtentibus. Nos autem petitioni illius libenter aurem accommodantes, permiſimus ita fieri ſicut rogavit. Et ideo præfatus Abbas tradidit cum manu advocati ſui ad ſupradictum Monaſterium proprietatem ſuam cum conſenſu & licentia omnium fratrum in eodem cœnobio conſiſtentium. Scilicet pro firmitatis gratia popoſcit ſerenitatem noſtram, ut præceptum noſtrum ſuperadderemus, ut illius placitatio firma & inconcuſſa perſiſtere potuiſſet. Nos vero voluntarie petitionem illius ſuſcipientes, per hoc præſens præceptum noſtrum ſancimus atque jubemus, ut quod ille ad jam dictum Monaſterium tradidit, hoc deinceps illuc perpetualiter pertineat atque aſpiciat, nullo unquam ſucceſſore noſtro hanc traditionem irrumpente, ſed Deo auxiliante perpetuis temporibus ſalva & inconcuſſa permaneat.

In nomine Sanctæ & Individuæ Trinitatis C. Dei concedente clementia Rex. Si eccleſias Dei aliqua ſemper utilitate fulcire ſtuduerimus, non ſolum morem regium exercemus, ſed & aliquod lumen animæ noſtræ inde promereri ſperamus. Quapropter cognoſcat omnium fidelium noſtrorum, præſentium ſcilicet & futurorum induſtria, qualiter nos ammonente Adelwardo Epiſcopo pro honore Dei Sancto Martyri Emmerano conceſſimus de noſtro jure decimam partem vectigalium, id eſt, de miniſterio N. ad concinnanda luminaria jure perpetuo in proprium. In nomine Sanctæ & Individuæ Trinitatis Arnolfus divina favente Clementia Imperator Auguſtus. Regalem condecet dignitatem, ut facta fidelium ſuorum quæ communi ipſorum congruunt utilitati, & pie eis conſulendo proſpiciat, & inpoſterum manſura gratanter corroboret. Inde omnium Chriſtianæ religionis fidelium, inſtantis ſcilicet temporis ac futuri agnitum eſſe volumus notitiæ, qualiter Tuto Venerabilis Radeſponenſis Eccleſiæ Præſul, & commiſſi gregis nomine ac merito tutiſſimus proviſor, & fœmina quædam N. quandam complacitationis inter ſe more populari perpetratæ cartam noſtris præſentarunt obtutibus, ſupplicantes edicti noſtri eam ſolidari tenore. Quod ita fieri decrevimus. Juſſimus igitur hoc præſens muniminis noſtri præceptum inde fieri, per quod decrevimus atque omnino præcepimus, ut hujusmodi complacitationis inſtitutio firma & ſtabilis perſeveret. Et ut hæc complacitationis inſtitutio a nullo unquam ſucceſſore noſtro violetur, ſed in nomine usque in finem conſolidetur, manu noſtra ſubtus eam roborantes, anulo noſtro juſſimus inſigniri.

In nomine Sanctæ & individuæ Trinitatis Arnulfus divina favente gratia Imperator Auguſtus. Si his, qui ſub obtentu Sacræ religionis jugiter divinis mancipantur officiis, aures ſerenitatis noſtræ benigno favore accommodamus, eorum affectui ſatisfacientes, liquido credimus eos promtiores in ſuſtentatione noſtri ſacri Imperii & devotiores in orationis conſtantia pro nobis permanere, atque apud remuneratorem omnium bonorum divinis nos remunerari præmiis. Quapropter omnium fidelium noſtrorum, præſentium ſcilicet ac futurorum cognoſcat induſtria, qualiter nos pro abſolutione divinæ recordationis anteceſſorum noſtrorum, Auguſtorum ſcilicet Imperatorum, & pro remedio animæ noſtræ & corporis ſalvatione, & pro remedio filii noſtri Ludewici, atque interventu dilectæ conjugis noſtræ Utæ volumus amplificare & augere civitatem noſtram, quæ vocatur Radespona, ob amorem & honorem ſcilicet patroni noſtri & pretioſi Dei martyris Emmerani, & eandem civitatem totam noviter factam cum XL. vineis in monte, qui eſt in ripa Danubii juxta eandem civitatem tradimus nullo contradicente vel inquietante, pretioſo & glorioſo & ſancto Martyri Emmerano, cujus nomen in libro vitæ cœleſtis aſcriptum eſt. Proinde omnium ſucceſſorum noſtrorum magnitudo comperiat, poſtquam patruus meus Karolus Imperator pro petitione heu! tam Venerabilis Epiſcopi Embriconis prænominatam Eccleſiam præſtitit, nunquam habuit victoriam, neque corporis & animæ ſanitatem usque ad finem vitæ ſuæ. Quapropter comperiat omnium ſanctæ Dei Eccleſiæ ſolertia, quod nos eundem cenſum de prædicto monaſterio, quem Karolus Magnus dedit Leoni Papæ ſucceſſoribusque ejus, & atavus meus Eugenio Papæ, & avus meus pius Ludewicus Nicholao Papæ Romam ad altare Sancti Petri ſtabilire facimus in præſentia Domini & Venerabilis Papæ Formoſi, & eandem Eccleſiam confirmamus in poteſtatem Imperatorum ſive Regum ſine ullius malivolentis minutione usque in ævum permanere, & cum ejus benedictione & conſecratione & confirmatione ita confirmamus, ut ſiquis Imperator aut Rex eandem Eccleſiam tam ſanctam & pretioſam alicui præſtet, in maledictione Sanctæ Mariæ, Sancti Petri ſucceſſorumque ejus & omnium Sanctorum perſiſtat, usque dum ex ea traditione reſipiſcat. Et ut hoc imperiale auctoritatis noſtræ præceptum firmius habeatur & inpoſterum verius credatur, hanc cartam conſcribi juſſimus & cum ſigillo Papæ anuli noſtri impreſſione aſſignatam manu noſtra ſubtus roboravimus.

Proinde noverit omnium fidelium Dei ac noſtrorum, præſentium ſcilicet & futurorum induſtria, quia vir Venerabilis Hincmarus Remenſis urbis Archiepiſcopus obtulit ſerenitatis noſtræ obtutibus præceptum piæ memoriæ Domini ac genitoris noſtri Ludewici Imperatoris, quod in eleemoſynæ ſuæ augmento Eccleſiæ Sanctæ Mariæ atque Sancti Remigii fieri decrevit de opere & operariis atque omni exactione, quæ tempore avi noſtri Domini Karoli Imperatoris ex eadem caſa Dei exigebantur ad palatium, quod vocatur Aquisgrani, ut in ædificatione & reſtauratione ipſius Eccleſiæ Dei per futura tempora usque in finem ſeculi ad utilitatem ſæpe dictæ Eccleſiæ in eleemoſyna illius proficerent, & nec ad eundem locum vel ad alium quemlibet ipſe redhibitiones vel impenſæ ullo unquam tempore exigerentur, ſed remiſſa indulgentia illius in eodem loco proficerent. Cujus bene geſta rata judicantes, per hoc noſtræ auctoritatis præceptum decernimus, ut quicquid de exactione vel operariis prædictæ conſtitutionis ſupraſcriptus Dominus & genitor noſter, ſeu & de muro civitatis ipſius vel viis ad utilitates clauſtri Canonicorum proficientibus in ſuo præcepto conceſſit, hoc totum perpetuo noſtra indulgentia, vel conceſſione vel auctoritate conceſſum vel confirmatum maneat in perpetuum. Et ut iſta conceſſio & juſta confirmatio perhennem obtinere valeat in Domino firmitatem, hoc noſtræ manſvetudinis edictum fieri cenſuimus, per quod ſtatuentes decernimus, modisque omnibus ſanccimus, ut monachi, qui in prædicto cœnobio nunc & deinceps divinis famulati fuerint officiis, habeant ex ſemet ipſis ſecundum ſancti Benedicti inſtitutionem Abbatis liberam electionem, quia olim antequam præfatus Abbas ibi ordinatus fuiſſet, audivimus perpetuam electionem fieri, quod noſtro prorſus imperio fieri prohibemus, ut nullus per pecuniæ falſitatem aliquam ibi introducere audeat perſonam; ſed juxta antiquorum patrum inſtituta regulariter eligant ſibi Abbatem, quatinus in divinis cultibus indeſinenter permanentes pro ſalute regni noſtri miſericordiam Domini attentius implorare valeant. In nomine D. D. S. N. J. C. Hildericus Rex Francorum. Ad æternam mercedem procul dubio credimus pertinere, si peticiones sacerdotum vel quorumlibet devotorum justa petentium perducimus ad effectum. Igitur Dominus & pater noster Remaclus episcopus clementiam regni nostri petiit pro monasterio suo Stabulao, quod bonæ recordationis avunculus noster Sigibertus quondam rex suo construxit opere. Unde & ipsa præcepta, seu confirmationes præcedentium Regum, memoratus Abba se præ manibus habere affirmans petiit celsitudinem nostram, ut quod tam ipse Princeps Dominus Sigibertus de fisco suo seu de reliquis locis ad ipsum monasterium per suas auctoritates noscitur concessisse, confirmare deberemus. Cujus peticionem pro reverentia ipsius monasterii, sed & considerantes sacerdocium ipsius, non solum confirmasse sed & pro mercede nostra a novo reconcessisse vestra comperiat magnitudo.

Lord, and Saviour Jesus Christ, which was given for thee, and shed his blood for the remission of thy sins: which thing if thou assuredly believe, thou shalt have remission of thy sins, and life everlasting.

Then shall the Priest say the Collect following.

ALMIGHTY God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which desireth not the death of a sinner, but rather that he may turn from his wickedness and live, and hath promised forgiveness of sins to all those that with hearty repentance and true faith turn unto him: We humbly beseech thee that thou wilt look upon this thy servant, whom thou hast moved to call upon thee; and mercifully grant unto him that he may so unfeignedly believe thy holy word, and so truly repent him of his sins, that he may obtain remission of the same by our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. Amen.

Then shall the Priest say the Collect following.

O ALMIGHTY Lord, and everlasting God, we make our prayers unto thee for this thy servant, whom thou hast visited with sickness: we beseech thee to give thy blessing unto this thy servant, that the sickness may be to him profitable for his soul's health: for thou, O Lord, knowest whether it be best for him to live or die. If he live, grant that he may recover his health, if it be thy will; if he die, grant that he may die unto thee. Amen.

Then shall the Priest say the Collect following.

O MERCIFUL God, the fountain of all wisdom, whose knowledge is infinite, and whose nature and property is always to have mercy: We humbly beseech thee mercifully to look upon this thy servant, whom we visit in thy Name, and lay thy fatherly hand upon him; and as thou knowest the state of all men, so vouchsafe to show thy pitiful goodness to him and to all us thy servants, that we, after the trial of this transitory life, may obtain the life that shall never have end, through the merits of our Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

Then shall the Priest say the Collect following.

O LORD, we beseech thee, assist us mercifully with thy help, that in all our thoughts, words, and works, we may be ever guided and governed according to thy will; and that it may please thee to give and continue thy mercy to this thy servant, whom we visit and commend to thy fatherly goodness, that all things may prosper well with him, being by thee preserved both in body and soul. Amen.

Then shall the Priest say the Collect following.

O LORD, we beseech thee, look down from heaven, visit and relieve this thy servant, look upon him with the eyes of thy mercy, give him comfort and sure confidence in thee, defend him from the danger of the enemy, and keep him in the true faith and fear of thee, that he may not be overcome with any temptation: and that which is to us uncertain, grant us certainly to know, as it may be most for thy glory, and our profit

Ἀμφιδρόμια, Fest, das am 5. Tage nach der Geburt eines Kindes gefeiert wurde. Es ist nicht ganz sicher, ob der Name von dem Umlaufen des Herdes oder von dem Umlaufen des Kindes herzuleiten ist. Für letzteres spricht, dass die Amphidromien ursprünglich ein Familienfest waren, bei dem der Vater das Kind in Empfang nahm, das die Hebamme ihm vorher gebracht hatte. Er lief mit ihm um den Herd, um es dadurch als sein Kind anzuerkennen. Dann wurde es in die Wiege gelegt und ihm der Name gegeben. Später wurden die Amphidromien ein Fest, das die Verwandten und Freunde des Vaters mitfeierten, und bei dem sie Geschenke brachten. Vgl. Hesych. s. v. Ἀμφιδρόμια· ἡμέρα ἐν ᾗ τὰ παιδία ἀμφιδρομεῖται. Notum eſſe volumus univerſitati Ghriſti noſtrique fidelium qualiter Dominus A. venerabilis Archiepiſcopus ſerenitatem noſtram adiit, petens & poſtulans, quod eccleſiæ Hammenburgenſi, cui ipſe paſtor & rector præerat, donare vellemus Comitatum quem in Emeſcowa & Weſtfale ſitum N. Et quoniam ipſius N. Comitis ad hanc rem quærendus erat aſſenſus, ipſum vir ſapiens precio & precibus adduxit, ut præſens laudator & aſſenſor exiſteret. Tum nos ipſi Archiepiſcopo A. ob merita ſua benevolentes, ad hoc peticionibus fidelium noſtrorum facile acquieſcentes, maxime cum remunerationem nobis ſperaremus a Domino Salvatore & ſanctiſſima ejus genetrice Maria & ſancto Vito martire glorioſo, a quibus locus ille evidenter incolitur, Comitatum eundem ipſo B. CXVIII.

In nomine Domini Dei & Salvatoris nostri Jesu Christi. Ludovicus divina propiciante clementia Imperator Augustus. Si specialibus cujuscunque fidelium nostrorum, necessitatibus perspectis, subveniendum esse imperialis auctoritas monstrat, quanto magis ad debitam generalitatis providentiam æquum est dignumque, ut ecclesiæ catholicæ atque apostolicæ, quam Christus precioso sanguine suo redemit, eamque nobis tuendam regendamque commisit, piam ac sollicitam in cunctis nos oporteat gerere curam, & ut in ejus profectu vel exaltacione congruam exhibeamus diligentiam, novis ad ejus utilitatem vel necessitatem atque dignitatem pertinentibus rebus nova immo necessaria & utilia provideamus instituta? Idcirco sanctæ Dei ecclesiæ filiis, præsentibus scilicet & futuris certum esse volumus, qualiter divina ordinante gratia nostris in diebus, aquilonaribus in partibus in gentibus, videlicet Danorum, Gronlandan, Islandan & omnium septentrionalium nationum magnum celestis gratia prædicationis sive acquisitionis patefecit ostium, ita ut multitudo hinc inde ad fidem Christi conversa, misteria cælestia ecclesiasticaque subsidia desiderabiliter expeteret.

Unde Domino Deo nostro laudes immensas persolventes extollimus, qui nostris temporibus & studiis sanctam ecclesiam sponsam videl. suam locis in ignotis finit dilatari atque proficere. Quamobrem una cum sacerdotibus cæterisque imperii nostri fidelibus hanc Deo dignam cernentes causam valde necessariam atque futuræ ecclesiæ dignitati proficuam dignum duximus, ut locum aptum nostris in finibus evidentius eligeremus, u. sedem episcopalem per hoc nostræ auctoritatis præceptum statueremus, unde omnes illæ barbaræ nationes æternæ vitæ pabulum facilius uberiusque capere valerent, & sicientes salutis gratiam præ manibus vel oculis haberent, insuper & magnorum progenitorum sacra lucrandi studia nostris in diebus numquam deficerent. Progenitor etenim noster gloriosæ memoriæ Karolus omnem Saxoniam ecclesiasticæ religioni subdidit, jugumque Christi ad usque terminos Danorum atque Sclavorum, corda ferocia ferro perdomans, ferre docuit. Unde inter has utrasque gentes Danorum sive Winedorum ultimam Saxoniæ partem & diversis periculis temporalibus videlicet ac spiritalibus interjacentem prospiciens, ibidem sedem fieri pontificalem decrevit trans Albiam. Unde postquam terram Nordalbingorum, laxata captivitate, quam ob multam perfidiam Christianitatis initiis patratam per septennium passi sunt, ne locus ille a barbaris invaderetur, N. comiti restituere præceperat, non jam vicinis episcopis locum illum committere voluit. Sed ne quisquam eorum hanc sibi deinceps parrochiam vendicaret, ex remotis Galliæ partibus quendam Episcopum N. nomine dixit, qui primitivam ecclesiam ibidem consecraret. Sed & eidem ecclesiæ sacras reliquias ac plura ecclesiastica munera pia largitate specialiter destinare curavit. Postmodum vero captivis optatam ad patriam undique confluentibus eandem parrochiam cuidam Deinde quod electio multorum fit, ubi tantum quæ eft de multorum numero electorum pars eligit, quæ pars pauca admodum eft, quia fecundum fanctos dimidium non eft numerus. Ergo, fi dimidium non eft numerus, quanto minus pars, quæ dimidium non eft? Et ideo, quia pars, quæ dimidium non eft, dimidium non eligit, quia pars, quæ dimidium non eligit, pars non eligit, quia pars, quæ pars non eligit, pauca eligit, quia pauca eligit, pauci eligunt, quia pauci eligunt, unus eligit, quia unus eligit, nullus eligit. Quod fi nullus eligit, nullus eligendus eft. Et ideo electio multorum vitiofa, quia nullus eligendus eft. Item electio laicorum vitiofa, quia laici non funt de ecclefia. Epiſtola Sigifridi Moguntini Archiepiſcopi.

Apoſtolico ſacerdoti & univerſali PP. Alexandro S. Moguntinæ ſpeculator eccleſiæ debitam ut patri reverentiam, & promptam, ut tanto paſtori, obedientiam. Altiſſimus ille Deorum Deus, qui cæleſtis miliciæ ordines ita diſpoſuit, ut alter alteri præmineat & ad obſequium conditoris minor dignitas majori pareat, ipſe in eccleſia ſua ita diſtinxit cœlos ſuos opera digitorum ſuorum, ut ſicut ſtella ab ſtella differt in claritate, ita alter alterum præcedat excellentiæ dignitate. Hanc autem graduum & officiorum diverſitatem ita ad unam reducit concordiam unitas caritatis, ut ſicut in ſanctis angelis, ita & hic non ſit invidia imparis claritatis. Quia ergo idem altiſſimus vos, mi reverende pater, conſtituit in hac arce prælationis, ut vice illius magni Petri ſitis caput tocius eccleſiaſticæ dignitatis, jure ſe vobis omnis inferior ordo ſummittit, merito omnis membrorum articulata contextio vobis, ut capiti, obedit, juxta quod præcipit vas electionis: Omnis anima poteſtatibus ſublimioribus ſubdita ſit. Ad hanc ergo formam cum vobis exhiberem debitæ ſubjectionis obedientiam, multis ſæpe injuriis affectus ſum, multa vobis indigna & mihi intolerabilia paſſus ſum. Namque mihi Romæ poſito viva voce & poſtea apoſtolica legatione interdixiſtis, ne eum, qui deſignatus eſt in Conſtancienſem epiſcopum, ullo modo conſecrarem; quia audiſtis elogio ſymoniacæ hereſeos eum eſſe notabilem. In quo quia vobis obedivi, multa, ut præmiſſum eſt, a Domino meo adverſa ſuſtinui, timeoque, me adhuc graviora paſſurum & eccleſiæ meæ magnum fore detrimentum, niſi benignus ille Petrus clave ſua me defendat, & veſtræ auctoritatis poteſtas adverſus regiam poteſtatem zelo juſtitiæ me protegendo ſe accingat. Accepi autem literas veſtræ ſanctitatis, in quibus continebatur, ut ex præcepto veſtro Colonienſem archiepiſcopum invitarem & convocatis fratribus concilium celebrarem, in quo ejusdem deſignati Epiſcopi cauſa juxta veritatem excuteretur, ut aut reus criminis, quo inſimulatur, a dignitate rejiceretur, aut innocens canonice conſecraretur. In hoc & parui veſtræ auctoritati, invitatis prædicto epiſcopo & fratribus, locum & diem præſcripſi; ſed concilium celebrandum perturbavit indictio regiæ poteſtatis, cogens me & alios regni Principes in milicam ſuæ expedicionis. In qua re obſecro, ut ſanctitas veſtra obſequium meum habeat excuſatum, quia, niſi impediret, impleſſem præceptum veſtrum. Præterea relatum eſt nobis, quia regia relatio eundem deſignatum Epiſcopum ad vos diſcutiendum conſecrandumque deducat.

In qua re quid æquitatis & juſticiæ ſit, diſcretionis veſtræ libra recte dijudicet. Rogo autem excellentiam veſtræ paternitatis, quod ſi ita verum eſt, ne ipſe hoc a vobis accipiat, quod mihi * hoc canonice facere debeo, auctoritas veſtra interdixerat; quia ſi ita fiet, inde magis videbor peccaſſe principi meo, quod plus ſtudio eum conſecrare noluerim, quam juſta cauſa vel præcepto veſtro. Si ergo a vobis diſcuſſus innocens fuerit inventus, remittite eum mihi & fratribus meis conſecrandum, ut, ſicut oportet, a nobis canonice accipiat oleum conſecrationis. Hoc autem in fronte & in calce noſtra teneat Epiſtola, quod non eſt homo vivens, qui promtior me ſit ad omnia veſtræ juſſionis obſequia. Qui vos prævenit in benedictionibus dulcedinis, ponat ſuper caput veſtrum coronam æternæ beatitudinis.

CXXIII.

Imperante ſuper omnia æternaliter regum rege Domino noſtro Jeſu Chriſto & ſub eo regnante temporaliter ſereniſſimo H. rege hujus nominis IV. venerabili quoque S. Moguntinæ eccleſiæ primate & apoſtolicæ ſedis legato aurigante currum Dei. Anno jam XII. qui tunc volvebatur annus incarn. verbi M. LXXI. VIII. indictione dictione Romani cenſus, celebrata eſt ſancta Synodus apud Moguntiam metropolim orientalis Franciæ, principalem vero pontificii ſedem tocius Germaniæ & Galliæ Ciſalpinæ, cui præſedit idem memorabilis S. aſſidentibus & cooperantibus ſibi venerabilibus Archiepiſcopis, Gebehardo Juvavenſi & Utone Treverenſi; conſidentibus vero & collaborantibus reverendis Epiſcopis, Alberone Wirzeburgenſi, Werinhero Argentinenſi, Heinrico Spirenſi, Gundecharo Eiſtetenſi, Embricone Auguſtenſi, Hermanno Babebergenſi, Bennone Oſnaburgenſi, Ermenfrido Sedunenſi, Herberto Mutinenſi; Conſidentibus vero & annitentibus ſanctiſſimis Abbatibus nec non inferiorum ordinum quam plurimis magnæ auctoritatis & ſapientiæ viris. Aderant & legati reliquorum fratrum, videl. ſuffraganeorum ejusdem metropolitaniæ antiſtitis, Epiſtolas & mandata ferentes, quibus excuſati haberentur, quod invitati concilio intereſſe non poſſent, certis quibusdam impedientibus cauſis, alii quidem corporeæ infirmitatis urgente moleſtia, Alii in quibusdam regni negotiis regiæ juſſionis detinente potentia; qui dum canonice ſunt excuſati, ipſi legati loco & ordine eorum funguntur, unusquisque vice antiſtitis ſui. Hæc denique ſancta Synodus cum propter multa paſtoralis curæ negotia pluresq; cauſas quibus juſte adhibenda erat eccleſiaſticæ correctionis cenſura, tum maxime indicta & habita eſt propter Karolum quendam, qui Conſtantienſis eccleſiæ deſignatus erat Epiſcopus; ſed ut poſt rei exitus docuit, non ſatis canonice electus & provectus. Hinc ut ſollempne eſt accepta a rege pontificalis anuli & paſtoralis ferulæ inveſtitura & in ſede epiſcopali receptus, regiæ poteſtatis jubente cenſura, poſtulabat a primate Moguncienſi ejusdem Conſtantienſis eccleſiæ ſe epiſcopum conſecrari. Sed venerabilis S. columbino oculo ſerpentinæ prudentiæ omnem præcavens impietatem, dicebat, hoc apoſtolicæ benedictionis ſacramentum nec debere nec canonice poſſe in eo ſine examinatione celebrari, pro eo quod fidelium graviumque perſonarum relatione didicerit, quinnimo & fama usque quaque vulgaverit, quod non per oſtium in ovile ovium vellet intrare, ſed per furtivam ſimoniacæ impietatis ſcalam aliunde niteretur aſcendere, ſe quoque talis introitus ejus nolle oſtiarium fieri, cui Chriſtus ipſe qui oſtium eſt videretur obniti, quin ipſam impietatis ſcalam in lapide offenſionis & petra ſcandali ſe velle conterere, ipſumque a mercenaria dominicæ gregis occupatione longe lateque repellere. Ille e contra ſe hujus criminis & hereticæ impietatis immunem aſſerere multis argumentis nitebatur; ſeque, ſi ei copia tempusque detur, hujus infamiæ notam a ſe propellere velle teſtatur, indeque petit ſynodalis concilii audientiam, in qua ſuper hac re ſuam prohibere poſſit innocentiam, ibique conſecrationem, quam petebat, aut canonice ſibi dari aut canonice ſibi negari. Mittuntur interea ad venerabilem Metropolitanum crebræ de Palacio legationes mixtis precibus minas & imperioſa de hac conſecratione mandata ferentes; mittuntur & literæ a præſule apoſtolicæ ſedis, mandantes, ne ullo modo conſecretur ſine ſcrutinio canonicæ purgationis: & quod rex poteſtate jubebat, Romanus Pontifex auctoritate prohibebat. Accedebant & Canonici Conſtantienſis eccleſiæ ex communi totius cleri & populi legatione unanimiter aſſerentes, Karolum nulla ratione conſecrari debere, quia ex quo eum inviti & ſub conditione elegerunt & receperunt, nullam eis paſtoralis officii impendiſſet curam, quin potius tyrannicæ dominationis non ceſſaſſet ſuper eos exercere preſſuram, nec manum continuiſſet a ſacris, nec pepercisſet in diripiendis eccleſiæ theſauris, & quæcunque rapaci violentia undecunque corradere potuiſſet, hoc totum miniſtris magni immo magi illius Symonis, id eſt, ſuis fautoribus diſtribuiſſet, ut quorum annisu adulterinam mercaviſſet electionem, eorum venali mercimonio conſequeretur mercenariam pro conſecratione execrationem, pro benedictione maledictionem. At Metropolitanus inter hujusmodi legationum varietates, velut inter duros tempeſtatum turbines, laudabili conſtantia in ſe ipſo fixus hæret & immobilis & nusquam favore vel gratia, terrore vel munere inflectitur a ſtatu canonicæ inſtitutionis.

Multis itaque nunciis & renunciis hinc inde miſſis & remiſſis, multis quoque diebus huic audientiæ delegatis, & cognitores * cauſæ principis, occupante præcepto, non impletis, cum eccleſia Conſtantienſis ſuo viduata jam biennio fere ſacerdotali careret benedictione, tandem miſeratione divina poteſtati præponderavit auctoritas & Chriſti ſacerdotibus divina aſpiravit voluntas. Unde eorum communi conſenſu ſynodalis Concilii certa legitimaque dies denunciatur, & coëpiſcoporum immanitas ad Concilium invitatur; quorum alii, ut oportebat, ſine dilatione affuerunt, alii vero qui certa de cauſa adeſſe non poterant canonice excuſati ſupparem præſentiam vicaria legatione ſubpleverunt. Primo igitur die Concilii quem ſanctæ Mariæ Dormitio tunc celeberrimum exhibebat, cum ſpiritualis curiæ Senatores patrocinante Spiritu ſancto intra regiam majoris eccleſiæ ante cancellos altaris Protho-martiris Stephani, quod in orientali abſide conſecratum eſt, conveniſſent in unum; primo, ut par erat, ſanctæ & individuæ trinitati debitas referrent gratiarum actiones & pro incolomitate tocius eccleſiæ ſtatu ſupplices Deo offerrent præces; Deinde poſt mutuam fratrum ſalutationem & debitam ſedium recognitionem juxta autenticum paternæ tradicionis ſynodum conferunt ad invicem de veritate catholicæ fidei, dampnantes Symonem & omnes hæreſiarchas cum dogmatibus ſuis & ſequacibus ſuis: pauca pro tempore tractant de qualitate inſtantis negocii, ac ſic demum propter celebranda tantæ ſollennitatis officia ſolvunt Concilium, craſtino maturius redituri in id ipſum. Poſtera vero die certa concilii hora cum iterum apoſtolici ſacerdotes in unum conveniſſent, &, præmiſſis Deo laudibus dibus & peculiare & falutare, confidilium, quod eiusque fundator in his locis exercuit in diebus, missionibus, diuinis officiis, & multorum, & prouerbiis, & multarum quidem rerum, & rerum minimarum & quotidianarum, non autem in duo de conferentiarum eius, nec quarum conferentiarum, Bud. quod nunquam in eius fuit de Conclusioni appositio inter fratres, fluidum ventilatur, sed quarum in eius conferentiarum mandatum in quarum diem proprietatum, agentibus interuentus, & fundatum Dominus a Cruchatur fuit regere ad regium & infelicis voluntatem, nisi vocationibus, ut, ab ipsius suis ab ipsarum Ponte dimittere ipsa fuerit.

Tertia vero die Christi fecerdotes humiliter genibus ea eiusdem ad Deum & ipsa ipsa dantes indicationis nomine non adstare accedentes, fecerdotes confitebuntur, quod confitebuntur, eumque & fecerdotum fit, & pace celebrat non, & quod fecerdotum fit, & pace celebrat, & quod fecerdotum fit, & pace celebrat, & quod fecerdotum fit, & pace celebrat compendio, orantes & deprecantes, ut de regno ſuo eliminet omnem apoſtaſiam & omnia ſcandala nec ultra Sathan ejusq; apoſtolos in ſua ſancta regnare ſinat eccleſia; ſed in omnibus conſiliis & operibus eorum dignetur ſervos ſuos conſolari & clementer implere, quod eccleſiæ ſuæ ſe promiſit affuturum omnibus diebus vitæ usque ad conſumationem ſeculi. Communi autem decreto præcipiunt ea, quæ in hac Synodo geſta ſunt, eccleſiaſticis inſeri geſtis & in archivis ſanctæ Moguntinæ eccleſiæ ſervari, ad perpetuam memoriam & eruditionem venturæ poſteritatis, ut hoc majorum exemplo minores inſtructi non timeant reſiſtere, ſi in hujusmodi negocio ſe viderint prægravari, certiſſime ſcientes nullo modo gratiam ſancti Spiritus defuturam, ſi in ſanctitate & juſtitia reſtiterint injuſtitiæ usque ad perſeverantiæ coronam. Decernunt præterea ex antiqua patrum traditione & autentica priſcorum conciliorum rectitudine, ut hæc omnia Romano Pontifici feriatim litteris inſerta nuncientur, ut cujus mandato & hortatu cœpta & perfecta ſunt, ejus apoſtolica auctoritate roborata firmentur & omnipotenti Deo qui omnium bonorum auctor eſt, Romæ & Moguntiæ & ubicunque terrarum hæc lecta vel audita fuerint, debitæ gratiarum actiones fideli devotione ſolvantur.

Acta ſunt autem hæc apud Moguntiam metropolim orientalis Franciæ. Anno ab inc. Dom. MLXXI. Ind. VIII. XVIII. Kal. Septemb. Regnante Sereniſſimo H. Rege hujus nominis IIII. Anno regni ejus XIII. ordinationis vero ejusdem XVII. Apud Moguntiam vero præſulante reverentiſſimo primate S. Anno ordinationis ejus XII. Super omnia autem regnante Domino noſtro Jeſu Chriſto, cui non accedit cras futurum nec recedit heri præteritum, ſed permanet ſempiternum hodie in ſecula ſeculorum Amen.

CXXIV.

Reverentiſſimo patri & ſanctiſſimo primæ ſedis antiſtiti A. S. Moguntinæ ſpeculator eccleſiæ cum fratribus & coëpiſcopis ſuis debitam ut ſummo Sacerdoti ſubjectionem. Gratias agimus Deo omnipotenti Domino, qui ad ſalutem animarum elegit ſacerdotium veſtrum, & in cathedra Petri vobis tradidit claves regni cœlorum, quique ſuper hanc petram ita ædificavit eccleſiam ſuam, ut portæ inferi non prævaleant adverſus eam. Ad hoc namque opus vere vos ea inſtituit & confirmat fides, quam beatum Petrum caro & ſanguis non docuit, ſed Deus pater de unigenito ſuo per Spiritum ſanctum ei revelavit; quæ utique fides, ſicut Dominus Chriſtus pro eo rogavit, nunquam deficiet, ſed per beatas ſucceſſiones apoſtolicorum præſulum, ad confirmandos fratres usque in finem perficiet. Hujus itaque fidei ſoliditate fundatus beatus Petrus Symonem donum Spiritus Sancti per impoſitionem manus pretio affectantem & cathedram eccleſiæ venalitatis quæſtibus obnoxiam facientem a ſorte apoſtolicæ benedictionis excluſit, & perpetuæ maledictionis inexpiabili pœna damnavit. Ex illo usque in hodiernum diem, ſicut tunc apoſtolica Petri fides, ita demum ejus apoſtolica ſedes Diabolum ejusque antichriſtos ejusdem fidei firmitate perdomuit, omnes inferi portas hæreſiarchas ſcilicet cum dogmatibus & ſequentibus ſuis non quidem obſtruxit, ſed penitus deſtruxit. Inde eſt cum quod nos multis jam diebus expetiſſet Sathanas ut cribraret nos ſicut triticum, & nos ad veſtrum, cui Chriſtus claves cœli & vicem Petri in manus dedit confugeremus patrocinium, ita ſumus veſtra auctoritate confirmati, ut apoſtolum Satanæ, qui nos impugnabat, expugnaremus gladio verbi Dei, & cum peſtiferi Symonis virulenta ſatio in Conſtantienſem eccleſiam malam extendiſſet radicem, nos ei ad ſuccidendum adhiberemus juſticiæ falcem. Nam cum regia nos poteſtas urgeret, quendam de execrabili perditiſſimi Symonis ſcola eidem eccleſiæ ordinare Epiſcopum, nos vero diceremus, quia ſacris canonibus omnibus modis cautum eſſet, hoc in noſtrum nos facere non poſſe præjudicium; cumque rex jugiter nos inſtaret, ſuper hac re conſentire ad nutum præcepti ſui, & nos objiceremus ei, hoc apoſtolica authoritate prohiberi, tandem huic ſchiſmati ſopiendo, ſanctitas veſtra ſalubre dedit conſilium, præcipiens ſuper hac re Concilium celebrari, in quo idem appoſitus aut innocens purgaretur, aut reus objectorum rejiceretur. Quantis autem laboribus quibusve difficultatibus ad ejusdem concilii celebrationem perventum ſit, quibus vero modis & quibus multiplicibus argumentis regia poteſtas præfinitum concilii tempus anticipando ad voluntatem ſuam inflectere, aut omnino illud diſſipare voluerit, non eſt modo referendum per ſingula, quia non veſtrum fatigare debeo animum divinioribus intentum, & regali excellentiæ ducimus aſſurgendum. Vicit tamen Chriſtus in Petro, & Petrus in nobis, & vos in nobis, & collectum eſt Concilium, eo quo fuerat tempore præfinitum, in quo apoſtolica ſunt functi legatione reverendiſſimi ſacerdotes Domini Gebehardus Archiepiſcopus Juvavenſis & Uto Archiepiſcopus Trevirenſis, aderant & coëpiſcopi & cooperatores noſtri, nec non & inferiorum ordinum quam plures magnæ autoritatis & ſapientiæ viri, omnesque in uno collecti unanimiter poſtulabamus Dominum noſtrum Jeſum Chriſtum, ut quia in nomine ejus fueramus congregati, ſe nobis ſecundum promiſſionem dignaretur exhibere medium. Prima vero & ſecunda Concilii die de his quæ unicuique fratri in ſua dioceſi obvenerant, actum & determinatum eſt; Inde autem, quod maxime in cauſa erat, dilationibus petentibus & agentibus internunciis, aliis quidem, ut ad regiam voluntatem a propoſiti rigore nos inflecteremus, aliis vero inſtantibus, ut deſignatus ille propter pondus judicii & magnitudinem periculi male affectatum ſponte dimitteret honorem. Tertia vero die omnes quotquot aderamus epiſcopi, invocata in auxilium divinitate adjuvimus Principem noſtrum, viva voce ammonentes eum de ſalute animæ ſuæ, quodque divinam voluntatem ſemper ſuæ debeat voluntati anteponere, neque regnum ejus ullo modo poſſe firmari niſi juſtitia & obſervatione mandatorum Dei. Deus autem, in cujus manu ſunt corda regum, & omnia jura regnorum, ita principis animum mitigavit, ut ad exhortationem ſacerdotum nihil reſponderet aſperum, nihil reſponderet aſperum, nihil Chriſtianæ diſciplinæ adverſum. Dixit tamen, ſe id quod fecerat, ſi poſſet, juſte velle defendere, quod ſi minus procederet, nihil ſe divinæ auctoritati contra ire. Ita verbis ſacerdotum delinitus, nobiscum concilium intravit, & ille de quo quæſtio erat ad audientiam venit. Vocati autem intraverunt & filii Conſtantienſis eccleſiæ, libellos accuſationis porrigentes, & ſe canonice probaturos ea quibus perſonam inſimulabant proteſtantes. Multis autem accuſationibus ultro citroque deciſis, quia multis in adverſum nitentibus res in profundam noctem protracta eſt, Concilium hujus diei, infecto adhuc negotio, neceſſario direptum eſt. In craſtinum autem deſignatus ille Deo, ut credimus, ejus conſcientiam coartante, non ultra expectans audientiam Concilii, nec ſuſtinens pondus imminentis judicii, ipſe in ſe ſententiam tulit, & annulum & ferulam paſtoralem, ei, a quo acceperat, reddens, nos longa quæſtione & fatigatione abſolvit, hoc tantum prætendens excuſationis, quod juxta Cœleſtini Papæ decretalia dari nollet invitis.

Super his ergo & ſuper omnibus beneficiis animæ ſuæ gratias primum agimus patri animarum, qui nos humiles ſervos ſuos interpretatione clementer exaudivit, deinde apoſtolicæ ſedi, ejusque reverentiſſimo præſuli, a qua petra profluxit hæc tota perſeverantiæ noſtræ fortitudo, orantes & poſtulantes Deum Dominum noſtrum, ut interventu Sancti Petri hujus ſanctiſſimæ ſedis apicem ſtabili fide, pace, & in confeſſione ſui nominis ita ſolidare, & confirmare dignetur, quatinus univerſalis eccleſiæ plenitudo, quæ eſt corpus Chriſti, hujus capitis ſanitate perpetuo proficiat & glorietur. Ratum autem duximus hujus Concilii ordinem & exitum veſtræ ſignificare ſanctitati, ut, cujus auctoritate cœptum & confectum eſt, ejus & aſſenſu mereatur roborari. Rogamus etiam ſanctiſſimam paternitatem veſtram, ut ſic in hoc ita & in cæteris eccleſiæ negotiis, nobis dexteram porrigatis, ſcil. contra rebelles Thuringos, contra quosdam præpotentes & nobiles, adverſus quos propter ſanguinitatis conjugia multum laboramus. Decreverunt & multa quæ ſicut ſpecialis filius, & ex antiqua traditione apoſtolicæ ſedis legatus, veſtra debeo auctoritate & præcepto terminare, ut dum in omnibus vobis obediens fuero, veſtræ ſanctitati, ſicut membrum capiti, valeam cohærere. Sanctiſſimum apoſtolatum, Domine pater, longævum & incolumem Samarites ille cuſtodiat, qui in cuſtodiendo ſuum Iſrael non dormit neque dormitat.

Domino beatiſſimo & vere apoſtolici culminis honore reverendo A. S. Moguntinæ eccleſiæ ſpeculator debitæ ſubjectionis reverentiam & omnimodæ ſervitutis obſequentiam. Licet univerſalis eccleſiæ ſtatus generaliter innitatur ſuper fundamentum apoſtolorum & prophetarum & in ipſo ſui verticis culmine angularem geſtet lapidem Dominum ſcil. Jeſum Chriſtum, ſpecialiter tamen ille magnus Petrus juxta ſoliditſſimam nominis ſui firmitatem & firmiſſimam fidei & confeſſionis ſuæ ſoliditatem ejus & totam ſuſtentat fabricam, ad hoc quidem electus a Domino veſtro dicente: Super hanc petram ædificabo eccleſiam meam. Illi namque omnis apoſtolicorum patrum ſucceſſio beata, auctoritate ipſius Dei, ſedi ejus, Romanæ ſcil. eccleſiæ, hanc dedicavit excellentiam & in cunctis ſemper hujus privilegii ſervavit reverentiam, ut majora eccleſiæ negotia, & difficiliores cauſarum exitus ad ipſam velut ad caput referantur, ejusque judicio cuncta ſalubriter exanimata in portum ſalutis dirigantur. Quia vero divinæ miſerationis gratia nos in hanc ſedem intronicavit, & vice ipſius Petri omnium eccleſiarum ſollicitudinem impoſuit, neceſſarium duximus veſtro reſervari judicio ea, quæ novimus non poſſe, non debere ſine veſtra auctoritate noſtro terminari judicio. Inter multimoda eccleſiæ negotia, quæ veſtrum expectant examen ſollicitudini noſtræ quiddam tale incubuit, quod & eccleſiaſticis judiciis valde eſt inſolitum, & omni moderni temporis ætati pene inauditum. Filius enim veſter H. Rex noſter ante paucos dies conjugem ſuam voluit dimittere, & eam, quam legitimis ſponſalibus & conjugali dote regali conſecratione & publicis nuptiis regali corona & ſacroſancta ſibi firmatam ſociavit, nullam primo interponens diſcidii culpam & cauſam, omnino a ſe ſeparari voluit. Quo nos veluti monſtro attoniti, & inſolita rei facie permoti, conſilio magnatum, quotquot tunc aderant in palatio, in faciem ei reſtitimus & niſi certam diſſidii cauſam exponeret, ſine reſpectu regiæ poteſtatis, ſine metu gladii imminentis, eum ſi veſtra præcederet auctoritas a ſinu & communione eccleſiæ nos ſegregaturos prædiximus. Ille vero retulit nobis, ea de cauſa ab ea ſe velle ſeparari, quod non poſſet ei tam naturali quam maritali coitus fœdere copulari. Quod inquiſitum cum & ipſa fateretur, omnium noſtrorum animos nimio mœrore affecit, & ipſa rei magnitudo nimia dubietate turbavit. Super qua re ſanctiſſimum apoſtolatum veſtrum ſicut divinum conſulimus oraculum, & veluti membra ad caput tantum referimus negotium, & quod hoc valde rarum quæſtionibus occurrit eccleſiaſticis, & de regiis pene inauditum eſt perſonis, veſtræ ſanctitatis erit, quod ſuper tanta re facto opus ſit decernere & ad conſulta noſtra de ſanctuario ſacri pectoris veſtri reſponſalia remittere, ut & inſtans negotium ad ſalutem modernæ ætatis eccleſiaſtica pace firmetur, & de tam inſolita & dubia re veſtra auctoritate poſteritas inſtruatur.

tur. Denique fratres noſtri, qui tunc huic rei intereránt, condixerunt, ut Concilium, quod tanto negotio competeret, in noſtra urbe congregaretur, & utique Regi ſcil. & Reginæ ad ſynodalem venire audientiam, & ſuper hac re terminalem ſubire ſententiam indiceretur. Nos autem dubia tantæ rei conſideratione habita, nullo modo hoc ſine veſtra auctoritate fieri decrevimus, & totius negotii terminum ad veſtræ expectationem ſententiæ ſuſpendimus, poſtulantes ſanctitatem veſtram, ut ſi id, quod inſtat, ratum ducitis per nos Synodaliter terminari, de latere veſtro perſonas cum ſcriptis veſtræ auctoritatis ad examen & judicium tantæ rei mittere dignemini, quorum & audientia res ventiletur, & convenientia in beneplacito Dei terminetur.

Patri patrum apoſtolico & univerſali Papæ S. Moguntinæ ſpeculator eccleſiæ quicquid filius patri, quicquid membrum capiti. Ea eſt corporis Chriſti, quæ eſt eccleſia, vera perfectio, & perfecta pulchritudo, quæ evangelicæ veritatis ſoliditate fundata, & apoſtolicæ confeſſionis petra ſolidata uni Deo in trinitate, fide ſervit & opere. In hoc ergo Chriſti corpore & inter hæc ſummi capitis membra quemcunque teneamus locum, quodcunque geramus officium, ad veſtram, mi ſanctiſſime patrum pater, auctoritatem referimus; veſtris opitulantibus meritis illi cœleſti Jeruſalem inter vivos lapides incorporari confidimus. Et quia eccleſiam, quam Domino miſerante regendam ſuſcepimus, ſanctiſſimæ apoſtolicæ ſedis, cui auctore Chriſto præſidetis, ſpecialis eſt filia, idcirco ſanctiſſimo apoſtolatui veſtro, ut patri filius, ſpecialem exhibemus reverentiam, & ut veſtræ ſanctitatis auctoritas inter ſeculi turbines incolumi tranquillitate potiatur, quotidianam Deo orationum & ſupplicationum offerimus victimam. Noverit autem excellentia veſtra, quod hodie homo non vivit, quem pax & tranquillitas veſtra magis lætificet; & ſi quid ſecus eſt, quod abſit, quem magis contriſtet. Sed unum eſt quod pace veſtra dictum eſt, quod vehementer miramur, ſcilicet quod ad apoſtolatum veſtrum devotionis noſtræ aliquando ſcripta miſimus, & nulla ſanctitatis veſtræ reſcripta meruimus. Quomodocunque ergo illud contigerit, nunc humili ſupplicatu veſtram exoramus paternitatem, ut quia regni noſtri eſtis corona, & totius Romani Imperii diadema, filii veſtri Domini mei Heinrici Regis ſemper in bono meminiſſe dignemini, & ſicut & hactenus conſilio & auxilio cum vera fide affuiſtis, ita cum eo usque ad coronam imperii apoſtolica conſtantia perſiſtatis. Præterea quæ vice magni illius Petri vobis ſpecialiter injuncta eſt ſollicitudo omnium eccleſiarum, & ad apoſtolicum verticem referendæ ſunt majorum cauſæ negotiorum, idcirco hunc literarum portitorem ad veſtram dirigimus ſanctitatem, qui heu diaboli fallente inſtinctu conſanguineum ſuum interfecit. Cujus rei ſeriem, quod longum eſt epiſtolari ſchedæ inſerere, ipſe, ſi dignemini, viva voce melius explicabit. Complevit autem pœnitentiale jejunium & cetera, quæ eccleſiaſtico more traduntur pœnitentibus ad remedium. Pœnitentiam ejus humilem nimis & devotam accepimus. Quod reliquum eſt veſtræ auctoritati reſervavimus. Hic veſtræ ſit manſuetudinis, ut eum clementiſſima apoſtolicæ medicinæ manu ad integrum ſanetis, &, quod ad reſtitutionem ſuam eum devotum accepimus, noſtri cauſa quaſi medicamentum veſtrum ſentiat lenius. Qui vos olivam fructiferam plantavit in domo Domini, multiplicet ſanctitatem veſtram, ſicut cedros libani.

CXXVII.

S. Moguntinus id quod eſt Dei gratia H. ſanctæ apoſtolicæ ſedis Archidiacono & Archicancellario ſalutem & fraternæ dilectionis integram veritatem. Plurimum gratiarum veſtræ referimus caritati, pro eo quod omnibus & legationibus & rationibus noſtris quas ad ſedem apoſtolicam direximus, ſemper dextere ſtetiſtis, & in omni diſceptatione & negotio ſemper partes noſtras ſapientiæ & bonæ voluntatis veſtræ ſcuto defendiſtis. Poſtmodum multiplices vobis gratias referimus, demum ut quæcunque occaſio ſubluceat, qua vobis vicem dilectionis rependere poſſimus, vehementer exoptamus. Licet enim inter multimoda eccleſiæ, quæ quotidie portatis, negotia, nihil in Dei gratiam requiratis, neque de terrenis rebus quicquam ad ordinandum potius, quam ad poſſidendum attingere velitis, tamen quia hilarem datorem, ut permulta Deo poſſit dare, neceſſe eſt multa juſte habere, mandamus veſtræ dilectioni, ut ſi quid nimirum eſt, quod veſtro ſedeat beneplacito, ſi nobis ſcire detur, ſtatim veſtrum fiet ex noſtro. Quis itaque tantum virum non poſſit diligere? quis ei quicquid audeat denegare? Rogamus autem dulcedinem veſtræ charitatis, ut per vos legationi noſtræ, quam nunc ad ſacram ſedem apoſtolicam dirigimus, aditus pateat, & de his, quæ poſtulamus, veſtra ope effectum obtineat; ſcilicet, ut ad ſynodum, quam ſuper rebellibus Thuringis pro decimationibus decrevimus celebrare, Dominus apoſtolicus dignetur mittere, qui & ſynodo profint, & auctoritate ejus determinentur, quæque determinanda occurrerint. Quodſi hoc fieri nequit, ſaltem ſcriptis beatitudinis ejus noſtra ſynodus roboretur, & rebellium temeritas tali auctore, comprimatur. Ammonitatur ergo dilectio veſtra, ut hoc obtinere valeat petitio noſtra.

CXXVIII.

Summo Pontifici & univerſali Papæ S. Moguntinæ ſedis ſpeculator debitæ ſubjectionis reverentiam, & omnimodæ ſervitutis exhibitionem. Caput nimirum Chriſtus ita membrorum ſuorum compagem glutino caritatis cohærere facit in unum, ut cum in uno corpore multa ſint membra non eundem actum habentia, in unam tamen conveniant perfecti corporis pulchritudinem, in unam conſentiant veræ fidei ſanitatem. Ea namque eſt corporis

Christi, quæ est ecclesia, vera perfectio & perfecta pulchritudo, quæ evangelicæ veritatis soliditate fundata, & apostolicæ confessionis Petra fundata uni Deo in trinitate fide servit & opere. In hoc ergo Christi corpore & inter hæc summi capitis membra quemcunque teneam locum, quodlibet geram officium, ad vestram, mi sanctissime patrum pater, auctoritatem refero, vestris opitulantibus meritis illi cœlesti Jerusalem inter vivos lapides incorporari confido. Quapropter, sicut filius omnia sua ad patrem referens, notum facio vestræ sanctitati, me pro remedio delictorum & desiderio supernorum sanctam adire Hierosolimam & sacram Dominici corporis venerari, & osculari velle sepulturam, quem quia corporaliter nequeo videre in sede majestatis ejus, saltem hoc recreet desiderium meum, si detur adorare in loco, ubi steterunt pedes ejus; apud quem si humillimæ preces nostræ aliquid valebunt, vitam, salutem & omnia vobis optata fideliter obtinebunt. Quorum vicissitudine vestris orationibus & ipse peto adjuvari, ut, quod in me minus perfectum est, vestris meritis possit impleri. Propterea sanctissimo apostolatui vestro humili suggero devotione, ut meminisse dignemini antiquæ conquestionis meæ, & sanctissimæ promissionis vestræ super Halberstatensi Episcopo, qui non contentus honore prædecessorum suorum, illustrium utique virorum, novum sibi usurpavit Papatum, abjectoque superhumerali & rationali, qui illi inter sacra missarum solennia utebantur, novo in ecclesia pallio stupentibus parietibus gloriatur, nova cruce non ad orandum, sed ad jactandum inter erubescentes lanceas & gladios in equitatu suo extollitur, non attendens scriptum, ne transgrediamur terminos antiquos, quos posuerunt patres nostri, neque sacris obediens canonibus, in quibus salubriter cautum est, in ecclesia propter scandalum novitatis induci. Si enim in rebus secularibus suum cuique jus & proprius ordo observatur, quanto magis oportet, ut in ecclesiasticis dispositionibus nulla confusio inducatur. Non enim fas est ibi discordiam locum habere, ubi præcipue inter sacerdotes Christi pax & concordia debet regnare. Quod cum diligenter observatur in ecclesiasticis negotiis, si plus valet æquitas, quam potestas. Quapropter apostolatus vestri auctoritate hoc novitatis scandalum de ecclesia auferatur, & unanimitas fratrum, quæ hoc usurpativo tumore potius, quam honore, concussa est, ad suam pacem revocetur. Non enim hæc causa mea est, sed generaliter fratrum; non ego solus hoc sanctitati vestræ suggero, sed omnium fratrum querelas & preces ad vestram sanctitatem refero. Igitur auctor scandali ad rectam viam auctoritate vestra reducatur, & id quod fratres scandalizans usurpat, ea potestate, qua cœlum aperitis & claditis, deponere cogatur, & ita cessabit conquestio fratrum, & fideliter vobis deserviet unanimitas sacerdotum.

CXXIX.

Domino beatissimo & vere apostolici culminis honore reverendo Episcopo Sancto patrum patri & summo præsulum præsuli A. Moguntinæ speculator ecclesiæ quicquid filius patri & membrum capiti. Apostolicæ institutionis documento didicimus, matrem ac radicem virtutum esse caritatem, cui quicquid inseritur boni operis, Christo incrementum dante, parit fructum æternæ beatitudinis. Hoc in sanctissimo pectore vestro æternam posuit sedem, & in fœcundissima cordis nostri terra altam fixit radicem, de qua, rore cœlestis gratiæ irrigante, per totam sanctæ ecclesiæ aream multiplices sacræ doctrinæ & bonorum operum protenduntur rami, quorum fructifera ubertate aluntur, & umbra proteguntur oves, quas pascendas suscepistis vice illius magni Petri. Hac quoque dictante, nos quoque, qui sanctissimo apostolatui vestro in fructiferam olivam sumus inserti, & sub clavigera tanti Pontificatus manu in opus ministerii assumpti, nos, inquam, semper paternæ donationis benevolentia gratanter accepistis, & quicquid consulendum & corrigendum ad apostolicum vestri culminis verticem retulimus, nostræ favendo parti, ut patrem decuit, ad meliora direxistis. Nunc, sicut oportet, reverendissimæ celsitudini vestræ multiplices gratiarum actiones & humile exhibemus inclinium, continuis orationum victimis divinam exorantes clementiam, ut ad stabilitatem sanctæ ecclesiæ suæ longævum & incolumem custodiat apostolatum vestrum. Et sicut in proximis, quas ad sanctam sedem vestram direximus literis, ita nunc quoque humili supplicatu vestram deprecamus sanctitatem, ut quæ corona regni & diadema Romani Imperii in manu vestra & per manum Petri filii vestri Domini mei H. Regis semper in bono meminisse dignemini, & sicut a primitivis sanctæ invocationis vestræ exordiis primitias regni ejus adhuc pueriles consilio & auxilio foviſtis & enutristis, ita apostolici vigoris constantia usque ad coronam imperii cum eo persistatis. Præterea adhuc antiquam nostram super rebellibus Thuringis conquestionem ad notitiam almæ sedis vestræ referimus, obnixe rogantes, ut armata manu, gladio Spiritus S. usque ad expugnationem eorum nobis dexteram auxilii feratis. Suggerimus quoque sanctitati vestræ, quod Synodum super his post pascha celebrare decrevimus, ad quam de latere vestro legatos mitti postulamus, qui auctoritate vestra & Christi synodo præsint, & hæc quæ de Thuringis agimus, canonice terminent, & si quæ alia corrigenda occurrerint. Quod si fieri nequit, aliis vos occupantibus negotiis, saltem petimus ipsam Synodum nostram & apostolicis sanctitatis vestræ literis roborari, quæ & rebellibus anathema denuncient, & quoque mihi canonice gesta vestra auctoritate confirment. Quia vero maxima quoque ecclesiasticæ disciplinæ negotia ab ipso præsulum vertice debent examinari, cujus ex injuncta omnium ecclesiarum sollicitudine speciale privilegium est, eſt, quod per nos non poſſumus corrigere, ad patrocinium almitatis veſtræ referimus, quæ & jam pridem ad vos perveniſſe cognovimus, de crudeliſſima & inaudita nece deſignati Trevirenſium Epiſcopi, qui Chriſtianis temporibus nefandiſſima & ſceleratiſſima vel Romanæ & Decianæ perſecutionis cruciamenta expertus, horribili & execrabili pœnarum genere addictus eſt morti. Ad cujus monſtruoſæ necis ultionem teſtamenti ſui recordatus, primum aſſurgat Dominus Jeſus Chriſtus, deinde veſtræ auctoritatis fortiſſima & patrocinalis manus. Sacris namque canonum decretis ſancitum eſt, ut ſicubi Epiſcopus ordinetur, qui vita & moribus a tanta diſcreper dignitate, vel qui ad tantum adſcendat apicem ſubreptione, non electione, ei audientiam non negari, ſed hoc tamen propter ſententiam Romanam Pontificis non debere fieri. In qua re ſi ſe clerus vel populus cujuslibet civitatis ſingulari potentia viderit prægravari, ad ſacram ſedis defenſionem habeant confugium, cui præcipiente Domino delegatus eſt primatus omnium eccleſiarum. Hic vero ne dum iſti daretur audientia, de quo agitur, canonica, ne dum veſtri examinis expectaretur ſententia, qui furtiva latrocinantium manu captus & ſpoliatus, dein graviſſima de loco ad locum transportatione afflictus, tandem, ut aſſeritur, communi illorum conſilio, morte turpiſſima multatus eſt. Qua de re quam graviter unanimitas fratrum ſit concuſſa, quam atrociter audax facinoroſorum hominum violentia, ad ſacri ordinis injuriam ſit erecta, veſtræ ſanctitatis eſt, prudenter perpendere, & hoc nefarium ſcelus canonice ulciſcendo, ne de cetero tale quid præſumatur, poſteris exemplum relinquere. Orat ergo ſanctitatem veſtram ſocialis fratrum noſtrorum concordia, & hæc veſtri culminis patrocinio tota implorat eccleſia, ut tanti ſceleris auctores diligentiſſime perquiratis, inventos diſtrictiſſime puniatis: quodſi forte diſſimulando latent, gladio Spiritus Sancti, velut putrida membra, de corpore Chriſti abſcindatis, & ut omnes etiam ſacerdotes noſtri eos perpetuæ maledictionis feriant anathemate, firmiſſime præcipiatis.

Reverentiſſimo patri noviter ſacerdotio primæ ſedis Apoſtolicæ infidato, S. moguntinæ diſpenſator eccleſiæ, ſedulam benevolentiæ ſervitutem, & debitam obedientiæ ſubjectionem. Semper quidem deſiderio deſiderabamus, eum apoſtolicæ ſedis præſulem eſſe; qui vita & moribus, verbis, exemplis ad ſalutem præeſſet, & prodeſſet ſanctæ Dei eccleſiæ. Nunc vero, quomodo melliflui facti ſunt cœli ſolito dulcius diſtillantes rorem gratiæ Dei, divina miſeratio votis noſtris ſolito cumulatius ſatisfecit, & eum, quem maxime optabamus, eidem ſanctæ Romanæ eccleſiæ præfecit, qui nobis ſemper dexter ſtetit in omnibus negotiis, nunquam nobis defuit in noſtris. Unde totis præcordiorum medullis gratias agimus Deo altiſſimo, qui cathedram Petri, caput ſcil. eccleſiarum, veſtro, mi reverende pater, illuſtravit & ornavit ſacerdotio, humili ſupplicatu orantes & deprecantes, ut qui primitias apoſtolatus veſtri perfudit oleo lætitiæ præ participibus veſtris gratiam & pacem multiplicet eccleſiæ ſuæ cunctis diebus veſtris. Optamus autem promereri, ut peculiarem gratiam apud vos obtineamus, & a veſtra paternitate ſpecialem nobis provenire clementiam, non ſolum ea charitate, quam univerſali debetis eccleſiæ, ſed etiam eo gratiæ privilegio, quod ſemper ſacra ſedes veſtra Moguntinæ impendit eccleſiæ, ut pia mater ſpeciali filiæ. Hac ergo freti gratia in omnibus, quæ nobis obviant, ad vos recurrimus, & quicquid nobis adverſatur, ad vos, velut membra ad caput, referimus. Unum humiliter intimamus veſtræ ſanctitati, quod ſub anteceſſore veſtro piæ recordationis Papa A. contigit, nos, ut ſalva reverentia dixerimus, injuſte præjudicium pati, & inclementer deturbatos eſſe ab eo jure quod ſacri canones & patrum ſcita metropolitanis jubent ſervari. Denique eidem ſanctiſſimo patri de fratre & ſuffraganeo noſtro Epiſcopo Pragenſi ſiniſtra relatione ſuggeſtum eſt, & me ignorante ab inimicis apud eum accuſatus eſt, unum & hactenus inſolitum ab eo exiit edictum, ut eundem fratrem & coëpiſcopum noſtrum nec inter fratres ſuos canonice prius auditum, nec canonice ad ſe vocatum, nec inobedientiæ culpa denotatum, non ſolum ab officio ſuo ſuſpenderit, ſed etiam rebus & reditibus ſuæ eccleſiæ omnino ſpoliaverit, & extruſerit, ita ut miſſis nuntiis publice nunciari fecerit in clero & populo, ut eum, qui excomunicatum habentes, nihil quod epiſcopi eſſet vel quærerent vel acciperent ab eo. Quod factum ſi apoſtolicam deceat manſuetudinem, ſi decretorum ſervet auctoritatem, veſtram non præterit ſanctitatem. Debuit namque juxta decreta canonum, ad nos primum cauſa deferri, & ad concilium vocatus intra provinciam, inter fratres ſuos audiri; ego vero & fratres mei deberemus ad apoſtolicam ſedem, velut ad caput noſtrum referre, ſi tanta res eſſet, ut per nos nec poſſet, nec deberet terminari. Nunc autem frater noſter & coëpiſcopus a ſede ſua vagus & profugus, &, ut diximus, rebus & reditibus eccleſiæ ſuæ injuſte ſpoliatus, & extruſus, indignum patitur judicium, & omnibus fratribus & coëpiſcopis noſtris magnum inde provenit ſcandalum, & epiſcopale nomen & officium, quod apud Deum & homines ſacrum eſt, intolerabile patitur obprobrium. Porro eccleſia illa jam multis diebus paſtorali caret adminiſtratione, & unico paſtore vidua epiſcopali vacat benedictioni, in quo Epiſcopus ille, qui expulſionis & perturbationis hujus auctor eſt, ejus ſibi uſurpat officium, & quod omnibus conciliis & decretis maxime cautum eſt, conſecrando, & confirmando eundem circuit epiſcopatum, quod maxime ob hoc periculoſum eſt, quod gens illa catholicæ fidei novella eſt plantatio, & nondum radicata & fundata in Chri-

Quapropter ego & omnes fratres mei vultipsa vehementer affligimur & obtestamur, quatenus excidentes non nos malignis nimis hinc temporis incitamentis importunitates. Habebam quoque de quibusdam spes, videlicet quia pueros, quos per literis nostris, nec vocatum eum ad Salisburnu habes petere. Quapropter petimus fratres eum interea excolationis ad tuo dirigi, qui vobis fagerunt, quod ex eo non sum, non est commodum, nec nisi duo ad hoc fagerunt necessitatis. Nuncii autem Ecclesiasticus vitio, quod non ad hoc mittitur ut ea vel videat, & ad nos percipiam vobisque significando deveniat, adeo autem meum ad ea aliquod negotium pertinet quod ea, & minus juvet vitio videbitur. Pro inventa autem Thuringorum oboedientia novam vobis facio congratulationem, qui (ut fertur) Sectam adhuc Satanæ sequuntur, nihilominus tamen legibus, ordinibus fatum negotio decretionum, unum idemque dum monitum in omnibus unum hoc oboedientia, quæ & contra omnia mala promotrix pulsus me & meos oblectat. Quod autem commendatum mihi hoc vestris ordinibus credis, non ex vi, quæ adimpletum in me habeat, sed ex Dei hoc gratia pertinuisse verbare, ut contra omnia mala, quæ impugnabilium fecimus vobis, & excitabilem & oppositum me constituerit Sacerdotis, & contra inimica Dei gladium ad Petri vices & gratia impetrandi ministerium.

Alexander Papa Ecclesiam.

Alexander Episcopus, servus servorum Dei omnibus Episcopis catholicis, catholicque cleris & populis Ecclesiæ & apostolicam benedictionem. Virginitas universitas regiminis alienæ fidei claudit non omnibus dominatur. Confluentium fraudis nuper celebrata cum omnium Episcopum, & Ecclesiarum in unitate consistentium fuit canonicus intimus, vobis notificare curavi, quæ ad Ecclesiæ & ordinem sectum vota vel optamus & ex apostolica auctoritate jubemus. Primorum itaque me inspectus Deo & a fratribus qua Leone & Stefan minister Papa Nicolaus imperatoris Romanis est, ejus Symmachianos nullam rationem in dignitate confirmandi habentibus ejus decessione, sed juxta canonum sanctiones & decreta decretum parum non ordinatos damnamus, ut in ecclesia in preste apostolica auctoritate functionis. Debuit quidem per presentem, sed ejus Symmachiæ sint ordinati, quamis jam longo tempore & diutius quæ non veritatis, omnem nobis dubitatis adolevimus, ut ea per hæc quæ quia ordinatum dudum ab ejusdem permittimus. Quia quæ usque adeo hæc vestra pervicacia habitum indicta, ut ita quæ liber celestia vestra respecti, quæ hæc nobis alienas ex parte non & corrigas, eos qui usque modo gratia tam confectas a Symmachiaca, non ita confecta differat, quam inquisitionis, & accepta ordinibus manere permittimus, nihil fame alia culpa vestra ordinationis tam canonis oblitæ. Tanta quippe tam multitudo ab eis, tam ignorant canonicis vigoris reperta fervere non poterimus, necesse est, ut dispositio ex ad pia consolationis fluctuum animos nobis ad permissionem, ita tamen ut ab hortare Ecclesiam apostolicam & Petri omnimodis intendamus, ne aliquis sacrificium non nobis quæ tu, & ad Ecclesiæ ordinem regantibus vel alia pertinet vel peringe, quæ non haec usquequo patuum nobis in bendum ut concedendo promulgari, ed temnis, sanctæ mentis Petri in ordinem nobis ut sortiri. Decretum autem fuquis hinc inquibus non, quæ, fomes nostra ordinem ut dubitas & confectari permittere, & confecrare & confectus non differat, quæ ordinatum, & tentium non, & nunquæ deposita permittimus ego, & pœnitentia primo ignotum gestibus Primus hoc autem pœnitentia ordinatum, & nullius auctor pendentium quem licentiam, ordinationes Ecclesiæ ordinationem manentes. Unum fundo fronte hoc ex ipsos fidei contemnere, quæ ordinatus, clericis. Quæcunque ergo ab eis dicimus vel labidem, quæ pœnitentiæ ordinatus hanc decedere, non in Ecclesiæ non ordinatus, ordinatus dudum patet, vel ordinatum non ordinatus, ex pœnitentia. Et authoritate Petri & Paulo præcipimus, & omnino contradicimus, ut nisi in nostræ dimissionis, & ordinationis & ejus manere, quæ ordinatum hanc negare in prædictis ad divina celebrandum, aut ministrandum ordinatus oboedientiam fuerit, manet, neque pœnitentiæ clericis fungere. Ego autem Petrus Symmachus, sub præscripto ordinatus, qui, eadem hæc fuerit, quæ ordinatus, ordinatus ferventes, non excidat, quibus ordinatus fuerit, fuit quoque ordinatus clericis, simul mandatores & dominum, & quicquid ita ab ordinatus, quæ, comprimere videtur. Et ego autem monemus, ut ad apostolicam iudem, communionem, ordinatus & ordinatum, quæ nemque pacificatum non his contrario, quæ ordinatus & ordinatus pacificatis, & in ordinatus pœnitentiæ adscribi. Demum & omnibus ab ordinatus venerunt, & ordinatus ordinatus Dei ordinet redendum a laicis, ut in dispositionis quicquam fuit, qui ordinatus ordinatus, clericæ communione fraternæ, & per laicos nullo modo qualibetcumque aut pœnitentiæ ordinatus ordinatus, nec pœnitentiæ ordinatus penitenter vero ecclesiis ordinatus: ut quæ dymianicum haberis nemo ordinatur vel præmoneant ad quodlibet officium ordinatus, cum ne decedentes ecclesiarum & ut nullus ordinatus ecclesiam habitum fugiat, quæ aut promissum habens, ut absolutus. Et nullus locus ad quemlibet gradum ecclesiæ promotus ecclesiasticum, in quo manendi habitum fecerit larem diutina curſatione inter clericos fuerit comprobatus. Vos ergo hæc & alia ſacrorum patrum ſtatuta fideliter chriſtiana reverentia obſervate, ſi vultis ſanctæ Romanæ eccleſiæ & apoſtolicæ ſedis pace & communione atque benedictione & abſolutione gaudere.

CXXXII.

Epiſtola Sigifridi Moguntini archiepiſcopi ad Gregorium Papam.

Domino venerabili & patri in Chriſto amabili Gregorio primæ ſedis antiſtiti S. Moguntinus, id quod eſt gratia Dei, debitæ obedientiæ ſubjectionem, & ſedulam obſequii devotionem. Quid cauſæ intercedat, & quid impedimenti intercipiat, quod ſacro huic ſanctæ apoſtolicæ ſedis Concilio intereſſe non poſſum, ſicut jam priori legatione ſignificavi, ita & nunc ſanctæ paternitati veſtræ ex ipſa veritate denuncio, videlicet, quod eodem paraliſis morbo quo tunc laborabam, non quidem remiſſius, ſed in dies auctius acriusque laboro. Non hoc prætermitto aut faſtu ſuperbiæ, aut contemptu inobedientiæ, quem animæ morbum divina miſeratio longe faciat a me. Non enim cujuslibet negotii quamlibet maximi me retinere poſſet impedimentum, cum me ad vos non ſola ducit voluntas, ſed & ardens trahit deſiderium. Mea namque intererat, & hæc obedientiæ ratio & caritatis ordo poſcebat, ut huic conſortio ſanctorum intereſſem, & de præſentia vel allocutione atq; de ſalutifera collatione divini patris mei Gregorii & Chriſti ſacerdotum hilareſcens, in melius proficerem. Non pœnitendum eſſet longæ viæ & magni laboris, quippe inde proveniret fructus magnæ ſalutis. Maximas autem grates cum humili inclinio veſtræ refero ſanctitati, quod legationi noſtræ tam clementer aurem inclinaſtis ipſosque legatos bene admiſiſtis & melius dimiſiſtis, quodque placuit veſtræ ſanctitati antiquæ dilectionis & germanæ affectionis noſtræ tam benigne reminiſci, nec in ſumma ſpeculationis arce, & in ipſa omnium eccleſiarum ſollicitudine duxiſtis prætereundum, quod olim adhuc in ipſa privata converſatione Chriſti inter nos fuerat caritate conjunctum. Primum multiplices erga me benignitatis veſtræ gratias nulla temporum longinquitate deleri, nulla unquam rerum vel eventuum inæqualitate poterit obliterari; ſed ad hoc remedium noſtra ſedulo vigilabit induſtria, ut in hac perſeverare veſtra dignetur benevolentia. Quod autem in commonitorio veſtro poſuiſtis, me veſtræ paternitati ſecretorum imo ſalutis meæ commiſiſſe conſilium, quod alia quædam, & correctionis limam addidiſtis ad caſtigationem vitæ & morum; hoc ſemper feci & ſemper faciam, nec ab hoc opere unquam vita comite deſiſtam, & quod ibi cautum eſt, cautiſſime cavebo, & quod ibi præceptum eſt, prout vires dederit Deus pleniter adimplebo. Et ſi aliter de me alicujus adverſantis vobis ſuggeret relatio, noverit ſanctitas veſtra, quod unitatem ſcindere & caritatem corrumpere ſuo mendacio conetur, niſi forte hoc accuſet quod aliquando illud, quo me caſtigo, frenum diſciplinæ aliquantum laxare conſilio fratrum compellor cauſa medicinæ. Porro quod de examinandis Epiſcopis, quos mihi nominaſtis, & introitum eorum & converſationem diligentiſſime inquirere, & per nuncios noſtros vobis inſinuari mandaſtis, perpendat vigilans ille oculus ſapientiæ veſtræ, quod a reditu legatorum noſtrorum usque ad hanc iteratam legationem, non tantum erat temporis interſtitium, ut vel fratres colligere vel examinationis etiam poſſem habere judicium, non aliud ſuper hac re adhuc vobis de his intimare valeo, quam quod vel vos ſcitis vel communis habet opinio. Verum literas veſtras illis quantotius direxi, & ut mandatum veſtrum impleant, etiam noſtris literis diligenter ſubmonui. De pœnitentia autem Strasburgenſis Epiſcopi nihil certi poſſumus vobis reſpondere, quod nec, ſi ei injuncta eſſet, antehac ſcivi, nec, ſi eam obſervet, propter temporis compendium inquirere potui. De caſtitate vero clericorum & de ſymoniaca hæreſi, ad ſummam de omnibus, quam mihi mandaſtis, ſemper, prout ipſe adjuverit, obediam Deo & vobis. Erit autem apoſtolicæ manſuetudinis & paternæ dilectionis, ſi ad fratres mandata dirigere eccleſiaſtica, ut & temporum opportunitates & ſingulorum poſſibilitatem dignemini inſpicere, ut & deviantibus & diſcolis adhibeatur diſciplina quæ debetur, & infirmis & opus habentibus medico compaſſio caritatis non negetur, ſæpeque examinatis negotiorum cauſis adhibeatur judicii cenſura, ut apoſtolicæ diſcretionis & paternæ pietatis modum non excedat juſtitiæ menſura. Sacrum apoſtolatum veſtrum pro nobis orantem Samarites ille cuſtodiat, qui in cuſtodiendo ſuum Iſrael non dormit neque dormitat, & diviſiones gratiarum, quas in clave Petri adunavit, ipſe in vobis unitas integrasque conſervet, qui ipſam clavem vobis commiſit.

CXXXIII.

Ejusdem Epiſtola ad eundem.

Specialis reverentiæ patri Gregorio primæ ſedis antiſtiti S. Moguntinus id quod eſt Dei gratia, quod patri filius, quod prælato ſubjectus. Adhibito deſidiæ paſtorum & negligentiæ ſacræ exhortationis & ammonitionis incitamento, vigilantia paſtoralis officii veſtri, mi reverende pater, nos quia de ſomno excitavit, & ut opus evangelii, ad quod ſervi patris familias deputati ſumus, indeſinenter curemus implere, quam ſtudioſe incitat, tam religioſe invitat. Sacra namque eſt pia ſollicitudo providi paſtoris, beata & renumerabilis executio hujus divini operis, ſed heu multum reclamat rerum vertigo, & iniquitas temporis. At vero ſi dies mali ſunt, tamen ammonita veſtra vigilanti cautela tempus redimendum eſt, ne ſi propter auræ intemperiem vineam Domini culturare deſiſtat, de negligentia condemnetur quilibet inutilis operarius, & ſi tempeſtas hodie ingruit quæ nos ab opere repellat, cras cœlitus reddita ſerenitate ſtudium nimirum in id ipſum recurrat. Itaque indixit auctoritas veſtræ ſanctæ paternitatis, tis, ut ſtatuta die collectis fratribus ex apoſtolicæ legationis mandato Concilium debeamus celebrare, & quicquid in provincia aut in regno noſtro vel per ſymoniacam hæreſin vel quomodocunque contra regulam geſtum aut male uſurpatum vel temere præſumptum occurrerit judicio fratrum recidere non differamus falce juſtitiæ. Quod præcipitis mihi, pater, æquum eſt & juſtum, & hoc per provincias bis in anno fieri mandant decreta ſacrorum canonum; ſed ad quod decretorum auctoritas & veſtra paternitas impellit, ad hoc & rerum inæqualitas & hujus maligni temporis importunitas nos longe repellit. Denique auditum credimus veſtræ paternitati, quantus in regno noſtro motus, quanta ſit perturbatio, quam periculoſe bella graſſantur & ſeditiones, ſicut audivimus in evangelico. Auditum, inquam, credimus vobis de bello, quod a Domino noſtro rege factum eſt contra Saxones & Thuringos, & quomodo dextra Domini proſtraverit & fugaverit rebelles & impios, & tamen adhuc in eadem obſtinatione perdurant etiam victi, & iterum perfidiæ caput levant, ac totius regni gladios contra ſe acuentes iterum recidua bella parant. Unum timemus, quod pro peccato populi de vagina ſua eductus ſit gladius Domini, & tamen per noſtram aliorumque ſanctorum propicietur interceſſionem, forſitan deſæviet usque ad internuntionem. Soluto namque pacis vinculo & rupto diſciplinæ freno, gens inſurgit contra gentem de terminis regni, Hoſtilis gladius exterminavit concordiam & pacem, & ita obmuteſcentibus evangelii tubis, nec præco clamoris vocem, nec populus habet audiendi aurem. Hoſtili præda & pervaſione magna ex parte disperiit res & reditus Epiſcopi noſtri, & hoc idem patiuntur plurimi fratres noſtri, neque hæc rerum anguſtia eos patitur venire ad concilium. Huc accedit, quod plures coëpiſcopi noſtri, qui ad concilium vocati ſunt, non ſunt in gratia principis, nec usquam audent progredi ſine dispendio ſalutis ſuæ. Et ſi conſideremus eos epiſcopos, qui accuſantur, & eos qui adeſſe non audent, ſi concilium congregetur, vix inveniuntur, qui judicent. Accedit hic etiam ad cumulum noſtri timoris & exaggerat vim noſtri doloris, quod ſi de diverſis imo adverſis regionibus ad Concilium convocentur, qui ad invicem inimicantur, dum putamus nos colligere ad concilium fratres, paratas habeamus acies ad bellum: & dum corrigendis erroribus & ſopiendis querelis in unam tendimus pacis eccleſiaſticæ communionem, forſitan, niſi Deus proſpiciat, conventus noſter turbabitur usque ad internecionem. Recordetur autem ſanctitas veſtra, quod propter Wultenſem abbatem aliquando contigerit Goslariæ, quot boni milites in ipſa veſpera Pentecoſtes gladio peremti ſunt intra ſepta eccleſiæ perfuſa ſunt altaria ſanguine interfectorum, & inſtigante diabolo totum profanatum eſt ſanctuarium. Et tunc certe omnes convenerant ad curiam ſub ſpecie pacis, niſi quod inter eos latebat quædam ſimultas, quaſi doloſo cineri ſuppoſitus ignis. Et quid credimus futurum, ſi illi, qui aperte inimicantur, congregentur in unum. Pro his & pro hujusmodi fratres noſtri, qui ſunt ſanioris ſententiæ, dicunt ſibi bonum videri, ut adhuc Concilium differatur, donec videamus, ſi quomodo reddita pace Dominus propitietur. Nos autem omnibus conſiliis & conciliis veſtram præferimus ſententiam, id quod nobis indicitis nullo modo propter veſtram obmittemus conſcientiam. Unde ſtatim poſt regiam expeditionem multa cum feſtinantia noſtram vobis dirigemus legationem, nec ad hoc intemperiem conſideramus anni, ut advertatis, quanti nobis conſtet auctoritas præcepti veſtri. Ergo ſapientia veſtra, quæ in ſe ipſa cuncta metitur, retractet, quis hujus perturbationis provenire poſſet eventus; & pericula, quæ timemus, conſilio & oratione præveniens diſponat in melius, & quicquid dictante Spiritu ſancto ſuper hujusmodi fieri decernitis, nobis de oraculo ſacri pectoris veſtri reſpondere velitis. Quod ſi probatis, propter pericula, quæ timemus, ad præſens indictum concilium differatur, & quidnam vobis placuerit, & oportunitas evenerit, celebretur in id ipſum.

CXXXIV.

Epiſtola Moguntinæ eccleſiæ ad Sigifridum Archiepiſcopum ſuum.

Patri ac paſtori ſuo quam venerabili, tam deſiderabili Sigifrido archipræſuli oves paſcuæ ejus, ſcilicet univerſus Moguntinæ ſedis clerus & populus, ſenes cum junioribus, divites cum pauperibus unanimi devotione ſedulas orationes, easque cum lacrimis ſolito impenſiores. Obſecramus te, venerande pater, & obteſtamur per eum, cujus pretioſo ſangvine ſumus redempti, per paſtoralem curam, qua tibi ſumus commiſſi, per tremendum ſuperni regis judicium, perque illud terribile tribunal, cui in die judicii debes aſtare, & de nobis principi paſtorum rationem reddere, ut memineris diei illius, in qua divinæ conſecrationis oleo delibutus, ſuſcepiſti curam animarum noſtrarum, & in apoſtolicam promotus benedictionem, vice Chriſti factus es paſtor ovium, ſcilicet quando datus eſt tibi annulus deſponſionis eccleſiæ & baculus paſtoralis curæ; accepiſti quoque claves regni cœlorum & judiciariam ſedem in choro Apoſtolicorum. Recordare, quæſo, illius dulciſſimi verbi, quod tibi eadem die dictum eſt, ut ſemper memineris Dei & ejusdem diei. Ergo pater, cur nos deſeris, aut cur nos deſolatos relinquis? Nonne accepiſti annulum, ut eccleſiam tuam velut ſponſam diligeres, baculum, quoque, ut eam a luporum incurſione defenderes? Ubi eſt caritas illa, qua Chriſtus pro omnibus ſuis animam ſuam poſuit, & eadem caritate tibi regendas commiſit. Quare projicis e manibus tuis claves regni cœlorum. Quare te ipſum detrudis de ſede, immo de choro apoſtolorum. Optaremus quidem tuæ paternitati, ut aſcenderes ad ea, ſi quæ eſſent, altiora, non te detruderes de ſummis ad inferiora. Fatemur, pater, eos benefacere, qui ſeculum relinquunt, quique ſe ipſos, ſibi abnegantes, & crucem ſuam bajulantes poſt Chriſtum vadunt. Sed hæc utique eorum eſt, qui ſibi ſolis vivunt, qui in vinea Domini Sabaoth nullam colendi curam acceperunt, quibus ſatis eſt, ſi tantum poſſint ſe ſalvare, quia de nullo habent niſi de ſe, rationem reddere. Tu autem, Pater, melius regis ſeculum, quam relinquis. Propenſius ſequeris, & diligis Chriſtum, ſi oves ejus paſcis: quam ipſe probationem dilectionis ſuæ in paſcendis ovibus ſuis conſtituit, dicens: Si diligis me, paſce oves meas. Ut ergo ſalva reverentia dixerimus, tanto convinceris minus Chriſtum diligere, quanto te ſubtrahis a credita tibi ovium ejus paſtione. Nam quidnam gratior ei erit, qui ſolus & vacuus a meſſe ad aream redibit, aut qui multos animarum manipulos & purgatum zizaniis triticum ad horreum Domini ſui reportabit. Cur non recordaris evangelici illius diſpenſatoris, qui cum fidelis & prudens, diſtribuit familiæ Domini ſui tritici menſuram, & crediti talenti felicem uſuram reportat. In modico fidelis ſuper multa conſtituitur, & beatificum audiens euge, gaudium Domini ſui intrare jubetur. Numquid Petrus & Paulus & ceteri apoſtoli, quorum officio fungeris, ita crucem ſuam bajolantes ſequebantur Dominum, ut ſeculum relinquentes, relinquerent & curam animarum? Nonne Petrus & pro lucrandis animabus exemplo magiſtri crucem ſubiit, & Paulus glaudio cervicem præbuit? Nonne ipſe Chriſtus vita & ſalus noſtra, coæternus & coomnipotens in ſinu patris ſui caritate ſalvandi hominis homo mortalis factus eſt in ſinu virginis matris. Omnis ordo, omnis digniras, omnis profeſſio apoſtolicæ ſubditur dignitati, nec quicquam eſt in mundo eminentius, vel vicinius Deo, vita Epiſcopali, cui cedit omnis monachus, aut minor vel recluſus, omnis cœnobita vel heremita. Ergo, pater ſanctiſſime, te per Deum perque ſalutem animæ tuæ, ut eorum, quæ diximus, velis recordari, & vigilantes jam oculos habeas ad tribunal Chriſti, non deſeras nos oves ejus, quas ſuſcepiſti tuendas, ut ab eo non pœnam negligentiæ, ſed mercedem obedientiæ accipias. Feſtina ad ſedem tuam quantocius redire, & eos, qui in luctu & mœrore ſunt, paterno affectu conſolare. Jam enim res Epiſcopii tui hac illac diripiuntur, & multa alia ab officialibus regis invaduntur, per plurimas regiones tuas multa fit perturbatio, de invaſione ſedis tuæ inter multos contentio. Hæc, Pater, tuum unum caput omnia ſedabit, has omnes perturbationes & contentiones ſola præſentia tua in pacem reformabit. Denique ſi eccleſiæ ſcita & canonum jura permitterent te ſedem tuam relinquere, & alterius profeſſionis vitam inſtituere; tu tamen nihil unquam Deo poſſes melius ſervire, quam ſi intentionem exueres illam, & ſedem & Epiſcoparum tuum ab his, qui invadere volunt, defenderes. Nunc ergo te patrem rogamus nos filii, te paſtorem oves gregis tui, ut quantocius ad nos redeas, & dolorem & mœſtitiam cordis noſtri ſerenitate vultus tui detergas. Sin autem, primo invocabimus Deum patrem omnium, inclinabimur Chriſto principi paſtorum, apoſtolicam adverſum te adibimus ſedem, in adjutorium invocabimus noſtrum omnium ordinem & dignitatem, nullum in toto regno, quem non rogemus, dimittemus epiſcopum, te vivente nunquam propaſtore recipiemus mercenarium.

CXXXV.

Epiſtola Hermanni Babenbergenſis, ad Hildebrandum Papam.

Reverendiſſimo ſacro ſanctæ ſedis apoſtolicæ gubernatori Hildebrando, cum ſingulari ſervitutis devotione, unicam in omnibus obedientiam. Benedictus Deus & pater Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, qui in tam periculoſa multiplicium ſcandalorum tempeſtate celeberrimam veſtri prudentiam eccleſiæ ſuæ gubernaculo præſidere voluit, ubi nec nocens fallit per aſtutiam, nec innocens periclitatur per invidiam. Et mea quidem humilitas ab ipſis vere primordiis ordinationis veſtræ ad obſequium veſtrum deſideravit occurrere, ſed emergentes eccleſiæ noſtræ neceſſitates deſiderium noſtrum impediere. Verum cum has gratia Dei per vigilantiam noſtram ſopiſſet, ecce me Domini & excellentiſſimi regis dignatio invitum & reluctantem ad ſuas & imperii cauſas adtraxit, quam tamen difficultatem ego nullatenus præſumpſiſſem, niſi quendam gratiſſimum tam laborioſi oneris fructum certa ſpe ſuſcepiſſem, ſcilicet, ut eccleſiæ meæ, utpote rudis, innumera diſpendia reſarcirem & fluctuanti regno aliqua, ſi poſſem, ope conſilii ſubvenire. Acceſſit etiam minime negligenda occaſio, ut animum Domini regis pravorum conſiliis inconſiderate a vobis alienatum in veſtræ paternitatis caritatem & concordiam reformari laborarem, quod tam regno, quam eccleſiæ uſui fore ſapientibus patet. In medio vero talium negociorum æſtu, literæ veſtræ me convenere, id monentes, ut ſynodo me pro inſcripta cauſa præſentarem. Intelligo, Pater ſanctiſſime, profanas invidorum æmulationes, dum commenta eorum domi evanuerunt, ubi veritas exagitata reſplenduit, foris maximeque apud aures veſtras, quæ poſſunt, & dum poſſunt conari, quorum impudentiſſima calumnia in facie ipſorum per gratiam Dei confutabitur. Verumtamen prudentia veſtra provide præſcripti anguſtias temporis vix tumultuariæ profectioni ſufficere poſſe perpendat, nedum ad tantæ cauſæ diſceptationem, quæ tam feſtinato apparatu nullatenus valet expediri. Ne tamen vel inobedientiæ ſuſpicionem, vel conſcientiæ ſcrupulum apud vos incurrerem, in excuſationem non difficultatis, ſed impoſſibilitatis prædictæ Diaconum noſtrum ad veſtigia veſtra transmiſi. Et quod ſuſceptæ regni rationes Burgundiæ & ulterioris Galliæ fines me adire compulerint, quas etiam occaſione votiva Jacobi beati viſitatione me decrevi abſolvere, cum illius interceſſio & veſtra oratio me adjuverit, ipſe mihi quantocius Dei & veſtro opitulante ſuffragio conſulam, ne diu-tius contra me æmulorum meorum graſſetur invidia, nec mea jam ultra laboret innocentia. Omnipotens Deus apoſtolatum veſtrum ad eccleſiæ ſuæ defenſionem multo ævo cuſtodiat, Domine ſancte ac beatiſſime Pater.

CXXXVI.

Epiſtola Hildebrandi Papæ ad Heinricum regem de Hermanno Babenbergenſi.

G. ſervus ſervorum Dei glorioſiſſimo regi Heinrico ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Inter cætera virtutum bonarum opera, fili kariſſime, ad quæ te meliorationis ſtudio aſſurgere fama referente audivimus, duobus te modis ſanctæ matri tuæ romanæ ſcil. eccleſiæ commendaſti, in altero quidem, quia ſymoniacis viriliter reſiſtis, in altero vero quod clericorum caſtitatem utpote ſervorum Domini & libenter approbas & effiaciter implere deſideras. Quibus de cauſis ſignum nobis propoſuiſti, opitulante Deo, altiora de te & præſtantiora quæque ſperandi. Quapropter & hoc te firmiter retinere optamus valde & Dominum Deum noſtrum, ut ea tibi cumulatius augere dignetur, ſuppliciter exoramus. Ceterum de Babenbergenſi eccleſia, quæ ſui fundatoris inſtituto ſanctæ Apoſtolicæ ſedi tanquam omnium capiti, membrorum ſcilicet propinquius, ſpeciaſiori quadam cura ſollicitudinis inhæret vehementer dolemus & ejus deſolationi pro viribus occurrere, opitulari, conſulere, officii noſtri neceſſitate compellimur. Symoniacus enim ille Heinericus dictus Epiſcopus hoc anno ad ſynodum Romam venire contempſit, ſed cum proprius Romam veniſſet in itinere ſubſtitit, & præmittens nuncios ſuos cum copioſis muneribus noto ſibi artificio innocentiam noſtram & confratrum noſtrorum integritatem pactione pecuniæ attemptare, atque, ſi fieri poſſet, corrumpere molitus eſt. Quod vero præter ſpem evenit. Jam de dampnatione ſecurior feſtinanter retroceſſit, & blandis fallacibusque promiſſis clericorum, qui ſecum erant, animos lactans, ajebat, ſe, ſi in patriam repedaret ab Epiſcopatu ceſſaturum & monaſticæ vitæ profeſſionem ſubiturum. Quam ſponſionem quomodo impleverit, Celſitudinem tuam, fili dilectiſſime, non latet, quin etiam temeraria ulterius progreſſus audacia, clericos eccleſiæ ſuæ ſalutem & honorem quærentes, bonis ſuis deſpoliavit, & niſi eum tua, ut audivimus, regalis potentia refregiſſet, penitus confudiſſet. His exceſſibus ejus diligenter conſideratis, ab epiſcopali atque ſacerdotali officio eum dejecimus. Inſuper quoniam Babenbergenſem eccleſiam apoſtolica tuitione munitam crudelius atque moleſtius quam ante infeſtare præſumpſit, anathematis eum vinculo innodamus, donec eccleſiaſticam dignitatem illicite uſurpatam deponat, & ſe nihilominus ſedis apoſtolicæ judicio repræſentet. Nunc ergo, Excellentiſſime fili, ſublimitatem tuam hortamur, & pro noſtræ ſollicitudinis debito ſuademus, ut religioſorum conſilio virorum eadem eccleſia ita ſecundum Deum ordinetur, quatenus beati Petri, cujus & nomini & defenſioni intitulata eſt, interceſſione divinæ merearis obtinere ſuffragia protectionis. Quid vero de hac ipſa cauſa confratri noſtro Moguntino Epiſcopo & eidem Babenbergenſi clero & populo ſcripſerim, ex literis ad eos datis ad liquidum poteris cognoſcere.

CXXXVII.

Item Epiſtola Gregorii Papæ ad Heinricum Regem de Hermanno Babenbergenſi.

Gregorius Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei, Heinrico glorioſo regi, & in Chriſto dilecto filio ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Quando literas veſtræ magnitudinis accepi longe ab urbe maxime propter infirmum aërem aberam, cum quibus neceſſarium erat tractare, quid veſtræ legationi ad plenum, ſicut oportet, reſponderem. Veſter etiam nuncius, horum videlicet portitor, ob prædictam cauſam ægritudinis timebat diu nobiſcum manere. Sed quia deſideramus nonſolum vobiſcum, ſed etiam cum omnibus hominibus pacem, quæ in Chriſto eſt, habere, & jus ſuum unicuique obſervare, cupio tibi ſummopere corde & animo adhærere. Novi enim, quod te non credo ignorare, quod, qui Deum re vera diligit & Romanam eccleſiam Romanumque imperium, & vindictam ſuorum criminum non pertimeſcit, inter nos pacem & concordiam inferre agendo vel orando concupiſcunt. Quapropter bonam concepi fiduciam, quod hanc noſtram immo totius eccleſiæ curam religioſis hominibus cœpiſti committere, qui nos non injuſte diligunt, &, ut Chriſtiana inſtauretur religio, ſancta intentione requirunt. Ego autem, ut paucis loquar, horum conſilio paratus ſum, Chriſto favente, gremium tibi ſanctæ eccleſiæ aperire, teque, ut Dominum & fratrem & filium ſuſcipere, auxiliumque, prout oportuerit, præbere, nihil aliud a te quærens, niſi, ut ad monita tuæ ſalutis non contemnas aurem inclinare, & creatori tuo, ſicut te decet, non contradicas offerre gloriam & honorem. Valde quippe indignum eſt, ut honorem, quem a conſervis noſtris & confratribus noſtris exigimus creatori & redemptori noſtro reddere contemnamus. Moveat itaque nos divina promiſſio qua dicitur; ego glorificantes me glorifico, & qui me contemnunt, erunt ignobiles; & offeramus quod placet nobis in hac vita ſeculari, ut perfruamur in cœleſtibus dono ſpirituali. De ſuperbia Saxonum vobis injuſte reſiſtentium, quæ divino judicio a facie veſtra contrita eſt, & gaudendum eſt pro pace eccleſiæ, & dolendum quod multus ſanguis chriſtianorum effuſus eſt. Vos autem in talibus plus honorem Dei & juſtitiam ejus procurate defendere, quam honori proprio providere. Securius itaque quilibet princeps mille impios poteſt cauſa juſtitiæ punire, quam propriæ cauſa gloriæ quemlibet Chriſtianum gladio ſternere. Omnia creavit & regit, qui dixit; Ego gloriam meam non quæro. Saluti quippe noſtræ tunc providemus, cum in cæteris noſtris actionibus gloriam Dei præponimus. De Heinrico vero quondam nuncupato Epiſcopo Babenbergenſi noverit veſtra ſtra ſublimitas, quia jam diu eſt ex quo per quendam ejusdem eccleſiæ clericum miſimus literas noſtras vobis noſtroque confratri Moguntino Archiepiſcopo & quod auctoritate apoſtolicæ ſedis ab omni Epiſcopali & ſacerdotali dignitate ſit depoſitus & anathematis vinculo alligatus, quod non timuit ſymoniacæ hæreſi ſacrilegium adjicere, ſanctamque eccleſiam ſibi commiſſam ſicut tirannus devaſtare. Unde rogavimus & ex parte beati Petri præcepimus & præcipimus, ut in prædicta eccleſia ſecundum Deum talis paſtor ordinetur, qui, quod fur & latro mactavit, vivificet, & quod ille diſſipavit, valeat reſarcire. Omnipotens Deus, a quo cuncta bona procedunt, meritis & interceſſione beatorum Apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli ſua pietate vos in hac vita protegat & defendat, & cum dupla victoria perducat ad vitam æternam.

CXXXVIII.

Epiſtola Gregorii Papæ ad Sigefridum Moguntinum Archiepiſcopum, de Hermanno Babenbergenſi.

G. ſervus ſervorum Dei Sigifrido Moguntino venerabili Epiſcopo ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Qualiter Hermannus Babenbergenſis jam nunc non Epiſcopus hoc anno tertio decimo Romam petens ſe habuerit, vel qualiter ſe a judicio apoſtolicæ ſedis ſubtraxerit, quave fraude clericos prædictæ eccleſiæ ſub optentu pœnitentiæ deceperit, & quomodo res ejusdem ſibi contra Deum commiſſæ eccleſiæ pejus quam prius deſtruxerit, & quomodo clericos ſibi commiſſos ſicut tirannus deſpoliaverit, tua reor cognoſcit fraternitas, & certa dolet triſtitia. Quocirca nos ulterius tantas non valentes inpune ferre nequitias, & noviter inventas ſævitias, maxime circa eam, quæ ſpecialiter Sancto Petro commiſſa eſt, eccleſiam, judicio Sancti Spiritus per auctoritatem ejusdem beati Petri Principis Apoſtolorum prædictum Hermannum ab epiſcopali atque ſacerdotali officio depoſuimus, & depoſitum eſſe cenſemus. Et quod hæreſi adjunxit ſacrilegium, & ſacrilegio aptam tyrannidem, excommunicationis eum vinculo alligamus, quousque apoſtolicæ ſedi repræſentetur, quam non ſolum conatus eſt decipere, ſed etiam malo dolo irridere. Si ad ultimum ſibi diem pervenerit, non ei pœnitentiam denegamus, ſed mox ut poterit apoſtolicam ſedem adire præcepimus. Hæc ut publice maxime tibi ſubjectis fratribus & coëpiſcopis notifices, volumus, & parte beati Petri præcipimus, ut ſecundum ſacrorum inſtituta patrum ſummopere procures in prædictum Babenbergenſi eccleſia paſtorem ordinare, quatenus, quod in prædicto Symoniaco negligenter egiſti, comproberis emendare.

CXXXIX.

Epiſtola Gregorii Papæ ad Babenbergenſem eccleſiam pro Hermanno Babenbergenſi.

G. ſervus ſervorum Dei clero & populo Babenbergenſis eccleſiæ ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Literas, quas Poppo Præpoſitus veſter cum his, qui ſecum erant, decepti ſimulata pœnitentia falſaque religione dicti Epiſcopi veſtri incaute a nobis nimia ſub feſtinatione recedentes ad vos deferre neglexere, noſtro ſigillo inſignitas, idcirco vobis ad præſens dirigere dignum duximus, ut in eis manifeſte agnoſcatis, quod fuerit de jam dicto pſeudoëpiſcopo noſtra voluntas, quamque ſententiam damnationis judicio ſanctæ apoſtolicæ ſedis in eum privilegavimus, indubitanter credentes, quod nullius ſupplicatio aut fraudulenta ſuggeſtio ab eadem voluntate ſive ſententia, ex eo quo ſe judicio ſanctæ apoſtolicæ ſedis ſubtraxit, animum noſtrum revocare potuit, vel unquam auctore Deo mutare valebit. Verum quod ſub obtentu religionis ac mutuæ ſanctitatis ſanctam Babenbergenſem eccleſiam ſpecialem, quodammodo ſanctæ Romanæ eccleſiam per tyrannidem conatus eſt confundere, bonaque illius dilapidare, atque diſpergere, priorem ſententiam confirmantes ad cumulum damnationis ejus hoc addidimus, ut irrecuperabiliter ab epiſcopali officio ſemotus, a ſacerdotali quoque ſit omnino ſeclusus, quousque ſe apoſtolicæ audientiæ repræſentet, paratus eam cautionem facere, quam noſtræ eccleſiæ agnoverimus expedire. Ab epiſcopali officio ideo eum ſegregavimus, quia ſymoniace invaſit eccleſiam. Sacerdotali quoque officio idcirco eum privamus, quod ſub ſpecie ſanctitatis niſus eſt eam dilaniare atque confundere. Et quod tanta mala contra eccleſiam quoquomodo olim ſibi commiſſam exercere non timuit, anathematis eum vinculo innodamus, quo usque ſe apoſtolicæ audientiæ repræſentet, niſi forte in extremis poſitus dignam pœnitentiam accipiat, eo tamen tenore, ut ſi convaluerit ſimili modo ſe, ut dictum eſt, apoſtolicæ ſedi repræſentare feſtinet. Eodem quoque anathemate percutimus eos, qui cauſa promotionis ejusdem aliqua prædia eccleſiæ acceperunt ad confovendum eum, ut in ſua pertinacia perſeveraret, niſi reſipuerint, videlicet ut condigna ſatisfactione, quod in prædicto ſacrilego peccaverint, emendent, nobisque ſuam pœnitentiam reſignare feſtinent. Datum Albani.

CXL.

Epiſtola Heinrici de quo ſupra ad Babenbergenſem eccleſiam.

H. Dei gratia Romanorum Imperator auguſtus, eccleſiæ Babenbergenſi gratiam & omne bonum. Memores fidei, & prædeceſſorum veſtrorum devotionis in nos & noſtros, ſpem bonam de vobis præ omnibus habemus; quoniam in nullo ad huc vos a via tantæ virtutis exorbitaſſe videmus. Amplectimur ergo toto affectu tantam conſtantiam anteceſſorum noſtrorum in vobis ſemper & utique renovare ſtudemus gratiam. Sed ecce, ut noſtis, humanæ ſalutis hoſtis ſtudio antiquæ malitiæ tantæ ſalutis profectui nititur obſiſtere. Vos autem, qui Spiritu Dei illuminati noſtis ejus dolos & inſidias, perpendite, qualiter vos doctoris gentium præmonuerit auctoritas. Quomodo itaque, non vere prævideret commiſſæ ſibi eccleſiæ periculum, qui vidit etiam arcana Dei raptus ad tertium cœlum. In noviſſimis temporibus inſtabunt tempora periculoſa, & erunt homines ſe ipſos amantes, quæſtum pietatem exiſtimantes & cætera. His non ad erubeſcentiam veſtram ammonemus dilectionem, ſcientes, in iſtis velut in aliis veſtram perfectionem, ſed ut ad cautelæ & diſcretionis ſtudium evigiletis, pia exhortationis manu pulſamus, ne juxta vocem apoſtoli credatis omni ſpiritu, qui ſpeciem aliquam habentes pietatis opera exercent impietatis, & variis & vanis inſudantes laboribus inſerunt ſe multis doloribus. Hæc cum nobis melius videatis perpendite, quid juſtitiæ & veritati debeatis. Mandamus itaque mandando, monemus monendo, rogamus, ne adverſus Epiſcopum veſtrum ullam ſuſcipiatis legationem, cum nullam juſtam in eum audire poſſitis accuſationem. Teſtor itaque Deum & utriusque noſtri conſcientiam, eum legitime & canonice veniſſe ad hanc regiminis curam. Hæc nos vobis ſcribere ſuaſit Moguntina mater eccleſia ſuper filiorum ſalute ſatis ſollicita, ut ſicut vos præ ceteris fide & dilectione amplectitur, ita vos ſecum in fide Chriſti & noſtra perſeverare gratuletur.

CXLI.

Reverendiſſimo Epiſcopo & in Chriſti membris valde honorando E. tota Babenbergenſis congregatio devotiſſimam ſervitutem cum perpetua orationum conſtantia. Suſceptis literis ſanctitatis veſtræ quibus animum nimirum gravi ammiratione pulſari dicitis, quod rem tantam & tam inuſitatam privata quaſi temeritate præſumpſimus, omnino intellexerimus totum negotii tenorem longe aliter nobis, quam res eſſet, innotuiſſe. Quam ob rem ut & diſciplinæ eccleſiaſticæ apud nos illibata integritas & totius actionis veritas, remota omni falſitatis nebula, eluceſcat, rem geſtam quantum exemplaris modus patitur, brevi vobis exprimere reputabimus. Cum perſona, de qua agitur, diram infamiam ſymoniacæ hæreſeos execrabilemque confuſionem perjurii evidentiſſimi ab omni eccleſia ſuſtineremus, & omnis fere veſtri ordinis Epiſcopi ſcilicet & Archiepiſcopi publice ipſo rege audiente omnia Chriſti ſacramenta profanari deplorarent, & criſma corpusque Domini, quod ipſe confecerat, velut immunditias menſtruate exhorrerent, gradus & eccleſiaſticos quos ille inſtituiſſet, deteſtabili illuſione deumbratos aſſererent; malum itaque inſcitiæ, quod in eo quantum ſit, vos optime noſtis, ad immanitatem aliorum, licet intolerabile, leve ducebamus. Hæc itaque aliaque id generis infinita, quæ verecundia modeſtiaque noſtra, Deo teſte, diſſimulat, cum jam ecce in decimum annum triſtiſſima patientia pertuliſſemus, tandem tacti aliquando dolore intrinſecus & plane divinitus ammoniti, humiliter ad pedes illius abjecimus, obſecrantes & obteſtantes, ut, quoniam ad ſynodum ſedis Apoſtolicæ vocatus fuiſſet, ut ſi innocentia ſua confideret, iter arriperet, & tam ſe quam nos tam deteſtabili opprobrio tamque immani periculo liberaret; aut ſi aliud ſibi conſcientia ſua ſuggereret, tum vero per timorem Dei ut ſibi nobisque alia oratione conſuleret. Et ecce dum hæc agebantur, Deo ſic ordinante, ſervus venit diaconus metropolitanus. Cui dum omnia retractata fuiſſent, & ipſe querelas noſtras, utpote omnium gnarus, plurimum accumulaſſet, tandem ipſius auctoritate id ſtatutum eſt, illo noſtro approbante atque & obſecrante, ut ex collegio fratrum duo vel tres Romam irent, in quorum præſentia ſe ab impoſitis criminibus per ſanctorum canonum ſtatuta expurgaret. Quod niſi factum fuiſſet, jam ultra nullam obedientiam a nobis expoſtulaturum, aut aliquod epiſcopale jus ſibi inter nos vendicaturum; ipſe ultroneus ſacro ſanctæ jurationis vinculo ſe obſtrinxit. Atque hæc domi acta ſunt. Ecce autem Romæ dum terminum vocationis ſuæ ſuperſediſſet, & vix interventu quorundam officium ſuum, quo privandus erat, usque in diem Palmarum, quod tunc venturus ſperabatur, obtinuiſſet, cum vero & has inducias fruſtraſſet, tum Dominus Papa ipſis in Albis cardinalibus ſuis in unum congregatis, præſente Archiepiſcopo noſtro, qui illuc inopinatus advenerat, aſſidentibus & reverendiſſimis noſtratibus Epiſcopis Würzeburgenſi & Metenſi; ibi inquam Papa ipſum archiepiſcopum aliosq; noſtrates terribili obteſtatione convenit, ut quæ de Babenbergenſi vere ſibi comperta eſſent, edicerent. Tum Archiepiſcopus cum ab omnibus ultrocitroque fuiſſent ventilata, vere & absque omni controverſia eum ſymoniacum pronunciavit, in tantum, ut grandem ſuæ ipſius pecuniæ ſummam in id facinus expenſam diceret, omnibus qui aderant ipſum uno ore ſucclamantibus, ita negotium diffinitum eſt, ut ſi ipſe noſter Romam perveniret, ibi ſuæ ſententiam cauſæ exciperet. Sin vero retrogradus fieret, tum Archiepiſcopus ex præcepto Domini Papæ clero populoque denunciaret, ne ullam ſibi obedientiam utpote dampnato exhiberent, omnemque ejus communionem & conſortium, ut plane Symoniaci, declinarent. Atque hæc Romæ acta ſunt. Interea noſter cum fiducia cujusdam interceſſoris ſui, quem ingenti pecunia redemerat, quemque infinitis variarum ſpecierum opibus ad explendos Romanæ cupiditatis hyatus præmiſerat, dum illius, inquam, fiducia propius Romam acceſſiſſet, ita ut vix bidui iter reſtaret, ibi triſti nuncio perculſus rei geſtæ ſubſtitit, fratres vero, qui cum eo venerant quaſi teſtes innocentiæ ipſius aſtituri Romam progreſſi, cum literas fratrum Papæ obtuliſſent, plus multas quod longum eſt proſequi, id demum ab eo mandatum accepere, ut ſi ipſe ad ſuſcipiendam ſententiam Romæ ſe non præſentaret, fratres eum omnino excommunicatum ſcirent, atque ab omni ejus contagione, niſi ſecum perire mallent, præcaverent. Hæc, ut executi ſumus, mus, teſte ipſa veritate, ita domi forisque geſta ſunt. Quid ergo hic a nobis abuſive fratrum quisquam probaverit. Quid, inquam, hoc fratres, qui relligioſi & ſervi Dei tantopere mirari, & non magis ſummopere lamentari debeant? Nam quid taciturnitate noſtra decennali patientius? aut quid tandem ſuggeſtione noſtra, quam lacrimis gemitibusque, inſinuata eſt humilius? Quid autem diſciplinæ eccleſiaſticæ congruentius, quam ut tantorum malorum exitus & remedium conſenſu & rogatu ipſius, conſilio & auctoritate Metropolitani a ſede apoſtolica peteretur? Nam quæ reverentia veſtra nos monet, ut vos impartem conſilii admittamus, non vos in partem conſilii admittimus, quin immo totum conſilium vobis ſecundum ea, quæ geſta ſunt, committimus, certi omnino prudentiam veſtram terminos patrum aut decreta Epiſcopi ſancti nullatenus exceſſuram. Quod autem in ſpe abſolutionis illum adhuc eſſe dicitis, hanc profecto & nos ei a Deo patre animarum omnibus votis expoſcimus, quæ tamen nulla unquam eſſe poteſt, niſi abrenunciata peſte, qua tenetur. Nam, ut beatus Gelaſius ait, epiſcopum mortuos ſuſcitaſſe legimus, in errore poſitus abſolviſſe non legimus. Porro quod eum bono recompenſaturum, ſi quid nos læſit, promittitis, abſit, abſit, ut eum aliquo carnali aut privato, qui verba noſtra ſubminuit, ſed vere perfecto & ſpirituali odio perſequimur, quo & ipſe, ſi ſapit, maxime omnium perſequitur. Quod autem privatis & publicis fortunis noſtris & periculis conſulendum eſſe ammonetis; nihil horum inopinatum, nihil improviſum nobis occurret, &, Deo gratias, ſi inter eos conputabimur, quibus ſcribit Apoſtolus: Vobis datum eſt pro Chriſto, ut non ſolum in eum credatis, ſed ut etiam pro illo patiamini. Et ad Hebræos: rapinam, inquit, bonorum veſtrorum cum gaudio ſuſcepiſtis, cognoſcentes vos habere meliorem & permanentem habitationem. Ubi etiam & magnifice nos exhortans ſubjicit: Nolite itaque amittere confidentiam veſtram, quæ habet remunerationem. Porro quod in calce litterarum dicitis: ſi emandatus recipietur, id vero eſt omni ammiratione ſtupendum. Cum tamen ſi emendatus fuerit, non ſit Epiſcopus, quomodo & recipietur. En longius & brevius quam vellemus paternitati veſtræ reſpondimus; verumtamen ſapienti ſat dictum eſt. Nunc ergo per Chriſtum vos rogamus, ut ipſi Chriſto ſupplicetis, quatinus eccleſiam tam periculoſe fluctantem placito nobis paſtore mature conponat & gubernet. Multum itaque valet deprecatio illius aſſidua. Et bene noſtis quam gratum acceptumque ſit illi, qui pro ſuo ſibi corpore, quod eſt eccleſia, ſuum ſibi corpus per inæſtimabile myſterium offert, omnem * trinitatem ſub nobis & vobiſcum, Deo ſerviente, omnium noſtrorum humilitas Epiſcopo ſalutat.

CXLII.

G. Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei O. Conſtantienſi Epiſcopo ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Perlatum eſt ad nos de fraternitate tua, quod ſatis invitus & mœſtus audivi, quodque ſi de extremo Chriſtianæ plebis membro ad audientiam noſtram deferreretur, ſeveriore diſtinctionis & diſciplinæ cenſura eſſet proculdubio caſtigandum. Cum itaque apoſtolica auctoritate & veridicis ſanctorum patrum ſententiis incitati ad eliminandam ſymoniacam hæreſim Moguntino Archiepiſcopo, confratri noſtro, cui plures & late diſperſi ſuffraganei ſunt, hoc obedientiæ munus injunximus, ut tam per ſe, quam per coadjutores ſuos hoc Romanæ eccleſiæ decretum univerſo clero ſtudioſius inculcaret, & inviolabiliter tenendum proponeret. Tibi quoque, cui plurimus eſt Conſtantienſis Epiſcopi clerus & populus ampliſſime dilatatus, ob eandem cauſam ſpeciales literas cudere bulla noſtra preſſas collibuit, quarum fultus auctoritate tutius animoſiusque præceptis noſtris obtemperes, & de ſanctuario Domini ſymoniacam hæreſim & fœdam libidinoſæ contagionis pollutionem expelleres. Apoſtolica namque beati Pauli præpollet auctoritas, quæ fornicatores & adulteros cum cæteris ſceleratis connumerans diffinitam ſuæ miſſionis ſententiam ſubjicit, cum hujusmodi nec cibum capere. Præterea univerſus catholicæ eccleſiæ cœtus, aut virgines ſunt aut continentes aut conjuges. Quicunque ergo contra hos noſtrates ordines reperitur, inter filios ſive intra Chriſtianæ religionis terminos non numeretur. Unde & nos ſi vel extremum laicum pellicatui adhærentem liquido cognoverimus, hunc velut præciſum a dominico corpore membrum, donec pœniteat, condigne a ſacramentis altaris arcemus. Quomodo ergo ſanctorum ſacramentorum diſtributor vel miniſter eccleſiæ debet eſſe, qui nulla ratione poteſt eſſe vel particeps? ſed & illa beati Leonis Papæ impulerit auctoritas, qui ſubdiaconis conubii licentiam prorſus abſtulit, quod decretum beati Leonis Papæ poſteriores ſanctæ Romanæ eccleſiæ Pontifices, & maxime doctor eximius Gregorius ea lege ſanxerunt, ut deinceps tribus ordinibus eccleſiaſticis, ſacerdotibus, levitis, ſubdiaconibus vincula conjugalia omnino eſſent prohibita. Cum autem hæc omnia tibi obſervanda paſtorali providentia transmitteremus, tu non ſurſum cor, ſed deorſum cor in terra ponens, prædictis ordinibus frena libidinis, ſicut accepimus, laxaſti, ut mulierculis ſe jungerent & in flagitio perſiſterent, & qui nec dum duxerant, tua interdicta non timerent. O impudentiam! o audaciam ſingularem, videlicet Epiſcopum apoſtolicæ ſedis decreta convellere, præcepta ſanctorum patrum contemnere imo vero præceptis contraria, ac fidei chriſtianæ repugnantia, de ſuperiore loco, & de cathedra pontificali ſubjectis ingerere. Quapropter tibi apoſtolica auctoritate mandamus, ut ad proximam Synodum noſtram prima quadrageſimæ ebdomada te præſentem exhibeas, tam de hac inobedientia & ſedis apoſtolicæ contemptu, quam de omnibus omnibus quæ tibi objiciuntur, canonice reſponſurus.

CXLIII.

G. Servus ſervorum Dei, clericis & laicis, majoribus atque minoribus in Conſtantienſi Epiſcopatu conſiſtentibus chriſtianam legem defendentibus ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Miſimus ad vos Epiſcopo veſtro confratri noſtro O. literas exhortatorias per quas pro noſtri neceſſitate officii & apoſtolica auctoritate injunximus illi, ut Symoniacam hæreſim de eccleſia penitus excluderet ſua, & caſtitatem clericorum ſtudioſe prædicandam ſuſciperet, & firmiter tenendam epiſcopali vigilantia inculcaret. Nam ſic eam nobis evangelicæ & apoſtolicæ literæ, & autenticarum ſynodorum decreta & eximiorum doctorum inſinuant, ut eam diſſimulare vel negligere ſine magno periculo animæ noſtræ & populi Chriſtiani non poſſimus. Sed epiſcopus veſter, neque beati Petri Apoſtoli reverentia, nec noſtri præcepti, nec officii ſui ſollicitudine attractus, ut nobis relatum eſt, quod paterne ſuaſeramus, perficere curavit; & non ſolum ut obedientiæ, verum etiam rebellionis offenſam contraheret, quemadmodum accepimus, palam clericis ſuis juſſioni noſtræ imo beati Petri omnino contraria permiſit, ita ut, qui mulierculas habuerant, illicita temeritate alias ſubintroducerent. Quod, ut audivimus, moleſte ferentes, ſecundam ei ſcripſimus epiſtolam, indignationem ei noſtri motus indicantes, & idem præceptum iterato ei acrius inculcantes, quin etiam Synodum Romanam illam, quæ primæ quadrageſimæ ebdomada futura eſt, vocavimus, ut pro ſe rationem reddat, & inobedientiæ cauſas, ſi rationales habuerit, exponat in audientia totius eccleſiæ. Hæc ideo, filii dilectiſſimi, vobis innoteſcimus, ut animæ veſtræ ſaluti conſulamus. Si itaque beato Petro & ſanctæ Apoſtolicæ ſedi repugnans & contumax eſſe voluerit, liquido manifeſtum eſt, quia, qui patrem aut matrem inhonorat, nullam a fideſibus patris aut matris filiis jure obedientiam quærere aut exigere debeat. Indignum eſt enim, ut qui magiſtro detrectat ſubeſſe, magiſtri auditoribus poſtulet præeſſe. Quapropter, ſicut prædiximus, majoribus atque minoribus Deo & beato Petro adhærentibus apoſtolica auctoritate præcipimus, ſi in obduratione perſiſtere voluerit nullam ei obedientiæ reverentiam exhibeatis, neque id animæ veſtræ pernitiem eſſe putetis. Namque ſi, ut totiens jam prædiximus, præceptis apoſtolicis voluerit eſſe contrarius ab omni illius ſubjectionis jugo beati Petri auctoritate vos abſolvimus, ita ut, ſi etiam Sacramenti obligatione quilibet ei fuerit aſtrictus, quia Deo omnipotenti & ſedi apoſtolicæ rebellis extitit, nulla ei fidelitatis exhibitione ſiat obnoxius. Non itaque cuilibet perſonæ contra creatorem ſuum, qui cunctis præponendus eſt, aliquis debet obedire, ſed debemus contra Deum ſuperbienti reſiſtere, ut ſaltem hac neceſſitate coactus diſcat ad viam juſtitiæ redire. Quanti periculi, quantæ a Chriſtiana lege ſit alienationis obedientiam maxime apoſtolicæ ſedi non exhibere, ex dictis beati Samuelis Prophetæ poteſtis agnoſcere, quem ſcilicet Gregorius in ultimo libro moralium curavit explanare. Et dum ea vobis ſunt in promptu, ſcripta transmiſimus, quatinus indubitanter ſciatis, nos vobis novam non ſuperducere, ſed antiquam ſanctorum patrum doctrinam propalare. Hinc Samuel ait: Melior eſt obedientia, quam victimæ & auſcultare magis, quam offerre adipem arietum; quoniam quaſi pretium ariolandi eſt, repugnare, & quaſi ſcelus idololatriæ nolle adquieſcere. Obedientia quippe victimis præponitur, quod per victimas aliena caro, per obedientiam vero propria mactatur. Tanto ergo Deum quisquis citius placat, quanto ante ejus oculos repreſſa ſui arbitrii ſuperbia gladio præcepti ſe immolat. Quo contra ariolandi peccatum dicitur inobedientia, ut quantæ ſint vires obedientiæ demonſtretur. Ex adverſo ergo melius oſtenditur, quid de ejus laude ſentiatur. Si itaque quaſi ariolandi peccatum eſt repugnare, & quaſi idololatriæ nolle acquieſcere, ſola eſt obedientia quæ fidei meritum poſſidet, quia ſine quisquis infidelis convincitur, etiamſi fidelis eſſe videatur.

CXLIV.

H. Dei gratia Rex A. gratiam, ſalutem & dilectionem. In maximis negotiis, maximis maximorum opus eſt conſiliis, qui & facultatem habeant exterius & voluntate non careant interius, ut rei, cui bene cupiunt, bene conſulere & velint & poſſint; quod in cujuslibet rei profectu nec facultas ſine voluntate, nec voluntas ſine facultate proderit. Quod utrumque tu, fideliſſime, ut arbitramur, æqualiter poſſides, vel, ut verius dicamus, licet maximo tibi maxima non deſit voluntas, majorem tamen adhuc maxima facultate, ſi bene te novimus, ſi fidem tuam diligenter notavimus in noſtram & regni utilitatem exuberat voluntas. De præteritis itaque fideliter exhibitis, in futuris creſcit ſpes de fidelibus exhibendis. Tuæ autem dilectioni committimus ne ſpe noſtra minor ſit fides tua, quod de nullius regni principum fidelitate, quam tua ſperamus majora, ſicut hactenus nonmodo in præteritarum rerum promiſſione tua gaviſi ſumus. Aſſit igitur hoc in tempore oportuno tua cum facultate voluntas, quod non modo noſtra, verum etiam omnium coëpiſcoporum tuorum fratrum in unum & totius oppreſſæ eccleſiæ exoptat neceſſitas. Non enim hanc oppreſſionem ignoras, tantum vide ne obpreſſæ eccleſiæ ſolatium ſubtrahas, ſed regno & ſacerdotio condoleas. Quo utroque ſicut usque eccleſia eſt exaltata, ita nunc humiliatur heu utroque viduata. Nam unus, dum utrumque ſibi vendicavit, utrumque diſſipavit. Nec in uno profuit, qui in neutro prodeſſe voluit nec potuit. Et ne diutius notati nomine te ſuſpendamus, accipe, quod dicimus, Hildebrandum ſcilicet Monachum habitu quidem Dominum apoſtolicum, nec paſtoris cura, ſed invaſoris violentia apoſtolicæ ſedi præſidentem, & de ſede pacis catholicæ pacis unicæ vinculum diſſipantem, tem, ut tibimet ipſi in promtu eſt ſcire. Ut tamen de pluribus pauca referamus, regnum & ſacerdotium Deo neſciente ſibi uſurpavit, in quo piam Dei ordinationem contempſit, quæ non in uno, ſed in duobus duo, & regnum & ſacerdotium principaliter conſiſtere voluit, ſicut ipſe Salvator in paſſione ſua de duorum gladiorum ſufficientia typice intelligi innuit, cui cum diceretur: Domine, ecce, duo gladii hic, reſpondit ſat eſt, ſignificans hac ſufficiente dualitate, ſpiritualem & carnalem gladium in eccleſia eſſe gerendum, quibus omne nocivum foret amputandum, videlicet ſacerdotali ad obedientiam regis poſt Dominum, regali vero gladio ad expugnandos inimicos exterius, ad obedientiam interius, omnes homines fore docens conſtringendos, ut ita de alio in alium caritate intenderetur, dum nec ſacerdotii regnum, nec ſacerdotium regni honore privaretur. Hanc Dei ordinationem, qualiter Hildebrandica infania confuderit, tu ipſe noſti. Nam nullum ejus judicio licet eſſe ſacerdotem, niſi qui hoc a faſtu ſuo emendicaverit; me quoque, quem Deus in regnum, non autem ad ſacerdotium illum vocavit, quod me de Deo, non de ipſo regnare velle vidit, quod ipſe me regem non conſtituit, regno me privare ſtuduit, minitans regnum & animam ſe mihi tollere, quorum neutrum illi Deus conceſſit. Hæc enim his ſimilia cum ſæpius in noſtram, ut ipſe noſti, contumeliam ſtruxerit, non tamen adhuc ſufficere credit, quoniam de die in diem nova & inexquiſita confuſionis genera nobis ingerat, ut in noſtris nunciis argumenta dedit. Nam carta exponere non ſufficit, qualiter eosdem nuncios tractaverit, quam indignis modis eos affecerit, quam crudeliter eos incarceraverit, & incarceratos nuditate, frigore, fame, ſiti, & plagis contriverit, ſicque demum martyrum exemplo per medium civitatis circumductos, omnibus ſpectaculum præbere juſſit, ita ut eundem cum Decio tyranno inſanire & ſanctos affare credas & dicas. Unde ne pigeat, dilectiſſime, ne pigeat omnium noſtrorum ſcilicet & meæ & coëpiſcoporum tuorum petitioni ſatisfacere, ut in Pentecoſten Wormatiam venias, & ibi plura, quorum pauca docet cartula, cum cæteris principibus audias, & quid agendum ſit doceas, rogatus per dilectionem coëpiſcoporum, & monitus per eccleſiæ utilitatem, obligatus per vitæ noſtræ & regni totius honorem.

CXLV.

H. Dei gratia rex, Archiepiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Marchionibus, Comitibus, & cujuscunque dignitatis ordini bonæ ſuæ voluntatis gloriolam dignationem. Quia manſuetudini noſtræ contra ſedem apoſtolicam ejusque venerandum præſulem Dominum Gregorium Papam abaliquibus ſubreptum eſſe fidelium noſtrorum ſuggeſtione recognovimus, placuit nobis priorem ſententiam ſalubri conſilio mutare & more anteceſſorum noſtrorum progenitorumque, eidem ſacro ſanctæ ſedi & qui ei præeſſe dinoſcitur Domino Gregorio Papæ per omnia debitam ſervare obedientiam, & ſi quid in eum gravius præſumptum eſt conpetenti ſatisfactione conponere. Volumus autem, ut & vos ſerenitatis noſtræ exemplo ammoniti, ſollennem beato Petro ejusque vicario ſatisfactionem exhibere non dubitetis, & quicunque ejus banno ſe adſtrictos intelligunt, ab ipſo videlicet Domino Papa Gregorio ſolenniter abſolvi elaborent.

CXLVI.

G. ſervus ſervorum Dei omnibus Epiſcopis, Ducibus, Comitibus, cæterisque in regno Teutonicorum, Chriſtianam fidem defendentibus ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Audivimus inter vos quosdam de excommunicatione, quam in Regem fecimus dubitare, ac quærere, utrum juſte ſit excommunicatus, & ſi noſtra ſententia ex auctoritate legalis cenſuræ ea qua debuit deliberatione egreſſa ſit. Quapropter, qualiter ad excommunicandum illum adducti ſumus, prout verius potuerimus, teſte conſcientia noſtra, oculis & intellectibus omnium patefacere curabimus, non tam ut ſingulas cauſas, heu quæ nimium notæ ſunt, quaſi noſtro clamore projiciamus in publicum, quam ut eorum opinionibus ſatisfaciamus, qui putant nos ſpiritualem gladium temere & magis motu animi noſtri, quam divino metu & juſtitiæ zelo arripuiſſe. Cum adhuc in diaconatus officio poſiti eſſemus, perlata ad nos de Regis actionibus ſiniſtra & multum inhoneſta fama propter imperialem dignitatem & reverentiam patris & matris ejus, nec non propter ſpem & deſiderium correctionis ejus, per literas ſæpe ammonuimus, ut a pravitate ſua deſiſteret, & memor clariſſimi generis ac dignitatis ſuæ vitam ſuam moribus, quibus regem & futurum Deo donante deceret imperatorem, inſtitueret. Poſtquam autem ad Pontificatus apicem licet indigni venimus, & illi ætas pariter creſcere cœpit & iniquitas, intelligentes Deum omnipotentem tanto deſtrictius de manu noſtra animum ejus requiſiturum, quanto nobis illum ad increpandum præ cunctis libertas data fuiſſet & auctoritas, multo ſollicitius eum modis omnibus arguendo, obſecrando, increpando, ad emendationem vitæ ſuæ hortati ſumus. Qui cum nobis ſæpe ſalutationes & literas mitteret, excuſans ſe, cum ex ætate, quæ fluxa eſſet & fragilis, tum quod ab his, in quorum manibus cura ejus erat, multociens ſibi male ſuaſum atque conſultum ſit, monita noſtra de die in diem ſe promptiſſime ſuſcepturum, verbis quidem promiſit, cæterum re & exaggeratione culparum penitus conculcavit. Inter hæc quosdam familiares ſuos, quorum conſiliis & machinationibus epiſcopatus & multa monaſteria inductis per pretium lupis pro paſtoribus ſymoniaca hæreſi fœdaverat, ad pœnitentiam vocavimus, quatenus & bona eccleſiarum quæ per interventum tam ſcelerati commercii ſacrilega manu ſuſceperant, venerabilibus locis, ad quæ pertinebant, cum adhuc locus eſſet emendandi redderent & ipſi de perpetrata iniquitate per lamenta pœnitudinis Deo ſatisfacerent. Quos cum ad hæc exequen-exequenda datas inducias ſpernere & in conſuetа nequitia pertinaciter ſtare agnovimus, ſicut dignum erat, ſacrilegos adminiſtros & membra diaboli a communione & corpore totius eccleſiæ ſeparavimus, & regem, ut eos a domo ſua, a conſiliis & omni communione ſua, ſicut excommunicatos, expelleret, ammonuimus. Interim vero ingraveſcente contra regem Saxonum cauſa, cum vires & præſidia regni ex parte maxima a ſe deficere velle conſpiceret, interim direxit nobis epiſtolam ſupplicem, & omni humilitate plenam, in qua omnipotenti Deo & beato Petro ac nobis valde ſe culpabilem reddens, preces etiam obtulit, ut, quod ex ſua culpa in eccleſiaſticis cauſis contra canonicam juſtitiam & decreta ſanctorum patrum factum fuiſſet, noſtra apoſtolica prudentia, & auctoritate corrigere ſtuderemus, atque in eo ſuam nobis per omnia obedientiam, conſilium, & fidele promiſit adjutorium. Hoc idem etiam poſtea a confratribus, & legatis noſtris Hunberto Prænestino Epiſcopo & Geraldo Hoſtienſi Epiſcopo, quos ad illum miſimus, ad pœnitentiam ſuſceptus, in illorum manus per ſacras ſtolas, quas in collo tenebant, repromittendo confirmavit. Dein poſt aliquod tempus commiſſo cum Saxonibus prœlio, Rex pro victoria, quam adeptus eſt, tales Deo grates & victimas obtulit, ut vota, quæ de emendatione ſua fecerat, continuo frangeret, & nihil eorum, quæ nobis promiſerat, adtendens, excommunicatos in ſuam familiaritatem & communionem reciperet, & eccleſias in eam, quam conſueverant, confuſionem traheret. Qua de re gravi dolore perculſi quamquam potius, contempta regis cœleſtis beneficentia, pene omnis ſpes correctionis ejus nobis ablata ſit, adhuc tamen animum temperandum fore decrevimus, magis cupientes eum apoſtolicam audire manſuetudinem, quam experiri ſeveritatem. Itaque miſimus ei epiſtolas commonitorias, ut meminerit quid & cui promiſerit, ne credat ſe poſſe fallere Deum, cujus quanto prolixior eſt patientia, tanto ſeverior eſt cum vindicare cœperit ira; ne inhonoret Deum honorantem ſe, nec potentiam ſuam ad Dei contemptum & apoſtolicam tentet extendere contumeliam, ſciens quod ſuperbis reſiſtit Deus, humilibus autem dat gratiam. Præterea miſimus ad eum tres religioſos viros, ſuos utique fideles, per quos cum ſecreto monuimus, ut pœnitentiam ageret de ſuis ſceleribus, quæ quam horrenda ſunt dictu, pluribus tamen nota & in multis partibus terræ divulgata. Propter quæ non ſolum excommunicari usque ad dignam ſatisfactionem, ſed etiam ab omni honore regni eum absque omni ſpe recuperationis debere deſtitui, divinarum & humanarum legum teſtatur & jubet auctoritas. Poſtremo niſi excommunicatos a ſua participatione divideret, nos nihil aliud de eo vindicare aut decernere poſſe, quam ut ſeparatus ab eccleſia in excommunicatorum conſortio foret, cum quibus ipſe potius, quam cum Chriſto habere partem elegerit. Sane ſi noſtra monita ſuſcipere, & vitam ſuam corrigere vellet, Deum teſtem invocavimus, & invocamus, quantum nos de ejus ſalute gauderemus & honore, & cum quanta caritate eum in gremio ſanctæ eccleſiæ amplecteremur, utpote eum, qui princeps populi conſtiturus, & ampliſſimi regni gubernacula tenens catholicæ pacis & juſtitiæ defenſor eſſe deberet. Verum quanti ipſe aut ſcripto aut per legatos miſſa noſtra verba fecerit, ejus facta declarant, qui indigne ferens, ſe a quoquam reprehendi aut corripi, non ſolum a perpetratis ad emendationem revocari non potuit, ſed ampliori conſcientiæ furore correptus, non prius ceſſavit, donec epiſcopos pene omnes in Italia, in Teutonicis vero partibus quotquot potuit, circa fidem Chriſti naufragare fecit, dum eos debitam beato Petro & apoſtolicæ ſedi obedientiam & honorem a Domino noſtro Jeſu Chriſto conceſſum abnegare ſubegit. Cum igitur iniquitatem ejus ad ſummum prodiiſſe vidimus, pro his cauſis, videlicet primum, quod ab eorum communione, qui pro ſacrilego reatu ſymoniacæ hæreſis excommunicati ſunt, ſe abſtinere noluit; demum quod pro criminoſis actionibus vitæ ſuæ pœnitentiam non dico ſuſcipere, ſed nec promittere voluit, immutata ea, quam in manus legatorum noſtrorum promiſerat, fide, nec non quod corpus Chriſti & unitatem ſanctæ ſcindere eccleſiæ non expaverit. Pro his, inquam, culpis ſynodali eum judicio excommunicavimus, ut quem mites non potuimus, vel ſeveri ad viam ſalutis, Deo adjuvante, revocare valeamus; aut ſi, quod abſit, ne diſtrictionis quidem cenſuram pertimuerit, noſtra ſaltem anima negligentiæ aut timoris diſcrimini non ſuccumbat. Si quis igitur hanc ſententiam injuſte vel irrationabiliter prolatam eſſe putaverit, ſi talis eſt, ut ſacris regulis intelligentiæ ſenſum præbere velit, nobiſcum etiam agat, & non quod nos, ſed quid divina auctoritas doceat, quid decernat, quid conſona vox ſanctorum patrum indicet, patienter audiens acquieſcat. Nos tamen non æſtimamus quenquam fidelium, qui eccleſiaſtica ſtatuta noverit, hoc errore teneri, ut non hoc & ſi publice affirmare non audeat, vel in corde ſuo rectum factum eſſe perhibeat, quamquam, ſi nos, quod Deus avertat, non ſatis gravi de cauſa aut minus ordinate eum hujusmodi vinculo ligavimus, ſicut ſancti patres noſtri aſſerunt, non idcirco ſpernenda ſententia eſt, ſed abſolutio cum omni humilitate quærenda. Vos autem Domini, qui juſtitiam Dei nec pro regia indignatione nec pro aliquo periculo deſerere voluiſtis, fatuitates, quæ de executione & mendacio annunciabuntur in conſummatione parvi pendentes viriliter ſtate & confortamini in Domino ſcientes quod illius partem defenditis, qui inſuperabilis Rex eſt & magnificus triumphator, judicaturus vivos & mortuos, reddens unicuique ſecundum opus ſuum. De cujus multimoda retributione & vos certi eſſe poteritis, ſi usque in finem fideles & inconcuſſi in ejus veritate perſtiteritis. Propter quod & nos inceſſanter, pro vobis rogamus Deum, ut det vobis corroborari per Spiritum Sanctum in nomine nomine ejus, & convertat cor regis ad pœnitentiam, ut & ipſe aliquando cognoſcat, nos multo verius amare eum, quam illos, qui nunc ſuis iniquitatibus obſequuntur & favent. Quod ſi, Deo inſpirante, voluerit reſipiſcere, quicquid contra nos moliatur, ſemper tamen nos ad recipiendum eum in ſanctam communionem, prout veſtra nobis caritas conſuluerit, paratos inveniet.

G. Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei omnibus Archiepiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Abbatibus, Ducibus, Marchionibus, Comitibus, omnibusque Chriſtianam & beati Petri apoſtolorum principis fidem, & doctrinam defendentibus & obſervantibus in omni regno Teutonicorum ſalutem, & beatorum apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli benedictionem, & omnium peccatorum abſolutionem. Ego qualiscunque ſacerdos, apoſtolorum principis ſervus contra voluntatem & conſilium Romanorum, confidens de miſericordia Dei & vera fide catholica, venio ad vos, paratus propter honorem Dei & ſalutem animarum veſtrarum mortem ſubire, ut per multas tribulationes tendamus & perveniamus ad requiem. Vos autem, fratres mei dilectiſſimi & deſideratiſſimi, ſummopere curate, ut vos poſſim Deo auxiliante adire vobisque in omnibus prodeſſe. Benedicat vos ille, ex cujus gratia dictum eſt mihi ad corpus beati Petri in die ordinationis meæ: Quodcunque benedixeris, benedictum erit, & quodcunque ſolveris in terra erit ſolutum in cœlo. Amen.

G. ſervus ſervorum Dei Archiepiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Ducibus, Comitibus, nec non majoribus & minoribus, in regno Teutonicorum conſtitutis, ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Nos & indigni & inutiles principis Apoſtolorum ſervi ſtatuimus ad vos divina auxiliante clementia venire, & poſt ponentes omnium fidelium noſtrorum conſilium, ita profectionem noſtram maturare, ut VI. Idus Januarii apud - - - - - velimus eſſe, veſtra quidem voluntate & deſiderio, ut fiducia probatæ fidei, quæcunque aſpera, &, ſi neceſſarium fuerit, ipſam effuſionem ſanguinis pro libertate eccleſiæ ſanctæ & ſalute imperii pura & ſincera intentione ſubire non dubitemus. Veſtri ergo ſtudii ſit de exceptione & ſervitio noſtro præmonere eos, quos prudentia veſtra cognoverit id poſſe & nobis debere. Sit etiam ſtudii veſtri per partes veſtras pacem firmare, ut intentionis noſtræ propoſitum nihil impedire poſſit. Quot & quantas colluctationes cum nunciis regis habuerimus, & quibus rationibus dictis eorum obviaverimus, quicquid deeſſe videtur literis, latores earum plenius indicabunt. Quibus, ſicut de his, quæ beato Petro & nobis promiſiſtis, indubitanter credimus, ita vos de his, quæ ex noſtra parte dixerint, nobis certiſſime volumus credere.

CXLVIII.

G. Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei, omnibus Archiepiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Ducibus, Comitibus cæterisque principibus regni Teutonicorum Chriſtianam fidem defendentibus ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Quomodo pro amore juſtitiæ commune nobiſcum in agone chriſtianæ militiæ periculum ſuſcepiſtis, qualiter Rex, humiliatus ad pœnitentiam, abſolutionis veniam impetraverit, & quomodo tota cauſa poſt introitum ejus in Italiam usque huc deducta ſit, veſtræ dilectioni ſincera veritate indicare curavimus; Sicut conſtitutum fuit, cum legati ad nos de veſtris partibus miſſi ſint, in Longobardiam venimus circiter dies XX. ante terminum, in quo aliquis Ducum ad Cluſas nobis occurrere debuit, expectantes adventum illorum, quatinus ad partes illas tranſire poſſemus. Verum cum decurſo termino nobis hoc nunciaretur, temporibus his præ multis, quod & nos credimus difficultatibus ducatum nobis obviam mitti non poſſe, nec aliunde copiam ad vos transeundi haberemus, non parva ſollicitudine, quid potiſſimum nobis agendum foret, circumventi ſumus. Interim vero regem adventare certe cognovimus, qui etiam prius quam in Italiam intraſſet, ſupplices legatos ad nos præmittens, per omnia ſe ſatisfacturum Deo & ſancto Petro ac nobis obtulit, & ad emendationem vitæ ſuæ omnem ſervaturum obedientiam repromiſit, dummodo apud nos abſolutionis & apoſtolicæ benedictionis gratiam impetrare mereretur. Qui cum multis conſultantibus conferentes, acriter eum de ſuis exceſſibus per omnes, qui intercurrebant, nuncios redargueremus, tandem per ſemet ipſum nihil hoſtile aut temerarium oſtentans, ad oppidum Canuſium, in quo morati ſumus, cum paucis advenit, ibique per triduum ante portam caſtri, depoſito omni regio cultu miſerabiliter, utpote diſcalceatus & laneis veſtibus indutus, perſiſtens, non prius cum multo fletu apoſtolicæ miſerationis conſilium & conſolationem deſtitit implorare, quam omnes, qui ibi aderant & ad quos rumor ille pervenit, ad tantam pietatem, & compaſſionis miſeriam movit, ut pro eo multis precibus & lacrimis intercedentes, omnes quidem inſolitam mentis noſtræ duritiam mirarentur, nonnulli vero in nobis non apoſtolicæ ſeveritatis gravitatem, ſed quaſi tyrannicæ feritatis crudelitatem eſſe clamarent. Denique inſtantia compunctionis ejus, & tanta omnium, qui ibi aderant ſupplicatione devicti, tandem eum, relaxato anathematis vinculo in communionis gratiam & ſinum ſanctæ matris eccleſiæ, receptis ab eo ſecuritatibus, quæ infra ſcriptæ ſunt, quarum etiam confirmationem per manus Abbatis Cluniacenſis & filiarum noſtrarum Matildis & Cometiſſæ Adelheidæ & aliorum principum Epiſcoporum & laicorum, qui nobis ad hoc utiles viſi ſunt, recepimus. His itaque peractis, ut ad pacem eccleſiæ, & concordiam regni, ſicut diu deſideravimus, omnia plenius, adjuvante Deo coaptare poſſimus, ad partes veſtras data primum oportunitate transire ire cupimus. Hoc itaque dilectionem veſtram indubitanter ſcire volumus, quia, ſicut in deſcriptis ſecuritatibus poteſtis cognoſcere, ad huc totius negotii cauſa ſuſpenſa eſt, & adventus noſter & conſiliorum veſtrorum unanimitas permaxime neceſſaria eſſe videtur. Quapropter in ea fide, quam accepiſtis & amore juſtitiæ unanimiter omnes permanere ſtudete, ſcientes, nos non aliter Regi obligatos eſſe, niſi quod puro ſermone, ſicut nobis mos eſt, ea diximus, quibus eum ad ſalutem, & honorem ſuum aut cum juſtitia aut cum miſericordia ſine noſtræ aut illius animæ periculo adjuvare poſſimus.

CXLIX.

G. Servus ſervorum Dei dilectiſſimis in Chriſto fratribus, Archiepiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Ducibus, Comitibus, & univerſis Chriſti fidelibus, clericis & laicis, tam majoribus quam minoribus, in regno Teutonicorum conſiſtentibus ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Notum vobis fieri volumus, fratres dilectiſſimi, quia legatis noſtris B. videlicet fideli ſanctæ eccleſiæ Romanæ filio & diacono, itemque B. religioſo Abbati Maſſilienſis eccleſiæ, percepimus, ut utrumque regem Heinricum videlicet atque Rudolfum aut per ſe aut per idoneos legatos ammoneant, quatinus pro diſcutiendo negotio, quod inter eos peccatis facientibus ortum eſt, viam ad vos mihi ſecure Deo adjuvante transeundi præbeant. In magna itaque triſtitia & dolore cor noſtrum fluctuat, ſi per unius hominis ſuperbiam tot millia hominum Chriſtianorum & temporali & æternæ morti traduntur, & Chriſtiana religio confunditur, Romanumque Imperium ad perniciem deducitur. Uterque namque Rex a nobis, imo ab apoſtolica ſede, cui licet indigni præſidemus, auxilium requirit. Et nos in miſericordia Dei omnipotentis & adjutorio beati Petri confidentes parati fuimus cum veſtro auxilio & conſilio, qui Deum timetis & Chriſtianam fidem diligitis, æquitatem utrinque decernere & ei præbere auxilium, cui juſtitia ad regni gubernacula favere dinoſcitur: Quapropter ſi alteruter eorum ſuperbia inflatus aliquo ingenio, quo minus ad vos veniam, obſtiterit, & de ſua injuſtitia timens, judicium Sancti Spiritus refugerit inobediens, reſiſtendo ſanctæ & univerſali matri eccleſiæ, hunc velut membrum antichriſti & deſolatorem Chriſtianæ religionis contempnite, & ſententiam quam noſtri legati contra eum noſtra vice dederunt conſervate, ſcientes, quod Deus ſuperbis reſiſtit, humilibusque autem dat gratiam. Alteri vero, qui humiliter ſe habuerit, & judicium per nos prolatum, decretum vero a Spiritu Sancto, non contempſerit * Indubitanter itaque credimus, ut ubi duo vel tres in unione Domini congregati fuerint, quod ejus præſentia illuminantur, illi, inquam, ſervitium & reverentiam, ſecundum quod præfati legati noſtri decreverunt, exhibere annitentes, & omnibus modis ei obſequentes, ut regiam dignitatem honeſte poſſit obtinere, & ſanctæ eccleſiæ jam pene labanti ſuccurrere. Non tamen a corde veſtro debet excidere, quod qui apoſtolicæ ſedi obedire contempnit, ſcelus idololatriæ committit. Equidem beatus Gregorius doctor ſanctus & humilis, reges decrevit a ſuis dignitatibus cadere, & participatione corporis & ſanguinis Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti carere, ſi apoſtolicæ ſedis præſumerent decreta contemnere. Si itaque cœleſtia & ſpiritualia ſedes beati Petri ſolvit & judicat, quantomagis terrena & ſecularia? Scitis autem, fratres dilectiſſimi, quod ex quo tempore ex urbe eximus, in magno periculo inter inimicos Chriſtianæ fidei manſimus, & tamen neutri prædictorum Regum neque amore neque terrore flexi, aliquod contra juſtitiam adjutorium promiſimus. Magis tamen volumus, ſi oportet, mortem ſubire, quam, propria voluntate devicti, ut eccleſia Dei ad confuſionem veniat, conſentire. Ad hoc itaque nos ordinatos & in apoſtolica ſede conſtitutos eſſe cognoſcimus, ut in hac vita non quæ noſtra, ſed quæ Jeſu Chriſti ſint, quæramus, & per multos labores patrum veſtigia ſequentes, ad futuram & æternam quietem Deo miſerante tendamus.

CL.

Oratio Hildebrandi Papæ.

Beate Petre, Princeps apoſtolorum, & beate Paule doctor gentium dignamini, quæſo, aures veſtras ad me inclinare, meque clementer exaudire, quod veritatis eſtis diſcipuli & amatores; adjuvate, ut veritatem vobis dicam, remota omni falſitate, quam omnino deteſtamini, ut fratres mei mihi melius acquieſcant, & ſciant, & intelligant, quod ex veſtra fiducia poſt Deum & matrem ejus ſemper virginem pravis & iniquis reſiſto, veſtris autem auxilium præſto. Vos itaque ſcitis, quod ad ſacrum ordinem non libenter acceſſi, & invitus ultra montes cum Domino Papa abii, ſed magis invitus cum Domino Leone Papa ad veſtram ſpecialem eccleſiam redii, in qua utcunque vobis ſervivi. Deinde valde invitus cum multo dolore & gemitu ac planitu in trono veſtro valde indignus ſum collocatus. Hæc ideo dico, quia non ego vos, ſed vos me elegiſtis, & graviſſimum pondus eccleſiæ veſtræ ſuper me poſuiſtis; & quia ſuper montem excelſum me juſſiſtis aſcendere, & clamare, atque annunciare populo Dei ſcelera eorum, & filiis eccleſiæ peccata eorum, membra diaboli contra me inſurgere cœperunt, & usque ad ſanguinem præſumpſerunt in me manus injicere. Adſtiterunt itaque reges terræ & principes ſeculares & eccleſiaſtici, aulici etiam & vulgares convenerunt in unum adverſus Dominum, & adverſus vos Chriſtos ejus dicentes: Dirumpamus vincula eorum &c. Et ut omnino me morti traderent aut exilio confunderent, multis modis conati ſunt in me inſurgere. Inter quos ſpecialiter Heinricus, quem Regem dicunt Domini Heinrici Imperatoris filius, contra veſtram calcaneum erexit eccleſiam, facta cum multis, epiſcopis Ultramontanis & Italicis conſpiraſpiratione, annitens me dejiciendo eam ſibi ſubjugare. Cujus ſuperbiæ veſtra reſtitit auctoritas, eamque veſtra deſtruxit poteſtas. Qui confuſus & humiliatus ad me in Longobardiam veniens, abſolutionem excommunicationis quæſivit. Quem ego videns humiliatum, multis promiſſionibus ab eo acceptis de ſuæ vitæ emendatione, ſolam communionem ei reddidi, non tamen in regno, a quo eum in Romana ſynodo depoſueram, inſtauravi, nec fidelitatem omnium, qui ſibi juraverant vel erant juraturi, a qua omnes abſolvi, in eadem ſynodo, ut ſibi ſervarent, præcepi. Et hoc ideo detinui, ut inter eum & Epiſcopos vel Principes Ultramontanos, qui ei cauſa juſſionis veſtræ eccleſiæ reſtiterant, juſtitiam facerem vel pacem componerem, ſicut ipſe Heinricus juramento per duos Epiſcopos mihi promiſit. Prædicti autem Epiſcopi & Principes Ultramontani audientes illum non ſervare, quod mihi promiſerat, qui deſperati de eo ſine meo conſilio, vobis teſtibus, elegerunt Rudulfum Ducem ſibi Regem. Qui Rex Rudolfus feſtinanter ad me miſſo nuncio indicavit ſe coactum regni gubernacula ſuſcepiſſe, tamen ſeſe paratum mihi omnibus modis obedire, & ex eo tempore eundem mihi ſemper miſit ſermonem, adjiciens, & filio ſuo dato obſide, & fidelis ſui Ducis Bertholdi filio, quod promittebat confirmare. Interea Heinricus cœpit me precari, ut illum contra prædictum Rudolfum adjuvarem; cui reſpondi, me libenter facere, audita utriusque partis ratione, ut ſcirem, cui juſtitia magis faveret. Ille vero putans eum ſuis viribus poſſe devincere, meam contempſit reſponſionem. Poſtquam ſenſit ſe non poſſe, ſicut ſperavit, agere, duo Epiſcopi Virdunenſis & Osnaburgenſis de conſentaneis ſuis Romam venerunt, & in ſynodo, ut ex parte Heinrici, me, ut ei juſtitiam facerem, rogaverunt, quod & nuntii Rudolphi laudaverunt fieri. Tandem, aſpirante Deo, ſicut credo, ſtatui in eadem ſynodo in partibus ultramontanis fieri colloquium, ut illic aut pax ſtatueretur, aut, cui juſtitia magis faveret, cognoſceretur, &, quod putabam, quia injuſtior pars colloquium nollet fieri, ubi juſtitia locum ſuum ſervaret, excommunicavi, & anathemate alligavi omnes perſonas ſive Regis ſive Ducis aut Epiſcopi aut alicujus hominis, qui colloquium aliquo ingenio impediret, ne fieret. Prædictus autem Heinricus cum ſuis fautoribus, non timens periculum inobedientiæ, quod eſt ſcelus idololatriæ, colloquium impediendo excommunicationem incurrit, & ſe ipſum anathematis vinculo alligavit, magnamque multitudinem Chriſtianorum morti tradit, & eccleſias fecit diſſipari, & totum pene Teutonicorum regnum dedit deſolationi. Quapropter confidens de judicio & de miſericordia Dei ejusque piiſſimæ matris & ſanctæ virginis Mariæ fultus, auctoritate noſtra prædictum Heinricum, quem dicunt Regem, excommunicationi ſubjicio & anathematis vinculis alligo & totum regnum Teutonicorum & Italiæ, ex parte omnipotentis Dei & veſtra, interdicens ei omnem poteſtatem, & dignitatem regiam tollo, & ut nullus Chriſtianus ei ſicut Regi obediat, interdico, omnesque, qui ei juraverunt & jurabunt de regni donatione ac juramenti promiſſione abſolvo. Ipſe autem Heinricus cum fautoribus ſuis in omni congreſſione belli nullas vires, nullamque in vita ſua victoriam obtineat. Ut autem R. regnum Teutonicorum regat & defendat, quem Teutonici ſibi elegerunt Regem ad noſtram fidelitatem, ex veſtra parte dono largior & concedo, omnibusque fideliter ſibi adhærentibus abſolutionem omnium peccatorum, noſtramque benedictionem in hac vita & in futura, veſtra fretus fiducia, largior. Sicut igitur H. pro ſua ſuperbia & inobedientia & falſitate a regni dignitate juſte abjicitur, ita Rudolpho pro ſua humilitate & obedientia & veritate poteſtas & dignitas regni conceditur. Agite nunc, quæſo, Patres & Principes ſanctiſſimi, ut omnes mundus intelligat & cognoſcat, quod ſi poteſtis in cœlo ſolvere & ligare, poteſtis in terra Imperia, Regna, Principatus, Ducatus, Marchias, Comitatus, & omnium hominum poſſeſſiones tollere, & meritis concedere. Vos itaque Patriarchatus, Epiſcopatus, Primatus frequenter tuliſtis pravis & indignis, & religioſis viris dediſtis. Et ſi angelos dominantes omnibus ſuperbis Principibus judicatis, quid de illorum ſervis facere poteſtis? Addiſcant nunc reges & omnes Principes ſeculi, quanti vos eſtis, quid poteſtis, & timeant parvipendere juſſionem veſtræ eccleſiæ, & in prædicto Heinrico tam cito judicium veſtrum exercete, ut omnes ſciant, quia non fortuito, ſed veſtra poteſtate cadet & confundetur, utinam ad pœnitentiam, ut Spiritus ſalvus ſit in die Domini.

Epiſtola ejusdem cujus ſupra.

G. Servus ſervorum Dei dilectis in Chriſto fratribus U. Trevirenſi Archiepiſcopo & ejus ſuffraganeis ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. De motu & turbatione regni Teutonicorum quantam ſollicitudinem, quantam anxietatem, jam per longum tempus ſuſtinuerimus, ille præ omnibus novit, qui omnium ſecretorum cognitor eſt, & inſpector verus, cui etiam, ſi dignatur tales audire ſupplicationes, fecimus & faciemus, commonitis & exhortatis fratribus & religioſis congregationibus ad ſtudium earundem ſupplicationum, ut miſereatur gentis illius, ne ſinat eam in propria armari viſcera, & ad ruinam domeſticæ fortitudinis in bello confligere, ſed totius diſcordiæ cauſas ſua potenti virtute compeſcat, ſua moderatione ſine funeſto & luctuoſo fine componat. Litteras quippe jam ante tres menſes & eo amplius illuc direximus, videlicet legatis noſtris B. diacono noſtro & item B. religioſo abbati, quem eſſe audivimus captum, nunc enim & univerſis principibus illius terræ tam eccleſiaſticis, quam ſecularibus perſonis, in quibus quod nobis ad evitandam cædem, incendia, & alia bellorum pericula optimum, & in tanti negocii diffinitione juſtiſſimum videbatur, eos conſulendo & hortando cum omni ſtudio exequi ammonuimus & ut fortius inſiſterent injunximus apoſtolica auctoritate. Verum quod nobis non ſatis compertum ſit, utrum ad vos pervenerint illæ litteræ, ne forte aliquid de earum veritate dubitetis, easdem vobis de novis exemplaribus reſcriptas mittere curavimus, ammonentes vos & per ipſam obedientiam præcipientes, ut omnibus modis operam detis, quatinus cauſa ſententiæ earum literarum pertractata finem accipiat. Miſimus itaque vobis ſacramentum, quod Rex H. nobis per fideles ſuos quosdam fecit, data quidem manu ſua in manu Cluniacenſis Abbatis, ut perlecto eo agnoſcatis, quam honeſte Rex pro ſuo nomine ſe erga nos habuit, quippe, a cujus fidelibus, legati noſtri poſtea capti ſunt, videlicet E. Oſtienſis Epiſcopus in Longobardia, B. Maſſilienſis abbas in terra Teutonica, unde nihil eum digni adhuc feciſſe cognovimus, quamquam nos eum nunquam in aliqua cauſa Deo providente hac occaſione contra juſtitiam circumvenire aut gravare velimus. Sicut etiam poſt cœptum negotium nunquam apud nos precibus aut aliqua oſtentatione amicitiarum vel inimicitiarum obtinere potuit, ut quicquam pro eo, præter quod juſtum videretur, dicere vel cenſere vellemus, ita in ea re, quam adduximus, incunctanter, Deo adjuvante, perſiſtere nullo vitæ periculo deterrebimur. Agite ergo, dilectiſſimi fratres, ut appareat, quantum eccleſiæ libertatem, & communem ſalutem omnium diligatis, ſcientes, quod, ſi ea neglecta fuerit, & ad gravamen, quod abiit, exacerbationem venerit, non ſolum genti veſtræ & regno Teutonicorum, ſed usque ad fines Chriſtianitatis, faciet damna & confuſiones & pericula, & inæſtimabiles cauſas miſeriarum pariet.

G. Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei fratri & coepiſcopo Tridentino ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Miramur fraternitatis tuæ prudentiam verba noſtra neglexiſſe, ut ſecundum ea nullum decreveris dare reſponſum, maxime cum poſt ſynodalem ſententiam in Heinricum Regem prolatam dilectio tua minime differre debuerit. Ad cujus nimirum ſententiæ promulgationem, nos juſtitiæ zelo impulſos, & non aliqua commotione injuriæ concitatos, manum exeruiſſe, neque ſolertiam tuam ignorare, neque aliquem ſanæ mentis hominem putamus poſſe ambigere. Quod tamen ſi in dubium cuiquam deveniret, conſtat, ejus rei rationes prius ex nobis fore ſcrutandas, quam in illum præjudicium factum temere eſſe credendum. Verum utcunq; opinio ſe ſe habeat factumve interpretentur, illud procul dubio de divina clementia ſperantes promittimus, feſtum beati Petri non prius transeundum quam in cunctorum notitia certiſſime clareat, illum juſtiſſime eſſe excommunicatum. Et interea fraternitatem tuam monemus, ut certos nos ſtudeat facere, utrum Deo obedire, an hominibus magis elegerit, utrumve juſtitiæ obtemperando fidem Deo, & ſanctæ Romanæ eccleſiæ obſervare, quam filiis iniquitatis adhærendo conculcare cenſuerit. Rogamus etiam atque invitamus, ut ad ſervitium beati Petri pro poſſe tuo milites mittere ſtudeas, eosque ſi decreveris mittere Mecthildæ filiæ noſtræ notificare procures, cujus ope conducti ſecuri poſſint ad nos & ſine impedimento, favente Deo pervenire.

G. Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei R. Regi omnibusque ſecum in regno Saxonum commanentibus tam Epiſcopis quam Ducibus, Comitibus, nec non majoribus & minoribus peccatorum abſolutionem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Cum veritas ipſa dicat, omnium, qui propter juſtitiam perſecutionem patiuntur, regnum eſſe cœlorum, & apoſtolus clamet, neminem niſi qui legitime certaverit poſſe coronari, nolite, filii mei, in hoc, qui vos jam multo tempore exagitat, bellico furore deficere, nolite per ullius fallentis perſonæ mendacia de noſtro fideli adjutorio dubitare; ſed magis magisque pro tuenda veritate eccleſiaſtica, pro defendenda veſtræ nobilitatis libertate, labori jam citius finiendo incumbite; & ex adverſo aſcendendo vos & corpora veſtra quaſi murum pro domo Dei opponere ſatagite. Quicquid jam in duabus ſynodi noſtræ conventionibus de rege R. & de H. ſtatutum ſit, quicquid ibi de pace & concordia regni & cum juramentis ſit diffinitum, per noſtras litteras & per noſtros legatos, niſi forte capti ſint, apertiſſime poteſtis cognoſcere, & ſi quid adhuc remanſerit, per epiſcopos Metenſem & Papienſem & Abbatem Auguſtenſem, qui nobiscum finem rei præſtolando morantur, cum ad vos ipſi venerint quaſi in promptu habetis audire. Poſtremo hoc vos ignorare nolumus, quod qua omni oportet inſtantia cum orationis noſtræ aſſiduitate tum officii noſtri gravitate & proſpiciendo conſulere & conſulendo proſpicere veræ neceſſitati non dubitamus. Audivimus de veſtro Archiepiſcopatu Magdeburgenſi in diſciplinam * quorundam ejus dem eccleſiæ filiorum, pro acquirendo ſeculari habitu & honore, obortam fuiſſe contentionem, quos modis omnibus ex præcepto Dei omnipotentis & ſancti Petri & noſtro, ne ſibi in locum dampnationis culmen arripiat regiminis prohibere & Deo dignum diſpenſatorem, prout jus poſtulat & ordo, cum noſtra voluntate, & apoſtolica benedictione & communi omnium bonorum tam clericorum quam laicorum electione diſponere. Vos tamen ipſi noſtis, quod in conſtituendis Epiſcopis neglecta ſanctorum patrum inſtituta hunc, qui modo funditur, ſanguinem genuerunt, & adhuc niſi provideantur, pejores prioribus errores fovendo parturiunt.

videntur ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Quantas tribulationum anguſtias & perſecutionum procellas ac pondera periculorum univerſalis mater ſancta Romana eccleſia perpeſſa ſit temporibus iſtis, quod credi vix poteſt, ex majori parte latet ſcientiam veſtram. Ad hæc quoque quid conſilii, quidve ſuffragii per vos filios ſuos debitæ compaſſionis perceperit, vos ipſi agnoſcitis. Quod itaque ſine dolore vix poſſumus vel reminiſci, ita caritas multorum circa eam refrigeſcit, ut hæc ipſa per evangelium præſignata quodammodo ſpecialiter videantur, ut dicitur: Quando habundaverit iniquitas refrigeſcet cor multorum. Unde quid aliud dixerim, niſi quod vos, qui aut ſeguiter neglexiſtis ac pavide refugiſtis matri veſtræ in tanta preſſura ſolaciari, nomine filiorum indignos, & caritatis viſceribus alienos vos oſtenditis. Quem vero pudorem, vel potius, quantum dolorem, quisquis eſt ſanæ mentis, non ſentiat, cum conſideret, perſecutores chriſtianæ relligionis tanta factionis conſpiratione, ſicut omnimodis anniſibus non ſolum res ſuas profundendo, ſed etiam ſe ipſos morti tradendo ad explendam animi attrocitatem hucusque deſudaſſe; neminem autem, vel vix pauciſſimos, juſtitiæ fautores aut corporum laborem ſubire, aut rerum diſpendia pati, aut de bonis ſuis opem matri ſuæ eccleſiæ ferre curaviſſe. Verum, utcunque fraternitas veſtra ſe ſe habuerit, benedictus Deus & Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti pater, qui nos ab adverſariorum manibus & perſecutorum violentia protegens, hactenus in manu noſtra juſtitiam ſecundum teſtimonium conſcientiæ noſtræ defendit, atque potentiæ ſuæ vigore humanæ infirmitatis inbecillitatem noſtram corroborans, ad iniquitatem converti, nullis nos promiſſionum blanditiis, nullis vexantium terroribus ſinit. Ipſi ergo gratias immenſas referimus, qui nos infractos huc usque in preſſuræ tempeſtate conſervans, ad quandam ſpem tranquillitatis ſicut liberis inceſſibus duxit, ut non nos contra principalem juſtitiæ intentionem egiſſe, aut propria conſcientia aut religioſorum, qui noverunt, examinatio reprehendat. De cætero, fratres, ut cauſa jurgiorum & diſcordia, quæ inter regnum & apoſtolicam ſedem jam dudum agitatur, annuente Domino, congruum valeat finem ſortiri, vos ad ſynodum quam in medio Novembri celebrare diſponimus, præſentium litterarum vocatione ex parte beati Petri Apoſtolorum principis præcipientes, invitamus. Hoc etiam fraternitatem veſtram ſcire volumus, quia ut ſecure ad nos venire & in veſtram patriam Deo protegente poſſitis redire, fideles noſtri a majoribus, qui ſunt in curia Heinrici dicti regis, juramento ſecuritatem receperunt. Deſideramus igitur una vobiſcum tractare, divino fulti auxilio, qualiter poſſimus pacem confirmare, atque ad gremium matris eccleſiæ ſanctæ ſchismaticos Deo auxiliante revocare.

Epiſtola Gregorii Papæ ad Hermannum Metenſem Epiſcopum de excommunicatione Regis Heinrici.

G. Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei dilecto in Chriſto fratri Hermanno Metenſi Epiſcopo ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Quod ad perferendos labores & pericula pro defenſione veritatis te paratum intelleximus, divini muneris eſſe non dubitamus, cujus hæc eſt & ineffabilis gratia, & mira clementia quod nunquam electos ſuos penitus aberrare permittit, nunquam funditus labefactari aut dejici ſinit, dum eos perſecutionis tempore quadam utili probatione diſcuſſos & poſt trepidationem aliquam ſemetipſis fortiores facit. Quum autem, ſicut inter ignavos alium, quo turpius alio fugiat, timor exanimat, ita etiam inter ſtrenuos alium, quo fortius alio agat, virile pectus inflammat, hoc caritativæ exhortationis voce curavimus commendare, ut eo magis in acie Chriſtianæ relligionis ſtare te delectet inter primos, quo eos non dubitas victori Deo proximos atque digniſſimos. Quod autem poſtulaſti, te quaſi noſtris ſcriptis juvari ac præmuniri contra illorum inſaniam, qui nefando ore garriunt auctoritatem ſanctæ & apoſtolicæ ſedis non potuiſſe Regem Heinricum hominem Chriſtianæ religionis contemptorem, eccleſiarum videlicet & imperii deſtructorem, atque hæreticorum auctorem & conſentaneum excommunicare, nec quemquam a ſacramento fidelitatis ejus abſolvere, non adeo nobis neceſſarium videtur; cum hujus rei tam multa ac certiſſima documenta in ſacrarum ſcripturarum paginis reperiantur. Neque autem credimus eos, qui ad cumulum damnationis ſuæ veritati impudenter detrahunt, & contradicunt Deo, hoc ad defenſionis ſuæ audaciam tam ignorantia, quam miſeræ deſperationis vecordia captaſſe. Nec mirum. Moſeſt autem reproborum, ob ſuæ nequitiæ protectionem niti ſimiles ſibi defendere, quia pro nihilo habent mendacii perditionem incurrere. Nam, ut dicamus pauca de multis, quis ignorat vocem Domini ac ſalvatoris dicentis in evangelio; Tu es Petrus, & ſuper hanc petram ædificabo eccleſiam meam & portæ inferni non prævalebunt bunt adverſus eam &c. Num quid ſunt hic reges excepti? aut non ſunt de ovibus, quas filius Dei beato Petro commiſit? Quis rogo in hac univerſali confeſſione ligandi atque ſolvendi a poteſtate Petri ſe excluſum exiſtimat, niſi forte infelix ille, qui jugum Domini ferre nolens Diaboli ſe ſubjicit oneri, & in numero ovium Chriſti eſſe recuſat? Cui tamen hoc ad miſeram libertatem pro minimo proficit, quod poteſtatem Petri divinitus ſibi conceſſam a ſuperba cervice excutit, quam quanto eam quisque perelationem ferre abnegat, tanto durius ad damnationem ſuam in judicio portat. Hanc itaque divinæ voluntatis inſtitutionem, hoc firmamentum diſpenſationis divinæ, hoc privilegium beato Petro apoſtolorum principi cœleſti decreto principaliter traditum atque firmatum, ſancti patres cum magna veneratione ſuſceperunt & ſervaverunt, & ſanctam Romanam eccleſiam, tam generalibus conciliis, quam etiam in cæteris ſcriptis & geſtis ſuis univerſalem matrem appellaverunt, & ſicut ejus documenta in confirmatione fidei, ita etiam judicia ſuſceperunt, in hoc conſentientes quaſi uno Spiritu, & una voce concordantes, omnes majores res & præcipua negocia, nec non omnium eccleſiarum judicia ad eam quaſi ad matrem & caput omnium debere referri, ab ea nusquam debere appellari, judicia ejus a nemine retractari, aut refelli debere, aut poſſe. Unde beatus Gelaſius Papa Anaſtaſio Imperatori ſcribens, divina fultus auctoritate, quid & qualiter de principatu ſanctæ & apoſtolicæ ſedis ſentire deberet, hoc modo eum inſtruxit: Et ſi, inquit, cunctis generaliter ſacerdotibus divina tractantibus fidelium convenit colla ſubmitti, quanto potius ſedis illius præſuli conſenſus eſt adhibendus, quem cunctis ſacerdotibus & divinitas ſumma voluit promittere, & ſubſequens eccleſiæ generalis jugiter pietas celebravit? Verum prudentia tua evidenter advertit, nunquam quolibet penitus humano conſilio æquare ſe quemquam poſſe illius privilegio vel confeſſioni, quem Chriſti vox prætulit univerſis, quem eccleſia veneranda confeſſa eſt ſemper, & habet devota primatem. Item Julius Papa orientalibus epiſcopis ſcribens de poteſtate ejusdem ſanctæ & apoſtolicæ ſedis ait: Decuerat nos fratres adverſus ſanctam Romanam & apoſtolicam eccleſiam limate & non yronice loqui, quomodo & ipſe Dominus noſter Jeſus Chriſtus eam decenter allocutus ait: Tu es Petrus, & ſuper hanc Petram, & reliqua. Habet igitur poteſtatem ſingulari privilegio ſibi conceſſam, aperire & claudere januas regni cœleſtis, quibus voluerit. Cui ergo aperiendi & claudendi cœli data eſt poteſtas, de terra judicare non licet? Abſit. Non retinetis, quod ait beatiſſimus Paulus: Neſcitis, quando Angelos judicabimus, quanto magis ſecularia? Beatus quoque Gregorius Papa reges a ſua dignitate cadere ſtatuit, qui apoſtolicæ ſedis decreta violare præſumpſerint: Poteſtatis honorisque ſui dignitate careat, reumque ſe divino judicio exiſtere de perpetrata iniquitate cognoſcat, & niſi ea, quæ ab illo ſunt male ablata, reſtituerit, vel digna pœnitentia illicite acta defleverit, a ſacratiſſimo corpore, & ſanguine Domini alienus ſit, atque in æterno examine diſtrictæ ultioni ſubjaceat. Quare beatus Gregorius Papa, Doctor utique mitiſſimus, reges, qui ſtatuta ſua ſuper unum etiam xenodochium violarent, non modo deponi, ſed etiam excommunicari atque in æterno examine damnari decrevit, quis nos, Heinricum, non ſolum apoſtolicorum judiciorum contemptorem, verum etiam ipſius matris eccleſiæ, quantum in ipſo eſt, conculcatorem, totiusque regni & eccleſiæ improbiſſimum prædonem, & atrociſſimum deſtructorem, depoſuiſſe & excommunicaſſe reprehendit, niſi forte ſimilis ejus? Sic beato Petro hoc docente cognovimus in epiſtola de ordinatione Clementis, in qua ſic ait: Si quis amicus fuerit, his unus eſt & ipſe ex illis, qui eccleſiam Dei exterminare volet, & cum corpore nobiſcum videatur eſſe, mente & animo contra nos eſt, & eſt multo nequior hoſtis hic, quam illi qui foris ſunt & ſunt evidenter inimici. Hic igitur per amicitiarum ſpeciem, quæ inimica ſunt, gerit, & eccleſiam diſpergit & vaſtat. Nota ergo, dilectiſſime, quod eum, qui amicitia & colloquio his conjungitur, quibus Papa pro actibus ſuis averſus eſt, animadverſione damnat. Sed, ut ad rem redeamus, ita ne dignitas ſeculariſbus Deum etiam ignorantibus inventa non ſubjicietur ei dignitati, quam omnipotentis Dei prudentia ad honorem ſuum invenit, cujus filius ſicut Deus & homo indubitanter creditur, ita ſummus ſacerdos caput omnium ſacerdotum ad dexteram patris ſedens & pro nobis ſemper interpellans habetur, qui ſeculare regnum, unde filii ſeculi tument, deſpexit, & ad ſacerdotium crucis ſpontaneus venit? Quis neſciat reges & duces, ab his habuiſſe principium, qui Deum ignorantes, ſuperbia, rapinis, perfidia, homicidiis, poſtremo univerſis pene ſceleribus mundi principe videlicet Diabolo agitante ſuper pares ſeculi homines dominari cœca cupidine & intolerabili præſumptione affectaverint? Qui videlicet dum ſacerdotes Domini ad ſua veſtigia inclinare contendunt, cui rectius comparentur, quam ei qui eſt caput ſuper omnes filios ſuperbiæ? Qui ipſum ſummum pontificem ſacerdorum caput altiſſimi filium tentans ait: Hæc omnia tibi dabo, ſi procidens adoraveris me. Quis dubitet ſacerdotes vel regum & principum omniumque patres & magiſtros cenſeri? Nonne miſerabilis inſaniæ eſſe cognoſcitur, ſi filius patrem, diſcipulus magiſtrum ſibi conetur ſubjicere, a quo credit non ſolum in terra ſed etiam in cœlis ſe ligari poſſe & ſolvi? Hæc ſicut beatus Gregorius in epiſtola ad Mauritium Imperatorem directa commemorat, Conſtantinus M. Imperator omnium regum & principum fere totius orbis Dominus, intelligens, in ſancta Nycena ſynodo poſt omnes Epiſcopos ultimus reſidens, nullam judicii ſententiam dare voluit, ſed illos etiam Deos vocans, verum ſe ab illorum pendere judicio judicavit. Supradicto quoque Anaſtaſio imperatori prælibatus libatus Papa Gelaſius perſuadens, ne illam intimatam ſuis ſenſibus veritatem arbitraretur, injuriam ſubintulit, dicens: Duo ſunt, Imperator Auguſte, quibus principaliter hic mundus regitur, auctoritas ſancta pontificum & regalis poteſtas, in quibus tanto gravius eſt pondus ſacerdotum, quanto etiam pro ipſis regibus hominum in divino examine reddituri ſint rationem. Et paucis interpoſitis ait: Noſti itaque ab illorum te pendere judicio, non illos ad tuam velle redigi voluntatem. Talibus ergo inſtitutis, talibusque fulti auctoritatibus plerique pontificum, alii reges, alii imperatores excommunicaverunt. Nam ſi aliquod ſpeciale de perſonis principum requiratur exemplum, Beatus Innocentius Papa Archadium Imperatorem, quod conſenſit, ut S. Johannes Chriſoſtomus de ſua ſede pelleretur, excommunicavit. Alius item Romanus pontifex Zacharias Regem Francorum non tam pro ſuis iniquitatibus, quam pro eo, quod tantæ poteſtati non erat utilis a regno depoſuit, & Pipinum Caroli Magni Imperatoris patrem in ejus loco ſubſtituit, omnesque Francigenas a juramento fidelitatis abſolvit ac vinculo juramenti; quod & factum eſt, ab Epiſcopis, qui Apoſtolica auctoritate a Pontificiali gradu deponuntur. Et beatus Ambroſius, licet ſanctus, non tamen univerſalis eccleſiæ Epiſcopus pro culpa, quæ aliis ſacerdotibus non adeo gravis videbatur, Theodoſium magnum Imperatorem excommunicans, excluſit ab eccleſia. Qui etiam in ſcriptis ſuis oſtendit, quod aurum non tam pretioſius ſit plumbo, quam regia dignitate ſit altior dignitas ſacerdotalis, hoc modo circa principium ſui Paſtoralis ſcribens: Honor, fratres, & ſublimitas Epiſcopalis nullis poterit comparationibus adæquari, ſi regnum fulgori compares; quippe cum videas regum colla & principum ſubmitti genibus ſacerdotum, & exoſculata eorum dextera orationibus eorum credant ſe communiri. Et poſt pauca: Hæc cuncta, fratres, ideo nos præmiſiſſe debetis cognoſcere, ut oſtenderemus, nihil eſſe in hoc ſeculo excellentius ſacerdotibus, nihil ſublimius Epiſcopis reperiri. Meminiſſe etiam debet fraternitas tua, quia major poteſtas exorciſtæ committitur, cum ſpecialiter ad dæmones abjiciendos conſtituitur, quam alicui laicorum ſecularis dominationis tribui poſſit. Omnibus nempe regibus & principibus terræ, qui religioſe non vivunt, & in actibus ſuis, ut opinor, Deum non metuunt, dæmones, heu prohdolor, dominantur, & miſera eos ſervitute confundent. Tales igitur non divino ducti amore, ſicut religioſi ſacerdotes, ad honorem Dei & utilitatem animarum præeſſe cupiunt, ſed ut intolerabilem ſuperbiam ſuam oſtentent, animique libidinem expleant, cæteris dominari affectant. De quibus beatus Auguſtinus in libro primo de doctrina Chriſtiana dicit: Cum vero etiam eis, qui ſibi naturaliter pares ſunt, hoc eſt, omnibus, quilibet affectat dominari, intolerabilis omnino ſuperbiæ eſt. Porro autem cum exorciſta, ut diximus, ſuper dæmones a Deo imperium habeat, quanto magis ſuper eos, qui dæmonibus ſunt ſubjecti & membra ſunt dæmonum? Si ergo his tantum præminent exorciſtæ, quanto magis ſacerdotes? Propterea omnis Rex Chriſtianus ad exitum veniens, ut inferni carcerem evadat, ut de tenebris in lucem tendat, ut de peccatorum vinculis in judicio Dei abſolutus appareat, ſacerdotis opem ſupplex & miſerandus requirit. Quis autem non modo ſacerdotum, verum & laicorum & in extremis poſitus pro animæ ſalute terreni regis imploravit auxilium? Quis vero regum vel imperatorum aliquem Chriſtianum, ex impoſito ſibi officio, valet ex diaboli poteſtate eripere, & inter filios Dei connumerare, ſacroque chriſmate communire? Et quod maximum eſt in chriſtiana relligione, quis eorum valet in proprio ore corpus & ſanguinem Domini conficere? Cui eorum data eſt poteſtas ligandi, & ſolvendi in cœlo & in terra? Ex quibus aperte colligitur, quanta præcellat poteſtate dignitas ſacerdotum. Aut quis eorum poteſt aliquem clericum ordinare in ſancta eccleſia, quanto minus pro aliqua re deponere? Namque in eccleſiaſticis ordinibus majoris eſt poteſtatis deponere, quam ordinare. Epiſcopi nunc poſſunt alios Epiſcopos ordinare, ſed nullo modo ſine auctoritate apoſtolicæ ſedis deponere: Quis igitur vel tenuiter ſciolus epiſcopos vel ſacerdotes timeat anteferre? Quod ſi reges pro peccatis ſuis a ſacerdotibus ſint judicandi, a quo rectius quam a Romano Pontifice judicari debent? Ad ſummam, quoslibet bonos chriſtianos multo convenientius, quam malos principes & reges intelligi decet. Iſti igitur gloriam Dei quærendo ſemetipſos ſtrenue regunt, at illi non quæ Dei ſunt, ſed ſua quærentes, ſibimet hoſtes, alios tyrannice obprimunt; hi veri regis Chriſti, hi vero diaboli corpus ſunt. Iſti ad hoc ſibi imperant, ut cum ſummo imperatore æternaliter regnent; illorum vero perverſitas id agit, ut cum tenebrarum principe, qui eſt Rex ſuper filios ſuperbiæ, æterna damnatione pereant. Nec valde ſane mirandum eſt, quod mali Pontifices iniquo regi, quem adeptis male per eum honoribus diligunt metuuntque conſentiunt, qui ſymoniace quoslibet ordinando Deum & pro vili pretio vendit. Nam ſicut electi inſolubiliter ſuo capiti innituntur, ita & reprobi, maxime contra bonos, ei qui maliciæ caput eſt, pertinaciter fœderantur, contra quos profecto non tam differendum, quam pro eis lacrimoſis planctibus ingemiſcendum, ut omnipotens Deus illos a laqueis ſatanæ, quibus captivi tenentur, eripiat, & tandem aliquando vel poſt pericula ad agnitionem veritatis perducat. Hæc de Regibus & Imperatoribus, qui ſeculari potentia nimium tumidi, non Deo, ſed ſibi regnant. Sed quia noſtri eſt officii, unicuique ſecundum ordinem vel dignitatem, qua videtur vigere, exhortationem diſtribuere, Imperatoribus, Regibusque ceteris principibus, ut elationes maris & ſuperbiæ fluctus opprimere valeant, arma humilitatis, Deo auctore, providere curavimus. Scimus etenim, quod mundana gloria & ſecularis cura eos permaxime, qui qui præſunt, ad elationem pertrahere ſolet, quod ſemper neglecta humilitate, propriam quærendo gloriam, fratribus cupiunt præminere. Proinde videtur utile maxime Imperatoribus & Regibus, ut, cum mens eorum ſe ad alta erigere, & pro ſingulari vult gloria oblectare, inveniat, quibus ſe modis humiliet, atque unde gaudebat, ſentiat ſe plus timidum. Proſpiciat ergo diligenter, quam periculoſa, quamque timenda imperatoria vel regia dignitas, in qua pauciſſimi ſalvantur, & illi qui, Deo miſerante, ad ſalutem veniunt, non æque, ut multi pauperum, judicio ſancti Epiſcopi in ſancta eccleſia clarificantur. A mundi igitur principio usque ad hæc noſtra tempora in tota autentica ſcriptura, non invenimus ſeptem imperatores vel reges, quorum vita adeo fuit relligione & præcipuarum virtutum ſignis decorata, ſicut innumerabilis multitudinis ſeculi contemptorum, licet eos plures apud omnipotentem Deum minime ſalutem invenisſe credamus. Namq; ut de apoſtolis, & martyribus taceamus, quis imperator vel regum æque ut Martinus, Antonius, Benedictus, miraculis claruit? Quis imperatorum vel regum mortuos ſuſcitavit, leproſos mundavit, cœcos illuminavit? Ecce, Conſtantinum piæ memoriæ imperatorem, Theodoſium, Honorium, Carolum & Ludewicum, juſtitiæ amatores, chriſtianæ religionis cultores, eccleſiarum defenſores, ſacra quidem eccleſia laudat & veneratur, non tamen eos tanta miraculorum gloria indicat. Præterea ad quæ nomina regum vel imperatorum baſilicas ſive altaria dedicari vel ad honorem ſancta eccleſia miſſas ſtatuit celebrari? Timeant reges aliique principes, ne quanto ſe ceteris hominibus in hac vita præferri gaudent, tanto amplius æternis incendiis ſubjiciantur. Unde ſcriptum eſt: Potentes potenter tormenta pacientur. De tot igitur hominibus ſunt reddituri rationem, quot ſuæ dominationi ſubditos habuerunt. Quod ſi alicui relligioſo privato non parvus labor eſt, unam animam ſuam cuſtodire, quantus labor inminet principibus ſuper multis millibus animarum? Præterea ſi judicium ſanctæ eccleſiæ valde conſtringit hominem peccatorem pro unius hominis interfectione, quid erit de hoc, qui multa millia morti tradet pro mundi hujus honore? Qui licet ore aliquando dicant: mea culpa pro multorum interfectione; tamen in corde gaudent, quaſi in ſui honoris extenſione, nollentque non feciſſe, quod egerunt, nec dolent, quod fratres ſuos in tartarum compulerunt. Cumque ex toto corde ſuo non pœnitet eos, neque volent humano ſanguine acquiſita vel detenta omittere, illorum pœnitentia apud Dominum ſine digno fructu pœnitentiæ manet. Unde profecto valde eſt timendum atque ad memoriam eorum crebro revocandum, quod ſicut præfati ſumus, a mundi principio pauciſſimi per diverſa terrarum regna reges ſancti ex innumerabili eorum multitudine reperiuntur, cum in una tamen Pontificum ſeriatim ſuccedentium ſede Romana a tempore beati Petri apoſtoli, ferme centum inter ſanctiſſimos computentur. Cur autem hoc? nonne quod reges terræ, & principes vana gloria illecti, ſicut prælibatum eſt, quæ ſua ſunt, ſpiritualibus præferunt, relligioſi autem Pontifices, vanam gloriam deſpicientes, quæ Dei ſunt carnalibus præponunt? Illi in ſe delinquentes facile puniunt, in Deum peccantes æquo animo ferunt. Iſti in ſe peccantibus cito ignoſcunt, Deum offendentibus non leviter parcunt. Illi terrenis actibus nimium dediti, ſpiritualia parvipendent, iſti cœleſtia meditantes, quæ ſunt terrena contemnunt. Admonendi ergo ſunt omnes Chriſtiani, qui cum regno regnare cupiunt, ne ambitione ſecularis poteſtatis regnare affectent, ſed potius ante oculos habeant quod beatus Gregorius in libro Paſtorali ammonet, dicens: Inter hæc itaq; quid ſequendum, quid tenendum eſt, niſi ut virtutibus pollens coactus ad regnum veniat, virtutibus vacuus nec coactus accedat? Quid ſi ad apoſtolicam ſedem, in qua rite ordinati meritis S. Petri meliores efficiuntur, qui Deum timent, cum magno timore veniunt; ad ſolium regni cum quanto timore ac tremore accedendum eſt, in quo etiam boni & humiles, ſicut in Saul & David cognoſcitur, fuerint deteriores? Nam quod de ſede apoſtolica prælibavimus, in beati Symachi papæ decretis, licet experimento ſciamus, ſic continetur: Ille ſcilicet beatus Petrus meritorum dotem perennem cum hereditate innocentiæ miſit ad poſteros. Et poſt pauca: Quis igitur ſanctum eſſe dubitet, quem apex tantæ dignitatis attollit; in quo, ſi deſunt bona, acquiſita per meritum ſufficiunt, quæ a loci prædeceſſore præſtantur. Aut etenim claros ad hæc faſtigia erigit, aut eos, qui eriguntur, illuſtrat. Quapropter, quos ſancta eccleſia ſua ſponte ad regimen eccleſiæ vel imperium evocat, deliberato conſilio, iis non pro tranſitoria gloria, ſed pro multorum ſalute humiliter obediant, & ſemper caveant, quod beatus Gregorius in libro Paſtorali teſtatur: Apoſtata quippe angelo ſimilis efficitur, dum homo homini ſimilis eſſe dedignatur. Sic Saul, poſt humilitatis meritum, per tumorem ſuperbiæ culmine poteſtatis, excidit. Per humilitatem quippe prælatus, per ſuperbiam vero reprobatus eſt, Domino atteſtante, qui ait: Nonne cum eſſes parvulus in oculis tuis, caput te conſtitui in tribubus Iſrael? Miro autem modo cum apud ſe magnus apparuit, apud Deum parvulus fuit. Vigilanter quoque retineant, quod Dominus in evangelio ait: Ego gloriam meam non quæro, & qui vult inter vos primus eſſe, ſit omnium ſervus. Honorem Dei ſemper præponant, juſtitiamq; unicuique ſuum jus ſervando, amplectantur, atque cuſtodiant, ſanctam eccleſiam non quærant ſicut ancillam ſibi ſubjicere vel ſubjugare, ſed maxime oculos illius, videlicet Domini ſacerdotes, magiſtros & patres recognoſcendo ſtudeant honorare. Nam ſi carnales patres & matres jubemur honorare: quanto magis ſpirituales? Et ſi ille, qui carnali patri vel matri maledixerit morte multandus eſt, quid ille, qui maledicit patri vel matri ſpirituali, meretur? Non carnali amore illecti ſtudeant filium ſuum gregi, gregi, pro quo Christus sanguinem suum fudit, præponere, si meliorem illo & utiliorem possunt invenire, ne plus Deo diligendo filium, maximum sanctæ ecclesiæ inferant detrimentum. Patenter itaque Deum & proximum, sicut Christianum, non amare convincitur, qui * tantæ voluntati tamque necessariæ esse sanctæ Matri ecclesiæ, prout melius potest, negligenter providere. Hac namque virtute & caritate neglecta, quicquid boni aliquis fecerit, omni salutis fructu carebit. Hæc igitur humiliter agendo, & amorem Dei & proximi sicut oportet servando, præsumant de illius misericordia qui dixit: Discite a me, quia mitis sum & h. c. Quem si humiliter imitati fuerint, de regno servili & transitorio ad regnum veræ libertatis & æternitatis transibunt. His igitur armis nostris, quibus se reges aliique principes contra superbiam & vanam gloriam muniant, comparatis, si æternitatem tuam, & eos, qui prædicationis locum in sancta ecclesia tenent, paucis commonere censuimus, ut inter alia, quæ debentur, veritatem fere ab omnibus neglectam, cujus propugnatores & defensores vix pauciſſimi reperiuntur, firmiter tenere, & constanter denunciare studeatis, perpendentes quod beatus Gregorius in libro Moralium dicit exponens capitulum illud: Qui timent pruinam, irruet super eos nix. Sæpe, inquit, nonnulli, dum temporalia adversa pertimescunt, districtioni se æternæ animadversionis objiciunt. De quibus bene per Psalmistam dicitur: Illic trepida &c. Iste namque veritatem jam libere defendere appetit, sed in ipso suo appetitu trepidus indignationem potestatis humanæ pertimescit. Cumque intra hominem contra veritatem pavet, ejusdem veritas iram cœlitus sustinet. Item in Pastorali de eodem per Salemonem dicitur: Qui abscondit frumenta, maledicitur in publicis. Frumenta abscondere est prædicationis verba apud se retinere. In publicis autem talis quisque maledicitur, quia in solius culpa silentii pro multorum, quos corrigere potuit, pœna damnatur. Si medicinalis artis ignari minime secandum vulnus cernerent, & secare recusarent, profecto peccatum fraternæ mortis ex solo torpore committerent. Quanta ergo involvantur culpa, aspiciunt, qui dum cognoscunt vulnera mentium, curare negligunt sectione verborum. Unde & bene per Prophetam dicitur: Maledictus, qui gladium suum prohibet a sanguine. Gladium quippe a sanguine prohibere est, prædicationis verbum a carnalis vitæ interfectione retinere. Et paulo post inferius: Si ergo ille Dei dicitur, qui ad ferienda vitia zelo divini amoris exuritur, profecto esse se Dei denegat, qui, quantum sufficit, increpare vitam carnalium recusat. Cum ergo periculum vestrum, sicut ex his colligitis, vos oporteat sollicite cogitare, maximeque vigilanter cavere, tum & subditos & proximos vestros, qui corrigendi sunt, ammonere, eisque ipsorum periculum, si obedire contempnant, diligenter debetis ostendere. Unde idem beatus Gregorius super illo capitulo, melior est, obedientia, quam victima, & auscultare magis, quam offerre adipem arietum; quoniam quasi peccatum ariolandi est repugnare, & quasi scelus idolatriæ, nolle acquiescere. In ultimo libro moralium Job sic demum argumentatur: Si igitur quasi peccatum ariolandi est repugnare, sola est obedientia quæ fidei meritum possidet, qua sine infidelis quisque cognoscitur, etiamsi fidelis esse videatur. Pensate ergo, dilectissimi, pensate, quæ superius digesta sunt, &, si non, quod peccator Gregorius vobis scribit, vel quod Gregorius ille sanctissimus olim differuit in memoria semper habere, ac maxime, ne veritatis occultatio vos damnet, procurare, vel proximos inobedientia, quam pernitiosa sit, ignorantes interimat, sed & vos aperta confessio veritatis & constans testificatio justitiæque defensio comprobet esse pastores, & proximi per vos edocti & ammoniti, viam salutis tenere valeant obedientes.

Epistola ejusdem, cujus supra.

G. Episcopus servus servorum Christi dilectæ in Christo filiæ Mathildi salutem & apostolicam benedictionem. Quanta sit mihi cura, quantaque incessanter de te tuaque re sollicitudo, ipse solus qui cordis arcana rimatur intelligit, & multo melius me ipso agnoscit. Tu tamen si pensare non negligis, ut reor, animadvertis, quod pro tantis tui curam me oportet habere, quantis pro caritatis studio te detinui, ne illos desereres, ut tuæ solius animæ provideres. Caritas igitur, ut sæpe dixi & dicam, sequens cœlestem tubam, non, quæ sua sunt, quærit. Sed, quod inter cætera, quæ tibi contra principem mundi arma, Deo favente, contuli, quod potissimum est, ut corpus Domini, cum frequenter acciperes, indicavi, & ut certæ fiduciæ matris Domini omnino te committeres, præcepi. Quid etiam beatus Gregorius, vel Ambrosius videlicet de sumendo corpore senserint, his literis intimavi. Ait igitur in libro quarto, de sacramentis inter cætera: Si mortem Domini annuntiamus in remissionem peccatorum, si quotiescunque effunditur corpus vel sanguis Domini, in remissionem peccatorum funditur, debeo semper illud accipere, ut semper mihi peccata dimittantur. Qui semper pecco, semper debeo habere medicinam. Item ipse Ambrosius in libro quinto de Sacramentis: Si quotidianus est panis, cur post annum illum sumas? Quemadmodum Græci in oriente consueverunt facere, accipe, quotidie merearis accipere. Quomodo Job scilicet quotidie pro filiis offerebat sacrificium, ne forte aliquid vel in corde vel in sermone peccassent. Ergo tu audis, quod quotiescunque offertur sacrificium, mors Domini, resurrectio Domini significetur, & remissio peccatorum. Et panem istum vitæ non quotidie assumis? Qui vulnus habet, medicinam requirit. Vulnus est, quod sub peccato sumus, medicina est cœleste & venerabile mysterium. Item Gregorius in libro quarto dialogorum: Debemus itaque præsens seculum, vel quia conspicimus defluxisse, tota mente contempnere, quotidiana Deo ſacrificia lacrimarum, quotidianas carnis ejus & ſanguinis hoſtias inmolare. Hæc namque ſingulariter victima ab æterno interitu animam ſalvat, quæ illam nobis mortem unigeniti per myſterium reparat. Qui licet ſurgens a mortuis jam non moritur, & mors illi ultra non dominabitur, tamen in ſe ipſo inmortaliter atque incorruptibiliter vivens, pro nobis iterum in myſterio ſacro oblationis inmolatur. Ejus quippe corpus ibi ſumitur, ejus caro in ſalute populi patitur, ejus ſanguis non jam in manus infidelium, ſed in ora fidelium funditur. Hinc ergo penſemus, quale ſit pro nobis hoc ſacrificium, quod pro abſolutione noſtra paſſionem unigeniti filii ſemper imitatur. Quis itaque fidelium habere dubium poſſit in ipſa inmolationis hora, ad ſacerdotis vocem cœlos aperiri, in illo Jeſu Chriſti myſterio angelorum choros adeſſe, ſummis ima ſociari, terram cœleſtibus jungi, unum quid ex viſibilibus & inviſibilibus fieri? Item Johannes Chryſoſtomus patriarcha ad Neophytos: Videte quemadmodum ſponſam ſibi Chriſtus ſociavit: Videte quo vos cibo ſatiatos enutrit. Ipſe nobis cibi ſubſtantia eſt ad nutrimentum. Nam ſicut mulier affectionis natura cogente genitum alere, ſui lactis fœcunditate feſtinat, ſic & Chriſtus, quos ipſe genuerat ſuo ſanguine ſemper enutrit. Etenim, ut idem Johannes ſcribit ad Theodorum monachum: Lubricum eſt genus natura mortalis, citò quid labitur, ſed ſero reparatur, & ut facile cadit ita & velociter ſurgit. Debemus, o filia, hoc ſingulare appetere medicamentum. Hæc ideo, Dilectiſſima beati Petri filia, ſcribere procuravi, ut fides tibi ac fiducia in accipiendo corpus Domini major accreſcat. Talem quippe theſaurum, taliaque dona, non aurum, non lapides pretioſos, amore patris tui cœlorum videlicet principis a me tua requirit anima, licet ab aliis ſacerdotibus longe meliora, meritis accipere poſſit. De matre vero Domini, cui te principaliter commiſi & committo, & nunquam committere, quo usque illam videamus, ut cupimus, omittam. Quid dicam? quam, licet cœlum & terra laudare, ut meretur, nequeant, non ceſſant, hoc tamen procul dubio teneas, quia quanto altior & melior ac ſanctior eſt, omni matre, tanto clementior & dulcior circa converſos peccatores, & peccatrices. Pone itaque finem in voluntate peccandi & proſtrata coram illa ex corde contrito & humiliato lacrimas effunde. Invenies illam, indubitanter promitto, promptiorem carnali matre, ac mitiorem intuitu, dilectione.

E. Sanctæ Trevirenſis eccleſiæ patri reverendiſſimo unanimiter electo, canonice admiſſo T. Dei gratia id quod eſt, debitam dilectionem, ex dilectione ſubjectionem, ex ſubjectione ſervitutem, ex ſervitute intimam, in omnibus ſervata ratione, devotionem. Teſte conſcientia, teſte & illo qui omnia novit, nemo eſt qui dignitati veſtræ melius velit, nemo qui unanimi veſtræ electioni magis applauſerit, nemo, inquam, qui de tam jucunda patris ad filium, prælati ad ſubditum, affinitate rationabiliter incepta rationabilius finienda, majorem fiduciam conſilii & auxilii ſibi aſſumpſerit. Fateor me in omnibus vobis & eccleſiæ Trevirenſi debitorem eſſe, utpote quem elegi & laudavi mihi in dulciſſimum patrem; imo quod Trevirenſem eccleſiam ſemper habui & habiturus ſum vita ſuperſtite in dulciſſimam matrem. Eccleſia Virdunenſis eccleſiam Trevirenſem ut filia matrem digna dilectione, debita ſubjectione amplectitur, ut ſubjecta prælatam veneratur. Membrum igitur capiti ſuo connexum proficit, diviſum omnino deficit. Legati veſtri, frater, Archidiaconus, miles H. monuerunt me, ut Treverim venirem, obedientiam vobis & eccleſiæ perſolverem, ordinationi veſtræ intereſſem. Conſecrationem veſtram in tanta omnium neceſſitate non modo vobis, ſed nobis, qui affligimur, qui anguſtiamur, valde neceſſariam ulterius non differrem; tam juſtæ, tam ſaluberrimæ monitioni non moram, non difficultatem aliquam prætendiſſem, ſi in hoc tum meam veſtram ſalutem non adtendiſſem, ſi non benedictionem pro maledictione, conſecrationem pro execratione, ordinationem pro depoſitione hoc tempore reputaſſem. Quod igitur maximo cum dolore vobis refero ab ordine ſuſpenſum vos ordinare periculoſum eſſet, ut miſerabilius dicam, execratum de conſecratione veſtra præſumere pernitioſum eſſet. Conſilio meorum ſatis importuno ut teſte Deo mihi contrario in Pentecoſten veni ad curiam, terribiliter adſtrictus, multipliciter coactus ſum ibi agere contra ordinem, contra ſalutem meam, imo contra dignitatem eccleſiaſticam; abrenuntiavi ſedenti in ſede apoſtolica, & hoc ſine ratione aliqua, cum præſens non audiretur, auditus diſcuteretur, diſcuſſus convinceretur. Abrenuntiavi illi, cui in examine meæ ordinationis profeſſus fueram obedientiam, cui ſubjectionem pollicitus eram, cui poſt beatum Petrum ſuſcepto regimine mihi commiſſæ eccleſiæ commiſſus fueram. Reverſum ſolito gravius eccleſia me ſuſcepit, uſitatum proceſſionis ordinem non exhibuit, &, quod miſerabilius eſt, oſculum pacis non obtulit, quod infelicius propter auditam tam temere abrenuntiationem, & inauditam prius tantam temeritatem, non modo ab epiſcopali, ſed a ſacerdotali officio, ſub oſtentatione meæ ſalutis & mei ordinis ſaluberrimo conſilio usque ad dignam beato Petro & vicario ejus ſatisfactionem me ſubmovit. Hoc me impedit, hoc in Chriſto Jeſu ordinationi veſtræ me ſubtraxit. Quodſi alius pro voluntate veſtra & petitione, Tullenſis videlicet vel quivis vicem noſtram ſuppleverit, non indignor nec adverſor, neq; rationabiliter ordinanti improperabo, neque in aliquo detraham rationabiliter ordinato. Adhuc vobiſcum agam familiarius, ut cum patre filius, ut cum prælato ſubjectus, ut cum amico nemo jucundior amicus, cum conſanguineo proximus admodum conſanguineus. Hoc tempore tribulationis tionis in hoc ſchiſmate eccleſiaſticæ dignitatis, hoc errore apoſtolicæ ſedis, videndum eſt, quomodo ordinari velitis in examinatione ordinis, cui promiſſionem, cui obedientiam, cui dignam ſubjectionem vovere debeatis. Hoc per abrenuntiationem noſtram expulſo, alio per legitimam electionem nondum recollocato. Non hoc dico, ut voluntati veſtræ contradicam, ut ordinationem impediam, ut promotionem ſuſpendam, cum pro caritate & paternitate veſtra paratus ſim ultro offerre corpus, & animam. Aperiat Dominus cor veſtrum in lege ſua & in præceptis ſuis, & in præſenti cauſa.

Epiſtola Diderici Virdunenſis Epiſcopi contra Hildebrandum Papam.

Dilectis in Chriſto fratribus, & Dominis Archiepiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Ducibus, Marchionibus, Comitibus, Principibus Romani Imperii, majoribus, & minoribus, clero & populo, ſanctæ eccleſiæ cultoribus T. Virdunenſis, id quod eſt Dei gratia, fraternam dilectionem, debitam ſervitutem, & perpetuam in Domino ſalutem. Regni noſtri perturbatio, &, ut verius dicam, niſi Deus avertat, prima nimis anullatio in maximum dolorem nos excitat, in lacrimas vocat, in miſerabilem querimoniam coram Deo & hominibus nos convertit. Hildebrandus, qui dicebatur caput, jam cauda eccleſiæ, qui fundamentum, jam detrimentum eſt eccleſiæ, qui decus jam dedecus eſt eccleſiæ: hic diſpergit, qui dicebatur congregare: hic eccleſiam odit, qui dicebatur diligere: jam usque ad omnimodam hæreſim infirmat, qui dicebatur ſanctam eccleſiam confirmare. O inaudita arrogantia hominis, ſupra omnem gloriam de ſe gloriantis, ſupra omnem malitiam male agentis, unitatem eccleſiæ ſcindentis, quod inauditum eſt, regnum & regem catholicum deſtruere præſumentis, impios juſtificantis, pios injuſte damnantis, decreta patrum pervertentis, regem adulterinum extollentis, regem liberum & legitimum & cum memoria nominis regii extinguere meditantis & minantis. O temporibus noſtris nunquam audita hæreſis. Perjuria fidelitates dicit, fidem ſacrilegium facit; imo quia ab initio pater ejus mendax fuit, per omnia mentitur, & in omnibus veritati contradicit. Videat Deus & judicet, videte vos, judicate. Hominem impium, hominem abhominatum, membra eccleſiæ ſubvertentem, caput nobis faceremus? Nos omni eccleſiaſtico honore deſtituentem patrem nobis conſtitueremus? Vita ſua accuſat illum, perverſitas damnat, obſtinatio malitiæ illum anathematizat. In qua re vobiſcum eſſe, vobiscum facere, vobiſcum laborem ſubire, aſſenſus, conſilium, & auxilium noſtrum non recuſat. De eligendo autem ſummo Pontifice, qui errata corrigat, qui deſtituta reſtituat, qui hujusmodi fortia confundat, Deo cooperante vobiſcum operabimur, Deo conſentiente vobiscum ſentiemus, & pro honore eccleſiæ & pro recuperatione regis & regni in nullo vobis deerimus.

Item Epiſtola Egilberti Trevirenſis Archiepiſcopi contra quem ſupra.

Patribus non fratribus, Dominis, non amicis Egilbertus deſignatus Epiſcopus Trevirenſis eccleſiæ devotiſſimas in Chriſto orationes. Ferre ſententiam contra apoſtolicum non eſt tutum imo inſanum, & omnino nefarium aliquid audere in illum, qui in vice ſancti Petri fungitur legatione ipſius Chriſti. Iſte autem, qui invaſit ſedem apoſtolicam, qui inaudita laudatione effertur, qui profanis novitatibus ſtudet, amplo nomine delectatur, quem neque Chriſtianum appellarem, quia non habet Chriſti characterem & pacem, & caritatem, quam Chriſtus ſuis militibus impreſſit, qua Chriſtus ſuos notavit, non occurrere contra hunc, non inſurgere contra hunc, magnum ſanctæ matris eccleſiæ eſt periculum, & plane contra Deum. Quis itaque neſcit ex hoc quaſi fonte omnis diſſenſionis & capite omnis ſchismatis excluſa pace eccleſiæ diſcordiam totius mundi emerſiſſe? Quis, inquam, non videt per hunc quaſi ſigniferum tantum ſanguinem mundi effuſum? De multis rationibus, qui non ſequitur Chriſtum nequeo vere appellare Chriſtianum, ita certe nec Papam, quem video totiens & tam manifeſtum homicidam. En bonus & ſanctus Papa, cujus conſiliis, cujus inſtinctu & ductu membra Chriſti tot & tam perditis modis ſunt dilacerata. En bonus paſtor, qui in illos tanta crudelitate graſſatur, pro quibus Chriſtus in cruce pependit, quos ipſe proprio ſanguine redemit. En verus Pontifex & verus ſacerdos, qui dubitat, ſi illud quod ſumitur in dominica menſa, ſit verum corpus & ſanguis Chriſti. Nihil certe ita eſt impium & nefarium, nihil ita eſt deteſtabile & execrabile, quod ipſe non curet, dum alios contra regem armet, dum alios ad bellum, quod ipſe omnibus intendit, excitet. Inter has multiplices calamitates & miſerias, quas patitur & conqueritur ſancta eccleſia, mihi quoque illa eſt ab eo tam ſuperba quam violenta injuria. Cum igitur Treveris pari conſenſu tam cleri quam plebis eſſem electus Epiſcopus, etiam eo non impediente, nullam culpam obtendente, fere per biennium conſecrationem habere non potui, omnibus ejusdem eccleſiæ filiis & ſuffraganeis intercedentibus, & inuſitatam ſuæ metropolis viduitatem, multum querentibus. Nihil etiam profuit ſincerus introitus & legitima electio, nihil valuit apud illum conſona auctoritas Epiſcoporum, & ſtudioſa loci interceſſio. Ut taceam mea, ut prætermittam privata, quam malus & non purus introitus ejus, qui minatus eſt, pervenit ad perditiſſima exempla, ne plus per hoc ſancta, quæ vix modo trahit extremum ſpiritum, periclitetur eccleſia, ex me dico, quod nullam ejus obedientiam poſt hinc ſervabo, neque meo judicio amplius ſedebit in loco & in vice ſancti Petri, quem ipſe non ſequitur, obſtupenda abuſione novitatis ſuæ, & inauditi decreti.

Epiſtola Henrici Spirenſis Epiſcopi contra quem ſupra.

In Domino Dominorum diligendis Archiepiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Marchionibus, Comitibus nec non & totius Longobardiæ tam minoribus quam majoribus H. Spirenſis Epiſcopus ſervitutem & orationem. Super regni perturbatione regiæque poteſtatis derogatione, nec non etiam ſuper vacillante ſtatu eccleſiæ, non minus ego dolens quam cæteri principes regni, decrevimus Moguntiæ inire conſilium, ſi fieri poſſit, ut regni perturbatio ſedetur, regia poteſtas redintegretur, & eccleſiæ, ne omnino naufragium patiatur, ſuccurramus. Quonam autem modo hoc fieri poſſit, excogitare nequivimus, niſi caput peſtiferæ ſerpentis penitus abſcideretur, cujus venenoſo afflatu hæc exorta hactenus intumuerunt. Manente vero cauſa efficiente quomodo poterit effectus extirpari? Quo inito conſilio tam primates quam minores firmiter fideliterque decrevimus, ut Hildebrandus ille ſedis ſubdolus apoſtolicæ invaſor, divinarum humanarumque legum execrabilis perturbator, Deo opitulante omnimodis abdicetur, aliusque in ſedem apoſtolicam eligatur, qui diſperſa colligat, confracta conſolidet, non diſcordiam, non bella, ſed pacem in ſancta eccleſia deſideret. Nec ab hoc negotio perficiendo ſtrenuitatem veſtram abſterreat, quod prius in ſimili conſilio nos portum tenentes, periculoſæ procellarum jactationi vos commiſimus; ſed potius viriliter agite & confortetur cor veſtrum, qui ſperatis in Domino, pro certo ſcientes, levius extorqueri clavam de manu Herculis, quam in præſenti negotio divellamur, vita comite, a vobis.

Cum primum eccleſiæ gubernaculum invaſiſſes, etſi bene nobis cognitum eſſet, quam illicitam & nefariam rem contra jus & fas familiari tibi arrogantia præſumpſiſſes; diſſimulanda tamen diſpenſatoria quadam taciturnitate, tam vitioſa introitus tui exordia putavimus, ſperantes videlicet tam criminoſa principia conſequentis regiminis tui probitate & induſtria emenda, & aliquatenus oblitteranda. Verum nec, ut lamentabilis univerſalis eccleſiæ ſtatus clamat & deplorat, malis initiis tuis pejores actionum decretorumque tuorum progreſſus infelici tenore & pertinacia reſpondent. Cum igitur Dominus & redemptor noſter pacis & caritatis bonum quaſi ſingularem fidelibus ſuis caracterem impreſſerit, cujus teſtimonia plura extant, quam ut epiſtolari brevitate comprehendi valeant, tu econtrario dum profanis ſtudes novitatibus, dum magis amplo quam bono nomine delectaris, dum inaudita elatione oſtenderis velut quidam ſignifer ſciſmatis, omnia membra eccleſiæ quæ ſecundum apoſtolum vitam quietam & tranquillam ante hæc tua tempora agebant, ſuperba crudelitate, crudelique ſuperbia laceraſti, flammasque diſcordiæ in Romana eccleſia diris factionibus excitaſti, quas per omnes eccleſias Italiæ, Germaniæ & Hiſpaniæ ferali dementia ſparſiſti. Sublata igitur, quantum in te fuit, omni poteſtate ab Epiſcopis, quæ eis divinitus per gratiam ſpiritus ſancti, qui maxime in ordinationibus operatur, collata eſſe dinoſcitur, omnique rerum eccleſiaſticarum adminiſtratione, plebejo furori per te attributa, dum nemo jam alicui Epiſcopus aut presbiter eſt, niſi qui hoc indigniſſima aſſentatione a faſtu tuo emendicavit, omnem apoſtolicæ inſtitutionis vigorem, illamque pulcherrimam membrorum Chriſti diſtributionem, quam doctor gentium totiens commendat, & inculcat, miſerabili confuſione miſcuiſti; ſic quoque per hæc tua glorioſa decreta, quod ſine lacrymis dici non poteſt, Chriſti fere nomen periit. Quis autem pro indignitate rei non ſtupeat, quod novam quandam indebitamque potentiam tibi uſurpando arrogas, ut debita univerſæ fraternitati jura deſtruas? Aſſeris igitur, cujuscunque noſtrum parrochiani aliquid delictum vel ſola fama ad te perveniat, ultra jam non habere quemquam noſtrum aliquam poteſtatem vel ligandi eum vel ſolvendi præter te ſolum, aut eum quem tu ſpecialiter ad hoc delegeris. Quæ ſententia, quam omnem inſaniam excedat, quis in ſacris literis eruditus non videat? Quia ergo per hos aliosque præſumptionum tuarum ſpecies eccleſiam Dei tam graviter periclitantem, imo fere peſſundatam diutius tolerare, omni malo deterius judicavimus; placuit, ut communi omnium noſtrum conſilio tibi, quod hactenus tacuimus, innoteſcat, quam ob rem nec modo poſſis, nec unquam potueris ſedi apoſtolicæ præeſſe. Tu ipſe bonæ memoriæ Heinrico Imperatori te ipſum corporali ſacramento obſtrinxiſti, quod nunquam vivente ipſo Imperatore, aut filio ejus glorioſo Domino noſtro Rege, qui modo ſummæ rerum præeſt, Papatum aut ipſe ſuſciperes, aut alium quantum in te eſſet ſuſcipere patereris, absque aſſenſu vel laudamento patris, dum viveret. Atque hujus ſacramenti ſunt hodie teſtes, plerique Epiſcopi, qui hoc tunc & oculis videre & auribus audivere. Illud etiam recordare, quomodo tu, aliquos ex Cardinalibus cum ambitio papatus titillaret, ad tollendam æmulationem, hac occaſione & conditione, ut ipſi hoc idem facerent, ſacramento te obligaſti, quod nunquam Papatum habiturus eſſes. Utraque hæc ſacramenta, quam ſancte ſervaveris, tu ipſe videris. Præterea cum tempore Nycolai Papæ Synodus celebraretur, in qua capite vigeſimo quinto Epiſcopi conſiderant, ſuo anathemate ſtatutum & decretum eſt, ut nullus unquam Papa fieret, niſi per electionem Cardinalium & approbationem populi & per conſenſum & auctoritatem regis. Atque hujus conſilii ſeu decreti, tu ipſe auctor, perſuaſor ſubſcriptorque fuiſti. Qui etiam quaſi fœtore quodam graviſſimi ſcandali totam eccleſiam repleſti de convictu & cohabitatione alienæ mulieris familiariori, quam neceſſe ſit. In qua re verecundia noſtra magis, quam cauſa laborat, quam vis hæc generalis querela unicuique perſonuerit, omnia judicia, omnia decreta per fœminas in ſede apoſtolica actitari, denique per fœminas totum orbem eccleſiæ adminiſtrari. Nam de injuriis Epiſcoporum, & contumeliis, quos filios meretricum & cetera idgenus indigniſſime appellas, nulla querimonia ſufficit. Quia ergo introitus tuus tantis perjuriis eſt initiatus, & eccleſia Dei tam gravi tempeſtate per abuſionem novitatum tuarum periclitatur, & vitam converſationemque tuam tam multiplici infamia dehoneſtaſti, obedientiam, quam tibi nullam promiſimus, nec de cætero ullam ſervaturos eſſe, renuntiamus, & quia nemo noſtrum, ut publice declamabas, tibi hactenus fuit Epiſcopus, tu quoque nulli noſtrum animo eris Apoſtolicus.

Epiſtola Henrici Regis ad Hildebrandum Papam.

Henricus non uſurpatione, ſed pia Dei ordinatione Rex Hildebrando jam non apoſtolico, ſed falſo monacho. Hanc talem pro confuſione tua ſalutationem promeruiſti, qui nullum in eccleſia ordinem præteriſti, quem confuſionis non honoris, maledictionis non benedictionis participem non feceris. Ut igitur de multis pauca & egregia loquamur, rectores ſanctæ eccleſiæ videlicet Archiepiſcopos, Epiſcopos, Presbiteros, non modo non tangere, ſicut Chriſtos Domini non timuiſti, quin ſicut ſervos neſcientes quid faciat Dominus eorum, ſub pedibus tuis calcaſti, in quorum conculcatione tibi favorem ab ore vulgi comparaſti; quos omnes nihil ſcire, te autem ſolum omnia noſſe judicaſti, qua utique ſcientia non ad ædificationem, ſed ad deſtructionem uti ſtuduiſti, ut jure hoc beatum Gregorium, cujus nomen tibi uſurpaſti, de te prophetaſſe credamus ſic dicentem: Ex affluentia ſubjectorum plerumque animus prælati extollitur, & æſtimat ſe plus omnibus noſſe, cum ſe videt plus omnibus poſſe. Et nos quidem hæc omnia ſuſtinuimus, dum apoſtolicæ ſedis honorem ſervare ſtuduimus, ſed tu humilitatem noſtram timorem fore intellexiſti, imoque & in regiam poteſtatem nobis a Deo conceſſam exurgere non timuiſti, quam te nobis aufferre auſus es minari, quaſi nos a te regnum ſuſceperimus, quaſi in tua & non in Dei manu ſit vel regnum vel imperium. Quia Dominus noſter Jeſus Chriſtus nos ad regnum, te non vocavit ad ſacerdotium. Tu tamen his gradibus aſcendiſti, ſcilicet aſtutia, quod monachica abhominatur profeſſio, pecunia favorem, favore ferrum, ferro ſedem pacis adiiſti, & de ſede pacis pacem turbaſti, dum ſubditos in prælatos armaſti, dum Epiſcopos noſtros a Deo vocatos, tu non vocatus ſpernendos docuiſti, dum laicis miniſterium eorum ſuper ſacerdotes uſurpaſti, ut ipſi deponant, vel contemnant, quos ipſi a manu Dei per impoſitionem manuum epiſcopalium docendi acceperant. Mequoque qui licet indignus inter Chriſtos ad regnum ſum unctus, tetigiſti, quem ſanctorum patrum traditio ſoli Deo judicandum docuit, nec pro aliquo crimine niſi a fide, quod abſit, exorbitaverim, deponendum aſſeruit, cum etiam Julianum Apoſtatam prudentia ſanctorum Patrum non ſibi ſed ſoli Deo judicandum deponendumque commiſerit. Ipſe quoque verus Papa beatus Petrus clamat: Dominum timete, regem honorate. Tu autem, qui Dominum non times, & me conſtitutum ejus inhonoras. Unde beatus Paulus, ubi angelo de cœlo, alia ſi prædicaverit, non pepercit, te quoque in terris alia prædicantem non excepit. Ait igitur: Si quis vel ego vel angelus e cœlo præter id quod evangelizatum eſt, nobis evangelizaverit, anathema ſit. Tu ergo hoc anathemate, & omnium Epiſcoporum noſtrorum judicio & noſtro dampnatus deſcende, vendicatam ſedem apoſtolicam relinque, alius in ſolium beati Petri aſcendat, qui nullam violentiam belli, ſed beati Petri ſanam doceat doctrinam. Ego Heinricus Dei gratia Rex cum omnibus Epiſcopis noſtris tibi dicimus, deſcende, deſcende per ſecula damnande.

De depoſitione Hildebrandi Papæ, qui & Gregorius ſeptimus.

Anno dominicæ incarnationis MLXXX. mediante ſereniſſimo Rege Heinrico IV. anno regni ejus XXIII. VII. Calend. Julii. feria V. Ind. III. cum apud Brixiam Noricam XXX. Epiſcoporum conventus, nec non & optimatum exercitus non ſolum Italiæ, ſed etiam Germaniæ juſſu regio congregaretur, facta eſt vox una velut ab ore omnium terribiliter conquerentium ſuper truculenta veſania cujusdam Hildebrandi pſeudo-monachi, Gregorii Papæ ſeptimi cognominati, cur tam diu ipſam Rex ſemper invictus ſævire pateretur intactam, cum vas electionis Paulus teſtetur; principem non ſine cauſa ferre gladium, & Petrus paſtor primus non ſolum regem præcellere, verum Duces ab eo mittendos clamet eſſe ad vindictam videlicet malorum, ad laudem vero bonorum. Ad quorum ſatisfactionem viſum eſt ipſi glorioſiſſimo Regi, principibusque ejus juſtum, ut judicium Epiſcoporum divinæ animadverſionis ſententia gladium materialem in ipſum Hildebrandum præcederet, ut quem præſules eccleſiarum prius a ſuperba prælatione deponerent, eundem poſtmodum regalis potentia licentius perſequendum decerneret. Quis ergo fidelium, qui illum novit, damnationis jaculum contra ipſum metueret intorquere, qui ab ineunte ætate modo ſe ſtuduit per inanem gloriam nullis ſuffragantibus meritis ſuper hominem commendare, ſomnia & divinationes proprias aliorum divinæ diſpoſitioni præponere, habitu monachus videri, & profeſſione non eſſe, eccleſiaſticæ diſciplinæ, nulli ſubditus magiſtro, ſe extorrem judicare, obſcœnis theatralibus ludicris ultra laicos inſiſtere, menſas nummulariorum in porticu transeuntium turpis lucri gratia publice obſervare? His itaque quæſtibus ſtibus pecunia cumulata Abbatiam beati Pauli invaſit, ſupplantato Abbate, unde aperiens archidiaconum quendam nomine Mancium, ut ſibi officium venderet, decipiendo ſeduxit, &, Nicolao Papa nolente, tumultu populari ſtipatus in œconomum ſe promoveri coëgit. Quatuor namque Romanorum Pontificum ſuper improba morte per manus cujusdam ſibi intimi Johannis ſcilicet Brachinti, propinato veneno, homicida extitiſſe convincitur, ut, cæteris tacentibus, ipſe miniſter mortis, urgente mortis articulo, diris clamoribus, licet ſero pœnituerit, teſtabatur. Hic denique ſæpe dictus peſtifer ipſa nocte, qua funus Alexandri Papæ in baſilica Salvatoris exequiarum officio fovebatur, portas Romanæ urbis & pontes, turres, ac tryumphales arcus, armatorum cuneis munivit, Lateranenſe palacium militia comparata hoſtiliter occupavit, clerum ne auderet contradicere, cum nullus eum vellet eligere, gladiis ſatellitum evaginatis mortem minando perterruit, & prius, obſeſſam diu, aſſiluit cathedram, quam corpus defuncti obtineret tumbam. Dum vero quidam ex ipſis decretum Nycolai Papæ à centum XXV. Epiſcopis ſub anathemate promulgatum, eodem Hildebrando laudante ad memoriam ſibi vellent reducere, quod ſi quis ſine aſſenſu Romani principis Papatiari præſumeret, non Papa, ſed apoſtata ab omnibus haberetur, negavit ſe regem uſpiam ſcire, & ſe poſſe aſſeruit ſententiam prædeceſſorum vacuam judicare. Quid plura? Non ſolum quidem Roma, ſed ipſe Romanus orbis teſtatur, illum non adeo fuiſſe electum, ſed a ſe ipſo vi, fraude, pecunia, impudentiſſime objectum, cujus fructus patefaciunt radicem, cujus opera manifeſtant intentionem, qui eccleſiaſticum ſubvertit ordinem, qui Chriſtiani imperii perturbavit regnum, qui regi catholico ac pacifico corporis & animæ intentat mortem, qui per virum, & proditorem defendit * regem, qui inter concordes ſeminavit diſcordiam, inter pacificos lites, inter fratres ſcandala, divortia inter conjuges, &, quicquid quiete inter pie viventes ſtare videbatur, concuſſit. Quapropter, ut prælibatum eſt, eundem procaciſſimum Hildebrandum ſacrilegia ac incendia prædicantem, perjuria & homicidia defendentem, catholicam atque apoſtolicam fidem de corpore & ſanguine in quæſtionem ponentem, hæretici Beringarii antiquum diſcipulum, divinationum & ſomniorum cultorem, manifeſtum nicromanticum, phytonico Spiritu laborantem, id circo a vera fide exorbitantem, judicamus canonice deponendum, & expellendum & niſi ab ipſa ſede his auditis deſcenderit, in perpetuum condemnandum.

Decretum Gregorii Papæ qui & Hildebrandus.

Anno ab incarnatione Domini M.LXXIIX. Pontificatus vero Gregorii Papæ ſeptimi anno quinto celebravit ipſe Dominus Papa Gregorius Romæ ſynodum in eccleſia Domini Salvatoris, quæ dicitur Conſtantiniana ubi interfuerunt Archiepiſcopi diverſarum urbium fere numero centum, nec non & Abbatum diverſorum ordinum clericorum & laicorum innumerabilis multitudo, in qua apoſtolica conſtituta corroborans, multa quæ corrigenda erant, correxit, &, quæ corroboranda, firmavit. Inter cætera namque in fine ſynodalis abſolutionis hoc annexuit, & perpetuæ memoriæ poſteris ſcribenda mandavit, ita dicendo: Quoniam multos peccatis noſtris exigentibus pro cauſa excommunicationis perire quotidie cernimus, partim ignorantia, partim etiam neceſſitate devicti maxima, anathematis ſententiam ad tempus, prout poſſumus, oportune temperamus. Apoſtolica namque auctoritate anathematis vinculo hos ſubtrahimus, videlicet uxores, liberos, ſervos, ancillas, ſeu mancipia, nec non ruſticos & ſervientes, & omnes qui non adeo ſunt curiales, ut eorum conſilio ſcelera perpetrentur, & illos, qui ignoranter excommunicatis communicant, ſeu illos, qui communicant cum eis qui communicant excommunicatis. Quicunque autem orator ſive peregrinus aut viator in terram excommunicatorum devenerit, ubi non poſſit emere, vel non habeat unde emat, ab excommunicatis licentiam damus accipiendi. Et ſi quis de excommunicatis non pro ſuſtentatione ſuperbiæ, ſed humilitatis cauſa aliquid ei dare voluerit, fieri non prohibemus. Actum Romæ V. Non. Martii.

De obitu Hildebrandi.

Piæ memoriæ Dominus Gregorius Papa Septimus, cum apud Salernum infirmitate, qua mox obiit, ægrotare cœpiſſet, aſtiterunt ei Cardinales Romani, aliarumque civitatum Epiſcopi, viri religioſi ſciſcitantes ab eo, quem ſibi in Epiſcopatu ſubrogari vellet, illis indicare dignaretur. At ille ſecum pauca cogitans, tandem illis hæc verba dedit: Quemcunque horum trium habere poſſitis videlicet Lucenſem Epiſcopum, vel Hoſtienſem, vel Lugdunenſem, hunc in Epiſcopum eligite. Item de excommunicatis, requiſitus, reſpondit: Præter Heinricum regem dictum, & Wigbertum Ravennatem Archiepiſcopum, & alias principales perſonas, quæ conſilio vel auxilio favent impietati aut nequitiæ illorum, omnes in vice apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli abſolvo & benedico, & quicunque me hanc poteſtatem habere credet, indubitanter. Hæc autem ultima ejus verba fuerunt. Dilexi juſtitiam, & odivi iniquitatem, propterea morior in exilio.

CLXVII.

De Wiberto Papa quem Rex Heinricus conſtituit, expulſo Hildebrando.

Wibertus quondam Ravennas Archiepiſcopus cum obedientiam, quam apoſtolicæ ſedi promiſerat, non adtenderet, ſed contra ipſam modis omnibus ſuperbire ſtuduiſſet, in Romana Synodo irrecuperabiliter depoſitus, & anathematizatus eſt ab apoſtolica ſede, & ab Epiſcopis ſcopis totius eccleſiæ, nec hoc ſemel in una ſynodo, ſed in omnibus ſynodis, quotquot ſunt ſeptennio Romæ celebratæ. Hic igitur in perjuriis ita inveteratus eſt, & pro eisdem irrecuperabiliter depoſitus & anathematizatus ſedem Romani Pontificis, cui obedientiam juravit, per manus anathematizatorum, utpote ſui ſimilium, invaſit, legitimo paſtore adhuc eidem ſedi præſidente. Ipſorum autem excommunicatorum nullus eum conſecrare, vel potius execrare præſumpſit, præter Mutinenſem & Aretinum, qui ambo pro ſuis criminibus jam annis tribus officio & communione caruerunt. Sed hi etſi officium & communionem haberent, & Romana ſedes paſtore careret, nullum tamen eidem ſedi pontificem ordinare poſſent. Hujus itaque ordinationis privilegium ſolis Cardinalibus & Epiſcopis, Hoſtienſi & Albanenſi & Portuenſi a ſanctis Patribus conceſſum eſt. Ergo Mutinenſis & Aretinenſis Exepiſcopi juxta teſtimonium ſanctiſſimi Papæ Innocentii, non benedictionem, ſed damnationem, quam habuerant, ſuo Ravennati imponere potuerunt, nec illum in Romanum Patriarcham, ſed in perditiſſimum hæreſiarcham promoverunt. Caveat igitur omnis Chriſtianus caput Antichriſto inclinare, & ſtatuam Nabuchodonoſoris, quam erexit, adorare, ſicque ſe ipſius hæreſiarchæ perniciſſimo anathemati immodare. Nam quicunque illi obedierit, qui dixit, ponam ſedem meam ad aquilonem, & ero ſimilis altiſſimo, certiſſime in æternam damnationem ibit cum illo.

CLXVIII.

Decretum Wiberti Papæ qui & Clemens.

Clemens Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei, omnibus orthodoxis fratribus, Archiepiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Abbatibus, atque univerſis ſanctæ eccleſiæ ordinibus, ſalutem, & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Quantæ & quam peſtiferæ ſchismaticorum adinventiones noſtris temporibus ſanctam eccleſiam perturbaverint, & quantos populos peccatis noſtris exigentibus erroribus ſuis infecerint, fraternitatem veſtram credimus non latere. Venenum ſiquidem eorum a capite ſanctæ eccleſiæ usque ad ultima membra paſſim diffuſum vobis & ſubditis veſtris conſtat non modicum certamen generaſſe, & usque ad medullas corporis veſtri dolorem, tantæ præſumptionis intraſſe. Hac itaque neceſſitate compulſi ne beati Petri navicula tot perturbationum fluctibus & pene ad naufragii diſcrimen inflexa præceps laberetur, ad arma, quibus patres in defenſionem Chriſtianæ fidei uſi ſunt, nos convertimus, atque Epiſcopos & Abbates, & quam plures honeſtos viros ad ſynodum in eccleſia beati Petri celebrandam ex diverſis partibus convocavimus. Quibus Spiritus Sancti inſpiratione congregatis, inter cætera quæ ſynodalis conventus tractanda ſuſceperat, quæſtionum impia dogmata ad pernitiem multorum noviter orta, a nonnullis communi audientiæ inferuntur, quæ fraternitati veſtræ dignum duximus notificare, quatinus ad ea devitanda imo Deo auxiliante deſtruenda, promptiores vos & vigilantiores redderemus. Ibi namque de perjuriis quæ ipſi ad periculum imperialis dignitatis fieri hortantur, non parvus clamor exoritur. Et quia negocium illud radix & origo cæterorum flagitiorum videbatur, placuit, de eo primum tractari debere, & quam peſſima & periculoſa ſit hujusmodi adhortatio oſtendi. Unde in Imperatorem excommunicationem promulgatam, neceſſariis documentis improbavimus, quia illius ex occaſione perjuriorum & omnium aſſertionum ſuarum vires contraxiſſe videbantur. Ad convincendam itaque eorum temeritatem, cum plurima tam ex ſacris canonibus, quam etiam ex mundanis legibus exempla occurrerent, illa tamen ad auxilium noſtrum ſufficere documenta viſa ſunt, ſcilicet quod in eos qui non ſunt legitime vocati & rationabiliter convicti, quique bonis ſuis ſunt expoliati ſententia damnationis non ſit proferenda, Nyceno concilio approbante: Incerta nemo pontificum judicare præſumat, quia quamvis vera ſint, non tamen credenda ſunt, niſi quæ manifeſtis indiciis comprobantur, niſi quæ manifeſto judicio convincuntur, niſi quæ judicatorio ordine publicantur. In eodem: Caveant judices eccleſiæ, ne abſente eo, cujus cauſa ventilatur, ſententiam proferant, quod irrita erit. In eodem: Non eſt privilegium, quo ſpoliari poſſit jam nudatus. Item beatus Auguſtinus plenius in libro Pœnitentiali tractans, ita inter cætera dicens: Nos a communione quemquam prohibere non poſſumus, niſi aut ſponte confeſſum, aut in aliquo ſive ſeculari ſive eccleſiaſtico judicio nominatum, atque convictum. Et ut manifeſtiſſime omnibus pateret, eos ipſos ejusdem excommunicationis ſententiam ſubiiſſe, utile viſum fuit hæc ex dictis beati Auguſtini recitare: Quidam intuentes præcepta ſeveritatis, quibus jubemur non dare ſanctum canibus, ut ethnicum habere eccleſiæ contemptorem, a compage corporis membrum, quod ſcandalizat, evellere; ita perturbant eccleſiæ pacem, ut conentur ante tempus zizania eruere, atque hoc errore cœcati ipſi potius a Chriſti unitate ſeparantur. His itaque ad medium recitatis, adjudicante univerſa ſynodo, conſtituimus, ut nullus deinceps ad injuriam Domini imperatoris præſumat de hac quæſtione diſputare, & ei ſubditos a ſervitio & communione ipſius ſubtrahere: Ad hoc etiam quod genus ultionis mereantur ſubire, qui hortatu ſchiſmaticorum juramenta regi & principibus facta non timent violare; ſicuti Auguſtini auctoritatem induximus: Si quis laicus juramentum violando profanat, quod regi & Domino ſuo jurat, & poſtmodum perverſe ejus regnum & doloſe tractaverit, & in mortem ipſius aliquo machinamento inſidiatur, quia ſacrilegium peragit, manum ſuam in Chriſtum Domini mittens, anathema ſit, niſi per dignam pœnitentiæ ſatisfactionem, emendaverit, ſicut conſtitutum eſt a ſancta ſynodo, & ſeculum relinquat, arma deponat, in monaſterium eat, & pœniteat omnibus diebus vitæ ſuæ, verumtamen communionem cum euchariſtia in exitu ſuo accipiat. Epiſcopus vero, Presbiter, Diaconus, ſi hoc crimen perpetraverit, degradetur. His vero diligenter expoſitis, ſumma nos neceſſitas compulit, ad ea quæ de ſacramentis eccleſiaſticis inimici Chriſtianæ relligionis adverſus catholicam fidem oblatrant, diſcretas auctoritates opponere, & quæ dicere & audiri nefas eſt, probabilibus argumentis confutare. Dicunt attamen ſacramentum corporis & ſanguinis Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, conſecrationes criſmatis, imo quæcunque ad Epiſcopale & ſacerdotale officium pertinent, ab his qui ſectæ eorum non communicant, celebrata nulla prorſus eſſe ſacramenta, & nihil aliud ſuſcipientibus niſi damnationem conferre. Nam panem illum, qui de cœlo deſcendit, in quo tota ſalus & vita noſtra conſiſtit, impio blaſphemantes ore, pollui potius quam conſecrari aſtruunt, aquam quoq; baptismatis per ſacerdotum preces ac benedictiones, & chrismatum admixtiones, nihil ſanctificationis ſuſcipientem his, qui regenerandi ſunt, potius ſordiditatis maculas, quam ſpirituales mundicias ajunt præſtare. Sic etiam peſſime ſentiunt de reiterandis eccleſiaſticis ordinibus, de reconſecrandis eccleſiis, & pueris reconſignandis, poſtremo de omnibus idem reſtantur, quæ per ſacerdotale officium Chriſtianis conferuntur. De his itaque diutius laborantibus, ſingulis eorum erroribus opponenda cenſuimus, quibus manifeſte declaratur, nonſolum apud nos Dei gratia catholicos, verum etiam apud ſchismaticos, & hæreticos hæc omnia eſſe rata nec ulla unquam ratione iteranda. Auguſtinus ſuper Johannem: Sive aut baptizet ſervus bonus ſive ſervus malus, non ſciat ſe ille baptizari, qui baptizatur, niſi ab eo qui ſibi tenuit baptizandi poteſtatem. Et paulo poſt: Non exhorreat columba miniſterium malorum, reſpiciat Domini poteſtatem. Quid tibi facit malus miniſter, ubi eſt bonus Dominus? Et te non decipiant ſeductores. Agnoſce quod docuit columba: Hic eſt qui baptizat in Spiritu ſancto; & in ſequentibus dicit: ſeductor non habes baptismum, malus tibi dedit, traditor neſcio quis dedit. De officiali non diſputo, judicem adtendo, ego a Chriſto ipſo baptizatus ſum. Non, inquit, ſed ille Epiſcopus te baptizavit, & ille Epiſcopus illis communicavit. A Chriſto ipſo ſum baptizatus, ego novi, docuit me columba, quam vidit Johannes. O, milve, non me dilanias male. Juſtos, inquiunt, oportet eſſe tanti judicis miniſtros. Sint miniſtri juſti ſi velint, ſi autem ſuperbus fuerit miniſter cum diabolo computatur, ſed per illum donum Chriſti non contaminatur. Quod per illum fluit, purum eſt; quod per illum transit, liquidum eſt. Puta quod ipſe lapideus eſt, quod ex aqua fructum ferre non poteſt, & in canali lapideo aqua nihil generat, ſed hortis fructum afferet. Spiritualis vero virtus ſacramenti ita eſt, ut lux, quæ & ab illuminandis pura excipitur, & ſi per inmundos tranſeat non inquinatur. Quos baptizat ebrioſus, quos baptizat homicida, quos baptizat adulter, Chriſtus ipſe baptizat. Idem ad Vincentium Donatiſtam: Non ſacramenta Chriſtiana faciunt te hæreticum, ſed prava diſſenſio. Non propter malum, quod proceſſit a te, negandum eſt bonum, quod remanſit in te, quod malo tuo habes, ſi ibi non habes, unde eſt bonum, quod habes. Ex Catholica itaque eccleſia ſunt omnia ſacramenta dominica, quæ ſicut habetis & datis, quomodo habebantur & dabantur, etiam priusquam inde exiretis. Non tamen ideo non habetis, quia non eſtis ibi unde ſint quæ habetis. Non in nobis mutamus, in quibus eſtis nobiſcum. Nam & de talibus dictum eſt, quoniam in multis erant mecum. Sed ea corrigimus, in quibus non eſtis nobiſcum, & ea vos hic accipere volumus quæ non habetis illic ubi eſtis. Nobiſcum autem eſtis in baptismo, in ſymbolo, in cæteris dominicis ſacramentis. In Spiritu autem unitatis, & in vinculo pacis, in ipſa denique catholica eccleſia nobiſcum non eſtis. Item in quarto libro contra Donatiſtas: Sicut urgeri videor, cum mihi dicitur, ergo hæreticus dimittit peccata, cum juxta te baptizat; ſic & ego cum dico, ergo avarus relligionis ſimulator peccata dimittit? Si per vim ſacramenti, ſicut ille ita & ille; ſi per meritum ſuum, nec ille, nec ille. Illud igitur ſacramentum & in malis hominibus Chriſti eſſe cognoſcitur. Item in quinto libro contra Donatiſtas: Quomodo aquam mundat & ſanctificat homicida? Quomodo benedicunt Deum tenebræ? ſi autem Deus adeſt ſacramentis & verbis ſuis, per quales libet amminiſtrentur, & ſacramenta Dei ubique recta ſint, & mali homines, quibus nihil proſunt, ubique ſubverſi. Item in eodem: Quomodo exaudiet Deus homicidam deprecantem, vel ſuper aquam baptismi, vel ſuper oleum, vel ſuper euchariſtiam, vel ſuper capita eorum, quibus manus imponitur. Quæ tamen omnia & fiunt & valent etiam per homicidas, id eſt, qui oderunt fratres etiam in ipſa intus eccleſia. In eodem: Sicut ficti veraciter converſi recipiuntur, nec tamen eorum baptisma reprobatur, ſic & illa, quam ſchismatici vel hæretici aliter habent, nec aliter agunt, quam vera eccleſia, cum ad nos veniunt, non emendamus, ſed potius approbamus. Ita ergo nec foris ſicut nec intus quisquam qui ex parte diaboli eſt, poteſt vel in ſe vel in quoquam maculare ſacramentum, quod Chriſti eſt. Hieronymus ad Luciferianum: Sicut hic eſt, qui baptizat, id eſt, Chriſtus, ita hic eſt, qui ſanctificat. Idem: Oro, inquit, te, ut aut ſacrificandi licentiam ei tribuas, cujus baptisma probas, aut reprobes ejus baptisma, quem non putes ſacerdotem. Neque igitur fieri poteſt, ut qui in baptiſterio ſanctus eſt, ſit apud altare peccator. Papa quoque Anaſtaſius ſcribens ad Anaſtaſium Imperatorem, aſſerit omnes quos ordinavit Acatius, licet a beato Felice Papa excommunicatus & hæretica pravitate infectus, debere in ſuis ordinibus absque omni reordinatione permanere; ſic inter cætera dicens: Acatius bonum male adminiſtrando, ſibi tamen nocuit, nam inviolabile ſacramentum, quod per illum datum eſt aliis, perfectionem ſuæ virtutis obtinuit.

nuit. His & aliis pluribus diverſorum patrum ſententiis recitatis illam ſynagogam Satanæ ad reddendam impietatis ſuæ rationem literis & nuntiis noſtris ad ſynodum vocavimus, non tamen ut ipſi audientiam, in præteritis conciliis jam prorſus eis excluſam, mererentur, ſed ut pacem ſanctæ eccleſiæ, quæ per ipſos omnino diviſa eſt, in unitatem componeremus. Literarum autem hic tenor fuit.

CLXIX.

Clemens Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei O. olim dicto Hoſtienſi Epiſcopo, & ſequacibus ſuis, quæ merentur. Licet ſynodali audientia vos indignos feciſſetis, quia ad Synodum ſanctæ Romanæ eccleſiæ multociens vocati venire recuſaſtis, & hac de cauſa excommunicati eſtis, tamen, ut murmur populi erroribus infecti veſtris auferatur, apoſtolica auctoritate præcipimus, ut ad ſynodum, quam in eccleſia beati Petri Deo auxiliante celebramus ſecuri penitus veniatis, ut de eo quo ſanctam eccleſiam perturbaſtis, ſicut decet, rationem reddatis. Verum ipſi nec Deum timentes, nec hominem reverentes, legatos & litteras noſtras nec audire nec videre voluerunt. Unde in erroribus ſuis perdurantes ex latebris quas ſerpentino more incolunt, ad decipiendos incautos vel ſimplices dira ſibila emittunt, acuentes linguas ſuas ſicut ſerpentes, venenum aſpidum ſub labiis eorum &c. Quantæ igitur humani ſanguinis effuſiones in Italico & Teutonico regno occaſione prædicationis eorum factæ ſint, quantæ eccleſiarum deſtructiones, quanti viduarum & orphanorum gemitus, poſtremo, quantæ univerſi pene Romani regni depopulationes, lucidius ex eorum gemitibus, qui opprimuntur, quam noſtra relatione comprobatur. Præterea placuit ſancto conventui, ut in Symoniacos, qui eccleſiam Dei latronum ſpeluncam fecerunt, debita animadverſione inveheremus, & redivivum caput illius hæreſeos totiens a ſanctis patribus abſciſum gladio beati Petri amputaremus. Unde eorundem patrum ſanctorum documenta ſectantes, apoſtolica auctoritate præcipimus, ut nullus deinceps alicui manum præſumat imponere potius, quam peſſimi commercii conventione. Si vero, quod abſit, hoc crimen in aliquo deinceps repertum fuerit, & ordinator propria in perpetuum careat dignitate, & ordinatus nihil ex ea, quæ per commercium facta eſt, perficiat ordinatione. Præterea quod ſilentio prætermittendum non fuit, quia murmur populi adverſus incontinentiam clericorum paſſim creſcit ac dilatatur, utile viſum fuit, ut ea, qua debetis diligentia, miniſtros altaris ſecundum ſtatuta canonum vivere, atque mundiciam caſtitatis, ſine qua, teſte apoſtolo, placere Deo non poſſunt, irreprehenſibiliter cuſtodire commoneatis, quatenus de correctione eorum ab his qui foris ſunt bonum teſtimonium habentis, & murmurantis populi inſolentiam quieſcere faciatis. Hi vero qui miſſas peccatorum ſacerdotum reſpuunt, & qui eis ante judicii noſtri cenſuram opinionis ſuæ præjudicium inferunt, communione ſanctæ eccleſiæ usque ad emendationem priventur. Conjunctiones autem conſanguineorum fieri prohibete, quoniam has & divinæ & ſeculi prohibent leges. Conſideret vero, fratres dilectiſſimi, veſtra excellens prudentia, quam bonum ſit, perſiſtere in diſpenſatione vobis credita, & in fide recta atque hæreticis & æmulis Chriſti repugnare, & nunquam a veritatis tramite declinare, quam Dominus & Salvator omnium, cujus fidem tenemus, qui pro nobis mori non dubitavit, & proprio nos ſanguine redemit, fidem beati Petri non defecturam promiſit, & confirmare eum fratres ſuos admonuit, quod apoſtolicos Pontifices meæ exiguitatis prædeceſſores confidenter ſemper feciſſe, cunctis eſt cognitum, quorum & puſillanimitas mea licet impar & minima pro ſuſcepto tamen divina dignatione miniſterio, pediſſequa cupit exiſtere. Væh igitur erit nobis, qui hujus miniſterii onus ſuſcepimus, ſi veritatem fidei ad hujus deſtructionem erroris prædicare neglexerimus. Væh erit nobis, ſi veritatem ſilentio obpreſſerimus, quam erogare nummulariis jubemur. Idcirco, fratres, hortor dilectionem veſtram, obteſtor, & moneo, ut, qua debetis & poteſtis, ſollicitudine vigiletis, ad inveſtigandos hæreticos & inimicos ſanctæ Dei eccleſiæ, & a ſanis mentibus, ne peſtis hæc latius divulgetur, ſeveritate qua poteſtis pro viribus exſtirpetis, quoniam ſicut habebit a Deo dignæ remunerationis præmium, qui diligentius quod ad ſalutem commiſſæ ſibi plebis proficiat, fuerit executus, ita ante tribunal Domini de reatu negligentiæ ſe non poterit excuſare, quicunque plebem ſuam contra tam ſacrilegæ perſuaſionis auctores noluerit cuſtodire.

CLXX.

Item cujus ſupra.

Clemens Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei R. confratri & coëpiſcopo Babenbergenſi ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Quod contra eccleſiæ demolitores, & noſtros æmulos juſte diſputando fortiter ſtabas audivimus & gaviſi ſumus, ideoque tibi gratias referimus. Quod autem, quæ de eccleſia tua Romanæ debes eccleſiæ, te diu injuſte detinuiſſe pacienter expectavimus; non propter ignorantiam fecimus, ſed gratuitam obedientiæ tuæ præſtolati ſumus benevolentiam. In hoc quam parum profecimus, monemus te & firmiter præcipimus, ut quod debes ſolvas, ablatumque temere reſtituere non differas. Si hoc non feceris, etiam advocato noſtro Imperatori & omnibus fratribus noſtris publice & per legatos noſtros querimoniam faciemus. Moguntino Epiſcopo, quem nobis peſſimis criminibus accuſando detuliſtis, ad reſpondendum nobis inducias dedimus ad feſtum ſancti Michaelis. Huic rei te cum cæteris fratribus noſtris volumus interesſe, ut ſicut eum accuſaſti abſentem, ita illum veris teſtimoniis ſub noſtra auctoritate convincatis præſentem. Relatum eſt nobis a quibusdam, quod Judæis baptizatis neſcio qua ratione permiſſum ſit, apoſtatare ritumque judaiſmi excolere. Quod quia inauditum eſt, & prorſus nefanefarium, te & omnes fratres noſtros verbo Dei conſtringimus, quatinus id ſecundum canonicam ſanctionem, & juxta patrum exempla corrigere feſtinetis, ne ſacramentum baptiſmi & ſalutifera invocatio nominis Domini videatur annulari.

Clemens Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei R. confratri & coëpiſcopo Moguntino ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Nuperrime per confratrem noſtrum Epiſcopum Faventinum fraternitati tuæ, ut ad ſynodum, quam pro totius eccleſiæ neceſſariis cauſis in jam dicto loco & tempore celebraturi ſumus, omni poſtpoſita occaſione advenires, mandavimus, & per ſummam obedientiam præcepimus. Et primum quidem bene promiſiſti; verum poſtea voluntate tua in aliqua parte peracta, cum prædictus nuncius rediens veram tibi ut cæteris obedientiam injungeret, dixiſti, te a nobis per tuum nuncium eſſe relaxatum. Quod, ut audivimus, quam graviter tulerimus, nequit efferri. Hoc enim dictum magna perturbatio ſynodi videbatur, cum omnes pene ſuffraganei tui ad te reſpiciant, cum omnium vox ſit, quod magiſter meus fecerit, hoc faciam. Quapropter eidem N. qui tam nefandum, tam execrabile, tam nocivum ſanctæ & univerſali eccleſiæ mendacium protulit, omne divinum officium apoſtolica auctoritate interdicimus, donec ad nos veniens de tanta tam deteſtandi mendacii iniquitate ſatisfaciat. Quod niſi usque ad feſtum ſcilicet Michaelis ad nos de hac re ſatisfacturus venerit, ampliori quam forſitan æſtimet, excommunicationi ſubjacebit. Tibi vero apoſtolica auctoritate & per veram obedientiam iterum atque iterum præcipimus, ut ad ſynodum in feſto ſancti Dyoniſii Vercellis celebrandam venias, & omnes ſuffraganeos tuos per eandem obedientiam admoneas.

T. Præpoſito venerabili & H. confratri T. Osniburgenſis eccleſiæ puerorum introductor qualiscunque ſincera Deo teſte famulatus ſui devotionem. De controverſia partium inter ſacerdotium & regnum, unanimitati totius eccleſiæ pernitioſa, cupiens aliquid huic parti vel illi conſonum invenire, evolutis quotquot ſunt armarii noſtri voluminibus, ſæpius inveſtigare cœpi; non quo rei tantæ difficultatis & implicationis actionem ſumma diligentiſſimæ diſcretionis cautela tractandam infronito mihi præſumerem uſurpare; cum ibi plerumque magis confuſionis invaleſcat error, ubi rei perplexæ minus prudens ſit diſcuſſor; ſed ideo feci, ſi quomodo per ſententiam aliquam vel exemplum repertum in decretis geſtisve Pontificum vel Regum meæ dubitationem ignorantiæ conſolari poſſem. Quociens enim perpendo quam plurimos utrique parti favere viros omni, quantum homines poſſunt, perfectos ſcientia, omnique præditos induſtria, cumque nefas ſit credere, vel illos aliquid præter æquitatem vel eccleſiæ concordiam moliri velle; parvitas meæ diſcretionis incœpit vacillare, non modica dubitationis obducta caligine. Hæc itaque cum intenderem, in Armariolo venerabilium confratrum noſtrorum monachorum in fine cujusdam voluminis quaterniunculum deprehendi, in quo ſcriptum quoddam de controverſia inter Hildebrandum & Imperatorem Heinricum habita, ſine auctoris nomine reperi. Retulit tamen mihi Prior ejusdem Cœnobii, hoc ex conſilio Liemari Bremenſis Epiſcopi, & Pennonis Osneburgenſis Epiſcopi, a Widone, qui & poſtea Epiſcopus Osneburgæ factus eſt, collectum eſſe. Erat autem de tribus principaliter rebus, de Electione & conſecratione Romani Pontificis, & de Excommunicatione Imperatoris, & de Abſolutione Juramentorum regi fidelium. Hinc itaque quædam excipiens viſa mihi præſentem eccleſiæ perturbationem, aliquatenus attingere, judicio veſtræ diſcretionis mitto, quæ ſive vobis placuerint ſive non, erga vos pura ſemper mea mihi profit devotio. Valete.

De Wiberto qui & Clemens an in ſedem Apoſtolicam legitime fuerit intronizatus, & Hildebrandus, qui & Gregorius VII. juſte reprobatus.

Cum multi aut ignorantiæ nube detenti, aut veteris iræ face ſuccenſi, venerabilis Papæ Clementis ingreſſum improbare contendant, & usquequaque infamare non erubeſcant, ut ſacerdotio & regno usquequaque confuſionem inducant, ut concordiam & pacem contentione impediant, nos qui hujus rei veritatem incognitam non habemus, qui ovium Chriſti quietem volumus & amamus, qui ſacerdotium & regnum vinculo pacis & concordiæ aſtringi deſideramus & quærimus, non inutile, imo perneceſſarium eſſe exiſtimamus, quatenus in audientiam omnium feſtinemus, ibique omnipotentis Dei auxilio prænotatum Pontificem pacis & juſtitiæ ſectatorem, recte & ordine in apoſtolicam & ſanctam ſedem veniſſe, rationabiliter demonſtremus. Ut autem hæc demonſtratio perſpicue fiat, conſuetudinem quam Romana eccleſia in eligendis & conſecrandis ſuis Præſulibus antiquitus ex ſcripto cognoſcitur habuiſſe, non incongruum eſſe ducimus ſuccinctu brevitatis transcurrere. Ex his igitur congrue convinci poterit, verius in altero præceſſiſſe, quod ab æmulis modo reprehenditur inclemente. A Petri usque ad Silveſtri tempora, cum eccleſia inter turbines & adverſa mundi ſuccreſceret, perſecutionum anguſtiarumque mole ſuppreſſa, variisque tormentorum generibus ſæpenumero fatigata, magis æſtuabat eminentia paſſionis, quam vacaret ſtudio ambitioſæ contentionis. Nondum igitur creverat materia pravæ ambitionis, nondum ex Romanis principibus quisquam patenter occurrerat ad fidem Chriſtianæ relligionis. Ideoque latenter & absque noxa diſſenſionis cogi ſolebat, qui videbatur idoneus eſſe, ſubire pondus prælationis. Poſtquam vero Sylveſtri temporibus Conſtantinus Imperator primus veritatis manifeſtæ lumen adeptus, adeptus, cunctis in imperio ſuo degentibus nonſolum Chriſtianos fieri, ſed etiam eccleſias fabricandi licentiam dedit, & prædia eis tribuenda conſtituit, omnismodi hominibus ad fidem Chriſti confluentibus & propria pro delictorum remiſſione eccleſiæ Dei donantibus, tanto felicitatis ſucceſſu usque quaque eccleſia & maxime Romana tunc viguit, ut honoris etiam & dignitatis ſeculi ſæpius expers fieret, qui jugum Chriſtianæ fidei ſuſcipere recuſaret. Et quod in hoc curſu relligioſæ ſucceſſionis rerum & virtutum affluentia mater eccleſia admodum crevit, infectatio Diaboli ſemper maligna & Chriſtiano nomini inimica, quod a ſincero fidei tramite fidelium corda y dolatriæ cultu jam avertere manifeſte non poterat, aliis nequiciæ machinamentis ſtatum eccleſiæ evertere ſtuduit. Cœpit igitur poſt modicum temporis maligno ejus ſtimulo de electione Pontificum non modica fieri diſſenſio partium, ambitio quoque non modice crevit. Unde neceſſarium fuit, ut Romani principes, quorum conſenſione ac donationibus eccleſia usquequaque ſublimata honore, divitiis præminebat, priſtinæ poteſtatis jure retento, & partium tumultum ubique pœnæ inferendæ metu compeſcerent, & electionem pontificum partium ſtudio, & non canonice factam provenire non ſinant. Nam ſi pravis hominibus ſecularis vindictæ metus nullus ineſſet, nulla eos a prave agendo ſpiritualis cenſura retrahere poſſet. Unde primum conſuetudo in Romana eccleſia antiquitus merito cœpit, ut electo præſule non ejus prius ordinatio celebraretur, quam cleri & populi decretum in præſentiam Romani Principis deferretur, ut cognito cleri & populi conſenſu & deſiderio, ſi recte & ordine electio proceſſiſſet, cognoſceret, conſecrationem ex more celebrandam eſſe juberet; quod demum ſancti patres, qui Romanæ eccleſiæ merito præfuerunt & ſervare ſtuduerunt, & ſervandum impoſterum eſſe decretis & exemplis ſuis utiliter & congrue ſtatuerunt. Hæc autem, Romanorum Pontificum geſta multis in locis, ita eſſe, indubitanter oſtendent. Nam de Agathone Papa qui fuit temporibus Conſtantini, Heraclii, & Tyberii Auguſtorum, dictus benignus & manſuetus, inter cætera ſcriptum habetur: Hic accepit divalem juſſionem ſecundum ſuam poſtulationem, per quam relevata eſt quantitas, quæ ſolita erat dari pro ordinatione pontificum facienda, ſic tamen, ut ſi contigerit poſt ejus tranſitum electionem fieri, non debeat ordinari, qui electus fuerit, niſi prius decretum generale deferatur in regiam urbem ſecundum antiquam conſuetudinem, ut cum Principum ſcientia & juſſione ordinatio proveniat. Hic ergo, quod canonicæ regulæ erat contrarium, quod novit eſſe ſymoniacum, remitti a principibus rite poſtulavit, & merito votum poſtulationis ſuæ obtinuit: quod vero pro ſtatu & concordia eccleſiæ ſtatutum antiquitus fuerat, intuitu diſcretionis ac prudentiæ integrum permanere duxit. Bonifacius autem poſt Sylveſtrum decimus, ante Gregorium vero XIX. ipſius, qui fuit temporibus Honorii & Valentiniani Auguſtorum, diſſentientibus clero & populo legitur una die fuiſſe cum Eulalio ordinatus, ſed cognita a principibus cauſa expelli ambos de urbe juſſerunt, ſed intuitu miſericordiæ Bonifacium poſtea revocantes, ſtabiliter in ſede conſtituerunt. Simachus quoque, qui fuit temporibus Anaſtaſii Imperatoris, & Theoderici Regis Arriani una die contentioſe cum Laurentio ordinatur, ibique diſcuſſione facta Simachus dono & judicio regis præſulatum obtinuit. De Pelagio vero Papa, qui fuit temporibus Juſtiniani Imperatoris, & anteceſſor Gregorii proximus, legitur quod absque juſſione principis ſit ordinatus, eo quod urbe a Longobardis obſeſſa nullus ulli ad principem exitus patuit. De Gregorio vero legitur, quod, cum, Pelagio defuncto, a clero & ſenatu populoque Romano concorditer fuiſſet electus, quod generalitatis electionem evadere nequivit, conſenſurum ſe tandem aliquando ſimulavit, & Imperatori Mauricio, cujus filium ex lavacro ſancto ſuſceperat, latenter litteras deſtinavit, adjurans & multa prece depoſcens, ne unquam populis aſſenſum præberet. Sed præfectus urbis comprehenſo in ipſo itinere ejus nuncio ac disruptis epiſtolis, conſenſum populi juxta morem antiquitatis Imperatori direxit. At ille Deo gratias agens pro amicitia Diaconi, eo quod locum deferendi ei honoris, ut cupierat, reperiſſet, data præceptione ipſum ordinare præcepit. Qui juxta Imperatoris juſſionem continuo conſecutus, Theotiſtæ ſorori Imperatoris epiſtolam poſtmodum ſcripſit, in qua de ſe ipſo circa finem ita ſubjunxit: Ecce Sereniſſimus Dominus Imperator fieri ſimiam leonem juſſit. Equidem pro juſſione illius vocari poteſt, fieri autem Leo non poteſt. Unde neceſſe eſt, ut omnes culpas ac negligentias meas non mihi, ſed ſuæ pietati deputet, qui virtutis miniſterium infirmo commiſit. Cum ergo Gregorius licet unanimiter ab univerſis electus, aſſenſum tamen principis expectavit, & absque ejus juſſione conſecrationis gratiam ſuſcipere non præſumpſit, & ab illo videlicet principe miniſterium virtutis in ſuis litteris commiſſum ſibi eſſe aſſeruit, indubitanter æquum & canonicum eſſe ſcivit, ut absque Romani principis juſſione nullatenus debeat pontificis ordinatio provenire. Nam ſi canonum æquitati contrarium vel diſſonum hoc eſſe intellexiſſet, nullatenus dono & præcepto principis ad ſummum ſacerdotium provehi conſenſiſſet. Nec vero ſe dono & præcepto principis provectum ſcriberet, ſi veritatis conſcientiam non haberet, cum Propheta atteſtante, mendacium mortem animæ eſſe non dubitaret. Quapropter cum pontificatus miniſterium non ſolum juſſione principis comitti ſibi non recuſavit, ſed ab ipſo etiam commiſſum ſibi eſſe aſſeruit, juſtum & conveniens eſſe liquido manifeſtavit, & poſteris in exemplum ſervandum reliquit, ne quilibet absque Romani principis dono & præcepto miniſterium Romani Pontificatus ficatus præſumat aſſumere. Inique ergo & ſcismatice aſcendit, qui Gregorii exemplo & aliorum ſanctorum pontificatui intronizari non ſtuduerit. Idem & cæteri Romani Pontifices ante & poſt Gregorium, usque ad Hildebrandi tempora ſervavere, & non prius conſecrationem ſuſcipere præſumpſerunt, quam ſe principum conſenſum & juſſionem habere intellexerunt. Qui vero aliter præſumpſerunt aut omnino ſunt expulſi, aut vix interventu miſericordiæ, promiſſa tamen ſatisfactione, recipi meruerunt. Nec alia de cauſa Gregorius & cæteri Pontifices Romani conſecrationem ſuam usque ad conſenſum & juſſionem principum diſtuliſſe credendi ſunt, niſi quod æquum & canonicum & eccleſiæ neceſſarium hoc eſſe intellexerunt, ut quorum donariis ac tuitionibus Romana eccleſia ditata & ſublimata vigebat, eorum etiam providentia & juſſione ille conſecraretur, qui rebus & hominibus regnandis idoneus eis comprobaretur, & argui poſſe poſtmodum non videretur. Nam ſi hoc iniquum & canonicæ inſtitutioni contrarium eſſe intellexiſſent tam Sancti viri, favore aut timore aliquo de conſecratione ſua juſſionem principum ſine dubio non expectaſſent, quod expectatio illa valde eos ambitionis argueret, quæ, ipſo Gregorio atteſtante, ſeveriſſima ſemper canonum diſtrictione damnanda eſt. Antequam Sergius Papa eligeretur, electi ſunt Theodericus & Paſchalis in contentione diſſentientium. Sed iſtis duobus invicem altercantibus & tandem ejectis, quamvis clerus & populus, proceres etiam, & Romanæ militiæ exercitus in prænominati Sergii electione unanimiter conveniſſent, conſecrari tamen diſtulit, quousque Johannes Patricius & Exarchus Romam venit, & cum vice principis collaudavit. Poſtquam vero Græcorum ceſſante auxilio & Longobardorum oppreſſione graſſante, imperium Romanum neceſſario pervenit ad Francos, non minus eadem conſuetudo inviolata permanſit. Nam legitur in eisdem geſtis de Leone IV. quod cum omnes Romani in ejus electione congauderent, cæperunt tamen non mediocriter contriſtari, eo quod ſine imperiali auctoritate non audebant futurum conſecrare pontificem; differre tamen nolebant, quod urbis periculum maxime metuebant, ne iterum, ut olim, ab hoſtibus fieret obſeſſa. Benedicto conſona totius urbis acclamatione electo, clerus & populus & proceres decretum manibus propriis roborantes, ut priſca conſuetudo poſcebat, Lothario & Ludowico principibus deſtinaverunt. Qui poſtea a Principibus collaudatus, legatorum, quos de hac cauſa miſerant, præſentia & collaudatione eſt conſecratus. Item Nicolaus præſentia & permiſſione Ludewici inprimis conſecrationis donum ſuſcepit. De Adriano quoque juniori legitur, quia quamvis in præſentia legatorum Ludowici ab omnibus concorditer ſit electus, non prius tamen ordinem pontificatus ſuſcipere præſumpſit, quam ipſe Imperator decreto civium ex more ſuſcepto per imperialem epiſtolam præſulem collaudavit. Poteſt etiam veraciter dici, quod Johannes, eo quod Beringarii filium in urbe reciperet, abſens damnatus eſt ab Ottone Imperatore, & Leo ab eodem Imperatore, vivente adhuc Johanne, conſtitutus eſt, & Benedictus, quem Romani, decedente Johanne, elegerant, ejectus & in exilium ductus; & multi alii poſſunt enumerari, in quibus regum & Imperatorum poteſtas modum conſuetudinis antiquæ exceſſit, ſicut Romani Ludovico ſcribunt, ſic dicentes: Privilegia Romanæ eccleſiæ convulſa ſunt; diu enim eſt, ex quo electio pontificis ablata eſt. Sed ea quæ violenter & ultra conſuetudinem æquitatis venerunt, nec in exemplum ſumimus, nec his, quæ juſte facta ſunt, comparamus. Ex his ergo, quæ ſunt poſita juxta morem antiquitatis perſpicuum, & manifeſtum eſſe cognoſcitur, conſenſu & juſſione Romani principis fieri oportere ordinationem pontificis. Hanc ergo conſuetudinem non poſtponendam, ſed firmiter retinendam eſſe, Deus-dedit Romanus Pontifex decreto ſuo inſtituit ita dicens; Quia ſancta Romana eccleſia, cui, Deo auctore, præſidemus, plurimas patitur violentias, Pontifice obeunte, quæ ob hæc inferuntur, quod absque Imperatoris noticia & ſuorum legatorum præſentia Pontificis fit conſecratio, nec canonico ritu & conſuetudine ab Imperatore directi ſunt nuntii, qui violentiam & ſcandala in ejus conſecratione non permittant fieri, volumus, ut id deinceps abdicetur, & cum præſtituendus eſt pontifex, convenientibus Epiſcopis & univerſo Clero, eligatur, expetente ſenatu & populo eum, qui ordinandus eſt, & ſic in conſpectu omnium celeberrime electus, præſentibus legatis imperialibus conſecretur, nullusque ſine ſui periculo juramenta aut promiſſiones aliquas nova adinventione audeat extorquere, niſi quæ antiqua exigit conſuetudo, ne eccleſia ſcandalizetur, aut Imperatoris honorificentia minuatur. Conſtat igitur, eam ordinationem nec eſſe rectam, nec ordine factam, quæ ambitu occupata, & metu conſcientiæ, & feſtinata conſenſum & collaudationem principis nullatenus habuerit. Idcirco non erit mirum, ſi malum habuerit finem, quod difficile eſt, ut bono peragantur exitu, quæ malo inchoata ſunt principio. Sed forte, qui nos conturbant, & Chriſtianam pacem ſubvertere quærunt, & ne Romanus Pontifex conſenſu & juſſione principis conſecrari debeat probare cupiunt, ſcriptam conſuetudinem non eccleſiaſticam, ſed violentam & fore abjiciendam, contendet, præſertim quod canonica regula multis in locis affirmat, nunquam laico aliquid de eccleſiaſticis diſponendi facultatem eſſe conceſſam, & nulli Imperatori licere aliquid contra mandata divina præſumere. Et item; cum Simachus Papa de electione Romani Pontificis in Synodo præceptum daret, nullam mentionem principis habuit, ſed hoc ſolummodo ſtatuit, ut ille, in quem totius eccleſiaſtici ordinis electio ſe inclinaverit, electus conſecretur: Si vero ſtudia erunt in partibus, plurimorum ſententia vincat. Quæ regulæ prædictam conſuetudinem nec occulte arguunt nec manifeſte excludunt. Simachus enim, ut ipſe præmiſit, tale decretum ſancivit, ut frequentes ambitus & eccleſiæ nuditatem, populique colliſionem removeret, non ut conſuetudinem poteſtatis, quam Romani principes antiquitus habuerant, removendam eſſe intenderet, quam ad multitudinem contendentium reprimendam & ſtatum eccleſiæ conſervandum & cœpiſſe & poſtmodum proceſſiſſe experimento didicerat. Contentio enim, quæ inter ipſum Simachum & æmulum ejus Laurentium eccleſiaſtica cenſura terminari non potuit, regio præcepto compreſſa omnino conticuit. Quia igitur ſtatui eccleſiæ prædictam conſuetudinem neceſſariam eſſe cognoverat, tacens de illa, quæ integra permanebat, quam quisque ſuo in tempore infringere non præſumebat, illa tantum munitione decreti firmare ſtuduit, quæ audaciam præſumtuoſorum ſæpius violaſſe perſpexit. Hoc idem & cæteri Romani Pontifices ante & poſt Symachum facere ſtuduerunt, & nusquam conſecrationem pontificum, ne cum regio conſenſu fieret, prohibuerunt. Nam ſi prohibuiſſent aut prohibendam eſſe ullatenus intellexiſſent, decretum civium in regis præſentiam deferri non ſinerent, nec usque ad regium conſenſum ordinationem ſuam ſuſpenderent. Juſtum quippe erat, ut quorum donariis eccleſia creverat, & quorum tutela illæſa permanebat, & quietis integritatem habebat, eorum conſenſu, & collaudatione & etiam dono patrocinium animarum ſuſciperet, ut Mediolanenſes dono Valentiniani imprimis ſanctum Ambroſium ſuſceperunt Epiſcopum. Sic igitur de eo tripertita Hiſtoria narrat, quod nondum fuerat baptizatus. Hoc autem Imperator agnoſcens, juſſit eum repente baptizari & ordinari Pontificem. Et inferius idem Imperator ſic dicit: Gratias ago tibi omnipotens Salvator, quoniam huic viro ego quidem commiſi corpora, tu autem animas. Tam ſanctus ergo vir, ut Ambroſius fuit, nunquam conſecrationem aut curam hominum juſſione aut dono Imperatoris ſuſcepiſſet, ſi injuſtum hoc eſſe intellexiſſet. Sed quamvis prædicta de cauſa, antequam & eccleſiaſtica conſuetudo cœpiſſet, ut principum conſenſu Pontificum ordinatio recte & juſte proveniat, ſummopere tamen ipſos principes cavere oportet, ne illum collaudando nitantur præferre, cui ſanctorum de hoc ſcripta ſentiunt contraire, quod propter hæc & ſimilia ſcriptum eſt, non licere regi aliquid contra mandata divina præſumere, quoniam quamvis cleri & populi conſenſu princeps poteſtatem habeat præferendi Pontificem, non ei tamen licet illum præferre, cui canonum præcepta poterunt contraire. Item nec ſuo quilibet Princeps debet attribuere juri velle diſponere, quæ ad jura Pontificum canones aſſerunt pertinere. Unde dicunt: Nulli laico unquam aliquid de eccleſiaſticis diſponendi facultatem eſſe conceſſam; quamvis rex a numero laicorum merito in hujusmodi ſeparetur, cum oleo conſecrationis inunctus ſacerdotalis miniſterii particeps eſſe cognoſcitur. Non ergo prædictæ regulæ prædictam antiquitatis conſuetudinem manifeſte aut occulte impugnant. Conſtat ergo, ut jam ſæpe dictum eſt, quod juxta morem & decretum antiquitatis, nec recte nec ordine Romanæ ſedis culmen aſcendit, qui conſenſum principis in hoc neglexerit, tum propter eccleſiæ pacem & concordiam, tum propter regni honorificentiam. Et hæc quidem ex Epiſcopi prædicti tractatu perſtrinxi, de Romani pontificis electione, & conſecratione ſecundum canonicam auctoritatis & antiquitatis conſuetudinem. Nunc quid de Excommunicatione Principis in eodem ſcripto ſit videamus. Non eſt enim ut magnus Leo teſtatur honor ille legitimus, qui fuerit contra divinæ legis præcepta & ſanctorum patrum decreta collatus. Quapropter cujus ordinatio contra jus & ordinem canonicum facta fuerit, nec rata eſſe, nec vires habere ullatenus poterit, nec ei velut pſeudo-pontifici jure pontificiali quemquam ligare aut ſolvere penitus licebit. Item in eodem tractatu: Multi enim, ex quo Chriſti jugo regia colla ſe ſubmiſerant, Hildebrandum præceſſerant Romani Pontifices veræ fidei & relligionis conſtantia præminentes, quorum temporibus plures ex Romanis principibus in eccleſia graviora quæque delinquendo commiſerant, quorum tamen neminem cenſura pontificum verbo excommunicationis exaſperare præſumpſerat, neque hoc ideo tamen dimiſerant, ut humanam amittere gratiam formidantes recta libere loqui pertimeſcerent, illud propheticum incurrentes, canes muti non valentes latrare; ſed illud apoſtoli, & omnia ad ædificationem præ oculis habentes, unde deterius ſi virga peccantes corrigerent, contingere poſſe perſpicue providerunt, quaſi onus ſuperimpoſitum portare convenientius eſſe duxerunt. Multi etiam Imperatores non parvo ingenio igne furoris in ipſos etiam Romanos pontifices exarſerunt, quem tamen ipſi patienter ferendo potius quam ulciſcendo extinguere ſtuduerunt. Quæ tamen & quanta mala Ludovicus pater clericorum Romanæ eccleſiæ temporibus Nicolai Papæ undique absque rationis judicio irrogavit, quam dura & aſpera obſidione prædictum Pontificem cum clero & plebe ſibi commiſſa infra eccleſiam beati Petri incluſum, quinquaginta & duos dies ira dictante afflixit, fame & frigore maceravit, cædis & rapinæ congerie anguſtavit, Scriptura de Quærimonia Romanorum compoſita indubitanter oſtendit. Sed quamvis doloris & injuriæ congeries Pontificis mentem ſollicitudine non parva coanguſtaret, maluit ipſe tamen gravitatem inſtantis periculi humilitate patientiæ levigare, quam furorem principis ſeveritate vindictæ in deterius agitare. Quod nunc certe factum eſt manifeſte. Eccleſiaſtica enim & regalis poſſeſſio velut undequaque occupatur, & circumquaque diſtricta ab omnibus rapitur. Oves Chriſti usquequaque pereunt, bella plus quam civilia quotidie inſurgunt & creſcunt. Eccleſiæ cura negligitur, gligitur, ejus quoque ſtatus & ordo turbatur, & impia & ſacrilega præſumptione Deo Baſilicæ dicatæ auro, argento, gemmis, & palliis & cæteris, quæ veneranda devotio Pontificum, ſeu regum & pietas fidelium ipſis in ornamenta contulerant, expoliantur, & ad pugnam faciendam, & bella commiſcenda & homicidia committenda erogantur. Sanctarum congregationum res & ſtipendia pupillorum & orphanorum hæreditates & victualia diſtrahuntur & vaſtantur; & ſic ex una parte ſervicium Dei impeditur & negligitur, ex altera parte vocibus famelicorum Dominus pulſatur, quos ipſe exaudire dignetur, qui vivit & regnat in ſecula ſeculorum. Hanc igitur peſtiferam inſaniam, hanc inſaniæ ſacrilegam præſumptionem, hanc præſumptionis deteſtandam calamitatem, quoniam eccleſia ſuſtinere non valet, ad radicem arborum peſtiferarum juſte ac neceſſario ſecurim dilectionis ipſamet eccleſia quacunque ratione apponere debuit, ut ſi homines malos a prave agendo ſpiritualis cenſura retrahere non poſſet, ſecularis vindictæ ſaltem metus inhiberet. Sed hunc clipeum fortitudinis a Deo conſtitutum negligendo & dehoneſtando dum extra modum arguentes exaſperant, unum periculum & damnum arguatur omnium. Et quid mirum? Nam unde fructum bonæ diſcretionis & ſalutis eccleſia legere merito debuit, nil aliud quam ſuccus indiſcretionis & perditionis effluit, & unde ſibi bonum pacis procedere ſperabat, non aliud quam fons diſcordiæ emanat. Conſtat ergo ex præcedentibus quod inique & impie Hildebrandus egit, cum iræ & inimicitiarum impetu ductus, Romanum principem verbo injuſtæ excommunicationis, nullo majorum præcedente exemplo exaſperare præſumpſit. Sed idem Hildebrandus in quadam epiſtola ſua, quod a Romanis Pontificibus exemplum hujusmodi ſumere non valuit, Ambroſium Mediolanenſem Epiſcopum Theodoſium Imperatorem excommunicaſſe introduxit, ut ex hoc, quod Ambroſius cujusdam metropolis epiſcopus fecerat, ſibi majori & velut Romano Pontifici licitum eſſe probaret. Sed quod exemplum mendacio corrupit, & inconvenienter in ſuam argumentationem aſſumpſit, nulla ex hac evidentia probabilitatis propoſitum ſuæ intentionis firmavit. Theodoſius etenim furore indignationis accenſus, ſeptem millia hominum, nullo præcedente judicio, Theſſalonicæ juſſit occidi. Hanc autem cladem gemitibus plenam Ambroſius audiens, cum Princeps Mediolanum veniſſet, & ſolenniter in ſacrum templum intrare voluiſſet, ne ſecundo peccato priorem nequiciam augeret, occurrens ei foris ad januas dulci & ſuavi ammonitione, pia & ſalubri perſuaſione a ſacri liminis inceſſu eum prohibuit, nullam poteſtatem ligandi ſibi arroganter attribuens, ſed humiliter dicens; ſuſcipe Imperator vinculum, quo te Dominus omnium ligavit. Eſt itaque medicina maxima ſanitatis. Inconvenienter ergo & fallaciter Hildebrandus ab Ambroſio exemplum duxit, ut Romanum principem excommunicaret, & ſuos ejus ab communione ſuſpenderet, & a fidelitate removeret, Quare nec Ambroſius Theodoſium licet tot millium homicidiorum reum ſententia furoris & faſtu damnationis excommunicare præſumpſit, nec quemlibet ſuorum fidelium ab ejus ſervitio aut communione ſuſpendit, nec ab juramento, quod ei fecerant, abſolvit, nec ipſum imperio aut vita privare molitus fuit. Et hæc de excommunicatione. Nunc autem de Abſolutione juramenti Principum, quid in eodem tractatu ſit ponamus. Cum illo, inquit, anathemate, quod Hildebrandus in regem injuſte & ordine præcipiti dicere præſumpſit, maledictionis & damnationis clavum ſibi ipſi infixit: Et, ſi, quia erroris lepra aſperſus a fidelium unitate, contumacia & perverſitate ſingularis doctrinæ, receſſit, neminem fidelium regis ab ejus communione ſuſpendere potuit, multo minus ab juramento, quod ei fecerant, abſolvere licuit, quia ſi excommunicatio juſte & ordine a recto & catholico facta fuiſſet, ab juramento tamen principes regni absque labe perjurii cum vita abſolvi non poſſent. Nam cum illud, quod vita manente ſervare ſe cum juramento ſpoponderant, non incurrente neceſſitate, ceſſarent impendere, non poſſent reatum perjurii continuo non incurrere, quia ubi juramenti promiſſio violatur, neceſſe eſt, ut perjurium continuo committatur. Quapropter cum abſolutio juramenti absque reatu perjurii fieri non potuit; perjurium autem de tali juramento concedi non licuit, cum juramentum quod fit regibus a ſanctis patribus inſolubiliter obſervandum eſſe præcipiatur, qui juramenta regi & Imperatori facta violari conceſſit, & juſſit, neceſſario reus perjurii factus, novi & veteris teſtamenti mandatis manifeſte invenitur eſſe contrarius. Habemus itaque in lege veteri ſcriptum, nec perjurabis in nomine meo, & non aſſumes nomen Domini Dei tui in vanum. Et Euticianus Papa jubet hoc prædicari, ut fideles homines ſummopere perjurium committere caveant, ſcientes grande ſcelus eſſe, & in lege & in Prophetis & in evangelio prohibitum. Habemus etiam ex Toletano Concilio: Si quis laicus juramentum violando profanat, quod regi & Domino ſuo jurat, & poſtmodum regnum ejus perverſe & doloſe tractaverit, & in mortem ipſius aliquo machinamento inſidiabitur, quia ſacrilegium facit, manum ſuam in Chriſtum Domini mittens, anathema ſit. Epiſcopus vero, presbiter, Diaconus, ſi hoc crimen perpetraverit, degradetur. De illa etiam re, quam male & incaute ſervari juramento promittit, quamvis obſervari non debeat, tamen præcipit Toletanum Concilium, ut male jurans dignam pœnitentiam agat, eo quod nomen Domini contra præceptum illius ſumpſit in vanum. Quid ergo Hildebrandus in abſolutione juramenti Regi facti aliud egit, quam quod plane mandatum Dei rejecit, & traditiones ſuas ſtatuit, & eccleſiæ ſtatum impudenter evertit? Mandatum enim Dei, ut Alexander Papa inquit, rejicere nihil eſt aliud, quam humano judicio novis rebus conſtituendis incumbere.

Novas autem res procul dubio conſtituit, qui contra patrum ſtatuta, perjuria committendi licentiam dedit, & per hoc unitatis & concordiæ vinculum rupit, ſeditiones movit, ſchismata excitavit, cædes & incendia, rapinas & ſacrilega, aliaque ſine numero mala undiq; Eccleſiæ & regno induxit. Duo ergo hic hæretica, & Chriſtianæ ſaluti penitus inimica Hildebrandus plane induxit, quia & impœnitentia cordis in abſolutione illa indixit, id eſt, peccare in Spiritum Sanctum inremiſſibile peccatum videlicet docuit, & veniam de culpa ſine correctione dari poſſe, exemplo ſuo aſſeruit. Hoc autem nec ſcriptum habetur, nec exemplum, ut fieri poſſit, in Eccleſia fidelium reperitur. Quod Gelaſius Papa teſtatur, dicens: Legatur, ex quo fuit religio Chriſtiana, vel certe detur exemplum in Eccleſia Dei a quibuslibet Pontificibus ab ipſis Apoſtolis, ab ipſo denique creatore veniam niſi corrigentibus fuiſſe concellam. Item idem ita ſubjungit: Remitti culpa de præterito poteſt, correctione quidem ſine dubio ſubſequente, ſed ſi deinceps fingitur manſura perverſitas, non eſt benignitas remittentis, ſed conſentientis annunciatio. Et Auguſtinus dicit: Quisquis malorum operum ſine condigna pœnitentia quemquam veniam a Deo percipere poſſe dixerit, penitus errat; & cum deceptus alios decipere feſtinat, duplici noxa conſtringitur, hoc eſt, proprii erroris, & alienæ deceptionis. Perjurii autem perverſitas indubitanter omnibus perpetua manet, quos pœnitentia correctionis a perfidia nunquam retrahit. Non igitur in pertinacia perjurii manentibus quisquam culpam remittere poterit, ſed qui ſe illis remittere dixerit, ſe eis conſentientem eſſe ſine dubio annuncians, tot perjuriorum reus exſiſtit, quot ipſe fraudulenta & falſa remiſſione perjuros eſſe ſubſtituerit, quia ſi ille, qui peccantibus conſentit, juxta Apoſtolum ex hoc reus eſſe ſtatuitur, tunc qui alios qualibet arte peccare inducit, peccati autor & ſocius factus evidenter & ipſe reus eſſe convincitur. Quid hoc aliud eſt, quam cordis impœnitentiam hoc exemplo docere, & culpam de crimine absque correctione ſolvi poſſe mendaci abſolutione aſſerere, & ſimulato ore homines decipere. De hoc quoque Papa Simplicius dicit: Recte ille privilegium dignitatis meretur amittere, qui permiſſa ſibi abutitur poteſtate. Nam ſi juramentum, quod Regi jure debito Principes fecerant, poſtpoſuiſſe reatus fuit, utique & correctione indiguit, & abſolvi absque correctione non potuit: qui correctione non eget, reatus nomen recte habere non poteſt. Si vero medicinam correctionis perjurio vulneratis adhibere ideo noluit, quia periculum mortis in perjurii vulnere forte non intellexit, fallaciter & ſuperflue abſolvit, quos nullo vinculo culpæ aſtrictos eſſe exiſtimavit. Merito igitur privilegium Pontificale excluſus amiſit, qui Pontificatus poteſtate in horum alterutro abuti non reformidavit, & ex hoc infinitæ hominum multitudini lacum mortis effodi, & laqueum perditionis decipiendo abſcondit. Et quia, juxta dictum Auguſtini, nemo non pius in ſe, quia in alterum peccat, jure & ipſe in foveam cecidit, & iniquitas ſua demum in conſummationem damnationis ſuæ deſcendit, quoniam juxta dictum Salomonis, qui laqueum alii ponit, in illo peribit, & nequiſſimum conſilium facienti, trans ipſum devolvetur, & unde illi veniat, non agnoſcet. Nequius autem conſilium nemo poterit facere, quam ſub ſpecie pacis in ſacerdotium & regnum diſcordiæ gladium immittere. Ex hoc enim pietatis viſcera lacerantur, caritatis & amicitiæ vigor & conſtantia diſſipantur, fidei vinculo debito jure aſtricti in interitum animæ ſeparantur, Chriſtianitatis pax excluditur, ſchismata excitantur, ſeditiones moventur, certamina mortis inducuntur, jura, leges & Eccleſiaſtica ſanctio usquequaque ſubvertitur, raptoribus & prædonibus, & quibuslibet perditiſſimis hominibus occaſio male agendi tribuitur, & demum his duobus Eccleſiæ capitibus diſcordantibus omnia ſive animæ, ſive corpori profutura turbantur, & ad interitum inclinantur. Quapropter quamdiu languor non fuerit curatus in capite, totum corpus non deſinet morbus fatigare. Item de juramentis: Juravit enim Sedechias per Deum omnipotentem, quod obſervaret fidelitatem Nabuchodonoſor Regi, & ſolveret illi tributum, quia conſtituerat eum Regem. Sed quia hæc omnia mentitus eſt, & juramentum nominis divini non ſervavit, traditus eſt tam ipſe, quam Principes ejus. Nam ductus in Babylonem, cœcus in caveam, ibique mortuus eſt, eo quod juramentum Domini ſpreverit, quia multo fidelior inventus eſt ille, qui juramentum Domini credidit, licet a Deo alienus eſſet, quam ille, qui per juramenti ipſius occaſionem locum adinvenit, & amico ſuo, qui ei regnum dederat, molitus eſt inſidias.

CLXXIII.

De miraculis Wicberti Papæ, qui & Clemens.

Henrico glorioſo Principi Pictavinus Epiſcopus fideliſſimum ſervitium. Ea quæ libenter vos credimus audire, & plurimum etiam gaudere, quæ & ubique ſunt prædicanda, vobis mittimus, quæ videlicet ex plurimis miraculis, quæ divina Clementia per merita felicis memoriæ Domini noſtri Clementis Papæ, ad ejus ſepulchrum eſt operata, a Johanne Caſtellanæ civitatis Epiſcopo transmiſſa, ad nos usque ſunt perlata. Quidam nomine Petrus ejusdem Epiſcopi famulus, inductus tantum oculorum dolorem, ut penitus amitteret lumen, & per ſpatium trium hebdomadarum penitus cæcus permanſit; Qui ductus ad ſepulchrum Domini Papæ, ſe ibi in orationem dedit; non poſt multo ſanguis ab ejus oculis effluxit, & ita lumen recepit. Quidam Diaconus nomine Creſcentius lepra horribili toto corpori perfuſus, orans ad tumulum beati viri factus eſt ſanus. Comitiſſa ipſius civitatis & quidam puerulus ejusdem loci quartanis febribus per annorum duorum ſpatia vexati, per merita ſancti Clementis Papæ ſunt liberati. Vir quidam nomine Wido cum uxore ſua perditis luminibus per merita ſancti illuminantur. Quidam nomine Petrus per annos tres manuum & pedum officiis perditis, delatus ad ſepulchrum ſancti, ſtatim effectus eſt ſanus. Adoleſcens quidam fere per unius anni ſpatium tanto membrorum fuerat detentus languore, ut nec ſtare nec ſedere, nec ambulare, vel quocunque quieſcere valeret: Veniens mater ad ſepulchrum ſancti, eumque pro filio deprecata, & domum reverſa, invenit filium ſanum. Sutor quidam vocabulo Paganus pravorum verborum convitiis plenus beati Papæ Clementis horribilis maledicus, cum die quadam vellet aleis ludere cum quodam milite Pontificis: modo, inquit, ludamus, quo ſtatim te vincam: Cui miles. Si vere, inquit, Dominus noſter Clemens eſt ſanctus, ego te vincam. Et ille, ſi ipſe eſt ſanctus, & ludum & lumen protinus amittam, Et ſtatim factus eſt cœcus. Vir ſuſtinens per duos menſes intolerabilem oculorum dolorem, ductus tandem ad ſepulchrum ſancti illuminatus eſt. In anniverſario ejus quidam per multos annos cœcus ante ſepulchrum ejus proſtratus, in prima vigilia lumen accepit. Quidam homo Ferro nomine cum febre maxima tantam patiebatur ingluviem, quod nunquam poterat ſaturari, quia omnia, quæ edebat, ab inferiori parte absque digeſtione emittebat, & per duos annos hac paſſione adeo eſt afflictus, quod ad extremum jam pervenerat vitæ: Tandem ad tumulum ſancti ductus, factus eſt ſtatim ſanus. Cujusdam piſcatoris uxor graviſſima paralyſi, adeo eſt per multum tempus vexata, quod os ei retortum erat usque ad aures, oculi terribiles; ducta ad ſanctum corpus, facta eſt ſana. Quidam illuſtris homo officio manus amiſſo, orans ad ſepulchrum ſancti, reſtitutus eſt ſanitati. Quidam eremita magnæ religionis afflictionis cauſa circulum ferreum nudo corpori circumpoſuerat. Quem caro accreſcens graviter affligebat, & multis doloribus replebat, fœtorem etiam ferre non poterat. Qui licet adverſariæ parti penitus faveret, dolore tamen urgente ad ſancti ſepulchrum pervenit, ubi fracto circulo ab illa graviſſima anguſtia liberatus eſt. Quidam alius cœcatus cucurrit ad ſanctum & ſtatim illuminatus eſt. Quidam Presbyter per totum fere annum tanta infirmitate eſt detentus, quod de lectulo ſuo non poterat ſe movere, ductus ad ſepulchrum, redditus eſt ſanitati. Surdus ibi recepit auditum, & Mulier per quatuor annos ſanguinis fluxu fatigata ad ſepulchrum apparente ſibi beato Clemente, effecta eſt ſana, ibique mulier adeo quidem curva, ut caput genibus jungeret, eſt erecta. Et quædam puella ante & retro gibboſa, videntibus cunctis qui aderant, fractis gibbis, ſana facta eſt. Alia quædam ab inſania liberata eſt. Alia, cujus manus & brachium aruerat, ſanitati eſt reſtituta. Quidam per novem annos mutus, loquelam recepit ibi. In Civitate Tuſcana, quæ eſt juxta Bithinum a Rheinhero monacho, quem Paſcaſium vocant, Epiſcopus conſecratus Presbyteris ordinatis ab Epiſcopis Papæ Clementis officium interdixerat divinum, dicens, illos Presbyteros non eſſe. Illi contriſtati petierunt a Majoribus fieri legem. Statutum eſt itaque, ut tres Presbyteri ex parte beati Clementis & tres ex adverſa ferrum ignitum deferrent. In noſtris itaque nullo ignis ſigno prorſus reperto, manus adverſariorum penitus combuſtæ apparuerunt. Protinus Epiſcopus cum ſuis complicibus a cunctis Clericis & Laicis ab eodem eſt Epiſcopatu depulſus. Duo Presbyteri rogaverunt Deum, ut ſi ipſe eſſet ſanctus, ora diſtorta haberent; Quod ita factum eſt, & hoc tota provincia novit. Quidam Laicus rogavit ſimiliter, ut ſi ipſe ſanctus eſſet, manum aridam haberet, & ſtatim arefacta eſt. In fine horum prædictus Caſtellanenſis Epiſcopus ſubſcripſerat. Multa ſunt autem alia, Domini fratres, quæ longum eſt enarrare. Et ſicut certiſſime creditis, quod Deus veritas eſt, ita veriſſime teneatis, quod hæc vera ſunt omnia.

Epiſtola Urbani Papæ, qui ſucceſſit Hildebrando.

Urbanus Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei dilectis in Chriſto filiis clero ac populo Carnotenſi ſ. & A. b. Nos quidem tum pro beatæ Mariæ ſemper virginis devotione ac reverentia, tum pro officii noſtri debito Eccleſiæ veſtræ dilectionem, protectionem & curam ſpecialius impendentes, ejusque labores diuturnos, quos a Gaufrido quondam Epiſcopo paſſa eſt, propenſiore animo perpendentes, rei veritate diutius atque diligentius pertractata, largiente Domino juſtitiæ ſatisfecimus. Bonam itaque animi veſtri voluntatem prævenientes ac ſubſequentes venerabilem virum Ivonem Presbyterum, quem Gaufrido per nos depoſito catholice atque canonice ſecundum noſtra monita elegiſtis, ne quod ulterius hac in re impedimentum veſtra Eccleſia pateretur, ſine moræ longioris obſtaculo conſecravimus. Hunc enim ad vos remittentes, tanquam beati Petri manibus conſecratum, beati Petri vice rogamus & obſecramus; quatenus eum benignitate ſuſcipientes debita, ut Paſtoris membrum, obedientia honoretis, debita ſollicitudine, quam nobis annunciaverit, obſervetis. Et ut Deo ipſe placere, &, ut eum pro noſtris valeat exceſſibus digne intercedendo placare, vos quoque placere Deo totis conaminibus procurate. Si vero Deo placere ſtudueritis, paſtorem procul dubio Deo placentem habebitis, nos quoque in noſtris opportunitatibus ad exaudiendum paratos invenietis. Porro de Gaufrido, qui ſine omni conditione noſtris in manibus Epiſcopatum reddidit, indignum ſe agnoſcens, præcepimus & præcipimus, nequis ullo modo ad Epiſcopatum reinvadendum aut infeſtandum, aſſenſum acommodare præſumat. Alias & ipſum & ipſius fautores excommunicationi ſubjacere cenſemus. Obedientes vos noſtris monitis gratia divina cuſtodiat. Data Capuæ. IIX. cal. Dec.

Quantas pro Gaufrido quondam Epiſcopo Carnotenſis Eccleſiæ moleſtias ſuſtinuerit, quantæ ad Apoſtolicam ſedem perlatæ querelæ fuerint, dilectionis veſtræ ſtrenuitas recognoſcit. Tandem rei veritate perquiſita, largiente Domino juſticiæ ſatisfecimus & ab ipſo in noſtris manibus ſine cujuslibet tenore conditionis Epiſcopatus refutatus eſt. Tunc ad tuam fraternitatem ſcripta direximus, rei geſtæ ordinem indicantes, & ut tuum, Carnotenſibus ad eligendum & conſecrandum antiſtitem, auxilium contribueres flagitantes. Noſtra itaque fulti licentia Carnotenſes venerabilem Presbyterum Ivonem, canonico ordine in Epiſcopatum elegerunt. Cum autem a te conſecrationis gratiam pro amore Eccleſiæ petiviſſet, tua ei fraternitas manum imponere recuſavit. Ad nos ergo ipſis venientibus & conſecrationis ejusdem gratiam depoſcentibus; nos qui viri relligionem, jam dudum noveramus, & ejus eligendi licentiam dederamus, petitioni juſtæ deeſſe nequivimus. Conſecratum igitur eum ſalva tuæ Eccleſiæ obedientia remittentes, dilectionis tuæ dulcedinem poſtulamus, ut omnis litis fomite conſopito benignitate cum debita complectaris, & ad Eccleſiæ regimen ei auxilium tuum largiaris. Porro Gaufridum ſi Epiſcopatum invadere aut Eccleſiam infeſtare tentaverit, ipſum, ipſiusque fautores anathemati ſubjacere decrevimus.

Urbanus Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei Epiſcopis Germaniæ in unitate Eccleſiæ conſtitutis ſalutem & A. b. Fratrum noſtrorum communicato conſilio, diuque Excommunicationis quæſtione tractata, ſancti prædeceſſoris noſtri Gregorii ſententiam confirmantes, ita eam Domino inſpirante determinavimus. Primo ſiquidem gradu Ravennatem hæreſiarcham Romanæ Eccleſiæ invaſorem cum ejusdem perverſitatis capite, ab omnibus Eccleſiæ Catholicæ membris alienum & excommunicatum eſſe, cenſemus; Secundo qui armis, pecunia, conſilio aut obedientia Eccleſiaſticos maxime ordines aut honores ab eis aut eorum fautoribus accipiendo eorum nequitiæ adminiculum ſubminiſtrant: Hos igitur principaliter anathematis vinculis aſtringentes; in tertio gradu communicantes eis, nos quidem non excommunicamus, ſed, qui ſe eorum communione commaculant, nequaquam in noſtram ſocietatem ſine pœnitentiæ ultione & abſolutione recipimus. Sanctis quippe Canonibus ſancitum conſtat, ut qui excommunicatis communicaverit excommunicetur. Ipſius tamen pœnitentiæ & abſolutionis modos ea moderatione diſcrevimus, ut quisquis ſeu ignorantia ſeu timore ſeu neceſſitate negotii cujusque maximi & maxime neceſſarii eorum ſe convictu, ſalutatione, oratione l. oſculo contaminaverit, cum minoris pœnitentiæ abſolutionisque medicina noſtræ ſocietatis participium ſortiatur. Eos vero qui ſpontanee aut negligenter inciderint, ſub ea nolumus diſciplinæ coërcitione ſuſcipi, ut cæteris metus incutiatur.

Urbanus Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei dilecto in Chriſto filio Schafhuſenſi Abbati ejusque ſucceſſoribus regulariter ſubſtituendis in perpetuum. Cum univerſis ſanctæ Eccleſiæ filiis & Apoſtolicæ ſedis auctoritate ac benevolentia debitores exiſtamus, illis tamen locis atque perſonis, quæ ſpecialius ac familiarius Romanæ adhærent Eccleſiæ, quæque ampliorís relligionis gratia eminent, propenſiori nos convenit caritatis ſtudio imminere. Igitur tam tuis & tuorum fratrum quam & relligioſi comitis N. piis votis, & petitionibus annuentes, ſancti Salvatoris venerabile cœnobium ab N. quondam Comite apud villam H. ſub honore omnium Sanctorum ædificatum, & beato Petro oblatum in jus perpetuum & tutelam recipimus Apoſtolicæ ſedis, ſicut a piæ memoriæ prædeceſſore noſtro Gregorio Septimo conſtat fuiſſe ſuſceptum. Quicquid etiam immunitatis idem Pontifex loco ipſi contulit, nos quoque concedimus, & præſenti decreto corroboramus. Apoſtolica itaque auctoritate ſtatuimus ut univerſa quæ præfati Comites, vel alii quilibet fideles cœnobio veſtro de ſuis facultatibus contulerint, quæque hodie poſſidet, ſive in futurum conceſſione Pontificum liberalitate Principum vel oblatione fidelium juſte atque canonice poterit adipiſci, firma tibi tuisque ſucceſſoribus & illibata permaneant; De cellis autem beatæ Agnetis & beatæ Mariæ in villa N. nominatim interdicimus, nequis occaſione qualibet eas audeat a præfati monaſterii proprietate ſubtrahere vel alienare, ſed in eo ordine ſemper maneant; quo a te, chariſſime fili N. inſtitutæ ſunt: nec tibi nec ſucceſſorum tuorum alicui liceat eas diſtrahere, vel earum bona temere aut violenter minuere vel auferre. Si quis vero hactenus eorum quicquam abſtulit, donec reſtituat, ab omnipotentis Dei gratia alienus exiſtat. Præterea manſuro in perpetuum decreto ſancimus, ut nulli omnino viventium liceat, in veſtro monaſterio aliquid proprietatis, conditionis, hæreditarii juris, advocatiæ, inveſtituræ, aut cujuslibet poteſtatis, quæ libertati & quieti fratrum noceat, vendicare. Abbas ſane cum fratribus advocatum ſibi, quem utiliorem providerint, inſtituat. Qui ſi poſtmodum monaſterio inutilis fuerit, remoto eo alium præficiant: Sepulturam ejusdem loci liberam omnino eſſe decrevimus, ut eorum qui ibi ſepeliri deliberaverint; devotioni & extremæ voluntati, niſi forte excommunicati ſint, nullus obſiſtat. Siquas vero decimas pertinentes Eccleſiis, quas habetis & habebitis, a Laicis recuperare, annuente Domino potueritis, veſtris uſibus perpetuo mancipandas absque omni Epiſcoporum contradictione cenſemus, ſalva Epiſcopali reverentia. Laicos ſeu clericos ſeculares ad converſionem ſuſcipere, nullius Epiſcopi vel præpoſiti contradictio vos inhibeat. Ad hoc adjicimus, ut nulli Epiſcoporum facultas ſit ſine Romani Pontificis licentia loca veſtra vel Monachos interdictioni vel excommunicationi ſubjicere. Nulli præterea homini liceat ſæpe Alias vero liceat nobis Catholicum, quem volueritis, adire Antiſtitem, & ab eo conſecrationis ſacramenta ſuſcipere, vel ad ſedem Apoſtolicam recurrere: Qui Apoſtolica fultus authoritate, quæ poſtulantur, indulgeat. Cunctis autem eidem loco juſta ſervantibus ſit pax Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, quatenus & hic fructum bonæ actionis percipiant, & apud diſtrictum judicem præmia æternæ pacis inveniant.

CLXXVIII.

Urbanus Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei, dilecto fratri & coëpiſcopo Gaufrido Conſtantienſi ſalutem & A. b. Dilectiſſimus filius noſter N. conqueſtus eſt nobis, quod quidam Vir nomine N. poſtquam ſe ſuaque omnia ſuper altare Domini Salvatoris & omnium ſanctorum in Schafhuſen obtulerat, inſtinctu Diaboli apoſtatando ſe ſuaque ab eodem monaſterio alienare præſumſerit. Volumus ergo tuæque caritati injungimus, ut eundem Virum ſecundum Evangelicam Authoritatem, ſecundo & tertio canonice, ut revertatur, commoneas. Si vero, quod abſit, in pravitate ſua perſtiterit, tu in promtu ulciſci habens omnem inobedientiam, pro officii tui debito gladium excommunicationis in illum evaginare non differas, ut ſi ipſe incorrigibilis permanſerit, cæteri timorem habeant. Labores & anguſtias univerſalis matris Romanæ Eccleſiæ tibi tanquam fideli filio commendamus. Data Romæ 10. April.

CLXXIX.

Urbanus Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei Conſtantienſi Epiſcopo N. & N. Comitibus ſalutem & A. b. Venerunt ad nos literæ Abbatis monaſterii ſancti Salvatoris, conquerentes Deo & ſancto Petro, quod vir quidam nomine N. veniens ad prædictum monaſterium ſeculo renuntiavit, promiſſionem ſtabilitatis ſecundum conſuetudinem monaſterii fecit & ſua eidem Eccleſiæ ſecundum legem Suevorum, multis coram teſtibus tradidit & confirmavit. Abbas autem, ut eſt devotus & prudens diſpenſator & fidelis, in eodem prædio monaſterium venuſte conſtruxit, fratres ordinavit, & cætera, quæ ad monaſticam pertinent regulam: inſtituit. Prædictus autem N. ut omnia vidit Abbatis labore & ſtudio ordinata atque perfecta, poſtquam prædictum monaſterium idem prædium per ſeptennium & eo amplius ſine omni contradictione obtinuit, inſtinctu Diaboli nunquam ſe tradidiſſe fatetur, & ſi quicquam ob hoc moleſtiæ ſuſtinuerit, non ſolum auferre, ſed & ipſum monaſterium minatur evertere. Quapropter, filii excellentiſſimi, obnixe vos exoramus, ut pro Domini Salvatoris devotione ac reverentia beati Petri & noſtri amore eundem virum a tanta Apoſtaſia prohibere & Abbati ac monaſterio curetis aſſiſtere. Dicit vero Innocentius: Error, cui non reſiſtitur, approbatur; ac Apoſtolus: Non ſolum, qui faciunt, digni ſunt morte, ſed qui conſentiunt facientibus. Volumus autem, fili, te eundem peſtilentem virum, ſi jam non factum eſt, ſecundo & tertio canonice commonere, ut reſipiſcat. Quod ſi contemſerit, ut cæteri metum habeant, gladium anathematis in illum evaginare, quatenus in interitum carnis traditus Satanæ diſcat non blasphemare & ſalvus ſit in die Domini. Incolumes vos & monitis noſtris obedientes, divina gratia cuſtodiat, & ab omni malo defendat.

Urbanus Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei, dilectis filiis Clero ac populo Halberſtadenſi ſalutem & A. b. Non exigua ſalutis veſtræ jactura perpenditur, quod tamdiu Eccleſia veſtra paſtoris eſt ſolatio deſtituta. Venerabilis ſiquidem frater noſter quem communi conſenſu ſecundum ſanctorum canonum ſcita in Pontificem vobis eligeratis, ſchismaticorum vi cogente, partim dolis & blanditiis, partim terroribus & minis a veſtra eſt Eccleſia contra ſanctiones canonicas & conſuetudines Eccleſiaſticas conturbatus. Neque vero licuit, ſuſceptam ſemel juſte & canonice pro Apoſtolicæ ſedis obedientia, electionem ſine Apoſtolicæ ſedis licentia vel permiſſione deſerere. Illum tamen vestre fit in vestram Ecclesiam pallium Catholicis Patrum decretis prædecessoris a nostris temporibus, non est Pontificum, ut quem ego Apostolicæ Sedis vobis fecit conjunctis dedicatum, ipsum indicavit per præsentia decreta ejusdem omnibus modis impedimentis, dissensis, qui si fecerimus ab illustris, partem vel Ecclesiæ tuæ honorem, ab eis fidelitate debitorum. Nunc igitur, quia in Claudio Apostolicæ Angelum Dominus & Catholice fidei legatum excipite, suscipite in nobis quem ego in Christi Domini nostrum omnibus obedire. Sane Cyprianum Catholicæ in vestra gente Patrum magna est natura, & quid ex in eum pertinebat disputavit, ac definitionem hujus fidei gratia & sedis apostolica disputavit pontificatus, quam interveniamus ipsa meat. Omnipotens Dominus Apostolorum Petrum dat vos in sua potestate obtinet, & arcem vitæ conferre electis.

Matri benedictionis & fideli Henricus Dei gratia

gratia Rex ex toto corde dilectionem & si quid est melius & ultra. Omnem successum nostrum quoniam te scire sanum est, quid hæc curia dictaverit & senserit, tibi, utpote dulcissimæ matri nostræ, mandare voluimus. Post multum causæ nostræ tractum, tandem audita Apostolica legatione & omnium fidelium nostrorum, qui multi aderant, consilio & persuasione, restitutionem transfugarum Episcoporum concessimus & permisimus, sic tamen, ut de his, quoquo modo velimus, parti nostræ caveamus, donec in diem, quem nos causæ eorum ventilandæ constituimus. Quem diem & terminum eosdem Papæ legatos hic expectare scias. Tu vero pro bona, quam de te habemus, fiducia, ut tibi res nostra diu expectatum eventum accipiat, a Deo sedulo inquiras. Hoc autem, quod nos rogasti, ea conditione, quamvis & mandasti, certissime hoc & quicquid tuæ dilectioni impendere poterimus, accipies.

CLXXXVII.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rex Clero populoque Romano, majoribus & minoribus, gratiæ suæ & optimæ voluntatis sinceriſſimum affectum. Quanta fide & benevolentia nostrum sacrosanctæ memoriæ parentem colueritis, quantaque ipse honorificentia & Ecclesiæ vestræ dignitatem & universam Romani nominis amplitudinem publice privatimque provexerit, plurima seniorum procerum imperii nostri relatione cognovimus. Neque vero post obitum ipsius minori amore & reverentia infantiam nostram foviſtis & omnino fideli constantia nobis, in quantum per quorundam pestilentium & superborum improbitatem licuit, affuistis; Sed quod nos tamen perpetuæ caritati vestræ debita necessitudine in referenda gratia non respondimus, primum ætatis imbecillitas causa fuit. Postquam vero virum induimus, tantus in nos tyrannicæ perfidiæ furor intumuit, ut ad eum opprimendum, omnem curam laboris nostri nos intendere, necessitas suprema cogeret. Nunc vero quia non nostra, sed Dei veritate atrociſſimorum hostium tam vitam, quam superbiam ferro truncavimus, & membra disturbati & disjecti imperii maxima ex parte composuimus, ad vos venire intendimus, scilicet ut debitam & hæreditariam dignitatem communi omnium vestrorum assensu & favore a vobis accipiamus & meritas vobis gratias omni honoris genere imperciamur. Miramur autem quod cognito adventu nostro nulla nobis legatio vestra solenni more occurrit. Nam quod nostros ad vos legatos mittere supersedimus, ipsi vos nostis legati nostri viri honorati & reverendi, quam infami contumelia ab eo, unde minime oportuit, supra omnium barbarorum immanitatem, anno præterito affecti sunt. Quod autem iidem disturbatores pacis & concordiæ nobis imposuere & in vos sparsere, eam adventus nostri esse intentionem, ut beati Petri Principis Apostolorum honor imminuatur & vestrorum omnium respublica per nos evertatur, nihil illi quidem novum suis moribus fecere; verum nos fideliter vobis insinuamus, quod hæc nostra omnino voluntas est, & sententia, ut quod in nobis est, pacifice introeamus, ac demum collato omnium vestrorum imprimis aliorumque fidelium nostrorum consilio, diuturna discordia regni & sacerdotii de medio tollatur, & omnia ad pacem & unitatem in Christi nomine revocentur.

CLXXXVIII.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rex A. Sanctæ Babenbergensis Ecclesiæ venerando Pontifici, scilicet dilecto nepoti suo, gratiam suam & debitum dilectionis donum. Si omnia vestra prosperitatis tenore diriguntur, ut justum est, congaudeamus, & si quid vobis aversi occurrerit, quod divina repellat obumbratio, ut decens est, condolemus; & hanc eandem caritatis vicem vos erga nos servaturum non dubitamus. Quapropter dilectionis vestræ rogamus privilegium, quia quidam militiæ vestræ H. nomine, misericordiam nostram & auxilium petens venit, ut sibi illam haraſcaram cum vadimonio, quam vobis jurejurando promisit, nostri amoris & rogatus causa dimittatis, ut ego ex mea parte vobis compensem, patremque meum, ut & ipse vobis compenset, instigem.

CLXXXIX.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imp. Augustus omnibus Episcopis, Comitibus, Capitaneis, Civibus, Castellanis totius Monarchiæ, majoribus & minoribus, suis fidelibus gratiam & bonam voluntatem: De integra fidelitate, quam nobis sicut optimi fideles observatis & de labore, quem pro honore nostro nostris inimicis viriliter resistendo, sustinetis, grates vobis maximas referimus. Unde dignam vobis indubitantem, sciatis, facere remunerationem intendimus. Multa de his, quæ ad regni & utilitatis vestræ curam pertinent, scripsissemus, nisi vobis tam carum & tam credibilem nuntium & fidelem nostrum & familiarem intimum misissemus. Per ipsum H. plurima vestræ fidei significamus, quæ ad nostrum honorem pertinent & regni stabilitatem, quo ei sicut nobis ipsis confidatis, scientes, illum nec velle nec facere, quod pura ejus fides honori nostro non debet. Vobis itaque mandamus & præcipimus & diligenter rogamus, ut ejus verba quasi ex nostro ore suscipiatis, & quicquid ex nostri parte vobis dicet vel præcipiet de honore nostro, nostri caritate & sub certa spe dignæ remunerationis opere & hilari voluntate compleatis, sicut vobis confidimus.

CXC.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imp. Augustus H. Magdeburgensi Archiepiscopo gratiam & omne bonum. Laborem tuum & studium circa honorem nostrum, quem maximum esse audivimus, ideoque dignas tibi gratias, prout justum est, referimus, nec quidem paucis verbis, multis autem factis, cum, Deo annuente, ad te venerimus. Tu tamen, sicut cœpisti, interim pro obtinendo nobis regni honore in his partibus sis sollicitus. Nos enim, qui specialem tibi præ cæteris habemus fidem, proxime quando a te diceſſimus, omnia noſtra tuæ fidei commiſimus. Quod quidem fideliter erga nos hactenus obſervaſti & adhuc te conſervaturum veraciter credimus. Fac igitur, ut bonus ac diſcretus, & fidem, quam in te firmam eſſe credimus, usque ad finem perduc in omnibus. Nos vero in loco intimi amici te habemus, & quodcunque habet perfecta fides, de te nobis fieri confidimus. In hujus itaque fidei teſtimonium iterum tibi nos & omnia noſtra committimus, ut ita agas in omnibus, ſicut bene tibi confidimus. Beneficium autem N. Præpoſiti fidelis noſtri, quod & antea tibi commiſimus, iterum tibi committimus, ut ad utilitatem ejus illud conſerves & illi, qui injuſte tenet, ex noſtra parte interdicas, quia Dominus ejus, qui modo idem beneficium ſibi illicite uſurpavit, nobis, dum querimonia intereſſet, reddidit.

CXCI.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imper. Auguſtus R. Babenberg. Eccleſiæ Epiſcopo gratiam & omne bonum. Notum eſt tibi quanto periculo tota fluctuat Eccleſia, quantus error in omni ſurgit Saxonia, quantaque deſolatione nobilis illa Metenſis penitus deſtruitur Eccleſia, & non ſolum ibi, ſed & in diverſis partibus Eccleſia noſtri dividitur imperii. Igitur conſilio fidelium noſtrorum ſtatuimus fieri Moguntiæ colloquium in Dominico die ante proximum ſancti Andreæ feſtum. Huic colloquio omnes regni Principes noſtri fideles interſint: & præterea omnes, quorum nobis utilis declaratur aut fides aut conſilii providentia. Ad quod venire te quam intime rogamus, quia nullatenus tam ardua negotia regni & diviſio Eccleſiæ coadunari poterit, ſine tua maxima ſapientia & conſilio egregio & fide, quæ hactenus nobis frequenter in neceſſitatibus & hujusmodi controverſiis regni, prout nos voluimus & res exegerat, præſto fuit. Ad quod colloquium omnes Saxones noſtri fideles venient, rogantes ſummopere, nos in Saxoniam venire, & hos novos errores componere. Metenſes autem e contrario Metim clamant nos tranſire, quatinus illic tandem pax & ſecuritas reddatur Eccleſiæ. Nos quoque, invitante Archi-Epiſcopo, Coloniæ nativitatem Domini celebraturi ſumus, & idcirco ſtatuimus, hoc colloquium ante fieri, ut hujusmodi diſſenſiones regni prius componeremus, quam in remotiora tranſiremus loca. Sed idcirco prædictam expeditionem diſtulimus, quatenus communi omnium noſtrorum conſilio, quæ nobis agenda ſint, conſiderentur. Ergo rogamus te per eam, qua compater nobis effectus es, dilectionem, ne te corporis ægritudo vel quælibet alia res impediat, quin ad præfatum colloquium tempore ſtatuto venias, & ibi juxta magnam ſapientiam & ſolitam fidem tuam de noſtra & regni utilitate, quæ neceſſaria ſunt, nobiſcum diſponas.

CXCII.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imper. Auguſtus Roberto Babenbergenſi Epiſcopo gratiam & omne bonum. Quod ſemper nobis fuiſti fidelis, quemadmodum debuiſti & noſtrum honorem, ſicut vir ſapiens & fidelis egregius, retinere & amplificare ſtuduiſti, grates tibi quam maximas referimus, & etiam, procul dubio ſcias, tibi dignam facere remunerationem intendimus. Tuam igitur rogamus fidelitatem confidenter, ut de beneficio, quod fuit Udalrici, nullam promiſſionem vel conceſſionem alicui facias, donec nobis loqueris, aut etiam noſtram ſentias certis literis voluntatem. Si vero hoc attenderis, nos faciemus propter tuam caritatem, quod nos rogaſti in tuis literis, & tu ſtude honori noſtro, ſicut in te confidimus providere.

CXCIII.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imper. Auguſtus Babenbergenſium Epiſcopo gratiam & omne bonum. Novit optime dilectio tua, quanto tempore, quam optima fide nobis ſervierint U. & filius ejus Gerhardus, qui nuper miſeranda omnibus bonis quam immatura morte receſſit a ſeculo. Urget itaque tam humanitatis compaſſio quam juſtitiæ neceſſitudo ut in parvulos ejusdem Gerhardi avitæ & paternæ ſervitutis memores ſimus & orbitati eorum debitæ pietatis ſuffragio conſulamus. Unum te ſollicite commonemus & ſummis precibus obſecramus, ut filio ejus patris beneficium benigne pro reſpectu Dei & noſtra interventione concedas; nulla hoc differens occaſione, nulla excuſans vel abnuens ratione. Commendationem autem pueri usque in præſentiam noſtram ut differas, rogamus, ſicut de nobis curas.

CXCIV.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imper. Auguſtus Ruberto Babenbergenſi Epiſcopo gratiam & omne bonum. Quoniam te ſemper nobis fidelem eſſe, per omnia, quemadmodum debuiſti, probavimus, & amicum amicis noſtris & inimicum noſtris inimicis & infidelibus te prædicabiliter invenimus, grates tibi quam maximas prout egregio fideli referimus. Hoc igitur in te plurimum laudamus & amamus, quod propter noſtrum honorem illis, qui in noſtrum auxilium venire debebant, collectam pecuniam dividere voluiſti. Volumus autem, ut apud te ſervetur, ſi nondum eam diviſiſti, donec tibi noſtram etiam voluntatem per noſtrum nuntium & literas mandabimus. Et quoniam tibi & aliis Principibus noſtris per noſtros nuntios, ut ad noſtrum venirent colloquium, mandavimus, volumus, ut venias, & aliis, ut veniant, modis omnibus ſuadeas; quoniam tecum & cum illis tractare volumus de honore noſtri regni. Si autem hoc nullatenus efficere poſſis & ipſi nolentes venire ad noſtrum colloquium, ſuum ſtatuerint, rogamus tuam fidelitatem, ut interſis eorum colloquio, & ibi amicos noſtros confortando & inimicis viriliter obloquendo tractes de honore noſtro. Movet quidem nos plurimum, quod Udalricus te offendit, ſicut nobis mandaviſti, ſed nos noſtros ei nuntios etiam transmittimus, & quicquid ſuper hoc ad honorem tuum facere poterimus, faciemus. Placet quidem nobis multum quod de E. nobis mandaſti, tamen te ſummopere rogamus ut illum velut Judam dam & ſceleratiſſimum mendacem, modis omnibus, ſicut in te confidimus, proſequaris, & abomineris. Deinde ſit tibi cura & ſollicitudo maxima remandare nobis per fidelem nuntium, quicquid vel de proximo Colloquio vel de cæteris quæ pertinent ad nos poteris cognoſcere. Ad ultimum grates habeas, quod noſtris pepercisti, & nos etiam tibi faciemus, quod erit honor tuus.

CXCV.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imper. Auguſtus venerabili Epiſcopo & dilecto Compatri gratiæ ſuæ optimam voluntatem. Qui in cuſtodia Babenbergenſi per effectum operis noſtram impleſti voluntatem, magnas tibi grates ſicut optimo fideli noſtro referimus. Quod ſupereſt, rogamus, & firmiter tibi præcipimus, ut prohibeas, ne ejusdem Eccleſiæ Cuſtos alicujus minas aut calumniam in bonis ſuis patiatur, & illos, qui ſe de illa cuſtodia beneficiales aſſerunt, Epiſcopali auctoritate conſtringe, beneficia de ipſorum manibus excute & reſtitue. Nam id principum noſtrorum decreto indultum atque conceſſum atque firmatum eſt, ut nullus Præpoſitus vel Cuſtos Eccleſiæ poteſtatem habeat, quicquam de bonis Eccleſiæ in beneficium alicui præſtare, & ſi factum fuerit, irritum haberi.

CXCVI.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imper. Auguſtus R. reverentiſſimo patrino ſuo in Chriſto Domino gratiam ſuam & plurimam in Chriſto ſalutem. Cum præ omnibus maximam in te habeam fiduciam, miror, quod totiens te pro una eademque re rogavi & nihil mihi dignum pro mea ſpe reſpondiſti, præſertim cum nihil unquam ita ſit arduum, quod putaverim abs te mihi denegari. Sed & adhuc iteratas preces ingeminando, identidem dilectionis tuæ inclinatius mihi aurem præbeas, & eam mihi per præſentem nuntium transmittas. Præterea, quia Comes U. obiiſſe dicitur, non aliter te rogo, quam ut revocem tibi in memoriam, ſiquid pro amore tuo & voluntate tua fecerim, ita ut aperte in hac petitione experiar, quantum me diligas, nec te rogo niſi talia, quæ honori & proficuo tuo erunt profutura. Rogo, inquam, ut beneficia, quæ ex te hauriunt, nulli promittas, nec aliquid interea facias, ſed totam ipſius rei actionem differas usque ad noſtram utriusque ad invicem præſentiam.

CXCVII.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imper. Auguſtus R. ſanctæ Babenbergenſis Eccleſiæ venerando Epiſcopo fœdus antiquæ gratiæ & omne bonum. Quiddam quod ad noſtram intimam voluntatem ſpectat, H. noſtro erga te diligenter agendum ſtudioſe commendavimus. Cui ut te exorabilem præbeas & quod petit, noſtri cauſa ei annuas unice poſtulamus. Sin autem, usque ad noſtram præſentiam differ, ita ut nihil interea agas. Nam id omni dubietate remota volumus & accuratiſſime petimus, ut poſtpoſito omni negotio & remota omni occaſione Wormatiam ad nos venias, quoniam plurimum conſilii tui prudentiſſimi & auxilii indigemus. Illic negotium Ducis W. & filiorum ſuorum tractaturi ſumus & noſtrorum, & præterea multos Saxones & eorum legatos illic habebimus. Relatum eſt nuperrime nobis, quod adhuc pecuniam illam non dediſſes, pro qua rogavimus, quapropter rogo te, ut ſi nondum in hac re noſtram impleveris petitionem, feſtines quantocius dare, quia magnum impedimentum eſt nobis & incommodum, illos tam diu morari.

CXCVIII.

Heinrico Dei gratia Rom. Imp. Auguſto M. Comes & alii fideliſſimi ſui promtum per omnia ſervitium. Quemadmodum honoris veſtri & excellentiæ veſtræ culmen deſideramus, loci noſtri & gentis noſtræ ſtatum vobis indicare curamus. Notificamus itaque vobis, quod Vincentini cives, ſub occaſione navigii acquirendi, trecentas libras Paduanis tribuere feſtinant, ſeſe ad invicem adjuturos de omni Werra, per decennium firmare laborant. Quod ſi factum fuerit, nobis & aliis fidelibus veſtris pro honore veſtro laborantibus maximum impedimentum erit. Quod conſilium cum dirimere vellemus, nobis nullomodo acquieverant; ſed & alia neſcimus, quæ magna adhuc machinantur. At ſi adventus veſter in hoc tempore proximus foret, cunctis fidelibus veſtris & honori veſtro utiliſſimum exiſteret. Verumtamen ſi id modo fieri non poteſt, aliquem cautum & providum nuntium in partes noſtras ne differatis mittere, quoniam adhuc cum Dei adjutorio & veſtro omnium inimicorum machinationes, ſervato honore veſtro ad nihilum ſperamus deducere.

CXCIX.

Heinrico deſiderantiſſimo Rom. Imper. Auguſto R. Dei gratia, id quod eſt, cum univerſa congregatione Babenbergenſis Eccleſiæ ſervile obſequium & ſine intermiſſione conſtantiam orationum. Maximas pietati veſtræ gratias referimus, magisque in dies pro veſtra ſanitate & imperii ſtabilitate orare non ceſſamus, quoniam omnes petitiones noſtras benigne ſuſcipitis, miſericorditer in neceſſitate ſubvenitis, noſtrisque fratribus honores, dignitates, beneficia impendendo univerſum clauſtrum noſtrum honoratis. Prædium autem pietatis veſtræ, quo noſtrum ſtipendium adauxiſtis, partim veſtri, partim miniſteriales Domini H. invaſerunt, veſtramque Eleemoſynam ſub veſtro ſingulari patrocinio nobis penitus abſtulerunt. Nos profecto nihil ipſis, nihil aliis quibuslibet in beneficium de eodem prædio conceſſimus, ſed in perpetuam veſtri nominis memoriam noſtris uſibus ordinavimus. Nunc igitur nos omnes communiter veſtram imploramus clementiam, quatenus imperiali veſtra legatione invaſorum illorum audaciam retundatis, qui veſtrum imperiale decretum transgreſſi ſunt, quo indiſſolubiliter conſtituiſtis, ut illud prædium nec a nobis, nec ab aliquo Præpoſito ulli hominum in beneficium poſſet concedi, ſed pro ſalute animæ veſtræ noſtræ deſerviret in perpetuum neceſſitati. Itaque veſtra imperialis legatio efficiat, quatenus modo nobis prædicta præda reſtituatur, ac deinceps nullus veſtrum edictum transgrediatur.

CC.

Heinricus Dei gratia Imperator Auguſtus A. glorioſo Duci, amico fideli, quicquid in amici affectibus poterit eſſe fidelius. Cum aliquis privatum commodum ſuum poſtponit, & in amici utilitatibus inſudat, ea eſt firma amicitia. Quam amicitiæ benevolentiam te nobis impendiſſe, gaudemus, & ſicut optimo fideli & intimo amico dignam facere remunerationem intendimus. Nam cum velles contra Græcos ire & cum Dux Poloniæ tuus & amicus & conſanguineus auxilium tuum contra hoſtes ſuos peteret, propter nos, ſicut amicus fideliſſimus remanſiſti, ut noſtris inimicis reſiſtens, tuum commodum pro nihilo computans, tantummodo ut noſtram cauſam promovendo adjuvares. Quid igitur reſtat niſi, ut maximas tibi grates referentes ſicut noſtro optimo fideli, votis omnibus exoptemus, eam nobis dari occaſionem, qua tibi amantiſſime viciſſitudinem meritam rependamus. Et ſicut in nos bono uſus es principio, ita rogamus dulcedinem dilectionis tuæ, ut perſeveres & deleas & conculces adverſarios noſtros, nec parcas eis, donec ex toto conterantur. Nam nos ſimili modo, ſicut tuos amicos amplectimur, ita inimicis tuis erimus infeſtiſſimi inimici, & fœdus, quod cum patre tuo inivimus, ab hac die in antea volumus tibi illibatum ſervare omni tempore vitæ noſtræ. Rogamus itaque te, glorioſiſſime, ut te interveniente frater tuus futura opera emendet, ſi quid hactenus propter ſuas neceſſitates in cauſa noſtra negligentius egit, & quia victrici dextera ſuas anguſtias recuperavit, ad noſtras injurias ſicut fidelis amicus reſpiciat. Nam quia ſe cum præſidio in illas partes contulit, ubi inimici noſtri morantur, & bona ipſorum ſita ſunt, ecce locus, ecce occaſio, qua & inimicis noſtris nocere & ſibi nos poterit amiciſſimos comparare. Tu ergo, Domine, id modis omnibus, quibus vales, fratri tuo perſvade, ut N. non Ducem, ſed judiciario ordine abjudicatum proſequatur, & in omnibus ei adverſetur, ſicut infeſtiſſimo hoſti noſtro. Quicunque autem de familia Saltzburgenſis Archi-Epiſcopi & aliorum fidelium noſtrorum ducti ſunt captivi, rogamus ut cauſa noſtræ dilectionis facias reddi.

Deſiderantiſſimo Domino ſuo H. ſereniſſimo Rom. Imper. Auguſto R. Dei gratia Babenbergenſis Epiſcopus ceterique ſui fideles Nurenbergenſes cum inſtantia orationum ſervile in omnibus obſequium. Sicut in omnibus veſtris negotiis ego R. devotiſſimum me ſemper exhibui, ſic etiam usque in finem majori quoque ſtudio in omnibus veſtræ obediam voluntati. Et quicquid mihi per Dominum G. mihi injunxiſtis omni circumſpectionis diligentia ad veſtram voluntatem perficere ſtudeo. Perfectæ vero dilectionis ardore, nullatenus celare vos audeo, tam amicos, quam inimicos nova quædam machinando confœderari, & valde neceſſarium eſſe, ut quantocius ad nos redeatis, quoniam præſens corpore facillime poteſtis univerſa ad veſtram voluntatem componere, quæ veſtri abſentia in incorrigibile malum formidamus excreſcere. Vale; Ego G. & C. ſummopere vos obſecrando monemus, quatenus Domino noſtro Epiſcopo Babenbergenſi intime literis veſtris gratias agendo, benigniſſimum cum vobis exhibeatis, quoniam nunquam majori ſtudio ad veſtram legationem devotiorem ſe exhibuit. Comitem H. D. in Saxonia nondum convenire potui, quia cum exercitu Weſtphaliam ingreſſus nondum eſt reverſus; brevi autem ambo pro veſtra eum utilitate conveniemus. Quantum autem ex nuntio ei transmiſſo perpendimus, Nihil vobis in eo oberit, ſi tantummodo prædium ſuum Gredingin, ut ei promiſſum eſt, receperit. Si autem in hac expectatione fruſtretur, profecto omnino a vobis abalienabitur. Hujus autem prædii reſtitutionem, nullius invaſionem in vacuis illis partibus Saxoniæ, nullius violentiam in tota illa patria oportet vos, ſicut ipſe promittit, formidare. Fratres etiam ſuos, poſtquam convenerimus, in quantum arbitremur, usque ad veſtrum adventum in veſtra fidelitate detinebimus; vos autem ſicut eis promittimus, condigna liberalitate, ipſos redimendo benevolos vobis efficite. De Colloquio IIX. Kal. Julii. indicto a Principibus omnino vos ſolicitari non oportet, quia noſtra ſollertia illud præveniendo penitus ad nichilabimus. Inceptio H. cauſaque ſua erga vos amicis, inimicis, univerſoque displicet regno, ſed quamvis univerſi etiam muſſent, nihil tamen Deo annuente veſtrisque fidelibus annitentibus vobis orietur formidabile. Cæterum univerſus ſtatus Imperii veſtri majori in dies inter nos proſperatur tranquillitate. Epiſcopus Eiſtetenſis legationem veſtram, quæ absque literis veſtris ei venit, minus autenticam habuit. Nunc autem cum ſigillo literarum veſtrarum rurſus rogando & ſub obtentu gratiæ veſtræ præcipiendo efficite, quatinus Comiti H. prædium ſuum Gredingin reddatur, ſin autem, profecto ipſius culpa tantus vir a ſervitio veſtro penitus alienabitur. Similiter H. & N. militibus ejus ſigillo veſtro idem prædium interdicite. Pro Epiſcopatu Mersburgenſi intime vos obſecramus, quatinus ſi electione cleri & populi fieri poſſit, magiſtro Babenbergenſi concedatis, quem vobis in omnibus fidelem ac devotum probavimus. Quicquid de his omnibus vobis placuerit, citiſſima legatione literarum veſtrarum tam Domino noſtro Epiſcopo, quam nobis renuntiate.

cio, id vero & debita me afficit gratulatione & multa in futuris onerat ſollicitudine, ut tam bonam de me perſuaſionem perpetuam vobis commendem. Porro quod parvitatis noſtræ officium erga vos exile nimis & jejunum, tam magnifica appenditis æſtimatione, ne quidem meum meritum, ſed propenſum veſtræ caritatis intelligo affectum. Eſt enim hoc ſolemne prorſus & familiare ſincere diligentibus, ut tenuiſſimam operam eorum quos diligunt velut egregiam & ſingularem admirentur. Et noſtro & totius regni nomine gratulor vobis, quod perditis æmulorum conſiliis tam mature vos occurriſſe, tam prudenter ea diſſipaſſe, ex literis veſtris cognovi. Verum tamen dum ſingula mecum atque etiam retracto, ſolidum ſincerumque gaudium vix audeo concipere. Suspectum quippe mihi eſt, quod de Marchione D. & Archi-Epiſcopo Moguntino, qui ſe velut caput conjurationis effert, nihil ſcripſiſtis. Movet etiam Ducis Bauwariorum tam facile recepta purgatio, tam facile credita excuſatio. Doloſis H. conſiliis nihil diſſimulatione aptius eſt. Quamobrem velim vos unice commonitum, ut in omnes partes circumſpecte vos agatis, nihil de priori diligentia remittatis. Noſtis mores, noſtis tempora. Quod credat aut cui credat, nemo habet; & in tam dubiis rebus periculoſa eſt ſecuritas, damnoſa facilitas, pernitioſa credulitas. Novi, quam ſuperefluens ſit hæc inſtillare, ſed exacto amori difficile modum perſuaſeris. De Comite H. quam ſim exacerbatus, utinam diſſimulare poſſem. Verumtamen quia id non licet mihi nolle, quod vos tantopere intelligo velle, imperavi dolori, extorſi animo, ut cum ad vos venero, ex veſtra præcipue ſententia & Ducis B. conſilio rem patiar componi. Comitis H. cauſam etiam atque etiam veſtræ fiduciæ eſſe volo commendatam, ne Comes H. in noſtram injuriam ſub alieno nomine de illo triumphet. De mea cum Domina imperatrice diſceptatione, id ſolum volo ad præſens rogare, ut, ubi occaſio aliqua dederit, ſolitam Eccleſiæ noſtræ opem & tutelam prætendere non gravemini.

Tunc Romanus Pontifex, ut hanc ſingularem noſtram ſubjectionem magis celebrem & inſignem faceret, omnibus Eccleſiæ noſtræ Præſulibus uſum pallii generali privilegio conceſſit, & ſubinde alii Papæ, a noſtris anteceſſoribus commoniti & appellati, idem ſolenniter indulſere. Reverentiſſimo ſacroſanctæ Bremenſis eccleſiæ Epiſcopo N. Decanus cum univerſo Babebergenſi clero tam perpetuam, quam debitam devotiſſimæ orationis conſtantiam. Quod in tanta rerum humanarum tempeſtate veſtris conſiliis, veſtra auctoritate tam negotioſa imperii amminiſtratio divina diſpoſitione gubernatur, univerſali quodam gaudio omnes, quos recta ducit exiſtimatio, amplectuntur; veruntamen interius & quodam modo familiarius hæc voluptas noſtris illabitur animis, utpote qui, totiens rebus perditis, totiens deſperatis præſentiſſimam in vobis opem, ſingulare in vobis experti ſumus præſidium, ſed &, ſi nullo experientiæ guſtu gratiæ veſtræ ſuavitatem libaſſemus, præſentis tamen temporis difficultas urgeret, ut nos veſtræ, quamvis inexploratæ, committere benevolentiæ debeamus. Summam ergo rei paucis advertite. Domino noſtro prædium eſt eccleſiaſticum, quod N. vocatur, amplum ſane & fructuoſum, de quo Epiſcopus controverſiam aliquam movit in placito Comitis, & partes noſtras vehementer impulit. Stetimus tamen tum juris præſidio, tum bonorum patrocinio ſuffulti. Nunc ergo in eodem comitatu placitum eſt indictum, haut dubium eſt, quin in noſtram eccleſiam Dominus noſter rerum ignarus in alio quodam orbe, quod ipſum æmuli noſtri aucupati ſunt, moratur, eos etiam, qui idonee in tanto diſcrimine conſulere poterant, ſecum abduxit. Cauſa noſtra omni advocatione viduata in medio poſita, non tam extorquenda, quam confundenda ſumenda. Tantis ergo curarum anguſtiis ſuffocati ad unicam veſtræ pietatis opem confugimus, ut regii ſigillaris intercesſione in reditum Domini ſeu Epiſcopi noſtri, cauſæ ipſius actionem differri faciatis. R. Dei gratia Moguntinæ ſedis humilis proviſor R. Kariſſimo fratri & coëpiſcopo in Domino ſalutem. Sicut eccleſiaſticæ pacis ſtatus bene ac ſalubriter diſpoſitus, magnum nobis ingerit gaudium, ita mærore non parvo afficimur, ſi quando hoſtis antiqui invidia concordia ſcinditur, jus perit, faſque nefaſque confunditur. Hii quippe non ignorantes, quantæ ſint temeritatis & Metropolitanæ ſedis jus & autoritatem in provinciali Kathedra, quæque ſibi epiſcopalis officii dignitatem uſurpare, cum præſumtioni ſuæ ſanctorum patrum decreta ſentiant repugnare, reatum ſuum nova quadam ac ſimulata religione fatagunt palliare. Domino & patri Sanctæ Moguntinæ ſedis Archipontifici R. Dei gratia Babenbergenſis Epiſcopus cum inſtantia precum fidele ſervitium. Nos procul dubio fore illos, in quos fines ſeculorum venerunt, ex ipſis quæ patimur indies, declaratur periclis. Nam ut cætera omittam, quibus abſque morarum intervallis quatimur, imo conſternamur, quid unquam a barbarie nobis incuteretur atrocius, quam a noſtræ fidei profeſſoribus, qui vota fidelium, pretio peccatorum, reſpectu divini timoris poſtpoſito, quaſi hæreditario jure ad ſe transmiſſa ſuis uſibus addicunt, & nos quibus oblationum earundem credita noſcitur diſpenſatio, vel miris irridentmodis, vel in unum conveniunt & quantum in ipſis eſt, morte multare non perhorreſcunt. En ego minimus Epiſcoporum, veſter tamen qualiscunque in domo Domini cooperator, quibus & quantis calamitatibus a Comite N. afficior, qui agros eccleſiæ meæ tanquam ſuos per triennium & eo amplius prædatoria manu occupat, quem cum nec jure nec gratia a tanto ſcelere poſſem revocare, confratrum & fidelium meorum conſilio membrum lanians & perſequens eccleſiam Dei, ſecundum inſtituta canonum, a conſortio ejusdem matris eccleſiæ gladio anathematis recidi. Quod idcirco veſtræ ſanctitati ſignificare curavi, quatinus auctoritate divinitus vobis collata pertinaciæ ipſius obvietis, ne iniquitatem ſcientes & ſilendo diſſimulantes, tyrannidem ejus, quanquam nocituram, roborare videamini. Fraternis ergo compatiendo preſſuris aſcendite, quæſo, ex adverſo, nam quamvis pauci ſimus numero, communicatis tamen ſinceriter viribus, Domino patrocinante, cujus vicem gerimus, facile calumpnias perverſorum propulſabimus.

R. dilectiſſimo confratri & coepiſcopo E. ſuus in dilectione quicquid jocundius in oratione & ſervitio, quicquid devotius. Siniſtra fama hoc anno a partibus illis veniens multum me exacerbavit, referens veſtros a fide & dilectione, ſub qua vos in Saxoniam dimiſerant, defeciſſe, & contra dignitatem veſtram conſpiraſſe, Unde mihi duplex nata eſt triſtitia, tum quod communi omnium miſeriæ condolebam, quod omne nefas irrupit in hoc ævum & traditione Domini vix aliquæ revocat reſpectus fidei vel ſacramenti, ſed alius rumor dolorem meum mutavit in gaudium, quod audivi quicquid turbationis fuerat, ſedatum eſſe, & omnia ad honorem veſtrum ceſſiſſe. Novit autem Dominus, quod ſi vobis vicinus eſſem, uti Wirtzeburgenſis Epiſcopus, vel in illa vel in alia cauſa veſtra nullus vobis affuiſſet paratius, nemo fidelius, vel devotius opem tuliſſet quam ego. Quia vero nimis remotus ſum, quod ſolum ad præſens valeo, bonæ meæ voluntatis munus offero, ſed ſive in curia ſive alibi, ubi præſens eſſe potero pro honore veſtro modis omnibus, ac ſi frater carnalis eſſem, laborabo. Gratias autem uberrimas refero bonitati veſtræ, quod per vos hyemalem domum talem habeo ut in terra noſtra talem ſe habere nullus dicat omnino. Si fieri poſſet, ut veſtris humeris mihi eam attuliſſetis, non minores interim vobis gratias referrem, quam modo, nec ad reddendum quibuscunque vobis modis placuerit paratior eſſem quam modo. Pro communi noſtro Concilio * veſtram rogo clementiam ut ei bonus ſitis in omnibus, & ſi fratres ejus tam diuturnam ejus ægre ferunt abſentiam, auctoritatem noſtram illis opponite, & ne interim aliquid moleſte patiatur, mea cauſa providete. Artificem etiam veſtræ pietati commendo, quod fideliter & utiliter mihi ſervivit, utpote bonus Chriſtianus, & ut eum adjuvetis, rogo enixius, & gratiam veſtram per me obtineat plenius.

Epiſtola H. Imperatoris ad Paſcalem Epiſcopum.

Si illa inter nos pax eſſet & concordia, quæ inter noſtros olim & tuos fuit anteceſſores, quæ inter nos & Alexandrum & Nicolaum, viros catholicos & relligioſos, Romanos Pontifices, plena caritate & integra viguit devotione, mandaremus tibi quicquid filius patri: ſed diſtulimus, expectantes & cognoſcere deſiderantes, ſi in beneplacito Dei ſit, nos caritative & amicabiliter poſſe convenire, & eccleſiam ſuam noſtris temporibus noſtro labore ipſo cooperante in ſtatum redire unitatis priſtinæ. Hoc quoque jam dudum, teſte Deo, deſideravimus, ſi cognita eorum nimia auſteritate, qui in Romana erant eccleſia, non utile viſum eſt nobis vel competens, eos de hac cauſa convenire, quod magis videbantur nos perſequi odio & indignatione, quam zelo juſtitiæ, vel etiam, quam vellent nos amplecti, dulcedine caritatis ad profectum eccleſiæ. Effectus itaque probat, quod cum ipſi regnum hereditario jure nobis collatum, tempore religioſorum virorum Romanorum Pontificum, pacifice diu a nobis poſſeſſum, contra nos ſtuderent commovere & armare inter multa eſt orta ſtrages populorum, tam corporum, quam etiam, quod magis dolendum eſt, animarum. Hic quoque filius noſter, quem adeo affectuoſe dileximus, ut eum usq; ad ſolium regni noſtri exaltaremus, eodem veneno infectus, conſilio quorundam perfidiſſimorum & perjuratorum ſibi adhærentium, inſurgit in nos, poſtpoſitis omnibus ſacramentis, quibus ſe nobis obligaverat, poſthabita omni fide & juſtitia, tantum ut bona eccleſiarum & regni libere valeant perdere, rapere & inter ſe dividere.

Epiſtola H. Imperatoris ad Ludwicum Regem Francorum, quando a filio ſuo Henrico Rege depoſitus eſt.

H. Rom. Imp. Auguſtus Ludovico Regi Francorum coronam fidei & propinquitatis inviolabilem conſtantiam. Princeps clariſſime, & omnium, in quibus poſt Deum ſperamus, amicorum noſtrorum fideliſſime, primum & præcipuum vos inter omnes excepi, cui conqueri & deplorare calamitates & omnes miſerias meas neceſſarium duxi, & etiam genibus veſtris advolvi, ſi liceret ſalva majeſtate imperii, primum quidem quod non ſolum nobis, ſed etiam totius Chriſtianæ profeſſionis hominibus graviſſimum & intolerabile arbitrium, quod de illa Apoſtolica ſede, unde usque ad memoriam noſtri temporis ſalutifer fructus conſolationis, dulcedinis & ſalvationis animarum oriebatur, modo perſecutionis & excommunicationis & omne perditionis flagellum in nos emittitur. Nec ponunt illum modum ſævitiæ, tamen ut ſatisfiat voluntati, indiſcretæ hujus voluntatis ſuæ intemperantia adeo usque nunc abuſi ſunt in me, ut nec Deum nec quid aut quantum mali mihi proveniat penſantes, per ſe & per ſuos omnimodis invehantur in me, cum omnem obedientiam & omnem debitam ſubjectionem ſemper contulimus Apoſtolicæ ſedi, ſi tamen reverentia & honor debitus, ſicut anteceſſoribus meis, ab Apoſtolica ſede exhiberetur & mihi. Quid autem intenderat, oportunius ſignificabo vobis, ſi quando optati colloquii copiam Deus dedit nobis. In hac igitur perſecutionis & odii ſui inflammatione cum parum viderent ſe proficere, contra ipſum jus naturæ laborantes, quod ſine maximo cordis dolore, ſine multis lacrymis non valeo, &, quod dicitur, vehementer contremiſco, filium meum, inquam, Abſolon dilectiſſimum, non ſolum contra me animaverunt, ſed etiam tanto furore armaverunt, ut in primis contra fidem & ſacramentum, quod, ut miles, Domino juraverat, regnum meum invaderet, & Epiſcopos & Abbates meos deponeret, inimicos & perſecutores cutores meos ſubſtitueret, ad ultimum, quod maxime vellem taceri, aut ſi taceri non poteſt, vellem non credi, omnem naturæ affectum abjiciens, in ſalutem & animam meam intenderet, nec penſi quicquam haberet, quocunque modo vi vel fraude ad hanc periculi & ignominiæ ſuæ ſummam aſpiraret. In hac tanta mali ſui machinatione cum eſſem in pace & in aliqua ſalutis meæ ſecuritate, in ipſius dominici Adventus ſanctiſſimis diebus, in locum, qui Confluentia dicitur, ad colloquium evocavit me, quaſi de communi ſalute & honore filius tractaturus cum patre. Quæ ut vidi illico ex paterno affectu tactus intrinſecus dolore cordis mei ad pedes ſuos procidi, ammonens & obteſtans per Deum, per fidem, per ſalutem animæ ſuæ, ut ſi pro peccatis meis flagellandus eram, a Deo de me ipſe nullam maculam conquireret, animæ, honori & nomini ſuo quod culpæ patris vindicem filium eſſe nulla divinæ legis unquam conſtituit ſanctio. At ille jam pulchre, immo miſerrime inſtitutus ad malitiam, quam abominabile & execrabile ſcelus cœpit deteſtari, procidens & ipſe ad pedes meos, de præteritis cœpit veniam precari, in reliquum, ut Domino, ut patri filius, cum fide & veritate per omnia ſe mihi obediturum cum lacrymis promittere, ſi ſolummodo ſedi Apoſtolicæ vellem reconciliari; quod cum promtiſſime annuiſſem, & deliberationi ſuæ & conſilio principum in hoc totum me mancipandum promiſiſſem, me in præſenti Nativitate ſe perducturum Moguntiam, & ibi de honore & reconciliatione mea, quam fidelius poſſet, ſe acturum & interim in pace & ſecuritate me reducendum promiſit, in ea veritate & fide, quo patrem a filio honorari, & filium a patre præcipit Deus diligi. Hac promiſſione, quæ etiam gentili obſervanda eſt, ſecurus illorſus ibam, & filius meus aliquantulum præceſſerat me, cum ecce quidam fideles mei occurrentes mihi veriſſime affirmabant, me deceptum & perditum ſub falſa pacis & fidei ſponſione. Revocatus iterum filius meus, & iterum inſtantiſſime ammonitus ſub ejusdem fidei & ſacramenti obteſtatione, animam ſuam pro anima mea fore promiſit jam ſecunda vice. Cum igitur ad locum, qui Binga dicitur, perveniſſemus, jam exiſtente die Veneris ante Nativitatem numerus armatorum ſuorum jam ſatis augebatur jam fraus ipſa ſe detegere videbatur, & filius ad me: Pater, inquit, vobis ſecedendum eſt, in vicinum caſtellum, quod nec Epiſcopus Moguntinus in civitatem ſuam admittet vos, quam diu fueritis in banno, nec vos inpacatum & inreconciliatum audeo ingerere inimicis noſtris: illic Nativitatem Domini cum omni honore & pace agatis, quoscunque placuerit vobis, vobiscum habeatis; ego interim quanto inſtantius, quanto fidelius potero, pro nobis utrisq; laborabo, quod cauſam noſtram eſſe meam exiſtimo. At ego, mi, inquam, fili, teſtis & judex ſermonum & fidei adſit inter nos Deus, qui modo te in virum & heredem meum perduxi, quantis tribulationibus meis tuo honori inſervierim, quot & quantas inimicitias pro te habuerim, & habeam, ſolus es conſcius. Ille autem iterum jam tertio ſub ejusdem fidei & ſacramenti obteſtatione, ſi ingrueret occaſio periculi, caput ſuum pro capite meo fore promiſit mihi. Sic priusquam clauſit me in eodem caſtello, quod omnia alia in corde locutus erat, manifeſte oſtendit rei eventus; Ex omnibus meis quartus ego ſum incluſus, nec admitti potuit quilibet alius. Cuſtodes deputati, qui vitæ meæ atrociores inimici. Benedictus per omnia Deus exaltandi & humiliandi quemcunque voluerit Rex potentiſſimus. Cum igitur ipſo ſacratiſſimo die Nativitatis ſuæ omnibus redemtis ſuis ille ſanctus ſanctorum puer fuiſſet natus, mihi ſoli filius ille non eſt natus. Nam ut taceam obprobria, injurias, minas, gladios in cervicem meam exſertos, niſi omnia imperata facerem, famem, etiam & ſitim, quam perferebam, & ab illis, quos injuria erat videre & audire, ut etiam taceam, quod eſt gravius, me olim ſatis felicem fuiſſe, illud nunquam obliviſcar, quod illis ſanctiſſimis diebus ſine omni Chriſtiana communione in carcere fui. In illis pœnitentiæ & tribulationis meæ diebus a filio meo miſſus venit quidam principum Wipertus, dicens nullum vitæ meæ eſſe conſilium, niſi ſine ulla contradictione omnia regni inſignia redderem, ex voluntate & imperio principum. At ego, & ſi omnis terra, quantum inhabitatur, regni mei terminus eſſet, nolens vitam regno commutare, quod vellem nollem ſic agendum & ſic definitum intelligebam, coronam, ſceptrum, chlamydem, lanceam & gladium miſi Moguntiam. Tunc communicato conſilio cum inimicis meis egrediens filius meus, relictis ibidem fidelibus & amicis noſtris, quaſi me eo adducturus ſub multa frequentia & cuſtodia armatorum ductum ad villam, quæ Ingelheim vocatur, me fecit ad ſe adduci, ubi maximam inimicorum meorum turbam collectam inveni, nec ipſum filium meliorem cæteris repperi. Et quod firmius & ſtabilius videbatur eis eſſe, ſi propria manu cogeret me regnum & omnia regalia ex feſtucare, ſimili modo & ipſi omnes minabantur, niſi omnia imperata facerem, nullum vitæ meæ conſultum poſſe fieri. Tunc ego, inquam, quod de ſola vita mea agitur qua nichil pretioſius habeo, ut ſaltem vivens pœnitentiam meam exhibeam Deo, quicquid imperatis, ecce, facio. Cumque inquirerem, ſi ſaltem ſic de vita mea certus & ſecurus eſſe deberem, ejusdem Apoſtolicæ ſedis legatus, qui ibidem aderat, non dico, qui hæc omnia ordinaverat, reſpondit: me nullo modo eripi poſſe, niſi publice confiterer, me injuſte Hildebrandum perſecutum fuiſſe, Wicpertum ei injuſte ſuperpoſuiſſe & injuſtam perſecutionem in Apoſtolicam ſedem & omnem eccleſiam hactenus exercuiſſe. Tunc cum maxima animi contritione humi proſtratus, cœpi per Deum, per ipſam juſtitiam orare, ut locus & tempus mihi daretur, ubi in præſentia omnium Principum, unde innocens eſſem, ex judicio omnium me expurgarem; & in quo culpabilem me eſſe recognoſcerem, ex conſilio omnium ſanioris ſententiæ pœnitentiam & ſatisfactionem, nem, quo ordine juberent quærere, & inde de principibus regni & fidelibus noſtris, quoscunque vellent, obſides darem. At ille idem legatus diem & locum mihi abnegavit, dicens aut ibi debere totum determinari, aut nulla ſpes eſſet mihi evadendi. In tantæ tribulationis articulo cum interrogarem, ſi confiterer omnia, quæ imperabantur, an confeſſio mea, ut juſtum eſt, veniam & abſolutionem conſequeretur: idem legatus reſpondit; non eſſe juris ſui me abſolvere. Et cum ego adhuc dicerem; quicunque confitentem audet recipere, confitentem debet abſolvere. Si vellem, inquit, abſolvi Romam irem, ſatisfacerem Apoſtolicæ ſedi. Sic ſpoliatum & deſolatum, nam & caſtella & patrimonia, & quicquid in regno conquiſieram, eadem vi & arte ſua extorſerunt a me, in eadem villa reliquerunt me. In qua cum aliquo tempore commoratus eſſem, & ex eodem conſilio fraudis ſuæ filius meus demandaſſet, ut ibidem eum expectarem, ſuperveniens quorundam fidelium meorum legatio præmonuit, ut ſi quidem ad momentum ibi remanerem, aut etiam in perpetuam captivitatem raperer, aut in eodem loco decollarer; quo nuncio etiam tunc ſatis vitæ diffiſus ſum & ilico aufugiens, fugiendo veni Coloniam, & ibi aliquot diebus commoratus, poſtea Leodium veni, in quibus locis viros fideles & in fide regni ſemper conſtantes inveni. Horum cæterorumque regni fidelium conſilio uſus, vobis fiducialius & honeſtius habeo deplorare, has omnes miſerias: fiducialius quidem propter mutuæ conſanguinitatis & antiquæ amicitiæ debitum; honeſtius autem propter tanti regni nomen glorioſum. Vos igitur per fidem, per amicitiam rogamus, in tantis tribulationibus meis, ac ſi in nobis propinquo & amico, conſulatis. Quæ fidei & amicitiæ vincula etiamſi inter nos non eſſent, veſtrum tamen & omnium terræ eſt, injuriam & contemptum noſtrum vindicare, & tam nefariæ proditionis & violentiæ exemplum de ſuperficie terrarum extirpare.

Sanctæ Colonienſis eccleſiæ Archi-Epiſcopo E. Præpoſitus, A. Decanus cum omnibus Canonicis votiva orationum holocauſtomata. Multis & variis negotiorum diſpoſitionibus vobis irretito operæ pretium duximus ſtricto & compendioſo ſermone, nobis tamen admodum neceſſario, aures veſtræ pietatis compellare; & utinam hanc odioſam neceſſitudinem invida fatorum ſeries nobis ademiſſet, ne vobis, cui multo maxime vellemus eſſe honori, unquam fuiſſemus oneri. Nunc ergo fraterna ſuggeſtione perſvaſus & noſtræ legationis conqueſtione commonitus prout veſtram decet excellentiam, facite matri veſtræ ſcilicet Bambergenſi eccleſiæ judicium & juſtitiam. Quisnam, quæſo, orator illum noſtri pectoris vocibus proſequeretur affectum, cum filium Kariſſimum ſub pennis noſtræ fraternitatis fotum & altum, in cathedra Colonienſis eccleſiæ videmus exaltatum. Multas quidem morarum cauſas finximus, quæ te plus minusve XIIII. diebus remorari poſſent, ſed te ultra terminos præſcriptos longius agente, quod comminiſci poſſimus, haut facile nobis occurrit, niſi forte, quod abſit, vel valetudine diſtraharis, vel quod inviti opinamur, prorſus venire renuis; quorum alterum votivis precibus relevare ſtudemus, alterum pro communi utilitate, quantum fas eſt, diſſvademus. Verum, quod non eſt in homine via ejus, pleraque rerum humanarum fortuitis caſibus diſturbantur & noſtris, quod votis exoptamus, impeditum eſt quibusdam annitentibus. Nos tamen cum noſtri honoris reſpectu, tum dilectionis tuæ obtentu, ſententiam non ſolum mutavimus, verum etiam eo usque rem deduximus, ut tandem ſine omni refragatione magiſterium cum beneficio tuis mancipetur uſibus. Intelleximus enim illo tempore, cum eſſes apud nos, aſſiduum & fidelem laborem tuum circa officium tibi commiſſum, ita, ut facile notari poſſet, quid nobis & eccleſiæ noſtræ cuperes, & quid conſtitutus ſuper multa, cum admodo in paucis eſſes fidelis, promitteres. Nos igitur deſtituti ſcholarum magiſterio, a te pro antiqua familiaritate impetratum mittimus, ut probatio tuæ dilectionis fiat exhibitio operis. Rogamus, & ut facilem te ſuper hac re præbeas, & in brevi ad nos venire nullo modo differas. Si quid vero huic obſtat feſtinationi, hunc certum tibi præſcribimus terminum, ut in jejunio Septemb. procul dubio nobis Moguntiæ occurras.

Domino ſuo Colonienſis Eccleſiæ Archi-Epiſcopo mille votis exoptatum præſentis & futuræ vitæ felicem ſtatum. Quibus & quantis devotionis affectibus mea vobis devinciantur præcordia, cui loquitur omnis intentio, divina tantum prævidet cognitio. Nec mirari debet veſtræ claritatis Excellentia, quod tanta temporis diſtantia veſtra deſtituor præſentia. Teſtis etenim eſt conſcientia mea, quod parcens vobis, vultus veſtri ſerenitate longo tempore carui. Sic nam Cæſareis præſenſi vos gravari obſequiis, ut in tanta rerum vertigine commanentiam meam vererer plus vobis conſtare oneri quam honori. Sed poſtquam imperialis illa deflagravit tumultuatio, & ego veſtris præſentari caſtris & animo & corpore diſponerem, tanta ſubito percuſſus ſum valetudine, ut nec dum ſanitati plene ſim redditus. Ergo aut veſtræ occupationis reſpectu aut virium mearum defectu, vos adeundi oportunitatem [non] reperi. Quare quod præſentialiter vobis ſuggerere nequivi, literis veſtræ benignitati ſignificare curavi. Memor animi itaque tam veſtræ promiſſionis quam meæ petitionis, quatenus veſtro ſuffragio præpoſituram N. valeam aſſequi. Spero namque, imo certus ſum, ſi veſtra tantum advigilaverit induſtria, noſtra erit. Quod ſi alia via nequeat fieri, præſidio Imperatoris quæſita obtinere nitimini. Porro ſi usquam gentium vobis propoſitum ſit ire, ſi id præſenſero, paratus ſum in carcerem & in mortem vobiscum venire.

F. Palatinus Comes, Comes O. Comes D. B. Comiti ſalutem. Pauca verba probatum ſufficiunt ad amicum. Summa voluntatis noſtræ eſt, ut occurras nobis apud N. quandocunque nobis mandaveris, adductis tecum, quos ad hoc negotium neceſſarios arbitraris. Ibi audies, quæ epiſtola non capit. Literas, ubi crux eſt, da Regi. Veni, audi & gaude: nec enim gaudebis, ſi extra Eccleſiam inventus fueris. Nullus ſalvatus eſt in diluvio extra archam, quæ figuram gerebat Eccleſiæ.

Domino Regi H. F. Palatinus Comes, Comes O. Comes L. a Domino coronam æterni regni, ex ſe promtiſſima ſervitia. Conſiderantes laborem Eccleſiæ, defectum regni, ſummæ divinitati attribuimus, quod ad hæc relevanda & corrigenda animum & voluntatem vos concepiſſe cognovimus. Ut ergo, quæ ſtrenue cœpiſtis, glorioſe perficiatis, nos & noſtra vobis offerimus, & ad nos ſumma fidelitate vos invitamus. Apud nos Epiſcopatus quidam & Abbatiæ ſunt vacuæ; quidam male locati, qui per vos in meliorem ſtatum redigentur; ibique ad regios uſus multa modo ſunt aperta, multa cito aperienda. Venite deſideratus, vincite viriliter, regnate feliciter. Præmittite de fidelibus veſtris, qui nobiscum loquantur apud N. quandocunque vobis viſum fuerit. Poſtea accepta ſecuritate, ſecurus venietis.

Domino Apoſtolico prærogativa meritorum & morum ſanctitate Romanæ ſedis apice condigne ſublimato. O. Dei gratia Babenbergenſis electus cum omni devotione ſpiritus, orationes devotiſſimas, & ſervitium tam voluntarium quam debitum. Quia tandem Domino miſerante & Eccleſia ſuæ navim moderante, poſt nubilas errorum tempeſtates ſerena lux veritatis occidentali refulſit Eccleſiæ; ante omnia & ſupra omnia deſideramus ſcire ſanctitatem tuam, in omnibus nos paruiſſe, uti decuit, Legato tuo, Epiſcopo videlicet Conſtantienſi, & ſumma devotione cuncta, quæ per ipſum edocti ſumus, partim executos fuiſſe, partim, ſi vita detur, exequi velle. Quamobrem veſtigiis pedum tuorum obvoluti, obnixe flagitamus, ut ſervum ſanctitatis tuæ patienter audias. Enimvero mundo in maligno poſito, cum vix cuiquam creditur homini vel loco, nec parvæ nos torquent anguſtiæ pro ordinationis noſtræ aſſecutione: Proinde dubius & anxius, & fluctibus curarum naufragio ſimillimus, cum Principe Apoſtolorum, cujus vicem tenes, ad te clamo: Domine ſalva me. Et ut paucis ſummam noſtræ cauſæ concludamus, in hac hora & poteſtate tenebrarum te ſolum reſpiciunt oculi noſtri; tibi debitam ſervare obedientiam parati ſumus; tecum aut conſiſtere, aut pro te in carcerem ire decrevimus. Auctoritati tuæ ergo cum tota mente deſideramus inniti: tu nobis manum porrige, quid nos velis facere, jube. Si modo mandas, ut ad te veniamus, opes noſtræ, licet rapina & igne ſint attritæ, tamen deſiderio te videndi, & conſecrationis gratiam conſequendi, volenti animo cum debita ſervitutis noſtræ benedictione tuæ majeſtatis præſentabimur aſpectibus. Dignentur ergo viſcera pietatis tuæ ſuper hoc negotio aliquo nos ſcripto certum reddere, quo & iter tutius ad te veniendi nobis præmonſtretur, & benedictionem, quam devoti efflagitamus, a te percepturos eſſe ſignificetur. Quam nimirum propterea a tuæ Sanctitatis manu tantopere expetimus, quia Metropolitanus noſter, etſi per te hanc conſecrationis gratiam, tamen, quod ſine lacrymis fateri nequimus, magnam cooperatorum ſpiritualis doni patitur penuriam.

Romanæ ſedis digniſſimo Cardinali O. Dei gratia Bambergenſis electus utriusque hominis devotiſſimos conatus. Cum divino præditus ingenio cardo ſis & munimen Sanctæ matris Eccleſiæ, beatos nos fore reputamus, quod in tanto rerum diſcrimine Sanctitatis tuæ conſulere poſſimus auctoritatem. Notum ſit ergo caritati tuæ, nos a Domino Apoſtolico paternæ conſolationis accepiſſe literas, quarum exemplar idcirco tibi ſubſcribere curavimus, ut eo fiducialius noſtris valeas condeſcendere precatibus. Flagitamus itaque obnixius, ut perſpecta accuratius clauſula, qua jubemur conſulere Metropolitanum, ut officii ſui debitum proſequatur, liberum & auctoritati tuæ condignum nobis ſuppedites conſilium. Non enim es immemor præcepti Domini Apoſtolici per te Metropolitano injuncti, videlicet ut a conſecratione Epiſcoporum contineat manus. Quocirca petere nos conſecrationem, ubi certi ſumus non poſſe conſequi, res eſt frivola & vanitati ſimillima. Succurrat ergo nobis in hac difficultate tuæ pietatis auctoritas, quatenus tuo interventu locus nobis detur a Moguntinæ ſedis Archiepiſcopo conſequendi gratiam, quam Dominus Papa nobis exhibere dignatur. Non enim ſi noſtri ſervitii obtentu anniti curaveris, negabit tibi epiſtolam commendatitiam, quam ex ipſius parte Romanæ ſedis perferamus Pontifici. Super hoc quoque tua inſtruere nos dignetur paternitas, ut pro libro actionum Nicæni Concilii digne Apoſtolico reſpondeamus. Nihil ſane in noſtro ex his reperimus armario, nec XX. capitula in eadem ſynodo ſtatuta, & nomina Epiſcoporum ex diverſis mundi partibus congregatorum.

Ottoni Dei gratia Venerabili Bambergenſium Epiſcopo, Domino & patri ſuo dilectiſſimo, E. hucusque Cancellarius, nunc autem Dei conſilio Wirzeburgenſis electus ſedis quicquid in vera dilectione patri nunc & ſemper debetur ac Domino. Scio indubitanter & credo, nec credendo fallar in aliquo, quod veſtra pietate, qua me hactenus dilexiſtis, more paterno gaudetis, ſi me gaudere noveritis. Nec hoc quidem alicui aſcribo meo merito, ſed veſtræ tantum bonitati, qua mihi largus fuiſtis atque propitius, ex quo vos mihi præfecit Deus omni dilectionis ſtudio. Unde in præſenti grates, quot & quantas poſſum, veſtræ paternitati refero, & dum vivo, me & mea ad veſtræ voluntatis arbitrium exhibeo, ſicut merito debeo. Novi enim, vos meæ ſublimitatis poſt Deum eſſe principium, nec unquam poſſe me in curia tam diu ſuſtinuiſſe, quod ad honorem pervenirem, niſi veſtra largitas meo labori ſubveniſſet, & veſtra me foviſſent ac ſolidaſſent conſilia. Vellem itaque vobis libenter loqui, antequam redirem ad curiam, ſi ſcirem, quomodo utiliter poſſemus convenire. Quapropter intime rogo vos, ut mittatis mihi veſtrum nuncium, per quem mihi notificetis locum & terminum, quo poſſimus convenire, & aliquid, quod utrique proſit, inter nos familiariter ordinare. Præterea rogo vos plurimum & amicabiliter, ut memor ſitis fidelis noſtri N. & juvetis eum veſtro conſilio & auxilio obtinere minimam illam Præpoſituram, videlicet quam ei conceſſiſtis, nec ullo modo poſſit vobis perſuaderi, ut veſtram inde mutetis ſententiam. Quod affectionis debitum Venerabilis frater noſter O. veſtræ Eccleſiæ electus, non inconſtanter tenuiſſe & tenere cognoſcitur, cum per tot & tanta pericula ad Apoſtolicæ ſedis viſitationem tendere procuravit. P. Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei Venerabili Fratri O. Bambergenſi, ejusque ſucceſſoribus canonice promovendis in perpetuum. Caritatis bonum eſt proprium congaudere profectibus aliorum. Caritas enim non quærit, quæ ſua ſunt. Unde & Apoſtolus ait: Vivimus, ſi vos ſtatis in Domino; & iterum; quæ eſt enim noſtra ſpes & gaudium aut corona gloriæ? nonne vos ante Dominum noſtrum Jeſum Chriſtum? Hoc ergo charitatis debito provocamur, & Apoſtolicæ ſedis auctoritate compellimur honorem debitum exhibere, & Sanctæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ dignitatem pro ſuo cuique modo cæteris Eccleſiis impertiri. Idcirco, Venerabilis frater O. Babenbergenſis Eccleſiæ Epiſcope, dilectioni tuæ pallium ad ſacra miſſarum ſolennia celebranda concedimus; quo nimirum fraternitas tua intra Eccleſiam tantum uti noverit, illis tantum diebus, quos præſens deſcriptio continet, videlicet die Sancto reſurrectionis Dominicæ & Pentecoſtes; item, in nativitate Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, & in natalitio Sanctorum Apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli, & in ſolennitate Sancti Dionyſii Martyris anniverſario, & conſecrationis tuæ die, & dedicationibus Eccleſiarum. Cujus nimirum pallii volumus te per omnia genium judicare. Hujus ſiquidem indumenti honor humilitas atque juſtitia eſt. Tota igitur mente fraternitas tua ſe exhibere feſtinet in proſperis humilem, in adverſis, verſis, ſi quando eveniant, cum juſtitia erectam; amicam bonis, perverſis contrariam; nullius unquam faciem contra veritatem ſuſcipiens, nullius unquam faciem pro veritate loquentem premens. Miſericordiæ operibus juxta virtutem ſuam inſiſtens, & tamen inſiſtere & ſuper virtutem cupiens; infirmis compatiens, benevalentibus congaudens, aliena damna propria deputans, de alienis gaudiis tanquam de propriis exultans; in corrigendis vitiis pie ſæviens, in fovendis virtutibus auditorum animum demulcens, in ira judicium ſine ira tenens, in tranquillitate animi ſeveritatis juſtæ cenſuram non deſerens. Hæc eſt pallii accepti dignitas, quam ſi ſolicite ſervaveris, quod foris accepiſſe oſtenderis, intus habebis. Adhæc etiam vexillum crucis intra Babenbergenſis Eccleſiæ parochiam ante faciem tuam portari concedimus, ſalva videlicet Moguntinæ Metropolis reverentia, ut ſpeciali Sanctæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ dignitate præditus, ſpecialiter ejus ſtudeas obedientiæ ac ſervitiis infudare. CCXXXIII.

Epiſtola Leodicenſis Eccleſiæ ad Aquenſem Eccleſiam.

Præpoſito Dominisque ac Fratribus Aquenſibus congregatio Sanctæ Mariæ & Sancti Lamberti ſaniorem inſiſtere ſententiam. Ex dictis Beati Auguſtini docemur & inſtituimur, quod omnes cauſæ primitus per auctoritatem ſint ventilandæ, cujus ſint, quomodo ſint, quales ſint, magnæ an parvæ, longi temporis ac parvi. Hæc enim omnia judex cum æqualitate debet diſcernere. Perpendite igitur fratres talem ac tantum doctorem, qui in præſenti negotio vos redarguit ſuper Prælato, id eſt, Decano veſtro, quem noviter & inordinate excommunicatum nominatis, contemnitis, repellitis; cui nec parvo verum longo tempore communicaſtis, indiſcuſſum habuiſtis, Prælato obediſtis. Viginti enim annorum tempus & eo amplius pertranſiit, ex quo dubia illa cauſa excommunicationis ſonuit; ſi excommunicatio poteſt dici, quam modo oblivioſe & irreverenter commemoratis, videlicet propter obedientias, id eſt, bona fratrum, propter quæ Hugo Decanus ſub Chuonrado Præpoſito Fratrem Hezelonem modo Decanum veſtrum, quodam clauſtrali banno privato, ut ajunt, obligavit. Supradicti vero Fratris reſponſio Epiſcopali noſtroque ſynodali judicio nondum innotuit, noſtræque proclamationis ratio ad nos recto non ordine pervenit. Si igitur juſta fuit excomunicationis cauſa, & ex pertinacia excommunicati ad depoſitionem ejus tetendit, Epiſcopo Leodienſi, a quo pendet Eccleſia Aquenſis, debuiſſent annunciaſſe, periculum veſtrum elucidaſſe, negotium definiſſe. Inſuper in conventu Canonico habuiſtis ut fratrem; ſuſcepiſtis, ut Prælatum; venerati eſtis ut Magiſtrum. Si igitur legitime & canonice excommunicatus fuit, vosque ſcienter excommunicato communicaſtis: Ecce, in periculum ordinum veſtrorum tendit, quia majora negotia a manibus ad capita ſunt referenda: quoniam, ſi frater N. in ſua excommunicatione, quam frivole prætenditis, rebellis fuit, matrem veſtram Leodienſem Eccleſiam ad hoc diſcutiendum habuiſtis, cujus janua vobis ſine impedimento patuit, cujus vigor ſe vobis non ſubtraxit, cujus diſciplina vobis eminuit. Vos denique, cum apud nos nil vobis obſtaret, ex animo veſtra obticuiſtis, in vobismetipſis emarcuiſtis; quicquid fuit, indiſcuſſum toleraſtis, &, ut ajunt veraces, probique viri, nihil eſt, quod ei imponitis. Ergo ex circumſpectione Canonum, ſicut qui Canonice pulſatus, infra annum & diem cauſam ſuam non determinat, damnandus eſt: ita a ſimili e contrario, qui plures annos communicans in omnibus, & in quotidiano conventu in Epiſcopalibus judiciis, in cauſis ſynodicis indiſcuſſus habetur, liber abire debet. Decreta namque Sanctorum Patrum ita conſulunt, ut Epiſcopi & judices judicia diſcernant; quia ſunt quædam modo judicanda, quædam judicio Dei reſervanda. Igitur ex ſupradictis Auguſtini cauſæ veſtræ in præſentiarum ſunt parvæ, non magnæ; longi temporis non parvi. Qui iratus vel ex occultis motibus judicat, in furorem judicium mutat, & ante profert ſententiam, quam agnoſcat. Excommunicatio denique ab Epiſcopis diſcrete agenda eſt: quanto magis a ſubditis illorum. Evariſtus enim Papa capitulo III. ait: Epiſcopi præcipites non ſint ad proferendam ſententiam vel aliquem excommunicandum: nihil quoque temere aut indiligenter judicent. Item alibi: nemo Epiſcoporum quemlibet ſine certa ratione & manifeſta peccati cauſa communione privet Eccleſiaſtica. Anathema enim non, niſi pro mortali debet imponi crimine, & illi, qui aliter non potuerit corrigi. Item ex Concilio Agathenſi cap. IV. Epiſcopi ſacerdotali moderatione poſthabita qui innocentes, aut in minoribus cauſis culpabiles excommunicare præſumſerunt, & ad gratiam feſtinantes recipere noluerunt, a vicinis Epiſcopis literis admoneantur, & ſi parere noluerint, a communione fratrum usque ad proximam ſynodum ſuſpendantur, & ibi rationem profecto dent. Igitur ex regula Epiſcoporum ſi Archidiaconis, Præpoſitis, Prælatis, Decanis erga alios moderate; multo magis erga fratres & Canonicos moderatius agendum eſt. Et notandum, quod aliud eſt a Prælatis banno vel obedientia in clauſtris vel capitoliis aliquid interdici, aliud ex ſententia Epiſcopali, ubi eſt radix ordinum & virtus anathematis aliquem Canonicum legitime excommunicari.

Huc & accedit, quod quidam Franco, cum ſit unus, crimen excommunicationis Decano & Magiſtro ſuo intendit: ſolus quidem ex viſu & auditu; alii loquuntur ex relatu. Paulus vero Apoſtolus ex ſententia Domini diſcipulum inſtruens, ait: accuſationem adverſus Presbyterum ne ſuſcipias, niſi in duobus aut in tribus teſtibus. Item Papa Calixtus cap. XVII. Quærendum eſt in judicio, cujus converſationis ſit, qui accuſat & is, qui accuſatur: quia, quorum eſt vita accuſabilis, non permittuntur Prælatos accuſare. Item Stephanus Papa ad Hilarium: infames ſunt, qui fratres calumniantur aut accuſant. Item Felix Papa cap. VIII. Accuſandi ante licentia non eſt, quam audientia rogetur. Item Secundus Felix Papa cap. XII. Judices & accuſatores tales eſſe debent, qui omni careant ſuſpicione, & ex radice charitatis ſuam deſiderent promere ſententiam. Item Alexander Papa cap. VII. Nullus unquam præſumat accuſator ſimul eſſe & judex & teſtis, quoniam in omni loco judicii perſonas quatuor neceſſe eſt ſemper adeſſe, id eſt, judices electos, & accuſatores, ac defenſores & teſtes. Conſiderandum quoque eſt, quod zelo divino & clauſtrali diſciplina ſæpius Prælati perſequuntur ſubditos ſicut dignum eſt, & illi correctionis impatientes, accepta aliqua occaſione machinantur contra eos: quorum accuſatio & machinatio ſemper ſapienter & caute Eccleſiaſticis judicibus providendæ ſunt & non recipiendæ, prout Canones determinant. Emergunt & ſæpiſſime animoſitates inter Prælatos, & Decanos, & Præpoſitos, quia Decani, quorum eſt expreſſior cauſa & cura in diſponendis fratrum bonis & promulgandis clauſtralibus negotiis, Præpoſitos inde conveniunt; & illi ſecularibus pompis ſuisque inhiantes commodis, nec recipientes eorum admonitionem, commoventes adverſus Prælatos in litem; hinc odia, hinc iræ, hinc rixæ. Ecce unde execranda partium in clauſtris latibula! ecce unde fautores Præpoſitorum muneribus & promiſſis adverſus Prælatos pro zelo clauſtri. Ex Sanctorum igitur Patrum inſtitutis ſubtiliter iſta penſanda ſunt in judiciis: quia vacuus eſt timor hominum, ubi non eſt timor Dei. Conſiderate etiam fratres, quod ex verbis Beati Iſidori (Auguſtini) quatuor modis judicia pervertuntur: timore, cupiditate, odio, amore. Timore, dum metu alicujus poteſtatis veritatem loqui pertimeſcimus; cupiditate, dum præmio muneris alicujus corrumpimur; odio, dum contra quemlibet adverſarium molimur, cujus odio corrumpimur; amore, dum amico vel propinquo præſtare contendimus. Quatuor iſta ſi in humanis judiciis vitanda ſunt, multo magis in clauſtralibus & Eccleſiaſticis. Huc etiam accedit, quod contra auctoritatem Canonicam eum a communione veſtra expuliſtis indiſcuſſum, inconvictum, inconfeſſum. Adrianus enim Papa cap. II. Judex criminoſum diſcutiens, non ante ſententiam proferat, quam aut reus ipſe confiteatur aut per teſtes idoneos convincatur. Item Eleutherius Papa cap. III. Induciæ non modicæ ad querendum dandæ ſunt, ne aliquid præpropere agi a quacunque parte videatur; quia per ſurreptionem multa proveniunt. Nihil tamen absque legitimo atque idoneo accuſatore fiat. Nam & Dominus noſter Jeſus Chriſtus Judam furem eſſe ſciebat: ſed quia non eſt accuſatus, non eſt ejectus; & quicquid inter Apoſtolos egit, pro dignitate miniſterii ratum manſit. Item Carthaginenſe Concilium cap. XVIIII. non ſuſpendatur a communione, cui crimen intenditur, niſi ad cauſam ſuam dicendam electis judicibus die ſtatuta literis evocatus, minime occurrerit. Qui enim accuſatur, non ſtatim criminoſus eſt, ſed qui convincitur aut confitetur. Epiſcopis namque quando accuſantur in ſynodis, conceduntur annus & VI. menſes, vel ad minimum V. ut defenſores & teſtes præparent ſe contra inſidiatores, nullaque priventur communione, ſuum plane agentes officium. Hoc vero reliquis ordinibus ſua ratione convenit; quia quod valet in majori, valet in minori, membraque capitibus diſponuntur. Omnis vero H. ſi adhuc ad audientiam ventum eſt, prius erga eum oportet decreta Patrum ſervari, ut prælationem, ſocietatem, ſuaque legibus habeat. Stephanus enim Papa cap. VIII. ait: Nullus Sacerdotum accuſari poteſt aut reſpondere ſuis accuſatoribus debet, priusquam regulariter vocatus ſit, locumque defendendi aut inquirendi accipiat ad abluenda crimina. Item Felix Papa cap. VIIII. Nulla permittit ratio, dum ad tempus ejus poteſtates atque ab æmulis aut quibuscunque detinentur, aut aliquid objici illi debeat; nec quicquam poteſt a majoribus vel minoribus objici ei, dum rebus vel poteſtatibus caret ſuis. Frater denique F. ſolus & ſingularis in ſua accuſatione, imo præſumtione, cum ſuis aſſentaneis audiat, quæ canones dicant. Qui non probaverit, quod objecit, pœnam quam intulerit, ipſe patiatur. Item ex Concilio Carthaginenſi cap. V. Quisquis Presbyterum falſis criminibus appetiverit, & probare non potuerit, niſi in fine dandam ei eſſe communionem. Item ex Concilio Aurelianenſi: Sicut convictum de crimine pœna conſtringit ita accuſatorem, ſi non probaverit, quod objecit. Redite igitur, Fratres, ad cor, & ſiquid per exceſſum privatorum motuum commiſſum a vobis eſt, humili ſatisfactione corrigatur, ita ut Domino H. prælatio, ſocietas ſuaque reſtituantur, cum plena ſatisfactione illorum, qui in ejus expulſione exceſſerunt; & poſt, ſi tale eſt negotium, ut ſit periculum animarum, niſi tractetur die conſtituta, legitimis induciis canonice accuſetur & fraterne finiatur: alioquin ex Concilio Africano diſcordantes Clericos Epiſcopus vel ratione vel poteſtate ad concordiam trahat; inobedientes ſynodus per audientiam damnet.

unanimitatem inconcuſſe tenens. Stupendo & gemendo exclamo cum Iſaia, qui onus deſerti maris exaggerans, exclamat; Sicut turbines ab africo veniunt, de deſerto venit, de terra horribili. Viſio dura nunciata eſt mihi. Qui incredulus eſt, infideliter agit; & qui depopulator eſt, vaſtat. Qui hactenus non intelligebat legendo, quid ſit deſertum mare; nunc intelligat videndo, quid per deſertum mare ſignificetur non ſolum Babylonia, ſed etiam mundus & Eccleſia. Quamvis enim ut mare undis, ſic mundus & eccleſia affluant populis; tamen jure vocantur deſertum mare, quia mundus videtur eſſe deſertus a ſapientium principum gubernaculo: Eccleſia gemit ſe deſertam a ſano Præſulum conſilio. Quæ enim major olim Confuſio fuit in Babylonia, quam hodie in Eccleſia? In Babylone confuſæ ſunt linguæ gentium; in eccleſia dividuntur linguæ & mentes credentium. Ait Petrus in epiſtola ſua: Salutat vos eccleſia, in Babylone collecta. Hactenus interpretabar, ideo voluiſſe Petrum per Babylonem ſignare Romam, quia tunc temporis Roma confuſa erat idololatria & omni ſpurcitia. At nunc dolor meus mihi interpretatur, quod Petrus prophetico Spiritu dicens Eccleſiam in Babylone collectam, præviderit confuſionem diſſenſionis, qua hodie ſcinditur eccleſia. Nam quamvis eccleſia ſit in Babylone mundi, tamen debet eſſe collecta per fraternam unanimitatem. Qui ſint turbines ab Africo, diſcimus paciendo magis, quam legendo. De terra horribili, a Romana ſcilicet eccleſia, viſio dura nunciata eſt mihi; inde turbo ut tempeſtas venit ab Africo. Romanus enim præſul pater omnium Eccleſiarum, literas contra nos mittit Roberto Flandrenſium Comiti quarum Exemplar tale eſt. P. [Paſchalis] Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei R. [Roberto] Flandrenſium Comiti, ſalutationem & apoſtolicam Benedictionem. Benedictus Dominus Deus Iſrael, qui in te ſuæ veritatis efficaciam operatur, quo reverſus ab Jeruſalem Syriæ, in cœlorum Jeruſalem juſtæ militiæ operibus ire contendis. Hoc eſt legitimi militis, ut ſui Regis hoſtes inſtantius perſequatur. Gratias ergo prudentiæ tuæ agimus, quod præceptum noſtrum in Cameracenſi Parochia executus es. Id ipſum de Leodicenſibus excommunicatis pſeudo clericis præcipimus. Juſtum enim eſt, ut qui ſemetipſos a catholica eccleſia, ſegregaverint, per Catholicos ab Eccleſiaſticis beneficiis ſegregentur. Nec in hac tantum parte, ſed ubicunque poteris, H. [Henrico] hæreticorum caput, & ejus fautores pro viribus perſequaris. Nullum profecto gratius Deo Sacrificium offerre poteris, quam ſi eum impugnes, qui ſe contra Deum erexit, qui Eccleſiaſticis Dei regnum auferre conatur; qui in loco ſancto Symonis idolum ſtatuit, Qui a principibus Dei ſanctis Apoſtolis, eorumque vicariis, de eccleſiæ domo Sancti Spiritus judicio expulſus eſt. Hoc tibi ac militibus tuis in peccatorum remiſſionem, & Apoſtolicæ ſedis familiaritatem præcipimus, ut his laboribus & triumphis ad cœleſtem Hieroſolimam Domino præſtante, pervenias. Datum Albani XII. Kalendis Februar. Super his litteris cujus lumbi non repleantur dolore? Super his me obſtupefecerunt tenebræ; nec tantum pro horrore periculi, quantum pro horrenda novitate rei, quod tam lacrimabiles literæ potuerunt ſcribi a matre contra filias ſuas quamvis peccantes. In judicio Salomonis expreſſa eſt magnitudo maternæ pietatis, quando judicante Salomone, ut infans, pro quo contendebatur, gladio divideretur, maluit mater filium ſuum ſub aliena muliere vivere, quam gladio judicis dividi. Dicit Iſaias; Babylon dilecta mea verſa eſt mihi in miraculum. At ego dico: Roma dilecta mea mater converſa eſt mihi in Miraculum. Quid enim tam mirabile, imo quid tam miſerabile? Vidit olim David angelum Domini ſtantem extento gladio ſuper Jeruſalem: Nos filiæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ ecce videmus Romanum Pontificem, qui eſt angelus Domini ſtantem extento gladio ſuper Eccleſiam. David orabat, ne populus occideretur: Angelus noſter porrigens Roberto gladium orat, ut occidamur. Unde iſte gladius noſtro Angelo? Jubente Jeſu diſcipulis, ut vendita tunica emant ſibi gladium, dicunt diſcipuli; Domine: ecce duo gladii hic. Et dixit Jeſus: ſatis eſt. Ut ex patrum dictis colligimus, eſt unus gladius Spiritus, quod eſt verbum Domini. De quo Jeſus ait: Non veni pacem mittere, ſed gladium; & propheta: Maledictus, qui prohibet gladium ſuum a ſanguine. Hunc gladium diſtringit Jeſus magis contra carnales affectus, quam contra mundi aſſultus. Eſt etiam alter gladius ſpiritualis, quo mortificatis vitiis carnis, emitur corona martyrum. Cum ergo duos tantum gladios a Domino apoſtoli habeant, unde iſte tertius Apoſtolico gladius, quem contra nos porrigit Roberto armigero ſuo? forte recurrit Apoſtolicus ad Ezechielem prophetam, ut de manu ejus tertium arripiens gladium, vadat ad dexteram ſive ad ſiniſtram, cædendo bonos & malos. Dicit vero Ezechieli prophetæ Deus; ut duplicetur gladius, ut triplicetur gladius interfectorum. Puto, non dabit tertium gladium Apoſtolico propheta. Propheta namque duos evangelii gladios oſtendens, per duos unius gladii uſus, gladium Apoſtolico dandum duplicat, dicens: Gladius, gladius exacuatus eſt & limatus. Exacuatus, ut cædat victimas, limatus, ut ſplendeat. Exacuatus eſt, quia, ut ait Hieronymus, qui malos percutit, in eo quod mali ſunt. Et habet gladium interfectionis, ut occidat peſſimos; miniſter Domini eſt. Limatus eſt, ut ſincere prædicetur verbum Domini. Triplicato gladio armat propheta interfectores, [quia ut ait Paulus,] non ſine cauſa Judex gladium portat. Hic eſt gladius interfectionis magnæ, qui me cum Ezechiele obſtupeſcere facit. Quem enim non faciat corde tabeſcere, quod Apoſtolicus ad vivificandum unctus, accingitur in nos tertio gladio interfectorum? O utinam placatus dicat Deus & nunc angelo percutienti: Sufficit, nunc contine manum tuam. Nihil dico in Chriſtum Domini, ſed vicem noſtram ſtram doleo. Sed niſi Chriſtus Domini veniens ad cauloſovium, intraſſet in ſpeluncam purgare ventrem, non præciditſſet David oram chlamidis ejus. Siquis eſt David inveniens hunc Chriſtum Domini dormientem omnesque milites ejus dormientes, non mittat manum in Chriſtum Domini, ſed tantum tollat haſtam ejus & ſcyphum aquæ, qui eſt ad caput ejus dormientis. Hanc haſtam, quam contra nos erexit, oſtendo cunctis: hunc ſcyphum aquæ, qui eſt ad caput ejus dormientis, porrigo cunctis ad guſtandum, ut ſapiant omnes, quam inſipida ſit autoritas legis ejus, qua diſtrinxit gladios Laicorum in cervices clericorum. Si liceret dicere; [ſalva apoſtolicæ dignitatis reverentia;] Ipſe nobis videtur dormiſſe. Dormiverunt cum eo omnes conſiliarii ejus, quando conduxit ſibi vaſtatorem Eccleſiarum Dei. Præcepit Paulus, ut verbum Epiſcopi ſit ſanum & inreprehenſibile. Nos ergo non infirmamus aut reprehendimus verbum Epiſcoporum Epiſcopi. Sed quia Apoſtolicus non debet deviare ab Apoſtolo, quærimus humiliter per ſingula, utrum hæc verba ſint Apoſtolici per omnia gravitate apoſtolicæ autoritatis ſana & inreprehenſibilia. Ecce, ut pater dilecto filio ſuo ſalutem mittit, & apoſtolicam Benedictionem promittit: ſed ut multis videtur, non ea illi opera indicit, quibus ſalutem & Benedictionem a Deo promereri poſſit. Benedicit Deum, qui in eo eam efficaciam ſuæ virtutis operatur, quod Eccleſiam Dei debellat & depopulatur, ac per hoc cœleſtis Hieroſolimæ aditum ei pollicetur. Nunc dilectum filium an recta via dirigat, ipſe pater nobiscum videat? Ut utamur verbis Auguſtini ſummatim collectis: Deus qui dixit, ego ſum Deus faciens pacem & creans malum, ſicut cetera ſuaviter diſponit, ita hæc & diſponit, ut bonum pacis per bonos faciat, malum vero belli per malos creet. Utens vero Deus animis hominum pro voluntatibus & meritis eorum, digna dignis opera imponit, ut dignis digna præmia rependat, bonis bona pro bonis, malis mala pro malis. Quis unquam populum Dei, quis unquam Eccleſiam Dei impune perſecutus eſt? Quoties peccabant filii Iſraelis, ſuſcitabat Deus hoſtes, qui contererent peccantes. Caſtigabat Deus, quos amavit, & damnabat illos, qui vitio ſuo tales erant, ut per eos mala malis inferret. Dicit Deus per Prophetam: Vocabo ab Aquilone ſervum meum Nabuchodonoſor, qui faciat omnem voluntatem meam. Quam voluntatem, niſi ut peccantes diſperderet? Hunc ſervum ſuum Deus pro merito talis ſervitutis in bovem convertit. Peccanti Davidi ait Deus: Ecce ego inducam malum ſuper te de Domo tua. Hoc malum executus Abſalon, fugato patre ſuo, invaſit Hieroſolimam. Numquid per hoc meruit cœleſtem Jeruſalem? Per Jeſaiam dicit Deus: Væ Aſſur, virga & baculus furoris mei ipſe, in manu ejus indignatio mea: ad gentem fallacem mittam illum & ad populum furoris mei. Mandabo illi, ut auferat prædam & diripiat ſpolia & reliqua. Cur Deus intentat Væ Aſſur, quia mala quæ fecit, eo mandante fecit? Væ mundo ab ſcandalis, dicit Deus: Neceſſe eſt, ut veniant ſcandala, væ tamen homini illi, per quem ſcandalum venit. Hoc Hieronymus ſic exponit: Cum neceſſe quidem ſit, ut veniant ſcandala, væ tamen homini, qui, quod neceſſe eſt, ut in mundo fiat, facit ſuo vitio, ut per ſe fiat. Quid multis opus? Ecce, opera juſtæ malitiæ, quibus pater filium, Papa cœleſtis Regis militem imbuit, per quæ poſſit contendere ad cœleſtem Hieroſolimam, impugnando ſcilicet eccleſiam Dei. Gratias inquit prudentiæ tuæ agimus, quod præceptum noſtrum in Cameracenſi Parochia executus es. Qualis & quanta ſit vaſtitas & contritio Cameracenſis eccleſiæ, quis recolit ſine dolore. Ego quidem filia Romanæ Eccleſiæ condolebam Cameracenſibus pro affectu germanitatis: nunc vero audiens hæc mala inferri eis præcepto Apoſtolicæ auctoritatis, jam amplius doleo: Quia timeo matri meæ ne in eam redundet illud, quod Deus dicit per os Jeſaiæ: Væ, qui conditis leges iniquas & ſcribentes injuſtitiam ſcripſerunt, ut opprimerent pauperes in judicio & vim facerent cauſæ: Humili vero populi mei, ut eſſent viduæ præda eorum & pupillos diriperent, & reliqua. Tantam eccleſiæ deſolationem, tantam pauperum & viduarum oppreſſionem, tantam prædarum & rapinarum immanitatem, & quod his graviusſt, promiſcuam bonorum & malorum occiſionem; hæc & pejora his, præcepto Apoſtolici facta eſſe, quis crederet, niſi ipſe ſuo ore prodidiſſet? Taceo Cameracenſem Epiſcopatum in duos eſſe diviſum judicio Romanæ Eccleſiæ. Taceo Walcherum, qui Apoſtolici conſenſu & autoritate probatus & præordinatus fuit, ſubito exordinatum, & excommunicatum, & alium ei ſubordinatum. Hæc juſte nec ne geſta ſint, in Dei pendet ſententia. Non invehimur in Chriſtum Domini, ad quem pertinet ſollicitudo omnium Eccleſiarum. Sed quia Apoſtolicus hæc mala ſibi aſſcribit & eccleſiæ vaſtatori per gratiarum actionem applaudit, ſuper his mirandum an magis ſit dolendum, neſcio. Cui hoc magis ſit periculoſum, jubenti, an obedienti? Cui hoc magis ſit damnoſum, facienti, an patienti? quis hoc diſcernet? Nos attoniti hac novitate rerum, quærimus utrum hoc ſit novum exemplum, ut prædicator pacis ſuo ore & alterius manu inferat Eccleſiæ bellum contra Barbarorum & inimicorum Dei aſſultus. Concedant canones & eccleſiaſticis arma ad defenſionem urbis & Eccleſiæ. Bella vero indici eccleſiæ per autoritatem canonicam nusquam ſcripturarum legimus. Quæro, quia neſcio, dico, quia ſcio pacem Jeſus, pacem Apoſtoli; pacem Apoſtolici viri prædicant, peccantes arguunt, obſervant, increpant in omnium patientia & doctrina. Inobedientes jubet Paulus dure increpari: Quomodo dure increpentur inobedientes, dicit Jeſus: Si peccaverit in te vicinus tuus, corripe illum primo ſolus ſolum, ſecundo cum duobus aut tribus teſtibus, tertio cum eccleſia: Si eccleſiam non audierit, ſit tibi ſicut Ethnicus & publicanus. Hinc ait Auguſtinus: Ille

Ille quod ait Jesus si Ecclesiam non audierit, sit tibi sicut Ethnicus & publicanus: gravius est quam si gladio feriretur, si flammis absumeretur, si feris subjiceretur. Nam ibi quoque Jesus subjunxit: Amen dico vobis, cum ligaveritis in terra; ligatum erit & in cœlo, ut intelligeretur quam gravius sit punitus, qui velut relictus est impunitus. Sic sententia veritatis exposita ab Augustino, quis divinæ vindictæ humanam vindictam superponat? Qui illum persequitur, quem Deus percussit, & super dolorem vulnerum Dei addit, videat quid implicetur illi Deus, qui iniquitates & dolores nostros in persona Dominici hominis portavit. Appone iniquitatem super iniquitatem eorum, & reliqua. Si quis dicat pro Apostolico merito depopulandam esse Ecclesiam, cui incumbat excommunicatus Episcopus, audiat exemplum in quo causa causæ & persona personæ respondet. Tempore primi Gregorii Papæ, defuncto Salonitanæ urbis Episcopo, cum decrevisset Gregorius, ut pro eo Episcopo ordinaretur Honoratus; Maximus quidam auxilio militaris manus invadens Episcopatum Salonitanum, & ab Episcopo consecratus a Gregorio excommunicatus est, & tamen missas celebrare præsumebat. Hunc Gregorius non aliis quam sacerdotalibus armis debellans, non superordinavit ei Honoratum, non inmisit ecclesiæ vastatorem, sed tam diu peccantem arguit, donec septimo excommunicationis ejus anno tandem ad veniam petendam venit hæreticus eumque resipiscentem non exordinavit, non reordonavit, sed eo in gratiam suam recepto, quæ deerant, dato Archiepiscopali pallio supplevit. Cum ergo Salonitanæ causæ sit similis causa Cameracensis, cur censura Romanæ Ecclesiæ in simili causa utitur dissimili sententia? Martinus Turonensis posset Apostolico sufficere ad exemplum, ut desistat ab oppressione innocentium. Priscillianum Episcopum a Damaso Papa pro hæresi damnatum Maximus Imperator, accusante Itacio Episcopo, occidit & ut omnes sequaces ejus undique occiderentur edixit. Martinus ergo adiique Episcopi Itacium communione Ecclesiæ privaverunt, excommunicantes eum, quia ejus accusatione qualiscunque homo occisus sit. Maximus agebat cum Martino, ut Itacio communicaret, & Martinus agebat cum Maximo ut sequaces Priscilliani non occiderentur, ne & Catholici cum eis perirent. Quod petebat Martinus, nullo modo impetrasset, nisi ad tempus Itacio communicasset. Sic quodammodo anathema factus, pro fratribus suis, retraxit ab eorum cervicibus gladium Imperatoris. Qui damnavit accusatorem Itacium pro morte hæretici, si adhuc viveret, non laudaret & istum, cujus præcepto tot occiduntur pro causa Cameracensium. Qui & cum periculo suæ animæ liberavit hæreticos a morte, quam graviter ferret innocentes pro aliena culpa opprimi? Nos res rebus conferimus, causis causas opponimus. At Cameracenses afflicti malo clamant ad Pascalem, sicut filii Israelis afflicti malo clamant ad Moysen: Videat Deus & judicet, quomodo fœtere fecisti odorem nostrum coram Pharaone & præbuisti ei gladium, ut occideret nos? Id in primis de Laodicensibus excommunicatis pseudo clericis præcipimus. Justum est enim, ut qui semet ipsos a Catholica ecclesia segregarunt, per Catholicos ab ecclesiæ beneficiis segregentur. Hic vero me infestat angustia quasi parturientis, unde exclamare compellor, quia omnes parturientis dolores hic magnus dolor vincit. Filios enim genui, hosque lacte alui fidei, hos pane veritatis confirmavi & ad virile robur provexi. Ipsa me beatificabam quia eis in Regis curia & in Dei ecclesia florentibus, nihil deesse credebam, quod vel ad corporis pertinet decorem vel ad animæ spectaret valorem. Sed quid est ab omni parte beatum? Ecce mater mea sancta Romana Ecclesia vult inurere eis notam excommunicationis, & jam superexit super eos gladium occisionis. Super his ego quidem materno dolore torqueor; ipsi ætatem habent, loquantur pro se. Id inprimis inquit, de Leodicensibus excommunicatis pseudo-Clericis præcipimus. Statera dolosa non est bona, ut Sapientia. Quia confert causam nostram causæ Cameracensium, ut & nos patiamur, quod patiuntur Cameracenses. Nos quidem Cameracensibus conpatimur, nobis nihil tale verebamur. Cameracenses, quia causæ causam, personæ personam suppossuerunt, gladium bicipitem sibi superposuerunt. Nos vero Leodicenses quare excommunicati dicimur? quare gladius nobis superponitur? Quid dignum morte aut excommunicatione fecimus contra canonicam regulam ecclesiæ? In uno Spiritu nos omnes in unum corpus baptizati sumus; nos unius moris Deus in Domo sua habitare facit. Obsecrat nos Paulus per nomen Domini, ut non sint in nobis schismata. Quando significatum est Romanæ ecclesiæ, quod contentiones fuerint inter nos? Id ipsum in Christo sapimus, id ipsum dicimus. Non dicimus: ego sum Pauli, ego Cephæ, ego autem Christi. Num quid pro hac unanimitate excommunicati dicimur? Ut præcipit Paulus, obedimus & subjacemus Præpositis nostris, qui vigilant pro animabus nostris. Nobis Dei legem tenentibus objiciunt, quod transgrediamur novas eorum traditiones. At illis dicit Deus: Quare vos transgredimini mandatum Dei propter traditiones vestras? Jubet Deus, ut quæ sint Cæsaris, reddamus Cæsari; & quæ sint Dei, Deo. In hanc sententiam Petrus & Paulus eunt pedibus. Petrus inquit; Deum timete, regem honorificate. Servi subditi estote in omni timore Dominis non solum bonis & modestis, sed & dyscolis: hæc est vera gratia. Paulus: Omnis anima potestatibus sublimioribus subdita sit. Qui potestati resistit, Dei ordinationi resistit. Qui hoc omni animæ præcipit, quem a subjectione terrenæ potestatis excepit? Quia ergo regem honoramus, quia Dominis nostris non ad oculum, sed in simplicitate cordis servimus, ideo excommunicati dicimur? Sed Symoniaci sumus. Symoniacos, quantum ad nos, vitamus, & quos vitare nequimus, toleramus pro loco & tempore, pore, certi, quod ipſe Jeſus facto flagello de reſticulis peccatorum cathedras vendentium columbas everter & nummulariorum effundet æs. Vitamus, inquam, ſymoniacos, nec minus vitamus illos, qui notam avaritiæ honeſto nomine prætexentes quod gratis jactant ſe dare, vendunt ſub caritatis nomine: & ſicut Montaniſta ſub nomine Oblationum artificioſius accipiunt munera ob hoc dolendo miramur, cur excommunicati dicamur, quando, a quo & qua re excommunicati ſumus. Non ab Epiſcopo noſtro, non ab Archiepiſcopo, cui epiſcoporum numerus ſuffragatur, nos excommunicatos eſſe ſcimus. Sed nec a Papa Rom. nos excommunicatos eſſe credimus; quia ſcimus eum non ignorare, quod ait Nichodemus: Lex noſtra non judicat quemquam, niſi audierit ab ipſo prius. Nec Sodomitas damnaſſet Deus niſi deſcendiſſet ad ipſos videre, utrum clamorem, qui venerat ad eum, opere compleſſent. Qui nihil a nobis audivit, quem non Epiſcopus, non Archi-Epiſcopus aliquando contra nos interpellavit, quis credet, quod nos excommunicaverit? Per ſcalam ad cœlos usque pertingentem videt Jacob aſcendentes & deſcendentes Angelos. Et Jeſus ait Diſcipulis: Amen, Amen, dico vobis, videbitis cœlum apertum & angelos Dei aſcendentes & deſcendentes ſuper filium hominis. Hic filius hominis non filios hominis, id eſt Adæ, in ſua exprimit perſona. In aperto eccleſiæ cœlo & boni & mali intrant. Vos Præſules eccleſiæ, qui eſtis angeli Dei, gradatim ad nos deſcendere debetis, gradatim & nos ad vos aſcendere debemus. Quot gradibus ad vos aſcendimus, tot ad nos deſcendere debetis. Eſt primus gradus nobis ad Epiſcopum, ſecundus ad Archiepiſcopum, per quos aſcendere debemus ad tertium & ad Papam Rom. Super filium hominis deſcenditis; cum humilibus compatiendo deſcenditis. Super filium hominis deſcenditis, cum verbo & exemplo humiles ad cœlum ſuſtollitis. Credo; dicetis, ideo nos haberi pro excommunicatis, quia favemus Epiſcopo noſtro, faventi partibus Domini ſui Imperatoris. In hac re ſunt initia dolorum, pro hac re erubeſcunt cauſæ malorum: quia Sathanas ſolutus terram perambulans jam divilit regnum & ſacerdotium. Quia ergo venit Diabolus ad nos, habens iram magnam, Patrem noſtrum, qui eſt in cœlis, oramus pro hoc ſpecialiter, ne nos inducat in tentationem hanc, ſed liberet nos a malo hujus tentationis. Nobis dormientibus inimicus ſuperſeminabit zizaniam in agro Eccleſiæ. Expectamus donec Angeli meſſores Dei, alligent zizaniorum faſciculos ad comburendum: Num ideo dicimur excommunicati? O quot manipulos tritici eradicabit, qui ante tempus zizania a tritico diſcernere feſtinat? Quis jure reprehendet, quod Epiſcopi partibus Domini ſui favet, cui promiſſam cum juramento fidelitatem debet? Perjurium nemo dubitat eſſe grande peccatum. Deus ſolus jurat & non pœnitet eum, quia ſapientia cuſtodit præcepta juramenti Dei. Sed nos, quos juraſſe ſæpe pœnitet, jurare prohibemur. Si jurat homo, jubet Deus, ut reddat Domino juramentum ſuum. Hoc nec ignorant illi, qui regnum & ſacerdotium ſcindentes novello ſchismate a novellis, ut quibusdam placet, traditionibus. Illos, qui Regi perjurant, ſe a culpa perjurii abſolvere promittunt, non attendentes, quod Ezechiel ex ore Dei dicat de Sedechia, qui perjuravit Domino ſuo Regi Nabuchdonoſor: Qui ſolvit, inquit, pactum, nunquid effugiet. Hoc Hieronymus ſic exponit: Ex hoc etiam diſcimus, inter hoſtes ſervandam fidem; & non conſiderandum, cui, ſed per quem juraveris. Multo vero melior inventus eſt ille, qui propter nomen Dei tibi credidit & deceptus eſt, quam tu, qui per occaſionem divinæ majeſtatis hoſti tuo, imo amico, molitus es inſidias. Quid laboramus in colligendis exemplis vitandi perjurii. Tertium Decalogi mandatum de corde & ore Dei prolatum ejusque digito ſcriptum hoc eſt: Non aſſumes Nomen Domini Dei tui in vanum. Nec vero habebit inſontem Dominus eum, qui aſſumſerit nomen Dei ſui fruſtra. Cum ita prima Decalogi mandata ad cultum Dei pertineant, diligenter inſpicientibus videtur, quod in hoc tertio Decalogi mandato cætera mandata pendeant; quia cum fit, quod Deus præcepit fieri & non fit, quod Deus fieri prohibet: ideo utique fit & non fit, ut nomen præcipientis & prohibentis Dei non aſſumatur in vanum. Quis magis aſſumit nomen Dei in vanum, quam ille, qui violat hoc, quod per nomen Dei jurat? Deus jubet, ne per cœlum, ne per terram, ne per caput meum jurem, ne forte perjurem. Si culpa eſt, perjurare per creaturam Dei, quam gravius peccat, qui per creatorem Deum perjurat. Hinc omnes perpenditis, quod ſit reus capitis, qui non reddit Cæſari, quæ ſunt Cæſaris, ſecundum Decretum Dei; & qui Regem inhonorat contra decretum Apoſtoli, & perjurando aſſumit nomen Dei in vanum per quod juravit regi fidelitatem. Ecce quare excommunicati dicimur? Sed quare pſeudo-Clerici vocamur qui canonice viventes, operibus meremur, ut Clerici vocemur? Non eſt, non eſt, inquam, de ſorte Dei, qui vult nos excludere a ſorte Dei. Non tales, o Mater Eccleſia, nutrivilti, ut merito vocemur pſeudo-clerici. Quia enim nos voluntati noſtræ non dimiſiſti, non confundemus te matrem noſtram. Mirum eſt de Domino Paſchali cum ſic convitia venalia invenit, bona mercatione videtur ea accepiſſe, quæ tanta in nos profundit facilitate. Modo vero nos excommunicatos nominat, modo pſeudo-clericos ex motu animi vocat. Eruclavit cor Regis Davidis & Prophetæ verbum bonum: evomuit cor Domini Paſchalis vile convitium, prout vetulæ & textrices faciunt. Petrus Apoſtolus docet: Non dominantes in clero, ſed forma facti gregis. Paulus Apoſtolus ad Galatas delinquentes ait; filioli mei, quos iterum parturio in Domino. Hos attendat Dominus Paſchalis pios admonitores non impios convitiatores. Maledictum excommunicationis Dominus Paſchalis nobis improperat, ſed illud ante omnia timemus, quod Spiritus Sanctus per os Pſalmiſtæ ſtæ dicit: Maledicti omnes qui declinant a mandatis tuis. Maledictum Excommunicationis, quod ex novella traditione Hildebrandus, Odardus & iſte tertius indiſcrete protulerunt, omnino abjicimus & priores ſanctos patres usque nunc veneramur & tenemus, qui, dictitante Spiritu Sancto, non animi motu, in majoribus & minoribus poteſtatibus graviter delinquentibus quædam diſſimulaverunt, quædam correxerunt, quædam toleraverunt. Dominus noſter Epiſcopus communicat Regi & Imperatori ſuo, cui ex regalibus ejus acceptis fidelitatem juravit. Nimium effluxit tempus, quo hæc conſuetudo cœpit; & ſub hac conſuetudine migraverunt a ſeculo ſancti & reverentes Epiſcopi, reddentes Cæſari quæ erant Cæſaris, & Deo quæ erant Dei. Sed quid dicit Ambroſius ſuper Lucam: Si Chriſtus, inquit, non habuit imaginem Cæſaris, cur dedit cenſum? Non de ſuo dedit; ſed reddidit mundo, quæ erant mundi. Et tu ſi non vis eſſe obnoxius Cæſari, noli habere quæ mundi ſunt. Sed ſi habes divitias, obnoxius es Cæſari. Si vis nihil debere Regi terreno, dimitte omnia & ſequere Chriſtum. Item Auguſtinus ſuper Johannem: Apoſtolus voluit ſervire regibus, voluit honorari reges, & dixit Regem reveremini, Nolite dicere, quid mihi & regi? Quid tibi ergo & poſſeſſioni? Per jura regum poſſidentur poſſeſſiones: Per imperatores & Reges ſeculi Deus jura humana diſtribuit generi humano. Igitur ex verbis iſtorum & aliorum ſanctorum Patrum conſulant ſibi Epiſcopi regibus & imperatoribus obnoxii, ex eorum regalibus acceptis, ne proprio gladio, id eſt, eorum beneficiis, eos interficiant. Si quis denique reſpectu Sancti Spiritus vetus & novum teſtamentum geſtaque revolverit, patenter inveniet, quod aut minime aut difficile poſſunt Reges & Imperatores excommunicari, ſecundum Etymologiam nominum illorum, & juxta determinationem excommunicationis, & adhuc ſub judice lis eſt. Admoneri quidem poſſunt increpari, argui a timoratis & diſcretis viris: quia quos Chriſtus, in terris Rex Regum, vice ſua conſtituit, damnandos & ſalvandos ſuo judicio reliquit. Ecce quare excommunicati vocamur, eo quod ſanctos & moderatos & antiquos patres tenemus & pro poſſe imitamur. Epiſcopum, Archiepiſcopum noſtrum, provincialem & conprovincialem Synodum, ex antiqua traditione tenemus, & quicquid ibi de ſcripturis ſanctis diffinitum fuerit, Romam non refertur usque ad graviora negotia, de quibus non invenitur in ſcripturis ſacris autoritas. Illos vero Legatos a latere Romani Epiſcopi exeuntes, & ad ditanda marſupia diſcurrentes omnino refutamus. Sic temporibus Zozimi, Cœleſtini, Bonifacii Concilia Africana probaverunt. Etenim, ut a fructibus eorum cognoſcamus eos, non morum correctio, non vitæ emendatio, ſed etiam cædes & eccleſiarum Dei proveniunt deprædationes. Quia ergo antiquæ religioni inhæremus & non omni vento doctrinæ circumferimur; Ecce, ideo excommunicati dicimur. Verum Dominus Paſchalis cur pſeudo-clericos nos vocat? Pſeudo-Apoſtoli adulterabant verbum Dei, quos damnabat Apoſtolus in epiſtolis ſuis: nos non adulteramus, ſed fidem Catholicam per Dei gratiam tenemus, fidei catholicæ opera exequimur. Regulam Canonicam ex patrum traditione habemus & reveremur, ſecundum illam vivimus, dijudicamus, ſatisfacimus, abſolvimus, conſiliis regum aut imperatorum aut in iſto aut in illo non interſumus, quia noſtræ ſuperiores poteſtates tale negotium habent inter manus, qui ex veſtigiis anteceſſorum prudenter tractabant, cur ergo Dominus Paſchalis vult, ut exſolvamus, quod non rapuimus; ut pſeudo-clerici vocemur, ubi rectam lineam tenemus. Potius depoſito præſumtionis ſpiritu cum ſuis conſiliariis ſolerter recolligat, quomodo a Beato Silveſtro usque ad Hildebrandum ſedem Romanam Papæ obtinuerint, & quot & quanta inaudita ex ambitione illius ſedis perpetrata ſint; & quomodo per reges & Imperatores diffinita ſint, & pſeudo-Papæ damnati & abdicati ſint, & ibi plus valuit virtus Imperialis, quam excommunicatio Hildebrandi, Odardi, Paſchalis. Dominus in Evangelio dicit: Si male locutus ſum, teſtimonium perhibe de malo. Et Paulus Apoſtolus in faciem Petro Principi Apoſtolorum reſtitit. Ergo remoto Romanæ ambitionis typo, cur de gravibus & manifeſtis non reprehendantur & corrigantur Romani Epiſcopi? Qui reprehendi & corrigi non vult, pſeudo eſt ſive Epiſcopus ſive Clericus. Nos vero per miſericordiam Dei juxta Regulam obedientes & corrigibiles ſumus & ſchiſma & ſymoniam & excommunicationem per omnia, dictante ratione & Spiritu Sancto, vitare volumus: Ex verbis Beati Auguſtini Reges & Imperatores ex legibus promulgatis, nihil ab hæreticis in hoc mundo poſſideri voluerunt. Igitur cum non ſimus hæretici & hoc ſit jus Regum & Imperatorum, quare Dominus Paſchalis, ſolo contentus ſpirituali gladio inmittit Robertum armigerum ſuum ad devaſtandos fundos & villas Eccleſiarum. Quæ etſi devaſtanda eſſent, edicto Regum & Imperatorum devaſtari deberent, qui non ſine cauſa gladium portant. Ecce ſolutus eſt Sathanas, habens iram magnam, quem exterreat valida manus Dei. Quod excommunicati dicimur, non gravius juſto feras; quia ut credimus, ab excommunicatione nos excipiet ſaltem ipſa Romanorum autoritas. Hildebrandus Papa, qui auctor eſt hujus novelli ſchismatis, & primus levavit ſacerdotalem Lanceam contra Diadema regni, primo indiſcrete Henrico faventes excommunicavit; ſed reprehendens ſe intemperantiæ, excepit ab excommunicatione illos, qui Imperatori adhærebant neceſſaria & debita ſubjectione, non voluntate faciendi & conſiliandi malum, & hoc pro decreto ſcripſit: Nec in hac parte tantum, ſed ubicunque poteris Henricum hæreticorum caput & ejus fautores perſequaris. Nullum profecto Deo gratius ſacrificium offerre poteris, quam ſi eum impugnes qui ſe contra Deum erexit, qui eccleſiæ Dei regnum auferre conatur, qui in loco ſanctorum ctorum Symonis idolum ſtatuit; qui a principibus Dei ſanctis Apoſtolis, eorumque vicariis, de eccleſiæ domo Sancti Spiritus judicio expulſus eſt. Cum Alaricus Rex Gothorum iret ad capiendam Romam, monitus a quodam ſervo Dei, ut ab his malis ceſſaret. Non volens, inquit, vado Romam: Vir enim quidam me quotidie torquens urget, ut eam ad deſtruendam Romam. Hoc exemplo urget Apoſtolicus armigerum ſuum, ut totum depopuletur regnum, quod non fieri poteſt ſine cæde & ſanguine & eccleſiarum Dei depopulatione. Alaricus quidem mitior fuit, qui, capta Roma, eccleſiis pepercit, & a cæde hominum abſtinuit. Nunc nihil excepto, inmittitur Robertus ab Apoſtolico, ut non ſolum in Cameracenſes, & nos Leodicenſes, ſed totus fertur ad diſpergendos omnes. Quis clamabit modo cum Iſaia: Quam pulchri ſupra montes pedes prædicantis & annunciantis pacem: annunciantis bonum, prædicantis ſalutem? Eum, qui deberet eſſe prædicator pacis, Zelus Dei adeo comedit, ut etiam in amicos pacis diſtringat gladium belli. Quale enim zelum habuit Petrus in amputanda auricula Malchi, qui Rex interpretatur, talem modo zelum habet Vicarius Petri in amputanda auricula Regis hæretici, in quem omnimodis invehitur. Dum enim hæreticorum caput, Dei rebellem, Eccleſiaſtici regni invaſorem, Symoniaci Idoli adoratorem, ab Apoſtolis & Apoſtolicis excommunicatum vocat, quaſi tot ictus ictibus addit, & tot vulnera animæ ejus infligit, ut, ſi infirmus in fide eſſet, deſperare poſſet. Sed qui in feriendo Petrum imitatur, & in recondendo gladio Petrum imitetur. Qui enim ſanavit auriculam Malchi, poteſt etiam ſanare auriculam Regis hæretici; ſi talis eſt, quod abſit, & pro nobis dolemus & ipſi Domino noſtro condolemus. Nihil etiam pro Imperatore noſtro dicimus; ſed hoc dicimus, quod etiam ſi talis eſſet, tamen eum principari nobis pateremur: quia ut talis nobis principetur, peccando meremur. Eſto, concedimus vobis inviti, eum talem eſſe, qualem dicitis. Nec talis a nobis repellendus eſſet armis contra eum ſumtis; ſed precibus ad Deum fuſis. Contra Pharaonem, cujus cor contra Deum induravit, Moyſes ranam, muſcam, locuſtam, grandinemque induxerat. Has tamen plagas non niſi orando extenſis in cœlum manibus avertere potuit. Et Paulus: Obſecro, inquit, primo omnium fieri orationes pro regibus & pro omnibus, qui in ſublimitate ſunt conſtituti. Reges illius temporis, pro quibus Paulus orare obſecrabat, non Catholici erant, non Chriſtiani erant. Baruch quoque ex ore Jeremiæ ſcribit, Judæis a Rege Babylonis captivatis: Orate pro vita Nabuchdonoſor Regis & Balthaſar filii ejus, ut ſint dies ipſorum, ſicut dies cœli ſuper terram: & det Dominus virtutem nobis & illuminet oculos noſtros ut vivamus ſub umbra Nabuchodonoſor Regis Babylonis & Balthaſar, filii ejus: ut ſerviamus ei multis diebus & inveniamus gratiam in oculis eorum. Cur pro malis regibus orari debeat, Paulus dicit, ut ſicelicet tranquillam vitam agamus. Eſſet Apoſtolicum imitari Apoſtolum; eſſet propheticum imitari prophetam. Sed peccatis noſtris merentibus Apoſtolicus, qui etiam modo orare deberet pro rege, quamvis peccatore, ut tranquillam & quietam vitam agamus; agit bellando, ne tranquillam & quietam vitam agamus. Cum ita ſibi conſonent apoſtolica & prophetica verba, quæro humiliter ego filia a matre mea ſancta Romana Eccleſia, unde hæc autoritas Apoſtolico, ut præter ſpiritualem gladium exerat in ſubjectos alterum occiſionis gladium? Non ago pro Rege, ſed pro Eccleſiarum matre, cujus parti timemus nos ejus filiæ. Si enim David non meruit ædificare templum Dei, quia vir ſanguinum erat; Summus Pontifex, ſi vel ſtilla ſanguinis veſtem ejus tetigerit, quomodo in ſancta ſanctorum introibit cum ſanguine Chriſti, quem offerat pro ſui & populi ignorantia? Utinam non cum Pilato tantum lavet manus ſuas, dicens: Mundus ego ſum a ſanguine innocentium; ſed & cum Petro dicat; Domine lava non tantum pedes meos, ſed & manus & caput. Judæi non excuſaverunt manus ſuas a ſanguine Chriſti, quem ipſi hora tertia linguis ſuis, hora ſexta manibus Romanorum crucifixerunt: Apoſtolicus vero, ſe excuſans, dicit cum Paulo: Mundus ego ſum a ſanguine omnium veſtrum. Quis pontificum Romanorum ſuis unquam decretis autorizavit, ut debeat Pontifex gladio belli in peccantes uti? Gregorius primus hujus nominis Papa, quid omnes ante ſe Papæ ſenſerint ſuper hoc, & quid omnes poſt ſe ſentire debeant, oſtendit, ſcribens Sabiniano Diacono: Unum eſt quod ſuggeras humiliter ſereniſſimis Dominis noſtris, quod ſi ego ſervus eorum in morte vel Longobardorum me miſcere voluiſſem, hodie Longobardorum gens nec Regem, nec Duces, nec comites haberet, atque in ſumma confuſione eſſet: Sed quia Dominum timeo, in mortem cujuslibet hominis me miſcere formido. Hoc exemplo omnes a primo Gregorio contenti, utebantur ſolo gladio ſpirituali usque ad ultimum Gregorium, id eſt ad Hildebrandum, qui primus ſe & ſuo exemplo alios Pontifices contra Imperatorem accinxit gladio belli. Quis poſſit Regem arguere? melius nobis intellexit Heliu qui in libro Job de Deo ait: Qui vocat Duces impios & qui regnare facit hypocritam propter peccata populi. Quod Gregorius exponens: nullus, inquit, qui talem Rectorem patitur, eum, quem patitur, accuſet, quia nimirum ſui fuit meriti perverſi Rectoris ſubjacere ditioni, culpam ergo proprii magis accuſet operis, quam injuſtitiam gubernantis. Scriptum namque eſt: Dabo tibi Reges in furore meo. Quid ergo illos nobis præeſſe deſpicimus, quorum ſuper nos regimina ex Domini furore ſuſcepimus? Sic ergo ſecundum merita ſubditorum tribuuntur perſonæ regentium, ut ſæpe qui videntur boni, accepto mox regimine permutentur, ſicut Saul qui cor cum dignitate mutavit. Sic ergo pro qualitatibus ſubditorum diſponuntur acta regentium, ut ſæpe pro malo gregis etiam vera boni rectoris vita delinquat. Certum vero est, quod ita sibi invicem & rectorum & plebium merita connectantur, ut sæpe ex culpa Rectorum deterior fiat vita plebium: & sæpe ex merito plebium mutetur vita Rectorum. Sed quia Rectores habent Judicem Deum, magna cautela subditorum est, non temere judicare vitam regentium. Hæc Gregorii verba agunt pro nobis, quod vos Deo judicium suum tollatis, nec attendatis, quod dicit Amos propheta: Væ desiderantibus diem Domini. Diem Domini desiderat, qui injuste vel importune vel intempestive de subjectis judicat, vel voto cordis judicium Dei præoptat. Non diximus Imperatorem nostrum esse hypocritam: sed vos, qui eum habetis pro hypocrita, miramur, quod non attendatis, qua causa Deus regnare faciat hypocritam. Si enim cessarit causa peccati, cessabit & pœna peccati. Quid de eo dicimus, quod Henricum ab Apostolis & Apostolicis viris excommunicatum Sancti Spiritus judicio dicit? Nimis illum detestatur, quem nec Regis nec Imperatoris nomine dignatur. Quis poterit discernere causam regni a causa sacerdotii, nisi pax Dei quæ exsuperat omnem sensum, copulet regnum & sacerdotium uno angulari lapide concordiæ, vacillabit structura Ecclesiæ super fidei fundamentum. Ut potestatem regni probat vel improbat causa modusque regendi, sic potestatem sacerdotum probat vel improbat causa modusque ligandi & solvendi. Nam Clemens scribit, dixisse Petrum: Ligabis quod oportet ligari, & solves quod oportet solvi. Et: qui præest cæteris, oportet agere vicem Medici, non bestiali furore commoveri. Qui ergo agere debet vicem Medici, audiat & consilium sapientiæ: Omnis, inquit, potentatus brevis est vita. Languor prolixiæ gravat Medicum: Brevem languorem præcidit Medicus. Sic rex & hodie est & cras morietur. Cum ab omnibus indicatur Prælato virtus Discretionis; Interrogo, quare Apostolici succedentes sibi invicem, quasi hæreditario Bello excommunicandi indiscrete in Regem insurgunt, cui pro Regali dignitate & ipsi subjici jubentur? Qui excommunicatur Sancti Spiritus judicio utique repellendus est a Dei domo. Quotiescunque autem aliquis excommunicatur aut ex causæ aut personæ præjudicio, quis dicat hunc excommunicatum esse Sancti Spiritus judicio? Dicitis cum Gregorio: Quod quomodo liget pastor, timeat grex vinculum Pastoris. Dicimus & nos cum Gregorio: Ligandi & solvendi potestate se privat, qui subjectos pro suo velle & non pro eorum merito ligat & solvit. Dicitis, quoquomodo excommunicatus, si morte prævenitur, damnatur. Hic nobis succurrit Romanæ Ecclesiæ autoritas. Gregorius enim scripto & facto autorizavit, quod potest Romanus Præsul absolvere excommunicatum injuste ab aliquo. Si hoc potest Romanus Præsul, quis neget etiam Deum posse absolvere, si quem Romanus Præsul injuste excommunicaverit? Nemo enim lædi potest ab alio, nisi prius lædatur a semetipso. Nullum profecto, inquit, Deo gratius sacrificium offerre poteris. Qualiter hoc sacrificio nihil sit gratius Deo, quæro a te, o Mater mea, Romana Ecclesia? Deo enim non placet sacrificium, nisi sit mundum & inmaculatum, ita ut & illum, qui offert, faciat mundum & inmaculatum. Ideo enim Lex in Pascha offerebat agnum inmaculatum, ut & offerentes essent inmaculati: Quomodo ergo tam gratum est Deo hoc bellandi sacrificium, quod non potest fieri sine macula culparum? Dicit enim Malachias: Si offeras Deo pecus claudum, cæcum vel languidum, nonne malum est? Apostolicus, qui hoc sacrificium belli indicit Roberto filio suo, vellet, puto, redire ad zelum Phinees, vellet facere, quod fecit Moyses, ut manus Levitarum consecret in sanguine fratrum suorum. Perierunt filii Aaron offerentes ignem alienum: utinam non pereat hic, qui etiam modo Deo offert ignem alienum & non illum ignem, quem venit Jesus mittere in terram, & vult ut ardeat. Quomodo, inquam, gratum est Deo sacrificium quod non videtur esse mundum & inmaculatum? Sacrificium de rapinis pauperum erit gratum illi qui odit rapinam in holocaustum? Nec sacrificio de lacrymis viduarum & pupillorum delectabitur Deus, ut ait Jesus filius Syrach; non despiciet Deus gemitum pupilli & viduæ. Nonne Lacrymæ Viduæ de maxilla descendunt & a maxilla ascendunt usque ad cœlum, & Dominus exauditor non delectabitur in illis? Sacrificium de oppressionibus Ecclesiarum quomodo grate accipiet ille, qui dixit: Ad quem respiciam nisi ad pauperculum & contritum spiritu & trementem sermones meos? Hac calamitate Apostolici Belli, quot sunt oppressi, de quibus Deus dicit: qui tangit vos, tangit pupillam oculi mei? Sacrificium humano sanguine inquinatum, miror, si placebit illi, qui dixit: De manu cunctarum bestiarum & de manu hominis sanguinem hominis requiram. Quod per modos sacrificandi discernendo quærimus, Jesus in evangelio tribus pene verbis concludit: Omnis sacrificans igne salietur, & omnis victima sale salietur. Quam plane hoc est conclusum, quis grate Deo sacrificet, vel quod sit gratum Deo sacrificium? Si sacrificans igne Sancti Spiritus salietur, victima quoque sacrificantis sale sapientiæ salietur. Et penetrans Jesus altius ad intentiones cordis addit: Bonum est sal. Quod si sal insulsum fuerit, in quo condietis illud? Habete in vobis salem, & pacem habete inter vos. Tenorem hujus Evangelici capituli quis melius exponet, quam rei & præsentis temporis consequentia? non possumus habere pacem inter nos, nisi habeamus salem in nobis. Si salem non habemus in nobis, ideo non habemus pacem inter nos. Hæc, inquit, tibi ac militibus tuis in peccatorum remissionem & Apostolicæ sedis familiaritatem præcipimus, ut his laboribus & triumphis ad cœlestem Hierosolimam pervenias. Hactenus Apostolicis & Evangelicis & Propheticis testimoniis innitebamur; & quod minus habebat materia, augebat exemplorum plorum copia: Hic vero quid dicam neſcio; quo me vertam, non video. Si enim utriusque legis totam Bibliothecam, ſi omnes totius Bibliothecæ expoſitores veteres revolvam, exemplum hujus Apoſtolici præcepti nunquam inveniam. Solus Hildebrandus Papa ultimam manum ſacris canonibus impoſuit, quem legimus præcepiſſe Methildæ Marchioniſſæ in remiſſionem peccatorum ſuorum, ut debellaret Henricum Imperatorem. Quod juſte nec ne ipſe & alii fecerint, nulla autoritate diſcimus. Hoc ſolum dicimus, quia non poteſt aliquis aliquem indiſcrete ſolvere vel ligare. Ad hoc nobis occurrit ex evangelio exemplum. Jeſus Chriſtus totum hominem ſine peccato agens, reſuſcitaturus Lazarum, videns alios pro illo plorantes, fremuit ſpiritu, turbavit ſemetipſum, lacrimatus eſt. Rurſum fremuit in ſemetipſo; juſſit tolli lapidem mortuo ſuperpoſitum, elevatis oculis oravit, voce magna clamavit: Lazare veni foras. Quo prodeunte ligatis manibus, ac pedibus inſtitis, & ſudario facie ligata; dixit Jeſus diſcipulis, ut ſolverent eum. Ecce in Lazaro peccatorem, in Jeſu video prædicatorem. Quot affectus oſtendit Jeſus in Lazaro ſuſcitando, tot affectus oſtendit prædicator in peccatore ſuſcitando. Si peccator, vel pro peccatore prædicator turbaverit ſe ipſum pœnitendo, ſi lacrimatus fuerit, ſi clamaverit: veni foras confitendo peccata: ſi tulerit lapidem de duro corde peccantis; tandem ad juſſum Dei ſolvat inſtitas excommunicationis; tollat & a facie ejus laborioſum pœnitentiæ ſudarium & ſic liberum ſinat abire. Hinc Gregorius ait: Mortificat non morientem, qui juſtum damnat: Nititur vivificare non victurum, qui reum ſupplicio ſolvere conatur. Vera eſt abſolutio præcedentis, cum ſequitur arbitrium æterni Judicis. Sic diſcipuli Lazarum jam viventem ſolvunt, quem Jeſus ſuſcitaverat mortuum. Si enim mortuum ſolverent, fœtorem magis oſtenderent, quam virtutem. Hæc Gregorius. Hunc morem diſcrete ligandi & ſolvendi hactenus tenebas & nobis tenendum mandabas, o mater ſancta Romana Eccleſia. Unde ergo hæc nova autoritas, per quam reis ſine confeſſione & pœnitentia offertur præteritorum peccatorum impunitas & futurorum libertas? Quantam feneſtram malitiæ per hoc patefeciſti hominibus? Te, o mater, liberet Deus ab omni malo. Sit Jeſus tibi oſtium, ſit Oſtiarius. Nullus in te introeat, niſi cui Oſtiarius aperuerit. Te, inquam, tuumque præſulem liberet Deus etiam ab his, qui, ut ait Micheas Propheta, ſeducunt Populum Dei, qui mordent dentibus ſuis & prædicant pacem. Et ſi quis non dederit in ore eorum quippiam, ſanctificant ſuper eum bellum. Explicit.

Domino Papæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ & omnibus Epiſcopis, univerſisque Chriſtianæ fidei cultoribus, Piſanus Archiepiſcopus & alii Epiſcopi, Gothefridus gratia Dei Eccleſiæ ſancti Sepulchri nunc Advocatus & R. Comes S. Ægidii cum univerſo Dei exercitu, qui eſt in terra, ſalutem & orationem. Multiplicate preces cum jucunditate & exultatione in conſpectu Domini, quoniam magnificavit miſericordiam ſuam complendo in nobis ea, quæ promiſit in temporibus antiquis. Etenim cum capta Nycæa cunctus exercitus diſcederet, plus quam trecenta millia hominum armatorum illic fuerunt. Et licet hæc tanta multitudo univerſam Romaniam occupare, flumina epotare, ſegetes omnes una die depaſcere poſſet, tanta tamen plenitudine conduxit vitæ neceſſaria Deus, ut de ariete nummus, de bove vix XII. acciperentur. Præterea & ſi Principes & Reges Saracenorum contra nos ſurrexerunt, Deo tamen volente facile victi & conculcati ſunt. Ob hæc itaque feliciter acta, quia quidam intumuerant, oppoſuit nobis Deus Antiochiam urbem humanis viribus inexpugnabilem, ubi per novem menſes detentos in obſidione ejusdem, ita humiliavit, ut omnis ſuperbiæ noſtræ tumor deſideret. Igitur nobis ſic humiliatis, ut in toto exercitu vix centum equi boni invenirentur, aperuit Deus copiam ſuæ benedictionis & miſericordiæ, nosque in civitatem induxit atque Turcos & eorum omnia poteſtati noſtræ tribuit. Cumque hæc quaſi viribus noſtris acquiſita obtineremus, nec Deum, qui contulerat, digne magnificaremus, tanta Saracenorum multitudine obſeſſi ſumus, ut de civitate nullus egredi auderet. Præterea fames in civitate convaluerat, ut vix ab humanis dapibus ſe continerent aliqui. Longum eſt enarrare miſerias, quæ in civitate fuere. Reſpiciens autem Dominus populum, quem tam diu flagellaverat, benigne conſolatus; ac primo quaſi pro ſatisfactione tribulationis lanceam ſuam, munus non viſum a tempore Apoſtolorum, pignus victoriæ nobis obtulit: deinde corda omnium adeo animavit, ut illis, quibus ægritudo & fames ambulandi vires negaverat, armæ ſumendi & viriliter contra hoſtes dimicandi virtutem infunderet. Inde cum triumphatis hoſtibus fame & tædio exercitus deficeret Antiochiæ, maxime propter diſcordias Principum, in Syriam profecti Barram & Marram urbes Sarracenorum expugnavimus & caſtella regionis obtinuimus. Cumque moram ibidem diſpoſuimus, tanta fames in exercitu fuit, ut corpora Saracenorum jam fœtentium a populo Chriſtiano comeſta ſint. Deinde eum divino monitu in interiora Romaniæ progrederemur, largiſſimam atque miſericordem & victoriſſimam manum omnipotentis patris habuimus nobiſcum. Etenim cives & Caſtellani regionis illius, per quam procedebamus, ad nos cum multis donariis legatos præmittebant, parati ſervire & oppida ſua reddere. Sed quia exercitus noſter non multus erat, & in Hieruſalem unanimiter feſtinabant, acceptis ſecuritatibus tributarios eos fecimus, quippe cum de multis in ea civitatibus, quæ in maritimis illis ſunt, plures homines haberent, quam in exercitu noſtro noſtro fuiſſent; Cumque auditum eſſet Antiochiæ, quia manus Domini nobiscum eſſet, plures de exercitu, qui ibi remanſit, conſecuti nos apud Tyrum ſunt. Sic itaque conviatore & cooperatore Deo nobiscum usque Hieruſalem pervenimus. Cumque in obſidione illius multum exercitus laboraret, maxime propter aquæ inopiam: habito concilio Epiſcopi & Principes, circinandam eſſe civitatem nudis pedibus, prædicaverunt, ut ille, qui pro nobis in humilitate eam ingreſſus eſt, per humilitatem noſtram pro ſe ad judicium de ſuis hoſtibus faciendum, nobis eam aperiret. Placatus itaque hac humilitate Dominus, octavo poſt humiliationem noſtram die civitatem nobis tradidit, eo videlicet die, quo primitiva Eccleſia inde abjecta fuit, cum feſtum de disperſione Apoſtolorum a multis fidelibus celebratur. Et, ſi ſcire deſideratis, quid de hoſtibus ibi repertis factum fuerit, ſcitote, quod in porticu Salomonis & in templo ejus noſtri equitabant in ſanguine Sarracenorum usque ad genua equorum. Deinde cum ordinatum eſſet, qui civitatem retinere deberent, & alii amore patriæ & pietate parentum ſuorum redire voluiſſent, nunciatum eſt nobis, quod Rex Babyloniorum Aſcalonem veniſſet cum innumerabili multitudine paganorum, ducturus Francos, qui Jeroſolymis erant, in captivitatem & expugnaturus Antiochiam. Sic ipſe dixit. Aliter autem Dominus ſtatuerat de nobis. Itaque cum in veritate comperiſſemus, exercitum Babyloniorum Aſcalone eſſe, contendimus obviam illis, relictis ſarcinis & infirmis noſtris in Jeruſalem cum præſidio. Cumque exercitus noſter & hoſtium ſe conſpexiſſent, genibus flexis adjutorem Deum invocavimus, ut, qui in aliis noſtris neceſſitatibus legem Chriſtianorum confirmaverat in præſenti bello confractis viribus Saracenorum & Diaboli, Regnum Chriſti & Eccleſiæ a mari usque quaque dilataret. Nec mora! clamantibus ad ſe Deus affuit, atque tantas audaciæ vires miniſtravit, ut qui nos in hoſtem currere videret, fontem aquæ vivæ ſitientem cervum ſegnem adjudicaret, miro videlicet modo, cum in exercitu noſtro non plus quam V. millia militum & XV. millia peditum fuiſſent, & in exercitu hoſtium C. millia equitum, & CCCC. millia peditum eſſe potuiſſent. Tunc mirabilis Deus in ſervis ſuis apparuit, cum, antequam confligeremus, pro ſolo impetu noſtro hanc in fugam multitudinem convertit, & omnia eorum arma diripuit, ut ſi deinceps nobis rebellare vellent, non haberent arma, in quibus ſperarent. De ſpoliis vero non eſt quærendum, quantum captum ſit, ubi theſauri Regis Babyloniæ occupati ſunt. Ceciderunt ibi plusquam C. millia Marorum gladio. Timor autem eorum tantus erat, ut in porta civitatis ad duo millia ſuffocati ſint. De his vero, qui in mari interierunt, non eſt numerus. Spineta & ex ipſis multos obtinuerunt. Pugnabat certe orbis terrarum pro nobis, & niſi ſpolia caſtrorum de noſtris detinuiſſent multos, pauci eſſent de tanta multitudine hoſtium, qui renunciare potuiſſent de bello. Et licet longum ſit, tamen prætereundum non eſt. Pridie quam bellum fieret, multa millia camelorum, & boum, & ovium cepit exercitus. Cumque juſſu Principum populus hæc dimiſiſſet, ad pugnam progrediens, mirabile dictu, multas & multiplices turmas cameli fecerunt: ſimiliter & oves & boves. Hæc autem animalia comitabantur nobiscum, ut cum ſtantibus ſtarent, & cum procedentibus procederent, & cum currentibus currerent. Nubes & ab æſtu ſolis nos defenderunt & refrigerabant. Celebrata itaque victoria, reverſus eſt exercitus Jeruſalem, & relicto ibi Duce G. Regimunt Comes Sancti ÆGIDII & Roubertus Comes Normanniæ, & Roubertus Comes Flandriæ Laodiciam pervenerunt. Ibi claſſem Piſanorum & Boëmundum invenerunt. Cumque Archiepiſcopus Piſanus B. & Dominos noſtros concordare feciſſet, regredi Jeruſalem pro Deo & fratribus R. G. diſpoſuit. Igitur ad tam mirabilem fratrum noſtrorum fortitudinis devotionem, & tam concupiſcibilem & tam glorioſam Omnipotentis Dei retributionem, & tam exoptandam omnium peccatorum noſtrorum per Dei gratiam remiſſionem, & Chriſti Eccleſiæ & totius gentis Latinæ invitamus exultationem, & omnes Epiſcopos & bonæ vitæ Clericos Monachosque, & omnes Laicos, ut ille vos ad dexteram Dei conſidere faciat, qui vivit & regnat.

Hieroſolymitanus Patriarcha & Epiſcopi tam Græci quam Latini, univerſaque militia Domini & Eccleſiæ, Occidentali Eccleſiæ conſortium cœleſtis Hieruſalem & ſui laboris portionem: Quoniam Eccleſiæ incremento vos gaudere non dubium ignoramus, & ſolicitos ad audienda tam adverſa quam proſpera credimus, amplificationis cauſas ſic notificamus. Innoteſcat igitur caritati veſtræ, Deum in LX. principalibus civitatibus & in ducentis caſtris ſuæ Eccleſiæ triumphaſſe, tam in Romania, quam in Syria, & nos habere adhuc de loricatis centum millia præter vulgus, amiſſis tamen multis in primis præliis. Sed quid hoc? Quid unus in mille? Ubi nos habemus comitem, hoſtes XL. reges; ubi turmam, hoſtes legionem; ubi nos militem, ipſi ducem; ubi peditem, ipſi comitem; ubi nos caſtrum, ipſi regnum. Nos autem non confiſi in multitudine, nec propriis viribus nec præſumtione aliqua, ſed clypeo Chriſti & juſtitia protecti; Georio & Theodoro & Demetrio & ſancto Blaſio militibus Chriſti, nos vere comitantibus, hoſtium cuneos ſecuri penetramus & penetravimus & in quinque generalibus bellis campeſtribus Deo vincente, vicimus. Sed quid plura? Ex parte Dei & noſtra ego Apoſtolicus Patriarcha & Epiſcopi, omnisque ordo Domini præcipiendo oramus, materque noſtra ſpiritualis Eccleſia clamat: Venite filii mei dilectiſſimi, venite ad me, ſuſcipite coronam ab inſurgentibus filiis idololatriæ, ab initio mundi vobis prædeſtinatam. Patavienſi & cæteris tam clericis quam laicis Teutonicarum partium Catholicis ſalutem & Apoſtolicam benedictionem. Pro religionis veſtræ fervore gaudemus & omnipotenti Deo gratias agimus, qui vos in ſui amore nominis confirmat; Quosdam autem veſtrorum minus ſecundum ſcientiam zelum Dei habere audivimus, ut dum pravorum commixtionem vitant, etiam a regionibus veſtris diſcedere meditentur. Qui profecto nequaquam laude Apoſtolica digni ſunt, dum in medio nationis pravæ & perverſæ perſeverare non poſſunt, inter quos luceant velut luminaria in mundo verbum vitæ continentes. Uno vero pondere peccata hominum metiuntur, dum & excommunicatos propriæ voluntatis merito & excommunicatis communicantes reos æqualiter arbitrantur. Verum enim vero diverſarum voluntatum diverſus reatus agnoſcitur. Siquis criminoſus in Eccleſia juxta Apoſtolum nominatur, hujusmodi omnino cavendus eſt. Eadem etiam cautela cavendi ſunt, qui nominatis vel actione, cum poſſint, vel, cum nequeunt, voluntate ſe copulant; Qui vero hujusmodi excommunicatis omnino inviti vel ſervitio vel cohabitatione junguntur, ſi hujusce imperfectionis dolore tangantur, non omnino vitandi ſunt, nec tamen ad communionem ſine correctionis remedio admittendi. Hinc eſt, quod prædeceſſor noſter ſanctæ memoriæ Gregorius Papa excommunicatorum uxores, ſervos, filios, ruſticos, quorum voluntate & conſilio excommunicationis meritum non perpetratur, viatores quoque ob itineris neceſſitatem invitos excommunicatis communicantes, excommunicationis vinculo non teneri conſtituit. Sic beatus Auguſtinus ad Auxilium evidenter oſtendit: Diſcant, inquit, tenere fratres in omnibus viam, & in medio nationis pravæ & perverſæ tanquam luminaria lucere ſtudeant, ut non ſuæ tantum, ſed & alienæ ſalutis mercedem ab eo mereantur recipere, qui ſingulorum examinat voluntates, cauſas diſcutit, quia nuda & aperta ſunt omnia oculis ejus. De cujus miſeratione confidimus, quia ſimplicis oculi corpus Tenebrarum caligo non opprimet, quo c. o. m. peccatorum. Obedientes monitis noſtris miſeratio vos divina cuſtodiat, & ab omnibus peccatis abſolvat.

Ea propter dignum duximus & magna conſultatione deliberavimus, ut in proximis Octobribus Idibus, ſynodalem vobiscum debeamus celebrare conventum. Idcirco tam te, chariſſime frater, quam omnes Moguntinæ Eccleſiæ ſuffraganeos literis præſentibus prænonemus, ut convocatis dyoceſium veſtrarum, qui digniores videntur, Abbatibus, convocatis & Clericorum perſonis, quibus concilii tractatus neceſſarius eſt, prænominato in tempore citra Alpes nobiscum convenire omni occaſione vel ſepoſita procuretis, quatinus largiente Domino, ablatis de medio ſchismatum cauſis Eccleſiæ ac regno pacis reformetur integritas. Epiſtola Argentinenſis Eccleſiæ ad Paſcalem Papam.

Paſcalis univerſali Romanorum Pontifici Argentinenſis Eccleſiæ fratres fidem & obedientiam. Omnium cum ſit, venerande Pater, tua ſollicitudo Eccleſiarum, tu refugium miſerorum, imo patrocinium orbi adveniſti deſiderabile: Unde adhuc humano generi conſulere Deus non deſpicit per hæc nova; quoniam lux in tenebris effulſit. Tu ergo benedictus es, ad cujus introitum nobis benedixit & benedicat Deus. Reſpice igitur gentem miſeriis & preſſuris inſignem: Veni & vide filiam Syon lugentem & captivam nec reſpirare nec conſolari, niſi in te ſolo, exſpectantem. Egredere, Dilecte, in agrum, tempus putationis jam venit. Apoſtolica igitur falce ſuccidendum eſt, quicquid vitioſum eſt, ne ſimul trahatur ſincerum. Veniens itaque viſita vineam noſtram a vulpeculis demolitam, & a ſingulari fero depaſtam. Nam, ut ad rem ipſam perveniatur, annos jam circiter XXX. ſicut oves balantes ſemper erravimus, fluenta verbi ſicientes raro potavimus, & jam quid ſit vox Paſtoris non novimus. Quo ergo reſtat eundem niſi poſt veſtigia gregum ſodalium? Quod ſi tales vigilias, paſtor, diſtricte non judicas, & inſidias Chriſti ovibus in Eccleſia lupo meditanti locus ſi conceditur, ipſi locus non erit. De cætero autem quid agendum ſit nobis de noſtro, ut dicitur, Epiſcopo, nomen quidem dignitatis tot annos habente, ſed officium minime, cujus vitam & introitum excelſum montium, humilia convallium jam reſpondent, ſanctitatis tuæ conſilium ac præceptum audire cupimus. Tu ergo pacis Catholicæ fundamentum inviolabilis petræ ſignum, fac, ut temeritas Romanorum conſilium cedat auctoritati.

Dei tædioſo viriliter reſiſtite, quia per Dei gratiam neque electioni neque conſecrationi ejus aſſenſum dedimus aut dabimus. Vobis autem in omnibus, quæ pro juſtitia agitis, noſtrum conſilium & auxilium nunquam deerit, præſtante Domino, qui vivit & regnat in ſecula ſeculorum Amen.

CCXLIV.

Paſchalis Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei Clero & Civibus Aretinis ſalutem & Apoſtolicam benedictionem. Officii noſtri auctoritate compellimur, ut Eccleſiarum omnium ſolicitudinem gerere debeamus; itaque pro venerabili fratre noſtro Epiſcopo veſtro præſentes literas ad vos decrevimus deſtinare. Audivimus, quoniam nec debita eum veneratione tractetis, nec debitam illi obedientiam perſolvatis. Quod profecto divinæ conſtitutioni penitus contradicit. Dominus ſiquidem Jeſus Chriſtus cum pretioſi ſui ſanguinis effuſione ſanctam redemiſſet Eccleſiam, paſtores in ea conſtituit, qui vice ſua populo ſuo ſalutaria miniſtrarent. Unde qui eis injurias irrogant, eorumque mandata contemſerint, ipſi Domino irrogare eumque contemnere cognoſcuntur, ſicut ab eo dicitur: Qui vos tangit, pupillam oculi mei tangit; & qui vos ſpernit, me ſpernit. Itaque univerſitati veſtræ præcipimus, ut usque ad proximam Domini nativitatem ad prædicti confratris noſtri Epiſcopi veſtri obedientiam redeatis, eumque ſicut Patrem ac magiſtrum & Dei vicarium affectione debita diligatis & debita reverentia veneremini. Alioquin nos ex tempore, quod divina diſpoſitione miniſterii noſtri eſt, vobis auferimus & ipſam ſpiritualem alimoniæ paſtionem, divina videlicet officia, doneo reſipueritis, interdicimus. Dignum eſt, ut qui Deum in miniſterio ſuo contemnitis, Dei quoque beneficio & vicarii ſui miniſterio careatis.

CCXLV.

Venerabili Epiſcopo O. Fuldenſis congregatio, ſiquid contritorum valet oratio. Quia timorem Dei & amorem juſtitiæ in vobis eſſe novimus, querelam noſtram auribus veſtris fiducialiter deponimus, poſtulantes, ut in hac re nobis ſubveniatis & de cætero cauſam noſtram apud Imperatorem ſuſcipiatis. Niſi reverentia veſtri nos retineret, de clerico veſtro paupertas noſtra querimoniam Imperatori facere deberet, qui nobis ſtatutam alimoniam de Svevia ſubtraxit & veſtitum tempore ſtatuto ſed & adhuc dare neglexit. Unde petimus, ut poteſtate tradita illum coërceatis & annonam victumque nobis dari faciatis, ut qui illum honoris veſtri cauſa tam diu patiebamur, veſtro patrocinio ab eo omnino non negligamur. In Domino valeat paternitas veſtra.

CCXLVI.

Singulari Domino ſuo G. Epiſcopo H. vere ſuus quicquid ſuus. Quoniam ut verum fatear, prout debeo, ſingulariter vos diligo, quid tantæ dilectioni dignum offeram non invenio, ſed quia me ipſo nihil carius poſſideo, me ipſum caritati veſtræ per omnia ſubjicio, utimini me, ut libet; nihil eſt certe, quod, vita comite, ſi opus ſit, pro vobis dubitem, ſubire. Aliter ſi facerem, meritis veſtris nequaquam pari obſequio reſponderem. Grato quidem animo veſtra, Domine, complector beneficia, plurimum tamen veſtra obſtringor benevolentia.

CCXLVII.

Reverentiſſimo Domino ſuo H. tam devotum quam debitum totius dilectionis & humilitatis obſequium. Sinceræ mentis ac fidei norma hoc exigit, ut quem quisque vere ac pie diligit, ſemper ei præſens adeſſe velit, vel ſi forte eum abeſſe contingit, ſui tamen usque meminerit, eique fideliter quem recolit, licet abſens, aliquo amoris officio, ſuos interim commendet affectus. Quod autem tanto tempore noſtræ præſentiæ literis meis rarius aliquando memini dilectionis veſtræ, quæſo, Domine, ne tanquam immemorem & ingratum ea putetis neglexiſſe, magisque certe nos id frequenter ac recte ſciatis attendiſſe, quam difficile, quam pene potius ſit impoſſibile tantæ reverentiæ, tantæ dilectioni tantæque veſtræ benignitati dignum aliquid perſcribere. Veſtra vero merita, veſtraque Domine, beneficia, ut æquum eſt, in animo meo gratioſe, ſemper commemorans, malui potius nihil ſcribendo quodammodo videri ingratus, quam minus dicendo minus eſſe officioſus.

CCXLVIII.

Socio & amico ſuo fraterno, Colonienſi Archi-Magiſtro H. ſuus & vere ſuus, totusque ſuus ſalutem & veræ fidei ſinceritatem. Clariſſime jucunditas tuæ dilectionis & amicitiæ jam pridem noſtrum vehementer accendit animum; Jam tua præſentia ſemperque tuo, ſi fieri poſſet, perfrui vellem colloquio. Talis tantique amici diuturna viſio ac frequens collocutio, magna & grata nobis foret recreatio. Sed tam ex tuis quam ex meis occupationibus, rarius nos invicem conſpicimus, illo tamen profecto mentis oculo longe digniori & excellentiori indeſinenter fere te video, & quadam imaginaria animi intueor præſentia. Toto itaque mentis affectu tuæ dilectionis complexus memoriam, ut pari cura parique gratia noſtri velis meminiſſe, caritatem tuam obteſtamur, & ammonemus & ſignum veræ pacis & amicitiæ annulum tibi transmittimus, cujus, quæſo, non æſtimes pretium, ſed mittentis penſes affectum.

CCXLIX.

Dilecto Domino & amico ſui H. G. ſuus præſens, ſuus abſens ſalutem ac debitæ caritatis affectionem. Nequaquam profecto noſter in vobis me fefellit animus, nequaquam, quantum intelligo, inter alios quamplures reputandum vos æſtimo, qui plerumque quos præſentes quadam levitate ſe ſimulant diligere, abſentes ſolent facile negligere. Quod ab initio agnitionis veſtræ mihi ſolebam cum quadam animi ſecuritate de vobis ſemper promittere, jam antea ſæpius expertus, certiſſima fidei veſtræ experior ambitione, quæ certe per abſentiam noſtræ ſtræ præſentiæ præſentiam noſtram non amittens, memoria fideli ac familiari litterarum ſuarum nos inſtituit ammonitione. Quarum dulci allocutione ac frequenti relectione exhilaratus: quanquam commode quidem & recte vos ſciam nobis conſulere: non tamen tam noſtræ commoditatis, quam cura veſtræ moveor dilectionis. Jure itaque jam a principio tota mentis affectione fidei veſtræque caritatis devotus obſequio familiaritatis veſtræ gratiam ſemper affectabam, eo impenſius eam toto complectens deſiderio, quanto & morum veſtrorum probitatem & veſtræ nobilitatis novimus honeſtatem. Honeſta ergo & benigna exoptatæ veſtræ familiaritatis uſus benevolentia, quæ benigne ſæpe mihi in præſenti vos memini contuliſſe, conſuetis ac publicis liberalitatis veſtræ deputo beneficiis. Quod tamen ſolita benignitate noſtri quandoque memor eſtis, tanto majori digna reor acceptione, quo magis id veſtro congruit officio & mutuo amicum potius mente, quam oculis aſpicere; ac nos omni quidem devotione fideique ſinceritate vobis ſemper obnoxii, meritis veſtris ac beneficiis obligati, nulla locorum remotione, nulla rerum noſtrarum occupatione, ab aſſueta & gratiſſima veſtri recordatione impediemur animo, eo voto & gratia ſemper pro vobis ſollicitus, ut quemlibet ſtatum rerum veſtrarum reputemus noſtrum. De veſtra ergo niſi fallor amicitia quæcunque conditio tandem divino nutu nos expectabit, ſi proſpera profecto vobiſcum nobis erit jucundior, ſi adverſa veſtro ut ſpero lenior auxilio. Nec parvum in vobis, nec dubium, ſi opus fuerit, in veſtra probitate nobis propoſuimus refugium. Rogamus autem vos & obſecramus plurimum, ut aliquando mentionem apud Dominum meum Epiſcopum facientes, quemadmodum ſcitis & poteſtis, nos ei commendetis, quoniam ejus ſalva gratia nobis ac propitia de reliquo timendum non æſtimo: Vale.

Sereniſſimis Dominis ſanctæ Babenbergenſis Eccleſiæ reverentiſſimis Fratribus G. V. Niumburgenſis Epiſcopatus cum orationis inſtantia ſervile obſequium ac ſemetipſum ad omnia deditiſſimum. Fraternum eſt, fratrem adjuvare, omnesque bonos condecet malignantium violentiam propulſare. Notificamus fraternitati veſtræ, quod H. cum ſuis ſatellitibus meam Præpoſituram deprædatus eſt: Quem quoniam canonicis indutiis ad ſatisfactionem vocavimus, & venire non vult, intime vos rogamus & pro eodem fraternæ viciſſitudinis obſequio monemus, quatinus ille quicunque inter vos hanc habet poteſtatem, in ſua prælatione notificet, quoniam & a limitibus Eccleſiæ & a fidelium conſortio canonice eſt excommunicatus: Vos etiam excommunicatum habetote, & ut rebellem & blasphemum compellite ad ſatisfactionem.

Et quia poſt te clariſſimum Dominum noſtrum ſemper adhærebit anima noſtra, proſpiciat imperialis clementia ſaluti noſtræ, quæ pendet in manu tua, ut villam N. pro qua ſæpius ad te clamavimus, nunc demum jubeas noſtræ indigentiæ reſtitui & erimus in perpetuum ecce coram Deo devotiſſimi oratores tui. Nos autem & in modico & in magno, quia per omnia & in omnibus in te ſperamus, juvet anima tua Clariſſime Dominorum, ut non pereamus.

CCLII.

Trevirorum Dei gratia Proviſor indignus O. Sanctæ Babenbergenſis Eccleſiæ Pontifici ſinceræ caritatis obſequium. Beatitudini veſtræ magna hilaritate congratulor, quoniam non absque magno ſanctitatis veſtræ merito credo provenire, memoriam veſtri Dominum Papam tam dulciter retinere. Cum Domini mei regis legatione functus eſſem de obedientia veſtræ caritatis mecum contulit, vobisque ſalutem & Apoſtolicam benedictionem per me mandavit. Inito autem diſpenſationis conſilio nobis injunxit, ut Eiſtetenſem atque Spirenſem Electum conſecraremus, vosque in adjutorem & cooperatorem nobis vocaremus. Quia de Spirenſi quædam ſibi ſignificata fuerant, præcepit, ut eum ſancto ſtudio examinaremus, & ſi ordine, fratrumque, qui adeſſent, teſtimonio poſſet ſe de objectis expurgare, ad Dei honorem & Eccleſiæ neceſſariam providentiam ipſum ordinaremus. Ex parte igitur Domini Papæ vos moneo, & ratione ejus, quæ inter nos eſt, fraternitatis convenio, ut hoc, quia cauſa Dei eſt, ne per vos proteletur, ſtudeatis, & a die reſurrectionis Dominicæ infra quindecim dies ad nos Spiram veniatis.

CCLIII.

Venerabili ſanctæ Babenbergenſis Eccleſiæ Epiſcopo Clerus Spirenſis ſummæ devotionis obſequium cum inſtantia orationum. Veſtram, Domine, precibus obnixis implorare majeſtatem neceſſitas graviſſima noſtræ nos compellit Eccleſiæ, perſuadet veſtræ propenſum in cunctos ſtudium benevolentiæ, hortatur debita laboris impenſi, præſertim inter Epiſcopos, viciſſitudo. Cum conſecrationes Epiſcoporum differri neceſſitas non toleret Eccleſiarum, & ultra menſes tres protelari ſancta Patrum inſtituta prohibeant, quid pro tam diu protracta noſtri Pontificis ordinatione detrimenti incurrerimus, magis rerum evidentia demonſtrari poteſt, quam ut verbis explicari debeat. Ipſe autem communi aſſenſu tam Cleri quam populi libere electus, a metropolitano ſuo quoad vixit, promotionem debitam reverenter expetiit, nec congruam differendæ rei tam debitæ cauſam ſaltem invenit. Precamur ergo, Domine, nos Spirenſis Clerus & Populus, ut quod Dominus Apoſtolicus conſenſit & voluit, quod Regi & Epiſcopis placuit, quod Treverenſis Archiepiſcopus expoſcit, vos cauſa Dei, cauſa precum noſtrarum & obſequii facere non differatis.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imp. Auguſtus Babenbergenſi Epiſcopo ſuo fideli Chariſſimo, gratiam & omne bonum. Cum Dei providentia & magnæ pietatis ejus conſilio de noſtro regno utique pacatiſſimo congauderemus, Advenerunt nobis nuntii ex parte G. Ducis & B. Comitis, aliorumque fidelium noſtrorum Marchiæ Flandrenſis, intimantes eos diutius non poſſe ſuſtinere moleſtias R. Comitis, qui regnum noſtrum invaſit, & ad ignominiam omnium, qui in eo ſunt, ſibi noſtrum Cameracenſem Epiſcopatum uſurpavit. Nunc, quemadmodum res hortabatur, noſtros principes convocatos conſuluimus, & ab eis ſapienter re notata, conſtituimus eorum conſilio nos facturos expeditionem in Flandriam ſupra tam præſumtuoſum hoſtem, qui noſter miles debet eſſe, ne diutius de indiminutione & dedecore regni noſtri impune ſuperbiat. Hoc ſiquidem tam manifeſtum & tam commune regni noſtri dedecus tibi fratri ſi tuum honorem diligis, penſare debes cordetenus. Ut igitur fideliter hoc facias & prudenter, rogamus te ſub ſpe remunerationis tibi gratiſſimæ & per fidelitatem, quam nobis & regno debes monemus, ut omni occaſione deſtructa, ſicut honor eſt regni atque tuus ad expeditionem venias. Sciens, quod in proximo feſto Sanctorum omnium Thungris juxta Leodium conveniemus, parati ſuper Flandriam equitare. Nec mireris, mutatum eſſe adventum noſtrum Ratisbonam, ſicut intellexeras, quando nobiscum eras, quia hujus rei neceſſitas intervenit, & utiliter ad decus regni firmiter eſt laudata ab omnibus noſtris expeditio noſtra ſuper hoſtes in Flandriam.

CCLV.

Heinricus Dei gratia Roman. Imp. Auguſtus O. Babenbergenſium dilecto Epiſcopo gratiam habunde & omne bonum. Roma noſtri nuntii rediere & Dei gratia ex parte maxima nobis læta & proſpera retulere. Mandant etiam nobis noſtri fideles, quod tempus hiemis acceptabile, ut Romanæ ſedi & Romano Papæ conſulamus. Quapropter neceſſario noſtros principes convocamus, ut, ſicuti juſtum eſt, eorum conſilium & auxilium habeamus. Ad quod plurimum indigemus tuæ fidei præſentia, & tui conſilii prudentia, quoniam & te cordetenus diligimus, & tibi de omni honore noſtro prout nobismetipſis indubitanter confidimus. Confidenter igitur, & intime tuam rogamus dilectionem, ut die Veneris poſt proximum feſtum Sanctæ Mariæ venias ad nos Spiram & ibi ſuper his tui & aliorum noſtrorum principum conſilio ad Dei honorem & regni & Chriſtianæ pacis ſtatum tractabimus. Et hilariter facias hoc, ſciens, quod te cito dimittemus, & modo libenter tibi parceremus, niſi tam alti negotii nos urgeret inſtantia. Præterea mandamus tibi, ut mittas pro Comite N. quem tibi commiſimus & ibi eum nobis repræſentes.

Heinricus Dei gratia Romanorum Imperator Auguſtus Al. Reginæ Anglorum ſalutem & omne bonum. Sicut nonnullorum relatione didicimus, multas grates bonitati tuæ, multa debemus argumenta amicitiæ, eo quod in ore & corde tuo pretioſius ſit honor & dilectio noſtra, & quia tam apud Dominum tuum, quam apud omnes tibi auſcultantes in bonum de nobis ſæpe publice & privatim es locuta. Cujus rei quandoque, Deo volente & vitam tribuente, non immemores erimus, & benevolentiæ tuæ prout honor noſter exigit, condigne per omnia reſpondebimus. Siquid ergo eſt in regno aut in facultatibus noſtris, quod dignum te ſit affectare, nullatenus id credas nos velle aut poſſe tibi denegare. Et nunc igitur in ea, qua ſemper erga nos fuiſti, benevolentia attentius perſevera, ut in his omnibus, quæ Domino tuo mandamus, ſtudium tuum experimento cognoſcamus. Sentiat Comes tuus H. non ſolum nos, ſed etiam te & Dominum tuum offendiſſe, qui nuntios noſtros impedire auſus eſt, quos miſimus vobis utrisque.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Rex Conſulibus & Senatui, populo Romano, majoribus & minoribus gratiam ſuam cum bona voluntate. Divina diſponente gratia, poſtquam regnum patrum noſtrorum intravimus, urbem caput & ſedem noſtri imperii pio affectu viſere optavimus, & eam more magnorum prædeceſſorum exaltare, honorare & ditare, ut Dominus fideles, ut pater filios, ut Civis concives decrevimus. Hujus autem propoſitum deſiderii non voluntas, verum diverſa, diuque diſturbata retardavere regni negotia. Quibus tandem Dei nobis favente clementia ſedatis, compoſitis, ſubjectis, expediti in Italiam venimus, illamque præ ceteris terris diſcordem & diviſam pro tempore ad juſtitiam & concordiam coëgimus. Ad vos ergo properantes & jam diu deſideratum incœptum ad effectum perducere conantes, ut legati noſtri juſſu veſtro laudaverunt, nosque invitati ſumus Eccleſiæ & ab Eccleſia vobis & a vobis pro facienda & recipienda juſtitia pacifice venimus. longitudinem cum victoriæ corona. Quantum Clementiæ veſtræ imperium proſperari deſidero, a fidelibus veſtris & ab effectu mei ſervitii, ſi placet, cognoſcere poteritis; Notum igitur vobis facio, quod audivi, ſynodum videlicet Romæ fieri, in qua aſſeritur, Dominum Papam vel deponi & alterum debere eligi, qui omne conſilium pacis, quod cum Domino vel firmaſtis, diſſolvat, pro eo quod vel Dominus non audet, vos propter factas inter vos & ipſum ſecuritates excommunicare. Ad hoc quoque Mediolanenſes quendam Archiepiſcopum elegerunt & a quibusdam Parrochianis ſuis eum conſecrari fecerunt; quod ego videns contra imperii veſtri honorem fieri omnino interdixi, & licet ab ipſis multum rogatus, hujusmodi conſecrationi intereſſe, nec aſſenſum præbere volui, imo dedi operam erigendi magnum parietem populi contra populum ſub occaſione cujusdam alterius Archiepiſcopi, quem pars illorum intendit deponere, viri ſcilicet perfectiſſime literati & ingenio aſtutiſſimi & eloquentiſſimi, curiæ veſtræ valde neceſſarii, cujus partem propter honorem veſtrum in tantum auxi, quod medietas populi contra medietatem populi contendit; Nunc itaque videat pietas veſtra ſi ad hoc velitis me laborare, ut & populus ille maneat diviſus & antiquus ille Archiepiſcopus a veſtra majeſtate adjuvetur, ſcribendo præcipite. Quoniam quicquid mandaveritis & de his & de aliis fideliter implere ſtudebo; igitur, ut inimicorum veſtrorum conſilia exinaniri faciatis, conſulere præſumo, ut in Italiam venire feſtinetis; neque multum magno exercitu indigetis. Veſtra eſt enim adhuc Longobardia dum terror, quem ei incuſſiſtis, in corde ejus vivit, & facilius poteſtis cum pugillo aquæ ſcintillulam ignis extinguere, quam flammarum globum cum aquarum abundantia. Venite itaque modo confidenter, quoniam adjuvante Deo conſilium, quod Romæ & Mediolani contra vos jactatur, ante quam fortiores aſſumat vires, noſtro & aliorum fidelium veſtrorum conſilio facillime deſtruetur.

CCLIX.

Heinrico Domino ſuo Imperatori Rom. Auguſto B. Farſenſis Abbas, puriſſimæ fidelitatis obſequium. Noſtræ Eccleſiæ fidelitatem & olim patrem veſtrum & nunc vos expertum per omnia non ambigimus. Etenim integritatem Culminis imperii veſtri uti primam vitam noſtra Eccleſia diligit; Verumtamen, quod differtur tranquillitas, in laborando noſtra non ceſſat anxietas. Placuit veſtræ Excellentiæ nos conſulere ſuper negotiis partium iſtarum veſtri imperii, quorum nonnulla jam per veſtros legatos vobis intimavimus & ſemper ſoliciti & vigilantes juxta noſtram ſcientiam & intellectum intimare, fideliſſime curamus. Denique Apoſtolici intentio, ut certius nobis videtur, ad hoc viget, & molitur, ut irrecuperabile vobis detrimentum operari valeat, & tum demum irrevocabilem contra vos proferet ſententiam. Interim callide agit, clandeſtinis machinationibus, quatenus incautos vos & minus ſollicitos reddat. Nam verba, quæ vobis literis ſuis blanda & placatiſſima mandavit, quamvis nobis ignota ſunt, fraude tamen plena pro certo exiſtimamus, & ut adventus veſter in Italiam differatur, eum ad vos transmiſiſſe arbitramur, licet fortaſſe eisdem apicibus adventum veſtrum ſe deſiderare oſtendat. Enimvero cum ad ſynodum ob veſtri defectionem honoris ire trepidarem fideliſſimos ac prudentiſſimos miſſos dirigere curavi, ut eorum certa relatione audita & viſa vobis intimare valerem. Itaque tum Apoſtolicus cum ab Epiſcopis & a Clericis nonnullis compelleretur, ut vos nominatim excommunicationi ſubmitteret, renuit, hæc, ut nobis videtur, cauſa, quam prædiximus, & ſic tandem intulit ſententiam dicens: Ego non prædico nec damno vel excommunico quemquam, niſi quæ pater meus Urbanus & Gregorius inſtituerunt. Veruntamen privilegium, quod compulſus ſum imperatori firmare, fateor, me invitum egiſſe, & culpabilem ſuper hoc recognoſco. Quapropter ab eodem Apoſtolico & Epiſcopis conſtitutum eſt, ut deinceps pro nihilo habeatur, & in nullo penitus obſervetur. Præterea excellentiæ veſtræ ſuggerimus, ut adventum veſtrum quantocius efficere ſtudeatis, ne forte adverſantium fraus contra veſtram coronam diu inveterata roboretur. Siquid in illis partibus, ubi moramini, ſecus vel in Longobardia ab aliquibus agitur, quam congruum videtur, pro tempore ſedare curatote, ne veſtro adventui fiat impedimentum. Nomina autem præcipuorum euntium ad Conſtantinopolitanum Regem præter aliorum plurimorum, quæ ignoramus, hæc ſunt: Gregorius de Romano & frater ejus O. & Pater de Rammio Pauli & O. Johannes de Luccio. Super hoc autem, quod hinc recedentes veſtram benevolentiam erga noſtram Eccleſiam, ceu ſperavimus, adimplere minime potuiſtis, non vobis imputamus, quia in maximo labore vos tunc fuiſſe conſpeximus nec ob hoc in aliquo claudicamus, quoniam in futurum Deo proſperante omnia a vobis adipiſci, & recuperare confidimus. Ad ultimum iterum hortamur, ut nullo modo venire tardetis.

CCLX.

O. Dei gratia Babenbergenſi Epiſcopo ſuo dilecto A. Cancellarius indiſſolubilem dilectionem & æternam jucunditatem. Te & tuum honorem profecto ſcias cordetenus diligo, & ubicunque potero, ut ad tuam utilitatem tua voluntas impleatur, libenter laborabo. Rogo ergo te ex dilectionis debito ut hilariter perficias, quod Rex noſter Dominus te rogat, in ſuis literis pro tua utilitate & meo conſilio. Venias Wormatiam ſciens & credens, quod ibi rem tuam cum Domino noſtro rege ad tuum honorem & Eccleſiæ tuæ commodum componam fideliter, quantum potero. Mando autem tibi rogando diligenter & conſulendo, ut voluntatem Domini mei facias de beneficio G. dando, ſicut te rogat in ſuis literis.

Epiſtola Heinrici quarti Imperatoris ad Parmenſes.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imp. Auguſtus. Parmenſis Eccleſiæ Capitaneis, clero & populo gratiam ſuam & omne bonum. Notum eſſe volumus dilectioni & diſcretioni veſtræ, ea quæ inter nos & Dominum P. Papam erant, quomodo incœpta acta ſint, ſcilicet de conventione inter me & ipſum de traditione in nos & noſtros Romanorum, ut audita intelligat & intellecta examinet, examinata dijudicet. Cum in eo eſſem totus, ut me ad Eccleſiæ utilitatem & ipſius votum, ſi juſtum eſſet, componerem, cœpit dilatationem & exaltationem regni ſuper omnes anteceſſores meos promittere: ſtudebat ſubdole tamen, quomodo regnum & Eccleſias a ſtatu ſuo diſcinderet, tractare. Quod ſic facere aggreſſus eſt. Regno noſtro a Carolo trecentis & eo amplius annis & ſub LXIII. Apoſtolicis Inveſtituras Epiſcopatuum eorumdem autoritate & privilegiorum firmitate tenenti absque omni audientia volebat auferre & per nuntios cum noſtros ab eo quæreretur, omnibus his ſublatis, quid de nobis fieret? in quo regnum noſtrum conſtaret? quoniam omnia fere anteceſſores noſtri Eccleſiis conceſſerunt, & tradiderunt. Subjunxit: Fratres Eccleſiæ decimis & oblationibus ſuis contenti ſint; Rex vero omnia prædia & regalia, quæ a Carolo & Ludovico, Ottone & Heinrico, aliisque ſuis prædeceſſoribus Eccleſiis collata ſunt, ſibi & ſuis ſucceſſoribus recipiat, & detineat. Ad hæc cum noſtri reſponderent: nos quidem nolle Eccleſiis violentiam inferre, nec iſta ſubtrahendo tot ſacrilegia incurrere; fiducialiter promiſit & ſui ſacramento promiſerunt, dominica Eſto mihi ſe omnia hæc cum juſticia & autoritate Eccleſiis auferre, nobisque & regno cum juſticia & autoritate ſub anathemate confirmare & corroborare velle: noſtris tunc idem firmantibus, ſi hæc, uti præmiſſum eſt, compleſſet, quod tamen nullo modo poſſe fieri ſciebant; me quoque inveſtituras Eccleſiarum, uti quærebat, refutaturum, ſicut in Charta conventionis plenius videre poteritis.. De traditione vero in nos & noſtros ſic ſe res habet: Vix portas civitatis ingreſſi ſumus, cum ex noſtris infra mœnia ſecure vagantibus, quidam vulnerati, alii interfecti ſunt, omnes vero ſpoliati aut capti ſunt, ego tamen quaſi pro levi cauſa non motus, bona & tranquilla mente usque ad Eccleſiæ beati Petri januas cum proceſſione perveni.

CCLXII.

Dominus Papa præcipiet Epiſcopis præſentibus in die Coronationis Regis, ut dimittant regalia Regi & Reginæ, quæ ad regnum pertinebant tempore Caroli, Ludovici, Ottonis, Heinrici & aliorum prædeceſſorum ejus & ſcripto firmabit ſub anathemate, autoritate & juſtitia nequis eorum præſentium & abſentium vel ſucceſſores eorum intromittant ſe ullo modo vel invadant eadem regalia & Civitates, Ducatus, Marchias, Comitatus, Monetas, theloneum, mercatum, advocatias, omnia jura Centurionum & villicorum curtes & villas, quæ regni erant, cum omnibus pertinentiis ſuis, militiam & caſtra; nec ipſe regem & regnum ſuper his inquietabit ulterius, & privilegium ſub anathemate confirmabit, nec poſteri inquietare præſumant, regem benigne & honorifice ſuſcipiet & more prædeceſſorum ipſius Catholicorum coronabit, & ad tenendum regnum cum his omnibus officii ſui auxilio adjuvabit. Si Dominus Papa hæc Regi non adimpleverit, ego Petrus Leonis juro, quod cum tota potentia mea tenebo me ad Dominum Regem, obſides autem, niſi effugerint, reddemus altero die poſt Coronationem Regis. Si per Papam remanſerit, ut non coronetur, ſimiliter reddemus. Die Dominico cum Rex ad proceſſionem venerit, obſides dabo Gracianum filium meum, & filium Wizonis filii mei vel filium ſororis meæ, ſi eum habere potero. Hæc ſunt ſacramenta. Ego Petrus Leonis juro vobis quia Dominus Papa proximo die Dominico adimplebit regi, quod in charta conventionis ſcriptum eſt. Hæc ſunt ſacramenta ex noſtra parte. Ego Comes Hermannus, Ego Comes Gothfridus, Ego Fridericus, Ego Volckmarus, Ego Adelbertus juro vobis, quoniam Dominus Rex proxima IIII. vel V. feria ita principes jurare faciet & obſides dabit, ſicut in Charta conventionis ſcriptum eſt, & ſic obſervabunt principes Domino Papæ, ſi Dominus Papa proximo die dominico ſic adimpleverit regi per omnia, ſicut in charta conventionis ſcriptum eſt. Cum ergo ſupradictæ poſtulationi inſiſterem, ſcilicet ut cum juſtitia & autoritate promiſſam mihi conventionem firmaret, univerſis ei in faciem reſiſtentibus & decreto ſuo plenam hæreſin inclamantibus ſcilicet Epiſcopis, Abbatibus tam ſuis, quam noſtris & omnibus Eccleſiæ filiis hoc, ſi ſalva pace Eccleſiæ dici poteſt, privilegium proferre voluit. Ubi, ut oſtenderemus, nullam Eccleſiarum Dei diſturbationem ex noſtro velle procedere, in cunctorum aſtantium oculis & auribus hoc decretum promulgavi.

Ego Heinricus Dei gratia Rom. Imp. Auguſtus affirmo Deo & ſancto Petro, omnibus Epiſcopis, Abbatibus & omnibus Eccleſiis omnia quæ Anteceſſores mei Reges vel Imperatores eis conceſſerunt, vel tradiderunt, & quæ illi pro ſpe æternæ retributionis obtulerunt Deo, ego peccator pro timore terribilis judicii ullo modo ſubtrahere recuſo. Hoc decreto a me lecto & ſubſcripto petii ab eo, ut ſicut in Charta Conventionis ejus ſcriptum eſt, mihi adimpleret. Hæc eſt charta conventionis ejus ad me.

CCLXIII.

Privilegium Paſcalis Papæ, quod dedit Henrico IV.

Paſcalis Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei dilecto filio Heinrico Regi ejusque ſucceſſoribus. Et divinæ legis inſtitutione ſancitum & ſacris canonibus interdictum eſt, ne ſacerdotes curis ſecularibus occupentur, neve ad Comitatum, niſi aut pro damnatis eruendis, aut pro aliis, qui injuriam injuriam patiuntur, accedant. Nunc & Apoſtolus Paulus: ſecularia, inquit, judicia ſi habueritis, contemtibiles, qui ſunt inter vos, illos conſtituite ad judicandum. In regni autem veſtri partibus, Epiſcopi vel Abbates adeo divitiis ſecularibus occupantur, ut comitatum aſſidue frequentare & militiam exercere cogantur. Quæ nimirum aut raro aut nunquam ſine rapinis, ſacrilegiis, incendiis, aut homicidiis exhibentur. Miniſtri altaris miniſtri curiæ facti ſunt; quoniam Civitates, ducatus, Marchias, monetas, curtes & cætera ad regni ſervitium pertinentia a Regibus acceperunt; Nunc & mos Eccleſiæ intolerabilis inolevit, ut Electi Epiſcopi nullo modo conſecrationem acciperent, niſi prius per manum regiam inveſtirentur. Qua ex cauſa & Symoniacæ hereſis pravitas & ambitio non nunquam prævaluit, tanta ut nulla electione præmiſſa, Epiſcopales Cathedræ invaderentur, aliquando & vivis Epiſcopis inveſtiti ſunt. His & aliis plurimis malis, quæ per inveſtituram plerumque contigerant, prædeceſſores noſtri Gregorius VII. & Urbanus Secundus felicis memoriæ Pontifices excitati collectis frequenter Epiſcopalibus conſiliis inveſtituras illas manus laicæ damnaverunt & ſi qui Clericorum per eam obtinuiſſent Eccleſias, deponendos, datores quoque communione privandos eſſe cenſuerunt, juxta illud Apoſtolicorum Canonum capitulum, quod ita ſe habet: Si quis Epiſcopus ſecularibus poteſtatibus uſus, per ipſos Eccleſiam habeat vel obtineat, deponatur, & ſegregetur, omnisque qui illi communicatur. Porro Eccleſias cum oblationibus & hæreditariis poſſeſſionibus, quæ ad regnum manifeſte non pertinebant, liberas manifeſte decernimus, ſicut in die Coronationis tuæ omnipotenti Domino in conſpectu totius Eccleſiæ promiſiſti. Oportet Epiſcopos curis ſecularibus expeditos, curam ſuorum agere populorum, nec Eccleſiis ſuis abeſſe diutius. Ipſi juxta Paulum Apoſtolum provigilant, tanquam rationem reddituri pro animabus eorum. Quorum veſtigia ſubſequentes & nos eorum ſententiam Epiſcopali concilio confirmamus. Tibi itaque, fili cariſſime, Henrice Rex, & nunc per officium noſtrum Dei gratia Romanorum Imperator & regno regalia illa dimittenda præcipimus, quæ ad regnum tempore Caroli, Ludovici, Heinrici & cæterorum prædeceſſorum tuorum manifeſte pertinebunt. Interdicimus enim & ſubdiſtrictione anathematis prohibemus, nequi Epiſcoporum ſeu Abbatum vel præſentium vel futurorum eadem regalia invadant, & Civitates, ducatus, Marchias, Comitatus, monetas, Theloneum, mercatum, advocatias regni, jura Centurionum & curtes quæ manifeſte regni erant, cum pertinentiis ſuis, militiam & Caſtra regni, nec ſe deinceps niſi per gratiam Regis de ipſis Regalibus intromittant. Sed nec poſteris noſtris liceat, qui poſt nos in Apoſtolica ſede ſucceſſerint, aut te aut regnum ſuper hoc inquietare negotio.

CCLXIV.

Epiſcopus autem vel Abbas a Rege inveſtitus, libere accipiat conſecrationem ab Epiſcopo, ad quem pertinuerit. Si quis vero a Clero & populo eligatur, niſi a Rege inveſtiatur, a nemine conſecretur, & Archi-Epiſcopi & Epiſcopi libertatem habeant, conſecrandi Epiſcopos a Rege inveſtitos. Super his Dominus Papa non inquietabit Regem Henricum neque ejus regnum & imperium. Iſtud eſt ſacramentum, per quod confirmata eſt inter Papam Paſcalem & Imperatorem ſuperius | præſcripta conventio: Dominus Papa Paſchalis non inquietabit Dominum Regem Henricum neque ejus Regnum de inveſtitura Epiſcopatuum & abbatiarum, neque de injuria ſibi illata & ſuis in perſona & bonis, neque aliquod malum reddet ſibi vel alicui perſonæ pro hac cauſa & penitus in perſonam Heinrici Regis nunquam anathema ponet; nec remanebit in Domino Papa, quin coronet eum, ſicut in ordine continetur, & regnum & imperium officii ſui auxilio eum tenere adjuvabit pro poſſe ſuo: & hæc omnia adimplebit Dominus Papa ſine fraude & malo ingenio. Iſta ſunt nomina Epiſcoporum & Cardinalium, qui ex præcepto Domini Apoſtolici Paſcalis ſacramento, quod ſuperius ſcriptum eſt, confirmaverunt amicitiam & privilegium Domino Imperatori Heinrico Petrus Portuenſis Epiſcopus, Centius Sabinienſis Epiſcopus, Rodebertus Cardinalis ſancti Euſebii, Bonifacius Cardinalis ſancti Marci, Anaſtaſius Cardinalis ſancti Clementis, Gregorius Cardinalis ſanctorum Apoſtolorum; Item Gregorius Cardinalis ſancti Chriſogoni Johannes Cardinalis ſanctæ Potentianæ, Ryſus Cardinalis ſanctæ Balbinæ, Diiuco Cardinalis ſancti Martini, Dietpaldus Cardinalis Johannis & Pauli, Johannes Diaconus ſanctæ Mariæ in ſchola Græca, Leo Diaconus ſancti Vitalis, Alto Diaconus ſanctorum Sergii & Bachi. Hac conventione completa & prædictorum Epiſcoporum & Cardinalium ſacramento confirmata & oſculo utrinque dato, Dominus Papa Paſchalis, inſequenti die ſcilicet II. Idus Aprilis, miſſam Dominicam Quaſimodogeniti celebravit, in qua poſt communionem ſuam & miniſtrorum altaris Domino Henrico imperatori corpus & ſanguinem Domini noſtri Jeſu Chriſti dedit in hæc verba: Hoc Dominicum Corpus, quod ſacroſancta tenet Eccleſia natum ex Maria virgine, elevatum in cruce pro redemtione generis humani, damus tibi fili cariſſime in remiſſionem peccatorum tuorum, & in conſervationem confirmandæ pacis & veræ amicitiæ inter me, & te, & regnum & ſacerdotium, ut Dominus noſter Jeſus Chriſtus, cujus hoc corpus & ſanguis eſt, ſit inter me & te & regnum & ſacerdotium conſervator & confirmator veræ concordiæ & pacis, & in

His feliciter & gaudio repletus ecclesiam ingressus, Romam usque pervenerunt, & in Arpenna pœna Rex a Domino Apostolico & toto Clero cum acclamatione, qui in ordine consecrarat, receptus & ab omnibus honorabilis & in ecclesia servitio celebratus est, qui confessionem Apostolorum Petri & Pauli cum tristitia petebat & invenit eos. Post hæc a Domino Pepa sit iterum exercitum Romanum duce, qui Romanos regnabat deducere & hiemem contra diu Apostolicum impedia in Beneventano continuare. Domnus Pontificatus & Reformatione Domini & Salvatoris Jesu Christi, in quo nec consuetudinem fuit nisi missarum solemnia ecclesiæ tam Clero, eorum quæ ad Sacerdotium, Dominus Apostolicus Domino Henrico privilegium propria manu dedit, in quo & regno suo, quod regnum est, consulit, & Romam traditionaui confirmavit.

Ex antiqua relatione comperimus Saxones a principio conversionis suæ ad Deum fideles atque obedientes beato Pontifici & apostolicæ sedi exstitisse. Quia igitur ad partes illas per Dei gratiam, ut audivimus, accessisti, & meis super ecclesiis aliisque quibusdam negotiis scandala emerserint, si quid ibi aut etiam alibi juste atque canonice operari potueris autoritatis nostræ favore, cooperante Domino, opereris. Ceterum prius hæc nullo præeunte judicio quasi ex præcepto nostro se per Archi-Episcopum eundem conquestus est ab Ecclesia & electione sua violenter expulsum. Epistola Friderici Colonienſis Archi-Episcopi ad Ottonem Bambergenſem Episcopum de Excommunicatione IIII. Henrici Imperatoris.

Domino Ottoni Bambergensis Ecclesiæ venerabili Episcopo F. Colonienſium. Dei gratia id quod est in orationibus & obsequio quicquid veræ fraternitatis non otiosa efficit dilectio. Quasdam sanctitati vestræ literas jam antea misimus, quas si forte accepistis, de tam longa responsionis vestræ dilatione non parum miramur. Ut enim longam earum sententiam breviter replicemus. Summa intentionis erat, ut prudentiam vestram ad defensionem vel saltem ad liberam deplorationem hujus, quem videtis gravissimi sanctæ Ecclesiæ casus excitaremus, quem ipsum tacito desiderio vos diu intrinsecus fovisse jam olim cognovimus. Iterum, venerande frater, iterum idem dicimus: si zelus Domus Dei, imo si veraciter amor Ecclesiæ, qui Domus Dei est, vos medullitus comedit, ne tantam ejus desolationem, tam crudelem hæreditatis Dei direptionem & profanationem nimia patientia ulterius dissimuletis. Ecce per misericordiam Dei magnum nobis ostium apertum est, ut veritas quæ diu siluit in manifestum prodeat, ut libertas nostra diu suppressa cervicem erigat, quia pro nobis & pro se ipsam jam in vocem, prorupit sancta Romana Ecclesia. Jungit se nobis Francia; Libero, sicut audistis, ore veritatem Saxonia profitetur. Et quem, chariſſime frater, non moveat, quia omnis Ecclesiastici vigoris autoritas aulicis & Palatinis in quæstum versa est. Synodales Episcoporum conventus annua consilia, omnes denique Ecclesiastici ordinis administrationes in regalem curiam translata sunt, ut illorum marsupiis inserviant, quæ spiritualiter examinari debuerant. Quid de Cathedris Episcopalibus dicemus, quibus regales villici præsident, quas disponunt, & de domo orationis speluncam plane latronum efficiunt; de animarum lucris nulla penitus quæstio est, dum tantum terrenis lucris regalis fisci os insaciabile repleatur. Hic nos, qui Ecclesiæ Dei per ipsius gratiam columnæ sumus, qui navem Petri per hujus seculi procellosos fluctus gubernare debemus; hic, inquam, nos advigilare, hic clavum moderaminis firmiter tenere convenit, ne nobis segniter torpentibus, dum sine nisu moderaminis fluctuat, his & similibus impiæ Tyrannidis scopulis allisa convellatur, & quod absit irruentium fluctuum gravitate mergatur: ne canes muti & latrare non valentes prophetæ verbis arguamur, neve illud in nos conveniat: Non ascendistis ex adverso, ut opponeretis murum pro domo Israelis. De nobis quidem, sancte & venerabilis frater, non ex nobis sed ex virtute, quam Deus in nobis operatur, hoc vobis fiducialiter in ipsius gratiam promittimus, quia ex hac, qua cœpimus veritatis libera professione nec tribulatio nec angustia nec mors nec vita separabit. In hoc vero sicut scitis positi sumus, in hoc novum hominem induimus, ut mortificationem Jesu in corpore nostro circumferamus, ut propter pter Ipſum in mortem tradamus, quatenus & vita Jeſu in hac noſtra mortali carne quandoque manifeſtetur. In hac ergo tam glorioſa ſpe non defecimus, & de veſtra conſtantia idem ſperamus, & intime optamus, & quia indigne paſſi ſitis, ut ad memoriam ſæpe reducatis, hortamur. Nolite nos longa exſpectatione ulterius ſuſpendere, ſed de veſtra ſententia ſcripto nos certificare. Salutat vos Dominus Chuono pronepos tuus Epiſcopus & Romanæ Eccleſiæ legatus, qui Imperatorem, nec non Monaſterienſem Epiſcopum & Hermannum de Winceburc cum omnibus Galliæ epiſcopis in Concilio Beluacenſi excommunicavit & hoc vobis notum fieri præcepit. Eandem ſententiam iterabit in prædictos & in omnes complices eorum in Concilio Remenſi, quod erit Lætare Jeruſalem, cum aliis tribus Epiſcopis noviter a Romana ſede directis. Vale.

CCLXXVIII.

Confratribus & Dominis ſuis omnibus ſacroſanctæ Bambergenſis Eccleſiæ Canonicis Dei gratia Wormatienſis Electus ſervitium ſuum & orationes. Memor veſtræ fraternitatis & dulciſſimæ educationis, fratres charisſimi, recordatione veſtri affectus partim ad lacrymas conpungor, partim veſtræ ſpe conſolationis & ſublevationis vehementer delector; dum ſub hoc onere, quod ſuſcepi, tam importabile meæ ætati, & in ſpem veſtram levamus, & ſubſidium ſpero impetrare. Quapropter, quo magis & vobis confido, eo magis admiror, quod tanto tempore me filium veſtrum vobis per omnia obnoxium inter tot curas, quæ me premunt, ut noſtis, conſolari diſtuliſtis; & quia inde cauſa mœroris & ſuſpicionis mihi ſuboritur, per fraternam compaſſionem & noſtrum obſequium vos deprecor, ut apud Deum veſtris orationibus me unietis, & apud Dominum noſtrum Epiſcopum fideli interventu cauſam meam agatis, ſcientes quam in veſtræ, imo noſtræ Eccleſiæ laude redundabit hoc, ſi veſtro auxilio noſtrum honorem Divina benignitas ſtabilire dignetur. Valete.

Dominis & fratribus ſuis Prælatis & univerſæ congregationi ſanctæ Bambergenſis Eccleſiæ fructiferæ arbori in agricultura Dei. Illa humillima congregatio Sancti Petri cum orationum inſtantia debitæ caritatis obſequia in Chriſto devotisſima. Quum filiæ ſumus ejusdem matris & æquum eſt, ſororem ſorori aperire januam ſolatii & mutuæ caritatis: Ideo, reverentiſſima ſoror, non parum quidem admiror, ſororem Electo meo, filio tuo, mihi non veniſſe optatas literas conſolationis tuæ, quem hac ſpe præcipue deſideravi & libera Electione ſuſcepi læta, quomodo eum uberrimo fonte veſtræ religionis & diſciplinæ irriguum & fœcundum audivi, quo modo quidem in ipſa re veriſſime comperi eum eſſe filium Bambergenſis Eccleſiæ, in literarum ſcientia, in rerum agendarum peritia, in honeſtate morum, in gratia diſcretionum; & niſi adjutus divina majeſtate veſtrisque inſtitutis fundatus a pueritia, non poſſet hac tempeſtate onus tanti ponderis ſupportare, in re tam ancipiti, in negotio tam difficili, in cauſa tam implicita, in Eccleſia tam perdita. Quapropter, ſoror chariſſima, ego LX. annis & amplius vidua & naufraga, nec animo deſtituta, tali viro & portu quietis arrepto, tuo arbitrio, digna veneratione genu flectens inſtanter pulſo oſtium veſtræ caritatis, ut mihi & Electo meo filio veſtro in commune conſulatis, quomodo ad ordines ſuos poſſit promoveri, rata mea electione, ſalvo ſuo honore & ſine Domini ſui offenſione, eique Dominum Epiſcopum patrem ſuum ad hanc rem in conſulendo benevolum, in auxiliando propitium veſtro interventu faciatis. Vale.

Domino ſuo Romano Imper. Auguſto Henrico ſuus omnimodo B. non Epiſcopale, ſed ſervile obſequium in omnibus. Quamobrem placuit veſtræ dignitati & gratiæ, chariſſime Domine, tantum mihi affectum benignitatis veſtræ exhibere, cui tantum honorem contuliſtis; vehementer admiror, quis mendacii ſtimulus aures veſtras permoverit, & mihi apud vos aliquam infidelitatis maculam concitaverit. Hoc autem ideo dico, quia valde conturbaverunt me literæ veſtræ, ſi tantum veſtræ fuerint, quod credere nequeo & quantum de veſtra gratia confido, ſi animo quum mitterentur, eas vidiſſetis, profecto non pateremini eas mihi transmitti, cum mea fidelitas erga vos & veſtros fideles tanto ſolidior & promptior eſſe comprobetur, quanto majus & dignius donum veſtræ majeſtatis mihi collatum eſſe evidenter cognoſcitur. Sed quia forſitan vos movet, quod hoc anno Moguntiam veni, attendat veſtra diſcretio quia potius in hoc cauſæ noſtræ conſului, ne, ſi vocatus inpulpito ab illo Moguntino venire renuerem, videretur civibus noſtris, ſicuti noſtis hoc genus hominum eſſe mutabile, quod non debilitate & quaſi ex difficultate rei non auderem procedere, cum me de banno argueret. De qua re & ſatis per controverſiam egi cum clericis ſuis in capitulo eorum, cum ipſum videre & alloqui non poſſem, ni prius de Banno illo exirem. Igitur re interfecta ab urbe exivi, in qua tamen multos beneficiis meis vobis conciliavi & ubicunque poſſum in villis, civitatibus & oppidis fautores vobis acquiro, ita ut nuper meo labore & conſilio conjuraverint omnes a Wormatia usque Argentinam vobis terram illam & omnes homines retinere atque tueri. Propter quod, vos rogo ne modo ita feſtinetis, ut ex aliqua feſtinantia veſtris commodis minus conſulatis, quia vita comite iſtam terram ad veſtrum honorem & inimicorum veſtrorum confuſionem, licet permultos labores, vobis retinebimus. Præterea gratiam veſtram deprecor, ut crebros nuntios &, ſi non poteſtis, equites, ſaltem pedites ad nos dirigatis, qui & veſtra nobis referre & viciſſim noſtra vobis valeant intimare.

Epiſtola Senonenſis Archiepiſcopi ad Lugdunenſem Archiepiſcopum.

Jure Primatus veſtri invitaſtis nos ad Concilium apud Anſam celebrandum, in quo tractare diſponiſtis de fide & inveſtituris Laicorum. Ad quod venire minime contemnimus, ſed terminos, quos poſuerunt patres noſtri, antiquos transgredi formidamus. Nunquam vero patrum reverenda ſanxit autoritas, nusquam hoc ſervare conſuevit antiquitas ut primæ ſedis Epiſcopus Epiſcopos extra patriam provinciam poſitos invitaret ad Concilium, ni hoc, aut Apoſtolica ſedes imperaret aut una de comprovincialibus Eccleſiis pro cauſis, quas intra provinciam terminare non poterat, Primæ ſedis audientiam appellaret. Quod non de corde noſtro prophetamus, ſed Apoſtolica autoritate muniti inrefragabilibus ſententiis approbamus. Unde ſcribit Papa Nycolaus in hæc verba Radulfo Aquitaniarum Primati ultra jus Primatis aliqua ſibi uſurpanti: Conqueſtus eſt Apoſtolatui noſtro frater noſter Sigebodus Archiepiſcopus Narbonenſis, quod clericos ſuos eo invito ad judicium venire compellas & de rebus ad Eccleſiam ſuam pertinentibus eo inconſulto quaſi jure Patriarchatus tui diſponas, cum hoc nec antiquitus, cum Patres ſanxere, reverentiam habeat, & auctoritas ſanctorum canonum penitus interdicat, niſi forte pro cauſis, quas apud ſe terminare non poſſunt ad te quaſi ad Patriarcham ſuum provocaverint; & ſi Epiſcopus ſuus deceſſerit, res Eccleſiæ ſuæ diſpenſare judicio tuo voluerint. Primates enim & Patriarchas nihil præ ceteris Epiſcopis habere privilegii, in quantum ſacri Canones concedunt & priſca conſuetudo illis antiquitus contulit, diffinimus, ita ut ſecundum Nycenas Regulas ſua privilegia ſerventur Eccleſiis. Huic ſententiæ concordat Clemens & Anacletus, qui poſt Apoſtolos ordinaverunt, in quibus civitatibus eſſent primæ ſedes, in quibus Metropolitanæ, ſtatuentes ita demum judicium Epiſcoporum ad Primates eſſe referendum, ſi ad eorum audientiam fuerit appellatum. His autoritatibus muniti nolumus Eccleſiis noſtris inauditam novitatem inducere & jura earum antiquitus inſtituta permutare vel infringere. Præterea quia in hoc Concilio de Inveſtituris Laicorum quas quidam inter hæreſes computant, tractare diſponitis, potius pudenda patris noſtri nudabitis, quæ publica non eſſent, in Geht nec in conpitis Aſcalonis, deridenda exponetis, quaſi prius dorſa ea velando benedictionem paternam vobis acquiratis. Quod enim propter populi vitandam ſtragem in ſe paterne admiſit ſummus Pontifex, coëgit neceſſitas, non approbavit voluntas. Quod enim conſtat, quia poſtquam evaſit periculum, ſic ipſe quibusdam noſtrum ſcripſit, quæ juſſerat, juſſit; quæ prohibuerat, prohibuit quamvis quibusdam nefandis urgente periculo quædam nefanda ſcripta permiſerit. Sic Petrus trinam negationem trina confeſſione purgavit & Apoſtolus manſit. Sic Marcellinus Papa deceptus a profanis coram fano thurificavit & tamen a fratribus minime judicatus poſt paucos dies Martyrio coronari promeruit. Sic Aaron in Eremo moram faciente Moyſe in montem propter inſupportabilem populi ſeditionem vitulum fuſilem fieri permiſit, quem populus inſipiens adoravit, cum tamen ſeductus eſſet a populo, ut Deum eſſe crederet & divinæ culturæ ei reverentiam exhiberet; Meruit tamen veniam tantus exeſſus & Domino jubente per manum Moyſis ad ſummum ſacerdotium eſt ſublimatus. Sic Moyſes ipſe, qui cum Domino loquebatur, ſicut ad amicum Amicus, Deum tamen offendens dum propter murmur populi dicentis, numquid poterit nobis ciere aquam de Petra hac, dubitare coactus eſt & aquam cum diſceptatione a Domino poſtulare. Sic doctor gentium, qui in Synagogis publice prædicabat; Circumciſio nihil eſt, & dixit, nihil vobis proderit Chriſtus, ſi circumcidamini; propter ſcandalum Judæorum circumcidi permiſit Timotheum, ut hac condeſcenſione Judæos lucrifaceret. Hæc infirma probabili neceſſitate vel provida diſpenſatione paſſi ſunt ſummi & ſancti viri Deo utente bene malis noſtris, ut per hoc doceret eos ſe ipſos agnoſcere, quatenus diſcernerent infirma ſua ſibi aſcribere & bona ſibi collata ad Dei gratiam referre. Nec ad hoc iſta ſcripta ſunt, ut in exemplum vivendi ducantur, ſed ut ex lapſu majorum diſcant vivere minores, ne ſimiles lapſus incurrant, & ſi forte ceciderunt ſumma celeritate reſurgant. Quod ſi Papa ad huc in Teutonicorum Regem debitam ſeveritatem non exercet, credimus, quia conſulte differt ſecundum conſilium quorundam Doctorum, qui conſulunt, quædam admittenda pericula, ut poſſint vitari majora. Unde dicit beatus Auguſtinus in tertio Libro contra Parmenianum Donatiſtam: Hoc ſanitas obſervat eccleſiæ, ut, cum quisque fratrum & Chriſtianorum in Eccleſiæ ſocietate conſtitutorum in aliquo tali peccato fuerit deprehenſus, ut anathemate dignus habeatur, fiat hoc ubi periculum ſchismatis nullum eſt, atque cum ea dilectione fiat, de qua Apoſtolus alibi præcipiens dicit; ut Inimicum eum non exiſtimetis, ſed corripite ut fratrem: Ubi ſatis oſtendit, cum metus iſte non ſubeſt, ſed omnino de frumentorum certa ſtabilitate certa ſecuritas manet, & quandocunque crimen ita notum eſt & omnibus execrabile apparet, ut & nullos prorſus & non tales habeat defenſores, per quos ſchisma poſſit contingere, non dormiat ſeveritas diſciplinæ, in qua tanto eſt efficacior emendatio pravitatis, quanto diligentior conſervatio caritatis. Tunc autem hoc ſine labe pacis & unitatis & ſine læſione frumentorum fieri poteſt cum congregationis Eccleſiæ multitudo ab eo crimine, quod anathematizatur, aliena eſt. Neque vero poteſt eſſe ſalubris a multis correptio, niſi cum ille corripitur, qui non habet ſociam multitudinem. Cum vero idem morbus plurimos occupaverit, nihil aliud bonis reſtat, quam dolor & gemitus, ut per illud ſignum, quod Ezechieli facile revelare, illud credibile ac illorum vi- dubitare necesse est. Si quis vero, fraus, si aliquo casteris difficilius existere nonnisse et re vera fi cum pertinacia deprehenderit, in- videre, divine diligentiæ favere mihi videbitur necesse est. Nam confilio ingressus de manus fuit & persuasio neque fraudes, quas ampla & laudata & plus pernitiosa videretur bonum, quam corrigere animos malos. Ad hoc nos videre debet quod ordinem ad illa Concilia venire, in quibus non pollumus ea perfectam, quæ nunc agimus, confirmare vel judicare, quæ ut nobis nec ullius hominis probatur fuisset ordinem. Unde nec cum- pedit immunes, fi fuis eorum quæ gesta fe- rint fententiam, prout ipfi meliorem eis credi- re præcipiunt : & tales fint quales erunt Pa- tres, qui ad illa Concilia convocabuntur, redi præcipiam : ea vero, quæ cum catholicæ fi- cium, minime facient. per Laicos facta alieni juris est pervasio & sacrilega præsumtio, quæ pro libertate & honestate Ecclesiæ, salvo pacis vinculo, si fieri potest, funditus abscidenda est. Ubi ergo sine schismate auferri potest auferatur, ubi sine schismate auferri non potest, cum discreta reclamatione differatur. Nihil enim tali persuasione demitur sacramentis Ecclesiastis, quo minus sancta sint, quia apud quoscunque sunt, ipsa sunt, sive apud eos, qui intus sunt, sive apud eos, qui foris sunt. Hæc scripsimus dilectioni vestræ, parati revelli sine contumacia si melius his, quæ scripsimus, nos docuerit vestra prudentia, quod munitum sit scriptura Canonica.

Reverentissimo N. Episcopo humilis & luctuosus Bambergensis Clerus obsequium & devotas in Christo orationes. Quia viscera Christianæ pietatis & fraternæ conpassionis in vobis habundare & Ecclesiastici Zeli vigere tenorem omnino speramus, horrendum facinus, quod in Deum & Christum ejus, Dominum nostrum videlicet Episcopum, contra omnia divina & humana jura præsumptum est, vestræ sanctitati lacrimosa suggestione deploramus. Autorem vero tam diri sceleris omnemque rei eventum plenaria a nobis narratione explicare otiosum esse credimus. Quo enim jam tam inauditæ præsumtionis fama non pervolavit? Unum hoc fideli attestatione confirmamus, eum nullius noxiæ reum in hanc calamitatem incidisse. Sed cum eum nullo genere persuasionis impellere potuissent, ut sacro-sanctum Dei nomen fidem videlicet juratam fallendo violaret, viderentque eum fretum innocentia ad sedem pro diluendis Apostolicam properare criminibus, quod ipsi ei commentitiis accusationibus imposuerant, tum demum in apertam execrandi furoris prorupere violentiam. Et certe cum pro fide ac veritate patiatur, quis dubitet hoc & sibi & nobis non magis calamitosum esse, quam glorioſum? Sperantes, ut prædiximus, animum vestrum in fraterno casu debito justoque dolore incendi, per ipsum vos Dominum nostrum Jesum Christum omni genere humillimæ supplicationis obsecramus, ut ad liberandum eum omne quod potestis consilium conferatis, neve inultam tam insignem nominis ordinisque vestri contumeliam ulla ratione patiamini. Providendum est enim, ne hæc profana pestis latius grassetur, simulque cavendum ne dissimulatio injuriæ singulorum, fiat subinde pernicies omnium. Ostendite in vobis, obsecramus, illum Dominici discipulatus caracterem, quo ipse præcepit, ut dilectionem habeatis ad invicem.

Illustri & Magnifico N. Duci humilis & luctuosus Bambergensis clerus devotas in Christo orationes. Quia Magnificentiam vestram non magis fortitudine insignem, quam clementia placabilem ex bonæ opinionis vestræ odore late diffunditur; contra indignissimum facinus, quod in Deum & Episcopum nostrum admissum est, ut pro indignitate rei Christianissimus animi vestri zelus insurgat, per ipsum vos Christum obsecramus. Neque enim simplici in eum genere sævitum est. Cum enim & Episcopo & ad sedem Apostolicam religioso habitu proficiscenti sacrilegas manus injecissent, deinde ingentes pecunias, quas ad tanti itineris impensas paraverat, diripuere: nec adhuc tanta præda contenti, nunc ab eo mille manseros, id est, totum Episcopi patrimonium, extorquere conantur. Quis, rogo, Barbarus crudelius in aliquem captivum sæviret? Certe periculosus iste temporum motus, hunc quia titulum non fert, pro correctione morum & meliorando statu Ecclesiarum ea, quæ usquequaque patimur, actitat. Itane vero per sacrilegia & rapinas boni illi mores nobis revocantur? Itane vero per vastationem & direptionem florentissimæ Ecclesiæ damna Ecclesiarum resarcienda sperabimus? Vestram ergo gloriosam eminentiam & pro liberatione pastoris nostri, qui innocentissimus tenetur, & pro incolumitate Ecclesiæ nostræ omni genere supplicationis imploramus, ut a patronis nostris, beato videlicet Petro Georio, dignam compensationem meritorum vestrorum ante illud terribile Christi tribunal consequi mereami.

Henrico tam Glorioso, quam Magnifico Dei gratia Romanorum Imp. Augusto Clerus Spirensis salutem & victoriam cum devotissima orationum instantia. Veremur, Domine, majestatem vestram tot & tantis regni totius impeditam negotiis nostris interpellare precibus & querimoniis. Sed quia specialem erga nos vestræ serenitatis experti sumus per omnia benevolentiam; hinc rerum vestrarum audita nos monet prosperitas, illinc rerum nostrarum nimia nos vobis scribere cogit necessitas. Audientes quippe vobis omnia pro velle vestro succedere, singulari erga vos servitutis & orationum instantia gratias divinæ majestati referimus de vestra & Dominæ nostræ Imperatricis incolumitate, de rerum vestrarum eventu prospero, de confirmanda seu jam confirmata regni & sacerdotii concordia, quo magis hæc nobis sunt necessaria, eo vobis impensius congratulamur. Vobis enim incolumi permanente certam habemus de nostra restitutione fiduciam. Vobis porrigente manum auxilii de rerum nostrarum reparatione spem tenemus firmissimam. Audistis, pater & Domine, quam injuste, quam periculose, quam inmisericorditer excommunicationis sententia statim post discessum in nos retorta fuerit. Audistis ore quam unanimi, qua mentis constantia, responsione quam rationabili, totus ei conventus obstiterit. Audistis, quæ & quanta & quam inopinata nos ex illo tempore circumvallent calamitatum genera, quam intoleranda foris & intus nos conturbent ipsius vitæ pericula. Epiſtola Trajectenſis Eccleſiæ ad Fridericum Colonienſem Archi-Epiſcopum de Tanchelmo & ſeductore.

Domino ſuo & venerabili patri F. ſanctæ Colonienſis Eccleſiæ Archi-Epiſcopo humilis Trajectenſis Eccleſia ex ſincero affectu devotiſſimas orationes. Cum debitæ ſubjectionis obſequio gratias, reverende Pater, ſanctitati veſtræ [agimus] quod paterna miſeratione vicem noſtram doluiſtis & Anti-Chriſti noſtri perturbatoris & Blaſphematoris Eccleſiæ Chriſti curſum & impetum retardaſtis, qui aperuit in cœlum os ſuum & contra Sacramenta Eccleſiæ hæreſin ſuſcitare auſus eſt jam olim ſanctorum patrum ſententiis jugulatam. Hic enim Spiritu ſuperbiæ, quæ radix eſt omnis hæreſeos & Apoſtaſiæ, intumeſcens nihil Papam, nihil Archi-Epiſcopos, nihil Epiſcopos, nihil Presbiteros aut Clericos aſſeruit, Columnasque Eccleſiæ Dei concutiens & fidei noſtræ Petram Chriſtum dividere auſus eſt; penes ſuos tamen Eccleſiam conſtituens & juxta Donatiſtarum hæreſin, qui in Africa tantum Eccleſiam eſſe contendebant, Eccleſiam, quam Chriſtus poſtulans a Patre accepit, gentes in hæreditatem ſuam & poſſeſſionem ſuam terminos Terræ, hic ad ſolos Tanchelmiſtas contrahere conatus eſt. Jam vero, ſancte Pater, afflictionis noſtræ querelas ſuſcipite & præcurſorem Anti-Chriſti eodem ſchemate eisdem veſtigiis, quibus ille ſerviturus eſt, præcurrentem advertite. In maritimis primum locis rudi populo & infirmioris fidei venenum perfidiæ ſuæ miſcuit & per Matronas mulierculas, quarum familiaritatibus & ſecreta collocutione & privato accubitu libentiſſime utebatur, errores ſuos paulatim ſpargere cœpit, deinde conjuges ipſos & maritos perfidiæ ſuæ laqueis irretivit. Hæc jam non in tenebris & cubiculis, ſed ſuper tecta prædicare incipiens, in patentibus campis late circumfuſæ multitudini ſermocinabatur & velut Rex concionaturus ad populum, ſtipatus ſatellitibus vexillum & gladium præferentibus, velut cum inſignibus Regalibus ſermonem facturus, procedere ſolebat. Audiebat illum populus ſeductus quaſi Angelum Dei, imo vero ipſe Angelus Sathanæ declamabat Eccleſias Dei lupanaria eſſe reputanda, nihil eſſe quod Sacerdotum officio in menſa Dominica conficeretur, pollutiones, non ſacramenta, nominanda; ex meritis & ſanctitate Miniſtrorum virtutem Sacramentis accedere. Cum ex verbis ſancti Auguſtini Dominus Chriſtus traditorem ſuum, quem Diabolum nominavit, qui ante traditionem Domini nec loculis Dominicis fidem potuit exhibere, cum cæteris Apoſtolis ad prædicandum regnum cœlorum miſerit, ut demonſtraret dona Dei pervenire ad eos, qui cum fide accipiunt, etſi talis ſit, per quem accipiunt, qualis Judas, fuit. Item Auguſtinus: Si in percipiendis ſacramentis dantis & accipientis meritum eſt conſiderandum, ſit dantis Dei & accipientis conſcientiæ meæ. Hæc enim duo non mihi incerta ſunt, bonitas illius & fides mea. Quid te interponis, de quo certum nihil ſcire poſſum? Sine me dicere: In Domino confido; nam ſi in te confido, unde confido, ſi nihil mali hac nocte feciſti? Contra has & hujusmodi ſententias Sacrilegus ille declamans dehortabatur populum a perceptione ſacramenti corporis & ſanguinis Domini, prohibens & decimas miniſtris Eccleſiæ exhiberi, quod facile volentibus perſvaſit quum ea tantum prædicabat, quæ vel novitate ſui vel magna voluntate Populis placitura ſciebat. Talibus nequitiæ ſucceſſibus miſero homini tanta ſceleris audacia acceſſit, ut & ſe Deum diceret, afferens, quod ſi Chriſtus ideo Deus eſt, quod Spiritum Sanctum habuiſſet, ſe non inferius nec diſſimilius Deum, quod plenitudinem Spiritus Sancti accepiſſet. In qua præſumtione adeo illuſit, ut quidam in eo divinitatem venerarentur in tantum, ut Balnei ſui aquam potandam ſtultiſſimo populo pro Benedictione divideret, velut ſacratius & efficacius ſacramentum profuturum ſaluti corporis & animæ. Quodam etiam tempore, dum novum genus quæſtus nova adinventione machinaretur, quandam imaginem ſanctæ Mariæ, ſtupet animus dicere, in multitudinem mediam juſſit afferri, & accedens manumque imaginis contingens, ſub typo illius ſanctam Mariam ſibi deſponſavit, Sacramentum & ſolemnia illa deſponſationis verba, ut vulgo fieri ſolet, univerſa Sacrilego ore proferens. En, inquit, Dilectiſſimi, virginem Mariam mihi deſponſavi, vos ſponſalia & ſumptus ad nuptias exhibete. Et ponens duos loculos unum a dextris, alterum a ſiniſtris imaginis. Huc, inquit, offerant viri, illuc offerant mulieres. Viderjm nunc utrius ſexus major circa me & ſponſam meam ferveat caritas. Et ecce certatim cum muneribus & oblationibus inſaniſſimus ruit populus. Mulieres inaures ſuas & monilia jaciebant & ſic non ſine immaniſſimo ſacrilegio infinitam contraxit pecuniam. Sed & faber ferrarius quidam nomine Manaſſes, quem cum ſcelerato homine & a vobis detentum audivimus, exemplo nequiſſimi magiſtri, fraternitatem quandam, quam Gilda vulgo appellant, inſtituerat, in qua XII. viros in figura XII. Apoſtolorum &

Præterea etiam quidam, fuerit-ne alterius nomine, à locorum diuersitate quorumdam nobis Magistris audierit, qui D. Dum Romam proficisceretur, maximus locus, quibus celebrari potest missa, fuerit, Comes Palatinus Regis Franciæ nunc usus Dominus Papa respondere curauit, quòd Comes à Basilium vsque Romam maximus & grossus locus fuerit. Item dicebat per eumdem, Comitem aliorum decretum Romanæ Ecclesiæ fuisse, vt si Comes Palatinus ipsum Romam non mandasset ad Ecclesiæ Romanæ Indicium, Dominum, illum Comitem, quia ipse Comes prohibuerit, prohibere posse. Hoc ad Iam-mandibulas Clericos, vel decanos, vt nunc nullis committam, & respondeat Iudicium coram Romanæ Ecclesiæ Curia. Quæsitum, de Pace, diuina maiestate Ecclesiam suam diutius perfectam non fundante, quia in manus nostras traditis, regnum nobis demum in Domino Iesu Christo, quem Deus Pater Regem regum constituit, quibus fuerit, dominicum velle? Sed non mirabitur experientia Regum, quòd nostræ subiectionis manus non fuerint subditis obligatæ Reges. Quoniam vale, Augustinus ait, Deus condemnet peccatum adoptionis condemnatione per hæreticos, adverbe diffamatores Ecclesiæ, ad vitam eternam Christi, non minus nostrum quod Deus constituit, vt ibi seruiremus Apostolicæ Sedi, quam Comes Palatinus, quod ipse, vestra vel ut Dominus Satan. Quid mirantur, quod Romanorum Pontificum Ecclesiæ obedire discordans dilapsatores Ecclesiæ? Ergo non mouentur Pontificum vel concordantes obedire Romanæ de imperio fuit? Perinde hoc est, Christi Regnum, quod Ecclesia plebis est vinet Margam sum Ecclesiam, unde pertinaciter sui fieri. Legimus Decalvi vitorum & gula prophetica. Epistola Adalberti Archiepiscopi Bremensis Ecclesiæ ad Wintherum Cenonicum.

Dilectis in Christo Wintherum de Reclem fratribus & Domino Cameracæ Magistro Bremensis Archiepiscopus Adalbertus Canonicus. Magnarum Dei gratia quod est dictum in Christo Domino quam sit cum omnibus, qui quidem non Dominum, dilexisse, honorem Ecclesiæ Dei non sit, quod Ecclesiæ Dei, tam quam propter eos & diligere, quam vtrum Ecclesiæ Dei Dominus impedit ecclesiæ ratio, nemum quid sentiat de causa religiosis, Ecclesiæ, dilectis fratribus, & Domino. Ecclesiæ in unum in Christo fratres, unum est dominus, una fides, vnum baptisma, vnus Deus omnium Caput Christi est, aquæ qui in diuersitate animarum Ecclesiæ Dei, quæ sunt in vnum sentiant pectus. Dominus nobis non Deus dilexisse, quod dilexerit, quod non dilexerit, quos dilexit, qui a Romana dilexerit Ecclesia, qui non dilexerit, vt per omnia sanctis, sanctis, non sentiens nobis ecclesiæ vt. quod tamen quæque tenus his persecutionibus, quam Ecclesiæ Dei, vt communis persecutionis, quod ego dicimus de illigio odium quæque communis & quæque vnitatem vt omnium. De quo omnium vnus corpus pectoribus. Et quæque lucem nostræ & ecclesiæ lucem & unum Christi autem, Ecclesiæ, & omnes quæque vnitatem loquuntur. Quæ Ecclesia vestræ fraternitatis pectoribus loquitur, quæ Ecclesia? Ideoque fidei clarissimum bonus secundus ecclesiæ, quæ Ecclesiæ Christi, quæ nostra magis fraternitatem vestram, vt vicinius habet fratres, vos, facile mutuo habetis, quæ Christi, Christum diligunt & fidelitatis totum fraternitatis & tantum vestræ vestra & mutuum est in hoc confines pectoribus, quod prius humani Dei per ecclesiasticum, quæ, quæ, quæ imprimo patrem per in obedientiam recedit, & in Christum regnat quæque Christi obedientiæ regnum certum. Ad hæc quoniam aliqua vestrum præsentes ecclesiæ dicendi fieri, quam concessio profectus, communicare exemplo monitoris & dubitationes, quod dolendum, pene in dilatis ergere & intolerabile præcipitem. Nam, vt ecclesiæ pene, Dominus Hincmarus frater velut, qui interdum Concilia Fridericia Domini Cardinalis C — — ni nobis provisis interventus intercedit, tantum excommunicationis nostris Cardinalis. Quæ ram inflictæ certum interim tam monitoris, quam diligentes, qui ea professione Latio

Ad summam nullus vestrum, Deo teste, sincerius & ardentius diligit & inquirit ea, quæ pacis sunt, quam ego & sequentes quod expedit eis erga Deum & hominem, veneror & amplector. Alioquin nec ego nec quilibet sane sapiens, contemto rege regum, obsequium & dilectionem cuiquam debemus impendere. Denique comonitorias has impræsentiarum caritati vestræ direximus literas, multum confidentes de vestræ correctionis melioratione: sin autem quod absit, cor & aures obduraveritis, ut nihil in vos durius dicam, cavebo ulterius per dissimulationem non bonam communicare peccatis alienis. Deus pacis & caritatis omnium corda vestrum in sui amoris affectum accendat.

Sanctæ Bambergensis Ecclesiæ Clero, Primoribus & subditis A. Dei repropiciante clementia, Moguntinæ Minister Ecclesiæ recta sapere & unum esse in Spiritu Christi & Ecclesiæ Catholicæ. Intuentes religiosi cleri hujus honestatem & prudentiam semper ubique prædicabilem, non facile persvaderi potuit, vos in aliquo exorbitare ab Ecclesiasticæ communionis tramite: Maxime cum habeatis Episcopum animarum vestrarum, & oportuerit vos obedire Deo magis, quam hominibus; quia melius est confidere in Domino, quam confidere in principibus, in filiis hominum, in quibus non est salus. Sed nunc, quod tamen dolentes audivimus, ubique a Laicis blasphematur, quomodo Romana & Catholica communione postposita, Episcopi quoque vestri exemplo obedientia postposita, aliqui vestrum excommunicatis personis indifferenter communicetis & promiscue, quæ Dei sunt, reddatis obsequio Cæsaris. Profecto meminisse debetis, quanta privilegia habeatis a Romana Ecclesia matre vestra & magistra, quæ si vias vestras gradiens, pro inobedientia perderet vester Episcopus, sero pœniteret, Episcopali jam officio suspensus. Sufficere autem vobis poterat, nobis quoque satis est & cuilibet discipulo, si sit sicut magister ejus; & evidens est exemplum omnibus, quod Clemens nemini loquitur, cui non loquitur Petrus. Proinde cum hæc Deo volente semper nobilis Ecclesia inter consortes filias elegantiori & speciali exellat prærogativa, nos, qui, licet indigni, metropolitana fungimur cura vice beati Petri, nec non potuimus hoc factum vestrum dissimulare & pro loco isto non esse soliciti. Tangit etenim nos mutuum debitum, quod majore obligatione inter nos & locum istum est, a die ordinationis meæ contractum. Si enim inter XV. Moguntini privilegii suffraganeos, oleo benedictionis tamquam filios Aaron in sacerdotium suscitandos cæterorum, primogenitis postpositis, solum vestrum in meam benedictionem prælegi Episcopum, quomodo illi non conpatiar, ut filius patri? quomodo denique non commonefaciam vos fratres, ut frater primogenitus? Quod si ille vias vestras vobis ostendit & de salute & cautela communionis observandæ ab excommunicatis, ut debuit, commonuit, atque, ut Sara filium suum Isaac cum Ismaele ludere non permisit, & altero in diversas culturas separato hæredem filium infra Domum, quæ est Ecclesia, reservavit, officium suum, inquam, fecit & vos secum pastor vester conservavit. Nos quoque in partem Apostolicæ solicitudinis vocati, fungentes tenore vicis nobis delegatæ, quia scimus anathema excommunicatæ communionis inter vos esse, interdicimus in omni loco hoc divini officii verbo Domini & judicio Spiritus Sancti usque ad satisfactionem vestri Episcopi.

CCXCI.

Reverentissimo Bambergensium Episcopo A. Moguntinæ sedis Minister indignus fraternæ dilectionis & orationis inviolabile pignus. Quod proxime Dominus Prænestinus Romanæ Ecclesiæ legatus nobis Apostolica autoritate denuntiaverat, nostra quoque diligentia, per omnia Romanæ autoritati subdita, sollertim impleverat, denuntians & vobis sub eadem autoritate & nostra, uti ad Concilium Coloniæ celebrandum vestra veniret præsentia. Sed quia hoc nescio qua prætermissum fuerit negligentia eadem quidem quæ & cæteris eisdem Concilii neglectoribus, vobis quoque injuncta esset sententia scilicet vel divini officii suspensio vel a communione corporis & sanguinis Dominici formidanda interdictio, nisi nostræ petitionis diligentia hoc prævenisset & eximia sanctitatis vestræ reverentia, ne id fieret, apud Ecclesiam promeruisset. Quibus simul concurrentibus causis & cooperantibus hoc tandem obtinuimus, ne quid severitatis vestra subiret dilectio, cujus hactenus in Ecclesia valuisset devotio. Dignum nimirum arbitratus sum, in omnibus honori vestro & reverentiæ parcendum, & pro posse, loco & tempori providere & consulere cum sanctitatis vestræ dilectio beato Magno se devotæ, caritatis nobis obligaverit munere. De cætero, sicut in mandatum accepimus, denuntiamus, ut ad Concilium V. Kalendarum Augusti Fridislariæ a prædicto legato celebrandum indubitanter veniatis, ne hujus & mandati neglector effectus, austerioris sententiæ decretum, mea petitione nil amplius prævalente, vobis indicatis. Præterea ducem F. & confratrem ejus & G. Palatinum & reliquos complices eorum in prædicto Concilio excommunicatos noveritis. Literas etiam nostras rogamus, ut fratribus nostris, Pragensi scilicet & Moraviensi Episcopis, dirigatis.

Epistola Burchardi Monasterienſis Episcopi ad Fridericum Colonienſem Archi Episcopum.

Friderico Archi-Episcopo Colonienſi Monasterienſis Ecclesiæ Dei gratia Episcopus desinere ab ira & derelinquere furorem. Cum omnium rerum constet vicissitudinem esse, nequaquam id satis mirari valemus, quod propriæ oblitus oblitus conditionis tam iniquam & exitialem legem in officium Epiſcopale ſanxiſtis. Nequaquam enim attendens, quod omnis excommunicatio quidam modus eſt vocationis, & in ligandis & ſolvendis hominibus animi motus minime ſit ſequendus in odio & gratia, ſed caritate ſeveritatis animadvertendum ſit in inobedientes, caritate vero manſuetudinis in obedientes & ſemper zelo correctionis, non ſtudio damnationis; Hoc, inquam, parvi pendens, contra omnem legem canonicam in noſtri damnationem animatus es. Nam odio noſtri quaſi fretus, ſententia, ut arbitraris, in nos data, omnimodis exitium noſtrum moliris, quam ſecundum illam viam Balaam, præter quam oportuit, in nos prolatam nequaquam diffiteri potes. Non enim mortificandæ ſunt animæ per excommunicationem, quæ non moriuntur per inobedientiam; ſicut non ſunt vivificandæ per abſolutionem, quæ non vivunt per obedientiam; quia propoſita condigna cauſa præcedere æquum eſt vocationes & inducias legitimas. Quod in nobis minime ſervatum eſt. Decreta enim ſanciunt, ſententiam, quæ judiciario ordine non procedit, irritam eſſe. Beatus Petrus ait Clementi: trado mihi a Domino traditam poteſtatem ligandi atque ſolvendi, ut de omnibus, de quibuscunque decreverit in terris, hoc decretum ſit & in cœlis. Ligabit enim, quod oportet ligari, & ſolvet, quod expedit ſolvi, tamquam qui ad liquidum Eccleſiæ nolit regulam. Auguſtinus quoque dicit: Cœpiſti fratrem tuum habere tanquam Publicanum; ligas illum in terra: ſed ut juſte liges, vide. Nam injuſta vincula juſtitia dirumpit. Gelaſius dicit: Cui illata eſt ſententia, deponat errorem & vacua eſt. Si injuſta eſt, tanto eam non curare debet, quanto apud Deum & Eccleſiam ejus neminem poteſt iniqua gravare ſententia. Ita ergo ex hac ſe non abſolvi deſideret, qua ſe nullatenus proſpicit obligatum. Quod autem hujus rei cauſam injuriam Domino Apoſtolico illatam prætendis, quam id injuſte facias, ſi diſſimulare non vis, tu ipſe noſti; cum ipſe nobis teſtis ſit, nos præcipue illic fuiſſe cauſam pacis & concordiæ. Sed, ut verum non diffiteamur, hoc in nobis perſequeris, quod cum infidelibus & perjuris & traditoribus Domini noſtri, & proditoribus regni jugum ducere renuimus, & quod cum his, qui omne jus & fas profanaverunt, peſſimo genere ſacrilegii manum in Chriſtum Domini non levavimus. Unde profecto Auguſtinus dicit: ſi quis Laicus juramentum, quod Domino & Regi ſuo jurat, violando profanat & poſtmodum perverſe ejus regnum & doloſe tractaverit & in mortem illius aliquo machinamento inſidiatur, quia ſacrilegium peragit, manum in Chriſtum Domini mittens, anathema ſit, niſi per dignam ſatisfactionem emendaverit. Sicut conſtitutum eſt a Synodo ſancta; ſeculum relinquat, arma deponat, in monaſterium eat, & pœniteat omnibus diebus vitæ ſuæ: veruntamen communionem in exitu vitæ cum Euchariſtia accipiat. Epiſcopus vero, Presbyter, Diaconus, ſi hoc crimen perpetraverit, degradetur. Itaque quod hanc rem dignam excommunicatione abhorruerimus, nos excommunicationi addicis. Sed quoniam juxta inſtituta Patrum nos injuſta ſententia gravari ſentimus, Romanam ſedem appellamus. Quod autem poſtpoſita fide, quam in nobis ſacramento confirmaveras, præſente Vincentino Epiſcopo, vineam Domini nobis commiſſam, quam pro poſſe meo colueram, rapinis, incendiis, homicidiis exterminaſti, caſtra quædam diruiſti, & in allodia, per quæ vetus monaſterium Sancti Pauli reſtauravi, manum miſiſti & N. tua aſtipulatione in idem facinus induxiſti, & villico noſtro Chriſtiano alium ſubſtituiſti; quosdam miniſteriales noſtros rebus ſuis privaſti & ruſticos afflixiſti, & decimationes & cæteras poſſeſſiones quibusdam in beneficium dediſti, & de ſpiritualibus noſtris mercimoniam inſtituiſti, & oves Domini aberrare feciſti, & quod pejus eſt, perjuro noſtro N. non paſcendas, ſed dilaniandas dediſti, & omnibus tranſeuntibus viam, vineam Domini vindemiandam expoſuiſti: De hoc, inquam, te ad Concilium in kalendas Octobris, utpote de hoc ſacrilegio nobis coram Eccleſia reſponſurum, invitamus. Illic quoque quoniam verecundam taciturnitatem noſtram multimodis ſollicitas, quod flentes dicimus, te ipſum tibi & ſanctæ Eccleſiæ aperiemus. Interim autem ſub auctoritate beati Petri interdicimus, ne nos & Eccleſiam noſtram aliqua Injuria graves.

De quo etiam tibi notum eſt, quod, cum per noſtras olim manus pallium accepiſſet, prædicto Domino noſtro & ejus Catholicis ſucceſſoribus, quorum primus ego ſum, fidelitatem juraverit. In hoc autem tanto facinore nullum de Romano Clero Imperator Deo gratias ſocium habuit. Calixtus Episcopus servus servorum Dei dilecto in Christo filio N. Schaffhusensi Abbati ejusque successoribus regulariter substituendis in perpetuum. Commissi nobis officii nos hortatur auctoritas pro Ecclesiarum statu satagere & quæ recte statuta sunt stabilire; primum fili Karissime N. Abba tuis per Karissimum fratrem N. Trevirensem Archiepiscopum petitionibus annuendum esse censuimus, ut venerabile Salvatoris monasterium, cui Deo auctore præsides, quod videlicet ab N. quondam Comite apud villam N. sub honore omnium sanctorum ædificatum & beato Petro in jus perpetuum oblatum est, ad exemplar prædecessorum nostrorum sanctæ memoriæ Gregorii VII. & Urbani secundi Pontificum Romanorum Apostolicæ sedis privilegio muniremus, per præsentis igitur privilegii paginam Apostolica auctoritate statuimus, ut quæcunque possessiones, quæcunque bona eidem monasterio vel a prædicto N. sive N. Comitibus vel aliis fidelibus de suo jure oblata sunt, aut in futurum Domino largiente offerri vel quibuslibet justis modis acquiri contigerit, firma tibi tuisque successoribus & illibata permaneant. Nulli ergo omnino hominum liceat præfatum cœnobium temere perturbare, vel ejus possessiones seu res ceteras aufferre, ablatas retinere, minuere, vel temerariis vexationibus fatigare; sed omnia integra conserventur, eorum, pro quorum sustentatione ac gubernatione concessa sunt, usibus omnimodis profutura. Obeunte te nunc ejusdem loci Abbate, vel tuorum quolibet successorum, nullus ibi qualibet surreptionis astutia vel violentia præponatur, nisi quem fratres communi consensu vel fratrum pars consilii sanioris secundum beati Benedicti regulam elegerint. Extremi olei confectio, consecrationes altarium seu basilicarum, ordinationes clericorum & cætera ad Episcopale officium pertinentia ab Episcopo Constantiensi, in cujus estis diœcesi, accipietis, si tamen Catholicus est & gratiam & communionem Apostolicæ sedis habuerit, & si ea gratis ac sine pravitate voluerit exhibere; alioquin liceat vobis catholicum, quem malueritis, adire antistitem & ab eo consecrationum sacramenta suscipere. Sepulturam quoque ipsius monasterii liberam omnino esse decernimus, ut eorum, qui illic sepeliri deliberaverint, devotioni & extremæ voluntati, nisi forte excommunicati sint, nullus obsistat. Sane cellas beatæ Agnetis & beatæ Mariæ occasione qualibet a monasterii vestri proprietate per te vel successores tuos vel quemlibet alium subtrahi vel alienari & earum bona temere aut violenter aufferri vel imminui penitus prohibemus, & si qua forte ablata sunt sub divini obtestatione judicii reddi præcipimus. Mansuro præterea in perpetuum decreto sancimus, ut nulli omnino viventium liceat in vestro monasterio aliquas proprietatis conditiones, non hæreditarii juris, non advocatiæ, non investituræ, neque cujuslibet potestatis, quæ libertati & quieti fratrum noceat, vendicare: Sed abbas cum fratribus advocatum sibi, quem perspexerit utiliorem, instituat, &, si oportuerit, amoto eo alium tertium providebit. Laicos seu clericos seculariter viventes ad conversionem suscipere nullius Episcopi vel Præpositi conditio vos inhibeat. Porro decimas, quæ a laicis detinentur, pertinentes ecclesiis, quas habetis vel habebitis, si eas recuperare annuente Domino potueritis, vestris perpetuo usibus mancipandas absque omni contradictione Episcoporum censemus salva Episcopali reverentia. Illud etiam capitulo præsenti subjungimus, ut nulli Episcoporum facultas sit sine Romani Pontificis licentia loca vestra vel monachos interdictioni vel excommunicationi subjicere. Ad indicium autem perceptæ a Romana Ecclesia libertatis auri unciam quotannis Lateranensi palatio persolvetis. Si qua igitur deinceps ecclesiastica secularisve persona hujus privilegii paginam sciens contra eam temere venire temptaverit, secundo, tertiove commonita, si non satisfactione congrua emendaverit, potestatis honorisque sui dignitate careat, reamque se divino judicio existere de perpetrata iniquitate cognoscat atque a sacratissimo corpore & sanguine Dei ac Domini redemtoris nostri Jesu Christi aliena fiat & in extremo examine districtæ ultioni subjaceat. Cunctis autem eidem loco justa servantibus sit pax Domini nostri Jesu Christi, quatinus & hic fructum bonæ actionis percipiant & apud districtum judicem præmia æternæ pacis inveniant Amen. Synodus Calixtina Papæ.

Anno Dominicæ incarnationis MCXVIII. VII. Idus Iulii. Indictione XII. Dominus Papa Calixtus Vrbate cum Archiepiscopis, Episcopis, Abbatibus Provinciæ Galiæ, Gothiæ & aliarum Hyberiæ Concilium celebravit, ubi cum de diversis negotiis quæstiones emergerent, quæstio hæc præsumptuosa & totius Ecclesiæ scandalosa fuit. Sanctorum patrum veteribus sanctionibus, ordinari quemcunque personæ ecclesiæ Dei non licere, & auctoritate sedis apostolicæ omnimodis prohiberi. Nunquam sine ordinatione quemquam ecclesiam regere, quæstio perfida cuiusdam Archiepiscopi, nullius in diœcesim, nullius in Archiepiscopatum, nullius in dominum, nisi prælatus, nullus in Ecclesiam regendam. Diuersæ ordinationes. Primitus, decimus, duodecimus, vicesimus Episcopus cum Archiepiscopo dat consecrationem Episcopo & decimum a primo, duodecimum a duodecimo, vicesimum a vicesimo, sed Dei gratia primus inter omnes. Qui vero patriarchæ illi, præsumptores & ambitiosi fuerint, quos, qui religiosi fuerint, quos, qui sanctitate & religione claruerint, quos, qui ambitiosi, sacerdotum & canonum ecclesiasticorum constitutiones, decretorum & canonum recitabit & legitimum ordinem ecclesiasticum, tamquam hæreticis, sibi & suis ecclesiis subjungunt Episcopi. Inter cetera quæstiones præpositus & decanus, quæstio quoque tandem finem accepit. Vacante, donec reperiretur, invenitur. Si autem ecclesiæ malitia tanta fuerit, ut electum vel nominatum sui eum quibus electi primum fidem irritam facient, absint, ne hominem illum contra pactum ordinationis ecclesiæ communione privent, donec prava intentionis malitia cesset.

Vehementi ad Rempost apud Argentinam Episcopum Constantiensis & Abbatem Augiensis, cum eis de pace & concordia, inter nos & Romanum & Sedemanum. A quibus cum nos contumaciter essemus, quod vix diu dissimulare nequibat Romanus pontifex, aliantiæ prohibitæ & sanctæ fœderationis & sacrum quoque juramentum violantes, invehiuntur quibusdam pessimis & Ahitophelem commodis dimittere compositi. Quæ cum in hoc regni tumultum dominarentur, quem certus tenens, dolo, nec in regno Francorum Episcopum cecchim, nec in conferentiam aliquid fallcquidve de nostro regis, aut nunc de eodem, de nobis, de ecclesia Dei, quæstione, aut ad compositionem pertinebat attingebat, ad regibus Christianis eodem Dei donum fuit, ita fidelior delectionem integritate ubi Episcopi deferuntur, quod nunquam invidendum, hinc diffidentiam, unius amhemetus fomentum, inuenitur.

Ad hoc ere elevata modo hæc reformandi dedit. Est, inquit, de fur, non quæro amplius. Tunc Hebreorum Episcopus: si fraternitatis dilectionem vobis non esse, quæ ecclesiæ Dei concordia, qui pro ecclesiæ honore, vel ordinem, & vestram patrem eis dare, & hæreditatem Deo oppositam huic contentionem finem imponere. Quæ omnia res communicatum cum his omnibus in processarium promotionem & defensionem quod Dominus Papa invenire, & à verum pacem, quæ & ecclesiæ Dei & Romanæ, quæ vestra regna, & Romanæ, & ejusdem. Quibus auditis Episcopus certum se dari ejus dominationis capitulo celebrabat, cum ut labor eorum non esset inanis, tum ut Dominum Papam ad concordiam & pacem facilius inclinarent. Tunc ipse propria manu tibi ac Romano Cardinali scripsit in nomine Episcopi Adalaia famosa, & prudens capitulum fratrum Augiensium. Pulit omnia quæ Landeberto & Conno Palatino & cæteri clerici & laici, quibus ego non sum, ut ecclesiæ Dei concordem modo. Accepto facultum Episcopus & Abbas Dominus Papa. Pariter conveniamus, quæ videtur & audivimus, fideliter intimavimus, quibus quidem Dominus Papa dixit: Ego quidem dic. Utinam jam fuisset, & hoc fuisset bene. Quia communis consensus & voluntas & Cardinalium omnium ordinem & cum ab Episcopo Constantiensi & Abbate Augiensi, & ab eis atque nostris, ut præfata capitula diligentius retractarent, atque ipsa in unaquaque parte firmarent, & hoc ficut ipsum literas, ea vel vigilarent, ut ea ille contentionem sedarent Concilii denominarent. Venerunt ad eum Verdunum & Mettenses Archiepiscopi, quod Dominus Papa eum illuxerat recipere, à presbiteris quoque Romanis, remittens, & ipsum quos gavisus est, quod prius quod Augustinus in manu præsumptionis & Abbatem Augiensem, ibi in manu Episcopo Ostiensis & G. Cardinalis, & Episcopi Constantiensis & Adalaia propria manu firmavit, quod videtur in ecclesiæ capitulo, quæ sequenti fieret contionem, quod Modoinus in præsentia Domini Papæ, ut ibidem vero simili finale exaggeretur. Post eum hoc idem præsentibus Archiepiscopis Bertingarium, Gonnes Palatinus, Comes Wilhelmus & de Principes, Ludowicus, & Lotharius. Exegit eliam ipsis ordine eodem facturi me modo, quod ipsi Episcopi, ut processus, eodem die Dominus Papa, quæ in scriptum hæc continentur, adimplevit. Scripsum autem hæc concordiæ fuit. Ego H. Dei gratia Romanæ Imperator Augustus per omnes. Dei & beati Petri & Domini Papæ Calixti dimitto omnem investituram omnibus ecclesiis per totum meum omnibus, qui ex qua illis dignitatis causa per ecclesiis Dei & Romanæ sanctæ: pollicitionis autem ecclesiarum vel omnium, quæ per ecclesia laboraverunt, quæ habeo, reddo quæ autem non habeo ut reddam, adjuvabo sicut adjuvo. Quod si quilibet contra omnes, qui per ecclesiæ illam Canonico, quæ autem ſecularia ſunt, ſeculari terminentur judicio. Item ſcriptum Domini Papæ: Ego Calixtus Secundus Dei gratia Romanæ Eccleſiæ Epiſcopus Catholicus ad veram pacem Henrico Romanorum Imperatori Auguſto & omnibus, qui cum eo contra eccleſiam fuerunt vel ſunt, poſſeſſiones eorum, quas pro Werra iſta perdiderunt, quas habeo, reddo; quas non habeo, ut rehabeant, fideliter adjuvabo. Quod ſi quæſtio etiam emerſerit, quæ eccleſiaſtica ſunt canonico, quæ autem ſecularia, ſeculari terminentur judicio. Hac itaque data & accepta ſecuritate feſtinanter ad Dominum Papam Remis redierunt, quæ fecerant & quæ a rege & a ſuis receperant ante Concilium reportantes ſimul & diem & locum colloquii deſignantes. Dominus Papa in generali concilio XIII. Kal. Novembris Remis reſidens inter cætera ſic exorſus eſt: Domini patres & fratres, cauſa, pro qua vos de terra longinqua & remotis regionibus ad concilium vocavimus, hæc eſt: Scitis quam diu Romana Eccleſia contra diverſas hæreſes laboravit, & ſicut per beatum Petrum, cui ſpecialiter dictum eſt a Domino; rogavi pro te Petre, ut non deficeret fides tua; &, tu autem confirma fratres tuos; Simon magus, quem judicio Spiritus Sancti ab Eccleſia Dei eliminavit, periit, ſic usq; ad noſtra tempora, id eſt, per vicarios ſequentes Symones expugnare, & ab eccleſia Dei extirpare non deſinit. Ego quoque licet indignus qualiscunque ejus vicarius Symoniacam hæreſim, quæ maxime per inveſtituras contra eccleſiam Dei innovata eſt, ab eccleſia Dei, opitulante Deo, veſtro conſilio & auxilio modis omnibus eliminare deſidero. Unde ſi placeat a fratribus noſtris, qui inter nos & regem dictum Teutonicum verba concordiæ portaverunt, ordinem cauſæ diligentius audiatis. Tunc Dominus Papa Oſtienſi Epiſcopo injunxit, ut univerſo concilio latine ordinem cauſæ exponeret; Quod cum prudenter Epiſcopus Oſtienſis peroraſſet, iterum Catalaunenſis Epiſcopus ex præcepto Domini Papæ hoc idem Clericis & laicis materna lingua expoſuit. Quo completo, multa capitula illo die & ſequenti propoſuit, & usque ad finem concilii univerſa complenda diſtulit. Sequenti vero die cum in hoc conſilium Epiſcoporum ſediſſet, ut Dominus Papa ad diem colloquii pro componenda pace accederet, & utrum in veritate homo ille ageret, per ſemet ipſum temptaret, circa finem concilii illa die Dominus Papa ſic proſecutus eſt: Domini patres & fratres, ſcitis quamdiu mater noſtra Eccleſia contra ſymoniacam hæreſin maxime quæ per inveſtituras fit, in partibus noſtris laboraverit, & quoniam placuit omnipotenti Deo noſtris diebus eccleſiæ ſuæ pacem offerre, & jam proxima dies colloquii ad ipſum locum craſtina die nos compellit accedere, ſummopere rogamus, ut reditum noſtrum patienter ſuſtineatis, & ſi Deus nobis pacem dederit, commune gaudium univerſo mundo annuncietis. Si autem, quod Deus avertat, adverſarius nobiscum agere temptaverit, feſtinanter ad vos revertemur, & ſicut conventionem pacis, ſi fiat nobiscum & per vos confirmare optamus; ſic in commentorem fraudis, ſi infidelis evaſerit, judicio Spiritus Sancti & veſtro gladium ſancti Petri vibrare temptabimus. Quod cum ſub obtentu obedientiæ Archi-Epiſcopis, Epiſcopis & Abbatibus injunxiſſet, præcepit etiam, ut interim & maxime die colloquii Pſalmos, orationes, & ſacrificia ſpiritualia Deo offerrent, & a majori Remenſi Eccleſia usque ad eccleſiam beati Remigii cum proceſſione nudis pedibus exirent. Sic interim dimiſſo concilio Dominus Papa ad locum colloquii exiit, & vocatis in Cameram Archi-Epiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Abbatibus & ceteris ſapientibus viris, quos multos ſecum duxerat, coram omnibus fecit legi utrumque ſcriptum concordiæ. Cumque lectum fuiſſet ſcriptum regis diligentius cœperunt Epiſcopi retractare, maxime illud capitulum, ubi dicebatur: dimitto omnem inveſtituram omnium Eccleſiarum; dicentes ſiquidem Rex ſimpliciter agit, verba iſta ſufficiunt; ſi autem ſub hoc capitulo aliquid cavillare conatur, determinatione nobis videntur indigere, ne forte aut poſſeſſiones antiquas eccleſiarum ſibi conetur vendicare aut tantum de eisdem Epiſcopos inveſtire. Rurſum in ſcripto Domini Papæ illud diligentius retractabatur, ubi dicebatur: do veram regi & omnibus, qui cum eo in Werra iſta fuerant vel ſunt [ne forte in danda pace plus intelligerent, quam reddendam communionem eccleſiæ] & ſub hoc verbo Eccleſia cogeretur ſuſcipere, quos aut ſuperpoſitos legitimis paſtoribus aut canonice depoſitos ſine gravi offenſione non poſſet ſuſtinere. Diligenter igitur omnibus retractatis, miſſi ſunt ad caſtra Regis Epiſcopus Catalaunenſis & Abbas Cluniacenſis & alii multi cum eis portantes ſcripta in manibus. Cumque perveniſſent ad caſtra, oſtenderunt ſcripta, determinaverunt capitula, prout omnium conſilio diffinitum erat. Rex autem his auditis prima fronte ſe nichil promiſiſſe horum, omnino abnegabat. Tunc Epiſcopus Catalaunenſis zelo Dei inflammatus & gladio verbi Dei accinctus reſpondit pro omnibus: ſi, Domine Rex, negare vis ſcriptum, quod tenemus in manibus & determinationem, quam audiſti, paratus ſum ſub teſtimonio religioſorum virorum, qui inter me & te fuerunt, jurare ſuper reliquias ſanctorum & ſuper evangelium Chriſti, te iſta omnia in manu mea firmaſſe & me ſub hac determinatione recepiſſe. Cumque omnium teſtimonio vinceretur, tandem compulſus eſt confiteri, quod prius negaverat. Veruntamen conquerebatur de eis graviter, quod, licet eorum conſilio promiſerit, absque diminutione regni exequi non valeret. Cui ſic Epiſcopus reſpondit: In promiſſis noſtris, Domine Rex, per omnia nos fideles invenies; non tamen Dominus Papa [& ſui] ſtatum Imperii aut coronam regni, ſicut quidam ſeminatores diſcordiæ obloquuntur, in quolibet imminuere attemptant, imo palam omnibus denunciant, in exhibitione militiæ, & in cæteris omnibus, in quibus tibi & anteceſſoribus tuis ſervire conſueverant, modis omnibus deſervient, Quod cum mirabiliter peroraſſet, ita omnium corda concuſſit ac reclamantium voces compreſſit, ut nec unus quidem contra decreta Synodica, quæ poſtea lecta ſunt, os aperire præſumeret. Dominus tamen Papa decretum illud, unde murmur ortum fuerat, ſaniori conſilio temperavit, & in hanc formam concilio legi fecit; Inveſtituram Epiſcopatuum & Abbatiarum per manum laicam fieri omni modo prohibemus. Quod cum placuiſſet omnibus, ipſum cum cæteris omnibus, quæ lecta ſunt, judicio Spiritus Sancti & auctoritate eccleſiaſtica firmaverunt. Romanæ Eccleſiæ invaſor, Burdinus & præ cæteris & cum cæteris multis ſollempniter excommunicati. Abſolvit etiam Dominus Papa auctoritate Apoſtolica a fidelitate regis omnes, quotquot juraverant, niſi forte reſipiſceret & eccleſiæ Dei ſatisfaceret. His denique rite completis auctoritate patris & filii & Spiritus Sancti omnes abſolvit atque ſignavit, & ſic ad propria unumquemque redire permiſit, & concilii finem fecit. Quod vidi & audivi, fideliter, quanto brevius potui, pedeſtri ſermone deſcripſi.

caritatis munere amministravit. Qua re de tam repentina & intolerabili calamitate stupor & hebitudo mentis super nos, Domine Pater dilecte, cecidit, Nam sicut navis sollerti gubernatore destituta aut fluctuat, aut fluctibus immergitur aut scopulis illiditur, & sic planctum magis invenit, quam portum; sic & nos miseri tanto rectore viduati multis modis in hoc mundo tanquam in naufragioso mari periclitamur. Unde tanto & tam inani dolore usque ad vitæ tædia deficeremus, si non in clementia vestra spem non modo consilii, sed & auxilii haberemus. Ponite ergo vobis ante oculos totam ecclesiam nostram, tam clerum, quam populum, pedibus vestris affusum tam miserabilem coram vobis deplorare querimoniam; &, quod rectore destituti alium præter vos rectorem non habemus, ad nos dignemini venire, ut nos, qui æstimati sumus sicut oves occisionis, quod ad sustinendum tantæ adversitatis pondus impares sumus, in Dei & vestri miseratione respirare valeamus. De cætero, Domine, vestræ pietatis petimus serenitatem, ut a Dominis nostris, fratribus vestris quos ad summam manum omnis probitatis novimus esse provectos, & viscera misericordiæ indutos, sententiam super hoc facto requiratis, scilicet si in eadem ecclesia sanguine polluta hominum ex eadem ruina oppressorum, sacramenta Christi licencia Domini Episcopi possint celebrari, quod quidam, habentes scientiam, sed non secundum zelum Dei, nostræ prosperitati hactenus invidentes, videntur nobis de eadem re inclementer quæstionare, cum constet altare remansisse inpollutum & inviolatum.

CCCVIII.

Domino E. præposito viro diligendo & ab omnibus honorando A. sanctæ Dei genitricis ecclesiæ Aquis grani humilis dispensator, fraternam dilectionem ex debito, fideles orationes ex officio. Gratias ago de nostro, quod dignum & idoneum suo vos fecit ministerio, ut sitis necessarium & utile vas in domo Domini: quantum autem una cum fratre vestro de provectione vestra mihi fuit gaudium novit Deus, qui inspector est cordium. Ego quoque licet indignus vestro conjunctus sum numero, confidens multum in sanctis orationibus vestris & pio patrocinio. Si ea quæ supra scripta sunt jurasti aut juraveris & per rectam fidem adimpleveris, senior meus neque per se neque per subjectam personam tollet tibi vitam aut membra nec te capiet propter hoc, quod usque modo contra eum fecisti, nisi in antea sis contra eum & convictus fueris. Prædia & proprietates quæ juste & legaliter habes, & eas terras, quas per scriptum juste habes, non tibi toller, nisi justo judicio per veram legem sit judicatum. Eos vero qui contra hanc fidem venerint cum dogmatibus & sectatoribus suis æterno anathemate dignos esse pronuncio; quod si ego ipse alioquin contra hæc sentire aliquid ac prædicare præsumsero, subjaceam canonum severitati. Lecto & perlecto sponte subscripsi.

Ajebat itaque ſurculum diaboli neſcio de cujus plantario in terra hac ſurrexiſſe, & jam, ut cancer, latius ſerpere, ſcilicet quod poteſtatem ſolvendi ſoli ſortiti ſint epiſcopi & ab hac facerdotes exiſtant alieni. O malum originale, o radix peccati, o conterendum caput colubri, o non audiendus ſibilus ſerpentis! Ecce ſerpens, ille qui ſtanti adhuc homini in paradiſo ſuggeſſit, ut caderet, poſt lapſum per gratiam reſuſcitatus inſibilat, ut iterum cadant. Evomite ergo venenum diaboli, ſi qui bibiſtis ignari, ſed tumorem hujus vulneris prius quaſi fomentis quibusdam argumentando conabimur mollire, & mox poſtulantibus, quæ latebant, aperire. Quæſo, fratres, primum cujus vicarii, cujus cooperatores eſtis? ſi Chriſti, immo quod vere Chriſti & Dei, quod Chriſto eſt Deus. De Deo autem ſcriptum eſt, quod Dominus mortificat & vivificat. Ergo & vobis, ut puto, hanc poteſtatem contulit, quos ſecum cooperarios in vineam, meſſores in meſſem introduxit. Hoc illud eſt vis ligandi & ſolvendi, hæ claves regni cœlorum, quas ſpecialiter Petro Salvator credidit; ſi primo ſoli Petro, quod ſoli Petro poteſtatem hanc contulit, ergo ne Jacobum, Johannem, Andream & ipſum Paulum mancos & inutiles reddidit, quibus quaſi devotis meſſoribus falcem e manibus exculſit? Ubi eſt ergo, quod pluribus diſcipulis poſt reſurrectionem ſuam apparens inſufflavit & dixit eis: Acceptate Spiritum Sanctum, quorum remiſeritis peccata, remittuntur eis, & quorum retinueritis, retenta ſunt? Ubi eſt etiam, quod iterum dicit: Meſſis quidem m. rogate Dominum meſſis, ut mittat operarios in meſſem ſuam? Si igitur in hæreditaria Apoſtolorum ſucceſſione ſoli remittendi poteſtatem habent Epiſcopi, vere operarii admodum pauci & nequaquam ſufficientes ad meſſem Domini, contradicente ſcriptura: dinumerabo eos & ſuper harenam. Quos igitur ſuper harenam multiplicatos dinumerat, niſi quos ſuperiori verſu amicos Dei nimis honoratos, nimisque confortatos in principatu ſuo appellat? Scio, quod aliqui veſtrum parochianam curam gerentes in plebe neceſſe habent ſubjectos in verbo Domini jugiter commonere, & delinquentes ab eccleſia nonnunquam expellere & ad correctionem aliorum communione privare, ne per paucas oves morbidas totus grex contaminetur. In quo ergo hæc facitis, ſi poteſtatem in Spiritu Sancto non accepiſtis? Si autem, ut veſtris fortaſſe utar verbis, nos ſacerdotes jus tantum ligandi habemus, cum poteſtas ſolvendi penes Epiſcopos ſit, incunctanter dico; quod ſi ita eſt miſerabiliores ſumus omnibus hominibus, qui cum regulis & ſcorpionibus, cum lupis & leonibus lædere poſſumus, curandi vero poteſtatem non habemus. Adhuc quod deterius eſt dico, quod immundi ſpecie mortificare quidem poſſunt, ſed vivificandi poteſtatem ſortiti non ſunt. Quare ergo & nos ad ſimilitudinem dæmonum fratribus noſtris plagas facimus, quibus mederi non valemus, cum ſcriptum ſit: Nolite fieri ſocii dæmoniorum. Inaniter etiam fideles in ipſo mortis articulo ſpe bona ſacerdotes convocant, ut remiſſione accepta ſoluti de corpore exeant. Inaniter etiam ipſi epiſcopi ſacerdotibus plerumque peccata ſua confitentur, & indulgentiam ab eis ſupervacue expetunt, qui remittendi gratiam, ut dicitis, non acceperunt. Interrogo etiam; ſi aliqui ex vobis baptizent, ſi autem & vos, quod tamen dubium non eſt, more catholico baptizatis, perſpicuum eſt, quia his, qui per vos in confeſſione trinitatis baptizantur, non ſolum hæreditaria, quæ ex originali radice deſcenderunt, ſed etiam ſingulorum peccata privata relaxatis & ſanctæ matri eccleſiæ de veteri maſſa recentes filios regeneratis. Quid ergo qui ad totam arborem radicitus extirpandam ſufficitis, unum ejus ramuſculum præcidere non valetis? Scimus, imo vobiſcum excellentiam veneramur epiſcopalem, nec tamen ideo inferioribus derogamus quod ſunt. Quia ergo vifus principaliorem locum in ſenſibus noſtris obtinet, auditus forſan corpori neceſſarius non eſt? In cœleſti quoque militia, quod præſtantioris gloriæ Archangeli ſunt, nunquid in miniſterio ſuo angeli viluerint? Ipſi etiam Epiſcopi nunquid gradu ſuo depoſiti aut in aliquo minorati ſunt? & metropolitani primates patriarchæ, ipſe etiam Apoſtolicus, ſpecialem inter eos reverentiam acceperunt? Sed, ut revertamur in anteriora, Philippus ille unus ex VII. diaconibus, qui Samariam convertit, qui eunuchum Candacis reginæ baptizavit, qui mox in ſpiritu raptus & inventus in Azoto eſt, & pertranſiens, prædicavit civitatibus cunctis, donec Cæſaream veniret. Rem etiam narro mirabilem & ſtupendam noſtris tamen temporibus geſtam. Moguntiæ erat quidam negotiator prædives, qui cum negotiandi cauſa in Freſiam usque Trajectum veniſſet, feſto quodam die ſeditionem commovit, & ab Decano Cleri illius ad ſatisfactionem revocatus, bannum ejus parvi æſtimans diſceſſit, & quaſi rem non magnam oblivioni tradidit, qui non poſt multum tempus mortuus eſt & in ſaxeo ſarcophago ſepultus eſt: poſt multos autem annos uxor, cum & ipſa ad exitum exitum propinquaret, petiit a filiis ſuis, ut in ſepulcro viri ſui ſepeliri debuiſſet, qui ſicut adjurati erant ſarcophagum aperientes, aquis illud ferventibus ſpumantibusque ſuperficietenus plenum corpusque integrum repererunt. Juvenes vero deprehenſo hoc excommunicationis indicio, & mirantes, quod vir religioſus erat, cœperunt omnia loca, ubi ipſe negotiari ſolebat, circuire, cum ecce Trajectum venientes rem cognoverunt, & pro patre ſatisfacientes, atque communionem impetrantes, reverſi ſunt, apertoque tumulo nichil præter oſſa & cineres invenerunt: Ecce iſte Epiſcopus non fuit, & tamen animam & corpus hominis in æterno judicio conſtituti tam potenter, quam mirabiliter, abſolvit. Reſipiſcite, fratres, & honorem veſtrum nolite dejicere, & pretium Dominici ſanguinis in vobis nolite exinanire. Hæc, fratres, colliria oculis veſtris inungite, ut honorem veſtrum, qui eſt in domino, humiliter in gratiarum accretione agnoſcatis, & de virtute in virtutem euntes Deum Deorum in æterna Syon ſeliciter videatis. Vale.

H. Hoienſi amico ſuo, Megingotus Trajectenſis plenæ dilectionis affectum. Apoſtolus dicit: Neceſſe eſt, ut hæreſes veniant, ut qui probati ſunt, manifeſti fiant: quod de quodam juvene canonico noſtro recenter in eccleſia noſtra contigit, qui ſeculo omnibusque propriis renuncians artioris vitæ propoſito ſub regula beati Auguſtini voto & profeſſione ſe obligavit, ſed poſt triennium temptationibus fractus miſerabiliter ad dimiſſa refiliit; quem ita quidem apoſtatice redeuntem ſperabam nimirum, quod omni cautela, fraterno conſilio & ſalubri ammonitione exciperemus, ſi quo modo leniter & familiariter emendari atque revocari potuiſſet; & ſi minus fomenta commonitionis & conſilii proficerent, auſteriori eccleſiaſtici vigoris correptione coherceretur. Ægrotabat igitur frater graviſſime & velut quadam freneſi ſenſum ejus evertente ipſam ægritudinem ſuam ſanitatem reputabat; ſed proh nefas, dum infirmo curationis antidotum offerre debuiſſemus, quidam noſtrum miſerando homini mortis poculum propinaverunt, fautores facti atque defenſores perverſæ voluntatis illius, ſacras quoque ſcripturas adulterina atque hæretica interpretatione in patrocinium illius abhominaliter contorquentes. Unde factum eſt, ut omnem fere ſimplicioris turbæ tam clericorum, quam Laicorum multitudinem in ſententiam ſuam pene traduxiſſent, quibus dum a fidelibus atque Catholicis rationabiliter atque canonice obviaretur, non modica orta eſt conflictatio, placuitque prioribus noſtris comprovincialibus eccleſiis ſuper hoc negotio ſcribere & reſcriptis illarum litem terminare. Sed & in curiam imprimis, quæ Spiræ habita eſt, quæſtionem detulerunt, ubi ab omnibus ex diverſis provinciis & eccleſiis literatis catholicis ſententia illorum cum irriſione dampnata eſt, & ſacris ſcripturis evidenter contraria demonſtrata. Viſum eſt igitur michi omnia de hac quæſtione ſcripta & reſcripta in unum libelli corpuſculum redigere, ad æternum monimentum comprobatæ veritatis & damnatæ falſitatis. Tibi ergo, o amice, hoc opus conflatum deſtinavi, bibliothecæ tuæ in memoriam noſtri inſerendum, in quo dum ſanctæ Leodicenſis eccleſiæ reſcriptum perſpexeris, exultans videre poteris, puram & ſanctam eccleſiæ tuæ in ſacris ſcripturis intelligentiam, quæ inter cæteras hujus regni eccleſias velut gemma prælucens, viget plena eccleſiaſtica autoritatis gravitate.

Dominis & fratribus conprovincialium eccleſiarum R. Trajectenſis eccleſiæ utinam in gratia Dei Præpoſitus. A. Decanus E. magiſter cum devotiſſimis orationibus ſinceræ caritatis obſequium. Gratia requirendi conſilii fraternitati veſtræ, hos apices miſimus, ut ſicut eidem metropoli eadem nos provincia conterminat, ita in majoribus eccleſiæ negotiis nulla nos ſententiæ diſſonantia dirimat. Fuit apud nos Canonicus quidam in clauſtro ſimplex & delicatus, ſancti Martini, cui ea voluntas, utinam divina inſpiratione, in mentem incidit, ut artioris vitæ propoſitum arriperet, qui ob eandem cauſam in Treverenſem epiſcopatum, neſcientibus nobis, profectus, in monaſterio quodam regulam beati Auguſtini profeſſus eſt. Deinde duobus menſibus transactis literis ad nos de ſua converſione directis præhendæ ſuæ renunciavit, profeſſionem ſuam indicavit, aſſenſum omnium noſtrum humiliter imploravit. Transactis autem duobus annis ipſemet Trajectum veniens cum Epiſcopum præſentem non inveniſſet, conventum noſtrum intravit, vitam, quam tanto tempore expertus fuerat, laudavit, licentiam fratrum requiſivit, & accepit, & cum ſe orationibus noſtris, viciſſim nos illius commendaremus, oſculum pacis ab omnibus, qui tunc in conventu aderant, accipiens, gratulabundus diſceſſit. sione devastata, pro tempore concessit de Monachis, vel etiam de Laicis assumi Clericos ad retinendam Christianitatem. Cessante autem necessitate, priscam reintroduxit & confirmavit auctoritatem. Item propter utilitatem ex diversis consiliis applicantur ordinibus filii virginum per vim raptarum & conjugatarum, cui sententiæ Petrus Apostolus concordans ait: In veritate comperi, quod non est Pater ac Deus. Gelasius Papa quædam pro tempore decernit esse sinenda, quæ tamen non manifeste infament Ecclesiam, & sic utilitate vel necessitate mutilanda sunt decreta, si non etiam manifeste sequatur decoloratio. Quia igitur prædictus juvenis ad se corrigendum propria voluntate vel arbitrio arctius propositum instituit, ibique in Diaconum & Presbyterum consecratus est, nullaque utilitate vel necessitate a vobis revocatur, sed ad decolorationem ecclesiastici ordinis resilit, ex verbis Sanctorum Patrum Leonis & Nicolai ad id revertatur, quod spopondit, & in sacro Ministerio maneat quod inchoavit, Sancto que Spiritui non mentiatur, ne ordo Ecclesiasticus conturbetur, fideique Catholicæ jura confringantur. Quod autem dicitur Archi-Episcopus Treverensis Episcopo Trajectensi literas misisse, significans, ut recipiatur in loco, cui per communem assensum renunciavit; forsitan per surreptionem alicujus importune petentis factum est. Archi-Episcopus enim Treverensis, ad cujus parochiam confugit, & qui ad Ecclesiæ suæ titulum Diaconum & Presbyterum eum ordinavit, absque canonica contradictione omnem humanitatem circa illum debet exhibere, exemplo primi & magni Gregorii, qui transgredientes & deserentes sacrum propositum jubet comprehendi, & in Monasterium detrudi, & sub districta custodia omnem solicitudinem exhiberi, quatenus divina servitus suam constanter habeat reverentiam. Quod reverenter & sincere arctioris vitæ proposita sint honoranda & retinenda, plane demonstrat Primus & Magnus Gregorius in principio Dialogi sui, qui de culmine propositi ad apicem Sedis Apostolicæ, causa utilitatis & necessitatis electus, conqueritur, se oblivisci singularitatis suæ quietem ex densitate curarum supervenientium. De Beato Martino Turonensi dicit Severus, scriptor vitæ ejus, quod coram discipulis suis sæpius fatebatur, minorem gratiam in faciendis virtutibus se habuisse post assumptum Episcopatum, quam ante. Hieronymus, Augustinus, Ambrosius arctioris vitæ erectores, de hac in scriptis suis Clericos, Monachos, virgines, viduas confortant, exhortantur, corroborant. Et ne juxta Paulum infirmorum percutiatur conscientia, Frater iste, de quo est sermo, omnibus modis in assumto retinendus est proposito, quod fidelis est Deus, qui non patietur eum tentari supra id, quod potest, sed faciet cum tentatione proventum.

Oratio Mengoti.

De faciendis & reddendis votis sacrarum scripturarum tradicione didicimus, ut in ætate tantum rationabili fiant, & cum ex potestate propria voventis & arbitrii libertate prodeant; nemo quidem ad vovendum præcepto cogitur, sed tamen post pollicitationem omni genere ad reddendum compellitur. Unde Moyses in Deuteronomio: Cum votum voveris Domino Deo tuo, non tardabis reddere, quod requiret illud Dominus Deus tuus. Si nolueris polliceri, absque peccato eris. Quod autem semel egressum est de labiis tuis observabis & facies, sicut promisisti Domino tuo & propria voluntate & corde locutus es. Et Psalmista: Vovete, inquit, & reddite Domino Deo vestro. o. q. inc. ejus off. m. terribili rei q. au. s. pn. t. a. t. terræ. Terribili & terribili repetit, ut inculcatus ille magnificus terror aufferentis Spiritum principum apud reges terræ, constantem animum ea lege astringat, quam ipse sibi vovendo sancivit, & eo sponsionis vinculo detineat quod sibi ipsi pollicendo innexuit. Votorum autem omnium ille finis est, ut quicquid Deo vovemus, ad salutem aliquo pacto pertineat, alioquin nec vota dici possunt nisi ad beatitudinem illam, velut ad destinatum finem, aliquatenus referri valeant. Cum igitur omnia, quæ vovemus & facimus, ad mundiciam cordis, qua sola ad visionem Dei, quæ salus est animæ, pertingitur, referre debeamus; ea tamen in votis est differentia, quod destinato fini alia propinquiora sint, quam alia, & illa jure perfectiora creduntur, quibus expedicius & plenius mundiciam cordis assequi valeamus. Hinc provenit, ut si debitum ordinem in votis observemus, nulla unquam in votis esse possit contrarietas, in quibus omnibus aliquo modo ejusdem propositi est unitas; si tamen hunc ordinem teneamus, ut de minoribus ad majora proficiamus, non de majoribus ad inferiora redeamus. Christianæ enim animæ proficere, non deficere licet, cum alterum ad pœnam, alterum pertineat ad gloriam. Cum igitur inferius votum deseritur, & majus assumitur, infideliter ascribitur mendacio & inobedientiæ, quod pertinet ad consummationem veritatis & obedientiæ, nec dicenda est minoris voti destructio, sed potius inferioris per superius integra & absoluta perfectio, sicut vetus lex, quæ rudibus & inchoantibus fuerat proposita, novi testamenti perfectione non est soluta, sed adimpleta, testante Domino in Evangelio. Non veni legem solvere, sed adimplere. Et Paulus in epistola sua: fratres non arbitror me comprehendisse, sed persequor unum, obliviscens quæ retro sunt, & ad ea quæ ante sunt, extendens me ipsum, sequor ad bravium supernæ vocationis. Ubi ergo susceptione perfectioris vitæ a destinato mundi cordis fine non discreditur, imo propinquius acceditur, non magnopere ad hujusmodi opus requirendam prælatorum credimus licentiam, quæ & requisita non debet abnui, & negata non potest nec debet constantis animi intentionem remorari. Unus est igitur Magister, cujus sententiæ nullus prælatorum superordinare præsumit, qui omnibus ad perfectionem tendentibus licentiam generaliter annuit, dicens: Si vis esse perfe-perfectus, vade & u. q. h. & d. p. & u. s. me & alibi. Niſi quis renuntiaverit omnibus quæ poſſidet, non poteſt meus & perfectionis eſſe diſcipulus. Diſcipulos quoque ad perfectionis ſuæ imitationem exhortans: perfecti, inquit, eſtote, ſicut & ego perfectus ſum. Unde Hieronymus cuidam ſanctum propoſitum arripere volenti, exhortatoriam ſcribens epiſtolam, poſt multa hac demum uſus eſt ſententia: Cum ad apoſtolicam, inquit, tendis perfectionem, ut nihil habeas in hoc mundo, & omnia poſſideas cum Chriſto, nullam in via Domini æſtimare debes perſonam, ſed quicquid tibi obſtare metuis abjicere, perfectoque odio odiſſe memineris, & ſi omnes quos vel reverearis vel diligas tibi hoc itinere exire volenti in ipſo tuo limine ad te remorandum proſtratos aſpicias, felici contemptu per ipſa eorum colla transeas. Age ergo, ſi tantopere de non petita licentia ambigitur, non petita licentia ſuſcepti propoſiti profeſſionem evacuare ratum eſſe debet, & deſerere illud transgreſſio eſt. Ad transgreſſionem autem aliquem ſuſcipere eſt transgreſſioni conſenſum præbere. Si vero non petita licentia propoſitum evacuare poteſt, irritum eſſe debet, quod irrationabiliter ſanctum eſt, & prioris voti transgreſſio eſt dicenda. Transgreſſores autem voti ad poſterum nonſolum revocari commonendo, ſed etiam ſi opus eſt, eccleſiaſtica cenſura compellendo ſacrarum ſcripturarum ſancit auctoritas. Revocentur ergo & redire cogantur, qui ſine licentia receſſerunt a nobis. Præpoſitus igitur ad præpoſituras ſuas, præbendas & eccleſias, Dominus N. ſancti Petri canonicus ad cuſtodiendam ſuam præbendam, R. ejusdem eccleſiæ canonicus ad præbendam ſuam. Et in Leodicenſi eccleſia aliisque eccleſiis plurimi, qui omnia ſua pro Chriſto contemnentes & pauperes pauperem Chriſtum ſequentes, in tam perfecta & tam licita re, licentiam requirere, vel non opus eſſe, vel etiam ſibi non congruere digne judicarunt. Quod ergo de propriarum eccleſiarum deſertoribus ſtatutum eſt, ut alienum clericum nullus ſine licentia Epiſcopi ſuſcipere præſumat, pie intelligentibus liquido conſtare credimus, de clericis in ejusdem propoſiti amminiſtratione permanere volentibus eſſe dictum, quod ubi nullus ſpiritualis effectus, nulla perfectioris vitæ ſanctitas intervenit, non ſine carnali & culpabili cauſa transmigratio talis fieri poterit. Cum igitur dicitur transmigrare non licet, determinandum eſt; non licet, nullis exiſtentibus cauſis; quod ſi digna cauſa intervenit ſine dubio licere confidimus. Quod vero ſic determinandum ſit, tum ſupradictæ rationes & auctoritates cogunt, tum Gelaſius Papa XXIII. cap. decretorum ſuorum oſtendit: Quisquis, inquit, propriæ eccleſiæ deſertor nullis exiſtentibus cauſis ad alienam transeundum putaverit, reverendorum canonum ſtatuta non effugiet. Ecce Gelaſius cauſam intervenire poſſe docuit; ipſam autem cauſam eſſe perfectioris vitæ electionem, magnus Leo PP. in XXVI. cap. decretorum ſuorum exprimit: Quisquis, inquit, ad perfectioris propoſiti profeſſionem acceſſerit, redire ſine ſummo peccato non poterit. Quamvis igitur inferior vita innocens eſſe poſſit, meliorem tamen electionem deſeruiſſe transgreſſio eſt. Magnus Gregorius in libro de cura paſtorali: Amonendi ſunt cælibes, ut ſi temptationum procellas cum difficultate ſalutis tolerant, conjugii portum petant. Scriptum quippe eſt: Melius eſt nubere, quam uri. Sine culpa ſecundum ad conjugium veniunt, ſi tamen nondum meliora devoverunt. Nam quisquis bonum majus ſubire propoſuit, bonum minus illicitum fecit. Scriptum quippe eſt: Nemo mittens manum in aratrum & reſpiciens retro aptus eſt regno Dei. Qui ergo fortiori ſtudio intendit retro reſpicere convincitur, & relictis bonis amplioribus ad minima retorquetur. Auguſtinus autem converſionem ſuam latenter fuiſſe factam, & absque divulgatione, in libro confeſſionum commendat dicens: Quia propter nomen tuum, Domine, quod ſanctificaſti per ſe etiam laudatores ubique haberet, votum & propoſitum noſtrum jactantiæ ſimile videbatur, ſi velut de publica profeſſione atque ante oculos omnium ita diſcederem, ut converſa in factum meum ora cunctorum intuentium eſſe voluerim, quod quaſi appetiiſſem magnus videri. Sed ut jam omni dubitatione imo perverſæ interpretationi ſatis fiat, ponamus ad perfectionem tendentibus ſanctum propoſitum poſſe interdici & omne quod voverint ſine conſenſu præſidentium irritum cenſeri. Probamus ex auctoritate veteris teſtamenti, ubi ſcriptura magis ſequitur moralitatem, quam miſterium, eos, qui ita aliis ſubeſſe deberent, ut etiam vota eorum ex præſidentium pendeant arbitrio, nullius voti ſponſione ligari, ſed poſtquam præſidentes cognoverint, ſtatim contradixerint, ſi vero poſt primam cognitionem non ſtatim contradixerint, & ſuſtinuerint, ipſam moram taciturnitatis & ſuſtinentiæ obtinere vim conſenſus & licentiæ & ipſo jure permanere rata quæcunque fuerint vovendo promiſſa. In libro Numeri cap. LXV. Iſte eſt ſermo, quem præcepit Dominus. Si quis virorum votum Domino voverit, aut ſe conſtrinxerit juramento, non faciet irritum verbum ſuum, ſed omne quod voverit, implebit. Mulier ſi quippiam voverit, & ſe conſtrinxerit juramento, quæ eſt in domo patris ſui & in ætate puellari adhuc, ſi cognoverit pater votum quod pollicita eſt, & juramentum, quo obligavit animam ſuam & tacuerit, voti rea erit; quicquid pollicita eſt, & juravit opere complebit. Sin autem ſtatim, ut audierit, contradixerit pater, & vota & juramenta ejus irrita erunt, nec obnoxia tenebitur ſponſioni, eo quod contradixerit pater. Si maritum habuerit, & voverit aliquid, & ſemel de ore ejus egrediens animam illius obligaverit juramento, quo die audierit vir & non contradixerit, voti rea erit, reddet quodcunque promiſerat. Sin autem audiens ſtatim contradixerit, & irritas fecerit pollicitationes ejus, verbaque quibus obſtrinxerat animam ſuam, propicius erit ei Deus. Vidua & repudiata quicquid voverint, verint, reddent. Uxor in domo viri cum ſe voto conſtrinxerit & juramento, ſi audierit vir & tacuerit, nec contradixerit ſponſioni, reddet, quodcunque promiſerat. Sin autem extemplo contradixerit, non tenebitur ſponſionis rea, quod maritus contradixit, & Dominus ei propitius erit. Si voverit & juramento ſe conſtrinxerit, ut per jejunium vel cæterarum rerum abſtinentiam affligat animam ſuam in arbitrio viri erit, ut faciat ſive non faciat. Quod ſi audiens vir tacuerit, & in alteram diem diſtulerit ſententiam, quicquid voverat atque promiſerat, reddet, quod ſtatim, ut audivit, tacuit. Si igitur eorum quorum vota ex aliena pendent poteſtate, per dilationem contradictionis in alteram diem firmari poteſt ſponſio, nimirum fratris hujus, de quo agitur, votum trium annorum taciturnitas firmare potuerit. Quia cum primum reſcitum eſſet ab Epiſcopo & fratribus de converſione fratris, ſi diſplicuit, cur ſtatim non revocatus eſt? Quin potius tacitum eſt non tantum die aut menſe aut anno uno vel duobus, ſed potius tribus. In quo ſpatio frater prædictus litteras primum de converſione & profeſſione ſua fratribus miſit, deinde duobus annis transactis ipſemet veniens, cum Epiſcopum non inveniſſet, fratrum licentiam requiſivit, & accepit, vitam, quam tanto tempore expertus fuerat, probavit, laudavit, ad idem propoſitum, non ſolum exemplo, ſed etiam verbo plures incitavit. Quid ergo? Certe ſecularis lex habet, ut proprietas anno & die poſſeſſa ſine contradictione rata permaneat, & melius eam poſſeſſor jure poſſit retinere, quam alius jure auferre; Fratrem iſtum tribus annis in voto & profeſſione ſua ſine contradictione ſtabilitum, patri Auguſtino, cujus regulam profeſſus eſt, auffertis? Videte, ne ſi injuriam ſuam ſciens ille Domino ſuo proclamaverit, horrendum illud judicium diſtrictiſſimi judicis incidatis? Sed ſunt quidam, qui adhuc fratris errori defenſionem parant, aſſerentes non licere, quemquam etiam ad perfectius votum a præbenda eccleſiæ ſuæ ſine conſenſu eccleſiæ & præſidentis diſcedere, quod in conjugatis non licet, niſi ex conſenſu ad perfectum continentiæ votum ad invicem divortium facere. O animalem & carnalem intelligentiam! Animalis homo juxta Apoſtolum non percipit ea quæ Dei ſunt, neque igitur id poteſt. Profecto hoc ſpirituale, de quo agimus, & illud carnale de conjugatis ea ſimilitudine conveniunt, qua ſimilitudine congruunt caro & ſpiritus. Tantum igitur inter hoc & illud intereſt, quantum inter carnem & ſpiritum. In conjugio igitur præter fidem & ſacramentum Chriſti & eccleſiæ carnalis ineſt conjunctio, in qua non jam duo, ſed una efficitur caro. Ad ſervitium autem Dei nemo rationabiliter accedere poteſt divifus, ſed potius totus, ſicut in una & eadem perſona hominis cum ſe ad Deum converterit, non dimidius accedere, & dimidius remanere debet, ſcilicet ut vel corpore in ſervitio Dei appareat & mente in ſeculo reſideat, vel ſpiritu quidem ſervitium Dei cupiat, corpus autem non obſerviat, ſed potius totum ſe & corpus & animam divino mancipare debet obſequio. Ita in conjugio cum non ſint duo, ſed potius una caro, in converſione non poteſt eſſe diviſio, niſi velut in ejusdem perſonæ unitatem facta eſt carnis copulatio. Præterea cum conjugium in tribus ſupra dictis conſtat, ſcilicet fide, ſacramento, commixtione carnis, quantum ad tercium pertinet, conjugati ea lege & eo fœdere conveniunt, ut debitum carnis ſibi invicem reddere debeant, cujus rei adminiſtratio nec localem pati poteſt diviſionem. Nos vero qui non carnaliter, ſed ſpiritualiter unum ſumus, non localiter, ſed Spiritu Sancto in unitatem corporis eccleſiæ compaginamur, nec intereſt, quantum ſimus temporum vel locorum intervallis diſtincti, qui in unitatem fidei Spiritu Sancto ſumus uniti, cui quanto quis perfectius, ubicunque cohæret & ſervit, tanto pulcrius & tenacius membrum in corpore eccleſiæ conſtituitur. Sed objicitur. Si libertas ea transmigrandi ad perfectiorem vitam perurgetur, minores & imperfectiores eccleſiæ ex crebra deſertione in ſolitudinem redigentur. Reſpondemus. Utinam ceſſent omnia imperfecta, ut omnia faciant perfecta, ſicut in inperfectione quotidie mundi adhuc poſiti optamus adventum perfectionis Dei regni, cum orantes dicimus: Adveniat regnum tuum; fiat voluntas tua ſicut in cœlo ita & in terrra. Verum ex his tam frivolis illorum aſſertionibus ſatis conſtare credimus, quod non juſtitiæ veritatem, ſed ſuam ſibi proponunt voluntatem, ad quam confirmandam ea quæ poſſunt argumenta convehunt, & ſcrutantur ex ſcripturis verbula voluntati ſuæ quantulumcunque conſona ſed juxta Pſalmiſtæ vocem: Defecerant ſcrutantes ſcrutinio, & circa veritatem nequaquam eorum verſatur inquiſitio. Illud vero quod naturam & regularium canonicorum profeſſionem eandem eſſe dicunt, quam ſit a veritate remotum illud declarat, quod ex regulæ noſtræ inſtitutis, nos quidem licite & propriis & eccleſiæ rebus utimur, illis vero denegantur propria, omnia jubentur eſſe communia, quorum regula ex eo loco Actuum Apoſtolorum tracta eſt, ubi legitur: Multitudinis credentium erat cor unum & anima una, nec quisquam dicebat aliquid ſuum proprium, ſed erant illis omnia communia. Ad quam profeſſionem apoſtolicæ perfectionis cum Ananias & Saphira acceſſiſſent, & de pretio agri fraudantes aliquid ſibi proprii extra communitatem reſervaſſent, nova & inaudita pœna mulctati ſunt, ſcilicet ad verbum hominis & Petri imo Spiritus Sancti in homine ceciderunt & exſpirarunt. Cum igitur beati Auguſtini canonicis nihil omnino conſtet licere proprietatis, quisquis nos & illos eandem habere regulam aſtruit, profecto nos Apoſtatas transgreſſores convincere velle videtur. Quod ſi ita eſt, potius nobis ad illos transeundum, quam illis ad nos eſſet redeundum. Si itaque frater prædictus ſub ejus regulæ profeſſione transgreſſores, ut dicere videntur, deſeruit, & pœnitenti corde cum confirmatione voti, regularibus ſe ſociavit, quisquis eum ad transgreſſionis peccatum redire permittit, ſine dubio conſentire convincitur, ut canis ad vomitum ſuum redeat, & ſus lota rurſus in volutabrum luti ſui recidat. Veſtrum igitur eſt diligentiſſime conſiderare, ne quid tot & tantis autoritatibus contrarium faciatis, præſertim cum in tot ſcriptarum locis votorum transgreſſio damnetur, adeo ut etiam ea, quæ quadam animi præcipitatione facta ſunt, omnimodis tamen impleta legantur. Sicut de Gabionitis legitur, qui cum filios Iſrael circumveniſſent, quaſi in medio eorum futuri non eſſent, ut ipſos fœderatos haberent filii Iſrael non conſulentes Dominum præcipitanter eis juraverunt, qui poſtea tamen fraude detectum juramentum ſolvere noluerunt, neque illis licuit, quod ex hoc colligitur, quod poſt ea tempora David cum fames valida tribus annis fuiſſet, & David Dominum conſuleret, reſponſum eſt hoc illi, hoc eſſe propter Saul, qui quaſi vicem filiorum Iſrael dolens, quod a Gabionitis circumventi fuiſſent, Gabionitarum ſanguinem fuderat. Unde ad piaculum tanti ſceleris, ſeptem de Domo Saul illis traditi & patibulis affixi furorem Domini mitigaverunt. Sed & Jepte cum quicquid ſibi poſt victoriam domum revertenti primum e foribus domus ſuæ occurreret, Domino in holocauſtum offerre juraſſet, unigenitam filiam primum occurrentem Domino obtulit. Quod autem ego quidem inſtantius & vehementius hæc loquor, aliquem forſitan ſcandalizare poteſt ſuſpicantem, quod non zelo juſtitiæ, ſed timore illo faciam, quod bona prædicti fratris, quæ in converſione illius ſuſcepi, per reſtitutionem ejus amittere timeam. Dominus novit intentiones hominum. Et juxta Salamonem: homo videt in facie, Dominus autem in corde. Si quis ex occaſione verborum meorum ſuſpicione ſcandalizatur, doleo quidem non mihi, ſed illi, non tamen tacebo, quia ſacras ſcripturas mihi clamantes audio: In quantum ſine peccato potes, vitare ſcandalum proximi debes. Sed ſi de veritate eſt pro ſcandalo veritas relinqui non debet. Et Auguſtinus in libro confeſſionum: Quo mihi hoc, inquit, ut putetur, & diſputetur de animo meo, & blaſphemetur bonum noſtrum? Audiant Dominum in Evangelio, judicia de occultis & ambiguis prohibentem. Nolite judicare, & non judicabimini, nolite condemnare, & non condemnabimini. Et Apoſtolus: Nolite, inquit, ante tempus judicare quoad usque veniat Dominus Jeſus, qui illuminabit abſcondita tenebrarum & manifeſtabit conſilia cordium. Sed ne etiam verborum multitudine vos onerare videar diſputationis vel ſermonis prolixitatem terminemus, hoc uno, quod ſicut juxta vocem veritatis qui recipit Prophetam aut juſtum in nomine Prophetæ vel injuſti, mercedem Prophetæ, aut injuſti accipiet, ita qui recipit Apoſtatam in nomine Apoſtatæ, & ut induret illum, & apoſtatare faciat, mercedem Apoſtatæ recipiet, quod ſcriptum eſt: Non ſolum qui faciunt hujusmodi, ſed etiam qui conſentiunt facientibus digni ſunt morte.

Dominis ac fratribus ſuis univerſis G. humilis peccator pacem & ſalutem in Domino. Audivimus fratres & Domini mei aliquos ex vobis noſtro diſceſſu moveri, eo quod puerili inconſtantia ducti noſtra reliquiſſe videamur, & quaſi condolentes vanitati noſtræ vultis & optatis ut noſtra recipiamus & redeamus. Voluntas quidem veſtra in omni bono adimpleatur, ſed ut hoc perficiatur, mihi profecto non expedit. Cum autem ſecundum profeſſionem, Clerici hæreditas noſtra Dominus & nos deberemus eſſe Domini, pro me, dico nihil de ſorte clerici præter nomen & habitum retinentes, indigne inter vos locum, velut infructuoſa arbor & terram occupavimus, ſed & quod gravius eſt, vias noſtras in omnibus corrupimus, voluptates noſtras & delectationes carnis me miſerum abominabiliter ſecuti ſunt & in his omnibus nulla nobis eccleſiaſticæ cenſuræ ſuccurrit diſtricto, ſed amplius multiplicabatur in dies erroris noſtri miſeranda confuſio. De linimentis etiam & fomentis quorundam, a quibus perverſitas noſtra non redarguebatur, ſed laudabatur, venenum illud in me graſſabatur, non auferebatur, & tanto exciciabilius nobis inflicta ſunt vulnera, quanto quorundam conſenſu occœcati ipſa natura non vidimus pericula. Et nunc, fratres, vix ſero miſeriam noſtram adtendentes, omnia relinquere, & pauperes pauperem Chriſtum ſequi deſtinavimus; ut votum noſtrum Dominus impleat, benigniſſimum omnium largitorem orate: præbendam noſtram & locum noſtrum, cujus nullum fructum fecimus, alii utiliori & meliori facienti fructus ejus locate. Vellemus quidem inter vos melioris converſationis curſum arripere, ſed quam in difficili res poſita nobis foret non ignorabamus. Ipſi etenim ſcitis, quanta nobis impedimenta occurrerent, primum fragilitas noſtra & omnium rerum, quæ allicere & ad pernitiem trahere poſſent, quotidie ante oculos ſubjectio: De hinc labia iniqua & lingua doloſa. Quod autem vobis neſcientibus receſſimus, ne temeritati imputetis, quod impedimentum nobis fieri timuimus, ſi animi noſtri intentionem, ut erat, denudaremus. Ne, quæſo, fratres fugam & inobedientiam appelletis, quod ad Dominum confugimus, & Deo obedivimus, quod, ut pace veſtra dixerim, magis elegimus quadam quaſi imagine inobedientiæ ad cœlum conſcendere, quam affectata & ſimulata obedientia ad infernum properare. Ne, quæſo, inquam, vera rerum vocabula transmutetis, ne illam propheticam incidatis ſententiam: Væh vobis, qui dicitis tenebras lucem, & lucem tenebras, qui malum dicitis bonum & bonum malum. Ne vero juventutis noſtræ inconſtantiam cauſemini, neque ſeculari ſenſu ſapientiam interpretemini ſtultitiam, ſperamus in eo perſeverare, per quem & accepimus incipere, & qui poteſt de lapidibus filios ſuſcitare Abrahæ, potens eſt & nos ad conſumationem boni operis perducere. lud organum Spiritus Sancti dulcisſimam melodiam & confortati ſumus. Bonum, inquit, opus nobis ſit in voluntate, & militia Domini erit in perfectione. Et quis eſt, fratres, etiam inter ſanctos ita virtute præminentisſimus, ut incunctanter & inrefragabiliter intelligat, quo fine curſum certaminis compleat? Iſta ſecuritas non eſt præſentis corruptionis, ſed illius futuræ immortalitatis, cum hoc corruptibile induerit incorruptionem, & mortale hoc abſorbebitur ab immortali. Audivimus etiam, fratres, quod fratrem noſtrum Dominum M. de hac re ſuſpectum habeatis, quaſi cupiditate, & aviditate rerum & eccleſiarum noſtrarum ductus, nos ad hoc incitaverit. Credite nobis, non eſt ita. Cum etenim intellexiſſet intentionem noſtram primum renuit, contradixit, multa nobis, quæ nos retraherent, propoſuit, ſed cum inconcuſſam propoſiti noſtri firmitudinem percepiſſet, reſpectu Domini tactus & monitus occidere me, retinendo, voluit, quem ſalvare vel tacendo potuit, prodere nos noluit, impedire nos voluit, ſpiritum in nobis extinguere noluit. Benedictus Deus in omnibus, fratres dilectisſimi, nolite exacerbare ſpiritum ejus, aut quicquam illi imponere. Non igitur ab homine aut per hominem ſed per revelationem Jeſu Chriſti gratiam iſtam ſuſcepimus. Valete & orate pro me.

Serenisſimo Domino ſuo H. Dei gratia Würzeburgenſis eccleſiæ Epiſcopo, Præpoſito & Decano ſancta Babenbergenſis eccleſia cum tota fratrum congregatione fraternæ dilectionis exhibitionem. Pervenit ad notitiam meam querelis H. quondam eccleſiæ meæ Præpoſiti fraternitatem veſtram eſſe pulſatam, & opinionem meam quantum in ipſo fuit ſiniſtra relatione læſam. Sed ſi eſtis, imo quod eſtis, quales vos ſpero, & qualem me vobis exhibere paratus ſum, nullus timor eſt, mihi, ut cujusquam relationibus odioſis contra me fidem accommodetis. Viſum eſt tamen utile, ut ad ſingula, quæ de me ex animi motu, non veritate cauſarum, divulgavit, breviter reſpondeam, & arbitrium veſtræ diſcretionis non ſubterfugiam. Conqueritur, ut audivi, quod a prælatione dignitatis quam geſſit, jam ſecundo non judicio, ſed violentia dejectus ſit. Primo quidem cauſa M. cognati mei, demum pro pecunia, ut ait, & ambitione O. fidelis mei. In qua re cognoſcere vos volo, primo omnium, quod quam diu res tulit & ultra quam tulit, ego eum ſemper toleravi, adeo ut etiam, poſtquam judicio fratrum meorum deſtitutus eſt, electo in locum ejus cognato meo, ego tamen cum judicii ſententiam, quæ data erat in eum, reſcindere non poſſem, manſuetudine & compaſſione fraterna devictus, nolui prorſus omni ſpe eum deſtituere, donec benevolentia, cum nihil ei deberem, duas parochias cum pecunia ei dedi, eo tenore, ut omni deinceps querela ſopita nihil moleſtiæ ſuper hoc negotio ſuſtinerem. Mutante autem priſtinæ converſationis habitum ſupra dicto cognato meo, libera & unanimi electione teſtimonium mihi perhibente conſcientia mea, nec venalitate, nec perſonæ acceptione inductus, præpoſitum, quem voluerunt, fratribus meis conſtitui, nihilque ab eo niſi quod ad communem ſpectat utilitatem, poſtulo vel poſtulavi. Quod ſi præjudicium ſe ſuſtinuiſſe cauſatur, licet non ſit neceſſe actum agere, tamen ſi quid habet, quod cauſam ſuam tueatur, in præſentia noſtra ad audientiam veniat, & ſi juſte poteſt, quicquid poteſt, obtineat. Nolo autem vos latere, nec ſecreto mihi ſuccenſere ſi beneficia mea recipiam, quæ ea conditione ipſi collata ſunt, ut ego nullam inquietudinem ab eo omnino de hac cauſa ſuſtinerem.

H. Dei gratia Romanorum Imp. Aug. H. Radisbonenſium Epiſcopo, gratiam ſuam & omne bonum, ut fideli dilectisſimo. Quod legatos tuos tanto tempore retinuimus, nulla alia de cauſa fecimus, niſi quod nec itineris noſtri nec a Roma aliquam certitudinem tibi mandare potuimus. Nunc dilectioni tuæ intimare decrevimus, Epiſcopos quosdam videlicet Aſtenſem, Aquenſem, Placentinum inde veniſſe non noſtra quaſi legatione, ſed eorum propria voluntate iviſſe, qui tamen veram pacis concordiam inter nos & Papam omni dubietate remota retulerunt, qui etiam nos omnes, Monaſterienſem nominatim, Tridentinum, Auguſtenſem, Brixinorenſem, Conſtantienſem Abbatemque Wultenſem Arnoldum in adventu eorum rum benedixerunt ore, & oſculo ex ejus parte ſalutaverunt. Ajunt etiam Dominum Papam nunquam aliquem adverſarium noſtrum Colonienſem, vel Saltzburgenſem, vel Wurtzburgenſem, vel Halberſtadienſem, vel aliquem inimicum noſtrum viva voce vel litteris ſalutaſſe. Moguntinum nec ipſe, nec tota Romana eccleſia aliter quam traditorem Dei & Domini ſui & totius chriſtianitatis appellant. Quicquid itaque Viennenſis Wido & Chuono contra Imperium & nos aliquo modo moliti ſunt, deteſtatur, ita quod fraternitatem & gratiam ſuam idem Chuono etiam apparet amiſiſſe. Hoc totum promittit non per nuncium, ſed per ſe ipſum verum eſſe probaturum. His aliisque verbis auditis ac pertractatis cognovimus te, ut mandavimus, congruo tempore venire ad nos non poſſe, quod cum maxima feſtinatione ad præſens ire oportet, ſed tamen ubicunque erimus pro te & vice tua erimus, & tu ubi fueris pro nobis in perſona noſtra ſis, juvando ac ſuſtinendo ac defendendo honorem noſtrum & ſpecialiter nepotem noſtrum F. aliosque fideles noſtros, ut bene appareat, te eſſe inimicum inimicorum noſtrorum & amicum amicorum noſtrorum.

CCCXVIII.

H. Dei gratia Rom. Imp. Auguſtus H. venerabili Radisponenſium Epiſcopo, gratiam, dilectionem, & omne bonum. Gratias agimus patri ſpirituum, quoniam erga nos & imperii ſtatum ſalubriter tuæ fidei conſervaſti conſtantiam, credentes, imo luce clarius adtendentes, quod neque mores neque vita ſurripere poſſint, quam inchoaſti & demonſtraſti nobis benevolentiam. Ut autem piæ ſollicitudinis ſcrupulum, quo ſæpiſſime turbantur corda amicorum abſentium, tibi pleniter aufferamus, negocium, quod pro communi utilitate totius imperii ſuſcepimus, ad quid perduxerimus, paucis tibi ſcribere curavimus. Imprimis memorem te eſſe volumus, qualiter inimicorum noſtrorum acephalica præſumptio fideles noſtros inquietaverit, quod communicantes nobis quaſi excommunicatos ex ſententia & legatione Domini apoſtolici judicaverunt, & maledictiones ſatis impudenter ſuper innocentes aggravaverint. Nos autem arcum, quem in nos latenter intenderant, & ſagittas, quas exacuerant, propiciante Domino declinantes in Italiam transalpinavimus, & ibi religioſos Epiſcopos atque Abbates, qui videbantur eſſe columnæ matris eccleſiæ, convocantes de pace vel concordia regni & ſacerdotii ſubtiliſſima inquiſitione tractavimus, demum communicato conſilio tres ex illis omnibus eligentes, ſcilicet Placentinum, Aſtenſem, Aquenſem, magni nominis Epiſcopos ad Dominum Apoſtolicum & ad omnem eccleſiam illos miſimus, proferentes in publicum, quod ſi quis perſonam noſtram pulſaret, vel pulſare vellet, de pace, quam in corpore & ſanguine Domini nos cum Pontifice Romano compoſuimus, & conſcripſimus ſecundum judicium legum vel canonum, nos porrigere plenariam expurgationem, vel, quod abſit, culpabiles inveniremur, omnimodam ſatisfactionem. Igitur Dominus apoſtolicus unanimes ſibi ad hoc conjungens cardinales in teſtimonium, in præſentia Principis Apoſtolorum negavit, quod Chuononem, in Coloniam, vel Saxoniam miſerit; irritum eſſe judicavit, ſi quid in nos maledictionis effuderit; affirmavit, quod ipſe nunquam nos excommunicaverit, filio ſuo, quem conſecravit, quem benedixit, quod nunquam maledixerit. Damnavit Theodoricum, eo quod in regno noſtro legatum ſe ejus Domini Apoſtolici mentitus fuerit; nihil optavit quicquid excommunicationis in aliquem fecerit; in præſentia cleri & populi teſtificatus eſt, quod non præcepit vel conſentit vel ratum fecit vel habet, quod Viennenſis Epiſcopus excommunicationis gladium ſuper nos erexit; ſed potius, quod ſub typo boni zeli peccaverit, veniam poſtulavit. De litteris bullatis, quas in opprobrium noſtrum incuſabat Moguntinus, Colonienſis, Saltzburgenſis, & Halberſtadienſis inimicis noſtris miſiſſe, Deum duxit in teſtimonium, ſe malum illud nunquam commiſiſſe, inter cætera ſubjungens, quod quisquis nobis fidelitatem jurando promiſerit & Werram nobis quisquis modo fecerit, pro perjuro & ſacrilego in membris eccleſiæ numerandum eſſe. Nos autem conſilium principum noſtrorum exequentes, ut omnem ambiguitatem reſecaremus, & ſedicionem graviſſimam, quæ inter Romanos & apoſtolicum geritur, compeſceremus, & Deo gratias non eſt inventus, qui clam vel palam nobis notam criminis imponeret, ſed vox laudis & lætitiæ audita eſt, quæ nos & imperium noſtrum Deo & beatis Apoſtolis Petro & Paulo committeret. Poſtero die capitolium cum univerſis ordinibus conſcendimus, & magnificantibus nos magna impendimus. Denique Cardinales tres cæterorum legationem, agentes nos, adierunt, & pacem plenariam eo tenore, nobis exhibuerunt; ſi inveſtituram per virgam & annulum deinceps dare deſineremus, quod in eo eccleſiæ ſcandalum dixerunt. E contrario nos reſpondentes regalia noſtra cuivis per baculum & annulum concedere juris noſtri eſſe probavimus. Hæc eſt ſumma diſſenſionis, qua concutitur & periclitatur eccleſia, &, inveſtitura ceſſante, affirmant ſtatum eccleſiæ redintegrari poſſe per omnia. Ergo miles Chriſti conſidera, quod Chriſtus in evangelio liquantes culicem & camelum deglucientes, in ejusmodi animadverſione reprehendat, & Apoſtolus minus tolerandum, ut majus vitetur, factis & dictis oſtentat. Hæc ideo tuæ transmiſimus caritati, ut pernoſcas nullum periculum excommunicationis imminere noſtræ dignitati, & ut liberius quod ratio poſtulat, obviare poſſis adverſus nos inſurgenti fatuorum temeritati, Nuntium tuum ideo tam diu detinuimus, ut per ſe certum te de his omnibus reddat, utpote qui viſu vel auditu rei ordinem perfecte cognoſceret. Vale.

Epiſtola Heinrici Imperatoris IV. ad Moguntinos de Alberto perjuro Epiſcopo.

Heinricus Dei gratia Rex. Præpoſitis & Decanis & omni congregationi, cunctis etiam Moguntinenſis eccleſiæ civibus, tam majoribus quam minoribus, ſibi fidelibus, gratiam & omne bonum. Confiteantur Domino militiæ ejus & mirabilia ejus filii hominum, quod non eſt, prudentia non eſt, ſapientia non eſt conſilium contra Dominum, qui Sancti Spiritus gratia inſpirante, jam convertit corda filiorum ad patres ipſorum. Unde & nos non ceſſamus Deo gratias agere pro vobis, cujus gratia & dono amara veſtra dulcia facta ſunt nobis. Et imo licet per ineffabilem divinæ pietatis inſpirationem, luctum noſtrum in gaudium, & amaritudinem verteritis in dulcedinem; pro antiqua tamen fidelitate quam in cordibus veſtris divinitus jam incaluiſſe cognovimus, dilectionem veſtram ammonere potius, quam rogare decernimus. Memores eſſe debetis in omnibus qua fide, quo pacto, quibus ſacramentis & obſidibus Adelbertum illum perjurum & traditorem, qui non meritis, ſed nomine dicitur Epiſcopus, fidelitati veſtræ diligentiſſima conventione tradiderimus. Et cum vos omnia bona promitteretis ab eo nobis, & nos de veſtro promiſſo nihil niſi bonum ſperaremus, ab eo expectavimus pacem, & ecce turbatio. Poſtquam autem Spiram ad nos redintegrata ſibi corporis & honoris ſui poteſtate veniens, obſides ſuos de manu ad manum ipſe nobis præſentavit, & ſuis ſacramentis veſtra firmavit, ſtatim autem diſcedens miſſis ubique litteris ac nuntiis nos & honorem noſtrum impugnavit, ac per totam Saxoniam & Thuringiam, Bavariam & Alemanniam, amicos noſtros tanquam inimicos contra nos ubique ſollicitare cœpit, ſicque quaſi canis, qui revertitur ad vomitum antiquæ ſuæ perfidiæ recepit venenum; quod quaſi vipera, quæ virus reſumit poſt coitum, a mari usque ad mare per totum regnum diffudit & imperium. Pro his igitur & aliis malis nobis reſponſurum ſtatutis induciis eum ad nos venire juſſimus, & non venit, ſed inſuper apponens iniquitatem, Spiram, quod in cor noſtrum altius aſcendit, armata manu & erectis militaribus ſignis violenter invadere voluit, ſed fruſtrato Deo gratias labore rediens, congregatis, quos potuit, caſtrum noſtrum Struomburch funditus deſtruxit, demum alia caſtra noſtra contumaciter obſedit, invaſorem Virdunenſis eccleſiæ contra jus & fas conſecrari fecit, regnum noſtrum & imperium rapinis & homicidiis cæde, & incendiis, quaſi aper de ſilva ſic ubique devaſtavit, ut nihil jam diverſis ipſius reſtet erroribus, niſi ut fiant noviſſima hominis pejora prioribus. Hæc igitur & alia mala, quorum non eſt numerus, licet ab oriente usque ad occidentem nota ſint hominibus, vobis tamen nota ſunt eo melius, quo ſecretis ejus omnibus præ cæteris vos ſemper interfuiſtis familiarius; ſed & omnes, qui in regno noſtro ſunt, ſciunt, omnes clamare poſſunt; & ſi hi tacuerint, lapides clamabunt. Et ideo, dilectiſſimi, nobis tam clerici quam laici, tam milites quam cives; qui hæc omnia vidiſtis & audiſtis, diligenter apud vos cogitare, & recogitare debetis, quam fidem & dilectionem pro ſacramentis & obſidibus veſtris veſtra ſibi dilectio debeat, qui nec proprio ſanguini ſuo, filiis ſcilicet fratrum ſuorum, debitam fidem ſervavit. Verum quia inter alia ſpecialiter hoc in noſtra conventione fuit, ut aliquid quando contrarii moliretur noſtræ dignitati, ſtatim determinatis induciis transactis, veſtro ſtudio & labore expelleretur ab urbe, imo ſi veri fideijuſſores crediti negotii eſſe deſideratis, monemus vos omnes per fidem & obſides, quos dediſtis, & ſacramenta, quæ feciſtis, quatenus obſidibus veſtris conſulentes, & ſacramentis præcaventes, eundem perjurum noſtrum ac veſtrum A. ſcilicet dictum Epiſcopum, civitatem nullatenus intrare permittatis, ſed quaſi ſcopis ab eo mundatam, cum F. Duce & B. Palatino Comite, aliisque fidelibus noſtris diligentiſſime ſervare ſtudeatis. Quodſi feceritis & hæc omnia ſervaveritis diligenter, præ omnibus, quos in regno noſtro habemus, ex amicis amiciſſimos vos ſemper habebimus, & ſi quid unquam peccaſtis in nos, exemplo illius mulieris peccatricis totum tranſibit inultum, cui dimiſſa ſunt peccata multa quod dilexit multum. Quid plura? Deus, qui ad hoc venit in mundum, ut filios, qui erant diſperſi, congregaret in unum, ita diſperſos noſtros ſub jugum fidei jam coacervando revocet, & revocando coacervet, ut in charitate Chriſti & diſperſa congreget & congregata conſervet. In hæc igitur verba Deo vos & nos Deo & nobis intime commendamus, optantes, ut cum reverſi ad vos fuerimus, meliores vos filios invenire, quam reliquiſſe gaudeamus.

H. in Chriſti membris vero veræ religionis ſpeculo D. Dei gratia ſiquid eſt, inter ærumnas imminentis procellæ, ad ea, quæ ſurſum ſunt, indeſinenter ſuſpirare. Iſte vero legatus præſentium literarum bajolus, magnæ mihi hilaritatis occaſionem præbuit, quod in fraternæ dulcedinis ſalutationem, & ſpiritualis devotionis circa inquiſitionem divinæ veritatis vere catholico viro dignam quæſtionem ad me nuper ex parte veſtræ pertulit ſerenitatis. Unde quantum ego peccator audeo & valeo, Spiritui ſancto gratias agere non ceſſo, qui vos in lumen dictionis catholicæ veritatis prævenit & lumen vultus ſui ſuper nos ſignatum, ut ipſo duce inter tenebras erroris præſentis & ſchismatis a via mandatorum Dei non declinetis; & quod utique tanto eſt præclarius, quanto rarius, circa curam cognoſcendæ divinæ relligionis tam ardenti ſtudio evigiletis. Quid igitur jucundius quisquam poſſit optare, qui veritatem attingat, vel tenui rationis imagine, quam ejusdem veritatis vel unum verum amatorem, ac liberum defenſorem poſſe reperire inter tot multa deviantium? Siquidem nunc poteſtas tenebrarum ſe erexit, nunc jam fere totus mundus in maligno poſitus, propter abundantiam iniquitatis a caritate Chriſti & eccleſiæ defecit, nunc jam plane videmus inſtare periculoſa tempora, in quibus homines erunt ſe ipſos amantes, elati, cupidi, blaſphemi, ſuarum voluptatum magis quam Dei amatores, formam quidem pietatis habentes, factis autem veritatem ejus abnegantes. Sed inter hæc pervitioſa ſtudia partium, inter hæc tanta ſcandala ſchismatum & hæreſium, inter hæc ſacrilega dogmata non Dei, ſed hominum, quæ ſua ſunt, non quæ Jeſu Chriſti, quærentium, quid ſit tenendum aut quæ meæ ſit parvitatis ſententia quærere dignatio veſtra curavit. Qua in re illud inprimis ex totis præcordiorum medullis ingemiſco, quod ſumma veſtræ ſalutis, quam auctoritas ſanctorum patrum ſub omni certitudine diffinivit, heu peccatis exigentibus verſucia reproborum hominum apud ſimplices & minus cautos in dubium ducitur, & in negotiis eccleſiæ diſcutiendis non teſtimonium ſacri eloquii, ſed commentum humani admittitur arbitrii. Qua de re quantum detrimenti incumbat divinæ relligioni quisquis non ſapit, profecto ab omni bono ſenſu deſipit. Vos autem, venerande Domine ac frater in Chriſto dilectiſſime, non a me, qui nihil ſum ex me, ſed ex auctoritate ſacrarum ſcripturarum multiplici & inexpugnabili diſcere debetis, qualiter fugiendum ſit de medio Babilonis, ſcil. non corpore, ſed mente; non paſſibus pedum, ſed profectibus virtutum; non deſerendo bonos propter malos faſtu ſuperbiæ, ſed tolerando malos propter bonos ſub obtentu militiæ. Quod autem dico de malis ſpiritualiter, non corporaliter vitandis, hoc Patriarchæ, hoc Prophetæ, hoc ipſe ſanctus ſanctorum Dominus Jeſus Chriſtus, hoc ejus apoſtoli, nec non & omnes apoſtolici viri, nonſolum ſcriptis ſuis, ſed exemplis ſuis evidentiſſimis conteſtati ſunt, quod inter eos aſſiduc converſabantur, quorum vitia tamen acerrime execrabantur. Unde ex factis ſanctorum procul dubio colligitur, & ſi ſcripta eorum interdum ſint ambigua, quod aliena iniquitas non coinquinat cohabitantem corpore, ſed conſentientem mente. Hanc autem ſententiam ſanam & catholicam poſſem equidem multis & rationibus & auctoritatibus confirmare, niſi vitium eſſet in ſermone ad doctum virum inſtituto, de re manifeſta copia verborum perſtrepere. Porro autem ſi quæritis, quid tenendum ſit de illa generali excommunicatione quæ propter utilitatem eccleſiæ & auctoritatem ſacræ ſcripturæ, non zelo Dei, ſed inſtinctu diaboli ad ſcandalizandos puſillos Chriſti extraordinarie ſubintroducta eſt, Auctore Auguſtino perfecte inſtruemini, qui in diverſis operibus ſuis, & evidentiſſime in libris contra Parmenianum hæreticum conſcriptis, confirmat hujusmodi ſententiam, quæ datur in multitudinem ſecum ad ſuum favorem trahentis, infructuoſam eſſe, imo ſuperbam & ſacrilegam atque pernitioſam fore, & plus ſimplices bonos conturbare, quam animos malos emendare. Quid plura? Qui dixit: beatus, qui non fuerit ſcandalizatus in me, ipſe ſanctitatem veſtram ab omni ſcandalo in his, quæ perpetuæ ſalutis ſunt, dignetur cuſtodire.

Epiſtola Adalberti Archi-Epiſcopi ad Ottonem Babenbergenſem Epiſcopum de Bernhardo Herbipolenſi.

A. ſanctæ Moguntinæ eccleſiæ humilis ſervus & apoſtolicæ ſedis legatus venerabili & in Chriſto dilecto fratri & Coëpiſcopo Domino O. ſalutem & obſequium fraternæ dilectionis. Tribulationes & deſtructiones Herpipolenſis eccleſiæ, quæ & quantæ ſint, quam diu duraverint, jam dudum diſcretioni veſtræ innotuit, quæ usque adeo multiplicatæ ſunt, niſi eis in brevi proviprovideat omnipotens Deus, & misericors Dominus, quod in proximo ecclesia illa omnimodis adnihilabitur. Unde si facultas supeteret, vestræ fraternitatis præsentiam & consilium potissimum desideraremus convenire, & de ipsius reformanda pace & relligione, quantum divina misericordia concederet, sollicitius pertractare. Siquidem fratrum qui nobiscum sunt, & quos præsentialiter vel per litteras nostras convenire potuimus, tale est consilium, quum venerabilis frater & coëpiscopus noster Rogerus viam universæ carnis ingressus est, in hoc ecclesiæ illi provideamus, ut promovendo fratrem illum Gebhardum, dispersa illius ecclesiæ dispensatorie potius recolligamus, quam alium super imponendo graviter quidem dispersa funditus extirpari permittamus. Quo circa fraterna vos commonemus caritate, ut præsentiam vestram conventui fratrum nostrorum, quos in id ipsum convocavimus, in proximo festo beati Lucæ velitis præsentare, vel si id minime valueritis adimplere, consilio, quod Spiritus Sanctus vobis dictaverit, consensus vestri litteras non differatis transmittere. Valere & in orationibus vestris nostri memoriam facite.

C. Episcopus, servus servorum Dei venerabili fratri E. Saltzburgensi Archi-Episcopo salutem & Apostolicam benedictionem. Frater iste præsentium lator A. Presbiter apostolicæ sedis clementiam adiens, se ab Augustensi Episcopo retulit ordinatum, cum idem Episcopus prædecessore nostro sanctæ memoriæ Pascale Papa Romanæ fuisset ecclesiæ gratiam in conventu celebrato Placentiæ consecutus. Quia ergo misericordiam juste petentibus indulgentiam negare non convenit, si postulatio ejus veritatis nititur ratione, ipsum in ordine suo & recipias & Sacerdotalis officii ministerio sine inquietudine fungi concedas. Super causa Gebhardi, de quo nos rogavit tua fraternitas, fratrum nostrorum Episcoporum & Cardinalium consilium requisivimus. Ex eorum ergo deliberatione provisum est, quod in Herbipolensi ecclesia idem Gebhardus Episcopatus apicem non ulterius debeat obtinere. Datum Latera. IV. Non. Martii.

Frater G. sanctæ Romanæ ecclesiæ presbiter Cardinalis & Apostolicæ sedis legatus. Dilectis in Christo fratribus O. præposito & aliis Wirzeburgensis ecclesiæ clericis salutem & omne bonum. Quantis & quam diuturnis calamitatibus ecclesia vestra jam diu sit afflicta & attrita, nonsolum Theotonicæ verum & Italicæ constat esse notissimum. Super quibus in relligiosis & Deum timentibus viris conpatitur & condolet vobis Theotonica ecclesia, & compassa est & condoluit vobis jam diu mater vestra sancta Romana ecclesia. Unde ad se venientem bonæ memoriæ Dominum R. Episcopum vestrum benigne recepit, & benigne dimisit, sperans quod per eum Deus vellet finem imponere afflictioni vestræ. Post obitum vero ejus cum Dominus meus Papa H. audiret Dominum G. eidem ecclesiæ incubare Domino Moguntino tanquam vestro metropolitano & apostolicæ sedis legato per me litteris & viva voce ex communi Episcoporum & Cardinalium deliberatione mandavit, quod prædictus frater G. in Herbipolensi ecclesia episcopatus apicem ulterius obtinere non debeat. Ex parte itaque Dei & beati Petri & Domini mei Papæ Honorii vobis præcipiendo mandamus, ut id ipsum sentiatis, id ipsum sapiatis omnes, ut non sint in vobis schismata, sed ab eodem viro vos separando, & nullam ei reverentiam tanquam vestro Episcopo vel electo exhibendo in unum conveniatis, &, quantotius poteritis, Episcopum vobis secundum Deum canonice eligatis. Alioquin vobis & ecclesiæ vestræ divinum officium interdicemus. Ad hæc bene agenda cooperetur vobis divina gratia.

CCCXXVI.

O. Dei gratia sanctæ Moguntinæ ecclesiæ humilis minister, & apostolicæ sedis legatus. Dilectis in Christo filiis Wurtzeburgensis ecclesiæ Prælatis, & subditis, clero & populo esse in Christo cor unum & anima una. Condolentes ex corde ecclesiæ vestræ tot jam ac tantis tribulationibus attritæ, exhortamur vos in Domino, ut simplices & unanimes in Domo Dei ambulare satagatis, quod Scriptura teste, in scissura mentium non est Deus, & quæcunque mala vos adinvenerunt, ex discordiæ radice processerunt. Unde oportet, ut ad hanc extirpandam diligentius invigiletis, Deumque & singuli & in commune deprecemidi, quatenus misericordiæ suæ oculis vos respiciat, & talem finem diuturnæ calamitati vestræ imponat, ne deinceps talis oppressionis periculum vobis incumbat. Concordia siquidem, sicut sæpe audistis, parvæ res crescunt, discordia magnæ dispereunt, quod quia manifesto experimento didicistis, commonemus, ut tanti mali pernitiem devitare studeatis. Ne vero voluntatis nostræ ignorantia vos in aliquo commoveat vel diffidere faciat, noverit pro certo dilectio vestra, nos idem sentire, quod omnes catholici de vestra sentiunt ecclesia, id ratum tenere, quod Romana sanxit & denuntiavit auctoritas, cujus terminos nec debemus nec volumus transire, quia hæreticum constat esse, quisquis Romanæ ecclesiæ etiam in tam justo judicio non concordat. Quod si adeo vos concordes in justitiæ causa perpenditis, ut locum vestrum ab invasione impetitoris alicujus, si quis forte emerserit, defendere confidatis, in nomine Domini quicquid vobis gratia ejus inspiraverit, confidenter aggredimini, si quo minus salubriori & propensiori consilio res tractetur, quia consulta & considerata dilatio licet gravis & onerosa sit laborantibus, plus tamen utilitatis ſolet afferre, quam feſtinata & indiſcreta rei præcipitatio. Cupientes autem in omnibus vobis eſſe proviſum, nil aliud audemus ad præſens perſvadere, ne ſi forte res in contrarium ceſſerit, quod Deus avertat, omnem culpam in me quaſi auctorem refundatis.

CCCXXVII.

Domino E. Babenbergenſi Præpoſito, Decano quoque E. & cæteris confratribus ejusdem eccleſiæ Wurtzeburgenſis eccleſia quicquid caritatis & obſequii valet eſſe in Domino. Noſtis dilectiſſimi neque etenim ignorare poteſt veſtra prudentia, quod multorum aures & præcordia longe lateque concuſſit, videlicet quanta tempeſtatis procella, quam vehemens & intolerabilis calamitas eccleſiam noſtram oppreſſit. Ad quod dum veſtræ compaſſionis affectum ſpecialiter deberemus habere, quod etiam remotiſſimæ & ignotæ eccleſiæ nobis pro Chriſto offertur, nimis aliena mente nobis videmini abnegare. Ecce enim quod ſine gravi gemitu mirari vel conqueri non valemus, obſtupeſcimus valde, quomodo hominem illum Dominum Gebhardum, quem Romana eccleſia damnavit, quem metropolitanus noſter cum Archi-Epiſcopis & Epiſcopis multis conſequenter ab eccleſia ſequeſtravit, vos in catholica communione recepiſtis, & ſi cum gratia veſtra dici poteſt, quaſi ad contemptum Romanæ imo totius eccleſiæ ſicut ſcriptum eſt: convivia peccatori dediſtis. Hæc autem eo magis miramur, quod Præpoſitus veſter Dominus E. præſens apud nos erat, quando Dominus - - - publice in pulpito noſtro nuntiavit clero & populo, quomodo, quibus de cauſis, quove ordine, Romana eccleſia eum a communicatione eccleſiæ ſequeſtraſſet, & quando poſtmodum Dominus Gerardus Cardinalis una cum ipſo & cum tota eccleſia ibidem congregata, in Argentinenſi eccleſia, præſente Domino rege, ſententiam excommunicationis in eum promulgaſſet. Neque igitur per Dei gratiam ita inopes rationis & humanitatis ſumus, ut cuiquam veſtrum, qui ſane ſapiat, in præſenti negotio nimis præcipites videri debeamus, cum utique ſi partes ejusdem negotii per omnia eſſent vobis cognitæ, quantum de veſtra caritate & prudentia confidimus, nullatenus de vobis poſſemus dubitare. Noſtras itaq; litteras querimonias jam dudum vobis miſiſſemus, ſed quoniam unam vocem Præpoſiti veſtri teſtem noſtræ afflictionis vobis credebamus ſufficere, idcirco nihil timoris, nihil ambiguitatis de vobis concepimus, verumtamen utcunque humana ſe habeant, fixi & conſtantes in obedientia Romanæ eccleſiæ reperiemur, ſummopere caventes, ne propter temporale damnum vel commodum, de nobis ſcandalum eccleſiæ generetur. Valete in Domino ſemper, nec credatis omni Spiritui & noſtri memores eſtote.

CCCXXVIII.

Sanctæ Wurtzeburgenſis eccleſiæ Dominis ac fratribus ſuis chariſſimis ac reverentiſſimis ſoror ſua ſemper & utique ipſis devota. Babenbergenſis eccleſia inter adverſa præſentis tribulationis, nec ad dexteram nec ad ſiniſtram declinare, ſed ab inſtantis ſæviſſimæ temptationis procella, ad veſtræ ſerenitatis ac portum tranquillitatis non verbo & lingua tantum, ſed opere & veritate, a Deo ſalutari ſuo inſtanter ac vigilanter implorare. Optamus diligenter recolere diſcretionis veſtræ prudentiam, qualiter noſtra & veſtra eccleſia jam olim ab initio unum cor & unam animam ad invicem, omnibus in rebus ſive proſperis congaudendo, ſeu adverſis conpaciendo, habere ſtuduerint: Cujus videlicet ſemper amandæ nobis ſocietatis atque ut ita dictum ſit, congermanitatis jura & vos hactenus illibata erga nos conſervaſſe congratulamur, nec nos violaſſe, teſte Deo & conſcientia, libera voce proteſtamur. Quæ cum ita ſint, cumque nos ſemper usque modo, ſicut decebat & facultas ſuggerebat, ad omnia veſtræ voluntatis & honoris obſequia promptos ac devotos fuiſſe probaveritis, non modicum admirationis, imo etiam amaritudinis & doloris ingeſſerunt nobis litteræ quædam, quæ ex perſona veſtræ fraternitatis allatæ, præter meritum & culpam magnæ cujusdam inhumanitatis nos arguunt, ſimul & temeritatis ſuperbæ. Inhumanitatis quidem nota ſplendorem innocentiæ noſtræ obfuſcant, dum compaſſionis affectum ſpecialiter vobis debitum, quem etiam remotiſſimæ & ignotæ eccleſiæ vobis pro Chriſto offerant, nos quaſi duros & inhumanos nimis aliena mente veſtræ inſtanti calamitati denegare inproperant. Temeritatis vero ſuperbiam, dum nos quaſi ad contemptum Romanæ, imo totius eccleſiæ, Dominum G. excommunicatum in catholica communione recepiſſe, ſicque convivia peccatori dediſſe proclamitant. Quaſi vero ita ob omni ratione ſimus alieni, adeo omnium bonarum rerum inſcii, ut ignorare debeamus, quis, a quo, & quo ordine a catholica communione ejiciendus ſit. Quia ergo incautæ & illicitæ communionis quaſi ad opprobrium ſimplicitatis noſtræ in eisdem litteris veſtris arguimur, culpam noſtram, ſi tamen culpa eſt dicenda, auribus veſtræ prudentiæ placuit retexere. Dominus G. quem quidem locum & nomen dudum inter nos habuiſſe deſignati & electi Epiſcopi a quam plurimis audieramus, reprobationem vero ipſius nec dum certa & legitima relatione cognoveramus, veſpertina hora de inproviſo nobis neſcientibus veniens apud nos hoſpitatus eſt. Mane autem facto, mandavit nobis pro cauſa ſua velle nos convenire, & conſilium noſtrum ſuper negotio ſuo audire. Quod nec hæretico quidem excommunicatiſſimo denegandum eſſe cenſentes, juſta petenti annuimus. Venit, cauſam ſuam expoſuit, acceptoque reſponſo, mox diceſſit. Quid igitur dilectiſſimi fratres & Domini? Hoccine eſt ad contemptum totius eccleſiæ excommunicatum in catholica communione recipere? Hoccine, inquam, eſt, convivia peccatori dare? Non ſic arbitramur quemquam deſipere, ut hoc præſumat ſapere, quoniam niam non ſic ſapiunt, non ſic ſcribunt patres & doctores catholicæ eccleſiæ. Poſſemus equidem latius & ſubtilius aliquid de modo & ordine excommunicationis faciendæ ſecundum traditionem ſanctorum patrum differere, niſi pro vitio duci ſciremus, in re manifeſta, præſertim apud doctos odioſa verborum copia diffluere. Unde prætermiſſis his, quæ fomitem odiorum & diſcordiarum generare ſolent, ea potius dicamus quæ pacis & concordiæ nutrimenta præbeant. Igitur de nobis ſic habetote. Orta tempeſtate in mari Dominum dormientem in navi, fuſis pro nobis quod ſolum, piis precibus, poſſumus, excitare indeſinenter incumbimus. Quod ſi Domino annuente votis noſtris & ventis & mari imperante, diu deſiderata tranquillitas ſubſecuta fuerit, de veſtra liberatione haud ſecus ac noſtra congaudebimus. Sin aliter quod Deus avertat, viſcera fraternæ compaſſionis nequaquam occludemus. Hoc decet fratres de ſe invicem arbitrari, & non ex rumoribus vulgi ſive ex ſuſpicionibus de nondum bene compertis quemquam calumniari, ſed omnia præſertim in negotiis fratrum & amicorum in meliorem partem interpretari. Quid plura? nobis & noſtris ſine retractatione prout voletis, juxta meritum veſtrum utemini.

CCCXXIX.

H. ſanctiſſimo & univerſali Papæ A. Dei gratia ſanctæ Moguntinæ eccleſiæ humilis miniſter & apoſtolicæ ſedis legatus, debitam, ut tanto Apoſtolico, obedientiam, & devotiſſimam, ut tanto patri, reverentiam. Acceptis ſanctitatis veſtræ literis ſuper cauſa fratris illius, ſi tamen frater dici debet, qui ſanctæ Wurtzeburgenſis eccleſiæ epiſcopatum uſurpat, intelleximus totius cauſæ ordinem longe aliter, quam ſe veritas habet, ſummo apoſtolatui veſtro innotuiſſe, quoniam multa ſolent per ſurreptionem fieri. Idem namque ſanctitati veſtræ contra nos querelas depoſuit, dicens, ſe a nobis præjudicium ſuſtinere, & contra juſtitiam prægravari. Nos vero in hac cauſa, Deo teſte & conſcientia noſtra, nihil egimus, quod canonicis regulis poſſit obviare, nihil unde ſanctitati veſtræ ſuſpecti eſſe debeamus, nihil unde aliquis qui cauſam ipſam plenius tractaverit, poſſit nos reprehendere; ſed quicquid in hac cauſa egimus, non zelo amaritudinis, ſed zelo juſtitiæ; non aliquo odio permoti, ſed officii noſtri intuitu; non contra ſanctorum patrum canones, ſed ſecundum canones egimus. Scimus quidem, juxta ſanctorum patrum regulas divinitus inſpiratas Epiſcopo epiſcopatum non adimi debere, antequam cauſæ ejus exitus appareat. Sed optime novit ſanctiſſimus apoſtolatus veſter hanc ſanctorum patrum ſententiam de dubiis epiſcoporum cauſis, non de manifeſtis debere intelligi. Ejus vero, quo de agitur, impudentiſſima cauſa, & certum crimen nullum legitimæ defenſionis, nullum juſtæ excuſationis colorem recipit. Luce igitur clarius patet omnibus, quod nullis meritorum privilegiis, nulla præeunte electione ad tanti ſacerdotii gradum eſt aſſecutus, ſed tyrannica violentia intruſus in ovile Domini, cum non per oſtium intravit, ſed aliunde, per ambitionem & ſymoniacam hæreſim, tanquam fur & latro impudentiſſime irrupit, & quod ſine magno dolore & cordis compunctione dicere non poſſumus, locum legitimi paſtoris ſibi uſurpavit, quem ſibi ſancta Wurtzeburgenſis eccleſia de filiis ſuis communi voto & conſenſu cleri & plebis nobisque laudantibus & conſentientibus canonice intronizandum elegerat, utpote natalibus & moribus nobilem, eccleſiaſtica diſciplina adprime eruditum, fide catholicum, natura prudentem, vita caſtum, ſobrium, humilem, affabilem, litteratum, in lege Dei inſtructum, in ſenſibus ſcripturarum cautum, & per omnia ſacerdotali nomine & honore digniſſimum.

CCCXXX.

H. ſervus ſervorum Dei A. venerabili fratri Moguntino Archi-Epiſcopo, & Apoſtolicæ ſedis legato ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Scimus quidem zelum Dei vos habere, quem tamen ſalva caritate condire debetis, ut nihil indiſcrete, ſed omnia rationabiliter & ſecundum Deum agere valeatis. Wurtzeburgenſis quippe eccleſiæ deſignatus Epiſcopus, ſe a vobis contra juſtitiam gravari & præjudicium ſuſtinere querelas nobis depoſuit, quod ipſum neque accuſatoribus neque teſtibus legitimis convictum, neque ſponte confeſſum, neque canonice examinatum, tanquam eccleſiæ invaſorem, in qua ſe electum aſſeverat, & ſymoniacum pronuntiatum, communione eccleſiaſtica privaveritis. Quod ſi ita eſt, fraternitatem veſtram a canonicis regulis divinitus inſpiratis, liquido conſtat deviaſſe. Ait igitur ſacer canonum auctoritas adimi Epiſcopo Epiſcopatum non debere, antequam cauſæ ejus exitus appareat. Item ex epiſtola Felicis Papæ, ſcripta Anaſtaſio & cæteris Epiſcopis in Alexandrina Synodo congregatis: De judiciis Epiſcoporum, unde nos conſuluiſtis, diverſas a patribus regulas invenimus conſtitutas. Quidam igitur ad repellenda impetitorum machinamenta & ſuas præparandas reſponſiones & teſtes confirmandos & concilia Epiſcoporum quærenda, annum & 6. menſes mandaverunt concedi: Quidam autem annum, in quo plurimi concordant. Minus vero quam 6. menſes non reperi, quoniam hæc laicis indulta ſunt, quanto magis ſacerdotibus? Induciæ namque non ſub anguſto tempore, ſed ſub longo ſpatio concedendæ ſunt, ut accuſati ſe præparare atque contra inſidiatores pleniter ſe munire valeant. Judices autem & accuſatores tales eſſe debent, qui omni careant ſuſpicione & ex caritatis radice ſuam deſiderent ſententiam promere.

ecclesia variis schismatum scandalis jam diu perturbatur, regnum Theutonicum in se ipso divisum est, & imo necesse est, ut juxta dominicam vocem cito desoletur, nisi ipsius præveniente gratia bonorum virorum consilio & auxilio confulciatur. Nos itaque licet indigni sanctæ sedis apostolicæ fungentes legatione, ad hoc venimus, ut si fieri potest inter regnum & sacerdotium pacem & concordiam Domino cooperante faciamus, & membra imperii a se invicem divisa in corporis unitatem congregemus. Vobis igitur omnibus Galliarum Archiepiscopis, Abbatibus, monachis, clericis, præcipue in sacris scripturis eruditis & omnibus principibus in verbo Domini ex auctoritate sancti Petri, & ejus vicarii significamus ac præcipimus, ut quicunque adesse possitis ad sanctum & universale Concilium in natalem Sanctæ Mariæ Moguntiæ celebrandum occurratis, quatenus ibi de pace & concordia inter regnum & sacerdotium & de statu ecclesiæ, quæ Deo placita sunt, communi consilio tractare valeamus. In Domino igitur confidimus, quod ipsius gratia nobis in ejus nomine congregatis non deerit, qui in evangelio ubi duo vel tres congregati in ejus nomine fuerint, in medio eorum futurum se esse promisit.

H. gloriosissimo Imperatori H. Dei gratia Ostiensis Episcopus & Apostolicæ sedis legatus, devotum servitium. Religiosi viri, nuntii videlicet magnitudinis vestræ, Apostolicam sedem nuper adverterunt, dicentes pacis & concordiæ inter regnum & sacerdotium jam tandem excellentiæ vestræ consilium placuisse, si tamen salva majestate imperii & absque diminutione regni fieri potuisset. Quibus auditis Dominus Apostolicus gaudio repletus est, & gratias egit Deo, qui vobis tale consilium inspiravit. Nostræ etiam humilitati hanc injunxit obedientiam, ut in has partes veniremus, & pacis & concordiæ inter vos & ipsum mediatores essemus, salva tamen justitia & ita ut nullum majus scandalum ecclesiæ inde proveniret. Rogamus igitur excellentiam vestram, ut in Concilio Episcoporum Moguntiæ celebrando in natalem Sanctæ Mariæ vestram dignemini exhibere præsentiam. Illud autem scitote, nihil ibi contra vos, sed pro vobis omnia, salva tamen justitia nos agere velle, neque id intendere, ut honor imperii vestri aliquod detrimentum patiatur, sed per omnia augeatur.

CCCXXXIII.

A. Dei gratia Sanctæ Moguntinæ ecclesiæ licet indignus & humilis minister O. dilecto & venerabili fratri suo Babenbergensi Episcopo fraternam in Domino dilectionem & orationes. Fraternitatem vestram coram Deo & hominibus hactenus laudabiliter vixisse, & contra hæreticos tempore hujus schismatis plurimum desudasse pro ecclesia nulli pene dubium est. Quando igitur zelum vestrum erga Deum & ecclesiam ferventiorem dudum esse cognovimus, tanto magis nunc miramur, quod tamen salva fraterna caritate dicimus, vos Deo & ecclesiæ minus devotum existere, & quodammodo refrixisse, cum jam magnum ostium nobis apertum sit, recuperandæ unitatis ecclesiæ, cum jam bonum certamen nostrum Domino cooperante pervenerit ad finem, & nunc quam maxime vobis & omnibus orthodoxis summopere satagendum sit, ut quod dudum a nobis est bene inchoatum, votivum in Dei nomine sortiatur effectum. Dilectioni vestræ pridem significaveramus, ut sanctæ Apostolicæ sedis legato & fratribus nostris coëpiscopis, ac cæteris catholicis principibus in loco, qui dicitur N. occurrere velletis, & Würtzeburgensis Episcopi una vobiscum interesse ordinationi, ad quam utique prompto & alacri animo etiam non rogatus venire debueratis, non solum quoniam coëpiscopus, sed etiam quoniam concivis vester est, & jure propinquitatis ipsum quodammodo familiarius & specialius diligere deberetis. Sed quoniam venire neglexistis, Dominus Cardinalis usque ad satisfactionem a divino officio cæteris consentientibus vos suspendere voluit. Nos autem pro singulari amore & reverentie vestri, nequid durius contra vos definiri deberet, vix obtinuimus. Nunc itaque fraternitatem vestram rogamus, & ex auctoritate Domini Papæ & apostolicæ sedis legati & nostra præcipimus, ut universali Concilio in natali Sanctæ Mariæ Moguntiæ celebrando omni amputata occasione vestram exhibeatis præsentiam, ut ibi & Domini Papæ legationem cognoscatis & de statu ecclesiæ una nobiscum in commune consulatis. Si qui vero Episcoporum huic sancto Concilio interesse neglexerint, sciant se ex auctoritate Domini Papæ & apostolicæ sedis legati & totius Concilii Synodali sententia, qua hujusmodi præsumptores feriendi sunt, omnibus modis subjacere.

O. Domino suo venerabili Sanctæ Babenbergensis ecclesiæ Pontifici N. per Dei misericordiam Halverstatensis ecclesiæ si quid est, quotidianum laudabilis vitæ incrementum. Si rerum vestrarum status prosperitate fruitur, si condigne morum & vitæ compositioni concordat, vobis, ut decet, congaudemus; si non condolemus, quoniam id ipsum de fidelitatis vestræ excellentia speramus, imo certum habemus. Si ergo rerum nostrarum statum scire cupitis, ut amico sic maxime confidimus, cui fluctuantis navis nostræ anchoram ingruente tempestate infigimus, ut amico, inquam, quem post Dominum unicum ac certissimum imbecillitatis nostræ sustentaculum esse, non diffidimus, dilectioni vestræ intimamus. De proxima ista, quam nostis expeditione, in qua ob honorem, regni & ecclesiæ diligentius cæteris laboravimus reversi, domi, ubi pacem & concordiam, ubi tranquillitatem & recreationem, invenire debuimus, odium & discordiam, scismata & intestina bella, peccato heu nostro exigente invenimus. Adversarii enim nostri N. & N. ecclesiæ nostræ canonici, qui & prius nobis bis adverſabantur, quibusdam ſolitæ fraudis induſtria collectis, inter quos N. nominatiſſimus, & quaſi primicerius eſt, in nos inſurrexerunt, cleroque convocato lacrimabilia & inaudita crimina, quæ Deo teſte, nunquam commiſimus, in faciem nobis objecerunt, inter quæ electionem noſtram aſſerunt eſſe irritam. Inſuper quoque & Symoniam neſcimus, quam N. nobis imponit, quam ſe canonica auctoritate ſtatuto tempore probaturum aſſerit. Nos ergo tanta tamque inaudita infamatione perculſi, Moguntinæ ſedis Archiepiſcopo rem omnem aperuimus ſcriptis, hujusque rei conſilium & auxilium quæſivimus. Qui literis ad eccleſiam noſtram directis, omnimodis nos excuſavit, electionemque noſtram juſtam & canonicam fuiſſe comprobans, criminatores noſtros reconciliari nobis condigna ſatisfactione præcepit. Illi vero obſtinationi ſuæ juſſa Archiepiſcopi poſtponentes, nec non & Magdeburgenſis Archiepiſcopi, qui ad ſedandam hanc motionem regio juſſu advenit, monita ſpernentes, adhuc in conſpirationis ſuæ vecordia perſiſtunt. Quapropter aram miſericordiæ veſtræ amplectentes, ad vos confugimus, debitumque clementiæ veſtræ auxilium humiliter imploramus. Quicquid igitur alii faciant, veſtrum eſt, ex gemino caritatis vinculo nobis aſſiſtere, labentesque brachio virtutis veſtræ ſuſtentare. Proin rogamus, quatinus literas veſtras ad Metropolitanum dirigatis, & ut in cauſa noſtra diligens eſſe velit cauſa veſtri efflagitetis. Rogamus quoque, ut ubicunque concilium pro hujus rei diſcuſſione convocetur, vos adeſſe velitis.

Sanctæ venerationi veſtræ explicaturus injurias, quibus fraudulenter circumventus ſum, ab his, quos fideles mihi ſperabam, quoniam multis beneficiis promerueram, genibus veſtris quaſi provolutus rogo, ut tum pro reſpectu juſtitiæ, tum pro remuneratione divinæ clementiæ attendere curetis, & compaſſionis gratiam mihi non denegetis. Faſtidium etiam non generet vobis prolixitas ſermonis, quoniam multa cauſæ meæ neceſſaria ſilentio præterii, ne ſuccinctæ brevitatis metam longe excederem. In Franciam ſtudii cauſa veneram, quo ſecuti ſunt me quidam, qui dicebant, ſe juſſu Spirenſis Epiſcopi Brunonis veniſſe, ex cujus legatione mihi referebant, Herbipolenſem Epiſcopum univerſæ carnis viam adiiſſe, & eum & Archiepiſcopum Moguntinum cum cognatis & amicis meis & cum quibusdam de familia ejusdem eccleſiæ apud Imperatorem obtinuiſſe, ut in locum defuncti Epiſcopi me vellet ſubſtituere. Ego autem, ut Deus novit, non tale meditans, ſed aliquamdiu in ſtudio morari deſiderans, verba eorum parvi pendi, donec victus ſecretis amicorum meorum legationibus & magiſtrorum meorum ſuggeſtionibus redii. Veni ad locum quendam mei juris, ubi complures cognati & fideles mei mihi occurrerunt, qui ut ad prædictum locum Herbipolim Imperatori occurrerem, Deus novit, non ſine lacrimis contradicentem compulerunt, promittentes nuntios Archiepiſcopi illo venturos, qui de conſenſu ejus ad recipiendum Epiſcopatum me certificarent. Ivi, Imperatorem ibi inveni. Sed antequam ejus præſentiæ præſentarer, Archiepiſcopi nuntios audire & videre volui, quos cum primum non inveniſſem, teſte Deo, quem nullum latet ſecretum, gaviſus ſum, quoniam malui importabile mihi onus aliqua honeſta occaſione ſubterfugere, quam ſuſcepto oneri ſuccumbere. Cum ſic per biduum expectaſſem, & interim multa a principibus & cognatis meis convitia propter puſillanimitatem meam audiviſſem, venit Comes Bertholdus, & Cuonradus Sporo, juramentis comprobare volentes, Archiepiſcopum conſenſum ſuum per eos mihi mandaſſe. Tandem per hos victus, ad præſentiam Imperatoris veni, fratrem Archiepiſcopi Sigbertum, & Comitem Arnoldum ibi inveni, qui ſe ex legatione Archiepiſcopi illo miſſos affirmabant, & ejus aſſenſum publica voce mihi deferebant. Tot igitur cauſis in idem confluentibus acquievi, & onus, quod peccatis meis exigentibus miſerabiliter me attrivit, clero & populo adſtante & me eligente, & canoras laudes Deo dicente ſuſcepi. Solus autem Præpoſitus Otto electioni meæ defuit, & Rudgerus, qui, ut mihi referebatur, etiam vivente anteceſſore meo pro eodem epiſcopatu ambitioſe laboraverat. Veni ſtatim cum Imperatore, comitatus clero & populo, Breidingen, ubi Archiepiſcopus de manu Imperatoris me recepit, & benigne mihi conſecrationis gratiam multis fidelibus noſtris audientibus & præſente fratre ipſius Spirenſe Epiſcopo & legationi pro me factæ teſtimonium perhibente, promiſit. Redii de ordinatione ſecurus, & cum nil mali ſuſpicarer, grave præjudicium Dominus Archiepiſcopus mihi fecit, quoniam alterum mihi ſuperordinavit, me & eccleſia mea diem & locum audientiæ poſtulante, ut ibi canonico judicio vel deponerer vel remanerem. Quibus petitionibus cum nihil proficerem, querimonias noſtras Apoſtolicæ ſedis venerando pontifici Calixto & Romanæ eccleſiæ tranſmiſimus, de cujus latere cum ad hanc cauſam diſcutiendam miſſus fuiſſet Prænestinus Epiſcopus, ego aſſumptis mecum eccleſiæ noſtræ omnibus Prioribus, clericis, Abbatibus & laicis Wormatiam veni, ubi ſperabam eum invenire. Quem cum non inveniſſem, eccleſia, quæ mecum venerat, coram principibus Archiepiſcopo me præſentavit, & ut pro reſpectu juſtitiæ mihi per omnia ei obedienti conſecrationis debitum non denegaret, ſubnixe poſtulavit. Archiepiſcopus, audito omnium eorum conſenſu, promiſit, communicato cum Cardinali conſilio ſe ſuper his reſponſurum, præcipiens ut paucis mecum relictis, alii remearent, & legationem ejus expectarent. Poſtquam itaque venit Epiſcopus Cardinalis, congregati ſunt ad audientiam Imperatoris pro cauſa mea tractanda, ipſe Archiepiſcopus Moguntinus, Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, Arnoldus Spirenſis, Goteboldus Trajectenſis, Gothefridus Trevirenſis Archiepiſcopus, Conradus Tullenſis, Bruno Argentinenſis, Bertholdus Baſilienſis, & alii fideles Imperatoris, quibus diu ventilato conſilio placuit, ut Dominus Cardinalis locum & eccleſiam noſtram viſitaret, concordiam eccleſiæ ſuper electione mea inveſtigaret, quam ſi inveniret, ab eo promoverer ad Presbiterii Ordinem, ſtatim conſecuturus a Domino Archiepiſcopo epiſcopalem benedictionem. Quia itaque Dominus Archiepiſcopus hoc fieri conſenſit & juſſit, venit Dominus Cardinalis in locum noſtrum, & congregati ſunt univerſus clerus & populus, majores & minores, Abbates & complures eccleſiæ veſtræ viri religioſi, & quoniam me abſente inventi ſunt in electione mea concordes, gratias Deo egit, & ad ordinem Presbiterii me promovit, & canonicæ electioni meæ tam in Romana eccleſia, quam in conſpectu Archiepiſcopi teſtimonium perhibuit, ſicut vidit & audivit & adhuc perhibet. Dum hæc & multa alia circa cauſam meam agerentur, adverſarius meus mihi ſuperordinatus, qui Romam iverat, & cauſam ſuam donis & promiſſionibus ibi palliaverat, factus eſt de medio. Iterum Archiepiſcopum adii, ipſius conſilio, Concilio, quod in Moguntina eccleſia tunc temporis habuit, me una cum Eiſtetenſi Electo præſentavi, petens miſericordiam vel juſtitiam, & omnem obedientiam me ei & Moguntinæ eccleſiæ ſemper exhibuiſſe ipſius teſtimonio in ſynodo comprobavi. Omnium igitur ſuffragiis pro me pulſantibus me de epiſcopali conſecratione certum fecit, & diem conſecrationis & locum mihi conſtituit, ad quem veni & nihil profeci. Iterum protraxit me promiſſionibus, & Præpoſitum & alios, qui me offenderant, laborantes pro depoſitione mea mihi reconciliavit. Præpoſitus mecum rediens homo meus effectus eſt, & ut ſecurior de fidelitate ejus exiſterem, quaſi ſub ſacramentis atteſtatione dexteram ſuam mihi dedit, & tres cognatos ſuos juramento de fidelitate ſua me ſecurum facere præcepit. Tot itaque acceptis ſecuritatibus ultro oblatis de fidelitate ejus, ſecurus ad proprietates meas paulisper ibi moraturus rediens, vicem meam ei per omnia credidi, & inter ipſa Dominici corporis ſacramenta, oſculo Judæ ab eo accepto receſſi. Dum itaque ſperabam ab eo fidelitatis antidotum, propinavit mihi perfidiæ achonitum, quoniam, dum aberam, cum ſuis complicibus univerſam civitatem donis, promiſſionibus, minis & verberibus ad conjurationem contra me excitavit, & ſic, qui nihil minus ſuſpicabar, a civitate & violenter & contumelioſe ſum excluſus. Dum itaque ſuper hac excluſione tam inopinata tam inmerita dolerem, placuit amicis meis, perfidos illos digna ultione ferire & bonis eorum aliquantulum forinſecus diſſipatis, ipſam civitatem armis parabant occupare. Ego vero nolens vinci a malo, ſed vincere volens malum in bono, vindictam diſtuli, amicos meos, quamvis graviter offenſos, compeſcui, & illatam mihi injuriam per nuntios meos ad regem detuli Rex itaque cognita cauſa mea Argentinam me vocabat. Veni & aſpectu ſuo me debita devotione præſentavi. Ipſe vero me benigne ſuſcipiens, & querimoniæ meæ clementer adtendens, juſſit ut omnis cauſa mea a principibus, qui tum aderant, audiretur, & eorum judicio canonice terminaretur. Factum eſt igitur, ut tam ego, quam adverſarii mei quorum magna pars ibi aderat, libere admitteremur audientiæ, & utrinque cognita cauſa, ſic Deo gratias oratio mea invaluit, ut veritas, quæ ſemper iniquitati dominatur, adverſariorum figmenta oppreſſerit. Aderat autem ibi Gerardus Romanus Cardinalis, Moguntinus Archiepiſcopus, Adalbero Bremenſis Archiepiſcopus, Norpertus Magdeburgenſis Archiepiſcopus, Sigewardus Mindenſis, Theodericus Monaſterienſis, Diethardus Osneburgenſis, Otto Halberſtadienſis, Megingotus Merſeburgenſis, qui & hujus rei judices ſunt, & Romanæ vel Moguntinæ ſedi nunquam inobedientem me extitiſſe, ex cognita cauſa mea, & ex ipſius Moguntini Archiepiſcopi teſtimonio cognoverunt. Dum vero per diverſa conſilia finis cauſæ meæ quæritur, ab ipſo Moguntino Archiepiſcopo hoc conſilium mihi tribuitur, ut omni remota occaſione Romam procedam, & ex ipſius nutu apoſtolici & gratia finem negotii mei efficiam. Accepta igitur prædictorum principum benedictione & licentia ad mea remeabam, ibique de novo non paucos amicorum meorum valida militum manu contra civitatem aciem direxiſſe, inveniebam. Quid ergo? hinc Ultrici ira in perfidos illos provocabar, hinc timore Dei revocabar. Quo & victus, placatis amicis meis ceſſi clementiæ, a Domino expectans locum, & tempus vindictæ. Cives autem mei tanta ſe violentia circumventos aſpicientes, ſuumque exitium, quod ego non parabam, arbitrantes, quæ pacis erant, poſcebant, deditionem parabant, & datis obſidibus infra XIV. dies gratiam meam ſe adepturos promittebant. Acceptis denique obſidibus eorum, pacem dedi & firmavi, & eosdem obſides urbis præfecto B. in fide ſua ſervandos commiſi. His itaque transactis, ecce in pace vivimus, & pro condicto Archiepiſcopi conſilio & pro obtinenda Romanæ ſedis gratia, iter Romam, meis quamvis adhuc privatus poſſeſſionibus, maturabam, quoniam & hoc ipſum meis placere fidelibus ſentiebam. Et dum in hujus itineris negotio ſum occupatus, nil minus ſuſpicantem rex & Epiſcopus me ſequuntur, civitatem me ignaro, ingrediuntur, & quæcunque poterant, adverſum me ſeditioſe moliuntur. His malis acceſſit, ut Archiepiſcopus neſcio quo excommunicationis vinculo me publicaret illaqueatum, cum hoc intueri debuiſſet, quod ante dies XIV. nunquam me ſibi inobedientem extitiſſe coram principibus præbuerit teſtimonium. Inſuper Ottonem Præpoſitum ex deſiderio promiſſæ ſibi pecuniæ Epiſcopum inibi ſublimare contendit. dormitio, fuit conflictatus in gravissima infirmitate, ita ut desperarent de vita ejus. Et ecce quadam die, cum ipse in lectulo suo jacuisset, et in lecto pectoris sui dormisset, Virginem Dei Hildegardem vidit, quae ad eum venit, et manum suam super pectus ejus posuit, et ipsum sic sanitati restituit, ut ab illa hora nullum ulterius infirmitatis sentiret incommodum. Ipse autem Dei famulae Hildegardi devotissimus fuit, et ejus consilio in omnibus adhaesit. Ipsa quoque, dum ad Dominum migraret, ipsum ad se vocavit, et ei de his quae videnda erant, aperuit, et ipse ea, ut ipsa praedixerat, scripsit. Et ecclesiam, in qua ipsa requiescit, dedicavit. Praesul quoque, et omnes qui ei in regimine ecclesiae successerunt, ejus amici et familiares fuerunt, et ejus filiabus, quoties in partibus illis erant, semper consolationem et auxilium praebuerunt. Et ipsae ei ingenua, sicut mos et decor matronarum est, reverentiae exhibitione non cessant in omnibus honorare.

Anno Dominicae incarnationis MCLXXIII. Indictione XIII. Epacta XXVIII. Concurrente II. Luna XXIII. Hildegardis Virgo Dei, quae in Monte S. Rupertis Ecclesiam construxerat, ad Dominum migravit, et in ipsa ecclesia sepulta est. Quae cum adhuc viveret, et in corpore moraretur, Deum timens, et ejus praecepta custodiens, multa mirabilia fecit, et multa ei revelata sunt, quae ipsa, ut ei praedictum fuerat, scripsit, et in libris suis posuit. Quae, ut ipsa praedixerat, ita et facta sunt. Et ecce, quoniam mirabilia, quae in ea Deus operatus est, omnia scribere nimis longum est, ea quae ipsa de se ipsa scripsit, et quae ab aliis de ea scripta sunt, ad memoriam reducere, et Anacletus Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei venerabilibus fratribus, Archi-Epiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Abbatibus, Præpoſitis, & reliquis tam clericis, quam laicis, per Alamanniam & Saxoniam conſtitutis, ſalutem & apoſtolicam benedictionem. Ex auctoritate beati Pauli Apoſtoli didicimus, & in nobis ipſis nuper experti ſumus, quoniam vere inſcrutabilia ſunt judicia Dei & inveſtigabiles viæ ejus. Obeunte ſiquidem deceſſore meo Papa H. fratres noſtri Cardinales paſtoris ſolatio deſtitui, mira & ſtupenda cleri & populi concordia ad ſummum nos apicem pontificatus elegerunt. Quanta tunc honorificentia, quanto populi concurſu, quantaque cunctorum lætitia ad beati Petri Apoſtolorum principis baſilicam deducti atque in ſacratiſſima ejus cathedra fuerimus poſiti, cognita re, quis poteſt narrare? Veſtram igitur univerſitatem literis præſentibus juſſitantes, monemus in Domino & obſecramus, ut in ea, qua ſemper manſiſtis, dilectione ac fidei conſtantia perſiſtatis, ac pro conſueta & debita Romanæ eccleſiæ reverentia, quæ ad noſtrum & ejusdem eccleſiæ honorem pertinent, operari per Dei gratiam curetis, ſcientes procul dubio quoniam nos veſtris bonæ voluntatis effectibus ingratos minime invenietis. Siquid autem ſiniſtri rumoris acceperitis, non multum miremini; ſolius enim Dei eſt, unire vota, & omnium voluntates, falſum tamen, quicquid præter id, quod diximus, delatum fuerit, habeatis; cum noveritis electionem noſtram hoc ordine celebratam. Ignem ſui amoris in cordibus veſtris conſervet Dominus omnipotens, & æternæ beatitudinis vos faciat cohæredes. Datum Romæ apud ſanctum Petrum, VI. Calend. Martii.

Rogamus, ut pro beati reverentia Petri & dilectione noſtra matrem veſtram Romanam eccleſiam diligere, atque ſecundum datam vobis a Domino poteſtatem honorare in omnibus procuretis. Cæterum quoniam ſerenitas veſtra Domino Papæ Honorii pro fratre noſtro dilectiſſimo Colonienſi Archi-Epiſcopo ſupplicavit, nos fratrum noſtrorum conſilio preces veſtras benigno intuitu audientes, interdictum deceſſoris noſtri ob dilectionis veſtræ gratiam relaxamus, & prædicto fratri noſtro officii ſui plenitudinem reſtituimus. De Halverſtadienſi Epiſcopo breviter reſpondemus, quoniam videlicet ad partes illas de fratribus noſtris aliquem mittere diſpoſuimus, qui legati noſtri Archi-Epiſcopi Moguntini conſilio una vobiscum ea, quæ ad veſtrum & regni honorem pertinent, præſtante Domino, adimplebit. Per eundem quoque fratrem, quem miſerimus fratri noſtro A. Bremenſi Archi-Epiſcopo plenam juſtitiam fieri pro veſtra & totius regni gratia diſpoſuimus, & ſua illi eccleſiæ privilegia confirmare. Quod si quis ex Ecclesiae Romanae ritu quidquam in Codicem hunc intrusum esse putet, is Codicem Barbarigenum cum Codice Vaticano Graeco 1613 conferat. CAPUT III.

Vocabuli Sanctus Sanctorum usus in Codice Barbarigeno. Ecclesiae Constantinopolitanae rit tendit. Hac itaque veritate comperta, cum universitate totius Italicæ ecclesiæ prædictum Innocentium, virum sobrium, prudentem, castum, mansuetum, humilem, omnique morum honestate conditum, pro more ecclesiæ per supradictos venerabiles fratres divinitus consecratum nostrum universalem patrem Papam & Apostolicum indubitanter amplectimur, devote colimus & veneramur. Prædictum vero Petrum vere Leonis rugientis filium quærentem, quem devoret, tanquam non electum, sed contra Deum & S. ecclesiam erectum; non assumptum, sed intrusum; non apostolicum, sed apostaticum; non catholicum, sed hæreticum; non consecratum, sed execratum, divina ei in omnib9 & per omnia contradicente auctoritate, condemnantes abdicamus. Vestræ igitur sanctitatis prudentiam suppliciter exoramus, & vicaria caritate constantiam vestræ fidei velut columnam inmobilem in Domino confortamus, quatenus in fide beati Petri & in obedientia ejus vicarii, dilectissimi patris nostri Innocentii per gratiam Sancti Spiritus electi, sanctæque Romanæ ecclesiæ dilectione firmiter persistatis. Præterea ne vestis Christi inconsutilis a perfidis & infidelibus sortem mittentibus, quod divina avertat clementia, dividatur, & navis Petri fluctibus marinis hinc inde concussa, periclitetur, devotissime suggerimus, ut Dominum Lotharium invictissimum Romanorum regem ad Urbem sine dilatione venire viriliter & instanter exhortari dignemini, & tam vestræ dioceseos fratres & coëpiscopos, quam etiam reliquos vestros conprovinciales, velut alter Petrus, aliquando conversus, in prædicta fide indubitanter confirmetis, quatenus tam per Dominum Regem, quam & per vos pax ecclesiæ reformetur, & Judaicæ perfidiæ hæresis, quæ nuper in eadem ecclesia exorta est, præstante Domino funditus exstirpetur, & contra omnia, quæ se extollunt adversus unitatem & veritatem, vos tanquam murum ferreum pro domo Domini firmiter opponatis. De cetero in vestris sanctissimis orationibus in omnibus nos & per omnia humiliter commendantes, obnixe rogamus, ut hoc, quod ante homines vel ab omnibus dicimur, aut æstimamur, ante Deum vestris suffragantibus nobis meritis esse quandoque mereamur. Orantem pro nobis vestram Sanctitatem divina pietas ad multorum proficuum & ad sanctæ ecclesiæ honorem & utilitatem, incolumem in longum conservare dignetur.

CCCXLVI.

Venerabili Domino N. sanctæ Partenopolitanæ ecclesiæ Deo digno Archi-Episcopo H. Dei gratia Lucensium servus & Episcopus, Spiritum consilii & fortitudinis. De ordine electionis Romani Pontificis, si vobis placuisset a viris religiosis ac me sapientioribus ut vobis notificaretur, expetere non erat incongruum. Sed quoniam vobis ut patri & Domino meo non satisfacere non debeo, de multis pauca perstringam. Conventientibus Cardinalibus in ecclesia S. Andreæ Apostoli statutum est ab eis, octo personis, duobus Episcopis, G. Prænestino, & C. Sabinensi, tribus Cardinalibus Presbiteris P. Pisano, P. Rufo, & Petro Leonis, tribus Cardinalibus diaconibus, Gregorio scilicet Angeli, Jonate, Americo Cancellario, electionem Pontificis committi, ita ut si committeret Dominum Papam Honorium, qui tunc in articulo mortis positus erat, ab hac vita transire, persona quæ ab eis communiter eligeretur, vel a parte sanioris consilii, ab omnibus pro Domino & Romano Pontifice susciperetur. Prænestinus etiam cum cæteris decrevit, ut siquis electioni taliter factæ contradiceret, anathemati subjaceret, & si quis alium adtemptaret eligere, factum pro infecto haberetur, nec ipse ulterius in ecclesia locum consequeretur, quod & ipse Petrus Leonis ore proprio confirmavit, adjiciens; non oportere eos dubitare, quod occasione sua in ecclesia scandalum oriretur, quoniam mallet in abyssum submergi, quam propter se scandalum nasci. Deinceps statutum est, ut electores altera die simul convenirent. Cæterum Petrus Leonis cum Jonathan ab eis recedens, ut corvus ille vel submersus vel carnium ingluvie detentus, ad fratres postea redire contempsit, & conventicula seorsum colligens, altare maledictionis erigere satagebat. Quod nisi Dominus Papa Honorius, quem credebant jam mortuum se ad fenestram pupolo ostendisset, cum fratrum & propinquorum ac muneribus & obsequiis conductorum turba ministrorum, præco Antichristi supra, quod dicitur, Deus ante tempus se extulisset. Itaque cum hæc talia præsensissent, ii, quorum corda Deus tetigerat, ecclesiæ periculum expavescentes, & tempestatis procellas jam intumescentes, cum Papa Honorius in VI. fr. de initio quadragesimæ ad patres suos appositus esset, celebratis exequiis pro necessitate loci & temporis, non tamen ex more sicut oportebat, cum calamitatis tempestas instaret, de octo personis ad electionem electis Prænestinus, Sabinensis, B. Rufus, A. Cancellarius, quintum Gregorium Cardinalem Diaconum sancti Angeli invitum & omnibus modis renitentem, cum religiosis viris Episcopis, Cardinalibus Presbiteris, Diaconibus, & Subdiaconibus, in summum Pontificem elegerunt, cum Petro Leonis, qui erat octavus, P. Pisano sexto & Jonatha septimo remanentibus. Quod vero compertum est, ab his, qui dolum in corde conceperunt, ut iniquitatem parerent, nam & ipse Petrus Leonis a longis retro temporibus ad id pervenire, ut avarus & ambitiosus, affectaverat, sicut multis probatur indiciis, tribus generibus munerum nunc hos, nunc illos sibi alliciens, congregatis, quos potuerunt, prohdolor! cum Episcopo Portuensi rubea cappa illum vestierunt. Quod factum multæ sanguinis effusiones, multæ locorum urbis destructiones, terribiles sacrarum imaginum decrustationes; heu facinus! pro stipendio militum suorum sibique obsequentium, consecutæ sunt: quamvis Leo ejusdem Petri Leonis frater, & alter Leo Frangentis-panem, cum utrique striderent dentibus, alter in alterum, ante quam Papa obiisset jurave-pientiæ suæ nomine Confirmatio, quod tantum ad Ecclesiæ Babenbergensis Statum pertinet, ita habet: Ego Henricus servus Dei, gratia Dei Romanorum Imperator Augustus. Notum esse volumus omnibus Christi fidelibus, tam futuris quam præsentibus, quod Ecclesiam S. Salvatoris Babenbergensem, quæ ab antecessoribus nostris, videlicet Karolo, Ludowico, Arnolfo, Ludowico, Conrado, Heinrico, Ottone, Heinrico, Ottone, Heinrico, Conrado, Heinrico, Friderico, Heinrico, Friderico, Heinrico, Friderico ctoriam. Nullus Christianorum ignorat, optime Rex, quod Romana ecclesia Dei institutione & sanctorum patrum imitatione & religiosorum virorum devotione Domina sit non Urbis, sed orbis; & ea consistente cuncta prospere consistunt, eaque deficiente cuncta invalescunt. Et sicut altius excellit, sic ventorum ac tempestatum tyrannidem facilius a se repellit, & quanto rerum mundanarum turbine conquassatur, tanto lucidius purificatur. Beatæ igitur memoriæ Papa H. migrante, & viam universæ terræ ingrediente nos Episcopi & Cardinales G. Cardinalem Diaconum sancti Angeli virum honestum, moribus compositum, Deo Deumque timentibus carum, in summum Pontificem elegimus, in ecclesiam Lateranensem constipatum catervis fidelium deduximus, & in sede summa positum nos & infinita religiosorum turba honoravimus. Post hoc in Pallatium ascendimus, & quæ ex more geri solent, complevimus, & omnia insignia pontificalia H. Papæ, Calixti Papæ, Paschalis Papæ suorumque prædecessorum ei tribuimus. His vero circa horam tertiam rite peractis, Petrus Leonis hora sexta, qua Judæa Christum crucifixit, & tenebrarum caligo mundum involvit, cum suis conspiratoribus atque consanguineis aliisque manifesto pretio conductis, ecclesiam sancti Martii turribus fratrum propinquam, festinanter adiit, cappam rubeam indecenter induit, fictitiaque pontificatus insignia arripuit. Sequenti autem die ecclesiam beati Petri armis petiit, machinis circumdedit, tecta murosque fregit, homicidiis peractis & nimia humani sanguinis effusione, sic cum improbis, Apostolorum principis intravit januas. Altera autem die armata manu ad Lateranensem ecclesiam perrexit, fumo, igne, sanguine eam violenter invasit, Palatium conscendit, portas confregit, sedes Pontificum conteruit, sacrarium beati Laurentii aperuit, quæ optima sibi visa sunt diripuit, ad propria se recollegit. Posthac palladium, in quo Dominus noster Papa Innocentius cum catholica ecclesia residebat, aggreditur. Verum equitibus & equis plurimis amissis in confusione suæ ignominiæ domum turpiter recessit. Deprædationes vero ecclesiarum & præcipue beati Petri thesaurum, quem Pontifices Romani & sacratissimi Imperatores Deo beatoque Petro dedicaverunt, in lampadibus aureis, calicibus, thuribulis, candelabris, imaginibus, crucibus, gemmis, aliisque vasis pretiosis, necnon & palliis & vestibus sericis auro gemmisque contextis, direptiones, nec non & prædiorum ecclesiasticorum pignorationes, & peregrinorum expoliationes, quantæ sint, qui Romam vel Jerusalem properant, euntes & redeuntes, utique diffamant. Quæ vero alia turpia ipse suique complices gerant, regalibus auribus non sunt referenda. Sed per Dei gratiam infra paterni muri caveas jam latitat: Abbates, Marchiones, Principes aliique Barones in auxilium Catholicæ & Apostolicæ Ecclesiæ properant. Orientales & Occidentales Ecclesiæ prædictum invasorem pari voto parique consensu unoque Spiritu anathemate condemnant; Dominum vero Innocentium Papam, a Catholicis catholice electum, catholice consecratum, sicut universalem Patrem & beati Petri vicarium amplectuntur, venerantur, suisque nuntiis frequentant. Quod igitur super his Celsitudo vestra, o Glorioſissime Rex, agere debeat, regalis providentia Spiritu Sancto succensa provideat. Accingere igitur, & Archiepiscopis & Episcopis, Abbatibus religiosisque viris, nec non & regni Principibus solito more in auxilium Principis Apostolorum properanter occurre: quatenus Ecclesia Dei lætetur, religio Christiana sublimetur, schismaticorum perfidia comprimatur, corona capitis Tui a Rege Cœlesti benedicatur. Quæ vero hîc desunt, venerabilis frater noster G. & Deo dilectus Ravennatis Ecclesiæ Archiepiscopus viva vobis voce clarificabit, quem attentius Serenitati Vestræ commendamus, & ut eum pro reverentia beati Petri & totius Catholicæ Ecclesiæ honorifice tractetis, rogamus.

CCCLIII.

Innocentius Episcopus servus servorum Dei dilecto filio L. illustri & glorioso Romanorum Regi salutem & A. b. Quod excellentia nobilitatis tuæ studiosa & fervens in fidelitate beati Petri semper exstitit & devota, divinæ bonitatis gratia personam tuam honoribus decoravit atque ad defensionem suæ ecclesiæ & statum imperii reformandum ad regni fastidia sublimavit. Prædecessorque noster felicis memoriæ Papa H. quod per te multam utilitatem credidit ecclesiæ profuturam, electionem de te ab Archiepiscopis, Episcopis, ac regni Principibus factam pro unitate ecclesiæ & regni inviolabiliter conservanda auctoritate apostolica confirmavit & pro imperialis dignitatis plenitudine suscipienda per dilectum filium nostrum G. sanctæ Romanæ ecclesiæ presbiterum Cardinalem te ad sedem Apostolicam evocavit. Quo nimirum humanæ conditionis exempto, quod ego dignus non fui, Episcopi & catholici Cardinales me licet invitum & renitentem in Romanum Pontificem unanimiter elegerunt. Quibus, ut ante Deum loquar, nullo ambitionis honore, nulla omnino præsumtione assensum præbens, sed sola tot tantorumque religiosorum virorum, non absque gravi periculo contemnenda, compulsus obedientia, confisus insuper de omnipotentis Dei misericordia injunctum mihi officium ad honorem Dei & ecclesiæ Romanæ suscepi. Postmodo vero Petrus Leonis qui Papatum a longis retro temporibus affectaverat, parentum violentia, sanguinis effusione, decrustatione sanctarum imaginum beati P. cathedram occupavit. Et peregrinos ac religiosos quosque ad Apostolorum limina devotionis causa venientes, captos & tetris carcerum squaloribus ac ferreis vinculis mancipatos, fame, siti, diversisque tormentorum generibus cruciare non desinit. Sanguinem quoque nostrum & eorum, qui nobiscum sunt,

Sed fallendo nobis quoque gratia, quibus, quamvis, ut audiendi gratificandique vim habeat, non tamen ut ad fallendum valeat, ullo modo concedimus. Quamobrem, quoniam, quæ nostra sententia sit, ex ipsa, quam scripsimus, epistola cognoscere potuisti, ea, quæ ad Cæsarem de Britannia scripsisti, ut primum ad nos pervenerunt, Cæsari ipsi tradidimus, eumque, ut ea, quæ ad nos de illa re scripsisset, ad te perferremus, rogavimus. Quod quidem ille, ut nobis pollicitus est, libenter fecisse videtur. Nam, ut ad nos litteræ ejus pervenerunt, statim ad te perferendas dedimus. Quæ quidem, quoniam, ut ipse scribis, ad te pervenerunt, lætamur. Quæ vero ad nos de Britannia scripsisti, ea, quoniam ipse ad te non venimus, ad Cæsarem misimus, ut, quæ ille de Britannia scripsisset, ea tu ab illo, non a nobis, petere posses

Hæc omnia quæ supra scripta sunt, ego Nicolaus episcopus sanctæ Romanæ ecclesiæ, cum omnibus fratribus meis episcopis, qui huic Synodo interfuimus, subscripsi. Incipit de Ignatio archiepiscopo Constantinopolitano. Ignatius successit in episcopatum Photio. Tres legationes per patrem suum pallium petiit. Quarta vice Photium ordinavit. Quem Photium Leo imperator, Basilii filius, Constantinus et Stephanus, qui ab eodem Photio ordinati fuerant, ab episcopatu deposuerunt, et Ignatium, qui ante ab episcopatu depulsus fuerat, episcopum ordinaverunt. Ignatius, qui et Nicetas, Michaelis imperatoris filius, fuit. Explicit de Ignatio.

Ignatius, qui et Nicetas, Michaelis imperatoris filius, fuit. Hic, postquam pater suus militiam cum vita finivit, ad litteras se contulit, et in eis tantum profecit, ut omnes coætaneos suos superaret. Et ideo a patre Michaele Nicetæ cognomen accepit. Qui, cum ad virilem ætatem pervenisset, uxorem duxit, et filios ac filias procreavit. Deinde uxore defuncta, ad sacros ordines accessit, et in ecclesia sancti Stephani martyris, quæ est in Constantinopolitana urbe, presbyter ordinatus est. Postea vero, cum Photius, qui ante sacerdos fuerat, ab episcopatu propter multa crimina, quæ in eo reperta sunt, depositus esset, et in locum ejus Ignatius ordinatus esset, ipse quem ſperabamus recuperare diu perditam pacem. Prætermiſſis itaque multis & magnis eccleſiæ noſtræ miſeriis & injuriis, unum ſolummodo ſacrilegum nefas in auribus Domini Regis & Principum, qui aderant, lacrimabili voce conqueſti ſumus, quod contigit ante adventum Regis paucis diebus. Hoc videlicet, quod cives noſtri quidam exierant a nobis, qui non erant ex nobili ſemine, nequam, filii ſceleràti, qui in conductu noſtro ac fere in præſentia noſtra ſpoliaverant Aquenſem Epiſcopum apoſtolicæ ſedis Legatum per nos ad curiam Regis transeuntem. Super his, inquam, omni curiæ conqueſti ſumus, juſticiamque regno & eccleſiæ debitam poſtulavimus humiliter. Dum ergo Principes in hoc eſſent, & conſilium ſuper his caperent, orta eſt machinante Diabolo, ſubito inter vendentes & ementes quædam pro vili cauſa parva ſeditio, primum per ſecretarios regis in ſuburbio; Deinde clamor ingens tollitur, forenſes campanæ pulſantur, concurrunt cives, conveniunt Regis milites, univerſi ad pugnam feſtinant, univerſi cauſam pugnæ ignorant; unus illud, alter aliud opinatur. Rex ipſe necem ſibi intentari ſuſpicatur. Videns ergo milites & miniſteriales eccleſiæ coram matrice eccleſia ſtantes armatos, exiſtimat eos ex conſilio contra ipſum congregatos, qui, quod vere dicimus in Domino, ex nulla conſpiratione contra Regem facta convenerant; ſed propter tumultum populi inconſulte ſubito concurrerant, neſcientes, quid facerent, cum & ipſi ſe in manum Regis ex aliquorum machinatione traditos nullatenus dubitarent. Ego interim indignus ac ſolo nomine Epiſcopus, oblitus annorum meorum & ſenectutis, immemor vitæ & mortis ſuſpenſus inter brachia duorum ſolummodo clericorum meorum, cæteris fugam capientibus, miſi me in turbam inter utramque aciem, non clypeo protectus, aut galea, ſed ſacris tamen veſtibus indutus, & ſigno crucis armatus; crucifixum enim in memoriam paſſionis Dominicæ ante pectus noſtrum portavimus propriis manibus, ſperantes, ut Chriſtianos crucis Chriſti memores, ut oportuit, ab injuria mutua & cæde fraterna compeſceremus. Illico irruebant in nos & in noſtros rex & ſui in die dominica V. Kl. Septembris, & facta eſt cædes ſacrilega clericorum & Laicorum prope januas matricis eccleſiæ intus & extra ab hora dici VI. usque ad veſperam plerisque occiſis, plerisque vulneratis, plerisque captivatis, plerisque fugatis, plerisque ſpoliatis. Ego vero per ſignum crucis ſoſpes evaſi, repens manibus ac pedibus, inter hoſtes & pericula, inter enſes & ſagittas & jacula, quæ undique circumvolabant canos capitis mei & collum & latera & dorſum meum & meorum, qui me non modo portabant, ſed per brachia & crura trahebant, inferentes me per aliud quoddam hoſtium cum maxima difficultate ſuper altum murum ante ſummum altare in ipſum ſcunarium. Ibi ego fuſis non modo precibus, ſed fletibus, jacui miſerabiliter in ſanguine vulneratorum, expectans proprii ſanguinis effuſionem & deſiderans mortem. Interea extra portam civitatis inter forenſes & Regis milites regnabat ſimiliter cædes hominum ac pecorum, funeſta prædia, funeſtum incendium, Sanctuaria profanata ſunt; eccleſiæ plures combuſtæ ſunt, plures effractæ & deprædatæ ſunt; clericorum, monachorum, ſanctimonialium deſpoliatæ congregationes in diſperſione ſunt; incluſæ quoque mulieres miſerabiliter ejectæ ſunt; viri ac fœminæ impudenter denudatæ ſunt; parvuli eorum partim occiſi ſunt, partim captivi abducti ſunt. Nam quod ex intimis præcordiorum dicimus ſuſpiriis, Rex Chriſtianus induxit ſuper eccleſiam Chriſti inimicos Chriſti, homines inhumanos & paganos, Boëmos videlicet ac Slavos, qui vulgariter Valuwen dicuntur, qui perſecutores Chriſti & eccleſiæ eſſe ac fuiſſe ſemper manifeſte ab omnibus cognoſcuntur. Nox ipſam litem diremit, ſed tota nocte Regis exercitus matricem eccleſiam ex omni parte obſidione circumdedit, qua in nocte ego ipſe de meo expulſus hoſpicio, omnibusque meis nudatus, & in ipſius platea civitatis noſtræ deſertus ac ſolus tam diu flens jacui, donec a Domino N. Magdeburgenſium Archiepiſcopo in hoſpicium ejus, tanquam hoſpes & peregrinus, per miſericordiam Dei collectus fui. Mane autem facto, quoscunque & quotquot voluit de obſeſſa eccleſia Rex abſtraxit, &, ut taceamus de cæteris, ipſos & vulneratos & omnino deſperatos in vinculis ſecum abduxit. Eadem vero die caſtra metatus eſt in campo juxta civitatem, regreſſusque tertia die cum armatis in urbem, munitiones omnes diruit urbis & confregit, omnibusque præda & incendio conſumtis, quarto deſtructionis noſtræ & ſexto adventus ſui die lætus abiit. Archiepiſcopi quidem & Epiſcopi & Abbates, qui aderant, ſatis ac ſatis regiam majeſtatem præmonuerant, quatinus regio more victis ſaltem parceret, & imitando regem regum juſtos cum impiis non perderet; Sed iracundia regalis potentiæ non prius mitigata eſt, donec omnis civitas noſtra ſine judicio, ſine juſticia, funditus deſtructa & inrecuperabiliter adnichilata eſt. Propterea nos cum univerſo clero & populo civitatis noſtræ precamur per Chriſtum & in Chriſto miſericordiam veneranda paternitatis veſtræ, ut doloribus noſtris clementer condoleatis & lamentabilem eccleſiæ noſtræ ruinam conſilio & auxilio infatigabiliter fulcientes, murum inexpugnabilem pro domo Iſrael nos ponere ſolito more veſtro ſatagatis.

Domini Papæ Innocentii.

Reverentiſſimis Vicariis atque noſtris magiſtris & patribus G. Sabinenſi Epiſcopo, G. Cardinali Sanctæ - - - - & Leoni Frangipanitæ & P. Laterano Romanorum Conſulibus H. Agatenſis Epiſcopus utraque vita feliciter perfrui. Poſt Bari captionem cæterarumque rerum, quæ Rudgerus Siciliæ Dux nequiter & crudeliter egit, in fortitudine ſui exercitus Beneventum venit ibique tentoria fixit, ſperans intrare civitatem & eam cum deceptione habere. Cui Dominus

Dominus Princeps & Comes regionis obviam ivit in manu armata usque ad montem, qui dicitur ſancti Felicis, ibique interfuimus & nos, & multis argumentis & diverſis ingeniis cum fidelibus tamdiu laboravimus, quo ad usque tota civitas illum execrando Principi & Comiti juravit. Quod dum Dux vere cognovit, quantotius nocte inde receſſit, Niceriumque ivit, nobis ignorantibus, ad quoddam caſtrum, quod principis eſt. Cognita vero fraude a Principe & Comite, illuc quantocius ire feſtinavimus. Quo dum prope caſtrum ſederemus, expectando noſtros, & ut ipſe recederet, duos Epiſcopos ex noſtris illi miſimus, ut a terra Principis, quæ ſpecialiter beati Petri eſt, recederet. Ille ſuperbo faſtu, ut ipſius mos eſt, illis reſpondit: terram ſuam totam usque Romam eſſe ſibi a S. Petro collatam, ad quem defendendum ipſe ire volebat, niſi reſipiſcerent: & ſic elevatis manibus ipſum Deum in cauſam duxit, ut ea die inter nos judicaret, & veram juſticiam demonſtraret. Quod honori beati Petri ipſiusque vicarii Anacleti rebelles & contrarii eſſent. Deinde cum dies Reſurrectionis eſſet, & nos ea die præliari nollemus, quia ex improviſo ab eo invaſi ſumus. Nos vero cum talia videremus, noſtros majores & minores publice & privatim allocuti ſumus, eis imponendo pro pœnitentia, ut in honore beati Petri ſe defenderent, & eccleſiæ Romanæ terram conſervarent, & neq; propria vindicta, neque pro ſolidis vel ſpoliis, ſed pro defenſione eccleſiæ & communi libertate pugnarent. Taliter namq; illos a peccatis, quæ fuerant confeſſi, ex auctoritate beati Petri & Domini noſtri Papæ Innocentii, tociusque eccleſiæ abſolvimus, ſi in bello illo morerentur. Deinde inito bello ibi Deus operatus eſt ineffabiliter. Nam pro certo unus noſtrum perſecutus eſt mille, & duo fugarunt X. millia. Numerus autem armorum & equorum cæterorumque ſpoliorum ita eſt infinitus, quod nullus noſtrum novit. Ille autem, qui ſe Regem vocat, laxis habenis usque Salernum fugit. Tunc temporis ei Sicilia cariora fuere calcaria. In campo mirum eſt, quod nullus ex parte noſtra periit. Militum vero captorum ex illis nomina retineri non poſſunt, fere mille in veritate illos credimus eſſe. Enimvero ex noſtris nec aliquis captus eſt, nec aliquis obiit, exceptis quibusdam, qui ſe in flumine projecere: nec tamen tot fuere quot dicuntur. Quod totum omnipotenti Deo imputamus & non homini, qui tam celeri auxilio in ſe confidentibus ſubvenire dignatus eſt. Nomina autem Baronum Ducis, qui capti ſunt & tenentur, hæc ſunt: Comes R. de Ariano, Comes R. de civitate & alii tales fere XXX. tentoria Ducis & propria capella cum omnibus utenſilibus & ſeriniis capta fuere, in quibus inventa ſunt privilegia, in quibus Petrus Leonis ipſam Romam & ab inde usque Siciliam totam ei terram conceſſerat, & Advocatum Romanæ eccleſiæ & Patricium Romanorum & Regem illum ſtatuerat. Qualiter autem vos habeatis & fideles veſtri, & quæ de Domino Papa ſcitis & Imperatore, nobis reſcribere dignemini.

Domino Præpoſito, tam dilecto, quam venerando P. ille ſuus licet pauper, non fictus tamen amicus, ille tam longo jam exilio actus & attritus, fidei, caritatis, omnimodæque devotionis promtam exhibitionem. Quanto deſiderio jugiter deſiderem & exoptem vitam & incolomitatem veſtram rerumque veſtrarum apud Deum & homines profectum, ſtili officio explicare nec valeo nec opus eſſe cenſeo. Novi enim ea vos animi conſtantia & discretione eſſe præditum, ut nec adulator ſuperflua loquacitate apud vos in mendacio proficiat, nec ſimplex aliquis ac verecundus modeſta taciturnitate in vero negotio ſibi noceat. Quare prætereundum videtur ſub ſilentio, qualem fidei & dilectionis affectum erga vos habeam, quoniam hoc ſoli Deo & conſcientiæ meæ interius patet, nec veſtram, ut reor, diſcretionem ex toto latet. Verum ubi locorum nunc degam, quid rerum in præſenti geram, quidve in proximo futuro agendum fore propoſuerim, quantumque in propoſito meo profecerim, paucis libet veſtræ dilectioni per ordinem intimare eoque confidentius quod pro certo mihi conſtat, non eſſe vos de numero illorum Dominorum, qui omnia & benefacta ſolent obliquis moribus detractationis obfuſcare, verum cujuslibet etiam minimi ſucceſſibus in bono propoſito vos ſoletis congratulari. Pariſius ſum modo in ſcolis magiſtri Gwillelmi ſummi viri omnium hujus temporis, quos ego noverim in omni genere doctrinæ. Cujus vocem cum audimus non hominem, ſed quaſi angelum de cœlo loqui putamus. Nam & dulcedo verborum ejus & profunditas ſententiarum quaſi humanum modum tranſcendit. Qui cum eſſet Archi-Diaconus ſereque apud regem primus, omnibus, quæ poſſidebat, dimiſſis, in præterito Paſcha ad quandam pauperrimam eccleſiolam ſoli Deo ſerviturus ſe contulit, ibique poſtea omnibus undique ad eum venientibus gratis & cauſa Dei ſolummodo, more magiſtri Manegaldi beatæ memoriæ, devotum ac benignum ſe præbuit. Jamque tantum ſtudium regit tam in divinis, quam humanis ſcientiis, quantum nec vidi nec meo tempore usquam terrarum eſſe audivi. Hic, venerande mi, juventutem meam excerceo, ne viciis illis, quæ hanc ætatem plerumque ſolent præcipitare, devicta ſuccumbat omnino. Hic rudem animum tenebris ignorantiæ, ex culpa primi hominis mancipatum, doctrina & ſtudio illuminare ſatago, quantum ipſe Deus dignabitur dare, a quo ſolo eſt omne bonum ſapientiæ. Quod videlicet bonum ſapientiæ, quando cum munda intentione quæritur & ſuſcipitur, merito ab omnibus diſcretis ſummum & creditur & habetur. Scientia enim, ait Apoſtolus, ſine caritate inflat: ſcientia vero cum caritate ædificat. Vitia enim eruit, virtutes inſerit, fruentem ſe quid ſibi, quid proximo, quid creatori debeat, inſtruit; denique mentem, cui ipſa præſidet, contra omnes moleſtias hujus vitæ extrinſecus accidentes ſua præſentia præmunit ac defendit. boni, non ſpe alicujus inanis lucri, tanto tempore exilium, famem, ſitim, nuditatem, cæterasque miſerias, quas longum eſſet enumerare, perpetior. Nam revera niſi ipſa ſpeculatio veritatis ſua quadam naturali dulcedine appetentes ſe alliceret ac refoveret, non credo quemquam hominem tam ferreum fore, qui talem laborem, qualem hujusmodi ſtudium exigeret, vellet vel poſſet ſuſtinere. Porro autem nolo vos ignorare, quare munus veſtræ largitionis cum ſumma gratiarum actione ſuſcepi, tantum gaviſus aut, etiam amplius, de affectu mittentis, quam de quantitate ipſius muneris. Qua de re certum & fixum volo vos habere, ſiquid ſum vel ero, per omnia vobis obnoxius permanebo. Nuncquam enim excidet memoriæ meæ, quantum ruditati meæ contuleritis. Dominum Epiſcopum, uti mandaſtis, Wormatiæ alio anno conveni, ſed ipſe lepide, neſcio, quo modo, ſe erga me habuit, neque ego, ut vobis in aurem dictum ſit, multum me ingeſſi. CCCLXIII.

A. Dei gratia Moguntinus Archi-Epiſcopus & Apoſtolicæ ſedis Legatus dilecto & diligendo in Chriſto confratri ſuo Domino O. Babenbergenſi Epiſcopo ſalutem cum oratione & obſequio. De ſtatu Regis proſperantis in tot milibus militum & debilitate Petri Leonis, quemadmodum nobis fraternitas veſtra ſignificavit, exultantibus animis Deum benedicimus; vobis quoque multas gratiarum actiones de tam læto nuntio referimus. Proinde quid vobis videatur de colloquio, quod principes Bauwariæ in loco veſtro habituri ſunt, &, ſi Dominus Saltzburgenſis ad idem colloquium veniat, diligenter inveſtigate. Scripto quoque nobis per præſentium latorem quantocius remandate, ut ſecundum mandatum veſtrum, quid agendum nobis ſit, certificemur. De cætero hominem iſtum, mercatorem noſtrum, in manus ſanctitatis veſtræ committimus, ut cauſam ſuam de requiſitione ſponſæ ſuæ clementer exaudiatis, & ſecundum, quod juſticia dictaverit, ſuper legitima deſponſatione ſua, cauſa dilectionis noſtræ, juſtum judicium apud vos inveniat.

CCCLXIV.

Venerabili Pragienſium Epiſcopo O. Babenbergenſis conſervus ſuus & humilis Dei gratia coëpiſcopus in caritate non ficta orationem, in humilitate devotam ſervientiam. Propter unitatem caritatis Chriſti, quæ eſt inter nos, læta ſunt nobis omnia, quæ vobis ſunt proſpera; in adverſis autem, quicquid vobis accidit, nobis quoque accidit. Quod autem in præſenti vos conturbat, id ipſum gravius nos quoque contriſtaret, niſi daret nobis conſolationis veſtræ fiduciam, qui dat rectis corde lætitiam. Veritas enim ipſa vos liberabit. Quis enim ſperavit in Domino & derelictus eſt. Conſoletur itaque primo vos conſcientiæ veſtræ puritas, tanto ab omni timore ſecura, quanto a crimine objecto ſibi libera eſt. Conſoletur vos, quod a fratribus & coëpiſcopis veſtris bonum meruiſtis habere teſtimonium, quod, ſi ad id ventum fuerit, omnes uno ore loquentur pro vobis. Conſoletur & vos, quod in eccleſia Romana ordinatoris veſtri auctoritas magna eſt, qui ante ordinationem veſtram ita diligenter ordinem & libertatem electionis veſtræ examinavit, ut jam amplius iſta retractari non oporteat. Miramur & quomodo nunc ſibi contrarii ſint illi, qui tunc dato conſenſu, tam ordinationi, quam electioni veſtræ interfuerunt. In his itaque volumus vos conſolari in Domino. Conſilium autem noſtrum eſt, ſi jam latius divulgatum eſt verbum illud injuſtæ criminationis veſtræ, ut in ipſa eccleſia veſtra vos expurgare ſatagatis, quatinus apud eos nulla de vobis maneat ſuſpicio, inter quos ſancta debet eſſe veſtra converſatio. Ducem inſuper & Principes terræ, præcipue Olomucenſem Epiſcopum conciliate vobis, & quascunque perſonas ſive eccleſiaſticas ſive Seculares, omni ſtudio placate. Difficile eſt enim unum aliquem vel odia vel offenſam multorum ſuſtinere. Et noſtri officii eſt coram omnibus humiliare nos & placare omnes, ut omnibus, ſi fieri poteſt, placeamus. Sic rebus domi compoſitis, tum denique in curia Romana rem veſtram agite, quia parum extra ſecuritatis eſt, dum adhuc domus noſtra contra nos tumultuatur. Comparato itaque vobis favore apud Ducem & Principes & alias quascunque regionis ſive eccleſiæ noſtræ perſonas diſponetis noſtro conſilio, ut nuntius bonus litteras Archi-Epiſcopi veſtri & Ducis una cum litteris veſtris ad Dominum Apoſtolicum deferat, quæ omnes hanc ſummam petitionis contineant, ut detur vobis poteſtas expurgandi vos in regione veſtra coram eodem Johanne Cardinale, cujus mentionem in litteris veſtris habuiſtis. Interim vobis providete ita, ut ſi neceſſe fuerit, intrare Italiam non dubitetis. Expedit enim vobis extrema quævis perpeti, quam inobedientes invenire.

A. Dei gratia Moguntinus Archi-Epiſcopus & Apo-

CCCLXVI.

A. Dei gratia Moguntinus Archi-Epiſcopus & Apoſtolicæ ſedis Legatus reverendo confratri ſuo O. Babenbergenſi Epiſcopo ſalutem & debitam in Chriſto dilectionem. Scientes nos in eccleſia Dei ad hoc conſtitutos eſſe, ut pro decore domus Dei debitam geramus ſollicitudinem, communem dolorem & generale malum eccleſiæ ulterius diſſimulare non ſuſtinemus, ſed veſtræ potiſſimum ſanctitati & aliorum fratrum & coëpiſcoporum diſcretioni communicandum putavimus, quatinus in alterutrum communicato conſilio non modo naſcenti morbo fomenti medicamine occurramus, verum invaleſcentem jam peſtem ferro reſecare ſatagamus. Novit enim diligentia veſtra, quæ fomenta non ſentiunt, ut recuperetur ſanitas, ferro eſſe reſecanda. Ad quod terrenda nos vox prophetica commonet, comparans ſacerdotes Chriſti canibus mutis, & non valentibus latrare, qui timore vel gratia hominum Chriſti ſui injurias ſilentio voluerint præterire. Hujusmodi & aliis pluribus ſanctorum verbis & exemplis commoniti deſtructionem eccleſiaſticæ libertatis ingemiſcimus & pro ea conſervanda, immo ad eam recuperandam, & nos nobiſcum & vos una nobiscum in Chriſto & propter Chriſtum exhortamur. Quid enim reſtat ad cumulum doloris noſtri cum videamus canonicas Epiſcoporum electiones ad nutum Principis caſſari & pro beneplacito ſuo ipſe ſubſtituat, quos libuerit. Hoc in Baſilienſi eccleſia factum eſt, & ſcimus, quod jam dudum non latuit prudentiam veſtram. Venerabilis quoq; frater noſter Trajectenſis Epiſcopus inimicos eccleſiæ ſuæ, qui de miniſterialibus erant, & de monaſterio ſanctæ Mariæ proſtibulum & equorum ſuorum ſtabulum fecerant, judicario ordine excommunicavit: hos in curia Colonienſi Princeps in familia ſua habuit, nec aliquo interventu fratrum vel aliorum Principum Epiſcopum in gratiam ſuam recepit, donec eum tanti ſceleris auctores pro extrema eorum ſalute ſine pœna & omni eccleſiaſtica compoſitione compulit abſolvere: Quid dicemus amplius? Ipſa etiam Archi-Epiſcoporum pallia de curia ſunt expetenda, quod manifeſtum eſt in Domino Colonienſi, qui ideo adhuc pallio caret, quod illud contra canonicæ religionis inſtitutionem incuria recipere noluit. Pro his & aliis pluribus petimus, ut conſolationis veſtræ litteris, quid fieri expedit, informemur, quia extrema quælibet perpeti ſatius eſt, quam talem ac tam ignominioſam videre & ſuſtinere eccleſiæ injuriam & contritionem.

CCCLXVII.

Domino ſuo L. Romanorum Imperatori Auguſto ſuæque contectali imperatoriæ dignitatis conſorti C. Salzburgenſis eccleſiæ Dei gratia ſiquid eſt, orationis inſtantiam, ſervitii diligentiam. Quod vos diligamus & fidem ſub timore Dei debitam vobis ſervemus, eum teſtem invocamus, ſub cujus mentiri teſtimonio judicamus crimen æquipollens ſacrilegio. Ea propter ambigere majeſtatem veſtram nolumus, quin ad petitionem ac mandatum veſtrum noluntas noſtra prompta fuerit: ſed matura ſenii debilitas & gravis, qua plerumque vexamur, infirmitas obſtitit. Cætera quæ his apicibus inſerere volumus fideli veſtro N. noſtroque Præpoſito vobis intimanda commiſimus.

CCCLXVIII.

C. Dei gratia Colonienſis Archi-Epiſcopus M. Abbati ſanctæ Crucis & toti conventui ſalutem & benedictionem. Ex tenore litterarum veſtrarum cognovimus, quod domus veſtra maximum paſſa ſit diſpendium & nunc non modica laboret egeſtate. Verum veſtram latere nolumus univerſitatem, quod Dominus Rex ob indignationem, quam adverſus nos indebite concepit, redditus noſtros eccleſiaſticos interdixit. Unde licet veſtræ quam plurimum compaciamur inediæ eam ad præſens noſtro relevare non poſſumus auxilio. Sciatis tamen quod quam cito redditum noſtrorum plenam receperimus reſtitutionem, ſecundum facultatem noſtram gratanter vobis ſubveniemus. Super eo vero quod diſpoſitionem patris & matris noſtræ ſuper his, quæ veſtro tam in vita, quam in morte contulerunt monaſterio ex noſtra proviſione pendere dixiſtis, notum vobis facimus, quod, diſponente Domino, poſt Paſcha circa feſtum ſanctæ Crucis una cum confratribus noſtris in illa parte regni erimus, etſi donationem vel ordinationem aliquam a patre ſive matre noſtra monaſterio veſtro fuiſſe factam per eos perpendere poterimus, conſulemus eis & præcipiemus, ut eam inviolabiliter obſervent &, ſi impleta non fuerint, adimpleant. Amen.

Epiſtola Hincmari Remenſis Archiepiſcopi ad Clerum Laudunenſem.

HIncmarus Remorum Epiſcopus ac plebis Dei famulus, Presbiteris, Diaconibus ac reliquo eccleſiaſtico ordini & cunctis in Laudunenſi parrochia conſiſtentibus ſalutem. Confratres ac conſacerdotes noſtri Hetto, Ermino, Geroinus, Hadulfus, & Clarentius presbiteri eccleſiæ veſtræ, II. Calend. Junii, præſentis ſecundæ indictionis, data mihi ad vicem omnium veſtrorum petitione, cujus hic partim textus, quantum ſufficere vidi, ſequitur, de quibusdam capitulis veſtræ communis neceſſitatis conſuluerunt hoc modo: Dum XIII. Cal. Maji paſtor noſter in monte Lauduno, in ſua Synodo de perplurimis utilitatibus ſuæ ſanctæ Eccleſiæ ordinando & emeliorando quædam in eis diſputaret, occurrit pro ſucceſſu temporum quædam pars ejusdem diſputationis, pro qua, quia ordinandi rerum eccleſiaſticarum poteſtas ab eo, cum jus & lex canonum jubendo præcipit, ut epiſcopus res eccleſiæ ſuæ, quibus voluerit & quomodo voluerit, diſponendo diſpenſet, auferretur, perplurimæ autoritates Sancti Petri ſucceſſorumque ejus, quibus qualiter & quomodo data ſit poteſtas ligandi & ſolvendi, ab eodem paſtore noſtro in præſentia totius Synodi eas relegendo, recitatæ ſunt. Quibus recitatis, memor injuriarum ſuarum, quæ ei moderno acciderunt tempore, addidit, quod immineret tempus conprovincialis Synodi, quæ in Vermeria palatio regio a nobis veſtrisque ſuffraganeis 8. Cal. Maji habita eſt. Ad quam veſtris literis evocatus libenti animo coram omnibus profeſſus eſt, ſe ſine ulla intercapedine progreſſurum. Sed quia credebat in ipſa Synodo, quod mos haud expoſcit canonicus, aliquam violentiam ſibi inlegaliter & contra leges canonum a quocunque fieri, ſermone conteſtatorio & auctoritate Sancti Petri, quod ſi ei licentia eundi Romam prohiberetur, aut ipſe captus obineretur, omnes ſacerdotes totius parochiæ ſuæ colligavit, ut nemo eorum in ea ſacerdotali miniſterio tam diu uteretur, usque dum ipſe nobiſcum iterum viva voce loqueretur, aut literæ ex ipſa ſancta ſede beati Petri apoſtoli nobis mitterentur. Quo facto quod tunc non accidit, nunc in Silviaco palatio regio V. Cal. Junii peractum eſt: qua tamen die, priusquam ad ipſum Silviacum perveniret, præſcius venturæ violentiæ ſuæ, prædixit ſacerdoti noſtro Clarentio ſimulque Diacono Reutlando, ut nobis denuntiarent, per omnia nos ſervaturos, quæ cauſa ſuarum injuriarum &, ut ſatius dicamus, pro ſtatu ſanctarum eccleſiarum in præſcripta Synodo XIII. Cal. Maji omnibus ſacerdotibus ſuæ parrochiæ obſervare autoritate Sancti Petri ipſe præceperat. Et poſt aliquanta: Quapropter, quia eundem Dominum noſtrum regia poteſtate retentum & recluſum viva voce adire non poteramus, & ſacerdotali miniſterio prohibita ab eo frui non audebamus, III. Cal. Junii ad Capitolium noſtrum convenimus & ibidem communi colloquio retractantes ratum fore duximus, ut exinde conſilium noſtræ ſalutis a ſacra paternitate almitatis veſtræ humiliter depoſceremus, utrum ſacerdotalis miniſterii officio, miſſas celebrando & Domino pro captione paſtoris noſtri ac communi utilitate totius ſanctæ eccleſiæ ſacrificia offerendo, baptizando pueros, viſitando infirmos, reconciliando cum viatico munere pœnitentiam petentes, ſepeliendo mortuos, cum penitus ab his omnibus prohibiti ſimus. Et paulo poſt; in parrochia noſtra uti debeat an non; & reliqua. Quam relegens ſatis ſuperque dolui, fateor, quia dilectus frater & coëpiſcopus noſter Hincmarus contra epiſcopalem gravitatem & contra evangelicam veritatem atque apoſtolicam & canonicam autoritatem talia inconſulte cauſa ſuarum injuriarum agere præſumpſit, qualia nullus ante illum Epiſcopus egit, quæ non modo ſacrarum ſcripturarum tramiti contraria & decretis ſunt ſanctorum adverſa, verum & ſaluti humanæ ac univerſæ Chriſtianitati ſunt inimica, quia ſicut Hilarus Papa dicit: Non minus in ſanctarum traditionum delinquitur ſanctiones, quam in injuriam ipſius Domini profilitur. Veſtram autem ſolertiam laudo, filii ac fratres chariſſimi, quos præcepta ſacrorum canonum non perfunctorie legiſſe cognoſco. Sic enim ſacra & myſtica Nicena ſynodus: Antiqua conſuetudo ſervetur per Ægyptum, Libiam & Pentapolim, ita ut Alexandrinus Epiſcopus horum omnium habeat poteſtatem, quia & urbis Romæ parilis mos eſt. Similiter autem & apud Antiochiam cæterasque provincias ſuis privilegia ſerventur Eccleſiis. Quod capitulum Sanctus Bonefacius Papa, ſcribens dubitet nullatenus Nathanaelem Ecclesiæ Dei Episcopum, quem Dominus ipse in Evangelio laudavit, dicens: Ecce vere Israelita, in quo dolus non est, ordinari, nisi per principia, et ordine propio ad Episcopatum pervenerit. Quod si ita non fuerit, ordinatio ejus non erit canonica, sed irrita, et ideo damnabilis. Quapropter, Domine Frater, ut ipsa Augustini Patris auctoritate probationem quæ desiderasti, ut ad Episcopatum ordinandus ad Ecclesiam pervenerit, ne quidquam quæque adhuc dicamus, in ad-jutorium tibi proferamus, ipsius verba ponenda existimavimus, quæ ita habent: Quis enim Mercurialis ita quæsierit Episcopatum, ut non prius Presbyter, deinde Episcopus ordinaretur, ut Ecclesiæ Catholicæ Sacramenta cognosceret, ut Scripturas Divinas, quas ignorabat, addisceret, ut Ecclesiam, cui præponendus erat, ante ipse regeret, quam regendam susciperet? Ecce quomodo ordinandus ad Episcopatum ad Ecclesiam pervenire debeat, ostendit. Et ſucceſſorumque ejus, quibus, qualiter & quomodo data ſit poteſtas ligandi & ſolvendi, ab eodem paſtore noſtro in præſentia totius Synodi eas relegendo, recitatæ ſunt. Quibus recitatis, memor injuriarum ſuarum, quæ ei moderno acciderant tempore, addidit, quod immineret tempus conprovincialis Synodi, quæ in Vermeria palatio Regio a nobis veſtrisque ſuffraganeis VIII. Cal. Maji habita eſt. Ad quam veſtris literis evocatus, libenti animo coram omnibus profeſſus eſt, ſe ſine ulla intercapedine progreſſurum. Sed quia credebat in ipſa Synodo, quod mos haud expoſcit canonicus, aliquam violentiam ſibi inlegaliter & contra Leges canonum a quocunque fieri, ſermone conteſtatorio & autoritate Sancti Petri, quod ſi ei licentia eundi Romam prohiberetur, aut ipſe captus obtineretur, omnes ſacerdotes totius parrochiæ ſuæ colligavit, ut nemo eorum in ea ſacerdotali miniſterio tam diu uteretur, usque dum ipſe nobiscum iterum viva voce loqueretur, aut literæ ex ipſa ſancta ſede beata Petri Apoſtoli nobis mitterentur. Quo facto quod tunc non accidit, nunc in Silviaco palatio Regio V. Cal. Junii peractum eſt; qua tamen die priusquam ad ipſum Silviacum perveni: et præſcius venturæ violentiæ ſuæ prædixit ſacerdoti noſtro Clarentio ſimulque Diacono Reutlando, ut nobis denuntiarent, per omnia nos ſervaturos, quæ cauſa ſuarum injuriarum, &, ut ſatius dicamus, pro ſtatu ſanctarum eccleſiarum in præſcripta Synodo XIII. Cal. Maji omnibus ſacerdotibus ſuæ parrochiæ obſervare autoritate Sancti Petri ipſe præceperat. Et poſt aliquanta: Quapropter quia eundem Dominum noſtrum Regia poteſtate retentum & recluſum viva voce adire non poteramus, & ſacerdotali miniſterio prohibita ab eo frui non audebamus III. Cal. Junii ad Capitolium noſtrum convenimus & ibidem communi colloquio retractantes ratum fore duximus, ut exinde conſilium noſtræ ſalutis a ſacra paternitate almitatis veſtræ humiliter depoſceremus, utrum ſacerdotalis miniſterii officio miſſas celebrando & Domino pro captione paſtoris noſtri ac communi utilitate totius ſanctæ Eccleſiæ ſacrificia offerendo, baptizando pueros, viſitando infirmos, reconciliando cum viatico munere pœnitentiam petentes, ſepeliendo mortuos, cum penitus ab his omnibus prohibiti ſimus. Et paulo poſt: In parrochia noſtra uti debeat, an non; & reliqua. Quam novitatem a ſeculo hactenus inauditam, frater Chariſſime, ſatis contremeſcens, exhorrui, ſatis ſuperque dolui. Unde augentur mihi Lachrimæ, gemitus in meo corde non capiuntur atque ex intimo viſcerum dolore peccatis meis reputo, quod tu talia filius meus in tempore iſto, novitatis præſumptione, quæ de ſuperbia deſcendere noſcitur, agis, qualia nunquam ullus Epiſcoporum legitur præſumpſiſſe. Nam, ſicut in ſacra Hiſtoria legimus, Petrus quidem ſervabatur in carcere, oratio autem fiebat ſine intermiſſione ab eccleſia ad Dominum pro eo. Liberius Papa, Virgilius Papa, Johannes Papa, & Pontifices ſanctæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ in exilium miſſi & quidam eorum carcere concluſi fuerant; Athanaſius Alexandrinæ ſecundæ ſedis Epiſcopus & ſanctus Miletius Antiochenus tertiæ ſedis Epiſcopus & Cyrillus Hieroſolimitanus Epiſcopus, Johannes Conſtantinopolitanus Epiſcopus, Paulinus Treverenſis Epiſcopus, Sanctus Hilarius Pictavenſis Epiſcopus, Euſebius Vercellenſis Epiſcopus de Parrochiis ſuis abducti & in exilium miſſi fuerunt, & tale quid agere, ſicut egiſti, non præſumpſerunt. Beatus Ambroſius in Eccleſia Mediolanenſi Juſtina hæretica Imperatrice præcipiente concluſus & armatis circa Eccleſiam excubantibus obſeſſus & carpento poſito ante oſtium, quo in exilium traheretur, animam ſuam tenens in manibus ſuis, quid tale non egit. Rigobertus Remorum Epiſcopus, crudeli violentia a ſede ſua expulſus & in paupertate ſua non longe ab eadem urbe cum magna indigentia pluribus annis reſidens deguit, ſed quid tale cum Coëpiſcopis ſuis non egit. Fuerunt & jam alii noſtra ætate ac tempore a ſedibus ſuis pro diverſis cauſis ad tempus expulſi, quidam etiam & inrecuperabiliter abjecti & tale quid non egerunt, attendentes ſibi dixiſſe apoſtolum & ex prophetico teſtimonio confirmaſſe: Non vos defendentes, cariſſimi, ſed date locum iræ. Scriptum eſt enim: Mihi vindictam ego retribuam, dicit Dominus. Et ſi non aliud vel hoc te ab hac præſumptione cohibere debuerat. Nonne ſolus talia faceres, quæ nemo alius fecit? Cum beatus Petrus Apoſtolus dicat: nemo veſtrorum patiatur tanquam homicida aut fur aut maledicus; tanquam maledicus, inquiunt Catholici Doctores, patitur, qui perſecutionis ſuæ tempore in ſui ſaltem injuria perſecutoris effrenatur. Et item idem Apoſtolorum princeps dicit: Chriſtus paſſus eſt pro nobis, vobis relinquens exemplum, ut ſequamini veſtigia ejus. Qui peccatum non fecit nec inventus eſt dolus in ore ejus, qui cum malediceretur, non maledicebat; cum pateretur non cominabatur. Tradebat autem judicanti ſe injuſte; Tradebat autem, & non excommunicabat, neque maledicebat. Et Paulus Apoſtolus dicit: Nemini dantes ullam offenſionem, ut non vituperetur miniſterium noſtrum, ſed in omnibus exhibeamus noſmet ipſos, ſicut Dei miniſtros, in multa patientia, & patientes eſtote a Dominus. Et Sanctus Gregorius ſcribens ad Januarium dicit: Inter querelas multiplices, inquit, Iſidorus vir Clariſſimus, a fraternitate tua fruſtra ſe excommunicatum anathematizatumque conqueſtus eſt, quod quamobrem factum fuerit, dum a clerico tuo, qui præſens erat, noluiſſemus addiſcere, pro nulla alia cauſa niſi pro eo, quod te injuriaverat, factum innotuit; quæ res nos vehementer afflixit, quia ſi ita eſt, nil te offendis de cœleſtibus cogitare, ſed te renaſcente converſationem habere ſignificas, dum pro vindicta propriæ injuriæ, quod ſacris regulis prohiberetur, maledictionem anathematis invexiſti. Unde de cætero omnino eſto circumſpectus atque

Domino filios generare, qui venit animas non perdere, ſed ſalvare. Quomodo te præteriit, quod in Evangelio legis: Offerebant, inquit, illi parvulos, ut tangeret illos; diſcipuli autem comminabantur offerre, quos cum videret Jeſus, indigne tulit & ait illis: Sinite parvulos venire ad me, & ne prohibueritis eos. Et tu prohibes offerri Domino parvulos? Et ſi tremendum Dei judicium te non terruit, & a furore animi tui, ut talia præciperes, revocare non potuit, quia nunquam & nusquam poſtquam ſacrum Nicenum Concilium eſt celebratum, tale quid factum fuiſſe audiſti, ſicut fieri præcepiſti, timere debueras, ne tu ſolus hoc ageres, quod nullus Chriſtianorum unquam facere auſus fuit. Nam de infantibus baptizandis, qui nec dum baptizati naſcuntur, quoties neceſſitas exegerit, Regula Eccleſiaſtica per beatum Siricium prolata demonſtrat, dicens ita: Infantibus, qui nondum loqui potuerunt per ætatem, vel his, quibus in qualibet neceſſitate opus fuerit, ſacri unda baptismatis omni volumus celeritate ſuccurri, ne ad noſtrarum perniciem tendat animarum, ſi negato deſiderantibus fonte ſalutari, exiens unusquisque de ſæculo & regnum perdat & vitam. Quicunque etiam diſcrimen naufragii, hoſtilitatis incurſum, obſidionis ambiguum, vel cujuslibet corporalis ægritudinis deſperationes inciderunt, & ſibi unico credulitatis auxilio popoſcerunt ſubveniri, eodem, quo poſcunt, momento temporis expetitæ regenerationis præmia conſequantur. Hactenus erratum in hac parte ſufficiat, nunc præfatam regulam omnes teneant ſacerdotes, qui nolunt ab Apoſtolicæ Petræ, ſuper quam Chriſtus univerſalem conſtruxit Eccleſiam, ſoliditate divelli. Et beatus Leodicus: Principalis & maximi ſacramenti cuſtodienda nobis eſt myſtica & rationabilis exemplatio, non indicta licentia, qua in baptismo tribuenda periclitantibus ſubvenitur. Ita enim in has duas feſtivitates, Paſcha ſcilicet & Pentecoſten, connexas ſibimet atque cognatas incolumium & in pacis ſecuritate degentium libera vota differimus, ut in mortis periculo, in obſidionis diſcrimine, in perſecutionis anguſtiis, in timore naufragii nullo tempore hoc veræ ſalutis ſingulare præſidium cuiquam denegemus. Et Africanum Concilium etiam eis infantibus, de quibus non inveniuntur certiſſimi teſtes, qui eos baptizatos eſſe ſine dubitatione teſtentur, neque ipſi ſunt per ætatem de traditis ſibi ſacramentis idonei reſpondere, abſque ullo ſcrupulo eos eſſe baptizandos præcepit, ne iſta trepidatio eos faciat ſacramentorum purgatione privari. Et ſanctus Leo hinc dicit: Si nulla extant indicia inter propinquos aut familiares, nulla inter Clericos aut vicinos, quibus hi, de quibus quæritur, baptizati fuiſſe doceantur, agendum eſt, ut renaſcantur, ne manifeſte pereant. In quibus, quod non oſtenditur geſtum, ratio non ſinit, ut videatur iteratum: qui autem poſſunt meminiſſe, quod ad Eccleſiam veniebant cum parentibus ſuis, poſſunt recordari, an, quod eorum parentibus dabatur, acceperint. Sed ſi hoc etiam ab ipſa memoria alienum eſt, conferendum eis videtur, quod conlatum eſſe neſcitur; quia non temeritas intervenit præſumptionis, ubi eſt diligentia pietatis. Et ſanctus Gelaſius: Baptizandi ſibi quispiam paſſim quoquo tempore nullam credat ineſſe fiduciam, præter Paſchale feſtum & Pentecoſten, venerabile ſacramentum, excepto duntaxat gravi lanugoris incurſu; in quo verendum eſt, ne morbi creſcente periculo ſine remedio ſalutari fortaſſis ægrotans exitio præventus abſcedat: & Diaconi absque Epiſcopo & Presbitero baptizare non audeant, niſi prædictis fortaſſis officiis longius conſtitutis neceſſitas extrema compellat, quod & Laicis Chriſtianis facere plerumque conceditur. Et ſanctus Gregorius ſcribens ad Johannem Lariſſæum Epiſcopum dicit: Secundum, inquiens, de criminalibus capitulum adverſus Adrianum Epiſcopum videtur eſſe propoſitum de infantibus ejus juſſu a ſacri baptismatis ſuſceptione prohibitis, atque in ablutos ſorde peccati defunctos in tenebris. Vide, frater, quia eſſe hoc criminale capitulum demonſtrat ſanctus Gregorius. Sed & de ultima pœnitentia & viatico munere nulli negare debere, illius ſententia ſufficere tibi debuerat, qui dicit: Venit filius hominis quærere & ſalvare, quod perierat, & licet miſericordia Domini, qua plena eſt terra, illis, qui ultimam pœnitentiam & viaticum munus ſibi dari depoſcunt, ſi eis fuerit denegatum, ſubvenire poſſit, qui corde credunt ad juſtitiam, ore autem confitentur ad ſalutem, transfixi dolore cordis & baptizata conſcientia ſuis lacrimis gratiam Dei incomprehenſibiliter percipiant, quod eis denegare juſſiſti, ſicut in illo latrone, quod, ut beatus Auguſtinus dicit, ex baptismi ſacramento defuerat, complevit omnipotentis benignitas; quia non ſuperbia & contemptu, ſed ex neceſſitate illi defuerat: tamen manifeſtiſſime tu reus eris illorum omnium animarum, ſi tua præceptione ſine pœnitentia & viatico munere rebus humanis excedant. De viatico autem munere ſanctæ communionis ſacrum Nicenum Concilium dicit: quia generaliter omni cuilibet in exitum poſito & poſcenti ſibi communionis gratiam tribui Epiſcopus probabiliter ex oblatione dare debebit. De qua ſancta & myſtica ſynodo beatus Leo Papa ad Antholium Epiſcopum Conſtantinopolitanum ſcribit dicens: quod illa Nicenorum canonum per Sanctum vere Spiritum ordinata conditio in nulla ſit parte ſolubilis; nulla ſibimet de multiplicatione congregationis ſynodalia Concilia blandiantur, neque trecentis illis decem atque octo Epiſcopis, quantum libet copioſior numerus ſacerdotum, vel comparare ſe audeat & præferre, cum tanto divinitus privilegio ſit conſecrata, ut ſive per pauciores ſive per plures eccleſiaſtica judicia celebrentur, omni penitus auctoritate ſit vacuum, quicquid ab illorum fuerit conſtitutione diverſum. Et ſanctus Syricius etiam de Apoſtatis & Idolorum cultu ac ſacrificiorum contaminatione profanatis decrevit, ut in ultimo fine ſuo reconciliationis gratia eis non denegetur, quia, dicente Domino, nolumus mus mortem peccatoris, tantum ut convertatur & vivat. Et ſanctus Innocentius dicit: quia communionem dari obedientibus placuit, & propter Domini miſericordiam quaſi viaticum profecturis, & ne Novatiani hæretici, negantis veniam, aſperitatem & duritiam ſubſequi videamur. Tribuitur ergo cum pœnitentia extrema communio, ut homines hujusmodi vel in ſupremis ſuis, permittente Salvatore noſtro, a perpetuo exitio vindicentur. Et ſanctus Cœleſtinus dicit: Agnovimus, inquiens, pœnitentiam morientibus denegari, nec illorum deſideriis annui, qui obitus ſui tempore hoc animæ ſuæ cupiunt remedio ſubveniri: Horremus, fateor, tantæ impietatis aliquem reperiri, ut de Dei pietate deſperet, quaſi non poſſit ad ſe quovis tempore recurrenti ſuccurrere, & periclitantem ſub onere peccatorum hominem pondere, quo ſe ille expediri deſiderat, liberare. Quid hoc, rogo, aliud eſt, quam morienti mortem addere, ejusque animam ſua crudelitate, ne abſoluta eſſe poſſit, occidere, cum Dominus ad ſubveniendum paratiſſimus ſit & invitans ad pœnitentiam ſic promittat; peccator in quacunque die converſus fuerit, peccata ejus non reputabuntur ei. Et iterum: Nolo mortem peccatoris ſed tantum ut convertatur & vivat. Salutem ergo homini adimit, quisquis ei mortis tempore pœnitentiam denegavit & deſperavit de clementia Dei, qui eum ad ſubveniendum morienti ſufficere vel in momento poſſe non credidit. Perdidiſſet latro in cruce præmium ad Chriſti dexteram pendens, ſi illum unius horæ pœnitentia non juviſſet; cum eſſet in pœna pœnituit. & per unius ſermonis promiſſionem, habitaculum paradiſi Domino promittente promeruit. Vera igitur ad Dominum Converſio in ultimis poſitorum, mente potius æſtimanda eſt, quam tempore, Propheta hoc taliter adſerente: Ingemueris, tunc ſalvus eris. Cum ergo Dominus ſit cordis inſpector quovis tempore non eſt deneganda pœnitentia poſtulanti; cum illi ſe obliget judici, cui occulta omnia noverit revelari. Et ſanctus Leo: Pœnitentia, inquit, quæ dilata eſt, cum pudioſius petita fuerit, non negetur, ut quoquo modo ad indulgentiæ medicinam anima vulnerata perveniat. Et item. His autem, qui in tempore neceſſitatis & in periculi urgentis inſtantia præſidium pœnitentiæ & mox reconciliationis implorant, nec ſatisfactio interdicenda eſt, nec reconciliatio deneganda eſt; quia miſericordiæ Domini nec menſuras poſſum ponere, nec tempora diffinire, apud quem nullas patitur veniæ moras vera confeſſio, dicente Domini Spiritu per Prophetam: Cum converſus ingemueris, tunc ſalvus eris; Et alibi: dic tu in iniquitate tua ſpiror, ut juſtificeris. Item: quia apud Dominum miſericordia & copioſa apud eum redemtio. In diſpenſandis itaque Domini donis non debemus eſſe difficiles, nec accuſantium ſe gemitus lachrimasque negligere, cum ipſam pœnitendi affectionem ex Domini credamus inſpiratione conceptam, dicente Apoſtolo: Ne forte det illis Dominus pœnitentiam, ut reſipiſcant a Diaboli laqueis, a quo captivi tenentur, ad ipſius voluntatem. Verum igitur, ut diximus, talium neceſſitati auxiliandum eſt, ut actio illis pœnitentiæ nec communionis gratia, ſi eum etiam amiſſo vocis officio per indicia integri ſenſus poſtulant, negetur. At ſi aliqua vi ægritudinis ita fuerint adgravati, ut quod paulo ante poſcebant, ſub præſentia ſacerdotis ſignificare non valeant, teſtimonia eis fidelium circumſtantium prodeſſe debebunt, ut ſimul & pœnitentiæ & reconciliationis beneficium conſequantur. Et item idem ſanctus Leo dicit: Hoc itaque admonitio noſtra denuntiat, quod ſi quis fratrum contra hæc conſtituta venire tentaverit, & prohibita auſus fuerit admittere, a ſuo ſe noverit officio ſubmovendum, nec communionis noſtræ futurum eſſe conſortem, qui ſocius eſſe noluit diſciplinæ. Nequid vero ſit, quod a nobis prætermiſſum eſſe credatur, omnia decretalia conſtituta, tam beatæ recordationis Innocentii, quam omnium deceſſorum noſtrorum, quæ de Eccleſiæ fatis, ordinibus & canonum promulgata ſunt diſciplinis, ita a noſtra dilectione cuſtodiri debere mandamus, ut ſi quis in illa commiſerit, Veniam ſibi deinceps noverit denegari. Et quia hæc frater ignorare non vales & hoc judicium jure depromptum non neſcis, præſertim cùm non Catholici Epiſcopi, ſed Novatiani heretici, ut Beatus Innocentius & ſanctus Ambroſius & cæteri quiq; orthodoxi doctores demonſtrant, ſit iſta perniciosiſſima & exitiabilis atque execrabilis ſecta, cavere debueras, ne talia ſicut oblata mihi Eccleſiæ tibi commiſſæ petitio monſtrat, inconſulte præciperes. Puto enim te legiſſe Epiſtolam S. Auguſtini ad Honoratum Epiſcopum, in qua inveniſti, potius te mori debere cum plebe tibi commiſſa, quam ut illis deſint, ſine quibus vivere & ſalvari non poſſunt ſacramenta cœleſtia: qua de re vide frater, ne tu ſis homicida & homicidarum homicida, qui ſacramenta Cœleſtia plebi ſubtrahi facis, ſine quibus vivere non poteſt, cum adſint, qui eadem ſacramenta licite valeant plebi adminiſtrare. Hæc timeſce nihilominus, quid de* ſententia Evangelica, qua Dominus dicit: ſi quis vobis aliquid dixerit, dicite, quia Dominus his opus habet, & confeſtim dimittet eos; loquente in eis Spiritu Sancto, noſtri majores dixere: Doctoribus, inquiunt, præcipitur, ut, ſi quid eis obſtiterit adverſi, ſi quis verbo contradixerit veritatis, ſi quis prohibuerit peccatores ſolvi a laqueis diaboli & per Confeſſionem fidei Domino adduci, non tamen a prædicando deſiſtant, ſed conſtanter inſinuent; quia Dominus ad ædificandam eccleſiam his opus habet. Et, proh dolor, cum nemo his contradicet, tu econtra implorantibus contradicis, alligans eos, ne divina munia populis exequantur, quorum intereſt ſacra miſſarum officia celebrare, Myſticam diſtributionem ſpiritalis alimoniæ corporis ſacri & ſanguinis Domini noſtri Jheſu Chriſti in remiſſionem peccatorum fidelibus diſtribuere, per lavacrum regenerationis de poteſtate diaboli in regnum Chriſti non baptiſatos transferre, per januam recon-reconciliationis & viatici muneris ſanctificationem animas ab æterno interitu liberare, Domino de Cœleſtibus tibi clamante: quia paſtor bonus pro ovibus ſuis ponit animam ſuam, qui fecit, quod docuit, oſtendit, quod juſſit, cum, præduce Juda, adverſus eum miniſtri Judæorum venerunt, & ſuos caperent, dixit: ſi me quæritis, ſinite hos abire; ſicque comprehendi ſe pertulit, & qui populos ad fidem converterent & converſis ſacra miſteria celebrarent, ſolutos abire permiſit. Nam ſi, te provocante, tibi adverſi aliquid accidit, patienter ferre debueras, usque dum ego qualiscumque metropolitanus tuus cum Epiſcopis & fratribus noſtris noſtri Regis clementiam pro te adirem, &, ſicut jam fecimus, quod juſte & rationabiliter ab eo poſtularemus, utique obtineremus; unde nihil dubitamus, quin Domino cooperante obtinebimus, quod juſte & rationabiliter populabimus, tantum ut noſtris inſolentia tua petitionibus non obſiſtat; quia etiam in hac tuæ præſumptionis præceptione contra ſcripturarum tramitem, contraque ſacras regulas egeris, tibi ex loci noſtri officio neceſſarium duxi oſtendere, Scriptum eſt enim: Interroga patrem tuum & adnunciabit tibi majores tuos, & dicent tibi, & palpebræ tuæ præcedant greſſus tuos, & omnia fac per conſilium, & poſt factum non pœnitebis. Et ſacrum Nicænum Concilium dicit: Antiqua conſuetudo ſervetur per Ægiptum, Libiam & Pentapolim, ita ut Alexandrinus Epiſcopus horum omnium habeat poteſtatem, quia & urbis Romæ Epiſcopo parilis mos eſt, ſimiliter autem & apud Antiochiam cæterasque Provincias ſuis privilegia ſerventur Eccleſiis: quod Capitulum Sanctus Bonefacius Papæ ad Hilarium Narbonenſem Epiſcopum ſcribens exponit ita: Convenit nos paternarum ſanctionum diligentes eſſe cuſtodes. Nulli etenim videtur incognita ſynodi conſtitutio Nicenæ, quæ ita præcipit, ut eadem proprie verba ponamus, per unamquamque Provinciam jus Metropolitanos ſingulos debere habere, nec cuique duas eſſe ſubjectas, quod illi, quia aliter credendum non eſt, ſervandum S. ſancto ſuggerente ſibimet, cenſuerunt: Et poſt aliquanto: Quod idcirco dicimus, ut advertat caritas tua, adeo nos Canonum præcepta ſervare, ut ita quoque conſtitutio noſtra diffiniatur, quatenus Metropolitani in unaquaq; Provincia in omnibus rebus ordinationem ſemper expectet. Et Africanum Concilium ſcribens ad Cœleſtinum Papam: ſecundum ſanctorum, inquit, Patrum Canones Spiritu Domini conditos & totius mundi reverentia conſecratos, Metropolitanos ſingularum Provinciarum Epiſcopos, quibus ex delegatione noſtra fraternitatis tuæ cura prætenditur, jus traditæ ſibi antiquitus dignitatis intemeratum habere decernimus, ita ut a regulis præſtitutis nulla aut negligentia aut præſumptione diſcedant. Et item ad Theodorum Forojulienſem Epiſcopum: Sollicitudinis tuæ is ordo eſſe debuerat, ut cum Metropolitano tuo, de eo quod gerendum eſſe videbatur, conferres, quia in cauſis, quæ ad generalem obſervantiam pertinent omnium Domini Sacerdotum, nihil ſine Primatibus oportet impleri; Certum eſt enim, quoniam illa, quæ de baptizandis parvulis & de ultima pœnitentia & viatico munere nulli deneganda ex ſacris regulis præmiſi, ad generalem obſervantiam Domini ſacerdotum pertinent, contra quæ inconſulte præcipere non debueras. Et Antiochenum Concilium dicit: Per ſingulas regiones Epiſcopos convenit noſſe Metropolitanum Apoſtolicam Sollicitudinem totius Provinciæ gerere; propter quod ad Metropolim omnes undique, qui negotia videntur habere, concurrant. Unde placuit eum & honore præcellere, & nihil amplius præter eum cæteros Epiſcopos agere, ſecundum antiquam a patribus noſtris regulam conſtitutam, niſi ea tantum quæ ad ſuam diœceſin pertinent poſſeſſionesque ſubjectas. Unusquisque enim Epiſcopus habeat ſuæ parochiæ poteſtatem, ut regat juxta reverentiam ſingulis competentem, & providentiam gerit omnis poſſeſſionis, quæ ſub ejus eſt poteſtate; ita ut Presbiteros & Diaconos ordinet, & ſingula ſuo judicio comprehendat; amplius autem nihil agere tentet præter Antiſtitem Metropolitanum. Diligenter attende, quod dicitur: Presbiteros & Diaconos Parrochiæ ſuæ ordinet Epiſcopus; ordinet autem, & non exordinet, nec contra regulas ab officio ſubmoveat vel ſuſpendat. Et ibidem ſubſequitur: Singula ſuo judicio comprehendat; ſingula autem dicit, ut ſuo judicio comprehendat, & non quæ ad generalem obſervantiam pertinent omnium ſacerdotum, quæ, ut Leo dicit, non oportet ſine Primatibus impleri; & noli claudere aures cordis ad id quod ibidem diligentiſſime dicitur: Unusquisque enim Epiſcopus habeat ſuæ parochiæ poteſtatem, ut regat juxta reverentiam ſingulis competentem. Perinde cavere debueras, non conceſſa parochiæ poteſtate, contra hos ſacros Canones abuteris, qui dicunt: ut regat unusquisque ſuam Parochiam juxta reverentiam ſingulis competentem, & non ſubigat, ſicut tu feciſti, quantum ex te fuit, exitio, juxta inreverentiam ſingulis incompetentem; omnibus enim inreverentia, quam exhibuiſti in tua Parrochia omnibus, videtur eſſe incompetens, quæ ad omnium probatur pertinere exitium; cum ſingulis de ſingulis, quanto magis de pluribus timendum Dominus dicat, qui ſcandalizaverit unum de puſillis iſtis, qui in me credunt, expedit ei, ut ſuſpendatur mola aſinaria collo ejus, & demergatur in profundum maris: quia, ut beatus monſtrat Gregorius, ad ſanctitatis ſpeciem deducto & verbo vel exemplo cæteros deſtruenti melius profecto fuerat, ut hunc ad mortem ſub exteriori habitu terrena acta conſtringerent, quia in ſacro officio poſitus, cæteris mortem verbo vel opere propinaret, quem utique ſi ſolos caderet, utcumque tunc tollerabilior inferni pœna cruciaret. Propterea, frater Cariſſime, rogo, hortor, deprecor, & quanta poſſum dulcedine ac humilitate expoſco & Metropolitana auctoritate commoneo, ut, ſicut Dominus præcipit per prophetam, quantocius has diſſolvas colligationes impietatis, ſolvas hos nuntiatum eſt, ſuſcepiſti quidem, ſed legere noluiſti, cum dicat Apoſtolus: quæcumque ſcripta ſunt, ad noſtram doctrinam ſcripta ſunt, ut per patientiam & conſolationem ſcripturarum ſpem habeamus; qui enim doctrinam & conſolationem ſcripturarum abutitur, ſpem ſalutis ſe non habere oſtendit; nam beatus Johannes Apoſtolus a Domitiano Principe in Pathmo Inſula relegatus, & humana conſolatione deſtitutus, conſolationem revelationis, quam divinitus acceperat, in eodem exilio ac relegatione manu propria ſcripſit, & Eccleſiis, quibus miſſus erat, prædicare direxit. Et Sanctus Paulus Apoſtolus ad Timotheum ſcribens dicit: Memor eſto Chriſtum Jheſum reſurrexiſſe a mortuis ex ſemine David ſecundum Evangelium meum, in quo laboro usque ad vincula quaſi male operans, ſed verbum Domini non eſt alligatum, ideo omnia ſuſtineo propter electos, ut & ipſi ſalutem conſequantur, quæ eſt in Chriſto Jheſu cum gloria cœleſti. Et tu, frater Cariſſime, non ſolum ea legere, quæ tibi miſi (& miſi cum poſſes reſpondere) debueras, verum & miniſtros Eccleſiæ tibi commiſſæ, quibus modis poſſes non debueras ex communicatione ligare, ſed conſolari & adhortari, ut in divino ſervitio & aſſidua oratione & ſalutatione populi tibi commiſſi laborare ſtuderent. Et, ſi me digne propter indignitatem meam deſpicis, tamen profeſſionis ac ſubſcriptionis tuæ memor, non debueras mihi qualicunque Metropolitano tuo debitam obedientiam denegare, quam a tuis ſubditis etiam in his perniciosis tuis juſſionibus exigis. Quapropter iterata commonitione pro loci mei officio te convenire congruum duxi, ſuadens, ut quod male ligaſti, diſſolvas, quatenus ſi divinis monitis obedire volueris, pariter Domino gratias agamus; ſi autem reſultaveris obaudire, in tempore tuo metas, quid ſulcis peſtiferis ſeminaſti, & ego ſilentio non judicer. Dominus & Creator ac redemptor atque ſalvator dicit; ſi quis mihi miniſtrat, me ſequatur, id eſt, mihi miniſtret. De quo ſcriptum eſt: quæ cœpit Jheſus facere & docere, qui fecit & docuit. Quod tibi in tuarum injuriarum tribulatione agendum & jubendum fuerat; nam imminente ſuæ paſſionis articulo pro ſe & pro ſuis, ſed & pro his, qui crediturі erant per verbum eorum in eum, Patrem oravit ſecundum humanitatem, qui omnia donorum munera cum Patre divinitatis æqualitate; & qui præcepit diſcipulis ſuis dicens: orate pro perſequentibus & calumniantibus vobis, ut ſitis filii Patris noſtri qui eſt in cœlis. In cruce non ſolum pro ſuis perſecutoribus, verum & pro ſuis interfectoribus exoravit, & nunc ſedens ad dexteram patris interpellat pro nobis. Juſſit etiam diſcipulos ſuos, antequam pateretur, cum tœderet & mœſtus eſſet usque ad mortem, ut orarent, ne in tentationem intrarent, &, ſicut legimus, oratio fiebat ab Eccleſia pro Petro in carcere recluſo & vincto catenis duabus. Sed & Petrus oravit, ſicut legimus pro Eccleſia. Paulus quoque in perſecutionibus & carceribus, in vinculis atque catenis poſitus, ſæpe ab Eccleſia orari popoſcit, ut liberaretur ab infidelibus & inportunis & malis hominibus; ſed & ipſe oravit pro eccleſia. Jacobus Apoſtolus præcipitatus de Pinnaculo templi flexis genibus pro ſuis occiſoribus oravit. Et Beatus Stephanus poſitis genibus oravit pro ſe lapidantibus. Et Apoſtolus de hujusmodi loquens dicit nobis: quorum invenietis exitium converſationis imitamini fidem. Et idem Jacobus Apoſtolus dicit: triſtatur aliquis noſtrum, oret æquo animo & pſallat, & orate pro invicem ut ſalvemini. Genus eſt enim non contemnendum exauditionis, cum cordis contritione ad Dominum clamatur in tribulatione, ſicut ſcriptum eſt: Ad Dominum, cum tribularer, clamavi & exaudivit me. Tu autem contra hæc novus doctor imo novus præſumptor; Miſſam, ut audivi, non vis cantare, nec audire, &, quaſi aliorum oratione non indigens, vetuiſti pro te & pro ſe orare tibi commiſſam Eccleſiam; & cauſa tuæ injuriæ juſſiſti Chriſto in membris ſuis, qui ſedens ad dextram patris dixit Paulo: qui me perſequeris? injurias inportare & mortes inferre. Paulus & Sillas quoque, quorum locum tenere debebas, cæſi virgis & miſſi in interiorem carcerem pedes habentes vinctos in ligno, media nocte adorantes laudabant Dominum & audiebant eos, qui in cuſtodia erant; ſubito vero terræmotus factus eſt magnus, ita ut moverentur fundamenta carceris & ſtatim aperta ſunt omnia oſtia, & univerſorum vincula ſoluta ſunt; expergefactus autem cuſtos carceris & videns apertas januas carceris, evaginato gladio volebat ſe interficere æſtimans fugiſſe vinctos: Paulus autem clamavit voce magna dicens; nihil feceris tibi mali; univerſi enim hic ſumus. Et tu tantam benignitatem Eccleſiæ tuæ filiis tibi commiſſis non es paſſus impendere, quantum idem Paulus ſuo ad mortem cuſtodi impendit. Unde, frater, te iterum moneo paterna & fraterna dilectione atque metropolitana auctoritate, reſipiſce ab hac prava intentione, & concordans præceptis Evangelicis & Apoſtolicis & decretis ſanctorum, quæ tibi in altera rotula pridem miſi, non dedigneris eis & cum eis Patrono tuo ſancto Remigio, in cujus ſede licet indignus ſedeo, dicere, quod Sanctus Paulus Apoſtolus dixit etiam ſuis minoribus: ſi cui aliquid dona ſcis & ego, obſecro, obaudi illorum decreta ſalubria per quos locutus eſt Dominus, ne quod abſit tibi dicat; qui eſt ex Domino verba Domini audit, propterea vos non auditis quia non eſtis ex Domino. Extimeſce, rogo, quod S. Innocentius & beatus Ambroſius & cæteri Catholici doctores, hæc quæ juſſiſti de non ſuſcipiendis penitentibus & pœnitentiam, hereſin dicunt eſſe Novatici hæretici: & non baptizare parvulos in mortis periculo conſtitutos, ſchiſma eſt maximum ab univerſali Eccleſia. Et in Decretis apoſtolicæ ſedis legimus, quia ſicut univerſalis Domini ſemper tenuit & tenet Eccleſia, ſchismaticus & hæreticus, niſi converſi fuerint ad ſanctam matrem Apoſtolicam & Catholicam Eccleſiam, in regnum Domini intra-re non poſſunt, ſed pars eorum eſt in gehenna, etſi de pane celeſti, id eſt, de ſuavitate divina gehennæ participes judicium ſibi ſumunt. Propterea, Frater, ab hac ſecta & ab hoc ſchismate revoca ſenſum tuum, & ſequere, quod S. Cœleſtinus in Decretis ſuis ad Galliarum Epiſcopos ſcripſit dicens: obſecrationum, inquit, ſacerdotalium ſacramenta reſpiciamus, quæ ab Apoſtolis in toto mundo tradita atque in omni Eccleſia uniformiter celebrantur, & Legem credendi lex ſtatuat ſupplicandi; cum enim ſanctarum plebium mandata ſibimet præſules legatione funguntur, apud divinam clementiam humani generis agunt cauſam, & tota ſecum Eccleſia congemeſcente poſtulant, & precantur, ut infidelibus donetur fides, ut idololatræ ab impietatis ſuæ liberentur erroribus, ut Judæis ablato cordis velamine lux veritatis appareat & ad catholicæ fidei perfectionem reſipiſcant, ut ſchiſmatici ſpiritum redivivæ caritatis accipiant, ut lapſis pœnitentiæ remedia conferantur, ut denique catechuminis ad regenerationis ſacramenta perductis cœleſtis miſericordiæ aula referetur; & hæc conferens in corde tuo, noli pietatis viſcera ſalutem petentibus claudere, ſed per Dominum omnipotentem, ut & in te impleat, quod per Prophetam olim pollicitus eſt dicens: Auferam a vobis cor lapideum & dabo vobis cor carneum, & faciam, ut in præceptis meis ambuletis, & operemini. Cæterum fratres noſtri, quos ad te miſi, mihi renunciaverunt, te illis præcepiſſe, ut me precarentur per Domini reverentiam & ſanctorum ejus & ſedis Apoſtolicæ auctoritatem, ne cogerem te reſpondere, quam diu in tali detinearis cuſtodia & abſentia clericorum tuorum, nec judicium, nec præjudicium inferrem tibi vel tuæ parrochiæ quæ petitio partim non eſt juſta neque rationabilis; quod enim petiſti ut præjudicium tibi vel Parrochiæ tuæ non inferam, obaudio; quod petiſti, ut judicium tibi vel Parrochiæ tuæ non inferam, non obaudio; dicit enim Dominus per Prophetam: Si feceritis judicium inter Virum & proximum ejus & reliqua. Et Sapientia per Salomonem: Cerne eos, qui ducuntur ad mortem, & qui trahuntur ad interitum liberare eos neceſſe eſt: quod mihi a Domino, quem ſuo judicio in Metropolitana ſede Remorum Provinciæ conſtituere voluit, præcipi audio de his, qui tua præceptione ducuntur ad mortem & trahuntur ad interitum. Et Decreta Nicena, ſicut Africana Synodus ſcribens ad Cæleſtinum Papam demonſtrat, ſive inferioris gradus clericos ſive Epiſcopos ipſos ſuis Metropolitanis apertiſſime commiſerunt. Et ſanctus Bonefacius Capitulum Niceni Concilii exponens, poſt alia diffinivit, quatenus Metropolitani ſui unaquæque Provincia in omnibus rebus ordinationem ſemper expectet. Et Antiochenum Concilium: Per ſingulas, inquit, regiones convenit noſſe Metropolitanum Epiſcopum ſollicitudinem totius provinciæ gerere, propter quod ad Metropolim omnes undique, qui negotia videntur habere, concurrant. Et cautum eſt ſacris Canonibus, ut nullis liceat apud ſe celebrare Concilia, præter eos, quibus Metropolitana jura videntur commiſſa: in ipſis autem Conciliis adſint Presbiteri & Diaconi & omnes qui ſe læſos exiſtimant, & ſynodi experiantur examen. Propterea quod petiſti, ut judicium tuæ Parrochiæ non inferam, contra regulas ſacras petiſti; & dicendum eſt tibi ab Apoſtolo cum hujusmodi petitoribus: petitis & non accepiſtis, eo quod male petatis. Unusquisque enim Epiſcopus, inquit Antiochenum Concilium, habeat ſuæ Parrochiæ poteſtatem, ut regat juxta reverentiam ſingulis competentem; & providentiam gerat omnis poſſeſſionis ejus, quæ ſub ejus eſt poteſtate; ita ut Presbiteros & Diaconos ordinet & ſingula ſuo judicio comprehendat: Amplius autem nihil agere temptet præter Antiſtitem Metropolitanum. Ex hoc capitulo quædam ſunt, quæ tibi in præmiſſa rotula ſcribenda dictavi. Sed notarius anguſtia temporis coartatus celeriter ſcribens intermiſit: Sed ea quæ tunc ſcripſeram ad meum opus diligentius ſcribere jubens de tabulis relevari feci. Videlicet diligenter attende, quid dicat: Presbiteros & Diaconos Parochiæ ſuæ ordinet Epiſcopus. Ordinet autem & non exordinet: Nec contra regulas ab officio ſubmoveat & ſuſpendat. Et ibidem ſubſequenter: ſingula ſuo judicio conprehendat. Singula autem dicit, ut ſuo judicio comprehendat, & non quæ ad generalem obſervantiam omnium Domini pertinent ſacerdotum, quæ, ut Leo dicit, ſine Primatibus non oportet impleri. Et noli claudere aures cordis ad id, quod ibidem diligentiſſime dicitur: Unusquisque habeat ſuæ Parochiæ poteſtatem, ut regat juxta reverentiam ſingulis competentem. Provide cavere debueras, ne conceſſa tuæ Parochiæ poteſtate, contra hos ſacros canones abutereris, qui dicunt, ut regat quilibet Epiſcopus ſuam Parrochiam juxta reverentiam ſingulis competentem & non ſubrigat, ſicut tu feciſti, quantum ex te fuit, exitio, juxta inreverentiam cunctis incompetentem. Omnibus enim inreverentia, quam exhibuiſti in tua parochia, neſcire eſſe incompetens, quæ ad omnium probatur pertinere exitium: cum ſingulis de ſingulis, quanto magis de pluribus timendum Dominus dicat; qui ſcandalizaverit unum de puſillis iſtis, qui in me credunt, expedit ei, ut ſuſpendatur mola aſinaria collo ejus & demergatur in profundum maris: quia, ut beatus monſtrat Gregorius ad ſanctitatis ſpeciem deducto & verbo & exemplo cæteros deſtruenti melius profecto fuerat, ut hunc ad mortem ſub exteriori habitu terrena acta conſtringerent: Quia in ſacro officio poſitus cæteris mortem verbo vel opere propinaret, quia nimirum ſi ſolus caderet, utcunque hunc tolerabiliter inferni pœna maneret. Quod mandaſti, ut non te cogerem reſpondere in abſentia clericorum tuorum; demonſtraſti te non recte intelligere ſententiam Canonis Carthaginenſis Concilii, qui dicit, ut Epiſcopus nullius cauſam audiat abſque præſentia clericorum ſuorum, licet jam tibi dixe-rim, qualiter ſit intelligenda & qua de re fuerit conſtituta. Quod autem mandaſti, ut ſicut mihi Dominus apoſtolicus ſcriptis mandaverat, tibi licentiam Romam eundi impetrarem. Non enim hoc Dominus apoſtolicus mandavit. Habeo enim illius Epiſtolam ſalvam & incorruptam, in qua hoc, quod mandaſti, non continetur. Quod mandaſti, qualiter in ſynodo nuper in Vermeria habita ſedem Apoſtolicam appellaſti; manifeſtiſſime omnes illi Epiſcopi, amplius quam XX. qui adfuere in Synodo, regulariter te ſedem Apoſtolicam non appellaſſe cognoſcunt. Quod mandaſti, quia ſedem appellas Apoſtolicam, nunc in judicio noſtro, id eſt, in Epiſcopali judicio ſecundum ſacros canones ſedem Apoſtolicam appellaveris; habemus ordinem rei qualiter inde agere debeamus. Cæterum nec tibi, nec cuiquam alii Romam ire, quantum ex me eſt, contradico. Data 8. Kal. Jun. præſentis ſecundæ indictionis.

Hincmari Rem. Archiep. Epiſtola ad Clerum Laudunenſem.

Hincmarus Remorum Epiſcopus ac Plebis Dei famulus Presbiteris, Diaconibus ac reliquis Eccleſiaſticis ordinibus in Laudunenſi Eccleſia conſiſtentibus ſalutem. Sicut petitio mihi a vobis per quosdam comminiſtros veſtros vice omnium veſtrorum data continet, Frater & coëpiſcopus noſter Hincmarus cauſa injuriarum ſuarum vos ab officio Eccleſiaſtico, & omnem Parochiam ſibi commiſſam a perceptione & communione vivificorum myſteriorum noſtræ redemptionis excommunicavit. Qua de re, ſicut a quibusdam dicitur, plurimi ſine ſacri baptismatis regeneratione ſineque ultima pœnitentia, petita & non impetrata, atque ſine viatico munere obierunt. Cum Daniel Propheta de dictis Domini teſtimonium contra inique judicantes perhibeat dicens: Innocentem & juſtum non interficies, id eſt, quibus ligandi atque ſolvendi eſt a Domino conlata poteſtas. Non de ſupercilio Phariſæorum deſumant, ut vel damnent innocentes, vel ſolvere ſe noxios arbitrarentur. Cum apud Dominum non ſententia ſacerdotum, ſed eorum vita quæratur. Legimus in Levitico de leproſis, ubi jubentur, ut oſtendant ſe ſacerdotibus & ſi lepram habuerint, tunc a ſacerdote immundi fiant; Non quod ſacerdotes leproſos faciant & immundos, ſed quod habeant notitiam leproſi & non leproſi, & poſſint diſcernere, qui mundus vel immundus ſit. Quo modo ergo leproſum ſacerdos immundum facit, ſic & hic cui Dominus ligandi & ſolvendi poteſtatem dedit, alligat & ſolvit videlicet Epiſcopus & Presbiter, id eſt, non eos, qui inſontes ſunt, alliget, &, qui noxii, ſolvat, ſed pro officio ſuo, cum peccatorum ex veritate cognoverit varietates, ſciat, qui ſecundum autoritatem ligandus ſit, quive ſolvendus: Et ſanctus Gregorius Epiſcopo Nuſiteranæ civitatis pro quibusdam culpis in pœnitentiam deputato, de ejus Eccleſia dicat; valde eſſe durum, ut quousque cauſa ipſius Epiſcopi ſubtiliter requiratur, nec habeat Eccleſia illa Presbiterum, qui ſacrum illis quidem valeat celebrare. Et ad Maximinianum Archiepiſcopum Syracuſanum ſcribit, ut Venantii Patricii, cujus homines in Epiſcopatum ejus irruerant, & diverſa hoſtili more mala commiſerant, & ob id ipſe & ſua domus ab eo excommunicati erant, ejusdem Venantii oblationes reciperet, & ipſi ac domui ejus Miſſarum peragi myſteria permitteret, dicens: quia ita terrena agi debet utilitas, ut nullam nos iniquum a caritatis valeat connexione disjungere. Et ita filiis nos ſacerdotes oportet ſacerdotalem affectum impendere, ut in cauſis, prout ratio ſuffragatur, jurisdictionem Eccleſiæ noſtræ debemus minime præterire. Sed & communicantes maxime Epiſcopo a ſe excommunicato isdem beatus Gregorius etiam non petentes abſolvit hoc modo: quosdam, inquiens, ad communicandum eodem prævaricatori violenter eſſe compreſſos, quosdam autem veſtrum audivi ignorantia lapſos. Omnipotentem Dominum deprecor ut eos qui huic pravitati minime conſenſerunt, perpetua gratiæ ſuæ protectione cuſtodiat & optata eis largitate reſpondent: & illos, quos aut ſtudium aut ignorantia aut quælibet alia cauſa traxit in culpam, ab omni reatu peccatorum, atque ab omnibus vinculis alienæ obligationis abſolvat, omnibusque & in præſenti vita protectionis ſuæ gratiam tribuat & nos de vobis in æterna patria gaudere concedat. Quia vero isdem Frater & coëpiſcopus noſter his quæ ipſe commoverat, benignitate principali & meo & fratrum & coëpiſcoporum noſtrorum, quorundam etiam aliorum Dei fidelium interventu, prout rationabilius paci atque concordiæ convenire perſpeximus, non ſine magno labore ſopitis, quibusdam cauſis & redivivis contentionibus Epiſcopali modeſtiæ inconvenientibus, ſua contumacia exigente, ut auditu comperi, juſſione Domini noſtri Regis interim a ſua eſt Eccleſia ſeparatus, usque dum Epiſcoporum conſilio tractet, qualiter ejus pervicacia corrigatur; metropolitana ſolicitudine veſtram commoneo dilectionem, ut, quoniam illud nefandum vinculum præceptis Evangelicis atque apoſtolicis contrarium & Decretis Sanctorum adverſum, ſicut jam vobis aliis literis indicavi, ſecundum tramitem ſcripturarum, traditionemque majorum ſedis metropolitanæ noſcitur diſſolutum, devotis ſanctæ religionis excubiis mancipati orationum & ſacræ oblationis ac cæteris divinæ placationis ſtudiis invigilare curetis. Præpoſitus quoque ac Decanus fratrum cuſtodiæ tam in ſpirituali ſollicitudine, quam in temporali adminiſtratione ſolertem curam adhibeant. Theſaurarius de luminaribus & de aliis omnibus, quæ ad Eccleſiæ honeſtatem utilitatem atque ſalvationem & ad ſuum miniſterium pertinent, providentiam gerat. Archipresbiteri autem totius parrochiæ ac Presbyterorum ſibi commiſſorum diligentiam ſummopere habeant & rectores & rectrices Monaſteriorum ipſius parochiæ ſedulo moneant, quatenus & in ſpiritualibus & in de recuperandis Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ rebus consultandum, ut ad Pontificem Romanum mitterentur, qui de ea re cum Pontifice ageret. Ea fuit causa, cur Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ Procuratores, qui Romæ essent, ad me accederent, ut ea de re cum illis agerem. Ego vero, quamvis ea res mihi non placeret, tamen, ut ostenderem, me nihil in ea re, quæ ad Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ utilitatem pertineret, recusare, ad eam rationem, quam ipsi mihi proponebant, accedere, eandemque probare visum fuit. Quamvis enim ego, quæ ad Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ utilitatem pertinerent, nullo modo recusarem, tamen, quia ea ratio, quam ipsi proponebant, ad Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ utilitatem pertinere videbatur, ego eam probavi. Quæ ratio fuerit, quam ipsi proponebant, ex Epistola, quam ad Pontificem Romanum scripserunt, quæque ad me missa fuit, intelligere licet. Ea Epistola, quæ ad me missa fuit, ita se habet.

*Illustrem Archiepiscopum Cantuariensem, totius Britanniæ Primatem, Hibernorum Regnum Legatum Romanum Sedis Apostolicæ, Reverendissimos Episcopos Anglicanos, Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ Procuratores Romæ existentes, Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ res cum Romam Sedem Apostolicam, tum Christianum Orbem universum concernentes, Romæ existentes, Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ Procuratores existentes, Reverendissimo Domino Episcopo Emensi, Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ Procuratori Romæ existenti, Reverendissimo, ejusdem ordinis, ac nominis

ſine cæterorum geratur conſilio ſacerdotum. Et Africanum concilium: Decreta, inquit, Nicena ſive inferioris gradus clericos ſive Epiſcopos ipſos ſuis Metropolitanis apertiſſime commiſerunt, & reliqua. Et ſanctus Innocentius dicit: Si quæ cauſæ & contentiones inter Clericos tam ſuperioris ordinis, quam etiam inferioris fuerint exortæ, ut ſecundum Synodum Nycenam congregatis ejusdem provinciæ Epiſcopis & reliqua. Et ſanctus Bonifacius ſcribit: Convenit nos paternarum ſanctionum diligentes eſſe cuſtodes. Nulli etenim videtur incognita Synodi conſtitutio Nicænæ, quæ ita præcipit, ut eadem propria verba ponamus: Per unamquamque provinciam jus Metropolitanos ſingulos habere debere; Nec cuique duas eſſe ſubjectas: quod illi, quia aliter credendum non eſt, ſervandum, Sancto Spiritu ſuggerente, ſibimet cenſuerunt. Et paulo poſt: Quod idcirco diximus, ut advertat caritas tua, adeo nos canonum præcepta ſervare, ut ita conſtitutio quoque noſtra diffiniat, quatenus Metropolitani ſui unaquæque provinciæ in omnibus rebus ordinationem ſemper expectet. Et S. Cœleſtin9 juxta Decreta canonum: Unaquæq; provincia Metropolitano ſuo contenta ſit, ut deceſſores noſtri data ad Narbonenſem Epiſcopum continent conſtituta: Nec uſurpationi locus alicui ſacerdoti in alterius concedatur injuriam: ſit conceſſis ſibi contentus unusquisque limitibus: alter in alterius provincia nihil præſumat. Et Leo: Secundum ſanctorum patrum canones Spiritu divino conditos & totius mundi reverentia conſecratos Metropolitanos ſingularum provinciarum Epiſcopos jus traditæ ſibi antiquitus dignitatis intemeratum habere decernimus. De quibus Canonibus idem ſanctus Leo Apoſtolicæ Sedis Pontifex, non ignorans, quæ ſui deceſſores ac prædeceſſores ſcripſerunt, ad Anatholium Dominum: Illa, inquiens, Nicænorum Canonum per ſanctum vere Spiritum ordinata conditio in nulla eſt parte ſolubilis: Nulla ſibimet de multiplicatione congregationis ſynodalia concilia blandiantur: Neque trecentis illis decem atque octo Epiſcopis quantumlibet copioſior numerus ſacerdotum vel comparare ſe audeat vel præterferre. Cum miro divinitus privilegio Nicena ſit ſynodus conſtituta, ut ſive per pauciores ſive per plures Eccleſiaſtica judicia celebrentur, Omni penitus auctoritate ſit vacuum, quia, quod ab illorum fuerit conſtitutione diverſum. Et ad Maximum Antiochenum Epiſcopum: Etſi diverſa nonnunquam ſunt merita Præſulum, tamen jura permanent ſedium, quibus poſſes æmulis perturbationem aliquam fortaſſe inferre, non tamen poſſes minuere dignitatem: quantumlibet enim Apoſtolicorum numerus ſacerdotum aliquid per quorundam ſubreptionem decernat, quod illis trecentorum decem & octo Epiſcoporum conſtitutionibus invenitur adverſum juſtitiæ conſideratione noſcitur. Et ad Theodorum Forojulienſem Epiſcopum dicit: Solicitudinis quidem hujus is ordo eſſe debuerat, ut cum Metropolitano tuo de eo, quid quærendum videbatur eſſe, conferres; ac ſi id, quod ignorabat dilectio tua, etiam ipſe neſciret, inſtrui vos pariter poſceretis; quia in cauſis, quæ ad generalem obſervantiam pertinent omnium Domini ſacerdotum, nihil ſine Primatibus oportet impleri. Et Hilarus Papa: Illud etiam non potuimus præterire, quod ſolicitudine diligentiore curandum eſt, ne præter Metropolitanorum ſuorum literas aliqui Epiſcopi ad quamlibet provinciam audeant proficiſci, quod etiam in omni genere officii clericalis per ſingulas debet Eccleſias cuſtodiri. Et ſanctus Gregorius ad Vincentium & cæteros Epiſcopos: Hortamur, inquit, fraternitatem veſtram, ut ſi quemquam veſtrum pro cauſis propriis ubicunque longius compulerit ambulare neceſſitas, a Metropolitano veſtro ſecundum inditam a ſanctis Patribus regulam petere licentiam debeatis; nec eum poſtponere in aliquo præſumatis, excepto, ſi, quod non optamus, contra eundem Metropolitanum veſtrum vos habere aliquid cauſæ contingat, ut hoc ſedi Apoſtolicæ judicium hi qui petere feſtinant, licentiam habeant, quod ſcitis per canones etiam antiquorum Patrum inſtitutione permiſſum. Manifeſtum eſt enim, de quibus canonibus, quia de Sardicenſis Concilii, ſicut & Innocentius ad Victorium Rotomagenſem Epiſcopum dicit. Et Gelaſius pariter tali concordans exponendo Pſalmi verſum dicentem, Deus, in gradibus ejus cognoſcere; Et item: Diſtribuite domui ejus, quia Eccleſiæ. Hic ordo procul dubio, qui in Eccleſiaſticarum narratur altitudine dignitatum, gradibus utique diſtributis nobis cognoſcibilem Dominum fieri & tribuit eſſe rectorem. Deinde Leo ad Anaſtaſium evidenter exponit: Etſi ordo, inquiens, generaliter eſt omnibus ſacerdotibus, non tamen talis eſt dignitas omnibus, quia & inter beatiſſimos Apoſtolos in ſimilitudine honoris fuit quædam diſcretio poteſtatis; & cum omnium par eſt & electio, uni tamen datum eſt, ut cæteris præmineret. De qua forma Epiſcoporum quoque eſt orta diſtinctio & magna ordinatione proviſum eſt, ne omnes ſibi omnia vendicarent. Sed eſt etiam in ſingulis proventus ſinguli, quorum inter fratres haberetur prima ſententia. Et paulo poſt: Qui ergo ſcit ſe quibusdam præpoſitum, non moleſte ferat, aliquem ſibi eſſe prælatum; ſed obedientiam, quam exigit, etiam ipſe dependat. Et Africanum Concilium decrevit, ut Epiſcopus a Primate ſuo vocatus ad ſynodum, competenter occurrat; quod ſi non potuerit occurrere, niſi rationem impedimenti ſui apud ſuum primatem reddiderit, Eccleſiæ ſuæ communione debere eſſe contentum, & quia non fuerit concors circa Metropolitanam Eccleſiam & circa ſacerdotale conſortium; Sed inflatus & ab hoc conſortio ſeparatus, putat propriæ plebi incubandum & nonnunquam conventus ad concilium venire detractat, circa hunc non tantum diœceſim non eſſe ſervandam, verum & de propria Eccleſia, quæ illi male faverit, omnimodo ad intendum,* ut etiam auctoritate publica rejiciatur, atque ab ipſa principali cipali Cathedra removeatur. Etſi accuſatus juxta Carthaginenſe concilium ad rationem reddendam venire refugerit, & excommunicatus a Primate ſuo extiterit tempore, quo non communicat, nec in ſua Eccleſia vel Parrochia communicet. Percurre, Frater, ſacra Concilia Canonum & decreta Romanorum Pontificum; & a Siricio & in reliquum, ita ut præmiſſum eſt, invenies fuiſſe decretum ac conſervatum: & corrige illorum ſenſibus ſenſum tuum, & dirige ad eorum doctrinam & præceptionem intentionem tuam; & ſic intellige ſacras regulas, ſicut illi eas intellexerunt; quoniam poteſt fieri, ut ego & tu in multis erremus. Non debet autem credi vel etiam ſuſpicari, ut ipſi erraverint; quapropter, velis nolis, hæc ſtatuta in convulſa manebunt. A quibus, ſi, quod abſit, aliquis pertinaciter deviaverit non inter Catholicos computabitur, ſed inter ſchismaticos condemnabitur, quia, ut Hilarus Papa dicit, non minus in ſacrarum Traditionum delinquitur ſanctiones, quam in ipſius Domini injuriam proſilitur. Et ſicut in decretis Apoſtolicæ ſedis ſcriptum eſt: Quisquis ſchismatico aſſenſerit, ſchismaticus eſſe negari non poterit: quod etſi omnes ſacerdotes & mundus aſſentiant, damnatio conſentientes involvit, non prævaricationem conſenſus abſolvit; non enim crimen minuitur, ſed accreſcit: etiam generale ſit ex privato: hoc enim Dominus omnium indicavit, qui peccantem mundum generali diluvio interemit.

Hincmari Remenſis Archi-Epiſcopi Epiſtola ad Hincmarum Laudunenſem.

Hincmarus Remorum Epiſcopus, dilecto fratri & coëpiſcopo noſtro Hincmaro ſalutem. Homines de Villa, quæ vocatur Follan & Brajus Metropolis Eccleſiæ Remorum, indignitati meæ commiſſæ in tua Parochia conſtitutæ, ad me reclamaverunt, quia in Eccleſia ad quam a longo tempore meorum & tuorum prædeceſſorum ſua vota & decimas ipſi & ſui prædeceſſores contulerunt, & ibi obſequium ſacerdotalis officii habuerunt usque ad præſentis anni DCCCLXX. tertiæ Indictionis, Pridie non. Febr. nunc nec miſſam audire, nec in tempore neceſſitatis, ſicut ſacræ regulæ præfigunt, eorum infantes baptismum accipere, nec etiam obeuntes confeſſione & viatici muneris reconciliatione ſalvari poſſint. Dicunt enim, quia ex quo memorari ab his, qui in carne ſunt, poteſt, quoniam ipſa eccleſia per ſe fuit ſemper, & nulli alteri Eccleſiæ fuit ſubjecta. Nam tempore Tilpini Remorum Archi-Epiſcopi, quando Rodulfus avus Parduli Laudunenſis Epiſcopus ipſam villam in beneficio habuit, fuit in præfata Eccleſia Ferberus presbiter: poſt obitum Ferberi fuit in ipſa Eccleſia Dodo Presbiter, quando Odelherus filius Rodulfi Patris Pardoli Epiſcopi ipſam villam in beneficio habuit: Poſt obitum Dodonis Presbiteri fuit in ipſa Eccleſia Agmerodus Presbiter, quando Odelgiſus frater Parduli Epiſcopi habuit ipſam villam in beneficio, & ita ſemper Presbiteri fuerunt in ipſa Eccleſia per ſucceſſiones tempore Epiſcoporum Laudunenſis Eccleſiæ, Genebaudi junioris, Bruniconis & Ganifredi. Poſt obitum Agmeradi fuit in ea ordinatus Octericus Presbiter a Wenilone Laudunenſi Epiſcopo. Ipſe Octericus, cum ipſam Eccleſiam teneret, cantavit in Noviante & in Landrica curte & in Brœris. Titulus autem ipſius, in quo & reſiduus erat, fuit in Follan & Brajo. In ipſo tempore fuit Nodalbertus Presbiter in Codiciaco per annos XX. Obiit autem Wenilo & ſucceſſit Oferoldus Epiſcopus in Eccleſia Laudunenſi: Obiit Nodalbertus Presbyter de Codiciaco, & ſucceſſit ei Gormarus Presbyter, qui de Canonica Remenſi miſſus eſt ad Eccleſiam in Codiciaco, & fuit ibi per annos circiter XXX. Obiit Oferoldus Epiſcopus in Eccleſia & aliquandiu vacavit Epiſcopatus Martemaro. Et per illa tempora fuit ſemper Gormarus Presbyter in Codiciaco & Octericus in Follan & Braio, cum Odelbarius beneficium illud habebat usque ad meum tempus, quo fui ordinatus Epiſcopus, poſt plures annos ordinationis Simeonis Epiſcopi. Et quia jam Gormarus officium presbyterale agere non poterat, conſenſit, ut alter Presbyter illi in eadem Eccleſia ſuccederet; Sicque conſentiente Simeone Epiſcopo ac me Hincmaro Remorum Epiſcopo miſſus eſt Haimeradus Clericus Simeoni Epiſcopo ad ordinandum in Codiciaco. Poſt obitum Simeonis Epiſcopi in Laudunenſi Eccleſia ſucceſſit Pardulus Epiſcopus; Cujus tempore obiit Octericus Presbyter de Follan & Braio, qui per annos circiter ſexaginta in eadem Eccleſia Presbyter deguit. Poſt obitum Octerici venerunt homines de ipſa villa ante Pardulum Epiſcopum reclamantes, quia non haberent Presbyterum in ſua Eccleſia: Pardulus autem Epiſcopus cum meo conſenſu, ſuggerente mihi Oſuero, cui beneficium Odelharus Ilvodolfi ſine poteſtate tamen Parduli Epiſcopi commiſerat, Vulfegerum decanum in ipſa Eccleſia ordinandum ſuſcepit. Ante vero quam ipſe Vulfegerus fuiſſet ordinatus, obiit Pardulus Epiſcopus. Interea ante ordinationem tuam cantavit ibidem Haimeradus Presbyter in Codiciaco, ordinatus a Simeone Epiſcopo, &, reclamante ipſo Haimerado apud me & ante, quia ipſa Eccleſia ſubjecta eſſe deberet Eccleſiæ de Codiciaco, cum meo conſenſu miſiſti vicarios tuos Juonem, Luidonem, Archidiaconum, Hedenulfum, Angelramum, Decanum, Presbyterum, qui inquiſierunt inde rei veritatem, quique tibi renunciaverunt, quod tibi bene eſt notum; &, ſicut in noſtris geſtis habemus, veracibus teſtibus & evidentibus documentis invenerunt, quod ipſa Eccleſia de Follanebraio nunquam Eccleſiæ in Codiciaco fuerit ſubjecta, ſed Presbyterum ſemper habuerit. Inde, ſicut ipſi homines dicunt perpetuum conſenſum, Bertfridus Presbyter in eadem Eccleſia & in Eccleſia tua apud Broeras per quinque annos cantavit: qui Bertfridus apud te ſe reclamavit, quod Haimeradus ipſam Capellam deſtructam haberet, & inde pallium unum & caſulam unam & ſchillam unam & librum unum abſtulerit; &, ſicut ſicut ipſi homines dicunt, miſiſti miſſos tuos ad hanc cauſam inquirendam, Hadulfum ſcilicet Archi-Diaconum, Famulfum & Angelramum Presbyteros: &, ſicut ipſe Bertfridus dixerat, invenerunt. Quapropter & ea quæ reperta fuerant, Haimeradus ipſi Eccleſiæ coram miſſis tuis reſtituit. In ipſa Eccleſia, ut prædixi, idem Bertfridus per annos quinque perpetuam Licentiam miniſtravit, donec fama de eo vulgata abſceſſit. Deinde Sigebertus, cui illud beneficium dedi, a me ſecundum antiquam conſvetudinem clericum petiit, qui in ipſa Eccleſia a te ordinaretur: Cui ſecundum conſvetudinem anteceſſorum meorum & ſecundum regulas Eccleſiaſticas ac Synodalia Capitula clericum de poteſtate Eccleſiæ noſtræ ea conditione conceſſi, ut, ſi tu illum probabilem judicares, ego illi libertatem Eccleſiaſticam darem & tunc demum tu illum regulariter ordinares, quid Clericus nomine ſenatus per quatuor annos, te ſcicente, ipſam Eccleſiam tenuit, & ſecundum paupertatem ſuam, ſicut ſimul ſæpe vidimus, & adhuc, pure & bene in ea laboravit, & ad illius vicem, usque dum ad ordinationem veniret, per annum & dimidium commendatione miniſtrorum tuorum, ſcilicet Audulfi Archi-Diaconi & Angelramni Decani Presbyteri tuæ parrochiæ in ipſa Eccleſia cantavit. Deinde ipſorum Conſenſione Hemericus Presbyter tuæ Parrochiæ per duos & dimidium annos ibidem officium ſacerdotale exhibuit, usque, ut ſupra dixi, pridie Nonarum proximi præcedentis Febr. quando præfato clerico interdicta eſt ipſa Eccleſia. Et nunc inde quæſtio removetur, quaſi non debeat ſufficere ad ſopiendam omnem remotionem antiquitas & tanta longitudo temporum & numeroſitas Epiſcoporum ac Presbyterorum, ſub quibus ipſa Eccleſia per ſe nulli alteri Eccleſiæ ſubjecta eſſe conſtitit. Cum & leges publice tam apud Romanos, quam & apud noſtrates, ſed & Canones atque ſedis Romanæ Pontificum Decreta portant, ut ultra XXX. annos nulli liceat pro id appellare, quod Legum tempus excludit; quaſi etiam non debeant ſufficere tuæ per miniſtros tuos requiſitiones & diffinitiones, cum Leges publicæ atque Eccleſiaſticæ decernant, ut quæ legaliter diffinita ſunt, ne evellantur, neque removeantur. Sed & leges publicæ atque Eccleſiaſticæ decernunt de his, qui diffinitam cauſam removere præſumunt. Poſtea vero quam ipſa Eccleſia eidem clerico, ſicut quidam dixerat, ſine tua commendatione interdicta eſt, Miſſa ibidem celebrata nec fuit, nec aliquis de ipſa villa vel in confeſſione vel in communione vel in baptizatione ſacerdotale obſequium habuit, & hac occaſione duo ibidem homines, ſicut ad me pervenit, ſine confeſſione & communionis reconciliatione fuerunt mortui, quorum unus Ertelierus & alter Gislehardus vocabatur. Nam ipſa Eccleſia habet, unde bene per ſe poterit conſiſtere & hoc inter cætera habetur judicium, quoniam a longo tempore per ſe conſtitit; quia etiam terras habet, quas Octericus Presbyter in ea ordinate comparavit, &, ſecundum regulas Eccleſiaſticas, moriens ibidem reliquit: & Presbyteri, qui per tanta tempora in ea fuerunt, bene inde ſe conduxerunt. Propterea, Frater, moneo dilectionem tuam ut depoſito omni contra regulas inrationabili animo - - - - - Noli contra ſalutem & miniſterium tuum de eadem Eccleſia agere, pro eo quod & mihi commiſſa Eccleſia, & beneficio Sigeberti mihi fidelis, viri ſororis tuæ probatur exiſtere, contra quos indebite es commotus, præſertim cum neminem paſtoris fungentem officio latere debeat, quia in exequendo divino miniſterio, ſicut nullius gratia ad indebita provocari, ita & debita nullius odio vel privati ſtudii zelo debeat retardare ſive pervertere. Scimus enim, quia regulæ Aurelianenſis concilii dicunt, quæ tempore Ludovici Regis, quem ſanctus Remigius cum Francorum militibus baptizavit, decretæ fuerunt: Ut omnes Eccleſiæ, quæ per diverſa conſtructæ ſunt vel cotidie conſtruuntur, ſecundum priorum canonum regulam, in ejus Epiſcopi, in cujus territorio poſitæ ſunt, poteſtate conſiſtant. Et Toletanum concilium dicit, ut dotes Eccleſiaſticas & omnia ſecundum conſtitutionem antiquam ad Epiſcopi ordinationem & poteſtatem pertineant, ſcilicet, ut Antiochenum concilium dicit: regat juxta reverentiam ſingulis competentem & providentiam gerat omnis poſſeſſionis, quæ ſub ejus eſt poteſtate, ita ut Presbyteros & Diaconos ordinet & ſingula ſuo judicio comprehendat. Sed antequam ipſæ regulæ tempore Ludovici Regis in Synodo Aurelianenſi fuerunt conſtitutæ antiquiores non refragari Araufici Concilii regulæ ſtatuerunt, ut ſi quis Epiſcoporum in alienæ civitatis territorio Eccleſiam ædificare diſponit, vel pro fundi ſui aut Eccleſiaſtici vel pro quacunque ſuorum oportunitate, promiſſa licentia ædificandi, quia prohiberi hoc voto nefas eſt, non præſumat dedicationem, quæ illi omnibus modis reſervatur, in cujus territorio Eccleſia adſurgit, & reſervata ædificatori ſuo hæc gratia, ut, quos deſiderat clericos in re ſua videre, ipſos ordinet, in cujus territorio eſt; vel ſi ordinati jam ſunt, ipſos habere adquieſcat, & omnis Eccleſiæ ipſius gubernatio ad eum, in cujus civitatis territorio Eccleſia ſurrexerit, pertinebit. Et hac autoritate a temporibus ſancti Remigii ſemper prædeceſſores mei in temporibus prædeceſſorum tuorum in Eccleſiis ad Codiciacam villam Laudunenſis parrochiæ, ſed & ad Juliacum villam in Parrochiæ Sueſſonica ſpectantes, cum conſenſu ipſarum civitatum Epiſcoporum presbyteros, ordinatos in Remenſi Parrochia & incardinatos, in Codiciaco & in Juliaco inveni. Sed quia mihi pro honore Coëpiſcoporum meorum ipſarum ſedium complacuit, ut, illis decedentibus, Clericos ordinandos in eisdem Eccleſiis Epiſcopis propriarum Parrochiarum dirigerem; cum libertate Eccleſiaſtica & literis meis ordinandos Presbyteros in præfatis Eccleſiis miſi: & Simeon, ut prædixi, miſſum a me ſibi Haimeradum ordinavit presbyterum: Et Dominus Rothadus, meæ miſſioni non reſiſtens, jam in Juliaco duos a me ſibi miſſos clericos ordinavit dinavit Presbyteros; & ego ipſi, ſed & aliis Coëpiſcopis noſtris in parrochia noſtra Eccleſias habentibus, eundem honorem, ſicut & prædeceſſores mei illorum prædeceſſoribus fecerunt, conſervo. Et rectum eſt, ut tu antiquæ autoritati & conſuetudini tuæ metropoli a tuis prædeceſſoribus conſervatæ jam deroges? Præſertim cum ſit conſtitutum in primo libro Capitulorum Synodalium tempore Auguſtorum noſtrorum, a noſtris majoribus conſervatorum, ut ſine autoritate vel conſenſu Epiſcoporum presbyteri in quibuslibet Eccleſiis non conſtituantur, nec expellantur. Et ſi Laici clericos probabilis vitæ & doctrinæ Epiſcopis conſecrandos ſuisque in Eccleſiis conſtituendos obtulerint, nulla qualibet occaſione eos rejiciant. Et exinde nuper in placito Domini noſtri Regis Karoli apud Piſtas conſtituerunt, quod & tua conſenſione firmaſti, Capitulum, quod dicit; ut ſi Abbates vel Abbatiſſæ aut Comites ſeu Vaſſi noſtri aut cæteri Laici clericos probabilis vitæ & doctrinæ Epiſcopis canonice conſecrandos ſuisque in Eccleſiis conſtituendos obtulerint, nulla qualibet occaſione eos Epiſcopi vel miniſtri eorum rejiciant. Propterea ſi ipſe clericus criminoſus non eſt & docilis eſt, quod etiam in Epiſcopo Canones ſacri requirunt, qui a nobis tibi ordinandus offertur, non debes illum ab ordinatione in Eccleſia ipſa rejicere, cui per tanta tempora eandem Eccleſiam conſenſiſti; cum ſanctus Innocentius in Decretis ſuis ad Martianum Naiſicanum Epiſcopum de quibusdam Presbyteris, qui in Parrochia illius aliquandiu tenuerunt Eccleſias, ſed quando occaſione communionem illius mereri non poterant, dicat: Frater, inquiens, chariſſime, ſi eorum aſſertio fidem recipit, vere ſuſcipientes eſſe ambigere non debes, quos tam diu Eccleſias ſibi creditas paſſus es retinere. Et ſi eundem clericum in eadem Eccleſia vis ordinare, ſcribe mihi ſecundum morem, & ego illi libertatem Eccleſiaſticam dabo. Si autem ipſe clericum, cui per tanta tempora ipſam Eccleſiam in Follanebraio [conceſſiſti] rejeceris, illum, quem contra regulas, ſine mea licentia, & ſine libertate Canonum, ordinaſti, oſtende, & alterum inveniemus, tantum, ut præfata auctoritas regularum & antiqua conſvetudo de ipſa Eccleſia nobis a te conſervetur. Sicut temporibus prædeceſſorum & deceſſorum tuorum Genebaudi, Berniconis, Gairfredi, Wanilonis, Oferoldi; & quando Epiſcopatus vacavit, in Ailemaro, & tempore Simeonis ac Parduli, ſed & tuo tempore usque modo meis prædeceſſoribus ac deceſſoribus Tilpino, & quando poſt eum vacavit Epiſcopatus; ſed & Vulfario, Eboni, & quamdiu ipſum Epiſcopatum tenuit Fulco, & poſt eum Noto; ſed & mihi jam per XXV. annos in Remorum ſede miniſtranti hactenus eſt conſervata amplius quam per centum annos, velut per veridicas chronicas computavi & tibi poſſum oſtendere; cum conſtet legibus & ſacris regulis cautum; quoniam, ſicut nobis pro noſtro libitu non licet Parrochias ruſticanas antiquitus conſtitutas ſine ratione dividere, ita etiam non licet confundere. Quod vero ipſum clericum contra regulas ordinaſti, regulæ ſacræ demonſtrant dicentes: Admittuntur, inquit Leo in Epiſtola ad univerſos Epiſcopos per univerſas Provincias conſtitutas, perſonæ ad ordinem ſacrum, quibus nulla natalium, nulla morum dignitas ſuffragatur; & qui a Dominis ſuis libertatem conſequi minime potuerunt, ad faſtigium ſacerdotii, tanquam ſervilis vilitas hunc honorem capiat, provehuntur; & probari Domino poſſe creditur, qui Domino ſuo nec tunc probare ſe potuit. Duplex itaque in hac parte reatus eſt, quod & ſacrum miniſterium talis conſortii vilitate polluitur, & Dominorum, quantum inlicitæ uſurpationis temeritatem pertinet, jura ſolvuntut. Ab his itaque, fratres chariſſimi, omnes noſtræ provinciæ abſtineant ſacerdotes, & non tantum ab his, ſed ab aliis etiam, qui originali aut alicui conditioni obligati ſunt, volumus temperari, niſi forte eorum petitio aut voluntas acceſſerit, qui aliquid ſibi in eos vindicant poteſtatis: debet enim immunis eſſe ab aliis, qui divinæ militiæ fuerit adgregandus, ut a caſtris dominicis, quibus nomen ejus adſcribitur, nullis neceſſitatis vinculis abſtrahatur. Et pariter Decretum natalium honeſtatem & mores ordinandorum deſcribens, hanc concluſionem ſubjungit: Hoc itaque admonitio noſtra denunciat, quod ſi quis fratrum contra hæc conſtituta venire temptaverit, & prohibita fuerit auſus admittere, a ſuo ſe noverit officio ſubmovendum; nec communionis noſtræ futurum eſſe conſortem, qui ſocius eſſe noluit diſciplinæ. Sciendum vero eſt, hic non vacare a diſcretione & rationis ſpecialitate hæc pro nomine pluralis numeri, cum dicit: Si quis fratrum contra hæc conſtituta venire temptaverit & reliqua; ſicut ſecundum Domini dictum Jota unum aut apex unus a lege non præterit. Repetamus ſuperiora hujus Epiſtolæ, in qua dicit: Admittuntur paſſim ad ordinem ſacrum, quibus nulla natalium dignitas ſuffragatur. Si inter ſacros ordines ordo Accoliti non deputatur, de hoc noſtro clerico nomine Senato a te Accolito ſine noſtra licentia & ſine Eccleſiaſtica libertate ordinato nil repeto. Et quia, ut dicit Innocentius, obſervatio prior durior, poſterior interveniente miſericordia inclinatior eſt, poſteriores Canones dicunt, ut nullus ſervilibus colonariisque conditionibus obligatus juxta ſtatuta ſedis Apoſtolicæ ad honores Eccleſiaſticos admittatur, niſi prius aut teſtamento aut per tabulas, ſed legitime, conſtiterit abſolutum. Quæ, ſi quis Epiſcoporum ejus, qui ordinatur, conditionem ſciens, transgredi per ordinationem inhibitam fortaſſe voluerit, anni ſpatio miſſas facere non præſumat. Hos autem Gallicanos Canones, quibus ſæpe in tuis ſcriptis uteris, & per quos te reclamas, ſcio, quod non abjicies, cum Antiochenum Concilium, quod Apoſtolica ſedes & univerſalis Eccleſia recipit, dicat: Perfectum Concilium eſt, ubi inter fuerit Metropolitanus Antiſtes: Et Leo ad Maximum Antiochenum Epiſcopum: Quicquid, inquit, propter ſpeciales cauſas ſynoda lium conciliorum ad exemplum Epiſcopale defertur, poteſt aliquam dijudicandi habere rationem, ſi nihil de eo eſt a ſanctis patribus apud Nicæam diffinitum. Sacri denique canones manumiſſionem in Eccleſia fieri poſſe ab Imperatoribus petierunt, quæ & ab eis conceſſa eſt, & a tempore ipſius conceſſionis regulæ & mos Eccleſiaſticus hactenus eos ſervavit & ſervat. Unde ſcriptum eſt in libro Capitulorum Synodalium primo, quæ tempore Auguſtorum noſtrorum Karoli & hujus Ludovici fuerunt condita capitulo LV. Ut nullus, inquiunt, Epiſcopus ſervum alterius ad Clericatus officium ſine Domini ſui voluntate promovere præſumat. Et hoc Gangrenſe concilium prohibet. Et cap. LXXXII. ad locum: De Eccleſiarum vero ſervis communi ſententia decretum eſt, ut Archiepiſcopi per ſingulas provincias conſtituti noſtram autoritatem, ſuffraganei vero illorum exemplar illius penes ſe habeant. Et quandocunque de familia Eccleſiæ utilis inventus aliquis ordinandus eſt, in ambone ipſa autoritas coram populo legatur, & coram ſacerdotibus vel coram fidelibus laicis ante cornua altaris, ſicut in noſtra autoritate continetur, remota qualibet calliditate, libertatem conſequatur, & tunc demum ad gradus Eccleſiaſticos provehatur. Similiter quoque de his agendum eſt, quod Laici de familia Eccleſiarum ad ſacros ordines promoveri voluerint: Sed & de his, quos Præpoſiti canonicorum atque Monachorum ordinandos expoſuerint, eadem forma ſervanda eſt. Oſtende igitur ipſam manumiſſionem Eccleſiaſticam de præfato clerico a te Accolito ordinato, & nihil repeto. Dictum eſt etiam mihi, quod tantum per tres Presbyteros ipſum clericum ad tuam Synodum vocari juſſiſti, ut reddat rationem in tua Synodo, cujus auctoritate Eccleſiam in Parrochia tua accepit; unde tibi, puto, ſupra rationem reddidi, cujus autoritate & qua ratione prædictam Eccleſiam in Parrochia tua ſuſcepit, quam ei per tanta tempora hacere conſenſiſti, ſicut plurimis eſt manifeſtum. Ipſe autem nullam rationem, ſpoliatus contra rationem & auctoritatem, tibi inde in Synodo regulariter reddere debet. Si autem ideo illum vis in Synodum tuam venire, quoniam Chalcedonenſes canones dicunt, abſolute ordinare debere presbyterum aut Diaconum, nec quemlibet in gradu Eccleſiaſtico & reliqua, ut forte oblitus per illum diſcas, cujus ſuaſione illum contra regulas ordinaveris, quatenus, ſi forte in Synodo Epiſcoporum inde appellatus fueris, habeas, quod reſpondeas, manda mihi; & ego illum, quoniam noſtræ Eccleſiæ eſt mancipium nulla libertate donatum, per meos miſſos tibi in Synodum tuam transmittam, ut diſcas, quod beatus Leo ad Anatholium Conſtantinopolitanum Epiſcopum ſcribit: quod ſicut in mala ſuaſione delinquitur, ita & in mala conſenſione peccatur. Retractes etiam, quoniam, ut ſupra oſtendi, illa quæ tempore anteceſſorum tuorum conſtiterunt, & per mortem Octerici de Eccleſia in Follanebraio præſumpta fuerunt per miniſtros tuos Ivonem, Luidonem, Angelramum, deſtruxiſti; & quæ ſtatuta fuerunt tempore anteceſſorum tuorum reædificaſti, quæque nunc iterum de ipſa Eccleſia deſtructa ſunt: Sed &, quæ prænotavi, de regulis Eccleſiaſticis & Synodalibus Capitulis transtuliſti. Sententiam Beati Leonis ad Leonem Auguſtum depromptam parvipendere nullo modo debes, quia in Synodo apud Sueſſiones audiſti, & in illo libro, quem tibi dedi, ipſe legere potes. Si, inquit, quæ deſtruxiſti, hæc ædifico prævaricatorem me conſtituo, & eis me ultionum conditionibus ſubdo, quas non ſolum autoritas beatæ memoriæ Principis Martiani, ſed etiam ego mea conſenſione firmavi: Et, ſicut presbytero noſtræ parrochiæ ad te miſſo reſpondiſti, quia, ſicut tibi fecimus in noſtra parrochia de tua Eccleſia, ita & tu nobis facias de noſtra Eccleſia in tua parrochia. Non ſolum enim conſentio, verum & hortor, ut facias, ſcilicet, ut inquiras diligenter ſub veritatis teſtificatione in ſuo ſacerdotio per Angelramnum, per Grunonem, per Fraumarum Presbyteros, ſed & per ipſum Haimeradum, quid de ipſa Eccleſia teſtificatus eſt Pardulus deceſſor tuus coram ipſis ante obitum ſuum; ſed & per alios presbyteros & vicinos ac idoneos laicos in ipſa villa commanentes & circummanentes legaliter require, quid inde ex veritate cognoſcunt de his, quæ præſcripſi, & ſicut Epiſcopus, cum veritatem inveneris, inde juſtum judicium judica. Velut & ego coram miſſis tuis de Capella Epiſcopii tui in parrochia noſtra legaliter & regulariter inquiſivi, & ſecundum leges & ſacros canones ac decreta ſedis Romanæ Pontificum diffinivi, ſicut tibi ſcripto veritate & auctoritate ſubnixo contendam loco & tempore oportuno, ſi neceſſitas fuerit. Nam plures Eccleſiæ ſunt in mea parrochia de Epiſcopio Laudunenſi, de quibus nec tibi nec alicui tuorum ullum præjudicium intuli, neque inferre volo, quia non debeo; & quia ex capella, de qua mandaſti, tuæ intentioni non annui ratio mihi & autoritas contradixit. Quod autem a quibusdam tuorum dicitur, quod ipſa capella antiquior ſit, quam Eccleſia in Juviniaco villa, etiamſi verum foret, tunc illi antiquitas ſua ſuffragium adferret ſibi in antiquitate ſua usque ad tempora moderna, ſicut Eccleſia in Follanebraio manſit, perſiſteret. Nam Atrabatis, Viromandis & Bononia, ex cujus territorio es nativus, antiquiores ſedes cum Epiſcopis propriis in Remorum Provincia extiterunt, quam caſtrum Montis Lauduni inter ſedes computaretur, in quo es ordinatus Epiſcopus. Sed quoniam a longo tempore certis eventuum ac neceſſitatum cauſis accidentibus illæ aliis ſubjectæ civitatibus ſuum privilegium perdiderunt, quod non receperant, & caſtrum Montis Lauduni convaluit; quia, ſecundum Leges ac ſacros canones atque decreta ſedis Romanæ Pontificum, pro id appellare idque refragari non licet, quod legum tempus excludit. Decimas ſiquidem Eccleſiæ Epiſcopi Laudunenſis, Parrochiæ vero meæ, in Antenaco ex Domini Regis indominicatu ordinationi meæ commiſſas *.

Mox Clemens II. Pontifex, ait, ita ab illo Romanæ Ecclesiæ Pontifice, qui Nicolaum I. vocat, legi & exponi debet. Cæterum non temporis, sed meritorum nomen hoc loco, magnæque indolis ac virtutis, quam ætatis, Pontificem designat. Quod si ætatis nomen hoc loco sonat, non ideo Nicolaus I. Pontifex Romanus, qui Hincmaro Remensi Archiepiscopo scripsit, fuit in ætate puerili, sed in ætate virili, & in ea ætate, quæ ad virtutes & ad meritum pertinet. Nam & virtutis nomen ætatis nomen, & ætatis nomen virtutis nomen sæpe in Scripturis sacris, quæ magnus noster Augustinus in lucem protulit. Quæ autem, & quales sint Epistolæ, quas Nicolaus I. Pontifex ad Hincmarum Archiepiscopum Remensem scripsit, ipse Hincmarus Archiepiscopus Remensis in Epistola, quam ipse ad Nicolaum I. Pontificem scripsit, testatur. Quæ Epistola ab Hincmaro Archiepiscopo Remensi ad Nicolaum I. Pontificem scripta, ut ipse Hincmarus Archiepiscopus Remensis testatur, ita se habet. Quæ Epistola regnum, quæ nunquam in eo deficere debet, quamdiu in fide Christi perseverat. Quod si ille, quem Deus ad regnum elegit, ab ipso Deo, qui eum elegit, deficiat, potestas ejus regnum ei auferre, quia ipse Deus, qui eum elegit, ab eo deficit. Quod si ille, qui regnum habet, Deum non timet, et contra ejus voluntatem agere non cessat, quomodo ille, qui ei regnum dedit, non ei auferat? Quia ipse Deus, qui eum elegit, ab eo deficit. Sanguis enim eorum de manu ejus requiretur, quia ipse Deus, qui eum elegit, ab eo deficit. Sanguis, inquam, eorum, qui ei credunt, et ejus voluntatem, quam Deus per sacerdotes suos ei annuntiat, audire non cessant. Quia ipse Deus, qui eum elegit, ab eo deficit. Sanguis, inquam, eorum, qui ei credunt, et ejus voluntatem, quam Deus per sacerdotes suos ei annuntiat, audire non cessant. Quia ipse Deus, qui eum elegit, ab eo deficit. Et ideo, qui eum ab ipso Deo, qui eum elegit, deficere videt, et ejus voluntatem, quam Deus per sacerdotes suos ei annuntiat, audire non cessat, et ei fidem non servare, frustra sperat, quod ille ei regnum auferre non possit. Quia ipse Deus, qui eum elegit, ab eo deficit, et ideo auferre eum debet. Sed quia ille, qui regnum habet, Deum non timet, et contra ejus voluntatem agere non cessat, ideo ipse Deus, qui eum elegit, ab eo deficit. Unde nemo sibi dat exemplo, ut, quia ille, qui regnum habet, Deum non timet, et contra ejus voluntatem agere non cessat, ideo Deus, qui eum elegit, ab eo deficit, et ei regnum auferre non debet. Quia ille, qui regnum habet, Deum non timet, et contra ejus voluntatem agere non cessat, ideo ipse Deus, qui eum elegit, ab eo deficit, et ei regnum auferre tur, cum deceptæ menti antiquus hoſtis ex boni operis elatione dominatur & Apoſtolos expetivit Satanas, ut cribraret eos, ſicut triticum, qui juſſi ſunt orare, ut non intrarent in tentationem. Et Paulus quendam tradidit Satanæ, ut Spiritus ejus ſalvus fieret in Die Domini. Et item quosdam tradidit Satanæ, ut diſcerent non blasphemare; & filiam Abrahæ incurvatam legimus a ſatana & plures, propter peccata puniенda, qui cruciari meruerunt, quaſi quibusdam quæſtionariis atque tortoribus traditos legimus refugis ſpiritibus; quia non ſolum homines miniſtri & ultores ſunt habendi in his, qui malum operantur, quique non ſine cauſa portant gladium, ſed etiam contrariæ fortitudini, quæ appellantur furor & iræ Dei. Quapropter ſi moribus tuis & factis exigentibus, juſto Dei judicio permittente, aut a te ipſo vel per Spiritum refugum in peccatum, quia legimus immiſſiones per angelos malos vel per hominem Dei miniſtrum ad pœnam peccati, es traditus, ſi te non recognoſcis & non corrigendo reſipiſcis, non habes unde queraris, ſed unde tribuleris: quia non dicit Dominus: beati qui perſecutionem patiuntur propter non juſticiam, ſed, propter juſtitiam. Et Apoſtolus dicit: Beatus, qui ſuffert tentationem; quoniam cum probatus fuerit, accipiet coronam vitæ: Quia, ſicut beatus Cyprianus ait, Martyrem non facit pœna, ſed cauſa. Nam cum Chriſto Crucem etiam periturus latro ſuſcepit, ſed, quem reatus proprius tenuit, per crucifixio non abſolvit. Et perſecutio vel traditio dum non rationabiliter ſuſtinetur, ut Beatus monſtrat Gregorius, nequaquam proficit ad ſalutem. Nam nulli fas eſt retributionem præmiorum expectare per culpam, quod & Beatus Petrus Apoſtolus demonſtrat dicens: Quæ eſt enim gratia, ſi peccantes & çolaphizati ſuffertis? Contra hos Propheta Domino queritur, dicens: Attriviſti nos & renuunt accipere diſciplinam. Hinc eſt, quod Dominus dicit: Interfeci & perdidi populum iſtum, & tamen a viis ſuis non ſunt reverſi. Hinc rurſus ait: Populus non eſt reverſus ad percutientem ſe. Hinc voce flagellantium Propheta conqueritur dicens: Curavimus Babilonem & non eſt ſanata. Babilon quippe curatur, non tamen ad ſanitatem reducitur, quando mens in prava actione confuſa verba correptionis audit, flagella correctionis percipit, & tamen ad recta ſalutis itinera redire contemnit. Hinc captivo Iſraelitico populo, nec tamen ab iniquitate converſo, Dominus exprobrat dicens: Verſa eſt mihi domus Iſrahel in ſcoriam: omnes iſti æs & ſtannum & ferrum & plumbum in medio fornacis. Ac ſi aperte dicat. Purgare eos per ignem tribulationis volui, & argentum illos vel aurum fieri quæſivi; ſed in fornace mihi in æs, ſtannum, ferrum & plumbum verſi ſunt; quia non ad virtutem, ſed ad vitia etiam in tribulatione proruperunt; quoniam aut ad ſonitum murmurationis erumpere, aut ſimulationis vitio non carere decreverunt, aut in nocendi malitia proximis perſeveraverunt aut a deſideriis carnis preſſi, in tribulatione purgari non potuerunt. Hinc rurſum ſcriptum eſt: Multo labore ſudatum eſt, & non exivit de anima rubigo ejus, neque per ignem: ignem quippe nobis admonet tribulationis, ut in nobis rubiginem vitiorum Dominus purget. Sed nec per ignem rubiginem amittimus, quando & rubiginis inter flagella vel per flagella vitio non caremus. Hinc Propheta iterum dicit: Fruſtra conflavit conflator: Malitiæ eorum non ſunt conſumptæ. Pœna, inquit, Gregorius præſens ſi afflicti animum convertit, finis eſt culpæ præcedentis: ſi autem ad timorem Domini minime convertit, initium eſt pœnæ ſequentis. Cavendum ergo nobis eſt, & ſummopere in fletibus tota mentis converſione vigilandum, ne de tormento ad tormenta transeamus: qui ergo juſtus patitur, ſi patienter ea, quæ patitur, ſuſtinet, Chriſtum imitatur, qui in flagellis corrigit; latronem, qui in cruce Chriſtum cognovit & poſt crucem cum Chriſto Paradyſum intravit. Qui nec inter flagella deſiſtit a culpis, ſiniſtrum imitatur latronem, qui propter peccata aſcendit in crucem & poſt crucem ruit in tartarum. Si ergo propter peccatum modo quolibet vel a quocunque traditus es, & per traditionis perſecutionem correptus, ut audire mereaſ a Domino, etſi non auribus corporis, vel auribus illis, de quibus Pſalmiſta dicit: Audiam, quid loquatur in me Dominus Deus; quod audivit, qui propter peccatum flagellatus & per flagellum purgatus eſt, dicente Domino: Ecce ſanus factus es, jam noli peccare, ne deterius tibi aliquid contingat; habes, unde gaudeas, & quod cavendo cuſtodias. Si autem ideo traditus & traditione flagellatus es, non quia peccaſti, ſed ne peccares, ſicut Paulus, qui dicit: Ne magnitudo revelationum extollat me, datus eſt mihi ſtimulus carnis meæ, ut me colophizet; libenter gloriare in infirmitatibus tuis, ut inhabitet in te virtus Chriſti. Si denique a quocunque traditus es vel non propter præcedens peccatum, vel ideo, ut non incurreres, quod poterat accidere tibi, peccatum, ſed ut juſtus juſtificareris adhuc, ſicut Tobias & Job, de quo dixit Dominus ad Satan: Ecce in manu tua eſt, tantum animam illius ſerva; cuſtodire te oportet, ut ne de flagello murmures, & animam tuam, quam Dominus ſervare in Job juſſerat, murmurando in poteſtatem illius tradas. Neque murmuraveritis, inquit, Apoſtolus, ſicut quidam eorum murmuraverunt, & a ſerpentibus perierunt. Cavere etiam ſummopere debes, ut aucta per flagellum merita de cætero peccando non inquines, ſed juxta vocem Domini corde bono & optimo verbum & purgationem ejus retinens fructum adferas in patientia. Quicunque humiliter, etiam pro peccatis ſuis, flagella ſuſcipiunt, poſt flagella ad requiem ſublimiter ſuſcipiuntur. Sic uva calcibus tunditur & in vini ſaporem liquatur, ſic oliva contritionibus expreſſa amurcam ſuam deſerit & in olei liquorem pingueſcit; ſic per trituram areæ a paleis grana ſeparantur & ad horeum purgata perveniunt. Quisquis ergo appetit plene vitia vincere, enim Ecclesiæ, quod Deus per quatuor Evangelia quasi per quatuor fluvios totum irrigat orbem, et sanctæ animæ unius libri fonte potentur? Quid loquar de Veteris Testamenti libris, quos Septuaginta Interpretes, id est, Apostolici viri, vel Apostolicis viris præeuntes, non sine Spiritu Sancto, ut in Actibus Apostolorum legimus, in Græcum eloquium transtulerunt? Cum enim alii alios sequi debuerint, isti primi sunt, quos omnes sequi debuerunt, quod ipsorum Ecclesiæ, quæ Apostolorum auctoritate fundatæ sunt, usque hodie consuetudo demonstrat. Quid loquar de Aquila, Symmacho et Theodotione, qui post eos fuerunt, vel quos ante eos Philo et Josephus, nostræ gentis eruditissimi, protulerunt? Quos omnes, ut Ecclesiasticæ tubæ sonant, Ecclesia Christi non recipit, quia in Veteris Testamenti libris, quos Septuaginta Interpretes transtulerunt, Ecclesia Christi fundata est. Quid loquar de Origene, qui in Hexaplis suis, post Septuaginta, quæ ille Veteri Testamento addiderit, quæ ex Hebræo sumpserit, quæ ex aliis Græcis interpretibus, quæ ex Hebræo in Græcum verterit, quæ ex Græcis in Hebræum, quæ ex Græcis in Græcum, quæ ex Græcis in Latinum, quæ ex Hebræo in Latinum, quæ ex Græcis in Syrum, quæ ex Hebræo in Syrum, quæ ex Græcis in Arabicum, quæ ex Hebræo in Arabicum, quæ ex Græcis in Ægyptium, quæ ex Hebræo in Ægyptium, quæ ex Græcis in Persicum, quæ ex Hebræo in Persicum, quæ ex Græcis in Æthiopicum, quæ ex Hebræo in Æthiopicum, quæ ex Græcis in Gothicum, quæ ex Hebræo in Gothicum, per singulos libros duro cor labore fatigatur. Hinc namque ſcriptum eſt: labor labiorum ipſorum operiet eos; qui enim nunc implet, tunc operit: quia cujus animum per blandam inquietudinem exerit, tunc per aſperam retributionem premit. Hinc per Hieremiam dicitur: Docuerunt linguam ſuam loqui mendacium, ut inique agerent, laboraverunt. Ac ſi aperte diceretur, qui amici eſſe veritatis ſine labore poterant, ut peccent, laborant. Cumque vivere ſimpliciter renuunt, laboribus exigunt, ut moriantur. Nam plerunque in culpa deprehenſi, dum quales ſint, cognoſci refugiunt, ſe ſe ſub fallaci velamine abſcondunt, & hoc quod peccant, quodque jam aperte cernitur, excuſare moliuntur, ita ut ſæpe is, qui eorum culpas corripere ſtudet, aſperſæ falſitatis nebulis ſeductus, pene amiſiſſe videat, quod de eis jam certum tenebat. Unde recte ſub viduæ ſpecie per Prophetam contra peccantem animam, excuſantemque ſic dicitur: Ibi habuit foveam ericius. Ericii quippe nomine impuræ mentis ſeſeque callide defendentis duplicitas deſignatur; quia videlicet Ericius cum adprehenditur, ejus & caput cernitur & pedes videntur, & corpus omne conſpicitur; ſed mox cum apprehenſus fuerit, ſemetipſum in ſphæram colligit, pedes introrſum ſubtrahit, caput abſcondit, & intra tenentis manus totum ſimul amittitur, quod totum ſimul antea videbatur. Sic nimirum, ſic impuræ mentes ſunt, cum in ſuis exceſſibus comprehenduntur. Caput enim Ericii cernitur; quia, quo initio ad culpam peccator acceſſerit, videtur; Pedes Ericii conſpiciuntur, quia, quibus veſtigiis nequitia ſit perpetrata, cognoſcitur; & tamen, adductis repente excuſationibus, impura mens introrſus pedes colligit, quia cuncta iniquitatis ſuæ veſtigia abſcondit: Caput ſubtrahit, quia miris defenſionibus nec inchoaſſe ſe malum aliquid oſtendit; & quaſi Sphæra in manu tenentis remanet, quia is, qui corripit, cuncta, quæ jam cognoverat, ſubito amittens involutum intra conſcientiam peccatorem tenet; Et qui totum jam deprehendendo viderat, tergiverſatione pravæ defenſionis illuſus, totum pariter ignorat. Foveam ergo Ericius habet in reprobis. Quia malitioſæ mentis duplicitas ſeſe intra ſe colligens abſcondit in tenebris defenſionis. Audiant impuri, quod ſcriptum eſt: Qui ambulat ſimpliciter, ambulat confidenter; fiducia quippe magnæ ſecuritatis eſt ſimplicitas actionis. Audiant, quod ſapientis ore dicitur: Spiritus Sanctus diſciplinæ effugiet fictum. Audiant, quod ſcriptura rurſum teſte perhibetur: Cum ſimplicibus ſermocinatio ejus. Domino enim ſermocinari eſt per illuſtrationem ſuæ præſentiæ humanis mentibus arcana revelare. Cum ſimplicibus igitur ſermocinari dicitur, quia de ſupernis myſteriis illorum mentes radio ſuæ viſitationis inluminat, quos nulla umbra duplicitatis obſcurat. Eſt autem ſpeciale duplicium malum, quia, dum perverſa & duplici actione cæteros fallunt, quaſi præſtantius cæteris prudentes ſe eſſe gloriantur. Et quia diſtrictionem retributionis non conſiderant, de damnis ſuis miſeri exultant, & cætera, quæ in Regula Paſtorali B. Gregorii ex ordine potes relegere, quam tibi una cum libro Sacrorum Canonum in manu ante altare ſanctæ Mariæ in die ordinationis tuæ miſi, obteſtans, quæ ignorare non potes & oblivi ſci non debes. Oſtendere autem & monere te debeo, ut ſecundum leges & regulas inde, quod juſtum eſt, exequaris. De eo vero, quod negas per multas ambages non veriſimiles, quibus mihi & longum & inutile reſpondere videtur, te non conſenſiſſe ut ipſe Clericus eandem teneret Eccleſiam, ſi in contumacia & negatione tua perſeverare decreveris, habeas illum conſcientiæ & negationis tuæ judicem, quem habebis & teſtem. Et quoniam mihi ſcripſiſti, quod inde cauſam, quam neſcis inveſtigare, & mihi remandare debeas, timeo pro te, ne ſic jam feciſti, ut victor

PROOEMIUM.

QUamvis per varios viros ſolennes religioſos & ſeculares copioſa conſcripta ſint volumina, quæ Prælatorum Eccleſiæ Sanctæ, Imperatorumque & Regum ac Principum geſta, cæterarumque perſonarum nobilium & ignobilium ſexus utriusque actus, temporum quoque & annorum facta ſufficienter referant & enarrent; quia tamen materiarum in voluminibus contentarum prolixitas, dictaminumque obſcuritas & difficultas, necnon ſtudere aut perlegere curantium paucitas, multos a lectionis fervore retrahere, & faſtidium dictandi vel colligendi afferre conſveverunt & inducere: idcirco præſens opus brevi levique ſtilo confectum aggreſſus ſum, ſub paucis & rudibus verbis incomptoque apparatu & ſententia compendioſa tradere ſatagens, ejus lectoribus acta hominum memoria digna & temporum contingentia decurſa. Quæ, inquam, ut ſtudioſius potui, ex diverſis Chronicis & Hiſtoriis extraxi, & in codicem hunc ſummatim redegi. Siquæ ergo narrationes præſenti meo Operi inſertæ cuiquam videbuntur aut dubiæ aut fictæ vel fabuloſæ, meis, quæſo, non aſcribat figmentis aut excogitationibus, ſed illorum verius, de quorum libris & ſcriptis eas excerpſi. Ordinem autem annorum, quorum acta in præſenti Opere ſcribere exorſus ſum, diligentius quo valui, obſervavi, ſecutus juxta poſſe traditionem Venerabilium Patrum Ordinis mei Chronographorum, videlicet Vincentii, Henrici de Hervordia & Martini, inter quos ego quaſi peripſima locum noviſſimum tenens, geſta & acta in ipſorum ſcriptis reperta, ſingulis & propriis applicare ſtudui temporibus. Huic vero meo Operi placuit nomen imponere, ut ſcilicet Chronica Novella Magiſtri Hermanni Ordinis Prædicatorum nuncupetur pro eo quod inter cæteras Chronicas famoſas & Hiſtorias notabiles ultimum ſortiri videatur locum, ac plura ei nova & rara exſiſtant inſerta, quæ in aliorum Hiſtoriographorum Codicibus minime reperiuntur. Si quoque in volumine præſenti, quod Deo cooperante, exarando dictandoque elaborabo, aliqua inveniantur dicta, quæ auctore ſuo videantur carere, illa ſciat lector non per me fore excogitata, ſed me ea reperiſſe in libris, quorum compoſitor mihi ignotus protunc exiſtebat, cum ipſum compilarem. Incepi inſuper Opus præſens ab exordio mundi, non quidem Hiſtorias Bibliæ integraliter recapitulare intendens, ſed eas potius percurrere ſatagens Judicum & Regum actus quosdam commemorare decrevi, qui Chronicis hujusmodi merito inſeri debere videntur, ut ſi cordinem debitum obſervando a primævis geſtis narrationes præſentes inchoare videar, quas cum mediis exornare, & in noviſſimis fine congruo terminare juxta poſſe intendo. Moverunt autem me ad incepti hujus voluminis compilationem nedum rationes in procœmii ipſius initio aſſignatæ, verum etiam anteceſſorum noſtrorum transactorum & ſecum currentium temporum ſtudioſa ſolicitudo acta & eventus ſignandi. Unde quia in diebus noſtris neminem audivi aut percipere potui, qui eorum veſtigiis inhærendo, ſimili conſignationi operam daret ſolertem; idcirco ne per incuriam ſegnitiei & negligentiæ noſtræ, tempore periodi noſtræ actitata omnimode traderentur oblivioni, præſentem hunc codicem confidenter incepi, & divino adjutorio accedente & comitante ad finem præconceptum perduxi; propter quod Deo noſtro Jeſu Chriſto ſemper ſit honor & gloria & ipſius Beatiſſimæ Genitrici, Amen.

[Res ab exordio mundi usque ad Caroli M. tempora tanquam alibi melius & exactius exhibita hic ſtudio omiſimus.]

Ex his Sacerdotibus unus, Theodoricus fuit Ludolfi ad Hildesheimum Episcopi Capellanus, qui Episcopo Benedictionem Abbatissæ Gandersheimensis, cum electa fuisset, non prodesse tantum, sed & obesse, quod Sacerdos Idolorum esset, dicebat. Quare Episcopus Benedictionem Sacerdotis Idolorum detrectavit, & ordinem ab alio Episcopo accepit. DCCCXIIII. Geroldus Dux Sueviæ, ſecundum Sigibertum, perculſit Widekindum Angarorum Regem, cujus terram Karolus diviſit in VIII. Epiſcopatus, puta Hammoburgenſem Metropolitanam, cui Heridagum præfecit tanquam proviſorem novellæ plantationis, ſed filius ejus Lodowicus ſibi ſuccedens præfecit huic Eccleſiæ primum Archiepiſcopum Sanctum Anscharium Monachum Corbeyenſem Ordinis Sancti Benedicti; Verdenſem, Merſeburgenſem, Myndenſem, Oſnaburgenſem, Tzitzenſem, Monaſterienſem, Padelburnenſem & Bremenſem. De Verdenſi autem Eccleſia dicunt quidam, quod prius fundata fuerit in urbe Bardewik per unum de LXXII. Diſcipulis Chriſti nomine Egiſtium, qui ad hanc urbem venerat de Treveri, & in ea Verbum Dei prædicaverat. Qui poſt fundationem illius Eccleſiæ cathedralis ibidem fertur martyrizatus. Fuerunt autem ſolum hæ duæ civitates in tota Alemannia, puta Treveris ſupra Moſellam ſita, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, multum nobilis & pulcra, ubi Eucharius unus ex LXXII. Diſcipulis Chriſti veniens cum Egiſtio ſocio ſuo Epiſcopatum fundavit. Quæ quidem civitas dicitur fuiſſe ædificata ſeptimo anno Abrahæ Patriarchæ, & Bardewik ſuper aquam Luno ſituata, quæ per medium miliare diſtabat a monte, juxta quem nunc Luneburg ſituatur. In cujus montis ſummitate Julius Cæſar auream ſtatuam erexerat, & in honorem Deæ Lunæ eam dedicaverat. Quæ ſtatua ab incolis terræ illius adorabatur usque ad adventum Egiſtii ſupra dicti, vel ſecundum alios, usque tempora Wiperti Epiſcopi Verdenſis primi, qui idolum fregiſſe dicitur, & ibidem Monaſterium in honorem Virginis glorioſæ conſtruxiſſe. Supra ſcripta autem urbs Bardewik fundata dicitur ante Romam CCXXXV. annis, ſed Treveris civitas ante Romam ædificata fuit MCC. annis. Duravit autem Bardewik civitas in vigore magno usque ad tempora Henrici Leonis Ducis, qui eam deſtruxit, prout infra ſuo loco patebit. Ex quibus dictis concludi poteſt, quod Eccleſia Verdenſis translata ſit per Karolum Imperatorem de Bardewik, ubi prius fundata extiterat, ad urbem Verdenſem. Bremenſis vero Eccleſia poſtea in Hammeburgenſem ſedem eſt redacta, ut patebit inferius. Peremptoautem Wydekindo Rege, Saxones Imperator Karolus ſine gravamine alicujus alterius Principis eſſe permiſit, ut ſolummodo Domino Deo ſubjecti eſſent, & ſuis Epiſcopis obedirent, ac eis decimas pro tributis ſolverent. Quod per multa tempora ſic tenuerunt.

Tertio decimo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCXV. Karolus habito Aquisgrani generali concilio Principum, ſecundum Vincentium, filium ſuum Lodowicum Regem Aquitaniæ ad ſe vocavit, eique coronam Imperialem imponens, Imperii ſui conſortem eum fecit; Bernhardum vero nepotem ſuum, filium Pypini filii ſui, Regem Italiæ conſtituit auctoritate Imperiali. Pons Rheni apud Moguntiam, ſecundum Egghardum, quem Karolus per X. annos cum ingenti labore & expenſis multis opere mirabili de lignis ita conſtruxerat, ut perpetuo durare poſſe videretur, ſic in tribus horis in menſe Majo inopinato incendio conflagravit, ut præter hoc, quod aqua tegebatur, non una quidem haſtula remaneret.

Johannes prætenſus Papa, natione Britannus, vir reputatus, ſed in veritate mulier exiſtens, ſedit uno anno, ſecundum Egghardum & Vincentium. Hæc, inquam, mulier ſceleroſa in ætate ſua puellari a quodam amaſio ſuo in habitu virili Athenis ducta fertur, ubi ſic tandem in divinis profecit ſcientiis, ut ſibi ſimilis ſuo in tempore vix inveniretur. Adeo enim erudita extitit Athenis, ut poſtea Romæ legens, magnos magiſtros in diſcipulos & auditores haberet. Cumque in urbe Roma vita & ſcientia celebris eſſet opinionis & famæ, defuncto Leone Quarto, in Papam eſt a populo & Clero electa, vir credita. Sed ſibi tempus & locus Pontificatus non aſcribitur, nec Catalogo Summorum Pontificum annotatur, eo quod ob ſexum fœmineum characteris Ordinis ſacri cujuscunque capax non fuerit, nec promotionis talis dignitatis. Turpiſſima ergo & nimis præſumtuoſa hæc mulier Papa exiſtens putativus, ex divina permiſſione mirabili & diabolicæ fraudis ſuggeſtione a ſuo cubiculario, nefandum hoc myſterium non ignorante, eſt impregnata in ſuam confuſionem & Eccleſiæ Dei non modicam jacturam & ſcandalum. Cumque, ea tempus ſui partus ignorante, dies & hora parturiendi appropinquaſſet, & ipſa, ut moris eſt, Eccleſiæ Romanæ Pontificali ornatu decorata, de Sancto Petro in Lateranum proceſſionaliter pergeret, anguſtiata infelix inter Coliſeum & Sancti Clementis Eccleſiam puerum edidit, & media crepans, defuncta ibidem periit. Et quod Dominus Papa viam talem ſemper obliquat, creditur a plerisque, quod propter deteſtationem hujus facti hoc faciat ex decreto Patrum ſpeciali. Propter hunc autem errorem cavendum in perpetuum, diligentia ſolers ſemper adhibetur mox poſt electionem Papæ de virilitatis & ſexus certitudine. De hac autem muliere tam fraudulenter Papatum intrante Hinricus de Hervordia nullam in ſuis Ætatibus fecit mentionem, ne forte ſeculares literas ſcientes ſcandalizentur, legendo, talem contigiſſe errorem in Eccleſia Dei, quæ Spiritu Sancto prædicatur regi, & dirigi a Clericis & Sacerdotibus.

Quarto decimo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCXVI. quidam Johannes Monachus de Jeruſalem movit quæſtionem de proceſſione Spiritus Sancti coram Karolo, ſecundum Vincentium. Qua mota, Karolus miſit Romam Bernhardum Epiſcopum Wormatienſem & Adelhadum Abbatem Corbeyenſem, cauſæ quæſtionis hujus diffiniendæ. Agitatum etiam fuit coram Karolo & Principibus ejus de ſtatu Eccleſiarum & converſatione Clericorum, nec tamen aliquid diffinitum eſt propter rerum, ut videbatur, magnitudinem. Concilia quoque juſſu ejus ſuper ſtatu eccleſiarum corrigendo per totam Galliam ab Episcopis celebrata sunt, quorum unum Moguntiæ, alterum Remis, tertium Thuronis, quartum Cabilone, & quintum Arelati habitum est.

Stephanus Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Julio, sedit VIII. mensibus & diebus XI. Hic statim post suam coronationem in Gallias veniens, secundum Martinum, ab Imperatore honorifice est receptus. Sub eo quoque obiit Karolus Magnus, & Lodowicus filius suus ab eo Remis in Imperatorem est coronatus. Hic Papa sic per Franciam transiens, captivos redemit multos, & propriis sedibus restituit. Tertio autem mense postquam Romam redierat, nondum exacto obiit VIII. Kl. Februarii. Karolus Imperator dum Aquisgrani hyemaret, secundum Sigibertum, febre & pleurisi, id est lateris dolore tactus, VI. Kal. Februarii obiit in Christo, anno ætatis suæ LXXI. regni vero sui XLVII. Cujus rei lugubris rumores cum Lodowicus filius ejus recepisset, XXX. die Aquisgranum venit, & de consensu omnium Principum patri in Imperio successit. Et habito ibidem generali Principum concilio ad justitias faciendas, in omnes regni partes nuncios misit, ac duos ex filiis suis Lotharium scilicet Bayoariæ, & Pypinum Aquitaniæ præfecit. Turpinus autem Archiepiscopus Remensis in Chronica Karoli sic dicit: Cum ego Turpinus apud Viennam in Ecclesia ante altare orationibus insisterem, raptus in ecstasi, tetrorum spirituum agmina innumerabilia coram me per aëra volantia Lotharingiam tendebant. Quibus autem me pertransseuntibus, unum Æthiopi similem, retro lento gradu alios sequentem alloquebar, dicens. Quo tenditis? Aquisgrani, inquit, ad Karoli mortem, ut ejus Spiritum ad tartara rapiamus. Cui ego: Adjuro te per nomen Domini nostri Jesu Christi, ut peracto itinere ad me redeas. Illi autem modicum morati, mox redeunt eodem ordine, quo iverant. Et dixi eidem, cui prius: Quid egistis? Cui dæmon: Galetianus ille sine capite Sanctus Jacobus tot ac tantos lapides ac innumerabilia ligna basilicarum suarum in statera suspendit, quod ipsius bona magis appenderunt quam mala, & ideo animam ejus obtinuit. Quibus dictis, dæmon abscessit. Ego vero statim agnovi, Karolum ex hac luce & subsidiis Beati Jacobi in Paradisum vectum esse. Non enim defuerunt certa indicia, transitum suum indicantia. Nam solem & lunam septem dierum spatio, atro colore ante mortem ejus contigit immutari. Nomen vero ejus, id est Karolus Princeps, in Aquensis Ecclesiæ parietate scriptum, ante ejus mortem omnino deletum est. Porticus etiam, quæ inter Basilicam & regiam aulam erat, die Ascensionis Dominus funditus cecidit. Pons super Rhenum prope Moguntiam incineratus est. Cumque ipse Karolus ad huc vivens eodem anno mortis suæ de loco ad locum transiret die quadam, subito dies efficitur atra, & flamma a dextris incipiens versus lævam ante oculos ejus velociter pertransiit. Qui attonitus de equo cecidit, & manu accurrentium de terra levatur. Hunc ergo esse participem in corona Martyrum credimus, cum quibus eum laborasse & sustinuisse scimus. Hæc Turpinus. Ex Chronicis Francorum. Sepultus est ergo Aquisgrani in formosissima totius orbis Capella honorificentissime Karolus, super cujus tumulum exstructus est arcus deauratus. Interfuerunt autem exequiis ejus Principes regni Romanorum, Archiepiscopi & Episcopi multi, Duces & Comites ac Abbates aliique innumeri, corpus defuncti vestibus Imperialibus quasi festive induentes, auream capiti coronam imposuerunt. Deinde super auream cathedram quasi judicem vincentem sedere fecerunt, ac super ejus genua textum quatuor Ewangeliorum aureis literis scriptum collocaverunt, ita quod manu dextra textum, sinistra vero sceptrum tenebat aureum Catenulam quoque auream diademati conjunxerunt, & cathedræ, supra quam sedebat, ne caput defuncti decideret, affixerunt. Sed & scutum aureum, quod ei Romani fecerant, ante faciem ejus statuerunt, & arcam lapideam, in qua sepeliebatur, pretiosis replentes aromatibus, monumentum strenue sigillantes clauserunt. Prædictis ergo in summam recollectis, sanctus Karolus Rex & Imperator invictissimus Ecclesiam Christi fere totam factis inclytis & insignibus virtutibus memorandis ubique terrarum exornavit. Romanis quoque mundi dominatoribus & Imperii fundatoribus & rectoribus per sanguinem Sanctorum deturpatis, hic Imperium reparavit. Quarto anno Lodowici, qui Domini DCCCXX. Bernhardus Rex Italiæ, ſecundum Egghardum, nepos Lodowici, tyrannidem meditatus, Lodowico rebellare cœpit, & jam quaſi omnes introitus Italiæ, quos Cluſos vocant, impoſitis præſidiis firmaſſe nunciatur, ac omnes civitates Italiæ in ejus verba juraſſe. Quod partim verum fuit, & partim falſum. Ad quos motus reprimendos Imperatore celeriter cum magno exercitu veniente, Bernhardus rebus ſuis diffidens, armis depoſitis, apud Cabilonem ſe Imperatori tradidit. Terræmotus tantus in Italia factus eſt, ſecundum Vincentium, & tanta tonitrua ac coruſcationes fulminaverunt, ut multæ villæ & opida igne cœleſti conſumta ſint; homines etiam & animalia ictu fulminis ſunt peremta, fruges etiam & herbæ ſunt grandine vaſtatæ, ac plures turres & caſtra innumera ſunt ſubverſa.

Quinto anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCXXI. detecta conjurationis fraude & ſeditionis per Bernhardum Regem Italiæ contra Lodowicum Imperatorem impoſita, ſecundum Hugonem, ipſe Imperator omnes ſeditionis auctores, ſimul cum Rege eorum Bernhardo, capitali ſententia damnatos tandem luminibus juſſit orbari. Bernhardus autem Rex excæcatus, non multo poſt obiit melancholia tabefactus. Ermygardis uxor Lodowici Imperatoris, ſecundum Hugonem, obiit V. Non. Octobr. Hæc autem pepererat Imperatori tres filios, puta Lotharium, Pypinum & Lodowicum.

Sexto anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCXXII. Cœnobium nobilium puellarum in Hervorde Lodowico Imperatori per Waldgerum Comitem Hervordenſem commendatum, ipſe Imperator manumiſit, & in defenſionem ſuſcepit, ſecundum Sigibertum. Ex Geſtis Beati hujus Waldgeri. Wynfridus, qui & Bonifacius, natione Brito, revelante Spiritu S. divinæ legationis functus miniſterio, conceſſu Beatiſſimi Papæ Zachariæ, partes Galliarum, Svevorum, Francorum, Haſſorum & Thuringorum viſitavit, ibique ſemen Verbi Dei quaſi lator fertilitatis ſeminavit. Poſtea vero, ut & funes prædicationis extenderentur in præclaris, Saxoniam adiit, & ſaxea corda gentilium dominicæ prædicationis aratro mollificans, ad fructificandum habilitavit. Poſt aliquot autem annos a paſſione dicti Sancti Bonifacii, Karolo Magno ſuper Francos regnante, cum in Saxoniæ partibus ex ſeminariis prædicationis iſtius, & virtute bellorum illius, Deo bonorum omnium auctore providente, fides Chriſti, plantula morum virtutumque ſeges jam late pullularet, & in agro Dominico multiplicaretur, fana dilapidata ſunt, Eccleſiæ conſtruebantur, & Sedes Epiſcopales per glorioſiſſimum Karolum Principem ordinabantur, Templa quoque per nobiles plures prædiis & manſis dotabantur. Inter quos in antiqua Saxonia, quæ nunc Weſtphalia dicitur, ut ſidus ingens effulſit Waldgerus Deo & hominibus dilectus, qui in Durembere habitavit, patre Dedda & matre Etwi fidelibus, avo vero Adolfo & avia Paganis oriundus. Hic Adolfus avus Waldgeri, cum Karolus Magnus Saxoniam ſibi ſubjugaret, Secretarius Wedekindi Regis Saxonum erat, & Durembere poſſidens, ibidem habitabat. Famæ autem & præclaro nomini Regis Karoli affectus, per legatos honeſtos ei piſcationis & venationis munera ſua transmiſit. Rex autem exhilaratus, accepit ea gratanter, moxque eum vocans ad ſe, vitæ verbis ipſum imbuit, & tandem converſum baptizari fecit. Waldgerus autem hic primus in humo Saxonica fundator Congregationis Sanctæ exiſtens, primo in Modehorſt fundamenta Monaſterii in honorem Sanctæ Dei Genitricis Mariæ jecit. Sed admonitus divina voce, locum illum deſeruit, & poſt in antiqua Hervordia ædificare cœpit. Sed nocte ſuperveniente deſtruebatur, quod cœptum erat, & ideo ultra ibidem ædificare deſiſtebat. Ad orationis ergo ſecretum refugiens, revelationem accepit, & Magiſter æterni luminis prævio lumine corporali ſibi locum oſtendit. Nam vacca candida in utroque cornu cereum ardentem deferens, Spiritu Dei ducta, glorioſum virum Waldgerum prævit, & ad rivulum Aham, ubi ſerpentium & repentium vermium fuit habitatio, ſed Sanctorum commoratio futura, perduxit. Gratulabundus ergo vir Dei Eccleſiam ibi in honorem Sanctæ Mariæ Virginis de lignis erexit, anno Conſtantini VI. nono. Altare quoque conſtruens in loco, ubi nunc corpus ejus venerabile in Chriſto requieſcit, omne patrimonium ſuum, cum hæredem non haberet, Deo ac Virgini Benedictæ devotus obtulit. Ob hujus autem oſtenſionis memoriam, usque hodie vitula datur ibidem Deo ſervientibus in anniverſario dicti hujus Patris Sancti. Poſtea Waldgerus ut peregrinus ad Regem Angliæ pergens, cum Regi notiſſimus eſſet, Beati Oswaldi Regis & Martyris Reliquias ei donavit. Inſuper & galeam & gladium, quo Chriſtianæ Religionis hoſtes devicerat, tradidit eidem, eo quod non niſi pro Sanctorum Reliquiis obtinendis exierat. In Durenbere ergo regreſſus, Reliquias illas ibidem collocavit. Monaſterium autem ſuum in abſentia ſua a Paganis deſtructum reformavit, & in eo XIII. virgines intemeratæ Virgini obſequentes inſtituit, Svabam autem primam Abbatiſſam ibidem ordinavit. Lodowicus Imperator eo tempore, ſecundum Sigibertum, Corbeyam novam de Bethua transtulit, quam pater ſuus initiaverat. Waldgerus autem nutu Dei ad ipſum Imperatorem ſe contulit ſub habitu peregrino. Quem Imperator ut Medicum intuens, ut cognovit, Waldgerum eſſe, ipſum amica devotione ſuſcepit. Ipſe autem Imperatori filiam ſuam ſive Eccleſiam Hervordenſem intime commendavit. Quam Imperator, ut ſibi commendatam, inſtauravit, manumiſit, & in defenſionem ſuſcepit. Et ſicut Corbeyam Novam inſtar Corbeyæ antiquæ exſtruxit, ita & iſtam inſtar Monaſterii Sanctimonialium Sveſſionis, quarum curam Abbati Corbeyenſi commiſit. Et ſuper hæc quicquid in prædiis & manſis Corbeyæ contulit, tertiam

Idque chirographis & impreſſione ſigilli ſui roboravit, & in ſignum ſubjectionis regiæ decrevit, ut ſingulis annis in Purificatione Beatæ Virginis cereum ab Abbatiſſâ Regia Dignitas accipiat miſſum. Waldgerus tandem poſt ſanctam vitam in Domino feliciter obdormivit anno Domini DCCCXXV. ſepultus in Baſilica urbis Hervordenſis, quam ipſe fundaverat. Poſtea Abbatiſſa Swenebildis Baſilicam lapideam ſupra corpus illud venerabile conſtruens, per manus Ymadi Padelbornenſis Epiſcopi eam conſecrari fecit, & corpus ſanctum ſublevantes ante altare in Mauſoleo decentiori honorifice depoſuerunt. Stephani Protomartyris, infodientes crucem Chriſti, ubi in præſentiarum ſummum altare eſſe dinoſcitur.

Christi filiis. Et quoniam vinctus adhuc erat, ut ad Christum transiret, ab eo petiit, ut ei liceret ire ad Christum. Quod ille ei concessit. Et ille ad Christum transiens, ibi mansit, ibique quievit in pace. Quem Christus ad se vocavit, ut ei in cœlesti regno præmium daret. Quo ad Christum transeunte, ecclesia adhuc vehementer crevit. Et ita Christus ecclesiam suam auxit.

Quod ut Abbas perpendit, dixit ei: Cur fili cariſſime cibum non ſumis, & comedens ac bibens lætaris, cum hoc prandium & hæc congregatio Prælatorum ad tui honorem & ſolatium facta ſint? Cumque Loringus Comes ſe comedendi aut bibendi appetitum nullum habere aſſereret, ait Abbas: Guſta tamen paululum ad horum convivarum venerabilium conſolationem, & in ſignum gratitudinis. Juvenis autem Abbatis deſiderium explere volens, ne videretur ingratus, cum cibum ori imponeret, & maſticare inciperet, mox deficere cœpit, & facies ejus juvenilis in momento verſa eſt in effigiem antiquiſſimi hominis, barbam præferens prolixam & canam. Imperator LXXIIII. cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCIII. Olympiadis CCCCIII. anno ſecundo, Urbis conditæ MDXCII. Domini vero DCCCXLII. & XV. annis imperavit, ſecundum Martinum. Ab hoc etiam Imperatore Lotharingia regio nuncupata eſt, ſecundum Egghardum, licet alii dicant, per prius ſic nominatam eſſe ab alio Lothario Francorum Rege, quorum plures iſtum præceſſerunt.

Primo anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCXLIII. Lotharius & Pypinus filius Pypini patrui ſui, ſecundum Egghardum, voluerunt Karolum filium Judith & Lodovvici Imperatoris defuncti, cognomine Calvum, ea parte regni, quam ſibi pater ſuus conceſſerat, privare, & ſecundum id teſtamentum, quod Karolus eorum Karolus Magnus ſtatuerat, in tres partes inter ſe regna dividere, ex qua re magnum exortum eſt bellum.

Secundo anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCXLIIII. Bellum grande commiſſum eſt apud pagum Antiſiodorenſem in loco, qui dicitur Fontanich, & ſtrages magna facta eſt, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, per Lotharium, Lodovvicum, Karolum & Pypinum, ſed tamen a nulla parte triumphatum eſt, tandem autem pacificati, per quatuor tetrarchias regna diviſerunt. De Sergio Papa Rom. CVI.

Sergius Papa natione Romanus ex patre Sergio, ſedit annis tribus & menſibus duobus, ſecundum Martinum. Hic Os porci nominabatur, ab illo autem in antea ſemper omnes Summi Pontifices nomina ſua propria in ſua coronatione mutaverunt, tum quia Dominus Jeſus illum, quem in Apoſtolicum elegit, alio nomine inſignivit, tum quia, ſicut mutantur nomina Summorum Pontificum in melius, ſic & vita eorum & converſatio mutari debet in melius, tum etiam ne ille, qui ad decoris eligitur officium, aliquo dedecore ex nomine deturpetur. Iſte absque conſenſu Lotharii Imperatoris eſt ordinatus & conſecratus, propter quod indignatus Imperator, filium ſuum Lodovvicum & Dragonem Metenſem Epiſcopum cum magno exercitu Romam direxit, qui poſt multa damna Romanis illata, ipſos Romanos Imperatori fidelitatem jurare coëgerunt, & Sergium in ſede confirmaverunt. Qui prædictum Lodovvicum filium Imperatoris in Regem Lombardorum inunxit, ſecundum Sigibertum. Hujus Sergii frater uterinus nomine Benedictus propter imbecillitatem Pontificis rem Eccleſiaſticam regere tentavit, Dominumque urbis Romanæ maximis muneribus ab Imperatore acquiſivit, & Albanenſem Epiſcopatum ſibi uſurpavit, ac omnia intra & extra Romam avaritia ſua vaſtavit. Vigebat autem tempore hujus Pontificis & fratris ejus hæreſis Simoniaca in tantum, ut etiam publice venderentur Epiſcopatus, & qui plus dabat, Epiſcopatum accipiebat. Nec erat aliquis Epiſcoporum aut Eccleſiaſticorum virorum, qui zelo Dei ductus, cum Imperatore vel Rege ageret, ut hoc nefas prohiberetur. Quod Deus ulciſcens, miſit Sarracenos, qui homines innumeros interfecerunt, caſtella & urbes multas captas igne conſumſerunt, accepta præda, Regem quoque Lodovvicum fugaverunt, & maxima rerum hominumque præda onuſti ad propria ſunt reverſi.

Quarto anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCXLVI. Maurorum exercitus in fortitudine magna conglobatus, ſecundum Egghardum, Beneventum obſedit, & tandem expugnavit. Rabanus Abbas Fuldenſis, ſecundum Hugonem, librum, quem de Laude S. Crucis variis figuris metrisque compoſuit, Sergio Papæ pro magno xenio Romam transmiſit. S. Anſcharius Hammeburgenſis Archiepiſcopus Ramesloënſem Eccleſiam fundavit, ſecundum Sigibertum, in poſſeſſione cujusdam nobilis matronæ Ykia nuncupatæ.

Quinto anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCXLVII. Karolus Calvus, filius Lodovvici Pii & Judith, frater Lotharii Imperatoris & Lodovvici Regis Germaniæ, cœpit regnare ſuper Francos viceſimus tertius, & regnum tenuit XXXIIII. annis. Hic Karolus Eccleſiam Sanctorum Cornelii & Cypriani apud Compendium ædificavit, & in honorem ipſorum Reſponſorium, quod cantat Eccleſia, Cives Apoſtolorum compoſuit. Hujus regnum Normanni, qui & Norvvegi, de mari per Ligerim intrantes, pene totum ferro & igne vaſtaverunt. Saxones etiam ex alia parte Galliam igne ferroque depopulati ſunt. Cum Friſonibus etiam Normanni tribus præliis congreſſi ſunt, & in duobus primis victores extiterunt, in tertio vero victi a Friſonibus receſſerunt.

Sexto annno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCXLVIII. dedicata eſt Eccleſia novæ Corbeyæ, ſecundum Egghardum.

De Leone V. Papa Rom. CVII.

Leo Papa natione Romanus ex patre Dualdo, ſedit annis X. menſibus tribus & ſex diebus, ſecundum Martinum. Iſte ſanctus fuit & Catholicus multæque patientiæ & humilitatis, multarum quoque ſcripturarum ferventiſſimus extitit lector. Ipſe quoque Sergio defuncto, & nondum ſepulto, unanimiter a populo Romano & Clero extitit electus. Sanctorum autem Apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli Baſilicas, & alias quam plures Eccleſias a Sarracenis deſtructas reformavit. Hic etiam Papa pro Neapolitanis in mari contra Sarracenos pugnantibus, orando collectam fecit, ſcilicet: Deus, cujus dextra Beatum Petrum ambulantem, &c. Inſuper & hic Papa, ſecundum Geſta Summorum Pontificum, decrevit, ut, dum Miſſarum ſolennia celebrantur, nullus laicus in Presbyterio ſtare vel ſedere præſumat, niſi tantum ſacra plebs, quæ ad miniſterium Sacri officii conſtituta eſt & ordinata. Ex conſtitutione patet, monſtroſam eſſe & criminoſam conſuetudinem quarundam Eccleſiarum in partibus maritimis & ſtagnalibus, præſertim Slaviæ & Saxoniæ, ubi in primis Miſſis mulieres & puellæ occupare ſolent locum prædictum ſacrum, ſedendo in Presbyterio juxta majus altare, quibus tamen ſecundum omnia jura minus licitum eſt quam cuicunque viro propter diverſas rationes celebrantibus nocivas. Statuit etiam idem Papa, ut Octavæ Aſſumtionis Beatæ Virginis celebrentur per mundum univerſum, quod prius non fiebat niſi in Eccleſia Romana.

Septimo anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCXLIX. Romæ in quibusdam cavernis, ſecundum Chronicas Romanorum, baſiliſcus erat, qui flatu ſuo ac viſu peſtifero omnes accedentes necabat. Hunc Leo Papa ad ipſum foramen veniens, oratione ſua fugavit, ita quod nullum poſtea læſionis ſignum in quocunque homine appareret. Urbem etiam, quam circa Eccleſiam Beati Petri Leo Quartus inceperat, plene conſummavit, & cum letania eam circumdans, & aqua exorzizata aſpergens ſanctificavit, ac ſuo poſtmodum nomine, ſicut prius Leo IV. fecerat, eam Leoninam nuncupavit. Et cum portis urbi Leoninæ jam muris circumdatæ ſeras apponerent, fecit orando collectam: Deus, qui Beato Petro Apoſtolo collatis clavibus &c. S. Radulfus Bituricenſis Archiepiſcopus multis virtutibus claruit, ſecundum Martinum, qui in cœnobio B. Sulpitii jacet humatus, multis coruſcans ſignis.

Octavo anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCL. Alfridus Epiſcopus Hildenſemenſis conſecratur, ſecundum Egghardum. Iſte civitates duas ſuæ proprietatis, puta Saligenſtad, quæ nunc Oſterwik dicitur, & Aſnede, quæ modo Eſſonde dicitur, Eccleſiæ condonavit. In quibus Abbatias duas Saligenſtad Monachorum & Aſnede Virginum ordinavit. Cœnobium Garderſemenſe, ſecundum Egghardum, inchoatur per Ludolfum quartum Ducem Saxoniæ de progenie Wydekindi prodeuntem, cujus filia Hathamoda prima Abbatiſſa facta eſt. Rabanus Abbas Fuldenſis, ſecundum Sigibertum, ordinatur Archiepiſcopus Moguntinus, qui mox, Lodovvico Rege Germaniæ jubente Synodum magnam collegit, & multa Eccleſiæ utilia ſtatuit in ſua provincia obſervanda.

Nono anno Lotharii, qui eſt Dom. DCCCLI. Adulfus Rex Anglorum primus totius Angliæ Monarcha, ſecundum Sigibertum, devotionis cauſa venit Romam, & coram Leone Papa obtulit S. Petro tributum de unaquaque domo regni Angliæ unum nummum argenteum annuatim exſolvendum, quod quidem tributum usque hodie perſeverat. S. Helena, ſecundum Vincentium, mater Conſtantini Magni, ab ipſo Conſtantino filio ſuo Romæ in Eccleſia Sanctorum Marcellini & Petri in Mauſoleo purpureo ſepulta, transfertur in Franciam, & in Diœceſi Rhemenſi cum magna veneratione colitur.

Decimo anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCLII. Lodowicus Rex Germaniæ, ſecundum Egghardum, Obotritis bello victis cum Regulo ſuo Golmoldo, totam terram eorum per Duces regendam ordinavit. Godeſchalcus hæreticus, ſecundum Sigibertum, a Rabano Archiepiſcopo Moguntino rationabiliter convincitur, ſed tamen in ſuo perſeveravit errore. Quædam Pſeudoprophetiſſa ſecundum Vincentium, dicens, inſtare diem judicii, Moguntiam ſolicitabat, ita ut etiam aliquos in Ordine ſacro conſtitutos ad ſe inclinaret. Quæ ab Archiepiſcopo correcta confeſſa eſt, ſe per ſuggeſtionem cujusdam Presbyteri quæſtus cauſa hoc dixiſſe, & non ex inſpiratione.

Undecimo anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCLIII. Danorum naves in Angliam transfretarunt, ſecundum Egghardum, numero CCCL. Fames valida totam Germaniam vehementer afflixit, ſecundum Vincentium, ita ut etiam pater filium ſuum devorare non abhorreret. Quo tempore Rabanus Archiepiſcopus Moguntinus multam pietatem erga miſeros & pauperes exhibuit. Dux Saxoniæ Ludolfus cum Oda conjuge ſua Romam veniens, ſecundum Sigibertum, cauſa devotionis, a Papa Leone Reliquias Sanctorum Præſulum Anaſtaſii & Innocentii impetratas tulit ſecum, & in honorem eorum Cœnobium virginum primo in Brundeshuſen, deinceps in Gandersheim conſtruxit, & filiam ſuam Hademodam ibidem primam Abbatiſſam inſtituit, quam a Beato Leone Papa conſecrari in albis mollibusque veſtibus faciebat. Quod idem Papa coram Archiepiſcopis & Epiſcopis tam Italicis quam ultramontanis numero XXXVI. cum auxilio Dei & Beatæ Virginis interventione, omniumque Sanctorum auctoritate ſic ſemper fieri confirmavit, ſcilicet quod mollibus & albis utantur indumentis. Quidam aſſerunt, hoc a Sergio Papa factum fuiſſe.

Duodecimo anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini DCCCLIIII. Burdegalis, Sanctonas, Petragoras, Aurelianis & Leumonicas urbes a Normannis, qui & Norwegi dicuntur, Paganis captæ ſunt, qui ex Dacia eruperunt. Unde & dicti ſunt Normanni, id eſt aquilonares viri. Iſti tandem converſi ad fidem, in Gallia maritima, quæ ab eis Normannia dicitur, reſederunt. De Lothario Imperatore legitur in Chroni-Quinto anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXII. Petente Abbatiſſa Hervordenſi Hadwige, & jubente Karolo Rege Francorum poſtea Imperatore, ſecundum Sigibertum, translatum eſt corpus virginis Puſynnæ de pago Portenſi vico Bauſionenſi Hervordiam Weſtphaliæ, & ibidem venerabiliter eſt collocatum. Fuit autem hæc beata Puſynna generoſis nobilibus & divitibus parentibus, patre Sigmaro & matre Liuttrudi progenita, & cum ſex ſororibus ſuis ab Albino venerabili Epiſcopo Eccleſiæ Cathalanenſi, petentibus parentibus, Deo virgo conſecrata, quæ poſt vitam virtutibus plenam beato fine in Chriſto quievit, miraculis multis clariſſima. Sorores hæ ſeptem fuerunt ſimul, quarum prima Ymma, ſecunda Othildis, tertia Liuttrudis, quarta Puſynna, quinta Francula, ſexta Libera, & ſeptima Maghenhildis.

Nicolaus Papa Eccleſiam Bremenſem a Colonienſi exemit, cujus erat ſuffraganea, ſecundum Egghardum in Chronicis, & eam Eccleſiam Hammeburgenſi conjunxit, faciens ex duabus unam, ordinante hoc Lodowico Imperatore, ut ſic de cætero eſſent non duæ, ſed una Eccleſia. Nam utraque civitas propter frequentes barbarorum incurſus plena erat periculis, & ideo utile videbatur Imperatori, unam alterius ope relevari. Recepit ergo S. Anſcharius utramque Eccleſiam pro una ſponſa regenda, defuncto Bremenſi Antiſtite, & factum eſt unum ovile & unus paſtor. Et ſedit in Hammeburg S. Anſcharius Archi-Epiſcopus X. annis, & interim Sleswicenſem Eccleſiam fundavit, & magnam multitudinem Danorum & Slavorum Sveorumque convertit, fundans in Jutia Ripenſem Eccleſiam. Lodowicus vero Imperator operam dedit efficacem ad reſtaurationem urbis Hammeburgenſis, Danorum furore deſolatæ. Tenor autem Bullæ Nicolai Papæ ſuper adunatione dictarum Eccleſiarum ſequitur, & eſt talis: Nicolaus Epiſcopus, ſervus ſervorum Dei, omnibus fidelibus Eccleſiæ ſanctæ Dei, præſentibus & futuris, ſalutem & Apoſtolicam benedictionem. Quisquis Dominum & Redemtorem noſtrum Jeſum Chriſtum de ſinu Patris ad terram pro demonſtranda cordibus hominum vera & certa fide deſcendiſſe non dubitat, profecto non ignorat, omnes, qui ejusdem fidei per gratiam ipſius participes facti ſunt, & præcipue nos, qui per primum tantæ virtutis miniſtrum locum præcipuum tenemus, hominibus debere lucrandis inſiſtere, & per univerſas gentes Verbi ſemina ſerere, ac ſolatia ferentibus miniſtrare. Nunc autem quia Lodowicus ſublimiſſimus Rex per Salomonem, venerabilem Epiſcopum civitatis Conſtantienſis, noſtro ſtuduit Apoſtolatui intimare, quod piæ memoriæ Lodowicus Pius Imperator progenitor ſuus, quendam Monachum nomine Anſcharium de Monaſterio Corbeyenſi tuliſſet & collocaſſet eum juxta Albiam fluvium in confinibus Danorum Saxonumque in caſtello Hammeburg, inter duos Epiſcopatus Bremenſem ſcilicet & Verdenſem. De quibus tollens Eccleſias & decimas, ad ſuſtentationem provehendi præfati jam Epiſcopi Clericorumque ejus condonaſſet in prædicto loco, annuente ac ſolennia Sedis Apoſtolicæ privilegia præbente prædeceſſore noſtro bonæ memoriæ Gregorio Papa. Cujus & auctoritate in ſupra dicto Nordalbingorum populo Sedes conſtituta eſt Archi-Epiſcopalis in caſtello ſuperius memorato Hammeburg, & in eadem quoque Sede, accepto a Sede Apoſtolica pallio, Archi-Epiſcopus primus ordinatus eſt Anſcharius, cui a præfato Summo Pontifice delegata eſt cura ſeminandi Verbum Dei, & animas Deo lucrandi. Cujus delegationis & auctoritatis ac pallii acceptionis pagina nobis eſt a præfato filio noſtro Lodowico Rege per jam dictum Salomonem ſanctiſſimum Epiſcopum deſtinata, juxta morem Sanctæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ ebullata. Per cujus paginæ tenorem hæc ita facta fuiſſe comperimus, ſicut pietas nobis jam præfati Regis per fidelem virum Salomonem Epiſcopum intimavit. Unde nos veſtigia tanti Pontificis & prædeceſſoris noſtri Gregorii ſequentes, omnemque Deo dignam ibi ſtatutam providentiam agnoſcentes, magnorum Principum votum, Lodowici videlicet divæ recordationis Auguſti & æquivoci ejus filii excellentiſſimi Regis, tam hujus Apoſtolicæ auctoritatis præcepto, quam etiam pallii datione, more prædeceſſorum noſtrorum roborare decrevimus, quatenus tanta fundatus auctoritate prænominatus Anſcharius primus Nordalbingorum Archi-Epiſcopus, & poſt ipſum ſucceſſores ejus, lucrandis plebibus inſiſtentes, adverſus tentamenta diaboli validiores exiſtant, ipſumque filium noſtrum jam dictum Anſcharium legatum in omnibus circumquaq; gentibus Sveorum, Danorum & Slavorum, ac in cæteris ubicunque illis in partibus conſtitutis divina pietas oſtium aperuerit, publicam ewangelizandi tribuimus auctoritatem. Ipſamque Sedem Nordalbingorum Hammeburg dictam, in honorem Sancti Salvatoris Sanctæque ejus intemeratæ Genitricis ſemper Virginis Mariæ conſecratam, deinceps eſſe decernimus Archi-Epiſcopalem. Atque ut ſtrenui prædicatoris Epiſcopi, poſt deceſſum dicti Anſcharii Archi-Epiſcopi, crebro perſona tanto officio apta eligatur ſemper ſucceſſio [ſucceſſione,] ſub divini obteſtatione judicii ſtatuimus. Verum quia Karolus Rex, frater ſupra dicti Regis Lodowici, poſt deceſſum Imperatoris patris ſui piæ memoriæ Lodowici, abſtulit a prænominato loco, qui dicitur Hammeburg, Monaſterium, quod appellatur Turholt, ſitum in occidentali Francia, quod illic genitor ſuus ad ſupplementum & victum Epiſcopo & Clericis ejus dederat, cœperunt, ut fertur, miniſtri altaris recedere. Deficientibus quippe neceſſariis ſumtibus ab ipſis receſſerunt gentibus, & adem ad gentes legatio per hujusmodi factum defecit. Ipſa quoque Metropolis Hammeburg pene deſerta eſt facta. Igitur dum hæc agerentur, defunctus eſt Diœceſanus Bremenſis, quæ huic contigua eſſe dicitur. Cumq; ſæpe dictus Rex & hanc diœceſim vacantem & illam novellam inſtitutionem cerneret deficientem; inſuper & utramque hanc Eccleſiam, Dei permittente occulto judicio, per barbarorum ſævitiam admodum attenuatam, quærere cœpit, qualiter prædicta Bremenſis Eccleſia prædictæ novellæ Archi-Epiſcopali uniretur & ſubderetur Sedi, noſtro hoc votum roborante decreto. Unde per ſæpe dictum venerabilem Miſſum Salomonem, Conſtantienſem Epiſcopum, nobis hoc relatum eſt confirmandum, ac poſtulatum eſt noſtra auctoritate roborandum. Nos ergo id ſubtili perpendentes examine, animadvertimus propter inſtantem neceſſitatem & animarum lucra in gentibus oſtenſa, utile fore, omnia, quæ profi cua Eccleſiæ probantur exiſtere, & divinis non inſultant præceptis, licita & facienda eſſe non dubitamus, maxime in tam novellæ Chriſtianitatis plantatione, in qua varii ſolent eventus contingere. Quamobrem auctoritate omnipotentis Dei & Beatorum Apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli, hoc noſtro decreto decernimus ſecundum reverentiſſimi Regis Lodowici votum, ipſas prædictas diœceſes, Hammeburgenſem videlicet & Bremenſem, non deinceps duas, ſed unam eſſe & vocari, ſubdique Sedi, quæ prædeceſſoris noſtri decreto Archi-Epiſcopali eſt munere ſublimata, reſtituta duntaxat de Bremenſis Eccleſiæ rebus Epiſcopatui Verdenſi parti inde ablata. Nullus vero Archi-Epiſcopus Colonienſis ullam deinceps in eadem diœceſi vendicet ſibi auctoritatem, quinimo & ipſi & omnibus omnino ſvademus veræ Religionis cultoribus, ut ſacra hac legatione fungentibus adjutorio ſint & ſolatio, quatenus gratia hujus beneficii plenam mercedem recipere mereantur ab eo, qui dixit: Ite, docete omnes gentes; & quicunque recipit vos, me recipit. Itaque omnia a dilecto filio noſtro Lodowico ad hoc Deo dignum officium deputata, noſtra etiam pia ejus vota auctoritate firmamus. Et quia caſus præteritorum nos cautos faciunt in futurum, omnem quoque adverſantem vel contradicentem, atque noſtris his ſtudiis quoquomodolibet inſidiantem anathematis mucrone percutimus, atque perpetuæ ultionis reum diabolica ſorte damnamus, ut culmen Apoſtolicum more prædeceſſorum noſtrorum, cauſamque Dei pio affectu zelantes ab adverſis hinc inde partibus tutius muniamur. Et quia te cariſſime fili Anſchari, divina clementia nova in Sede primum diſpoſuit eſſe Archi-Epiſcopum, nosque tibi pallium ad Miſſarum ſolennia celebranda tribuimus. Quod tibi in diebus tuis uti & Eccleſiæ tuæ perpetuo ſtatu manentibus privilegiis uti largimur. Idcirco hujus indumenti honor a te ſervandus eſt morum vivacitate. Si ergo paſtores ovium ſole geluque pro gregis ſui cuſtodia, ne qua ex eis aut errando pereat, aut ferinis lanianda morſibus, oculis ſemper vigilantibus circumſpectant: quanto ſudore quantaque cura debemus eſſe pervigiles nos, qui paſtores animarum dicimur, attendamus, & ne ſuſceptum officium in terrenis negotiis aliquatenus implicare debeas, admonemus. Vitaque tua ſit filiis tuis via. In ipſa ſiqua fortitudo illis ineſt, dirigat, in ea quod imitentur, aſpiciant. In ipſa ſemper conſiderando proficiant, ut tuum poſt Deum videatur eſſe bonum, quod vixerint. Cor ergo tuum neque proſpera, quæ temporaliter blandiuntur, extollant, neque adverſa dejiciant, Diſtrictum mali cognoſcunt, pium benevoli ſentiant. Inſontem apud te malitia aliena non maculet, reum gratia non excuſet. Viduis & pupillis injuſte oppreſſis defenſio tua ſubveniat. Ecce frater cariſſime, inter multa alia iſta ſunt Sacerdotii, iſta ſunt pallii. Quæ ſi ſtudioſe ſervaveris, quod foras accepiſſe oſtenderis, intus habebis. Veruntamen iſta omnia ſuperius annexa, ab Apoſtolica Sede beatitudini tuæ indulta cognoſce, ſi a fide & decretis Sanctæ Eccleſiæ Catholicæ Romanæ in nullo deviaveris. Quod ſi a fide & inſtitutis Sedis Apoſtolicæ declinare præſumſeris, his noſtris tibi collatis beneficiis carebis. Porro te pallio uti non niſi more Sedis concedimus Apoſtolicæ, ſcilicet ut ſucceſſores tui per ſemet ipſos vel legatos ſuos fidem nobiſcum tenere, ac ſanctas ſex Synodos recipere, necnon decreta omnium Romanæ Sedis Præſulum & Epiſtolas, quæ ſibi delatæ fuerint, venerabiliter obſervare atque perficere omnibus vitæ ſuæ diebus ſcripto ſe & juramento profiteantur. Scriptum per manum Zachariæ Notarii Sanctæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ, in menſe Majo, Indictione XII. imperante Lodowico Imperatore anno ſuo quinto.

Sexto anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXIII. Baldowinus Ferreus filius Andachi, ſecundum Sigibertum, rapuit Judith filiam Karoli Calvi, relictam Regis Anglorum, propter quod ab omni Eccleſia de conſenſu Epiſcoporum excommunicatus eſt ex præcepto Karoli. Sed poſt de eorundem Epiſcoporum & Optimatum Conſilio reconciliatus Baldowinus Karolo, dedit ei Karolus Rex Judith filiam ſuam in uxorem, & Flandriam tribuit ei in Comitatum & ſuis hæredibus perpetuo poſſidendum. Et ſic hoc anno Comitatus Flandriæ ſumſit exordium. Prius enim a Foreſtariis Regis Francorum regebatur, quorum & Lindricus & Ingelramus ac Audacer ſub Pypino & Karolo M. ac Lodowico Rectores Flandriæ fuerant, nec tamen Comites vocati ſunt; ſed Baldowinus iſte primus Comes extitit Flandriæ & nominatus eſt.

Septimo anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXIIII. Lotharius Rex Lotharingiæ, frater Lodowici ſecundus, ſecundum Sigibertum, Thebergam uxorem ſuam legitimam repudiavit, Waldradæ concubinæ ſe commiſcens, faventibus ſibi ad hoc Gunthero Archi-Epiſcopo Colonienſi & Theogando Archi-Epiſcopo Treverenſi. Quos ambos Archi-Epiſcopos Papa Nicolaus in Sinodo ob hoc collecta excommunicavit & degradavit. Lotharium etiam Regem, niſi reſipiſceret, excommunicatum pronunciavit. Guntherus vero poſt talem talem degradationem uſurpans ſibi officium paſtorale, egit, quæ erant Epiſcopi. Sed poſt pœnitentia ductus venit Romam, ſed non reconciliatus rediens, dum contumax apud Xanctum divinum officium peragere inciperet, fertur ab Angelo Dei ſacris veſtibus ſpoliatus, ante altare occiſus fuiſſe. Anſcharius Archi-Epiſcopus Hammeburgenſis, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis Slavorum, Imperatoris Lodowici, pariter & Nicolai Papæ legatione fungens, Erikum Regem Danorum adiit. Ubi pro commodis utriusque regni Danorum ſcilicet & Sveorum, & pacis ſtabilitate regni Danorum & Imperii ſtrenue agens, multam apud Regem licet gentilem familiaritatis gratiam pro fidei ſuæ reverentia conſecutus eſt. Cui etiam Erikus Rex Danorum facultatem tribuit Eccleſias ſtatuendi, prohibens, nequis volentes baptizari ſub Chriſtianis legibus, eis uti præpedire tentaret. De hujus autem Danorum regni partibus, præſentibus mihi placuit aliqua inſerere, per quæ prædicti regni & terrarum prope jacentium conditiones cognoſcentur. Daniam namque ſive Daciam a Nordalbingis flumen Egdora dirimit, quæ oritur in profundiſſimo ſaltu Yſarnho, & deſcendit usque in Oceanum Friſonum, quem Romani ſcribunt Britannicum. Hujus autem Daciæ prima pars dicitur Jutia ſive Jutlandia & eſt juxta Egdoram flumen ſita, & ſunt in ea tres Epiſcopatus, ut clarius patet in geſtis Pontificum Hammeburgenſium. Funis vero inſula eſt non modica in oſtio Barbarici ſinus. Civitas ibidem opulenta eſt Odenſee dicta. Selandia inſula eſt in interiori ſinu maris Baltici, cujus civitas Roſchild nominatur. Schania eſt inſula viſu pulcherrima, cujus civitas principalis Lundonia nuncupatur, ubi jam Archi-Epiſcopatus eſt. Eſt & ibidem Lalandia inſula, parva, & aliæ quam plures in Ponto maris Baltici, ferocibus barbaris plenæ; ideoque fugiuntur a navigantibus. Sunt inſuper ibidem Alani vel Albani, qui cum canitie naſcuntur, & illud fretum antiqui Romani vocabant paludes Scythicas vel Mæotidas. Transeuntibus autem inſulas Danorum alter mundus oſtenditur, Sveonia ſcilicet & Northmannia, quæ ſunt duo latiſſima aquilonis regna, & noſtro orbi adhuc fere incognita & ignota. De Sveonia ſive Swecia autem mentionem fecerunt antiqui doctores, Solinus ſcilicet & Oroſius, qui plurimam partem Germaniæ Sweones dicunt tenere, & montana ejus usque ad Riphæos montes extendi. Ibi eſt etiam Albis fluvius, de quo Lucanus meminiſſe videtur. Ex his autem populis proximi ad nos habitant Gothi, qui Occidentales Gothi nominantur, apud quos eſt civitas magna Scarane. Alii vero ſunt Gothi Orientales, & protenditur Oſtergothia juxta mare Balticum usque ad Burcam. Nobiliſſimum autem habet illa gens templum quod Upſala dicitur, ubi jam reſidet Archi-Epiſcopatus. In hoc quidem templo, quod totum ex auro paratum eſt, ſtatua trium deorum populus venerabatur, ita ut potiſſimus eorum Thor in medio haberet triclinium. Hinc vero & inde locum poſſidebant Beodan & Fricco: Quorum ſignificationes ejusmodi ſunt: Thor, inquiunt, præſidet in aëre, & tonitrua, fulmina, ventos, imbres & fruges gubernat. Beodan vero fortior bella gerit, hominibusque virtutem tribuit contra inimicos. Sed Fricco voluptatem pacemque largiens mortalibus, præ aliis duobus amatur. Cujus ſimulacrum fingunt ſimile ingenti Priapo, Beodan vero ſculpunt armatum ſicut noſtri Martem ſculpere conſveverunt, Thor autem cum ſceptro Jovem exprimere videtur. Si ergo peſtis vel fames imminebat, Thor idolo Gothi hi immolabant, ſi bellum Beodan, ſi vero nuptiæ celebrandæ eſſent, Fricconi feſtum faciebant. Norwegia. Northmannia, de qua ſupra dictum eſt, a modernis Norwegia nuncupatur, cujus longitudo in extremam ſeptentrionis plagam protenditur. Incipit autem ex prominentibus ſcopulis hujus freti, quod Balticum mare appellari ſolet. Deinde reflexo in aquilonem dorſo, poſtquam frementis Oceani marginem ſuo circuitu ambiit, tandem in Riphæis montibus limitem facit, ubi & laſſus deficit orbis. Northmannia quoque propter aſperitatem montium, & propter intemperatum frigus ſteriliſſima eſt omnium regionum, ſolis apta pecoribus. Proinde fortiſſimos educat milites, qui nulla frugum luxuria molliti, ſæpius impugnant alios, quam ipſi moleſtentur ab aliquo. Sine invidia habitant cum proximis Sweonibus, licet a Danis æque pauperibus, non tamen impune quandoque tententur. In multis autem Norwegiæ & Sveciæ locis paſtores pecudum ſunt & nobiliſſimi homines, ritu Patriarcharum in labore manuum viventes. In aſperrimis etiam, qui ibi ſunt, Alpibus, audivi mulieres eſſe barbatas, & viros ſilvicolas raro ſe præbere videndos. Hi ferarum pellibus utuntur pro veſtibus, & loquentes ad invicem frendere magis quam verba formare videntur. Metropolis autem civitas Northmannorum eſt Trondempnis, quæ nunc decorata Eccleſiis magna populorum frequentatione celebratur. In hac jacet Corpus Beatiſſimi Olai Regis & Martyris, ad cujus tumbam usque in hodiernum diem maxima Dominus operatur miracula. Poſt Northmanniam autem, quæ eſt ultima aquilonis regio, nichil habitationis humanæ niſi terribile viſu & infinitum Oceanum, qui totum amplectitur mundum, invenies. Iſta Northmannia habet ex adverſo multas inſulas non ignobiles, quæ nunc omnes Northmannorum ditioni ſubjacent, & ideo non ſunt a nobis prætermittendæ, quoniam & Hammeburgenſem parochiam reſpiciunt & concernunt. Orcades. Harum primæ ſunt Orcades inſulæ quæ ſunt aſperſæ per Oceanum, de quibus Romani Auctores, Marcianus & Solinus ita ſcripſiſſe videntur: A tergo Britanniæ, unde infinitus patet Oceanus, Orcades ſunt inſulæ, quarum XX. ſunt deſertæ, XV. autem incoluntur. Orcades inſulæ pene XL. ſunt junctæ. Iſtis vicinæ ſunt Electrides, in quibus electrum gignitur. Orcades ergo inter Northmanniam & Britanniam ac Hiberniam poſitæ, frementis Oceani ludibundæ minas derident. Ad quas a civitate civitate Nortmannorum Trondempni per diem ferunt navigari poſſe. Inſuper ab Orcadibus ſimile ſpatium ajunt fore, ſive in Angliam dirigas, ſive in Schotiam flectere velis navem. Ad easdem autem Orcades inſulas, quamvis prius ab Anglorum & Schotorum Epiſcopis regerentur, Primas Hammeburgenſis juſſu Papæ ordinavit Thorulfum Epiſcopum in civitate Blaſconia, quæ omnium curam gereret. Yslandia. Inſula quoque Tyle, quæ per infinitum ſpatium a cæteris longe ſita eſt in Oceano, vix, ut inquiunt, nota eſt. De qua inſula tam a Romanis Scriptoribus, quam a barbaris multa referuntur memoria digna. Ultima, inquiunt, omnium inſularum Tyle, in qua æſtivo ſolſtitio, ſole cancri ſignum transeunte, nox nulla eſt, brumali vero ſolſtitio econtra nullus quaſi dies apparet. Ipſa quoque Tyle inſula diſtat ſex dierum navigatione in ſeptentrionem plagam a Britannia. Hæc itaque Tyle nunc Yslandia appellatur, ubi glacies ita nigra & arida propter antiquitatem videtur, ut incenſa ardeat. Juxta Yslandiam autem eſt Oceanus glaciatus fervens & caliginoſus. Eſt autem inſula permaxima, ita ut populos intra ſe multos contineat, qui ſolo pecorum fœtu vivunt, eorumque vellere teguntur. Nullæ ibi fruges, minima lignorum copia. Propterea in ſubterraneis habitant ſpeluncis, victu & ſtrato communi gaudentes cum pecoribus ſuis. Sicque in ſimplicitate ſancta vitam ducentes, cum nichil amplius quærant, quam natura concedit, læti dicere poſſunt cum Apoſtolo: Habentes victum & veſtitum, his contenti ſumus. Nam & montes pro opidis habent, & fontes pro deliciis. Multa denique inſignia in moribus eorum reperiuntur, & præcipue caritas, ex qua procedit, ut inter eos omnia ſint communia, tam advenis quam indigenis. Epiſcopum ſuum habent pro Rege, ad cujus nutum reſpicit omnis populus. Quicquid ex Deo, ex ſcripturis, ex conſuetudine aliarum gentium ille inſtituerit, hoc pro lege habent. Gronlandia. Sunt & plures aliæ inſulæ in Oceano ſitæ, quarum non minima eſt Gronlandia. Gronlandia enim profundius in Oceano ſita, contra montes Suediæ ſive Sueciæ ac Riphæa juga. Ad quam inſulam a littore Northmannorum ferunt vela pandi V. aut VII. diebus. Homines autem ibi a ſalo cœrulei videntur, unde & regio illa nomen accepit, qui ſimilem Yslanis vitam agunt, excepto eo, quod crudeliores ſunt, raptuque piratico navigantibus infeſti. Alia autem eſt inſula Halaglandia dicta, vicinior Northmannis, magnitudine cæteris non impar. Hæc in æſtate circa ſolſtitium per XIIII. dies continuos ſolem videt ſuper terram, & in hyeme ſimiliter per totidem dies ſole caret. Stupenda eſt hæc res & incognita barbaris, qui neſciunt diſparem longitudinem dierum cauſari propter ſolis acceſſum & receſſum. Nam propter orbis rotunditatem neceſſe eſt, ut ſolis circuitus accedens alibi diem exhibeat, & alibi noctem relinquat. Qui dum deſcendit ad hyemale ſolſtitium, his, qui in auſtrali parte habitant, noctem prolongat, & diem abbreviat; aſcendens autem ad æſtivale ſolſtitium, ſimili ratione facit diem longiorem & noctem breviorem. Hoc ignorantes Pagani, terram illam vocant ſanctam & beatam, quæ tale miraculum præbeat mortalibus. Præterea adhuc una inſula eſt a multis reperta in Oceano, quæ dicitur Vinlandia, eo quod ibi vites ſponte naſcuntur absque plantatione, vinum optimum ferentes. Nam & fruges ibidem non ſeminatas abundare, non fabuloſa fictione, ſed certa Danorum comperimus relatione. Poſt quam inſulam terra non invenitur habitabilis in illo Oceano, ſed omnia, quæ ultra ſunt, glacie intolerabili ac caligine immenſa plena ſunt. Cujus rei Marcianus ita meminit: Ultra Tyle navigatione unius diei mare concretum eſt. Tentavit hoc nuper expertiſſimus Northmannorum Princeps Haroldus, qui latitudinem ſeptentrionalis Oceani perſcrutans navibus, tandem caligantibus ante ora deficientis mundi finibus, immane abyſſi barathrum, retroactis veſtigiis, vix ſalvus evaſit. Cujus ſimile occurrit quibusdam nobilibus de Friſia, qui præfata narrari audientes, hoc experiri attentaverunt, & tandem omnibus inſulis ſupra nominatis poſt ſe relictis, ſubito collapſi ſunt in illam tenebroſam rigentis Oceani caliginem, quæ vix oculis penetrari valet. Et ecce inſtabilis Oceani Euripus ad initia quædam fontis ſui arcana recurrens infelices nautas jam deſperatos, imo de morte ſolum cogitantes, vehementiſſimo impetu traxit ad chaos. Hanc dicunt eſſe voraginem abyſſi, illud profundum ſcilicet, in quo ſecundum famam omnes maris recurſus, qui decreſcere videntur abſorberi & denuo evomi ſolent. Sed ipſis nautis ad patrocinium S. Wilhadi devote fugientibus, navem verterunt, & ad quandam inſulam, altiſſimis in circuitu ſcopulis ritu opidi munitam, inſperate applicuerunt. Quam viſendorum gratia locorum aggreſſi, repererunt homines in antris ſubterraneis meridiano tempore latitantes, præ quorum foribus infinita jacebat copia vaſorum aureorum, argenteorum & cæterorum metallorum, quæ rara mortalibus & pretioſa reputantur. Sumta itaque parte gazarum, quam ſublevare poterant, læti feſtine remeant ad naves. Qui ſubito retro ſe venientes, contemplati ſunt homines miræ altitudinis, quos noſtri Tyclones appellant, quos antecedebant canes, magnitudinem ſolitam longe excedentes; quorum in curſu unus de ſociis eorum raptus eſt, & in momento coram eis dilaniatus, reliqui vero velociter ad naves fugerunt. Et hæc de inſulis Northmannicis, & Oceani ſeptentrionalis & earum conditionibus, ac gentium in eis degentium naturis & proprietatibus ad præſens dicta ſufficiant.

Octavo anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXV. Comitatus Hollandiæ cœpit, ſecundum Sigibertum. Nam Karolus Calvus Rex Francorum Theodericum, fratrem Waldgeri, primum Comitem faciens, Egmundam cum pratis, ſilvis & omnibus aliis, quæ inter Swittershaghen & Fortrapa ac Kynnen-poſteri

ejus nunc poſſident, beneficio contulit. Qui Theodericus Comes poſtea Monaſterium Egmundenſe fundavit, ſub Epiſcopo Trajectenſi Edilbaldo Sanctimonialibus ibidem ad Deo ſerviendum inſtitutis, & Reliquias corporis Beati Adelberti, eo cuidam Sanctimoniali ſe revelante, in locum ubi nunc a fidelibus veneratur, transtulit, ligneam ibidem Eccleſiam conſtruens. Defunctus vero feliciter, in eodem Monaſterio cum uxore ſua Gena ſepultus eſt. Gutbertus Abbas & Dux, frater Thebergæ Reginæ, pro repudio ſororis ſuæ contra Lotharium inſurrexit. Ex libro de Geſtis Romanorum Pontificum. Temporibus Nicolai I. Papæ Lotharius, frater Lodowici Imperatoris, Thebergam uxorem ſuam legitimam dimittens, Waldradam concubinam matrimonio ſibi ſociavit. Cujus ſceleris auctores & defenſores erant Theogandus Treverenſis Primas Belgicæ provinciæ, & Guntharius Colonienſis Archiepiſcopus. Qui a Papa Romam vocati, fiducialiter venerunt, & ei libellum inceſti matrimonii, defenſionem Lotharii continentem obtulerunt, dicentes, ſe nihil plus aut minus egiſſe, quam in prædicto libello continebatur. Sed multa in in eo continebantur, pro quibus poſt merito ſententia depoſitionis in eos proferebatur, ſicut idem Papa ſcribit in Epiſtola, quam Rhemenſi Archiepiſcopo & cæteris Epiſcopis in regno Karoli Regis degentibus deſtinavit. In qua dicit, eos depoſitos fuiſſe primo quia juſſionibus, quas de Ingeltrudi & Waldrada fecerat, inobedientes fuerint. Secundo quia Ingeltrudem anathematis vinculo innodatam recipere & abſolvere præſumſerunt, cum hi, qui ab uno abjiciuntur, ab alio non ſint recipiendi. Tertio quia ſcripta Apoſtolicæ Sedis ſubtrahendo & addendo transmutantes, falſitatis rei manifeſtiſſime extiterunt. Quarto quia adulteris conſenſerunt, & tantum flagitium defendere tentaverunt, juxta id Pſalmi: Cum adulteris portionem tuam ponebas. Quinto quia de negotio, unde ad Romanam Sedem fuerat appellatum, præter auctoritatem Apoſtolicam judicare & diffinire temere præſumſerunt, quod nullatenus licet. Sexto, quia hoc in abſentia Thebergæ id peregerunt, contra id: Non maledicas ſurdo. Surdus namque quodammodo eſt, qui in abſentia poſitus, quæ ſibi objiciuntur, non audit. Septimo quia profanis geſtis ſe ſubſcripſerunt, & alios ſubſcribere compulerunt. Propter quæ excommunicati & degradati ſunt, prout ſuprà dictum eſt, tantum laicalis communio eis conceſſa eſt.

Nono anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXVI. Excommunicata Waldrada ſorore Guntheri Archiepiſcopi Colonienſis, ſecundum Sigibertum, concubina Lotharii Regis, videns ipſe Lotharius Rex, etiam ſibi excommunicationem intentari, Thebergam uxorem ſuam reſumſit. Sed tamen non multum hoc profuit, quia non multo poſt iterum repudiata ea, Waldradam repetiit, nec ultra ullo correctionis modo ab ea ſeparari potuit, ex toto obduratus & perverſus. Locuſtæ innumerabiles ſecundum Hugonem, in Galliis apparuerunt, quæ omnia viridia in herbis & arboribus vaſtantes, usque ad Britannicum mare pervenerunt, ubi ad littus projectæ, ex putrefactione ſua aërem infecerunt, unde mortalitas maxima & fames valida eſt ſecuta. Habuerunt autem hæ locuſtæ VI. pedes, duos dentes lapidibus duriores, & duces ſuos cum paucis itineris unius diei præmittebant ad metanda loca venturæ multitudini. Circa horam ergo IX. venientes ad locum prævisum, & ibi ſolis ortum exſpectantes, per ſpatium unius diei aërem velabant, & ſolis radium obnubilabant.

Decimo anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXVII. Rex Bulgarorum, ſecundum Sigibertum, ad Chriſtianiſmum cum gente ſua converſus eſt, miſſis ad eum a Sede Apoſtolica Miniſtris ſacri Ordinis. Acceptis ergo a Rege Lodowico ſubſidiis, adeo in fide Chriſtiana ſolidatus, ut non multo poſt filio majore in Regem coronato, ipſe abrenuncians ſeculo, Monachus factus ſit. Sed cum filius ejus juveniliter agens, ad gentilitatis cultum vellet redire, militiæ cingulo & Regio cultu reſumto, filium perſequitur, & oculis ejus effoſſis, ipſum in carcerem truſit, ac filio minore in regnum ſublimato, ſacrum Religionis habitum reaſſumſit, & in eo feliciter ad finem vitæ perduravit. Huni etiam hoc anno, ſecundum Vincentium, nomen Chriſtianitatis aſſumſerunt, & baptizati, Chriſto feliciter vivere cœperunt. Cyrillus vir ſanctus, pene omnium Slavorum Apoſtolus, ſecundum Egghardum, Corpus S. Clementis Papæ a Terſona, ubi in mare Ponticum projectum fuerat, mari exſiccato auferens, Romam deportavit, quod per Papam & Romanos in Eccleſia S. Clementis fuit reconditum, ubi & ipſe S. Cyrillus non poſt multos dies ſepultus, multis claret miraculis.

Undecimo anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXVIII. Guntherus Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, Epiſcopale officium poſt degradationem uſurpans, tandem pœnitentia ductus Romam venit, ſed minime reconciliari & reſtitui meruit. Qui revertens, dum contumaciter apud Xanctum divina celebrare inciperet, fertur ab Angelo Dei ſacris veſtibus ſpoliatus, ante altare fuiſſe interfectus. Sarracenis, ſecundum Sigibertum, Beneventanam regionem infeſtantibus, Lodowicus Imperator viriliter occurrebat. Ad cujus auxilium Lotharius frater ejus properans, multa prælia cum eo ſtrenue geſſit, & multa millia Sarracenorum cæſa ſunt.

De Hadriano II. Papa CX.

Hadrianus Papa natione Romanus ex patre Chalaro, ſedit annis IV. & menſibus tribus, ſecundum Martinum. Hic ab omnibus Romanis concorditer eſt electus. Quod Lodowicus Imperator agnoſcens, gaviſus valde, mox Imperialem Epiſtolam, perquam electionem Præſulis factam collaudabat, ſcripſit Romanis. Ad hunc Lotharius Rex Lotharingiæ & frater Lodowici, quem Nicolaus Papa excommunica-verat propter repudiationem Thebergæ, Romam venit, ut ſe excuſaret. A quo dum pro oſtenſione innocentiæ ſuæ ad communionem Corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti, tam ipſe quam Optimates ſui invitati fuiſſent, & omnes indigne recepiſſent, ipſo anno omnes mortui ſunt ſubito. Rex vero in ipſa via redeundo, Placentiæ defunctus eſt.

Gens Danorum, ſecundum Egghardum, intrans Angliam, eam ferro & igne devaſtavit. Piiſſimum quoque & Chriſtianiſſimum Regem Edmundum peremit. Hujus ſancti Regis caput abſciſſum, lupus ſævus illæſum ſervavit, & in ſilvam deferens, inter anteriorum pedum amplexus diligentiſſime locavit. Quod cum poſtea a pluribus quæreretur, vocem hujusmodi fertur emiſiſſe: Hir, hir, hir, quod in Latino ſonat hic, hic, hic. Poſtmodum hujus Regis manifeſtato martyrio, plebs Anglorum læta occurrit, ubi Deus ad meritum ſancti viri manifeſtandum multa operatus eſt miracula. De horum autem Danorum origine & ordine Regum ſuorum aliqua præſentibus inſerere decrevi. Nam juxta antiquorum Chronographorum narrationem & traditionem tempore Saruch proavi Abrahæ regnum quod nunc Dania ſive Dacia nuncupatur, quidam intraverunt, venientes de Gothia. Qui quidem Gothi, ſecundum Papiam, de Gog filio Japhet orti ſunt. Tempore vero David Regis Iſrael fuit in Dania ſeu Dacia Rex quidam nomine Dan, filius Humble, de Svecia veniens. Hic regnavit ſuper Selandiam, Falſter & Lalandiam, cujus regnum dicebatur Witheslech. Et de iſto Dan Rege regnum Danorum nomen ſumſit. Eodem tempore Rex quidam potentiſſimus ad invadendum Juthos venit. Quo viſo, Juthi timentes valde, locum, qui adhuc Kowirki dicitur, foſſatis & fragis ligneis munierunt. Miſerunt quoque nuncios ad Dan Regem Witheslech, ut eis ferret auxilium, pollicentes ei poſt victoriam ſubjectionem & dominium ſuper ſe. Qui cum ſuis veniens apud Kowirki, hoſtibus occurrit, interfectis plurimis, cæteris in fugam verſis. Quo triumpho peracto, Dan factus eſt Dominus Juthorum & eorum, qui in Scania habitabant, ac in cæteris inſulis Daciæ. Et ſic de communi conſilio & conſenſu ac decreto Procerum terræ, ipſe Dan regnum hoc Daniam ſive Daciam nominavit, & incolas ejus Danos ſive Dacos. Primus ergo Danorum Rex dictus fuit Dan, filius Humble, a quo Dani nomen acceperunt. Julius autem Cæſar primo fertur eam Daciam appellaſſe, propter hoſpitalitatem & dapſilitatem hujus gentis, a Dando ſeu datione larga, quia multum largus erat populus ille ad dandum advenis & egenis ſeu peregrinis hoſpitium & victum. Quod quidem nomen in præſentiarum hoc regnum habet. Dan ergo primus Danorum Rex fuit pugil fortiſſimus & gigantei generis, cunctis in circuitu terribilis, & prælia clariſſima geſſit. Secundus Rex Danorum fuit Humble filius Dan. Hic erat vanus & iners, & pauca memoria digna geſſit. Unde Lother frater ejus, facta conſpiratione cum Danis contra fratrem ſuum Regem, ipſum de regno expulit, & pro eo ſibi regnum uſurpavit. Tertius ergo Danorum Rex fuit Lother. Hic nimis durus fuit incolis regni ſui, & in multis ſe nequiter habuit: Et ideo Dani tyrannidem ejus non ferentes, ipſum occiderunt. Quartus Rex Danorum fuit Skayola filius Lother. Hic antequam haberet XV. annos in ætate, occurrit cuidam urſo ingenti ſolus, & ipſum cingulo ſuo ligavit. Hic primus Teuthonicos Danis ſubjugavit, & ſervire eos fecit ſub tributo, ac multa prælia ſtrenue geſſit. Quintus Rex Danorum Gram dictus, filius fuit Skayle. Hic Rex cum quodam gigante in Svecia pugnavit ſolus, & ipſum interfecit. Occidit etiam Regem Sueciæ cum XVI. fratribus ſuis, & per hoc Sweos Danis tributarios conſtituit. Poſtea vero cum Symbdagro Rege Nortwegiæ pugnans, ab eo occiſus eſt. Ab iſto Gram pugnatore fortiſſimo tractum eſt in uſum apud Danos, quod quando aliquis eſt multum durus & fortis, dicitur de eo: Ipſe eſt unus Gram. Sextus Danorum Rex Symbdager dictus fuit, qui Gram Regem occiderat. Iſte Rex ex patre Danus fuit, ſed ex matre Noricus ſeu Norweus, qui patrem proprium in Norwegia regnantem ſuo regno privavit, & pro eo regnavit. Hic etiam Helleſpontem Regem Sweciæ interfecit, & Norwegiam ac urbem Dymmin ſibi ſubjugavit, ac prælia multa glorioſe geſſit. Poſt multas vero victorias, indignum ducens mori in lecto quaſi pecus, propter laudem humanam & poſteritatis ſuæ memoriam ſe ipſum ſuſpendit. Septimus Rex Danorum Frothi dictus eſt, filius Symbdagi. Hic poſtquam ſe ipſum & quaſi totum regnum in bellis depauperaverat, audito, quod in Weldal draco quidam jaceret ſuper magnum thezaurum, ipſum draconem ſolus adiit, & ſuperatum eum occidit, acceptoque theſauro, Friſiam, Scotiam, Britanniam, Slaviam, Pruciam, & plures alias terras ſibi ſubjugavit. Poſtmodum in Scania pugnans, non manibus inimicorum, ſed æſtu ex pondere armorum ſuffocatus interiit. Octavus Rex Danorum Haldanus fuit filius Frothi. Iſte cupiditate regnandi agitatus, omnes fratres ſuos interfecit, ſed non diu regni gubernacula tenens, a propriis ſuis ſatellitibus eſt jugulatus. Nulla autem facta ſcriptura digna poſt ſe reliquit. Nonus Rex Danorum Ro dictus eſt. Hic transtulit civitatem, quæ prius Hakepingh dicebatur, de loco, qui Hakeberg nominatur, & ædificans eam in portu Yſesporch, nuncupavit eam Roſkilde, ſermone compoſito ex ſuo nomine & fonte, juxta quem ſita eſt. Decimus Rex Danorum fuit Haldan major filius Ro Regis, qui diviſo regno cum fratre ſuo Helgi, ipſe regnavit in terra, & frater ſuus Helgi imperavit in mari. Haldan vero Rex pauca geſſit notabilia, nec diu regnavit, quia frater ejus ipſum interfici practicavit. Undecimus Rex Danorum fuit Helgi frater Haldan. Hic ſtrenuus extitit bellator, & Hochbrodum Regem Sueciæ interfecit, Teuthonicos ſibi ſubjugavit & ardua dua multa in curſibus marinis perpetravit. Iſte ad portum Laland veniens, filiam cujusdam ruſtici nomine Roskarl ſibi adduci fecit, de qua filiam genuit nomine Thore, ex qua dicta eſt inſula Thore, quia ibi ſepulta eſt. Iterum poſt XV. annos ibi veniens, prædictam filiam ſuam adduci fecit, neſciens, quod filia ſua eſſet, & ex ea genuit filium nomine Rolfkraki, cumque hoc poſtea cognoviſſet, præ nimia confuſione ſe ipſum ſuſpendit. Interea dum Rolfkraki adhuc puer eſſet, nec dum regni capax eſſet ob infantiam, Archilus Rex Sweciæ Danis tributum impoſuit, & in ſignum abjectiſſimæ ſervitutis præfecit eis catulum quendam in Regem nomine Racki. Quem cum alii canes occidiſſent propter raptum cujusdam oſſis de menſa projecti, Achilus Rex præfecit eisdem paſtorem quendam nomine Suhyo, qui regnavit loco canis. Duodecimus ergo Rex Danorum fuit paſtor iſte in numero, excluſo cane, qui merito inter Reges locum ſortitur nondum, & multa mala intulit Danis, ſicut Achilus Rex Sweorum ipſis promiſerat. Qui tandem ſedens in palatio Wiburgenſi in loco, qui Luſeheth dicitur, coram omnibus melioribus regni a pediculis eſt corroſus & interfectus. Tertius decimus Rex Danorum dictus Rolfkraki, filius Helgi ſupra dicti, quem de filia propria genuerat, extitit. Hic poſt multas præclaras victorias, ab Hyerwardo Comite Scaniæ, qui ſororem ejus habuit in uxorem, in lecto ſuo proditioſe occiſus eſt in Lethra curia Selandiæ, cum quo Byerbi & Yelai pugiles clariſſimi cum tota familia Regis occiſi ſunt. Quartus decimus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Hyerwardus, qui interfector erat prædeceſſoris ſui, & regnavit per breve tempus, puta a mane usque ad horam primam. Et tunc ipſum occidit Hako filius Hamundi, & regnavit pro eo. Quintus decimus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Hako. Quo regnante, venit quidam de partibus ſeptentrionalibus nomine Fritlef, & filiam Rolfkraki duxit in uxorem, qui alias Rex Danorum fuerat. Hic Fritlef interfecit Hakonem, & factus eſt Rex Danorum. Sextus decimus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Fritlef. Hic occiderat Hakonem Regem, propter quod & ipſe parvo tempore regnavit. Notabilia autem facta per eum non inveniuntur memoria digna. Decimus ſeptimus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Othen, qui morte ſubitanea interiit prope locum, qui hodierno die Othens dicitur, ubi & ſepultus eſt. Hic incantator magnus & Magus erat famoſus, ita quod de omnibus nationibus vicinis pro Deo coleretur. Unde & Græci imaginem ejus auream a Danis ſibi pro magno munere miſſam cum reverentia maxima ſuſceperunt. Decimus octavus Rex Danorum fuit Balder dictus, filius Othen, a quo Baltherſunt dicitur Balticum mare, pro eo quod ibi pugnavit. Decimus nonus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Hocher. Iſte invenit in quodam nemore Sweciæ gladium, qui Mymming dictus eſt, cum quo Balder Regem occidit. Ab iſto Hocher villa Hochera dicta eſt, quia illuc fugiens eſt occiſus a Beyo Rege Svveciæ. Viceſimus Rex Danorum dictus Berich, filius fuit Beyy Regis Sweorum. Iſte vir valde victorioſus fuit, & multa prælia geſſit. Hunc occidit frater ſuus Seggi, & factus eſt pro eo Rex Danorum. Viceſimus primus Rex Danorum fuit Seggi. Iſte copulavit ſibi uxorem fratris ſui occiſi. Hunc occidit Ambletus filius Orvvendal in ultionem patris ſui, quem & ipſe interfecerat, & cum eo omnes meliores regni cum tota curia Regali combuſſit, ita quod nec unus quidem ſuperſtes remaneret. Viceſimus ſecundus Rex Danorum fuit Ambletus. Hic fuit vir aſtutiſſimus, qui Regem Angliæ in bello occidit, & Daciam, Angliam & Svveciam in ditione ſua tenuit. Hunc Withletus Rex Norvvegiæ vitricus ejus occidit in Oreſſunt in prælio, & regnavit pro eo. Viceſimus tertius Rex Danorum dictus eſt Withletus, qui Ambletum Regem occidit. Iſte duxit in uxorem Ambleti Regis relictam, propria ſua uxore repudiata. Viceſimus quartus Rex Danorum fuit Wymundus cœcutiens. Hic vir bellicoſus valde fuit, ſed non diu regnavit, eo quod modici viſus exiſtens, in bellis cautuloſus eſſe non potuit. Propter quod Uffo ipſum interficiens, regnum ſuum ſibi uſurpavit. Viceſimus quintus Rex Danorum fuit Uffo. Iſte a ſeptimo anno ætatis ſuæ ad XXX. noluit loqui, quousque in loco, qui adhuc Koningheſslap dicitur ſuper Egdoram cum filio Regis Teuthonicorum & meliore pugile totius Alemanniæ ſolus dimicans, ambos occidit. Et ſic ex conditione utriusque gentis Teuthonia Danis jam tertio ſubacta eſt & tributaria effecta. Viceſimus ſextus Rex Danorum Olaf dictus eſt, filius prædicti Uffonis. Iſte per pauca tempora tenuit gubernacula regni, nec aliqua memoria digna per ipſum acta ſunt. Viceſimus ſeptimus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Hughele. Iſte interfecit Hogmodum & Hagrinum tyrannos Svveciæ, & ſubjugavit ſibi & ſuis hæredibus regnum Svveorum in manu forti, commitens cum eis diverſa prælia gravia. Viceſimus octavus Rex Danorum fuit Froth vocatus. Iſte interfecit Frigerum Regem Norvvegiæ & X. Duces ejus, & inſuper ſibi regnum ſubjecit, ſicut prædeceſſor ſuus fecerat de regno Svveorum. Et ſic Dani ſuper tribus illis regnis glorioſe principabantur. Viceſimus nonus Rex Danorum dictis eſt Dan, filius Froth Regis. Iſte ſeptimo anno ætatis ſuæ Teuthoniam rebellantem, jam quarto tributariam Danis fecit, & ſuper eis regnavit. Triceſimus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Frichlenus. Iſte urbem magnam Diffbuum expugnavit & cepit, & totam Britanniam Danis ſubjugavit & tributum dare coëgit. Triceſimus primus Rex Danorum dictus fuit Frothi Frichgote. Hujus Regis tempore Chriſtus Jeſus mundi Salvator natus eſt. Iſte ſibi ſubjugavit Svveciam iterum Danis rebellantem, inſuper ſubjecit ſibi Britanniam, Hiberniam, Scotiam, Angliam, Saxoniam, Friſiam, Bulgariam, & plures alias terras, quorum Reges & Principes omnes ſervierunt Danis. Sed ne iſtud videatur contradicere Evangelio, quod dicit, totum mundum mundum ſubactum Auguſto Imperatori, & ſtetiſſe in optima pace tempore nativitatis Chriſti, intelligenda ſunt hæc bella fuiſſe peracta per Danorum Regem, tempore nativitatis elapſo, quia illa pax univerſalis per breve tempus duravit, ut manifeſtum eſt ex eodem Ewangelio in perſecutione Chriſti & interfectione puerorum propter Chriſtum paſſorum. Hiſtoriæ etiam & Chronicæ referunt immediate ante Chriſti nativitatem maxima bella facta fuiſſe per Tiberium & Agrippam, & immediate poſt per eundem Tiberium Cæſarem factum, & ideo hæc non obſtant Ewangelio. Hujus etiam Frothi Regis tempore venerunt in Daciam Orthilege & Rol frater ejus filii Regneri. Hi interfecerunt Grep cum quinque fratribus ſuis. Contra hunc Frothi Regem venit Rex Hunorum cum aliis ſex Regibus, quos Rex Hunorum ſecum duxerat, quorum quilibet Rex habuit D. naves, & quælibet navis continebat CCC. armatos. Summa autem navium IIIM. & D. erat, ſumma vero armatorum circiter CCCM. & ſeptuaginta quatuor milia. Hos omnes Frothi Rex aut occidit gladiis ſuorum, aut mari immerſit, aut ſaltem fugavit, victoria potitus pugnando cum eis juxta Bleking. Hic etiam tantam pacem in regno ſuo fecit, quod unam armillam aream juxta Egdoram fluvium, alteram juxta Schonore, & tertiam prope Werdingburg in via communi ſuſpendit, nec erat, qui eas nocte aut die tollere auderet. Hunc Regem tam bellicoſum occidit una vetula. Triceſimus ſecundus Rex Danorum dictus fuit Jeryn. Iſte valde modico tempore regnavit, quem occidit Frithlevus filius Frothi Regis, & factus eſt Rex poſt eum. Triceſimus tertius Rex Danorum vocatus fuit Frithlevus, filius Frothi Regis ſtrenuiſſimi. Iſte occidit Amundum Regem Norwegiæ, & interfecit unum draconem, ſolus pugnans cum eo. Triceſimus quartus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Frotho, filius Frithlevi. Hujus tempore venit Sterchater, filius Norwerki in Daciam. Hic interfecerat Wyſinum gladiatorem apud Ruoam & Tanen gigantem apud Byzanthium, ac Waſe pugilem in Polonia, in Saxonia vero Hamam pugilem, & Teuthonicis infeſtiſſimus erat, ac multa opprobria eis intulerat. Nam quatuor ex eis complicans inſtar ſedis ſuper eos ſedit ad purgandum alvum. Necnon plura alia magnalia fecerat in diverſis mundi partibus. Hunc Frothonem Regem interfecit Swerthigus. Triceſimus quintus Rex Danorum dictus fuit Ingellus. Hujus tempore Sterchacer interfecit ſeptem filios Swerthigi in ultionem Regis Frothonis. Iſte paucis diebus regnum tenuit, nec per ſe aliqua notabilia fecit Hiſtoriis inſerenda. Triceſimus ſextus Rex Danorum dictus fuit Olaf; filius Ingelli. Nec iſte Rex diu vixit in regimine, nec aliqua geſſit memoriæ commendanda. Triceſimus ſeptimus Rex Danorum dictus fuit Haraldus. Hunc occidit frater ſuus Frothi Rechbane, & regnavit pro eo, paucis tamen diebus, eo quod interfector fratris ſui eſſet fraudulentus. Nam Haldan filius ſui fratris ipſum in ultionem ſui patris interfecit, vicem ſibi reddens. Triceſimus octavus Rex Danorum eſt Erikus nominatus, qui fuerat Rex Sweciæ, & electus fuit a Proceribus regni in Regem Daciæ. Hunc Erikum occidit idem Haldan Haroldi Regis filius, & pro eo regnavit. Triceſimus nonus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Haldan Berengra. Iſte ſtrenuus pugil fuit. Unde provocatus a Sywaldo pugile Sweciæ, ut contra eum & ſeptem filios ſuos dimicaret, acceptavit duellum, & omnes pariter occidit. Nam abjecto gladio, quercum radicitus evulſit, & cum ea omnes conquaſſavit. Alia quoque vice cum quodam gigante de Swecia, qui habebat XI. cubitos altitudinis, nomine Harchben dimicans, occidit eum, & cum eo XII. contuberales ejus, ac multa alia præclara geſſit. Quadrageſimus Rex Danorum dictus eſt Hugni. Iſte nullius fertur fuiſſe virtutis vel fortunæ, degenerans in omnibus magnificis operibus prædeceſſorum ſuorum. Quadrageſimus primus Rex Danorum vocatus fuit Siwardus filius Hugni. Hujus tempore Sterchater magnus ille prœliator & victorioſus miles fugit de prœlio. Hunc Siwardum occidit Hako. Quadrageſimus ſecundus Rex Danorum nominatus fuit Sygerus, filius Sywardi. Hic inſtituit bellum contra Hakonem Principem, in quo bello ipſe pariter & Hako corruerunt. XLIII. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Sodric nepos Sigeri. Poſt hujus Regis mortem regnum Danorum eſt diviſum in V. regna. Northardus enim habuit filiam Sywardi nomine Ryle in uxorem, & regnavit in Schania. Hundengher principatus eſt in Selandia. Iſte ſemper impetendo alios victus eſt. Gam regnavit in Syonia, & Hocher in Jutia ac Neymer in Norimia regnavit. XLIIII. Rex Danorum nominatus fuit Haldan, qui Norchardo ſucceſſit, & fuit valde ſtrenuus in armis, ſed non diu regni gubernacula tenuit, quia Weſetus ipſum interfecit in Selandia. XLV. Rex Danorum fuit Hargalt filius Borchardi. Iſte quinque Reges ſupra nominatos interfecit, & ita potens factus eſt, quod omnes Reges per mediterraneum mare ferrent ei tributum. Cui cum Rynger nepos ſuus Rex Sweciæ tributum negaret, Sweciam intravit, ibique in prœlio corruit, & cum eo occubuit Ubbo Rex Friſonum & quam plures alii Principes & Nobiles ex utraque parte. In hoc bello XIIM. nobilium ex parte Regis Duciæ leguntur occubuiſſe in Chronicis Danorum. XLVI. Rex Danorum fuit Haraldus, qui fuerat in prœlio cum Hargalt in Swecia. Ibidem cum Haraldo pugnaverunt CCC. virgines, quæ Skalmere dictæ ſunt, quarum vexillum portavit Hetha, quæ poſtea civitatem de ſumtibus propriis ædificans Hetheberi appellavit. XLVII. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Rynger Rex Sweciæ. Nam poſtquam Rex Danorum XLVIII. annis regnaſſet, & defunctus fuiſſet, ſucceſſit ei Rynger, qui duo regna, Danorum ſcilicet & Sweorum gubernavit, quamdiu vixit. XLVIII. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Haroldus frater Rynger. Hic paucis annis regnans, prope nichil egit in diebus ſuis. XLIX. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Oly frater Haroldi Regis. Hic adeo agilis erat, quod ſcanſorium ſuum ſive ſtrepam non curans, ſine ea equum aſcendit; & adeo efferus extitit, quod Sterchăterum ſolo viſu ad genua proſtravit. Hic etiam intravit Sweciam, & provocatus ad ſingulare certamen, primo die contra unum pugnavit, ſecundo die contra duos, tertio die contra tres, & ſic deinceps usque ad XII. & omnes ſuperatos occidit. Qui cum in Lethra curia Regis in Selandia ſederet in balneo, venit Sterchater, magno auri pondere corruptus a Rege Sweciæ, & petita licentia loquendi aliquid ſecrete Regi, acceſſit, & Regem nichil mali ſuſpicantem gladio transfodit. Unde propter nimiam verecundiam tanti ſceleris, ſea lacrymis, quamdiu vixit, continere non potuit, donec idem pondus auri, quod acceperat pro nece Domini ſui, alteri viro dedit, qui & ipſum occideret Quinquageſimus Rex Danorum dictus fuit Omunder filius Oly. Hujus tempore Sterchater ſenio confectus, indignum reputans, ſe mori aliorum hominum more ſine gladio, & præcipue propter occiſionem Oly Regis, multis precibus perſvaſit cuidam Hothori nomine, cujus patrem ipſe occiderat, ut ipſum interficeret, objiciens ei, quod patrem ejus occidiſſet, quod ille vindicare teneretur, obtulitque ei magnum pondus auri pro mercede. Et ſic Hothor victus ſpe mercedis & zelo vindicandi ſuum patrem, Sterchater ſuo proprio gladio, præciſa cervice, occidit apud pontem Schaniæ, qui Rullingbre nominatur, accinctusque gladio, pontem tranſiens, cum eſſet in medio pontis, gladius de vagina in aquam cecidit, nec inde levari potuit, usque in præſentem diem, qui tamen aliquando ibidem videtur in defluxu aquæ. Iſte Sterchater venit de Swecia tempore Regis Ingelli, portans congeriem carbonum in dorſo ad acuendum naſum dicti Regis, ut vindicaret patrem ſuum. LI. Rex Danorum vocatus fuit Siwardus, filius dicti Omunder Regis. Huic ſe oppoſuit Symon Præfectus Schaniæ, & tandem convenerunt in prœlium, in quo utrisque viriliter certantibus, tandem ambo Principes corruerunt. LII. Rex Danorum nominatus eſt Buchel, qui paucis annis regno præſidens, defunctus eſt ſine notabilibus geſtis ſcriptura dignis. LIII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Germarus filius Siwardi Regis. Iſte valde bellicoſus fuit. Intravit enim Slaviam cum exercitu ſuo, & Yſmarum Regem Slavorum occidit, ac totam Slaviam vaſtavit. Poſtea Helleſpontici Daciam intraverunt cum exercitu magno. Quibus Germarus Rex occurrere non audens, munivit montem maritimum Schaniæ, qui Kolle dicitur, ibique cum melioribus regni ſe incluſit. Cum autem hoſtes regnum vaſtaſſent, exivit tandem ad eos Germarus cum ſuis, & negotium ſuum fortunæ committens, congreſſus eſt cum eis in prœlium in Oreſſunt, ibique Germarus Rex corruit. LIIII. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Brother, frater Germari Regis. Iſte ſicut quam plures alii de Regibus Danorum porro tempore gubernans, nichil egit relatione dignum. LV. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Siwaldus. Hujus tempore tanta fames erat in Dacia, quod ex edicto Regis omnes viri & mulieres inepti ad portandum arma in bellis occidebantur. Tandem de conſilio cujusdam mulieris de Schania nomine Magga, quilibet nonus homo regnum exivit. Qui ſic exeuntes, conglobati plures terras expugnaverunt. Iſti tandem in Pannoniam venientes, propter eorum longas barbas Longobardi dicti ſunt, & inde in Italiam procedentes ad invitationem Narſetis cum ſuo Rege Albowyno, Italiam obtinuerunt. LVI. Rex Danorum nominatus eſt Grom, filius Haroldi. Iſte erat mirabilis inveſtigator novarum rerum. Unde aſſumtis CCCC ſatellitibus probiſſimis, navigavit verſus aquilonem ad ſedem Gheruthi, ubi vidit ſtupenda mirabilia, & multa pericula ibidem paſſus eſt. Tandem conſumtis omnibus ſociis, usque ad XXX. per diverſa monſtra, vix cum vita in Daciam rediit, & tandem defunctus ex periculorum terribilitate defecit. LVII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Godefridus filius Grom. Hic fuit bellicoſiſſimus, & totam Teuthoniam jam ſexto ſibi fecit tributariam & Danis. Subjugavit etiam Ditioni ſuæ Sweciam & Friſiam, Contra hunc Godefridum venit Karolus Magnus cum exercitu magno, cui Godefridus ultra Albiam occurrens, fugavit Karolum de Saxonia, & eam quaſi totam vaſtavit. Poſt plurima autem bella cum Karolo & aliis Regibus laudabiliter peracta, tandem a proprio milite cum cultello transfixus eſt in ventre. LVIII. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Olaf, filius Godefridi cognomento Gudedrinker. De hoc quidem Rege nulla referuntur geſta, quæ Chronicis annotari poſſint aut memoria ſint digna. LIX. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Hennyngus filius Olavi. Hic regnavit XXVIII. annis, & cum Imperatore faciens, Egdoram terminum regni ſui accepit. LX. Rex Danorum fuit Siwardus, cum quo ſurrexit & alius dictus Rynghregnum ſibi uſurpans. Qui duo Reges ad invicem diu pugnaverunt, & regnum Danorum ſua diſſenſione valde vaſtaverunt. Sed tandem aſſumto civili bello ad invicem, ambo in eo corruerunt. LXI. Rex dictus fuit Reiner filius Ryngh. Iſte ſubjugavit ſibi Angliam, Schotiam, Hiberniam, Norwegiam, Sweciam, Slaviam, Ruciam, & quaſi omnia regna occidentis, ita quod IX. filios ſuos ſingulos in ſingulis provinciis Reges conſtitueret, & ipſe de uno regno in aliud inter eos pertransivit, ſed tandem in Hibernia occiſus eſt, & filii ejus fere omnes in diverſis locis peremti ſunt. Hic Rex Reyner ſeu Reynerus per XI. annos urbes Francorum vaſtavit, & Pariſius veniens, in Eccleſia S. Germani, & Aquisgrani in palatio Imperatoris ſtabulum equorum ſuorum fecit, & multa mala Eccleſiis intulit. LXII. Rex Danorum Inguar vocatus fuit filius Lochbroki. Iſte omnium fratrum ſuorum crudeliſſimus extitit, & ideo non diu regnavit, quia propter ſuam improbitatem a ſuis interfectus fuit, non relinquens poſt ſe ſemen. LXIII. Rex Danorum nominatus fuit Siwardus. Iſte ſtolidus fuit & iners, nec ab aliquo curabatur, unde nichil dignum agens memoria, vix locum inter Reges meruit habere. LXIIII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Amylo, contra quem ſe erexit Sigefridus. Iſti duo nepotes fuerunt Godefridi Regis, inter quos pugna continua fuit fere X. annis. Et cum inter ſe de primatu concordare non poſſent, ſceptrum prælio diviſerunt, in quo ambo Reges ex ordinatione Nobilium interemti ſunt, & cum eis circiter XIM. armatorum corruerunt. Pars tamen Amylonis cruenta victoria potita, Remfridum & Haroldum in regnum poſuit, & duravit inter eosdem pugna IX. annis, ſed tandem Haroldus regno pulſus eſt. LXV. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Remfridus. Quo Rege conſtituto a Danis, Haroldus ad Lodowicum Imperatorem ſupplex confugit anno Domini DCCCXXVI. Baptizatus eſt autem apud eum cum uxore & fratre ſuo Trutone. Et ſic per auxilium Imperatoris in regnum ſuum introductus eſt, Remfrido depulſo. Sed quia in Danis fides rara eſt & ſemper fuit, mox Haroldus regno potitus, fidem Chriſti deſeruit. Quod audiens S. Anſcharius nondum Hammeburgenſis Archiepiſcopus, ſed Monachus Corbeyenſis, obtinuit a Lodowico Imperatore legationem & regna Danorum & Sweorum, & prædictum Haroldum ad fidem revocavit, & pro tunc Eccleſiam in Hadeboch conſtruere fecit, & tandem Haroldus defunctus eſt. LXVI. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Erikus frater Haroldi. Iſte mox, ut regnum accepit, Eccleſias claudi juſſit, inſuper & omnes Eccleſias Angliæ, Britanniæ, Friſiæ, Saxoniæ & Teuthoniæ cum Epiſcopis & Clero fere deſtruxit, plures igne conſumens. Hujus etiam tempore Rollo Dux Danorum Franciam intravit, & Karolum Regem compulit ſibi dare terram, quæ impræſentiam Normannia dicitur. Tunc ortum eſt bellum inter Erikum & filium fratris ſui Euthoryn Regem Norwegiæ, in quo prælio tanta cæde mactati ſunt Dani pariter & Normanni, ut quaſi omne vulgus caderet. Sed & Reges ambo corruerunt, nec aliquis de ſtirpe Regia ſuperſtes remanſit, niſi Erikarus. Hic plura mala fecit quam prædeceſſores ſui in multis regnis. Vaſtavit enim Saxoniam, & Ducem eorum Brun occidit cum XII. Comitibus. Eccleſiæ vero multæ per ipſum in cineres ſunt redactæ, & plures Epiſcopi & Clerici interfecti. Civitates quoque plures deſtructæ ſunt per eum, & innumera multitudo peremta. Illo in tempore Arnulfus Imperator Danis in Teuthonia occurrens, proſtravit ex eis fere CM. hominum, bello cœlitus adminiſtrato. LXVIII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Olaf ſive Olavus. Iſte vi armorum obtinuit regnum in Dacia, & regnavit V. annis. Hunc Regem occiderunt Dani. LXIX. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Kanutus filius Erici. Iſte bellicoſus fuit multum & verſutus, & regnavit XII. annis. Tunc etiam temporis propter famem graviſſimam tertius quilibet homo regnum exivit de ſervis & popularibus, & venientes hi homines totam Prutziam, Zemigalliam & terram Karelorum ſibi ſubjugaverunt, & delectati terram ubertate, remanſerunt ibi usque hodie. LXX. Rex Danorum Frothi dictus eſt filius Kanuti. Iſte victor Angliæ exiſtens, XX. annis hæc duo regna tenuit, Angliam ſcilicet & Daciam, & in Anglia fecit ſe baptizari, & mortuus eſt ibidem. LXXI. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Gorm. Iſte quatuor annis regnavit, in Anglia baptizatus, ſicut pater ſuus. Iſte temporibus ſuis non peregit aliqua magnalia. LXXII. Rex Danorum vocatus fuit Haroldus filius prædicti Gorm Regis, de quo ſimiliter ſicut nec de patre ſuo aliqua notabilia peracta reperiuntur. LXIII. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Gorm cognomento Gamele, cujus uxor Thyre dicta eſt. Hæc mulier poſt mortem viri ſui nobiliter regnum gubernavit, & munitionem, quæ Danewirki dicitur, ex lignis tantum ædificavit. In diebus hujus Reginæ Dani, incenſis Eccleſiis, Sacerdotes ante altare trucidaſſe, & Clerum vulgo mixtum aut occidiſſe, aut in captivitatem duxiſſe referuntur. Cruces etiam truncatæ ludibriis a Danis ſunt expoſitæ. Hic Gorm obiit anno Domini DCCCCL. LXIIII. Rex Danorum Haroldus Blatan. Iſte regnavit V. annis, & fuit filius Gorm præfati Regis. Iſte cum exercitu iterum ſubjugavit ſibi Angliam, & rediit in Daciam. Tunc Imperator Otto cognomento Magnus paravit ſe ad invadendum Daciam, cumque legati ejus veniſſent Sleswik, Dani occurrerunt eis, & eos occiderunt, ac unum Marchionem cum eis. Ad quod nefas ulciſcendum Imperator cum exercitu maximo Daciam intravit; & quia Haroldus Rex in extremis finibus regni ſui erat, puta in Hallandia, Imperator totam Jutiam vaſtavit usque ad mare, quod Odenſunt dicitur. Ibi enim lanceam ſuam in mare miſit ad perpetuam rei memoriam. Quo audito, Haroldus vehementer commotus, verſus Jutiam feſtinavit cum furore magno. Quod intelligens Imperator fugit. Et in Loheter veniens Haroldus, occidit Ypponem Ducem exercitus Imperatoris; reliqui Teuthonici fugerunt. Quo facto, ipſe Rex de conſilio matris ſuæ vallum Danewirki cœpit inſtaurare. Hunc Haroldum filius ſuus Sweyn de regno expulit, quia ad prædicationem Popponis Capellani Domini Papæ baptizatus fuerat, cum quo pater conflictum habuit, & victus eſt pater, quem tandem quidam miles filii ſui interfecit. LXV. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Sweyn filius Haroldi. Iſte propter ſcelera ſua captus eſt ter a Slavis, & tandem regno pulſus, apud Regem Sweorum XIII. annis exulavit. Tandem ad fidem Chriſti converſus baptizatus eſt, moxque Deo ordinante, regnum ſuum recuperavit, Rege Norwegiæ occiſo, qui Danorum regnum ſibi uſurpaverat. Et ſic duo regna, Daciæ ſcilicet & Norwegiæ, Sweyn obtinuit. Invaſit hic etiam Angliam, quam ſimiliter obtinuit, & ibidem defunctus, transvectus eſt in Roskilde, & ibidem ſepultus eſt. LXXVI. Rex Danorum fuit Haroldus dictus filius Sweyn. Iſte fuit homo effœminatus, & totus libidini deditus. Hac de cauſa Dani ipſum depoſuerunt de regno, & Gamele Knut fratrem ejus Regem fecerunt. Quem iterum depo-

deponentes, ſecundo anno Haroldum effœminatum & nichil valentem regno præfecerunt, qui tamen ſtatim poſt defunctus eſt. LXXVII. Rex Danorum fuit ſupra dictus Gamele Knut. Iſte bellicoſus fuit, & cum mille navibus invadens Angliam, eam ſibi ſubjugavit, Eſconicam etiam gentem ſibi ſubdidit, Richardum vero Ducem Normanniæ de Francia expulit, & uxorem Regis Anglorum expulſi & defuncti in exilio ſibi copulavit, & genuit ex ea filium Hartheknut dictum, & filiam nomine Swynaldam, quam Henricus filius Conradi Imperatoris accepit in uxorem. Olavus autem, vir ſanctus & Norwegiæ Rex, eodem tempore martyrio coronatus fuit, cujus regnum accepit idem Gameleknut Rex Danorum. Et ſic ſuper tria regna principatus eſt, puta Danorum, Anglorum & Norwegiorum. Fuit autem omnium Regum pulcherrimus, ſtrenuiſſimus & largiſſimus. Hic primus religioſos viros in Daciam duxit de Anglia, puta Epiſcopos, Sacerdotes & Monachos. Obiit autem Gameleknut anno regni ſui XXXVIII. relinquens poſt ſe tres filios, ſcilicet Hartheknut in Dacia, Haroldum ſpurium in Anglia, & Sweonem ſpurium in Norwegia. Haroldus vero tantum quatuor annis regnavit in Anglia, & mortuus eſt, cujus regnum Hartheknut Rex ſuſcepit. Sweyn vero V. annis in Norwegia regnavit, & defunctus eſt, cujus regnum accepit Magnus filius S. Olavi. Iſte Hartheknut regnavit ſuper Daciam, Sweciam, Angliam & Slaviam, qui præter cotidianam familiam ſuam, VIM. armatorum continue tenuit, & cum LX. magnis navibus ad domandum illa regna quatuor discurrebat in æſtate, ſed in hyeme in caſtris vel Angliæ vel Daciæ aut Sweciæ morabatur. His VI. milibus armatorum Rex quaſi Religioſis leges & ſtatuta præſcribebat honeſtatis. Unde tempore ſuo ſuper omnes Reges mundi terribilis & laudabilis extitit. Tranſivit etiam cum Imperatore in Italiam ad domandas nationes, & obiit tandem in Anglia. LXXVIII. Rex Danorum fuit Sweyn dictus filius Harthknut. Iſte parvo tempore regnavit, nec aliqua ſuo tempore egit memoria digna, imo in nullo ſecutus fuit geſta paterna. LXXIX. Rex Danorum nominatus eſt Haroldus filius Sweyn. Hujus tempore receſſit Anglia a principatu & dominio Danorum, poſtquam CXX. annis Danis ſubdita fuerat, & defunctus eſt. LXXX. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Kanutus frater Haroldi, & regnavit VIII. annis, eratque vir bonus, & multas eccleſias in regno Danorum conſtruxit, ac homines ad cultum veri Dei pro viribus induxit. Frater vero ejus Olavus Dux Italiæ ipſum occidi procuravit propter juſtitiam, quam inviolabiliter obſervavit, & factus eſt martyr Chriſti LXXXI. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Olavus frater Kanuti Martyris, cujus tempore facta eſt tanta fames in Dacia, ut homines pro herbis agreſtibus litigarent. Nam ſegetes VII. annis totius regni ejus propter aëris intemperiem perierunt, nec hæc pluviarum inundantia extra regnum Danorum ſe extendebat, in ſignum, quod Deus vindicavit ſangvinem S. Kanuti a Danorum capite turpiter interfecti. Anno autem ſeptimo regni ſui Olavus Rex inventus eſt in lecto ſuo ſubitanea morte extinctus. LXXXII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Erikus frater prædicti Olavi cognomento Egothe, qui ſic dictus eſt primo, quia mox, ut regnum accepit, tanta fertilitas terræ reddita eſt, ut modius ſiliginis ultra duos nummos uſuales non valeret. Secundo dictus eſt Egothe, quia ita magnus homo fuit, quod ſuper omnem populum ab humeris ſurſum videri potuerit, habens in ſe fortitudinem quatuor fortium regni. Tertio ita dictus eſt, quia ita proficuus fuit regno, quod, cum ad Terram Sanctam proficiſci diſponeret, Dani tertiam partem omnium bonorum ſuorum voluerunt dare pro redemtione Terræ Sanctæ, ut ſaltem Regem ſuum apud ſe retinere poſſent. Sed ipſe nullo modo detineri potuit, ſed iter ſanctum arripuit cum magna militia, & veniens Romam, Eccleſiæ Lundenſi Archiepiſcopatum & Primatum ſuper tria illa regna Daciæ, Sweciæ & Norwegiæ obtinuit. Inde vero Conſtantinopolin veniens ab Imperatore Græcorum honorifice eſt receptus. Cum vero peregrinationem ſuam juxta deſiderium ſuum devote compleviſſet, rediens ad partes in Cypro defunctus eſt. LXXXIII. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Nicolaus frater Erici. Iſte Nicolaus cum filio ſuo Magno occidit Kanutum filium fratris ſui juxta Ringſtech. Iſtis Nicolao Rege & filio ſuo Magno adhuc viventibus, & Magno jam Danorum Rege exiſtente & Gothorum, Schanienſes elegerunt Erikum filium Erici Egothe in Regem. Contra quem venerunt Reges Nicolaus & Magnus filius ejus, & bello inito in Fochswik, corruit Magnus Rex, & cum eo ſex Epiſcopi, quatuor videlicet de Jutia, unus de Selandia, & unus de Swecia, ac multi Nobiles de Dacia cum eis. Nicolaus vero fugiens, venit Sleswik, ibique occiderunt eum ſutores de Sleswik. LXXXIIII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Erikus filius Erici Egothe. Hic cupiditate regnandi ductus, occidit Haroldum & liberos ejus, qui etiam quadam die occiſus eſt in placitis a quodam Pluch nominato. Eodem anno primus Archiepiſcopus Lundenſis obiit, qui fuit annus Domini MCXXII. LXXXV. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Erikus Lamp, filius ſororis Erici prædeceſſoris ſui, contra quem Olavus Haroldi filius, quem quædam pars Danorum Regem fecerat, ſurrexit. Inter iſtos fuit bellum triplex uno die, & de quolibet prælio fugit Olavus. Poſtea Erikus Rex occidit Hakonem Epiſcopum Roskildenſem, & Olavus filius Haroldi in bello occiſus eſt. Erikus autem Rex duxit in uxorem ſororem Henrici Bremenſis Archiepiſcopi. Mortuus eſt autem Erikus iſte anno Domini MCXLVII. LXXXVI. Rex Danorum non unus, ſed plures fuerunt Reges. Nam illi de Jutia nomen Regis impoſuerunt Kanuto fratri Magni. Schanienſes vero fecerunt Regem Sweyn filium Erici, & facta eſt pugna multiplex XII. annis. Anno autem Domini MCLI. bellum grande commiſſum eſt Wyburgh, & fugit Kanutus Rex in Ruciam, de qua poſtea rediens, venit in Friſiam. Ibi conſtruxit caſtrum Myldenburg cum auxilio Friſonum. Quo audito, Sweyn cum tota virtute Danorum venit Sleswik, & adductis inde navibus per terras usque Huchſtech Myldenburg, caſtrum obſedit, & magnam partem Friſiæ incendio vaſtavit. Cui occurrens Kanutus cum Friſonibus, vicit Sweyn bello, in quo plurimi Schanienſes occubuerunt cum cæteris Nobilibus. Anno vero Domini MCLIIII. Woldemarus filius S. Kanuti Martyris deſponſavit (ſibi) Sophiam ſororem Kanuti Regis. Tunc Dani iterum elegerunt duos Reges, ſcilicet Kanutum memoratum & Woldemarum filium S. Kanuti. Et tunc Sweyn Rex fugit in Saxoniam, altero vero anno rediens de Saxonia, venit cum Henrico Duce Saxoniæ; ſed fuga iterum accepta, Rex cum Duce iter XV. dierum compleverunt. Anno igitur Domini MCLVI. facta eſt pax inter Reges iſtos, diviſo regno in tres partes: Kanutus enim obtinuit Jutiam, Woldemarus Schaniam, & Sweyn Selandiam. Poſt paucos vero dies Sweyn Rex Selandiæ invitavit Kanutum Regem Jutiæ, & Waldemarum Regem Schaniæ ad feſtum ſuum Jul in Roskilde, ubi omnibus vino ſuffocatis, tempore nocturno, cum adhuc chorea duceretur in aula Regia, Sweyn occidit Kanutum Regem & Conſtantinum ejus cognatum in vigilia Beati Laurentii, Woldemarus vero vulneratus fugit in Jutiam, quem Sweyn inſecutus eſt. Tota hæc Hiſtoria infra patebit ſuo loco. Poſt hoc convenerunt Sweyn & Woldemarus Reges in campo, qui Gratehete dicitur prœliaturi, in quo prœlio Sweyn occubuit, & Woldemarus obtinuit monarchiam totius Daciæ. LXXXVII. ergo Rex Danorum fuit Woldemarus, filius S. Kanuti Regis. Hic Woldemarus occurrit Frederico Imperatori apud Travenam flumen, ubi duas filias ſuas maritavit, unam dedit filio Imperatoris, & aliam Sifrido Comiti; ubi etiam obtinuit ab Imperatore dominium totius Nordalbingiæ, id eſt omnium terrarum ad aquilonarem partem Albiæ, ſuper quo dominio obtinuit literas Imperiales cum Bulla aurea, & literas Papales Domini Innocentii ſuper confirmatione dictæ collationis jure perpetuo poſſidendæ. Sed has literas poſt mortem Regis Abele quædam mulier Teuthonica deſtruxit in odium Danorum. Defuncta autem Sophia Regina Danorum, Woldemarus duxit Dagmar filiam Regis Bohemorum, & non diu poſt mortuus eſt. LXXXVIII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Kanutus filius Woldemari. De hoc quidem Rege non leguntur aliqua opera magnalia memoria digna, ſed ſuis temporibus contigerunt plura, quæ in ſuis locis recitabuntur. LXXXIX. Rex Danorum fuit dictus Woldemarus filius Kanuti. Hic maximam fecit expeditionem in Norwegiam, qui Herlingium conſtituit ibidem Regem & Philippum Ducem, qui ambo facti ſunt tributarii Regi Woldemaro apud Thuusbergh. Hic Rex caſtrum deſtruxit Witenburg. Poſtea ultra Albiam caſtrum Erthneburg conſtructum eſt juſſu Regis. Hoc anno etiam Dani reædificaverunt caſtrum Dymyn, & Nyenburg deſtruxerunt. Inſuper obtinuerunt caſtrum Stetyn & Muthen caſtrum Marchionis. XC. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Woldemarus, filius Woldemari. Suo tempore Otto Imperator fidem violans, & juramento contraveniens Holtzaziam ſibi ſubjugare volebat. Contra quem venit Rex Woldemarus cum exercitu magno, habens ſecum de ſolis Friſonibus LXM. hominum. Quo audito, Imperator non fuit auſus expectare congreſſum belli, ſed fugit ultra Albiam, amiſſis in ſingulari certamine duobus melioribus pugilibus ſuis, quos interfecerunt duo Friſones, puta Swen & Brocher. Hic Woldemarus Rex duo caſtra contra Hammeburg conſtruxit, & tandem illam urbem cepit, & tandem Rex defunctus obiit. XCI. Rex Danorum dictus fuit Erikus filius Woldemari, cujus frater Abel ducatum Jutiæ accepit. Erikus vero Rex duxit in uxorem Judith filiam Ducis Saxoniæ. Non diu poſt ortum eſt bellum inter Erikum Regem & Abel Ducem fratrem ejus, & durante illa controverſia aliquamdiu, tandem Abel Dux cepit fratrem ſuum Erikum Regem, & ipſum in Sleswik ducens in captivitatem, a quodam milite ſuo Lago nomine deportatus eſt in nocte S. Laurentii navigio in medium fluminis, & ſubmerſus eſt, fratre ſuo Abele ignorante, & regnavit Abel pro eo. XCII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Abel, frater Erici Regis. Hujus Abel filius Woldemarus revertens a ſtudio Pariſienſi, captus eſt per milites Archiepiſcopi Colonienſis, pater vero ſuus Abel Rex vadens cum exercitu ſuo in Eyderſtad, ibidem interfectus eſt. XCIII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Chriſtophorus. Hic Rex tradidit Woldemaro filio Abelis Regis Ducatum Sleswicenſem cum vexillo apud Koldinghen. Poſt hoc factum eſt bellum inter Chriſtophorum Regem & ruſticos, & civitas Ripenſis judicio Dei cum omnibus attinentis ſuis periit. Chriſtophorus vero Rex obiit anno MCCLIX. XCIIII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Erikus, filius Chriſtophori. Hic Rex multa mala fecit, Eccleſias ſpoliando, læſis & injuriam paſſis juſtitiam negando. Monaſteria quoque, quæ patres ſui per ſe & per ſuos ædificaverant, per equos & canes ſuos miſerabiliter depauperavit. Hujus tempore Comites Holtzatorum magnam partem Ducatus Sleswicenſis vaſtaverunt. Germarus etiam Princeps Rugianorum vaſtavit magnam partem Selandiæ, & fecit maximam ſtragem ruſticorum apud Neſtwich. Eodem anno grande bellum commiſſum eſt Lethethe per Ericum Regem Danorum & Erikum Ducem de Sleswik filium Abelis in die S. Olavi, & Rex ibidem captus cum Margaretha Nigra matre ſua, in qua captivitate manſerunt ad triennium fere. Non diu autem poſt ereptionem eorum Erikus interfectus eſt in lecto ſuo a ſuis amicis. XCV. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Erikus, filius Erici Regis interfecti. Hujus tempore Stigotus Marſchalcus multa mala egit in Nortjutia, jutia, clandeſtinis incurſibus, ut infra plenius patebit. Hic Rex deſtruxit caſtrum Gottorpe, quod pater ſuis magnis ſumtibus ædificaverat. XCVI. Rex Danorum nominatus fuit Chriſtophorus, frater Erici Regis, quem tamen eligi in Regem frater ſuus Ericus Rex in extremis prohibuerat, ex diſpoſitione tamen Johannis Comitis Holtzatorum aſſumtus eſt in Regem, defuncto fratre. XCVII. Rex Danorum vocatus eſt Woldemarus, filius Chriſtophori Regis. Iſte Rex plura notabilia fecit temporibus ſuis, prout ſuis in locis dicetur infra. Hic Rex ejectus fuit de regno ſuo per civitates maritimas, ut etiam ibidem patebit. Quo defuncto, Margareta filia ſua uxor Haquini Regis Norwegiæ defuncti multis annis regna illa gubernavit, & plura notabilia geſſit, adoptans tandem in filium Erikum Ducem Pomeraniæ, quem poſt ſe Regem fecit. XCVIII. Rex Danorum dictus eſt Erikus Ducis Pomeranorum filius. Hic Rex in humanis extitit, cum Opus præſens ſcribebatur, cujus actus & geſta infra patebunt. Et ſic in prædictis ſufficiat ad præſens de origine & ordine Regum Danorum.

Tertio decimo anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXX. Olfredus Rex Anglorum, ſecundum Sigibertum, cum Danis IX. annis continuis pugnavavit, ſed tandem ab eis regno pulſus, inſulam quandam petiit cum quibusdam ſibi familiaribus. Ubi cum quadam die conſtitutus ſolus domi eſſet, ſociis in mare diſperſis, cauſa piſcandi, corpus ſopori dedit. Et ecce S. Cuthbertus, Lindipharnenſis quondam Epiſcopus ſic dormientem alloquitur: Ego ſum Cuthbertus, ſi audiſti. Dominus me miſit, ut tibi proſpera nunciem. Anglia jam dudum propriorum peccatorum ſuorum pœnas exſolvit, ſed modo ſanctorum indigenarum meritis a Deo reſpecta eſt. Tu miſerabiliter regno privatus es, ſed poſt modicum tempus in ſolio regni tui glorioſe collocaberis. Et hoc tibi annunciatæ veritatis ſignum. Venient hodie piſcatores tui, multitudinem magnam piſcium chordulis evehentes, cum tamen ob geliditatem aquæ & temporis frigiditatem nil tale ſperetur. Cum autem fortunæ tuæ compos, memento laboris tui & ejus nuncii. Hæc eadem viſio matri ſuæ, quam ſecum habuit exulantem, apparuit. Expergefacti ergo ambo, ſomnia ſua referebant ad invicem. Et ecce piſcatores veniunt cum maxima piſcium copia. Non multo poſt inſulam illam, in qua a Danis tenebatur, exiens, magnæ aſtutiæ periculum ſubiit. Regis namque Danorum intravit tentoria ſub ſpecie cujusdam joculatoris, tantum fideliſſimi famuli ſui fruens cura, & ibi tanquam artis joculatoriæ experimentator, ad interiora triclinii Regis admiſſus eſt, ubi omnia arcana exercitus oculis & auribus auſcultavit. Plures ergo dies ibidem moratus, ad ſocios tandem rediit, & exponens eis omnia, ad arma capienda omnes animavit. Et inopinate irruens ſuper barbaros otio vacantes, multos ex eis occidit, reliqui vero cum Rege eorum Gorm dicto obſides dederunt, ut Chriſtiani fierent, & ab Anglia recederent. Quod ſic factum eſt.

Quarto decimo anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXI. Sanctus Anscharius Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis obiit in Domino, plenus virtutibus, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis Slavorum. Huic ſancto viro ſucceſſit in eadem ſede Reimbertus, ſecundus Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis, vir totius prudentiæ & ſanctitatis, & ſedit annis XVI. recepitque pallium ab Adriano Papa. Hujus Reymberti tempore contigit hoc miraculum, quod cives de Norda opido Friſiæ ad inſtinctum S. Reymberti contra Danos, qui tunc oneri fuerunt nationibus univerſis, pugnaverunt, & cæſis ex eis MCCCLXVIII. plures ex eis captivos duxerunt. Unde apud Friſones nomen prædicti Sancti celebre habetur & memorabile usque in hodiernum diem. Et migravit ab hoc ſeculo anno Domini DCCCLXXXVIII. Poſt hunc electus eſt Adelgarius tertius Hammeburgenſis Archiepiſcopus, & ſedit XX. annis, Fuit autem Monachus Corbeyenſis, ſicut & Anſcharius & Reymbertus prædeceſſores ſui, & accepit pallium a Stephano Papa. Cujus tempore Hermannus Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis rehabere laboravit Eccleſiam Bremenſem. Quare collecta eſt Synodus apud Triburiam, præſidente Haddone Archiepiſcopo Moguntino, & caſſata ſunt privilegia Eccleſiæ Hammeburgenſis de incorporatione Eccleſiæ Bremenſis eidem Metropoli, conſentiente Formoſo Papa & Arnulfo Rege Romanorum. Quod tamen poſtea divina juſtitia vindicare non obmiſit, quia tam Papa quam Imperator mala morte perierunt. Nam Formoſus a ſuo ſucceſſore fuit degradatus, & de ſepulcro ejectus, Arnulfus vero vivens a vermibus primo conſumtus eſt, & tandem veneno extinctus. Unde Bremenſis Epiſcopatus iterum ſuffraganeus factus eſt Eccleſiæ Colonienſi omnibus diebus Adalgarii & Hogeri Archiepiſcoporum Hammeburgenſium, ut patebit in Litera Papæ loco ſuo inferenda. Poſt Adalgarium ſedit in eadem Eccleſia Hammeburgenſi Hogerus quartus Archiepiſcopus VII. annis. Hujus temporibus parochia Hammeburgenſis a Slavis, & Bremenſis Eccleſia ab Ungaris demolitæ ſunt & deſolatæ. Poſt hunc Hogerum factus eſt Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis Reynwardus, & ſedit vix uno anno. Hujus enim diebus Ungari incenderunt Eccleſias & altaria Bremis, & trucidaverunt Sacerdotes. Detruncaverunt etiam cruces Pagani illi in contumeliam Crucifixi, & multi Chriſtiani fuerunt decapitati. Quod tamen Deus ita vindicavit, ut ipſi barbari diverſis plagis attriti, nec unus quidem illæſus evaderet. Poſt hujus Antiſtitis deceſſum, Unni electus ſedit annis XVIII. Cum enim Reynwardus defunctus eſſet, Leydradum Bremenſis Eccleſiæ Præpoſitum a Clero & populo electum deprecati ſunt Canonici, ut Unni Capellanum ſuum ad curiam mitteret. Quod cum fieret, Rex Conradus divino, ut creditur, afflatus ſpiritu, contemta Leydradi electione, parvulo Unni, quem retro conſpexerat ſtare, virgulam obtulit paſtoralem. Cui etiam Papa Johannes X. ut Privilegium oſtendit, dedit pallium. De quo legitur, quod in diebus ſuis Ungari nedum Saxoniam aliasque circa Rhenum provincias, univerſam etiam trans Rhenum Lotharingiam & Franciam demoliti ſunt. Dani quoque Slavos auxilio habentes, primo Transalbanos Saxones, deinde Albinos devaſtantes, magno terrore Saxoniam quaſſabant. Hic autem Unni magni prædicatoris Anſcharii veſtigia ſecutus, mare Balticum navigans, venit in Birtam, quo nemo poſt Anſcharium doctor auſus eſt pertingere. Eſt autem Birta opidum Gothorum in medio Sweorum & Scytharum poſitum, ubi tandem ſanctus Archiepiſcopus decedens, ſepultus eſt, cujus caput Bremam translatum eſt anno Domini DCCCCXXXVI. Poſt quem ſedit in Eccleſia Hammeburgenſi Adaldagus annis LVII. & fuerat Cancellarius Ottonis Magni Imperatoris. Iſte rempublicam reſtauravit, genere nobilis, ætate juvenis, ſpecie decorus, ſed virtutibus ſpecioſior. Hic ab Ottone Magno baculum paſtoralem ſuſcepit & pallium a Leone VII. Papa ſumſit, manus vero impoſitionem, ſicut omnes prædeceſſores ſui, a Moguntino Præſule. Nondum autem Hammeburgenſis Eccleſia Suffraganeos habuit, quos hujus Adaldagi ſtudio ſuſcepit. Ipſe enim primo ut ingreſſus eſt Pontificatum, Bremam prius longo tempore poteſtatibus ac judiciaria manu oppreſſam, præcepto Regis abſolvi, & inſtar aliarum urbium immunitate ſimilique libertate fecit dotari. Habuit itaque tam ſingularem gratiam in conſpectu Imperatoris Ottonis, ut a latere ejus raro divelleretur. Eo namque tempore Otto Imperator invaſit Daciam, & de ea perfecit omnem ſuam voluntatem. Unde Dacia marina, quam Jutiam ſive Juthlandiam vocant, in tres Epiſcopatus diviſa, Hammeburgenſi Archiepiſcopatui eſt ſubjecta, ut docent, ſtatuta Imperialia, quæ usque hodie in eadem Eccleſia habentur. Iſte, inquam, Archiepiſcopus usque in Italiam cum Imperatore abiit, & ibidem ſecum aliquamdiu moram traxiſſet, rediens ad partes, in comitatu ſuo Benedictum Papam ordinatum & conſecratum, ſed ab Ottone depulſum, quem ille in Hammeburg exilio damnaverat, ſecum duxit, & magno cum honore usque ad obitum tractavit. Nam vir ſanctus, literatusque fuiſſe dicitur, qui & Apoſtolica dignitate dignus videbatur, niſi quod per tumultum electus eſt, expulſo eo, quem ordinari præceperat Imperator. In urbe ergo Hammeburg in ſancta converſatione vivens, aliosque ſancte vivere docens, dum jam Romanis poſcentibus ab Imperatore reſtitui debuiſſet, in urbe prædicta in pace quievit. Poſt hunc Adaldagum venit Libentius, & ſedit annis V. Hic pallium a Johanne XVI. Papa ſuſcepit, & virgam Epiſcopalem meruit ab Ottone Tertio recipere. Hic primus inter omnes prædeceſſores ſuos conſecratus eſt a Suffraganeis, eratque vir literatiſſimus, & omni morum probitate decorus. Hujus tempore Brema cœpit muro muniri. Migravit autem prædictus Præſul ab hac luce anno Domini MXIII. & ſepultus eſt in Hammeburg. Poſt hunc ſedit Unwanus annis XVI. Ferulam autem accepit ab Henrico Imperatore, & pallium a Benedicto. De Eccleſia autem Padelburnenſi aſſumtus eſt, dives & largus, ac omni populo acceptus. Iſte in plerisque Paſchæ & aliis feſtivitatibus ſeptem Epiſcopos ſecum habuit, & multos labores ac expenſas pro defenſione Bremenſis Eccleſiæ fecit, magnoque favore Eccleſiam matricem Hammeburgenſem fovit. In diebus ejus Kanutus Rex Danorum rediens de Anglia cum victoria, multos ſecum deduxit Epiſcopos, quorum unum nomine Bernhardum fecit Epiſcopum Schaniæ, Eberhardum Selandiæ & Reynerum Funæ Epiſcopos inſtituit. Hi poſtea per procurationem Archiepiſcopi ſubjecti ſunt Eccleſiæ Hammeburgenſi. Obiit autem hic Unwanus anno Domini MXXIX. & ſepultus eſt in Hammeburg. Poſt hunc venit ſecundus Libentius, & ſedit annis IIII. Iſte cum eſſet nepos Libentii primi Archiepiſcopi, favore Gyslæ Imperatricis ferulam ſuſcepit a Conrado Imperatore, pallium vero a Johanne XIX. Papa. Hic erat vir ſimplex & rectus, ac timens Dominum, prius exiſtens Præpoſitus ejusdem Eccleſiæ. Legationem vero ſuam ad gentes ferventi animo aggreſſus, piis operibus ſemper intentus fuit, & filios Eccleſiæ paternaliter educans, etiam, quod eſt difficile, Principibus acceptus extitit. Obdormivit autem Libentius iſte anno Domini MXXXII. Poſt hunc venit in ſedem Hermannus, & ſedit tribus annis. Virgam paſtoralem accepit a Conrado Rege Romanorum, & pallium a Benedicto Papa promeruit. Aſſumtus autem fuit ab Eccleſia Halberſtadenſi, cujus Præpoſitus extiterat, vir meræ ſimplicitatis & parum habens prudentiæ ſerpentinæ. Et ideo de facili deceptus a clientibus, raro parochiam ſuam viſitavit. Semel namque Hammeburg acceſſit, & tunc cum exercitu veniens, Epiſcopatum quaſi non ſuum, abiensque velut terram falſuginis ipſum dereliquit, & rapacitatis quidem intentor exiſtens, cuidam Mackoni tanquam Vicedomino Eccleſiam ſuam commiſit. Qui parvi pendens omnia, quæ in Archiepiſcopatu invenit, quendam Guidonem Muſicum Bremam adduxit, cujus induſtria melodiam & clauſtralem diſciplinam emendavit. Defunctus eſt autem hic Hermannus in Epiſcopatu Halberſtadenſi, dum eſſet in prædio ſuo Hiltenroth, ſed corpus ejus Bremam delatum eſt, & humatum ibidem. Poſt hunc venit in ſedem eandem Beſelinus, & præfuit X. annis. Hunc virum omni virtute decoratum præfecit Eccleſiæ Hammeburgenſi Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, cui Conradus Rex obtulit baculum, & Benedictus Papa pallium. Ordinatus eſt autem a ſuis Suffraganeis, & ab aliis VII. Epiſcopis Saxoniæ in Eccleſia ſua Hammeburg. Hic pater patriæ fuit, decus Cleri, ſalus populi, terror malorum Principum, exemplar benivolorum & paſtor procurarentur plebi baptiſma, euchariſtia, confeſſio, ſepultura, & cætera Sacramenta Eccleſiaſtica; Epiſcopo autem de ſingulis Eccleſiis darentur quatuor porci vel VIII. arietes, IIII. porcelli, IV. aucæ, VIII. pulli, XX. ſiculæ medonis, XX. de mellita cerviſia, LX. de non mellita, CXX. panes, C. modii avenæ, DC. manipuli, teſte Rabano Archiepiſcopo Moguntino. Karolus enim Magnus omnes decimas in Saxonia conſtituerat ad Regale ſervitium. Unde eas Rex dare potuit, quo voluit. Baſilius Græcorum Imperator factus eſt, ſecundum Vincentium. Hic pauper quondam famulus fuerat unius Abbatis, & aſſumtus de ſervitio illius per Michaëlem Imperatorem Græcorum in cubicularium ſuum, quem idem Michaël Imperator ad tantum provexerat honorem, ut alter Imperator ab omnibus nominaretur. Hunc cum Michaël Imperator in veſaniam verſus multoties occidi juberet, ipſe Baſilius timens, ne tali occaſione quandoque occideretur ab æmulis ſuis, elegit potius Michaëlem Imperatorem interficere, quam ab eo interfici. Quem cum occidiſſet, in Imperatorem eſt ſublimatus, & XVII. annis optime imperavit.

Decimo octavo anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXV. Baſilius Græcorum Imperator, ſecundum Sigibertum, inter cætera munera miſit Lodowico Imperatori Romanorum Cryſtallum miræ magnitudinis, mirifice auro gemmisque ornatum, cum parte non modica ligni Sanctæ Crucis. Lodowicus Rex Germaniæ patruus Lodowici Imperatoris largitus eſt Thiderico Comiti Hollandiæ foreſtum Walda cum aliis pertinentiis. Sarraceni diſcurrentes per Italiam, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, Eccleſiam Benedicti Abbatis in Monte Caſſino funditus deſtruxerunt. Lodowicus Imperator, ſecundum Sigibertum, ab Adelgiſo Beneventano Duce conſtrictus, timore vitæ, jurejurando firmavit, nunquam ſe Beneventi ultra intraturum, neque ex periculo injuriæ ſibi tunc illatæ vindictam aliquam exacturum. Ab hoc autem juramento poſtmodum Johannes Papa ipſum Romæ abſolvit auctoritate Dei & S. Petri, affirmans, nichil ſibi obeſſe, quod ob mortis periculum evadendum coactus fuerat, nec ſacramentum eſſe dicendum, quod contra ſalutem reipublicæ, quamvis cum multis exſecrationibus, fuerit probatum.

Decimo nono anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXVI. Lodowico Regi Germaniæ apparuit in ſomnis genitor ſuus Lodowicus Pius, olim Imperator, ſecundum Egghardum, adjurans eum per nomen Sanctæ Trinitatis, ut eum eriperet de tormentis, quibus detinebatur, ut tandem requiem æternam habere mereretur. Ob hoc ad diverſa Monaſteria eleemoſynis deſtinatis, ſtudioſe filius occurrebat patri. Unde dabatur intelligi, quod licet idem Imperator multa Deo & hominibus placita feciſſet, plura tamen Deo contraria in regno ſuo fieri conſenſit, inter quæ graviora videbantur, quod hæreſi Nicolaitarum non reſtitit, & monita Gabrielis Archangeli XII. Capitulis comprehenſa, quæ Emarchus ei legenda & ſervanda obtulit, ſervare non ſtuduit. Lodowicus Imperator, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, in Italia cadens de ſolario moritur, & Mediolani ſepelitur. Eodem tempore Cometes ſolito rutilantior apparuit.

De Karolo II. Imp.

Karolus Calvus Rex Francorum, filius Lodowici Pii & frater Lotharii Imperatoris & Lodowici Regis Germaniæ, ac patruus Lodowici & Lotharii filiorum Lotharii Imperatoris, Romanorum Imperator LXXVI. cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCXXXVII. Olympiadis CCCCX. anno primo, Urbis conditæ MDCXXVI. Domini vero DCCCLXXVI. & uno anno & IX. menſibus imperavit ſecundum Martinum, ſecundum Sigibertum vero II annis, ex matre Welp natus. Iſte Imperator Karolus, defuncto Lodowico Imperatore, Romam properavit, & Johannem Papam ac Romanos muneribus ſibi attrahens, Imperator creatur, ſed ſolam Franciam cum nomine Imperii tenuit. Unde ſtatim a Lodowico fratre ſuo Rege Germaniæ bello aggreditur, eo quod ſe inconſulto ſolus fratruelis Imperium uſurpaverit. Hic Imperator tam in Francia quam in Italia multas Eccleſias conſtruxit, deſtructas reparavit, & Monaſteria plura fundavit. Hic Karolus Imperator, ſecundum Sigibertum, poſt adeptum Imperium ultra ſe elatus, conſvetudines Francorum vilipendens, Græcas glorias & inſolitos habitus affectabat, & talari Dalmatica indutus, & deſuper balteo aureo ad pedes usque pendente accinctus, capite vero involuto velamine de ſerico & diademate ſuperimpoſito procedebat. Et cum eſſet lepore timidior, & hoſtes fugere quam fugare paratior, fratrem ſuum Lodowicum Regem Germaniæ laceſſebat, minatus, ſe tantas copias conducturum, ut ab equis flumine exhauſto, ipſe per aridum alveum Germaniæ regnum intraret, & ſe expugnaret.

Primo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCC LXXVII. Ludovicus Rex Germaniæ frater Karoli obiit, ſecundum Sigebertum, relinquens tres filios, puta juniorem Lodowicum, & Karolum, qui non multo poſt imperavit, & Karolomannum patrem Arnulfi Imperatoris. Porro Karolus Imperator de morte fratris gaviſus, injuriam, quam contra fratrem conceperat, contra filios fratris perficere paratus, cum quinquaginta milibus hominum & eo amplius regnum eorum aggreſſus, Coloniam usque pervenit. Lodowicus autem Junior, aliis fratribus ſuis alibi occupatis, miſſa legatione ad patruum, rogabat ea, quæ pacis ſunt. Quæ cum impetrare non poſſet, ipſum bello viriliter excepit, & ipſum victum cum nimio exercitus ſui damno & dedecore multo fugere compulit. Ingruente in Germania maxima peſtilentia, ſecundum Vincentium, dum canes undique collecti cadaveribus incumberent, ita ſubito diſparuerunt, ut nec vivi quidem nec mortui reperientur.

Secundo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCC LXXVIII. claruit Johannes Schotus, vir perſpicacis ingenii, ſecundum Egghardum, & facundiæ mellitæ, qui propter bellorum frequentiam, jam dudum ad Karolum Calvum transierat, cujus rogatu Hierarchiam Dionyſii Areopagitæ de Græco in Latinum transtulit. Hic poſt munificentia Regis Elfredi allectus venit in Angliam, & apud Monaſterium Mahvesberienſe a pueris, quos docebat, graphiis ſive ſtilis perforatus interiit, & Martyr æſtimatus eſt. Hujus venerablis doctoris epitaphium tale eſt:

Clauditur in tumulo ſeclis Sophiſta Johannes,
Qui dotatus erat jam vivens dogmate miro.
Martyrio tandem Chriſti conſcendere regnum
Quo meruit Sancti regnant per ſecula cuncti.

Karolus Imperator, ſecundum Vincentium, Romam ſecundo pergens, obiit in itinere, & ſepultus eſt apud Lugdunum in Monaſterio Antonii, cui Ludowicus filius ejus cognomento Balbus ſucceſſit in regno Francorum, & duobus tantum annis regnavit ſuper eosdem. Poſtea apparuit cuidam Monacho, jubens, ut diceret filio ſuo Lodowico, quod transferret ejus corpus ad S. Dionyſium. Quod ſic factum eſt.

De Karolo III. Imp.

Karolus junior cognomento Groſſus, filius Lodowici Regis Germaniæ, Romanorum Imperator LXXVIII. cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCXXXIX. Olympiadis CCCCX. anno tertio, Urbis conditæ MDCXXVIII. Domini vero DCCCLXXVIII. & imperavit XII. annis, ſecundum Martinum, cum fratribus ſuis. Nam Lodowicus tenuit Franciam, Karolus Alemanniam, & Karlomannus Bayoariam, cujus filius Arnulfus poſtea obtinuit totam Monarchiam.

Primo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXIX. Lodowicus Balbus, filius Caroli Calvi, Rex Francorum XXV. cœpit, ſecundum Vincentium, & ſolum duobus annis ſuper Francos regnavit. Hic in uno bello VM. Nordmannorum & amplius interfecit. Mortuus eſt autem, uxorem ſuam gravidam relinquens, quæ peperit ei filium nomine Karolum, qui Simplex dictus eſt. Habuit etiam & alios duos filios ex concubina, Lodowicum & Karlomannum fratrem ejus. Dani Trajectum inferius deſtruxerunt, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis Slavorum, & Radbodus Epiſcopus Trajectenſis ſedem ſuam in Davantriam transtulit.

De Martino II. PP. CXII.

Martinus Papa natione Romanus ex patre Matthæo, ſedit annis V. & menſe uno, ſecundum Martinum. Hic parum vel nichil egit in ſuo Papatu, quod ſcriptura dignum exiſteret, niſi quod Karolum III. Imperatorem coronavit anno Imperii ſui ſecundo, ſecundum Egghardum.

Secundo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXX. Rollo de Norwegia nobilis, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, patria ſua pulſus, multos, quos vel pecunia aliena vel propria ſcelera agitabant, ſecum ducens, piraticam iniit exercitationem, & Carnotum applicans, eam obſedit. Cives autem nec armis nec muris confiſi, camiſiam Beatæ Virginis, qua Karolus Calvus de Conſtantinopoli cum aliis Reliquiis adduxerat, in modum vexilli ſibi propugnaculum facientes expanderunt. Quam hoſtes videntes irriſerunt, & in eam ſagittas dirigere cœperunt. Quorum oculis mox obtenebratis, nec antecedere nec retrocedere jam valebant. Quod videntes Chriſtiani, magna eorum cæde ſunt ſatiati, Rollone tamen cum pauciſſimis evadente. Hic Rollo poſtea eodem anno majus Monaſterium non longe a Thuronis fundatum funditus evertit, & in eodem C. & XVI. Monachos interfecit. Sed Abbas & alii XXIIII. in cavernis latitantes evaſerunt. Rollo autem inde tranſiens, Cenomanenſem urbem expugnavit, & tunc corpus Sancti Martini mittitur Aurelianis. Sed cum Rollo Princeps latronum illic veniret, miſſum eſt Tableyum & inde Antiſiodorum, ubi innumera miracula facta ſunt in Eccleſia S. Germani. Cumque, ſecundum Wilhelmum, peregrini & adventantes pro remediorum gratia multam pecuniam offerrent, oritur ſeditio pro partitione pecuniæ inter Thuronenſes & Antiſiodorenſes. Ad quam ſedandam diſſenſionem leproſus inter Sanctorum Martini & Germani corpora ponitur, & tota nocte cuſtoditur. Illucescente autem aurora, apparuit illa pars leproſi, quæ proxima fuerat Martino, totaliter curata, altera parte adhuc ægra remanente. Convertunt ergo ad S. Martinum latus morbidum, & altero mane hoc etiam totaliter curatum eſt, cedente Germano honori ſui hoſpitis, a miris ſe continendo.

Tertio anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXXI. Ludowicus Balbus Rex Francorum moritur, ſecundum Sigibertum, in cujus deceſſu ſol ita obſcuratus eſt, ut ſtellæ in cœlo ſicut in nocte viderentur. De regno autem ejus varie ſenſerunt tunc Franci. Nam aliqui filiis ſuis illegitimis illud tradere volebant, alii Bophoni Provinciæ Regulo, alii vero regno Germaniæ id ſociare laborabant. Naſcitur quoque interim Lodewico Balbo defuncto filius ex uxore ſua, quam moriens gravidam reliquerat, & Karolus nominatur. Ad filios tamen concubinæ regnum devenit, puta Ludowicum & Karlomannum, qui regnum Francorum tenuerunt V. annis. Iſti comgreſſi cum Nordmannis, ex eis IXM. interfecerunt. Eodem anno Dani & Nordmanni ſimul conglobati fines Morinorum, Menapiorum & omnem circa Scaldum fluvium terram devaſtaverunt, ſecundum Egghardum, & inde Wol fluvium ingreſſi navibus, totam Batuam, id eſt Betowe & palatium Neomagi, quod nunc Novimagum dicitur, incenderunt. Baſilio Imperatore Græcorum defuncto in Conſtantinopoli, ſecuncundum Vincentium, Leo filius ſuus pro eo imperavit XVIII. annis.

Quarto anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXXII. Imperator Karolus Romam pergens cum uxore ſua Richarda, ſecundum Sigibertum, Imperiali benedictione ſublimatur, licet ſecundum Egghardum, hoc ſecundo ejus anno factum ſit. Normanni iterum adjunctis ſibi Danis, ſecundum Sigibertum, Franciam & Lotharingiam peragrantes, Ambianis, Attrebatum, Cameracum, Corbeyam antiquam & Carvennam devaſtaverunt, habentes in Reges eorum Godefridum & Sigifridum. Inde vero pergentes Leodium, Trajectum ſuperius, Tungris, Coloniam & Bunnam, cum adjacentibus caſtellis combuſſerunt, occidentes & rapientes omnia in eis inventa. In palatio vero Aquisgrani equos ſuos ſtabulantes, opidum & ipſum palatium exeuntes incenderunt. Cumque media nocte nativitatis Dominicæ Tungris applicuiſſent, civibus & totius patriæ incolis neſcientibus, puer lectionem primam in matutinis lecturus, cum dicere deberet: Jube Domine benedicere, alte neſciens, quid faceret, clamavit: Hoſtes in portu, hoſtes in portu! Percutitur puer a magiſtro, & iterum legens dixit: Hoſtes in muro, hoſtes in muro! Arguitur iterum, & percutitur, & tertio legens, exclamavit: Hoſtes in foro, hoſtes in foro! Et ecce ſubito clamor & planctus univerſorum inſonuit, & omnia cum hominibus ferro & igne conſumta ſunt. Moguntiam etiam & Treverim capientes ſubverterunt, & Archiepiſcopos interfecerunt. Cumque Franci & Germani ſic ſe a Nordmannis & Danis opprimi viderent, Karoli Imperatoris auxilium imploraverunt. Qui dum cum manu potenti contra Nordmannos veniſſet, Godefridus Nordmannorum Rex, facta pace, baptizatus eſt, & a Karolo Imperatore de ſacro fonte levatus. Et cum non poſſet ipſos de Francia expellere, conceſſit eis regiones, quæ ultra Secanam erant, quæ usque hodie Nordmannia nuncupatur. Regi quoque Danorum Sigifrido dedit XIIM. marcarum argenti pro pace obtinenda. Videntes autem hi Nordmannorum & Danorum Reges inertiam Karoli & puſillanimitatem adoleſcentis, irridentes ipſius clementiam, rurſum in unum conglobati, tantas ſtrages fecerunt, ut crudelitas eorum modum excederet. Nam urbes cum inhabitatoribus, Epiſcopos cum toto Clero peremerunt. Quamobrem Karolus accuſatus de incuria & ſegnitie ſua, regno privatur ab Optimatibus terræ, ut infra patebit.

Quinto anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCC LXXXIII. Nordmanni in Die Cœnæ Domini, ſecundum Egghardum, Treverim urbem obſederunt, & in die ſancto Paſchæ eam capientes incenderunt, peremto populo in ea invento. In ſilva Carbonaria, quæ in Francia eſt, ſecundum Hugonem, plusquam XXM. Nordmannorum occiſa ſunt a carbonariis & ruſticis aliis, qui in nemore & prope nemus habitabant, undique congregatis.

Sexto anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXXIIII. Lodowicus Rex Francorum frater Karolomanni obiit.

De Hadriano III. PP. Rom. CXIII.

Hadrianus Papa natione Romanus ex patre Benedicto, ſedit annis V. & menſibus IIII. ſecundum Martinum. Hic inſtituit, ut Imperator non intromittat ſe de electione Papæ, ſicut hucusque facere conſveverant Imperatores, ſecundum Sigibertum.

Septimo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXXV. Karolomannus Rex Francorum obiit, ſecundum Vincentium. Quo defuncto, Nordmanni Franciam repetunt, dicentes, ſe cum Rege Francorum, & non cum Francis fœdus pepigiſſe. Hinc compulſi Franci, Karolum Imperatorem ad auxiliandum eis invitantes, Franciam ei ſubjiciunt. Qui contra Nordmannos apud Lovanium caſtra metatus, ſemel & bis exercitum miſit, ſed nichil egit.

Octavo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCLXXXVI. Karolus ſuper Francos regnare cœpit, ſecundum Sigibertum, & V. annis ſuper eos regnavit. Nordmanni Lovanium exeuntes, ſecundum Vincentium, urbem Pariſienſem obſederunt. Contra quos Henricus Dux exercitum educens, dum incaute equitaret, in foveam, quam factam Nordmanni quisquiliis operuerant, lapſus trucidatur. Cumque urbem expugnare nequirent, Burgundiam ingreſſi ſunt, & Senonenſem urbem expugnare cœperunt, ſed non valentes, & iterum Pariſienſium fines pertranſeuntes, Cretenſem (Trecenſem) civitatem ſuccenderunt.

Nono anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXXVII. Hogerus, defuncto Reynberto Hammeburgenſi Archiepiſcopo, ſecundum Helmoldum, ordinatus eſt in ſedem ſuam, & præfuit V. annis. Ordinem autem & actus Archiepiſcoporum Eccleſiæ Hammeburgenſis ſupra quarto anno Lodowici legere poteris. Gens Ungarorum a Scythia egreſſa, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, in Pannoniam venit, & ejectis inde Avaribus ſive Hunis, usque hodie ibidem permanent. Hæc gens adeo inculta illo tempore fuiſſe dicitur, ut carnibus crudis in cibum, humano vero vel brutali ſangvine in potum, quemadmodum & Phalangi ultra Ruthenos commorantes uterentur.

Decimo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXXVIII. Karolus Imperator vidit horribilem viſionem, ſecundum Sigibertum, de inferno & purgatorio, & poſt illam viſionem in tantum territus, vix duobus annis ſupervixit. In hac viſione progenitores ſuos quosdam in inferno vidit in maximis pœnis, & quosdam in purgatorio affligi.

Undecimo anno Karoli, qui eſt Domini DCCCLXXXIX. Karolus Imperator ſuſpectam habuit Rychardam uxorem ſuam, ſecundum Sigibertum, eo quod nimis familiariter cum Liutwardo Epiſcopo Vercellenſi loqueretur, proteſtans in confeſſione ſua, ſe nunquam cum eo coïſſe. Illa vero virginem ſe eſſe gloriata gloriata, accepto repudii libello, Monasterium virginum est ingressa a se constructum, ibique Reginæ virginum serviens, virgo & Regina permansit.

De Stephano II. PP. CXIIII.

Stephanus Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Philippo, sedit annis V. mense uno, & diebus XII. secundum Martinum; nec de isto Papa aliqua leguntur, quæ merito memoriæ commendandæ sint.

Duodecimo anno Karoli, qui est Domini DCCCXC. Karolus Imperator junior, corpore & animo deficiens, secundum Sigibertum, ab Optimatibus regni repudiatur, & regno Francorum privatur, pariter & Imperio, & Arnulfus filius Karlomanni regis in regnum sublimatur, ac Imperium adeptus est.

De Arnulfo Imp.

Arnulfus filius Karlomanni fratris Karoli Grossi, Romanorum Imperator LXXVIII. cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCL. Olympiadis CCCCXIII. anno primo, Urbis conditæ MDCXXXIX. Domini vero DCCCXC. & XI. annis regnavit, secundum Martinum. Hic Imperator, secundum Vincentium, Nordmannos, qui ultra XL. annos Galliam & Germaniam infestaverant, multa gravamina eis inferendo, incredibili plaga prostravit. Sub eo enim cœpit ira Dei, quæ contra Gallos & Germanos desævierat, in misericordiam converti, & jugum Nordmannorum & Danorum refrenare.

Primo anno Arnulfi, qui est Domini DCCCXCI. Odo vel Otto, non de progenie Karoli Magni, secundum Egghardum, sed Saxonum, filius Roperti Comitis Andegavorum sive Flandriæ, Rex Francorum constituitur, abjecto Karolo Simplici filio Lodowici Balbi, & IX. annis regnavit. Habuit autem Odo iste fratrem Ropertum, qui genuit Hugonem Comitem magnum Parisiensem; ex Chronica Francorum. Quia Karolus Simplex, cui regnum debebatur, puer adhuc erat X. annorum, natus post mortem patris Lodowici, & quia regnum Francorum a frequentibus incursibus Nordmannorum defendere non poterat, Franci consilio accepto, Odonem sibi Regem præfecerunt Franciæ. Arnulfus Imperator potenter principabatur Bavaris, Swevis, Francis orientalibus, Lotharingis & Saxonibus, cui Swendebaldus Dux Nordmannorum viriliter repugnavit. Usque ad hæc autem tempora Ungarorum gens, cujus sævitiam pene omnes nationes expertæ erant, quibusdam difficillimis interpositionibus, quas clusas vel clausulas vocant, separata a nobis erat, ut neque ad meridianam neque ad occidentalem plagam exeundi facultatem haberent. Sed Arnulfus Imperator dum Swendebaldum prædictum superare nequiret, depulsis & effractis, proch dolor! his munitionibus, Ungarorum gentem scelerum cupidam in auxilium vocavit, & Swendebaldo devicto, regno Romanorum quiete potitus est. Ungari vero interim observato exitu, contemplatique regionem, malum in cordibus eorum, quod postea in patulum venit, machinabantur.

Secundo anno Arnulfi, qui est Domini DCCCXCII. Hogero Archiepiscopo Hammeburgensi defuncto, secundum Helmoldum, Adelgarius electus est in sedem, & rexit illam Ecclesiam XX. annis. Hujus tempore Bremensis Ecclesia est divisa a Hammeburgensi, & iterum facta est suffraganea Ecclesiæ Colonien si. Nordmanni, secundum Sigibertum, Lotharingiam repetentes, prope Leodium cum Christianis pugnam inierunt, & eos vicerunt. Arnulfus autem Imperator audiens cædem suorum, de Bavaria contra Nordmannos properavit cum exercitu valido. Quos super flumen Tylia dictum pedestri aggressus est (pugna,) tantam ex eis stragem fecit, ut ex innumerabili multitudine occisorum vix supereset, qui ad classem infortunium eorum nunciaret. Nordmannorum ergo residui, transvadata Mosella, Ripuariam & Arduennam vastantes, transeundo mare recesserunt. Et ex tunc cœpit ira Dei contra Gallias sæviens in misericordiam converti, & regna Danorum & Nordmannorum mirabiliter dissolvi.

Tertio anno Arnulfi, qui est Domini DCCCXCIII. vires Nordmannorum cœperunt ex toto deficere, secundum Egghardum. Horum primus Dux fuit Ropertus, qui genuit Wilhelmum, qui Richardum, qui Richardum Secundum, qui Ropertum Gwiscardi. Hic Apuliam, Calabriam & Siciliam devicit, Venetos quoque & Alexium Imperatorem Græcorum superavit. Ropertus autem genuit Gwilhelmum Nothum, virum bellicosum, qui genuit Swendebaldum prædictum.

Quarto anno Arnulfi, qui est Domini DCCCXCIIII. Remigius Antisiodorensis Episcopus floruit, secundum Hugonem. Hic fuit in Scripturis divinis exponendis valde studiosus, & plura scripsit & docuit utilia. Gwido Musicus ex Clerico Thuronensi fit Monachus, secundum Hugonem sub Brunone Abbate religionem professus. Hic hymnos & Antiphonas de Sancto Martino dictavit, secundum Martinum.

Quinto anno Arnulfi, qui est Domini DCCCXCV. referunt quidam miraculum supra dictum S. Martini de leproso sanato factum seu contigisse.

De Formoso PP. CXV.

Formosus Papa natione Campanus ex patre Adulfo, sedit annis V. & mensibus sex, secundum Martinum. Hic Formosus, cum olim in sinistram suspicionem Johannis Papæ venisset, timore ipsius fugiens, Episcopatum Portuensem deseruit, & quia revocatus a Papa, redire noluit, anathematizatus fuit. Tandem ad satisfaciendum Papæ, in Gallias veniens, usque ad laicalem habitum degradatus est, jurans, se non amplius Romam intraturum, nec suæ urbis Episcopatum repetiturum. Confirmans etiam propriæ manus scripto, se in laicali communione perseveraturum, nec promissum nec scriptum ptum tenuit. Nam poſt a Martino Papa ſucceſſore Johannis in Epiſcopatum contra datum ſacramentum reſtitutus, non ſolum intravit, ſed etiam Eccleſiæ Romanæ Papatum ſuſcepit. Propter quod cum multo ſcandalo per annos varios controverſia agitata eſt in Eccleſia, aliis ejus & eorum conſecrationem ab eo ordinatorum irritam eſſe debere prædicantibus, aliis vero econtra dicentibus, qualiscunque fuerit Formoſus, tamen propter Sacerdotalis officii dignitatem & fidem eorum, qui ordinati ab eo fuerant, omnes conſecrationes ejus ratas eſſe debere, præſertim cum ipſe Formoſus a Martino Papa abſolutus fuerit a ſacramenti perjurio. Hic ſecundum Geſta Romanorum Pontificum, a Romanis multum affligebatur, cujus hortatu Arnulfus Imperator venit Romam, & multos Romanorum Conſules & potentes, ulciſcendo Papæ injuriam decollari fecit. Cauſa autem diſcordiæ inter Formoſum & Romanos fuit duplex; una: nam Stephano Papa defuncto, pars una Sergium Diaconum in Papam ſibi elegerat, alia vero Formoſum Portuenſem Epiſcopum, quem pro religione vera & doctrinarum ſacrarum ſcientia Papam fieri anhelabant. Cum autem prope eſſet, quod Sergius ordinari debuiſſet, pars, quæ Formoſo favebat, non ſine militari tumultu Sergium ab altari depulit, & Formoſum Papam conſtituit. Unde Sergius in Tuſciam deſcendens, ut Adelberti Marchionis potentiſſimi præſidio juvaretur, impetravit. Nam Formoſo & Imperatore defunctis, poſt aliquot annos is, qui poſt mortem Formoſi conſtitutus eſt Papa, expellitur, & Sergius per Adalbertum Marchionem intruditur, prout infra patebit. Secunda diſſenſionis cauſa fuit: Nam cum idem Formoſus Portuenſis Epiſcopus eſſet, depoſitus fuit per Johannem Papam & degradatus, prout ſupra dictum eſt. Et ideo Romani ipſum recipere recuſabant tanquam perjurum, infamem & degradatum.

Sexto anno Arnulfi, qui eſt Domini DCCCXCVI. Hayto, obſcurus quidem genere, ſed aſtutus ingenio, ſecundum Vincentium, fit Archiepiſcopus Moguntinus, & Bruno, ex Comite Abbas effectus, Cluniacum Cœnobium conſtruxit. Brumali tempore, ſecundum Sigibertum, omnia fruteta veſtita ſunt foliis & floribus, & igne divinitus miſſo, tam cerei quam lampades accendebantur in Eccleſiis.

Septimo anno Arnulfi, qui eſt Domini DCCCXCVII. relatum eſt corpus S. Martini ab Antiſiodoro Thuronis, ſecundum Sigibertum, ubi miracula multa facta ſunt, & campanæ ſine humano adminiculo pulſabantur. Rugiani, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis Slavorum, hoc anno converſi ſunt. Nam tempore Lodowici II. Imperatoris egreſſi fuerunt de Corbeya Monaſterio novo Monachi inſignes, qui Slavorum ſalutem ſitientes impenderunt ſe ipſos ad ſubeunda pericula pro legatione Verbi Dei. Peragratis tandem multis Slavorum provinciis, pervenerunt hoc in tempore ad eos, qui Rani dicuntur ſive Rugiani, qui habitant in corde maris. Quibus prædicaverunt Verbum Dei cum fiducia, & Deo auxiliante lucrati fuerunt totam illam inſulam, & fundaverunt ibidem Oratorium in honorem Salvatoris noſtri & S. Viti, qui Patronus exiſtit in Corbeya. Sed non diu poſt mutatis rebus, Rani a fide defecerunt, & pulſis Sacerdotibus atque Chriſticolis omnibus, religionem verterunt in ſuperſtitionem. Nam S. Vitum, quem nos Chriſti ſervum confitemur, ipſi pro Deo ſuo venerabantur.

Octavo anno Arnulfi, qui eſt Domini DCCCXCVIII. Arnulfus Imperator, ſecundum Sigibertum, S. Dionyſium Areopagitam de Gallia transtulit in Ratisponam, ubi nunc corporaliter quieſcit, quamquam Franci mentientes dicunt, ſe corpus illud ſanctiſſimum habere, non obſtante teſtimonio & diffinitione Leonis Papæ, quæ ſub bulla Ratisponæ habentur; quæ quidem Bulla ſic incipit: Leo Epiſcopus ſervus ſervorum Dei, Karisſimo filio, inclyto Francorum Regi Henrico, ac venerabilibus fratribus Archiepiſcopis & Epiſcopis, necnon dilectis in Chriſto filiis Abbatibus, Prioribus, Præpoſitis & Decanis, univerſisque tam Prælatis quam ſubditis ejusdem regni, ſalutem & Apoſtolicam benedictionem. Deus omnipotens, qui non immerito per Prophetam in Sanctis ſuis mirabilis eſſe prædicatur, &c. Et ſequitur in fine Bullæ: Præſentibus ergo literis dilectionem veſtram monemus attentius & hortamur in Domino, diſtricte quoque præcipientes, quatenus Beatis Ruſtico & Eleutherio Martyribus pie contenti, non fallentes vosmet ipſos & alios, Beati Dionyſii oſſa in urbe Ratispona in Eccleſia Beati Emmerani Martyris & noſcatis & fateamini coruſcare. Et ſciendum, quod Leo iſte Papa fuit decimus hujus nominis, & ſanctiſſimus homo, ut infra dicetur tempore Henrici III. Rex autem iſte Francorum fuit Henricus Rex XXXV. ut infra patebit tempore Conradi II. Integritatem hujus Bullæ & tenorem ipſius ſi legere libuerit, invenies in Henrico de Hervordia, Aetate VI. Capitulo LXXVI.

Nono anno Arnulfi, qui eſt Domini DCCCXCIX. Arnulfus Imperator invitatus a Formoſo Papa, ſecundum Vincentium, Romam venit, ſed non intromiſſus, Leoninam urbem obſedit, lepore verſus urbem fugiente, & exercitu cum clamore nimio ſequente. Quod Romani audientes, timore concuſſi, de muro ſe projiciunt, & hoſtibus ſuis acervos optimos aſcendendi murum faciunt. Capta ergo Roma, illos qui Papæ injuriati ſunt, Arnulfus decollari fecit, & a Papa coronam ſimul & benedictionem Imperialem accepit. Arnulfus ergo inde tranſiens, Italiam & Burgundiam ſibi ſubjecit, ac filium ſuum de concubina Swendebordum Regem Lotharingiæ conſtituit.

Decimo anno Arnulfi, qui eſt Domini DCCCC. Karolus Simplex filius Lodowici Balbi, ſecundum Sigibertum, fit Rex Francorum XXIX. & regnavit XXIX. annis. Contra hunc Karolum Robertus frater Odonis Regis in Regem ſe coronari fecit, ſed infra annum a Ducibus Karoli in bello occiditur. Karolus autem a bello cum paucis rediens, a Herberto Comite Viro-

Viromandenſi, cujus ſoror fuit uxor Roberti jam interfecti capitur, & apud Peronam incarceratur, & loco ipſius Radulfus, filius Richardi Ducis Burgundiæ, Karolo Simplici procurante, regnavit duobus annis. Ipſe enim Karolus eum de ſacro fonte ſuſceperat. Karolus autem poſt quinquennium incarcerationis ſuæ defunctus anno regni ſui XXIX. vitæ vero XLVIII. relinquens poſt ſe Lodowicum III. qui patri in regno ſucceſſit.

De Bonifacio VI. PP. Rom. CXVI.

De Stephano VI. Papa CXVII.

Stephanus Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Rufo, ſedit uno anno & menſibus VI. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte a Formoſo Papa ordinatus fuit Epiſcopus Ananiæ, ſed malum pro bono reddens, Formoſum hoſtiliter perſecutus eſt. Nam omnes ordinationes per eum factas irritavit, & alia dictu horribilia in ipſum fecit. Dicitur enim, quod ipſe, & non Sergius corpus Formoſi de ſepulcro evulſum, & in concilio proſtratum, ac Papali veſte exutum, laicalem induit, & duobus digitis dextræ manus ejus abſcisſis, in Tiberim præcipitari fecit. O quanta malitia & livor invidiæ etiam olim in Clero deſæviit, peſſimum ipſis laicis exiſtens exemplum, & infelicem poſteris fomitem rancoris (præbens)! Perſecutio autem hæc creditur Formoſo Papæ accidiſſe ex divina vindicta, ſecundum Sigibertum, pro eo quod Eccleſiam Bremenſem a Hammeburgenſi Eccleſia a Sanctis viris adunatus multum utiliter, ſeparavit. Cujus ſeparationis ſequitur (bulla), & eſt talis: Formoſus Epiſcopus, ſervus ſervorum Dei, reverentiſſimo fratri Adelgario, Hammeburgenſi Archiepiſcopo, ſalutem & Apoſtolicam benedictionem. Arbitrabamur, tuam ſanctimoniam, prout injunctum fuerat, ad Apoſtolicam Sedem feſtinare, quatenus diſceptatio, quæ inter te & Hermannum Agrippinæ Coloniæ Archiepiſcopum reverentiſſimum ventilatur de Bremenſi Eccleſia, finem reciperet. Sed quod eo per ſuos vicarios inſiſtente, & querimonias multiplicante, cur tuam non exhibueris præſentiam ſaltem per defenſorem vicarium, non modicum miramur. In quo ſuſpicari tribuitur, ſummopere contentionem non odire, qui judicii æquitatem conatur ſubterfugere, præſertim cum & Moguntiæ ſanctiſſimus Archiepiſcopus, cui de hac re, ut veritatem inquireret, per confratres & collimitaneos Epiſcopos injunctum fuerat, ad nos ſcribens ſignificaverit, quatenus venientibus reverentiſſimis Epiſcopis ad Franconefordiam, de hac eadem re diligentiſſima facta fuerit inquiſitio, omnesque Diœceſani ejusdem Colonienſis Archiepiſcopi, puta Franco Tungrenſis, Wydebaldus Trajectenſis, Woſelinus Monaſterienſis, Druggo Myndenſis, Egelmarus Oſnaburgenſis, ſub teſtificationis prætextu teſtificati ſunt, usque ad te nullum Bremenſis Eccleſiæ Præſulem modum ſubjectionis Colonienſi Antiſtiti ſubtraxiſſe, ſed ſemper prædeceſſores tuos, qui eidem Bremenſi Eccleſiæ præfuerunt, a temporibus ſuæ Chriſtianitatis ſedi Colonienſi fuiſſe ſubjectos. Verum quia tantorum virorum teſtimonium fruſtrari non expedit, & ad ſtatum veniendi tempus feſtinare, vel delegare vicarium diſtuliſti, tanti temporis querimoniam ac legatorum conſtantem inſtantiam nichil impendere inhumanum videbatur. Quapropter artati, hinc, ne Colonienſis Eccleſia juſtitiam perderet, inde, ne Hammeburgenſis Eccleſia, quæ ad gentium vocationem inſtituta eſt, ſubſidio deſtituta deficeret, diſpenſative cenſuimus, quatenus quoad usque divina ſuffragante gratia, prælibata Hammeburgenſis Eccleſia in tantum dilatetur, ut Epiſcopia inſtituere valeat, jam memoratam Bremenſem Eccleſiam ad ſubſidium habeat. Et quotiens in magnis & præneceſſariis Canonicis negotiis oportuerit, non ſubjectione aliqua, ſed affectu fraternæ caritatis, Hammeburgenſis Archiepiſcopus, qui ejusdem Bremenſis Eccleſiæ regimen obtinet, per ſe aut vicarium ſuam vicem gerentem, in adjutorium Colonienſis Archiepiſcopi invitatus accedat. Dilatata autem Hammeburgenſi Eccleſia, largitore bonorum omnium adminiculante, & fundatis Epiſcopiis, ſæpe memoratæ Colonienſis Eccleſiæ Sedes Bremenſem accipiat Eccleſiam. Inhumanum quippe eſt inter ſeculares, aliena jura pervadere: quanto magis Sanctorum Epiſcoporum ſtatutos a patribus transgredi terminos, & eos inſimul litigare, qui pacis debent ſubditis exempla præbere. Hæc autem ad hoc decreta eſt diſpenſatio, ut pax vigeat, ceſſet contentio, & juſtitiæ rigorem miſeriæ compaſſio temperet, ſcientes, ſine pacis bono nullum Deo munus fore acceptum. Nulli ergo omnino homini, &c. Hæc, inquam, Eccleſiarum utiliter adunatarum ſeparatio tam Papæ Formoſo quam Imperatori Arnulfo, de cujus conſenſu practicata extitit, gravium perſecutionum fuit cauſa & occaſio, Deo permittente, & ultionem inferente utrisque.

Undecimo anno Arnulfi, qui eſt Domini DCCCCI. Cum Arnulfus Imperator, ſecundum Egghardum, Wydonem Regem ubique perſequeretur, nec ei caſtra vel munitiones quæcunque reſiſtere poſſent, Rex Wydo fugam cepit. Sed Arnulfus Imperator fugientem dimittens Regem, uxorem ſuam obſedit in malum ſuum. Nam ipſa rebus ſuis & vitæ diffidens, per unum familiarem Imperatorem multa pecunia corruptum, ei potum mortiferum propinavit, quo hausto, Imperator per triduum excitari non poterat, apertis oculis nichil videre vel loqui valens. Quæ res ipsum repedare coëgit. Tunc ipsum redeuntem Rex Wydo persecutus est. Sed Rex percussus a Deo interiit, Imperator vero longa infirmitate tabescens, nulla arte Medicorum curari poterat, quin a pediculis & vermibus consumeretur. Unde tandem moritur Ratisponæ, & apud S. Dionysium Areopagitam, quem de Francia illac transtulerat, sepelitur.

De Lodowico III. Rege Rom.

Lodowicus III. filius Arnulfi Imperatoris, admodum puer, Romanorum Rex non Imperator, cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCLXII. Olympiadis CCCCXV. anno secundo, Urbis conditæ MDCLI. Domini vero DCCCCI. & annis XI. regnavit. Hic propter tyrannorum in Italia insolentiam, & multam malorum ingruentiam, caruit corona & benedictione Papali, & pro tanto in numero Imperatorum Romanorum poni non debet, sed solum in numero Regum Romanorum, secundum Sigibertum. Ejus quoque tempore divisum est Imperium, sic quod quidam tunc in Teuthonia, & quidam in Italia regnabant. Cujus divisionis occasio fuit, quod Teuthonici non invenerunt Romanos fideles, sed contra eos bellantes, & multas injurias ipsis inferentes. Duravit autem ista divisio usque ad Ottonem I. & fuerunt interim multi regnantes in Italia. Primus ergo Rex Italorum fuit Berengarius, similiter secundus & tertius ejusdem nominis. Quartus fuit Rodolfus, quintus Hugo, sextus Lotharius, septimus Berengarius, per quem finitum fuit regnum Italorum, regnante & imperante Ottone Magno in utrisque.

Primo anno Lodowici, qui est Domini DCCCCII. Ungari audita morte Arnulfi Imperatoris, secundum Vincentium in Speculo, collecto exercitu magno, gentem Normannorum, quam auxilio eorum fultus Arnulfus sibi subdiderat, invaserunt, & eorum sibi civitates vendicaverunt & castra, Bavarorumque fines vastare cœperunt, castella eorum dejecerunt, & Ecclesias combusserunt, hominesque utriusque sexus jugulaverunt, & ut magis timerentur, occisorum sanguinem potaverunt. Unde Lodowicus Rex exercitu magno coacto, juxta Licum flumen cum eis pugnavit, & plusquam mille ex eis interfecit. Cumque pugna jam usque ad horam vesperorum protraheretur, & Rex victor æstimaretur, positis insidiis, Ungari fugam simulant. Quos dum Rex cum impetu valido insequeretur, ex omni parte prodeunt insidiæ, & quasi victi ipsi victores perimuntur. Et ut Ungari rabiem suæ perfidiæ ostenderent Bavarorum, Swevorum & Francorum provincias percurrerunt, & cuncta vastantes incenderunt & demoliti sunt.

De Theodoro PP. CXVIII.

Theodorus Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Nicolao, sedit XX diebus, secundum Martinum. Hic contra Stephanum Papam sentiens, reconciliavit omnes ordinatos a Formoso Papa, & retractavit Stephani sententias contra ipsum fulminatas. In urbe Lemovicensi quidam erat Judæus Salomon dictus, secundum Egghardum, filiam habens Judith vocatam. Hanc quidam Clericus Wilhelmus nomine frequenter visitans, atque cum ea fornicans, ipsam tandem impregnavit. Qui timens infamiam sibi ex hoc facto oriri, ac puellæ periculum mortis imminere, usus est tali astutia. Sumsit namque arundinem, & noctu prope parietem, ubi parentes puellæ quiescebant, veniens, per foramen quoddam summitatem arundinis intromisit, & taliter locutus est ad eos: O justi & Deo dilecti gaudete, vocans eos nominibus propriis, quia filia vestra concepit Messiam in Lege vobis promissum, virgo permanens intemerata. Pater autem puellæ expergefactus, & vocem audiens, quæsivit ab uxore, si vocem illam & ipsa audivisset. Qua negante, oremus, inquit, ut ambo vocem illam audire possimus. Clericus vero colloquentes audiens, sicut prius iterum locutus est. Illi vero audientes, gavisi sunt. Et post repetitionem tertiam certiores effecti, vix diem expectaverunt, & accersitam Judith filiam intuentes, invenerunt uterum tumidum. Cui inquiunt parentes: Quomodo tibi factum est? & quis actor tuæ est gravidationis? Illa sicut a Clerico docta fuerat, parentibus respondit: Si concepi, nescio, sed scio, quod virum nunquam cognovi. Quod audientes fatui parentes, divulgaverunt per civitates & castella, quod filia eorum esset Messiam paritura. Quid amplius? Hora advenit pariendi, & præsentibus Judæorum uxoribus multis de nobilioribus propter reverentiam Messiæ, & viris innumeris circa domum parientis, nasciturum puerum præstolantibus cum gaudio, genuit misera illa Judith non Messiam, sed puellam parvulam cum gemitu magno & dolore. Quo cognito, parientis filiæ pater vocatur, & hoc lugubre prodigium sibi ostenditur. Qui confusus, infantulam per pedes arripuit, & ad parietem allidens, animam ejus excussit, mulieres vero & viri, qui ad spectaculum hoc convenerant, confusi recesserunt.

De Johanne IX. PP. CXIX.

Johannes Papa natione Romanus ex patre Petro, sedet anno uno & diebus sex, secundum Martinum. Hic ad confirmandas Formosi ordinationes, quas Stephanus Papa irritaverat, Synodum XCVI. Episcoporum præsente Rege Lodowico celebravit, in qua sententia Stephani Papæ contra Formosum lata, damnata est & reprobata. Ad hujusmodi autem ordinationum Formosi Papæ confirmationem movit tam Theodorum quam Johannem Papas sanctitatis signum dicti Formosi, quod a piscatoribus referebatur. Nam cum a piscatoribus postmodum inventus esset in Tiberi, & ad Ecclesiam S. Petri deportatus per eosdem, Sanctorum quædam imagines sese inclinantes hunc in loculo positum venerabantur.

in Speculo, dividitur, & Berengarius regnat primus in Italia quatuor annis. Iſte ſagax multum fuit in rebus bellicis, & gwerram geſſit cum Romanis ſatis gravem ſuis temporibus.

Decimo anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXI. Ipſe Rex Lodowicus Rex fugavit Berengarium Regem de Italia, ſecundum Sigibertum, & pro eo in ea regnavit. Sed poſtea Veronæ Lodowicus capitur, & incarceratur, & Berengarius regno reſtituitur. Gwido Muſicus, ſecundum Vincentium, plura utilia ſcripſit, florens hoc in tempore cum Remigio Grammatico. Adelgario Hammeburgenſi Archiepiſcopo defuncto, Reynwardus dictæ Sedis Pontifex factus eſt, & vix uno anno ſedit, ſecundum Helmoldum. Hujus Antiſtitis tempore Ungari iterum Saxoniam intrantes, Eccleſias urbis Bremenſis incenderunt, & Sacerdotes in eis inventos trucidaverunt, cruces quoque & alias imagines Sanctorum combuſſerunt. Sed Deus Zelotes ita ſe de ſuis vindicavit inimicis, quod ipſi Pagani diverſis plagis attriti, nec unus ex eis evaſit illæſus.

Undecimo anno Lodowici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXII. Lodowicus Rex moritur, ſecundum Sigibertum, & Ratisponæ honorifice ſepelitur. Iſte Lodowicus, ſecundum Egghardum, ultimus fuit de ſtirpe Karoli Magni, culpis Francorum hoc exigentibus, eo quod Eccleſias per patres eorum conſtructas & fundatas diſſipabant.

De Conrado I. Rege Romanorum.

Conradus I. filius Conradi per Adelbertum occiſi, Romanorum Rex cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCLXXII. Olympiadis CCCCXVII. anno tertio, Urbis conditæ MDCLXI. Domini vero DCCCCXII. & VI. annis & V. menſibus regnavit, ſecundum Martinum. Hic Rex virtuoſus fuit & in militaribus exercitiis valde ſtrenuus. Mortuo enim Lodowico, ſecundum Chronicas Saxonum, Principes Teuthoniæ Oddoni ſive Ottoni Duci Saxoniæ Regnum obtulerunt Romanorum. Sed cum grandævus eſſet, Conradum adoleſcentem pro ſe Regem conſtituit. Hic Oddo filius fuit Ludolfi Ducis Saxoniæ, qui ſedem ſui Principatus tenuit in Cappenberg, & fuit de ſangvine Wydekindi Regis Angarorum. Cujus gratia notandum, ſecundum Egghardum, quod poſtquam Wydekindus Rex factus fuit Chriſtianus, genuit Wikbertum Ducem Chriſtianum, Wikbertus vero genuit Walbertum, qui Eccleſiam fundavit in Wildeshuſen, Walbertus autem genuit Ludolfum nobiliſſimum & Chriſtianiſſimum, qui Monaſterium in Gandersheym fundavit. Dux vero Ludolfus genuit hunc Oddonem ſive Ottonem invictiſſimum, qui in Regem Romanorum electus fuiſſet, ſi acceptare voluiſſet, ut præmiſſum eſt. Similiter Ludolfus prædictus pater Oddonis genuit Brunonem & Tanquardum fratres Oddonis, qui Bruno Dux fundavit urbem Brunſwicenſem, qui poſtea cum fratre ſuo Tanquardo, devictis Danis, in Teuthoniam cum multo populo rediens, inundatione quadam gravi imbrium pariter perierunt. Sub iſto autem Conrado Rege Romanorum potentiſſimi erant Principes, puta Arnodus (Arnoldus) Dux Bavariæ, Borchardus Dux Sweviæ, Gyſelbertus Dux Lotharingiæ, & Everhardus Comes Flandriæ; inter quos Henricus Saxonum & Thuringorum Dux præpotens filius Oddonis clarus & celebris habebatur.

Primo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXIII. Ordo Cluniacenſis cœpit, ſecundum Egghardum. Nam Berno Abbas Gigniacenſis Monaſterii moriturus Odonem olim Muſicum conſtituit Abbatem Cluniacenſem primum ſub ea conditione, ut Eccleſia Cluniacenſis ſolveret Eccleſiæ Gigniacenſi in ſignum fundationis ejusdem cenſum XII. denariorum annuatim. Quod ſic obſervatum eſt. Defuncto Reynwardo Hammeburgenſi Archiepiſcopo, electus eſt Unni & confirmatus in ſedem eandem. Hic præſidens Eccleſiæ prædictæ, ſecundum Helmoldum XXII. annis, prius fuerat Eccleſiæ Bremenſis Præpoſitus. De iſto factus eſt talis verſus:

Principibus notus Unni fuit ordine nonus, ſcilicet in Præpoſitura Bremenſi, ſed ſextus Archiepiſcopus Eccleſiæ Hammeburgenſis.

Secundo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXIIII. Berengarius II. factus Rex Italiæ, VII. annis regnavit. Ungari ab Alemannis & Bavaris prope fluvium Oenum, qui vulgariter Yne dicitur, occiduntur.

De Anaſtaſio III. PP. CXXIIII.

Anaſtaſius Papa natione Romanus ex patre Fabiano, ſedit uno anno & tribus menſibus, ſecundum Martinum. Hic propter temporis brevitatem, quo in Papatu ſedit, nichil ſcriptura dignum egit. Contra Conradum Regem Romanorum, ſecundum Vincentium, potentiores regni Principes rebellionem meditati ſunt, ſed tam ſapientia quam fortitudine ejus ad gratiam ipſius reducuntur.

Tertio anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXV. Slavi, ſecundum Helmoldum, Hammeburgenſem Eccleſiam funditus deſtruxerunt; propter quod oportuit, ut Archiepiſcopatus ille re, ſed non nomine transferretur ad Eccleſiam Bremenſem ad tempus. Dani vero Slavos auxilio habentes, primo Tranſalbianos Saxones, deinde citra albianos devaſtantes, maximo terrore Saxoniam conquaſſabant pariter & deſtruebant.

De Landone PP. CXXV.

Lando Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Rufo, ſedit unico anno & diebus X. ſecundum Martinum. Hic ſimiliter ſicut & ſuus prædeceſſor ob dierum ſuorum paucitatem, quibus Pontificatum ſummum tenuit, nichil memorabile operatus fuit.

Quarto anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXVI. apud Danos, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis Slavorum, Grom Rex crudeliſſimus regnavit, qui ſecundum alios Worm nominabatur, qui ipſe ut vermis venenoſus & infectivus nomen Chriſtianitatis perſecutus eſt. Nam fidem Chriſtianam, quam Anſcharius vir ſanctus & ſui ſequaces in cordibus Dano-Danorum plantaverant, prorſus demoliri ſtuduit & eradicare. Unde Sacerdotes de regno ſuo expellens, plurimos eorum cum multis laicis Chriſticolis interfecit.

Quinto anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXVII. orta eſt gravis Ungarorum incurſio, ſecundum Vincentium, qui non ſolum Saxoniam & alias Rheni provincias, verum & transRhenum Lotharingiam, Bavariam & Franciam demoliti ſunt. Tunc namque incenſis Eccleſiis, cruces & imagines Sanctorum truncatæ ſunt & ludibrio expoſitæ. Sacerdotes vero coram altaribus trucidati ſunt, & Clerus vulgo mixtus aut interfectus eſt, aut in captivitatem ductus.

De Johanne X. PP. CXXVI.

Johannes Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Sergio, ſedit annis VI. & menſibus VIII. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte prius fuit Archiepiſcopus Ravennenſis & dilapidator ſuæ Eccleſiæ, propter quod Ravennenſe vulgus ipſum depoſuit. Hujus conſilio pariter & auxilio Sarraceni prope urbem primo devicti ſunt. Deinde ipſe Papa cum Marchione intrans Apuliam, apud Sarthalianum contra Sarracenos durum bellum habentes, victorioſi Principes reverſi ſunt.

Sexto anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXVIII. Baſilea urbs glorioſa, ſecundum Vincentium, ab Ungaris funditus deſtructa eſt. Interveniente diſcordia, ſecundum Sigibertum, Albertus Marchio, qui Johannem Papam & Romanos contra Sarracenos juverat, de urbe Roma expulſus, munitionem fortem conſtruxit, & in ea ſe recipiens, pro Ungaris nuncios miſit, ut terram Romanorum ſibi acquirerent & poſſiderent. Qui venientes, totam Tuſciam depopulati, mares & fœminas ac omne, quod tollere poterant, in Ungariam ſecum deportaverunt. Propter quod Romani commoti, Marchionem trucidaverunt. Poſtea vero ſingulis annis per tempora longa Ungari fines Romanos vaſtare ſoliti erant. Johannes vero Papa a militibus Comitis Gwidonis captus, & in carcerem miſſus, ſuper os cervicali poſito ſtrangulatur, in cujus loco alter Johannes ſubrogatur. Et quia prior Johannes & male intraverat, & ejectus fuit, ideo in numero Romanorum Pontificum non ponitur, ſed ei ſubrogatus.

Septimo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXIX. Hattonem Archiepiſcopum Moguntinum, cujus traditione olim Adelbertus Dux Bawariæ perierat, ſecundum Sigibertum, Conradus Rex ſolicitavit etiam contra Henricum Ducem Saxonum, propter potentiam ejus Regi ſuſpectum. Ad quem perdendum cum jam torquem aureum Archiepiſcopus fabricaſſet, ut collo Ducis ſecum convivantis injiceretur, dolo prodito fruſtratus eſt. Qui poſt triduum ictu fulminis percuſſus interiit, malitiæ ſuæ mercedem accipiens. Complices autem conſilii perverſi a Duce patria pelluntur. Miſſo autem exercitu a Rege contra Henricum, tanta cæde Saxones debacchati ſunt in eos, ut a multis clamaretur: Ubi eſt infernus tam amplus, qui tantam occiſorum hominum multitudinem capere poſſit. Conradus autem infirmitatem gravem incidit ex melancholia & dolore tanti infortunii, ſecundum Egghardum, & videns, ſibi mortem imminere, vocavit Principes & Optimates regni, & pœnitentia ductus, deſignavit eis in Regem Henricum filium Oddonis ſive Ottonis Ducis Saxonum, de ſtirpe Wydekindi Regis Angarorum natum. Et cum iſto Henrico devolutum eſt Imperium ad Saxones & Bawaris de Francis, & multis temporibus apud eos manſit.

De Henrico I. Rege Romanorum.

Henricus I. filius Oddonis Ducis Saxoniæ, Romanorum Rex cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCLXXIX. Olympiadis CCCCXIX. anno primo, Urbis conditæ MDCLXVIII. Domini vero DCCCCXIX. & annis XVII. regnavit, ſecundum Martinum. Iſte ſicut & anteceſſores ſui Lodowicus & Conradus, quia non regnavit in Italia, caruit benedictione & corona Imperiali. Oblatum tamen ſibi diadema & unctionem per Papam quamvis non ſperneret, tamen ex humilitate non ſuſcepit, dicens: Satis mihi eſt, ut præ majoribus meis Rex dicar divina favente pietate veſtraque gratia. Sed unctio & diadema ſint penes nobis meliores. Tanto enim honore arbitramur nos indignos. Placuit iſte ſermo univerſæ multitudini, & dextris in cœlum levatis, nomen novi Regis clamore valido ſalutantes extollebant. Hic Henricus, ſecundum Chronicas Saxonum, filium Oddonis habuit duos patruos, fratres videlicet ſui patris, Brunonem & Tanquardum. Hi duo fratres fundaverunt urbem Brunswik, quilibet ex nomine ſuo partem ſuam appellans. Unde adhuc in quibusdam veteribus privilegiis una pars civitatis Tanquard nominatur, ſimiliter ex Brunone Vicus Brunonis, id eſt Bruneswik nuncupatur. Hi duo fratres Epiſcopatum, quem Karolus Magnus fundaverat in Schydere, transpoſuerunt in Vallersleve, & ibidem Epiſcopum S. Marcum conſtituerunt, qui & ibidem ſepultus eſt. Quem Epiſcopatum ſucceſſor eorum filius Oddonis fratris eorum, ſcilicet Henricus primus cognomento Auceps, id eſt Vogheler, tranſtulit in Northuringiam in Vroſe. Sed eundem Epiſcopatum Otto I. filius ejus tranſtulit in Magdeburg, Archiepiſcopatum inde faciens, & Eccleſias plures Slavorum ſubjiciens eidem. Qui autem nunc dicuntur Brunſwicenſes, tunc Duces Saxoniæ nominabantur, quia Brunwik erat eorum proprietas cum terra circumjacente usque ad tempora Frederici II. qui tali conditione contulit Ottoni Duci Ducatum de Luneburg, quod amplius non debebit vacare Imperio, quamdiu hæres ſuperfuerit cujusque ſexus usque ad quartum gradum incluſive. Iſti etiam Bruno & Tanquardus fratres, cum gens Danorum in Francia crudeliter ſæviret, & poſtea Teuthoniam invaderet, eis occurrerunt, & usque ad deletionem extremam percuſſerunt. Et cum victores redirent, cum multo populo inundatione quadam imbrium perierunt. Oddo vero frater eorum, eorum, qui nomen Ducis Saxoniæ retinuerat, in diviſione Principatus inter fratres, a quo & Ducatus Saxoniæ poſtea fructificavit, regnum Romanorum habere potuiſſet, ſed cum ſenectute gravatus eſſet, Conradum Regem pro ſe conſtituit. Quo celeriter defuncto, de conſenſu Principum ad Henricum filium Oddonis regnum devolutum eſt. Hic quidem Henricus tres filios accepit de Mechtilde de Rynghelheym de ſemine Wydekindi propagata, puta Brunonem Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem, Ottonem Imperatorem hujus nominis primum, & Henricum Ducem Bawariæ. Mater autem hujus Henrici fuit Liuthgarda, filia Arnulfi Imperatoris. Sororem vero ejus habuit Adelbertus Dux de Babenberga, per Hattonem Archiepiſcopum Moguntinum nequiter traditus, & per Lodowicum Regem interfectus. Hic Henricus I. Brandenburg urbem Slavorum, ſupra glaciem caſtra ponens, obſedit, & Slavos devicit. Contra impetum Paganorum Saxoniam opidis diverſis muniri fecit. Myſne caſtrum in monte contra Slavos ædificavit. Montem Ramelberg habere mineras invenit. Civitatem Goslariam fundavit, & urbem Quedelingeburg, in qua & congregationem nobilium fœminarum inſtituit, ubi filiam ſuam primam Abbatiſſam fecit; & ut Princeps & Domina eſſet multorum Principum, prædia largiſſima Eccleſiæ ſuæ donavit, quam in honorem Sancti Servatii conſecrari fecit, miniſtrans in die conſecrationis Eccleſiæ ad refectionem dominarum XI. fercula, XI. menſalia pretioſa, & undecies mille manſos. Ipſe etiam Henricus Ungaros, quibus Saxones tributarii fuerunt, devicit, prout infra patebit.

Primo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXX. Arnulfus Dux cum uxore & filiis ab Ungaria rediens, in Bayoariam ſive Bawariam vel Bavariam, quæ idem ſunt, ſecundum Chronicas Saxonum, honorifice ſuſcipitur, & ut Rex fiat, a Bawariis vehementer exoratur. Rex autem Henricus cernens, ſibi Arnolfum ſolum velle reſiſtere, cum exercitu valido transivit in Bawariam, & ipſum in præſidio urbis Ratisponæ obſedit. Ille vero perpendens, ſe Regi non poſſe reſiſtere, apertis portis egreſſus eſt ad Regem, & ſe ipſum ac omnia ſua Regi tradidit. Unde etiam a Rege honorifice ſuſceptus eſt, & amicus ejus appellatus eſt.

Secundo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXXI. Berengarius III. Rex Italorum cœpit, ſecundum Vincentium, & VII. annis in Italia regnavit. Stephanus Epiſcopus Leodienſis obdormivit in Domino, cui Bonus re & nomine in ſedem ſucceſſit. Temporibus autem hujus Stephani Epiſcopi, ſecundum Egghardum, erat in Monaſterio, quodam ſuæ diœceſis nobilium puellarum, una Nobilis Monialis Margareta nomine, omnibus amabilis, & Deo ac matri ſuæ glorioſæ multum devota. Hanc Moniales cæteræ ob famam probitatis ſuæ & vitæ laudabilis exercitationem in Abbatiſſam elegerunt. Quæ velut lucerna jam ſupra candelabrum poſita, in virtutum operibus ſubditis ſuis cupiens præire, rigorem ſuæ religionis & in ſe ac in ſibi ſubjectis puellis ſtuduit ampliare. Quod quædam leves & diſſolutæ illius Monaſterii ſorores ægre ferentes, laborare cœperunt juxta vires ſuas ad denigrandam ipſius bonam famam. Unde miſerunt occulte literas infamatorias ad prædictum Antiſtitem Stephanum, qui Abbatiſſam prælibatam ob claram ejus famam valde dilexit. Et ideo dictas literas reputavit frivolas, & ex livore vindictæ & invidiæ fœmininæ conſcriptas. Monachæ autem illæ videntes, quod nichil proficerent in ſuo propoſito, vocaverunt Clericum, & dixerunt ei: Vis concumbere cum Abbatiſſa noſtra? nos ordinabimus tibi loci & temporis opportunitatem. Erat enim Clericus ille lubricus, & Abbatiſſa pulcra valde. Qui annuens, introductus eſt nocte in Oratorium Abbatiſſæ, & ibidem vi eam oppreſſit. Quæ mox concepit, & repreſſit pudorem, quamdiu potuit, ſed continue flevit. Adveniente autem tempore partus, iterum ſorores miſerunt literas ad Stephanum Præſulem, dicentes, quod Abbatiſſa earum eſſet impregnata, & tempus partus ejus eſſet in foribus. Quod audiens devotus Epiſcopus, & ſupra modum dolens, venit viſitare eam animo amaro. Cumque Epiſcopus diſponeret venire, interim Abbatiſſa erat in oratione continua, & cum lacrymis exorabat Beatam Virginem, dicens: O Beatiſſima Virgo, tu ſcis, quam ab infantia dilexerim te. Et cum ſis mater miſericordiæ, rogo te, ut auferas opprobrium meum: alias te nunquam matrem miſericordiæ confitebor. Scis enim tu, quam invite & innocenter ad hoc malum deveni. Cum ergo hæc & ſimilia jam diu multis lacrymoſis vocibus fatigata exoraſſet Virginem Benedictam, tandem obdormivit, & Beata Virgo venit, & abſtulit ab ea puerum; eam ex toto reintegrans, ita quod nullum corruptionis ſignum in ea appareret. Infantem vero tradidit alendum cuidam matronæ per Angelicum miniſterium. Abbatiſſa autem evigilans, & ſe liberatam ſentiens, læta effecta, gratias retulit Domino & ſuæ Beatiſſimæ Matri. Epiſcopus ergo veniens, dixit Abbatiſſæ: cur hanc rem turpiſſimam commiſiſti filia Babylonis miſera & maledicta? Cui illa: Quid eſt mi Domine & Pater, pro quo me tam dure reprehendis? Antiſtes vero multum indignans ait: Interrogas jam de culpa viliſſima mulierum? Illa reſpondit: Si alicujus mali ream me judicas Pater ſancte, pœnitentiam libenter feram. Ad quam Epiſcopus; Confudiſti me & te opprobrioſo inceſtu. Cui illa: Parcat tibi omnipotens Deus, pater, pro culpa hac mihi injuſte imputata. Et ſtatim obtulit ſe ad examen honeſtis mulieribus, ut probaretur ejus innocentia. Quæ cum nullum corruptionis ſignum in ea inveniſſent, teſtatæ ſunt, eam in omnibus fore inſontem. Quod audiens pius Epiſcopus, gaviſus eſt valde; & volens pœnam talionis inferre accuſantibus eam, rogatus eſt ab Abbatiſſa, ne hoc faceret. Et retulit ei totius facti hiſtoriam in confeſſione ad laudem Dei & Beatiſſimæ ejus Matris, & ſic reſtituta eſt famæ.

Poſt hoc revelatum fuit eidem Epiſcopo, apud quam matronam puerum inveniret, & ut ipſum in filium adoptaret ac educaret, quia ſucceſſor ſuus in Pontificatu eſſe deberet. Quod cum Epiſcopus faceret, impoſuit ſibi nomen, ut Bonus vocaretur. Hic puer tantæ cœpit eſſe probitatis & ingenii, ut ſingulos in ſtuporem verteret. Cumque adoleviſſet juvenis, promotus eſt ad ordines, & factus eſt Capellanus Domini ſui. Morte autem Epiſcopi inſtante, quæſivit Clerus, quem ſibi vellet ſuccedere in officio. Quibus ait Epiſcopus: Meum conſilium eſt, ut Bonum meum Capellanum eligatis in Epiſcopum. Quod ſic factum eſt. Unde factus Epiſcopus, tantæ devotionis & gratiæ Dei adeptus eſt donum, ut ab omnibus pro ſancto homine veneraretur.

Tertio anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCC XXII. Ungaris, ſecundum Egghardum, Alemanniam, Franciam, Alſatiam & Saxoniam depopulantibus, Rex Henricus juxta urbem Merſeburg cum eis congreſſus eſt. Et ut victoriam a Deo de eis conſequeretur, votum fecit Domino, quod hæreſin Simoniacam de regno ſuo extirpare vellet. Quo voto emiſſo, mox inæſtimabili cæde barbaros illos etiam usque ad internecionem delevit. Karolus Simplex Rex Francorum, ſecundum Vincentium, Ropertum fratrem Oddonis Regis anteceſſoris ſui ſibi rebellem cum multis in bello peremit.

Quarto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCC XXIII. Theodericus primus Comes Hollandiæ moritur, ſecundum Sigibertum, confectus ſenio, & in Egmund Monaſterio ſepelitur, cui ſucceſſit in Comitatu filius ſuus Theodericus. Henricus Rex quoscunque fures & latrones manu fortes & aptos bello capiebat, ſecundum Egghardum, indulta eis venia, agros & arma contulit, & legionem ex eis faciens, ad debellandos barbaros expoſuit, præcipiens eisdem, ut civibus omnino parcerent.

De Leone VII. PP. CXXVII.

Leo Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Clemente, ſedit menſibus VIII. & diebus XVIII. ſecundum Martinum. Hic propter vitæ ſuæ brevitatem in Pontificatu nihil geſſit, quod Annalibus commendari potuit. Sexto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXXV. Henricus Rex, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, cum Ungaris pacem fecit ad IX. annos duraturam, data eis magna pecuniæ ſumma. Medio autem tempore terram ſuis opidis & caſtris munivit, cavens, ne amplius ſic Chriſtiani a Paganis premerentur. Completis autem IX. annis, Ungari per legatos ſuos exegerunt tributum a Henrico, quod eis ſolvere conſveverat ante pacem factam. Sed Henricus in ſignum contemtus & abjectionis eorum, catulum præciſum auribus & cauda miſit pro tributo. Propter quod Ungari exacerbati graviſſime, cum CXXM. pugnatorum Saxoniam intraverunt, omnia loca tranſitus eorum devaſtantes. Unde populus Thuringorum in opido, quod Lichen vocatur, ſe recipiens, ibidem a LXM. Ungarorum eſt obſeſſus, reliquis LXM. per Saxoniam diffuſis, & prædas ac cædes atrociter agentibus. Henricus autem Rex cum IIIIM. tantum hoſtes improviſos aggreditur, & eos ad confuſionem extremam exterminavit. Nam qui gladium evaſerant, miſere nudati receſſerunt, qui vero fuga elapſi fuerant, turpius in paludibus ſubmerſi perierunt. Unde etiam dici ſolet, quod palus in Waggersleve, quæ dividit nemora Elvionem & Huyonem, ad tantam profunditatem ex tanta multitudine fugientium depreſſa ſit. Qui vero ad fugam expeditiores erant, venientes ad ſocios in obſidione Lichen opidi poſitos, fecerunt eis horrorem tantum, ut & ipſi ſimul cum fugientibus fugerent, & omnis terræ populus exultans, eis inſultaret ut fatuis.

Septimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXXVI. Henricus Rex, ſecundum Vincentium, Danis & Slavis devictis, & ſub tributo redactis, nomen ſuum celebre fecit & famoſum cunctis nationibus. Berengarius Rex Italiæ, ſecundum Egghardum, nequiter ab Italicis perimitur, cui Rodolfus Rex quartus ſucceſſit, & ſolum annis duobus ſuper Italos regnavit. Videns Sanctus Unny Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis, qui Reynwardo ſucceſſerat, ſecundum Helmoldum, Dei virtute & animoſitate Henrici Regis Danorum Slavorumque provincias edomitas, oſtiumque fidei in gentibus eſſe reſeratum, omnem ſuæ diœceſis latitudinem tentavit per ſe ipſum perluſtrare & viſitare. Multis ergo religioſis viris ſecum ſumtis, tandem pervenit ad Danos, ubi tunc crudeliſſimus Worm Rex regnavit. Quem licet propter duriſſimam cordis malitiam flectere non poſſet ad Chriſti cultum, filium tamen ejus Haroldum, Deo auxiliante, ad Chriſtum convertit, ſed baptizatus pro tunc non fuit. Ordinatis ergo in regno Danorum per ſingulas Eccleſias Sacerdotibus ſuis, ſanctus Dei Antiſtes Unny multitudinem credentium Haroldo filio Regis Wormari commendavit, & ipſe legatione ejusdem Haroldi filii Regis functus, ad converſionem Sweorum & Norweorum operam dedit efficacem, quos omnes una cum Gothis convertit. Hanc audaciam prædicandi in Dacia Verbum Dei ſibi præſtitit Henricus Rex Romanorum, qui cum maximo exercitu Daciam intraverat, & Regem Danorum Worm ſive Wormarum in primo congreſſu ita perterruerat, ut imperata Octavo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXXVII. Heribertus Comes Flandriæ, ſecundum Sigibertum, Karolum Simplicem Regem Francorum doloſe invitans ad hoſpitium ſuum apud Peronam, ipſum captivavit, & in carcere recluſit. Henrico Regi ad dilatandum regnum ſuum ſuper Lotharingos tendenti, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, in ipſa profectione, ubi Rhenum pertranſiit, legatus Karoli Simplicis occurrit, & ſalutato eo verbis humilimis inquit: Dominus meus Karolus, Regia quondam poteſtate præditus, ſed modo turpiter privatus, in fide bona, miſit me ad tuam clementiam, demandans tibi, quod ſibi ab inimicis circumvento nichil dulcius, nichilve jam poſsit eſſe jocundius, quam de tui magnifici profectus gloria audire, famaque virtutum tuarum conſolari. Et hoc tibi ſignum fidei & veritatis transmiſit, & protulit de ſinu ſuo manum pretioſi Martyris Dionyſii Areopagitæ, auro gemmisque pretioſis incluſam. Hoc, inquit, habeto pignus fœderis perpetui & amoris. Rex autem humo proſternitur, munusque divinum cum omni humilitate & gratitudine ſuſcipiens, dixit legato: Hæc pars unicum extitit ſolatium Francorum Galliam inhabitantium, poſtquam eos S. Vitus Martyr ad eorum perniciem deſeruit, & ad Saxoniæ perpetuam pacem, ipſam viſitavit. Nec enim poſtquam corpus ejus translatum eſt, bella civilia ceſſaverunt in Francia nec externa.

De Johanne XI. PP. CXXIX.

Johannes Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Gregorio, ſedit annis IIII. & menſibus VI. ſecundum Martinum. Hujus tempore in Janua urbe fons ſangvine largiſsime fluxit ſecundum Hugonem. Et eodem anno Sarraceni in Africam venientes ceperunt urbem illam, & hominibus ac thezauris eam evacuarunt, ſpoliis quoque & igne regionem illam hoſtiliter vaſtaverunt.

Nono anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXXVIII. Karolo Simplici Francorum Rege incarcerato ab Herberto Comite Flandriæ, ſecundum Vincentium, Rodolfus Richardi Ducis Burgundiæ filius in regnum Francorum conſtituitur per Francos. Uxor vero Karoli ad patrem ſuum Regem Angliæ fugit cum filio parvulo Lodowico. Et quia hic Rex indebite ingreſſus eſt regnum, non Francorum, ſed Burgundionum Rex nominatus eſt. Hic Rex Burgundionum Rodolfus, qui ſecundum Chronicam Liutbrandi aliquibus annis ipſis Italis imperavit, lanceam ſacram a Samſone Comite recepit. Erat enim nova elaborata figura. Nam in media ſpina habuit in utroque latere quaſi feneſtram, clavis manibus & pedibus Salvatoris noſtri affixis ſanctificatam, quæ fertur Conſtantini Magni Imperatoris fuiſſe. Hanc Henricus Rex a dicto Rodolfo cum non poſſet precibus extorquere, minis & muneribus extorſit, addita etiam ſibi parte provinciæ Swevorum. Henricus autem Rex hanc lanceam ad inſigne tutamen poſteris ſuis reliquit. Quamdiu autem vixit, hoc victifero ſigno ſe præeunte, ſemper hoſtes ſuos terruit & fugavit ac vicit.

Decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXXIX. Rodolfus Rex Burgundionum ab Italicis ad regnandum contra Berengarium Tertium alias invitatus, ut dictum fuit ſupra anno VII. Henrici, hoc anno, ſecundum Egghardum, ab eisdem Italis repudiatur pariter & a Burgundionibus, & Hugo Comes Arelatenſis in regnum ab utrisque ſubrogatur. Hic Hugo Rex quosdam Italienſes ſuſpectos ſibi, conſilio & virtute Samſonis Comitis circumventos, ſibi ſubſtravit. Juger Rex Ruſſorum, ſecundum Vincentium, ſciens, exercitum Græcorum directum eſſe contra Sarracenos, & ad inſularum cuſtodias eſſe diſperſum, ad expugnandam Conſtantinopolim cum mille & amplius navibus venit, ita de victoria jam ſecurus, ut Græcos non occidi, ſed capi præciperet. Quibus Romanus Imperator Græcorum cum paucis viriliter occurrens, circumcirca Græco igne injecto, pene omnes naves cum contentis in eis armatis combuſſit.

Undecimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXXX. Ipſe Henricus Rex, ſecundum Sigibertum, Brandenburg urbem Slavorum, ſupra glaciem caſtra ponens, obſedit, & eam capiens, Slavos devicit. Dehinc autem tranſiens contra impetum Paganorum & præſertim Slavorum, caſtrum Myſne ædificavit. Civitatem quoque Goslariam fundans, montem Rammelberg mineralia nobilia continentem adinvenit. Fundavit etiam idem Henricus Rex pro eodem tempore urbem Quedelingeburg, ubi Monaſterium glorioſum conſtruens, nobiles fœminas in eo ſtatuit, filiam ſuam in eo ponens primam Abbatiſſam. Et ut Domina eſſet multorum Principum & Nobilium, prædia largiſſima ei conſtituit. Nomen autem Abbatiſſæ fuit Mechtildis. Huic namque Monaſterio dedit Rex terram illam, quæ modo territorium Advocatorum nuncupatur inter Myſnam & Bohemiam ſitam, diſtingvens eam in IIII. Advocantias quarum Advocati dicto Monaſterio de manſis & cæteris bonis penſiones annuales ſolverent, & de neceſſariis puellis illis providerent. Advocatus autem primus Abbatiſſæ illius Monaſterii dictus eſt de Ghera, ſecundus de Wyda, tertius de Plawis, & quartus de Rutzia. Hoc inſuper Monaſterium magnis libertatibus & privilegiis Imperialibus & Papalibus eſt prædotatum, & exemtum a jurisdictione omnium infra ſedem Apoſtolicam conſtitutorum, nec confirmatur Abbatiſſa a quoquam Epiſcopo, ſed immediate a Papa. Idem Henricus pro eodem tempore fundavit Monaſterium Wenetehuſen Ordinis S. Benedicti, & uxor ſua Mechtildis Collegium S. Euſtachii in Northuſen inſtituit, quod nunc ad Sanctam Crucem dicitur.

Duodecimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXXXI. Spingrus Dux Bohemorum, ſecundum Martinum, ad fidem convertitur per Henricum Romanorum, qui quamvis neophytus eſſet, tamen juſte & religioſe principatus eſt

XII. annis. Poſt quem filius ejus Wenezlaus juſtitia & ſanctitate præclarus rexit Ducatum; cujus actibus bonis & piis frater ſuus Bolezlaus invidens, eidem adverſatus eſt, & tandem primo anno Primi Ottonis ipſum interfecit, & Principatum ſuum occupavit. In cujus ultionem Otto Imperator Bolezlaum per annos XIIII. bello premens & fatigans, cum magno ſuorum detrimento ipſum ſuperavit, & totam Bohemiam vaſtavit. Hic Wenezlaus Dux tantæ fuit humilitatis, quod clam nocte cum uno ſervo ad ſilvam properavit, & propriis humeris ligna deferens, ante fores viduarum & pauperum clam depoſuit. Collegit etiam ſpicas nocte, & hoſtias manu propria faciens, per Eccleſias diſtribuit. Cum autem ſemel ad Regis Henrici curiam cum aliis Principibus adveniſſet poſtremus omnium, & ob hoc alii Principes locum ſibi ad ſedendum dare nullatenus decreviſſent; cum ergo vir Dei ſubito intraret, viderunt crucem auream in fronte ejus, & ipſum hinc inde Angelos comitantes; cui Rex, hoc viſo, aſſurgens, ipſum nimio cum honore ſuſcepit, & eum deinceps præ omnibus honoravit. Hic poſt CCC. annos a paſſione ſua Eriko Regi Danorum quieſcenti per viſum apparuit, eique, quod eodem genere mortis ſuæ mori deberet, revelavit, præcipiens ſibi, ut in honorem ipſius, qui Wenezlaus diceretur, Monaſterium conſtrueret. Erikus autem Rex a ſomno conſurgens, & de viſione ſtupefactus, cœpit de Sancto Wenezlao, de quo nunquam prius audierat, ab Epiſcopis & Clericis perquirere, quis eſſet, & quali morte defunctus eſſet. Et certificatus, quod fuiſſet Dux Bohemiæ, & a fratre ſuo occiſus, cœpit ad honorem ipſius Monaſterium ordinis S. Benedicti in Revalia conſtruere, ſed antequam conſummaſſet, fratre ſuo Abel procurante, ſicut ſanctus vir prædixerat, occiſus eſt. Karolus Simplex Rex Francorum, ſecundum Sigibertum, in carcere perimitur.

De Leone VIII. PP. CXXX.

Leo Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Simone, ſedit annis duobus ſex & diebus XII. ſecundum Martinum. De hoc etiam Antiſtite nullum notabile factum invenitur in Annalibus ſcriptum, propter ipſius forte regiminis brevitatem. Sacerdos quidam Petrus dictus, ſecundum Liutbrandum in Chronicis, igne crematus eſt in Forlivio propter confeſſionis proditionem. Erat namque virgo nobilis in urbe prædicta, quæ a quodam juvene ſolicitabatur nimis de actu Venereo. Quæ tandem victa muneribus & precibus indefeſſis juvenis prædicti, aſſignavit ſibi locum & tempus conveniendi. Adoleſcens autem ille habebat ſocium ſingulariter ſibi dilectum, cui revelavit hujus virginis conſenſum, locum & horam. Socius autem infidus & fraudulenter agens, dixit ad juvenem, qui ſibi hoc revelaverat: Eamus ad vinum. Cumque eſſent in taberna, incitavit ſocium ſuum, ut fortiter biberet, quia ſic potentior in opere illo fieret. Quod cum ille faceret, tandem inebriatus eſt. Cui dixit doloſus ille ſocius: Dormi jam parum, ut poſſis poſtea melius vigilare. Cum enim tempus tibi ſtatutum ab amica tua venerit, ego te excitabo. Adoleſcens ergo ille ſocio ſuo falſo credens, poſuit ſe dormitum. Quo dormitante, ſocius ille nequam abiit ad domum virginis, & pulſans, mentitus eſt, ſe eſſe amicum ſuum, & ſic intromiſſus eſt. Cum ergo juvencula per ipſum eſſet corrupta, & jam in loquela cognoſceret, eum non eſſe amaſium ſuum, timuit proditionem facti, & ideo ipſo dormiente, ipſa rapuit cultellum, & perforavit guttur corruptoris. Quo mortuo, ſolicitabatur illa, quomodo occultaret interfectum. Vocavit autem occulte ſervum patris ſui de coquina, & promiſit ei multa bona, ſi celando homicidium juvaret eam ad removendum cadaver interfecti hominis. Servus autem ille audiens rem geſtam, noluit reticere forfactum, nec juvare eam, niſi prius & ſibi conſentiret in actum conſimilem. Cumque ipſa alium non videret evadendi modum, conſenſit & illi. Quo facto expleto, receperunt ambo corpuſculum occiſi, & deportaverunt ipſum ad ſubmergendum in proxima aqua. Venientes ergo ad ripam fluminis, ait illa famulo: Sta in eminentiori loco, ut poſſis expeditius projicere & magis remote cadaver in aquam, ne appareat, & confundamur. Cum autem ille aſcenderet litus altum, & cum magno impetu projiceret corpus, ipſa in eodem impetu fortiter truſit a retro famulum, & præcipitavit ipſum in aquam cum cadavere, & ſubmerſus periit. Puella autem domum reverſa, non poſt multos dies nuptui eſt tradita a parentibus. In quo quidem matrimoniali ſtatu puella illa ſe tam laudabiliter habuit, quod famoſa multum & amabilis facta eſt. Occulte tamen ſe graviter caſtigavit in jejuniis, vigiliis, flagellationibus crebris & orationibus. Cum autem pure peccata ſua confiteri deliberaſſet, vocavit quendam Sacerdotem nomine Petrum, qui ſibi bonus ſervus Dei apparebat, ſic vere ſic non erat, & confeſſa eſt ei omnia peccata ſua. Quam cum Sacerdos audiſſet, & per ſe lubricus eſſet, dixit mulieri: Et in veritate, niſi & meam feceris voluntatem, omnia hæc dicam viro tuo. Cumque plorando Sacerdotem rogaret, ne ſigillum confeſſionis violaret, & ille ſe nullo modo tacere velle juramentis affirmaret, ait illa: Fiat de me beneplacitum Dei: ego nunquam faciam, quod optatis. Tranſiens ergo Sacerdos ille, dixit marito mulieris: Ego huc usque credidi, vos recepiſſe in matrimonio unam probam virginem, ſed modo intellexi in veritate vos contraxiſſe cum peſſima meretrice & homicida. Et cœpit ei narrare totius facti ſeriem. Cui maritus: Quomodo experiar, hoc eſſe verum? Ad quem Petrus: Experimentum infallibile vobis dicam: ipſa enim propter ſua ſcelera immania ſemper in abſentia veſtra jejunat in pane & aqua, & utitur cilicio. Et ſi veritatem hujus ſcire volueritis, ſimuletis, vos remote velle ire, & mox hora prandii redite, & invenietis ſolam aquam & panem in menſa ſua, & cilicium prope carnem ſuam. Cum autem vir juxta conſilium Sacerdotis faceret, & mulier ſecundum conſuetudinem ſuam aquam coram ſe poneret in die, quo homines cæteri carnibus veſcebantur, ac cilicio ſe indueret, rediit vir ſuus inopinate, & accedens ad menſam uxoris, & guſtans aquam invenit optimum vinum, viditque intrare ancillam, diverſa ex carnibus deferentem, & domine ſuæ in menſa ſedenti apponentem. Palpans etiam vir circa collum & pectoralia uxoris, invenit camiſiam leniſſimam lineam, qua induta videbatur. Tunc vir ille retulit uxori verba Sacerdotis. Mulier autem audiens, virum omnia ſcire, dixit: Sacerdos ille peſſimus prodidit confeſſionem meam, ex eo quod nolui & ſibi in actu nefario conſentire. Quod vir audiens, & miraculum divinum perpendens, necnon malitiam Clerici attendens, adduxit Sacerdotem, ut probaret, vinum eſſe, & videret carnes in menſa poſitas. Unde accuſavit ipſum coram præfecto civitatis; quem judex comburi juſſit propter proditionem confeſſionis.

Tertio decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini D CCCC XXXII. Henricus Rex Obotritos cum Mirilla Rege eorum, ſecundum Helmoldum, & Nordmannos cum Guduryno Rege eorum ad fidem Catholicam armis, muneribus & exhortationibus ſalutaribus ad fidem Chriſti convertit. Antequam autem hoc efficere poſſet, collecto magno exercitu, eos ingenti bello contrivit. In quo quidem bello ceciderunt de ipſis Paganis CXXM. de parte autem Regis pauci valde, & de gente Slavorum DCCC. captivati ſunt. Lodowicus VII. juvenis fit Rex Francorum XXX. & quia tam puerilis fuit, ſecundum Sigibertum, inimicis reſiſtere non valuit. Propter quod ad matrem ſuam Egynam filiam Regis Anglorum & ad avunculum ſuum Regem fugit in Angliam, & manſit apud eum usque ad annum quartum Ottonis I. Interim autem Rodolfus Rex Burgundionum Franciam rexit, ut dictum eſt ſupra nono anno Henrici hujus. Et tunc Wilhelmus Archiepiſcopus Senonenſis miſſus eſt in Angliam ad Edynam quondam Reginam Franciæ, ut Lodowicum filium ſuum transmittat ad regnum paternum. Quæ acceptis obſidibus & ſacramentis, filium tradidit Archiepiſcopo, per quem in Franciam ductus eſt, & apud Laudunum urbem unctus eſt in Regem & coronatus. Accepit autem Lodowicus Rex uxorem Gerbergam ſororem Ottonis I. Imperatoris, de qua ſuſcepit tres filios, puta Karlomannum, Lotharium & Karolum. Contra hunc Ludowicum Proceres Francorum rebellaverunt, & ſuper omnes Hugo Magnus Comes Pariſienſis, filius Roberti Comitis, in bello Svesſionis a Karolo Simplici peremti, per cujus conſilium ipſe Lodowicus & filius ejus Karlomannus a Nordmannis dolo capti, in carcerem ſunt recluſi. Sed Lodowicus Rex metu Ottonis Imperatoris, qui ad eum liberandum in Franciam cum maxima potentia venerat, a cuſtodia eripitur, & regnum ſibi per Ottonem reſtituitur. Karlomannus vero Rothomagi defunctus eſt.

Quarto decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini D CCCC XXXIII. Otto filius ejus uxorem duxit Edith, filiam Edmundi Regis Anglorum, ſecundum Vincentium, alii tamen libri habent, Edwardi. Hæc fuit ſoror potentiſſimi Regis Anglorum Edelſtani, filii naturalis Edwardi. Siquidem opilio quidam filiam habuit pulcherrimam, quæ vidit in ſomno, lunam de genitalibus ſuis prodire, & totam Angliam ſuo radio illuminare. Villica autem illius villæ, quæ filios Regis nutriebat, ſomnium illud audivit, puellam ad ſe aſſumſit, & loco filiæ ſuæ eam educavit. Rex autem Edwardus, cum puella illa jam adoleviſſet, ad domum villicæ illius venit, & puellam illam decoram videns, eam adamavit, & gravidam tandem effecit. Cujus tempus partus cum veniſſet, peperit filium elegantem, & ipſum Edelſtanum nominavit. Hic puer poſt patrem Rex factus, XVI. annis regnavit. Suo tempore in tota Anglia vix unum erat Monaſterium, quod ornamentis, libris, ædificiis & prædiis non dotaverit. Hic Sytrico Regi Nordanymbrorum dedit Aliam ſororem ſuam in ſororem. Quo poſt annum defuncto, provinciam illam ſibi ſubegit. Ipſe etiam Wydikalium Regem Walliæ, & Conſtantium Regem Schotorum de regnis ſuis expulit, quos tamen poſtea miſeratione commotus ſub ſe ibidem regnare permiſit. Poſt vero cum Adalano filio Sytrici bellum habuit; qui timens Regem occurrentem ſibi cum exercitu, hiſtrionem ſe ſimilans, cum cythara venit ad tentorium Regis Edelſtani, cantitans præ foribus. Unde facile admiſſus, omnia interiora Regis oculis ſuis ſcrutabatur. Poſt convivium autem abire permiſſus, pretium cantus accepit. Quod aſportare dedignans, ſub ſe in terra defodit. Unde notatus in hoc a quodam, qui ei olim militaverat, confeſtim Edelſtano Regi proditus eſt, ſed evaſit. Adalanus autem in nocte exercitum movens, Edelſtanum improviſo invadere nititur: ſed Rex hoſtes adeſſe ſentiens, ſtratis excutitur, ſuos ad bellum excitat, ſed gladius fortuito e vagina cecidit. Dum ergo Rex invocat & Sanctum Adelinum conſanguineum ſuum ad reacquirendum gladium. Unde extendens brachium ſuum, & reducta manu invenit enſem in vagina, qui usque hodie in theſauris Regum pro miraculo ſervatur. In una quidem parte fectilis eſt, nec unquam auri vel argenti receptibilis. Enſe ergo illo tota die pugnans, Adalanum cum exercitu ſuo fugavit. Conſtantius autem Rex Schotorum perfidæ animoſitatis homo cecidit, aliique Reges V. & Comites XII. & quam plurima turba barbarorum corruerunt.

Cumque mortem ſibi appropinquare cerneret, convocato omni populo, deſignavit Ottonem filium ſuum Regem, & cæteris filiis ſuis prædia cum theſauris ſuis diſtribuebat. Obiit autem anno vitæ ſuæ LX. & a filiis ſuis in Quedelingburg in Baſilica S. Petri ſepultus eſt ante ſummum altare cum lacrymis & planctu multorum. Qui licet in vincendis hoſtibus glorioſus ſuis fuerit, tamen quia pacificus erat, nullam operam dedit, ut effugatis ab Italia tyrannis, qui quaſi conductitii & mercenarii alter alteri ſuccedentes, Imperium dilaniabant, benedictionem Imperialem & coronam accepiſſet. Mons autem, ſecundum Sigibertum, in quo Henricus Rex ſepultus eſt, poſtea flammas in multis locis evomuit. Ex Chronicis Saxonum. Mechtildis uxor Henrici mater Ottonis Primi fuit de Angaria de ſanguine Wydekindi Regis Angarorum, & educata in Cœnobio Hervordenſi. Hæc defuncto Henrico viro ſuo, juxta conceptum & diſpoſitionem Regis tranſtulit Moniales clauſas de Wynethuſen in Quedelingburg, & poſt ibidem in Baſilica S. Undecimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXLVII. Haroldus Rex Danorum, ſecundum Helmoldum, qui Henrico I. patri Ottonis factus fuerat tributarius, abjecto fidelitatis & obedientiæ jugo, contra Ottonem arma arripuit, & primo Marchionem, quem Henricus pater Ottonis Sleswik præfecerat, cum legatis Ottonis Regis interfecit, & omnem Saxonum coloniam, quæ ibidem erat, extinxit. Rex autem Otto, divino fretus auxilio, exercitus in partes Danorum transvexit, ac eas igne & gladio devaſtavit, & usque ad mare noviſſimum, quod Nordmannos a Danis ſeparat, procedens, nemini pepercit manus ejus. Cui regredienti Haroldus Rex apud Sleswik bellum intulit, in quo utrisque viriliter certantibus, Saxones tandem victoria potiti ſunt, & Dani terga vertentes, & naves ſuas protinus fugerunt. Tandem conditionibus ad pacem inclinatis, Haroldus Rex Ottoni ſubjicitur, & ab eo regnum ſuum ſuſcipiens, Chriſtianitatem, a qua apoſtataverat, reſumere in Dacia ſpopondit. Nec mora, baptizatus eſt Haroldus Rex cum filio ſuo Agwynoldo, & uxore ſua Jutta, quem Rex Otto a ſacro fonte ſuſcipiens, Sweyn appellavit. Et ſic Dacia tota fidem plenarie ſuſcepit, & diviſa eſt terra in tres Epiſcopatus, & Hammeburgenſi Eccleſiæ tanquam Metropoli tota ſubjecta eſt. Eo enim tempore Eccleſia Hammeburgenſis primo habere cœpit ſuffraganeos, licet dudum Archiepiſcopatus fuiſſet. His ergo rite peractis in Dacia, fortiſſimus Otto Rex convertit exercitum ſuum ad ſubjugandas Slavorum urbes & caſtra; quæ omnia leviter ſuo ſubjecit imperio, & ſic Eccleſiæ in Slavia tunc primo ædificatæ ſunt. Bertoldus Dux Bawariæ frater Arnulfi, ſecundum Egghardum, defunctus eſt, & Henrico fratri Ottonis de carcere erepto Ducatus Bawariæ eſt commiſſus, fratre ſuo reconciliato per Principes. Lotharius VI. fit Rex Italiæ, ſecundum Sigibertum, & duobus annis regnavit.

Duodecimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXLVIII. fuit in Vaſconia mulier, ſecundum Vincentium, ab umbilico ſurſum diviſa, duo pectora & duo capita habens. Quarum mulierum una comedente, alia bibebat; vel una dormiente, alia vigilabat aut neutrum faciebat. Vixerunt autem multo tempore, nec uno tempore ambæ mortuæ ſunt. Hohold nobilis Comes de Anehald, ſecundum Egghardum, cum fratribus ſuis Brunone & Frederico ac Wicberga ſorore ſua fundaverunt Monaſterium in Ggezeke in prædio ſuo in honorem Sanctæ Dei Genitricis Mariæ & S. Cyriaci Martyris. Quod poſtea per Ottonem III. ditatum & in tutelam Regiam eſt acceptum, & prædicto Hohold ſicut Advocato per tempora vitæ ſuæ eſt commiſſum, & præfata Witberga facta in eo Abbatiſſa, ibidem honorifice eſt ſepulta. Bruno frater Ottonis Regis ſecundum Sigibertum, fit Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, cujus ſtudio translata ſunt a Roma Coloniam corpora Sanctorum Eſicii (Heſychii) & Patrocli Martyrum.

Tertio decimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXLIX. Berengarius VII. & ultimus Rex Italiæ cœpit, & XII. annis regnavit, ſecundum Egghardum. Iſte nimia feritate premebat Italiam, & Adawydam Lotharii Regis relictam in carcere tenebat, Lothario interfecto. Sed Otto Rex Italiam potenter intrans, Berengario depulſo, Reginam liberavit, & eam in uxorem accipiens, feſtum Natalis Domini Papiæ ſolenniter celebravit. Sed poſt Berengario per Ottonem in gratiam recepto, Italiam ſibi reddidit, demta Marchia Tarviſina & Veronenſium urbe ac Aquilegia. Iterum poſt paucos annos, a Sede Apoſtolica & ab Italicis venerunt legati ad Ottonem, de tyrannide Berengarii conquerentes. Otto vero revertens in Italiam, Berengarium captivavit, & in Bayoariam in exilium miſit.

Quarto decimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCL. Per loca Germaniæ & Galliæ, ſecundum Egghardum, plurimi & maximi facti ſunt terræmotus & tempeſtates horribiles. Taxis Rex Ungarorum in Italiam veniens, ſecundum Vincentium, X. modios nummorum a Berengario recepit, ut ab Italia recederet, & nichil regno ſuo noceret. Sed iſtud locutus [illegible]bet ante ſuam captivitatem. Hermannus Dux Alemannorum obiit, ſecundum Sigibertum, pro quo Ludolfus filius Ottonis Regis Dux conſtituitur. Dunſtanus Anglicus prius Monachus & poſt Abbas Gleſconiæ, ſecundum Wilhelmum, poſtea vero Epiſcopus Winthoniæ factus, demum ad rogatum Edmundi Regis factus eſt Archiepiſcopus Canthuarienſis, quem Papa Johannes ad illuminandam terram Anglorum genti illi miſit, anno autem Archiepiſcopatus ſui XXXIII. vitæ vero LXXX. multis plenus virtutibus & clarens miraculis, obdormivit in Domino. Hic quandam Eccleſiam ab eo conſecrandam, ſed indebite ædificatam, dorſo ſuo vertit ad orientem.

Quinto decimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLI. Otto Rex Italiam petiit, ſecundum Vincentium, eamque ſibi ſubjiciens, Berengarium ſecundo inde expulit. Berengarius vero Conrado ſvadente, apud Auguſtum (Auguſtam) cum filio ſuo Adelberto ad deditionem venit, factusque miles Regis, remiſſus eſt in regnum ſuum in pace. Moguntia urbs ab Ottone Rege obſeſſa eſt, Fredericus vero Archiepiſcopus ejus, ſecundum Sigibertum, captus eſt, & in carcerem miſſus, ſed non multo poſt per indulgentiam Regis libertati eſt reſtitutus.

Sexto decimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLII. Stephanus & Conſtantinus filii Imperatoris Græcorum, ſecundum Vincentium, Romani nomine, ægre ferentes, ſe juſta patris ſeveritate, a juvenili vanitate & levitate coërceri, diſpoſitis in palatio inſidiis, patrem de Imperiali ſede depoſuerunt, & tonſo, ut moris fuit, ejus capite, in vicinam inſulam, in qua Cœnobitæ degebant, transmiſerunt. Transacto ergo modici temporis ſpatio, Stephanus & Conſtantinus videntes poſt patris ſui depulſionem, Conſtantinum filium Leonis Imperatoris ab omniomnibus ſe præferri, & ſe jam vix in aliquo reputari, hoc de Conſtantino facere, quod de patre fecerant, ſatagerunt. Sed publicato eorum conſilio per Diabolinum, cum ad convivium ex condicto ſediſſent, & de prioratu ſedendi inter ſe certarent, dato ſigno a viris Conſtantini, ambo fratres capiuntur, & capitibus tonſis, ad locum patris deſtinantur, Conſtantinus vero ab omnibus in Imperatorem ſublimatur.

Decimo ſeptimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLIII. Ludolfus Dux Alemannorum, ſecundum Egghardum, inſtinctu Conradi Ducis patri rebellare cœpit. Inter hunc Conradum Ducem & Reynerum Comitem bellum grande ſuper Moſam flumen habitum eſt. Edredus Rex Anglorum, cum ægrotaret, ſecundum Wilhelmum, & S. Dunſtanus feſtinus ad viſitandum ipſum, eqvum ſuum aſcenderet, & acceleraret, vocem audivit deſuper ſonantem: Modo Rex Edredus obdormivit in Domino; cui ſucceſſit Edwynus filius Edmundi adoleſcens, multum lubricus & luxurioſus. Hic cum a S. Dunſtano Archiepiſcopo Canthuarienſi corriperetur, omnes Monachos in tota Anglia inventos exiliavit, & calamitatibus affecit, ipſum quoque Dunſtanum in Flandriam ire compulit. Malmesburienſe vero Monaſterium plus quam CCLXX. annis a viris ſanctis inhabitatum, ſtabulum fecit eqvorum, in cætera vero cœnobia nimis inhumanus fuit; regnavit autem ſolum IIII. annis.

Decimo octavo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLIIII. Ludolfo filio Ottonis in gratiam patris reverſo, ſecundum Sigibertum, Conradus Dux Dei & Regis refuga ad Ungaros ſe contulit, & eos in Lotharingiam usque ad Carbonariam ſilvam perduxit; ſed virtute Dei apud Lobias contra eos oſtenſa, ultra ire prohibiti, vacui redierunt.

De Johanne XII. PP. CXXXIIII.

Johannes Papa de regione Vialata ex patre Johanne, ſedit annis VII. & menſibus VI. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte, ſecundum Egghardum, fuit filius Alberici Principis. Cujus pater cum eſſet potens in urbe, convocatis militibus, rogavit eos & induxit, eos juramento conſtringens, ut defuncto Agapito Papa, promoverent filium ſuum Octavianum. Quod ſic factum eſt, & vocatus eſt Johannes. Iſte venator erat, & totus lubricus, adeo ut etiam publicas teneret apud ſe meretrices. Propter quod quidam Cardinales occulte ſcripſerunt Ottoni Regi, ut ſcandalo Eccleſiæ compatiens, ſine mora Romam veniret. Quod Papa percipiens, Johanni Diacono Cardinali tanquam hujus facti Conſiliario naſum, & alteri Diacono Cardinali, qui literas ſcripſit, manum amputari fecit. Cum autem per Regem & Clerum frequenter admonitus ſe non emendaret, tandem depoſitus eſt.

Decimo nono anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLV. Sanctus Patroclus Martyr & miles Tracaſinus per Brunonem Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem transfertur in Sozatum opidum Angarorum, ſecundum Egghardum, opibus quidem plenum, ſed fide vacuum. Frederico Archiepiſcopo Moguntino defuncto, ſecundum Sigibertum, Wilhelmus filius Ottonis Regis Antiſtes urbis prædictæ conſtituitur. Lapis miræ magnitudinis in Italia tonitruo & tempeſtate trubulenta de cœlo collapſus, ſecundum Vincentium, ingens miraculum videntibus fuit. Templa etiam in multis locis valida tempeſtate concuſſa ſunt, & utriusque Ordinis Sacerdotes ictu fulminis perierunt.

Viceſimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLVI. Ludolfus Dux Alemannorum filius Ottonis, ſecundum Egghardum, Italiam hoſtiliter intravit, & Adelbertum vicit, ubi etiam & ipſe extremum clauſit vitæ ſuæ diem. Ungari iterum regnum Ottonis ductu Conradi Ducis profugi pervagantes, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, & totam Bayoariam depopulantes, juxta Auguſtam urbem ab Ottone Rege victi, Deo ſibi auxiliante, cæde immenſa proſternuntur, cum quibus & Conradus Dux, Domini ſui traditor occubuit. Ungari autem illi, qui tunc effugere poterant, per totam Bayoariam trucidati ſunt, & Reges eorum patibulis Ratisponæ appenſi ſunt. Interim autem ſunt vires Ungarorum hoc bello attritæ, ut amplius reſurgere non valerent. Bruno Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, ſecundum Sigibertum, Cœnobium S. Panthaleonis conſtruxit in urbe Colonienſi, magnis bonis ipſum dotans & ditans.

Viceſimo primo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLVII. Monachis gravis orta fuit perſecutio, ſecundum Egghardum, quibusdam Pontificibus affirmantibus, melius fore, paucos vita perfectos, quam plures negligentes in Monaſteriis eſſe; ideoque oportere converſationes eorum per Monaſteria reſpicere, & non bene converſantes abjicere, cæteros vero bene viventes retinere. Sed mentita eſt falſa opinio ſibi, cum Chriſti ſententia in Ewangelio prohibeat zizania de tritico evellere, ſed ſinere usque ad meſſem creſcere, ne uno incaute eradicato, evellatur & aliud. Quod & cum his Monachis factum eſt. Nam plures propriæ infirmitatis conſcii, depoſito habitu, & relictis Monaſteriis, grave onus Sacerdotii devitabant. Plures etiam hoc ſummum Pontificem non pie, ſed ſubdole feciſſe arbitrati ſunt, in dehoneſtationem videlicet venerabilis viri Hademari Abbatis Fuldenſis, Regi Ottoni fidelis quem juxta poſſe confundere nitebantur, eo quod Ottoni fidelis & familiaris exiſteret. Sed ſemina iniqua incaſſum ſparſa ſunt. Nam prædictus Abbas in gratia Regis remanſit, & quod Papa cum ſuis facere optavit, non implevit.

Viceſimo ſecundo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLVIII. Edwyno Rege Anglorum defuncto, ſecundum Wilhelmum, Odgarus frater ejus regnare cœpit, juvenis XVI. annorum. Quo naſcente, Dunſtanus Archiepiſcopus fertur audiviſſe vocem Angelicam, dicentem: Pax Angliæ erit, quamdiu puer iſte regnaverit. Regnavit autem annis XVI. & quolibet anno ſui regiminis Monaſterium ædificavit. Regem quoque Scothorum Kynadum, Markolinum Regem Cambrorum, archipiratam Maſſeſium, omnesque Reges Wallenſium numenumero V. ad curiam ſuam coactos perpetuo ſacramento ſibi obligavit. Quos apud Leonum urbem ſibi occurrentes, in pompam triumphi per fluvium deduxit, una navi impoſitos, in cujus prora ſedebat ipſe, & illi remigabant. Fama autem hujus Regi excitati Saxones & Dani Flamingique, venerunt videre ipſum; a quibus didicerunt tunc temporis Anglici, a Saxonibus quidem incognitam animi ferocitatem, a Flamingis enervem corporis molſitiem, & a Danis dementantem & omnibus vitiis exponentem ebrietatem. Sanctus autem Dunſtanus, ut potationem nimiam compatriotarum ſuorum refrenaret, clavos aureos & argenteos juſſit vaſis affigi, ut dum quisque metam ſuam cognoſceret, non plus cogente verecundia vel ipſe appeteret, vel alium bibere cogeret. Iſte Rex Odgarus privatos prædones & populares latrones exterminans, feras etiam omnes avidas ſanguinis de regno extirpare cogitavit. Unde Wydualdo Regi Wallenſium indixit, ut ſibi ſingulis annis tributum CCC. luporum interfectorum ſolveret. Quod cum tribus annis feciſſet, quarto anno deſtitit, quia nullum amplius invenire ſe poſſe profeſſus eſt. Et ſic eliminato luporum ſemine, amplius non eſt natum animal tale in terra illa.

Viceſimo tertio anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLIX. Bruno Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, ſecundum Sigibertum, Reynerum Comitem de Monte apud Valentiam evocatum cepit, & ipſum irrevocabili exilio damnavit, eo quod mortuo Giſelberto Duce conſanguineo ſuo, ea, quæ ipſe uxori ſuæ Gerbergæ, ſorori Regis Ottonis, in dotem contulerat, violenter ei auferre non formidabat, bonis Reyneri ad fiſcum ſuum redactis; filii autem ejus Reynerus & Lampertus ad Lotharium Francorum Regem confugerunt. Cruces in veſtimentis, ſecundum Vincentium, apparuerunt; quæ prodigioſa res & inconſveta multos terruit etiam magnanimos, & a vitiis coërcuit, quorundam vero veſtimenta quaſi lepra ſordebant & tabeſcebant.

Viceſimo quarto anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLX. Germania & Gallia jam bene pacatis, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, intendens Otto etiam Italiam pacificare, & ſtatum Eccleſiæ, qui in Papa Johanne ſcandaloſe collapſus fuerat, reformare, Ottonem filium ſuum puerum ſeptennem Aquisgrani in die ſancto Pentecoſtes in Regem inungi fecit, eoque commendato Archiepiſcopo Brunoni fratri ſuo, & Wilhelmo Moguntino filio ſuo, ad Italiam properavit. Qua pervagata, Romam tandem venit, ubi a populo & Clero honorifice receptus eſt, & a Papa Johanne in Imperatorem coronatus. Factus autem Imperator Otto, contra Berengarium Regem Italiæ Urbem exiens, ipſum cepit, & eum cum Wylla uxore ſua ad caſtrum Babenberg miſit, ubi & vitam ſuam finivit. Ex Chronicis Saxonum: Cum Rex invictiſſimus Otto ad refrenandam paſtoris ſummi malitiam a Cardinalibus & Romanis vocaretur, concilium Principum fertur convocaſſe, & ab eis quæſiviſſe, quem pro ſe vicarium poteſtatis relinqueret ad faciendam juſtitiam in illis partibus, quæ barbaris confines eſſent. Nondum enim poſt tempora Karoli Magni propter veteres gentis illius ſeditiones Saxonia Ducem acceperat, niſi Cæſarem, illa videlicet antiqua & nova, licet pars Saxoniæ Duce potita fuiſſet. Ne ergo in Regis abſentia Dani & Slavi aliquid mali molirentur, Rex neceſſitate perſvaſus, Hermanno cuidam primam tutelæ vicem commiſit. De hujus autem viri ortu & proſapia, quia noſtris temporibus multum invaluit, aliqua commemorare neceſſarium duximus. Vir iſte pauperibus ortus natalibus, primo ut ajunt Chronicæ Saxonum, VII. manſis ex hereditate paterna fuit contentus. Deinde quia erat acris ingenii, decorusque facie, pro merito fidei & humilitatis, quam Dominus in eo feminaverat, natus in palatio, ad familiaritatem ipſius Regis pervenit, qui experta viri induſtria, ſuſcepit ipſum in numerum miniſtrorum. Deinde fecit ipſum nutricium filiorum ſuorum, & mox ſuccedentibus proſperis, commiſit ei vices præfectorum. In quo officio ſtrenue agens, fertur manſorum ſuorum cultores, qui manentes nuncupantur, pro furto in judicio delatos, data ſententia ſimul damnaſſe ad mortem. Cujus ſtrenuitate judicii extunc in populo carus, & in palatio præclarus haberi cœpit. Clarius vero de hujus viri proceſſibus tractabitur inferius anno Domini DCCCCLXXII. Huic ergo viro ſtrenuo Rex vices ſuas in illa regione committens, in Italiam perrexit, ut dictum eſt, & Imperator factus eſt.

Viceſimo quinto anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXI. Otto Imperator collecto a tota Italia Epiſcoporum concilio, ſecundum Sigibertum, Papam Johannem poſuit ad rationem, ubi a multis & magnis accuſabatur. Fuit enim adulter peſſimus: qui dum ſe excuſare in nullo poſſet, de conſenſu omnium Prælatorum depoſitus eſt, & Leo, licet laïcus, confeſtim ordinatus, electione omnium & conſenſu Imperatoris, Papa inſtituitur & conſecratur. Leo autem ſic præſidens ſedi Apoſtolicæ, fecit ordinationes & ea, quæ Apoſtolica ſunt. Nec longe poſt Romani alterata fide ad Imperatorem, Leonem reſpuunt, & Johannem reaſſumunt, qui Synodo collecta, Leonem depoſuit, & facta ejus caſſavit, ſtatuitque, Synodum Leonis non nominandam Synodum, ſed proſtibulum favens adulteris. Ordinati etiam a Leone juſſi ſunt proſcriptionem ſuam in chartis præſentare ſub hac forma: Pater meus nichil ſibi habuit, nichil mihi dedit. Romani autem a Papa Johanne pecunia illecti, Imperatorem Romæ cum paucis morantem ſubito aggrediuntur, ſed omnino per exercitum Imperatoris attriti ſunt; & niſi per Imperatorem & Leonem Papam milites Imperatoris a cæde Romanorum revocati & prohibiti fuiſſent, usque ad internecionem totus populus Romanus deletus fuiſſet. Quibus per Leonem Imperatori reconciliatis, poſt receſſum Imperatoris, Leo Papa inſidias ſibi parari ſentiens, ad Imperatorem fugit. Johannes autem autem Papa cum uxore cujusdam civis Romani oblectans ſe & commiſcens, a dæmone in tympere (tempore) percutitur, & ſine Viatico Dominico moritur. Romani vero contra juramentum, quod Imperatori fecerant, ſe nunquam electuros Papam ſine ejus & filii ejus Ottonis aſſenſu, Benedictum V. ſibi Papam ſtatuerunt. Quod audiens Imperator, cum magno exercitu Romam rediit, & ipſam obſedit, Romanosque cæde & fame tantum afflixit, quod tandem Benedictum intruſum Papam ſibi præſentaverunt. Imperator ergo Leonem Papam ad Sedem ſuam repoſuit, Benedictus vero per Leonem non ſolum Papatu, ſed etiam ſacerdotio exordinatus, pacificatis omnibus, per Imperatorem miſſus eſt in Saxoniam, & in Hammeburgenſi urbe mortuus eſt.

De Leone IX. PP. CXXXV.

De Benedicto V. PP. CXXXVI.

Benedictus Papa, natione Tuſcus ex patre Silveſtro, ſedit menſibus tribus & diebus ſex. Hic vivente Leone a Romanis in Papam eligitur contra juramentum, quod Imperatori fecerant, ut ſupra patuit anno XXV. Ottonis. Nam Otto Imperator Sedis Apoſtolicæ ordinationem & inveſtituram Epiſcoporum omnium ſibi reſervavit, ac facultatem ſibi eligendi ſucceſſorem in Imperio, ut habetur in Canone DI. LXIII. In Synodo. Imperator ergo, Leone in Sedem repoſito, Benedictum Papam venerabili Adaldago Hammeburgenſi Archiepiſcopo ad cuſtodiendum commiſit, qui ſecum in Italiam properaverat. Adaldagus vero Antiſtes Benedictum Papam per Leonem depoſitum & degradatum ſecum ducens in Hammeburg, magno cum honore ipſum recipi fecit, & valde caritative & decenter ipſum pertractavit etiam usque ad mortem. Hic Papa Benedictus valde literatus & Deo devotus fuiſſe perhibetur, qui & dignus Apoſtolica dignitate viſus fuit a populo & Clero, niſi quod in tumultu electus extitit, eo depulſo, quem Imperator inſtituerat. In Hammeburg autem in ſancta converſatione vivens, aliosque ſancte vivere docens, dum jam Romanis poſcentibus ab Imperatore reſtitui debuiſſet, apud Hammeburg exul in pace quievit.

Viceſimo ſexto anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXII. Bulgaribus dominabantur filii Simonis, Petrus ſcilicet & Bayanus, quorum Bayanus, ſecundum Egghardum, in arte Magica adeo florebat, ut quoscunque vellet, lupos vel quascunque alias (beſtias) facere videretur. Otto Imperator, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis Slavorum, in urbe Magdeburg Monaſterium S. Benedicti ab eo fundatum extra muros ejusdem transtulit, & in loco ejus Eccleſiam Metropolitanam conſtituit, cui Adelbertum ſummæ ſanctitatis virum primum præfecit Archiepiſcopum, ſubjiciens ei Slavos omnes Albanicos. Hic Adelbertus XII. annis illam regens Eccleſiam, multos Slavorum populos illic prædicando convertit. Suffraganeos etiam huic Archiepiſcopatui idem Otto Imperator adjecit V. puta Merſeburgenſem & Tzitzenſem ſuper Sale fluvium, quos jam fundaverat Karolus Magnus; Brandeburgenſem & Havelbergenſem, quo (quos) ipſe jam primo fundavit intra Albiam flumen; Myſſenenſem vero Eccleſiam ſuper Albiam locavit. Sextus quoque Epiſcopatus fuit Aldenburg terræ Slavorum, ſed ipſum Adaldagus Hammeburgenſis Archiepiſcopus ſuæ Eccleſiæ adjungi ab Ottone prædicto impetravit.

Viceſimo ſeptimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXIII. Adalbrione Epiſcopo Metenſi defuncto, ſecundum Vincentium, Theodericus conſobrinus Ottonis Imperatoris in Epiſcopum ſubrogatur. Iſte inſpiciens primas literas omnium Metenſium Epiſcoporum, quas Angelus Domini fertur dediſſe Beato Clementi primo Metenſium Epiſcopo, & notans, alias auro, alias argento, alias vero viliori metallo ſcriptas, cum videret etiam literam ſui nominis argento eſſe prænotatam, dixit, ſe in Epiſcopatu tot & tanta bona facturum Dei adjutorio comitante, quod ipſa ſui nominis litera merito deberet auro inſcribi. Hic Cœnobium S. Vincentii Martyris in ipſius urbis inſula fundavit ſumtuoſum ſatis. Defuncto Sweyn Rege Danorum, ſecundum Helmoldum, ſucceſſit ei Haroldus filius ejus. Hujus tempore Dani Chriſtum ſimul & idola colebant. Uno autem tempore Poppo Clericus in convivio cum Danis ſedens, diſputavit cum eis de cultura Chriſti & deorum; & Danis aſſerentibus, Chriſtum quidem Deum eſſe, ſed Deos eorum majores & antiquiores eo eſſe; ipſo vero affirmante, Chriſtum ſolum eſſe Deum verum, & Deos alios niſi dæmones eſſe, & a Chriſto creatos: dixit Haroldus Rex Popponi, ut fidem a ſe propoſitam probaret veritatis teſtimonio. Quo annuente, ferrum ignitiſſimum ingentis ponderis manibus ſuis ferendum imponitur. Quod cum Clericus ad placitum omnium ſine læſione quacunque tuliſſet, Rex abjecta omni hæſitatione cum omnibus ſuis Chriſtum ſolum verum Deum confeſſus eſt. Clericum vero illum ad Epiſcopatum ſolennem evexit.

De Johanne XIII. PP. CXXXVII.

Johannes Papa, natione Marinenſis ex patre Nicolao, ſedit annis VII. & menſibus V. ſecundum Martinum. Hic a Petro præfecto urbis Romanæ comprehenſus eſt, & Caſtello Sancti Angeli mancipatus, deinde in Campaniam in exilium miſſus. Sed poſt X. menſes & XVIII. dies Romam eſt reverſus, & de perſecutoribus ejus ab Ottone Imperatore juſtitiæ debitum factum eſt. Nam Nobiles urbis, quos culpabiles inve-invenit, alios quidem trucidavit, alios laqueo ſuſpendit, quam plures etiam in exilium ad partes Saxoniæ transmiſit, ubi vitam ſuam terminaverunt in miſeriis.

Viceſimo octavo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXIIII. Otto Imperator feſtum Pentecoſtes Aquisgrani celebravit, ſecundum Sigibertum, concurrentibus illic a Francia ſororibus ſuis, puta Gerberga Regina Franciæ, matre Lotharii Regis & Karoli Ducis Lotharingiæ, & Hadewige uxore Hugonis Magni Comitis Pariſienſis, quorum filius fuit Hugo, qui poſtea regnavit in Francia. Ibique omnis illa Regalis proſapia una cum Brunone Archiepiſcopo Colonienſi, & Wilhelmo Archiepiſcopo Moguntino, primo fratre, & ſecundo filio ejus ac Ludolfo Rege Alemannorum filio ejusdem, tanto ad invicem congratulationis jubilo affectata eſt, ut in omni vita eorum vix aliquid gaudii huic lætitiæ potuerit comparari. Otto autem Imperator Italiam iterum repetiit, & Natale Domini Romæ celebravit.

Viceſimo nono anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXV. Lotharius V. Lodowici VII. filius ſit Francorum Rex XXXI. ſecundum Vincentium, & XXI. annis regnavit. Karolus autem frater ejus Dux extitit Lotharingiæ, & Otto filius Hugonis Magni Ducatum Burgundiæ ſuſcepit, defuncto Gilberto Duce, cujus filiam idem Otto habebat uxorem.

Triceſimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXVI. Hugo Magnus Pariſienſis obiit, ſecundum Sigibertum, cui ſucceſſerunt tres filii ejus, quos ſuſceperat de Hadwige ſorore Ottonis Imperatoris, puta Otto, Hugo & Henricus. Et Hugo quidem factus eſt Dux Burgundiæ, quia paucis diebus Otto vixit frater ejus in Ducatu prædicto. Poſt non multos autem dies Lotharius Rex Francorum, congregato exercitu, revocavit ad ſe Lotharingiam, & usque Aquisgranum pervenit, & cum præda magna in Franciam eſt reverſus. Imperator vero Otto cum exercitu maximo intravit Franciam, & deprædando cuncta, tandem pervenit Pariſius, & ſuburbium civitatis incendit. Lotharius autem Rex Francorum cum dictis Hugone & Henrico Ducibus hoſtes tribus diebus & totidem noctibus perſequens, plures ex eis occidit.

Triceſimo primo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXVII. Otto Imperator & Lotharius Rex Francorum pacificantur, ſecundum Vincentium, contra voluntatem Hugonis & Henrici Ducum, & dedit Lotharius Rex Ottoni Imperatori Lotharingiæ regnum, & in hoc Principes Francorum valde perturbavit. Otto junior filius Ottonis Imperatoris, ſecundum Egghardum, Romam evocatur a patre ſuo & Johanne Papa, & in Imperatorem coronatur & benedicitur. Wilhelmus Archiepiſcopus Moguntinus filius Ottonis Imperatoris obiit, ſecundum Sigibertum; ſimiliter & Mechtildis mater Imperatoris, plena operibus bonis defuncta eſt.

Triceſimo ſecundo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXVIII. Quidam Comes ipſi Ottoni Imperatori familiaris, ſecundum Vincentium, ante oculos omnium Romæ a diabolo arripitur, ita ut dentibus ſuis ſe diſcerperet; qui juſſu Imperatoris ad Johannem Papam ducitur, ut catena S. Petri collo ejus circumdaretur. Dum autem a fallacibus Clericis ſemel & bis alia catena furenti adhiberetur, nec quicquam remedii proveniret, tandem vera S. Petri catena allata, & collo furentis circumdata, diabolus ſpumans & horribiliter clamans abceſſit. Qua catena Theodericus Metenſis Epiſcopus arrepta cum diceret, ſe eam niſi manu abſciſſa non dimiſſurum, tandem Imperator, ſedato litigio, a Papa Johanne obtinuit, ut annulum hujus catenæ exſectum Epiſcopus retinere mereretur. Regalis Abbatia, quæ per Ottonem Imperatorem translata eſt in urbe Magdeburg ad alium locum, ut ſupra Anno Ottonis XXVI. patuit, autoritate Papæ Johannis jam ſtabilita eſt, & loco ejus Archiepiſcopatus poſitus, ſecundum Egghardum. Hujus Archiepiſcopatus Eccleſia prius fundata fuerat ſub Epiſcopali titulo in Vroſe per Karol. Magnum, ſed modo translata eſt in Magdeburg, & Metropolis facta. Cui ſubjectæ ſunt Eccleſiæ plures, ut Merſeburgenſis, cui præfecit in Epiſcopum Boſſonem virum religioſum; Pozenacenſis, cui dedit primum Epiſcopum Jordanum; Tzitzenſis, cui præfecit Borchardum in Epiſcopum; Brandeburgenſis, cui dedit Epiſcopum Dodilonem; Havelbergenſis, cui primum præfecit Epiſcopum Tudonem; Myſſenenſis, cui dedit in Epiſcopum Hugonem.

Triceſimo tertio anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXIX. Theodericus Metenſis Epiſcopus Imperatoris conſanguineus, ſecundum Sigibertum, dum in Italica expeditione per triennium cum eo perduraret, multa corpora Sanctorum de diverſis Italiæ locis collegit, puta a Corphuno opido Luciam virginem Syracuſanam, quam illuc Spoletanorum Dux a Syracuſis transtulerat. Item a Sabinis partes corporum Proti & Hyacinthi Martyrum, & alia quamplurima de locis aliis, cum parte catenæ S. Petri Apoſtoli, cum capillis ejusdem, & cum ſangvine B. Stephani Martyris, & cum parte craticulæ Beati Laurentii Martyris, a Papa Johanne ſibi datis, transtulit in Galliam, & in Eccleſia S. Vincentii Martyris a ſe in inſula urbis Metenſis fundata honorifice locavit.

Triceſimo quarto anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXX. Nicephorus Imperator Græcorum ſecundum Vincentium, timens a filiis ſuis ab Imperio deponi, eo quod ſenex eſſet, volebat eos eunuchare ſive caſtrare: quorum mater Regina, quia nullo alio modo eos poterat liberare, ſvaſit Johanni Nicephorum occidere, & regnare. Johannes itaque occulte cum fratribus intravit palatium, & occiſo Nicephoro, ipſe imperavit pro eo. Otto Imperator, ſecundum Helmoldum, ſeptimum Epiſcopatum fundavit in terra Slavorum in Aldenburg, præficiens ei primum Epiſcopum Marconem. Quem Hadaldagus Archiep. Hammeburgenſis ſuæ Eccleſiæ adjungi in Suffraganeum ab Ottone Imp. impetravit. Cætera vero pars

Triceſimo quinto anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXI. Otto Imperator ſecundum Sigibertum, filio ſuo Ottoni neptem Johannis Imperatoris Conſtantinopolitani nomine Cleopham(Theophaniam)a Papa Johanne in Imperatricem coronatam, legitimo matrimonio copulavit. In Obotritorum terra, ſecundum Helmoldum, Mykelingburgenſis Eccleſia fundatur ab Ottone primo in honorem Beatorum Apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli, quæ nunc Ratzeburgenſis Eccleſia nuncupatur.

De Benedicto VI. PP. CXXXVIII.

Benedictus Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Paulo, ſedit uno anno & menſe uno, ſecundum Martinum. Iſtum captivavit Creſcentius Stephani, & jugulavit ipſum in nocte Nativitatis Domini, in Caſtro S. Angeli urbis Romanæ.

Triceſimo ſexto anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXII. Hermannus filius Wylingi ruſtici factus eſt Dux Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ ſeu Angariæ. Otto namque Imperator, ſecundum Chronicam Saxonum, videns, fratres ſuos Henricum & Brunonem cum Ludolfo filio ſuo ſibi rebelles exiſtere, Ducatum Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ, qui jure hæreditario Ludolfo filio ſuo & Henrico fratri ſuo debebatur, abſtulit, & cuidam Hermanno filio Wylingi ruſtici de curia Stubbekeshorn diſtante a Luneburg per ſex miliaria, protunc terrarum Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ vicario ſive præfecto conceſſit & donavit. Et ſic Ducatus iſte de ſtirpe Wydekindi Regis quondam Angarorum eſt ablatus, de cujus proſapia Otto Imperator erat, & ſui fratres ac filii. Iſte autem Hermannus fuit primo ab Ottone Imperatore in numerum miniſtrorum curiæ communium aſſumtus, prout ſupra anno Ottonis XXIIII. patuit. Otto ergo Imperator iturus ad Italiam, de conſilio & beneplacito fidelium ſuorum eidem Hermanno tutelæ vicem in Saxonia & Weſtphalia commiſit. Poſtquam vero rediit, & fidelitatem ac ſtrenuitatem præfati Hermanni percepit, ipſum Ducem fecit, & ex tunc ſibi ſuisque ſucceſſoribus & hæredibus ipſum Ducatum jure perpetuo poſſidendum delegavit. Quem quidem Ducatum, Deo auxiliante, juſtiſſime gubernavit, & in defenſionem Eccleſiarum Dei ſtudioſus & fervidus permanſit, usque in finem vitæ ſuæ, & præſertim Hammeburgenſis & Bremenſis. Iſte Hermannus Dux, ſecundum Helmoldum, dicitur fundaſſe Monaſterium in honorem S. Michaëlis in Caſtro montis Luneburgenſis, & bonis magnis ipſum dotaſſe, quamvis quidam fundationem ejus attribuant Wiperto Epiſcopo primo Verdenſi, & quidam aliis Principibus. Benno vero filius Hermanni Ducis, quod pater ſuos incompletum reliquerat, ipſe perfecit, & quendam religioſum virum Ludericum nomine de Monaſterio S. Panthaleonis illi Monaſterio in Abbatem primum præfecit. Hic Hermannus Dux genuit Duces Bennonem, qui & Bernhardus dictus eſt, & Ludgerum. Benno vero Dux genuit Duces Bernhardum & Tidemarum. Bernhardus Dux genuit Ortholfum & Hermannum. Ortholfus genuit Duces Ottonem & Magnum. Magnus autem Dux ſine hærede maſculino deceſſit, relinquens duas filias, quarum una Eyleke nomine nupſit Ottoni Comiti de Soltwedele; quæ genuit ei Albertum Marchionem de Brandenburg cognomento Urſum. Et ita in illo Duce Magno proſapia Ducis Hermanni filii Wylingi finiebatur. Altera vero filia Wilfildis nomine, vel ſecundum alios, Mechtildis nupſit Welpe Duci Bawariæ, qui Dux Welpe ex ſupra dicto Henrico fratre Ottonis Imperatoris fuit procreatus. Et dicta Wilfildis genuit eidem Duci Welpe Henricum Leonem. Hic Henricus Leo Dux & Albertus Marchio Urſus, prædictarum ſororum filii, pro prælibato Ducatu Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ contenderunt, ſed Henricus Leo Ducatum obtinuit. Poſtquam autem Otto Magnus Imperator Ludolfum filium ſuum & Henricum fratrem ſuum Ducatu Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ propter eorum rebellionem privaverat, & Hermanno filio Wylingi ruſtici contulerat, hi duo puta filius ejus & frater ejus gratiam Imperatoris affectabant. Quos in gratiam recipiens, dedit filio ſuo Ludolfo Ducatum Sveviæ, & Henrico fratri ſuo Ducatum Bavariæ protunc vacantes. Sed filius ejus Ludolfus ſtatim poſt donationem ſine hærede deceſſit, & ſic Dux Henricus frater Ottonis Imperatoris Ducatum Sweviæ cum Ducatu Bawariæ obtinuit. A quo Duce Henrico Imperatores & Reges infra ſcripti ſunt procreati, puta Henricus Secundus Conradus II. filius Henrici Secundi, Henricus III. Conradi II. filius, Henricus IV. Henrici III. filius, Henricus Qvintus Henrici IV. filius, Conradus Tertius Henrici V. nepos, Fridericus I. Conradi III. fratris filius, Henricus VI. Frederici I. filius, Fredericus II. Henrici VI. filius, Conradus IV. & Henricus Septimus Frederici Secundi filii, ac ipſorum Imperatorum & Regum filii & fratres Duces Bawariæ, Sweviæ, Auſtriæ, Saxoniæ, Ungariæ & Weſtphaliæ, & quamplures alii Marchiones, Lantgravii, & Comites illuſtres, nec non Cardinales, Archiepiſcopi & Epiſcopi, per mundum diſperſi in diverſis provinciis & regionibus, de quibus ſingulis tædium eſſet ſcribere.

Triceſimo ſeptimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXIII. Otto Imperator regreſſus de Italia cum Ottone filio ſuo Gallias ingreditur, ſecundum Egghardum, & inde in Germaniam venit, Paſcha proximum in Quedlinburg celebraturus. Ubi manens XVII. diebus, deſcendit inde, & Aſcenſionem Domini celebravit in Merſeburg. Tertia autem feria ante Pentecoſten venit ad locum Nunulemia, & proxima nocte transacta hora conſtituta lætus ad menſam conſedit, venienteque hora veſpertina, laudibus ipſis veſpertinis interfuit. Sed peracto cantu Magnificat, æſtuare & fatigati Rex cœpit. Quod cum intellexiſſent Principes circumſtantes, impoſuerunt eum ſedili, inclinantem autem caput, quaſi jam defeciſſet, refocillaverunt. Recepto ergo Sacramento Dominico, nico, ſine gemitu cum magna tranquillitate ſpiritum Domino reddidit feria quarta ante Pentecoſten. Cujus corpus cum magnis lugentium exequiis a filio ſuo translatum eſt in civitatem Magdeburg, quam ipſe fundaverat, & ibidem honorifice eſt ſepultum. Statua autem ejus in urbis illius foro magno ſolenniter eſt ex lapidibus pulcris erecta.

De Ottone II. Imp. 80.

Otto II. Ottonis Magni filius, Romanorum Imperator LXXX. cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCCXXXI. Olympiadis CCCCXL. anno primo, urbis conditæ M DCC XXIII. Domini vero DCCCCLXXIII. & X. annis poſt patrem imperavit, ſecundum Martinum. Hic vivente patre in Regem eſt electus, & poſtea Romæ Imperator benedictus & coronatus; qui mox, ut pater defunctus eſt, ab omnibus, qui aderant, denuo eligitur, & in regni ſedem locatur; & ſtatim Ottone parvulo filio in Saxonia ſub tutela relicto Hermanni Ducis Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ, cum uxore ſua & exercitu magno per Italiam tranſiens, venit Romam, ibique a Benedicto Papa cum maximo gaudio eſt ſecundo coronatus cum uxore ſua Cleopha. Erat autem tunc ſumma pax inter Papam & Imperatorem. Huic dum Gallici pacem ſæpe violarent pariter & Italici, ipſe venit Romam vel alibi, ubi venire ipſum neceſſe erat, & omnibus Proceribus, Magnatibus & Pontificibus Romæ exiſtentibus apud gradus Eccleſiæ convivium magnum fecit. Quibus epulantibus, omnes armatis cingi fecit & circumdari. Deinde de violata pace querimoniam movens, juſſit in ſcripturis culpabiles recitari, quos ſtatim ibidem unum poſt alium fecit decollari, alios vero epulari lætanter hortabatur.

De Domno PP. CXXXIX.

Domnus Papa, natione Tholoſanus ex patre Johanne, ſedit uno anno & menſibus ſex, ſecundum Martinum. Ambos autem hos Pontifices, puta Benedictum & Domnum malitia Romanorum extinxit in brevi tempore, & ideo nichil facere potuerunt memoria dignum.

Primo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXIIII. Rodolfum Archiepiſcopum Rhemenſem de ſtirpe Karoli Magni propagatum, ſecundum Sigibertum, Hugo Rex Francorum valde odivit. Et ideo convocatis Epiſcopis, ipſum allegans illegitimum fore, de Archiepiſcopatu depoſuit, & Gilbertum Monachum nigromanticum maximum ei ſubrogavit. Quod Summus Pontifex intelligens, legatum ſuum miſit, qui Rhemis Concilio Epiſcoporum congregato, Gilbertum depoſuit, & Rodolfum reſtituit. Gilbertus vero depoſitus ad Ottonem Imperatorem ſe transtulit, quem & ipſe in doctrina erudierat. Qui nacta oportunitate primo Ravennenſem Archiepiſcopatum, & poſt Romanum Pontificem, diabolo procurante, ipſum fecit; qui infra dictus eſt Silveſter II.

Aldenburgenſis Eccleſia, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis Slavorum, dedicatur in honorem S. Johannis Baptiſtæ. Eſt autem Aldenburg ea, quæ Slavica lingua Starigard, id eſt antiqua civitas vocatur, & eſt ſita in terra Wagirorum, in occiduis partibus Baltici maris, & eſt terminus Slaviæ, illius plagæ, quæ modo Holtzatia nuncupatur. Huic autem Sedi Aldenburgenſi ſubjecit Imperator Otto primus omnem Obotritorum provinciam usque ad flumen Peyna, & urbem Demyn, ac civitatem Sleswik, eo quod pro tunc ibidem nondum eſſet Epiſcopatus, nec etiam Mykelingburgenſis Eccleſia fundata erat, ſed poſtea. Quidam tamen dicere volunt, Beatum Anſchariun fundaſſe Eccleſiam Sleswicenſem, ut ſupra patuit. Defuncto autem Marcone Aldenburgenſi Epiſcopo, accepit eam regendam venerabilis vir Conradus ejusdem Eccleſiæ ſecundus Epiſcopus, qui multos Slavos ad Chriſtum convertit, qui ordinatus & conſecratus ab Adaldago Archiepiſcopo Hammeburgenſi.

De Bonifacio VII. PP. CXL.

Bonifacius Papa, natione Lombardus ex patre Nicolao, ſedit menſibus tribus & diebus XIII. ſecundum Martinum. Hunc Romani, ſuffocatis Benedicto & Domno, Papam fecerunt. Qui mox non valens in urbe pacifice ſubſiſtere, deprædata Eccleſia S. Petri omnibus pretioſis clenodiis & ornamentis, fugit in Conſtantinopolim, ſed tandem Romam reverſus cum maxima pecunia, cum proficere non poſſet, Johanni Cardinali oculos eruit. Quo facto, ſubito percuſſus divina ultione periit.

De Benedicto VII. PP. CXLI.

Benedictus Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Gregorio, ſedit annis tribus & menſibus ſex, ſecundum Martinum. Sub iſto Benedicto voluit quidam, venerabilem virum Rodolfum Archiepiſcopum Rhemenſem fuiſſe amotum a Sede ſua per Hugonem Regem, de quo ſupra dictum eſt.

Conculte pedes hominum ſal infatuatum.

ſuſtulit, Sanctimoniales vero, quæ ob beſtialitatem Friſonum vitam Monaſticam ibi ducere non poterant, removens, Monachos ibi collocavit. Cum Otto Imperator, pacato undique regno, ſecundum Sigibertum, Aquisgrani moraretur, Lotharius Rex Francorum ſubito ad invadendam Lotharingiam conſcendit, & cedente ei Imperatore, quia ad pugnandum paratus non erat, Rex usque ad palatium Aquisgrani venit, & poſt devaſtationem multam impune repatriavit. Quem Otto Imperator cum inæſtimabili populo inſecutus eſt, & usque Pariſius omnia vaſtans, nullo obſiſtere valente, pervenit; condictoque die VI. Kal. Octobris Franciam intravit, & usque ad Kal. Decembris eam pervagatus, fines Rhemenſium, Laudunenſium, Sveſſionum & Pariſienſium grandi cæde vaſtavit, Eccleſiis tamen Dei immunitate illata.

Quinto anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXVIII. Etelredus filius Odgari Regis & Elfridæ uxoris ſuæ, regnare cœpit in Anglia, ſecundum Wilhelmum, & XXXVI. annis regni ſceptrum tenuit. Hic cum puer exiſtens baptizaretur, circumſtantibus Epiſcopis, in ſacrum fontem baptiſmatis cacavit. Propter quod Sanctus Dunſtanus Canthuarienſis Archiepiſcopus turbatus dixit: Homo iſte ignavus erit. Cumque decennis effectus, fratrem ſuum Edwardum interfectum audiret acclamari, fletu ſuo adeo furente matrem commovit, ut, quia flagellum ſive virgam ad manum non habebat, arreptis candelis juvenem cædere tentavit. Qui prius a fletu non ceſſavit, quousque pene exanimem & ipſum mater lacrymaretur. Quapropter in tota via ſua candelas abhorruit.

Septimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXX. Otto Imperator & Lotharius Rex Francorum convenerunt ſuper Carium fluvium, ſecundum Vincentium, & pacificati ſunt, datis invicem ſacramentis, & Rex Lotharius Lotharingiam abjuravit. Otto vero Italiam repetiit. Eodem anno Lotharius Rex defunctus eſt, & Rhemis ſepultus; cui ſucceſſit Lodowicus VIII. filius ejus Rex XXXII.

De Johanne XVI. PP. CXLIIII.

Johannes Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Martino, ſedit annis XII. & diebus XX. Hic fuit, ſecundum Martinum, in artibus eruditiſſimus, & libros multos compoſuit. Hunc Creſcentius Patricius in tantum cœpit perſequi, ut urbe relicta compulſus eſt Tuſciam intrare. Cognoſcens autem Creſcentius, quod Papa pro Ottone Imperatore miſiſſet, nuncios ſuos miſit ad Papam, petens, ut ad urbem rediret. Quo veniente, Creſcentius cum Senatu ad pedes Papæ cadens, veniam poſtulavit. Sicque facta pace, Papa Romæ moratus eſt usque ad mortem.

Octavo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXXI. Otto Imperator Apuliam & Calabriam Italiæ provincias, ad jus regni Græcorum pertinentes, ſecundum Vincentium, transferre ad Imperium Romanum conatus eſt, maxime propter affinitatem, quam per uxorem ſuam Cleopham cum Græcorum Imperatore habebat. Nono anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXXII. Græci offenſi, ſecundum Sigibertum, eo quod Otto Imperator contra jus provincias Græcorum invaderet, in Calabria ipſum bello aggrediuntur. In quo bello totus pene Imperatoris exercitus, ex Teuthonicis, Saxonibus & Italicis collectus, deletus eſt. Otto vero Imperator ſolus ad mare perveniens, quosdam nautas rogavit, ut ipſum in navim reciperent, aſſerens, ſe unum de militibus Imperatoris. Qui ſuſceptus in navim, a quodam eorum, qui negotiator erat, agnitus eſt eſſe Imperator. Sed tamen illo non prodente ipſum, naucleri conſiderantes decorem ejus, loquebantur ad invicem Græce, credentes, Imperatorem eſſe, nec Imperatorem intelligere idioma eorum, conſenſerunt in hoc, quod ipſum vellent Conſtantinopolim ad Imperatorem Græcorum deducere. Quod Imperator audiens & intelligens, vehementer obſtupuit, & circumveniens ipſos dixit, ſe maximam pecuniam habere in Sicilia. Unde rogavit eos, ut illic eum ducerent, & aſſumta illa pecunia, ſimul cum gaudio properarent. Ipſis ergo propter pecuniam illam ad litus accedentibus, vidit Imperator juxta litus quendam militem in armis nomine Probum, cujus auxilium Imperator invocans, ipſe ſolus cum milite ſe juvante omnes nautas numero XL. interfecit, nec unus eorum evaſit per virtutem S. xoniam per Tiberim & mare transferre cogitavit. Sed eo ibidem in brevi defuncto, pretiosus ille thesaurus usque hodie ibidem permansit. Africani, secundum Vincentium, valida manu Romanum Imperium invaserunt, contra quos Otto Imperator exercitum educens, pugnavit cum eis in mari, ubi tantus sanguis Africanorum & Teuthonicorum effusus est, quod color aqueus in sanguineum versus est; in quo prælio & ipse Imperator lethaliter vulneratus, tandem mortuus defecit. Quo defuncto, de Imperatore novo creando inter Principes dissensio orta est, aliis odio Imperatricis a filio ejus Imperium transferre nitentibus ad Henricum Ducem filium Henrici, qui frater primi Ottonis extitit; aliis legitimo hæredi Ottoni filio Ottonis secundi jam defuncti Imperium deberi suadentibus. Unde dictus Henricus Ottonem puerum dolose rapiens, in custodiam misit. Sed Principes puerum ipsum de manibus ejus extorquentes, in Imperium sublimaverunt, & annis XIX. imperavit. Adelbertus primus Magdeburgensis Archiepiscopus defunctus est, secundum Egghardum, cui Gyselerus successit.

De Ottone III. Imp. LXXXI.

Otto Tertius Ottonis secundi filius, Romanorum Imperator LXXXI. cœpit anno mundi IIII MDCCCC XLIIII. Olympiadis CCCCXLII. anno primo, Urbis conditæ MDCCXXXIII. Domini vero DCCCCLXXXIII. & imperavit XIX. annis, secundum Martinum. Iste aperuit sepulcrum Karoli Magni, ubi mirabilia multa vidit & invenit. Unde in somnis idem Karolus apparuit ei, dicens, ipsum non debere diu vivere, nec prolem habere, eo quod sepulcrum ejus violasset. Quæ omnia sic contigerunt, sicut Sanctus prædixit.

Primo anno Ottonis, qui est Domini DCCCCLXXXIIII. Sweyn filius Haroldi Regis Danorum, secundum Helmoldum in Chronica Slavorum, bellum intravit contra patrem suum, & devicto exercitu Haroldi, ipse pater fugit in Nynivetam urbem Slavorum navigio, graviter vulneratus. Ubi, licet præter spem humaniter receptus & tractatus, deficere cœpit, & tandem obdormivit in Domino Rex Christianissimus & merito inter Martyres computandus. Slavi contra Saxones bella moventes, secundum Helmoldum, primo Brandeburg & postea Havelberg obsederunt, & tandem opida illa expugnantes, ea destruxerunt cum multis Ecclesiis suis. Apud Aldenburg terræ Wagirorum, secundum Helmoldum, defuncto Erwardo Episcopo successit ei in Sede Wago, vir religiosus. Hunc autem Episcopatum Otto primus Magdeburgensi Ecclesiæ subjicere decreverat, sed Adeldagus Archiepiscopus Hammeburgensis ipsum suæ Ecclesiæ adjungi petiit, eo quod terminis suæ Ecclesiæ antiquis Imperatorum privilegiis esset circumscriptus. Post hunc Wagonem venit in Sedem eandem Ezeco, post Ezeconem Volradus, post quem Reynbertus, post quem Benno sive Bernhardus, post quem Meynarus, post quem Abelinus, post quem Ezo, qui decimus extitit in ordine. Wago vero Episcopus sororem habuit pulcerrimam, quam appetiit Billug Slavorum Regulus. Quam cum post multarum precum instantias ei in matrimonio copulasset, non post multos dies repudiatam Antistiti remisit. Quod non modicam dissensionem inter dictos Wagonem Episcopum & Billug regulum causavit.

Secundo anno Ottonis, qui est Domini DCCCCLXXXV. Theodericus secundus Comes Hollandiæ, secundum Sigibertum, precibus Egberti Treverensis Archiepiscopi & Theophaniæ sive Cleophæ Imperatricis matris Ottonis, quicquid in beneficiis tenuerant antecessores ejus, ipse suscepit in proprietatem. Dani cum Rege suo Sweyn improbissimo, congregato navali exercitu, secundum Helmoldum, remigantes mare Britannicum, applicuerunt litoribus Albiæ. Ubi improvise irruentes super quietos, vastaverunt omnia maritima insulæ Hadelen, omnemque terram Saxonum, quæ erat super ripas fluminis sita, quousque pervenirent Stadis, quæ est optima statio navium per Albiam descendentium. Quo lugubri rumore comperto, Sigifridus Comes de Alldenburg & Theodericus Comes de Stadis, cæterique Nobiles, ad quos provinciæ tutela pertinebat, processerunt obviam Danis. Cum tamen essent perpauci, receperintque hostes, in memorato portu Staden, facta est ergo pugna vehementissima, in qua superantibus Danis, virtus Saxonum penitus est attrita. Comites namque ambo cæterique Nobiles & militares, qui interfectioni superfuerant, victi & catenati ad naves ducti sunt. Comes vero Sigifridus, auxilio cujusdam piscatoris, noctu profugit & evasit. Quamobrem barbari illi furore repleti, omnes quos habebant in vinculis Nobiles, detruncatis manibus & pedibus, ac naso præciso, semivivos ad terram de navibus projecerunt. Deinde quod residuum fuit vulgaris populi, occiderunt, deprædantes totam illam terram sine resistentia. Altera vero pars piratarum, qui per Wirraham subvecti fuerant, omnem illius fluminis ripam usque Lesmoniam vastaverunt, & cum maxima captivorum copia pervenerunt usque ad paludem Glyndesmur. Ubi cum quendam militem Saxonum facerent Ducem itineris, quem captivum tenebant, ille perduxit eos ad difficiliora loca paludis. In qua diu illi fatigati, a Saxonibus, qui eos insequebantur, devicti sunt. Et perierunt ex Danis ibidem circa XXM. Nomen autem militis, qui eos in invium deduxerat, fuit Hartwardus.

Tertio anno Ottonis, qui est Domini DCCCCLXXXVI. Siccitas vernalis permaxima fuit, secundum Vincentium, ex qua fata tam vernalis quam hyemalis temporis vel impedita sunt vel annullata, & fames gravis est secuta. Post hæc nix nimia cecidit, & imber postea continuus, ita ut autumnalem seminum sparsionem omnino fieri negaret.

Quarto anno Ottonis, qui est Domini DCCCCLXXXVII. Lodowicus VIII. Rex Francorum XXXII. obiit, secundum Sigibertum, tum, poſt cujus mortem cum regnum Francorum transferre vellent ad Karolum Ducem Lotharingiæ, fratrem Lotharii Regis, & Karolus rem ad conſilium differret, Hugo Comes Pariſienſis regnum Francorum ſibi uſurpavit, & XXXIII. Rex factus, IX. annis regnavit. Hic Hugo fuit filius Magni Hugonis Comitis Pariſienſis, nec fuit de progenie Karoli Magni, ſed de genere Saxonum Karolus ergo frater Lothaſii Regis, Dux Lotharingiæ, regnum ſibi debitum a Hugone repetens, eumque bello perungens, Laudunum urbem expugnavit, Hugonem fugavit, Rhemenſium urbem occupavit, & vaſtando omnia usque Sveſſionis pervenit, ac multa præda Lugdunum reverſus eſt. Tandem proditione Anſelmi Lugdunenſis Epiſcopi portæ nocte clam reſerantur, & Karolus cum uxore ſua Hugoni traditur. Qui vinctus Aurelianis ducitur, & turris cuſtodiæ mancipatur, ubi duos genuit filios, Lodowicum ſcilicet & Karolum, & tandem ibi moritur. Reliquit etiam duas filias Gerbergam & Ermegardam. Dicebatur autem hic Rex Hugo Zapher, id eſt capucium. Duxit autem Hugo, ſecundum Wilhelmum, uxorem filiam Regis Angliæ pulcerrimam, pro qua miſit patri puellæ munera plurima. Et inter alia miſit enſem Conſtantini Magni, in quo nomen poſſeſſoris literis aureis legebatur. In capulo quoque ſuper craſſas auri laminas clavus ferreus affixus erat, unus ex tribus, qui Dominico corpori infixus erat. Lanceam quoque Karoli Magni, quem Imperator invictiſſimus contra Sarracenos exercitum ducens, quotiens in hoſtem vibravit, victor rediit. Ferebaturque eadem eſſe, quæ Dominico lateri in manu militis infixa, paradiſum mortalibus aperuit. Vexillum quoque Beatiſſimi Martyris Mauritii, Principis legionis Thebæorum, quo idem Rex Karolus in bello Hiſpanico quamlibet hoſtium aciem dirumpere conſueverat; diademaque ex auro multo & gemmis pretioſis ornatum; particulam inſuper ſanctæ Crucis cryſtallo incluſam, & portiunculam ſpineæ coronæ Domini eodem modo recluſam eidem transmiſit Regi.

Quinto anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXXVIII. Sanctus Dunſtanus Archiepiſcopus Cantuarienſis obiit in Chriſto, ſecundum Wilhelmum. Hic vir Dei inſtante die Aſcenſionis Domini ſolus exiſtens in oratione, ſalutabatur a ſanctis ſpiritibus Cherubim & Seraphim, & ſub his verbis ad vitam æternam intrandam invitabatur: Mandat tibi, quem pie deſideras, filius Dei, quatenus, paratus ſi es, venias, & diem hanc, ad cujus gaudium aſpiras, nobiſcum celebres. Reſponde, quid agere velis. Dunſtanus ait: Hodie ſolenniſſimus dies eſt, & incumbit mihi plane Verbum Dei plebi proponere, & oſtendere illi, quomodo ad hoc gaudium poſſit pervenire, propter quod multi convenient: nec poſſum eos decipere, & ideo hodie venire non poſſum. Qui dixerunt: Eja paratus eſto, ut ſaltem die Sabbati venias. Annuit iſte; & illi recedunt. Sub miſſa ergo præſentis feſtivitatis ter populo Verbum Dei propoſuit, ita ut non hominem, ſed Angelum Dei loqui putarent, & in ultimo ſermone obitum ſuum inſtare populo prædixit. Poſtea eodem die ſurrexit a menſa, & oratorium petiit, ac locum, ubi ſepeliri voluit, deſignavit, & mox langvere cœpit. Feria autem ſexta lecto decumbens, ſimul & Sabbato expectavit horam tranſitus ſui: & ſubito tribus vicibus cum lecto, in quo jacebat, usque ad ſuperiora elevatus eſt, & trabibus obſiſtentibus, ad terram leviter demiſſus eſt. Et tunc benedicens circumſtantes, cum ab omnibus eſſet reſponſum Amen, animam ſuam Deo reddidit, miraculis clarens multis.

Sexto anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCLXXXIX. Theodericus ſecundus Comes Hollandiæ obiit, ſecundum Vincentium, & juxta uxorem ſuam Hildegardem in Egmunda Monaſterio ſepelitur, cui ſucceſſit Arnulfus filius ejus, habens uxorem Luthgardum ſororem Theophaniæ, vel ſecundum alios, Cleophæ Imperatricis matris Ottonis hujus, & V. annis regens. Adaldagus Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis obiit plenus virtutibus, ſecundum Helmoldum, cui in Sedem ſucceſſit Libentius, vir ſanctitatis eximiæ, & præfuit V. annis. Hic primus omnium prædeceſſorum ſuorum conſecratus eſt a Suffraganeis ſuis, eratque vir literatiſſimus & in omni probitate conſpicuus. Hujus tempore Brema cœpit muro cingi.

Septimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXC. Bolizlaus Polonorum Chriſtianiſſimus Dux, ſecundum Vincentium, confœderatus cum Ottone Imperatore, omnem Slaviam, quæ eſt ultra Oderam flumen, tributis ſubjecit, nec non Ruthenos & Pruthenos, a quibus paſſus eſt Adelbertus Pragenſis Epiſcopus; cujus reliquias Bolezlaus Dux transtulit in Poloniam. Principes autem Slavorum illorum, qui Wynuli vel Wynithi dicuntur, fuerunt Myſſezlaus, Nakkon & Zederych, ſub quibus pax continua fuit, & Slavi ſub tributo Imperatori ſerviebant. Miſſezlaus autem Princeps Obotritorum palam Chriſtum Deum ſuum confitens, ſed clam ipſum negans, ſororem ſuam Deo conſecratam Hoditam nomine virginem Monaſterio Virginum, quod erat in Mykelingburg, ſubtraxit, & eam cuidam Bolizlao inceſtuoſiſſimo conjugio copulavit. Cæteras vero virgines, quæ ibidem repertæ ſunt, aut militibus ſuis nuptui tradidit, aut in terram Wilzorum ſive Ranorum transmiſit. Sicque Monaſterium illud deſolatum periit ex toto.

Octavo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXCI. Cleopha ſeu Theophania Imperatrix & mater Ottonis Imperatoris, ſecundum Egghardum, obiit, & in Quedelinburg ſepulta dicitur. Annona in Hiſpania pluit de cœlo, ſecundum Vincentium, in magna abundantia. Piſciculi etiam parvi referuntur cecidiſſe de cœlo.

De Gregorio V. Papa CXLV.

Gregorius, qui & Bruno, Ottonis, I. filius, natione Saxo, ſedit annis V. menſibus V. & diebus XV. ſecundum Martinum. Hic ad inſtantiam Ottonis III. in Papam eſt electus de Archiepiſcopatu patu Colonienſi. Poſt breve tempus hunc Papam Gregorium Creſcentius Patricius fugavit, & Epiſcopum Placentiæ in Papatum intruſit. Otto autem Imperator cum in ſua electione multos habuiſſet Principes contradictores, nobilis Benno Dux Saxoniæ & frater ſuus Ludderus, filii Hermanni Ducis Saxoniæ filii Wylingi, fideliter ei aſſiſterunt, & eorum auxilio Romam perductus, Auguſtalem ſuſcepit coronam a Gregorio, quem repoſuit in Sedem ſuam, depulſo intruſo. Deinde de Roma in Apuliam ad Sanctum Angelum cauſa peregrinationis transivit, & reditum Beneventum faciens, per Galliam in Saxoniam eſt reverſus.

Nono anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXCII. Arnulfus Archiepiſcopus Rhemenſis, ſecundum Vincentium, per Synodum totius Franciæ deponitur & degradatur, ab omnibus Ordinibus ſacris privatur, & Gilbertus loco ejus Archiepiſcopus inſtituitur. Sed poſt invento, quod Arnulfus degradari non potuit abſque conſenſu & auctoritate Papæ, Gilbertus deponitur. Qui depoſitus, ad Ottonem Imperatorem ſe contulit. Quem Imperator benivole receptum, primo ipſum Ravennenſem, & poſtea Romanum fecit Epiſcopum, ut ſupra tactum fuit primo anno Ottonis. Ibi autem dictus eſt Rodolfus, qui depoſitus dicebatur. Gilbertus autem hic poſt tertium ſuum Epiſcopatum fecit de ſeſe hunc verſum:

Decimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXCIII. Bellum grande fuit inter Arnulfum Comitem Hollandiæ tertium & Friſones, ſecundum Egghardum, in quo dictus Arnulfus Comes occubuit cum maxima ſtrage ſuorum, & in Monaſterio Egmunda ſepultus eſt, cui ſucceſſit Theodericus filius ejus una cum fratre ſuo Sigifrido. Eccleſia in Gandersheym dedicata eſt hoc anno, ſecundum Chronicam Saxonum per Epiſcopum Hiltinsheymenſem, & pluribus bonis dotata.

Undecimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXCIIII. Libentius Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis obiit in Domino, ſecundum Helmoldum, cui ſucceſſit in Sedem Unwanus, clariſſimo genere ortus, largus & ab omnibus dilectus, & ſedit in Eccleſia illa XVI. annis fructuoſe & utiliter valde. Berwardus, vir Deo devotus, claris ortus natalibus, ſecundum Egghardum, ex filia Comitis Palatini, in Hiltinsheym literis eruditus fuit. Hic peritus extitit in arte ſculptoria & aurifabricatoria, caſtrum Sommerſchenburg avi ſui jam ſenis prudenter regens. Tandem ejus bona fama ad aures Ottonis Imperatoris perlata, ipſum vocavit ad curiam ſuam, & inſtructor ac rector ipſius factus eſt. De quo officio, defuncto Genbago Epiſcopo Hiltensheymenſi, ipſe in Epiſcopum ibidem eſt electus & confirmatus. Quem Epiſcopatum induſtria multa gubernans, reditibus, libris, ornamentis & clenodiis diverſis ex auro & argento ſubtiliter elaboratis proprüs manibus ampliavit. Crucem etiam quandam faciens argenteam, nec habens niſi tres Dominici ligni partes, quas operi ſuo imponeret, Angelus Domini quartam partem Sanctæ Crucis ei de cœlo attulit, & in ſinum ſuum locavit. Hic S. Michaëlis Monaſterium in Hiltensheym miro opere decoratum, & divitiis multis dotatum extruxit, in quo & ipſe habitum S. Benedicti induit, & religioſam vitam ducens, bono fine ipſam terminavit.

Duodecimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXCV. Sanctus Odilio in Burgundia ex Clerico Bervacenſi, ſecundum Sigibertum, Monachus profeſſus, Cluniaci fit Abbas, & rexit Monaſterium illud LVI. annis, miro religionis fervore. Hic plures animas a laqueis diaboli & tormentis liberavit, ut quidam Sanctus in recluſorio degens, retulit cuidam Fratri de peregrinatione Jeroſolymitana redeunti. Eripuit etiam hic Sanctus Abbas Benedictum Papam de purgatorio. In Herthene villa Colonienſi, ſecundum Egghardum, dives quidam ruſticus Nicolaus arietem quendam ſericis veſtitum, malo ſive perticæ altæ impoſuit, atque juxta theatrum erexit. Erat enim dies feriatus, & convenit multitudo virorum & mulierum. Ubi clamatum fuit voce præconaria, ut choream circa arietem ducerent, & remota omni perſonarum acceptatione, quicunque in chorizando alios excelleret, illum arietem cum ſuis inſigniis ſibi vendicaret. Hoc ut Sacerdos Henricus, illius Eccleſiæ Paſtor, intellexit, ſciens, ludum hujusmodi ſpeciem idololatriæ ſapere & prætendere, ad locum illum acceſſit, & ne chorea talis fieret, admonuit & prohibuit. Ac ut majorem eis incuteret terrorem, ſub pœna excommunicationis eam interdixit. Illi vero verba Sacerdotis non curantes, neque excommunicationem formidantes, cum ornamentis ſertorum ſe ad choream præparaverunt. Tunc Sacerdos ille dolens & ingemiſcens, ac plagæ filiorum Iſrael choreas ducentium circa vitulum reminiſcens, conſtanti voce exclamavit: Audite filii & filiæ omnes inobedientiæ mirabilia, quæ operatus eſt Deus olim, & hodie operaturus eſt in iſto loco. Plaga illa terribilis, quæ olim filios Iſrael idololatras caſtigavit, premat, precor, hanc contumaciam veſtram in tantum, ut filii veſtri, qui de vobis naſcentur, non ſufficiant enarrare filiis ſuis. Mirum in modum, imprecatione hac facta Sacerdotis, cum aër eſſet ſereniſſimus, mox cœperunt coruſcare fulgura, & mugire tonitrua, ac tanta grando deſcendere, ut non ſolum locus ille inobedientiæ, ſed & omnis regio circumcirca, unde populus tam vanus confluxerat, nimis terribiliter plagaretur; percuſſumque eſt univerſum pecus terræ illius, ac ipſum idolum vi tempeſtatis illius ita eſt comminutum, ut nec ungula quædam ex eo appareret, & circiter XXX. homines in illa chorea perierunt fulmine percuſſi, & præcipue illi, qui cauſa illius mali extiterunt.

Tertio decimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXCVI. Hugone Rege Francorum defuncto, ſecundum Sigibertum, Robertus filius ejus fit Rex Francorum XXXIIII. & regnavit tot annis. Iſte Rex Robertus fuit in cantu Eccleſiaſtico non mediocriter doctus. Nam ſequentiam pulcram fecit de Spiritu Sancto, puta Sancti Spiritus aſſit nobis gratia; & compoſuit Reſponſorium Judea & Jeruſalem. Hic die quadam cum eſſet Romæ, in vigilia Apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli obtulit quandam ſchedulam ſuper altare. Putantibus autem Clericis, ipſum aliquod magnum munus obtuliſſe, repererunt illam ſchedulam, in qua ſcriptum erat Reſponſorium Cornelius centurio &c. cum verſu ſuo, quod ipſe Rex cum nota ſua compoſuerat. Fecit, ſecundum Vincentium, & Reſponſorium de omnibus Sanctis Concede nobis Domine, quis &c. Fuit autem hic Robertus manſvetus, religionis amator, & bene literatus, Gerberti Philoſophi diſcipulus. Fuit etiam largus & eleemoſynarius magnus. Cum autem uxor ſua Conſtantia, filia Comitis Provinciæ, eſſet amara & tenacisſima, quando ipſe cuiquam aliquid dedit, dixit: Vide, ne hoc videat Conſtantia. In feſtivis autem diebus cum ſe indueret vel exueret veſtibus Regiis, ſi non aliud ad manum habebat, ipſas veſtes pauperibus distribuebat, niſi ex induſtria veſtiarii egenos expellerent importune petentes aut coërcerent.

De Johanne XVII. PP. CXLVI.

Johannes Papa, natione Græcus ex patre Philippo, ſedit menſibus X. ſecundum Martinum. Iſtum Creſcentius Patricius fecit Papam, fugato Gregorio, eo quod idem Papa Johannes eſſet Epiſcopus Placentinus multum pecunioſus. Quod Otto Imperator percipiens, cum maximo furore ad Urbem venit, & Creſcentium in Caſtro S. Angeli obſedit, quousque ipſum captum cum caſtro capite truncaret. Ipſum vero intruſum Papam, ab omnibus Epiſcopis condemnatum, oculisque orbatum, in cæteris membris debilitavit, & Gregorium Sedi reſtituit. Demum Imperator, ordinatis Imperii rebus, ſecum aliquos Nobiles Romanos ducens, in Saxoniam rediit.

Quarto decimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini DCCCCXCVII. Baſilica S. Stephani in Halberſtad combuſta eſt, ſecundum Chronicam Saxonum, ſed a Hildemaro Epiſcopo eſt reædificata & conſecrata in die S. Galli auxilio fere XX. Epiſcoporum. Ad cujus Eccleſiæ dedicationem Otto Imperator cum Adelheyde uxore ſua, & totius Saxoniæ Optimatibus præſens aderat cum eis ſolennizando. Sanctus Adelbertus Epiſcopus Pragenſis, ſecundum Sigibertum, eſt martyrizatus ab infidelibus.

De Silveſtro V. PP. CXLVII.

Silveſter Papa, natione Gallicus ex patre Roberto, ſedit annis VI. & menſibus X. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte alias Gilbertus dictus, a pueritia Monachus Floriacenſis, adolevit in diœceſi Aurelianenſi. Sed de religione apoſtatans, venit in Hiſpaniam, ubi Chriſtiani Tholetum, & Sarraceni Hiſpalim urbem, quam Sibiliam vulgariter nominant, caput regni habentes, divinationibus & incantationibus ſtudent. Et veniens Hiſpalim ad ſtudium, in tantum profecit, quod etiam magni Domini diſcipuli ejus fierent, puta Otto Imperator, Robertus Rex Franciæ, & Leothericus poſt Epiſcopus Senonenſis. Studuit etiam ibidem cantus avium & violatus earum myſterium. Quadruvium quoque totum ebibit, ita ut poſtea ille artes in Galliam revocaret, jam dudum abolitas. Robertus autem Rex Franciæ factus, fecit ipſum Archiepiſcopum Rhemenſem, ubi ipſe fecit arte magica horologium & organa hydraulica, ubi mirabiliter per aquarum violentiam calefactarum implet ventus emergens concavitatem barbati (leg. barbiti) & per multiforatiles tractus æreæ fiſtulæ modulantes voces emittunt. Hoſpitabatur namque iſte Gilbertus adhuc juvenis quodam tempore, ſecundum Vincentium, apud quendam Philoſophum, quem primo precibus, poſtea vero expenſis magnis & promiſſis promeruit. Iſte Philoſophus unum habebat codicem totius artis magicæ conſcriptum, quem nullo modo Gilbertus extorquere poterat a magiſtro ſuo. Sed tandem adjutorio filiæ ipſius Philoſophi ſibi familiaris, librum prædictum ſub cervicali poſitum furatus eſt, & cum libro illo aufugit. Philoſophus autem de ſomno excitatus, indicio ſtellarum fugientem inſecutus eſt. Profugus vero eadem arte periculum perſpiciens, ſub ponte ligneo, qui proximus erat, ſe occultavit, pendulus inter pontem & aquam, ſic pontem amplectens, ut nec aquam nec terram tangeret, & ita inſequentem illuſit. Veniens autem ad mare Gilbertus, accerſito diabolo per incantationes, perpetuum illi paciſcitur homagium, ſi ſe ab illo, qui denuo ſe inſequebatur, defenſatum ultra pelagus eveheret. Quod & factum eſt. Veniens autem in Galliam, publicas ſcholas profeſſus eſt, habens & Philoſophos & ſtudiorum ſocios Conſtantium Abbatem Monaſterii S. Maximini, quod eſt ultra Aurelianis, ad quem edidit Regulam de Abaco; Adelboldum Epiſcopum Wirziburgenſem, qui fecit Epiſtolam ad eundem Gilbertum de Quæſtione Diametri ſuper Macrobium. Habuit etiam diſcipulos nobiliſſimos, puta Ottonem filium Ottonis Imperatoris, & Robertum filium Hugonis Zapheth; qui Robertus poſtea Rex Francorum factus, fecit Gilbertum Archiepiſcopum Rhemenſem. Urgebat autem Gilbertus fortunam ſuam fautore diabolo, ut nichil, quod ſemel cogitaſſet, in vanum relinqueret. Unde theſauros olim a gentibus defoſſos, arte Magica inventos, cupiditatibus ſuis implicabat. Erat autem ſtatua ærea juxta Romam vel ferrea, dextræ manus indicem extenſum habens & ſcriptum in capite: Hic percute. Quod antiquorum temporum homines ita intelligendum putabant, ut ibi theſaurum invenire deberent, & ideo eam multis ſecuribus laniaverant. Gilbertus autem ſole meridiano notans, quo protenderetur umbra digiti, ibi palum fixit, & ſuperveniente nocte, ſolo cubiculario lucernam deferente contentus, illuc properavit, ibique terram fodiens, latum patefecit ingreſſum. Ubi viderunt ingentem regiam, aureos parietes, aurea laquearia, omnia aurea, milites lites aureos teſſeris aureis ludentes, Regem aureum cum Regina aurea diſcumbentem. Appoſita omnia, & miniſtri aſtantes magni ponderis & præſcii erant, in quibus materiam excellebat opus. In interiori autem parte domus, carbunculus valde nobilis & rarus tenebras noctis fugabat. E regione ſtabat puer, tenens arcum extento nervo & ſagitta immiſſa. Continuo autem ut aliquis manum ad contingendum aliquid aptaret, videbantur omnes illæ imagines proſilire & impetum facere in præſumtorem. Quo timore preſſus Gilbertus, nichil tetigit. Cubicularius autem putans, in tanta præda parvum furtum latere, cultellum arripuit mirabilis operis & pretii, moxque omnibus imaginibus cum fremitu exurgentibus, puer arcum tenens, ſagittam jecit in carbunculum, & tenebras induxit. Et niſi monitu Gilberti cultellum reponere acceleraſſet, graves pœnas ambo ſuſtinuiſſent. Simile legitur in Hiſtoria Scholaſtica, III. R. quarto de morte David, ubi dicitur, quod David & Salomon multos theſauros abſconderunt in loculis mechanico opere factis ſub terra, quorum theſaurorum tria millia talenta auri Hircanus levavit de ſepulcro David, ut obſidionis injuriam tolleret, & cenodoxia conſtrueret. Unde patet, eundem Hircanum prophetia & fortitudine clarum, ſecundum Joſephum, hujus commenti non ignarum fuiſſe. Herodes autem, qui magis præſumtione quam conſilio idem aggredi voluit, multos ex ſatellitibus igne ex interiori parte prodeunte conſumtos amiſit. Dicitur etiam de quodam Monacho de Barchinona nato, filio cujusdam pauperis, quod, cum adhuc eſſet ſeptem annorum, venit in Italiam, quærens panem. Sed cum eſſet adultus factus, multa mirabilia illius terræ inſpexit. Inter quæ montem perforatum vidit, ultra quem accolæ dicebant theſauros Octaviani reconditos, ferebanturque multi periiſſe, quærendo illos per ſubterraneos anfractus. Hic ergo adoleſcens, ſtudio videndi & prædandi, XII. comites habuit, qui ſecum pergerent, portantes ingens glomus filorum, ſequentes ingenium Dædali, qui Theſeum de Labyrintho per filum eduxit. Paxillum ergo in ingreſſu fixerunt, filum alligantes. Veſpertiliones autem de cavernis exeuntes, oculos & ora eorum infeſtabant. Semita namque arta erat, & a læva præcipitium, ſub quo labens fluvius currebat. Viderunt etenim tramitem plenum cadaveribus eorum, qui theſauros inquirendo perierant. Tandem ad ingreſſum interiorem pervenientes, viderunt ſtagnum placitum & pontem æreum, & ultra pontem viderunt equos aureos miræ magnitudinis cum ſeſſoribus aureis, & cæteris, quæ de Gilberto ſupra dicta ſunt. Unde cum unus pontem transire pararet, mox pontis pede uno depreſſo, alter elevatus produxit ruſticum æreum cum æreo malleo, quo ille undas verberans, ita obnubilavit aëra, ut diem cœlumque obtexerit; retracto vero pede, pax & ſerenitas fuit. Tentatumque eſt idem a pluribus illis comitibus, & idem expertum eſt. Deſperantes ergo ſolo viſu lambebant aurum, & poſt per veſtigia glomeris egreſſi, pateram argenteam repererunt, quam inter ſe partiti ſunt. Poſtera die habito conſilio, magiſtrum quendam adierunt, qui dicebatur nomen Domini ineffabile ſcire. Quem multo pretio conductum perduxerunt jejunum & confeſſum, qui duxit eos ad fontem, de quo hauſta aqua in phiala argentea tacens literis figurabat, donec illi oculis apertis intellexerunt, quod farinon poſſet Tunc ad montem fiducialiter acceſſerunt, ſed exitum ulteriorem a dæmonibus obſeratum invenerunt invidentibus Nomini Domini, cujus tanta virtus eſſe dicitur, ut nulla ei magica nullaque Matheſis obſiſtere poſſit Magis tamen credibile eſt, ſecundum Vincentium, nomen dæmonis magiſtrum in aqua ſcripſiſſe, & non nomen Domini, ſicut legitur in Vita S. Silveſtri de Zambri Mago, quod prolatione illius nominis, quod dicebat eſſe nomen Domini ineffabile, taurum ferocem interfecit. Audiens autem quidam Judæus Nigromanticus, ſecundum Wilhelmum in Chronicis, quod præfatus magiſter nichil egerat, ait ad juvenem illum: Videbis, quantum efficere poſſit ars mea. Qui incunctanter montem introiens, non multo poſt regreſſus eſt, multa afferens ad indicium ſui tranſitus, quæ juvenis ultra montem fuiſſe notaverat. Inter quæ & pulverem locupletiſſimum attulerat, quo, quicquid contingeret, in aurum vertebat, non quod ita in veritate eſſet, ſed quod ita videbatur eſſe, quousque aqua diluebatur. Hic Gilbertus apoſtatans a religione, fecit homagium diabolo, ut ſibi omnia ad votum ſuccederent. Quod etiam ſibi diabolus promiſit, cum quo de deſideriis ſuis familiariter loquebatur, & præcipue de horroribus & ſtatibus dignitatum, quas plurimum ambiebat. Secundum deſiderium ergo ſuum conſecutus eſt magnas dignitates, & cum ultimo Papa exiſteret, quæſivit a diabolo, quamdiu vivere deberet. Reſpondit ei dæmon: Quamdiu non celebraveris in Jeruſalem. Qui valde gaviſus ſperabat, ſe tantum a morte diſtare, quantum diſtabat a voluntate peregrinationis Jeroſolymitanæ, quam nunquam proponeret attentare. Eſt autem Romæ Eccleſia dicta Jeruſalem, id eſt viſio pacis, quia quilibet ad eam fugiens ſalvatus eſt, cujuscunque etiam criminis reus exiſtat. In illa autem Eccleſia Papa miſſam tenetur cantare tribus diebus in anno, ex quibus intitulatur Statio Jeruſalem. Cum ergo una illarum dierum, puta in Quadrageſima miſſam celebraret in prædicta Eccleſia, ex ſtrepitu dæmonum ſenſit, ſibi mortem imminere. Unde ingemiſcens, licet ſceleratiſſimus eſſet, non tamen deſperavit de Dei miſericordia. Vocatis ergo Cardinalibus & omni populo, coram eis facinora ſua deplorans confeſſus eſt. Unde omnia membra, quibus diabolo obſequium præſtiterat, juſſit præcidi, & membratim foras Eccleſiam projici, dicens: Habeat membrorum officium, qui eorum quæſivit homagium. Truncum vero mortuum ſuper bigam poni juſſit, ut ubicunque animalia ducerent, & ſubſiſterent, ibi ſepeliretur. Quod & factum eſt; & ſepultus eſt in Eccleſia Lateranenſi nenſi. Et in ſignum conſecutæ miſericordiæ, ſepulcrum ipſius tam ex tumultu oſſium, quam ex ſudore præſagium eſt Papæ morituri, ſicut in eodem ſepulcro eſt literis exaratum.

Quinto decimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini D CCCC XCVIII. Scholaris quidam pauper, ſed Nigromanticus, ſecundum Wilhelmum, ſpiritus tetros in vitro comprehendere & ſigillare deſiderans, & ſolus ad locum eorum accedere non præſumens, quendam prædonem pauperem, ſed audacem ſibi ſociavit, multa ei promittens. In montem ergo concavum & longo antro tenebroſum ſimul gradiuntur. Prædo autem vitrum tenuit, & Scholaris dæmones ſuis conjurationibus evocavit, & vitro incluſit ac ſigillavit. Quo peracto, regreſſi ſunt. Scholaris ergo vitrum a prædone poſtulavit, ſed ille primo trepide, poſtea vero conſtanter vitrum reddere negavit, & niſi ſcholaris quieſceret, ſe vitrum fracturum comminatus eſt. Vocabatur autem prædo ille Heyno. Scholaris ergo vitrum petere non deſiſtens, licet timeret, vitrum a prædone frangi, fortius inſtitit. Quod audiens prædo, vitrum ad quercum illidens, totum comminuit. Spiritus vero liberati quaſi gratulando clamabant: Sic Heyno ſic! So Heyne ſo! Et tantus erat clamor, quaſi quodlibet folium arboris vociferaret, eadem verba ſæpe reiterantes.

Sexto decimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini D CCCC XCIX. Imperatrix cum ſe cuidam militi proſtituere vellet, & ille nefas abhorrens negaret, mulier ipſum apud Ottonem Imperatorem in tantum accuſans deturpavit, quod Imperator ipſum militem ſine audientia decollari fecit. Qui vadens ad mortem, rogavit uxorem ſuam, ut judicio candentis ferri poſt mortem ipſius innocentiam ſuam comprobaret. Advenit dies, quo Imperator viduis & pupillis promiſerat judicium & juſtitiam facere. Affuit & vidua caput viri ſui portans, & quæſivit ab Imperatore, qua pœna dignus eſſet, qui aliquem innocentem injuſte occidiſſet. At ille: privari capite deberet. Cui illa, tu, inquit, es ille, qui maritum meum ad ſuggeſtionem meretricis uxoris tuæ occidiſti. Et hoc verum eſſe, judicio candentis ferri probabo. Quod cum ab ea fieret, nec in aliquo mulier læderetur, Imperator obſtupuit, & in manus fœminæ puniendum ſe tradidit. Interventu tamen Pontificum & Procerum inducias X. dierum, deinde VIII. poſt VII. & ultimo VI. a vidua impetravit. Tunc Imperator, veritate cognita, uxorem ſuam concremavit, & pro redemtione ſua quatuor caſtra viduæ dedit, quæ caſtra nominantur ab induciis X. VIII. VII. & ſex usque in præſentem diem.

Decimo ſeptimo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini M. ſecundum computationem Dionyſii, multa prodigia viſa ſunt. Nam terræmotus maximus factus eſt. Cometes apparuit XIX. Kal. Jan. circa horam X. aperto cœlo quaſi facula ardens, cum longo tractu fulguris inſtar turris illabatur terræ, cum tanto ſplendore, ut non ſolum, qui in agris erant, ſed etiam in tectis, irrupto lumine ferirentur. Qua cœli ſciſſura disparente, in terra viſa eſt figura quaſi ſerpentis, capite quidem creſcente cum cœruleis pedibus. Fulbertus Carnotenſis Epiſcopus, ſecundum Vincentium, ſanctitate & ſcientia nominatiſſimus, ac Virgini Beatiſſimæ devotiſſimus, de Virginis ejusdem lacte ſanctiſſimo recreatus fuiſſe dicitur in ſua infirmitate. Hic inter alia laudabilia Reſponſorium Stirps Jeſſe, & Solem juſtitiæ, ac Ad Nutum Domini, cum ſuis verſibus, nec non Chorus novæ Jeruſalem compoſuit ob Virginis Mariæ honorem.

Decimo octavo anno Ottonis, qui eſt Domini MI. Otto Imperator Creſcentio devicto, ſecundum Sigibertum, magnum palatium Romæ conſtruere cœpit, ſed Romanis reclamantibus, ipſe eisdem multas perſecutiones intulit. Converſus Wilhelmi Abbatis de Hildigenshuſen nomine Conradus, ſecundum Egghardum in Chronicis, a curia Romana rediens, teſtabatur, ſe exiſtente in curia Romana ſequens factum contigiſſe. Erat in urbe prædicta quædam matrona dives valde, nobilis & devota, quæ poſt viri ſui mortem propoſuerat in caſtitate vivere, & Deo fideliter ſervire. Quam quidam Romanus Nobilis, licet pauper, in uxorem petiit, motus ad hoc morum honeſtate ipſius mulieris pariter & divitiarum abundantia. Ipſa vero, quia caſtitatis amatrix erat, & continere propoſuerat propter Deum, ipſius connubium prima facie contemſit, ſed tamen perſvaſionibus & precibus amicorum victa, tandem licet contra ſuum propoſitum eidem nupſit. Cumque cum viro iſto per breve tempus fuiſſet converſata, & in eo nullum religionis ſignum perpendiſſet aut devotionis, triſtis effecta dixit ei: Væ mihi miſeræ mulieri, quod tam infideli viro conjuncta ſum. Cui ille: Et quid tibi diſplicet in me bona uxor? Reſpondit mulier: Nullum Chriſtianitatis ſignum in vobis perpendo. Non enim jejunatis, nec ad Eccleſiam pergitis, non datis eleemoſynam, nec quicquam, quod pietatis eſt, in vobis relucet. Nolo ergo amplius vobiscum manere, ſed bona mea volo vobiscum dividere, & recedere. Audiens Nobilis ille ſeriem (f. ſermonem) uxoris, & timens confuſionem receſſus ejus, promiſit, ſe libenter facturum, quicquid ſibi mulier faciendum injungeret. Cui illa; volo, inquit, ergo illa, ut ad talem Sacerdotem vadatis, & ei puram confeſſionem peccatorum veſtrorum faciatis, ac juſſionibus ipſius acquieſcatis. Vir ille uxori contradicere formidans, confeſſionem dictam adiit, & ficte ſibi confitens, ad uxorem rediit, dicens: Feci, quod juſſiſti, & quæ mihi Confeſſor injunxit, libenter implebo. Tunc illa, ut vobis, inquit, credere valeam, primo jejunare debetis per tot dies, & poſtea, me vidente, recipere debetis corpus Domini Noſtri Jeſu Chriſti. Ad quod verbum vir turbatus nimis, eo quod hæreticus eſſet, & Sacramentum Euchariſtiæ minime crederet, reſpondit: Quare talia exigis a me? Bonum, ait mulier, eſt vobis & michi. Miſer ille, ut ſuſpicionem uxoris tolleret, expleto jejunio, Sacramentum a Sacerdote petiit, & accepit, ſed mox de Eccleſia egreſſus, ipſum de ore extraxit, traxit, & in manu occultavit. Cumque reversus fuisset in domum suam, advertit porcos in stabulo siliquas comedere. Quibus, cum retrospexisset, & neminem vidisset apud se, Sacramentum immiscuit & recessit. Mirum in modum, bruta illa animalia Creatorem suum adesse cognoscentes, mox cibum suum reliquerunt, a vase recedentes, & curvatis genibus, tam vocis grunnitu quam narium flatu, unanimiter Sacramento reverentiam exhibuerunt. Quo viso, miser ille statim rediit, & Sacramentum in superficie illius decoctionis squalidæ cernens natare, totaliter ipsum comminuit per baculum, & sicut prius, liquoribus immersit & recessit. Rediens vero ad horæ spatium, reperit, ut prius, Sacramentum in superficie siliquarum integrum & candidum, ac suis poplitibus flexis ipsum adorantes. Tunc vesanus ille contemtum contemtui jungens, corpus sacratissimum indignanter rapuit, & in ignem projecit. Sed mox de igne exiliens, in sinum suum saltavit. Cumque secundo & tertio immisisset, & totiens exilisset, cum indignatione maxima illud de sinu tollens, flammis injecit, & pede conculcavit. Tunc mox iterum exiliens, tanquam sagitta contra pectus ejus impegit, cor ipsius misericorditer tangens. Unde tot & tanta videns miracula, protinus ad mentem rediit, & quod contra Deum graviter exorbitasset, cognovit. Sumto ergo Sacramento, ad uxorem suam perrexit, & rei gestæ ordinem cum multis lacrymis sibi indicavit. Quæ mox ipsum monuit, ut ad Papam pergeret, & sibi confitendo, ab ipso pœnitentiam reciperet. Quod cum fecisset, omnes sui erroris Consectaneos Anstititi prodidit, quos Papa ad viam veritatis redire nolentes judicio seculari tradidit puniendos.

Decimo nono anno Ottonis, qui est Domini MII. Otto Imperator remisse agens, secundum Vincentium, cum Romanis tractare cœpit, qvaliter regni & Ecclesiæ regimen ad antiquum statum reduceret. In quibus cum occuparetur, subito contra ipsum Romani conspiraverunt, & aliquibus militibus ejus interfectis, ipsum in palatio obsederunt. Unde per industriam Henrici Ducis Bawarorum, & Hugonis Marchionis Italiæ simulato pacto vix extractus, Roma discessit cum Silvestro Papa. Et quia uxor Crescentii Imperatorem spe regnandi ad amorem suum traxerat, dolens de ejus recessu, misit ei venenum. Quo sumto, ipse in itinere constitutus, in Italia moritur. Milites autem transalpini corpus Imperatoris defuncti cum insignibus Imperialibus ad Teuthoniam deferentes, crebris Italorum incursibus lacessiti, armis sibi viam faciebant. Sed cum jam res in tuto esse putaretur, Dux Bawariæ Henricus, injuriato Heriberto Colonienſi Archiepiscopo, a cujus ore omnes pendebant sententiæ, insignia regni ab eo violenter extorsit, quasi jure hæreditario sibi competentia. Erat quippe filius Henrici Ducis, qui fuit genitus de Henrico fratre Ottonis primi Imperatoris. Et licet isti tres Ottones per successionem generis regnaverint, postea tamen statutum est, ut per Officiales Imperii Imperator eligatur, agitante hoc Heriberto Colonienſi Archiepiscopo, ne amplius in una domo tantum Principatus mundi per successionem generis maneret. Ad hanc autem electionem faciendam constituti sunt VII. Principes, quibus datum est jus in perpetuum hæreditarium Imperatorem futurum eligendi, ut puta Principibus Imperii potioribus, super quos nullum Principem in curia Imperatoris licitum est locari, prout plenius patebit in Bulla Aurea Karoli IIII. inferius inferenda, quam quidem Bullam ipse Karolus de communi consensu Principum Electorum instituit & ordinavit in perpetuum duraturam. Jus autem hujusmodi electionis vigorem suum sortitur ex tribus: primo ex institutione Ecclesiæ, ut apparet Extra de Electione Can. Venerabilem. Secundo ex Principum Imperii arbitrio & approbatione, prout patebit in præallegata Bulla Aurea Karoli Quarti. Tertio ex consuetudine laudabili servata inconcusse usque in præsentem diem, quæ vim legis obtinet, & magnæ auctoritatis existit, ut patet Extra de Consuetudinibus C. Cum Consuetudinis. Principes autem Electores qui sint vel esse debeant, suo loco patebit. Otto Imperator, secundum Egghardum, beneficio, imo potius maleficio chirotecarum venenatarum & annulo venenato excepit mortem. Quæ cum uxor Crescentii, in cujus amorem adulterinum exarserat, sibi misisset, & ipse ea induisset, mox intoxicatus obiit anno vitæ suæ XXXIX.

De Henrico II. Imp. LXXXII.

Henricus II. filius Henrici Ducis, filii Henrici fratris Ottonis primi, Romanorum Imperator LXXXII. cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCCLXII. Olympiadis CCCCXLVI. anno quarto, Urbis conditæ MDCCLI. Domini vero MII. & annis XXII. imperavit. Iste, secundum Martinum, prius erat Dux Bawariæ, & reconciliatis sibi Electorum animis, ab ipsis eligitur in Regem Romanorum. Quod ideo fecerunt, quia vir potens & bellicosus erat ac generosus, ut puta Imperatorum trium Ottonum sanguini propinquus, a quibus non statim in primo videbatur totaliter recedendum esse; & mox in Regem inungitur a Willigiso Archiepiscopo Moguntino, quia Heribertus Archiepiscopus Colonienſis, ad quem spectat Regi primam coronam imponere, & ipsum in Regem ungere Aquisgrani, ipsum coronare renuit, eo quod insignia Imperialia post Ottonis mortem violenter de manibus ejus extorserat. Ipse tamen Rex humili satisfactione Archiepiscopo Colonienſi reconciliatus est. Iste Henricus potentiores regni, bella sibi concitare quærentes, celeriter devicit, Regesque Gentilium in interiore Germania commorantes, qui Windi dicuntur, tributarios sibi fecit & subditos. Primo anno Henrici, qui est Domini MIII. Heribertus Archiepiscopus Colonienſis fit amicus Regis Henrici, secundum Sigibertum. Hic Archiepiscopus diem obitus sui prædixit, cui successit Peregrinus in Sede.

De Johanne XVIII. PP. CXLVIII.

Johannes Papa, natione Catalanus ex patre Arnul-

Arnulfo, ſedit VII. menſibus & diebus VIII. ſecundum Martinum. Propter temporis brevitatem nichil dignum memoria ſuis geſſit diebus. Wago Epiſcopus Aldenburg, ſecundum Helmoldum, obiit in Domino virtutibus plenus, cui ſucceſſit in ſede Ezico, vir venerabilis valde & devotus.

Henricus Rex Romanorum Brandenburck urbem Novæ Marchiæ, ſecundum Egghardum, obſedit, & eam expugnavit, & omnem Slavorum terram rebellantem Imperio eidem ſubjecit. Tunc etiam auxilio Ducis Saxoniæ Bennonis, viri omni probitate conſpicui & defenſoris Eccleſiarum fides vigebat in Slavorum gente ad multa tempora.

Secundo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MIIII. Henricus Rex, ſecundum Vincentium, Henricum Marchionem de Brandenburg & alios ſibi rebelles cum exercitu armatorum compeſcuit a temeritate virtute belli ingentis.

De Johanne XIX. PP. Rom. CXLIX.

Johannes Papa, natione Romanus, qui & Faſanus dictus, ex patre Clemente, ſedit annis duobus & menſibus VII. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte ſimiliter, ſicut & prædeceſſor ſuus, nihil egit, quod ſcripturæ commendari congrue poſſit. Bruno Auguſtenſis Epiſcopus, ſecundum Vincentium, felicibus fratris ſui Henrici Regis actibus invidens, multas ei adverſitatum injurias irrogavit, cui Rex talionem non ſolum non reddidit, verum etiam fraternæ dilectionis & patientiæ bono illum vincere ſtuduit. Robertus Rex Francorum vita & ſanctimonia præclarus, ſecundum Wilhelmum, tantæ erat devotionis, quod in feſtivitatibus propter divinum officium omnino eſſe voluit in aliquo Monaſterio, & non ſolum cum Monachis cantare, verum etiam cappa ſerica indutus chorum regere ſolebat. Hic hoc anno cum quoddam caſtrum obſediſſet, dimiſſo exercitu propter feſtum S. Amani Aurelianis venit, & cum chorum regendo alta voce ter Agnus Dei flexis genibus intonaſſet, muri caſtri, quod obſederat, funditus corruerunt. Floruit etiam hoc tempore Alphegus Archiepiſcopus Cantuarienſis, ſecundum Wilhelmum. Hic primo Abbas Balnenſis, deinde ad inſtinctum S. Andreæ Apoſtoli factus eſt Epiſcopus Wintonienſis, & poſtea Archiepiſcopus Canthuarienſis, multis coruſcans miraculis. Hic ad ultimum martyrio eſt coronatus.

Tertio anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MV. Henricus Rex Valentianas caſtrum ſitum in Marchia Franciæ, ſecundum Vincentium, & Lotharingiæ obſedit, quod Balduinus Flandrenſium Comes invaſerat, quod gratiam Regis & ipſum caſtrum in beneficium ſibi dari pecunia promeruit. Giſelerus ſecundus Archiepiſcopus Magdeburgenſis, ſecundum Egghardum, obiit. Cometes horribili ſpecie, flammis undique ſparſis, in auſtrali parte viſus eſt, ſecundum Sigebertum; quod prodigium ſecutum eſt ſequenti anno fames valida. Monaſterium Claremontis in Gallia Ordinis S. Benedicti, ſecundum Sigebertum ſolennia habet interius commoda pro fratribus antiquioribus conſtructa, inter quæ una erat camera prope dormitorium commune, cujus inhabitator defunctus eſt; propter quod quidem commodum Fratres inter ſe contendere cœperunt. Diſſenſio hæc tandem deducta eſt ad aures Abbatis, ut ipſe judicaret, cui merito camera illa cedere deberet in uſum. Abbas autem Johannes dictus, cum vir pacis eſſet, optime perpendebat, quod, cuicunque ea adjudicaretur, aliis litigii & odii fomes miniſtraretur. Unde cogitans cogitationem pacis, cameram illam, quæ erat fomentum diſcordiæ, omnibus interdixit, & ipſam anathematiſavit. Quam quidem ſententiam omnes Fratres abhorrebant, nolentes amplius pro ejus inhabitatione laborare, præter unum inobedientiæ filium Sifridum nomine, qui Abbatis erat Capellanus & Secretarius. Hic in damnationem ſuam, latam ſententiam illam Patris ſui Abbatis non formidans, res ſuas in eam introduxit, & ſequenti nocte in ea dormivit. Mira res & ſtupendum factum! dum circa medium noctis eſſet captus, in illa camera ſurrexit tumultus & ſtrepitus, qui omnes Monachos excitavit, & in pavorem vertit. Ad quem ſtrepitum Abbas cum Fratribus ſurgens cum candelis & Sanctorum reliquiis, illum locum acceſſit. Quæ domus licet ut ſole multitudine candelarum illuminaretur, locus tamen ille, ubi frater in lecto jacebat, tenebroſus valde permanſit. Cumque locum illum aqua benedicta aſpergerent, ac letanias & alia devota cantica pſallerent, nec ob hoc ſtrepitus ille ceſſaret, ſed potius vehementius intonaret, allatum eſt ſacroſanctum corpus Dominicum. Quo præſens exiſtente, ceſſavit tumultus ille, & ecce, reſpicientes viderunt, fratrem illum inobedientem juxta locum ſuum jacere nigerrimum, ac ſi totus in igne jacuiſſet, & exuſtus fuiſſet.

Quarto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MVI. Hilpericus librum de Ratione Computi ſcripſit, ſecundum Egghardum, ut apparet ex argumento, ad inveniendos annos Domini per Indictiones. Si volueris, inquam, ſcire, quot ſint anni Incarnationis Chriſti, DXVI. ordines Indictionum, qui fluxerunt ab ejus Incarnatione, multipla per XV. & fient DCCCCXC. his adde XII. quia tertia Indictione natus eſt Chriſtus: adde etiam Indictionem præſentis anni IIII. & ecce habes hoc anno pro annis Chriſti MVI. Fames & epidemia grandis per totum orbem fere delevit, ſecundum Sigebertum, homines, ut inter ſepeliendum cum tædio vivi, ſpiritum adhuc trahentes, cum mortuis obruerentur. Goslarienſis civitas fundatur, ſecundum Chronica Saxonum, per Henricum II. Regem Romanorum in loco, ubi prius parvum ſtetit molendinum & tugurium exile venationi deſerviens. Quidam tamen volunt, eam eſſe fundatam ab Henrico I. ut ſupra anno DN. DCCCCXXX. patuit.

Quinto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MVII. Borchardus Wormatienſis Epiſcopus in Scripturis ſtudioſus, ſecundum Vincentium, primum magnum Canonum volumen a ſe editum, Scripturarum ſententiis undique compilatis latis defloratum ſtudentibus publicavit. Henricus Rex Babenbergenſem urbem, quæ fuit S. Petri Apoſtoli, ſecundum Egghardum, pro Narmienſi apud populum commutavit ſive permutavit.

De Sergio IIII. PP. Rom. CL.

Sergius Papa, natione Italicus ex patre Bernhardo, ſedit annis duobus & menſibus tribus, ſecundum Martinum. Hic Papa fuit ſanctæ vitæ & converſationis honeſtæ. Peregrinus vir ſanctæ religionis, ſecundum Sigibertum, Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis floruit. Hic per promotiones Henrici Regis factus eſt Archiepiſcopus ſatis mirabiliter. Nam Henricus Rex Dominica Quinquageſima venationi inſiſtens, ſolus ad interiora ſylvæ devenit, comitibus ſuis huc illucque diſperſis. Ibi enim habebat quidam Sacerdos, Eccleſiam, agreſtis homo & turpis formæ valde, nomine Peregrinus, & quaſi monſtrum exiſtens in natura. Rex vero militem ſe fingens, ſuppliciter Miſſam petit a Sacerdote, & hic confeſtim ſe præparat. Henricus autem Rex interim cogitabat, quare Deus, a quo cuncta formoſa procedunt, tam deformem hominem Sacramenta ſua conficere pateretur. Perventum eſt ergo ad Miſſæ introitum, qui incipit: Scitote, quoniam Dominus ipſe eſt Deus. In quibus verbis cum diſcordaret Clericus Scholaris a Sacerdote, ipſe Sacerdos concionatoris voce extollens fortius organum dixit: Ipſe fecit nos, & non ipſi nos. Quo dicto repercuſſus Rex, & Propheticum virum æſtimans, invitum ipſum fecit Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem. Hujus Epiſcopi tempore erat in Monaſterio Sanctimonialium ejusdem urbis quædam virgo, quæ ſpecie & dulci ſermone omnes ſuos amatores incendebat. Quorum amatorum unus dives & generoſus eam abduxit, & loco uxoris ea uſus fuit. Cui Nobili mandabat Archiepiſcopus, ut mulierem Monaſterio ſuo reſtitueret. Quem facere renuentem Epiſcopus excommunicavit, ſimiliter & eam. Cum autem Peregrinus Archiepiſcopus appropinquaret, termino vitæ ſuæ convenerunt amici excommunicati hominis, rogantes Epiſcopum, ut conſanguineum ipſorum abſolveret. Quibus reſpondit Archiepiſcopus: Si miſer ille maledictam illam mulierem deſeruerit, ſit abſolutus: ſi autem perſtiterit, ſequenti anno hac eadem die & hora, qua ego decedam, ſit ante tribunal Dei cum eadem reſponſuri ambo de malo, quod egerunt. Quæ cum Nobili illi dicerentur ab amicis, nec ipſe eam deſerere vellet, anno revoluto ambo fulmine percuſſi perierunt.

Sexto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MVIII. Henricus Rex, cum jam Henricum Marchionem cæterosque regni hoſtes ſuperaſſet, ſecundum Egghardum, ac Italiam, Bohemiam, Ungariam ac Boleslaum cum Slavorum gente ſibi ſubjugaſſet, data ſibi requie a Domino, conſiderat, ſe filios non habiturum, eo quod conſortem regni ſui Cunigundem adhuc carnaliter non cognoviſſet, ſed ut ſororem ſemper habuiſſet, Dominum omnium largitorem elegit hæredem. Unde providenti & prudenti uſus conſilio, Epiſcopatum in Babenberg in honorem S. Petri Apoſtoli Sanctique Georgii Martyris fundavit, locumque ipſum prædiorum divitiis & omni ornatus decore ditavit. In meridiana quoque civitatis parte Monaſterium Canonicorum Regularium in honorem S. Stephani Protomartyris conſtruens, & ſimiliter in aquilonari parte urbis aliud Monaſterium S. Benedicti Ordinis in honorem S. Michaelis conſtituens, aliis locis regni, prout opus erat, munificentiæ ſuæ impertiebatur largitatem. In hoc autem fundato Epiſcopio primum Præſulem inſtituit Everhardum, virum ſagacem & religioſum.

Septimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MIX. Theodericus Metenſis Epiſcopus, ſecundum Sigibertum, dotem & patrimonium Reginæ Cunegundis ſororis ſuæ Eccleſiæ Babenbergenſi a Rege Henrico delegari dolens, contra ipſum rebellare cœpit. Henricus Rex Stephano Regi Ungariæ Giſelam ſororem ſuam in uxorem dedit, ſecundum Sigibertum. Quæ antequam Regis lectum ingredi vellet, precibus & inſtantiis obtinuit, ut Rex ſe & totam ſuam gentem promitteret velle facere baptizari. Quod poſtea ita factum eſt. Et cum Rex baptizaretur in die S. Stephani, tale nomen ſortitus eſt, cujus merita poſt Dominus per multa miracula patefecit per totum regnum Ungarorum.

De Benedicto VIII. PP. CLI.

Benedictus Papa, natione Thuſcus, ex patre Alberico, ſedit annis XIII. & menſibus II. ſecundum Martinum. Hic poſt abjectus fuit, & alter ejus loco intruſus. De iſto Benedicto dicit Petrus Damiani, quod quidam Epiſcopus vidit ipſum in nigro equo quaſi corporaliter equitare poſt mortem ſuam, & dixit ei: Nunquid tu es Benedictus Papa, quem jam defunctum novimus? Cui ille: Ego ſum ille maledictus Benedictus. Et quomodo eſt tecum? inquit Pater. Graviter, inquit, torqueor, ſed de Dei miſericordia non deſpero, ſi mihi adjutorium præbeatur. Vade ergo ad ſucceſſorem meum Johannem Papam, & dic ei, ut in tali theca pecuniam accipiat, & pauperibus diſtribuat. Nam quicquid pro me datum fuit, huc usque nihil mihi profuit, quia de rapinis conquiſitum fuit. Quod Epiſcopus fideliter implevit, & Epiſcopatui renuncians, Monaſterium Monachorum intravit.

Octavo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MX. Peregrinus Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis obiit feliciter in Domino, in cujus ſedem ſucceſſit Herbertus, ſecundum Sigibertum. De iſto Herberto legitur in Vita S. Berwardi Epiſcopi Hiltinsheymenſis, quod, cum Berwardus una dierum ſederet in menſa ad januam ejus Scholaris Herbertus ſtipem mendicans. Quem S. Berwardus in ſpiritu cognoſcens futurum Colonienſem Archiepiſcopum, dixit famulo, ut cito cerneret, & Epiſcopum Colonienſem intromitteret. Famulus autem feſtinus ad portam venit, & circumſpiciens, neminem niſi Scholarem cum augustus vidit. Unde versatus in Dominicæ dedicationis festo Rex cruce, ejusdem altaris ornamento prominente, Colonienſi Archiepiſcopo, qui ſacra peragebat, ſuperpoſita, ſuam ſimul & Archiepiſcopi, Archiepiſcopalemque Pontificis, dein Regis manum ſanctæ crucis ſignaculo, ſuper ſacra Mysteriorum Sacramenta ſublimia, Pontificem juxta & Regem ſi diligere cernens, rubore perfuſus, ſuam ſubtraxit. Archiepiſcopus vero, Deum venerando, cuncta peragere laborabat. Rediens porro Colonia Regina Dei Genitricis Mariæ templum, ſuæ ſepulturæ ſedem, ingreſſa eſt. Ubi ſuperveniens Rex, ſuæ ſedi ſe locavit, ut ſic ſimul ſedentes Ad Crucem ejus ſalutare Dominum, ut ex ore ejus ſalutem ſuorum populorum percipere mererentur. Quod cum Archiepiſcopus ſuo more ſolemniter peregiſſet, Regina ſuum ſalutem, ſuæ ſedis ſalutem, ſuum Regem, ſuum Archiepiſcopum, ſuum populum, ſuum Regnum, ſuum Imperium, ſuam Ecclesiam

Pro Ecclesiæ Dei utilitate fuere, & Imperatore Friderico Barbarossa, & Henrico Leone Bavariæ Duce, & Friderico Archiepiscopo Moguntino, & Conrado Archiepiscopo Coloniensi, & Wichmanno Archiepiscopo Magdeburgensi.

Quadriennio ante Henrici, qui eft Domini 1172. Leonis Bavariæ Ducis exilium, Imperator Friderico Archiepiscopo Moguntino, qui pro Ecclesiæ Dei utilitate, ubi Papa Romæ fuit intronizatus, Romam ad Imperatorem venerat, Legationis officium mandavit, ut Colonienses Archiepiscopum Philippum, Henrici Leonis Ducis consanguineum, & Wichmannum Archiepiscopum Magdeburgensem, Henrici Leonis Ducis consanguineum, & Bernhardum Anhaltinum, Henrici Leonis Ducis consanguineum, & Albertum Comitem de Orlamunde, Henrici Leonis Ducis consanguineum, & Ottonem Comitem de Ravensberg, Henrici Leonis Ducis consanguineum, & Hermannum Comitem de Winzenburg, Henrici Leonis Ducis consanguineum, & Hermannum Comitem de Wirdenberg, Henrici Leonis Ducis consanguineum, & Hermannum Comitem de Orlamunde, Henrici Leonis Ducis consanguineum, & Hermannum ſumtus eſt, ut cute capitis in modum crucis inciſa, fere cerebrum ſingulis aperiretur. Deinde ligatis poſt terga manibus, per ſingulas Slavorum civitates tracti ſunt, donec deficerent. Similiter Aldenburg populoſam civitatem percuſſerunt in ore gladii & multos captivos per totam Slavorum terram in contemtum Chriſtianorum trahentes, diverſis pœnis affecerunt. Eodem modo in Mykelenburgenſi Monaſterio, Moniales & virgines ibidem repertas defloran-tes violaverunt. Godeſcalcus, etiam alius Slavorum Princeps a fide apoſtatatus, Chriſtianis multa mala intulit, & ſacra loca execrando dehoneſtavit, de quibus tamen poſt pœnituit. Hi Slavi per Regem Danorum & Bernhardum Ducem tandem ad fidem Chriſtianam & ad cenſum dandum ſunt reducti, non tamen ſine multa ſangvinis effuſione eorundem.

Decimo octavo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXX. Libentius Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis, ſecundum Helmoldum, ipſam Eccleſiam Hammeburgenſem, penitus deſolatam & deſtructam per Danos & Slavos, renovare cœpit, XII. Canonicos novos ibidem inſtituendo, eo quod antiqui interfecti fuerant anno præcedenti. Hæc, inquam, devaſtatio & deſolatio Eccleſiæ prædictæ, ſecundum eundem Helmoldum, facta dicitur ſub Unwano prædeceſſore Libentii ante dicti. Benedictus Papa, ſecundum Sigibertum, venit ad Imperatorem Henricum in Teutoniam, quem Imperator honorifice ſuſcepit & pertractavit, & cum eo deſcendens in Coloniam, Natale Domini inibi ambo celebraverunt, ubi Herbertum Colonienſem Archiepiſcopum, a ſe injurioſe tractatum, ex inductione Papæ humili ſatisfactione placavit.

Decimo nono anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXXI. Durandus fit Leodienſis Epiſcopus, ſecundum Vincentium. Iſte quaſi fabula in theatro mundi fuit, eo quod vir ex humilimo & pauperrimo genere ortus, Dominis ſuis Cardinalibus dominaretur. Nota ſervilis conditionis exemplum. Cynico Rex Anglorum Romam profectus peregrinationis gratia, ſecundum Helmoldum, navigio in Angliam rediit, & mox Marcolium Scotorum Regem rebellantem ſibi ſubjugavit. Erat etiam tunc in Anglia vir ſapientiſſimus Egelmodus Archiepiſcopus Canthuarienſis, ex Decano in Præſulem aſſumtus. Hic Romam tranſiens, in via apud Papiam brachium S. Auguſtini Doctorum Magiſtri, centum talentis argenti puri & uno talento auri comparatum ad Canthuariam transmiſit.

Viceſimo anno Henrici, qui eſt annus Domini MXXII. S. Berwardus Epiſcopus Hiltinsheimenſis, plenus virtutibus, obiit in Chriſto, poſt labores & tribulationes multas, quas pro Eccleſia ſua ſuſtinuit, ſecundum Egghardum. Hic vir Dei habitum Monachalem aſſumſit, antequam moreretur, veſtitus in Cœnobio S. Michaëlis ejusdem urbis, quod ipſe fundaverat, & ſepultus eſt in tumulo, quem ipſe foderat, præſcius diei obitus ſui. Terræ motus maximus factus eſt in Bavaria IIII. Idus Maji ſecundum Sigibertum, ex quo corruerunt turres multæ & domus, ac Eccleſiæ plures ſunt everſæ, populusque innumerus oppreſſus.

Viceſimo primo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXXIII. Volquardus Aldenburgenſis Epiſcopus defunctus eſt, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis Slavorum, vir magnæ perfectionis, cui ſucceſſit Benno, vir prudens & magnæ induſtriæ. Hic reordinavit reditus Eccleſiæ ſuæ & impenſas a Duce Bernhardo, quas Otto I. eidem Eccleſiæ deputaverat dandas a Slavis pro ſubſidio ſuſtentationis Fratrum annuatim. Illis enim temporibus, qui nunc Canonici dicuntur, pro tunc Fratres in omnibus Eccleſiis Cathedralibus Saxonum & Slavorum nuncupabantur, de quo nomine moderni Presbyteri nauſeam habent & verecundiam. Henricus Imperator curiam ſuam celebravit in Werben opido terræ Saxonum juxta Albiam ſito, ſecundum Helmoldum, ubi convenerunt omnes Principes Slavorum & Winulorum ad præſentiam Imperatoris, ſeque Imperio pro bono pacis & ſubjectionis obtemperaturos eſſe proteſtati ſunt. Ibique cum Benno Aldenburgenſis Epiſcopus in facie Imperatoris veterem pro Eccleſiæ ſuæ promotione innovaret querimoniam, interrogati a Cæſare Principes Slavorum de poſſeſſionibus ad jus Epiſcopi pertinentibus recognoverunt, memoratas urbes cum urbibus ſuæ Eccleſiæ & Pontifici debere pertinere. Præterea omnes Obotriti Ritznupolabi, Wagiri cæterique Slavorum populi, qui terminis Eccleſiæ Aldenburgenſis concludebantur, pollicit ſunt dare omnem cenſum, quem pro decimis Otto Magnus Eccleſiaſticis ſtipendiis ordinaverat. Sed ſtatim, ut Imperator receſſit, tam ipſi Principes quam Bernhardus Dux, totus avaritia infectus, Slavos, quos bellis & pactionibus ſubegerat, tantis vectigalium penſionibus aggravavit, ut nec memores Dei, nec Sacerdotibus ad quicquam eſſent benevoli. Quamobrem Benno Epiſcopus caſſo labore fatigatus, cum non inveniret, ubi pes ejus requieſceret, acceſſit ad S. Berwardi Epiſcopi Hiltensheimenſis ſucceſſorem, qui de ſuis facultatibus ſibi neceſſaria procuravit.

De Johanne XX. PP. CLII.

Johannes Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Gregorio, ſedit annis X. menſe uno, ſecundum Martinum. Iſte litem geſſit cum Romanis. Hujus tempore Heimericus S. Stephani I. Regis Ungarorum filius & virgo, cum ſponſa ſua obiit, miraculis multis coruſcans, ſecundum Vincentium.

Viceſimo ſecundo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXXIIII. Henricus Imperator, conſulentibus ſibi Principibus ſuper ſubſtitutione regni, deſignavit Conradum, virum Regii generis & egregiæ libertatis. Poſtquam ergo Henricus Imperator, ſecundum Vincentium, bonæ opinionis odorem longe lateque redolere de ſe fecerat, locumque ſibi dilectum cum cæteris Monaſteriis ditando, ornando & excolendo ad perfectum perduxerat, divina vocatione viam univerſæ carnis ingreſſus, felicem animam Deo reddidit III. Idus Julii, ſepultusque eſt in Babenberg in Epiſcopio a ſe fundato in Monaſterio S. Petri Apoſtoli, ad cujus Imperium cum Cono præpotens Dux aſpiraret, repudiatur inſtinctu Erbonis Archiepiſcopi Moguntini & quorundam aliorum regni Primatum, & Conradus deſignatus ab Henrico ad Imperium ſublimatur. De iſto Imperatore Henrico legitur, ſecundum Jacobum de Voragine, quod dum ipſe & Cunigundis uxor ſimul manerent, diabolo inſtigante, de quodam milite uxorem ſuſpectam habens, ſuper candentes vomeres XV. pedum, pedibus nudis eam incedere fecit. Quæ vomeres aſcendens, dixit: Sicut a Henrico viro meo & aliis omnibus viris intactam me noviſti Jeſu Chriſte, ita in præſentiarum me illæſam ab hac ignis flamma conſerva. Cui vox dixit: Virgo Maria te virginem liberabit. Totam ergo candentis ignis maſſam illæſa pertranſiit, Chriſtum & Matrem ejus glorioſam benedicens. Cum autem Imperator defunctus eſſet, multitudo maxima dæmonum ante cellam cujusdam Eremitæ tranſibat. Qui feneſtram aperiens, ſciſcitabatur ab ultimo, quinam eſſent. At ille reſpondit: Legio dæmonum ſumus, qui ad mortem Imperatoris properamus, ſi forte aliquid proprium in eo invenire poſſimus. Quem adjuravit heremita, ut ad ſe rediret, & quid egiſſent, intimaret. Qui rediens dixit ad eum: Nihil profecimus, quia, dum falſa uxoris ſuſpicio & Dei tentatio aliaque mala cum bonis ejus operibus in ſtatera eſſent portata, aduſtus ille Laurentius olla aurea jactata ſuper ſtateram, altera pars ſtateræ præponderat. Tunc ego furibundus factus, aurem unam illi abſtuli violenter. Ollam enim vocabat calicem, quem dictus Imperator Eccleſiæ Merſeburgenſi in honorem S. Laurentii fieri fecerat, cui propter magnitudinem & ponderoſitatem duæ aures inerant, ut eo facilius teneretur, & erat de puro auro. Repertum ergo eſt, quod eadem hora Imperator obierat, & quod calix ille unam aurem amiſerat, & eſt in prædicta Merſeburgenſi Eccleſia die hodierna.

De Conrado II. Imp. 83.

Conradus II. Romanor. Imperator LXXXIII. cœpit anno mundi IIIIMDCCCCLXXXIIIII. Olympiadis CCCCLI. anno primo, Urbis conditæ MDCCLXXIIII. Domini vero MXXIIII. & imperavit annis XV. ſecundum Martinum. Hic Principibus in electione diſſentientibus, per Erbonem Archiepiſcopum Moguntinum & Eberhardum Epiſcopum Babenbergenſem, ordinationem Henrici Imperatoris defuncti proſequentes, in regnum ſublimatur, cæteris Electoribus tandem conſentientibus. Iſte nitebatur Babenbergenſem Epiſcopatum deſtruere, ex informatione Brunonis Epiſcopi Auguſtenſis, fratris Henrici Imperatoris defuncti, ſed ne hoc faceret, a Henrico defuncto prohibitus eſt. Ipſe etiam fratrem ſuum ſibi rebellem ab Alemannia fugavit in Ungariam, qui poſt ſibi reconciliatus, Nurenberg urbem & caſtrum Imperio reſignavit. Ipſe quoque in caſtro ſuo Limburg Monaſterium Ordinis S. Benedicti fundavit, & Spirenſem Epiſcopatum inchoavit, quem Henricus III. filius ſuus perfecit. Hic intrans Italiam pro corona ſua, Epiſcopos Mediolanenſem, Cremonenſem & Bleſenſem exilio relegavit, ſecundum Vincentium.

Primo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXV. Bruno Auguſtenſis Epiſcopus, frater Henrici II. Imperatoris, apud Conradum Regem laborabat, ſecundum Sigibertum, pro deſtructione Babenbergenſis Eccleſiæ, & hoc per Giſelam Reginam, cui promiſit omnia prædia jure hæreditario ad ſe pertinentia, filio ejus Henrico contradicente. Locus ergo & tempus ſtatuitur, in quo negotium hoc ad effectum perduceretur. Sed nocte diem illam aſſignatam præcedente, Everhardus Epiſcopus ad tentorium prædicti Brunonis clam acceſſit, lectoque ejus aſſiſtens, multa ſuper his monendo, obſecrando, & memoriam fratris ſui ſibi inculcando, cum eodem ſolicitus egit. Bruno tandem obdormiens, vidit in ſomnis fratrem ſuum Henricum Imperatorem lecto ſuo aſtare, faciem ſuam ex una parte barba depilata deturpatam objectare. Cui ſuper hoc ſtupenti & admiranti, & quis tam temerarios auſus in eum præſumeret, ſciſcitanti reſpondet: Tu hoc feciſti, qui me & Sanctos Dei, quos rebus a Deo mihi conceſſis dotavi, exſpoliari diſpoſuiſti. Cave jam ulterius frater de hac temeritate, ne mercedem ſtultæ præſumtionis tuæ recipias. Expergefactus Bruno de viſione non mediocriter territus, mane facto non venit ad conventum Procerum & Nobilium. Regina autem pro filio ſuo ſolicita, miſſis nunciis, obnixe rogavit, ut Epiſcopus veniret, & promiſſa perficeret. Sed ille infirmitatem magnam, quod nec pedem movere poſſet, allegavit. Rogavit ergo, ut vel lecto ſe permittat illuc deportari. Quod fieri recuſans, tandem ſe in Deum, & Sanctos ejus, & in fratrem ſuum peccaſſe, libera voce proclamavit. Sicque pietas divina per merita famuli Henrici Imperatoris, ne ſpe, quam in ſe poſuit, fruſtraretur, omnia illius pravæ conſpirationis machinamenta repreſſit, illudque, quod ab eo bene cœptum eſt, confirmando ſemper ex illo tempore ad meliora provexit.

Secundo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXVI. Conradus Rex Romam pergens, ſecundum Sigibertum, coronatur in Imperatorem a Papa Johanne, & rediens, filium ſuum Henricum in Regem a Peregrino Archiepiſcopo Colonienſi vel forte Herberto inungi fecit Aquisgrani. Urbs Spirenſis, quæ & Nemetum dicitur, ſecundum Vincentium, a Conrado Imperatore fundatur. Libentius II. Hammeburgenſis Epiſcopus obiit, ſecundum Helmoldum, vir valde religioſus, in cujus ſedem electus eſt Hermannus & confirmatus, Præpoſitus Eccleſiæ Halberſtadenſis, vir miræ ſimplicitatis & parum habens prudentiæ ſerpentinæ. Ideo & faciliter deceptus a Clericis, raro parochiam ſuam viſitavit. Semel denique Hammeburgum acceſſit, & tunc cum exercitu veniens, Epiſcopatum quaſi non ſuum ſpoliavit, abiensque

Tertio anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXVII. Conradus Imperator condidit multas leges, & pacem in terris ſervari ſtatuit, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, ita ut quicunque Principum pacem infringeret, capite plecteretur. Cujus ſtatuti transgreſſor Lippoldus Comes Thuringorum accuſabatur, ſecundum Martinum. Quod ipſe percipiens, cum uxore & pueris occulte fugiens, ſolitudinem intravit, quam multis temporibus tanquam eremita inhabitabat, nullo penitus ſciente, quonam divertiſſet. Contigit autem Conradum Imperatorem ad illas accedere partes cauſa venationis, & ab omnibus ſuis familiaribus elongatus deviando ignorabat, ubi eſſet, & tandem caſu pervenit ad dicti Comitis eremitorium. Qui benigne receptus, cum poſt laborem in ſtrato dormiret, Comitis uxor peperit filium, & Imperator in ſomnis audivit vocem dicentem, puerum ibidem natum genus ſuum eſſe, & futurum ipſius ſucceſſorem. Hanc vocem primo contemnens, cum iterata fuiſſet, anxius mane expectabat. Cum autem orto ſole puerum vidiſſet, & ad ſocios, qui ab eo deviaverant, veniſſet, vocatis duobus ſecretariis ſuis, occulte eis mandavit, ut prædictum puerum natum rapientes in ſylvam occiderent, & ſibi cor pueri in argumentum interfectionis præſentarent. Qui juxta mandatum Regis puerum rapiunt, & miſericordia moti, ipſum non occidentes, in nemore relinquunt, & cor capti leporis, qui forte nutu Dei aderat, Imperatori deferunt. Accidit autem diſpenſatione divina, ut eadem hora Dux Henricus frater Imperatoris venationis cauſa in eadem ſylva ſolus oberraret, & puerum vagientem audiret. Quem inveniens, & ipſum elegantem videns uxori ſuæ ſterili occulte deportavit, mandans eidem; ut, quod ipſum genuerit, affirmaret. Quod ſic factum eſt, vocavitque nomen ejus Henricum. Cum jam adultus puer ab Imperatore intueretur, & attendens, vultum ejus, quem olim viderat, pariter & ætatem, petiit conſtanter a fratre ſuo Henrico puerum ſibi dari, ut uxori ſuæ inſerviret. Quod tandem obtinuit, tractans apud ſe, quomodo illum occideret. Unde poſt aliquod tempus miſit ipſum cum literis ad Imperatricem Aquisgranum, mandans, ut ſub obtentu gratiæ ſuæ ſtatim juvenem illum ad ſe cum ſuis literis venientem interfici procuraret. Quum puer ille iter faceret, contigit, ipſum pernoctare in domo cujusdam Presbyteri quondam Capellani Archiepiſcopi Moguntini. Juveni ergo dormiente, Sacerdos curioſe perſcrutari cœpit literas portitoris, timens, ne aliquid in eis contra Dominum ſuum Archiepiſcopum contineretur. Videns ergo Sacerdos juvenis periculum, & ſibi (leg. illi) ex literis illis mortem imminere, pietate motus literæ tenorem immutavit. Nam abraſo eo, quod eodem die, quo juvenis veniret, ipſum interficeret, inſeruit, quod eodem die juveni illi filiam ſuam matrimonialiter copularet. Quod mox factum eſt, licet cum magna admiratione matris & amicorum filiæ propter tam ſerioſum & inconſvetum mandatum. Nam cum Imperatrix literas Imperatoris inſpexiſſet ſigneto ſuo ſignatas, convocatis Principibus & Prælatis, quos ad manum habere poterat, nuptias filiæ confeſtim celebrat, eam juveni vix XIIII. annorum tradens in uxorem. Quod factum Imperator dum perciperet, obſtupuit, ſed intelligens, divinam eſſe ordinationem, cui reſiſtere non valeret, ſciſcitatus eſt de juvenis illius & parentum ſuorum conditione, & tandem veraciter cognoſcens, ipſum eſſe filium Lippoldi Comitis Thuringorum, quem ruſticum crediderat, dolor ſuus mitigatus eſt, & ſic talis ſecundum vaticinium ſupra dictum ſucceſſor Imperatoris factus eſt. Hæc de Viatico Narrationum. Sed quia hæc narratio quædam continet figmenta, & minus clara eſt, ideo relinquo eam judicio lectorum aut ſuſtinendam aut penitus refutandam.

Quarto anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXVIII. Gvido Aretinus claruit inter Muſicos magni nominis, ſecundum Sigibertum. Iſte in hoc videtur præferendus Philoſophis, quod ignotos cantus ejus etiam pueri facilius addiſcant per regulas ejus, quam per vocem magiſtrorum aut per uſum alicujus inſtrumenti. Unde ſex literis vel ſyllabis modulatim appoſitis ad ſex voces, quas ſolas regulariter Muſica recipit reflexas, cantum uſualem diſtinxit. Ipſe enim fecit Gammaut, A re, b mi, c faut, d ſolre, e lami, f faut, & fecit etiam plures alios libros in Muſica, qui communiter habentur in ſcholis puerorum. Prædictis autem vocibus per flexuras digitorum lævæ manus diſtinctis, per integrum diapaſon ſe oculis & auribus ingerunt intenſæ vel remiſſæ elevationes vel depoſitiones earundem ſex vocum.

Quinto anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXIX. Henricus, filius Conradi Imperatoris, ſecundum Vincentium, vel gener ejus, ſecundum prænotatam narrationem, ungitur Aquisgrani in Romanorum Regem, patre vel genero ejus, ut præmiſſum eſt, adhuc vivente Roberto Rege Francorum defuncto, ſecundum Wilhelmum, Henricus filius ejus ſucceſſit in regno, & regnavit ipſe Rex XXXV. annis, XXX. ſecundum Francos.

Sexto anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXX. Juſſu Conradi Imperatoris Regali & Synodali Concilio, ſecundum Vincentium, convocato apud Triburias, inter cætera Epiſcopi hoc capitulum decernere voluerunt, ut ſi quando jejunium primi menſis veniret infra hebdomadam, qua caput jejunii in feria quarta conſtat, amborum jejuniorum celebritas uno officio tantum expleretur. Sed Egghardus Cameracenſis Epiſcopus, & pauci cum eo, huic multorum decreto contradicens obtinuit, ut jejunium primi primi menſis in altera hebdomada celebretur; quod quidem ſtatutum usque hodie in Eccleſia fidelium obſervatur.

Septimo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXXI. Godeſcalcus filius Meſtwini Principis Slavorum, ſecundum Helmoldum, patris ſui necem vindicare volens cum maximo exercitu latronum & raptorum terram Nordalbingorum intravit, & percuſſit omnem populum in ea repertum a majore usque ad minorem. Et in tali prœlio hujus cædis tantas fecit ſtrages Chriſtianæ plebis, ut crudelitas ſua omnem excederet modum, nihilque remanſit in Holtzatorum & Sturmannorum dominio, quod manus ejus effugeret, præter notiſſima illa prædia Tytzeho & Bokeldeborah. In illis enim opidis ſe receperant illi cum mulieribus & parvulis ac ſubſtantiis ſuis, qui direptioni ſuperfuerant. Hic tamen Godeſchalcus Princeps Obotritorum poſtea pœnitentia ductus, pacem cum Nordalbingis firmavit, & Eccleſias ac Monaſteria reformavit, ac Religionem Chriſtianam plurimum auxit & defenſavit, homines tamen infinitos in furia ſua interfectos non reſuſcitavit.

Octavo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXXII. Decretum tale ab Epiſcopis Franciæ emanavit, & obſervari ſtatum eſt ſecundum Sigibertum. Unus enim eorum dixit, cœlitus delatas ſibi eſſe literas, quæ pacem monerent fore renovandam in terra. Quamobrem mandavit cæteris, & hæc tradenda dedit populis, ut arma nullus ferret, abrepta non repeteret, ſui ſanguinis aut cujuslibet alterius Chriſtiani ultor minime exiſteret, percuſſoribusque quilibet indulgeret, jejunium in pane & aqua omni feria ſexta ſervaretur, & in Sabbatho a carnibus & liquamine abſtinerent. Solo vero hoc contenti jejunio in omnium peccatorum remiſſionem nullam ſibi ſcirent aliam pœnitentiam adjiciendam, & hæc ſe obſervaturos ſacramento confirmarent. Qui vero nollet Chriſtianitate privaretur, & exeuntem de hoc mundo nullus viſitaret, nec ſepulturæ traderet. Alia quoque importabilia quamplurima mandata dederunt. Hanc præceptorum novitatem cum multi cupidi rerum novarum libentius juſto amplecterentur, Gerhardus Cameracenſis Epiſcopus nullius hortatu potuit induci ad hæc mandata ſuſtinenda, ſed ſingula capitula refellebat, dicens, genus hominum ab initio trifarie eſſe diviſum, puta in oratoribus, pugnatoribus & agricultoribus, & unum duorum, & duos unius egere auxilio. Ideo debere reconciliari jejunium in ſexta vel ſeptima feria, nec unum omnibus eſſe imponendum, quia non eſt una omnium poſſibilitas, nec omnes hoc uno jejunio contentos eſſe debere, quia non eſt una omnium pœnitendi qualitas aut æqualitas. Hæc quoque ſacramento firmare, vel ſacramenti violatorem perjurio gravare, non eſt utile. His itaque inſuper contradicentes excommunicare, infirmis viſitationem mortuisve ſepulturam negare, impium & deteſtabile fore dixit; Adjiciens ſufficere debere authentica Patrum decreta & ſuper his neglectis impoſitum modum pœnæ congruere.

Nono anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXXIII. Conradus Imperator Ungariam intravit cum magno exercitu, ſecundum Vincentium, & plures urbes ac caſtra igne & gladio devaſtans, in ea moram traxit usque ad Ungarorum deditionem; de Ungaria vero in Poloniam ſe divertens, Myſaconem Polonorum Ducem imperio ſubegit.

De Benedicto IX. PP. CLIII.

Benedictus Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Damaſo, ſedit annis XII. & menſibus, ſecundum Martinum. Iſte ejectus eſt de Pontificatu per Romanos, ipſum in multis criminantes, & factus eſt pro eo Papa Epiſcopus Sabinenſis, qui infra vocatus eſt Sylveſter. Et iſte ſimiliter ejectus eſt, & Benedictus recuperavit Papatum, ſe ipſum Papatu privavit, & Johannem Archiepiſcopum S. Johannis ante portam Latinam pro ſe ob avaritiam & pecunias contra Canones ordinavit. Qui vocatus eſt Gregorius, & hic habito Papatu, cum eſſet rudis & illiteratus, alterum Papam ad vices Eccleſiaſtici officii exequendas ſecum conſecrari fecit. Qui cum multis non placeret, tertius ſuperinducitur, qui ſolus vices duorum impleret. Uno ergo ſic contra duos, & duobus contra unum de Papatu altercantibus, Henricus III. Imperator Romam acceſſit, & uno poſt alium in quodam conclavi vocato & decapitato, tandem Suikkerum Babenbergenſem Epiſcopum, qui & Clemens II. dictus eſt, Papam conſtituit, ut infra patebit. Iſte Benedictus, qui nepos extitit ſuperioris Benedicti, apparuit juxta molendinum cuidam in ſpecie cujusdam monſtruoſi animalis, cujus caput & cauda erant aſini, reliqvum vero corpus ſicut urſus. Cum conſpector territus fugeret, monſtrum poſt ipſum clamans dixit: Noli me expaveſcere. Scito, me hominem fuiſſe, ſicut & tues. Sed ſic me repræſento, ſicut olim infelix Papa exiſtens, beſtialiter vixi. Sanctus Gerhardus Cameracenſis Epiſcopus, ſecundum Egghardum, in Ungaria ſuper bigam ligatus, de altiſſimo monte curſu præcipiti contritus, martyrio coronatur.

Decimo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXXIIII. Hermannus Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis defunctus eſt ſecundum Helmoldum. Loco ejus electus eſt Boſelinus duodecimus hujus Eccleſiæ Antiſtes. Hic ſedit duodecim annis, vir omni virtutum genere decoratus, cui Conradus Imperator obtulit baculum, & Benedictus Papa pallium transmiſit. Hic conventum Fratrum Eccleſiæ Hammeburgenſis miſerabiliter collapſum renovavit & menſam communem eisdem inſtituit. Primus etiam cum præbenda Fratrum Canonicorum tenuiſſe videretur, XXX. convivia, quæ Libentius Archiepiſcopus annuatim dari ſtatuit, adjectis ex ſua parte decimis quibusdam ita ordinavit, ut albus panis daretur Fratribus ultra ſolitam annonam quotidie, in diebus vero Dominicis unicuique duplex mellita copia. Nam & vi& vinum dari Fratribus contra naturam Saxonum disposuit. Ipse etiam consummavit muros civitatis Bremensis, quos Hermannus praedecessor suus exorsus fuerat. Quos dum Bremis perfecisset, mox ad Ecclesiæ Hammeburgensis restaurationem totis viribus accendebatur. Ibi enim post cladem Saxonicam, de qua supra habitum est, Unwanus Archiepiscopus & cum eo Bernhardus Dux Saxoniæ claustrum nobile de ruinis antiquæ civitatis elevantes, Ecclesiam & diversoria plura lignea construxerunt. Beselinus vero Archiepiscopus, de quo nunc est sermo, adversus hostium crebros incursus aliquod fortius præsidium pro inopia loci necessarium arbitratus, primus omnium Ecclesiam, quæ constructa erat, in Matris Dei honore, lapidibus quadris ædificavit. Deinde aliam fecit, sibi domum lapideam turribus & propugnaculis valde munitam. Cujus æmulatione operis Bernhardus Dux provocatus, cujus erat civitas, & ipse domum fortem paravit in eodem loco, & sic prorsus civitate renovata, Basilica ex parte una domum habuit Episcopi, & ex alia prætorium Ducis.

Undecimo anno Conradi, qui est Domini MXXXV. Werben opidum in confinibus Saxoniæ situm, secundum Helmoldum, Pagani, qui Wilzi dicuntur, genere Slavi, expugnaverunt, multis Christianis in eo peremtis. Quos tamen Imperator cum exercitu forti aggressus fugavit, & tandem sibi vectigales effecit. Herbertus Archiepiscopus Colonienſis obiit in Domino, secundum Sigibertum, cui in sedem successit Hermannus, & XX. annis Ecclesiam illam laudabiliter rexit.

Duodecimo anno Conradi, qui est Domini MXXXVI. Henricus Rex filius Conradi Imperatoris Cunyhildem, Gunthonis Danorum & Anglorum Regis filiam, apud Novimagium opidum Regalibus nuptiis sibi copulavit uxorem. Hunc Regem Gunthonem quidam nominant Gamelknut lingva Danica, qui super tria regnavit regna, puta Danorum, Anglorum & Norwegiorum. Fuit autem omnium Regum pulcherrimus, strenuissimus & largissimus. Hic primus Religiosos in Daciam duxit, & multos Episcopos de Anglia in Daciam vexit. De ordine autem & origine Regum Danorum dictum est supra. Bellum maximum ortum est in orientali provincia Slavorum, civili inter se pugna dimicantium, secundum Helmoldum in Chron. Slavorum. Quatuor autem sunt populi eorum, qui Wilzi nuncupantur, quorum Rycinos & Circipanos circa Pamym vel Penam, Radiros vero & Tholenſos circa Tholenſam fluvios habitare constat. Inter hos de fortitudine & potentia valida est orta contentio. Radiri se Raduri & Thollenſi propter antiquissimam urbem & celeberrimum illud fanum, in quo simulacrum Radigast ostenditur, regnare volebant, ascribentes sibi singularem nobilitatis honorem, eo quod ab omnibus populis Slavorum frequentaretur propter responsa, quæ dabat. Porro Circipani & Rycini servire respuebant, imo libertatem suam armis defendere statuerunt. Factis ergo interpolatim duobus bellis, Circipani & Rycini victoriam obtinuerunt. Unde Raduri atque Thollenſes dejectionis suæ pudore vehementer afflicti, in suum vocaverunt auxilium fortem Regem Danorum Canutum & Bernhardum Ducem Saxoniæ ac Godescalcum Regulum Obotritorum cum exercitibus suis, invaluitque prœlium adversus Cyrcipanos & Rycinos, nec habuerunt vires resistendi obsessa tanta multitudine, cæsaque est eis maxima copia hominum, & quamplurimi in captivitatem sunt ducti. Ad ultimum vero XVM. marcarum argenti puri pacem mercati sunt. Principes autem supra dicti pecuniam inter se diviserunt. De Christianitate vero nulla facta fuit mentio, nec honorem dederunt Deo, qui eis victoriam contulit in prœlio. Unde perpendi potuit Saxonum insatiabilis avaritia, qui cum inter gentes cæteras barbaris contiguas præpollerent armis & usu militari, semper tamen proniores erant tributis augmentandis, quam animabus Domino Deo congregandis. Decor enim Christianitatis jam dudum Sacerdotum instantia convaluisset in Slavia, si Saxonum avaritia ipsum non præpedivisset.

Tertio decimo anno Conradi, qui est Domini MXXXVII. Gotehardus Episcopus Hiltinsheimensis, secundum Egghardum, plenus virtutibus obiit in Christo, multis coruscans miraculis. Imperator Conradus cum magno exercitu Italiam petiit, secundum Egghardum, ubi Mediolanensem Episcopum capiens incarceravit; qui per fugam elapsus, Imperatori rebellavit. Stephanus Ungarorum Rex Christianissimus & Deo multum devotus in Christo obdormivit, secundum Vincentium, cui Petrus succedens regnavit. Cunigundis uxor Henrici Imperatoris, virgo & mater pauperum, secundum Sigibertum, dives ipsa divitem migravit ad Christum XV. Kal. Aug. Statua marmorea fuit in Apulia, secundum Vincentium, circa caput suum æreum habens circulum, in quo erat scriptum: in KL. Maji oriente sole caput habebo aureum. Quod quidam Sarracenus a Duce Normannorum captus, quid prætenderet, intelligens, in KL. Maji oriente sole diligenter termino umbræ statuæ notato, infinitum thesaurum ibidem humo effossa reperit, quem pro redemtione sua eidem Duci obtulit.

Quarto decimo anno Conradi, qui est Domini MXXXVIII. Theodericus IIII. Hollandiæ Comes obiit, secundum Wilhelmum, cui successit Theodericus filius ejus in Comitatu. In Ratzeburg oppido terræ Slavorum, secundum Helmoldum, lapidatur S. Answerus Monachus cum multis aliis Religiosis. Johannes vero Episcopus, qui peregrinationis causa Scotiam egressus fuerat, venit in Saxoniam, & missus per Beselinum Hammeburgensem Archiepiscopum in Slaviam gratia prædicationis cum multis Christianis martyrizatur in Mykelingburg, cujus caput de civitate in civitatem per Slavos ducitur in contumeliam Christianorum, & in signum victoriæ Radigast Dei Slavorum. Gotscalcus Princeps Slavorum, secundum Helmoldum, dum, cum quadam die deprædationis cauſa campos tranſiret, vidit regionem illam ſolitudini vaſtæ ſubjacere, quæ aliis viris & Eccleſiis abundaverat. Unde exhorrens propriæ crudelitatis facinus, & tacitus dolore cordis intrinſecus deliberavit a nefariis actibus cohibere manus. Avulſus ergo parumper a ſociis, & quaſi ad inſidias tendens, inopinate habuit obviam quendam Saxonem Chriſtianum. Qui cum armatum eminus venientem fugeret, ille clamore valido hortabatur fugientem, ut ſubſiſteret, jurans, ſe ei in nullo velle nocere. Cumque vir timidus recepta fiducia ſubſtitiſſet, cœpit Gotſcalcus percunctari, quis eſſet, aut quid ſciret rumoris? At ille, ego, inquit, ſum homo pauper Holſatus genitus. Siniſtros autem rumores quotidie experimur, quia Princeps ille Slavorum Godeſcalcus Dei inimicus multa mala populo infert & terræ noſtræ, ſitimque crudelitatis ſuæ extingvere cupit ſangvine noſtro. Tempus autem eſſet, ut vindex Deus ulciſceretur ſangvinem Chriſtianum ſervorum ſuorum. Cui Godeſcalcus: Multum arguis virum iſtum Principem Slavorum. Revera enim multas ille preſſuras ſuſcitavit populo veſtro, ultor paternæ cædis exiſtens magnificus. Ego autem ſum vir ille, de quo nunc loquimur, & veni, ut loquar tecum. Doleo enim, me tantam crudelitatem exercuiſſe adverſus Dominum & Chriſticolas gentes, & vehementer cupio redire in gratiam eorum, quibus me tot mala injuſte intuliſſe recognoſco. Accipe ergo verba mea, & revertens ad populum tuum, nuncia eis, ut ad locum placitum mittant ſuos fideles, qui mecum clam agant de fœdere & pacis conventione. Quo facto, omnem hanc latronum turbam, quibus magis neceſſitate quam voluntate detineor, tradam in manus eorum. Et cum hæc dixiſſet, deſignavit ſibi locum & tempus. Cum autem villanus ille perveniſſet ad præſidium, in quo Saxonum ſuperſtites in maximo conſiſtebant timore, & intimaret ſenioribus verbum iſtud, ſuggerens, ut omnino viros ad præfixum colloquii locum deſtinarent: illi non audebant mittere quemcunque, æſtimantes, dolum eſſe, quod nunciabatur. Poſt aliquot autem dies idem Princeps a Duce Bernhardo captus eſt, & quaſi latronum Princeps in vincula conjectus. Reputans autem Dux virum fortem & ad arma ſtrenuum utilem ſibi fore, iniit cum eo fœdus, & honorifice muneratum abire fecit. At ille dimiſſus abiit ad Canutum Regem Danorum, & manſit apud illum multis diebus, variis bellorum exercitiis in Nordmannia & Anglia virtutis ſuæ gloriam manifeſtans.

Quinto decimo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MXXXIX. Viſa eſt in cœlis VIII. Idus Aprilis, ſecundum Sigibertum, inter auſtralem & orientalem plagam ignea trabs miræ magnitudinis, quæ currens ſuper ſolem ad occaſum tendentem viſa eſt in terram cadere, cujus veſtigia diu cernebantur. Conradus autem Imperator Italiam adiit, ut rebellionem meditantes debellaret. Et quia omnes Lombardi conjuraverant, ut non paterentur quemcunque Dominum, qui aliud, quam ipſi vellent, contra ſe ageret, quosdam Epiſcopos in vincula jecit. Et quia Epiſcopus Mediolanenſis fuga elapſus eſt, Imperator ſuburbia Mediolani incendit. Diem vero Pentecoſtes cum Imperator in parva Eccleſia ſecus urbem perageret, & in eadem Eccleſia concionaretur in Miſſa, tam gravia facta fuerunt tonitrua & fulgura, ut aliqui mente excederent, aliqui ſpiritum exhalarent. Bruno vero, qui Miſſam cantabat, & Secretarius Imperatoris cum aliis tribus dixerunt, ſe intra ſolemnia Miſſarum vidiſſe S. Ambroſium Imperatori comminando indignari. Tunc Imperator ab Italia receſſit, & pridie Nonas Junii obiit in Trajecto inferiori, ſed Spiræ ſepultus eſt.

De Henrico III. Imp. LXXXIIII.

Henricus Tertius gener Conradi, ſecundum Martinum, ſed filius Conradi, ſecundum Vincentium & cæteros, cœpit anno mundi VM. Olympiadis CCCCLIIII. anno primo, Urbis conditæ M DCC LXXXIX. Domini vero MXXXIX. & XVII. annis imperavit. Iſte Henricus, ſecundum Helmoldum, Windelicos ſubegit, qui usque hodie Fortunam adorant, cujus idolum in loco nominatiſſimo ponentes, cornu dextræ ejus apponunt plenum potu illo, qui ex aqua & melle confectus eſt, & Græce hydromel nominatur. Iſtud etiam feciſſe Ægyptios, & omnes fere orientales populos, affirmat S. Jeronymus ſuper Jeſaiam. Ultimo autem die menſis Novembris ſedentes in commune præguſtant, & ſi cornu plenum invenerint, in magno ſtrepitu applaudunt Deo tanquam plene ad omnia illo anno eisdem reſponſuro; Si vero vacuum, ingemiſcunt. Iſtos Henricus tributarios fecit, ita ut in omnibus ſolennitatibus, quibus coronabantur quatuor Reges eorum, lebetem, quo carnes condiebantur, in humeris ſuis, duobus vectibus per quatuor annulos inductis, ad coquinam vectitarent. Hic Henricus jocundus erat & hilaris, & ſororem habebat ſanctimonialem, cum qua quidam crebras habebat familiaritates in cubiculo ſuo. Quadam autem vice cum diutius ſubito ſimul dormirent, nix cadens totam terram operuit, propter quod Clericus deprehendi timuit per veſtigia. Unde puella illa aſtuta Clericum in dorſo ſuo levavit, & extra curiam deportavit. Quod forte Imperator tunc minctum ſurgens, & per feneſtram reſpiciens vidit. Vacante autem caſu pro tunc Epiſcopatu, vocavit Clericum, & dixit ei: Accipe hunc Epiſcopatum, & cave, ne amplius equites mulierem. Similiter & dans germanæ ſuæ Abbatiam, eſto, inquit, Abbatiſſa, & ultra non patiaris Clericum equitem. Confuſi ergo ambo a flagitio illo amplius deſtiterunt.

Primo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXL. Quidam Clericus literatus & bene vociferatus, ſecundum Egghardum, in curia Henrici Regis exiſtens, quandam meretricem vilem ardenter amabat, & frequenter ei condormiebat. Hic cum in nocte cujusdam ſolennitatis magnæ illi mulierculæ concubuiſſet, & mane ad

Miſſam ſtaret: hoc ſciens Imperator, ſed ſcire diſſimulans, juſſit Clericum legere Evangelium in illa Miſſa. Ipſius cantu pariter & voce Rex delectabatur. Qui criminis ſui conſcius renuit legere. Rex vero ejus conſtantiam probare volens mandavit, ut vel Evangelium legeret; vel exulando de terra recederet. Quam ſententiam Clericus acceptans, ſarcinulis ſuis aſſumtis, patria diſcedere tentat, iter arripiendo. Quem Imperator revocans, dixit ei: Bene feciſti, & ego congratulor probitati tuæ, quod timorem Domini pluris pendens quam patriam, plus iram Dei metuens quam meam, fungi Diaconatus officio recuſaſti. Quapropter habebis Epiſcopatum, qui primus Imperio vacaverit: tantum de illicito amore amplius caveas. Ipſe etiam Rex hoc anno omnes joculatores a curia ſua removit, & quæ ipſis dare conſveverat, pauperibus erogavit. Eccleſiam quoque S. Matthæi in Goslaria magnis prædiis & multis Sanctorum reliquiis decoravit. Hic Henricus Rex tempore Conradi patris ſui a quodam Clerico fiſtulam tulerat argenteam, qua pueri ludentes aquam jaculantur, pactus ei Epiſcopatum, dum Imperator fieret. Adultus autem factus repetenti promiſſum largitus eſt Epiſcopatum. Sed non multo poſt aſpero morbo correptus decubuit, & morbo creſcente, triduo mutus & ſenſibus privatus jacuit. Epiſcopi autem præſentes, triduano indicto jejunio, pro vita ejus Domino ſupplicabant. Convaleſcens ergo accerſitum, quem Epiſcopum pro fiſtula fecerat, ſententia Concilii ſui depoſuit, confeſſus, ſe toto illo triduo dæmonum infeſtationes horribiles ſuſtinuiſſe, & flammas in ſe jaculantium per fiſtulam, flammas, dico, adeo pertinaces, ut ignis noſter reſpectu illius nix putetur. Interim vero ſemiuſtulatum juvenem adventaſſe, ferentem calicem aureum immenſæ magnitudinis aqua plenum, cujus viſione & laticis conſperſione extinctos ardores evaſerat.

Secundo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXLI. Henricus Rex apud Moguntiam celebrat feſtum Pentecoſtes, ſecundum Sigibertum, ubi cum paulo ante Miſſam ſedilia pararentur in Eccleſia, ortum eſt jurgium inter cubicularios Archiepiſcopi Moguntini & Abbatis S. Galli, alias Fuldenſis cœnobii, quorum utrorumque Dominus juxta latus Imperatoris ſedere conſveverat. Nam Fuldenſe Monaſterium in Saxonia corpore S. Galli & prædiis magnis ditatum eſt, cujus Monaſterii Abbas XM. armatorum conducere tenetur, Imperatori contra hoſtes eunti, vel ſecundum alios & verius forte, mille armatos tantum. Et habet hic Abbas ex antiquo Privilegio, ut in magnis feſtivitatibus ad dextrum latus Imperatoris ſedeat. Perventum ergo eſt ad pugnam, & furore per Eccleſiam graſſante, pavimentum ſangvine inundavit. Sed ſtatim Epiſcopis & Principibus convolantibus, pace inter reliquos diſſidentes ſtatuta, templum purgatum eſt, & Miſſa feſtivis vocibus eſt peracta. Sequentia autem percantata, & ultimo ejus verſu incepto, puta: Hunc diem glorioſum feciſti, vox ab aëre lapſa cecinit: Hunc diem bellicoſum ego feci. Rigentibus autem omnibus præ timore, Imperator intelligens lætitiam diaboli, dixit: Tu inventor omnis malitiæ ſimul & incentor diem bellicoſum & arrogantibus luctuoſum feciſti, ſed nos per gratiam Dei, qui illum glorioſum fecit, pauperibus gratioſum faciemus. Et mox reincepta Sequentia, ſolenni ploratu gratiam Spiritus Sancti invocabat, & intelligens, illum advenisſe, his plorantibus illis devote canentibus, & omnibus ſimul pectora tundentibus, finita Miſſa, egenis per præcones conclamatis & vocatis, omnes dapes, quæ ſibi & Principibus parabantur, in uſus eorum conſumſit, famulis de reliquiis, quæ ſuperfuerunt, poſt pauperum refectionem cibatis. Henricus Rex Bohemos ſubjugare diſponens, ſecundum Egghardum, audivit, quod Petrus Ungarorum Rex Wratislao Duci Bohemiæ contra ſe auxilio eſſet, ipſum Ducem bello aggreſſus eſt: ſed multis Proceribus & militibus in præſtructione ſylvæ Bohemicalis captis & occiſis, nil efficere potuit.

Tertio anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXLII. S. Edoardus Edelredi Regis Anglorum filius in Anglia regnare cœpit, & XXXIII. annis gubernacula tenuit. De alio etiam Eduardo viro ſancto ſupra dictum eſt, ſed ille vix quatuor annis regnavit. Iſte autem Edwardus, ſecundum Wilhelmum, fuit piiſſimus, ita ut nec verbo poſſet lædere aut turbare. Erat tum ejus erga domeſticos reverentia vehemens, & apud exteros metus ingens. Nam fovebat ejus ſanctitatem Deus, ut poſſet timeri, qui neſciret iraſci. Miraculis etiam & ſpiritu prophetiæ claruit, ac pauperibus ſupra modum benignus fuit. Die quoque ſancto Paſchæ coronatus ſedens inter Proceres regni ad menſam, cæteris avidius comedentibus, ipſe ad cœlum oculos extollens, in riſum eſt effuſus. Remotis autem menſis, ſecuti ſunt eum tres Principes, a quibus interrogatus, propter quid in menſa riſiſſet? tandem reſpondit: Septem dormientes in monte Cœlio quieſcentes poſt CC. annos, quibus in latere dextro jacentes dormierant, in hora riſus mei ſe mutaverunt in ſiniſtrum latus, & in eo jacebunt proximis LXXIIII. annis, puta usque ad annum Domini MCXVI. Miſſi ſunt ergo duo milites & unus Monachus ad Imperatorem Græcorum, & ab eo ad Epheſinum Epiſcopum pro inquirenda veritate, & ut ſanctus Rex dixerat, invenerunt. Sed qualiter iſtud veritatem habere poſſit, non video, cum prædicti VII. viri dormientes ſub Decio dormire cœperunt, & ſub Theodoſio II. evigilaverunt, protunc in Domino obierunt anno Domini CCCCXLVI. niſi forte alii VII. ab illis viri eodem miraculo a Domino ſint honorati. De iſto S. Edwardo Rege legitur alibi, quod in Oxoniis terræ Angliæ erat Sanctimonialis, quæ Deo multum devota Frideſuida dicta, cujus corpus quieſcit in Monaſterio Monacharum Ordinis S. Benedicti, dicti oppidi. Hanc virginem ſpecioſam valde adamavit Edredus Rex Anglorum, nuncios plures ei mittens & literas ſui amoris indicativas.

Sed illa tanquam Christi sponsa omnem amorem humanum respuens, sed solum Christum sibi amatorem elegerat. Quadam autem die cum Monachæ hæ dicti Monasterii juxta morem in prato prope Monasterium sito spaciarentur, contigit, Regem prædictum Edredum pertransire opidum illius Monasterii. Qui cum intueretur virginem, quam diligebat, mox ad ipsam rapiendam festinavit, eqvum calcarib.urgendo. Ipsa vero Regis mentem considerans, subito taurum quendam in dicto prato pascua quærentem ascendit, & flumen, quod de prope erat, in eo transiens, Monasterium suum apprehendit & evasit; ob cujus virginis transvadationem sæpe dictum opidum Oxenfort, id est vadum tauri appellatur. Rex autem propter virginis fugam in furiam versus minatus est Monasterium illud funditus se velle destruere, nisi Frideswida virgo statim sibi præsentaretur. Virgo autem sancta timens periculum Monasterio suo propter se imminere, nuncium misit ad Regem, scitcitans, quid specioſi in corpore suo esset, propter quod ipse in sui amorem sic incensus esset? Cui respondit Rex, quod propter placabiles oculos suos ipsam tam vehementer diligeret. Quod audiens virgo sancta juxta evangelii sententiam mox oculos sibi eruit, & in disco cooperto Regi destinavit. Quos videns Rex, confusus valde abscessit. Post quem diem nec ipse nec alius quisquam Rex Anglorum urbem illam aut Monasterium ingredi potuit sine vitæ aut sanitatis ad minus privatione usque in hodiernum diem. Sanctus vero Edwardus Rex cupiens hanc divinam ultionem, juxta posse, aut auferre aut mitigare, jejunium triduanum omni populo terræ indixit. Quo peracto, cum suis Optimatibus processionaliter incedens, præcedentibus Clericis & Religiosis nudis pedibus ad Ecclesiam Beatæ Frideswidæ venit, & offerens cum devotione maxima munera sua suppliciter rogavit virginem illam, ut apud Deum dignaretur obtinere Regum ingressum in dictam urbem Oxoniensem, prout alias ante suam offensam absque læsione & periculo intrare consveverant. Cumque orationem suam complesset, & surgens Ecclesiam egredi vellet, femorale suum solutum ad pedes suos decidit. Quod vir sanctus sentiens, subridendo dixit: Parce dulcis virgo, parce servo tuo, noli confundere famulum Domini tui. Quo facto divulgato, nullus Regum amplius ingredi præsumere ausus fuit.

Quarto anno Henrici, qui est Domini MXLIII. Ungari Regem suum Petrum de regno expulerunt, secundum Vincentum, & alium Urbanum nomine loco suo substituerunt. Qui profugus & exul Henrici Regis, cui præcedenti anno rebellaverat, gratiam quæsivit & invenit. Urbanus vero Rex ob receptum a Rege Henrico Petrum, a se terra pulsum, eruptiones in fines Bawarorum & Corinthiorum fecit, & prædam magnam inde abduxit. Sed Bavari, coadunatis viribus cum Adelberto Marchione insecuti, prædam excusserunt, & multis interemtis, cæteros in fugam verterunt. Henricus Rex Bohemiam ingressus secundum Egghardum, ferro igneque cuncta vastavit, & Wratislaum Ducem rebellem obsides dare compulit, ipsumque post se Ratisbonam ad deditionem humilimam venire, ac sibi jurejurando fidelitatem promittere, ac servitium exhibere coarctavit. Monasterium S. Mauritii insula Myndensi constructum, secundum Helmoldum, a Brunone Episcopo dedicatum est in honorem ejusdem sancti Martyris & sociorum ejus. Godescalcus Princeps Slavorum secundum Helmoldum, defuncto Canuto Rege Danorum, ad terram patrum suorum revertitur, & inveniens ipsam a tyrannis quibusdam invasam, dimicare statuit, & comitante victoria, Principatum ex integro recuperavit, statimque ad quærendum sibi apud Deum honorem & gloriam animum vertens, Slavorum populus, qui olim Christianitatis titulo insigniti fuerant, sed jam dudum a fide recesserant, ad recipiendam baptismi gratiam exhortari cœpit. Et prosperatum est opus Dei in manibus, adeo ut infinita gentium multitudo confluerit ad Ecclesiæ gremium, & ad sacri fontis balneum salutare, & reædificatæ sunt per universam Wagirorum provinciam, nec non & Polaborum Obotritorumque Ecclesiæ quondam destructæ, & Sacerdotibus ac ministris Dei repletæ, qui Verbo Dei imbuere novellæ plantationis populum cœperunt & instruere. Sed & Ricini & Circipani & quæcunque gentes circa Panim, id est Penam fluvium habitantes, fidei receperunt gratiam. Est autem Pena fluvius alio nomine Panyn dictus, in cujus ostio sita est urbs Demin nomine.

Quinto anno Henrici, qui est Domini MXLIIII. Henricus Rex cum Petro Ungarorum Rege depulso & exiliato in Ungariam profectus, secundum Vincentium, intrusum Regem Urbanum fugavit, & usque ad fluvium Raban perveniens, duas populosissimas urbes cepit & evertit, ac plures in deditionem accepit, & cum Regem suum Petrum nullatenus recipere vellent, quendam, quem petebant Ducem, eis constituit, quem tamen post recessum Henrici Regis Urbanus Rex in Bohemiam fugavit. Quod audiens Henricus Imperator, iterum Ungariam petiit, & ea tota rursus subacta discessit, acceptis obsidibus & juramento fidelitatis, & reposito Urbano in regno. Sed non diu post ipse Urbanus Rex pactum & juramentum Henrico factum fregit. Quod Rex Henricus percipiens cum exercitu suo tertio Ungariam ingressus, de inimicis glorioſe triumphavit, & Urbano Rege vix evadente, exulantem Petrum regno suo restituit. Ipse vero Cæsar ad partes Alemanniæ cum gloria rediit, nec multo post Urbanus a Petro Rege comprehensus, scelerum suorum pœnas exolvens, capite plexus est.

Sexto anno Henrici, qui est Domini MXLV. Romani Benedictum Papam, multis criminibus accusatum, secundum Martinum, de sede expulerunt, eo quod Simoniace intraverat, & Sylvestrum sibi substituerunt.

De Sylvestro III. PP. CLIIII.

Sylvester Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Domi-

Dominico, ſedit diebus LX. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte ante ſuam electionem fuerat Epiſcopus Sabinenſis, quem Papa Benedictus adjutorio quorundam Romanorum fugans, ad ſedem ſuam compulit ire, & ipſe Sedem Papatus reintravit, ſed iterum Benedicto ejecto, Gregorius per violentiam intruditur, propter quod nec ipſe Gregorius diu in Papatu perſeveravit, ſicut nec ſucceſſor ſuus. Beſelinus Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis obiit plenus diebus multis, ſecundum Helmoldum, in cujus ſedem ſucceſſit Adelbertus XIII. Antiſtes ejusdem Eccleſiæ, & ſedit annis XXXVII. Ordinatio autem ejus facta eſt Aquisgrani præſente Rege cum ſuis Principibus. De Eccleſia autem Halberſtadenſi, cujus Papatus (leg. Præpoſitus) erat, aſſumtus eſt ad Præſulatum. Hic plurima geſſit memoria digna temporibus ſuis. Primo namque inthronizationis ſuæ anno Eccleſiæ Bremenſis pulcerrime perficere affectans turrim, clauſtrum, dormitorium & cæteras officinas diſſipavit, & ex lapidibus earum Baſilicam ad inſtar Beneventanæ Eccleſiæ perficere ſatagebat. Poſt ſe Imperatori applicuit, cujus tantam gratiam promeruit, ut unus de Conſiliariis ejus haberetur. Petrus Rex Ungarorum, Henrico Rege ad ſe invitato, in feſto Pentecoſtes, ſecundum Wilhelmum, regnum ſuum tradidit ſibi pro ſe & ſuis ſucceſſoribus, omnibus Ungariæ Principibus juramento hoc confirmantibus, & fidelitatem promittentibus, quod tamen ab eo, quamdiu ipſe viveret, poſſidendum accepit. Apud Berhelejam regni Angliæ, ſecundum Wilhelmum, villam quædam mulier auguratrix, quæ maleficiis intenta, cum die quadam inter convivas lætaretur, cornicula, quam habebat, altius ſolito & clariori voce, quam conſveverat, neſcio quid crocitata eſt, ingemuit & dixit: Hodie ad ultimum ſulcum aratrum meum duxi. Nam hodie receptura ſum grande & horribile incommodum. Adhuc ipſa loquente, venit ad eam nuncius dicens: filius tuus & familia tua tota ſubita morte perierunt. Ex hoc autem dolore fauciata, mox lecto decubuit, & liberos ſuos reſiduos, Monachum ſcilicet & Monacham, ſic alloquitur ſingultuando: Ego artibus dæmoniacis miſera ſemper inſudavi, & vitiorum omnium ſentina ac illecebrarum magiſtra extiti. Ego de me deſperans, tamen in Religione veſtra ſperavi. Nunc quia ſcio ſententiam damnationis meæ irrevocabilem, rogo tamen vos, ut tormenta mea tentetis alleviare. Corpus ergo meum inſuite corio cervino, & includite in lapideo ſarcophago, & operculum plumbo & ferro conſtringite, ac lapidem tribus catenis magnis circumdate. Si ita tribus noctibus ſecura jacuero, quarto die ſepeliatis me humo. Pſalmicines autem quinquaginta ſint noctibus illis coram ſarcophago, & miſſæ cantentur pro me tot diebus. Factum eſt totum, ſicut mater præceperat, ſed in nullo profuit. Nam in primis duabus noctibus, Clericis Pſalmos canentibus, circa corpus defunctæ mulieris dæmones oſtium Eccleſiæ immani obice clauſum leviter confregerunt, & duas catenas extremas circa corpus diruperunt; media catena, quæ operoſius extitit elaborata, illibata perdurante. Tertia vero nocte circa galli cantum ſtrepitu venientium dæmonum totum Monaſterium viſum eſt a fundamentis concuti & moveri. Tunc unus cæteris & vultu terribilior & ſtatura celſior januas majore vi concuſſas in fragmenta dejicit, & accedens arroganter ad ſarcophagum, clamoſe, ut ſurgeret, imperavit. Qua reſpondente, nequeo præ vinculis, ſolveris, inquit, in malum tuum. Statimque catenam mediam, quæ cæterorum dæmonum ferocitati illuſerat, ut ſtupam disrupit, operculumque pede depulit, & apprehenſa manu mulieris, eam palam coram omnibus ab Eccleſia traxit ad fores, ubi paratus erat equus niger ſuperbiſſime hinniens, ſuper quo miſera illa portata, mox ferebatur in aëra, cujus clamores miſerabiles audiebantur fere ad quatuor miliaria.

De Gregorio VI. PP. CLV.

Gregorius Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Andrea, ſedit uno anno & menſibus - ſecundum Martinum. Iſte ſanctus vir exiſtens Archiepiſcopus S. Johannis ad Portam Latinam, cum ad Papatum veniſſet, parum vel nihil ad Papatum pertinens invenit propter incuriam & negligentiam anteceſſorum ſuorum. Nam pene omnia a prædonibus ablata erant. Peregrini vero Romam venientes omnes ſpoliabantur, & oblationes adventantium violenter rapiebantur. Quos omnes Papa admonuit primum & poſtea excommunicavit, & tertio, quia contemſerunt excommunicationem, manum armatam appoſuit, & omnes raptores oblationum B. Petri aut penitus extinxit aut fugavit. Occiſis itaque prædonibus prædia & opida tanto tempore amiſſa recuperavit. Tunc omnes ipſum homicidam clamantes, non Papam, ſed ſangvinarium appellabant. Cardinales quoque ipſum in infirmitate, in qua & deceſſit, indignum fore dixerunt in Eccleſia S. Petri ſepeliri, eo quod tot mortibus hominum ſacerdotium fœdaſſet. Tunc Papa licet infirmus, reſumto ſpiritu, longum ſermonem Cardinalibus fecit, aſſerens, ipſos ſtulte locutos eſſe, & ſe bene feciſſe; inducens illud, quod Ezechias dixit Sacerdotibus, qui opponebant zelum pro domo Iſraël & alia multa, & poſt ſubdidit: Cum mortuus fuero, corpus meum ante fores Eccleſiæ ſiſtite, & januas Eccleſiæ ſeris & vectibus obſtruite. Si voluntate divina portæ fuerint reſeratæ, corpus inferte; ſin autem, de ipſo facite, quod vultis. Cumque defuncto eo, ſic fieret, ut juſſerat, turbo vehemens divinitus veniens portas firmatas non ſolum aperuit, ſed cum magno fragore usque ad parietes depulit. Qui viſo miraculo, corpus ejus honorifice in Eccleſia S. Petri humatum eſt.

Septimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXLVI. Romæ unus contra duos, & duo contra unum de Papatu contenderunt, Gregorio defuncto, ſecundum Martinum. Sed Rex Henricus Romam veniens, Canonica & Imperiali cenſura eos amovit, & Suedegerum Babenbergenſem Epiſcopum Papam conſtituit, qui & Cle-

De Clemente PP. CLVI.

Clemens Papa, natione Saxo ex patre Gunthero, ſedit novem menſibus & diebus octo. Iſte, ſecundum Martinum, Babenbergenſis Eccleſiæ Epiſcopus prius exiſtens, invaſor fuit Papatus, quia intruſus fuit per Henricum Regem. Hic Suedegerus, ſecundum Egghardum, de Canonicatu Halberſtadenſi electus eſt in Epiſcopum Babenbergenſem ſecundum, & natus extitit de quibusdam Saxoniæ Nobilibus, quorum poſſeſſio fuit Morlene & Horneburg, quam proprietatem quidam Theodoricus ejus propaginis, cum hæredem non haberet, contulit Eccleſiæ Halberſtadenſi. Ab iſto Clemente Papa Henricus Rex & Agnes uxor ejus in die Natalis Domini Imperiali benedictione ſublimantur, promittentibus Romanis ſub juramento, ſe ſine conſenſu ejus nunquam Papam electuros. Iſte Clemens Papa renovavit omnia privilegia Eccleſiæ Hammeburgenſis, quæ dudum a Romana Eccleſia ſibi fuerant collata, ſecundum Helmoldum. Godefridus Dux Lotharingiæ, Henrico Imperatori rebellans, ſecundum Sigibertum, ſe ſubdidit eidem, & in cuſtodiam miſſus eſt in Gevekenſtein, ac ſuo Ducatu privatus eſt.

Octavo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXLVII. Henricus Imperator Paſcha Domini celebravit, ſecundum Vincentium, in Trajecto inferiore Friſiæ, & feſtum Pentecoſtes Aquisgrani, ubi Godefridus per interceſſionem Principum de carceribus ereptus eſt, ſed Ducatus nondum eſt ſibi reſtitutus. Godefridus autem liberatus de vinculis, videns, quod nec propter petitionem ſpontaneam ſibi dominium ſuum reſtitueretur, inopiæ tædio & facti indignitate permotus, bellum rurſus ex integro reſumſit. Inter alias ergo, quas reipublicæ intulit clades, Novimagium domum regiam incendit, urbem Verdonenſem cepit, & majorem in ea Eccleſiam concremavit. Sed de hoc facto poſtea intime pœnituit, ut publice ſe flagellari faceret, & capillos ſuos, ne tonderentur, multa pecunia redimeret. Sumtus vero ad reædificandam Eccleſiam daret, & in opere cæmentario per ſe ipſum vilis mancipii miniſterio functus deſerviret. Antequam tamen prædicta fierent, & Henricus Imperator factus de Roma rediret, exercitum navigio per Rhenum transvexit in Friſiam contra Godefridum ſupra dictum, & contra Theodoricum Comitem Hollandiæ auxiliatorem ejus, ubi Imperator duas munitiſſimas urbes cepit, puta Rynsberg & Flerdingen. Sed poſt hæc Godefridus ſub ſpe gratiæ ſe Imperatori ſubdidit, ut dictum eſt. Cauſa autem rebellionis Godefrido contra Henricum fuit hæc: Patre Godefridi Gozelone defuncto, cum ipſe Ducatum patris obtinere non poſſet, ſed Henricus Rex Adelbertum loco patris ejus Ducem inſtitueret, dictus Godefridus juvenis nobiliſſimæ indolis, & in re militari multum exercitatus, arma contra Rempublicam arripuit, Adelbertum prælio victum occidit, cædes hominum & depopulationes agrorum permaximas fecit, loca omnia usque ad Rhenum, præter ea, quæ vel murorum præſidio hoſtilem impetum ſubterfugiebant, vel ſe data pecunia redemerant, in cinerem redegit.

De Damaſo II. PP. CLVII.

Damaſus Papa, natione Syrus ex patre Philippo, ſedit diebus XXIII. ſecundum Martinum. Hic Brixenſis Epiſcopus fuit & Patriarcha Aquilegienſis, & Clemente, ut opinatur, per intoxicum expedito, ab Imperatore Henrico eſt in Papam electus, & Romam miſſus, qui a Romanis honorifice ſuſceptus eſt, & Papa coronatus, ſed non diu poſt mortuus intoxico, ut præſumitur, apud S. Laurentium ſepultus eſt. Nix tanta cecidit in partibus occiduis & auſtralibus, ſecundum Sigibertum, ut ſilvas frangeret magnas, & reſoluta inundantiam inſolitam faceret. Franco Scholaſticus Leodienſis in ſcientia literarum & probitate morum pollens, ſecundum Sigibertum, ſcripſit ad Hermannum Epiſcopum Colonienſem librum ſubtilem valde de Quadratura Circuli.

De Leone X. PP. CLVIII.

Leo Papa, natione Alemannus ex patre Frederico, de Ducatu Lotharingiæ natus, ſedit annis ſex & menſibus duobus, ſecundum Martinum. Romani namque, poſtquam petiviſſent Imperatorem, ut ipſe eis Pontificem traderet, & ipſe nullum Teuthonicum ad hoc inducere poſſet, ut onus Papatus ſubiret propter malitiam Romanorum, tandem Brunonem iſtum, ſimplicem virum ad hoc inclinavit. Qui dum ad capeſſendam Sedem Apoſtolicam ad urbem tenderet, audivit Angelos cantantes: Dicit Dominus: Ego cogito cogitationes pacis, &c. Qui ad urbem veniens, & ex hoc conſcientiam habens, quod electus non eſſet, ſed ſolum ab Imperatore poſitus, omnino reſignavit Papatum. Tunc denuo ab omnibus eligitur, & cum honore magno ſuſcipitur. Hic cum in Papatu exiſtens pauperem leproſum ante fores palatii inveniſſet, ipſum ſecum ſumſit, & in loco ſuo collocavit. Quem cum oſtio reſerato non inveniſſet, in paupere ſe Chriſtum recepiſſe intelligens obſtupuit. Fuit etiam peritus in Muſica, & ideo cantus ſolennes dulci & regulari modulatione compoſuit, & decantari fecit.

Nono anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXLVIII. Theodericus Comes Hollandiæ quintus apud Dordracum oppidum occiditur, ſecundum Wilhelmum, cui, quia filios legitimos non habuit, frater ejus Florentius ſucceſſit. Palumbus Presbyter Nigromanticus magnus fuit Romæ, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, qui per artem talem annulum cuidam juveni reddidit, quem Venus ſibi ſubripuerat, pro quo dæmonis clamorem audivit ad Deum vociferantis: Omnipotens Deus, quamdiu patieris nequitias Palumbi Sacerdotis. Ex quo intellexit, ſibi præſignari finem dierum ſuorum. Unde truncatis omnibus membris, miſerabili pœna defunctus eſt, confeſſus coram omni populo infinita flagitia. Defuncto Abelino Epiſcopo Aldenburgenſi, ſecundum Helmoldum, Adelbertus Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis ſurrogavit ei Ezonem, virum venerabilem & devotum. Ratzeburgenſi vero Eccleſiæ præfecit quendam Ariſtorium nomine, de Jeroſolymis venientem, & Mykelingburgenſi Eccleſiæ dederat Johannem Scotum, ibidem martyrizatum.

Decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXLIX. Leo Papa Moguntiæ celebravit Concilium LXII. Epiſcoporum, ſecundum Egghardum, in præſentia Imperatoris, ubi Godefridus Dux Lotharingiæ, interventu Papæ & Principum, gratiam Imperatoris ex integro recuperavit. Sanctus Theobaldus, nobilis vir de Francia, in Vincetia Venetiæ recluſus, anno XII. converſionis ſuæ bono fine quievit, ſecundum Vincentium, cujus feſtum celebratur prid. Kal. Junii.

Undecimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini ML. Ungari iterum Imperatori rebellare cœperunt, ſecundum Vincentium, quibus Geberhardus, Imperatoris patruus Ratisbonenſis Epiſcopus, obviam veniens, vice Imperatoris eos in fugam vertit, non modica cæde eos affligens. Inſuper urbem Hennenberg in Mardria poſitam, ædificiis reſtauravit, & militari cuſtodia muniri fecit, & cum magna triumphi gloria reverſus eſt in parochiam ſuam. Leo Papa dum Nordmannos a Romanorum terminis expellere ſatageret, ſecundum Sigibertum, multam calamitatem incurrebat. Nam cum multis Romanis etiam ipſe captus eſt, ſed tamen relaxari ipſe noluit, niſi & ſuis relaxatis & libertati datis. Bardo primo Monachus Fuldenſis, & poſt Archiepiſcopus Moguntinus, ſecundum Egghardum, facto ſermone ad Miſſam in Padelbrunna, obitum ſuum inſtare prædixit, & orationi fidelium ſe recommendavit, ac in eodem menſe, multis clarens virtutibus, in Chriſto fideliter obdormivit; in cujus locum Henricus Imperator Lippoldum Præpoſitum Babenbergenſem ſubrogavit.

Duodecimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLI. Agnes Imperatrix filium peperit, quem Henricum IIII. nominavit, ſecundum Vincentium. Imperatrix pro tunc Natale Domini Polothe, filio ſuo Henrico adhuc Catechumeno, cui Principes Imperii ſub juramento fidem promittere fecit. Deinde Paſchale feſtum Coloniæ celebrans, filius ſuus Henricus ab Hermanno Archiepiſcopo Colonienſi eſt baptizatus. Hic etiam Hermannus Archiepiſcopus eodem anno cum Imperatore Saxoniam ingreſſus, Goslarienſem Eccleſiam dedicavit. Duæ mulieres vetulæ ſimul in uno tugurio habitantes, ſecundum Egghardum, in ſtrata communi, qua Romam itur, ambæ pariter maleficio imbutæ, hoſpitem quemcunque paſſivum, ſolum venientem, in equum, aſinum aut porcum mutabant ad libitum ſuum. Romæ quidam erat juvenis dives valde, Rothgerus nomine, nobilis & notabilis, ſecundum Egghardum, qui noviter uxorem duxerat, & ſodalibus ſuis frequenter convivia facere ſolebat. Hic una dierum poſt convivium habitum transivit in campum ſpatiandi cauſa cum convivis ſuis, & cœpit ludere cum eisdem ad pilam. In quo quidem ludo, ut magis expedite ſe diſponeret, annulum ſuum deſponſationis transactæ de ſuo digito extraxit, & digito imaginis Veneris in ſtatua de prope ſtantis extento impoſuit. Ludo vero peracto, adoleſcens repetere volens annulum, invenit digitum imaginis prædictæ prius extenſum jam curvatum usque ad volam. Diu ergo luctans Rothgerus cum manu ſculptæ Veneris, nec annulum extrahere, nec digitum frangere potuit. Tacitus ergo receſſit, nec ſodalibus ſuis hoc revelavit, ſed nocte intempeſta cum famulo rediit, & invenit digitum imaginis erectum & extentum, ut prius, & annulum ſubreptum. Diſſimulato ergo damno, Rotgerus rediit ad nuptam ſuam, & cum eſſet in lecto cum ea, ſenſit quiddam nebuloſum & denſum tangibile quidem & audibile, ſed minime viſibile, inter ſe & uxorem ſuam volutari. Qui cum vellet uxorem alloqui, dixit phantaſma: concumbe mecum, quia hodie me deſponſaſti. Ego ſum Venus, cujus digito annulum impoſuiſti, illum nec reddam. Terretur valde juvenis, & longo tempore ſenſit ludibrium illud, quandocunque vellet cum uxore ſua coire. Tandem ſibi uxor moleſta pro dilectione concubitus, rem detulit ad parentes uxoris. Qui Palumbo Presbytero ſuburbano Nigromantico magno negotium aperuerunt. Qui quidem Palumbus multis promiſſis allectus, compoſitam epiſtolam dedit Rothgero, dicens: Vade illa hora noctis per quadrivium viarum, & ſtans tacite conſidera: tranſientque ibi filii hominum utriusque ſexus, omnisque ætatis, ſtatus & conditionis, equites & pedites, quidam læti & quidam triſtes. Sed quicquid audieris vel videris, non loquaris. Sequetur tunc conſequenter illam turbam, quæ ſtatura procerior, forma corpulentior, in curru ſedens. Huic tacitus tradas epiſtolam legendam, & ſtatim erit, quod poſtulas. Quæ omnia, ſicut Presbyter dixit, juveni evenerunt. Inter cæteras namque transeuntes vidit ibi mulierem in ornatu meretricio, crine ſoluto, & per humeros ſparſo, vitta aurea conſtricto, auream virgam in manu tenentem, qua mulam regebat, in qua ſedebat, & præ tenuitate veſtium quaſi apparebat geſtus oſtentans impudicos. Ultimus autem turbæ Dominus terribilis, oculos in Rothgerum acuens, cauſam viæ ſuæ ab eo requiſivit. Sed ipſe nihil reſpondens, extenſa manu porrexit ei epiſtolam. Dæmon autem notum ſibi ſigillum non audens contemnere, legit ſcriptum, moxque brachiis in cœlum elevatis, Deus, inquit, omnipotens, quamdiu patieris nequitias Palumbi Presbyteri? nec mora facta, ſatellites a latere ſuo miſit, ut annulum a Venere extorquerent. Illa diu tergiverſata, tandem annulum reddidit. Et ſic Rothgerus mentis compos, ſine obſtaculo uxori ſuæ ſe miſcuit ad libitum. Palumbus autem, ut dæmonis clamorem ad Deum audivit, mox moriturum ſe intellexit. Unde truncatis omnibus membris, miſerabiliter morte interiit.

Carnotenſem Epiſcopum in extremis conſtitutum viſitarent tot homines, quot domus ejus capere poſſet, ſecundum Sigibertum, inter oppoſitas populi catervas oculos longe rimatus Berengarium viſum, quo potuit, expellendum cenſuit, proteſtatus, immanem dæmonem prope ipſum conſiſtere, multosque ad eum ſequendum blandiente manu corrumpere. Ecce quam clare Sanctus iſte prædixit, Berengarium futurum hæreticum, & multos ſimplices animos ſubverſurum. Henricus Imperator, ſecundum Egghardum, Natale Domini Goslariæ celebrans, quosdam hæreticos, inter alia pravi erroris dogmata de Manichæorum ſecta execrantes eſum omnis animalis, de conſenſu cunctorum, ne hæretica ſcabies latius ſerpens, plures inficeret, in patibulum ſuſpendi fecit. Iſti comprehenſi fuerunt per Godefridum Ducem Lotharingiæ. Leo Papa Apocrypharios ſuos Conſtantinopolim direxit, ſecundum Vincentium, ad errores Græcorum confutandos, qui ut Simoniaci donum Dei vendebant, ut Valeſii hoſpites ſuos caſtratos etiam ad Epiſcopatum promovebant, & ut Arriani rebaptizabant Latinos, baptizatos in nomine S. Trinitatis. Inſuper, ut Donatiſtæ, in ſola Græcia orthodoxam Eccleſiam eſſe jactitabant: ut Nicolaitæ nuptias Sacerdotibus concedebant: ut Severiani maledictam legem Moſi aſſerebant, ut Pneumatomachi Proceſſionem Spiritus Sancti a Sabbato abſcindebant, & ut Nazaræi Judaiſmum obſervabant, parvulos etiam morientes ante octavum diem a nativitate baptizari, mulieres in partu vel menſtruo periclitatas communicari, vel ſi Paganæ vel Judææ eſſent prohibebant. De fermentato pane ſacrificabant, Latinos vocabant Azymitas, & eos nimis perſequebantur, ac eorum Eccleſias claudebant, Romanam Eccleſiam tanquam adulterinam anathematizabant, eique Eccleſiam Conſtantinopolitanam præferebant. Nicetas ergo coram Imperatore Conſtantinopolitano ſic convincitur, ut librum ſuum, quem contra Romanos ſcripſerat, plenum erroribus, intitulatum de Azymo, de Sabbato, de Nuptiis Sacerdotum anathematizaret & incenderet. Iſte Nicetas fuit Monachus Conſtantinopolitanus & Hereſiarcha peſſimus.

Quarto decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLIII. Leo Papæ Ratisbonæ ad Henricum Imperatorem veniens, ſecundum Vincentium, reliquias Beati Dionyſii Ariopagitæ Martyris, de quibus diu dubitatum erat, an ibi haberentur, præſentibus Pariſiorum legatis, perſpexit, ibique teneri probavit, & literis ſuis teſtimonium veritati perhibuit. Inde procedens in Wormatiam Papa, Natale Domini ibidem celebravit. Ipſo autem Natalis die Papa Miſſam majorem decantavit, & die ſequenti juſſu Papæ Lippoldus Moguntinus Archiepiſcopus officium peregit. In hujus quidem feſtivitatis Miſſa quidam Humbertus, unus de Diaconibus, ob feſti venerationem lectionem epiſtolarem decantavit. Romani autem, qui affuerunt, Papam objurgabant, quod more Romano non fieret Miſſa. Papa vero mandavit legenti epiſtolam, ut a lectione ceſſaret. Sed legens mandatum Papæ contemſit, & Papa denuo mandatum emiſit, nec Diaconus ille propter hoc ceſſavit. Papa autem, lectione finita, ob contumaciam commiſſam Diaconum degradavit. Quod Lippoldus Archiepiſcopus ægre ferens, ad horam tamen iram diſtulit. Inſtante vero ſacrificii tempore, Pontifex ſe in Sedem ſuam locavit, conteſtans, nec ſe nec alium quempiam illud officium completurum, niſi recipiat ſuum miniſtrum. Quod ut Papa vidit, Pontifici ceſſit, reindutumque miniſtrum continuo reſtituit ſuo officio, & ſic Pontifex officium illud executus eſt. Qua in re & Pontificis auctoritas, & Apoſtolica conſideranda fuit humilitas. Poſt hæc Leo Papa valedicens Imperatori, Wormatia Romam rediit, multis eum diverſarum provinciarum militibus de Imperiali mandato comitantibus. Poſt Paſcha autem exercitum per Apuliam contra Nordmannos, Apoſtolicarum poſſeſſionum invaſores, ducens pugnavit infeliciter, & infinita cæde utrobique peracta, ipſe Papa cum multis capitur, ſed tandem de captivitate liberatus, cunctos dies, quibus ſupervixit, in luctu & mœrore exegit. Sigefridus frater Godefridi Ducis Lotharingiæ, Diaconus Cardinalis, ſecundum Egghardum, mittitur a Leone Papa legatus Conſtantinopolim, ubi in dicta Synodo Imperator Græcorum & Patriarcha eidem obtemperare dedignabantur. Unde legatus egreſſus urbem, ſandalia ſua more Apoſtolorum ſuper eos publice excuſſit. Quo facto, tantum terrorem omnibus Conſtantinopolitanis incuſſit, ut Imperator & Patriarcha cum Clero & populo ſequenti die ſacco & cinere involuti ad ipſum procederent, & Apoſtolicam auctoritatem in eo proni in terram cadentes venerarentur. Corpus Pallantis filii Evandri, ſecundum Vincentium, Romæ integrum repertum eſt cum tali epitaphio:

Filius Evandri Pallas, quem lancea Turni
Militis occidit, more ſuo jacet hic.

Bonifacius Marchio Italorum obiit, ſecundum Sigibertum, cujus relictam Beatricem Godefridus Dux accipiens, Marchiam & cæteras ejus poſſeſſiones conjugii prætextu ſibi vendicavit. Quo comperto, Imperator Henricus gravi ſcrupulo perurgeri cœpit, reputans, ne forte per eum animi Italorum ſemper avidi novarum rerum, ut a regno Teuthonicorum ſe ſubtraherent, ſolicitarentur.

De Victore PP. CLIX.

Victor Papa, natione Alemannus ex patre Wulfardo, ſedit annis IIII. & menſibus III. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte perantea Geverhardus dictus, Epiſcopus Eiſtetenſis, Moguntiæ in Concilio, quod Imperator Henricus ibidem congregaverat, ab omnibus electus eſt in Papam, & miſſus Romam, honorifice eſt ſuſceptus, & in Papam conſecratus. Iſte Synodum celebravit Florentiæ, & multos Epiſcopos propter Simoniam & fornicationem depoſuit.

rator, magno Principum conventu habito, ſecundum Sigibertum, filium ſuum Henricum Regem a Principibus & omnibus aliis eligi, eique, ſi poſt obitum ſuum juſtus rector eſſet futurus, ſubjectionem promitti fecit, & ipſum ungi in Regem Aquisgrani a Hermanno Archiepiſcopo Colonienſi procuravit & ordinavit. Carpentarius quidam Romæ habens puerum, ſecum duxit, ubi laborabat, ſecundum Egghardum: qui patre ſecante ligna, collegit fragmenta ſecuri præciſa, & compoſuit ea in forma ſcripturæ ludendo & tempus deducendo taliter ſonantis, eo ignorante: Dominabor a mari usque ad mare. Quod quidam Sacerdos præteriens legit, & intelligens, ipſum puerum futurum Papam vel Imperatorem: dixit patri ſuo, quod filium ſuum ad ſcholas mitteret. Quod ſic factum eſt. Hic juvenis Hildebrandus dictus cum adoleviſſet, per ſcriptores Imperatoris ad curiam eſt tractus, & tunc ſæpiſſime Henricus filius Imperatoris adhuc juvenis ipſum multum exacerbavit & irritavit, in tantum quod ſæpe Imperatrix filium ſuum propter eum corriperet, in præſagium futuri mali, quod idem Scholaris facturus eſſet eidem Henrico. Contigit autem, quod Henrico Imperatori talis viſio appareret: videbatur enim ſibi, quod filius ejus Henricus in menſa ſederet, & ſcholari Hildebrando duo cornua creſcerent, cum quibus filium ſuum in altum levaret, & tandem in ſtercus projiceret. Quod Imperatrix maſticans dixit, filium ſuum per ipſum de Imperio fore deponendum. Unde Imperator fecit ipſum includi in turri Hamſteyn, a qua poſt annum extractus, factus eſt Monachus; qui poſtea cum ſuo Abbate venit Romam, & manſit ibidem, ubi carus factus omnibus, tandem factus eſt Papa Gregorius VII ut infra patebit.

Sexto decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLV. Bruno Myndenſis Epiſcopus vir eximiæ ſanctitatis obiit in Domino, ſecundum Egghardum. Hic duo Monaſteria Beatæ Mariæ & S. Martini ab anteceſſore ſuo Sigiberto Epiſcopo incepta perfecit & conſummavit; cui ſucceſſit in Epiſcopatu Engelbertus Babenbergenſis Canonicus, per Henricum Imperatorem promotus. Hermannus Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis XXXII. obiit, ſecundum Wilhelmum; cui ſucceſſit Anno Præpoſitus Goslarienſis, & ſedit XX. annis. Iſte allodium illud famoſum Salevelt dictum Epiſcopio Colonienſi adjecit. Florentius Comes Hollandiæ VI. ſecundum Wilhelmum, in loco, qui Hainerte dicitur, dormiens incaute, ab inimicis ſuis occiditur, & in Egmunda ſepelitur, cui ſucceſſit Theodericus filius ejus.

Decimo ſeptimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLVI. Videbatur a multis in confinio Nordmanniæ, & Britanniæ portentum inconſuetum in una, vel potius duabus mulieribus, ſecundum Sigibertum. Nam in ea fuerunt duo capita & quatuor brachia, cæteraque gemina omnia usque ad umbilicum, ſed inferius ſimplicia. Ridebat autem vel comedebat, aut dormiebat una, altera flente, eſuriente vel vigilante, ſed uno meatu digerebant. Una quoque defuncta, alia ſupervixit pæne triennio, exanime bajulans cadaver, donec & pondere molis & fœtore cadaveris defecit. Æſtimatum eſt autem a quibusdam, & in ſcripturis relictum, quod hæ duæ mulieres Angliam & Normanniam deſignaverint, quæ, quicquid pecuniarum avidis faucibus ſorbuerunt, in unam laſciviam defluxit. Mortuam quoque, id eſt pene exhauſtam Nordmanniam indigentem pecuniis ſuſtentat Anglia, donec & ipſa fortaſſis exactorum violentia exhauſta ſuccumbat & deficiat. Henricus Imperator, ſecundum Egghardum, Victori Papæ miſit clanculo literas, porrigendas omnibus, qui in Italia opibus & militari virtute plurimum poterant, in quibus deprecabatur eos, ut Ducem Godefridum, nequid forte mali contra Rempublicam machinaretur, obſervarent; promittebatque, ſe ipſum, vita comite, proximo anno affuturum, & quid facto opus eſſet, viſurum. Romani vero abſentiam Imperatoris videntes periculoſam propter Godefridi Ducis aſtutiam pariter & potentiam, quibus nimium contra Rempublicam invaleſcere cœpit, ſcripſerunt Henrico Imperatori, ut feſtinaret viſitare ipſos. Propter quod Imperator mox in Italiam profectus eſt. Quo veniente, Godefridus in occurſum ejus transivit, ſe excuſans, quod nichil rebellionis cogitaret, ſed quod paratus eſſet pro ſtatu Reipublicæ & pro ſalute Imperatoris extrema & omnia ſuſtinere. Sed Imperator, accepto conſilio a Primoribus, a crimine impoſito ipſum abſolvit, Beatricem tamen quaſi per deditionem acceptam ſecum duxit, objiciens ei, quod contractis inconſulto nuptiis cum hoſte publico Italiam prodidiſſet. Regreſſus igitur de Italia, apud Tynois villam in confinio Teuthonicorum & Francorum a Rege Francorum contumelioſe objurgabatur. Propter quod exacerbatus Imperator cum ſingulare certamen cum eo frendens inire vellet, Rex Francorum nocte proxima turpi fuga dilapſus, in ſuos ſe fines recepit, Imperator vero Bokvelden proficiſcitur. Ubi aliquamdiu venationi deditus comperit, Wilhelmum Marchionem & Theodericum Comitem cum infinita multitudine Saxonici exercitus, quos contra Lotwinos, vel Lutitios miſerat, rebus male geſtis occubuiſſe. Nec multo poſt ipſe corporis moleſtia correptus, cum ſeptem vel eo amplius diebus lecto decubuiſſet, diem clauſit extremum. Præſentes autem erant quaſi ad officium tanti funeris ex induſtria evocati, Victor Romanus Pontifex, Richardus Aquilegienſis Patriarcha, Ghevehardus Ratisponenſis Epiſcopus patruus Imperatoris, & alii innumeri tam laici quam Eccleſiaſtici Ordinis & dignitatis. Corpus autem ejus Spiram translatum eſt, & Regio more exequiis celebratis in die Apoſtolorum Simonis & Judæ, quo die etiam & natus fuerat, traditum eſt ſepulturæ. Regnum autem pro patre obtinuit Henricus filius ejus adhuc infantulus annorum ſex, anno, poſtquam in Regem unctus fuerat, tertio. Adminiſtratio tamen regni & omnium, quibus quibus opus erat, apud Agnetem Imperatricem remanſit, quæ ſatis provide regni gubernacula geſſit. Sed Principes aliqui, invidia forte ducti, Regem puerum matri abſtulerunt, eamque a regimine regni removerunt. De quorum numero fuit Anno Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, qui puerum in loco, qui dicitur Werida, navi imponens, matri abduxit, & exinde diſſenſiones in regno, Eccleſiarum perturbatio, Monaſteriorum deſtructio, Clericatus deſpectio, & totius juſtitiæ & religionis conculcatio cœpit oriri. Obiit autem Henricus Imperator in Borchvelde, anno ætatis ſuæ XXXIX. Imperii ſui XI. ſed regni ſui XVII. ſepultus in ſepulcro patris & matris ſuæ, quorum animæ requieſcant in perpetua pace. Amen.

Explicit prima pars Chronicæ Novellæ Magiſtri Hermanni, Ordinis Prædicatorum.

PROOEMIVM SIVE PROLOGVS IN PARTEM SECVNDAM CHRONICÆ.

Circa materiam præſentis ſecundæ partis Chronicæ Novellæ eſt advertendum, quod ea, quæ juxta annorum Domini ordinem in ipſa reperiuntur exarata, de venerabilium Patrum, Vincentii videlicet & Henrici de Hervordia, ac Martini Ordinis Prædicatorum Codicibus, necnon aliorum quorundam Hiſtoricorum authenticorum, ad manus ſe protunc offerentibus, excerpta ſunt ſtudioſe & collecta, adjunctis eisdem loco & tempori congruis variis aliis narrationibus & hiſtoriis, Verbi Dei ſeminatoribus admodum utilibus & optimis, quorum Auctores, cum præſens Opuſculum ſcriberetur, noti minime extiterunt. Et quia hæc pars ſecunda longe ultra annos in prælibatorum Patrum voluminibus contentos ſe extendit, prout lectoribus oculatis limpide patere poteſt, idcirco neceſſarium fuit, pro annis excreſcentibus & eorum actitatis, ad illorum recurrere ſcripta Chronographorum, quorum dicta licet inter viros Scholaſticos modici ſint ponderis, apud Optimates tamen pariter & civiles veritatis exiſtunt lucidæ & claræ famæ. Quibus quidem Hiſtoriis authenticis, Dei optulante gratia, ad finem optatum perductis, & teſtimoniis cæterarum narrationum annorum ſubſequentium deficientibus fide dignorum, referendarios incertos ex animo devitans, ſolum ea præſentibus annotare curavi, quæ vel ipſe ſic fieri vidi, vel omni ambiguitate ſemota, ſic facta experimentis certiſſimis didici. Sint ergo ſubſcripta omnia quibusvis legentibus fida, veridica & certa, velutique dubietatis ſcrupulo omnino carentia, ſtabilita ſuper petra firmiſſima, ad honorem Domini Noſtri Jeſu Chriſti, cui ſemper ſit honor & gloria in ſecula ſeculorum, Amen.

De Henrico IIII. Imp. 85.

Henricus Quartus, filius Henrici III. Imperatoris cœpit anno mundi VMXVII. Olympiadis CCCCLVII. anno tertio, Urbis conditæ MDCCCVI. Domini vero MLVI & annis XLIX. imperavit. Iſte cum adhuc eſſet infantulus VI annorum, a Primoribus Regni matri ſuæ Agneti Imperatrici commendatus eſt ad educandum. Hic, ſecundum Chronicas Saxonum, multis prœliis Saxones vexavit, caſtrum Hartisborgh & Monaſterium ejus conſtruxit, quod tamen Saxones poſtea deſtruxerunt. Victorioſus in bellis extitit, qui & Magnum Ducem Saxoniæ de Luneborg & Albertum Marchionem de Ballenſtede cepit, & integro anno detinuit, ita ut nullus ſciret, quid de eis factum eſſet.

Primo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLVII. Coloniæ generali conventu Principum habito, ſecundum Sigibertum, Baldowinus & Godfridus, mediante Victore Papa, ad gratiam Regis & pacem reducuntur, & omnes bellorum motus ſedantur, ſed poſt immediate Papam Romam regreſſus defunctus eſt. Saxones crebris conventiculis, ſecundum Egghardum, agitabant, qualiter de injuriis Henrici III. Imperatoris defuncti ſe vindicantes, Regnum Romanum, filio ejus adhuc puerulo, poſſent perturbare. Conjurant ergo cum Ottone fratre Wilhelmi Marchionis defuncti. Tandem caſu dictus Otto cum Saxonibus congreſſus eſt contra Brunonem & Egbertum patrueles Imperatoris, & prima fronte Bruno & Otto pleni ira, tam concitatos in ſe ipſos viciſſim impetus dederunt, ut utrique alterutrum, primo incurſu equo excuſſum, letali vulnere transfoderent. Quibus Ducibus amiſſis, utramque aciem diu gravis pugna tenuit. Egbertus etiam, quanquam graviter ſauciatus, dolore tamen interemti fratris efferatus, rabido curſu in hoſtes ſe miſit præcipitem, & filium Bernhardi Comitis interficiens, cæteros in fugam vertit. Et ſic Respublica a conventiculis & dolis Saxonum liberata eſt, ſignifero rebellionis ademto. Baldowinus Comes Flandriæ, ſecundum Wilhelmum, ab Imperatore Valentianas & Walacriam in beneficio ſuſcepit. Agnes vero Imperatrix, mater Henrici Regis, Ducatum Bayoariæ ſuſcepit.

De Stephano IX. Papa 160.

Stephanus Papa, natione Lotharingus ex patre Benedicto, ſedit menſibus X. & diebus XXVIII. Hic, ſecundum Martinum, prius Abbas Caſſinenſis, ab univerſis Principibus & populo in Papam eſt electus: nec quisquam multis retroactis temporibus, tam lætis animis quam voluntatibus promtis, ad Eccleſiæ regimen proceſſit. Sed heu tantam ſpem fruſtrata eſt inopinata mors & immatura.

Secundo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLVIII. Padelbrunna civitas Weſtphaliæ combuſta eſt cum majori Eccleſia, ſecundum Egghardum; in Monaſterio autem Monachorum Schotus quidam Paternus nomine, Monachus multo tempore recluſus, qui etiam incendium illud ſæpe prædixerat, propter propoſitum recluſionis exire nolens, ſe comburi paſſus eſt. Huic viro ſancto Deus incendium prædictum revelaverat, præcipiens ſibi, ut populo diceret, quod niſi ſe per pœnitentiam emendaret, civitas illa poſt XXX. dies incendio peritura eſſet. Viſio autem illa populo fuit publicata, ſed tamen homines non fuerunt emendati, non credentes viro ſancto. Unde vir Dei pretioſa cle-

De Benedicto X. PP. Rom. CLXI.

Benedictus Papa, natione Tuſcus ex patre Humberto, ſedit menſibus IX. & diebus XVI. ſecundum Martinum. Iſtum Romani, accepta pecunia, contra Canones elegerunt, Regem Henricum puerulum non curantes, & ſedit ſine benedictione & conſecratione violenter. Tandem autem Papatui cesſit, Godfrido Duce ſibi violentiam inferente; cui ſucceſſit Gherardus Epiſcopus Florentinus. In pago Bracharenſi, ſecundum Sigibertum, juxta Tornacum multitudines colubrorum altrinſecus congregatæ, prodigioſo prœlio inter ſe concurrunt, & multis utrobique occiſis, victa pars fugiens, in cavo arboris ſe abſcondit. Sed altera pars more victorum inſequens cum ſibilo circumſtrepebat, donec circumjecto ab hominibus igne, omnes pariter concremati ſunt.

Tertio anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLIX. Eccleſia Gallicana, ſecundum Sigibertum, per Berengarium Turonenſem hæreticum turbabatur. Hic quidem Sacerdos erat, & aſſerebat, Euchariſtiam, quam ſumimus in Altari, non eſſe verum corpus Chriſti, ſed ſolum figuram corporis & ſanguinis Chriſti, contra quem a multis acriter verbis & ſcriptis diſputatum eſt. Inter alios autem magiſtros Dominus Gvido Abbas de Cruce Sancti Leufredi contra ipſum de Corpore & Sanguine Chriſti librum edidit. Leo vero Papa contra ipſum Vercellis Concilium congregavit, & poſt mortem Leonis Gregorius VII. ipſum compulit ad dogmatis ſui anathema. Berengarius autem iſte in fine ita reſipuit, ut ſine retractatione a quibusdam ſanctus habeatur, plenus eleemoſynis & humilitate, magnarum poſſeſſionum Dominus diſpertiendo, non ſervus abſcondendo, nullam fœminam conſpectui ſuo patiebatur admitti. Sed quamvis ſe ita correxerit, eos tamen, quos depravaverat, convertere non potuit. Unde in die Epiphaniæ moriens, producto gemitu, hodie, inquit, in die apparitionis ſuæ apparebit mihi Dominus meus Jeſus Chriſtus, propter pœnitentiam, ſpero, ad gratiam, vel propter alios, timeo, ad pœnam. Feliciter tamen creditur in Chriſto quieviſſe. Cujus error & retractatio ponitur in Decretis de Con. Di. II. Berengarius.

De Nicolao II. PP. CLXII.

Nicolaus Papa, qui & Ghevehardus, natione Burgundus ex patre Sifrido, ſedit annis duobus & menſibus tribus, ſecundum Martinum. Hic apud Senam a Cardinalibus unanimiter eſt electus & conſecratus. Ipſe autem inſtituit, ut nullus Clericus inſiſtat venationi, & ut nullus in ſacris conſtitutus uxorem habeat aut concubinam, & quod homicidii reus, de ſacris Ordinibus ſit ejectus. Hic celebrato Romæ Concilio defunctus eſt. Statuit etiam, ut qui tunc a Simoniacis eſſent promoti, miniſterio ſuo permitterentur uti, deinceps autem, quicunque a Simoniacis ordinarentur, nichil tali promotione lucrarentur.

Quarto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini LX. Quidam cometes, ſecundum Egghardum, longos & flammeos habens crines apparuit, de quo quidam Monachus Malmeberiæ Elverius nomine ait: Veniſti, veniſti multis matribus lugende. Dudum eſt, quod te non vidi, ſed nunc multo terribiliorem te intueor, patriæ hujus excidium minantem. Monachus iſte fuit literis bene imbutus, ævo maturus, qui immanem audaciam in juventute ſua conatus fuit. Nam pennas manibus ſuis & pedibus neſcio qua arte innexuit, ut Dædali more volaret, fabulam amplexus pro veritate; collectaque ab alta turri aura, ſpatio ſtadii unius vel paulo plus volavit. Sed venti & turbinis violentia, ſimul & temerarii facti conſcientia tremulus cecidit, & perpetuo poſt hoc debilis cruribus contractis permanſit. Cauſam vero ruinæ ſuæ ipſe dixit eſſe, quod caudam in poſteriori parte oblitus fuit aptare. Henricus Rex Francorum obiit, ſecundum Wilhelmum, poſt quem Philippus filius ejus Francorum Rex XXXVI. in Francia regnavit per annos XLIX. Hujus uxor nomine Beata fuit. Baldowini Comitis Hollandiæ filia, & Roberti Comitis Flandrenſis ſoror. Iſte Philippus Rex emit Bituricas a quodam milite Harpino nomine pretio LXM. ſolidorum, & alia multa occupavit. In regno Siciliæ prope habitationem Regiam, ſecundum Sigibertum, quidam devotus Sacerdos nomine Juſtinus, eremiticam vitam ducens, tantum ſanctitatis nomen habuit, ut plures peccatores ad ipſum concurrerent, & ſibi confitentes, pœnitentias graves ab ipſo reciperent. Rex autem Siciliæ unicam habuit filiam nomine Theodoram, quæ tantæ erat prudentiæ & ſagacitatis, ut in patris præſentia totum regnum adminiſtraret, & ſingula bene diſponeret. Conſvevit autem eadem virgo venationi quandoque inſiſtere pro temporis deductione cum militibus ſuis, nec ſolertem curam habere ſolebat de virginitatis ſuæ flore, ne marceſceret. Quadam ergo die, dum eſſet venationi intenta, deviare eam contigit in denſiſſimo nemore. Cumque ſic ſola vagaretur, occurrit ei canis latrans, quaſi feram inſequens, quem ſequebatur Theodora, quaſi canem, licet diabolus eſſet, qui eam errare fecerat, ut ſeduceret. Cum autem adveſperaſſet, & nox inſtaret, cœpit virgo contriſtari, eo quod neſciret, quo ſe diverteret. Cui occurrens dæmon in ſpecie unius de familia ſua, & dixit ei: Ubi poterimus hac nocte habere hoſpitium in hac ſolitudine. Et reſpiciens, per nemoris ſpatia vidit procul domunculam, & dixit virgini: Hic prope nos quidam eremita devotus eſt, in cujus cellula manere poterimus usque mane. Et duxit eam ad illum. Cum autem appropinquaret eremitorio, dixit famulus ad virginem: Præcedam vos ad eremitam, ut loquar ei de veſtro adventu. At ubi cum diabolus veniſſet, ait homini Dei: Ecce veniet filia Regis noſtri ad te, manſura tecum per noctem. Cui Sacerdos:

dos: Bene veniat Domina noſtra: faciam ei melius, quod potero. Venientem ergo virginem eremita juxta ſuam facultatem recepit & pertractavit, potum & cibum ſibi ſolitum ei miniſtrando. Cum autem facta cœna ad ignem ſederent, ſurrexit famulus, & licentiam a virgine recipiens, & poſt horam ſe reverſurum aſſerens, cellulam exivit, viſui diſparens, ſed præſentiam non ſubtrahens. Creſcere itaque cœpit in ſene tentatio, dæmone ipſum inſtigante ex virginis pulcritudine, & primo blande virginem alloquens, ipſa verba Sacerdotis contemſit, dure ipſum reprehendendo. Sed ipſe tandem virgini vim inferens, eam oppreſſit & defloravit, At illa opprobrium ſibi factum indigne ferens, minas eremitæ intulit, dicens, ſe factum illud patri ſuo cum lacrymis conqueſturam. Quod audiens ſenex ille, & periculum vitæ formidans ex hoc ſibi imminere, puellam invaſit & interfecit, ac ſub altari eam ſepelivit. Quod cum feciſſet diabolus in aëre volitans clamavit: O ſceleratiſſime Presbyter, aliis graviſſimas pœnitentias pro ſuis delictis huc usque impoſuiſti, & nunc ipſe in profundiſſimum vitiorum lutum cecidiſti. Quibus dictis, diabolus abſceſſit. Senex autem ad verba dæmonis compunctus, cellam ſuam reliquit, & more beſtiarum extra tecta vitam agere cœpit. Cumque ſic per longum tempus tranſiſſet, & crines ei in tantum creviſſent, ut quaſi tunica ipſum operirent, incepit manibus & pedibus quaſi beſtia incedere, ut ſic eo gravior ſibi eſſet pœnitentia ſua; & per ſingulos dies lacrymis & diſciplinis multum ſe affligebat. Contigit ergo poſt ſpatium longi temporis, patrem interfectæ puellæ in eodem nemore venationi intentum oberrare. Cumque Deo diſponente ad locum, ubi dictus eremita degebat, deviando perveniſſet, invenit ipſum prope quendam paludoſum lacum deambulantem, & ſequebatur eum. Æſtimans autem Rex, prædictum ſenem feram eſſe, eo quod manibus & pedibus graderetur, ad inſtar beſtiæ hiſpidus & hirſutus, tetendit arcum ſuum, ut ipſum ſagitta percuteret. Quod Presbyter videns, lacum celeriter intravit, iquis ſe immergendo in tantum, ut vix os extra undas haberet ad ventum ſpirandum. Quod Rex cernens, ſtetit attonitus, cogitans, quid hoc eſſet. Cumque dorſum Rex verteret ad recedendum, ſenex de palude ſe erexit, ut fugeret. Sed cum Rex retroſpiceret, & ſenem videret, iterum arcum paravit ad jaciendum telum. Quod videns eremita, ut prius ſe aquis immerſit. Hoc poſtquam ſæpius factum eſſet, admiratus Rex, quid hoc eſſet, quod tam ſagaciter ſibi caveret de jaculo, cœpit dubitare, ſi forte homo eſſet, quia de beſtia hoc inſolitum erat. Unde dixit Rex: Si es homo, qui ſic latitando trepidas, ſecurus ad me venias, quia in nullo tibi nocebo. Senex autem timens tacuit. Et Rex ſecundo & tertio verba aſſecurationis repetens, tandem dixit: Adjuro te per Deum vivum pro nobis crucifixum, ut, ſi homo es, loquaris michi. Cui Sacerdos: Homo peccator ſum. Ad quem Rex: Securiſſime ad me accede. At ille: Non audeo. Cui Rex tantam fidem tandem fecit, quod ſibi nullo modo noceret propter quemcunque caſum; projiciens arma ſua procul a ſe. Tunc Presbyter de palude exiens venit ad Regem, & procidens in faciem ſuam coram eo, neſciens, quod Rex eſſet, & præſertim pater virginis, quam interfecerat, ait: Oro Domine, ut meam audias confeſſionem. Quod Rex cum lacrymis facere recuſavit, afferens, ſe indignum ad hoc officium, eo quod laicus eſſet. Senex vero cum lacrymis inſtitit, ut ipſum propter Deum audiret, & poſtea alicui Sacerdoti ea referret. Cui cum Rex tandem conſentiret, & inter cætera ſua delicta audiret, quod poſt tam turpem actum filiam ſuam occidiſſet, commota ſunt contra eum omnia viſcera ejus. Et acerbatus nimis dixit: Puella illa a te tam crudeliter interfecta, virorum viliſſime, unica mea fuit filia, quæ ubi devenerit, nunquam ſcire potui. Cujus quidem ſepulturæ locum niſi mihi oſtenderis, protinus te interficiam. Senex autem timens mortem, perrexit cum Rege, & quærens locum cellulæ, vix tandem ipſum invenit, eo quod tugurium illud præ vetuſtate jam corruiſſet, & locus immutatus eſſet. Qui cum inveniſſent ſepulcrum, foderunt, & invento corpore adhuc incorrupto & pallio ſuo involuto, ſicut ſepultum fuerat, ait Rex: Si jam alicujus meriti apud Deum, oremus, ut hanc puellam reſuſcitet precibus noſtris. Provoluti ergo ambo & proſtrati cum lacrymis oraverunt, & mox puella mortua revixit. Et gaviſus eſt Rex ſupra modum. Tunc Rex una cum filia ſua ſenem illum de nemore eduxit, & crinibus raſis ipſum veſtibus induit, & cum diſpenſatione per Papam facta, ipſum in Epiſcopum ordinari fecit.

Quinto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXI. Rex Henricus, ſecundum Vincentium, apud Trajectum inferius Friſiæ Paſcha cum matre ſua ſolenniter celebravit. Quem Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis Anno dictus, annuentibus quibusdam regni Principibus, cum lancea Domini & aliis Imperii inſignibus, a matre violenter arreptum, ſecum Coloniam duxit. Sigibertus autem ſic dicit: Agnes Imperatrix adhuc nutriens filium ſuum, regni negotia per ſe ipſam adminiſtrare curabat, utens plurimum conſiliis Henrici Auguſtenſis Epiſcopi. Unde nec ſuſpicionem inceſtuoſi amoris effugere potuit, fama jactitante, quod non ſine turpi commercio in tantam coaluiſſet Epiſcopi familiaritatem. Principes ergo ea re offenſi, & regni adminiſtrationem ad ſe transferre, & matrem a puero diſtrahere ſatagentes, crebra conventicula fecerunt, & animos popularium adverſus Imperatricem ſolicitaverunt. Ad ultimum Anno Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, communicatis conſiliis cum Egberto & Ottone Ducibus Bayoariorum, navigio per Rhenum ad locum, qui dicitur Sancti Swiberti Inſula, venit, ubi tunc Rex erat. Qui dum quadam die poſt ſolennes epulas eſſet hilarior, hortari eum cœpit Archiepiſcopus, ut navem quandam ſuam, quam ad hoc ipſum miro opere conſtruxerat, ſpectatum procederet. Quam cum ingreſſus eſſet, ſuum Buthue. Timentes vero hi, qui patrem ejus interfecerant, ne forte filius ultor paternæ necis fieret, concitaverunt tumultum in populo, dicentes: Non hic noſtri dominabitur, ſed Truto filius Gryni. Quid enim proderit nobis, occiſo Godeſchalco libertatem armis acquiſiviſſe, ſi iſte hæres Principatus extiterit. Jam enim plus iſte nos afflixit quam pater ejus, appoſitusque Saxonum populo, novis provinciam Slaviæ involvet doloribus. Mox ergo conſpirata manu ſtatuerunt Trutonem in Principatum, excluſis filiis Godeſchalci, quibus jure debebatur dominium Slavorum. Quorum filiorum junior fugit ad Danos, eo quod de Regia Danorum ſtirpe eſſet natus, ſenior vero Buthue declinavit ad Bardos, quærens auxilium a Saxonum Principibus, quibus pater ejus ſæpe fidelis extiterat. Qui etiam rependentes beneficiis paternis gratiam, ſuſceperunt pro filio prœlium, multoque expeditionum fatigio reſtituerunt ipſum in locum ſuum: attamen ſtatus Buthue ſemper erat infirmus, eo quod, cum Chriſtianus eſſet & amicus Principum, apud gentem ſuam ut proditor libertatis haberetur.

Octavo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXIIII. Adelbertus Bremenſis Archiepiſcopus ab Archiepiſcopis Moguntino & Colonienſi in partem conſilii Regis aſſumtus, ſecundum Egghardum, ſæpius colloquendo cum Rege Henrico & obſequendo, ita ſibi eum junxit, ut cæteris Epiſcopis poſtpoſitis, totus in eum inclinaretur, & ipſe in regno quaſi Monarchiam ſibi uſurpare videretur. Secundus vero poſt eum fuit Comes Wernerus. Iſti duo pro Rege imperabant: ab his Epiſcopatus & abbatiæ, ab his quicquid Eccleſiaſticarum, quicquid ſecularium dignitatum eſt, emebatur, nec alia ſpes cuiquam, licet induſtrio & egregio viro, adipiſcendi honoris ullius erat, quam ut hos duos prius ingenti prævifione (penſione) pecuniarum ſuarum ſaturaſſet. Iſti etiam primo prædia Monaſteriorum fauctoribus ſuis pro lubitu ſuo diſtribuebant. Poſt etiam Monaſteria inter ſe partiebantur, Rege ad omnia, quæ juſſus fuiſſet, puerili facilitate annuente. Ipſe quoque Adelbertus Archiepiſcopus Bremenſis duas occupabat Abbatias, puta Corbeyenſem & Laurenſem. Et ne illud cæteris Principibus eſſet ingratum, dedit Archiepiſcopo Colonienſi duas, videlicet Malmendren & Endan, Archiepiſcopo vero Moguntino unam in Salegenſtad, Ottoni quoque Duci Bayoarorum unam in Altaha, & Rodolfo Duci Swevorum unam in Kenibeten. Enghelbertus VII. Archiepiſcopus Magdeburgenſis obiit, ſecundum Egghardum, cui in ſedem ſucceſſit Wicelo. Sigifridus Archiepiſcopus Moguntinus, Guntherus Epiſcopus Babenbergenſis, Wilhelmus Epiſcopus Trajectenſis, aliique quam plures Præſules & Nobiles multo comitatu usque ad ſeptem milia voto orando Jeroſolymam petentes, ab Arabicis & barbaris in paraſceve in quodam caſtello obſeſſi ſunt, & tot occiſi aut vulnerati, ut vix duo milia ſint reverſi.

Nono anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXV. Arnulfus Wormatienſis Epiſcopus obiit, ſecundum Sigibertum, cui ſucceſſit in ſedem Adalbertus Monachus de Monaſterio S. Galli, frater Ludolfi Ducis, uno pede omnino debilis, vir per omnia dignus ſpectaculo. Erat enim fortitudinis magnæ, edacitatis nimiæ, craſſitudinis tantæ, quod aſpicientibus horrorem magis induceret, quam admirationem, nec ita Centimanus gigas aut aliud antiquitatis, ſi ab inferis emergeret, ſtupentis populi oculos in ſe atque ora converteret. Henricus Rex Paſcha celebravit, ſecundum Egghardum, ubi Adelbertus Archiepiſcopus Bremenſis intra ſacra Miſſarum ſolennia, dum debitum tantæ feſtivitati ſermonem faceret, hominem ab infeſtatione dæmonis purgavit, fuſis pro eo tam ſuis quam totius populi, qui aderat, precibus. Ea res grandi miraculo cunctis erat, quod vir tam peſſimæ æſtimationis in populo, qui vitam virtutum non haberet, ſigna virtutum faceret. Sed æmuli ejus hoc invidioſe interpretabantur, non meritis ejus, ſed præſentium populorum aſcribendum eſſe tantæ rei effectum. Ibidem etiam tunc per conceſſionem ejusdem Archiepiſcopi primum ſe Rex armis bellicis ſuccinxit, ſtatimque in Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem ferro & igne præceps abiſſet, niſi Imperatrix occurriſſet. Inter cætera autem id potiſſimum ei invidiæ erat, quod ante aliquot, dum Imperatrici jus regni rerumque gubernacula eripere vellet, ipſum Regem pene in ultimum diſcrimen præcipitaſſet. Quorundam Pſeudomonachorum privata ignominia, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, nomen bonorum Monachorum vehementer infamavit. Illi enim obmiſſo ſtudio divinarum rerum totam operam pecuniæ & quæſtibus impendebant, & pro Abbatiis & Epiſcopatibus aures Principum importune pulſabant, ac per ambitionis prærupta & pecuniarum male acquiſitarum profuſionem graſſabantur ad Eccleſiaſticas dignitates, ſeculares etiam emtores largitionis ſuæ immoderantia excludentes, nec venditor iniquus tantum audebat poſcere, quantum emtor impius promtus erat ſolvere. Mirabatur denique mundus, unde ille ſcaturiret fluvius pecuniarum, unde tantæ opes in privatos homines congeſtæ fuiſſent, & eos potiſſime homines, qui crucis ſcandalum & paupertatis titulum profeſſi ſunt, ac præter ſimplicem victum & veſtitum nihil ſe rei familiaris habere mentirentur. Iſta Dominici agri zizania licet vineæ Domini arida ſarmenta & ſtipula æternis ignibus præparata totum ſacri gregis corpus quaſi tabo quodam infecerat. Archiepiſcopi Moguntinus & Colonienſis, ſecundum Sigibertum, ægre ferentes familiaritatem nimiam Adelberti Archiepiſcopi Bremenſis cum Rege Henrico, crebra conventicula fecerunt, & tandem adulta jam conſpiratione, diem generalis colloquii omnibus regni Principibus indixerunt, ut tributariam (Treburiam) venientes, Archiepiſcopum Bremenſem communem omnium hoſtem omnes communibus ſtudiis oppugnarent. Statuta ergo die affuit & Rex, ſed triſtis in Regem omnium vultus, triſtis erat omnium ſententia, ut aut ſe regno abdicaret, aut Archiepiſcopum

Quod ille intrepidus incipiens, cum Gloria Patri & filio dixiſſet, nullatenus & Spiritui Sancto dicere potuit, frequentius etiam repetendo. Sed poſtquam de Epiſcopatu ejectus eſt, tunc plene & faciliter illud dixit.

Duodecimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXVIII. Agnes mater Henrici Regis, ſecundum Sigibertum, filia Principis Pictaviæ tædio affecta, vel forte divinitus compuncta, Ducatum Bayoariæ depoſuit, & regni gubernacula penitus contemnens, pro Chriſto Romam ſe contulit, ibique dignis pœnitentiæ fructibus mira deſerviens humilitate, poſt aliquot annos in Domino quievit. Nordmanni, qui in præjudicium Papæ & Eccleſiæ regnum Apuliæ occupaverant, ſecundum Vincentium, fines Campaniæ infeſtabant. Quos Godfridus Dux Spoletanus & Mechtildis Comitiſſa devota filia Sancti Petri expulerunt. Hæc Mechtildis, ſecundum Egghardum, fuit adeo potens, ut cum Imperatoribus multiplex bellum geſſiſſet. Quæ cum ampliſſimis poſſeſſionibus abundaret, totum patrimonium ſuum ſuper altare S. Petri obtulit, quod in hodiernum diem Patrimonium S. Petri nominatur ex ipſius largitione.

Tertio decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXIX. Ipſe Rex Henricus adoleſcentiæ ſuæ ductus errore, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, legitimæ conjugis ſuæ obliviſcitur, & tam nefandis criminibus involutus eſſe diffamatur, ut etiam Principes ejus ipſum regno privare molirentur. Anno autem Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis offenſis his, quæ male fiebant in palatio, adminiſtrationem rerum publicarum reſignavit. At ubi Epiſcopus ſe in ſua recepit, Rex Henricus tanquam ſeveriſſimo pædagogo liberatus, adoleſcentiæ ſuæ uſus levitate, mox omnia genera vitiorum, ruptis omnibus temperantiæ & modeſtiæ frenis præcipitem ſe dedit; Saxoniamque ſolam ex omni Imperio Romano cœpit colere, Principes deſpicere, Nobiles opprimere, inferiores ſuſtollere, venatibus, luſibus, cæterisque talibus exercitiis plusquam juſtitiis faciendis operam dare, filia, illuſtrium quibuslibet obſcure natis conjugare, privata præſidia Principibus regni non ſatis fidens inſtituere, montes enim plurimos colliculosque Saxoniæ & Thuringiæ caſtellis munitiſſimis exſtruxit, præſidiumque impoſuit. Quibus cum victui neceſſaria minus ſufficerent, permiſit ut ex proximis villis & agris hoſtili more agerent, & ad ipſa caſtella munienda circumquaque manentes cogerent villanos. His discordiæ ſeminariis contigit, Regi quamplurimos inſidiatores tam vitæ quam regni ſuccreſcere.

Quarto decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXX. Godfridus Dux Lotharingiæ, ſecundum Sigibertum, omnibus pene terris magnitudine rerum ſuarum congeſtarum compertus & cognitus obiit, cui filius ejus Godfridus in Ducatu ſibi ſucceſſit, paternos ſequens mores. Templum Regale in Quedelingburg, ſecundum Egghardum, cum omnibus attinentiis & ædificiis, vel divina ultione aut fortuita calamitate incenſum eſt, & in cineres redactum. Henricus Rex Bichelinghen & Schedinghen duo caſtra, ſecundum Chronicam Saxonum, ſolo æquavit.

Quinto decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXI. Lippoldus quidam Regi cariſſimus, cujus ope & conſiliis familiariſſime uti ſolitus erat, ſecundum Chronicas Saxonum, lapſus caballo, proprio mucrone transfoditur, & ilico expiravit. Quod factum intolerabili dolore & mœſtitia Regem confecit: ſtatimque Hersveldiam, quia prope erat, deportatum, in medio Eccleſiæ cum magni funeris officii pompa ſepelivit, triginta quoque manſos pro anima ejus Monaſterio condonavit in loco, qui Mertenfeld dicitur. Hunc enim enſem quidam auctumant fuiſſe, quo famoſiſſimus quondam Hunorum Rex Attila in necem Chriſtianorum & in excidium Galliarum debacchatus fuerat. Hunc enim gladium Ungarorum Regina, mater Salomonis Regis Ungarorum, Ottoni Duci Bayoariorum dono dederat, quia eo ſuggerente, Henricus Rex Romanorum Salomonem filium ſuum paterno regno reſtituerat. Per hunc Ottonem gladius iſte devenit ad Theti filium Marchionis & Theti peremto, pervenit ad Henricum Regem, & de Henrico ad Lippoldum. De hoc, inquam, gladio legitur in Geſtis Gothorum, quod Martis quondam fuerit. Hunc Martem belli præſidem & militarium armorum primum inventorem gentiles mentiebantur. Cumque poſt multa tempora paſtor quidam inter terram leviter abſconſum arando inveniret ex bovis ſanguine, cujus pedem, dum in gramine paſceretur, vulneraverat, detulit ipſum ad Attilam Regem. Quem cum haberet, omnes aruſpices & divinatores terræ ipſum fuiſſe Martis Dei bellorum, Regem certificaverunt, & quod ad interitum orbis terrarum, atque ad perniciem multarum gentium eſſet fatalis. Et hoc quidem oraculum verum fuiſſe, teſtantur excidia multarum nobilium civitatum Galliæ in tantum, ut gladius ille vindex iræ Dei ſive flagellum Dei etiam a barbaris nuncupari mereretur. Anno Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, ſecundum Sigibertum, expulſis de Saleveld Canonicis, vitam inſtituit illic Monaſticam, miſſis illuc de Sigeberg & de Sancto Pantaleone Monachis.

Sexto decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXII. Cono, qui & Conradus, Primicerius Colonienſis, ſecundum Wilhelmum, a Henrico Rege ad ſuſcipiendum Archiepiſcopatum Treverenſem miſſus capitur, & a Comite Treverorum Theoderico & a ſatellitibus ejus in ſylvam ductus, de rupe alta præcipitatur trina vice, ſed adhuc illæſus manens, gladio transverberatur. Corpus autem ejus ſoliis obregitur, ſed a ruſtico ad villam defertur & ſepelitur. Inde vero a Theoderico Virdunenſi Epiſcopo transfertur in collegium Monaſterium, ubi multis miraculis claret. Regis turpiter ejectus, ſecundum Sigibertum, nunc primus in palatio extitit, omnibus æmulis ſuis vel mitigatis vel fugatis, & ſolus Rege fruebatur, receptus nedum in Regis gratiam vel familiaritatem priſtinam, ſed pene in regni conſortium, & omnium, quæ publice vel privatim erant agenda, ſocietatem; ita enim callidis ſuis ſurreptionibus Regem quaſi ſuum fecerat. Sed hic morbo & ætate poſtea exhauſtus, cum diu per exquiſitiſſimas Medicorum operas morti obluctatus fuiſſet, quaſi naturam arte deludere poſſet, XVI. KL. Aprilis debitum humanæ conditionis exſolvit, & pertinacibus odiis hominum, quod nunquam poterat vivendo, tandem ſatisfecit moriendo. Erat plane vir admirandæ compunctionis, & potiſſime, dum ſalutarem Domini hoſtiam offerret, totus in lacrymas effluebat. Virgo quoque, ut ferebatur, ab utero matris ſuæ permanebat. Corpus ejus de Goslaria in Bremam delatum, & ſepultum eſt. Poſt hujus vero Antiſtis mortem Henricus Rex Annonem Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem precatus eſt, ut, ſicut prius, rerumpublicarum adminiſtrationem reſumeret. Diu tamen Archiepiſcopus prædictus reſtitit Regi petenti, partim memor veterum injuriarum, partim quod homo totus in Deum ſuſpenſus, potius divinis quam ſecularibus negotiis implicari voluiſſet. Superatus tamen precibus Regis, eo moderamine, eaque induſtria & diſcretione rem tractabat publicam, ut profecto ambigeres, Pontificali eum, an Regali nomine digniorem judicares. Henricus vero Rex Aquisgranum profectus, Sanctum Speum Confeſſorem, & brachium Simonis Juſti, cujus mentio eſt in Ewangelio, & caput Anaſtaſii Monachi & Martyris, aliorumque Sanctorum reliquias ibi accepit, atque in Hartesborgh tranſtulit. Exhinc denique tendens in Bawariam vel Bayoariam, Ottonem Ducem, quem Henricus tertius Ducatu privaverat, ſibi etiam rebellantem, usquequaque perſecutus eſt, munitiones vero ejus quam plures deſtruxit, prædia vaſtavit, & ut verum reipublicæ hoſtem omnino delere conatus eſt. Econtra ille militibus electis inſtructus, ipſe quoque manu fortiſſimus & animo efferatus, quia Regiis copiis confligere non poterat, nunc præda, nunc flammis, nunc ferro ſe foris obtulit, & injurias ſuas intrepide ulciſci ſatagebat. Ipſo nempe Duce mediante, gens Saxonum non ceſſavit conjurationem adverſus Regem unanimi conſpiratione confirmare, & accuſationes blasphemias infinitas ac inauditas ad Sedem Apoſtolicam in illum referre. Socios quoque ſibi ex omni regno Teuthonico literis & nunciis facere laborabat. Nam primo Sifridum Archiepiſcopum Moguntinum, Adelbertum Wormatienſem Epiſcopum, Ghebehardum Salzeburgenſem Archiepiſcopum, Adelbrionem Herbipolenſem Epiſcopum, atque alios quamplures Præſules, indeque per ipſos & Alexandrum Papam ſibi fautores effecit. Quorum infidiis territus Rex, Saxonia ceſſit, & in aliis partibus Rheni rebus agendis inſiſtere cœpit.

Decimo ſeptimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXIII. Anno Colonienſis Archiepiſcopus & Hermannus Babenbergenſis Epiſcopus, ſecundum Sigibertum, Romam miſſi ſunt cauſa colligendorum, quæ Regi Romanorum debebantur. Qui legatione peracta, literas Alexandri Papæ detulerunt Regem vocantis ad ſatis faciendum pro Simoniaca hæreſi & aliis gravibus quibusdam criminibus ad Papam delatis. Henrico Rege extra Saxoniam in rebus regni occupato, ſecundum Chronicas Saxonum, ipſi Saxones multa præſidia munitionesque fortiſſimas conſtruxerunt. Paucas enim munitiones adhuc habebant. Inſuper omnia caſtra, quæ Rex ædificaverat, funditus everterunt, inter quæ præcipuum Hartesborg diruptum eſt, & reliquiæ ac clenodia omnia tranſportata ſunt. Monaſterium quoque & conventum Canonicorum in eo conſtructum pariter deleverunt, & quod dictu nefas eſt, innocentis cujusdam filii Regis ibidem ſepulti oſſa in contumeliam patris de ſepulcro projecerunt. Alexander Papa Lanfranco Canthuarienſi Archiepiſcopo Romam venienti dignanter aſſurrexit, ſecundum Wilhelmum, profeſſus, ſe inſigne illud reverentiæ detuliſſe non honori Archiepiſcopi, ſed amori magiſtri ſui. Duobus fratribus Ruſſorum Regibus de regno contendentibus, ſecundum Vincentium, alter eorum a conſortio regni pulſus, interpellabat Henricum Regem, ſe & regnum Ruſſorum ei ſubmittens, ſi ejus auxilio regno reſtitueretur. Sed id fruſtra factum eſt, quia graviſſima diſſenſio in Imperio Romano, de qua ſupra dictum eſt, movebat Regem magis ſua tueri, quam acquirere aliena. Rodolfus Dux Saxoniæ obiit, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis Slavorum, cui ſucceſſit Magnus filius ejus, natus ſibi de filia Regis Danorum. Qui mox in exordio ſui regiminis ad ſubjugandos Slavos rebelles animum convertit, exhortatus ad hoc per Buthue, filium Godeſchalci Principis Obotritorum, quem Slavi dominio paterno privaverant. Buthue autem Magnum Ducem Saxoniæ in ſuum auxilium vocans, ſic ipſum allocutus eſt; Novit Excellentia tua, Princeps Sereniſſime, qualiter pater meus Godeſchalcus tuis ſubvenerit progenitoribus, Slavicam rebellionem reprimendo, nichil eorum prætermittens, quæ ad cultum Dei & fidem Principum pertinebant. Ego quoque paternam ſequens modeſtiam, omni fide & probitate mandatis Principum me obtemperavi, innumeris me exponens periculis propter bonum terræ noſtræ. Qualis autem merces & me & patrem meum exceperit, neminem puto latere, cum illum quidem vita, me vero patria exemerint Slavi hoſtes veſtri & noſtri. Si ergo honorem tuum & ſalutem tuorum curare volueris, viribus & armis utendum eſt, & prohibenda Slavorum inſolentia, ne & ipſi ultra progredientes, & tua provincia abutantur. Quibus auditis, Dux Magnus reſpondit: Non poſſum hac vice per me egredi, eo quod impedimentis magnis detinear. Sed dabo tibi Bardos, Sturmaros, Holtzatos & Dithmarcos, quorum auxilio fretus, hoſtium impetus ad tempus excipere poteris. Ego autem, ſi neceſſe fuerit, quanto-quantocius ſubſequar. Buthue ergo, aſſumtis fortibus Bardorum viris, tranſivit Albiam, & proceſſit in terram Wagirorum. Nuncii quoque Ducis Magni percurrentes omnem Nordalbingorum provinciam, urgebant populum egredi in auxilium Buthue. Buthue vero præierat cum DC. viris armatorum, & veniens ad caſtrum Plunenſe, urbem præter ſpem apertam & vacuam viris reperit. Quam cum intraſſet, mulier Teuthonica, quæ inibi reperiebatur, dixit ad Buthue: Accipe de ſpoliis, quæ aſportare potes, & feſtina velociter egredi, quia per dolum factum eſt, ut urbs ſic vacua dimitteretur. Nam audito introitu tuo, in craſtinum Slavi cum maxima multitudine redibunt, & urbem hanc obſidione concludent. Buthue autem verba mulieris parvipendens, per noctem in oppido & caſtello permanſit. Eſt autem urbs hæc, ut hodie videri poteſt, lacu profundiſſimo undique circumſepta, & intrantes eam oportet tranſire per longam pontis viam. In craſtino ergo ſatis mane Slavorum infinita agmina juxta mulieris dictum urbem vallaverunt. Proviſum autem fuerat, ne navicula aliqua in tota inſula inveniretur, per quam obſeſſis facultas evadendi pateret. Buthue ergo cum ſociis obſidionem cum maxima famis difficultate ſuſtinuit. Quod percipientes Holtzati, Sturmari & Dithmarci, ad urbem acceleraverunt, ut obſeſſos liberarent. Cumque veniſſent ad rivulum, qui Swale dicitur, qui dividit Saxones a Slavis, præmiſerunt virum ſcientem loqui Slavonice, ut exploraret, quid Slavi agerent, & quomodo amicis in expugnatione urbis ſuccederet. Hic nuncius perveniens ad exercitum Slavorum, vidit eos præparare diverſa machinamenta & inſtrumenta bellica expugnationi oportuna. Quos talibus verbis alloquitur: Quid facitis o viri perditi, expugnantes urbem & viros amicos Principum & Saxonum? Non utique conatus iſte vobis cedet in proſperum. Mandat vobis Magnus Dux Saxonum ab obſidione quantocius diſcedere. Quod ſi non feceritis, ſentietis in brevi ultionem. Qui cum anxii inquirerent, ubi jam Dux eſſet, reſpondit, ipſum in proximo adeſſe cum armatorum infinita multitudine. Truto autem Slavorum Princeps, aſſumto ſeorſum nuncio, quæſivit ab eo rei veritatem. Ad quem nuncius: Quid dabitis mihi pretii, ſi prodidero ea, quæ tu quæris, & ſi ordinavero, quod tuam habebis voluntatem ſuper urbem, & ſuper eos, qui in ea ſunt? At ille promiſit ei XX. marcas. Mox autem ut firmata eſſet promiſſio, dixit traditor Trutoni & ſociis ejus: Dux iſte Magnus, quem formidas, impedimentis tenetur gravibus, ne venire poſſit, ſed Holtzati, Sturmari & Dithmarci egreſſi ſunt in pauco numero, quos ego unico verbo ſeducam, & retrocedere faciam. His dictis tranſivit pontem, & dixit Buthue ac ſociis ſuis: Conſule ſaluti tuæ, & virorum, qui hic tecum ſunt, quia Saxones, in quibus tu confidis, non venient hac vice ſuccurrere tibi. Tunc ille conſternatus animo dixit: Heu me miſerum! quomodo ſic deſeror ab amicis. Male deluſus ſum, qui Saxonibus ſemper fidem tenui. Cui ille: Diſſenſio venit in populum, & reverſi ſunt unusquisque in domum ſuam. Alio ergo conſillo tibi utendum eſt. Quibus dictis, reverſus eſt proditor ad ſocios ſuos. Quærentibus autem Saxonibus, qualiter exercitus Slavorum ſe haberet? dixit traditor: Veni ad caſtrum, ad quod me miſiſtis, & nullum, Dei gratia, periculum ibidem inveni, nec ullus obſidionis timor eſt circa amicos, ſed potius vidi Buthue lætum in caſtro conſiſtere, & omnem ſuam voluntatem obtinuiſſe. Quod audientes Saxones, retroceſſerunt. Obſeſſi vero dolo traditoris decepti, a ſpe evaſionis deciderunt, cœperuntque perquirere ab hoſtibus, ſi aliquid pro conſervatione vitæ ſuæ recipere vellent. Quibus illi reſponderunt: Nos aurum vel argentum veſtrum non cupimus, vitam autem & membrorum integritatem præbebimus, ſi exeuntes ad nos, arma dederitis. Quo audito, dixit Buthue ad ſocios: Durus nobis, o viri, ſermo proponitur, ut exeuntes arma reſignemus. In obſidione quidem fame cruciamur, ſine armis vero ad inimicos exire, periculoſum eſt valde, cum fides Slavorum incertiſſima ſit. Videtur ergo mihi noſtræ ſaluti expedire, ut vitam noſtram aliquali dilatione redimamus, ſi forte nobis Deus alicubi auxiliatores miſericorditer admittat. Quo contra ſocii dixerunt: Fidem Slavorum ambiguam valde profitemur, ſed dilationem fiendam nobis expedire, non videmus, cum nemo ſit, qui nos juvet, aut obſidionem ſolvat. Atrociorem autem mortem fames quam gladius affert. Melius eſt compendio vitam finire, quam diu torqueri. Videns ergo Buthue, ſocios velle egredi, juſſit ſibi cultiora exhiberi veſtimenta. Quibus indutis, cum ſociis egreditur, tranſieruntque pontem bini dantes arma, & ante conſpectum Trutonis poſiti ſunt. At ubi cum omnes præſentati ſtarent, mulier quædam præpotens mandavit de caſtro Trutoni cæterisque Slavis dicens: Perdite viros, qui ſe tradiderunt vobis, & nolite ſervare illos, quia intulerunt maximas uxoribus & filiis veſtris violentias. Quibus auditis, Truto & ſocii ejus mox irruerunt in eos, & omnes occiderunt. Et ſic illa die cecidit robur Bardorum, & proſperatum eſt opus in manibus Trutonis, & obtinuit dominium ſuper omnem Slavorum provinciam, attritæque ſunt vires Saxonum, & ſervierunt Trutoni ſub tributo, & omnis terra Nordalbingorum.

Decimo octavo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXIV. Papa Alexander obiit, ſecundum Vincentium, & diſſenſio inter regnum & Sacerdotium oritur propter collationem Epiſcopatuum & Abbatiarum, de quorum collatione Principes ſe intromittebant.

De Gregorio VII. PP. CLXIIII.

Gregorius Papa, natione Tuſcus, qui poſtea dictus Hildebrandus, ex patre Ruſtico, ſedit annis XI. & menſibus duobus, ſecundum Martinum. Hic prius Monachus, deinde Archidiaconus Eccleſiæ Romanæ factus, in Papam concorditer eſt electus propter vitam ſuam laudabilem, bilem, ſine conſenſu tamen Henrici Regis. Ipſius quoque prudentia nedum in Italia, ſed etiam in Teuthonia, refrenata eſt Sacerdotum incontinentia. Sub iſto Gregorio, ſecundum Egghardm, Romana Respublica & tota Eccleſia novis & inauditis ſchiſmatum erroribus periclitari cœpit. Cumque ipſe absque Regis conſenſu, ſolis tantum Romanis faventibus, hunc apicem conſcendiſſet, fuerunt, qui illum non canonice, ſed tyrannice Papatum auctumarent ſibi uſurpaſſe; pro qua re etiam a nonnullis Epiſcopis abdicatus eſt, & præſertim ab Epiſcopis Teuthoniæ. Hi epiſtolam ſibi miſerunt inter alia verba hæc continentem, ſecundum Martinum: Quia ergo introitus tuus in perjuriis initiatus eſt, & Eccleſia Dei tam gravi tempeſtate per abuſionem novitatum tuarum periclitatur, & vitam converſationemque tuam tam multiplici infamia dehonoraſti, obedientiam, quam tibi nullam promiſimus, nec de cætero ullam ſervaturos nos eſſe pronunciamus. Et quia nemo noſtrum, ut tu publice declamabas, tibi hactenus fuit Epiſcopus, tu quoque nullius noſtrum a modo eris Apoſtolicus. Hæc etiam dicit Egghardus in Chronicis.

Decimo nono anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXV. Gregorius Papa totus contra Henricum Regem, quia diſſidium in Eccleſia fecerat, invehitur ſecundum Sigibertum, Romæ etiam celebrando Concilium generalis Synodi, omnes Simoniacos, Nicolaitas & Presbyteros uxoratos excommunicavit, ab officio divino cunctos removens, Laicis quoque Miſſas eorum audire interdixit, novo quidem exemplo, ſed inconſulte & non ſine præjudicio, qui contra Sanctorum Patrum ſententiam, qui ſcripſerunt, quod Eccleſiaſtica Sacramenta, puta Baptiſmus, Chriſma & Euchariſtia, quia Spiritus Sanctus effectum eorum operatur, nec bonorum diſpenſatorum meritis meliorantur, nec malorum demeritis attenuantur; Et quia tam grave eſt ſcandalum exortum, ut nullius hæreſis tempore Eccleſia graviore ſchiſmate ſciſſa ſit, his pro juſtitia, & illis contra juſtitiam agentibus, aliis a Simonia non declinantibus, aliis notam avaritiæ honeſto titulo prætexentibus, continentiam paucis ſervantibus, multis etiam incontinentiam perjurio ac multiplici adulterio cumulantibus, ac propter hæc laicis inſurgentibus contra Sacros Ordines, & ſe ab omni Eccleſiaſtica ſubjectione excutientibus; propter quod laici Sacramenta temerabant, parvulos per ſe baptizabant, ſordido humore aurium pro oleo ſacro & chriſmate utebantur, in extremo vitæ viaticum Dominicum & uſitatum Eccleſiæ obſequium ſepulturæ a Presbyteris conjugatis recipere parvipendebant, decimas Sacerdotibus deputatas cremabant. Et ut in uno cætera perpendas, laici corpus Domini a Presbyteris conjugatis conſecratum ſæpe pedibus conculcabant, & ſangvinem Domini voluntarie effundebant, & multa alia contra jus & fas geſta ſunt in Eccleſia, ex quibus occaſione ſumta multi pſeudomagiſtri exſurgentes in Eccleſia, profanis novitatibus plebem ab Eccleſiaſtica averterunt. In prædicto etiam Concilio Gregorius Papa Henricum Imperatorem excommunicavit, ſecundum Martinum, tanquam Eccleſiaſticæ unitatis ſciſſorem, ſed tandem eum abſolvit, & poſtea iterum excommunicavit. Henricus Rex Romanorum, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, manu valida ex Alemannia & Germania, Bohemia & Bayoaria congregata, Saxones petiit. Contra quem Saxonum Principes animos ſuos firmantes conſpiraverunt, puta Wicelo Archiepiſcopus Magdeburgenſis, Buggo Epiſcopus Halberſtadenſis, Otto Dux, quem Ducatu Bayoariæ jam privaverat, & Welponi dederat, Magnus Dux Saxoniæ, Udo Marchio de Soltwedel, qui nunc de Brandeburg nuncupatur, & multi alii Nobiles, ad quorum audaciam refrenandam Rex celeriter venit cum ſuo exercitu in Saxoniam, adjuncto ſibi Rodolfo Duce Swevorum & Burgundiæ cum aliis Principibus multis. Sed & Saxones non ſegnes viriliter occurrerunt in prælium, & convenerunt juxta flumen Unſtrod terræ Thuringorum. Cum autem jam inſtaret pugna, factum eſt de conſilio & conſenſu utriusque partis, ut laudaretur pax usque ad biduum, ſperantes bellum pace ſopiri. Saxones ergo pace delectati ſtatim exuerunt ſe armis ſuis, & diffuſi ſunt per latitudinem campi, figentes caſtra, & curam ſui habentes. Circa horam vero diei nonam, videntes ſpeculatores Regis Saxones remiſſos & diſperſos ſuper faciem campi, nichilque mali ſuſpicantes, feſtinantes nunciarunt Regi, quod Saxones ſe præpararent ad prælium. Concitatus ergo mox exercitus Regis, transmiſſo vado, irruerunt ſuper quietos & inermes valde turpiter, & proſtraverunt multa milia Saxonum in die illa. Cum ergo Saxones pro tuenda libertate bellum adhuc intentarent, Rodolfus Dux amator pacis primum Regio honori, deinde Saxonum ſaluti conſulens, apud Saxones obtinuit, ut ſe in poteſtatem Regis traderent Principes eorum, ne aut captivitate gravarentur, aut ſuſtinerent læſionis moleſtiam. Sed cum ſe Saxones Regiæ poteſtati tradidiſſent, Rex juſſit eos arctiori cuſtodiæ mancipari, non curans promiſſionis fidem. Unde contriſtatus Rodolfus Dux, valde doluit, quod promiſſum ſervare non potuit, ordinavit tamen, ut poſt dies paucos præter voluntatem Regis Principes Saxonum a captivitate ſolverentur, & ad propria reverterentur. Nunquam vero poſtea promiſſionibus Regis fidem adhibuerunt. Miſerunt ergo Saxonum Principes nuncios ad Sedem Apoſtolicam, & conqueſti ſunt Papæ, qualiter Henricus divinæ legis prævaricator Eccleſiis Dei in ſtatuendis Epiſcopis omnem Canonicæ electionis libertatem adimeret, ponens per violentiam Epiſcopos ad libitum ſuum; inſuper quod more Nicolaitarum de uxore ſua publicum feciſſet proſtibulum, ſubjiciens eam violenter aliorum libidini. Alia quoque plura ſcandaloſa & enormia contra ipſum teſtati ſunt. Quamobrem Dominus Papa zelo juſtitiæ permotus, miſſis legatis, ipſum peremtorie citari fecit & evocari.

MLXXVI. Ordo Grandimontenſis cœpit ſub Sancto viro Stephano, ſecundum Vincentium. Qui quidem Stephanus filius fuit Stephani nobiliſſimi viri de partibus Averniæ, & a patre ſuo in ſua pueritia ductus Beneventum, ubi a Sancto Milione Archiepiſcopo ſeptem annis educatus, regulam bene vivendi didicit. Indeque recedens, peragratis multis eremis, & de Canonicorum, Monachorum, Eremitarumque vita, quæ imitanda ſunt, memoriæ commendatis, in Aquitaniam prope Lemonicas ad montem nemoroſum, qui Muretum nuncupatur, Chriſto duce pervenit, ubi fontes reperit & rupes, terramque deſertam & inviam, ſilveſtrem & ſterilem vidit, non hominibus, ſed feris aſſvetam. Tunc gaudens Stephanus, ibidem ſe Deo ſerviturum omni tempore ſpopondit, & cum quodam annulo, quem de omni ſubſtantia ſua habebat, ſemet ipſum virginem Deo deſponſavit dicens: Ego Stephanus abrenuncio diabolo, & omnibus pompis ejus, & offero me Deo Patri, & Filio & Spiritui Sancto ſervitorem perpetuum. Scribensque profeſſionem ſuam, poſuit ſuper caput ſuum, & facto de virgultis parvo tugurio, anno ab incarnatione Domini MLXXVI. agens ætatis ſuæ annum XXX. habitare incepit eremum, in jejuniis, orationibus & vigiliis continuis Deo ſerviens. Cibus namque ejus erat panis & aqua, & interdum farinulæ ſiligineæ parva ſorbitiuncula, quæ cæteris minus ſapida non voluptati, ſed neceſſitati ſervit. Frequenter loricam ad carnem portavit, quousque plenam victoriam de ſe obtinuit. Indumenta vero ſuper loricam hyeme & æſtate erant æqualia. Stratus ejus erat ex tabulis ligneis ad inſtar ſepulcri in terra conſertis, omni lectiſternio carens. Præter horas Canonicas & debita regularia, genuflexiones mirabiles terram deoſculando, & cum fronte naſoque percutiendo humiliter faciebat, ita quod earum aſſiduitate manibus & genibus in modum cameli callos contraxerat, & naſum in obliqvum curvaverat. Poſt mortem vero ejus Fratres ſui edocti voce cœleſti ter dicente in Grandimonte, in Grandimonte, in Grandimonte, corpus ſanctum in Grandimontem tranſtulerunt, & ibidem caput religionis ſuæ conſtituerunt. Henricus Rex, ſecundum Vincentium, coacto Wormatiæ Concilio XXIIII. Epiſcoporum & multorum Primatum regni, decerni jubet omnia decreta & facta Gregorii Papæ irrita eſſe debere. Ibique omnes, præter paucos, Hildebrandum, qui & Gregorius, abjurant, eumque Papatu abdicandum eſſe judicant. Gregorius autem Papa econtra Imperatorem excommunicavit ſub hoc obtentu, ut Primates Regni quaſi juſta cauſa excommunicato Regi contradicant. Eodem autem anno, ſecundum Egghardum, XVIII. Kal. Octobris colloquium maximum Principum apud Oppenheym factum eſt ſtudio & ordinatione Hildebrandi Papæ, excitantis Saxones magnis muneribus; ubi pene totius Regni Principes, & maxime Saxonum & Alemannorum ſubjectioni Regis renunciabant, cauſam prætendentes, quod a duobus jam Papis vocatus, ad ſatisfactionem venire contemſiſſet. Hac commonitione coactus Rex, Romam humiliter veniam petiturus a Papa, inimicis ſuis hoc non ſperantibus, contendit. Veniens ergo Romam, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, quare vocatus eſſet a Papa, audivit. Et quia ad ea rationabiliter reſpondere non valuit, ſe Paſtoris ſummi arbitrio ſubjecit. Accepit ergo in mandatis, ut anno integro a Roma non diſcederet, eqvum non aſcenderet, ſed in veſte humili circuiret limina Eccleſiarum, orationibus & jejuniis reddens Deo dignum pœnitentiæ fructum. Quod Rex humiliter adimplere promittebat. Videntes ergo Cardinales, & hi, qui de curia erant, quod præ timore Sedis Apoſtolicæ contremiſcunt poteſtates, & curvantur genua horum, qui orbem portant, ſuggerunt Apoſtolico, ut Regnum transferat ad alium virum, dicentes, indignum eſſe, ut talis regnet, qui de publicis convictus eſt criminibus. Percunctante ergo Apoſtolico, quisnam in Alemannia dignus ſit tanto culmine? deſignatus eſt Dux Swevorum Rodolfus, qui bonus eſſet vir & pacis amator, diligens juſtitiam, & timens Deum, ac circa cultum Sacerdotii & Eccleſiarum optime affectus. Cui mox Papa coronam transmiſit auream, hoc verſu inſignitam:

Petra dedit Romam Petro, tibi Papa coronam.

Præcepitque Archiepiſcopis Moguntino & Colonienſi, cæterisque Epiſcopis & Principibus, ut adjuvarent partes Rodolfi, & ſtatuerent ipſum Regem. Quotquot ergo receperunt mandatum Domini Papæ, elegerunt Rodolfum in Regem, additique ſunt parti ejus Saxones, Swevi cæterorumque Principum civitates, præter civitates & Principes Rheni, qui non receperunt eum, nec Francorum populi, eo quod juraſſent Henrico, & juramentum ſuum temerare nollent. Porro Henricus Rex exiſtens Romæ, & mandatis Papæ parens in omnibus, ignarus erat malorum, quæ adverſus eum agebantur. Surrexit ergo Adelbertus Argentinenſis Epiſcopus, amicus Regis Henrici, & feſtinanter Romam vadens, diu quæſitum Regem tandem invenit. De cujus adventu Rex gaviſus, cœpit percunctari de ſtatu regni, ſi omnia in pace conſiſterent. Cui ille intimavit, novum Principem electum, & neceſſarium eſſe, ut Teuthoniam quantocius reviſeret ad confortandos amicorum animos, & hoſtium conatus deprimendos. Cumque Rex diceret, nequaquam ſibi licere, quod ſine licentia Domini Papæ recederet: reſpondit Epiſcopus: Noveris certe, omne hoc conſpirationis malum de fonte Romanæ perfidiæ emanaſſe. Imo ſi captivitatem evadere voles, de urbe tibi clanculo exeundum eſt. Egreſſus ergo Rex nocte urbem, Italiam tranſivit, firmatisque pro tempore rebus in Lombardia, venit in Alemanniam Teuthoniæ. De cujus adventu lætati amici & civitates ei faventes, jocundis vultibus ipſum receperunt. Qui congregato exercitu grandi, perrexit ad expugnandum Rodolfum. Fuit autem cum Henrico Rege famoſiſſimus ille Dux Godfridus, qui poſtea liberavit Jeroſolymam, & multi & multi alii Potentum. Saxonum vero & Swevorum atque Burgundionum exercitus erat cum Rodolfo. Pugnaverunt ergo Reges mutuo, & victa eſt pars Rodolfi, ceciderunt que Saxones & Swevi. Porro Rodolfus vulneratus in manu dextra fugit Martipolim, Wicelo autem Archiepiſcopus Magdeburgenſis a vulgaribus hominibus in fuga ſuſpenſus eſt. Magnus vero Dux Saxoniæ deſpoliatur, & Hermannus Comes de Anehald ejusdem Magni Ducis patruus, ac Adelbertus Wormatienſis Epiſcopus comprehenſi, necnon plurimi de militibus Saxonibus turpiter intercepti ſunt. Ex parte quoque Henrici Poppo vir miræ fortitudinis occubuit. Rodolfus ergo Rex vulneratus letaliter, cum moriturum ſe cerneret, dixit ad familiares ſuos: Videtis manum meam dextram vulnere ſauciatam. Hac manu juravi Domino meo Henrico, ut non nocerem ei, nec inſidiarer gloriæ ejus. Sed juſſio Apoſtolica Pontificumque petitio me ad id deduxit, ut juramenti transgreſſor honorem michi indebitum uſurparem. Juſte ergo manu illa, qua juramentum feci, quod temeravi, mortale hoc vulnus accepi. Et hoc dicto, cum gravi moleſtia diem clauſit extremum. Tunc Henricus Rex proſperis lætus ſucceſſibus, Sweviam pervagatus caſtella fregit, munitiones cepit, & omnia depopulando inimicis ſuis formidinem, amicis vero adjecit fortitudinem. Ab hoc tempore, ſecundum Sigibertum, florere cœpit in Eccleſia Beati Quintini Baluacenſi Ordo Canonicorum primum ab Apoſtolis, poſtea a Beato Auguſtino Epiſcopo regulariter inſtitutus, ſub Magiſtro Yvone venerabili, ejusdem Eccleſiæ Præpoſito, & poſtea Carnotenſi Epiſcopo, qui librum illum magnum de Jure compoſuit, qui Yvonis Panormia intitulatur. Petrus Damiani Doctor ſolennis hoc in tempore viguit, ſecundum Vincentium. Hic Epiſcopatum ſuum cauſa Religionis & devotionis dimiſit ſine Papæ conſenſu; propter quod ſibi injuncta fuit pœnitentia centum annorum a Papa, ſed ipſe epiſtolam ſcribens, Gregorio Papæ excuſavit ſe, quod hoc feciſſet ob Religionis zelum, & allegavit plures Sanctos Patres, qui ſimile feciſſent, ſicut S. Valerium Hipponenſem Epiſcopum, qui ſibi Beatum Auguſtinum ſubrogavit; Adelbertum Bremenſem Archiepiſcopum, qui habitum religionis induens, meruit corona martyrii laureari. Hic Petrus plura refert ædificatoria memoria digna. Inter cætera enim dicit, quod Dux quidam Venetiarum uxorem habebat tam delicatam, ut etiam communibus aquis ſe abluere dedignaretur, ſed famuli ejus de rore cœleſti undique collecto, laborioſum ei balneum præparabant; cibos etiam ſuos non tangebat, ſed ab eunuchis ejus alimenta quæque minutius conſcindebantur in fruſtula, quæ mox illa quibusdam fuſcinulis aureis & bidentibus ori ſuo adhibebat; cubiculum quoque ejus tot aromatibus & thymiamatibus redolebat, ut etiam dictu fœtidum ſit & auditu incredibile. Sed dum adhuc viveret, vibrato ſuper eam judicii divini mucrone, corpus ejus omne computruit, ita ut totum cubiculum intolerabili fœtore repleretur, nullusque eam ferre potuit, nec ſervus quidem, ſed vix una ancilla, non tamen ſine ſpecierum redolentium auxilio, in ipſius ſervitio remanſit, quæ tamen raptim accedens curſim recedebat. Diutius ergo hoc languore decocta & miſerabiliter cruciata, amicis ſuis exultantibus, diem clauſit extremum. Huic narrationi poteſt aptari illud Apoc. XVIII. Quantum glorificavit ſe in deliciis, tantum date ei tormentum. Omnis enim caro, quanto tenerius & mollius educatur, tanto in deteriorem putredinem vertitur. Narrat idem Petrus aliud. In Monaſterio S. Vincentii ſtatutum erat, & per triennium jam ſervatum; ut cum horis Canonicis, Beatæ etiam Virginis officia dicerentur. De quo quidem ſtatuto Monachus quidam nomine Gazo reprobæ vitæ, ſed accuratæ facundiæ, murmurare cœpit, & quæſtionibus ſuis obtinuit, ut horæ Beatæ Virginis amplius non dicerentur. Mox innumeræ adverſitates contra dictum Monaſterium oriuntur, depræ dationes, conflagrationes, & familiæ trucidantur. Itur tandem ad Henricum IIII. Imperatorem, qui reſpondit: Fruſtra venitur ad me. Dico, eis hoc accidiſſe, quia Matrem pacis abjecerunt a ſe. Et mox in terram proſtrati nuncii dicunt, ſe nunquam de cætero laudes Beatæ Virginis dimiſſuros; & ſic pacem recuperaverunt. Idem ait: Quidam Princeps Salernitanus cum quadam die proſpexiſſet de monte Vellino flammas erumpere, protinus ait: Procul dubio aliquis ſceleratus dives in proximo moriturus eſt, & in infernum deſcenſurus. Eſt enim conſuetudo talis ibi, ut imminente morte divitis reprobi mons ille flammas evomat piceas & ſulphureas. His dictis, ſuperveniente proxima nocte, dum idem Princeps ſecurus cum meretrice concumberet, exſpiravit. Quæ meretrix, ut poſtea retulit, quid ſibi contigiſſet, ignorans, diutius ſuper ſe pertulit, & vix tandem a ſe non hominem, ſed cadaver projecit. Idem aliud: Quidam tonſor alienam ſuem furatus eſt: erat tamen tonſor ille fur magnus, ſed hoſpitalis valde. Interea adeſt Jeſus in effigie pauperis, & tanquam prolixos crines gerens, rogabat tonſorem, ut ipſum raderet. Ille protinus reverenter aſſurgens, aſſumtis forpicibus, ipſum tondere cœpit. Quod dum faceret, reperit in occipitio ejus duos oculos latitantes. Expavit ille, & quæſivit, quid hoc eſſet? Cui ille, ego, inquit, Jeſus vocor, qui undique cuncta contemplor, & iſtis oculis vidi ſuem, quam in cavea concluſiſti; moxque diſparuit. Compunctus ergo fur ex miraculo, ſuem reſtituit. Idem aliud: In Bononiæ partibus duo quidam amici & compatres in convivio diſcumbebant, quibus allatus eſt gallus, quem unus illorum arrepto cultello, ut moris eſt, in fruſta diſſecuit, circumque piper cum liquamine ſuperfudit. Quo facto, alter ait: Pro certo compater ſic explicuiſti gallum iſtum, ut ipſe Petrus, etiamſi vellet, ipſum reintegrare non poſſet. Cui mox intulit alter: Plane non ſolum Petrus hoc non poſſet efficere, ſed & ſi ipſe Chriſtus imperaret, hic gallus non reſurgeret. Ad hanc vocem repente gallus vivus, & plumis ſuis ſuis coopertus exſilivit, alas percuſſit, & cecinit, plumas excuſſit, totumque liquamen ſuper eos, qui conveſcebantur, conſperſit. Ilico ſacrilegi illi blaſphemi in aſperſione piperis lepra percuſſi ſunt. Quæ lepræ plaga etiam in poſteris eorum hæreditaria permanſit usque ad obitum eorum, & in famulatum ſubacti ſunt Bononienſi Eccleſiæ.

Viceſimo primo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXVII. Oencius Romanorum præfecti filius, ſecundum Vincentium, in nocte Nativitatis Chriſti, cum Papa primam Miſſam in Eccleſia Beatæ Mariæ majoris ad præſepe Domini celebraret, ipſum Papam cepit, & in turri ſua poſuit, quem Romani eadem nocte eripiunt, & turrim deſtruentes, prædictum Oencium extra urbem depellunt, & exilio damnant. Inter Henricum Regem & Rodolfum, ſecundum Vincentium, ſecundo fit bellum in loco, Fladicheim dicto, & Saxones in primo congreſſu turpiter terga vertunt. Ibi Fratizlaus Dux Bohemiæ regalem lanceam Rodolfi adeptus eſt, qui exinde permiſſione Henrici Regis ſemper quemvis illius gentis Ducatu inſignem in omni feſtiva proceſſione præcedit. At Henricus Rex propriis caſtris reſtitutus de armigeris, quos in eis reliquerat, pene nullum invenit. Una autem ex legionibus Saxonum in primo congreſſu pugnam deſerens, quia nebuloſus aër erat, furtim caſtra Regis Henrici invaſit, & multos armigeros comprehendens, eos ſtrangulavit, multaque auferens ſpolia fugam iniit. Rex autem dimiſſo exercitu, in Franconiam cum paucis perrexit.

Viceſimo ſecundo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXVIII. Sanctus Stephanus, pater & inſtitutor Fratrum Ordinis Grandimontenſis, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, multis cœpit clarere miraculis. Quæ quidem miracula fieri videns Prior loci illius, timuit ſibi & aliis Fratribus quietem minui, & internæ ſuavitatis dulcedinem tardius ex hoc experiri, ſi turbæ populorum locum illum cauſa miraculorum frequentarent. Unde veniens ad ſepulcrum Sancti viri, ita dixit: Serve Dei, tu oſtendiſti nobis paupertatis viam, & toto conamine docuiſti nos incedere per eam. Nunc vero de arta via ad latam & ſpatioſam tuis nos vis miraculis revocare, & qui prædicaſti ſolitudinem, nunc in ſolitudinem forum & nundinas vis congregare. Non curioſitate tali ducimur, ut miracula videre cupiamus. Sanctitati enim tuæ ſatis credimus. Cave ergo, ne de cætero miracula facias, quæ tuam extollant ſanctitatem, & noſtram deſtruant humilitatem. Non ſic tuæ provideas laudi, ut noſtræ ſis immemor ſalutis. Quod ſi aliter feceris, tibi dicimus per obedientiam, quam tibi fecimus, quod oſſa tua hinc extrahemus, & in flumen ſpargemus. Cumque Prior ſic Sanctum Dei correxiſſet, amplius nullum viſum eſt ab illo in loco illo fieri miraculum.

Viceſimo tertio anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXIX. Tertia pugna facta eſt inter Reges Henricum & Rodolfum, ſecundum Egghardum, in orientali Francia, ubi ex utraque parte multi corruerunt prope Medilrichſtad. Nam ipſe Rodolfus electus in Forchem in Regem Romanorum a Principibus, prout ſupra dictum eſt, & a Sifrido Archiepiſcopo Moguntino coronatus, mox Herbipolim obſedit, ſed eam non expugnavit. Quidam ruſticus cum Vicario ſuo ad ligna cædenda pergebat, ſecundum Petrum Damiani, & ecce ſerpens trabalis magnitudinis duobus capitibus attollens colla, in eos impetum fecit. Quorum unus eorum ſecuri ſua unum caput ejus amputavit, & mox ei ſecuris de manu in terram cecidit: quem ſerpens iratus mox altero capite mordicitus apprehendit, & ſpiris ſuis ipſum involvens, in ſpeluncam ſuam ſecum traxit. Qui cum traheretur, clamavit ad ſocium, ut eum defenderet, vel ſecurim, quam in manu tenebat, ſibi daret. Qui timens, noluit, ſed fugit, & ideo a Sacerdotibus tanquam reus mortis exilium ſubire eſt coactus. Expeditio quarta Henrici Regis contra Rodulfum Regem peracta eſt prope Eliſtram flumen, ſecundum Egghardum, in quo bello Rodulfus cecidit cum multis Saxonibus & Swevis, vulneratus mortaliter in dextra manu. De quo caſu XX. anno Henrici ſupra in fine actum eſt. De hoc quidem Rodulfo dicit Hildebrandus Papa, qui & Gregorius VII. in quadam Epiſtola ſic: Epiſcopi & Principes ultramontani audientes, Henricum Regem non ſervare, quod nobis promiſit, quaſi deſperati de eo, ſine noſtro conſilio elegerunt ſibi Rodulfum Ducem Swevorum in Regem.

Viceſimo quarto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXX. Henricus Rex, ſecundum Sigibertum, habito conventu Epiſcoporum & Principum Moguntiæ profeſto Pentecoſtes, decrevit Papam Gregorium deponere velut regni proditorem. Et colligens exercitum grandem, ad Italiam ſe tranſtulit, occupansque matrem Eccleſiarum Romam, multos cives interfecit, & Gregorium Papam de Roma fugavit, Wicbertumque Ravennenſem Epiſcopum in Papam ordinari procuravit, a quo tunc Imperiali benedictione percepta, a populo Romano ſalutatus eſt Auguſtus. Ex quo quidem facto grave ſchiſma in Eccleſia ortum eſt, & multis duravit annis. Nam quidam pſeudomonachi, ſecundum Egghardum, Papam Gregorium totius veſaniæ peſtiferum principem, & præcipue Romanæ Sedis invaſorem affirmantes, Apoſtolica Sede pellendum quamvis abſentem dijudicabant, & Wicbertum Ravennenſem Archiepiſcopum ei ſubrogandum eligebant. Hujus autem decreti concluſio talis fuit. Quia, inquiunt, illum conſtat non a Deo electum, ſed a ſe ipſo in fraude & pecunia impudentiſſime oblectum. Qui Eccleſiaſticum ſubvertit Ordinem, qui Chriſtiani Imperii conturbavit regnum, qui Regi Catholico & pacifico, ſi permitteretur, corporis & animæ intentat mortem, qui perjurium defendit, & inter concordes diſcordiam ſeminavit, inter pacificos lites, inter fratres ſcandala, inter conjuges divortia, & quicquid quietis inter pie viventes ſtare videbatur, concuſſit. Nos ergo autore Deo congregati in unum, legatis ac literis freti XIX. aliorum Epiſcoporum, die ſancto præte-

Qui ſequenti Dominica per multos Pontifices & præſertim Bononienſem, Mutinenſem & Tervinenſem in Papam ordinatus eſt & conſecratus, ac in Sedem Apoſtolicam ſolenniter inthronizatus, Clemensque Tertius vocatus, a quo Henricus Rex cum Bertha Regina in ſancto die Paſchæ Imperiali benedictione inſignitur & coronatur. Poſt hæc Henricus Imperator de Italia egreſſus, Auguſtam urbem obſedit, expugnavit & cepit.

De Clemente Papa intruſo CLXV.

Clemens Papa, qui & Wicbertus Archiepiſcopus Ravennenſis, ex Patre Philippo, ſedit annis IIII. Hic Clemens, ſecundum Martinum, catalogo Summorum Pontificum non annotatur, eo quod violenter intruſus, Papatum ſibi injuſte vendicavit, Eccleſia etiam ipſum inter Clementes Apoſtolicos numerari non permittit, a quibusdam tamen Chronographis Clemens III. intitulatur. Iſto Clemente per Imperatorem inſtallato, ſecundum Martinum, ipſe Rex Henricus Gregorium Papam in caſtro Creſcentii cum Cardinalibus ſuis obſedit. Sed audiens, quod Robertus Gwiſcardi Rex Apuliæ in adjutorium Papæ cum exercitu copioſo de Apulia veniret, deſtructo Capitolio & urbe Leonina, fugit cum ſuo Clemente Senas. Rex vero Robertus eodem die urbem capiens, ac ferro & igne in magna parte eam conſumens, Gregorium Papam liberavit, & in Palatium Lateranenſe reſtituit. Hic Gregorius poſtea in reverſione Imperatoris ab Urbe in Apuliam deſcendens, exul Salerni defunctus eſt, multis clarens miraculis.

Viceſimo nono anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXXV. Hermannus Rex, cum orientalem Franciam devaſtaſſet, ſecundum Sigibertum, & jam quoddam caſtrum, quod ceperat, ingrederetur, porta caſtri corruente, ipſum cum pluribus oppreſſit. Synodus univerſalis Moguntiæ celebratur a Clemente Papa, ſecundum Egghardum, cui Henricus Imperator interfuit, ubi præſentibus multis Epiſcopis, omnes rebelles Epiſcopi Imperatori deponendi judicantur, & non Epiſcopi anathemate condemnantur. Peſtilentia maxima quaſi per totum orbem deſævit, ſecundum Wilhelmum, & æſtatis fervor tam intenſus fuit, etiam in partibus borealibus, ut nedum homines, ſed & piſces in agris perirent. Bruno natione Teuthonicus, ſecundum Sigibertum, de urbe Colonienſi, literis plene eruditus, Remenſis Eccleſiæ Canonicus & ſcholarum Rector, relicto ſeculo, eremum Carthuſiæ fundavit, & propoſitum Monaſticæ converſationis durum inſtituit. Hujus ſancti propoſiti cooperator exiſtens bonæ memoriæ Hugo Graymopolitanus Epiſcopus, ab eodem Brunone habitum Monaſticum ſumſit, cunctisque inhabitantibus inſigne exemplum præbuit.

Triceſimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXXVI. Civitas Syracuſana maximum ſuſtinuit terræ motum, ſecundum Vincentium, adeo ut Dominica die hora tertia, dum Miſſa cantaretur, Eccleſia major cadens, populum & Clerum opprimeret, Sacerdote, Diacono & Subdiacono Miſſam celebrantibus cum uno Presbytero tantum ſalvis, non ſine magna omnium admiratione & gratiarum actione. Nimia aquarum inundantia multis in locis fuit, ſecundum Egghardum. Nam etiam in Italia diluvies tanta extitit, ut rupes plures liquefactæ villas innumeras deſtruerent. Domeſticæ quoque aves, puta pavones, gallinæ, grues & anſeres a domibus ſe ſeparantes, factæ ſunt ſylveſtres. Translatio B. Nicolai de Myrrhea civitate Lyciæ facta eſt, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo. Nam Venetianis meditantibus auferre corpus illud ſacrum a Myrrhea urbe per Turcos deſolata, præoccupaverunt eos Barenſes cives numero XVII. ab Antiochia Myrrheam venientes, qui a quatuor tantum Monachis inibi inventis extorſerunt ſibi oſtendi tumbam Sancti Nicolai. Qua oſtenſa & effracta, oſſa ſancta in liquore olei natantia integro numero extraxerunt, & Barum cum gaudio detulerunt, a depoſitione ejus anno DCCLVI. Cum autem corpus illud ſanctiſſimum Barum perveniſſet, innumeris miraculis, ſicut & prius in Myrrhea urbe decorabatur.

Triceſimo primo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXXVII. Amphul Rex Galliciæ in Hiſpania Sarracenos fortiter debellavit, ſecundum Vincentium, & Tholetum urbem eorum maximam per aliquot annos obſeſſam, tandem expugnavit, divino auxilio ſuffragante, ac cultum Chriſtianitatis in ea dilatavit. Hermannus Regio nomine depoſito, ſecundum Sigibertum, permiſſione Henrici Imperatoris, ad propria eſt reverſus, & poſt dies paucos in cujusdam opidi obſidione eſt interemtus. Henricus Imperator expeditionem contra Saxones faciens, ſecundum Egghardum, præliabatur cum eis & Swevis in ſuburbio Herbipolenſi, & utrobique plura corruerunt millia.

Triceſimo ſecundo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXXVIII. Terræ motus magnus factus eſt per Italiam, ſecundum Egghardum, in urbibus & circumjectis montibus, & corruerunt multæ turres, Eccleſiæ & domus, oppreſſerunt-que innumeros homines diverſarum conditionum.

De Victore III. PP. CLXVI.

Victor Papa, qui & Deſiderius, Abbas Caſſinenſis, ex patre Gregorio, ſedit V. menſibus & diebus XXV. ſecundum Martinum. Hic verus Dei famulus promotus ex inſtigatione devotæ Mechtildis & aliorum Principum in contemtum Imperatoris poſt mortem Gregorii VII. Papæ, præſidente cum eo Clemente intruſo. Hic Victor ſanctus cum in gravi infirmitate laboraret factus Papa, precibus a Deo obtinuit, ut infra paucos dies ab hac vita tolleretur. Qui-Quidam vero dicunt, quod veneno in calice miſſo, dum miſſam celebraret, eſt extinctus a fautoribus Clementis. Herkinbaldus Comes Arelatenſis, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, vir devotus, in judicio ob zelum juſtitiæ nullius accepit perſonam. Hic infirmus exiſtens, lectoque graviter decumbens, in camera ſibi propinqua clamorem fœmineum audivit. Cui ſciſcitanti, quid eſſet, celata eſt ei veritas facti. Tunc mittens pro puero cameræ, ait ei: Præcipio tibi ſub privatione oculorum tuorum, ut mihi dicas veritatem. Qui expaveſcens ait: Domine filius veſter fœminam vi opprimere laboravit, ſed illa malum hoc abhorrens ſic clamavit. Ad quod verbum nimis motus Comes, dixit duobus militibus ſuis: Ite feſtinanter, & ſuſpendite illum. Quod illi ſe facturos promittentes, egreſſi ſunt, & juveni ſvaſerunt, ut a præſentia patris ſibi caveret. Præceptum autem Comitis milites implere non audebant, ſed poſt horam reverſi, ſe feciſſe, quod imperaverat, aſſerebant. Quinto vero die juvenis putans, patrem ſuum de culpa ſua immemorem eſſe, vel ad minus mutatum eſſe, aperto oſtio cameræ introſpexit. Quem ut infirmus Comes vidit, ipſum verbis blandis advocans, juxta ſe ſedere fecit. Qui mox uno brachio collum ejus ſtringens, & altero pugionem de latere filii extrahens, gutturi ejus infixit, & occidit, cunctis ſtupentibus & horrentibus. Infirmitate autem invaleſcente, Epiſcopus vocatus cum Sacramento venit. Cui infirmus cum maxima effuſione lacrymarum omnia peccata ſua confeſſus eſt, tacita juvenis filii interfectione. Super quo Epiſcopus miratus dixit: Quare celatis homicidium filii veſtri, quod graviſſimum peccatum eſt & crudeliſſimum? Cui decumbens: Neque hoc eſſe peccatum judico, imo opus meritorium eſſe credo, & ideo hoc mihi remitti a Deo ut peccatum non depoſco, ſed meriti præmium elargiri expecto. Ad quem ait Epiſcopus: Nec ego vobis corpus Chriſti tradam, nec a peccatis vos abſolvam, cum impœnitentem vos inveniam. Si autem corpus Chriſti cupitis recipere, oportebit vos illud peccatum confiteri, & veniam pro eo a Deo petere. Reſpondit Comes: Non ex rancore aut ira, ſed zelo juſtitiæ permotus illum interfeci. Et ſi vos corpus Chriſti michi negaveritis, ego corpus & animam meam illi commendo, in cujus timore executor extiti juſtitiæ. Nunquam enim aliquis pater plus filium ſuum dilexit, quam ego illum. Sicque eo non communicato Epiſcopus abſceſſit. Quo mox revocato, dixit ei infirmus: Videte Domine Epiſcope, ſi in pyxide Corpus Domini habeatis. Quod cum feciſſet, nec aliquam hoſtiam in ea inveniſſet, ait ille: Ecce quem michi negaſtis, ipſe ſe michi non denegavit. Erat autem adhuc ſacramentum in ore ejus, quod Epiſcopo oſtendit. Epiſcopus autem ſtupens, Comitem petiit, ut pro ſe Dominum exoraret. Et hoc miraculum ad honorem Dei & Comitis prædicti commendationem de umbonibus publicari fecit.

De Urbano II. PP. CLXVII.

Urbanus Papa, qui & Oddo Monachus Cluniacenſis, poſt Epiſcopus Oſtienſis, ex patre Petro, ſedit annis XI. & menſibus VII. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte Papa redarguit Imperatorem, quod cum ſorore ſua concubuiſſet, Imperator vero reprehendit Papam, quod Simoniace promotus fuiſſet. Unde Papa coram Imperatore & Principibus, quos ad hoc vocaverat, ſe cum corpore Chriſti expurgavit, ſumendo ipſum ſuper ſua innocentia, & hoc idem fieri voluit ab Imperatore. Qui renuens ſumere corpus Chriſti pro ſibi objectis, mox a Papa excommunicatur. Imperator vero gratiam Papæ quærens, poſtea in brevi ab ipſo eſt abſolutus cum debita ſatisfactione, griſei panni & nigræ cappæ induitione, jejuniique panis & aquæ alternatis diebus, & pſalterii cottidiana peroratione. Hæc omnia Imperator devote ad tempus implevit.

Triceſimo tertio anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MLXXXIX. Peſtilentia ſæviſſima fuit in occidentali parte Lotharingiæ, ſecundum Sigibertum, ubi multi ſacro igne interiora conſumente computreſcentes, exeſis membris inſtar carbonum nigreſcentibus, vel miſerabiliter moriebantur, aut manibus & pedibus putrefactis truncati, miſerabiliori vitæ reſervabantur. Henricus Imperator caſtra de Lichen terræ Thuringorum obſedit, ſecundum Egghardum. Quod Egbertus Lantgravius percipiens, cum Imperatore bellum durum commiſit in Vigilia Natalis Domini, & ipſum fugere coëgit, innumeros ſternendo. Hic idem Egbertus Lantgravius de Brunſwicenſium Principum ſanguine ortus, poſtea interfectus eſt in quodam molendino fugiens imbrem. Ubi dum quiete ſediſſet, & ſopori ſe dediſſet, ab amicis Imperatoris interemtus eſt. Iſte etiam Egbertus fundator extitit collegii Sancti Cyriaci extra muros urbis Brunſwicenſis.

Triceſimo quarto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXC. Ipſe Henricus Imperator nuptias Coloniæ celebravit, ſecundum Sigibertum, quondam Henrici Marchionis relictam, Ruſcorum Regis filiam ducens in uxorem. Vermiculi valde ignoti viſi ſunt per multas regiones, non procula terra volantes, ita ut manu vel virga tangi poſſent, magnitudine quidem muſcis æquales, ſed longitudine ſatis deductiores, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, quorum multitudo lucem ſolis denſitate cauſata negavit, terras occupantes in ſpatio trium aut quatuor miliarium. Hujusmodi autem beſtiolam maxima ſecuta eſt mortalitas tam hominum quam pecudum, ex eorum corruptione cauſata.

Triceſimo quinto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXCI. Thidericus VII. Comes Hollandiæ obiit, ſecundum Wilhelmum, cui Florentius filius ſuus ſucceſſit. Henricus Imperator hoc anno rurſus Italiam ingreditur, ſecundum Sigibertum, & ibi fere per VII. annos moratur. Yvo Præpoſitus Sancti Quintini Beluacenſis fit Epiſcopus Carnotenſis ſecundum Sigibertum. Iſte Yvo decreta Apoſtolica, quæ prius Iſidorus in unum volumen maximum redegerat, quod non niſi difficulter & ſumtuoſe tranſcribi poterat, abbreviavit, & per capitula diſtinxit, ac multas Sanctorum Doctorum ſententias eisdem capitulis inſeruit. Diverſas etiam Epiſtolas variis Principibus & Prælatis deſtinavit, vitiorum objurgationes duras continentes, & doctrinis ſanis plenas. Facula grandis per aërem volabat, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, ab oriente in occidens tendens: & eclipſis ſolis notabilis valde extitit IX. Kal. Septembris.

Triceſimo ſexto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXCII. Wilhelmus Rex Angliæ, filius Wilhelmi Regis, ſecundum Wilhelmum in Chronicis, vir magnæ ſeveritatis, regnare cœpit. Hic Rex ita prodigus erat factus ex liberalitate nimia, ita ſuperbus ex magnanimitate, quod parum Deum veneraretur, hominem vero nullum. Pretium autem veſtium ſuarum in immenſum extendi volebat, dedignans, ſiquis hoc allevaſſet. Quodam autem mane, pro calcearetur novas caligas, requiſivit a cubiculario, quanti conſtarent pretii. Cumque ille reſpondiſſet, quatuor ſolidos Anglicanos, indignabundus & furens ait: Peſſime ribalde, decet Regem caligas deferre tam vilis pretii? Vade, & affer emtas pro marca argenti. Ivit ille, & multo viliores attulit, & quanti præceperat pretii emtas mentitus eſt. Tunc Rex ait: Iſtæ caligæ Regiæ conveniunt Majeſtati. Ex hoc ergo tempore cubicularius pretium veſtimentorum ejus pro voluntate ſua penſabat, multa ſuis utilitatibus exinde nundinans. Tandem exhauſtus Rex expenſis indiſcretis, ad rapinas ſe contulit, & mortuis Eccleſiarum Paſtoribus, Epiſcopis & Abbatibus res inventas omnes rapuit, reditus quoque earum omnes in poſterum fiſco Regio applicavit, ſubſtituens in locum defuncti Paſtoris quemlibet, non pro morum, ſed pro nummorum experimento. Judæos inſuper in Londoniis animavit ad pugnandum contra Chriſtianos, pronuncians quoque ſi vincerent, in eorum ſectam tranſiret. Magno quoque timore Epiſcoporum & Clericorum res acta eſt, Chriſtianis tamen gloria victoriæ potitis, quamvis Judæi multotiens jactitarent, ſe non ratione, ſed violentia ſuperatos. Invadiato autem fratre ſuo Roberto apud Nordmanniam pro ſumma XM. marcarum, importabile edictum penſionis per totam Angliam poſuit, cumque Epiſcopi & Abbates Regem frequenter adirent, de hoc quærimoniam moventes, reſpondit: Nunquid habetis ſcrinia, auro & argento confecta, oſſibus mortuorum plena. Capſulas ergo Sanctorum denudare & ſpoliare coacti ſunt, crucifixum deplumare, calices conflare, non in uſum pauperum, ſed in fiſcum Regium. Venationes quoque adeo prohibuit, ut capitale crimen incurreret, qui cervum aut quamcunque feram caperet. Tantus tumultus turbinum, fulgurum & ventorum inter ſe diſſidentium factus eſt in Anglia, ſecundum Vincentium, ut ſolum in Londoniis plusquam DCCC. domos dejiceret. Quatuor etiam tigna de tectis Eccleſiæ Sanctæ Mariæ XXVI. pedes in longitudine habentia, tanta violentia ventorum in humum ſunt pacta, ut vix trés pedes extra terram appararent. Mirabile, inquam, valde erat, qualiter duritiem ſtratæ publicæ vicerint, & ibi eodem ordine ponerentur, quo in tecto ab artifice fuerant collocata, quæ tandem propter impedimentum tranſeuntium in planitiem terræ defecta ſunt, eo quod aliter erui nequirent.

Triceſimo ſeptimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXCIII. Fulco Comes Andegavenſis ſeneſcens, ſecundum Wilhelmum, Jeroſolymam adiit, ubi a duobus ſervis ſuis ſacramentis ad hoc coactis, ut, quod juberet, facerent, per publicam ſtratam tractus eſt nudus ad ſepulcrum Domini, Turcis & Sarracenis inſpectantibus. Alter enim ſervorum reſtem ligneam collo ejus intorſerat, alter flagris terga nudati urgebat. Inter hæc autem tormenta Comes clamabat: Accipe Domine miſerum Fulconem, perjurum tuum, profugum tuum. Domum tamen propriam contra deſiderium ſuum regreſſus eſt. Nannetis erant duo Presbyteri, ſecundum Wilhelmum, pactum ad invicem ſtatuentes, ut, qui prior eorum moreretur, alteri appareret infra XXX. dies a morte. Quorum unus tandem prior deceſſit, & altari infra XXX. dies apparens, ait: Agnoſcis me frater? At ille: Etiam. Cui defunctus: Ecce juxta placitum noſtrum veni, & ſi volueris, adventus meus erit tibi commodus, mihi tamen omnino eſt infructuoſus, quia ſempiternis damnatus ſum ignibus. Sine pœnitentia enim ſunt in inferno Dei judicia. Pro criminibus enim meis puniar. Et curvatis in volam digitis, tres guttas a ſe defluentis tabi in eum jaculatus eſt, quarum duæ guttæ timpora, tertia vero frontem contingentes, cutem velut ignito jaculo perforaverunt, foramina magna efficientes. Et dixit defunctus ille vivo Sacerdoti: Iſta niſi neglexeris, erunt tibi in documentum, & ſalutis tuæ munimentum. Quibus dictis, diſparuit. Superſtes ergo omnia vendens, & dans pauperibus, Sanctum Melanium Redonis adiit, & ibidem Monachus effectus, vitam ſanctam ducere cœpit.

Triceſimo octavo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXCIIII. In Anglia tanta aquarum inundantia facta eſt, ſecundum Wilhelmum, ex abundantia imbrium, quantam nullus meminerat, & accedente hyeme, flumina ſunt ita congelata, ut equis & curribus eſſent pervia, quod tamen rariſſimum eſt in illis regionibus. Vratislaus Dux Bohemorum, ſecundum Egghardum, in venatione de equo corruens, ſubito defunctus eſt. Sanctus vero Ladislaus Rex Ungarorum pro eodem tempore obiit feliciter in Domino. Conradus filius Henrici Imperatoris Aquisgrani in Regem Romanorum coronatur, ſecundum Egghardum. Hujus Conradi mater fuit Bertha Imperatrix. Hic cum adoleviſſet, patri rebellare cœpit. Alium etiam habuit filium Henricus Imperator æquivocum ſibi de ultima uxore ſua filia Regis Ruſcorum, qui poſt eum imperio potitus eſt. Nobilis quædam mulier, Margareta dicta, generum ſuum juvenili ætate & ſpecie decorum multa diligentia pro amore filiæ ſuæ accurabat, ſecundum Sigibertum. De quo dum turpis oriretur ſuſpicio, mulier infamiæ ſuæ impatiens, ipſum generum ſuum a duobus famulis ſuis occidi occulte procuravit, poſtmodum vero pœnitens homicidium Presbytero confeſſa eſt. Sed elapſo aliquanti temporis ſpatio, Presbyter cum ea litigans, homicidium in faciem ſibi exprobravit. Nunciabatur ſtatim hoc malum per amicos interfecti juvenis Vicedomino Laudunenſi Frederico, a quo mox mulier citatur. Margareta homicidium confitetur, & ideo igni condemnatur. Ducta igitur prævie ad Eccleſiam Beatæ Virginis, peccatum ſuum coram Deo & hominibus debito ordine enarravit, & ſic meritis & precibus Beatæ Virginis humiliter ſe recommendavit. Miſſa autem mulier in ignem, nullatenus ſenſit incendium, ſed divina protecta gratia, igne conſumto, illa permanſit illæſa. Quod factum cognati adoleſcentis occiſi non divinæ virtuti aſcribentes, ſed potius fragilem lignorum materiam cauſantes, iterum ſuccendunt ignem circa eam fortiorem. Sed nec ſic profecerunt, imo conſumto illo igne, nec pilus capitis ejus læſus inventus eſt. Quo viſo miraculo, dimiſſa eſt mulier libera, & confeſſionis proditor Presbyter comprehenſus eſt, & in ignem miſſus, ac incontinenti combuſtus; Deus vero ab omnibus inſpectoribus eſt altis vocibus benedictus.

Triceſimo nono anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXCV. Urbanus Papa, ſecundum Wilhelmum, primum ſuum Concilium apud Claromontem celebrans ſtatuit, ut Epiſcopi vel Abbates, aut aliqui de Clero, aliquam Eccleſiaſticam dignitatem de manu Principum vel quorumcunque laicorum non accipiant: & ut Clerici in duabus civitatibus vel Eccleſiis præbendas non habeant: & ut nemo ſimul ſit Abbas & Epiſcopus: ut Eccleſiaſtica dignitas a nullo ematur aut vendatur: ut nullus alicujus ſacri ordinis carnali commercio utatur: ut eis auferantur Eccleſiaſticæ dignitates, qui ſcienter a ſe vel parentibus ſuis emtas habuerint. Ut eis ignoſcatur, qui hoc ignoraverint a Canonibus eſſe prohibitum. Ut nemo laicorum a capite jejunii, nemo Clericorum a Quinquageſima usque in Paſcha carnes edant. Ut in Sabbato Paſchæ non niſi poſt nonam officium celebretur. Ibi etiam excommunicavit Philippum Regem Francorum & omnes, qui eum vel Regem vel Dominum ſuum nominarent, & ei obedirent, eo quod vivente uxore ſua legitima, alterius viventis ſuperduxerat uxorem, & ſimiliter maledictam illam concubinam ejus, ac omnes, qui eam Reginam vel Dominam ejus vocarent, donec alter ab altero diſcederet. Similiter Wicbertum Papam & Henricum Imperatorem, qui ipſum manutenebat, & cæteros omnes, qui eis conſentirent, anathematizavit. Decreta etiam Hildebrandi Papæ revocavit ibidem. Statutum eſt etiam ab eodem ibidem, ut horæ Beatæ Virginis cottidie dicantur, officiumque ejus die Sabbatina ſolenniter fiat. In quo etiam Concilio nunciabatur Ieroſolymæ captio & Chriſtianorum oppreſſio: propter quod Urbanus Papa ſermonem faciens ad populum, exhortabatur ipſum ad crucem ſumendam in ſubſidium Terræ Sanctæ.

Quadrageſimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXCVI. Petrus Hiſpanus, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, per totum Imperium prædicavit crucem, exhortans Principes & populum pro liberatione Terræ Sanctæ ultra mare proficiſci; & plurimum quidem profecit, quia oſtendit Epiſtolam de cœlo ſibi miſſam, ut aſſeruit. Innumerabiles ergo populi una inſpiratione permoti, & variis ſignis eis oſtenſis, alii ab aliis animati, Duces, Comites, Potentes, Nobiles & ignobiles, divites & pauperes, liberi & ſervi, Clerici & Monachi, ſenes & juvenes, omnes uno animo undique concurrunt ab Hiſpania, a Provincia, ab Aquitania, a Britannia & Schotia, ab Anglia, Nordmannia & Francia, a Lotharingia, Burgundia, Germania & Teuthonia, ab Italia, Lombardia & Apulia, a Saxonia, Slavia, Dacia & Swecia, a Polonia, Ungaria & Bohemia, ac cæteris regnis & provinciis, virtute & ſigno Sanctæ Crucis ſignati & armati, vindicare cupientes injurias Dei, & nominis Chriſtiani hoſtes debellare, firmiſſima pace interim ubique compoſita & ordinata. Et primo Judæos in urbibus aggreſſi, compulerunt eos ad credendum in Chriſtum, & nolentes trucidaverunt, rebus ſpoliaverunt, ac urbibus eliminaverunt. Fuerunt autem inter iſtos, qui Chriſti Crucem aſſumſerunt pro liberatione Terræ Sanctæ Godefridus Dux Lotharingiæ, Euſtachius & Baldewinus fratres ejus, omnes filii antiqui & famoſi Godefridi, Anſelmus de Rybodimonte, Baldewinus Comes Montenſis, Robertus Comes Flandriæ, Stephanus Comes Bleſcenſis, Hugo Magnus frater Philippi Regis Francorum, Robertus Comes Nordmanniæ, Raymundus Comes Sancti Ægidii, Loyamundus filius Roberti Wiſcardi Regis Apuliæ, Rogerius Dux Apuliæ & Tancredus frater ejus. Horum omnium curam & auctoritatem ſuſcepit vir eximius Hymarus Podienſis Epiſcopus, eisque conſilio & doctrina usque ad captam Antiochiam plurimum proficuus fuit. Hujus etiam viæ incitator Petrus Lombardus Eremita extitit, qui usque ad captam Ieroſolymam in multis utilis cum exercitu Dei perſeveravit. Nunquam autem tot gentes, ſecundum Wilhelmum, in unam convenerunt ſententiam, quorum numerus opinionem vincebat hominum, quamvis æſtimaretur ſexagies centum millia hominum, qui omnes Ieroſolymam pergebant ad liberandam eam.

Quadrageſimo primo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXCVII. Exercitus Dei aggreſſus terminos Paganorum, viriliter egit, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo. Primumque fuit eis bellum ad pontem Phaphar fluminis IX. KL. Martii, ubi multi Turcorum occiſi ſunt. Secundum bellum fuit apud Niceam III. Non. Martii, in quo ſimiliter Pagani victi ſunt. Capta ergo Nicea captaque Laodicea, cum eſſent plus quam CCCM. armatorum in exercitu Chriſtianorum, norum, tanta eis omnium rerum ſuppetebat copia, ut aries uno nummo, & bos vix XII. nummis venderetur. Deinde cum procederent de captatione Nicææ urbis, pervenerunt ad pontem quendam, ubi Turcos innumeros invenerunt congregatos cum Sarracenis, Angulanis & Perſis, quorum exercitus continebat CCCLXM. armatorum, & ſimiliter ibidem invenerunt Arabes innumeros. Cum his Domini exercitus congreſſus faciens, ceciderunt de barbaris multa milia. Et hoc prælium actum eſt in Kal. Junii. Inventum eſt autem in tentoriis barbarorum auri & argenti magna copia, & equi, boves, cameli, mulæ, verveces & aſini plurimi, ac ſupellex copioſa. Poſt hoc Chriſtiani venerunt Iconium, & poſt ad civitatem Erachiam, quæ Turcis abjectis, illis ſe tradidit. Et inde cum magna difficultate venerunt ad vallem Antiochiæ, quæ eſt metropolis Syriæ. Hanc primo obſedit Boamundus Rex Apuliæ XIII. Kal. Novembris a tribus portis, ubi in caſtris tanta fames facta eſt, quod aſelli onus vendebatur VIII. puratis, qui valent denariorum CXX. ſolidos. Quidam autem Admiratus ſive Admiraldus Turcorum nomine Pyrrhus in Antiochia fuit, qui fœdus amicitiæ per fideles internuncios cum Boamundo inierat, fama ejus allectus. Hic Boamundo filium ſuum miſit obſidem, & reddebat ei tres turres, quas tenebat; & ſic capta eſt civitas. Caſſianus autem Imperator Turcorum inter fugientes delituit, cujus caput Armenii abſtulerunt, & Boamundo detulerunt. Corberannus autem Princeps eorum, qui ad auxilium Antiochiæ confluxerant, accepta licentia ſæviendi in Chriſtianos a Calipha ſuæ gentis Apoſtolico, innumeros coadunaverat, inter quos fuerunt Admiraldus Ieroſolymorum, Rex Damaſcenorum, & Senſado-Jus filius Caſſiani Imperatoris Turcorum interfecti, cum quibus civitatem Antiochiæ captam a Chriſtianis obſedit. In hac urbe fames maxima exorta eſt. Nam panis paximacius & permodicus Bizantino vendebatur, carnes vero equinæ & aſininæ pro Imperialibus computabantur deliciis, gallina V. ſolidis, ovum duobus ſolidis, nux vel glans denario appretiabatur. Hoc inediæ malum continuis XXXVI. diebus toleraverunt obſeſſi. Tredecim autem homines laborioſi & fortes foderunt a mane usque ad veſperam, & invenerunt lanceam Domini nimis alte infoſſam. Cum ergo Chriſtiani exirent in prælium contra Corberanum, viſus eſt exercitus exire a montibus innumerabilis, inſidentes omnes equis albis, & in manibus vexilla alba præferentes, cujus Duces erant Sancti, Georgius, Mauritius, Demetrius & Mercurius, qui Julianum Apoſtatam interfecerat. Victi ergo Turci fugerunt, innumeris ex eis interfectis. Captique ſunt ibi equi multi, jumenta, oves & boves innumeri, ac gazæ infinitæ, & in civitatem redacta ſunt omnia, commiſſumque fuit hoc prælium IIII. Kal. Julii. Infra urbem autem Antiochiæ ſunt quatuor montes ſatis alti, in quorum ſublimiori caſtellum eſt, quod toti præminet civitati, deorſum vero civitas decenter eſt conſtructa, & muro duplici circumdata. Murus quoque interior amplus & altus in quadris lapidibus compactus eſt, in quo ſunt turres CCCL. formoſis mœnibus venuſtatæ, & defenſæ propugnaculis. Murus vero exterior non eſt tantæ celſitudinis, eſt tamen admirandæ venuſtatis. Urbs autem in ſe continet CCCLX. Eccleſias, & Patriarcham habet, cui ſubjiciuntur CLIII. Epiſcopi. Ab oriente clauditur montanis, ab occidente muros civitatis præterfluit fluvius Pharfar. Octoginta & quinque Reges eam ſublimando nobilitarunt, quorum primus fuit Antiochus, a quo & condita eſt civitas & nominata. Hæc poſt Romam, Conſtantinopolim & Alexandriam, ſecundum Wilhelmum, quarto loco cunctis per orbem civitatibus prælata eſt. Fluvius etiam ibi eſt, qui modo Farvus, ſed olim Orons dictus eſt, duodecimo ab urbe miliario pelago influens, fluentis rapacibus & ipſe impetu frigidioribus, ſalubris auræ temperie civitati medetur. Commeatum navium opidanis invehens, perſeverantiam obſidentium quantolibet tempore deridet. Eſt præterea ipſa civitas mœnibus tuta, montibus ardua. Eccleſia Beati Petri & Eccleſia Beatæ Mariæ, quamdiu ibi Turci fuerunt, illibatæ permanſerunt. Hanc urbem Chriſtiani, ſecundum Baldricum in Hiſtoria Jeroſolymitana, per VIII. menſes & unum diem obſederant, & ceperant. Poſt vero in civitate jam capta gentiles obſeſſos Chriſtianos tenuerunt per tres hebdomadas. In qua obſidione tantus confluxit gentilium exercitus, ut nullus copioſiorem meminerit ſe vidiſſe vel audiſſe. Requieverunt autem Chriſtiani in ea per V. menſes & IX. dies. Poſt hoc perventum eſt ad Marram civitatem opulentam, quæ capta eſt hora veſpertina diei Sabbati III. Idus Decembris, in qua Chriſtiani morati ſunt per menſem unum & dies tres in tanta fame, ut carnes Turcorum comederent.

Quadrageſimo ſecundo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXCVIII. Exercitus Dei, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, cum magno labore, tandem pervenit Jeroſolymam, eaque obſeſſa, cum laboraret pro victus & maxime aquæ penuria, omnes ex communi decreto nudis pedibus cottidie exorando circuibant civitatem. Octavo ergo hujus humiliationis die, obſidionis vero XXXIX. die capta eſt Jeruſalem Idus Julii, in ſexta feria, & in templo Salomonis & in porticu ejus Chriſtiani cum Paganis, quinto bello conſerto, tanta in eos cæde debacchati ſunt, ut in ſanguine occiſorum equitarent usque ad genua equorum. Cumque ordinatum eſſet, qui Jeroſolymam deberent retinere, jam Principibus de repatriando conferentibus, ecce Rex Sarracenorum ad debellandum eos venit Aſchalonam cum centum milibus equitum & CCCCM. peditum. Cui cum occurriſſet exercitus Domini, in quo non plus quam VM. equitum & XVM. peditum erant, Deo pro ſervis ſuis clamantibus pugnante, & nube eos protegente ab æſtu ſolis, Sarraceni ſolo impetu Chriſtianorum territi, omnes projectis armis ſugam ceperunt. Et in hoc ſexto bello IIII. Kal. Auguſti commiſſo cæſa ſunt centum millia Paganorum, in porta vero Aſchalonæ ſuffocati ſunt ad duo millia, eorum autem, qui in mari perierunt, & inter ſpineta ſilvarum conſumti ſunt, numerus præ multitudine neſcitur. Duce autem Godefrido electo in Regem Jeroſolymorum remanente, cæteri Principes repatriaverunt. Capta eſt autem Jeroſolyma poſt annos circiter CCCCLXXXII. ex quo ſub Heraclio Imperatore ſecunda vice capta poſſeſſa eſt a Sarracenis. Hic Godefridus Dux Lotharingiæ Imperatori Henrico militaverat contra Hildebrandum Papam, & in oppugnando Romam partem muri, quæ ei obtigerat, primus irrupit. Poſtea præ nimio labore & nimia ſiti nimium vinum hauriens, febrem quartanam incidit; audita autem fama viæ Jeroſolymitanæ, illuc ſe iturum vovit, ſi Deus ei redderet ſanitatem. Quo voto emiſſo, mox vires ejus penitus reſloruerunt. In obſidione vero Antiochiæ civitatis Turcum quendam, cum eo petentem ſingulare certamen, per medium a lateribus gladio ſuo diſſecuit, cujus diſſecta medietate jam in armis palpitante, reliquam tulit equus, cui inſederat. Sic enim firmatus Turcus ille inſederat equo ſuo, forte ſellæ affixus. Idem Godefridus alterum Turcum equo congreſſum, librato in caput ejus enſe, a vertice usque ad inguina diſcidit, & ex eodem ictu ſellam & ſpinam dorſi equi penitus diviſit. Ceperunt ergo Chriſtiani in hac via peregrinationis Terræ Sanctæ Antiochiam, Tripolim, Akron, quæ tunc Ptolemaida vocabatur, Cæſaream, Marram & Jeroſolymam, ac pene totam Terram Sanctam. Antequam autem Antiochia caperetur, ſecundum Martinum, Sanctus Andreas apparuit cuidam ruſtico ſimplici, dicens: Veni, oſtendam tibi lanceam, per quam Jeſus Chriſtus fuit perforatus. Qui ruſticus, capta civitate, cum aliis fodiens in Eccleſia S. Petri, lanceam invenerunt. Dubitantibus autem plerisque, an ipſa eſſet vera lancea, quidam nomine Bartholomæus per Chriſtum certificatus, cum ipſa lancea per ignem XIII. pedum ad hoc factum tranſivit illæſus. Et ſic fideles cum lacrymis intrepidi procedentes per Akron pervenerunt Cæſaream. Cum autem eſſent prope Cæſaream, accipiter quidam columbam ſuper exercitum volitantem graviter plagatam dejecit in terram, quæ columba deferebat literas talem continentes ſententiam: Rex Akron Duci Cæſareæ ſalutem. Generatio canina venit gens contentioſa, contra quam per te & per alios volo legem tuam defendas. Idem annuncia aliis circumjacentibus civitatibus. Vale. Ordo Templariorum per Godefridum Regem Jeroſolymorum inſtitutus eſt, ſecundum Vincentium, de militibus & militaribus ſui exercitus. Hic Ordo Templariorum eſt nominatus, quia juxta templum Domini eſt inſtitutus, & pro cuſtodia & tuitione ejusdem templi eſt inſtauratus.

Quadrageſimo tertio anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MXCIX. Henricus Imperator, reprobato filio ſuo majore Conrado, quem alias Aquisgrani coronaverat in Regem, filium ſuum juniorem Henricum ibidem in Regem coronari fecit. Conradus ſiquidem jam per quasdam Italiæ partes ſceptrum & dignitatem Regiam annis pluribus obtinuerat, tantum odorem bonæ indolis ſuæ per orbem diffundens, ut nemo ſapiens ſalutem Reipublicæ in ipſo conſtituendam dubitaret. Erat enim vir per omnia Catholicus, Papæ ſubjectiſſimus, miſeris & præcipue militibus inopia gravatis compaſſione & fructu miſericordiæ proximus fiebat. Nemini contemtum, nemini vim, nemini præjudicium intentans, omni perſonæ omnique conditioni fuit affabilis. Et ideo Deo & hominibus dilectus, patrem ſuum Dominum ſuum vel Imperatorem ſuum nominavit. Advenantes a palatio patris ſui ſub appellatione conſervorum, licet infimos, ſociali benevolentia pertractavit. Corpore extitit decorus & ſtatura venuſtus. Glano Rege Danorum ſubitanea morte defuncto, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronica Slavorum, fratre Haroldi, quem interfici procuraverat, ut pro eo regnaret, Erikus Eghote frater ſuus ſucceſſit. Hic Erikus ſic cognominatus eſt, primo, quia mox, ut regnum accepit, tanta fertilitas terræ reddita eſt, quæ regnum Danorum tempore Olavi ſui prædeceſſoris ex toto deſeruerat, ut modius parvus cujuslibet bladi niſi duos valeret denarios uſuales, qui perantea ultra quatuor ſolidos valuiſſet. Secundo dictus eſt Eghote, quia ita magnus homo fuit, ut ſupra omnem populum ab humeris ſurſum videri poſſet, habens in ſe fortitudinem quatuor virorum fortium. Tertio, quia ita bonus fuit regno, ut cum ad Terram Sanctam proficiſci pararet, Dani tertiam partem omnium bonorum ſuorum, voluerint dare Terræ Sanctæ pro redemtione S. Crucis, ut ipſe in regno maneret. Sed propter hoc manere noluit, imo extunc iter arripuit cum magna militia, illi exercitui Domini ſe jungens, de quo immediate ſupra dictum eſt. In reverſione vero de expeditione ſancta in Cypro defunctus eſt cum multa lamentatione ſuorum; cui ſucceſſit Nicolaus filius ſuus, qui cum Magno filio ſuo regnavit pluribus annis. Godofredus Dux, ſecundum Vincentium, electus eſt a Principibus Chriſtianis in Regem Jeroſolymorum. Poſt receſſum Principum cæterorum coronatus & unctus eſt a Patriarcha Jeroſolymitano, viro devoto, in Regem, juxta illud Metriſtæ:

Anno milleno cum centeno minus uno

De Paſchali II. PP. CLXVIII.

Paſchalis Papa, qui & Reynerus, natione Tuſcus, ex patre Volfranno, ſedit annis XIX. & diebus VIII. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte Cardinalis exiſtens S. Clementis, ſanctæ fuit converſationis, & de Abbate Romano in Cardinalem, & de Cardinalatu promotus eſt in Papam. Hunc Papa Urbanus moriturus, ſpiritu inſtructus divino, Papam deſignavit futurum.

Quadrageſimo quarto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MC. Ordo Ciſtertium Fratrum cœpit per Robertum Abbatem Moliſmenſem Diœceſis Lingonenſis Ordinis S. Benedicti, ſecundum Wilhelmum, qui cum XXI. Monachis eremum Ciſter-

Ciſtertii petiit, unde idem ordo denominationem accepit: ubi freti conſilio & auctoritate Hugonis Archiepiſcopi Lugdunenſis, Sedis Apoſtolicæ tunc legati, & Waltheri Cabilonenſis Epiſcopi, necnon Oddonis Ducis Burgundiæ, inventam eremum in Abbatiam conſtruere cœperunt. Conradus Trajectenſis inferioris Epiſcopus, ſecundum Wilhelmum, feria quarta Paſchæ poſt Miſſam ab eo celebratam, in domo propria, a quodam famulorum ſuorum turpiter occiditur, nullo alio apud eum de familia ſua exiſtente. Wicbertus Archiepiſcopus Ravennenſis, qui Gregorio VII. pulſo per Imperatorem Henricum intruſus Papatum ſibi uſurpaverat, & Clementem III. ſe nominaverat, obiit ſecundum Egghardum, vir utique ingenio, facundia, nobilitate propaginis reverentiaque perſonæ inſignis. Henricus autem Imperator percepta morte ſui Antiſtitis alium in locum ejus inſtituiſſet, niſi rogatus per Principes & diſſvaſus fuiſſet.

Quadrageſimo quinto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCI. Godofridus Rex Jeroſolymorum obiit, ſecundum Sigibertum, cui Baldowinus frater ejus in regno ſucceſſit, coronatus apud Bethleem in Regem a Patriarcha Jeroſolymitano. Vix enim erant tunc in tota militia Chriſtianorum CCCC. milites & tot pedites, qui Jeroſolymam, Ramam, Caphan & Joppen cuſtodiebant. Poſtea cepit Baldowinus Cæſaream Palæſtinæ, ubi captus eſt Admiratus ſive Admiraldus urbis & Epiſcopus eorum. Ibi etiam Turcus quidam percuſſus pugno Chriſtiani in collo, bizancios evomuit multos. Mares enim intra ginginas, mulieres vero intra vulvas ſuas bizancios abſconderant. Subegit etiam idem Rex Baldowinus poſtea Tiberiadem, Sydonem, Akaron & cunctas urbes maritimas. Boamundus autem filius Regis Apuliæ cum reverteretur de expeditione Jeroſolymitana, per inſidias cujusdam Admiraldi Turcorum captus eſt & detentus, ſed per Dei gratiam liberatus, argenteos compedes, quibus vinculatus fuerat, Antiochiam ſecum attulit, & non multo poſt in Gallias venit, offerens catenas Sancto Leonardo, & ibi tunc uxorem duxit filiam Regis Francorum. Antiochiæ vero civitati præfuit prædictus Boamundus, poſt quem Tancredus frater ejus in ea principabatur. Conradus Henrici Imperatoris ſenior filius immatura morte præventus, ſecundum Wilhelmum, veneno, ut putabatur, intoxicatus, plenus fide & virtutibus obiit in Domino. Teſtantur enim, qui aderant, in brachio corporis defuncti crucis ſignaculum ſubito exortum ſe vidiſſe, ipſasque ejus exequias miraculis quibusdam honoratas fuiſſe a divina bonitate & clementia.

Quadrageſimo ſexto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCII. Henricus Imperator, habito cum Principibus colloquio, Romam ſe profecturum, & generale Concilium circa Kalendas Februarii ibi ſe convocaturum condixit, quatenus tam ſua quam Papæ cauſa Canonice ventilata, Catholica inter regnum & Sacerdotium confirmaretur unitas, quæ tot annis ſciſſa permanſerat. Sed proh pudor! dictum ſuum non ſervavit, imo Paſchali Papæ alium ſupponere poſt Wicbertum cogitavit. Poſt mediam vero Quadrageſimam convenientibus totius Italiæ Præſulibus, & Ultramontanorum & Patrum plurimorum legatis, Synodus magna Romæ eſt habita, ubi inter alia ſic ſubſcripſit Synodus illa: Anathematizo omnem hæreſim, & præcipue eam, quæ ſtatum præſentis Eccleſiæ perturbat: quæ docet & aſtruit, anathema eſſe contemnendum, & Eccleſiæ ligamenta eſſe ſpernenda. Promitto autem obedientiam Apoſtolicæ Sedis Epiſcopo Domino Paſchali ejusque ſucceſſoribus ſub teſtimonio Chriſti & Eccleſiæ, affirmans, quod affirmat, damnans, quod damnat ſancta & univerſalis Eccleſia. Paſchalis autem propter Imperatorem Henricum promulgavit ſententiam talem: Qui tunicam Chriſti ſcindere, & Eccleſiam rapinis & incendiis, luxuriis, perjuriis, homicidiis & adulteriis maculare non ceſſavit, primo a beatæ memoriæ Papa Gregorio, poſtea ſanctiſſimo Urbano Papa prædeceſſoribus noſtris excommunicatus eſt. Nos quoque perpetuo anathemati ipſum ſubjicimus, & id notum eſſe volumus omnibus, & maxime ultramontanis, quatenus ab ipſius ſe contineant iniquitate. Per hæc ergo acta Paſchalis, & per Principum Imperii ſupplicationem, & quia, qui aptus aſſumeretur, non inveniebatur, quievit Imperator de Papæ contra Paſchalem ſubſtitutione. Hæc Vincentius.

Quadrageſimo ſeptimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCIII. Henricus Imperator Nativitatem Domini Moguntiæ celebrans, ſecundum Egghardum, filio ſuo Henrico ſe reipublicæ adminiſtrationem commiſſurum, ſeque ſepulcrum Domini viſitaturum, per Emochardum Epiſcopum publice prædicari fecit. Indeque favorem maximum tam vulgi quam Principum & Clericorum regnique totius acquiſivit. Multos etiam ex diverſis Regni partibus ad ejusdem itineris comitatum ſe præparare voto ipſius accendit. Cuno filius Ottonis Comitis, unus de magnis Comitibus, ſecundum Egghardum, cui nihil in omni rerum humanarum indigentia deficiebat, ſed ſuperabundabat, quorundam hominum funeſtorum conſpiratione noctu, dum iter ageret, invaditur & occiditur, ſicut & ante triennium Henricus Craſſus ejusdem Comitis germanus & natu ſenior, qui totius Saxoniæ principatum ſecundus a Rege gerebat, a Friſonibus, quibus præerat, inſidiis vallatur, & fugiens vulneratur a nautis ſimul & ſuffocatur, uterque toti regno multum dolendus.

Quadrageſimo octavo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCIIII. Tildebertus Metriſta & Petrus Alfonſi claruerunt, ſecundum Vincentium. Hic Petrus quondam Judæus & Moyſes dictus, Judaiſmum reliquit, & ad fidem Chriſti converſus, libellum ſatis elegantem edidit, in quo contra Judæos & Sarracenos egregie diſputavit. Edidit etiam librum gratioſum ad filium ſuum, inſinuans ei bene vivendi modum, qui incipit: Dominus in hoc Opuſculo. Baptizatus vero eſt in civitate Oſtenſi ſub manibus ejusdem Epi-ſcopi nomine Stephani, & ab Alfonſo Rege Hiſpaniæ de ſacro fonte ſuſceptus in die Petri & Pauli Apoſtolorum; unde dictus eſt Petrus propter reverentiam Principis cœlorum, & Alfonſus propter reverentiam Principis terreni, ſcilicet patris ſui ſpiritualis. Henricus Imperator Natale Domini Ratisponæ celebravit, ſecundum Sigibertum. Ubi poſt aliquot dies excitabatur contra Sigihardum Comitem ſeditio tam furibunda, quod nullo, nec Imperatoris filio interveniente ſedari potuit, donec ab hora tertia usque in horam nonam in hoſpitio obſeſſus, tandemque fractis foribus ipſe prius confeſſus, & ſumto Dominici corporis ſacramento, capite truncatus eſt. In Diœceſi Spirenſi ſangvis ex panibus fluere viſus eſt, ſecundum Vincentium, nec non & in lenticularum edulio prodigioſe repertus, civile imo inteſtinum bellum portendere ſecundum antiquam Hiſtoriæ Romanæ ſimilitudinem conjiciebantur. Circa ſolſtitium quoque æſtivale inter grandinum lapides, in pago Wirciburgenſi de aëre decidiſſe fertur tantæ magnitudinis glacies, quod in quatuor partes diviſa, totidem hominibus importabilis videretur. In cœnobio Fuldenſi exitialis lues primo Abbatem & poſt multos Monachos extinxit, ſecundum Wilhelmum. Superſtites autem cœperunt primo ſibi quisque timere, & orationes ac eleemoſynas uberiores facere, ſed proceſſu temporis metu poſtpoſito, remiſſius agere. Et præcipue Cellarius, qui palam clamitabat, non eſſe rationabile, quod mortui plura conſumerent, quam vivi potuiſſent. Quadam ergo nocte tarde pergens in dormitorio ſolus, vidit in Capitulo Abbatem & omnes Fratres, qui illo anno obierant, eo ordine ſedere, quo deceſſerant. Tremens vero ille, & fugere geſtiens, vi retrahitur in Capitulum, & increpatur, ac graviter diſciplinatur, audivitque verba Abbatis taliter dicentis: Stultum eſt de alterius morte emolimentis inhiare, cum quibus mortalis ſit. Impium eſt etiam, cum Monachus omnem vitam ſuam in Eccleſiæ conſumſit obſequio, ut careat ſaltem unius anni poſt mortem ſtipendio. Scito ergo, te citiſſime obiturum, ſed quicquid per te fiet, quibus abſtuliſti, referetur commodum. Vade ergo, & alios corrige exemplo, quos corrupiſti verbo. Abiit ille, & nichil ſe vanum vidiſſe, tam recentibus plagis quam morte proxima demonſtravit confratribus ſuis. Civitas Lubicenſis terræ Wagirorum conſtruitur & fundatur per Trutonem Principem Slavorum, ſecundum Chronicam Lubicenſem, prope villam, quæ Swartowe nuncupatur. Sed in hoc loco non diu perſeveravit, quia ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronica Slavorum, deſtructa fuit a Slavis non diu poſt ipſius inſtaurationem, & ſecundum eum, fundata fuit ibidem a prædicto Trutone eo anno, quo contra Butinue filium Godeſchalchi triumphaverat, qui fuit annus Domini MLXXIII. Hoc autem præſenti anno fundata fertur in loco, ubi in præſentiarum ſita eſt, per eundem Trutonem Principem Slavorum, & mercatoribus repleta. Caſtrum vero eidem urbi junxit ſolenne, in quo ipſe cum ſuis ſe locavit, & ab eo inimicis ſuis reſtitit.

Quadrageſimo nono anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCV. Terræmotus maximus factus eſt Ieroſolymis, ſecundum Vincentium, in vigilia Nativitatis Domini, & Ieroſolymitæ innumerabilem multitudinem Paganorum ſtraverunt, victoria glorioſa eis de cœlo collata. Dum Imperator Henricus Natale Domini Moguntiæ celebraret, ſecundum Egghardum, filius ejus Henricus contra jus naturæ & fas legum in patrem inſurgens, quam indigne eum tractaverit, declarat Epiſtola, ex ore ipſius patris ſcripta ad Philippum Regem Francorum, & ſimiliter Epiſtola, quam ſcripſit Principibus & Epiſcopis Teuthoniæ, de quibus agetur infra. Inſurgens ergo Henricus filius contra ſuum patrem Henricum, primo hæreſim a Paſchali Papa ſupra condemnatam, & ipſe anathematizans, obedientiam Eccleſiæ Romanæ profeſſus eſt. Deinde fœderatis ſibi Principibus Alemanniæ & Franciæ orientalis, ad Saxones ſe convertit, a quibus honorifice ſuſceptus, in Qvedlingburg Paſcha celebravit. Ubi in brevi tempore univerſis Saxoniæ urbibus potitus, & ab Optimatibus ut Rex honoratus, totum Saxoniam Eccleſiæ Romanæ reconciliavit, Epiſcopisque & Clericis conventum generalem indixit in urbe regia Northuſenſi IIII. KL. Junii, ubi ſuper diſciplina Eccleſiaſtica cum eis vellet contrectare. Et convenit ibidem multitudo maxima. Henricus vero Rex benignitatem & humilitatem prætendens, conventui ſervorum Dei non niſi vocatus intereſſe voluit. Tandem in abjecto productus habitu, locoque ſtans remotiore, ſed propius reducto, omnibus juxta Principum decreta leges ſuas, jura & privilegia rationabiliter innovavit, & alia ad rempublicam pertinentia ſtudioſe proſecutus eſt. Inter hæc obortis lacrymis, Regem cœli cunctamque cœlorum militiam teſtabatur, ſe nulla regendi cupiditate paternum regnum velle uſurpare, neque Dominum & patrem ſuum a Romano deponi Imperio exoptare, ſed ſe S. Petro ſuisque ſucceſſoribus ac legi Chriſtianæ ſubjicere vellet humiliter, & eisdem fideliter deſervire. Quod verbum omnis multitudo laudavit, lacrymas ſimul & preces tam quo patris converſione, quam pro filii proſperitate fundens, voce magna exclamavit Kyrie eleiſon. Deinde per Theutoniam multis animoſe magnificeque tam per patrem quam per filium geſtis, caſtris, tandem circa fluvium Rhenum in contrarium poſitis, ſpectaculo nimis horribili per triduum continuum ex una parte fluminis Imperatoris, ex altera parte Regis ſigna volitabant. Frequentia quoque ex ipſo fluminis alveo duella grallabantur, & non paucos ex utraque parte gladius abſumſit. Sed die proxima ante congreſſionem belli certiſſime futuram, Principes, qui capita & robur exercituum eſſe videbantur, pacifice colloquentes, tandem parum emolimenti tam duro & tam periculoſo negotio ineſſe unanimiter conſiderantes, indeque populo Chriſtiano ex utraque parte parcendum, imo parricidiali pugna ceſſandum ſandum pari voto judicabant. Imperator autem conſternatus animo, ſupplex Principum ſuorum petit adjutorium, nec impetrat. Inſtruitur etiam ſecretis filii ſui literis & nunciis, ſuos ſe conſpiratione procurante, beneficiis & muneribus multis tradituos Papæ Paſchali. Propter quod ſicut erat ſolers & in omnibus circumſpectus Imperator, latenter e caſtris ſubtrahitur. Sicque divina diſpoſitione uno ſalvo, multorum, qui fundendus credebatur, ſangvis ſalvatur. Quo audito, unusquisque ad propria rediit. Tandem colloquium generale indicitur apud Moguntiam ſuper cauſa iſtius diſſidii, & Principes per Papam jam corrupti judicant, quod pater & filius ſeparatim agant, & pater in caſtro fortiſſimo decreta Principum expectet. Unde vulgariter dictum eſt, patrem a filio captum & cuſtodiæ mancipatum. Henricus ergo Imperator proditum ſe intelligens, in Leodio urbe ad tempora meliora ſe recepit. In ſupra dicto autem conventu Northuſenſi Epiſcoporum & Principum ſimonia & hæretica pravitas interdicta omnino fuit. Ubi etiam a Saxonia omnes increduli excommunicati, & injuſti expulſi ſunt Epiſcopi, & loco eorum juſti & boni ſunt reſtituti. Ibi etiam Fredericus Halberſtadenſis Epiſcopus propter Simoniam eſt dejectus. Epiſcopi vero Hildenshemenſis & Padelburnenſis propter eorum inobedientiam privati ſunt ſedibus ſuis, & Epiſcopus Myndenſis propter inobedientiam ſimiliter eſt depoſitus, & alter loco illius ſubſtitutus. Ibi etiam Monachi de Yſenburg redierunt ad ſuum Monaſterium, de quo jam diu exulaverant, eligentes ſibi Abbatem Martinum nomine. Hos, inquam, Monachos Fredericus Epiſcopus Halberſtadenſis expulerat de Monaſterio ſuo Yſenburg, quia ſibi obedire nolebant, eo quod excommunicatus & raptor eſſet communium ſtratarum. Duo orbes in modum ſolis & lunæ formati, ſecundum Sigibertum, cottidiano ſoli ſimiles apparuerunt, omni colorum ſpecie radiantes inſtar arcus cœleſtis.

Quinquageſimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCVI. Paſchalis Papa Henricum Imperatorem excommunicavit, ſecundum Vincentium & Helmoldum, & eo usque ſententia invaluit, ut collecta generali curia Principes Teuthoniæ Henrico diadema tollendum & ad filium ejus æquivocum transferendum decernerent, qui jam dudum per patrem in Regem fuerat deſignatus. Miſſi ergo ſunt Moguntinenſis, Colonienſis Archiepiſcopi & Wormatienſis Epiſcopus a Principibus univerſis ad Imperatorem, qui tunc in regio caſtro Hingelesheym conſiſtebat, ut mandatum Principum ad ipſum deferrent. Unde ad ipſum venientes dixerunt. Fac nobis reddi coronam, annulum, purpuram, & cætera, quæ ad inveſtituram Imperialem ſunt pertinentia, filio tuo deferenda. Illo autem percunctante dejectionis ſuæ cauſam, reſponderunt: Cur quæris de his, quæ ipſe optime noſti? Meminiſti, qualiter univerſa Eccleſia tui cauſa maximo ſchiſmatis errore jam multis laboraverit annis: qualiter Epiſcopatus, Abbatias cæteraque Eccleſiæ regimina feciſti venalia, nec fuit in conſtituendis Epiſcopis ulla legitimæ electionis facultas, ſed ſola pecuniæ ratio. Pro his & aliis cauſis variis ſanxit auctoritas Apoſtolica, favitque Principum univerſitas, te non ſolum regno, verum & Eccleſiaſtica communione privandum. Quo contra Rex ait: Dicitis, quod ſpirituales dignitates vendidimus pretio. Veſtra ſiquidem poteſtas eſt tale crimen mihi imponere. Dic o Moguntine Antiſtes, adjuratus per nomen Dei, quem exegimus aut recepimus cenſum? vel quam pecuniam poſtulavimus, quando te Moguntinæ Eccleſiæ præfecimus? Tu quoque Colonienſis per fidem te conteſtamur. Dic, quid nobis dediſti pro ſede, cui noſtri gratia præſides. Illis fatentibus, nil pecuniæ hujus rei gratia aut oblatum, aut acceptum, ait Rex: Gratias Deo agimus, quod in hac parte fideles inventi ſumus. Certe dignitates hæ duæ præſtantiſſimæ ſunt, & magnum quæſtum cameræ noſtræ referre potuiſſent. Porro Wormatienſis, qualis a nobis ſuſceptus ſit, & ad quid promotus, ſi pietate vel quæſtu erga ipſum uſi fuerimus, nec vos ipſos latet. Condignam ergo noſtris beneficiis rependitis gratiam. Nolite, quæſo, participes effici eorum, qui levaverunt manus ſuas adverſus Dominum & Regem ſuum, & temeraverunt fidem & juramentorum ſacramenta. Ecce jam deficimus, parumque nobis vitæ reſtat, ſenio & labore confecti. Suſtinete modicum, & nolite gloriam noſtram confuſione terminare. Si autem nobis omnino cedendum dicitis, & manet fixa ſententia, præfigantur induciæ: ſtatuatur dies placiti, & ſi curia adjudicaverit filio noſtro coronam, manibus propriis eam ſibi imponemus. Illis autem in contrarium contendentibus, & dicentibus, ſe negotium, pro quo miſſi eſſent, fortiter & conſtanter expleturos, Rex parumper avulſus ab eis, fidelium ſuorum requiſivit conſilium. Videntes autem, quod legati veniſſent militia ſtipati, & non eſſe locum reſiſtendi, fecit ſibi regiam exhiberi purpuram. Qua indutus, & in ſedem receptus, legatos alloquitur, dicens: Hæc quidem Imperialis honoris inſignia michi præſtitit æterni Regis pietas & Principum Regni concors electio. Potens eſt autem Deus, qui me ad hoc culmen ſua dignatione provexit, michi conſervare, quod conceſſit, manusque veſtras ab incepto opere cohibere. Divino enim præſidio, cui ſemper innixi ſumus, inniti oportet omni militia & armis deſtitutos. Hactenus externis bellis implicati, cuſtodiæ noſtræ diligentiam adhibuimus. Hoc autem inteſtinum malum, ſicut nec ſuſpectum habuimus, ſic nec præcavimus. Quis enim in orbe Chriſtiano tantum nefas conſurgere crederet, ubi jurata Principi ſacramenta fidelitatis irritentur, ſuſcitetur filius adverſus patrem, poſtremo nulla beneficii gratia honeſtati exhibeatur. Certe Majeſtas Imperatoria illam erga hoſtes honeſtatis conſvevit obſervare diſciplinam, ut proſcribendis vel damnandis induciarum remedia non negaverit, ante prænonens quam feriens, prius invitans ad gratiam, quam damnans per ſententiam. Quis tantam mentis alienationem a fideliſſimis amicis, & maxime a Pontificibus credere potuiſſet. Dominum ergo factorem orbis vobis proponimus, ut ipſius terror vos coërceat, quos pietas a malo non revocat. Quodſi nec Deum nec honeſtatem propriam reveremini, ecce præſentes ſumus: violentiam in præſenti reprimere non poſſumus. Neceſſarium enim eſt vim ſuſtinere, cui refragari locus non valet. Cœperunt ergo Pontifices hæſitare, quid acturi eſſent. Rerum enim magnarum ingreſſus ſunt difficiles. Tandem Moguntinus allocutus eſt ſocios, dicens: Quousque trepidamus o ſocii invictiſſimi? Nonne officii noſtri eſt Regem conſecrare, & conſecratum inveſtire? Quid ergo Principum decreto impendere licet, eorundem auctoritate tollere cur non licet? Quem ergo meritum inveſtivimus, immeritum cur non deveſtiamus? Statimque accepto conamine, Imperatorem aggreſſi ſunt, eique coronam de capite abruperunt. Deinde ſublatum de ſede, purpura cæterisque, quæ ad ſacram inveſtituram pertinent, funditus exuerunt. Qui confuſione circumdatus, ait ad eos: Videat Deus, & vindicet in vos, qui inique agitis contra me. Ego quidem nunc luo peccata adoleſcentiæ meæ, recipiens a Deo ſtateram æqui ponderis, ignominiam & confuſionem tantam, quantam nemo Regum ante me ſuſtinuiſſe certum eſt. Non tamen vos ideo immunes a peccato eſtis, qui levaſtis manus adverſus Dominum veſtrum, & prævaricati eſtis jusjurandum, quod juraſtis. Videat Deus & ulciſcatur in vos, Deus, inquam, ultionum Dominus. Non conſurgatis, neque creſcatis, neque proſperetur honor veſter, ſitque portio veſtra cum eo, qui tradidit Chriſtum Dominum. At illi obturantes aures ſuas, perrexerunt ad Henricum filium ſuum, deferentes ei imperialia inſignia, firmantesque eum in Imperio. Pater autem fugiens a facie filii, pervenit ad Ducatum Lymburgum, accelerans, ut evaderet manus quærentium animam ejus. Erat autem in regione illa Princeps nobilis, quem Henricus Imperator depoſitus, adhuc ſui compos Ducatu de Lymburg privaverat, & alteri dederat. Accidit ergo, ut idem Princeps forte venationi inſiſtens eſſet prope viam, quam Cæſar tranſivit, in comitatu ſuo vix IX. viros habens, qui in ſua deſolatione apud ipſum remanſerant. Qui animadvertens Imperatorem eſſe, & intelligens, ipſum fugere a facie filii, quia factum jam quodammodo perceperat, ſedens in equo, aſſumtis militibus, inſecutus eſt Regem velocius. Quem videns Imperator, & reputans hoſtem, cœpit timere de vita. Et exclamans voce magna, cœpit poſtulare veniam. At ille: Male erga me Domine veniam meruiſtis, qui mihi quondam ſupplicanti omnem gratiam negaſtis, & Ducatu meo me injuſte privaſtis. Hoc eſt enim, inquit Cæſar, quod nunc luo, quia filius meus ſurrexit contra me, & deſtitutus ſum omni honore meo. Videns ergo Princeps ille Regem turbatum & deſolatum, ac in ultimis tribulationibus conſtitutum miſeratione commotus, dixit ad ipſum: Licet quondam ſis poteſtate tua in me abuſus, Deus tamen novit, quod magna ſuper te pœnitudine commoveor. Impietas enim magna adverſum te commiſſa eſt ab eis maxime, quibus pius & beneficus ſemper extitiſti. Quid ergo tibi videtur? Eſtne tibi inter Principes relictus amicus? Cumque Cæſar ſe diceret ignorare, eo quod nondum aliquid pro eſſet tentatum: ait ille: Potens eſt Deus adhuc reſarcire honorem tuum, eo quod inique actum ſit adverſum te. Fac ergo, ut ſvadeo. Aſcende caſtrum hoc, & habeto corporis feſſi curam. Ego autem mittam ad regiones & civitates tentando, ſibi alicubi auxilium invenire potero. Forſitan non ex toto defecit juſtitia a filiis hominum. Miſit ergo Dux ille circumquaque pro militibus, collegitque circa DCCC. armatos, aſſumtumque Cæſarem perduxit in Coloniam civitatem magnam. Colonienſes vero receperunt eum. Quod cum percepiſſet filius, venit cum grandi exercitu, & obſedit Coloniam. Cumque obſidio vehementer invaleſceret, Cæſar timens civitati, nocte elapſus fugit Leodium. Et convenerunt illuc ad ipſum omnes viri conſtantes, & quorum corda miſeratio tetigerat. Perſpecto ergo Imperator auxiliatorum numero, dimicare ſtatuit. Quem cum filius perſequeretur in manu forti, ille egreſſus eſt in occurſum ejus ad aquas Moſanas. Rogavit autem Principes Rex & omne robur exercitus, dicens: Si fortiſſimus Deus me adjuverit hodie in prœlio, factique fuerimus in conflictu victores, ſervate mihi filium meum, & nolite interficere eum. Commiſſum eſt ergo prœlium, & prævalens pater, fugavit filium trans pontem, multique illic occiſi ſunt gladio, & plures aquis præfocati. Rurſus inſtauratum eſt prœlium, & pater concluſus & comprehenſus. Quantas autem contumelias quantave opprobria vir ille magnificus in diebus illis pertulerit, ſicut relatu difficile, ita auditu lamentabile eſt. Inſultabant ei inimici, illudebant ei & amici. Denique, ut ajunt, pauperculus quidam, ſed literatus, coram omnibus ſic locutus eſt ad eum: Inveterate dierum malorum nunc venerunt peccata tua, quæ prius operabaris, judicans judicia injuſta, opprimens juſtum, & dimittens noxium. Cui cum aſtantes iraſcerentur viri ſenſati, compeſcuit eos Cæſar, dicens: Sinite eum, ut maledicat, quia voluntas Dei eſt. Erat autem illic Epiſcopus Spirenſis Cæſari quondam dilectiſſimus. Nam & Imperator Eccleſiam B. Virginis apud Spiram fundaverat. Dixit ergo Cæſar ad amicum ſuum Epiſcopum Spirenſem: Ecce deſtitutus regno decidi a ſpe, nihilq; mihi utilius pro nunc video, quam renunciare militiæ. Da ergo præbendam mihi apud Spiram, ut famulus Dominæ meæ Dei Genitricis eſſe valeam. Novi enim literas, & poſſum adhuc ſubſervire choro. Ad quem Epiſcopus ille, per Matrem, inquit, Domini non faciam tibi, quod petis. Tunc ſuſpirans Cæſar & lacrymans ait ad circumſtantes: Miſeremini mei, miſeremini mei, ſaltem vos amici mei, quia manus Domini tetigit me. Mortuus eſt ergo non diu poſt Leodii Cæſar, ſtetitque corpus ejus inhumatum in capella quadam deſerta V.

annis propter ſententiam excommunicationis. O magna Dei judicia & inſcrutabilia, quæ oſtenſa ſunt in tam præpotenti viro! Sperandum eſt autem, quod caminus ille tribulationis decoxerit in eo ſcoriam, & rubiginem omnem abſtulerit peccatorum. Quotiens enim in præſenti vita judicamur, a Domino corripimur, ut non cum hoc mundo damnemur.

De Henrico V. Imp. LXXXVI.

Henricus Quintus Henrici IIII. filius cœpit an. mundi VMLXVII. Olymp. CCCCLXVII. anno tertio, Urbis conditæ MDCCCLVI. Domini vero MCVI. & annis XXI. imperavit, ſecundum Martinum. Hic Henricus, ſecundum Vincentium, apud Moguntiam conventum Principum convocavit in Natali Domini, quantus per multa annorum curricula a quoquam viſus eſt. Fertur enim LII. ibidem tunc Principes fuiſſe vel amplius, adeo ut ſolus Magnus Dux Saxoniæ ætate decrepitus notaretur defuiſſe. Apoſtolicæ etiam ſedis legati, puta Albanenſis & Conſtantienſis Epiſcopi ſententiam anathematis in Henricum IIII. Imperatorem a tot ſibi ſuccedentibus Papis ſæpius promulgatam, ſcriptis ſimul & dictis teſtificabantur ibidem. Qua de cauſa cum ipſe de caſtello, quo manebat, exhibere tentaret animoſe, Principes propter cavendum tumultum vulgi, ſuæ parti potius quam filii favere ſolentis, ipſi Imperatori occurrerunt in Gylenheym, tandemque generali & proditioſo illum circumvenientes concilio perducunt usque ad hoc, quod Imperialia inſignia, crucem ſcilicet & lanceam, ſceptrum, globum & coronam filii poteſtati tradidit, proſpera illi imprecans, illumque Primatibus multo fletu commendans. Hoc ergo ordine Henricus V. primum a patre Henrico Imperatore, demum ab omnibus regni Principibus in Regem jam ſecundo eſt electus, & a legatis Apoſtolicis per manus impoſitionem Catholice confirmatus, acceptis tam ab Epiſcopis quam laicis juxta morem patriæ ſacramentis.

Primo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCVII. Robertus Wiſcardi Rex Apuliæ, ſecundum Martinum, vicit Alexium & Tymmanum Imperatores Conſtantinopolitanos. Iſte Robertus de Francia venit Romam cum exercitu magno, volens, ſi poſſet, urbem occupare. Sed vi repulſus, regnum Apuliæ cepit. Habuit autem filium Rogerium Regem Siculorum & filiam Conſtantiam Imperatricem, matrem Friderici Imperatoris, qui contra Ottonem invaluit. Iſte Rogerius genuit Willerum Regem Apuliæ, qui fuit in omnibus glorioſus, cujus tempore Regnum Apuliæ divitiis & deliciis præ cæteris regnis affluebat. Habuit etiam ſupra dictus Robertus & alium filium Boamundum, qui mare tranſiit pro liberatione Terræ Sanctæ, ut ſupra anno Domini MXCVI. patuit. Henricus Rex Romanorum legatos ſuos Romam miſit, viros ſagaces, puta de Lotharingia & Germania Brunonem Treverenſem, de Saxonia Henricum Magdeburgenſem Archiepiſcopos, a Francia orientali Ottonem Babenbergenſem, de Bayoaria Everhardum Eyſtadenſem, ab Alemannia Gherhardum Conſtantienſem Epiſcopos, aliosque nonnullos Abbates notabiles, pluresque Nobiles de latere Regis laicæ profeſſionis, qui & de objectis rite rationem reddere, & de incertis ſagaciter inveſtigare, & per omnia Eccleſiaſticis utilitatibus ſapienter conſulere erant idonei: illudque mandati præcipuum eis inter cætera dedit, ut ſi fieri poſſet, Dominus Apoſtolicus ſuam transalpinis partibus exhibeat præſentiam. Et ſic per tot annos jam obnubilata lux fidei partibus noſtris exoritur, depopulatur & ventilatur, dijudicatur & convincitur, reſpuitur & condemnatur hæreſis Clementina & Wicbertina ac Henriciana. Eccleſia autem Romana jam cornibus ſibi exaltatis, oſſa Wicberti Papæ de ſolenni ſepulcro ſuo, quod per ſex annos jam in Eccleſia Ravennenſi quieverat, projici fecit, univerſaque ejus inſtituta velut invaſoris Apoſtolici annullavit. Hoc anno Wernherus Miniſterialis Regis, ſecundum Egghardum, qui Marchiæ Aquinæ præerat, collectis undecunque per Italiam copiis, corruptisque pecunia nonnullis Romanis, dum Papa Paſchalis in finibus Beneventanis immoraretur, Abbatem de Farfara Cathedræ S. Petri impoſuit, & ipſum Papam Cæſaris ſub Silveſtri vocabulo appellari præcepit, qui tamen poſt paululum a fidelibus Paſchalis Papæ eliminatus eſt. Legati Henrici depoſiti Imperatoris, ſecundum Vincentium, per Adelbertum Comitem juxta Tridentum civitatem capiuntur de mandato Imperatoris novelli, ſed per Welofonem Ducem Noricum tertia die ſupervenientem liberantur. A prima hebdomada Quadrageſimæ cometa immenſi fulgoris usque ad Domini Paſſionem apparuit. Quidam in Alſatia Henrico Regi novo rebellare moliebantur, & Henricus pater Regis deſtitutus Imperator non modica ſibimet auxilia contra filium attraxit, puta Epiſcopum Leodienſem, Henricum Ducem Lotharingiæ, & urbes Colonienſem, Juliacum, Bunnam & Veronam, cæteraque partis illius oppida, ut vir bellator ab adoleſcentia ſua argumentoſe ſe contra filium ſuum præparavit. Henricus vero Rex novellus, juvenili accenſus animoſitate, ſe paravit ad occurrendum, præmiſitque CCC. viros, qui pontem ſuper Moſam fluvium in loco, qui dicitur Wegeſaz, conſtructum obſervarent. Ipſe autem Aquisgrani in palatio cœnam Domini celebrare volebat. Unde Henricus Dux Lotharingiæ cum Imperatoris antiqui exercitu regios milites ad pontem invaſit, cinxit, oppreſſit, ſtravit & captivavit, quorum etiam quosdam fluvius abſorbuit. Henricus ergo Rex propter evenrum rei, ſecundum Egghardum, feſta Paſchalia Bunnæ celebravit, ubi Henricum Ducem Lotharingiæ judicio optimatum reum majeſtatis læſæ & hoſtem reip. Ducatu privavit, & generalem expeditionem contra Lotharingiam, accepto a Principibus ſacramento, per totum regnum indixit & paravit. Et exhinc ad partes ſuperiores ſe contulit, memor patris ſui prudentiæ, experientiæ bellicæ & animoſitatis. Inter hæc Henricus ſenior Imperator Coloniam proficiſcitur, Archiepiſcopum expellit, civitabatibus, Apoſtolici ſigilli auctoritate roborata, ſecundum Sigibertum. Ab illo ergo tempore rejecerunt ab Ordine Ciſtertienſi frocos & pellicea, ſcamina & capucia, feminalia, pectina, coopertoria & ſtramenta lectorum, ac diverſa ciborum fercula & ſagina, ac omnia, quæ puritati regulæ adverſabantur. Abjecerunt etiam Eccleſias, altaria, oblationes, decimas & ſepulturas aliorum hominum, & furnos, molendina, villas & villanos, quia nec in Vita S. Benedicti, nec in ejus Regula legebant, eundem Sanctum hujusmodi poſſeditſe, nec fœminas Monaſterium ejus intraſſe, nec mortuas ibi ſepultas fuiſſe, excepta ſorore ſua S. Scholaſtica, dicentes, Deum Benedicto præcepiſſe, ut Monachus a ſecularibus actibus ſe faciat alienum. Decimas quoque dicebant a ſanctis Patribus in quatuor partes diſtributas, unam Epiſcopo, alteram Presbytero vel Clerico, tertiam hoſpitibus ad illam Eccleſiam venientibus, ſeu viduis & infirmis, ſeu pauperibus alium victum non habentibus, quartam vero reſtaurationi Eccleſiæ. Et quia in hoc computo perſonam Monachi, qui terras ſuas poſſidet, unde per ſe & per pecora ſua laborando vivat, non reperiebant, idcirco hoc velut aliorum jus injuſte ſibi uſurpare decernebant. In parochia Ligienſi porca ſive ſus enixa eſt porcellum habentem faciem hominis. Natus eſt etiam ibidem, ſecundum Vincentium, pullus gallinæ quadrupes. Henricus Rex Natale Domini Ratisponæ celebravit, ſecundum Sigibertum, præſentibus legatis Paſchalis Papæ, cujus adventum Rex apud Auguſtam aliquamdiu præſtolatus fuerat. Sed Papa proterviam Teuthonicorum declinans, & adhuc animoſum cor Regis adoleſcentis conſiderans, necdum oſtium in Germanicis partibus eſſe apertum gemens, per Burgundiam tranſivit in Cluniacum, ubi quondam Abbas fuerat, & tandem circa Aſcenſionem Domini Concilium non modicum apud Trecas tenuit, ubi inter alia ſententiam de libera Paſtorum electione, & de coërcenda laicorum in Eccleſiaſticas dignitates præſumtione, juxta prædeceſſorum ſuorum decreta promulgavit. At Rex Henricus, peragratis Saxoniæ finibus, poſt Paſchale feſtum Moguntiæ actum, eidem Concilio ſe vicinum, non tamen præſentem ſe exhibuit cum nonnullis Epiſcopis & Optimatibus, cum quibus etiam inito concilio legatos transmiſit, per quos tam Papæ quam univerſæ Synodo poteſtatem conſtituendorum Epiſcoporum, privilegiis Apoſtolicis excommunicationis ſententia vallatis, in contrarium conatibus inflicta, Karolo Imperatori ſuisque ſucceſſoribus conceſſam notificaret. Super qua quæſtione, quia in alieno regno quidquam diffiniri, utpote Romano jam incipiens potiri ſceptro, Henricus non patitur, induciæ ſibi totum ſequentis anni ſpatium Romam veniendi, & tandem cauſam generali Concilio ventilandi conceduntur. Papa ergo humilitatem in cordibus Germanicis, quam ſperaverat, non inveniens, queruloſe Romam revertitur: Rex vero Henricus Ratisponam profectus, colloquium ibi cum Bayoariis habuit. Henricus Dux Lotharingiæ, qui ſecundum Egghardum, primo de Imperatore Henrico ſeniore ad filium ſuum Henricum Regem tranſiens, eum contra patrem animaverat, & demum a filio ad patrem rediens, partes filii debellaverat; mortuo Imperatore, ſe ut reum Majeſtatis Regiæ filio ejus tradidit: qui ab eo carcerali cuſtodiæ traditus eſt, de qua tamen per induſtriam ſuam evaſit, ſed Ducatus ejus datus Godefrido Comiti Lovanienſi. Philippus Rex Francorum obiit ſecundum Vincentium, & apud Floriacenſe cœnobium eſt tumulatus. Henricus filius Godeſcalci Principis Obotritorum, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronica Slavorum, poſtquam Truto Princeps Slavorum ſenio confectus erat, egreſſus de Dacia, in quam fugerat, cum dictus Truto fratrem ſuum Buthue interfeciſſet, reverſus in terram patris ſui. Cui cum Truto introitum præcluderet, ille collecto de Danis atque Slavis magno navium numero, percuſſit Aldenburg & omnem maritimam Slavorum provinciam, duxitque de eis prædam infinitam. Et cum hoc ſecundo & tertio feciſſet, factus eſt timor magnus omnibus Slavorum populis, inſulas & litora maris inhabitantibus, ita ut ipſe Truto præter ſpem Henricum ad pacis conditionem admitteret, & conceſſo ei introitu villas ſibi optimas ad habitandum concederet. Nec tamen Truto hoc egit bona intentione, eo quod doloſus eſſet. Virum enim bellicoſum & juvenem fortem, quem vi nequibat, fraude opprimere ſatagebat, inſidias, ubi poterat, ei ponere diſponens. Sed Henrico ad cavendum inſidias Trutonis & conſilium & dolus non aberant. Nam Domina Slavina uxor Trutonis ſæpius Henricum præmonuit, denuncians ei inſidias. Et hoc ideo fecit, quia marito ſuo jam vetulo, ſi poſſibile foret, (ei) nubere affectabat. Unde etiam inſtinctu ejusdem fœminæ Henricus invitavit Trutonem ad convivium, quem multa potione temulentum, cum æſtuarium, in quo ſedebant, ſe curvando & inclinando exire deberet, eo quod oſtium baſſum eſſet, Danus quidam ad hoc conductus ſecuri ipſum percuſſit, & caput uno ictu amputavit. Et accepit Henricus Slavinam uxorem, & obtinuit principatum in terra. Occupavit autem munitiones, quas ante habuit Truto, & reddidit hoſtibus ultionem. Tunc etiam acceſſit ad Magnum Ducem Saxoniæ, & fecit ei juramentum fidelitatis & ſubjectionis. Sed & Nordalbingorum populos, quos Truto vehementer attriverat, iſte convocavit in unum, & iniit cum eis pactum firmiſſimum nulla bellorum tempeſtate violandum. Et lætati ſunt Holtzati, Sturmari & Dithmarci cæterique Saxones Slavis vicini, eo quod corruiſſet hoſtis eorum maximus, & ſurrexiſſet pro eo Princeps novus, qui ſalutem diligeret populorum. Servieruntque ei ex animo, properantes cum eo ad varia bellorum pericula, parati cum eo vivere & mori feliciter. Audientes autem Slavi, quod Princeps novus ſurrexiſſet, qui Chriſtianas leges diligeret, & tributa Principibus ſolvi præciperet, vehementer indignati ſunt. Et convenerunt omnes orientales Slavi, & una vo-

Quinto anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCXI. Ipſe Rex Romanorum Henricus, conventu Procerum in Frankenford habito, ſecundum Sigibertum, Sifridum Palatinum Comitem apud Wirciburgenſem Epiſcopum cuſtodiæ deputavit, eo quod prodente Henrico quondam Duce Lotharingiæ, jam in gratiam Regis recepto, in necem & regnum Regis inſurgere conciliatus ſit. Ibi etiam depoſito Godefrido Fuldenſium Abbate, Wolfhelmum eis præfecit ex eadem congregatione. Poſt hoc ad Poloniam gentem longinquam movit exercitum, multoque & diuturno ibidem deſudans labore, negatum a terra illa extorſit tributum debitum. Woldemarus filius Henrici Reguli Obotritorum a Ranis ſive Rugianis interfectus eſt, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronicis. Quamobrem pater dolore pariter & ira permotus, omnem animum vertit ad rependendam occiſoribus talionem. Miſit ergo nuncios in univerſas Slavorum provincias ad contrahendà auxilia, & convenerunt omnes pari voluntate, ut parerent juſſui Principis, & expugnarent Ranos, & fuerunt innumerabiles quaſi arena maris. Nec his contentus Henricus, miſit ad accerſendos Saxones, eos ſcilicet, qui Holtzati & Sturmari dicuntur, commovens eos, & ſecuti ſunt eum ex ſpeciali amicitia, numero quaſi mille DC. Tranſito ergo flumine Trabena, abierunt per longiſſimos fines Polaborum & Obotritorum, quousque pervenirent ad Panym flumen, id eſt Peyna. Quo tranſito, direxerunt iter ſuum verſus urbem Wolgaſt, quæ apud urbaniores vocatur Julia Auguſta propter urbis illius conditorem Julium Cæſarem. Illic autem invenerunt Henricum eos exſpectantem. Et pernoctaverunt, figentes caſtra longe a mari. Mane autem facto, convocans Henricus populum, allocutus eſt eos, dicens: Magna o viri debetur vobis gratulatio, qui ad oſtenſionem benevolentiæ veſtræ longius veniſtis, laturi nobis opem contra hoſtes ſævilſimos. Notum ergo vobis eſſe cupio, quod Rani, ad quos modo tendimus, directis ad me nocte nunciis, ducentis marcis pacem obtinere quærunt. Super hac re nihil mihi ſine conſilio veſtro diffiniendum eſt. Et ſi decreveritis acceptandum, acceptabo, ſi vero recuſandum, recuſabo. Ad quem reſponderunt Saxones, dicentes: Nos quidem, o Principes, licet pauci numero ſimus, honoris tamen atque virtutis cupidi, gloriam pro quæſtu nullo modo ducimus acceptandam. Ranos ergo, qui filium tuum occiderunt, pro ducentis marcis in gratiam recipiendos noſtro requiris conſilio. Revera nomini tuo magno condigna ſatisfactio. Abſit a nobis talis injuria, ut unquam facto huic conſentiamus. Nec enim ideo uxores, filios & patriam noſtram reliquimus, ut hoſtibus cavillationem, & filiis noſtris opprobrium ſempiternum hæreditemus. Qvin potius perge, ut cœpiſti: tranſi mare, utere ponte, quem ſtravit tibi bonus artifex Chriſtus. Admove inimicis tuis manus. Videbis nobis glorioſam mortem maximum eſſe lucrum. His exhortationibus animatus Princeps, movit caſtra de loco illo, & perrexit ad mare, quod ſtratum erat glacie firmiſſima ob algorem hyemis, ſtatimque tranſitis ſylvis & arundinetis, venerunt ſuper mare. Ecce illic agmina Saxonum & Slavorum diffundebantur ſuper faciem maris per diſtincta vexilla, expectantia Reguli præſentiam, eratque exercitus ille grandis valde. Omnibus ergo ordinate per ſingulas acies conſiſtentibus, ſoli Duces egreſſi ſunt ad ſalutandum Regulum Henricum, & pronis vultibus adoraverunt. Quos reſalutans Henricus & exhortans, cœpit percunctari de itinere, & quinam in proceſſu belli eſſe deberent primi. Singulis autem Ducibus exercituum certamen offerentibus, reſponderunt Saxones: Noſtri juris eſſe dinoſcitur, ut ad bella procedendo nos primi ſimus, & recedendo ultimi inveniamur. Legem ergo a patribus noſtris nobis traditam & hactenus poſſeſſam, & in hoc loco minime negligendam eſſe arbitramur. Et annuit eis Henricus Regulus. Et licet Slavorum multus eſſet numerus, Henricus tamen non ſe credebat eis, eo quod ipſe noſceret omnes eorum conditiones. Levatis ergo ſignis, Saxones præceſſerunt in fronte, cætera vero Slavorum agmina in ſuis ordinibus ſubſecuta ſunt. Et tota die ambulantes in glacie & nive, tandem circa horam IX apprehenderunt terram Rugianorum. Statimque villæ litori contiguæ inflammatæ ſunt. Dixit autem Henricus Princeps ad exercitum: Quis ibit ex nobis ſpeculari, ubi exercitus conſiſtat Ranorum? Videtur enim mihi, quaſi videam eminus multitudinem nobis appropinquantem. Miſſus ergo cum aliquantis Slavis ſpeculator Saxonum, in momento reverſus eſt, nuncians, hoſtes adeſſe. Dixitque Regulus ad ſocios: Mementote o viri, unde veniſtis, & ubi conſiſtitis. Ecce menſa poſita eſt, ad quam æquo animo nobis accedendum eſt. Nec eſt locus ſubterfugii, quin oporteat nos participari deliciis ejus. Ecce mari undique concluſi ſumus. Hoſtes ante nos, & hoſtes poſt nos, periitque a nobis fugæ præſidium. Confortamini ergo in Domino Deo excelſo, & eſtote robuſti viri bellatores, quia e duobus unum reſtat eligendum aut vincere aut mori fortiter. Sed hoc nobis magni ſolatii erit & ſpei, quod contra inimicos Dei bellaturi ſumus. Inſtruxit ergo Henricus aciem, ipſe conſtitutus in fronte cum robuſtiſſimis Saxonum. Videntes ergo Rani impetum viri & fervorem bellandi exercitus ejus, timuerunt timore magno, miſeruntque Flaminem ſuum, qui cum Principe Henrico de pace tractaret, & primo CCCC. deinde DCCC. obtulit marcas. Cumque exercitus remurmuraret indignans, urgerentque aciem ad congreſſum, corruit Sacerdos Ranorum ad pedes Principis, dicens: Ne iraſcatur Dominus noſter ſuper ſervos ſuos. Ecce terra in conſpectu tuo eſt: utere ea, ut libet. Omnes in manu tua ſumus: quicquid impoſueris nobis oneris, faciemus. Quatuor ergo milibus & DCCC. marcis pacem mercati ſunt. Acceptis ergo obſidibus & juramentis fidegnat Andreas non congessit ante Ecclesiæ Romanæ, vel Imperii Romani Principes, quam Ecclesiæ Romanæ Legatus Ioannes Presbyter de Bajo Imperatori obtulisset, non ante Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principes, quam Imperatori. Ille in concepto prælio in terram Slavorum ductus, ab Imperatore Henrico Duce Bavariæ, Ottone Duce Saxoniæ, Bernhardo Duce Slavorum Principe, Thuringiæ Lantgravio, Friderico Duce Suevorum, Ottone Duce Bohemiæ, Vdalrico Duce Carinthiæ, Vdalrico Episcopo Augustano, Hermanno Episcopo Constantiensi, Conrado Episcopo Hildesheimensi, Conrado Episcopo Metensi, Andrea Episcopo Frisingensi, Ottone Episcopo Ratisponensi, Ottone Episcopo Bambergensi, per Dei auxilium, Nam non ignoramus Ioannis Presbyteri Legationem, quam Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principes ad Romanos Imperatores habuerunt, ante Ottonem tertium Imperatorem, nondum Principes Ecclesiæ Romanæ, sed Legatos Romani Pontificis, Ioannes Presbyter legatus fuerit. Nam Ottonis tertii Imperatoris Diplomata, quæ Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principes dicunt, falsa sunt, ut alibi ostendimus.

Ottoni tertio Henrici, qui ab Ottone IV. Cæsare, Imperatore, Duce Bavariæ, Comite Palatino Rheni, Principe Electore, Ioannis Presbyteri, imperatoris, Legatione Principis Ecclesiæ Romanæ, Episcopatus Augustani Episcopus, in Ottonis Imperatoris Diplomate, quod Ecclesiæ Augustanæ dedit, Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principis nomine, Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principem Vdalricum Episcopum Augustanum, Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principem, quod ab Ottone Cæsare, Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principe, Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principis nomine, Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principem Vdalricum Episcopum Augustanum, Ecclesiæ Romanæ Principem

let, ſex fratres habuit futuros Monachos, & unam ſororem Sanctimonialem Scholaſticam nomine. Hujus mater cum ipſum geſtaret in utero, ſomniavit, ſe habere in utero catulum ex toto candidum, ſed in dorſo ſubrufum & latrantem: reſponſumque eſt ei, quod infans ille contra inimicos Dei magnos latratus facturus eſſet, & vitam mundam ducturus. Sub hoc Sancto viro Bernhardo Cœnobium Clarævallenſe eſt fundatum, cui ipſe primus Abbas præfectus eſt anno V. ab ingreſſu Ordinis Ciſtertienſis. Nam ipſe S. Bernhardus hoc anno Ciſtertium cum fere XXX. ſociis ingreſſus, militavit ſub Abbate Stephano, qui tertius fuit Abbas in Ciſtertio. Cœnobium vero Porticinenſe a Hugone Matiſconenſi, qui prius fuit Epiſcopus Altiſiodorenſis, fundatur, cujus etiam Monaſterii Abbas ipſe factus eſt. Fuit autem S. Bernhardus XXVII. annorum, quando factus eſt Abbas Clarevallenſis.

Undecimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCXVII. Henricus Imperator, ſecundum Egghardum, Saxoniam ſibi rebellantem devaſtare cœpit, & contra Saxones plura caſtra erexit. Cui Reynhardus Epiſcopus Halberſtadenſis, Luderus Dux Saxoniæ, & Hermannus Comes de Horneburg cum multis aliis occurrerunt in Welpesholte, ubi partibus congreſſis bellum commiſſum eſt, & interfectis multis de Imperatoris exercitu, Rex victus eſt, occiſo Hogero Comite de Mansvelt. In hujus victoriæ memoriam Saxones in loco belli capellam conſtruxerunt, in qua ſtatuam in modum viri armati armis patriæ locaverunt cum galea ferrea. Hunc virum ruſtici illius terræ & rudes Sanctum Tyodute vulgariter nominant, quaſi Saxones victoriam ipſius auxilio habuerint. Imperator vero perdita victoria, juxta vaticinium & maledictionem Paſchalis Papæ, qui prædixit, ipſum victoriam nunquam habiturum, curiam ſtatuit in Moguntia celebrandam. Ubi cum eſſet, a Moguntinis vallatus & impugnatus, & niſi datis obſidibus, quod ea, quæ petebant, certiſſime confirmaſſet, ipſum palatium cum omnibus exiſtentibus in eo, crudeliſſima nece corruiſſet incenſum. Quidam ex Clero Romano, ſecundum Vincentium, contra Paſchalem Papam conſurrexerunt, & ſucceſſive tres hæreſiarchas, ſcilicet Albertum, Agyulfum & Theodoricum contra ipſum in Papas erexerunt, objicientes ſibi privilegium de inveſtituris Prælatorum Henrico tyranno datum, ut ſupra dictum eſt anno VIII. Henrici, de quibus finaliter bene triumphavit, quamvis primo multas ſibi fecerint infeſtationes, non quærentes, quæ Dei ſunt, ſed quæ ſua.

Duodecimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCXVIII. Paſchalis Papa Romæ pridie Non. Martii Concilium generale celebravit, ſecundum Vincentium, in Eccleſia Lateranenſi, congregatis ex diverſis provinciis & regnis multis Principibus & Epiſcopis, ubi privilegium Imperatori datum de inveſtitura Epiſcoporum & Abbatum condemnatum eſt ſecundario a Papa ſub his verbis: Poſtquam Dominus Deus de me ſervo ſuo fecit, quod voluit, & me populumque Romanum per captivitatem tradidit in manus Henrici Regis, videbam cottidie paſſim fieri rapinas, incendia, cædes & adulteria. Quæ mala cupiebam auferre ab Eccleſia & populo Dei. Et quod feci pro liberatione populi Dei, feci neceſſitate coactus. Feci autem ut homo, quia ſum pulvis & cinis, & fateor, me male egiſſe. Sed rogo vos omnes, orate pro me ad Dominum Deum, ut indulgeat mihi. Illud autem malum & iniquum ſcriptum, quod in tentoriis Regis factum eſt, quod ex pravitate ſui pravilegium, non privilegium dicitur, condemno ſub perpetuo anathemate. Et rogo vos omnes, ut idem mecum faciatis. Et exclamaverunt univerſi, fiat, fiat! Sexta autem Concilii ſic Eccleſiam alloquitur: Eccleſia primitiva Martyrum tempore floruit apud Deum, ſed non apud homines. Deinde converſi ſunt ad fidem etiam Reges, Imperatores Romani & Principes, qui matrem ſuam Eccleſiam ſicut boni honoraverunt, prædiis, allodiis, ſecularibus honoribus & dignitatibus, juribus quoque regalibus, & inſigniis, ut Conſtantinus & cæteri fideles. Et tunc Eccleſia cœpit florere tam apud homines quam apud Deum. Habeat ergo mater & Domina noſtra Eccleſia ſibi a Regibus & Principibus collata, diſpenſet & tribuat ea filiis ſuis, ſicut ſcit, & ſicut vult. Privilegium autem inveſtituræ volens obliquare, iteravit ſententiam Papæ Gregorii VII. & inveſtituram Eccleſiaſticam rerum Eccleſiaſticarum a laica manu rurſus removit ſub anathemate dantis & recipientis. Sanctus Norbertus fundator Ordinis Præmonſtratenſis, ſecundum Wilhelmum, a partibus Lotharingiæ veniens, divino fervore ſuccenſus, prædicationi operam dedit efficacem, & per aliquantum temporis ſpatium nudis incedens pedibus etiam brumali tempore, multos ab erroribus convertit. Moſa fluvius, ſecundum Egghardum, juxta Abbatiam, quæ Suſtula dicitur per terræmotum quaſi pendens in aëre, fundum ſuum viſus eſt deſeruiſſe. Pro eodem tempore in partibus Italiæ in urbibus Mediolanenſi, Piſana, Papienſi, Placentiana & Veronenſi tantus terræmotus factus eſt, ut homines extra urbes fugerent, ne opprimerentur ædificiorum ruinis.

Tertio decimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCXIX. Civitas Leodienſis diverſis plagis attrita eſt. Nam V. Non. Maj. dum in Eccleſiis veſperæ cantarentur, ſubitus tonitrus cum terræmotu omnes homines ad terram ſtravit, & fulmen a læva templi ingreſſum non modicas cruſtas de muro hinc inde dejecit, & trabes turris diſcidit. Subſecutus eſt fœtor intolerabilis, adeo ut multo aromatum odore vix potuerit expelli. Ibidem inſuper VII. Idus Junii circa horam IX. nubes ſubito rupta a monte, qui dicitur Roperti, ſubjectam ſibi partem civitatis penitus oppreſſam peſſundedit, adeo ut multa domus dirueret, & immenſam annonam perderet, ac matrem duos infantes altrinſecus in brachiis amplexam necaret. Ibidem Kal. Jul. circa horam ſextam turbo nimis vehemens & subsequenti vere quasi quinto, & nulus ex duobus Imperatoribus, Romanorum videlicet & Graecorum, sed & vniuersus orbis Christianus, quietus perdurauit. Eodem quoque anno Ecclesia Constantinopolitana, quae per annos quinquaginta & octo, ab Arianis tenebatur, Catholicis restituta est. Nectarium enim Constantinopolitanum Episcopum, Damasus Papa Romanus, Catholicum esse probauit.

De Concilio II. IN CONSTANTINOPOLI.

Concilium Primum Nicenum Centum & quinquaginta Patrum, Romanae Ecclesiae Catholicum, ex quo Arianorum haeresis, quae per annos quinquaginta & octo, Ecclesiam Dei conturbauerat, ita destructa est, vt nullus vestigium eius remaneret, Damasus Papa Romanus, Catholicum esse probauit. Nectarium enim Constantinopolitanum Episcopum, Damasus Papa Romanus, Catholicum esse probauit. Nectarius enim, Catholicae fidei cultor, Arianorum haeresim, quae per annos quinquaginta & octo, Ecclesiam Dei conturbauerat, ita destruxit, vt nullus vestigium eius remaneret. Quod Concilium Anno Christi DCCLXXIII. Pipinus Rex Francorum, Carolum Magnum, filium suum, ad M. V. L. I. Hunnorum Imperator, Avarorum Regem, Tudunum, mittit. Qui cum Tudunum in Pannonia repperisset, ad Salonas & Christi fidem invitat. Qui quum Salonas & Christi fidem amplexus esset, Tudunum Auxiliarium Carolo magnum fecit. Quo facto, Tudunus, Salonas, Hunnis fuis, Carolo Magno Auxiliarium impetrat. Quo impetrato, Salonas Carolum, Hunnis fuis confcio, Argentinam, Alsatiæ Urbem, tradit. Hinc Salonas Argentinæ Episcopus, cum Argentinensibus, contra Rectorem Alsatiæ, Hunnis fuis confcio, bellum gerit. Quo bello, Salonas Argentinenses, Rectore Alsatiæ interfecto, Duce Hunnis suis peregrinantibus, victoriam adeptus, Argentinam ingressus, Hunnis fuis confcio, Argentinæ Episcopatum Ecclesiæ Argentinensi Ecclesiæ Hunnis fuis Urbem Dei, ac Ecclesiam Argentinensem, Hunnis fuis confcio, Ecclesiæ Dei, Ecclesiæ Argentinensi

assuerunt Apostolicæ Sedis legati, Episcopus puta Ostiensis & alii duo Cardinales ob reconciliationem Regni & Sacerdotii missi, ubi prudenti solicitoque cunctorum Principum consilio pro pace & concordia utriusque prædictæ partis, per unam vel amplius hebdomadam tractatum est in tantum, ut adjuvante eo, in cujus manu cor Regum est, omnis Augusti animositas ad obedientiam & reverentiam Sanctæ Matris Ecclesiæ etiam ultra spem plurimorum reducta sit integraliter. Qui mox ab Apostolicæ Sedis Apocrisariis in communionem fidelium receptus, tam ipse Imperator quam universus sibi subjectus exercitus, generali absolutione pariter & speciali potiti sunt. Qualiter autem investituras cæteraque spiritualia negotia, quæ tanto tempore Reges Romanorum administraverant, ipse Imperator humiliatus pro Christo in manus Episcopi Ostiensis, ac per ipsum Domino Nostro Jesu Christo suæque Ecclesiæ in jus perpetuum dimiserit; rursumque qualia sibi ad honorem Regni conservandum dictus Episcopus per Apostolicam auctoritatem concesserit, utriusque partis melius edocebant scripta inferius notata, quorum tenor talis fuit: Ego Henricus, Dei gratia Romanorum Imperator semper Augustus, pro amore Dei & sanctæ matris ecclesiæ Romanæ, ac Domini Papæ Calixti, & pro remedio salutis animæ meæ, dimitto Deo, & Sanctis ejus Apostolis Petro & Paulo, Sanctæque Catholicæ Ecclesiæ omnem investituram per annulum & baculum, & concedo in omnibus Ecclesiis fieri electionem Canonicam & liberam consecrationem. Possessiones & regalia B. Petri a principio hujus discordiæ usque nunc, sive tempore patris mei sive etiam tempore meo ablata, quæ ego habeo, eidem Sanctæ Romanæ Ecclesiæ restituo, quæ autem non habeo, eidem ut restituantur, fideliter juvabo. Possessiones etiam omnium aliarum Ecclesiarum & Clericorum, de consilio Principum meorum & justitia, quæ habeo, reddam, & quæ non habeo, ut reddantur, fideliter juvabo. Ego Calixtus, servus servorum Dei, dilecto filio Henrico Romanorum Imperatori semper Augusto concedo electiones Episcoporum & Abbatum Teuthoniæ, qui ad Regnum pertinent, in præsentia tui fieri absque Simonia & aliqua violentia, ut siqua inter partes discordia emerserit, Metropolitani & comprovincialium Episcoporum consilio vel judicio, saniori parti assensum vel auxilium præbeas. Electus autem Regalia per sceptrum a te recipiat, exceptis omnibus, quæ ad Romanam Ecclesiam pertinere dinoscuntur, & quæ ex his jure tibi debet, faciat. Ex aliis vero partibus Imperii consecratus, Regalia infra sex menses per sceptrum a te recipiat. De quibus vero mihi querimoniam feceris, secundum officii mei debitum, auxilium meum præstabo. Do etiam tibi pacem veram & omnibus, qui in tua parte sunt vel fuerunt per tempus hujus discordiæ. Ordo Templariorum, secundum Vincentium, ex militibus congregatis in Jerusalem cœpit per Baldowinum II. Regem Ierosolymitanum sub Henrico V. Imperatore. Et dicti sunt Milites templi, quia in porticu templi sedes Ordinis eorum est statuta. Et confirmatus est postea hic Ordo per Honorium II. Papam. Julin civitas magna terræ Pomeranorum a Julio Cæsare ædificata, conversa est ad fidem, secundum Helmoldum. Hujus cives, prout supra anno Henrici V. decimo septimo patuit, cum eis S. Otto Episcopus Babenbergensis Verbum Dei proponeret, ipsum armata manu invadentes, gladiis, fustibus & lapidibus percutientes, extra suam urbem fugaverunt. Sed audientes anno sequenti, Stetin urbem famosam fidem Christi recepisse, nutu divino compuncti, prædicationi viæ veritatis Ottoni Antistiti, quem alias eis prædicare volentem repulerant, legatos solennes ad revocandum ad se miserunt. Quibus ille visis, pietatis zelo motus dixit: Quid venistis ad me hominem, quem odistis, & expulistis a vobis? At illi veniam petentes ajunt: Domine Pater, antiquam patrum nostrorum & majorum legem sine consensu Principum & Primatum, quos in Stetinensi nostra metropoli veneramur, infringere non præsumsimus, sed postquam Deus tuus per te sibi subegit Principes nostros, nos absque omni contradictione monitis tuis parere, & salutis doctrinam excipere parati sumus. Quo audito, Præsul Domini, positis genibus, gratias egit clementiæ Salvatoris, profectusque cum eis, debita a Julensibus reverentia susceptus est. Quibus viam veritatis cum omni diligentia aperire studuit, & eos sacro baptismate renovavit. Computatus est autem baptizatorum numerus fuisse XXIIM. & CLVI. Demyn civitas cum castro suo fortissimo fidem Christi ab eodem Ottone Episcopo suscepit pro eodem tempore. Et dicta est urbs Demyn, veteri interpretatione, quasi domina mundi ob fortitudinem & solennitatem castri adjacentis a Julio Cæsare fundati, secundum Chronicam Slavorum. Cujus insignis fortitudinis excellentiam ruinæ patentes ostendere videntur. Ex tunc namque non cessavit Antistes ille invictissimus ab incepto opere, donec integram Pomeranorum provinciam cum omnibus suis Primoribus & Nobilibus Christo Domino lucratus fuisset.

Decimo nono anno Henrici, qui est Domini MCXXV. Henricus Imperator Nativitatem Domini Trajecti Frisiæ celebravit, secundum Eghardum, ubi orta discordia magna inter aulicos & ministeriales Episcopi ejusdem urbis, fit clamor horribilis, quasi a Trajectensibus sit facta conjuratio contra Imperatorem. Plures ergo ex opidanis capiuntur, & in turrim fortissimam plures se recipiunt, ut resistant. Episcopus vero quasi pravi consilii particeps, & ob hoc quasi læsæ Majestatis reus habitus, carcerali custodiæ mancipatur, a qua postea magna pecuniæ summa, multis illius patriæ primoribus, & maxime Frederico Colonienſi Archiepiscopo intervenientibus, vix redemtus est mulctatus. In pago Wormatiensi videbatur per aliquot dies non modica multitudo armata equitum euntium & redeuntium, & quasi ad placiti colloquia Tandem quidam non ſine magno timore eis crucis ſigno munitus appropinquavit, & mox quendam ſibi occurrentem per nomen Domini Noſtri perjuravit ad manifeſtandum ſibi, qui ſint, & quid prætendant. Cui ille: Non ſumus, ut putas, phantaſmata, nec militum, ut a vobis cernimur, turba, ſed animæ militum non longe ante hoc tempus interfectorum, arma vero & habitus, & ea, quæ prius fuerunt nobis inſtrumenta peccandi, nunc nobis ſunt materia tormenti: & vere totum ignitum eſt, quod cernitis, quamvis vobis hoc ipſum hoc non videatur. Apparuit autem & inter eos Emicho Comes ante paucos annos occiſus, qui orationibus & eleemoſynis ſe de pœnis illis poſſe liberari edocuit, & ad dicendum amicis ſuis ipſum aſtrinxit. Baldowinus Rex Ieroſolymorum a Sarracenis præventus capitur, ſecundum Vincentium. Propter quod Sarraceni valde animati, LXM. bellatorum educunt, ut Chriſtianos a finibus illis eliminent. Chriſtiani vero more Ninivitarum generale jejunium utriqueſexui, omni ætati & cunctis jumentis & pecoribus indicunt. Quo expleto, cum tribus milibus militum & IIIIM. peditum contra Sarracenos egrediuntur. Principes autem gradiebantur in fronte puta Patriarcha pro vexillo bajulans crucem dominicam. Abbas vero olim Cluniacenſis Pontius nomine, lanceam Domini portabat Chriſti lateri olim infixam, Epiſcopus vero Bethleemites ferebat in pyxide lac Virginis Glorioſæ. Splendor ergo de cœlo ſuper Paganos ſubito cecidit, & enervati mox fugere inceperunt. Unde percuſſi ſunt a Chriſtianis nedum viris, ſed & mulieribus in illo die plusquam XXXM. Submerſi vero ſunt in aquis circiter XIIM. Omnes autem Chriſtiani incolumes reverſi ſunt in propria, gloriam Deo canentes, & laudantes ipſius clementiam.

Viceſimo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCXXVI. Comes de Haldesleve Bernhardus, ſecundum Chronicam Saxonum, obiit ſine hærede, & devoluta eſt Comitia illa ad Luderum Ducem Saxoniæ filium Gevehardi Comitis de Suppelingburg. Hic Bernhardus fundavit conventum Canonicorum regularium in Luttere. Ad prædictum etiam Ducem devoluta eſt hæreditas dominii de Brunswich. Qui quidem Luderus, mortuo Duce Magno Saxoniæ, obtinuit Ducatum a Henrico V. Imperatore cautuloſe valde & ſatis mirabiliter. Nam Henrico prædicto Mediolanis in balneo exiſtente, venit quidam literarum lator in habitu Saxonico. Quem videns Luderus, ipſum ad ſuum hoſpitium ſecum duxit, ac ipſum vino inebrians, ab ipſo cauſam ſui itineris inveſtigavit. Comperto ergo Magni Ducis Saxoniæ obitu, nuncium illum cuidam ſuo militi commendans, ipſe ad ſtubam, ubi Imperator lavabatur, acceleravit, & evaginato gladio ad Regem intrans dixit: Quare Rex non ſolvis mihi damna, quæ in tua expeditione jam per biennium a me contracta ſunt. Cui Imperator: Nonne ſufficit tibi, quod promiſi daturum me tibi dominium primum, quod in regno noſtro vacare contigerit. Tunc Luderus intulit: Ducatum ergo Saxoniæ mihi conferas, quia ille pro præſenti vacat per mortem Magni Ducis. Cui Rex: Eſt certiſſime Magnus Dux defunctus? ait Luderus: In veritate, mortuus eſt. Tunc contulit ei Ducatum Saxoniæ propter timorem mortis & promiſſionem ei prævie factam.

De Honorio II. PP. CLXXI.

Honorius Papa, qui & Lambertus, natione Bononienſis, ex patre Lodowico, ſedit annis ſex, menſibus tribus, & diebus XV. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte prius Epiſcopus Oſtienſis fuit, & factus Papa deſcendit in Aquilegiam, ut eam, quia de jure B. Petri erat, tueretur contra Rogerium Comitem Siculum. Sed cum Papa vidiſſet infidelitatem Baronum & Procerum terræ illius, ſaniori uſus conſilio, Rogerium cepit in gratiam, & facto ei homagio & fidelitate firmata, ipſum de Ducatu Apuliæ inveſtivit vel potius regno. Factus eſt autem hic Lambertus Epiſcopus Papa, eo quod legationem Germanicam fideliter proſequens, concordiam inter Sacerdotium & Regnum procuravit in Wormatia. Tyrus urbs lingva Hebræa Sordicta appellata, Phœnicis provinciæ, maxima & antiqua civitas in corde maris ſita, ſecundum Vincentium, Sidoniorum colonia, negotiatorum refugium, emporium totius orbis, olim quidem inſula, ſed a Nebuchodonoſor & Alexandro Regibus propter expugnationem multis aggeribus in brevi comportatis, terra ſolida facta, pridem a Nabuchodonoſor expugnata, & poſt ab Alexandro deſtructa, ſed juxta prophetias poſt LXX. annos reædificata, hoc anno capta eſt a Chriſtianis, & Imperio Romano ſubacta. Puer in pago Tulifeld naſcitur, ſecundum Egghardum, cujus dextrum crus intumeſcens puerum diutiſſime afflixit, & tandem crus in loco collectæ putredinis crepuit, & pro ſanie, mirabile dictu, grana tritici non pauca, & ſiliginis, hordei & avenæ evidenter effudit.

Viceſimo primo anno Henrici, qui eſt Domini MCXXVII. In Hasbania ſecundum Vincentium, muliercula quædam bis monſtrum gemini corporis eſt enixa, averſis vultibus & ſibi corporibus hærentes, ante quidem effigiem hominis, retro vero faciem canis prætendens, integrum membrorum utriusque corporis ordinem habebat. Henricus Imperator, quia ſuum patrem, ſecundum Egghardum, turpiter dehoneſtaverat, & Eccleſiæ caput Papam Paſchalem, ac Clerum totum enormiter læſerat, juſto Dei judicio ſine hærede creditur deceſſiſſe, nec filium nec filiam relinquens. Cumque Paſcha Domini Leodii celebraſſet, & inde Aquisgranum tenderet, morbo moleſtari cœpit. Propter quod ibi aliquamdiu moratus, demum Ultrajectum, id eſt in Trajectum Friſiæ reverſus eſt. Cumque cerneret, mortem ſe non poſſe evadere, vocatis ad ſe Mechilde Imperatrice ſua conſorte, & Frederico Duce Sveviæ ſuo conſo-brino, ac cæteris Primatibus, de ſtatu Regni conſilium dedit. Imperatricem autem fidei Frederici dicti commiſit, coronam cæteraque regalia, vel quæ ad conventum Principum conſervanda in caſtello firmiſſimo, quod Trifelz dicitur, reponi diſpoſuit, ſicque viatico Chriſti & Sacramentis communicans, diem clauſit extremum X. Kal. Junii. De hoc Henrico Imperatore fabuloſe fertur, quod ſe quaſi mortuum finxerit, & occulte fugiens in Cluniacum, ibidem Monachus factus ſit. Sed in veritate hoc contigit, quod quidam Pſeudoimperator in Alemannia ſurrexit, qui per aliquot annos apud Solodorum in recluſione vivens, tandem inde egreſſus, Imperatorem Henricum ſe eſſe mentiendo dixit. Et cum multos ſeducendo ibidem collegiſſet complices & defenſores in tantum etiam, ut pro eo graves pugnæ & homicidia fierent, aliis eum recipientibus, aliis ſeductorem ipſum palam profitentibus, tandem declarata ipſius falſitate, Cluniaci in Monachum attonſus eſt.

De Lothario II. Imp. LXXXVII.

Lotharius Dux Saxoniæ, qui & Luderus, Romanorum Imperator LXXXVII. cœpit anno mundi VMLXXXVII. Olymp. CCCCLXXI. anno IIII. Urbis conditæ MDCCCLXXVI. Domini vero MCXXVII. & annis XII. imperavit, ſecundum Martinum. Ex Chronicis Saxonum, defuncto Henrico, legati Apoſtolicæ Sedis Archiepiſcopi & Epiſcopi cum Optimatibus Imperii ex condicto convenientes Moguntiæ, conſultant & toti Imperio Romano de Rege ſubſtituendo. Lotharius ergo Dux Saxoniæ, vir ſapiens & induſtrius, præpotens divitiis, Eccleſiaſtico juri devotus atque victorioſus eligitur omnium conſenſu, & a Frederico Archiepiſcopo Colonienſi benedicitur & ungitur, omni Clero & populo diem ſolennem celebrantibus. Iſte Luderus filius fuit Gevehardi Comitis de Supplingburg, ad quem devolutus fuit Comitatus de Haldesleve defuncto Bernhardo Comite. Ceſſit etiam eidem Ludero ex Rixa uxore ſua filia Henrici Pingvis, filii Ottonis Ducis de Northem, qui Otto fuit de ſtirpe Widekindi, hæreditas de Bruneſwic. Succeſſores enim hujus Widekindi obtinuerunt multas Comitias & dominia, puta in Saxonia Stekelenborg, Ringhelen, Stoterlingborg & Werle: in Angaria ſive Weſtphalia Engheren, & in Friſia fuerunt potentes. Hunc Luderum Reynerus patruus ejus Epiſcopus Halberſtadenſis primo apud Imperatorem cognatum Rixæ uxoris ſuæ locaverat. Ubi cum ſe primo molliter gereret, mater Rixa hoc ægre ferens, miſit ſibi gladium exterius regie adornatum, quem extrahens, invenit ipſum interius ligneum. Quod videns, ipſum abjecit, & poſt virilis factus, quaſi vi extorſit ab Imperatore Ducatum Saxoniæ, prout ſupra anno Henrici V. viceſimo. Fuit namque Luderus iſte vita & honeſtate glorioſus, &, electus in Regem vocatus eſt Lotharius. Dedit autem Gertrudem filiam ſuam Henrico Duci Bayoariæ, qui dictus eſt Catulus, & ei Ducatum Saxoniæ conceſſit. Qui Henricus Dux de Gertrude uxore ſua genuit Henricum Leonem, qui ex patre obtinuit Ducatum Bayoariæ & Saxoniæ, ex matre vero hæreditatem de Brunſwic. Genuit etiam ex ea Juttam, quam duxit Fredericus frater Conradi Regis, & genuit ex ea Fredericum Primum Imperatorem, qui poſtea exhæreditavit Henricum Leonem filium avunculi ſui, cum tamen ipſe eum fecerit Imperatorem. Lotharii autem Regis bella & geſta magnifica etiam extra Saxoniam in Svevia & in partibus ſuperioribus, ſolenniter ſunt deſcripta, eo quod eſſet vitæ honeſtate & Imperii regimine glorioſus & illuſtris.

Primo anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini MCXXVIII. Comitia de Marka in Weſtphalia ſumſit exordium ſic, ſecundum Wilhelmum. Duo fratres Adolfus & Everhardus de Italia venientes, duo caſtra Altena & Aldenborg ædificaverunt: Everhardus tamen poſtea fit Monachus, ſed Adolfus ſecularis remanens fundavit Monaſterium in Aldenborg, in quo & poſtea ſepultus eſt. Iſte Adolfus fuit primus Comes de Altena & Aldenborg. Hic genuit Brunonem, qui tempore Lotharii Eccleſiæ Colonienſi præſedit, & Adolfum Comitem. Adolfus Comes ſecundus genuit Fredericum Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem, Everhardum Comitem de Altena & Engelbertum Comitem de Monte, ac Brunonem Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem. Everhardus tertius Comes genuit Adolfum Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem, qui factus eſt Archiepiſcopus anno Domini MCXCIII. Item genuit Fredericum & Everhardum. Fredericus IIII. Comes de Aletena genuit Adolfum primum Comitem de Marka, qui fuit V. de Altena. Adolfus primus Comes de Marka opidum Ham conſtruxit anno Domini MCCXXV. & Blankenſten anno ſequenti. Adolfus autem poſtquam genuit Engelbertum & Ottonem obiit anno Domini MCCXLIX. Engelbertus fuit ſecundus Comes de Marka, & genuit Everhardum, qui fuit III. Comes de Marka. Hic caſtra Bredenvord, Ahus, Raffenberg, Volmenſtene, Yſenberg, Waſſenberg, Rodenberg, Hoveſtad Eccleſiæ Colonienſis deſtruxit, caſtrum Dulmene cepit, opida Werle & Rekelinghuſen ſimiliter deſtruxit. Engelbertus IIII. Comes de Marka caſtrum Oſthof deſtruxit. Adolfus filius ejus Comes V. de Marka primo Dinkslake & poſtea Mendene proditioſe cepit & deſtruxit. Hujus filius Engelbertus Comes VI. adhuc puer eſt. Adolfus ergo primus Comes de Altena & frater ſuus Everhardus dominabantur in caſtris Altena & Aldenborg. Everhardus erat in bello, quod inter Ducem de Limborg & Brabantinos ac Flamingos gerebatur, & propter magnam ſtragem hominum ibi factam gravi conſcientia urgebatur, cum rediſſet ad terram ſuam. Pœnituit ergo, & omnia relinquens, nocte in habitu vili clam receſſit de Altena, ac perpetuum exilium aſſumſit, & peregrinatus eſt primo Romam, poſt ad S. Jacobum, poſtea venit ad Grangram Griſeorum Monachorum Monaſterii, quod Morimundus dicitur, & ibidem porcos paſcebat. Duo autem milites de Comitia de Marka peregrinantes de via dubitabant, & a ſubulco

Ferdinandi sui Nepotis, & ex Elisabetha Ducis Austriæ filia, Ducem Austriæ, Comitem Tyrolis, Principem Hispaniarum, Archiducem Carolum, Ferdinandi Imperatoris filium

Adriæ Dalmatiæ Sclavoniæ Illyrici & Barbariæ Carolo Cæsare Augusto Albæ vetustæ ecclesiæ Canonico, Anno Christi Nativitatis MDXXXIX. Papæ vero Romanæ Ecclesiæ Paulo tertio pontificatus sui Primo. Anno Cæsaris autem Caroli quinti Imperii sui vicesimo primo, Regni vero Hungariæ quinto, Ferdinandi autem Romanorum Regis sexto. Quæ quidem omnia pulcherrime, & ad unguem, ut dicitur, ita sunt expressa, ut quæ in singulis annis gesta sunt, ea quoque singulis locis suis annotata reperiantur. Quæ quidem omnia, ut ego ea ex Chronicis Hungaris, & veteribus Annalibus, quæ in Bibliotheca Regia Budensi asservantur, ita ea ex Cornerianis Chronicis, quæ ipse ante annos quinquaginta, & amplius, ex Bibliotheca Regia Budensi, quæ tum Budæ, tum Albæ Regalis asservabantur, descripsi, & ad verbum transcripsi, ita ea nunc ex meis Chronicis, quæ ego

Dei in populo Slavorum una cum aliis duobus Sacerdotibus, Rodolfo ſcilicet Hildenshemenſi & Ludolfo Verdenſi Canonicis, opus Dei aggreſſus eſt, & magnum fructum in populo inculto & rudi divino adjutus auxilio operatus eſt.

Nono anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini MCXXXVI. Ipſe Lotharius Imperator zelo divino ſuccenſus, ſecundum Egghardum, vires Imperii denuo excitavit pro Eccleſia, & contra Rogerium Comitem, qui contra Papam Regnum Siciliæ occupabat, una cum Papa Innocentio Apuliam potenter intravit, & Rogerio fugato de Sicilia, conſtituerunt Ducem Apuliæ Raynonem Comitem. Hic victoriæ Piſani navigio Imperatori & Papæ plurimum aſtiterunt. Devicto autem Rogerio, Lotharius intravit cum Innocentio Papa Brenſem urbem, quam etiam ceperant. Et in die Pentecoſtes, cum Papa miſſam ibidem celebraret, viſa eſt corona aurea allata de cœlo pendere ſuper Eccleſiam in aëre, ac ſuper eam ſedere columbam. Fumus etiam aromaticus viſus eſt evaporare prope coronam, & duæ candelæ magnæ cernebantur adjunctæ circa coronam ardere. Quid vero prædicta viſio prætendebat, nulli hominum cognitum erat, ſed conjecturabatur ſignificare concordiam & caritativam familiaritatem illorum duorum magnorum Principum, Papæ ſcilicet & Imperatoris coronandam perpetua beatitudine Salvatoris. Slavi Selandiam Danicam intraverunt cum magno populo, ſecundum Helmoldum, & terram illam ex integro deprædantes, Roſchilde opidum funditus deſtruxerunt. Henricus Princeps Slavorum obiit in Lubeke, ſecundum Helmoldum, cujus filii Swentepol ſenior & Kanutus junior de principatu paterno contendere cœperunt. Sed Swentepol dominium obtinens cum adjutorio Adolfi Comitis Holtzatorum & Sturmariorum obſedit plures urbes terræ Obotritorum. Quibus ſubactis reverſus eſt Lubeke. Frater autem ejus Kanutus interfectus in opido Luttikenburg, Swentepol vero non longe poſt occiſus eſt dolo cujusdam Daſonis prædivitis de Holtzatia, & remanſit in Principatu Swynike filius ejus. Sed & hic ſtatim poſt interemtus eſt in Ertineburg villa trans Albiam. Et ſic in brevi defecit ſtirps Henrici Reguli Slavorum, & Principatus ille devolutus eſt ad manus Nobiliſſimi Principis Kanuti filii boni Erici Regis Danorum. Swentepol ergo reverſus Lubeke, ut ſupra immediate tactum eſt, ſecum duxit venerabiles Presbyteros Rodolfum & Volkquardum, ut ſalutem populi procurarent, eis prædicando Verbum Dei. Qui benigne recepti per mercatores, habitaverunt in Eccleſia ſita in colle ſuper flumen Trabenam.

Decimo anno Lotharii, qui eſt Domini MCXXXVII. Adolfus Comes Holtzatorum & Sturmariorum obiit, ſecundum Helmoldum, relictis duobus filiis, quorum ſenior Hartungus vir militaris habitus erat Comitiam, & Adolfus junior filius literis erat dedictus. Imperatore ergo Lothario exercitum grandem in Bohemiam ducente, Hartungus Comes cum aliis Nobilibus multis in prælio interfectus eſt. Propter cujus mortem Adolfus frater ſuus, poſtpoſitis ſcholis, aſſumſit Comitiam terræ Nordalbingorum, & factus eſt vir prudens, & in divinis humanisque negotiis ſagax & exercitatus. Adalbertus Archiepiſcopus Bremenſis, ſecundum Helmoldum, tranſiit Albiam de Brema veniens, viſitaturus Hammeburg & Nordalbingorum provinciam, venitque in villam Myldorp terræ Dithmarciæ, habens in Comitatu ſuo Vicelinum Sacerdotem devotum. Tres autem ſunt Nordalbingorum populi, puta Sturmari, Holtzati & Tithmarci, tenentes jura Saxonum & ritum Chriſtianum & nomen. Conſiſtente ergo Pontifice Adalberto in Myldorp, venerunt ad ipſum cives de Faldera, rogantes dari ſibi Sacerdotem. Eſt autem Faldera pagus Holtzatorum verſus illam partem, quæ Slavos attingit: ſtatimque Antiſtes converſus ad Vicelinum Sacerdotem dixit: Si tuum propoſitum eſt laborandi in Slavia, vade cum hominibus iſtis, & utere Eccleſia eorum, eo quod ſita ſit in terminis utriusque provinciæ. Quo reſpondente, præſto ſum, ait Præſul ad viros illos: Vultis vobis dari Sacerdotem prudentem & idoneum. Quibus dicentibus, ſe hoc petere, & gratum velle habere, commiſit eum cuidam Markrado civi præpotenti de Faldera, præcipiens ei, ut dignam perſonæ gereret ſolicitudinem. Florentius frater Thiderici Comitis Hollandiæ a Friſonibus accerſitus, ſecundum Wilhelmum, ipſis confœderatus eſt, & per annum integrum a menſe Auguſto in Auguſtum in Friſia manens, fratri & patriæ inſidias & damna, in quantum potuit, machinatus eſt. Alcmare namque ſuccendit, & prædam multam abduxit. Cui & ruſtici multi de terra confœderati ſunt, & ad Harlem urbem usque ipſum cum Friſonibus perduxerunt, ac incendia multa fecerunt. Redeuntes autem in Friſiam, ſocios conſpirationis exterminio Comitis Thiderici juxta eorum demerita reliquerunt. Hujus patriæ gens Friſonica, quamvis his temporibus ruralis valde ſit & inculta, antiquitus tamen militaribus exercitiis multum erat dedita, ut puta populus, qui multas terras & provincias exterruit & vaſtavit gladiis ſuis. Nam Karolus Magnus cum iſto populo multas ſibi gentes rebelles perdomuit, & plures urbes ſibi ſubjugavit. Quapropter ipſos Friſones valde extollens ultra cæteros Saxonum populos nobilitavit, prout clarius patet legenti Bullam ejus ſuper hac excellentia eis data ab ipſo, quam primæ parti Chronicæ hujus inſerui, cum de temporibus dicti Imperatoris Karoli ſcriberem. Nicolaus Rex Danorum, ſecundum Helmoldum, detruncavit omnes Teuthonicos in terra ſua inventos. Unde commotus Lotharius Imperator contra ipſum, regnum Danorum cum manu valida intravit. Cumque videret Nicolaus Rex, quod ſe defendere non valeret contra Imperatorem, gratiam ipſius quæſivit. Imperator autem extunc ſtatuit curiam celebrari in Halberſtad tempore Paſchali, ubi Nicolaus Danorum Rex veniens cum fratre ſuo Eriko, Imperatori homagium magium fecit, jurans ſibi cum ſuis Principibus, quod ipſe & omnes ſui ſucceſſores Regnum Daciæ ab Imperatore ſuſcepturi eſſent. Hanc quidem dignitatem acquiſivit Lotharius Imperio Romano. Inter multos viros religioſos ſecundum Jacobum de Voragine, Bernhardus Abbas Claræ vallenſis eminentiſſimæ ſanctitatis & ſcientiæ florebat. Qui multorum miraculorum patrator, & Verbi Dei ferventiſſimus prædicator, atque Monaſteriorum multorum fundator exiſtens, animarum lucris fervide inſiſtebat adeo, ut magiſtri ſcholarum cum magno Clericorum comitatu, etiam de longinquis regionibus ad ejus optabile magiſterium confluerent, centenario & eo amplius numero domum probationis ſuæ replens. Una enim die probationis tempus perficientes, XL. Monachi effecti ſunt profeſſionem faciendo. Hic vir ſanctiſſimus natus fuit in Burgundia ex parentibus Deo dilectis, cujus pater Tecelinus miles ſtrenuus exſtitit, mater vero ejus Aaleth nuncupata fuit. Hæc VII. pueros genuit mares & unam fœminam, mares autem omnes futuros Monachos prævidit, & fœminam Sanctimonialem. Mox autem ut filium peperiſſet, Deo ipſum offerebat, & propriis uberibus nutriebat. Cum autem puerum hunc Bernhardum geſtaret in utero, vidit in ſomnis catulum candidum, ſed in dorſo ſubrufum latrantem ſe in utero habere. Quod ſomnium cum viro devoto cuidam narraſſet, ille reſpondit: Optimi catuli mater eris, qui contra Domini inimicos magnos faciet latratus. Erit enim prædicator egregius, & multos convertet peccatores. Cum autem Bernhardus adhuc puerulus dolore capitis ægrotaret, venientem ad ſe mulierem, ut dolorem ſuis carminibus mitigaret, cum indignatione magna repulit & abjecit, & extunc de Dei miſericordia ſanatus eſt. In ſacratiſſima autem Nativitatis nocte Chriſti, cum puer Bernhardus matutinale officium exſpectaret, & in qua homo Chriſtus natus fuiſſet, ſcire affectaret, apparuit ei Chriſtus puerulus, quaſi iterum ante oculos ſuos ex utero naſcens. Unde quamdiu vixit, illam fuiſſe horam nativitatis Domini putavit. Videns autem diabolus propoſitum bonum pueri, multos ſibi tentationis laqueos oppoſuit. Cum autem una dierum in quandam mulierem oculos aliquamdiu fixos tenuiſſet, continuo de ſeipſo erubeſcens, in ſtagnum aquarum gelidarum inſiliens, tam diu in eo manſit, donec concupiſcentiæ fervor receſſiſſet. Cum autem in domo cujusdam matronæ hoſpitaretur, & illa ipſum pulcrum eſſe conſideraſſet, in concupiſcentiam ipſius nimis exarſit. Cum autem ſeorſum ſibi lectulum feciſſet, de nocte ad eum ſilenter acceſſit. Quod cum ille ſenſiſſet, mox clamavit: Latrones, latrones. Quæ ad vocem clamantis fugiens, cum familia ſurgeret, & latrones quæſiviſſet, & nullum inveniſſet, repoſuit ſe ad quietem. Tunc illa miſera denuo ſurgens, lectulum ejus aggreſſa eſt. Illo vero iterum clamante, ut prius, latrones iterum fugit. Famulis autem domus iterum ſurgentibus, quærentibus, & nihil percipientibus, & ſic iterum ad requiem ſe ponentibus, tertio infelix illa juvenem tentans, & iterum repulſa clamoribus priſtinis, vix confuſa abſceſſit. Cum autem mane facto ſocii perquirerent, quid ſomniaſſet, quod toties latrones clamaſſet, reſpondit: Hoſpita mihi nitebatur theſaurum irrecuperabilem caſtitatis. Perpendens ergo Bernhardus ex hoc facto, non eſſe tutum cohabitare ſerpentibus, deliberavit ingredi Ordinem Ciſtertienſium. Quod cum fratres ipſius agnoſcerent, omnibus modis ipſum a tali propoſito nitebantur retrahere, ſed divino adjutus auxilio, ipſe omnes fratres ſuos ad idem propoſitum induxit. Ingreſſus ergo Ordinem prædictum, in tantum ſe cœleſtibus cœpit occupare negotiis, ut tandem vix corporeis ſenſibus uteretur. Fratres vero ſui ipſum tandem ſecuti ſunt, & Domino ferventer ſervire in illa religione ſtuduerunt. Pater autem, qui ſolus domi remanſerat, tandem ad prædictum Monaſterium evolavit, & ibi per tempus aliquod vitam ſuam in ſenectute bona finivit. Soror quoque ejus ſeculo nupta, cum in deliciis & divitiis periclitaretur, inſtigante ſpiritu bono quadam vice, ſuos fratres viſitatura ad Monaſterium venit. Cumque eam vidiſſet Bernhardus in apparatu ſuperbo, ipſe eam tanquam rete diaboli ad capiendas animas abhorrens, eam ſprevit, ſibi loqui dedignans. Videns autem illa, quod nullus fratrum ſuorum ei occurreret, ſed ab uno illorum, qui tunc portarius erat, ſtercus ſericis involutum vocaretur, tota in lacrymas reſoluta dixit: Etſi peccatrix ſum, Chriſtus tamen pro talibus mortuus eſt. Quia vero me peccatricem ſentio, idcirco bonorum conſilium requiro. Et ſi frater meus deſpicit carnem meam, rogo, quod non deſpiciat animam meam, pro qua Chriſtus paſſus eſt. Veniat, & ſorori miſeræ viam Dei oſtendat, & quicquid ipſe præceperit, ipſa adimplebit. Cum autem mulier hæc dixiſſet, Bernhardus cum fratribus ſuis ad eam exiit. Et quia a viro ſuo eam ſeparare non potuit, primo ei omnem mundi gloriam interdixit, & formam matris eidem imitandam indicens, eam dimiſit. Quæ ad virum ſuum rediens, tandem precibus multis ab ea fatigatus, eam licentiavit. Quo ſoluta, mox Monaſterium intravit, & vitam in virtutibus informans, religioſe converſata eſt usque in finem. Cum autem B. Bernhardus poſt multa opera virtuoſa tandem morti appropinquaret, dixit fratribus ſuis: Tria vobis obſervanda relinquo, quæ in ſtadio præſentis vitæ, quo concurri, memini me pro viribus obſervaſſe. Nemini ſcandalum facere volui, & ſi aliquando incidit, ſedavi, quantum potui, minus ſemper ſenſui meo quam alterius credidi. Læſus de lædente nunquam vindictam expetii. Ecce caritatem, humilitatem & patientiam vobis pro teſtamento relinquo. Poſtquam ergo plura miracula Dominus per ipſum operatus fuiſſet, & Monaſtica C. & LX. fundaſſet, multosque libros & tractatus compilaſſet, conſummatis vitæ ſuæ annis circiter XLIII. feliciter obdormivit in Domino.

Lotharius Imperator, & dolens de nefanda interfectione viri tam nobilis, intravit Daciam cum magno exercitu contra dictum Magnum. Sed proch pudor, corruptus pecunia egressus est, nichil ad rem faciens. Locus autem ubi Kanutus interfectus est, Ringstech dictus est. Ericus vero frater Kanuti cognomento Hasenvot, id est Pes leporis, eo quod semper fugeret, in ultionem sui fratris congregavit exercitum, & veniens in occursum Magni, fugatus est in opidum Sleswik. Quam urbem Nicolaus Rex Danorum & Magnus filius suus obsidione circumdantes cum magna Danorum multitudine, civitati violentiam intulerunt. Venit autem in auxilium civitati Adolfus Comes Holtzatiæ, sed & ille ab exercitu Danorum fugatus est cum perditione non modica suorum. Tandem obsidio soluta est propter rigorem hyemis, & reversi sunt Dani in terram suam. Kanuto autem successerunt in Principatu Pribizlaus & Nyclotus filii sui, qui mox Regnum paternum divisserunt. Nyclotus enim obtinuit terram Obotritorum, quæ modo Mykelingburg nuncupatur, & terram Slavorum. Pribizlaus vero accepit in sortem suam terram Wagirorum. Wagiramque terra intra se continet urbes & opida, puta Lubeke, Todislo, Sigeberg & PagumSuentinensem usque ad Egdoram fluvium. Idem etiam Pribizlaus possidebat magnam partem terræ Nordalbingorum, puta Luttikenburg, Aldenburg, Plune, Oytin, Kylensem urbem, & omnem regionem, quæ clauditur mari Baltico & Trabena. Et sub istis Principibus iterum rapinæ, furta & latrocinia, quæ olim avus eorum Henricus Regulus eliminaverat, exerceri ab incolis cœperunt, ac fidei novella plantatio incrementum suum perdens, ex toto aruit & defecit. Erikus vero frater Kanuti interfecti in maritimam Scaniæ regionem se transtulit, conquerens ubique fratris sui necem perniciosam. Quem soli Scanienses contra Nicolaum Regem in suum elegerunt. Quod audiens Magnus, venit contra ipsum cum classe magna navium. Cum ergo Magnus in sacro dies Pentecostes aciem urgeret, nec solennitati parcere vellet, licet ab Episcopis moneretur, cecidit Magnus cum omnibus Danis illo die juxta Fothswik, & cum eo sex Episcopi, omnes victi a solis Scanienſibus, quorum Episcoporum quatuor erant de Jutia, unus de Selandia, & unus de Svecia, & multi Nobiles de Dacia cum eis. Nicolaus vero Rex Danorum elapsus, navigio venit Sleswik, ubi mox interfecerunt ipsum sutores opidi in favorem Erici victoris. Magnificatum est ergo nomen Erici, & regnavit in Danorum & Sveorum Regnis glorioſe, & genuit filium Noesweyn. Orta est autem controversia magna inter Hennricum Ducem Bayoariæ generum Lotharii Imperatoris & Adelbertum Marchionem orientalium Saxonum, qui nunc Martiales nominantur, secundum Chronicam Saxonum. Contentio autem illa de Ducatu Saxoniæ ortum habuit, & multum invalescere cœpit, eo quod Conradus Dux Sveviæ factus Rex Romanorum partes Marchionis foveret. Unde & ipse castrum Luneburg cum civitatibus Bardewic & Brema occupans, occidentali Saxonia potitus est. Sed & Nordalbingorum fines partibus ejus applicati sunt. Quamobrem Comes Adolfus Secundus provincia pulsus est, eo quod fidem Rixæ Imperatrici & genero ejus temerare noluisset. Comitiam autem ejus, urbes & servitia Henricus de Badewide, de genere Comitum de Orlemunde, beneficio Adelberti Marchionis protunc Ducis Saxoniæ assecutus est. Inter hæc Pribizlaus, sumta tyrannide de castro & urbe Lubek, omnia funditus demolitus est. Non multo post venit quidam Rasche dictus de genere Trutonis quondam Principis Slavorum & fundatoris urbis Lubike cum classica manu, arbitratus, se hostem suum Pribizlaum in Lubeke reperturum. Duæ enim cognationes Trutonis scilicet & Henrici propter Principatum Slavorum contendebant. Sed non invenientes Pribislaum, Rasche cum suis, relicta Lubeke urbe & castro, & omnia circumjacentia solo æquaverunt, & locus urbis & castri planus relictus est. Lotharius Imperator, secundum Egghardum, Italiam intravit, & totam Apuliam fidelitati Ecclesiæ subegit. De Italia autem rediens, prope Nurenberg infirmatus obiit, sed a suis militibus transvectus est in Luttere, ubi quiescit cum Rixa consorte sua. Romæ obiit quidam dictus Johannes de Longo tempore, secundum Vincentium, eo quod esset CC. & LXII. annorum, cum moreretur. Fuerat enim hic homo armiger Karoli Magni, & suo tempore plura fecerat laudabilia in diversis prœliis.

De Conrado III. Rege Rom. non Imperatore.

Conradus III. Dux Sveviæ, Henrici V. nepos de sorore sua Agnete, Romanorum Rex, cœpit anno mundi VMXCVIII. Olympiadis CCCCLXXIIII. anno primo, Urbis conditæ MDCCCLXXXVII. Domini vero MCXXXIX. & regnavit XIIII. annis, secundum Martinum. Iste caruit benedictione & corona Imperiali, quia præventus fuit morte, licet se disposuisset ad susciendam eam, præsertim cum Eugenius Papa frequenter ipsum ad hoc invitasset. Iste nitebatur Henricum Leonem privare Ducatu Saxoniæ & Westphaliæ, sed non valuit. Henricus Dux Bayoriæ Catulus, gener Lotharii, secundum Helmoldum, Ducatum Saxoniæ recuperavit, auxilio fultus Rixæ Imperatricis, & Adelbertum Marchionem de Saxonia fugavit. Unde & Comes Adolfus rediit in Comitiam Nordalbingorum. Videns autem Henricus de Badewide, quod contra Adolfum subsistere non posset, succendit castrum Sigeberg. Arcem vero firmissimam Hammeburg, quam Adolfi Comitis murato opere construxerat, ut esset urbi præsidium contra impetus barbarorum, & quicquid notabile Adolfus senior ædificaverat, Henricus de Badewide, fugam meditans, demolitus est.

Primo anno Conradi, qui est Domini MCXL. Henricus Catulus, id est Wolpe, Dux Bayoariæ & Saxoniæ, obiit secundum Egghardum, cui

Sed habemus firmiorem Propheticum ſermonem, cui bene facitis intendentes. Ex Prologo in librum eundem: Sciendum, quod libri Sanctæ Hildegardis recepti & canonizati ſunt a Papa Eugenio in Concilio Treverenſi, præſentibus multis Epiſcopis tam Teuthonicorum quam Francorum, & S. Bernhardo Abbate Clarævallenſi. Ex alio Prologo: Libros Sanctæ Hildegardis plures legere faſtidiunt & exhorrent, pro eo quod obſcuro & inuſitato ſtylo loquitur, non intelligentes, quod hoc eſt argumentum veræ prophetiæ. Omnes enim Prophetæ obſcure loqui quaſi in uſu habent. Unde eſt illud in Pſalmis: Tenebroſa aqua in nubibus aëris, id eſt obſcura ſcientia in Prophetis. Inuſitato autem ſtylo loquitur, quia, ſecundum Petrum in Epiſtola ſecunda, omnis Prophetia propria interpretatione non fit. Non enim voluntate humana allata eſt prophetia, ſed Spiritu Sancto inſpirati locuti ſunt ſancti Dei homines, & ideo loquuntur, ſicut Spiritum accipiunt. Epiſtola S. Bernhardi ad Sanctam Hildegardim Ordinis ſui: Dulci in Chriſto Hildegardi filiæ Bernhardus Clarævallenſis dictus Abbas, ſiquid poteſt oratio peccatoris. Quod de noſtra exiguitate longe aliter quam ſeſe noſtra conſtantia habeat quidam ſentire videntur, non noſtris meritis, ſed ſtultitiæ hominum imputandum eſt. Congratulamur gratiæ Dei, quæ eſt in te. Et ut Dei gratiam habeas, toto ei humilitatis & devotionis affectu ſtudeas reſpondere, admonemus, ſciens, quod Deus ſuperbis reſiſtit, & humilibus dat gratiam ſuam. Quod in nobis eſt, obſecramus & exhortamur. Cæterum ubi interior eruditio eſt & unctio docens de omnibus, quid nos aut docere poſſumus aut admonere? Diceris cœleſtia ſecreta rimari, & ea, quæ ſupra homines ſunt, Spiritu Sancto dinoſcere. Unde rogamus magis & ſuppliciter poſtulamus, ut noſtri memoriam habeas apud Deum, & eorum pariter, qui nobis ſpirituali ſocietate in Domino juncti ſunt. Nam cum ſpiritus tuus Deo conjungitur, confidimus, quod nobis multum prodeſſe valeas & ſubvenire. Multum enim valet deprecatio juſti aſſidua. Nam etiam pro te aſſidue oramus, ut conforteris ad bona, inſtruaris ad interiora, dirigaris ad permanſura. Vale. Epiſtola S. Hildegardis ad S. Bernhardum. In Spiritu myſteriorum Dei tibi dico, o venerabilis Pater, qui mirabiliter in magnis honoribus virtutis Dei valde metuendus es, quod ſum valde conſtricta in viſione, quæ apparet mihi in ſpiritu myſteriorum, quam non video exterioribus oculis carnis. Ego miſera & plusquam miſera in nomine fœmineo ab infantia mea vidi magna mirabilia, quæ lingva mea non valet proferre, niſi quod me docet Spiritus Dei, qualiter ego dicam. Ea, quæ tibi dicta ſunt de me, Pater, ſecundum hunc modum ſunt: Scio in textu interiorem intelligentiam, expoſitionem Pſalterii, Ewangelii & aliorum voluminum, quæ monſtrantur mihi in hac viſione, quæ pectus meum tangit & animam meam, ſicut flamma comburens docet me hæc profunda expoſitionis. Sed tamen non docet me literas in Theutonica lingva, quas neſcio, ſed tantum ſcio in ſimplicitate legere, non in abſciſſione textus, quia homo ſum indocta de ulla magiſtratione cum exteriori materia, ſed intus in anima mea ſum docta. Volo ergo Pater, ut propter amorem Dei in orationibus tuis mei recorderis. Vale, vale in anima tua, & eſto robuſtus in certamine Domini, Amen. Ex Pentachrono Hildegardis Cap. XXXVIII. De cœlo vocem verba iſta ſonantem audivi: Omnipotens Deus pauperculam fœmineam formam, per quam hanc edidit ſcripturam, oculo ſuæ miſericordiæ ungere dignatur: quoniam ipſa absque omni ſecuritate vivit, nec etiam ſententiam ædificationis ſcripturarum, quam Spiritus ad ædificationem Eccleſiæ propoſuit, & quæ velut murus magnæ civitatis ſunt (forſ profert). Hæc enim a die nativitatis in doloribus infirmitatum quaſi reti illaqueata eſt, ita ut in omnibus venis & medullis ac carnibus ſuis doloribus vexetur, nec tamen diſſolvi eam Domino placuit, quia per cavernam rationalis animæ quædam myſtica Dei ſpiritualiter videt. Hæc autem viſio ejusdem venas hominis ita pertranſiit, ut propter eam ipſa multa fatigatione ſæpe commoveatur, aliquo tamen tempore levius & aliquo depreſſius in fatigatione infirmitatis laborans. Unde etiam mores a diverſis moribus hominum habet alienos, quemadmodum infans, cujus venæ nondum ita plenæ ſunt, ut mores hominum diſcernere poſſit. Complexionem de aëre habet, ideoque de ipſo aëre, de pluvia, de vento & de omni tempeſtate infirmitas ei infixa eſt, ut nequaquam ſecuritatem carnis in ſe habere poſſit, alioquin inſpiratio Spiritus Sancti in ea habitare non valeret. Sed Spiritus Dei magna vi pietatis ſuæ eam interdum ab hac infirmitate quaſi ratione cujusdam refrigerii ſuſcitat, quatenus officialiter cum inſpiratione Spiritus Sancti in ſeculo vivere poſſit. Omnipotens autem Deus, qui omnem fatigationem paſſionis ejusdem hominis cognovit, veraciter gratiam ſuam in ipſa perficere dignetur, ut pietas ejus in hoc glorificetur, & cum illius anima de hoc ſeculo migraverit, ad æternam gloriam ab eo clementer ſuſcipi & coronari gaudeat. Sed liber vitæ; cujus ſcriptura Verbum Dei eſt, per quod Verbum omnis creatura apparuit, & quod omnem vitam ſecundum voluntatem æterni Patris velut in ſe præordinaverat, exſpiravit hanc ſcripturam per nullam ſcientiam humanæ doctrinæ, ſed per ſimplicem & indoctam fœmineam formam, ut ſibi placuit, mirabiliter edidit. Unde nullus hominum tam præſumtuoſus ſit, ut verbis hujus ſcripturæ aliquid vel augendo apponat, vel minuendo auferat, ne de libro vitæ & de omni beatitudine, quæ ſub ſole eſt, deleatur, niſi propter exaltationem literarum aut dictionum, quæ per inſpirationem Spiritus Sancti ſimpliciter probata ſunt, fiat. Qui autem aliter præſumſerit, in Spiritum Sanctum peccat. Unde nec hic nec in futuro ſeculo hoc ei remittetur.' Frequenter dicit de ſe S. Hildegardis: Ego paupercula & indocta fœminea forma vidi &c. Hæc plures Epiſtolas ſcripſit ad diverſas verſas perſonas, puta ad Eugenium Papam, ad Anaſtaſium Papam, ad Adrianum Papam, ad Conradum Regem Romanorum, ad Ciſtertienſes, ad Archiep. Colonienſem, ad Archiep. Treverenſem, ad Beatum Bernhardum, & cæteras multas Aſchalona urbs ingens capta eſt a Chriſtianis, ſecundum Martinum, in Terra ſancta. Richardus de Sancto Victore & Petrus Lombardus, ſecundum Wilhelmum, qui Libros Sententiarum compoſuit, floruerunt, qui Petrus fuit Epiſcopus Pariſienſis.

Secundo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCXLI. Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ congregavit exercitum magnum, ſecundum Chronicas Saxonum, ut acciperet Ducatum patris ſui, quem Henricus vitricus ejus frater Conradi Regis occupabat. Duciſſa vero Saxoniæ uxor ejus manſit in Luneburg caſtro. Fuit autem Adolfus Comes Nordalbingorum in domo Ducis, & in obſequiis Duciſſæ ſolicitus ac officioſus paterque conſilii, propter quod & Rex Danorum ac Principes Slavorum eum venerabantur. Henricus autem Leo Ducatum Bayoariæ paternum, quamdiu Conradus Rex vixit, obtinere non potuit. Siccitas tanta fuit in Francia, ſecundum Vincentium, ut flumina, lacus, ſtagna, fontes & putei aquis carerent. Ignis quoque per rimas terras intrabat, qui nec imbre nec frigore nec quacunque arte exſtingvi poterat. Petrus Abalardi inſignis Magiſter & ſcientia clarus floruit, ſecundum Egghardum, ſed de fide perfide docuit. Hujus ſcripta pariter & ipſum Innocentius Papa damnavit, eo quod pretium redemtionis noſtræ evacuans, nichil aliud nobis in ſacrificio paſſionis Dominicæ commendaverit, niſi virtutis exemplum & amoris incentivum. Quod enim Scripturæ perhibent, illo ſangvine pretioſo genus humanum redemtum eſſe, in illo ſolo conſtare dixit, quod exemplum nobis exhibitum eſt usque ad mortem pro veritate & juſtitia certandi, & adhibitum eſt velut quoddam incentivum amoris, cum ex impenſo amore data ſit occaſio ſic reamandi. Contra hunc Petrum hæreticum ſcripſit B. Bernhardus Epiſtolam. Quidam Magiſter Arnoldus, ſecundum Vincentium, prædicavit in urbe Romana reprehendendo divitias & ſuperfluitates. Propter cujus verba multi Romanorum Magnates ipſum ſequebantur, ſua pauperibus erogantes. Qui poſtea captus, in contumeliam Clericorum eſt ſuſpenſus.

Tertio anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCXLII. Eclipſis ſolis magna facta eſt XIII. KL. Aprii. hora IX. S. Bernhardus, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, publice & ſolenniter diſputavit coram Rege Conrado & in præſentia multorum Epiſcoporum & Abbatum contra Petrum Abalardi, & vicit ipſum rationibus & argumentis, manifeſte ipſum confundens. Innocentius Papa apud Aquas Salvias fundavit Monaſterium S. Anaſtaſii Martyris, ſecundum Egghardum, conſtructis ibidem cœnobialibus manſionibus, & petivit a Claræ vallenſi Cœnobio Fratres & Abbatem illuc deſtinari. Miſſus eſt ergo illuc Bernhardus Piſanæ Eccleſiæ olim Vicedominus in Abbatem.

Quarto anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCXLIII. Virgo quædam Ymmeke dicta ſecundum Vincentium vexabatur a dæmone, & ad Vicelinum Sacerdotem Falderenſem ducebatur. Quem dæmonem cum ſanctus Presbyter quæreret, cur vas incorruptum ipſe autor corruptionis intraſſet: ille reſpondit, quia, inquit, me jam tertio offendit. Cui Vicelinus: In quo te offendit? Negotium, inquit, meum jam tertio impedivit. Bis enim transmiſi fures ad perfodiendum domum, ſed hæc ſedens apud focum, clamoribus eos exterruit. Nunc quoque legatione principis noſtri functurus in Daciam, hanc in via offendi, ulturus, quod me tribus vicibus offendit. Cum ergo vir Dei conjurationis verba adverſus eum conaretur exprimere ait dæmon: Cur pellis me ultro paratum egredi, jam enim abibo ad proximam villam, viſitaturus ſodales meos, qui ibi latent. Ad quem Sacerdos: Quod tibi eſt nomen? & ſunt ſodales tui? aut cum quibus habitant? Ego, inquit dæmon, Rufinus vocor. Sodales mei, de quibus quæris, hic duo ſunt, unus cum Rothoſco, & alter cum muliere quadam in eodem opido. Hos hodie viſitabo. Inde in Daciam proficiſcar. Et hæc dicens, egreſſus eſt virginem, & ipſa liberata eſt. Quod autem hic dæmon in Daciam iverit, rei probavit eventus. Nam Erico Rege occiſo, gravis perturbatio ſurrexit in gente illius regni & afflictio.

Quinto anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCXLIIII. Henricus germanus Lodowici Regis Francorum, ſecundum Wilhelmum, apud Claræ vallem factus eſt Monachus, quia non diu poſt ad Epiſcopatum Belvacenſem aſſumtus eſt.

De Cœleſtino II. PP. CLXXIII.

Cœleſtinus Papa, natione Tuſcus ex patre Nicolao, ſedit V. menſibus & XXIII. diebus. Hic propter brevitatem ſui regiminis, ſecundum Martinum, nichil ſcriptura dignum de eo reperitur in Chronicis. Hic prius dictus fuit Gvido. Rodolfus Nyromandorum Comes, ſecundum Vincentium, uxorem ſuam legitimam repudiavit, & Petronillam uxoris ſuæ ſororem duxit. Propter quod & ipſe excommunicatus fuit, & Bartholomæus Laudunenſis, Simon Nomonienſis & Petrus Sylvanectenſis Epiſcopi, qui divortium illud procuraverant, ſunt ab officiis ſuis ſuſpenſi usque ad tempus reconciliationis eorundem.

Sexto anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCXLV. Lodowicus Rex Francorum cepit Vitriacum urbem Comitis Theobaldi, ſecundum Wilhelmum, ubi admoto igne incenſa eſt Eccleſia, & in ea M. & CCC. homines utriusque ſexus ſunt combuſti. Quidam juvenis Willermus dictus, ſecundum Vincentium, interfectus eſt a Judæis in die ſancto Paraſceves in caſtro Norwich, cujus anima ducta eſt per Angelum ad diverſa pœnarum loca, & poſt hoc ad locum amœnum paradiſi, ubi ipſa libenter manſiſſet. Quibus locis ſic ei oſtenſis, dixit ſibi Angelus: Reducam te ad corpus tuum, ubi vitam tuam priſtinam recuperabis; in qua ſi virtuoſe vixeris, ris, locum amœnum paradiſi intrabis, ibidem ſemper manſurus. Reſuſcitatus ergo Willermus, vitam deificam duxit ad finem.

De Lucio II. PP. CLXXIIII.

Lucius Papa, qui & Gerardus, natione Bononienſis, ex patre Alberto, ſedit uno anno & menſibus IX. ſecundum Martinum. Hic prius Presbyter Cardinalis S. Crucis Eccleſiam illam cum clauſtro a fundamentis renovavit.

Septimo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCXLVI. Libri Johannis Damaſceni, ſecundum Egghardum, translati ſunt de Græco in Latinum a Burgundione cive Piſano; in quorum uno continetur Orthodoxæ fidei Traditio in IV. libros diviſo, & in centum Capita diſtincto. Ediſſa Meſopotamiæ civitas, in qua ſecundum Vincentium, Thomæ & Thaddæi Apoſtolorum corpora fuerunt, & quæ ſordibus idololatriæ nunquam polluta erat, ex quo primitus ad Chriſtianiſmum converſa eſt, a Turcis obſeſſa eſt & capta, & infinitus populus in ea interemtus eſt.

Octavo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCXLVII. S. Bernhardus in Alemannia multis miraculis coruſcavit, ſecundum Vincentium. Apud Spiram namque urbem tantus concurſus erat populi in prædicatione dicti Sancti, ut Conradus Rex, ne populus Bernhardum comprimeret, depoſita chlamyde, ipſum in proprias ulnas ſuſcepit, & de baſilica eduxit, ubi crucem prædicabat. Ad quod opus perficiendum cum majorem Eccleſiam intraret, imago quædam lignea vetuſtate quaſi conſumta & deformis Virginis Glorioſæ ſalutavit eum Gallice, dicens: Ben venia mi Fra Bernharde; & ille: Grant merce mi dompna.

De Eugenio III. PP. Romano CLXXV.

Eugenius Papa, qui & Bernhardus Abbas S. Anaſtaſii, natione Piſanus, quondam Monachus Claræ vallenſis, ex patre Bernhardo, ſedit annis VIII. menſibus tribus & diebus XX. ſecundum Martinum. Contra hunc virum ſanctum & multo honore dignum Romani erigunt Patricium & Senatorem, & Eugenium a ſede ſua depellunt. Qui pulverem pedum in litigantem excutiens, tranſit in Gallias. Hic cum eſſet Abbas S. Anaſtaſii, ex inſperato apud Eccleſiam S. Cæſarii a Cardinalibus eſt electus propter metum Senatorum. Unde ad Farfenſe Monaſterium ſe transferens, vocatis ibidem Cardinalibus & Prælatis, benedictionem conſecrationis recepit. Hunc, cum ſimplex eſſet, Deus mirabili gratia & eloquentia perfudit. Huic redeunti ad urbem Clerus & populus Romanus cum magna lætitia occurrit, cantans: Benedictus, qui venit in nomine Domini. Hic a Lodowico Rege Francorum Chriſtianiſſimo in Franciam vocatus, cum ipſum transmarina cruce ſignaſſet, & concilium Rhemis celebraſſet, rediit ad urbem Romam. Hujus autoritate confirmati ſunt Regulares Canonici in Eccleſia S. Wicberti in Quedelingburg. Ipſe etiam canonizavit S. Henricum Imperatorem in Babenberg ſepultum, cujus Epiſcopatum ipſe fundavit.

Nono anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCXLVIII. Lodowicus Rex Francorum, ſecundum Vincentium, Ediſſæ urbis Meſopotamiæ captæ zelo ſuccenſus, apud Viceliacum affixo ſibi crucis ſigno, cum Regni Principibus & innumerabili multitudine populi transmarinam peregrinationem aſſumſit. Tornacenſis Eccleſia, ſecundum Wilhelmum, quæ per DC. annos a tempore S. Medardi ſub Epiſcopo Nomonenſi conſtituta, ſine proprio fuerat Antiſtite, hoc anno proprium accepit Epiſcopum Anſelmo Abbate S. Vincentii apud Lugdunum ab Eugenio Papa conſecrato in Epiſcopum ejusdem urbis. Gilbertus Porrectanus Epiſcopus floruit. Hic in Concilio Rhemenſi, ſecundum Wilhelmum, a B. Bernhardo diſputante cum eo ſingulariter, tanquam ſui temporis ſingularis athleta devictus eſt hæreticus; qui licet in ſacris literis eſſet plurimum exercitatus, tamen ſublimiora ſe ſcrutatus ſapuit ad inſipientiam ſibi, reſiliens tamen ab errore indulgentiam ab Eccleſia eſt conſecutus.

Decimo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCXLIX. Rex Conradus in Frankenford in feſto Purificationis B. Virginis a S. Bernhardo miſſo ab Eugenio Papa inſignitus eſt crucis charactere cum cunctis fere Teuthoniæ Principibus, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo. Accepit namque Sanctæ crucis ſignaculum de manu B. Bernhardi Conradus Cæſar, Lodowicus Rex Francorum cum uxore ſua, & meliori populo ſuo fere toto, Vratizlaus Dux Bohemiæ, Henricus Dux Lotharingiæ, Welpe Dux Burgundiæ, Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ, Conradus Dux Sarigæ, Albertus Marchio de Soltwedel, Borchardus Comes de Pletzeke, Adolfus Comes de Schowenborg & Holtzatiæ, Hartwicus Archiepiſcopus Bremenſis cum univerſis Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ Epiſcopis, Otto Epiſcopus Friſingenſis, Udo Epiſcopus Citzenſis, & multi alii Principes & Prælati. De Anglia etiam, Flandria, Brabantia & Hollandia Britanniaque cum CC. pene navibus proficiſcuntur. Et numerus armatorum exercitus Chriſtiani de Nobilibus duntaxat LXXXM. absque vulgo, cujus non erat numerus. Tranſito igitur Ungariæ regno, perveneruntad fines Græciæ, miſeruntque legatos ad Regem Græcorum, ut eis conductum præſtaret. Ille licet admodum territus, annuendum tamen decrevit, dummodo pacifici ad ſe veniſſent. Qui remandarunt, ſe nihil inquietudinis moliri, qui propter ampliandos pacis fines peregrinationem ſalutarem aſſumſerunt. Dedit igitur eis Rex Græciæ juxta placitum ſuum conductum, & forum abundans rerum venalium exhibuit, ubicunque caſtra locanda eſſent. Multa vero portenta & ſigna viſa ſunt in exercitu illis diebus futuræ cladis & calamitatis demonſtrantia, quorum quidem præcipuum fuit, quod veſpere quodam quædam nebula denſiſſima cooperuit caſtra. Qua recedente, univerſa papilionum tegmina adeo ſanguine reſperſa comparuerunt, quaſi pluvia ſanguinea de cœlo cecidiſſet. Quod videntes Reges, conjecerunt, ſe ad maximos labores & mortis pericula cula fore evocatos. Nec fefellit eos conjectura. Non enim multo poſt venerunt in montana quædam, ubi, cum inveniſſent vallem pratis rivuloque decurrente commodiſſimam, caſtra ſua fixerunt in devexo latere montis. Porro jumenta cum bigis & quadrigis victualia ſarcinasque militum portantibus armentorumque ad eſum carnium ſervientium ingens numerus, in vallis medio collocata fuerant prope decurſum aquarum & paſcuorum commoda. Appropinquante vero nocte, audita ſunt in montis ſupercilio fragor tonitruum & ſonitus tempeſtatis magnæ, & ecce in noctis medio, neſcio an nubium eruptione aut quo eventu alio, torrens ille abundantius erumpens, quicquid vallis ille habuit de hominibus & jumentis, in momento abſorbuit, & in mare proximum projecit. Hanc igitur primam exercitus jacturam exceperunt milites peregrinationis illius. Cæteri vero, qui reſidui fuerant, perrexerunt cœpto itinere, tranſeuntesque Græciam pervenerunt ad regiam urbem Conſtantinopolim. Ubi per aliquot dies exercitu recreato cum ſtetiſſent, procedentes inde venerunt ad ſinum maris, qui vulgari nomine Brachium S. Georgii dicitur. Ibi proviserat Rex Græciæ eis naves ad transducendum exercitum. Transmiſſo ergo mari, Lodowicus Rex Franciæ direxit iter ſuum verſus Jeroſolymam, & pugnantibus ſecum barbaris, univerſum quaſi ſuum perdidit exercitum. Conradus vero cum L. milibus armatorum nobilium & innumerabili plebe peditum Iconium pervenit. Et tranſito mari ſimiliter, incurſione Turcorum pariter & dolo Græcorum, quia calcem farinæ miſcuerant, quam Cæſaris exercitui vendebant, ac famis & ſitis penuria, ultra medium amiſit exercitum. O judicii Altiſſimi inſcrutabilia! Tanta enim fuit clades utriuſque exercitus & miſeria inexplicabilis, ut calamitas eorum, qui interfuerunt, adhuc hodie lacrymis deplangatur. Cum ſuperſtite tamen populo Conradus Cæſar & Lodowicus Rex Terram ſanctam peragrantes, plura bella cum inimicis Chriſti geſſerunt, non tamen id, propter quod venerant, perfecerunt, amittentes multa milia ſuorum, plura tamen milia hoſtium ſternentes. Tandem Conradus Rex Alemanniæ ſuo cum exercitu modico ad Portugallenſem urbem Galaciæ nobiliſſimam applicans, adoraturus ad S. Jacobum, receptus eſt a Rege Portugalenſi cum gaudio. Rogavit ergo Rex Conradum Cæſarem, ut, ſi propter Deum pugnaturi exiſſent, fieret ſibi auxilio contra Lacebonam civitatem, cujus incolæ barbari fines Chriſtianorum inquietabant. Cujus petitioni condeſcendens Rex Romanorum, abiit cum Rege Lacebonam in magna navium copia, & urbem terra marique vallantes, ac fortiter eam impugnantes, tandem ipſam expugnaverunt & ceperunt. Expulſis ergo partim barbaris & partim occiſis, diviſaque præda ab exercitu Cæſaris, Rex Galaciæ pro ſua parte urbem vacuam recepit, & fidelibus eam replens, facta eſt ibidem Chriſtianorum colonia usque in præſentem diem. Lodowicus autem Francorum Rex a Palæſtina navigans, ut in patriam rediret, Græcorum inſidias incurrit. Cumque ab eis captus, Corphunum ductus fuiſſet, Gregorius Dux exercitus Regis Siciliæ urbem aggreditur, præliandoque cum Græcis, plures Græcorum nobiles cepit, Lodowicum Regem liberavit, & in terram ſuam in pace tranſire fecit. Rediens ergo Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ ad partes una cum Conrado Duce Sarigæ, Alberto Marchione de Soltwedele, Conrado Comite de Within, Adolfo Comite de Schowenborg & Holtzatiæ, Hartwico Bremenſi Archiepiſcopo, ac cæteris Saxoniæ Epiſcopis & Weſtphaliæ, ad Obotritos & Lucicios Slavorum gentes ſe convertit, ulturus neces & exterminia, quæ intulerant Chriſti fidelibus & præcipue Danis. Audiens ergo Niclotus Princeps Obotritorum, quod congregatus eſſet exercitus ad deſtruendum eum, convocavit univerſam gentem ſuam, & cœpit ædificare caſtrum Dubin, ut eſſet populo refugium in tempore neceſſitatis. Exercitus autem Ducis nondum Albiam tranſierat, ſed tempus oportunum exſpectabat, in Saxonia de peracto labore parum ſe recreans. Interim Nyclotus ſentiens, irrevocabilem eſſe juratæ expeditionis profectionem, clam paravit navalem exercitum, & tranſito freto, applicavit claſſem ad oſtium Trabenæ, perculſurus omnem Wagirenſium provinciam, priusquam Saxonum exercitus ſuis infunderetur terminis. Transmiſitque veſpere nuncium Sigiberg, eo quod promiſiſſet Comiti, Adolfo præmonere eum. Sed eo non invento, rediit nuncius ad naves. Illuceſcente ergo die Sanctorum Johannis & Pauli, deſcendit navalis Slavorum exercitus per oſtium Trabenæ. Tunc cives Lubicanæ urbis, audito murmure exercitus, inclamaverunt viros urbis & caſtri dicentes: Audivimus clamores quaſi magni exercitus ſupervenientis, & neſcimus, unde ſit. Miſeruntque ad forum civitatis nunciare populo imminens periculum. Sed populus multa potatione veſpertina temulentus, neque de lectis neque de navibus excitari potuit, quousque hoſtibus circumvallati, naves mercibus onuſtas injecto igne perdiderunt. Interfecti ſunt ergo illic die illo ad CCC. & eo amplius viris in urbe Lubicana. Rodolfus vero Sacerdos dum ad caſtrum fugeret, præventus a barbaris multis gladis & lanceis confoſſus interiit. Porro hi, qui in caſtro erant, biduo atrociſſimam obſidionem pertulerunt. Duæ quoque equitum turmæ omnem Wagirenſium terram pervagantes, quicquid in ſuburbio Sigeberg repererunt, demoliti ſunt. Pagum quoque, qui Dargune dicitur, & quicquid infra Trabenam a viris Weſtphalis, Hollandrinis cæterisque extraneis populis incultum fuerat, flamma vorax abſumſit. Occideruntque multos viros, qui armis obſiſtere tentabant, & duxerunt uxores eorum & filios in captivitatem. Pepercerunt autem viris Holtzatenſibus, qui habitabant ultra Trabenam ad occidentalem plagam Sigeberg, ſubſtiteruntque in agris opidi Cuzalme, & non adjecerunt ultra progredi. primum Pontificem Marconem. Poſt hunc ſecundus erat Egwardus, tertius Wago, quartus Eziko, quintus Volkquardus, ſextus Reynbertus, ſeptimus Benno, octavus Meynerus, nonus Abelinus, decimus Ezo. Hujus temporibus ſurrexit in Eccleſia Hammeburgenſi Magnus Adelbertus, qui de peregrinis Epiſcopis, quos in menſa ſua habebat, Johannem ſtatuit Epiſcopum in Mykelenborg, Ariſtonem in Ratzeburg, atque in hunc modum Aldenburgenſis Sedes diviſa eſt in tres Epiſcopatus. Poſtquam ergo permittente Deo propter peccata hominum Chriſtianitas annullata eſt in Slavia, vacaverunt hæ ſedes annis LXXXIIII. usque ad tempora Hartwici Archiepiſcopi, qui propter generis nobilitatem duplici principatu clarus, magno ſtudio inſudavit pro recuperandis Suffraganeis Epiſcopis Daciæ, Norwegiæ, Sveciæ & Slaviæ, quos Hammeburgenſi Eccleſiæ quondam pertinuiſſe commemorat antiquitas. Sed cum obſequiis & variis donariis nihil profeciſſet apud Papam & Cæſarem, ne omnino careret Suffraganeis, aggreſſus eſt ſaltem abolitos Slaviæ Epiſcopatus ſuſcitare. Accerſitum ergo venerabilem Sacerdote Falderenſem Aldenburgenſi Sedi conſecravit Epiſcopum, cum jam eſſet provectæ ætatis, & manſiſſet in terra Holtzatorum XXX. annis. Porro in Mykelinburg ordinavit Dominum Everhardum, & conſecrati ſunt ambo in Roſſevelde, miſſique in terram egeſtatis & famis, ubi erat ſedes Satanæ & habitatio omnis ſpiritus immundi. Factaque ſunt hæc inconſulto Duce Henrico & Comite Adolfo. Unde accidit, ut amicitia, quæ erat inter Dominum Vicelinum & Comitem, deinceps rumperetur. Nam antea eum ut patrem venerabatur. Tulit ergo omnes decimas anni illius, quæ Pontifici novo provenire poterant. Tunc abiit Epiſcopus ad Ducem Henricum, rogaturus veniam, & ſuſceptus eſt ab eo cum honore & reverentia. Et ait Dux ad eum: Dignum quidem fuit, o Epiſcope, ut vos nec ſalutarem nec reciperem, eo quod nomen iſtud me inconſulto receperitis. Ego enim hujus rei mediator eſſe debueram, maxime in terra, quam patres mei favente Deo in clypeo & gladio obtinuerunt, & mihi poſſidendam hæreditaverunt. Sed quia ſanctitas veſtra mihi dudum comperta eſt, & progenitores noſtri vos ab initio fidelem probaverunt, decrevi jam noxæ hujus obliviſci, promotionique veſtræ pleno favore occurrere, ea tamen conditione, ſi inveſtituram Epiſcopalem de manu mea recipere volueritis. Hoc enim pacto res veſtræ proceſſum habere poterunt. Quod quidem verbum Epiſcopo Vicelino viſum eſt valde durum, eo quod eſſet præter conſvetudinem. Epiſcopos enim inveſtire ſolius Imperatoriæ Majeſtatis eſt. Quidam autem fidelium Ducis Henricus de Wicha, vir potens & militaris ac Epiſcopi amicus dixit ad eum: Facite, quod vobis utile eſt. Appropinquate Domino noſtro, & facite voluntatem ejus, ut ædificentur Eccleſiæ Slaviæ, & dirigatur cultus domus Dei in manibus veſtris, alioquin fruſtrabitur labor veſter, eo quod nec Cæſar nec Archiepiſcopus poſſit juvare cauſam veſtram, Domino meo obnitente. Deus enim dedit ei univerſam terram hanc. Quid autem grande requirit a vobis Dominus meus, quod vobis illicitum ſit aut verecundum? Quin potius res facilis eſt & conducens fructum magnum, ut Dominus accipiat virgulam, & det in manum veſtram pro ſigno inveſtituræ ſitisque de cætero familiares Ducis, habentes honorem inter gentes, ad quas ire diſponitis convertendas. Rogavit autem Epiſcopus ſibi dari inducias, ut deliberaret ſuper verbo iſto. Dimiſſus ergo pacifice venit Bardewic, ubi mortali tactus ægritudine, per dies aliquot moratus eſt. Illic enim incidit paralyſim, in qua usque ad extremum vitæ ſuæ laboravit. Sedata vero aliquantulum ægritudine, perductus eſt Falderam in vehiculo. Ubi cum Deus ei vires reſtituiſſet, abiit Bremam conſulturus Archiepiſcopum & Clerum ſuper verbo hoc, quod impoſuerat ei Dux. Qui omnes una eademque ſententia refragari cœperunt, dicentes: Scimus quidem, o venerabilis Pontifex, ſanctitati veſtræ bene notum eſſe, quid vobis ſuper verbo hoc expediat; ſed quia veniſtis audire conſilium noſtrum, breviter reſpondemus, quod ſentimus. Primum ergo in hoc negotio penſari decet, qualiter inveſtituræ Pontificum Imperatoriæ tantum dignitati permiſſæ ſunt, quæ ſola excellens, & poſt Deum in filiis hominum præeminens, hunc honorem non ſine fœnore multiplici ſibi conquiſivit. Neque Imperatores digniſſimi levitate aliqua uſi ſunt, ut Epiſcoporum Domini vocarentur, ſed compenſaverunt noxam hanc ampliſſimis Regni divitiis, quibus Eccleſia copioſius aucta & decenter honorata, jam non vile reputet, ſe in modico ceſſiſſe ſubjectioni, nec erubeſcat uni inclinari, per quem poſſit in multos dominari. Ubi, quæſo, eſt Dux vel Marchio tam magnus, qui Pontificibus manus ſuas non offerat? Certatim, ut videtis, currunt homines, ut participes fiant beneficiorum Eccleſiæ. Vos ergo honorem hunc peſſundabitis, & infringetis jura magnis autoribus edita? Dabitisne Duci iſti manus veſtras, ut veſtro exemplo Epiſcopi incipiant eſſe Principum ſervi, qui ſolebant eſſe Principum domini? Non decet honeſtatem veſtram ætatis decore maturam, ut per vos incipiant abuſiones fieri in domo Domini. Longe fiet a vobis verbum iſtud. Et ſi furor Principis erga vos effrenate egerit, nonne melius eſt ferre jacturam bonorum temporalium quam honoris. Auferant Principes, ſi velint, decimas, obcludant vobis introitum parochiæ veſtræ; tolerabilis erit vobis iſta moleſtia. Habetis certe Falderenſem domum, in qua tute interim conſiſtere poſſitis, & præſtolari in ſilentio ſalutare Dei. His & hujusmodi verbis averterunt eum, ne voluntatem Ducis adimpleret. Parturivit ſane perſvaſio iſta novellæ plantationi multiplex impedimentum. Quotiens enim Pontifex ille Ducem adiit, interpellaturus pro negotiis Eccleſiæ, ille ſe paratum reſpondit ad omnia, quæ popoſcerit, ſi primum ſibi honor debitus exhiberetur. Pontifex autem humilis facile inclinatus fuiſſet, ut propter bonum Eccleſiæ ſuæ Duci ſecularis honoris famulatum præſtitiſſet, ſi Archiepiſcopus & cæteri Bremenſium Clerici non obſtitiſſent. Fecit ergo Vicelinus Epiſcopus, quod ſtatus aſſumti oneris requiſivit, Eccleſias parochiæ ſuæ viſitavit, miniſtrans plebibus monita ſalutis, & præbens eis pro jure officii ſui ſpiritalia, licet ipſe non meteret eorum temporalia. Nam Comes Adolfus decimarum reditus tollebat. Dedicatum eſt autem eo tempore Oratorium Cuziline, quæ alio nomine Hogerſtorp dicitur. Similiter & Eccleſia Bonrehovedæ tunc dedicata eſt Venit inde ad novam civitatem, quæ Lubeke dicitur, confortare manentes illic, & dedicavit ibi altare Domino Deo. Inde progrediens viſitavit Aldenburg, ubi Sedes Epiſcopalis conſtituta fuerat, & receptus eſt a barbaris habitatoribus terræ illius, quorum Deus Prone dictus eſt. Porro nomen Flaminis, qui præerat ſuperſtitioni eorum, erat Mike, ſed & Princeps terræ vocabatur Rochel, qui fuerat de ſemine Trutonis, idololatra & pirata maximus. Cœpit ergo Pontifex barbaris illis proponere viam veritatis, adhortans eos, ut, relictis idolis ſuis, feſtinarent ad lavacrum regenerationis. Pauci autem Slavorum applicuerunt ſe fidei, eo quod non eſſent inclinata corda Principum ad edomanda corda rebellium. Dedit autem Epiſcopus carpentariis & cæſoribus lignorum ad ædificandum ſanctuarium, & inceptum eſt opus fabricæ prope vallum urbis antiquæ, quo omnis terra propter mercatum convenire ſolebat. Adelbertus Marchio de Soltwedele, qui nunc Brandeburgenſis dicitur, ſecundum Helmoldum, cum de transmarina expeditione reverſus eſſet pariter & de Slavonica, vocatis hominibus de Hollandia, Selandia, Brabantia & Weſtphalia, ab urbe Soltwedele usque ad ſaltum Bohemicum terram ſuam tradidit eis inhabitandam. Has, inquam, terras olim Saxones dicuntur inhabitaſſe, ſed Slavi Saxones expulerunt, plures eorum interficiendo. Unde eo tempore Stendal urbs condita eſt, & terra vicina a Flamingis eſt inhabitata. Sehuſen vero & terminos pratenſes & paludoſos Hollandrini incoluerunt, & vagos decurſus Albiæ fluvii aggeribus, prout in ſuis conſueti erant terris, artaverunt.

Tertio decimo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCLII. Abbatia Ciſtertienſis Ordinis, quæ Inſula Beatæ Mariæ dicitur, ſecundum Egghardum, fundatur in Diœceſi Monaſterienſi. Malachias Hybernienſis Archiepiſcopus & Apoſtolicæ Sedis Legatus, ſecundum Wilhelmum, obiit in Clarævalle, multis miraculis coruſcans. Tondalus Hybernienſis miles raptus eſt in ecſtaſim, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, vel forte realiter defunctus eſt, & poſtea reſuſcitatus per reductionem animæ ad corpus Angelico miniſterio, & vidit viſiones mirabiles & horribiles. Hic quidem nobilis fuit genere, & egregius corpore, ſed de ſalute animæ ſuæ quaſi nullam habuit curam. Nam graviter ferebat, ſiquis aliquid de ſalute ſua dicere ſibi volebat. Eccleſiam Dei vitabat, pauperes videre non poterat, joculatoribus vero & vagis omnia diſtribuebat. Hic cum multos haberet amicos, ſpecialiter tamen unum præ omnibus habebat, cui pecuniam ſuam conceſſerat. Cumque ſtatutum tempus adveniſſet, in quo debitor ipſum perſolvere promiſerat, viſitavit ipſum Tondalus, ut moneret ipſum de facienda perſolutione. A quo amicabiliter receptus, manſit cum eo tribus diebus, in quibus negotium ſuum ſibi exponebat. Cui cum debitor reſponderet, quod pecuniam jam ad manum non haberet, unde ipſum perſolveret, iratus Tondalus recedere diſponebat. Debitor autem ipſum placare volens rogavit, ut, priusquam recederet, cibum cum eo ſumeret. Reſedit miles ad rogatum debitoris, & comedere cum eo cœpit. Cumque manum extendiſſet ad cibum ſubito percuſſus eſt infirmitate ita, ut manum retrahere ad ſe non poſſet. Invaleſcente autem morbo clamare cœpit terribiliter, moxque corruens, corpus ejus exanime factum eſt. Aſſunt omnia ſigna mortis, concurrit familia, tollitur cibus, lacrymantur amici, corpus extenditur, & involvitur linteo, pulſantur campanæ, parantur exequiæ, accurrit Clerus, miratur populus, totaque civitas boni militis morte turbatur. De quarta ergo feria usque ad Sabbatum ſic mortuus & inhumatus jacuit, eo quod in ſiniſtra parte pectoris diligenter palpantibus calor modicus videretur conſiſtere. Poſt hoc redeunte ſpiritu reſpirare cœpit, & cunctis audientibus dixit illud ex Pſalmis: Quantas oſtendiſti mihi Domine tribulationes, multas & malas, & converſus vivificaſti me, & de abyſſis terræ reduxiſti me. Cuncta ergo, quæ habuit, dedit pauperibus, & vitam mutare promittens, omnia, quæ viderat, ibidem narravit, dicens: Anima mea de corpore exiens, primo vidit infinitam multitudinem immundorum ſpirituum me circumdantem, & cantantem, quod anima mea cibus eſſet ignis inexſtingvibilis. Dixeruntque: Ecce miſera ad ſocios tuos, quos toto niſu quæſiviſti, cum quibus in æternum es arſura, nunc veniſti. Inter hæc vidit mea anima a longe ſtellam lucidiſſimam, & ſperare cœpit de ſalute. Erat autem Angelus Dei. Et appropinquans mihi dixit: Ave Tondale. Et reſpondi: O pater & Domine, adjuva me. Et dixit Angelus: Modo nominas me patrem & dominum, quem ſemper tecum habebas, & nunquam curaſti. Ego, poſtquam creata es, ſemper tecum fui, & nunquam conſiliis meis acquieviſti, ſpiritui vero nequam ſemper obediviſti. Miſericordia tamen Dei impræſentiarum tibi aderit, quam nunquam meruiſti. Sequere me, & quod videris, memoriter tene, quia ad corpus reverteris. Anima autem ſequebatur, & Angelus præceſſit. Ad vallem ergo terribilem venerunt, profundam, tenebroſam, ardoribus plenam, operculum ferreum ſpiſſitudinis ſex cubitorum ardentiſſimum & fœtidiſſimum habentem, ubi animæ miſeræ & tormentabantur, & ad tormenta nova iterum renovabantur. Poſt hoc venerunt ad montem maximum, horridiſſimum, & ſolitudine vaſtiſſimum, qui transeuntibus anguſtum valde præbebat iter. Ex una hibere reverentiam, & petitioni veſtræ de cætero proniores adeſſe. Sed quia nunc in procinctu ſumus itineris, & ordinatio veſtræ cauſæ prolixum tempus requirit. Damus interim vobis villam Butzowe, quam petiſtis, cum ſua pertinentia, ut ædificetis vobis domum in medio terræ veſtræ, & præſtolari poſſitis reditum noſtrum. Tunc enim propitio Deo diſponendis rebus veſtris propenſius inſtabimus. Rogavit etiam Epiſcopus Comitem Adolfum, ut huic donationi præberet conſenſum. Cui reſpondit Comes: Ex quo Dominus meus flexus eſt ad pietatem, decet nos voluntati ejus concurrere, & pro poſſe noſtro ei ſuffragari. Poſſeſſionem igitur, quam Dominus meus promiſit Epiſcopo, & ego permitto. Inſuper & cedo de medietate decimarum, ut cedant in uſus Epiſcopi non ex debito, ſed ex gratia, eo quod res Epiſcopales nondum ordinatæ ſint. Commiſit ergo, ſecundum Helmoldum, Dux Henricus cuſtodiam terræ Slavorum atque Nordalbingorum Adolfo Comiti, compoſitisque rebus in Saxonia, profectus eſt cum militia ſua, ut reciperet Ducatum Bavariæ. Porro Domina Clementia Duciſſa remanſit Luneburg, fuitque Comes clariſſimus in domo Ducis, & officioſus in obſequio Duciſſæ & conſilii. Quamobrem venerabantur eum Principes Slavorum, & maxime Reges Danorum, qui laborantes inteſtino bello, unus præ alio certabat ipſum prævenire muneribus. Lodowicus Rex Francorum reverſus de expeditione Ieroſolymitana cum uxore ſua Alienorde filia Comitis Pictavienſis, ſecundum Vincentium, eam repudiare diſpoſuit, eo quod multum incontinens eſſet, nec ſe ut Reginam, ſed quaſi meretricem haberet. Quod cum illa intellexiſſet, ab eo declinavit, & ad Henricum Ducem Nordmannorum ſe tranſtulit, qui ipſam iſt uxorem duxit. Propter quod factum inter ipſum & Regem diſcordia maxima orta eſt. Poſtea tamen Rex Henricum Ducem in gratiam recipiens, dimiſit ſibi uxorem. Hic Henricus Dux mox Stephano Rege Anglorum defuncto, Angliam intravit, & integritate Regni potitus, pacem antiquam reformavit, ac filios quatuor de prædicta Regina ſuſcepit, puta Henricum, Richardum, Johannem & Ganfredum. Tres autem primi ſibi in Regno ſucceſſerunt, quartus vero factus eſt Comes Britanniæ. Recepit etiam de eadem uxore quatuor filias, quarum unam dedit Regi Caſtellæ, unde orta fuit Blanka, Regina Franciæ. Alteram dedit Alexio Imperatori Conſtantinopolitano. Tertia nupſit Duci Saxoniæ, & quarta accepit Tholoſanum Comitem. Moabitæ & Sarraceni ingredientes Regnum Mauritanum, ſecundum Vincentium, ipſum igne & ferro vaſtaverunt, & Regem ipſorum patibulo affixerunt. Quo expedito, ultra progreſſi, Regnum Bulgarorum ſimiliter demoliti ſunt, Regem ipſorum ſuſpendentes. Intrantes vero Regnum Siciliæ, recepti ſunt ad pugnam, & victi per Regem Siciliæ, & de Regno expulſi, multis interfectis.

Quinto decimo anno Conradi, qui eſt Domini MCLIIII. Metis urbs Lotharingiæ cum Duce ſuo bellum gerens, ſecundum Wilhelmum, ſuccubuit. Et interfecti ſunt de civibus circiter duo milia, & multi in captivitatem ſunt ducti. Rogerius Rex Siciliæ utilis multum & ſtrenuus obiit, ſecundum Wilhelmum. Quod Robertus de Bothua, vir plenus omni malitia, intelligens, nepotis ſui caſtra ingreſſus doloſe, tyrannidem magnam exercere cœpit in terra. Qui etiam ſpiritu zelotypiæ ſuccenſus, quendam ſibi ſatis fidelem hominem cum alio viro & muliere intra domunculam comburendos juſſit concludi. Illi vero inſtar antiquorum trium puerorum, domo ardente, & flamma ſuper capita eorum in modum lucidæ nubis volitante, illæſi permanſerunt. Quos foras egreſſos cum denuo perſequeretur iniquus ille miniſter, cui nequam dominus hoc facinus injunxerat, & evaginato gladio unum ex eis ferire voluiſſet, repente quidam inviſibiliter retro ipſum per comam capitis apprehendit, & cum equo, cui inſidebat, ad terram eliſit. Ipſe autem ad Sanctum ſe iturum promittens, vix evaſit. Alii autem de igne erepti, vitam ſuam emendaverunt. Gratianus Monachus de Gluſa civitate provinciæ Tuſciæ natus, Decretum compoſuit, ſecundum Vincentium. Eodem anno Conradus Rex obiit ſine corona Imperiali, & ſepultus eſt in Babenberg.

De Frederico I. Imp. LXXXVIII.

Fredericus Primus, Dux Sveviæ, nepos Conradi prædeceſſoris ſui, cœpit anno mundi VMCXIII. Olympiadis CCCCLXXVII. anno primo, Urbis conditæ MDCCCCII. Domini vero MCLIIII. & XXXVI. annis imperavit. Iſte fuit ex Agnete ſorore Henrici V. quæ quidem genuit tres filios, puta Henricum, Fredericum & Conradum. Fuit autem iſte largus, ſtrenuus & in omnibus glorioſus. Habuit autem uxorem Beatricem de Burgundia, de qua genuit Henricum VI. qui ei ſucceſſit, qui & duxit Conſtantiam XL. anno Regis Siciliæ, Apuliæ & Calabriæ filiam, quæ anno ſuo XLI. eidem Henrico peperit Fredericum Secundum. Fredericus etiam iſte Primus genuit Fredericum Ducem Sweviæ & Conradum Ducem & Philippum, contra quem fuit electus Otto Quartus, Temporibus hujus Frederici fuit Adolfus Secundus Comes de Altona, qui genuit Fredericum, Everhardum & Brunonem. Fredericus factus eſt Colonienſis Archiepiſcopus, & cum Frederico Imperatore profectus eſt contra Mediolanum urbem, & obiit tandem in Papia, cujus oſſa relata ſunt ad partes ſuas, & in Bergne ſepulta. Ex Chronica Saxonum. Fuit autem Fredericus Primus filius Frederici fratris Conradi Regis. Siquidem Henricus Niger Dux Bawariæ ex Wulfilde uxore ſua genuit Henricum Catulum, qui duxit Gertrudem filiam Lotharii Imperatoris, & genuit ex ea Henricum Leonem. Qui ex patre obtinuit Ducatum Bawariæ & Saxoniæ, ex matre vero hæreditatem de Brunswic. Pater enim ejus fuit filius Henrici Nigri Ducis Bawariæ & Wulfildis filiæ Magni Ducis Saxoniæ. Unde pervenerunt ad eum Ducatus Bawariæ Saxoniæque. Mater autem ejus Gertrudis filia fuit Luderi ſive Lotharii Imperatoris, per quam venit ad eum Brunswic. Henricus etiam Catulus ex Gertrude genuit Juttam, quam duxit Fredericus frater Conradi Regis, & genuit ex ea Fredericum Primum Imperatorem. De hac ſtirpe erat Conradus Epiſcopus Conſtantienſis, qui canonizatus eſt.

Primo anno Frederici I. qui eſt Domini MCLV. venit Nyclotus Princeps Obotritorum, ſecundum Helmoldum, ad Dominam Clementiam Duciſſam in Luneburg, & conqueſtus eſt coram ea & amicis Ducis, quod Kicini & Circipani paulatim rebellare inciperent, & negarent tributa juxta morem ſolvere. Et deſtinatus eſt Adolfus Comes & populus Holtzatorum ac Sturmariorum, ut adjuvarent Nyclotum, & coërcerent rebellionem dictarum gentium. Abiit ergo Comes duobus milibus & amplius electorum, Nyclotus vero contraxit exercitum de Obotritis. Et abierunt pariter in terram Kycinorum & Circipanorum, & pervagati ſunt terram hoſtilem, omnia igne & gladio devaſtantes. Fanum quoque celeberrimum cum idolis & omni ſuperſtitione demoliti ſunt. Videntes autem indigenæ, quod non eſſent eis vires reſiſtendi, redemerunt ſe immenſa pecunia, & defectum vectigalium reintegraverunt. Tunc Nyclotus delectatus victoria, gratias Comiti retulit ampliſſimas. Ab ea ergo die firmatæ ſunt amicitiæ inter Comitem Adolfum & Nyclotum, habueruntque frequentius colloquium Lubekæ vel Travemundæ pro commodis utriusque terræ. Fuit autem pax in terra Wagirorum, & accepit per Dei gratiam novella plantatio continuum incrementum. Forum quoque Lubicenſe creſcebat per ſingulos dies, & multiplicabantur naves mercatorum ejus. Dominus quoque Vicelinus Epiſcopus incolere cœpit inſulam, quæ dicitur Bozoe, & habitavit ſub fago, quousque conſtruerent caſas, in quibus conſiſtere poſſent. Cœpit autem illic Eccleſiam ædificare in nomine Domini & in honorem B. Petri Apoſtoli. Porro utenſilia domus, & quæ ſufficerent pro procurandis aratris, providit Epiſcopus de Cuzelina & Faldera. Cum autem hæc in provincia Slavorum gererentur, Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ morabatur in Swevia, intentans Henrico vitrico ſuo bellum, ſed non valens. Henricus vero Dux & vitricus ejus poſuit cuſtodiam per omnem Sweviam, ne forte Dux Leo elaberetur. Quod intelligens Henricus Leo, fecit denunciari omnibus amicis ſuis tam liberis quam miniſterialibus, ut convenirent ad quandam urbem, acturi cum eo diem ſolennem; fecitque verbum hoc diffamari in auribus vulgi, & aſſumtis tribus viris fidiſſimis, veſpere quodam mutavit veſtem, & elapſus de caſtro, nocturnum aggreſſus eſt iter, & tranſiens medias hoſtium inſidias, quinto die apparuit in Brunſwic. Quo viſo lætati ſunt amici ejus, qui antea mœrore confecti fuerant ex rumoribus inſidiarium ſibi in Swevia paratarum. Evermodus Præpoſitus de Magdeburg, ſecundum Helmoldum, ordinatus eſt Epiſcopus Ratzeburgenſis, & dedit Henricus Comes Polaborum illi inſulam ad inhabitandum prope caſtrum, & CCC. manſos reſignavit Evermodo novo Epiſcopo in dotem Epiſcopii. Dictus ergo Epiſcopus ædificare cœpit habitationem in inſula prædicta, & factum eſt poſtea cœnobium Præmonſtratenſis Ordinis. Interfuit autem his rebus agendis Ludolfus Præpoſitus de Cuzilina, & dixit ad Comitem Polaborum, præſente Comite Adolfo: Quoniam Comes Polaborum benefacere cœpit erga Pontificem ſuum, decet, ut mihi Comes non faciat minorem partem ſuam. Ampliora enim de ipſo præſumenda ſunt, utpote de homine literato, habente ſcientiam rerum Deo placentium. Tunc Adolfus Comes Wagirorum ſecutus factum Comitis Polaborum, remiſit de beneficio ſuo CCC. manſos, qui omnes manſi tam Comitis Polaborum quam Comitis Wagirorum oblati ſunt per manus Henrici Leonis Ducis in dotem Aldenburgenſis & Ratzeburgenſis Eccleſiarum. Prœlia multa commiſſa ſunt in regno Danorum, ſecundum Helmoldum, ex eo quod tres eſſent illius Regni hæredes, puta Sweyn filius Erici Regis, Woldemarus filius Kanuti Regis, & Kanutus filius Magni Regis, de Regno Danorum litigantes. Miſerunt ergo hi tres nuncios ſuos ad Comitem Adolfum pro aſſiſtentia, ſed placuit Comiti Kanuto auxilium ferre, ſpretis cæteris. Propter quod zelo motus Sweyn, aſſumta manu armata, tranſivit in Wagirenſium Nordalbingorumque terras, & accendit Aldenburg, demolitusque eſt omnem terram maritimam. Et digreſſus inde, combuſſit ſuburbium Sigiberg, & quæcunque in circuitu erant, vaſtavit. Totius autem hujus mali impoſitor erat quidam Ethelerus de Dithmarcia natus, qui divitiis Danorum exaltatus, omnem fortem virum ſibi ſociaverat de Holtzatia, factusque Dux exercitus Regis Sweyn, volebat Adolfum Comitem provincia ſua pellere. Quod percipiens Adolfus Comes, miſit ad Kanutum, ſuggerens ei, ut veniret cum exercitu oppreſſurus Sweyn: ipſe enim vellet eſſe auxilio cum quatuor millibus bellatorum. Rex autem Sweyn protunc moram trahebat in Sleswic opido. Videns ergo Ethelerus Princeps exercitus Sweyn, quod reſiſtere non poſſet Kanuto, abiit ad ipſum in dolo, & data pecunia Principibus exercitus, ſeduxit adoleſcentiam Kanuti, ut rediret ad terram ſuam ignorante Adolfo Comite, & ut dimitteret exercitum. His ergo ad libitum ordinatis, rediit Ethelerus Sleswik mane pugnaturus cum Adolfo Comite, & ipſum percuſſurus repente. Eodem veſpere quidam familiaris Comiti Adolfo erat Sleswic, qui ſentiens doloſitatem, quæ adverſus Comitem parabatur, tranſiit cum feſtinatione locum, & veniens in caſtra Comitis, dixit: Deceptus es o Adolfe! Kanutus enim & ejus exercitus, in cujus auxilium tu veniſti, reverſus eſt in terram ſuam, fidem tenens more Danico, & tu ſolus hic jaces. Ecce venturus eſt cras mane Ethelerus, pugnaturus tecum cum multitudine maxima Danorum. Comes autem hæc audiens, turbatus valde receſſit a loco quan-quantocius, & vertit iter ſuum ad Egderam fluvium. Tanta enim feſtinantia præterlapſi ſunt ſui, ut Comite veniente ad Egderam flumen, de quatuor millibus armatorum vix CCCC. viris reperti ſint. Quos Comes exhortans ait: Licet fratres & amicos noſtros fugaverit caſſus timor, mihi tamen videtur utile hic ſubſiſtere propter cuſtodiam terræ noſtræ, quousque directis nunciis cognoſcamus, quid faciant inimici noſtri. Statimque miſit nuncios, qui veritatem perferrent de hoſtibus. Quibus revertentibus cum celeritate, & annunciantibus adventum inimicorum, Comes exhortans ſuos ad viriliter pugnandum, juramentis eos conſtringi fecit ad ſimul permanendum. Præcepit ergo Comes effringi pontem, & poſuit cuſtodiam in locis, in quibus permeabilis erat fluvius, nequis effugeret. Oratione denique facta ad Salvatorem omnium a communitate, venit nuncius, qui dixit, transduci per villam, quæ Stubbi dicitur. Ad quos feſtinavit Comes, ut pugnaret cum eis, poſtquam tranſiret univerſus exercitus. Statimque, ut congreſſi ſunt, Comes equo dejectus eſt, quem duo milites mox elevantes, equo reſtituunt. Et facta eſt pugna vehemens, & victoria viſa eſt utrique parti ambigua, quousque unus de exercitu Comitis clamaret, ut poplites equorum hoſtium fortiter cæderentur. Quod cum fieret, equis cadentibus, ſeſſores loricati pariter cadebant. Sicque cadens Ethelerus interfectus eſt, & cæteri nobiles occiſi ſunt & capti. Quod videns Rex Sweyn ex altera parte fluminis conſiſtens, fugam iniit, reverſus Sleswic inglorius. Comes vero reverſus ad propriam terram cum captivis multis ſatis pinguibus, Deo laudes retulit pro glorioſa victoria.

De Anaſtaſio IV. PP. CLXXVI.

Anaſtaſius Papa, natione Romanus ex patre Benedicto, ſedit anno uno & menſibus V. ſecundum Martinum. Iſte fecit ad Sanctam Mariam Rotundam novum palatium. Dedit etiam Eccleſiæ Lateranenſi calicem pulcrum penſantem XX. marcas argenti puri. S. Bernhardus Abbas Claræ vallenſis, ſecundum Egghardum, poſt actus claros & multarum animarum lucra copioſa quievit in Domino Jeſu, Doctor Eccleſiæ egregius, melliſluus & devotus. Luderus Rex Ieroſolymitanus, ſecundum Vincentium, Regni integritate potitus, Aſcalonem Palæſtinæ urbem obſeſſam diu tandem cepit, non ſine gravi dolore & damno ac profligatione multa ſuorum. Fertur autem, quod tamen plures ex militibus templi. qui civitatem ſe poſſe capere putabant, ingreſſi, & mox a Paganis truncati fuiſſent. Cæteri obſeſſores Chriſtiani ante crucem Domini ſe proſtraverunt, & mox exaudiri meruerunt. Nam urbani divina virtute exterriti, urbem Chriſtianis tradiderunt ſub illa conditione, ut cum ſuis rebus & familiis abire poſſent illæſi. Quod eis conceſſum eſt liberaliter.

Secundo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLVI. Ædificatæ ſunt plures Eccleſiæ terræ Nordalbingorum, ſecundum Helmoldum, puta Zuſele, Luttikenburg & Radekowe. Comes quoque Adolfus reſtauravit caſtrum Plunenſe, & urbem reformavit a Slavis deſtructam. Fredericus Rex curiam ſuam pronunciari fecit Martispolin civitatem Saxoniæ, & mandavit Principes univerſos ſolenniter adeſſe. Curiam autem hanc ideo celebrare voluit, ut Henricum Leonem Ducem Saxoniæ & Adelbertum Marchionem de Soltwedele componeret, qui propter mortem cujusdam Hermanni pecunioſi interfecti in caſtro Witeburg diſcordabant; inſuper etiam propter Regem Danorum diſſenſionem removendam. Miſſa ergo legatione, Reges Danorum tumulantes evocavit. Tunc Kanutus venit ad Henricum Ducem Saxoniæ, rogans, ut ejus conductu curia Regis Romanorum potiri valeret. Porro Hartwicus Bremenſis Archiepiſcopus conduxit Regem Sweyn, habens inter multos Religioſos Dominum Vicelinum Aldenburgenſem Epiſcopum in ſuo comitatu. In hac ergo curia apud Martipolim celebrata, quæ nunc Magdeburg nuncupatur, Principes Danorum pacati ſunt, Sweyn in Regem dato & coronato, cæteris ejus dominio ſubjectis. Diſſenſio vero, quæ erat inter Henricum Ducem & Adelbertum Marchionem, ſedari non potuit, eo quod Principes elati Regis recentis monita parvipenderent.

De Adriano IIII. PP. CLXXVII.

Adrianus Papa natione Anglicus ex patre Wilhelmo, ſedet annis IV. & menſibus V. ſecundum Martinum. Hic prius extitit Epiſcopus Albanenſis, & Apoſtolus Norwejæ, & dicitur fuiſſe primus Papa, qui in urbe veteri cum ſua curia moram traxerit. Ipſe etiam propter vulnerationem unius Cardinalis totam urbem usque ad condignam ſatisfactionem Eccleſiaſtico ſuppoſuit interdicto. Regem etiam Siciliæ Wilhelmum Eccleſiæ rebellem excommunicavit, qui poſtea abſolutus, Domino Papæ homagium faciens, Regnum ſuum ab ipſo ſuſcepit pariter & coronam.

Tertio anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLVII. Adelbertus Marchio de Soltwedel, ſecundum Egghardum, expugnavit Brandenburg, pellens inde Slavos & ſuos in urbem illam locans, & mutato nomine in poſterum ſe ſcripſit Marchionem de Brandenburg. Videns Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ, quod, ſecundum Helmoldum, Lubicana civitas ditaretur & augmentaretur & frequentia mercatorum, dixit ad Adolfum Comitem Wagirorum, qui ipſam reſtauraverat: Perlatum eſt ad nos jamdudum, quod urbs noſtra Bardewic magnam civium diminutionem patiatur propter civitatis veſtræ Lubicenſis forum, eo quod mercatores omnes ad ipſam commigrent. Idem quoque conqueruntur, qui ſunt Luneburg, quod Suetia noſtra deteriorata ſit multum propter Sultiam veſtram, quam Todeslo habere cœpiſtis Rogamus ergo vos, ut detis nobis medietatem civitatis veſtræ Lubicenſis, & medietatem Sultiæ veſtræ Todeslo: ſicque poterimus tolerabilibus ferre deſolationem urbis noſtræ Bardewicenſis & Sultiæ noſtræ Luneburg, alioquin præcipiemus, ne de cætero Habebat autem Dux Henricus Duo Abbates propinquos, alterum ad Abbatiam religionis in loco, qui Reidenhudenhuf dicitur, fed curæ Ducis ad regendum hæreditas competit quam alterum Abbatiam Virginum Reidenhuf. pter Imperiale faſtigium Romam venientem decet venire in curru aureo purpuratum, agentem præ curribus ſuis tyrannos bello ſubactos. Et quia Roma mater eſt Imperii, ideo oportet ipſum dare ſenatui, quæ edictis Imperatorum præfixa ſunt, puta XVM. librarum argenti puri, ut per hæc ſuſcitentur animi ſenatorum ad benevolentiam, & ſic ei exhibeant honorem Imperialem & triumphalem. Et quem electio Principum fecit Regem, autoritas ſenatus perficiat Cæſarem. Tunc Rex ſubridens ait: Grata eſt promiſſio, ſed nimis cara executio. Magna poſtulatis o viri Romani. Puto, quod occaſiones quæritis adverſum nos, imponendo nobis prius inaudita. Conſultius vero ageretis, ſi his omiſſis, amicitiæ noſtræ potius quam armorum caperetis experimenta. At illi pertinacius inſtabant, dicentes: Jura civitatis nullatenus ſunt irritanda, & gerendus eſt mos ſenatorum: alias ſeris ſuis portæ civitatis ſunt claudendæ ad tuum introitum. His auditis, Rex miſſa legatione per honorabiles Epiſcopos, accerſivit Dominum Adrianum Papam in caſtra propter participationem conſilii ſui. Romani denique Papam in multis offenderant, & ideo ad Regem libenter venire, ut contra Romanos querelas proponeret, ſatagebat. Veniente ergo Papa in caſtra, Rex feſtinus occurrit, & deſidenti de mulo tenuit ſtrepam, & duxit ipſum per manum in tentorium. Facto autem ſilentio, locutus eſt Dominus Epiſcopus Babenbergenſis verbum ex ore Regis & Principum, dicens: Honorabilem ſanctitatis tuæ præſentiam Apoſtolice Pontifex, ſicut jam dudum ſitienter deſideravimus, ita & nunc lætanter ſuſcipimus, gratias agentes bonorum omnium largitori Deo, qui nos deduxit incolumes in hunc locum. Notum ergo tibi eſſe cupimus, Pater Reverentiſſime, quod omnis hæc Eccleſia de finibus orbis propter honorem regni collecta, adduxit Principem ſuum ad tuam beatitudinem promovendum ad culmen Imperialis honoris, virum utique nobilitate generis conſpicuum, victoriis felicem, pacis amatorem, juſtitiæ zelatorem, & ſuper omnia Sanctæ Romanæ Eccleſiæ filium & defenſorem, & nihil negligere volentem, quod ad honorem Dei & Apoſtolorum Principis exhibendum majorum jubet traditio. Reſtat ergo ſanctiſſime pater, ut & tu circa eum peragas ea, quæ tua ſunt, ut ea, quæ de plenitudine culminis Imperialis ei deſunt, per Dei gratiam tuo opere ſuppleantur. Ad hæc Dominus Papa reſpondit: Verba ſunt frater, quæ loqueris. Dicis, Principem tuum condignam B. Petro exhibuiſſe reverentiam, ſed videtur B. Petrus magis inhonoratus eſſe ab eo. Nam eum dextram debuiſſet tenuiſſe ſtrepam, tenuit ſiniſtram. Hæc cum per interpretem Regi dicta fuiſſent, ipſe humiliter ait: Dicite ei, quod defectus hic non fuit indevotionis, ſed inſcitiæ. Non enim tenendis ſtrepis magnopere ſtudium dedi. Ipſe namque mihi primus eſt, cui tale obſequium impendi. Cui Papa reſpondit: Si, quod facilimum fuit, per ignorantiam neglexit, qualiter, putatis, expediet maxima. Tunc Rex aliqualiter motus ait: Vellem melius inſtrui, unde mos iſte inoleverit, ex benevolentia, an ex debito? Si ex benivolentia, nihil cauſari habet Dominus Papa, ſi vacillaverit obſequium, quod de arbitrio, & non de jure ſubſiſtit. Si vero ex debito inſtitutionis hæc reverentia debeatur Principi Apoſtolorum, quid, rogo, refert inter dextram & ſiniſtram ſtrepam, niſi ut ſervetur humilitas, & curvetur Princeps ad pedes ſummi Pontificis. Diu acriterque diſputatum eſt, ſed poſtremo receſſerunt ab invicem ſine oſculo pacis. Timentes ergo hi, qui columnæ Regni eſſe videbantur, ne forte rebus inactis fruſtra laborasſent, multa perſvaſione vicerunt cor Regis, ut Dominum Papam revocaret in caſtra. Quem redeuntem Rex recepit integrato officio. Omnibus autem exhilaratis dixit Papa: Adhuc ſupereſt unum, quod debet facere Princeps veſter. Acquirat B. Petro Apuliam, quam Wilhelmus Siculus per vim poſſidet. Quo facto, veniat ad nos coronandus. Reſponderunt Principes, dicentes: Diu eſt, ex quo fuimus in caſtris, & deſunt nobis ſtipendia, & tu dicis tibi Apuliam acquiri, & ſic demum ad conſecrationem venire. Dura ſunt hæc, & ſuper vires noſtras. Impleatur opus conſecrationis, ut pateat nobis reditus patriæ, reſpiremusque paululum de labore, & poſtea redibimus expediti, expleturi, quod faciendum reſtat. Moderante ergo Deo, ſub quo curvantur, qui orbem portant, ceſſit Apoſtolicus, & aſſenſit poſtulationi Principum, factaque concordia aſſederunt in conſilio, acturi de introitu urbis & cavendis inſidiis Romanorum. Cum hæc ſic agerentur Romæ, ut dictum eſt, interim Geroldus electus Aldenburgenſis ex promotione Clementiæ Duciſſæ abiit in Saxoniam, de Luneburg egreſſus, & veniens Martipolim, ubi tunc Hartwicus Archiepiſcopus Hammeburgenſis & Bremenſis reſidebat, ut ab eo conſecrationis beneficium perciperet. Archiepiſcopus vero quendam Præpoſitum bene erga ſe meritum hoc honore remunerare decreverat, & ideo adventum Domini Geroldi electi audiens, turbatus eſt animo, cœpitque velle caſſare electionem factam, prætendens Eccleſiæ immaturitatem, & eam perſonis adhuc vacuam ſine ſui permiſſione nec eligere nec decernere quicquam poſſe. At Geroldus cum ſuis obtendere cœpit, ratum eſſe opus electionis, quam feciſſet poſtulatio Principis, concordia Cleri & aptitudo perſonæ. Ad quod Archiepiſcopus: Non eſt, inquit, hujus temporis vel loci talium explanatio. Expediam hanc cauſam, cum rediero ad Bremenſe Capitulum. Videns autem Electus Hartwicum Archiepiſcopum adverſantem ſibi, remiſit Ludolfum Præpoſitum & eos, qui cum eo venerant, in Wagiram, ipſe vero abiit in Lombardiam & Italiam ad Henricum Ducem. Ad quem cum veniſſet, benigne ab eo ſuſceptus eſt. Et ducens ipſum ad præſentiam Domini Papæ, ait: Rogo vos, Beatiſſime Pater, ut hunc Electum Aldenburgenſem, quem Archiepiſcopus Bremenſis conſecrare recuſat, dignemini benedicere, & ſibi conſecrationis beneficium impendere. Ad eles ingenita crudelitas, ubi in conuiuio fidit, & videt Regem & conuiuas impudicior, capit cogitandi bellis. Inuitantes Sweyn, ubi fuit gladii, & inilitarem in Regno perfederunt Kanutum. Sed ut periculo vitaret illum in parte Woldemari, ille fortius exiliunt, exuftis lumen, & falvatum Dux, in confederandi, non tantum vultare fuccus. Fugiens ergo in Fionia, comes conuertitur Danum. Tunc Sweyn contrait exercitus de Slandia & de Infulis multis, & transferunt in Jutiam, ut expugnare Waldemarum. Kanutus Waldemarus, ortus, ortus erat in manu vallis. Et commiffi fimul gratiam ante Sweyn, & Kanutus Ecclesiis eft Sweyn in die, & comes amici duo pacis. Et Waldemarus ultra Regnum Danorum. Gerolduc Admbergensis Episcopus Lubecensium conuentum Sweyn, & Kanutus ad forum Lubecanum, in die quidam Dominica, quadam Hieronymus Presbyter, non exhortatur un pro ipius conuertione integra ad Regnum propofuit populo, in Danum unum colorem, quin in cunis eft. Ad quem Sweyn ipse, non tantum ut operes probus malignia, dignes dominus & in mente Ecclesiae Lubecensis Episcopus Admbergensis ad ius tacendus. Principatus Regnus Slauorum Sweyn ad Pontificis, & Ecclesiae Dei fidem nutrire congrua. Sed quamvis ingressus Regnum viam hanc, virtute ut Pontificis pene etiam nobis mira leuerius gratiarum in eos, pro propter vitiis & Ecclesiae Dei Pontificis mors quam vita. Ad quem Episcopus Ecclesiae Principes ipse habemus sibi fient gente vellra, non eft miraculum, ut ipse arbitrantur Principes vellri pecorare in illa hoc Ecclesiae Dei Pontificis, & non vita vel Dei. Quo habito verbo illis Gerolduc Episcopus ad Rovenciam Danum propter colloquium pacis gratia, & habitum erat Erici Regnum, & occasi veniret ut illae Regni Sweyn. Ad quem Sweyn, & Kanutus Episcopus Dux habuit veniam ad Slavos de Chriftianis. Et Sweyn Kanutus Dux Regnum Danorum ait. Sit Deus, qui in cuiis eft, Deus tuus: eft Deus Christianorum. Et corruptus eum Dux de verbo blasphemiae. De proximis vero Episcopum & Ecclesiarum ecclesiae, ne nihil amplius ea tempore telum eft, ea quod Dux noluere de Italia redeant, tonus quibus & excalceat dedimus eft. Omnes autem qui manis eras & vacua. Tunc quid ex impatientis motus Episcopus dixit Dux: Ecce, ius curium vellrum longe tempore fecimus, & fi fuli vobis non eft. provocatis Dux, accerſivit Comitem Adolfum, & habuit cum eo rationem de CCC. manſis, qui oblati fuerant in dotem Epiſcopii. Tunc deſignavit Comes Epiſcopo in poſſeſſionem Utyne, id eſt Oytin opidum & Gamale cum appendiciis eorum. Et tunc Epiſcopus cœpit ædificare civitatem Utyne, & inſtituit ibidem Eccleſiam collegiatam. Viſæ ſunt in cœlo de nocte tres lunæ, ſecundum Egghardum, ſociatæ, in quarum media apparuit ſignum crucis. De mane vero apparuerunt tres ſoles, quorum duo ſucceſſive diſparentes redacti ſunt in unum ſolem. Geroldus Epiſcopus Aldenburgenſis volens placare Archiepiſcopum Hartwicum de offenſione, quam circa ipſum incurrit ex eo, quod contra ſuum beneplacitum conſecratus fuit Epiſcopus, & tranſiens Albiam, ſecundum Helmoldum, venit in opidum Staden, & ibidem Archiepiſcopum invenit. Cumque ob faſtum elationis Dominus Hartwicus Geroldo Epiſcopo diutius protraheret præſentiæ ſuæ acceſſum, eſſetque difficilis ad recipiendum ipſum, dixit Epiſcopus ad Abbatem de Redtlegeshuſen ad eos, qui cum eo venerant: Quid hic reſidemus fratres? Eamus videre faciem hominis. Et nil trepidans, ingreſſus eſt ad Archiepiſcopum, accepitque oſculum ſine verbo ſalutationis. Ad quem ait Geroldus Epiſcopus: Mihi cur non loquimini? Quid peccavi, ut non merear ſalutari? Demus, ſi placet, arbitros, qui judicent inter nos. Veni, ut ſcitis, Martipolim: poſtulavi benedictionem, & renuiſtis. Neceſſitate ergo compulſus abii Romam, impetraturus a Sede Apoſtolica, quæ mihi a vobis ſunt injuſte denegata. Juſtior ergo mihi eſt iraſcendi ratio, qui mihi oneroſam itineris hujus impoſuiſtis neceſſitatem. Ad quem Archiepiſcopus, quæ, inquit, tam inevitabilis cauſa vos propulit Romam ad ſubeundum viæ laborem & expenſas ſumtuum? An quia in longinquo poſitus, poſtulationem veſtram ad faciem Eccleſiæ noſtræ diſtuli? Diſtuliſtis, ait, Geroldus velut infirmaturus cauſam noſtram. Hoc enim, ut verum fateamur, verbis apertius proſecutus eſtis. Sed gloria Deo, qui perfecit nos in miniſterio ſuo, laborioſa quidem ſed grata aſſecutione. Tunc Archiepiſcopus, Apoſtolica, inquit, Sedes poteſtate ſua, cui certe obniti non poſſumus, uſa eſt in conſecratione veſtri, quæ ad nos de jure ſpectabat. Sed huic injuriæ rurſus providit remedium, deſignando nobis per literas, nihil in hoc facto autoritati noſtræ de veſtra ſubjectione ſubtractum. Reſpondit Geroldus Epiſcopus: Scio quidem, nec diffiteor hoc ita eſſe, ut dicitis, & ob hoc ipſum veni, ut exhibeam me in his, quæ digna ſunt vobis, ut ſopiantur diſcordiæ. & inſtaurentur ea, quæ pacis ſunt. Juſtum quoque arbitror, ut nobis provideatis ſuſtentationis adminiculum, cum militantibus juſta debeantur ſtipendia. Et his dictis, ſtatuerunt ad invicem amicitias, promittentes alterutrum in neceſſitatibus opem vicariam. Adrianus Papa obiit, & facta eſt in Eccleſia Romana maxima turbatio, ſecundum Vincentium. Nam Cardinales ab invicem diviſi, duos elegerunt Romanos Pontifices, puta Rolandum Cancellarium & Octavianum, gravi ſchiſmate Eccleſiam dirumpentes. Unde Principes & Proceres diverſarum regionum turbati, quidam uni, & quidam alteri adhæſerunt. Imperator vero Romanorum Octavianum, qui ſe Victorem nominavit, ſuſcepit, licet Reges Franciæ ac Angliæ & Henricus Dux Saxoniæ Rolando, qui ſe Alexandrum nuncupavit, faverent.

De Alexandro III. PP. CLXXVIII.

Alexander Papa natione Tuſcus ex patre Ranucio, ſedit annis XXII. & menſibus ſex, ſecundum Martinum. Iſte pro primo Papatum renuit, & conſuluit eligi Octavianum, hominem ſenem & reverendum, Imperatoris cognatum, ſed ambo conſecrati ſunt. Alexander vero inſtigatus per amicos ægre ferentes electionem Victoris, tandem conſenſit, & aſtutiam quandam excogitans, dixit: Svadeamus Victori, ut Imperatorem excommunicet pro eo, quod uxorem ſuam reliquerit. Quod ſi fecerit, ab Imperatore propter invidiam deponetur: ſin autem, habebimus occaſionem deponendi eum. Quod ſic factum eſt. Nam cum Victor nollet eorum conſiliis acquieſcere, tunc fuit ipſe deſtitutus, & Alexander fuit de novo electus. Sed Imperator audiens diſſenſionem Paparum, curiam ſuam poſuit in Papia ad concordandum ipſos, ubi congregati Epiſcopi & Abbates multi, cognita cauſa, Alexandrum condemnaverunt, & Victorem confirmaverunt. Et inde ſchiſma & ſcandalum in Eccleſia quaſi XX. annis pullulavit. Alexander autem in Galliis recipitur, & Victor in Lombardia & Alemannia nutriebatur. Hic Alexander ſtatuit, ut nullus Sanctus veneretur, niſi autoritate Apoſtolica ſit canonizatus. Iſte S. Bernhardum canonizavit. Hic etiam Alexander vicit IIII. Schismaticos, puta Octavianum, qui ſe nominavit Victorem, Gvidonem, qui ſe Paſchalem appellavit, Johannem qui ſe Kalixtum dixit, & Alandonem, qui ſe Innocentium vocavit. Quorum tres fuerunt Presbyteri Cardinales, qui per Alexandrum excommunicati, omnes mala morte perierunt. Hic Papa Fredericum Imperatorem, qui dictos ſchiſmaticos manutenebat ſucceſſive, ad concordiam Eccleſiæ adjutorio tamen Ducis Venetiarum revocavit. Duo concilia, unum Thuronis & aliud Romæ celebravit. Sub ejus temporibus terræmotus magni fuerunt per loca, ita quod civitas Antiochena & Tripolis ceciderunt, Damaſcus cum multis aliis civitatibus ſubverſa eſt, ſecundum Vincentium. Tunc quoque Catinenſis civitas penitus eſt everſa, & plus quam XXM. hominum mortui ſunt, & mare ad VM. hominum in Sicilia ſubmerſit. Hujus tempore Mediolanum, Cremona & Placentia contra Papiam unam civitatem conſtruxerunt, quam, ut famoſior fieret, ab Alexandro Papa Alexandriam nominaverunt. Qui Papa poſt ad petitionem Lombardorum dedit eis Epiſcopum. Papienſem vero Epiſcopum crucis & pallii dignitate privavit, eo quod Frederico Im-

Septimo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXI. Cives Moguntinenſes Archiepiſcopum ſuum in Eccleſia, S. Jacobi crudeliter occiderunt, ſecundum Vincentium, in die S. Johannis Baptiſtæ. Rex Alapiæ, ſecundum Egghardum, Ediſſam civitatem, quæ in Geneſi Arath nominatur, expugnavit & cepit, Francosque ibi captos aut morte aut ſervitute damnavit. Archiepiſcopum vero civitatis quaſi ducem gregis cum omni Clero, qui Chriſtum noluerunt abnegare, in media urbe coram ſe decollari præcepit. Sic ergo Ediſſa civitas, quæ ab Abagaro Rege ipſius orthodoxo, cui Chriſtus ante paſſionem ſuam, ſicut in Eccleſiaſtica legitur Hiſtoria, ſcripſit Epiſtolam, & deinde per Apoſtolum Thomam Chriſto dedicata fuerat, tunc primum a gentibus profanatur & poſſidetur, novorum Martyrum ſanguine purpurata. Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ & Weſtphaliæ, ſecundum Helmoldum, gentem Slavorum ſibi rebellare nitentem hoſtiliter invadere paravit. Epiſcopos vero in Slavia locavit, puta Evermodum in Ratzeburg & Brunonem in Mykelenburg. Videns autem Geroldus, urbem Lubicenſem valde ditari, & Aldenburg depauperari, rogavit Henricum Ducem Saxoniæ, ut ſedes cathedralis, quæ huc usque fuerat in Aldenburg, transferretur Lubeke, eo quod civitas hæc eſſet populoſior, & locus munitior, & omni prorſus aptitudine commodior. Quod cum placuiſſet Duci, conſtituerunt diem, quo Prælati venirent Lubeke, ordinaturi de ſtatu Eccleſiæ & Epiſcopatus. Et deſignavit Dux locum, in quo ædificari deberet Oratorium in titulum Matricis Eccleſiæ, & areas clauſtrales deſignans, conſtituit illic præbendas XII. Clericorum canonice viventium. Tertia decima vero præbenda Præpoſiti eſſe deberet. Et dedit Geroldus Epiſcopus in ſtipendia Fratrum decimas quasdam, & tantum de ſuis reditibus, quos ſolvit Slavia, quantum pro præbendis ſufficere poſſet perficiendis. Et reſignavit Comes Adolfus villas oportunas prope Lubeke, quas ſtatim Dux obtulit in uſus Fratrum. De telonio vero aſſignavit cuilibet Fratrum duas marcas Lubicenſis monetæ. Inſuper & alia pluria privilegia contulit, quæ in Lubicenſi Eccleſia continentur. Poſuitque illic Præpoſitum Dominum Ethelonem, cujus memoriam faciemus inferius cum laude propter opera ipſius virtuoſa. Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ evocatus per Frederi-cum Imperatorem in expeditionem contra Mediolanenſes, ſecundum Helmoldum, terræ ſuæ prudenter providit. Nam miſſis nunciis, vocavit Woldemarum Regem Danorum ad colloquium, & junxit cum eo amicitias. Et rogavit Rex Ducem, ut ordinaret ſibi pacem de Slavis, qui ſine intermiſſione infeſtabant Regnum ſuum. Quamobrem præcepit Dux Slavos ad præſentiam ejus venire, puta Nyclotum, Pribizlaum & cæteros, ac aſtrinxit eos præcepto & juramento, ut ſervarent pacem cum Danis & Saxonibus usque ad redituum ſuum. In hunc modum rebus ordinatis, Dux profectus eſt in Lombardiam cum Adolfo Comite de Schowenborg & Nordalbingiæ, & venit ad exercitum Cæſaris, cum quo Mediolanum impugnabat. Ubi venit ad Fredericum Victor Papa electus contra Alexandrum in caſtra. Adunato ergo conſilio, receperunt eum Reynoldus Colonienſis & Conradus Moguntini Archiepiſcopi, & omnes, quos Imperialis aut timor aut favor agebat. Porro Alexandrum recepit Ieroſolymitana Eccleſia & Antiochia, præterea omnis Francia, Anglia, Hiſpania, Dania & omnia regna, quæ ſunt ubique terrarum; inſuper Ciſtertienſis Ordo eidem univerſus acceſſerat, in quo ſunt Archiepiſcopi & Epiſcopi quam plures & Abbates amplius quam DCC. ac Monachorum inæſtimabilis numerus. Quamobrem iratus Cæſar propoſuit Edictum, ut omnes Monachi Ciſtertienſis Ordinis, qui in ſuo conſiſterent Regno, aut Victori ſe ſubſcriberent, aut Regno pellerentur. Qua ſententia divulgata, difficile eſt dicere, quot patres, quanti Monachorum greges, relictis ſedibus ſuis, in Franciam tranſugerint. Pontifices etiam plures ſanctitate inſignes in Lombardia & in univerſo Regno Principis violentia ſedibus ſuis pulſi ſunt, & alii in locum eorum ſubſtituti. Cum autem Dux Saxoniæ Henricus cum Frederico Imperatore ultra annum in expugnatione urbis Mediolanenſis laboraſſet, accepta licentia a Cæſare, reverſus eſt in Saxoniam. Slavi vero de Aldenburg & Mykelenburg compotes ſui propter abſentiam Principum violaverunt pacem in terra Danorum, fuitque terra Nordalbingorum in tremore a facie Regis Danorum. At Geroldus Epiſcopus tum per ſe tum per nuncios iram Regis mitigare ſtuduit, induciis tempus redimens usque ad Ducis adventum. Redeunte ergo Duce & Comite, præfixum eſt colloquium provinciale omnibus Marchomannis, Teuthonicis & Slavis in loco, qui dicitur Berenworde. Rex quoque Woldemarus venit usque Erthenburg, & conqueſtus eſt Duci omnia mala, quæ intulerant ſibi Slavi, prævaricatores mandati publici. Et timuerunt Slavi venire in præſentiam Ducis, eo quod culpæ ſuæ eſſent conſcii. Et dedit eos Dux in proſcriptionem, & fecit omnes ſuos paratos eſſe ad expeditionem. Tunc Nyclotus videns animum Ducis contra ſe fixum in malum, propoſuit primum irrumpere Lubeke, & miſit illuc filios ſuos cum inſidiis. Eo autem tempore habitavit Lubekæ Sacerdos quidam venerabilis nomine Atthelo, cujus domus vicina erat ponti, qui pertranſivit flumen Wokenize verſus auſtrum. Is forte parari fecerat foſſam longiſſimam ad conducendum rivum, qui longiuſcule. Inſidiæ ergo Slavorum feſtinantes, ut præriperent pontem, impeditæ ſunt foſſa, paſſique ſunt errorem in quærendo tranſitu. Quos videntes hi qui erant de domo Sacerdotis, clamaverunt voce valida, & conterritus Sacerdos occurrit velociter ex adverſo. Exercitus enim jam erat in pontis medio, & portam pene apprehenderat. Sed celerrime miſſus a Deo Sacerdos, pontem de catena levavit, vit, & fe inimicos excluſit. Quo audito, Dux ille pulſus cultodium miſerum. Excitat iterum Vrſus terram Slavorum in tumultum, & vi-vehit eum ipſe & gladio. Et videns Noſtrum virtutem Ducis, fecit eum comes caſtrilla, pa-triam Vrſus Mediamburg, Zwerin & Dobin, prae-ter par hac inhabitans, periculum, & unum Ca-ſtellum ſibi retinuit. Et Wurslo ſuum pro-pe ſuum Wyrenwo reddit terram Slavorum. Illi erebant per ſingulos dies, & explorabant exer-citum Ducis, & nunciabant ei omnia, quae ſen-ſerunt. Unde quidam dum exercitus morare-tur juxta Mylenberg, egreſſi ſunt a domo-dum ſibi placebat. Primum de Wiſmaria, & parcellarius totaſſet de caſtris, qui exierant aſſe tumultuabant. Quod audiens exercitus exercitum, comprehenderunt multos eorum, in-cepit Dux eos ſuſpendere aſſes. Quod videns Wyslaus, amiſſis ſuis & viris melioribus, vene-runt ad Wyrenwo. Quibus ille Wyrenwo, dum-modo vitas concederet, fed vita multum ſuſpe-ctaeſſe dixit. Et ſuper ergo jubilavit, & ſuos in-trare, & forte manus promovere poſſint. Et ita cum melioribus nomen, & collocandi-dum ſibi non poſſe procedere. Tunc exer-ſe parte de caſtris ad querendum pabulum, & venerunt prope caſtra. Porro quidam vene-runt incenſum ferra fere LX. omnes indutis lanceis & bonis armaturis. Quod videns Wyslaus, equo velocifimo petitus eſſimus eos circumvenit, quorum quidam ſuos ſuos ancipitum ad ſuos, ſuos, ſuos, ex abundanti nemore ligna conduci, atque aptari bellica inſtrumenta, qualia viderat facta in Lombardia, fecitque machinas efficaciſſimas, unam tabulatis compactam ad perfringendos muros, alteram vero excelſiorem & in modum turris erectam & ſuper exaltatam caſtro, ad dirigendas ſagittas, & ad abigendos eos, qui ſtabant in propugnaculis. A die, qua erecta eſt fabrica, nemo Slavorum auſus eſt proferre caput, aut apparere de propugnaculis. Eo tempore Wirtizlaus graviter vulneratus eſt ſagitta. Quadam vero die perlatum eſt ad Ducem, quod Pribizlaus cum turma equitum apparuerit non longe a caſtris. Ad quem requirendum transmiſit Adolfum Comitem cum electa juvenum manu. Qui tota die paludes & nemora oberrantes tranſierunt, ſed neminem invenerunt, deluſi a ductore, qui majorem hoſti quam Duci favorem accommodaverat. Præcepit autem Dux pabulatoribus, ne quoquam exirent eo die, ne forte hoſtem inciderent. At Holtzatorum quidam fuerunt ita cervicoſi, ut non curarent de mandato, ſed egreſſi ſunt ad frumentandum. Quibus ſuperveniens Pribizlaus, & ſuper incautos irruens, proſtravit ex eis ad centum viros. Reliqui vero fugerunt in caſtra. Quapropter Dux ira acrius motus, ferventius urgebat obſidionem. Jamque munimenta caſtri cœperunt trepidare. Tunc Wirtizlaus omni ſpe depoſita, accepto conductu venit ad caſtra ad Comitem Adolfum, ut acciperet ab eo conſilium. Cui reſpondit Comes: Sera quidem medicinæ conſultatio eſt, quando æger deſperatus eſt. Pericula nunc imminentia debuiſſent ante fuiſſe præviſa. Quis quæſo tibi conſilium dedit, ut obſidionis periculum incurreres? Magnæ fuit amentiæ ponere in nervo pedem, ubi non ſit diverticulum vel nulla evaſionis facultas. Nil ergo niſi deditio: ſiquid poteſt eſſe, ſalutis poteſt eſſe compendium. Et ait Wirtizlaus: Fac pro nobis verbum apud Ducem, ut ſine periculo vitæ & membrorum damno admittamur deditioni. Tunc Comes perrexit ad Ducem, & alloquens eos, in quibus pendebant conſilia, manifeſtavit eis negotium. At illi tentata voluntate Principis, dederunt manus, ut quicunque Slavorum ſe daret in poteſtatem Ducis, membris & vita potiretur, ſub ea tamen conditione, ut & Pribizlaus ab armis diſcederet. Tunc conductu clariſſimi Comitis exierunt de munitione Wirtizlaus & omnes Nobiles Slavorum, & venerunt ad pedes Ducis. Et ſuſcepit eos Dux, & reclauſit in cuſtodia. Præcepit ergo Dux, ut quicunque Danorum captivi haberentur in caſtro, potirentur libertate. Et exiit multitudo maxima, imprecantes Duci fortiſſimo bona pro ſua ereptione. Porro caſtrum & vulgus ignobile fecit ſervari, & præpoſuit eis Ludemarum quendam veteranum fratrem Nycloti, ut præeſſet terræ, & faceret ea, quæ ſubjectos decent. Wirtizlaum vero Slavorum Regulum duxit ſecum in Brunswic, & aſtrinxit eum manicis ferreis. Cæteros vero Nobiles diſpertivit per cuſtodias, quousque ſolverent noviſſimum quadrantem. His ita geſtis, humiliatæ ſunt vires Slavorum, & recognoverunt, quod leo fortiſſimus beſtiarum ad nullius pavebit occurſum. Pribizlaus ergo, qui erat ſenior natu & acris ingenii, cupiens fratri captivo ſubvenire, cœpit per nunciorum manus attentare Principis animum, & rogare ea, quæ pacis ſunt. Cumque Dux requireret obſides, ut firma eſſet ſponſionum fides, ait Pribizlaus: Quid opus eſt Domino meo, ut a ſervo ſuo requirat obſides? Nonne fratrem meum & omnes Nobiles Slavorum tenet in cuſtodia? Teneat eos loco obſidum: abutatur eis, ut libuerit, ſi temeraverimus fidem. Dum hæc per nuncios agerentur, & daretur Pribizlao ſpes, amicitiæ, aliquantulum temporis fluxit ſine bello, fuitque pax in Slavia a menſe Martio usque ad Kalendas Februarii, & omnia caſtra Ducis erant illæſa, puta Malchowe, Cuſin, Zwerin, Ylowe, Mikelenborg & Würle. Fredericus Imperator, ſecundum Egghardum, diviſit Auſtriam a Ducatu Bavariæ, & fecit de Auſtria ſpecialem Ducatum, & dedit illum Henrico patruo ſuo. Ducatum vero Bayoariæ ſive Bavariæ dedit Henrico Leoni Duci Saxoniæ, eo quod in Romana expeditione ſe virilem & fidelem Cæſari oſtendiſſet. Hic Fredericus deſtinavit Reynaldum Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem & Chriſtianum Archiepiſcopum Moguntinum cum magno exercitu Romam, ut Alexandrum urbe pellerent Papam. Romani vero comperto introitu dictorum Epiſcoporum, exierunt cum grandi exercitu pugnaturi pro Alexandro Papa, ſed Archiepiſcopi cum ſuis victoriam obtinentes, percuſſerunt de Romanis circiter XIIM. Quod audiens Papa, clanculo de Roma receſſit, & Spoletum intravit. Archiepiſcopo vero, ut Papam percepiſſent fugiſſe, eodem itinere ipſum inſequentes, Spoletum obſederunt, & expugnationi operam dederunt. Papa vero non confidens de viribus urbis, aſſumſit habitum incognitum, & clam recedens, ad Regem Franciæ viam ſuam direxit. Audiens autem Imperator, Regem Francorum non curare literas, quas ſibi & univerſis Imperii Principibus miſerat, prohibens, nequis Principum Alexandrum recipere præſumeret, congregata maxima armorum multitudine, auxilio fultus Regis Danorum & Ducis Bohemorum, venit in Burgundiam. Sed Rege Angliæ & Comite Flandrenſi auxilium ferentibus Regi Francorum, Imperator nihil profecit. Videns autem Fredericus, Lodowicum Regem Franciæ magnanimum & quaſi parvipendentem Majeſtatem Imperialem, miſit de novo ei literas, invitans ipſum ad colloquium familiare in Leonam urbem juxta Aram fluvium terræ Burgundionum ſitam: & annuit Rex. Præterea miſit Imperator ad Regem Ungariæ & cæteros Principes totius Imperii, & ad Archiepiſcopos & Epiſcopos Regni ſui, ut venirent ad locum ſtatutum. Grandis igitur exſpectatio univerſorum Principum ad tam celebrem curiam, quo uterque Papa & tanti Reges terrarum conventuri ferebantur. Tunc abierunt ſimul Woldemarus Rex cum Epiſcopis Daniæ, Hartwicus Archiepiſcopus Bremenſis, Lodowicus vero Rex Francie, cum exercitu ex Lotharingia venerat, ut bellaret. Cæterum appropiare cum exercitu & simul mutua, dubitavit occurrentes. Sed propter falsum fremamorum ventu ad suum juvicium die confirmatu, qui fuit die Decollationis S. Johannis Baptistæ, & exhibet Dux Saxoniæ modo ab hora tertia usque ad horam IX. Porro Cæsar nondum venerat. Quod Rex Francie audiens per nuncios ipsi Cæsari mandat se finire in tertiumdiem, quali qui fidem pollicitus esset de finiendo, & quo die ipse Cæsar ejus venire Dominum. Veniens ergo nocte Cæsar, inuditur Regem Francie discedisse, & ipsum non ultra pertinax donec accurrit eum. Sed ille nullo modo voluit accurrere. Deinde Dux, & ejus fideles, & Legati Cæsaris tractarunt de pace. Tandem pax ita facta, quod Cæsar ipsum circumvenire deceret, & propter hoc omnes partes Comitum essent ejus adversarii. Sed mutatis dictis eft. Francigenæ cum ingenio decurrere, quod arma & victoria impossibilia videbantur, confer-victoriam. Tunc Cæsar exhortemur irata & irritata fidelia cum, ingenio impossibilem bellum. Alexandrum vero Papa conformat ab illo tempore magnitudine. Hanimus autem Dux Saxoniæ & Bavariæ declinavit in Bavariam, & compositis illic rebus reversus est ad Saxoniam.

Cum verbis Dux condescendens monuit, ut quotidie recitaret Lubeke, parochianos, qui dedicationi operum aut erat. Et ipse dixit Dux Archiepiscopum, ut concurreret in cum eo Confirmationem officii. Cuius petitioni eqnievit Hartwicus Archiepiscopus, agentibus eft ter in Wyndenstein terram, & transfiguratione Haberet confirmationem quam Dux memoriæ Vicedominus Hinricus Episcopus & fundatis & postfundis dimisit. Et fecit Archiepiscopus Perpetuo illi & Fratribus multa bona, præcipue quæ in locis illis dicuntur Novum Monasterium vocarent. Annis enim Fabers vel Hamburgo vocabantur, non vero Bardenhelm et monasterio. Fuit autem Abbas primus Hinricus Bremensis. Et ordinavit Archiepiscopus solemnitis corda fui manens, Hinricus Dux, Geroldus Episcopus & Adolfus Comes. Et ipse quamque predia & reditus ac decimationes in Lubeke Cives. ſterio Redingenhuſen aſſumtus, in quo Abbas extiterat. Henricus Leo Dux Bavariæ & Saxoniæ rebus ad nutum ordinatis in Bayoaria, ad quam poſt completam dedicationem Lubicenſis Eccleſiæ tranſierat, ſecundum Helmoldum, reverſus eſt in Saxoniam, & accerſito Clero Lubicenſi dedit eis Pontificem Dominum Conradum Abbatem de Reddegenshuſen, germanum Domini Geroldi defuncti nuper Lubicenſis Epiſcopi. Quod licet Hartwico Archiepiſcopo & omnibus pene Lubicenſibus eſſet contrarium, prævaluit tamen Ducis voluntas, cui refragari formidoloſum erat. Recepit autem ſacrum Ordinem per manus Hartwici Archiepiſcopi in urbe Stadenſi. His diebus Wirtizlaus Nycloti filius, qui in vinculis Ducis tenebatur in Brunſwic, mandavit Pribizlao fratri ſuo per nuncium, dicens: En ego teneor vinculis æternis incluſus, & tu negligenter erga me agis. Evigila ergo mi frater, & viriliter age, & quod pace non potes, armis extorque. Nonne recogitas, quod pater noſter Nyclotus cum Luneburg teneretur in cuſtodia, neque prece neque pecunia redimi potuit? Poſtquam autem virtutis inſtinctu arripuimus arma, & fecimus incendia & exterminia urbium, nonne dimiſſus eſt? His auditis, Pribizlaus collegit latenter exercitum, & venit improviſus Mykelenburg. Henricus autem de Schaten præfectus caſtri tunc defuit, & populus, qui erat in caſtro, fuit ſine Principe. Accedens ergo Pribizlaus ait ad viros, qui erant in munitione: Magna, o viri, tam mihi quam genti meæ illata eſt violentia, qui expulſi ſumus de terra nativitatis noſtræ, & privati ſumus hæreditate patrum noſtrorum. Vos quoque injuriam hanc cumulaſtis, qui invaſiſtis terminos noſtros, & poſſediſtis urbes & vicos, qui nobis debentur hæreditaria ſucceſſione. Ponimus ergo vobis optionem vitæ & mortis. Si volueritis aperire nobis munitionem, & reddere terram nobis debitam, deducemus vos pacifice cum uxoribus & filiis & univerſa ſupellectili. Siquis autem Slavorum quippiam abſtulerit eorum, quæ ad vos pertinent, ego in duplo reſtituam. Quodſi nolueritis egredi, ſed urbem hanc pertinaciter defendere, juro vobis, quodſi faverit nobis Deus de victoria, omnes vos occidam in ore gladii. Ad hæc verba Flamingi jacula direxerunt, & vulnera infligere cœperunt. Slavorum ergo exercitus viris & armis potentior, vehementi pugna irrupit munitionem, & occiderunt omne maſculinum in ea, nec reliquerunt de populo advenarum vel unum. Uxores vero & parvulos duxerunt in captivitatem, & ſuccenderunt caſtrum igne. Poſt hæc converterunt faciem ſuam ad caſtrum Ylowe, ut deſtruerent illud. Porro Guntzelinus Præfectus terræ Obotritorum, audiens per exploratorum manus, exiiſſe Slavos, præierat cum paucis militibus Ylowe, ut fieret urbi præſidio. Vaſtata ergo Mikelenburg, Pribizlaus anteceſſit exercitum cum fortiſſimis, ut præoccuparet obſidionem, nequis forte effugeret. Quod audiens Guntzelinus, dixit ad ſuos: Exeamus velociter, & pugnemus cum eo, priusquam veniat reliquus exercitus. Laſſi enim ſunt de pugna & ſtrage, quam fecerunt hodie. Et reſponderunt ei fideles ſui: Non eſt nobis cautum egredi. Statim enim, ut exierimus, Slavi, qui ſunt intra urbem hanc, & videntur ſtare nobiſcum, claudent portas urbis poſt nos, & nos erimus excluſi, urbsque cedet in manus Slavorum. Et diſplicuit verbum hoc in oculis Guntzelini & virorum ejus. Convocans ergo omnes Teuthonicos, qui erant in urbe, dixit ad eos in audientia Slavorum, qui fuerant in urbe, de quibus fuerat traditionis timor: Relatum eſt mihi, quod Slavi, qui nobiſcum ſunt intra portas urbis, juraverint Pribizlao, ut tradant & nos & urbem. Audite ergo, o viri compatriotæ, qui deſtinati eſtis in mortem & exterminium, ſtatim ut videritis perfidiam, objicite vos portis, & mittite ignem in mœnia urbis, & exurite perfidos hos cum mulieribus & parvulis. Moriantur una nobiſcum, nec fiat aliquis ex eis ſuperſtes, ut non glorientur de interitu noſtro. His auditis, exterriti ſunt animi Slavorum, nec auſi ſunt aggredi, quod animo conceperant. Veſpere autem facto, venit univerſus exercitus Slavorum ante caſtrum Ylowe, & allocutus eſt Pribizlaus Slavos, qui erant in eo, dicens: Notum eſt omnibus vobis, fratres, quantæ calamitates & preſſuræ apprehenderint gentem noſtram propter violentam Ducis potentiam, quam exercuit in nos, & tulit nobis hæreditatem patrum noſtrorum, & collocavit in omnibus terminis ejus advenas, puta Flamingos & Hollandrinos, Saxones & Weſtphalos atque nationes diverſas. Hanc injuriam zelatus eſt pater meus usque ad mortem. Frater quoque meus ob hoc ipſum vinculis tenetur æternis incluſus, & nemo remanſit, qui cogitet bonum genti noſtræ, aut velit ſuſcitare ruinas ejus, niſi ego ſolus. Revertimini ergo ad cor, o viri reliquiarum Slavici generis, & reſumite audaciam, & tradite mihi urbem hanc, & viros, qui injuſte occupaverunt eam, & ulciſcar in eos, ſicut ultus ſum in eos, qui invaſerant Mikelenburg, & cœpit eos commonere ſuper promiſſo. At illi negaverunt timore perterriti. Secеſſerunt ergo Slavi longe a caſtro, eo quod ingrueret nox, & caſtra metanda eſſent. Advertentes autem Slavi, quod Guntzelinus, & qui cum eo ſunt, viri fortes & bellicoſi ſunt, nec poſſe munitionem capi ſine maxima ſtrage, primo diluculo retroceſſerunt ab obſidione, revertentes ad loca ſua. Guntzelinus ergo velut torris erutus ab igne, relicta Ylowe & collocata illic Slavorum cuſtodia, tranſiit Zwerin. Et lætati ſunt habitatores urbis de inſperato adventu ejus. Quinta ergo die, poſtquam percuſſa eſt Mykelenburg, deſcendit Berno ſive Bruno venerabilis Epiſcopus cum Clericis paucis de Zwerin tumulare interfectos, geſtans in collo ſuo Sacerdotalia indumenta, in quibus ſacrificium offerre mos eſt. Et figens altare in medio interfectorum, obtulit pro eis hoſtiam ſalutarem Domino Deo cum luctu & tremore. Quo jam officium peragente, inſurrexerunt Slavi de inſidiis, ut percuterent Pontificem, & qui cum eo erant. Sed celeceleriter miſſus, eos ſupervenit quidam Richardus de Soltwedele cum militia. Hic autem, eo quod Guntzelinus obſeſſus erat Ylowe, egreſſus fuit in auxilium ejus; & iter faciens, caſu ſupervenit Mykelenburg, cum Pontifex cum ſuis eſſet jam in mortis articulo. Cujus adventu territi Slavi fugerunt, & ſalvatus eſt Epiſcopus, & explevit opus pietatis, & tumulavit de interfectis ad LXXX. corpora, & poſt hoc reverſus eſt Zwerin. Statim pariter Pribizlaus rurſus collecta manu venit Malchowe, & allocutus eſt habitatores urbis, dicens: Scio quidem, vos eſſe viros fortes & nobiles ac obedientes imperio magni Ducis Domini veſtri. Volo ergo perſvadere ea, quæ vobis ſunt utilia. Reddite mihi caſtrum, quod olim fuit patris mei, & mihi nunc hæreditaria ſucceſſione debetur, & ego vobis exhiberi faciam conductum usque ad ripas Albiæ. Siquis eorum, quæ ad vos pertinent, quicquam violenter attigerit, ego in duplo reſtitui faciam. Quodſi conditionem hanc optimam inutilem judicaveritis, oportebit me rurſum experiri fortunam meam, & congredi vobiscum. Mementote, quid contigerit habitantibus Mykelenburg, qui ſpreverunt conditiones pacis, & provocaverunt me in ſuum damnum. Tunc milites cuſtodes præſidii videntes, non eſſe locum pugnæ, eo quod hoſtes multi, auxiliatores vero pauci, impetraverunt conductum extra terminos Slaviæ, & Pribizlaus recepit caſtrum. Audiens ergo Henricus Leo Dux labefactari res in Slavia, contriſtatus eſt animo, & milit interim robur militum Zwerin ad cuſtodiendam eam, & præcepit Adolfo Comiti & majoribus de Holtzatia, ut tranſirent Ylowe, & eſſent tutamen caſtri. Poſt hæc congregavit exercitum grandem, & vocavit cognatum ſuum Adelbertum Marchionem orientalis Slaviæ, & omnes fortiſſimos totius Saxoniæ in auxilium, ut redderet Slavis malum, quod fecerant. Sed & Woldemarum Regem Danorum adduxit cum navali exercitu, ut vexaret eos terra marique. Et occurrit Adolfus Comes Duci cum omni Nodalbingorum populo juxta Malchowe. Dux vero, ibi tranſiit Albiam, & attigit terminos Slavorum, fecit Wirtizlaum Principem Slavorum ſuſpendio interfici prope opidum & caſtrum Malchowe, eo quod peſſundaverit eum frater ejus Pribizlaus, & prævaricatus fuerit promiſſiones pacis, quas pactus fuerat. Et præcepit Dux Adolfo Comiti per nuncium, dicens: Surge cum Holtzatis & Sturmariis & cum omni populo, qui tecum eſt, & præcedite Ducem usque in locum, qui dicitur Viruchye. Idem facturus eſt Guntzelinus Præfectus terræ Obotritorum, & Reynoldus Comes Tithmarciæ, & Chriſtianus Comes de Aldenborg, quæ eſt in Amerland terræ Friſonum. Hi omnes præcedent tecum cum armatorum numero, qui ad ipſos pertinet. Tunc abiit Adolfus Comes cum cæteris Nobilibus, qui ſecum deputati fuerant juxta mandatum Ducis, & venerunt ad locum, qui dicitur Viruchye, & diſtat ab urbe Damyn duobus fere miliaribus, & metati ſunt illic caſtra. Porro Dux & cæteri Principes morati ſunt per aliquot dies cum reliquo exercitu & curribus ferentibus victualia in via. Univerſus vero Slavorum exercitus confederat in urbe Dumyn, fueruntque Principes eorum Kazimar & Bugeslaf Duces Pomeranorum, & cum his Pribizlaus autor rebellionis. Miſeruntque nuncios ad Comitem, volentes per eum admitti ad conditiones pacis, & promiſerunt tria milia marcarum. Rurſum alios mittentes, promiſerunt duo millia. Et diſplicuit verbum hoc Comiti Adolfo, & dixit ad ſuos: Quid vobis videtur, o viri ſapientes, quod heri promiſerunt tria millia marcarum, nunc offerunt duo millia. Verbum iſtud non eſt quærens pacem, ſed provocans ad bellum. Miſerunt ergo Slavi noctu ſpeculatores in caſtra, explorare ſtatum exercitus. Aldenburgenſium vero Slavi fuerunt cum Adolfo Comite, ſed inſidioſe. Nam quæcunque gerebantur in exercitu, remandaverunt hoſtibus per manus exploratorum. Dixerunt ergo Adolfo Comiti Marchardus Senior terræ Holtzatorum & cæteri, qui intellexerunt verbum abſconditum: Auditu certiſſimo comperimus, quod hoſtes noſtri præparent ſe ad bellum. Sed noſtrates ſegnius ajunt, nec in vigiliis nec in cuſtodiis debitam exhibent diligentiam. Adhibe ergo cautionem populo, eo quod Dux bene præſumat de te. Et diſſimulavit Comes cæterique Nobiles, & dixerunt: Pax & ſecuritas: emortua eſt enim virtus Slavorum. Defecit ergo in exercitu cuſtodia. Moram autem faciente Duce, defecerunt exercitui alimenta, & deſtinati ſunt pueri, qui ire deberent ad exercitum Ducis propter victualia afferenda. Quibus primo diluculo iter aggreſſis, ecce in aſcenſu clivi apparuerunt cunei Slavorum cum populo innumerabili tam equitum quam peditum. Quibus viſis, retorſerunt pedem pueri, & clamore valido dormientem excitaverunt exercitum: alioquin omnes mortem ſomno copulaſſent. Tunc viri illuſtres atque militares Adolfus Comes atque Reynoldus cum pauciſſimis Holtzatenſibus, qui forte ſomno excitati maturius accurrerant, exceperunt hoſtes in deſcenſu clivi, & contrita eſt prima acies ab eis, & percuſſerunt eos usq; ad interiora ſtagni. Quos ſubſecuta ſecunda Slavorum acies apparuit inſtar montis, & percuſſi ſunt Adolfus Comes & Reynoldus Comes & fortiſſimi, quique cum eis ceciderunt. Et obtinuerunt Slavi caſtra Saxonum, & diripuerunt prædas caſtrorum. Porro Guntzelinus & Chriſtianus, & cum eis amplius quam CCC. milites conglobati in unum continebant ſe in latere pugnæ, ignorantes, quid ageret. Formidoloſum quippe erat congredi cum hoſtium agmine, omnibus ſociis aut interfectis aut fuga diſjectis. Accidit autem, ut cuneus quidam Slavorum veniret ad tabernaculum quoddam, ubi multi erant armigeri & equi plures. Quibus expugnandis cum valentius inſtarent, armigeri clamaverunt ad dominos ſuos, quorum globus fuit e vicino: Quid ſtatis o fortiſſimi milites, & quare non ſuccurritis ſervis veſtris? Rem utique turpiſſimam agitis. Qui concitati clamore ſuorum ſervorum inſiluerunt in hoſtes, & quaſi cœco furore pugnantes liberaverunt ſervos ſuos. Deinde caſtris fortius immerſi, difficile dictu eſt, quantos ictus dederint, aut quantas ſtrages hominum fecerint, donec victrices illas Slavorum acies disjicerent, & reciperent caſtra, quæ perdiderant. Denique Deus Slavis miſcuit ſpiritum vertiginis, & ceciderunt de manibus optimorum militum. Et audierunt Saxones, qui erant in latibulis, & regreſſi ſunt, & ſumta audacia fortiter inſuſi ſunt hoſtibus, & percuſſerunt eos attritione magna nimis, & repletus eſt campus ille acervis mortuorum. Et venit Dux feſtinanter, ut fieret ſuis præſidio, & vidit ruinam, quæ facta eſt in populo ſuo; & quod mortuus eſt Adolfus Comes & fortiſſimi quique, reſolutus eſt in lacrymas multas. Sed dolorem ejus mitigavit copioſior victoria & cædes Slavorum maxima, qui ad IIIM. & quingentos connumerati ſunt. Præcepit ergo Dux corpus Adolfi Comitis concidi fruſtratim, & aſſum condiri ope pigmentorum, quo poſſet circumferri, & patriis inferri monumentis. Et impletum eſt vaticinium, quod cecidit, priusquam paterentur, ſæpiſſime reiterans verſum: Igne me examinaſti, & non eſt inventa in me iniquitas. Slavi ergo, qui effugerant manus gladii, venerunt Dumyn, & ſuccenſo caſtro illo potiſſimo, tranſierunt ad interiora Pomeraniæ regionis, fugientes a facie Ducis. Sequenti autem die venit Dux cum univerſo exercitu Dumyn, & reperit caſtrum exuſtum, & collocavit illic partem exercitus, ut deponerent vallum, & adæquarent ſolo, & ut curam exhiberent vulneratis, quibus opus eſſet, ipſe vero cum reliquo exercitu ivit in occurſum Woldemari Regis Danorum, & abierunt ſociata manu, ut depopularentur latitudinem Pomeraniæ regionis. Quam cum demoliti fuiſſent, & ex integro Slavos humiliaſſent, reverſi ſunt ad ſedes proprias cum victoria ſolenni.

Propter quod Victor confirmatus eſt ab Epiſcopis ibidem præſentibus, & Alexander damnatus ac excommunicatus. Comitiam Holzatorum, Sturmariorum & Wagirorum adminiſtrabat Mechtildis relicta Adolfi Comitis a Slavis interfecti, cum filio ſuo Adolfo adhuc tenello, ſecundum Chronicam Slavorum, & immutata eſt facies terræ, eo quod juſtitia & quies Eccleſiarum, ſublato pio patrono, penitus infirmaretur. Propter conſurgentes tamen motus bellorum poſuit Dux Henricus puero tutorem Henricum quendam de Thuringia natum, avunculum pueri, virum utique otium vitantem, & totum armis deditum. Convocatoque fidelium ſuorum conſilio, Pribizlaum Principem Slavorum, quem multis, ut ſupra dictum eſt, prœliis expulerat patria, admiſit ad gratiam, & reddidit ei omnem hæreditatem patris ſui, terram ſcilicet Obotritorum, præter Zwerin & attinentia ejus; & fecit Pribizlaus Duci & amicis ejus ſecuritatem fidelitatis, nulla deinceps bellorum tempeſtate corrumpendam.

Decimo annæ Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXIIII. Congregavit Dux exercitum grandem, ſecundum Helmoldum, & intravit orientalem Saxoniam, ut pugnaret cum inimicis ſuis in medio terræ ipſius. Et viderunt, quod venit cum manu forti, timuerunt occurrere illi. Et fecit plagam magnam in terra illa, & vaſtavit eam incendiis & deprædationibus, & pervagatus eſt terram usque ad muros Magdeburg. Deinde convertit exercitum in occidentales partes, ut compeſceret tyrannidem Chriſtiani Comitis de Aldenburg, quæ eſt in Amerland terræ Friſonum. Et improviſus venit Bremam, & recepit eam, & fugit Chriſtianus Comes in abditas Friſiæ paludes, & irripuit Dux Bremam, & deprædatus eſt eam. Et transfugerunt cives ejus in paludes, eo quod peccaſſent adverſus Ducem, & juraſſent Chriſtiano. Et poſuit eos Dux in proſcriptionem, quousque interventu Archiepiſcopi Bremenſis Hartwici mille & eo amplius marcis argenti pacem indepti ſunt. Chriſtianus autem Comes poſt paucos dies mortuus eſt, & ſopita ſunt mala rebellionis ejus. Hartwicus vero Archiepiſcopus decrevit apud ſe declinare tumultus bellorum, & poſuit ſe in Hammeburg ſolitarium & quietum, ſtructuris clauſtralibus & ſuæ Eccleſiæ commodis intendens, caſtra tamen ſua Vriburg ſcilicet & Horborg communire ſtuduit, & congeſſit illic armorum apparatum & eſcas, quæ ſufficerent in menſes & annos. Fredericus Imperator denuo Italiam ingreſſus, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, obſidione magna ſecundario vallavit Mediolanum cum multis Principibus & Epiſcopis. Ad cujus obſidionem Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ & Bawariæ invitatus ab Imperatore, venit cum exercitu magno, habens in ſuo comitatu M. & D. milites. Imperatore autem urbem obſidente, cives captam Imperatricem in contemtum Cæſaris ſuper aſinam poſuerunt, verſa facie ad caudam aſinæ, & ei caudam aſinæ pro freno ad manus tradentes, ad Imperatoris exercitum contumelioſe transmiſerunt. Videns autem Cæſar uxorem ſuam taliter venire, & conſiderans malitiam civium, ut prudens Princeps diſſimulavit pudorem riſu quodam formato, & conſolabatur Dominam, ad patientiam eam hortando. Henricus Leo, Dux Bauvariæ & Saxoniæ Ilomanus Imperator cum reliquis Germaniæ Magnatibus ultro in monasterio coporiensium et per civitates obtinuerat, et vehementer instantes eum receptis fide gravatus, homiliter petiit, ut ei parcerent, sed Henricus principalis sacerdos negavit. Fredericus vero Imperator Coloniæ Dux & proferentes, & coronam imperatoriam ei imposuit. Ipse vero Imperator Augustus, ut mansuet, fuit Optimates Henrici Ducis Saxoniæ Bauvariæ, decessus, quos habuit in pacis, qui vestes ad pedes, procul dubio per pacis confirmationis offert. Henricus ergo Imperatoris videt, nec perpetuum leve vivitur eterni, vero perpetuum quidem. Ipse vero Imperatoris, ipsius levata est. Surgite Domini in tribulationibus & in tribulationibus & tumor & omnipotentem Deo, qui calle pepercerunt humiliat. Ab illo ergo tempore floruit in potentissimi Ducis Saxoniæ & Bauvariæ, & Imperatoris filium cum omnibus Principibus humiliter cognovit. Cum vero Mediolanenses quamdiu potuerunt Cæsari resistere, laborarunt. Sed tandem fame & penuria coacti civitatis fuit ac tridendum urbem in manus Imperatoris. Hoc Imperatoris Leo Dux Bauvariæ & Saxoniæ, & Reginaldi Archiepiscopi prudentissimi, qui tunc temporis Cancellarius Imperatoris erat, intervenit ac deinde tandem. Fredericus regis Imperator urbe atque, & Mediolanenses & tertiæ qui follo sequaces, & ceteræ subregnavit civitatum. Cum autem omnes interfectis diligenter perquirerentur, Mediolanenses vero tur fieri, Interveniente Principum tali conditione obtinuerunt, ut omnes vitam, ut & filios eius ad patrum fortiter ligata, & eadem ita habitantes, quæ civis in urbe, & ita ut eam ponerent propriis manu, & nullam eisdem ante obsidionem fecerint de ea parte finibus fuis transirent & decernent. Quod cum patriæ ad se tradidissent, & vere transirent, & pacem, ut fuerunt Cæsaris fœmidantes, una simul pervenire cuncta, genus ad pulsatores eius fortiores, & multa alia in regnum, ut virum redimerent, exaggerantur. Quod eadem deliberationem pro pacificandum diu usque ad vesperas duravit. Cum autem multa mitia hominum fuit, quæ pertinent ad Imperatoris sacrificium, fere miserabilia mortes, reliquis parcendum est, per quorum clamor fecit. Quorum nec fuerit ei bini & sui eum Imperatore quidem in terram, ut Imperatoris implorabant. Procedentes ergo appropiabant urbi, quæ Ravenelle dicitur, quæ in nemoris medio ſita eſt, cujus habitatores Servi dicuntur & filii Belial, ſine jugo Dei illecebris carnis & gulæ dediti, & ſecundum nomen ſuum omnibus immunditiis ſervientes, ac juxta locorum qualitatem beſtialiter vivendo, belluis etiam groſſiores, ſubjecti tamen noſcuntur Regi Græcorum. Cujus legatum Ducem Henricum præveniens in urbem, quam Rex Græcorum ſibi conceſſerat, præcepit civibus, ut Ducem Saxoniæ honorifice in urbem reciperent, & in omnibus neceſſariis ei ſufficienter ſubvenirent. Qui ejus præcepta contemnentes, dimiſerunt eum vacuum, & ſine honore abjecerunt. Qui reverſus ad Ducem renunciavit ei, quod audierat. Et venit Dux cum ſuis prope urbem, & ibi caſtra metatus eſt, & iterum miſſo nuncio, mandat, ſe pacifice venire, rogans, ut conductorem ab eis recipiat, & ſic in pace diſcedat. Cumque hoc ſæpius attentatum fuiſſet, & nihil profeciſſent, Dux ait ad ſuos: Juſtum quidem eſt, ut in peregrinatione poſiti cum omni pace & manſvetudine incedamus, & ideo cum ſignis bellicis ad urbem Regis procedere non debuimus. Sed quia iſti filii Belial, quæ pacis ſunt, non ſectantes, bellum nobis intentare videntur: levate ſigna, & procedamus. Deus patrum noſtrorum nobiscum ſit, pro cujus nomine peregrinamur, & ejus præcepta ſecuti, domos & fratres, uxores & filios ac agros reliquimus. Hic viribus utendum eſt. Pugnemus fortiter. Quicquid ipſi placuerit, fiat, quia ſive vivimus ſive morimur, Domini ſemper ſumus. His dictis, levantes ſigna, profecti præterierunt urbem, nec longe caſtra metati ſunt in valle longiſima ſuper rivum pellucidum, habentes a dextris montana, a ſiniſtris vero rubum denſiſſimum. Hoc ergo muniti præſidio, incenderunt ignes maximos, & ordinatis excubiis per caſtra curam corporum ſuorum habuerunt, & dormitaverunt. Tunc ecce in media nocte filii Belial in unum ex omni nemore conglobati, fecerunt quatuor turmas, & per vices in quatuor partibus ululantes, invaleſcebant maximis clamoribus, volentes ſic terrere exercitum Ducis, ut fugientes bona ſua projicerent, & illi prædam eorum raperent. Duxautem conſurgens cum ſuis ad arma convolabat, & circuibat Henricus Marſchalcus; cogens omnes milites ad vexillum Ducis convenire. Famuli etiam ſuorum ex una parte ſub cuſtodia equos ſervabant, quibus præceptum erat, ut, ſi priores inſultum hoſtium excepiſſent, ſine mora militibus nunciarent, ut præſidio eis fierent. Fuit autem numerus virorum educentium gladium ducenta milia. Cumque, ut dictum eſt, milites omnes ad Ducem venirent, aſcenderunt ad eum Conradus Epiſcopus & Abbates Henricus & Bertoldus, & ſedebant juxta Ducem. Duce autem ſedente in armis, accenſus eſt clibanus ingens, & ſtabant ante eum Guntzelinus Comes & quique robuſtiores mutuis ſe exhortationibus confortantes; & ſubito prodiit ſagitta, & cecidit prope eos. Unde exterriti, celerius arma arripuerunt. Statim autem venit nuncius, qui dixit, quod caſtra Wormatienſis Epiſcopi eſſent occupata ab hoſtibus, & unus militum interfectus eſſet ſagitta, ac duo alii ſervi, quorum unus usque ad medium diem ſupervixit, & mortuus eſt. Tela namque habent intoxicata, & quicquid vulneraverint, mortem evadere non poteſt. Audito ergo tam triſti nuncio, ſubito miſſi ſunt ad caſtra Epiſcopi, XX. milites loricati, qui venientes hoſtes fortiter cædendo premebant. Unus vero militum baliſta ſua feriens, nutu Dei e regione percuſſit Ducem eorum, & transfodit illum. Quo mox cadente, alii fugam inierunt, & non adjecerunt ultra impetere caſtra Ducis. Facto autem mane, orta eſt nebula denſiſſima, & præcepit Dux, ne caſtra moverent, donec deficeret nebula. Cum vero ſol incaluiſſet, profecti ſunt, & viderunt eminus hoſtes tota die inſidiantes, ſi aliquem ex eis rapere potuiſſent. Et ſic illæſi tranſito nemore, venerunt ad urbem Niceam. Ubi Dux honorifice ſuſceptus eſt, & lautiſſime miniſtratum eſt ei & omnibus de impenſa Regia. Inde vero deductus eſt Andernopolim (Adrianopolim), deinde Junopolim, & ita profecti in Paraſceve venerunt circa Conſtantinopolim, ibique celebrantes Dominicam Paſſionem & Sabbathum ſanctum, mane in die Reſurrectionis Dominicæ peractis ſolenniter myſteriis & prandio facto, aſcenderunt curiam Regis. Præmiſerat autem Dux munera multa & pretioſa juxta morem terræ noſtræ, puta equos pulcerrimos ſellatos & veſtitos, loricas, gladios, veſtes de ſcarleto, & veſtes lineas tenuiſſimas. Rex autem indutus ornatu Regio cum ſummis Pontificibus & Optimatibus ac Principibus ſuis præſtolabatur adventum Ducis. Erat autem in eodem loco curia venationis ampliſſima murata ad oſtendendam gloriam ſuam. Præceperat enim Rex Principibus ſuis & Optimatibus Regni, ut omnes intereſſent huic ſolennitati in cultiori apparatu ſuo. Videres ergo illic tentoria innumera erecta, byſſina, purpurea cum capitibus (forſ. tapetibus) aureis, & pro uniuscujusque magnificentia vario decore ornata. Veniens ergo Dux, glorioſe ſuſceptus eſt. Et quia proceſſionis ſolennitas inſtabat, procedebat Rex cum Duce. Erat autem ſtrata ſemita quædam tota purpurea, deſuper tecta auri frigiis, & ornata aureis lampadibus & coronis. Hanc viam incedebat ſtatio Clericorum & Pontificum, proſequente Rege cum Duce & militibus tantum peregrinis, & ita procedebant ad tentorium aureum, quod totum incanduit gemmis & lapidibus pretioſis. Inde per eandem viam reverſi ſunt ad Eccleſiam, & collocatus eſt Rex in throno ſuo excelſo, & Dux in alio juxta eum, & miſſarum ſolennia celebrabantur. Quibus expletis, Rex cum Duce ad menſam acceſſit, & lautiſſime procurati ſunt. Comeſtione vero facta, cum Rex cum Duce lætior eſſet, movit quæſtionem Epiſcopus Wormatienſis una cum Lubicenſi Epiſcopo literatioribus Græcorum de proceſſione Spiritus Sancti. Dicunt enim Græci, Spiritum Sanctum tantum procedere a Patre, & non a Filio, verbis Domini panſis velis nocte & die eundo, partem terræ illius præteriit. Cumque ad quandam civitatem, quæ Torſult dicitur, applicuiſſent, quam poſtea idem Mylo expugnans ſibi ſubjugavit in ultionem, quod peregrini ibidem præterlapſi fuiſſent, Soldanus Turcorum miſit ei quingentos milites, qui eum per terram Mylonis deducerent cum omnibus, quæ ipſius erant. Profecti autem per triduum, tranſierunt per terram deſertam, inviam & inaquoſam, quæ Rumenia dicitur, ubi multum laboraverunt, portantes in equis omnia neceſſaria, etiam aquam, quam biberent tam ipſi quam jumenta eorum. Et ſic pervenerunt ad civitatem, quæ Heraclia dicitur, quam Heraclius Princeps Jeroſolymitanus olim tenebat, & poſtea Imperator factus Hieroſolymam expugnabat, & Cosdroë interficiebat. Ubi veniens Dux, honorifice ſuſceptus eſt a Turcis, & inde deductus in Araxat, ibidem Soldanus ei occurrit lætiſſime, & amplexatus ipſum & deoſculatus dixit, ipſum ſuum eſſe conſanguineum. Cumque Dux requireret affinitatem conſanguinitatis, ille reſpondit: Quædam nobilis matrona de terra Teuthonicorum nupſit Regi Ruthenorum, qui genuit ex ea filiam, cujus filia devenit in terram noſtram, de qua ego deſcendi. Benedicebat autem Soldanus Deum cœli, quia Dux Mylonem evaſerat, dicens, eum infidelem & traditorem; & ſi in terram deveniſſet, profecto ipſum rebus vel etiam vita privaſſet. Dedit autem Soldanus Duci donaria plurima, puta mantellum & tunicam de optimo ſerico, qui propter operis excellentiam fecit inde fieri caſulam & dalmaticas. Poſt hoc adducti ſunt equi MDCCC ut eligeret, quos vellet. Dixit ergo Dux militibus ſuis, ut quisque acciperet equum, quem voluiſſet. Deinde educti ſunt caballi fortiſſimi XXX. cum frenis argenteis & ſellis optimis de ebore compoſitis, quos Duci tradidit. Dedit etiam ei ſex domos filtrinas ſecundum morum terræ illius, & ſex camelos, qui eas ferrent cum famulis, qui eos ducerent. Addidit quoque his omnibus duos leopardos & unum leonem fortiſſimum domeſticum, qui omnes docti erant ſedere in equis, ac famulos, qui eos regerent. Cumque Rex ipſum benigniſſime tractaſſet, ipſe Henricus Dux cœpit ipſum familiariter redarguere de ſuperſtitione gentilitatis, multa dicens ei de incarnatione Chriſti & fide Catholica. Qui reſpondit Duci: Non eſt difficile ad credendum, quod Deus, quando voluit, de intemerata virgine carnem aſſumſit, qui hominem primum de terra plaſmavit. Et licet hoc Soldanus poſſibile aſſereret, non tamen ab idolis receſſit. Dimiſſus itaque Dux a Soldano, deductus eſt in civitatem Eunyn, quæ principalis urbs eſt Turcorum. Et inde progreſſus venit in terram deſertam nimis, ubi multis ſiti & fame deficientibus, ultra procedere vix poterant. Inde tamen procedens venit cum maximo labore ad nemus maximum, quod dividit terram Turcorum & Græcorum. Quod triduo cum difficultate tranſiens, venit ad urbem Regis Græcorum Caſtellum Alemannorum dictam, quia Godefridus Dux olim eam tenuerat, & inde totam Turkiam ſibi ſubjugaverat. Inde profectus venit ad urbem fortiſſimam Anikkam nuncupatam, quam idem Godefridus nimio labore expugnaverat. Progrediens quoque ulterius per Brachium S. Georgii, venit ad urbem Willekume, & inde pervenit Conſtantinopolim. Ubi receptis equis, quos in exitu ibidem reliquerat, abiit Magnopolim, ubi Rex erat Græcorum. Qui multum lætatus eſt de reditu ejus, & cum decentiſſime eum tenuiſſet per aliquot dies, dedit ei XIIII. mulos oneratos auro & argento ac ſericis veſtibus, & perduci ipſum fecit usque Niceam. Ubi pertranſito nemore magno, pervenit ad Regem Ungariæ noviter factum poſt mortem fratris. Qui honeſtiſſime ipſum pertractans, dedit ei ſalvum conductum per Regnum ſuum, & ſic tandem pervenit Dux ad fines notos & proprios agros, rediens tandem in Brunswic, & ditans Eccleſias reliquiis Sanctorum, quas in via a diverſis receperat Principibus & civitatibus. Et fieri fecit de diverſis ſericis pannis caſulas & dalmaticas ac alia ornamenta altaris. Poſtquam vero modicum pauſaverat in Brunswic, venit Luneburg. Et venerunt ad ipſum Canonici Lubicenſes, rogantes, ut ipſius providentia unum idoneum Eccleſiæ ſuæ caput & Paſtorem haberе valerent, ex quo venerabilis Antiſtes Conradus defunctus eſſet in via peregrinationis ſuæ. Affirmabant denique, quod omnes de unanimi conſenſu in perſonam Henrici Abbatis de Brunswic conveniſſent, unde ipſum Eccleſiæ ſuæ præficiendum omnino exorabant. Quibus Dux reſpondit: Fateor, perſonam hanc valde idoneam eſſe & virum prudentem ac religioſum, ſed quia fidelitatem viri & converſationis ejus gratiam expertam habemus, ideo præſentia ipſius in domo noſtra Brunswic non ſine gravi jactura carere poſſumus. Ne tamen tantæ utilitati contraire videamur, conſentimus veſtræ petitionis affectioni. Unde virum venerabilem cum honore ad ſedem Lubicenſis Eccleſiæ deducite, & ei omnem reverentiam & ſubjectionem exhibete. Venerunt ergo Brunswic Odo Decanus & Arnoldus Theſaurarius una cum Henrico Præpoſito Ducis Notario, & ingreſſi Capitolium præſente Abbate de Reddegenshuſen Sigebodo & Godefrido Præpoſito Brunswicenſi, & detulerunt literas Eccleſiæ memoratæ in hunc modum ſonantes: Fratres Eccleſiæ Dei, quæ eſt in Lubeke, ſacro Conventui Monaſterii Sancti Ægidii in Brunſwic ſalutem & dilectionem in Chriſto. Cumque ad ſalutationis verba Fratres humiliter inclinarent, adjecerunt: Noverit dilectio veſtra, quia mater noſtra, ſancta videlicet Eccleſia Lubicana patre ſuo viduata eſt. Et quia diu ſine Paſtore eſſe non poſſumus, ideo omni ſolicitudine nobis vigilandum eſt, ut in domo Dei prudentem & fidelem diſpenſatorem habeamus. Unde immenſas gratias Deo referimus, quod eum, in quo nobis complacuit, invenimus, Dominum videlicet Henricum Abbatem veſtrum, virum prudentem & religioſum, quem non ſolum electione Canonica nobis præficiendum decrevimus, mus, ſed etiam Principis noſtri Ducis, qui ipſum nobis in Dominum & Patrem ſpiritualem deſignavit, autoritate uſurpavimus. Quapropter rogamus, ut in hoc una nobis conſentiatis, & ordinationi divinæ non contradicentes, ſimul eum nobiscum ad apicem Sacerdotii ſummi promoveatis. Fratribus autem de tam honeſta ſui Patris promotione congaudentibus, ſed abſentatione tam pii Paſtoris condolentibus ita reſpondit Electus: Opus quidem difficile & nimis arduum eſt, ad quod me vocaſtis Fratres & Domini mei, & ultra vires meas eſſe certiſſime recognoſco. Sed quia nemo venit ad hoc idoneus, niſi qui vocatur a Deo, ideo divina dispenſatione ad hoc miniſterium me vocari non ambigo, quia omnis poteſtas a Deo eſt. Et quia, qui poteſtati reſiſtit, divinæ ordinationi reſiſtit, ideo ecce ad obediendum venio, neceſſitate tamen magis quam voluntate. Et ita profectus cum eis de Monaſterio S. Ægidii, cui X. annis præfuerat glorioſe, venit ad Ducem in Luneburg. Et accipiens ab eo Pontificalem inveſtituram, deductus eſt in Lubeke cum honore, & devotiſſime ſuſceptus eſt a Clero & populo. In die vero S. Johannis Baptiſtæ præſente Duce conſecratus eſt a Domino Walone Havelbergenſi, a Domino Evermodo Ratzeburgenſi & a Domino Bernone ſive Brunone Mikelenburgenſi Epiſcopis.

Quintodecimo anno Frederici, qui erat Domini MCLXIX. Henricus Leo, Dux Saxoniæ & Bavariæ, ſecundum Chronicam Saxonum, ſuper baſim lapideam erexit effigiem leonis ex ære fuſam, in urbe Brunswic prope Eccleſiam majorem, quaſi Coliſæum ſuum, cum ipſe Leo cognominaretur & eſſet animo. Principes & Nobiles, qui arrogantiam Henrici Ducis Saxoniæ pariter & excellentiam deteſtabantur, ſecundum Egghardum, ac forte ipſius proſperis ſucceſſibus invidebant, conſulueruntFrederico Imperatori filio amitæ ejusdem Henrici Ducis, ut ipſum Henricum Leonem humiliaret. Quibus Imperator eo facilius & libentius aſſenſit, quia jam rancorem gravem contra ipſum in corde ſuo gerebat propter verecundiam, quam ſibi fecerat in obſidione urbis Mediolanenſis, a qua ipſe Henricus receſſerat cum ſuis Imperatore invito & ejus humilibus precibus parvipenſis. Propter quod Imperator crimen læſæ Majeſtatis ei oppoſuit in præſentia Principum totius Alemanniæ. quos ad colloquium vocaverat in urbem Merſeburg. Et extunc de communi aſſenſu omnes illi Principes in ejus depoſitionem & privationem conſpiraverunt pariter & perſecutionem. Noluit tamen protunc Imperator aliquid contra ipſum attentare, ſed prius voluit ipſum legitime citari & manifeſte convinci. Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ & Bawariæ, ſecundum Egghardum, uxorem ſuam Clementiam ſororem Bertoldi Ducis Zaringiæ repudiavit propter conſangvinitatis propinquitatem, ut dicebatur, & duxit Mechtildem filiam Regis Angliæ, devotam valde & pauperum ac Religioſorum amatricem, cujus nuptias in Brunswik magnifice celebravit. Paſchalis Antipapa ſucceſſor Victoris obiit, ſecundum Wilhelmum, & Kalixtus Papa, quia antea Johannes dictus fuit, in ejus locum eligitur & confirmatur ac conſecratur. Hic Kalixtus Antipapa per Fredericum Imperatorem violenter in ſedem ſuam introductus eſt. Nam in diebus illis Fredericus Imperator, ſecundum Helmoldum in Chronica Slavorum, morabatur in Italia, & contritæ ſunt rebelliones Lombardorum a fortitudine virtutis ejus, & effregit civitates plures populoſas & munitas. Et convertit faciem ſuam, ut iret Romam ad debellandum fautores Alexandri Papæ, & ad introducendum Kalixtum. Cæſar ergo obſidens Januam, quæ fuit partium Alexandri, præmiſit Reynoldum Colonienſem & Chriſtianum Moguntinum Archiepiſcopos, & partem exercitus juſſit præire Romam. Et venerunt Tuſculanum, quod non longe eſt a Roma. Quorum introitu comperto, Romani exierunt cum immenſo exercitu, pugnaturi propter Alexandrum. Et egreſſus Reynoldus cum militibus Teuthonicis, pugnaverunt pauci contra innumeros, & obtinuerunt Romanos in campo, & percuſſerunt ex eis ad XIIM. & perſecuti ſunt fugientes usque ad portas urbis. Et corrupta eſt terra propter cadavera mortuorum, & permanſerunt uxores Romanorum viduæ in annos multos, eo quod deficiſſent viri inhabitatores urbis. Ipſa autem die, qua hæc geſta ſunt Romæ, pugnavit Cæſar cum Januenſibus, & obtinuit victoriam, compoſ effectus civitatis. Et aſſumto exercitu, abiit Romam, & invenit Reynoldum Archiepiſcopum & exercitum, quem præmiſerat, lætantem de victoria. Et admovit exercitum, ut caperet Romam, & expugnavit domum B. Petri, quia præſidium Romanorum illic erat, & juſſit ignem portis immitti, & abegit Romanos a turribus per vaporem fumi, & obtinuit templum, & replevit ædem interfectis, & inthronizavit Kalixtum in cathedram, & egit illic ſolennitatem B. Petri ad Vincula. Admovitque manum Lateranenſibus, ut deſtrueret eos, dederuntque ei pro vita ſimul & civitate, quicquid poſtulavit, & accepit filios Nobilium obſides, ut de cætero obedientes eſſent Kalixto fide irrefragabili. Secuta autem eſt hos proſperos ſucceſſus Cæſaris repentina calamitas. Tanta enim peſtilentia Romam invaſit, ut infra paucos dies univerſi pene interirent exercitus Cæſaris viri. Præterea nobiliſſimus adoleſcens Conradi Regis filius, qui duxerat unicam filiam Henrici Ducis Saxoniæ, ibidem vita deceſſit. Inſuper plures Epiſcopi, Principes & Nobiles ipſo tempore interierunt. MDCCC. & LX. anni transacti, naſcetur Antichriſtus. Monaſterium Dobberanenſe prope Roſtok Ordinis Ciſtertienſis, ſecundum Chronicas Lubicenſium, fundatur per Guntzelinum Comitem Zwerinenſem, vel ſecundum quosdam, per Pribizlaum Obotritorum (Principem.)

Sextodecimo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXX. Henricus filius Frederici Cæſaris, ſecundum Vincentium, Aquisgrani in Regem Romanorum coronatur per Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem Reynerum. Germarus Princeps Ranorum ſive Rugianorum, ſecundum Chronicam Lubicenſem, Baptiſmi fidem ſuſcepit cum omnibus Ranis ſibi ſubjectis. Fuit autem iſta tertia converſio iſtius patriæ a temporibus Karoli Magni & Lodowici filii ſui Imperatorum. Armigeri ignei viſi ſunt bellare in aëre tempore nocturno, ſecundum Vincentium. Quod quidem portentum præſagium fuit futuræ ſtragis populi, quæ facta eſt eodem anno. Nam Henricus Rex Angliæ intrans Normanniam, innumerabilem populum peremit. Inde vero procedens cum Lodewico Rege Francorum & Philippo Comite Flandriæ obſedit Rothomagum urbem quam expugnarunt illi Principes, & populum infinitum occiderunt. Robertus Præpoſitus de Area, filius unius pauperis fabri, ſecundum Egghardum, duos regebat Epiſcopatus, puta Atrebatenſem & Tornacenſem. Qui, ut quidam volunt, ad tantos devenit honores ex eo, quod familiaritatem cum dæmone contraxit. Hartwicus Bremenſis Archiepiſcopus, ſecundum Helmoldum, ſede ſua pellitur per Henricum Ducem Saxoniæ, & caſtrum Vriburg in litore Albiæ ſitum, quod ad Eccleſiam Bremenſem pertinebat, funditus deſtruitur per eundem Ducem.

Decimo ſeptimo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXI. Pribizlaus Obotritorum Princeps, ſecundum Chronicam Lubicenſem, ſedens quietus & contentus in portione terræ ſibi a Duce Henrico gratioſe reſtitutæ, reſtauravit urbes & opida tempore gwerræ vaſtata. Receperat namque a Duce prædicto omnem hæreditatem paternam terræ Obotritorum, præter Zwerin caſtrum & urbem ac pertinentia ad caſtrum. Quod quidem caſtrum cum ſuis attinentiis conſignavit Guntzelino & hæredibus ſuis perpetuo poſſidendum. Frederico Imperatore Erphordiæ terræ Thuringorum exiſtente, ſecundum Egghardum, ſeptem Principes & multi Nobiles cum fere centum militibus ſubmerſi ſunt in latrina, Imperatore vix ſe ſalvante, nullo tamen Epiſcopo vel Clerico ibidem pereunte aut periclitante. Henricus autem Comes de Swartzeburg ibi profundius corruit, qui aſſidue ſic jurare conſvevit: Si hoc fecero vel dixero, aut non fecero, ſubmergar in latrina. Imperator autem ea de cauſa Erphordiam acceſſerat, ut Archiepiſcopum Moguntinum confirmaret, & Lantgravium Thuringorum.

Decimo octavo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXII. In Egmunda villa terræ Hollandiæ, ſecundum Wilhelmum, natus eſt agnus, unum caput habens & duas partes poſteriores cum ſex pedibus & duabus caudis. Et conjecturatum eſt a quibusdam, duas partes poſteriores ſignificare Hollandiam & Friſiam, quæ ad unum Comitem quaſi ad unum caput ſint reducendæ. Pribizlaus Regulus & Princeps Obotritorum, ſecundum Chronicam Lubicenſium, urbem Roſtok de parvo opido fundavit & ampliavit, trahens ipſam ad flumen Warnowe; civibus autem dedit autoritatem conſtituendi Conſulatum juxta formam & modum civitatis Lubicanæ. Alexander Papa intelligens, ſecundum Vincentium, Imperatorem fævire propter ipſum, diverſa prœlia movendo, & Eccleſias Gallicanas propter eum perſequendo, noluit cauſa eſſe cædis tot Chriſtianorum. Unde in forma pauperis Sacerdotis peregrinantis clam aufugiens, ſe ad liberam Venetiarum urbem tranſtulit, & declinans ad Canonicos S. Salvatoris, ductus eſt per eosdem ad Monaſterium B. Mariæ de Caritate, ubi in habitu incognito ipſe ignotus eisdem Fratribus humiliter ſervivit per aliquod tempus. S. Thomas Canthuarienſis Archiepiſcopus patitur mortem pro juſtitia Eccleſiæ ſuæ. Hic vir Dei, ſecundum Jacobum de Voragine, dum in curia Regis Angliæ Henrici eſſet, & ibidem multa irreligioſa & inordinata fieri videret, curiam illam deſeruit, & Canthuariam ſe transferens, illius Eccleſiæ Archiepiſcopo ſe ſociavit, a quo Archidiaconus factus, tandem ad preces Regis Cancellarius ipſius factus eſt, ut ſua prudentia malorum, qui erant in curia, coërceret defectus. Quem Rex poſtea Archiepiſcopum fieri ordinavit. Quem gradum cum adeptus eſſet, ſubito mutatus eſt in alterum virum, carnem ſuam cilicio, jejunio & vigiliis multis caſtigavit. Non ſolum enim cilicio pro camiſia utebatur, ſed etiam femoralia cilicina usque ad poplitem deferebat. Tredecim quoque pauperum pedes cotidie lavabat, & eos lotos paſcebat, atque cuilibet argenteum largiens, remittebat. Libertates Eccleſiæ ſuæ pro viribus defendere ſatagebat, & perverſas conſvetudines hactenus ſervatas, quæ ſuæ Eccleſiæ jura & libertates infringere videbantur, abolere ſtudebat, & per hoc Regis indignationem incurrebat. Rex vero ipſum flectere ad ſuam voluntatem laborabat, ſed minime hoc efficere poterat. Cumque Rex ſibi minaretur, Principum ſuorum deceptus conſilio, ad tempus Regi conſenſit. Sed cum videret, ex hoc conſenſu periculum Eccleſiæ ſuæ imminere, conſenſum revocavit, & pœnitentiam de eo agens, ſe ipſum ab officii ſui executione tam diu ſuſpendit, quousque a Papa reſtitueretur. Rex autem, quod ab eo impetraverat, & ad quod conſenſum ſuum dederat, petivit literis ſuis confirmari. Quod cum facere omnino renueret, Rex ab eo receſſit cum indignatione maxima. Cumque vir Dei mortem ſibi imminere videret, dedit locum iræ, & diſceſſit in Franciam ad Alexandrum Papam, qui protunc etiam ibidem exulabat. Henricus autem Rex miſit ad Papam contra Archiepiſcopum, petivit, ut cauſa ſua diſcuteretur. Sed cum pro Archiepiſcopo ſententiaretur a Papa & Cardinalibus, Rex majori invidia contra ipſum pro-

Quod ſimilis videns, lugubres illos rumores ad Regem demiſit. Mox ille ad ſe illum curſum, cubum hoc humanitate occurtatus, accenſo lumine ad ſe ſequi juſſit. gat, ut interdictum ſuſpenſionis a te tollat. Quæ verba cum Sacerdos Præſuli ſancto diceret, mox ſuſpenſionem relaxavit, Sacerdotique hoc occultare, quamdiu viveret, præcepit. Defendit denique Sanctus vir, ut prius, Eccleſiæ ſuæ jura, nec a Rege minis aut precibus flecti poterat ad conſenſum ſuæ voluntatis. Tunc milites armati miſſi a Rege, venerunt ad manſionem Archiepiſcopi, & ipſum quæſierunt. Quibus occurrens dixit: Ecce ego, quid vultis? At illi, venimus, inquiunt, ut occidaris. Qui ait: Pro Deo paratum me invenietis mori & pro defenſione juſtitiæ & libertate Eccleſiæ meæ. Si ergo me quæritis hac de cauſa interficere, vobis ex parte Dei & ſub anathematis maledictione præcipio, ne horum cuiquam noceatis, qui mecum ſunt. Deo autem & B. Mariæ Virgini & Sanctis hujus Eccleſiæ Patronis me & cauſam meam commendo. His dictis, corona ſacri capitis præſcinditur, cerebrum per Eccleſiæ pavimentum ſpargitur, & ſic Martyr conſecratur. Dum autem Clerici & Monachi in ejus exequiis Requiem Æternam inciperent, chori Angelorum aſtantes, Miſſam Martyris inceperunt, concinentes: Lætabitur juſtus, & tunc Clerici officium hoc proſecuti ſunt. Propter hujus Sancti viri interfectionem Alexander Papa miſit duos Cardinales ad Galliæ partes, ubi Henricus Anglorum Rex in Tuſculanam urbem citatus venit, & jurejurando ſe expurgavit de morte ſancti Antiſtitis. Sed quia occaſione turbationis, quam contra ipſum habuerat, occiſus fuerat, ideo pro eo obtulit CC. milites ultra mare peregrinaturos, & per annum ibidem permanſuros, ac pro fide ibidem pugnaturos. Se ipſum vero cruce ſignans, infra triennium illuc transfretaturum ſe promiſit. Hujus Sancti Martyris tumba pretioſa nimis extitit, de puro auro fabricata, & diverſis lapidibus pretioſis ornata, inter quos unus lapis inſignis habetur, qui miraculoſe de annulo Lodowici Regis Francorum, cum ipſum cauſa devotionis viſitaret, profiliit, & tumbæ ſe infixit, quem vir aureus in dextra parte thecæ virgula aurea oſtendit. Lapis ille ſapphirus eſt. Hugo venerabilis Abbas Lovævallis multa ſanctitatis indicia oſtendit, ſecundum Wilhelmum. Ad iſtum columba nive albior volans, & in aure ejus roſtrum ſuum figens, dixit ei verbis humanis: In nomine Patris & Filii & Spiritus Sancti, para te. Mandat tibi S. Bernhardus, ut vadas facere pacem inter Papam & Imperatorem. Quod & poſtea factum eſt. Fredericus Imperator, capto Mediolano, ſecundum Vincentium, murum civitatis altiſſimum prorſus delevit, & annis V. anguſtioſis oneribus cives crudeliter vexavit. Trium quoque Magorum corpora, quæ in urbem illam anno Domini CCCXIIII. B. Euſtorgius ab urbe Conſtantinopolitana transvexerat, proh dolor! in Coloniam Teuthoniæ civitatem inclytam per Reynaldum Colonienſem Archiepiſcopum transvehi permiſit. O Mediolanum! O civitas præclara, tantarum reliquiarum theſauro ſpoliata, tantoque ſervitutis opprobrio proſtrata! Ubi nunc eſt murus altiſſimus, qui te undique circuibat? ubi turres mirabiles? ubi trophæorum & triumphorum jactantia? Tua nunc ſaltem radicitus depreſſa eſt arrogantia. Poſt annum vero quintum ſuæ captionis, urbs hæc a ſervitutis vinculo relaxatur, & reflorere incepit. Fuit autem Mediolanum a Gallis conditum, anno poſt Romam conditam CCCLXIIII. ante nativitatem vero Domini CCCCIII.

Decimo nono anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXIII. Veneti cum Imperatore diſcordare cœperunt, ſecundum Vincentium. Eſt autem Venetiarum urbs in quadam inſula fundata non natura, ſed arte quadam & induſtria humana compacta. Nam, ut tradunt Hiſtoriæ antiquæ, Rex Gothorum Attila Aquilegiam, habitatores ejus fugavit. Qui ad locum illum venientes, ibidem inſulam congeſſerunt, & eam a venalitate Venetiam appellaverunt, urbem in ea fundare incipientes. Habitaverant enim ibidem duo cives ab initio fundationis illius inſulæ, unus dives & alter pauper; dives autem mercantiæ operam dedit, quærens a paupere, ſiquid pecuniæ vellet cum eo componere ad negotiandum, qui reſpondit: Pecuniam nullam habeo, ſed ſunt mihi duo catti venales, quos, ſi volueris, recipias, & melius noſtrum cum eis facias. Hos dives ille ſecum attulit, & caſu in locum quendam venit, ubi mures fere totum vaſtaverant locum. Ibi cattos ſuos pro magna pecunia vendidit, cum qua negotiatus, bona multa ſocio ſuo lucratus eſt. Cum autem Alexander Papa in urbe Venetiarum ſerviret in Monaſterio Beatæ Mariæ, ſecundum Egghardum, quidam peregrinus, divina procul dubio ordinatione, votivus ad viſitandam Terram Sanctam venit de Gallia in urbem Venetiarum. Ubi, dum ex devotione circuiret Eccleſias, tandem venit ad Monaſterium B. Mariæ de Caritate, videnſque, miſſam celebrare Alexandrum Papam in habitu & forma ſimplicis Sacerdotis, ſtatim cognovit eum, eo quod pluries in Francia ipſum vidiſſet. Et mox vadens ad Sebaſtianum inclytum Ducem Venetiarum, ſibi indicavit, quod Alexander ſummus Pontifex in tali Eccleſia in forma Sacerdotis ſimplicis miſſam celebraſſet. Quod audiens Dux, ſumta ſecum nobilium Senatorum turma, una cum Patriarcha Gradenſi & Epiſcopo Caſtellano, qui protunc ibidem peregrini aderant, ad præfatum Monaſterium pro requirendo Papa proceſſit. Quem cum vidiſſet ex oſtenſione illius peregrini Gallici, qui ei hoc revelaverat, & in veritate ita eſſe comperiſſet, flexis genibus ſe exhibuit, ad oſcula pedum ſuorum, præſentans ei chlamydem, mitram & alia ornamenta Apoſtolica quæ ad hoc facta in promto habebat. Et confortabat ipſum in Domino, ut depoſito metu, aſſumeret animum virilem, quia eſſet in urbe tutiſſima, in qua ipſum pro viribus defendere vellet, contra omnem principem mundi. Papa autem ultra ſe celare non valens, ac conſiderans ſerioſam & ferventem intentionem Ducis ac civium Venetiarum, benedictionem ſuam contulit Domino Duci & toti patriæ. Procedens ergo Dominus Papa de Monaſterio cum Duce & aliis Prælatis ad Eccleſiam S. Marci, ſtetit tit in choro ejusdem Ecclesiæ, & acceptum cereum candidum dedit Duci in manus suas dicens: Karissime fili, accipe hunc cereum; & eo ad perpetuum honorem tuum utere in processionibus in signum, quod tu & successores tui semper eritis Catholicæ fidei fideles Principes. Dux ergo Sebastinus & omnis populus urbis prædictæ miserunt solennes nuncios ad Imperatorem Fredericum, ut Papam Alexandrum ei reconciliarent, & pacem ac unitatem in Ecclesia Dei facerent. Qui cum ad Imperatorem venirent, benigne & gratanter sunt ab eo recepti & pertracti. Sed cum negotium suum solicitare inciperent, durum & ingratum receperunt ab eo responsum. Mandavit enim Fredericus ambasiatoribus, ut Duci & civitati dicerent, quod Papam fugitivum sibi mitterent, & defendere ac tenere ipsum desisterent. Quod si facere recusarent, extunc ad bellum se disponerent, quia contra eos tanquam Imperii traditores procedere omni virtute sua vellet. Redeuntes nuncii renunciaverunt Duci & communitati urbis Venetiarum Imperatoris durum verbum. Quod Papa audiens, multum expavit, sed benignus Dux ipsum consolatus est, dicens: Ob amorem fidei Catholicæ & honorem Sanctæ Matris Ecclesiæ viriliter defendemus vos. Sitis tantum constantis animi, & nolite timere. Sebastinus ergo Dux & totus Senatus cum populo universo rebus bellicis comparatis, se exitu-rosad pugnandum pro justitia totis viribus armaverunt. Paratæ ergo sunt XXX. galeæ cum fortissimo exercitu, & ventis prospere flantibus Papa eos hortabatur, ut viriliter pugnent contra Dei & Ecclesiæ inimicos, quia omnibus eis concederet de omnipotentis Dei & Apostolorum Petri & Pauli autoritate remissionem omnium peccaminum suorum. Duci vero dedit ensem pro se & suis successoribus in signum perpetuæ justitiæ, cujus Protectores esse deberent. Nunciatur ergo Duci, quod hostes cum LXXV. galeis adessent, quorum Capitaneus esset Henricus filius Imperatoris, nuper Romanorum Rex factus, & jam perveniisset ad Pontiam Sabloye in confinibus Histriæ. Quod ut Dux audivit, taliter locutus est ad suos: Sequamini me fiducialiter, quia primus in acie existens experiar hunc ensem in hostes. Deum & justitiam pro nobis habemus, & ideo neminem timere debemus, in cujus virtute unus fugat mille. Congressi ergo simul navali bello pugnaverunt fortiter, & Domino Deo Duci assistente, & pro eo pugnante, factus est victor, & Henricum Imperatoris filium cum LX. galeis vicit & recepit, cæteris vel igne aut unda consumtis. Quo triumpho peracto, Dux cum captivis & suis Venetias revertitur, & cum inæstimabili gaudio a Papa & Clero ac universo populo recipitur, captivis in custodias securas destinatis. Henricus autem Rex Romanorum, ut a captivitate liberaretur, promisit, se pacem facturum inter patrem suum & Papam, aut iterum in captivitatem reversurum. Quod & efficaciter adimplevit. Nam præstita fide & datis obsidibus Henricus ad patrem suum revertitur, & cum eo de pace & reconciliatione Alexandri Papæ seriosissime tractans, post multam disceptationem tandem patrem suum ad pacis fœdera inclinavit sub juramento præstito de fide servanda. Quo habito, Rex ad Ducem revertens cum literis Imperatoris aureo signeto roboratis, bono fine omnia concluſit. Respexerat namque Deus de solio suo excelso super filios hominum, & ortus est in Ecclesia Dei dies lætitiæ cessante schismate, quod jam XX. annis Ecclesiam Dei dissipaverat, & facta est pax inter Regnum & Sacerdotium, & coadunata est Ecclesia in Alexandro, factumque est unum ovile & unus pastor totius Ecclesiæ Dei.

Vicesimo anno Frederici, qui est Domini MCLXXIIII. Alexander Papa Concilium generale Venetiis convocans, secundum Vincentium in Speculo, Fredericus Imperator ad Papam venit cum LXXXVI. Episcopis & multis Principibus, ubi Imperator se humilians coram summo Pontifice & Christi vicario, petiit veniam. Papa autem, Imperatore prostrato coram eo, pedem dextrum levans, super scapulam Cæsaris posuit, & dixit: Super aspidem & basiliscum ambulabo, & conculcabo leonem & draconem. Deinde ipsum a sententia excommunicationis absolvens, ipsum levavit & osculatus est. Calixtum vero Antipapam damnavit cum omnibus sibi adhærentibus. Et sic inveteratum schisma sopitum est ex toto mortificatum. De Venetiis autem Alexander Papa Romam, a qua jam diu absens fuerat, rediit, & Lateranis iterum Concilium colligens, quatuor schismaticos & Pseudopapas vicit & damnavit, puta Octavianum, qui & Victor, Gvidonem, qui & Paschalis, Johannem, qui & Calixtus, & Laudanum, qui & Innocentius dicti fuerunt, quorum tres fuerunt Presbyteri Cardinales, qui per Alexandrum successive excommunicati, omnes mala morte perierunt. S. Thomas Archiepiscopus Canthuariensis, secundum Wilhelmum, ab Alexandro Papa catalogo Sanctorum annumeratur, ipsum canonizando. Odalricus Episcopus Halberstadensis autoritate Apostolica jussus est reverti in sedem suam, secundum Egghardum. Sed & manus Imperatoris erat cum ipso, in omnibus confortans eum. Statim ergo ad introitum illius Episcopi commota est terra, quia faventibus sibi Principibus orientalibus, contra Henricum Ducem Saxoniæ multa moliri cœpit. Gerone ergo Episcopo intruso fugato, & omnia, quæ multis annis in Ecclesia illa per eum ordinata fuerant, cassata sunt. Omnes vero ordinati a Gerone, ab officio suspensi sunt. Ecclesiæ quoque, quas ipse consecraverat, imo magis exsecraverat, clausæ sunt usque ad reconsecrationem. Corpus quoque B. Bernhardi Episcopi, quod ipse transtulerat, per Odalricum iterum terræ recommendatum est.

Vicesimo primo anno Frederici, qui est Domini MCLXXV. Noradinus Rex Turcorum, secundum Vincentium in Speculo, obiit, & Saladinus genere ignobilis, sed consilio & armis strenuus, Regnum ejus occupavit, & filios Noradini radini exhæreditavit. Hic etiam Ægyptum aggreſſus, Babylonem & Taheram Regni caput cepit, & Mulenem Regem peremit, omnemque ſtirpem Regiam exterminavit. Syriæ quoque Regnum & Ægypti ſub una redegit poteſtate. Magna pars Antiochiæ terræmotu horribili corruit ſecundum Martinum, Jeroſolyma vero valde tremuit, ſed non corruit. Alexander Papa Epiſcopum Papienſem crucis & pallii dignitate, quibus, ſecundum Wilhelmum, uti conſvevit ab antiquo, privavit.

Viceſimo ſecundo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXVI. Robertus Præpoſitus de Area, de quo ſupra mentio habita eſt, ſecundum Egghardum, a quibusdam ribaldis occiditur, procurante necem ejus de Aneſiis milite. Philippus filius Lodowici Regis Francorum, ſecundum Vincentium, in die omnium Sanctorum Rhemis conſecratur in Regem a Gwillerino avunculo ſuo, de Archiepiſcopatu Senonenſi in Archiepiſcopum Rhemenſem translato, aſtante Henrico Rege Anglorum ex una parte coronam ſuper caput Regis Franciæ ex debito obſequio & ſubjectione humiliter tenente.

Viceſimo tertio anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXVII. Henricus Epiſcopus Lubicenſis tertius, ſucceſſor Conradi, ſecundum Chronicam Lubicenſem, conſtruxit Monaſterium Ordinis Sancti Benedicti in Lubeke in honorem Mariæ Virginis Glorioſiſſimæ & B. Johannis Evangeliſtæ, & poſuit in eo Monachos dicti Ordinis. Henricus Leo Dux Saxoniæ & Bavariæ, ſecundum Egghardum, circumdedit urbem Brunſwic foſſatis & vallis, & munivit eam muro ſolenni, timens Imperatoris irruptionem & Principum Cæſari contra ſe faventium. Henricus Epiſcopus Lubicenſis, ſecundum Chronicam Lubicenſem, fundato opere novellæ plantationis, puta Monaſterio S. Johannis in urbe eadem ipſam Eccleſiam conſecravit in die S. Ægidii Abbatis, aſſiſtentibus ei Ethelone Præpoſito majoris Eccleſiæ & Odone Decano. Sed quia propter paucos reditus Epiſcopales eam dotare non poterat magnifice, contulit tamen eidem in dotem dimidiam villam Tangheveld, & aliam villulam Clene dictam, & tres dimidias decimationes in Gladeburge majori & minori, & in Stubbekeſtorp; curtes etiam in civitate ſuis propriis donariis comparavit, perſolventes annuatim octo marcas; & quosdam agros dedit in campo ejusdem civitatis. Et ita omni devotione tenellæ plantationi inſiſtebat non ſine magna æmulatione quorundam, qui ejus ſtudiis ſalutaribus invidebant.

Viceſimo quarto anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXVIII. Equus quidam, ſecundum Egghardum, locutus eſt ſeſſori ſuo, dicenti ſibi: Bibe diabole; invitum, inquit, poteris me ad aquas ducere, ſed me invitum non poteris adaquare. Fredericus Imperator, ſecundum Vincentium, Longobardiam repetiit ad obſidendam urbem Palea, quæ nunc Alexandria dicitur. Mediolanenſis urbs iterum Imperatorem Fredericum offendit, ſecundum Egghardum, contra quos Cæſar omnes Principes Alemanniæ in ſuum auxilium vocavit, & præſertim Henricum Leonem, Ducem Saxoniæ & Bavariæ. Ad cujus imperium ſe omnes Principes paraverunt pariter & venerunt, præter Ducem Henricum, qui noluit contra civitatem illam venire, eo quod dominium quoddam in ea a civibus recepiſſet. Imperator ergo cum valida manu ipſam impugnans, tandem ſecundario eam expugnavit, & funditus eam deſtruxit. Ipſa iterum tamen in paucis annis reſtaurata eſt. Philippus Rex Francorum filius Lodowici, ſecundum Wilhelmum, patre ſuo adhuc vivente, ſed paralyſi gravi laborante in tantum juramenta exhorruit, quod, ſi etiam fortuito vel improviſe miles quiscunque vel alius in taberna ludens, eo præſente juraſſet, mox ipſum in flumen vel lacum projici juſſiſſet. Quod pluries ab eo expertum eſt. Et ideo per edictum publicum tandem ſtatuit hoc in poſterum firmiſſime fore obſervandum.

Viceſimo quinto anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXIX. Fredericus Imperator ſolennem curiam tenuit in Herbipoli, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, in qua congregati extiterunt plures Principes ſeculares & ſpirituales. Ad hanc curiam citaverat Imperator peremtorie Henricum Leonem Ducem Saxoniæ, Angariæ & Bavariæ. Cum autem jam tertio citatus, non compareret, de communi conſenſu omnium Principum, ab omni Ducatu, dignitate, gloria & honore militari, quos vel quas idem, Dux in feodum a Romano Imperio acceperat, aut Archiepiſcopis, Epiſcopis, Abbatibus & quibuscunque perſonis Eccleſiaſticis receperat & tenuerat, deſtituitur & privatur, autoritate Imperiali. Facta eſt autem hæc deſtitutio & privatio in Geylehuſem Dominica Judica. Chronica tamen Slavorum diſcrepat a prædictis, & de loco curiæ & de modo proceſſus judicialis. Dicit enim ſic: Imperator Fredericus reverſus de Italia poſuit curiam ſuam in Wormatia, & ad ipſam citavit Henricum Ducem Saxoniæ ad comparendum ibidem & ad reſpondendum objiciendis. Quod intelligens Dux Henricus, venire diſſimulavit. Imperator autem aliam curiam poſuit in Martipolim, id eſt Magdeburg, ubi Theodericus Marchio de Landesberg duellum contra ipſum Henricum Ducem expetiit, imponens ei quasdam Imperii traditiones. Verius tamen propter indignationem id factum fuiſſe creditur, quia Slavi excitati a Duce, omnem terram Marchionis illius, quæ Luzatia dicitur, irrecuperabiliter devaſtaverant. Ad hanc ergo curiam iterum citatus Henricus Dux ſæpe dictus venire contemſit. In Haldesleve tamen conſtitutus, per internuncios colloquium Imperatoris expetiit. Imperator vero ad ipſum exivit ad locum placiti, quem Dux verbis compoſitis lenire ſtuduit. Fredericus autem Imperator V. milia marcarum argenti puri ab eo poſtulavit, hoc dans ei conſilium, ut hunc honorem Imperatoriæ Majeſtati deferret, & ſic ipſo mediante gratiam Principum, quos graviter offenderat, recuperaret. acquieſcens verbis Imperatoris abſceſſit. Exinde Imperator tertiam ei curiam Goslariæ præfixit, nec minus illam ſubſedendo neglexit. Imperator itaque procedens in concionis ſententiam contra ipſum, quæſivit, quid ſuper hæc juſtitia fiendum decernat, quod tertio legitime citatus & evocatus judicium declinaſſet, & per contemtum & contumaciam ad audientiam ſuam venire diſſimulaſſet. Cui per ſententiam Principum reſponſum eſt, quod juſtitia dictante, omni honore & dignitate ſit deſtituendus, ita ut proſcriptione publica dijudicatus, & Ducatu ac omnibus beneficiis & dignitatibus careat, & alter in locum ejus conſurgat. Confirmata ergo ſententia illa, Imperator id adjudicavit fieri, quartam tamen de ſuperabundanti & ex rogatu Principum curiam ei indixit in Herbipolim. Ad quam cum venire contemſiſſet, fecit, ut ex ſententia Principum inſtructus fuerat. Unde Bernhardum Comitem de Anehald pro eo Ducem Saxoniæ conſtituit, & Epiſcopis, ut ſua reciperent, quæ in beneficiis ab eis habuerat, mandavit, ac bona ipſius publicari fecit. Dux vero audiens, ſe condemnatum & dignitatibus privatum, dixit, injuſte ſecum fore proceſſum, ex eo quod de Svevia eſſet, nec aliquem proſcriptione poſſe damnari, niſi prius convictum in terra nativitatis ſuæ. Imperator autem ulterius contra ipſum ſæviens, Ducatum Bayoariæ ſive Bavariæ patruis Henrici Leonis dimiſit, Ducatum vero Angariæ ſive Weſtphaliæ dedit Eccleſiæ Colonienſi, pro eo quod Reynoldus Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis ei fidelis coadjutor in expugnatione urbium Italicarum extitiſſet, & illo in tempore Henricus Leo ab Imperatore indignanter recedens, diœceſim ſuam invaſiſſet, & vim gravem intuliſſet. A prædicto autem Comite Bernhardo, loco Henrici Leonis Duce Saxoniæ facto, omnes Duces Saxoniæ moderni proceſſerunt. Philippus Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, ſecundum Wilhelmum, Ducatum Angariæ ſive Weſtphaliæ accepit a Frederico Imperatore in beneficium perpetuum Eccleſiæ Colonienſi incorporatum. In cujus donationis firmitatem irrevocabilem dictus Philippus Archiepiſcopus largitus eſt ad expenſarum relevamen Imperatori prælibato VM. florenorum. Hic Philippus caſtrum Rynekke, quod Reynoldus ædificare inceperat, perfecit, & caſtellanis munivit. Fundavit etiam caſtrum Permund ſuper Weſeram flumen. Curtem autem in Sozato decenter ædificavit, & ſimiliter in Rekelinghuſen, inſuper curtem in Brule, in Lechenich in Rudenque. Caſtrum quoque Aſpele prope Recz fundavit. Emit etiam plura caſtra, puta Waſſenberg, Rudeke, Deeſt, Olebugge, Are, Kempenich, Burgethen, Blankenburg, Dale, Nuwenburg, Froylbrecht, Tekeneburg, Wyſchene, Iloye, Hagghene, Ytere, & plura alia. Proprietatem autem horum caſtrorum dedit Beato Petro, ſed Principibus & terrarum Dominis dedit quædam ex eis jure feodali poſſidenda. Philippus iſte coronavit Henricum filium Frederici Imperatoris in Regem Romanorum Aquisgrani. Odelricus Epiſcopus Halberſtadenſis, ſecundum Chronicam Saxonum, occupavit montem Hoppelberg, firmans illic præſidium, & adjuvabant eum manus orientalium Principum. Quod audiens Henricus Leo deſtitutus Dux, venit illic cum multitudine armatorum, & fugatis hoſtibus, fregit munitionem. At illi, reſumtis viribus, cœpto operi inſtiterunt; cumque ſecundo eis occurreret Henricus Leo, illi invaleſcentes, exercitum Henrici in fugam verterunt, & pluribus captivatis, ſpolia multa abduxerunt. Multi etiam perierunt ibidem ſuffocati in locis paluſtribus. Defunctus eſt etiam tunc temporis Henricus Comes, vitricus Comitis Adolfi Nordalbingiæ adoleſcentis, cujus mater Mechtildis prudens & religioſa relicta Adolfi a Slavis nuper interfecti, domum illius & Comitiam prudenter regebat. Philippus Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis, ſecundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum, fortem contraxit exercitum, & in manu valida pertranſivit cunctam terram Henrici Leonis, & timuerunt omnes a facie ejus. Facta autem ſunt abominabilia mala in perſecutione iſta, eo quod viri iniqui & filii Belial, qui comitabantur cum eo, nequiſſimi eſſent in ſceleribus perficiendis. Factæ autem ſunt cimiteriorum deprædationes, exuſtiones Eccleſiarum, & multa loca religioſa deſtructa ſunt, ita ut, quod actu eſt gravius, ſponſas Chriſti quaſi captivas abducerent, & eas proſtituendo, templa Dei non manufacta libidinoſe pollucrent. Quis non gemat, quod Sacerdoti ſacroſanctis myſteriis inſiſtenti non pepercerunt, ſed impingentes in ipſum, necdum plene completis ſacramentis calicem de manu ejus rapuerunt. Multa etiam alia ſceleratiſſimi illi perpetraverunt, quæ propter enormitatem fuit horribile ſcribere. Philippus autem Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis procedens usque Haldesleve, quam Wichmannus Archiepiſcopus obſederat, cum Principibus orientalibus confortans manus eorum, reverſus eſt in locum ſuum, non tamen ſine gravi compunctione; quia propter eum occaſio multorum malorum data fuerat. Crevit autem obſidio in menſes & dies, eo quod Bernhardus Comes de Lippia, præfectus urbis illius, vir ſtrenuus valde eſſet & in militia exercitatus, ac locus paluſtris ob hyemis mollitiem expugnari non poſſet. Cumque tædio diutini laboris deficerent, tandem quoddam novum genus expugnandi excogitaverunt, ut ſcilicet aquarum inundantia eam ſuffocarent. Cumque valio facto excogitatum opus conſtantiſſime peragerent, aquæ usque ad trabes domorum excreverunt, ſed adhuc veri bellatores civitatem tenuerunt. Tandem conditione interpoſita, Bernhardus cum ſuis liber egreditur, & civitas funditus deſtruitur. Hartwicus Bremenſis Archiepiſcopus obiit, cui in ſedem ſucceſſit Baldewinus, ſecundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum. Hic multum neglexit Eccleſiam ſuam, & ideo de ipſius converſatione melius eſt ſilere quam loqui. Quo decedente, electus eſt in Pontificem Dominus Bertoldus, vir prudens & literatus valde. In iſto quidem electio Henrico Duci deſtituto primo complacuit, ſed poſtea mutata voluntate diſplicere cœpit. Et quia in eo infra ſacros ordines celebrata eſt electio, viſum fuit ipſi electo minus canonice electionem in eo factam fuiſſe. Unde miſſa legatione ad Dominum Apoſtolicum, ipſe omnem ſeriem electionis ſibi intimavit, ſubmittens ſe ſuo judicio, ut ſi eam approbaret, rata maneret, ſi vero non, irrita haberetur. Papa autem cognita viri prudentia, & quia multum fructum in Eccleſia Dei facere poſſet, electionem ipſius approbavit, & per ſcripta ſua eum confirmavit. Bertoldus ergo promotus ad Ordinem Subdiaconatus, denuo in Pontificem electus eſt, ut ſiquid in priori electione minus canonice factum fuiſſet, eo ad ſacros Ordines promoto, Apoſtolica autoritate legitime ſuppleretur. Interim Alexander Papa convocato iterum Prælatorum Concilio Romæ in palatium Conſtantini, & pergebant illic multi Epiſcopi, & multi ordinati a ſchismaticis, ſperantes, ſe gratiam Apoſtolici invenire ad exequendum officium ſuum. Et præcipue venerunt de Eccleſia Halberſtadenſi, quæ per Geronem nimis dilapidata erat, tam Monachi quam Clerici, & clementiam Apoſtolicæ ſedis quæſierunt. In qua quidem profectione erat Thidericus de Hilleneburg, quia fere tota congregatio Monachorum ſuorum in ſalicibus organa ſua ſuſpenderant, exceptis paucis ſenioribus, qui ante ſchiſma ordinati fuerant. Cumque omni inſtantia laboraſſent, poſtulantes Apoſtolicam pietatem, tandem de ordinatis a Gerone diſpenſatum eſt, ut, quia idem Gero non a ſchiſmatico, ſed a Catholico Hartwico Bremenſi Archiepiſcopo ordinatus & conſecratus fuerat, ordinati ejus per gratiam, Apoſtolicam in receptis Ordinibus perſtiterunt, & ad majores per benedictionem aſcenderunt. Ipſe etiam Gero hanc obtinuit gratiam ut officium Pontificale in omni loco libere exequeretur, præterquam in Epiſcopatu Halberſtadenſi. Venit etiam illuc Bertoldus Electus Bremenſis, recepturus in promotione officii ſui Apoſtolicam benedictionem. Quem Dominus Papa benigne ſuſcipiens, omnem honorem ei deferebat, ita ut in Concilio Prælatorum cathedram ſuam inter ſummos Pontifices collocaret, & cum infulatum coram ſe reſidere faceret. Cumque in proximo Sabbato promovendus eſſet in Sacerdotem, & ſequenti Dominica in Epiſcopum, feria ſexta ad veſperam venit nuncius Henrici Ducis, ſcilicet Præpoſitus quidam, qui acutiſſimus erat perorator. Et quia idem notus erat ſummo Pontifici, ſtatim intravit ad ipſum. Mane autem facto, cum ſe Bremenſis Electus ad recipiendos ordines præpararet, & ei Hubaldus Cardinalis, qui poſt Alexandrum factus eſt Papa, in quo ſententia Romani conſilii pendebat, præparaturam ſuam deputaſſet, clamatum eſt a cubicularibus Papæ. Veniant Bremenſes. Venit ergo Dominus Bertoldus Electus cum ſuis, & Dominus Apoſtolicus egreſſus de cubiculo ſuo dixit ad eum: Frater, quia infra ſacros ordines ad dignitatem Pontificalem electus es, caſſamus electionem tuam. Cumque quidam aſtantium dicerent: Domine, meminerit pietas veſtra, quod electionem ipſius approbaveritis. Apoſtolicus autem in cubiculum, unde egreſſus fuerat, reverſus eſt. Bertoldus autem non ſine rubore magno diſceſſit, in cujus locum poſtea electus eſt Sifridus filius Adelberti Marchionis, cui Henricus Dux in omnibus aſſiſtebat propter patrem ſuum.

Viceſimo ſexto anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXX. ſecundum Vincentium, Alexander Papa Fredericum Imperatorem & Emanuelem Regem Græcorum Wilhelmumque Siculum ac Lombardos ad concordiam reduxit. Evermodus Epiſcopus Ratzeburgenſis defunctus eſt, vir religioſus valde, ſecundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum. De hoc Sancto Patre fertur, quod cum quodam tempore Henricus Comes de Ratzeburg duos captivos haberet inſignes de Friſia, & eos tyrannico more crudeliter tormentaret, Evermodus Epiſcopus eis compatiens, ſæpius Comitem, ut eos abſolveret, exorabat. Sed ille nulla motus miſeratione, minime eis parcebat. Inter hæc dies Paſchalis ſuperveniens, captivi pro reverentia feſti divinis intererant, ſub cuſtodia tamen duriſſime compediti. Cumque Epiſcopus, facta aſperſione, ad eos deveniſſet, catenas aqua benedicta miſeratione ductus aſperſit his verbis: Dominus ſolvit compeditos: Dominus erigit eliſos. Et mox cum magno ſtrepitu catena crepuit, & illi ſoluti Deum glorificabant. Hæc in monte S. Georgii acta ſunt, ubi tunc Sedes Epiſcopalis erat. Boya autem ſive catena ad indicium rei geſtæ in Eccleſia multis diebus pependit. Alio quoque tempore memoratus Præſul cum Domino Hartwico Archiepiſcopo Bremenſi in Dithmarica erat in quodam colloquio. Cum vir Dei miſſam publice præſente Archiepiſcopo celebraret, accidit, ut effuſione ſanguinis facta, quidam Dithmarcus quendam de melioribus terræ occidiſſet. Quod cum innotuiſſet Epiſcopo, ad reconciliationem laborare ſtudebat, & ut moris eſt, inter miſſarum ſolennia illum, cujus cognatus ceciderat, obnixe deprecabatur, ut proximo ſuo indulgeret, replicans de Oratione Dominica: Dimitte nobis debita noſtra, &c. Cumque ille tumida mente induratus, hoc nullo reputaret (modo), Epiſcopus de altari deſcendens, ad ipſum acceſſit, & cum Sanctorum reliquiis ad pedes illius ſe projecit. Cumque ille juramentis terribilibus per Deum & Matrem ipſius ſe ipſum conſtrinxiſſet, nunquam ſibi hoc dimiſſurum, Epiſcopus pro benedictione contradicenti alapam maximam dedit. Et mox ille promtiſſime manibus extenſis quod petebat, annuit, & proximum ad pacem & miſericordiam recepit. Quod divinitus factum credimus, & per alapam dæmonem fugatum. Huic ſancto viro ſucceſſit Sifridus, prius quidem Præpoſitus in Gerthowe, vir bonæ opinionis. Odalricus Epiſcopus Halberſtadenſis, ſecundum Egghardum, omnibus modis importune Henrico Leoni Duci deſtituto reſiſtebat, ita ut excommunicationis maledicta in eum ſæpius proferret. Facta autem ſuſpenſuſpenſione divinorum in toto Epiſcopatu illo, tantum in Monaſteriis ſub ſilentio divina celebrabantur, januis clauſis tamen propter excommunicatos. Dux autem valde timens excommunicationem, venit in Halberſtad cum ſuis, & in contritione cordis humiliatus eſt ad pedes Domini Epiſcopi, & ſolutus eſt a vinculo anathematis tam ipſe quam ſui. Et facti ſunt amici ad invicem Dux & Epiſcopus, ſed tamen modico hoc duravit tempore. Nam idem Epiſcopus impatiens otii & quietis erat, & iterum occaſione accepta additus eſt inimicis ſuis, & multa contra ipſum moliri cœpit; & factus noviſſimus error pejor priore. Wichmannus Archiepiſcopus Magdeburgenſis, ſecundum Egghardum, reduxit Henricum Leonem in gratiam Imperatoris cum filiis, ſcilicet Ottone, qui poſtea factus fuit Imperator, Henrico & Wilhelmo tali conditione interpoſita, ut renunciaret omni impetitioni & juri, quod habuerat in Ducatibus, puta Bavariæ & Saxoniæ ac Angariæ, juribus illis demtis, quæ in Dominiis habebat Brunſwicenſi ſcilicet & Luneburgenſi, quod efficaciter fecit. Cum hoc & abjuravit terram propriam in tribus annis ſe non viſurum, ſed exilium per triennium illud patienter ſe paſſurum ſpopondit. Et ſic ipſe & filii ſui fere per ſpatium LVI. annorum nullum alium titulum habuerunt præter illum, quod Domini nuncuparentur de Luneburg & Brunswic usque ad Ottonem filium Wilhelmi, quem Fredericus II. fecit Ducem, & Dominium illud Brunswicenſe commutavit in Ducatum, ut ſuo loco patebit. Hæc tamen reconciliatio pariter & abjuratio terrarum potius facta videtur & verius, ſecundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum, anno XXVIII. Frederici Imperatoris, ut clare patere per bella ſubſequentia per eum & cum eo facta & habita. Henricus Leo Dux deſtitutus, ſecundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum, congregato exercitu, direxit ipſum in Angariam, quæ nunc Weſtphalia dicitur, per manus Adolfi Comitis de Schowenburg, Bernhardi Comitis de Ratzeburg, Bernhardi Comitis de Welpe, Guntzelini Comitis de Swerin, Ludolfi Comitis de Harlemund & Wibrandi fratris ejus, ut pugnarent contra inimicos ſuos, qui fines ſuos in partibus illis occupabant, puta contra Simonem Comitem de Tekenenburg, Hermannum Comitem de Ravensberg, Henricum Comitem de Arnsberg, Widekinum Comitem de Swalenberg, & alios plures, & fecerunt contra Oſenbrugge urbem. Cumque appropinquaſſent hoſtes, attriti ſunt Weſtphali plaga magna, eo quod Saxones, qui Holtzati dicuntur, viri ſint absque miſericordia & humani ſanguinis aviditſimi effuſores, & non parcit oculus eorum ætati vel ſexui. Unde hi omnes, quos oppoſitos habebant, inſatiabiliter neci tradiderunt. Plures tamen a militibus in captivitate ducti ſunt, inter quos præcipuus extitit Simon Comes de Tekenenburg, qui a Henrico conjectus in vincula, conſtrictus manicis ferreis jacuit. Poſtea tamen ſolutus a vinculis, ſub juramento fidem faciens, factus eſt Duci Henrico fideliſſimus, & in omni illa controverſia ſecum fideliter perſeverabat. Facta eſt autem diſceptatio inter Henricum Leonem & Adolfum Comitem ac cæteros Nobiles de captivis. Dixit autem Henricus ſui juris eſſe, ut omnes captivi ſibi redderentur. Cui conſentiebat Guntzelinus Comes de Swerin. E contra alii dicebant, ſe ſtipendiis propriis militare, & ideo juſtum eſſe, ut de captivis ſuam partem reciperent. His contradictionibus Adolfus Comes animum Henrici Ducis ad amaritudinem magnam provocavit, & ex illo die ſeminarium diſcordiæ inter illos pullulavit & crevit.

Viceſimo ſeptimo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXXI. Odalricus Halberſtadenſis Epiſcopus, ſecundum Egghardum, zelo ductus antiquæ æmulationis, multis perturbationibus Henricum Ducem deſtitutum infeſtavit, ex quibus Eccleſiæ ſuæ gravis jactura eſt ſubſecuta. Nam cum ſæpiſſime eruptiones fierent de Halberſtad & de Horneburg caſtro, & ſuccenderentur villæ Henrici, & homines ſui aut mutilarentur, aut occiderentur, aut captivi ducerentur, tanta motus inquietatione, coadunatus amicorum ſuorum turmas, eas in partes illas miſit. Abeuntes ergo, exuſtiones & depræ'ationes villarum multarum fecerunt. Venientes tandem Halberſtad, ſine reſiſtentia magna civitatem obtinuerunt. Facta ergo diſcurſione per urbem, multa ſpolia acceperunt, urbe adhuc illæſa permanente, quæ undique clauſa & munita fuerat, in qua Dominus Epiſcopus cum multitudine armorum conſiſtebat. Providentia vero civium, qui periculum incendii timuerant, proviſum fuit, ut in tota civitate ignis non inveniretur, nec multum ab hoſtibus quærebatur ignis, eo quod propter ſanctimoniam loci parcerent urbi. Cumque unus in loco uno conturatum inveniſſet ignem, ex eo caſam quandam incendit, & mox creſcente incendio tota civitas conflagrata eſt. Major etiam Eccleſia S. Stephani & Eccleſia B. Virginis cum omni ornatu ſuo exuſtæ ſunt, ac multitudo Clericorum, quæ quaſi in aſylo ſe receperat, cum ſuis ſanctis locis incinerata eſt. Dominus quoque Odalricus Epiſcopus in domo propria igne circumdatus, cum ſuo cognato Romaro Præpoſito & aliis multis captivatus eſt. Reliquiæ quoque B. Stephani quaſi ſemiuſtæ adductæ ſunt. Depopulata ergo urbe, ſacrilegi illi reverſi ſunt Brunſwic. Henricus autem cum audiſſet civitatis deprædationem & vidiſſet captivorum multitudinem, lætatus eſt valde. Sed cognita incineratione tantarum Eccleſiarum, & tot Clericorum, videns quoque Dominum Epiſcopum cano capite grandævum captivum adductum, reliquias inſuper B. Stephani ſemiuſtas cernens, & ſqualore incendii ſuſcatas: dejecta facie uberrimas lacrymas fudit, præter voluntatem ſuam hæc facta conteſtans. Nec tamen ad præſens captivitatem illam relaxavit, ſed Odalricum Epiſcopum Ertneburg deduci juſſit, & honeſte tamen ſub cuſtodia, tractari fecit. Quem Mechtildis Duciſſa religioſa Domina, filia Henrici Anglorum Regis, pro reverentia Sacerdotii ve-veſtibus decentibus induebat, & de neceſſariis copioſe ſibi providebat. Romarus vero conſangvineus in caſtro Sigeberg ſub cuſtodia tenebatur. Interea homines de Hornburg injurias Domini ſui vindicare volentes, frequenter inſultum in homines Ducis Henrici fecerunt, villas eorum incendiis vaſtando. Unde Henricus offenſus exercitum miſit, & caſtro exuſto, in ſolitudinem illud redegit. Poſt hoc in Nativitate Domini diem ſolennem egit Dux in Luneburg, & vocans Odalricum Epiſcopum, ſtatuit cum eo conditiones pacis. Et relaxata captivitate, cum honore ipſum ad propria remiſit. Veniens autem Epiſcopus in Huſeburg, infirmitate gravatus lecto decubuit, & creſcente dolore, vitam ibidem terminavit. Adveniente autem Maji menſe, cum expeditione magna intravit Henricus Thuringiam, & Northuſen urbem igne combuſſit. Cui occurrit Lodowicus Lantgravius cum multitudine armorum. Cum quo prælio commiſſo, ipſum captivavit cum fratre ſuo Hermanno Palatino, Thuringis multis vel occiſis aut fugatis. Exaltatum eſt ergo cor Henrici Leonis deſtituti, & reverſus eſt Brunswic in gaudio cum multitudine captivorum militum & militarium, ac ſpoliis multis. Cumque una dierum intraret ad eum Adolfus Comes Holtzatorum, congratulando ei de victoria, & licentiam petendo redeundi ad propria: Guntzelinus Comes de Zwerin verbis calumniatoriis eum in conſpectu Henrici Ducis alloqui cœpit, & diverſa infidelitatis opera ſibi improperavit. Sed Adolfus ſufficienter ſe expurgans de objectis, cum commotione & ira magna a Duce receſſit, imputans Henrico Duci deſtituto, quod tales injurioſas oblocutiones ſibi Guntzelinus ex impoſitione ſua feciſſet. Unde alienatus eſt a Ducis amicitia cum multis Nobilibus ſibi faventibus. Et ſic infirmata eſt pars Henrici notabiliter ex receſſu eorum. Henricus autem ut cognovit, quod defeciſſet ab eo Adolfus, occupavit omnem terram ejus trans Albiam, & expugnavit caſtrum Plüne, & ejectis ſuis hominibus, collocavit illic Martradum Præfectum Holtzatorum. Caſtrum vero Sigeberge, quia inexpugnabile erat, diutina illud obſidione vexavit per Bernhardum Comitem de Ratzeburg, quod Mechtildis mater Adolfi Comitis fortiter tenebat. Exſiccata tandem caſtri ciſterna, ſitiebant hi, qui in caſtro obſeſſi erant, & neceſſitate compulſi ſub conditione pacis caſtrum dederunt. Et præfecit Henricus caſtro Lippoldum quendam natione Bavarum, virum prudentem & ſtrenuum. Domina vero Mechtildis cum ſuis abiit in Schowenburg. Porro Adolfus cum amicis & cognatis ſuis Honroth caſtrum cepit & deſtruxit, quod e regione caſtri ſui ultra Wyſeram fluvium Conradus de Rothe ædificaverat. Henricus autem Leo Dux deſtitutus vexilla omnium, de quibus victoriam ei Deus conceſſerat in anno præcedenti de Weſtphalis coram Oſnaburga, puta Simonis de Tekenenburg, Hermanni Comitis de Ravensberg, Henrici Comitis de Arnsberg, & Wedekini Comitis de Swalenberg, ac vexilla Thuringorum, quos coram Northuſen viceret & Molhuſen urbibus Imperii, puta Lodowici Lantgravii & Hermanni Palatini, nec non Odalrici Epiſcopi Halberſtadenſis ſecum detulit Brunswic, & poſuit ea in Eccleſia S. Blaſii, ubi pendent hodierna die. Ad captivos autem redimendos miſſus fuit nigromanticus quidam cum legatis. Quod cum Dux Henricus percepiſſet, quaſi gratis eos libertati dedit, dicens: Nolo, quod vos diabolo tradatis, cum ſitis conſangvinei mei. Illis autem diebus ædificavit Henricus Leo duo caſtra in terra ſua, puta Langhenſteen & Horneburg, ut ab ipſis ſe defenderet de hoſtibus ſuis. Kazimarus Dux Pomeranorum defunctus eſt, ſecundum Chronicam Slavorum, Henrico Leoni amiciſſimus. Et defecerunt per obitum dicti Principis Slavi de favore Henrici Ducis, eo quod Bugzlaus Imperatori conjunctus eſſet, & ei hominium feciſſet, & tributa ſolveret. Fredericus Imperator videns, quod Comites & Nobiles plures a Henrico Leone Duce deſtituto receſſiſſent, ſecundum Egghardum, venit in Saxoniam, & timuerunt valde omnes viri bellatores in caſtris Ducis exiſtentes. Et eo appropinquante caſtris, caſtrenſes Saxones timore ducti omnia caſtra firmiſſima in poteſtatem Cæſaris tradiderunt. Multi etiam miniſterialium ejus, qui a cunabulis Duci ſervierant, ut Henrichus de Wicha, Lippoldus de Hertesberg, Ludolfus de Peyna, & alii plures receſſerunt ab eo, & Imperatori ſe ſubdiderunt. Invaluit ergo Imperator, cum obtinuiſſet caſtra firmiſſima, puta Hertesberg, Lichtenberg, Blankenburg, Heymburg & Rhegenſteen, & convertit exercitum ſuum ad expugnandum Leuenburg, quod tamen poſt paucos dies traditum eſt in manus ejus. Tunc Imperator veniens, occupavit montem excelſum prope Goslariam, qui Mons fractus dicitur, id eſt Brokenberg, & reædificavit ibidem caſtrum Hartesburg, firmans ipſum valido muro. Hunc montem olim firmiſſime ædificaverat Henricus IIII. Imperator, contra quem filius ſuus Henricus ſurrexit, & ipſum de Regno expulit. Cum in feſto Nativitatis Chriſti, ſecundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum, Henricus Leo Dux deſtitutus ſolennem diem ageret in Luneburg, cœpit ipſe Henricus incuſare coram Nobilibus ſuis Bernhardum Comitem de Ratzeburg de conſpiratione contra ipſum facta, imponens ei notam perfidiæ & traditionis. Cumque Comes ad objecta nihil digne reſponderet, captivavit ipſum Dux Henricus cum Volrado filio ſuo, & veniens Ratzeburg cum exercitu, obſedit caſtrum. Cui ſuccurrerunt Lubicenſis urbis cives in navibus multis, cum machinis & bellicis inſtrumentis, & crevit in dies obſidio & populos. Neceſſitate ergo compulſi, qui caſtrum inhabitabant, tradiderunt ipſum Duci. Bernhardus autem Comes, quem Dux Henricus ſecum duxerat, coram caſtro Ratzeburg lapſus de manibus Ducis, fugit cum uxore ſua & filiis in Godebuz. Quem mox ſecutus Henricus, expugnavit caſtrum Godebuz, & ſpolia multa ibidem accepit. Fugiens autem Bernhardus hardus Comes ad Bernhardum Comitem de Anahald factum Ducem Saxoniæ per Imperatorem, apud eum ſe continuit. Henricus ergo Leo, ejectis omnibus de favore Bernhardi Comitis exiſtentibus, ſolus potitus eſt omni terra, & cœpit munire caſtra capta, puta Ratzeburg, Godebuz, Sigeberg & Plune, plurimum confidens in potentia ſua & victoriis ſuis.

Viceſimo octavo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXXII. Fredericus Imperator totus infuſus finibus Henrici Leonis Ducis deſtituti, ſecundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum, in manu valida intravit terram ejus, ejecturus ipſum de terra ſua. Timens autem, ne poſt ipſum inſurgerent inſidiæ, Philippum Archiepiſcopum Colonienſem cum ſuis Principibus præcepit obſervare Brunſwic. Bernhardus vero Dux Saxoniæ & Otto Marchio Brandeburgenſis deputati ſunt Bardewic propter Luneburgenſium inſidias. Ipſe vero Imperator in comitatu ſuo habens Bolizlaum Ducem Bohemiæ, Ottonem Marchionem Miſnæ, Wichmannum Archiepiſcopum Magdeburgenſem, Fredericum Epiſcopum Babenbergenſem, Abbates Fuldenſem, Corbeyenſem & Herſeveldenſem, cum multo robore militari Svevorum, Bayoarorum, Francorum, & convertit exercitum ſuum verſus Albiam. Appropinquante autem Imperatore partibus Henrici, Lodowicus Lantgravius & Hermannus Palatinus, quos Henricus Leo adhuc captivos in Luneburg tenebat, ducti ſunt in Sigeberg, & ibidem artius ſunt cuſtoditi. Henricus autem Leo Dux deſtitutus tunc temporis erat Lubeke conſtitutus, muniens civitatem illam, & erigens multas machinas. Quibus diſpoſitis, in die Apoſtolorum Petri & Pauli abiit Dux Ratzeburg. Mane autem facto ſequentis diei, inde tranſiens, iter ſuum direxit verſus Albiam. Quem ſecuti ſunt omnes, qui in caſtro erant, quaſi deducentes eum cum gaudio. Videntes autem hi, qui de parte Bernhardi Comitis eorum ibidem remanſerant, quod vacuum eſſet caſtrum, repente occupaverunt illud, & capta arce, concluſerunt valvas ejus, & quotquot remanſerant de familia Henrici, ejecerunt foras. Audiens ergo Henricus Leo, quod factum erat in Ratzeburg, frendens animo reverſus eſt ad caſtrum, & invenit contra ſe obſtinatos animos illorum. Tunc miſit repente ad Lippoldum in Sigeberg, & Plüne ad Martradum, ut quantocius venirent cum Holtzatis, ſi forte poſſet ejicere eos, quia pauci erant. Interim venit, qui diceret, jam appropinquare Cæſarem; & ſic imperfecto negotio relicto, abiit amarus valde indignatione animi ſui, & venit Ertheneburg. Ubi videns, appropinquare caſtra Cæſaris, ſuccendit ipſum caſtrum, & ingreſſus naviculam, per devexa Albiæ proficiſcens, abiit Stadis. Fredericus vero Imperator, tranſito flumine Albiæ, venit tandem prope Lubeke, & occurrit ei exercitus Slavorum & Holtzatorum. Woldemarus quoque Rex Danorum cum multa claſſe navium venit ad oſtium Trabenæ, & obſeſſa eſt urbs Lubicana terra marique. In civitate vero Lubeke erant Simon Comes de Tekenenburg, & Bernhardus Comes de Aldenburg Friſiæ, Bernhardus Comes de Welpe, & Martradus Præfectus Holtzatorum cum Emekone de Nemore, & quibusdam aliis Holtzatis, viris ſtrenuis, & multitudine magna civium. Rex vero Woldemarus cum multo comitatu veniens ad præſentiam Imperatoris, ſe ſibi in omnibus familiarem exhibuit, & filiam ſuam filio ſuo Henrico Duci Svevorum deſponſavit. In illo autem tempore obſidionis Dominus Henricus Epiſcopus Lubicenſis in urbe erat, quem adeuntes Burgenſes dixerunt: Rogamus Sanctitatem Veſtram, Venerande Pater, quatenus ad Dominum Imperatorem exeatis, & ei verba noſtra intimetis ſub hoc tenore: Domine Imperator ſervi veſtri ſumus, & Imperatoriæ Majeſtati Veſtræ ſervire parati ſumus. Sed quid contra vos fecimus, quod tanta obſidione a vobis concluſi ſumus? Civitatem iſtam hactenus ex munificentia Domini noſtri Henrici Ducis inhabitavimus, quam etiam ad honorem Dei & robur Chriſtianitati ædificavimus. Hanc ergo in manus veſtras non trademus, ſed ipſius libertatem viribus & armis, quantum poſſumus, conſtantiſſime tuebimur. Hoc tamen rogamus apud Magnificentiam Veſtram, ut data conditione pacis eamus ad Dominum noſtrum Ducem, percunctaturi ab eo, quid ſit faciendum, qualiter & nobis & civitati noſtræ in præſenti calamitate ſit conſulendum. Qui ſi liberationem nobis promiſerit, juſtum eſt, ut ei civitatem ſervemus: ſin autem, quod placitum eſt in oculis veſtris, faciemus. Quod ſi facere nolueritis, ſciatis, omnes nos pro defenſione civitatis noſtræ magis optare honeſte mori, quam fidei violatores permanentes inhoneſte vivere. Henricus ergo Epiſcopus ad voluntatem civium urbem exiit, & ad Imperatorem properans, verba ſibi commiſſa fideliter peroravit. Fredericus vero Imperator gaviſus de adventu Epiſcopi, eo quod pro fama bonæ opinionis ipſum diligeret, ſic ad ipſum ait: Multum quidem gaudemus de adventu veſtro, venerande Pater, & admodum gratum habemus frui veſtro aſpectu & colloquio. Sed quod cives veſtri arrogantiam verborum nobis offerunt, ac quod civitate mox nobis non aperiunt, credimus, quod nec vobis nec alicui, qui ſanæ mentis eſt, juſtum eſſe videatur. Fatemur quidem, hanc noſtræ munificentiæ (f. noſtra munificentia) quandoque nepotis noſtri Henrici fuiſſe, ſed ex quo ille propter ſuam contumaciam decreto omnium Principum publicam proſcriptionem meruit, juſtiſſime hanc noſtro vendicamus titulo. Et nunc quidem valet manus noſtra reddere eis, quod meruerunt. Sed quia nos cenſura juſtitiæ omnibus magis patientiam exhibere oportet quam vindictam: ecce in hoc eis conſentimus, ut, ſicut poſtulant, eant ad Dominum ſuum, & cum eo de ſtatu ſuo conferant, unum ſcientes, ſi in redeundo nobis urbem non aperuerint, graviorem de hac mora ſentient ultionem. Epiſcopus ergo reverſus in civitatem, civibus, quæ a Cæſare audierat, nunciavit. Qui ſine mora accepto conductu iverunt Stadium, ubi Dux erat. Imperator autem conſiderans invaletudinem Epiſcopi, quia crebris accendebatur febribus, miſit ad ipſum Phyſicum ſuum, ut remediis oportunis ei ſubveniret. Poſt aliquot autem dies Burgenſes reverſi cum Guntzelino Comite de Swerin, ex præcepto Ducis in manus Cæſaris civitatem tradiderunt. Verum antequam civitatem ei aperuiſſent, exierunt ad eum rogantes, ut libertatem urbis, quam a Duce prius acceperant, obtinerent, & juſtitias, quas in privilegiis ſcriptas haberent, ac terminos, quos in paſcuis, ſylvis & fluviis huc usque poſſederant, ipſius autoritate & munificentia poſſidere valerent. Imperator vero annuit petitioni eorum, & non ſolum iſta confirmavit, ſed & plura ſuperaddidit. Et quicquid a Duce de telonio ad ſtipendia Canonicorum in Lubeke & Ratzeburg deputatum fuerat, ratum judicavit. Conceſſitque eisdem civibus gratioſe, ut amplius caput eſſent omnium civitatum maritimarum, & quod Conſulatus eorum aurum deferre poſſet, & eo uti, ut milites. Et inſuper omnes impræſentiarum de Conſulatu exiſtentes & in perpetuum futuros aſſumſit de ſpeciali gratia in Conſiliatores Imperii. Comiti autem Adolfo medietatem tributorum totius urbis de teloneis, molendinis & trapezitis in beneficium dedit, eo quod multum Imperio ſerviviſſet, & propter ipſum ad tempus exilium paſſus fuiſſet. Et ita ingrediens urbem, magnifice ſuſceptus eſt cum hymnis & canticis a Clero & populo. Aliquot ergo diebus transactis, Imperator inde regrediens tranſivit Albiam, & caſtra metatus eſt prope Luneburg ad plagam occidentalem. Henricus autem Dux in urbe Stadii erat conſtitutus propter loci firmitatem. Maximo enim vallo civitatem illam circumdederat, & munitiones fortiſſimas cum machinis ibidem conſtruxerat. Videns autem Henricus Leo in arto ſe poſitum, rogavit per nuncios Imperatorem, ut ſalvo conductu ſuo venire valeret Luneburg, ſperans aliquo pacto apud ipſum miſericordiam invenire. Qui cum inter Erthneburg & Bardewic conduceretur, occurrit ei multitudo militum de caſtris Imperatoris, pacifice ipſum ſalutantes. Quibus reſalutátis, non conſveveram, ait, in his conductum alicujus accipere, ſed potius dare. Et ita veniens Luneburg, omnibus modis per internuncios animum Imperatoris lenire ſtuduit. Captivos etiam ſuos, puta Lodowicum Lantgravium & Hermannum Palatinum fratrem ſuum de captivitate laxavit, ſperans, ſe beneficiis his aliquam gratiam mereri. Nihil tamen gratiæ inde conſecutus eſt. Imperator autem inde proficiſcens, curiam apud Qvedelingburg ei præfixit, ut ibi inter Principes, quid de eo fieri deberet, juſtitia mediante decerneretur. Unde gaviſi ſunt omnes amici Henrici Leonis, ſperantes aliquid boni ibidem pro eo ordinandum fore. Ubi cum nihil de cauſa ſua tractatum fuiſſet propter ſeditionem inter ipſum & Bernhardum Ducem Saxoniæ adverſarium ejus Cæſar aliam curiam ei in Erphordiam indixit. Tunc autem temporis Sifridus Archiepiſcopus Bremenſis in pleno curiam reſtitutionem recepit Stadium urbem cum aliis, quæ ante Henricus Leo de Eccleſia Bremenſi poſſederat. Sexcentas tamen marcas argenti Philippo Archiepiſcopo Colonienſi perſolvit, quem rogaverat, ut cum exercitu veniens, ſtadium expugnaret. Comes ergo de Ratzeburg Bernhardus & Adolfus Comes de Schowenburg & Holtzatia caſtra & provincias ſuas per Imperatorem recuperaverunt. Henricus autem Leo veniens ad curiam ſibi præfixam, ſe totum ſubmiſit gratiæ Imperatoris, projiciens ſe ad pedes Imperatoris. Quem de terra levans, oſculatus eſt non ſine lacrymis utriusque. Et licet Cæſar ſibi miſertus libenter fuiſſet, propter juſjurandum tamen in præſentiarum hoc facere non potuit. Denique cum omnes Principes ad dejectionem ipſius aſpirarent, juravit eis per thronum regni ſui, nunquam ipſum in gradum priſtinum reſtituturum, niſi fieret id de beneplacito omnium. In hoc tamen circa ipſum diſpenſatum eſt, quod patrimonium ſuum, ubicunque terrarum eſſet, ſine omni contradictione liberrime poſſideret. Henricus ergo deſtitutus Dux per triennium terram ſuam abjuravit, ut infra tempus illud terram ſuam nullo modo intraret, niſi per Imperatorem revocaretur. Profectus eſt ergo ad generum (ſocerum) ſuum Henricum Regem Anglorum cum uxore & liberis, & apud eum moratus eſt omni illo tempore. Quem Rex Angliæ honeſtiſſime recipiens, ipſum quaſi Principem ſuper Regnum ſuum conſtituit, & omnes qui ſecum exulabant, donis multis dotavit. Unde quidam Metriſta ſuper caſu iſto lugubri hos verſus fecit:

Quicquid ineſt mundo, mutatur prætereundo,
Quæ ſteterant fundo ſtabili, trepidant ut arundo,
Gloria, Majeſtas, virtus, mundana poteſtas

Viceſimo nono anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXXIII. Henrico Leone in exilio degente, ſecundum Chronica Saxonum, Bernhardus Comes de Anehald accepit Ducatum Saxoniæ, Adolfus vero Comes de Schowenburg duxit uxorem filiam Comitis de Daſſele, agente hoc Philippo Archiepiſcopo Colonienſi, cujus propinqua erat. Cumque Adolfus obtinuiſſet omnem terram patris ſui, ejecit omnes inimicos ſuos de terra, qui in diebus Henrici Leonis contra eum ſenſerant, puta Martradum Præfectum Holtzatorum, pro quo quendam Siricum nomine ſubſtituit, & Heyneconem virum ſtrenuum, ac plures alios, quorum quidam transeuntes ad Regem Danorum, morati ſunt apud ipſum. Alii vero ad Bernhardum Comitem de Ratzeburg euntes, tempus exilii ſui peregerunt. Bernhardus autem Dux Saxoniæ cum Ottone fratre ſuo Marchione veniens Erthneburg, magnificum ſe illic exhibuit, & nobiliores terræ adeſſe præcepit, ut receptis ab eo beneficiis ſuis hominium ei facerent, & fidelitatem ei per ſacramenta jurarent. Cumque ſe ei exhibuiſſent, Bernhardus Comes de Ratzeburg, Jordanus Comes de Dannenberg, Henricus Comes de Lowthe, & Guntzelinus Comes de Zwerin, expectatur Adolfus Comes de Schowenburg & Holtzatia, ſed non venit. Unde ipſum Dux ſuſpectum habere cœpit, & exinde occaſiones diſcordiæ inter eos exortæ ſunt. Bernhardus autem Dux eo tempore ædificare cœpit Lovenburg ſuper litus Albiæ ad orientalem plagam de Erthneburg, & deſolato hoc caſtro, murum, quo cingebatur, deſtruxit, & ex lapidibus illis caſtrum ſuum novum fundavit & firmavit. Tranſitum etiam navium, qui ibi erat, apud Lovenburg eſſe præcepit. Sed cives Lubicenſes coram Imperatore conqueſti ſunt de mutatione illa, quod propter longiorem & difficiliorem viam, maximam haberent in transeundo difficultatem. Quapropter præcepit Imperator, ut apud Erthneburg naves Albiam tranſirent, ut prius. Dux ergo Bernhardus volens nominis ſui oſtendere potentiam, novis exactionibus provinciales ſuos gravare cœpit, & ideo Principatus ipſius verſus eſt ſibi in odium, & gloria ejus ad nihilum redacta eſt. Sifridus quoque frater ejus Archiepiſcopus Bremenſis Comitiam Dithmarciæ Adolfo Comiti adimere conatus eſt, & ad Bernhardum fratrem ſuum Ducem Saxoniæ transferre. Quam Adolfus Comes viribus & armis invito Archiepiſcopo obtinuit, & eam ſui juris eſſe manifeſtavit. Woldemarus Rex Danorum obiit, ſecundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum, & regnavit Kanutus filius ejus pro eo. Ad quem miſit Imperator Sifridum Archiepiſcopum Bremenſem cum aliis quibusdam Nobilibus pro ſorore ſua, quam pater ejus Woldemarus nuper coram Lubeke filio ſuo deſponſaverat, & ut partem pecuniæ ſolveret ut ibidem protunc laudatum fuerat. Hæc enim pactio deſponſationis fuit inter Imperatorem & Regem Danorum, ut quatuor milia marcarum argenti puri cum filia perſolveret, & ut in ipſo tempore, quo filiam præſentaret, partem pecuniæ, prout tunc ſibi viſum fuiſſet, ſolveret, & poſt ſex annos deſponſationis, dum nubilis ætas adveniſſet, tota pecunia ex integro perſolveretur. Hæc utrobique literis & ſigillis firmata erant, ut ſiquid horum negligeretur, hæc deſponſatio irrita haberetur. Venerunt ergo ad Egdoram fluvium legati Imperatoris cum CCCC. equis, quibus Adolfus Comes abundanter per triduum neceſſaria miniſtravit. Kanutus autem Rex ſororem ſuam cum indignatione eis tradidit, adjunctis equitaturis cum veſtibus mediocribus non juxta Regalem magnificentiam, & partem quandam pecuniæ, ut dictum erat, perſolvit. Jam enim inter Imperatorem & Regem ipſum diſcordia erat, quia Imperator ab ipſo homagium exigebat, quod ei Rex negabat propter generum ſuum Ducem Henricum, quem de terra ſua ejecerat. Henricus Lubicenſis Epiſcopus obiit feliciter in Domino, ſecundum Chronicam Lubicenſem, plenus meritis, in cujus ſedem ſucceſſit electione Canonica Conradus Secundus, vir literatus & facundus. Hic Conradus non permittebat aliquem Clericum de alieno Epiſcopatu in ſua diœceſi parochiam tenere, dicens, neminem poſſe duobus dominis ſimul ſervire, & ſuper hoc Lucii Papæ literas obtinuit. De ſupra dicto autem defuncto viſio talis fertur facta. Quædam Sanctimonialis in Kevena virgo devota vidit in viſione Dei columbam nive candidiorem volare in ſinum ejus. Quæ dum nimis ex hoc exhilarata fuiſſet, cœpit ei paſtum offerre. Quæ ait: Non comedam: neque enim columba ſum, ſed mercede conducta ſum, ut dicam tibi, quæ ſim. Illa vero timore perterrita dixit: Dic, quid mercedis accipiens huc veniſti, & quæ ſis. Cui illa inquit: Si per circuitum anni ob memoriam mei dixeris pſalmum In exitu Iſrael de Ægypto, dicam tibi, quod cupis. Cumque hoc devotiſſime ſe facturam promiſiſſet, dixit: Ego dicor Henricus, & fui Antiſtes in Lubeke. Cui illa: Ubi nunc eſt converſatio tua? Qui ait: Inter choros Angelorum. Ex qua viſione manifeſtum eſt, ipſum Sanctum Dei eſſe. Bernhardus Dux Saxoniæ cum diverſis novitatibus ſuos provinciales gravaret, ſecundum Chronicam Saxonum, contra Comites Nordalbingiæ, Ratzeburg & Zwerin quædam inepte molitus eſt. Adolfo ſiquidem Comiti omnem terram, quæ Radekowe attinere dicitur, quam Dux Henricus prius habuerat, & Todeslo opidum adimere conatus eſt. Urbem quoque Lubeke ſibi uſurpare tentabat, ſed Imperator eam propter utilitatem tributorum, & quia in fine Imperii ſita eſt, ſibi retinuit, pro qua Duci Bernhardo Hidzakker & XX. manſos valde bonos conſignavit. Quia vero Adolfus medietatem tributorum de urbe Lubicana ex Imperatoris beneficio habebat, ideo ipſam magis Bernhardus Dux impetebat. Comiti vero de Ratzeburg & Comiti de Swerin partem quandam beneficiorum ſuorum diminuere laborabat. Unde commoti ex hoc & conglobati in unum, caſtro ejus Louen-

Louenburg insidiantes ipsum expugnare cœperunt. Cumque coram eo ordinassent obsidionem, & machinas erexissent, post paucos dies ipsum solo æquaverunt. Dux autem talionem eis reddere non valens, Imperatorem adiit, & hæc in præsentia ejus conquestus est. Illi autem cupientes excutere jugum ejus de cervicibus suis, quos ei amicos esse sciebant, de terra fugare conati sunt. Unde congregato exercitu clam terram Slavorum intrantes, occulto quodam aditu occupaverunt noctu castrum Ylowe. Et clanculum illud intrantes, matrem Nycloti, qui Wiztizlai filius erat, inde ejecerunt, & cæteris captivatis, castrum ipsum succenderunt, ac depopulata omni terra, reversi sunt ad loca sua cum spolio multo. Borwinus vero filius Pribizlai, qui filiam Henrici Leonis exulantis habebat Mechtildem, obtinuit castra Rostok scilicet & Mykelenburg cum suis urbibus. Nyclotus autem fugiens, ad Ducem Bernhardum se contulit. Quem Otto Marchio de Brandenburg frater Ducis Bernhardi in castro Havelberg collocavit. Unde frequenter eruptiones faciens, terram Slavorum constanter vastavit. Quem adjuvabat Germarus Princeps Rugianorum, Bogezlaus vero Dux Pomeranorum fovebat partem Borwini, & sic consangvinei illi inteſtina bella ad invicem gerebant. Prævalebat tamen pars Nycloti, eo quod Germarus vir strenuus terram Circipanorum, quæ Tribuzes contigua erat, plurimum vastaret. Cumque quodam tempore Borwinus terram Rugianorum piratis vastaret, captivatus est a Germaro. Qui conjecit ipsum in vincula, & postea ipsum misit Kanuto Regi Danorum, apud quem diu in custodia servabatur. Contra Nyclotus cum in terra Bugezlai prædas capere niteretur, captivatus est ab eo, & conjectus in vincula. Sed cum diu in custodia servatus fuisset uterque, tandem soluti sunt ea conditione, ut a Rege Danorum terram suam susciperent, & obsides, quos habere voluisset, darent. Dederunt ergo obsides XXIIII. inter quos Borwinus filium suum dedit, & recessit a castro & urbe Rostok, tradens illud nepoti suo, ipse vero Ylowe & Mykelenburg in possessione fortitus est, Rege Kanuto sic disponente, qui jam terram Slavorum sibi tributariam facere cogitaverat. Rostok autem castrum situm super Warnowe flumen, apud se civitatem habebat, quam Pribizlaus Obotritorum Princeps ædificaverat, prout supra XVIII. anno Frederici patuit, qui fuit Domini MCLXXII. Quod quidem castrum Godescalcus Slavorum Regulus fundaverat, cum adhuc in Paganismo sæviret, & Christianos terræ suæ contiguos persequeretur.

Tricesimo anno Frederici, qui est Domini MCLXXXIIII. Fredericus Imperator in Italiam profectus cum Philippo Archiepiscopo & filio suo Henrico Duce Sveviæ, ac multis aliis Principibus, contra Romanos & cæteros sibi rebellantes pugnavit, & ex eis in diversis pugnis & bellis prostravit circa XXXM Kanutus Rex Danorum, secundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum, terram Slavorum incessanter infestabat. Sed Slavi pro posse ei resistentes occupaverunt vadum, quod Danos transire oportebat, firmantes ex utraque parte castella, de quibus piratas eorum jaculando obruerent. Catenis etiam ferreis fretum maris claudere tentabant, sed nihil tali molimine facere poterant. Nam Dani venientes in manu forti, munitiones fregerunt, & infusi finibus eorum sicut locustæ universam faciem terræ repleverunt. Slavi vero impetum eorum ferre non valentes, in castris suis se receperunt. Illi autem abusi provinciis eorum, comedentes medullam terræ eorum, reversi sunt ad loca sua. Quodam ergo tempore Bugezlaus Dux Pomeraniæ propinquum suum Germarum Principem Rugianorum impetebat, talionem ei reddere volens, eo quod idem Germarus Regi Danorum in subactione Slavorum promte assisteret, quia, ex quo Christianitatem acceperat, sub istius ditione consistebat. Ascendit ergo in terram Ranorum cum DCCC. piratis, credens omnem terram illius cum tali populo consumturum. Germarus autem occurrens ei subito, ipsum in fugam vertit. Siquidem Dani non longe insidias sibi tetenderunt. Quos Slavi de suis esse credentes, nihil mali suspicati, remigabant ad eos. Illi autem insultum in eos facientes cum Ranis, eos insequuntur, alios quidem trucidantes, alios captivantes & plures mari immergentes. Slavi ergo videntes se circumventos, & in perturbatione inopinata consilium non habentes, mari se immiserunt, & evadere sperantes natando, aquis præfocati sunt. Quidam vero litus apprehendentes, relictis navibus, per sylvas & nemora in locis paluſtribus oberrantes, fame & siti perierunt. Germarus autem cæteris obmissis, Bugezlaum insequitur. Ille vero saluti suæ consulens, celeri fuga elabitur. At Germarus post tergum ejus clamavit, dicens: Quid facis o Princeps Bogezlae? Nonne nigrum & horridum Germarum te ligaturum jactabas. Expecta! expecta! ut servum tuum abducas, quem consortem tuum habere nolebas. At ille fugiens salvatus est. Sicque humiliatæ sunt vires Slavorum, & servierunt Danis sub tributo, tradito castro Waligast in manum Regis cum XII. obsidibus. Philippus Rex Francorum & totus populus, secundum Wilhelmum, vidit hostiam consecratam sanguine profluentem, & corporale in tribus locis, in quibus transponebatur tinctum, & cruore maculatum, & post vidit eandem hostiam in formam carnis lividæ transformatam. Manee (Emanuel) Rex Constantinopolitanus defunctus est, vir devotus & justitiam diligens. Hic filium parvulum post se regnaturum reliquit. Erat autem tunc quidam inveteratus dierum malorum Andronicus dictus, filius fratris Regis defuncti. Hic cupiditate regnandi motus, tutorem se filii Regis affirmavit, & cœpit regnare quasi pro puero causam acturus, & regnum nepoti fideliter conservaturus. Cumque tali occasione invaluisset, cœpit seditiones concitare, & persecutiones facere in eos, qui de parte Regis defuncti videbantur esse. Et cum omnes, qui de ſua parte erant, exaltaſſet, & alios aut humiliaſſet aut interfeciſſet, fecit occulte Reginam matrem juvenis Regis educi, & in mare præcipitari. Sic quoque omnes, quos in Regno ſibi adverſari timebat, aut vita privabat, aut exilio damnabat. Habebat autem quendam auricularium, ſpecie quidem Monachum, ſed in veritate diabolum, qui ad hominum perditionem ſub ſpecie religionis angelum lucis de ſe formaverat, ſecundum Vincentium, cujus uſus conſilio omnes, quos ille ei ſuſpectos faciebat, hos ille ſtatim exterminio tradebat. Cumque una dierum puer de matris abſentia conquereretur, ille reſpondit: De matris abſentia non ſis ſolicitus: ſalva enim eſt, & in tuto loco conſiſtit. Et cum per ſingulos dies puer moleſtus eſſet, matrem ejus requirendo, ille reſpondit: Mater tua quidem ſalva eſt, ſed ne diutius de abſentia ejus triſteris, ad eam quantocius ibis. Et juſſit occulte puerum educi, & ut matrem ſubmergi. Quo facto, ſponſam pueri duxit in uxorem repudiatis duabus, quas antea duxerat legitime. Poſt hoc dixit ad auricularium ſuum: Quid tibi videtur? Manſitne aliquis in Regno, qui inſidietur adhuc honori meo? Eſt adhuc, ait, unus de cognatis tuis, quem ſuſpectum habeo. Sed quia illum propter nimis propinquam conſanguinitatem vita privare non potes, ideo reclude ipſum in clauſtro Monachorum, ut vel ſic ceſſet tibi vel Regno tuo malignari. Quod cum factum fuiſſet, adjecit: Numquid jam bene ſtant omnia? Ille reſpondit: Bene quidem ſtant omnia, ſed de ſponſa tua non bene ſentio. Ipſa enim videtur contra te amaritudines habere propter prioris ſponſi memoriam. Sed hæc in confeſſione examinanda eſt, ut ſic occulta cordis ejus manifeſta fiant. Tu vero ſimulato vultu Sacerdotis vicem accipias. His auditis, dixit Andronicus ad ſponſam ſuam: Usque quo morabuntur in corde tuo cogitationes noxiæ? Video, in te amaritudines eſſe. Sed vade, & confitere peccata tua, ut ſis a pravitate cordis mundata, & ſic poteris æquanimiter videre faciem meam. Illa autem abeunte, prævenit eam Andronicus, aſſumtoque Sacerdotali habitu, dixit ad eam: Filia, confitere peccata tua, & noli abſcondere a me ſermonem. Vicem enim Chriſti teneo, & quia ipſe novit omnia, nihil abſcondas in tua conſcientia. Illa autem ſimpliciter de venialibus, utpote juvencula, quæ criminalia non noverat, confitente, ille ſubjunxit: Numquid Regem ſincere diligis virum tuum? Ait illa: Diligo quidem Regem, ut Dominum & maritum meum, tamen, ſi filio Regis, qui occiſus eſt, nupſiſſem, ipſum magis diligerem, quia ſibi deſponſata fueram. Nunc autem, quia ſic oportet fieri, iſtum fideliter diligo, & fidem conjugalem integraliter ei reſervabo. His auditis, ille indignans ſurrexit, & abiit, & eam, ut cæteras, repudiatam in exterminium miſit. Poſt hæc cum completa eſſet iniquitas illius, & juſto judicio Deus malitiæ ejus finem imponere decreviſſet, ſenex ille nequam Andronicus conſuluit collateralem ſuum Monachum, dicens: Numquid adhuc ſperandum eſt, quod ablatis æmulis ſecurus ſuper thronum regni mei ſedere valeam? Cui ille reſpondit: Securus quidem vivere poteris, ſed de Monacho illo cognato tuo ſolicitudinem, quamvis modicam, habeo. Qui ſi extinctus fuerit, de cætero ſine omni timore quieſcere poteris. Tunc Rex, miſſo nuncio, illum accerſiri juſſit. Ille, audito nuncio, expavit, & venire diſtulit. Statimque mittens, convocavit amicos & notos, & legationem Regis eis expoſuit, ſeque indubitanter ad mortem vocari ſciens, rogavit eos, ut latenter ſumtis armis ſecum ad Palatium pergant. Qui conſtanter accincti armis & animis ibant ſecum. Veniens autem ad primam cuſtodiam, ſtatim ipſum janitorem interfecit; & idem fecit ad ſecundam. Sicque cum ſtrepitu ingreſſus aulam, dixit Regi: Ecce aſſum. Ad quid enim vocaſtis me? Erat enim Rex cum paucis in cubiculo, quia terrente eum conſcientia ſua de tot & tantis ſceleribus peractis, nusquam audebat tute conſiſtere. Cui Rex: Vocavi quidem te, ſed revertere, unde veniſti; quia inordinate intraſti. Non revertar, ait, ſed ſcio, quod poſt necem multorum etiam quæris animam meam. Et irruit in eum. Ipſe autem fugam iniit, & per quendam occultum tranſitum evaſit, & venit in caſtellum cujusdam Principis, quem idem tyrannus pro cauſa injuſta effoſſis oculis excæcaverat. Dixitque ad illum Principem: En inimici quærunt animam meam. Rogo, ut facias mecum miſericordiam, & præſidio mihi ſias. At ille reſpondit: Quamvis injuſtum judicium exercueris in me, probabo tamen, ſi potero, ſalvare te. Et recepit ipſum in caſtrum. Monachus vero, qui ſuus erat conſanguineus, cum cognoviſſet, quod illuc fugiſſet, inſecutus eſt eum. Quem juvabat omnis populus, ſenes & juvenes, eo quod omnibus odioſus eſſet. Et vi tollentes eum de caſtro, reduxerunt in urbem Conſtantinopolitanam, & tractum per plateas, infinitis contumeliis ipſum affecerunt, ac ſine omni miſeratione multiplicibus pœnis animam illam miſeram tandem de corpore excuſſerunt, feceruntque ei, ſicut male egerat proximis ſuis, vindicatusque eſt ſangvis innoxius in illa die. Porro Regnum ejus ad æmulum ſuum Emanuel translatum eſt. Fredericus Imperator, ſecundum Vincentium in Speculo, curiam famoſam celebrari indixit apud Moguntiam in feſto Pentecoſtes, ubi filium ſuum Henricum Cæſarem declarare propoſuit. Et venit ad curiam illam omnis poteſtas & principatus Archiepiſcoporum, Epiſcoporum & Principum ſecularium. Cumque in ſancto die Pentecoſtes jam inſtante proceſſionis hora, Imperator Eccleſiam intraſſet, & coram eo ſederent Summi Pontifices & Principum conventus, ſurrexit Abbas Fuldenſis, & ſic ei locutus eſt: Rogamus Serenitatem veſtram Domine, ut audiatis. Ad hæc Imperator: Audio. Et ille: Domine diu eſt, quod Dominus Colonienſis, qui aſſidet, Fuldenſe Cœnobium, quod gratia Dei & veſtra munificentia regimus, quodam jure ſuo privavit. Cui Imperator: Aſſignate jus, quod dicitis. At ille: Fuldenſis Eccleſia hanc habuit habuit prærogativam, ab antiquis Imperatoribus indultam, ut quotienscunque Moguntiæ generalis curia celebratur, & Dominus Archiepiſcopus hujus Sedis a dextris ſit Imperatoris, Abbas Fuldenſis ſiniſtram ejus teneat. Et quia diu Dominus Colonienſis nos in hac parte ſupplantavit, rogamus, ut veſtro interventu hodie locum nobis debitum ſibi non uſurpet. Tunc dixit Imperator Archiepiſcopo Colonienſi: Audiſtis, quid dixerit Abbas? Secundum petitionem rogamus, ut hodie jocunditatem ſolennitatis noſtræ non turbetis, ſed locum, quem ſui juris eſſe affirmat, ei non negetis. Ad hæc verba ſurgens Archiepiſcopus, dixit: Domine, ut ſinceritati veſtræ placet, fiat. Dominus Abbas locum, quem deſiderat, teneat. Ego autem ſalva gratia veſtra ad hoſpitium meum vadam. Cumque jam abire pararet, ſurrexit de latere Imperatoris frater ejus Palatinus de Rheno, & dixit: Domine, homo ſum Domini Colonienſis: juſtum eſt, ut ipſum ſequar, quocunque ierit. Deinde ſurgens Comes de Naſſowe dixit: Et ego cum gratia ſequar Dominum Colonienſem. Similiter & Dux Brabantiæ & alii viri multi dixerunt. Reſpondens autem Lodowicus Lantgravius Thuringorum, qui fuit homo Abbatis, dixit Comiti de Naſſowe: Bene hodie beneficium veſtrum demeruiſtis. Cui ille: Et merui, & merebor, ſi hodie neceſſitas exegerit. Abeunte ergo Archiepiſcopo, Rex Henricus adoleſcens videns, ſeditionem periculoſam fieri, exiliens de ſede ſua, ſuſpendit ſe in collo Archiepiſcopi, & dixit: Rogo te, Pater amantiſſime, ut maneas, ne gaudium noſtrum in luctum convertas. Ipſe quoque Imperator rogavit eum & dixit: In ſimplicitate cordis noſtri, quod dictum eſt, diximus, & vos in perturbatione animi abire vultis. Nolite malum hoc facere, & quietem noſtram in ſeditionem periculoſiſſimam permutare. Cui ille, Non credebam, inquit, quod tantam injuriam, in conſpectu Principum mihi inferre voluiſſetis. Ecce in ſervitio veſtro ſenui, & certamen, quod pro vobis certavi, teſtantur cani capitis mei in periculo vitæ meæ multotiens conſtitutus. Et quod majus eſt, proh dolor! animæ meæ tribulationes & anguſtias multas transivi, nec alicubi pro honore Imperii mihi aut rebus meis peperci. In Lombardia enim fidelitatem meam vidiſtis, apud Alexandriam devotionem meam ſenſiſtis, & quæ in Saxonia non ſemel fecerim, ſæpius animadverſtis. Et cum in omnibus his nulli ſecundus fuerim, miror, quod hodie Abbatem iſtum mihi præferre volueritis, de cujus præſumtione vos ipſum ſuſpectum habeo, quia, niſi voluntatem veſtram in mea humiliatione ſenſiſſet, nunquam adverſum me calcaneum ſuum levaſſet. Nunc ergo, ſi placet, ponantur ſedes ſolito. Si ſedem meam dejecerit ſine contradictione, ſimilis ſit altiſſimo. Siquidem Archiepiſcopus Colonienſis arrogantiam Abbatis præſenſerat, & ideo cum quatuor milibus & LXIIII. viris armatis ad curiam venerat. Tunc ſurrexit Imperator, & dixit: Innocentiam quidem noſtram in hac impoſitione verbis prætendimus. Sed ſi adhuc diffiditis, juramento nos in præſentiarum expurgare velle non dubitetis. Et extendit manum quaſi jam ſupra reliquias poſiturus. Ad hæc verba requievit ſpiritus Archiepiſcopi, & dixit: Sufficit mihi, quia illa verba pro juramento mihi ſunt, ſed tamen hi, qui cauſa perturbationis hujus fuerunt, non facile ab hac ſuſpicione purgabuntur. Imperator autem dixit Abbati: Oportet vos ab hac juſtitia veſtra, quam exigitis, temperare, & locum Archiepiſcopo ſuperiorem dare. Sedata itaque hac controverſia, coronatur Imperator, & cum Imperatrice & filio coronatis proceſſit. Abbas vero non ſine rubore locum inferiorem tenuit. Cumque per aliquot dies maximo tripudio curia illa celebraretur, una dierum venit turbo vehemens, & ſubito dejecit ſtructuram illam ligneam, in qua ſedes Principum factæ erant, & attriti ſunt in ea XX. homines, & ſic ſoluta eſt curia illa. Tempeſtatem autem illam creditur diabolus feciſſe, iratus, quod ſeditio Principum per ipſum mota in finem deteriorem non perveniſſet. Lodowicus vero Lantgravius Thuringiæ timens indignationem Philippi Archiepiſcopi, ſecutus eſt eum in Coloniam, nec prius ab eo diſceſſit, donec ſedata commotione illa, gratiam ipſius inveniſſet.

Triceſimo primo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXXV. Legati mittuntur a Belo Rege Ungariæ ad Philippum Regem Francorum, ſecundum Vincentium, ut daret ei in uxorem Margaretam ſororem ſuam, quondam Reginam Angliæ, Henrici Regis defuncti relictam, ſub quo S. Thomas Canthuarienſis fuit; & Philippus Rex annuit, donaque Regalia ei dedit. Fredericus Imperator & Lucius Papa ad maximam diſcordiam ſunt, ſecundum Vincentium, propter electionem Archiepiſcopi Treverenſis, quorum eligentium una pars Volkmarum elegit, & altera Rodolfum. Cumque inter hos electos ſchiſma eſſet, Volkmarus quaſi de electione præſumens, eo quod a ſaniore parte electus eſſet, ad ſedem Apoſtolicam appellavit, Rodolfus vero electus a parte infirmiore ad Imperatorem ſe transtulit. Imperator autem audiens diſſenſionem factam in electione, inveſtituram dedit Rodolfo, Apoſtolicus vero confirmabat electionem Volkmari. Procedente ergo tempore cum Volkmarus ſequeretur curiam Romanam, & pro ſuo negotio ſolicitus eſſet, Papa miſſa Epiſtola, citavit Rodolfum peremtorie, qui tunc apud Imperatorem erat. Quod Imperator audiens, ægre ferebat, ipſum tamen, ne contumax videretur, ad audientiam venire hortabatur, mittens ſecum duos Decretiſtas & duos Legiſtas, qui partem Rodolfi defenderent. Et cum ad judicium perventum fuiſſet, & ex utraque parte plura allegata fuiſſent, nullo dato fine, Rodolfus ad Imperatorem reverſus eſt, Volkmaro apud Papam permanente. Interea Henricus Rex Romanorum filius Imperatoris juvenis & ſuperbus pro Rodolfo Decanum & Canonicos quosdam Confluentiæ, qui pro parte Volkmari ſtare videbantur, calumniatorie aggreſſus eſt, & ablatis ſtipendiis, domos & poſſeſſio-seſſiones eorum exterminari præcepit. Papa vero exinde magis commotus, Volkmarum ad Pontificatus apicem promovere decrevit. Quod Imperator audiens, per ſuos Papæ mandavit, dicens. Si Volkmarum contra meam voluntatem promoveritis ad Epiſcopatum, omnem familiaritatem inter nos habitam perpetuo exſpiraſſe omnino ſciatis. Taliter ergo ab invicem diſturbati Papa & Imperator, quicquid moliebantur, caſſum fuit. Siquidem inter plurima negotia agebat Imperator cum Apoſtolico de filio ſuo Rege, ut coronam Imperii ſuper caput ſuum poneret. Sed quia placabilem eum non habebat, conſecrationem illius differebat, dicens: Non poſſunt ſimul duo Imperatores regnare, nec filium Imperialibus inſigniri inſigniis, niſi prius pater ea depoſuiſſet. Sifridus Archiepiſcopus Bremenſis, defunctus eſt, ſecundum Egghardum, cui in ſedem ſucceſſit Hartwicus, ejusdem Eccleſiæ Canonicus. Hic Comitiam Dithmarciæ quam Adolfus Comes Holtzatorum vi otinuerat, inſtanter poſtulavit. Adolfus autem Comes animadvertens, in hac poſſeſſione cauſam ſuam eſſe minus juſtam, Comitiam Archiepiſcopo reſignavit, ſed ab eo CC. modios avenæ Stadenſis menſuræ in beneficio perpetuo accepit, literis patentibus firmato. Nobilis quædam Romana Priſcilla nomine, ſecundum Egghardum, filii ſui Theodori pulcritudine permaxime tentabatur. Ipſum namque tenerrime diligebat, & ideo jam adoleſcentem ab oſculis & amplexibus, nec etiam a proprio lecto repellebat. Sed amor hic naturalis tandem in corruptelam degenerans, pro marito ſenatore in remotis partibus exiſtente filius admittitur, & Venerei actus in invicem continuantur. Concepto tandem fœtu, mulier miſera corde & corpore anguſtiata, ſpe tamen veniæ permota, ab orationibus, jejuniis & eleemoſynis non deſiſtebat. Tandem puerum natum occultare volens, peccatum peccato addidit, & ipſum mox natum ſuffocavit & abſcondit. Diabolus autem volens eam confundere, aſſumto habitu clerici, judici & Senatoribus dixit: Audite incredibile auditu, horribile dictu, ſed crudele factu. Mulier iſta Priſcilla, quam bonam & honeſtam reputatis, crudeliſſima eſt & peſſima. Nam de proprio filio ſuo Theodoro conceptum & natum infantem propriis manibus occidit, & in latrinam projecit. Quibus conſternatis & non credentibus ait dæmon: Examinetur ipſa, & interim ignis præparetur, quo, ſi victa fuerit, projiciatur viva: ſin autem, ego in eo comburar. Illa ergo vocata venit, cui Judex aſſurgens, eam juxta ſe poſuit, & dixit: In gravi facto & horribili te accuſat, de quo multum dolemus. Confitere ergo, vel expurga te ab objecto. Acceptis ergo induciis ad reſpondendum, toto corde & corpore provoluta ad pedes Lucii Papæ, facti ſeriem integre ſibi expoſuit, cum multis lacrymis confitendo. Qui videns ejus contritionem, confortavit eam, & ſibi injungens ſolam Dominicam Orationem, exhortabatur eam, ut ad B. Virginem confidenter pro adjutorio recurreret. Quod & devote fecit. Statuto ergo die cum ancilla ſua curiam Judicis intravit, & recepta honorifice ab omnibus, in medio omnium collocatur. Tunc ore omnium clauſo & auribus apertis, judex ait Clerico: Ecce, quam accuſaſti, adeſt. Narra, ſiquid habes contra eam, & reſpondebit. At ille intuens mulierem, mirabatur, quæ eſſet, & ait: Hæc non eſt illa inceſtuoſa meretrix & homicida, quam accuſavi. Hæc enim eſt mulier ſancta & devota. Maria enim Mater Jeſu aſſiſtit ei, & eam cuſtodit. Tunc omnes in ſtuporem verſi, frontes crucis ſignaculo ſignaverunt. Quod diabolus non ferens, quaſi fumus evanuit. Sicque mulier illa liberata eſt ab infamia, & acquiſivit grande nomen in omni populo Romano. Philippus Rex Francorum, ſecundum Wilhelmum, gravatus de intolerabili fœtore platearum urbis Pariſienſis, omnes plateas ejus & vicos fecit duris lapidibus ſterni, per hoc tollere volens antiqvum urbis nomen. Antiqui namque civitatem illam Lutetiam a luti fœtore vocarunt. Sed poſteri hoc nomen propter fœtorem abhorrentes, a Paride Alexandro filio Priami Pariſius nominaverunt.

De Urbano III. PP. CLXXX.

Urbanus Papa, natione Lombardus ex patre Petro, ſedit anno uno & menſibus IX. De iſto Papa propter temporis brevitatem ſcriptura nulla refert opera memoria digna aut Chronicis inſerenda.

Triceſimo ſecundo anno Frederici, qui eſt Domini MCLXXXVI. Monaſterium in Reynevelde fundatur ab Adolfo Comite Holtzatorum, ſecundum Continuatorem Chronicæ Slavorum, & locantur in eo Fratres Ordinis Ciſtertienſis, & perficitur in V. anno poſt inceptionem. Terra Lyvoniæ ad fidem convertitur per Meynardum Sigibergenſem Canonicum Regularem, ſecundum eundem Continuatorem. Cum autem vir iſte devotus per aliquot annos cum mercatoribus illic moratus fuiſſet, & ad ſeminandum Dei verbum gentili illi populo operam dediſſet indefeſſam, ſenſit manum ſuam invalidam ob autoritatis carentiam, licet auditorum devotio non modica videretur. Accedens ergo ad Hartwicum Bremenſem Archiepiſcopum, ſuam intentionem, & populi, cui prædicaverat, devotionem ſibi & Capitulo indicavit. Qui ſperantes ipſum plantando & rigando incrementum Domini percipere, ipſum ad prædicandum gentibus miſerunt, & ipſum Pontificali dignitate ſublimantes, majori autoritate roboraverunt. Ipſe ergo humilis & devotus ſuis auditoribus vitæ ſpargens ſemina arguendo & obſecrando duritiam gentilium fregit, & ipſorum corda ad finem intentum Deo cooperante direxit. Fundata eſt ergo ab eodem Domino Meynardo Sedes Epiſcopalis in Lyvonia in loco, qui Riga dicitur, ubi villa quædam valida erat, quæ fuit locus mercatorum, in honorem Virginis Glorioſæ, & in eodem loco dictus Epiſcopus poſt multos labores fructuoſos defunctus eſt. Cujus ſedem ſortitus eſt Dominus Albertus Abbas de Lucka, vita & opi-
